Old-Bits

A fellow came in the other day and, in a quick-like sort of way on a piece of paper showed us that maybe things in East Jordan aren't as bad as all the empty store buildings would indicate. In the period from 1940 to 1950 the census shows a gain of 80 people. In this same period the East Jordan Iron Works has practically doubled the number of employees and output, as has the Jordan Valley Co-operative Creamery. Ken Diller's Box & Crate Factory is a big help too, as is the expanded operations of the East Jordan Auto Parts, and others. Many of these small businesses are a great help to a town. Then, too, he showed us that many of the former occupants of some of these empty buildings have moved to newer quarters. He sized up the situation in a nutshell by showing that, in a period when money was plentiful, new businesses sprung up overnight in East Jordan like mushrooms, and absorbed much of the profits old line firms should have been entitled to. Now that these "Short-Time Firms" are gone, old line firms not receiving their normal percentage of sales when times were good, are not blessed financially in this period of a "synthetic depression."

Have you seen the new 1953 calendars put out by the Future Farmers of America, East Jordan Chapter? The FFA boys sold advertising space on them, went to considerable expense to purchase a large engraving of their group, buy calendar pads and hire the job printed, which is quite an undertaking for a group this size. The boys attached the pads and punched the holes to hang them up by, at The Herald Office. We enjoyed having the boys come in and do the job with our equipment. The Herald latch string is out to any organization that can make use of any of our machinery to help them in their cause, paper-cutter, stapler, punch, etc. and no charge either.

Oh brother! The way some folks can misconstrue an article sometimes is a "caution to the Jaybirds" as Snuffy Smith would say. One guy noises it around that we are trying to "undermine the town," and another guy takes personal offense to an article that applies to a large number of folks and threatens to sue for libel and so, far, far into the night. Let's put it this way. Do you fellows think we would jeopardize a business we depend on for a living, by printing false and misleading propaganda? You're dog-gone right we wouldn't. We print what we conscientiously feel is the best for East Jordan, and, although the truth may hurt momentarily, in the long run East Jordan will benefit immensely. Think it over fellows and see if we aren't right.

Rotary Club Elects Officers

At the Annual Election of officers, Tuesday, the Rotary Club elected the following officers: President, Ole Hegerberg; Vice-President, Keith Annear; Sgt. at Arms, Edward Streeter; Directors, Kenneth Diller, Howard Porter and Percy Penfold.

Several programs this winter have been in the nature of schools of instruction for the benefit of the new members who were not familiar with the objects and aims of Rotary; and for older members who had forgotten some of the rules and regulations. Since the new officers do not assume the duties of their offices until July, they will have ample opportunity to become familiar with the duties of the same, which includes a District Convention at Sault Ste. Marie, which is more or less a short course in Rotary Club management.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

A special Meeting of the Common Council was held Tuesday evening, March 10, 1953, at 7:00 p. m. Present: Mayor Sommerville, Aldermen Bussler, Nemecek, Rebec and Malpass. Absent: Aldermen Taylor and Griffin. Representatives of the East Jordan Iron Works, among whom were: Ted Malpass, Sr., Ted Malpass, Jr., and William Malpass, asked the Council to consider closing Spring Street from the fire hall to Garfield Street so that they could build an addition to the Iron Works using that portion of the street. After some discussion, it was decided that Mayor Sommerville and Ted Malpass, Sr., would consult Mr. Guy C. Conkle, attorney, to determine whether the street could be closed by a resolution by the Council with a public hearing to be held, or whether it should be decided by a vote of the people and placed on the ballot at the election April 6. Thelma M. Hegerberg, City Clerk.

REBEKAH LODGE MET WEDNESDAY, MARCH 12

Jessamine Rebekeah lodge met at their hall Wednesday, March 4, with 29 members present. Lodge was called to order by the Noble Grand, Beatrice Kopkau. A transfer application of Irene Kiser from Cheboygan, was read, and we are sorry to see her transfer, but our loss is their gain. The ways and means committee are planning to hold a Bake Sale on Saturday April 4. Place to be announced later. There will be a potluck Birthday supper at 6:30 at the next meeting. Please bring your own table service.

Car Owners Please Notice

With sloppy weather prevailing, owners of cars in the City of East Jordan are requested to drive carefully and not splatter pedestrians unnecessarily. Pedestrians are likewise warned, while crossing streets, to beware of cars approaching.

Republican Ward Caucuses To Be Thursday, Mar. 19

Republican Ward Caucuses will be held at the City Building, Thursday March 19th. Commencing at 8:00 p. m. for each of three wards in the City. Purpose of the Caucuses is to nominate a candidate for the office of Supervisor and Constable for each ward, and for the transaction of any other lawful business that may come up before the Caucuses.

Job Jackson Celebrates 85th Birthday, Mar. 8

Mr. and Mrs. Amber Muma served a birthday dinner Sunday, March 8, to help her father, Mr. Job Jackson, celebrate his ninety-fifth birthday anniversary. Other guests included his daughters, Mrs. Nora Swartz and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Klooster of Charlevoix. Also his granddaughter, Mrs. Frederica Crandall and son of Bellaire. Mr. Jackson is staying at the Decker Convalescent Home and is enjoying fairly good health.

Preschool Clinic Will Be Held Tuesday March 17

Dr. Litzberger, Charlevoix County Health Director, will be at East Jordan, Tuesday, March 17, 1953, from 10:00 to 11:30 a. m. and from 1:30 to 3:00 p. m. in the grade building at the Nurse's office for a Preschool and Infant Clinic. This is for all children four years of age or younger. All are welcome to attend.

EJHS Wins C Title in 43-42 Thriller; Enter Regionals, at Petoskey Mar. 12

The final game Friday night was as exciting and thrill-packed as ever a game could be as the Jordanites narrowly edged out Charlevoix 43 to 42.

The win certainly can be classed as one of East Jordan High School's greatest athletic triumphs. The Charlevoix-East Jordan game was closer than close with the lead changing hands numerous times and it was anybody's ball game until the final gun sounded. The "Red Devils" grabbed a first quarter 11 to 8 lead but fell behind 22 to 21 at the intermission. At the three quarter mark Charlevoix held the game's longest lead being out in front by four, Charlevoix 32, E. Jordan 28.

A meeting was held at the home of Harry Pearsall Friday evening, March 6, with about 25 attending. After the secretary read the minutes there was a discussion held on "Bill S 1126", which is intended to protect farmers selling milk and cream and from being deprived of settlement for such products.

ANTRIM CHARLEVOIX GROWERS ASSOCIATION WILL MEET MARCH 13

The annual meeting of the Antrim Charlevoix Co-operative Growers Association will be held this Friday afternoon, March 13 at 1:30 p. m., Ed Rebec, county agr'l agent announced. In addition to election of officers and other business, Ray Olney, secretary-treasurer, will give a report on the labor supply for 1953.

ROBERTA ROBINSON MARRIED TO LESLIE DEXTER GREEN

Word was received recently by Mr. and Mrs. Louis R. Robinson, of East Jordan, that their daughter, Roberta of Highland, Michigan, was married to Leslie Dexter Green, of Conn., on Friday, December 26, at Napoleon, Ohio. They will reside at Fostoria, Ohio.

AN APPRECIATION

May we take this means of thanking all the wonderful neighbors, friends, firemen and all those who did so much to help us in every manner when our barns burned. Sincerely, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. French. 11a1

Smith - Bennett Wedding Solemnized

Before an altar banked with candelabra, palms and bouquets of spring flowers, Miss Thelma Smith and Paul Bennett spoke their marriage vows at the Barnard Reformed Church Friday evening, March 6th.

Miss Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith of Charlevoix, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Orvel Bennett of East Jordan.

The double ring ceremony was read by the Reverend Joseph Bekker in the presence of sixty guests.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a dressmaker suit of deep turquoise blue, gray accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Miss Neva Wilson of East Jordan and Charlevoix was the bride's only attendant. She was attired in a two-toned gray suit with gray accessories and a corsage of deep pink carnations.

The bridegroom's cousin, Erwin LaCroix of Boyne City, was best man. Carlton and Clayton Smith, cousins of the bride, seated the guests.

Mrs. John L. Boss, Charlevoix, played the traditional wedding music and accompanied Miss Rheta Boss, Charlevoix, who sang, "Hold Thou My Hand," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer".

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Smith selected a navy blue street length dress trimmed in pink, with navy accessories. Mrs. Bennett chose a street length dress of emerald green with black accessories. Both mothers had corsages of pink and white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlor with John L. Boss, Charlevoix, as master of ceremonies. Highlights of the evening were a skit by Mrs. Ray Cunningham and Mrs. Lawrence Boss, both of Charlevoix, and a poem by John L. Boss. The church parlor was decorated with streamers of pink, blue and white with a cluster of wedding bells over the table. The bridal table was decorated with a four-tier wedding cake. Mrs. Harley Warner and Mrs. Cunningham presided at the table.

The couple will reside in Lansing where the bridegroom is employed. Out-of-town guests included the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. George Papineau, Mr. and Mrs. George Hardy and Larry LaCroix, all of Boyne City; Mr. and Mrs. Mack McDonald, Orveline, Rex and Lyle Bennett, all of East Jordan. Also present were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William VerMeulen of Charlevoix.

Water added to dry grain cuts eating time for cattle in half, reports Dr. C. F. Huffman, dairy research specialist at Michigan State College; it makes faster milking, greater milk production and more contented cows.

East Jordan 43—Charlevoix 42

The win certainly can be classed as one of East Jordan High School's greatest athletic triumphs. The Charlevoix-East Jordan game was closer than close with the lead changing hands numerous times and it was anybody's ball game until the final gun sounded.

The Jordanites went all out in the final frame outscoring the Rayders 15 to 10 as Warren Frank and Bob Danforth dropped in 3 and 2 buckets respectively. All important free throws were added by Danforth and Evans. Freeman's long side court shot with less than 2 minutes to go also played an important part in the ultimate victory. Milstein and Hayden contributed more than their share toward victory with stellar play of the defensive backboards. Taking no credit away from the fighting Red and Black, it must be said that Charlevoix was playing without the services of their All Star forward "Bobo" Bennett and the absence of such a stellar performer certainly was felt. With Bennett in the lineup, Charlevoix had beaten the Jordanites twice during the season by sizeable margins.

Keith Evans counted 15 points to lead both teams offensively. Dano Davenport topped Charlevoix's offensive with an even dozen tallies.

Officials — Bohn and Stanek, Traverse City. East Jordan High School reigns as the Class C Champions of the Petoskey District Tournament as a result of last week's play that saw the "Red Devils" conquer Harbor Springs 67 to 43 and nose out Charlevoix 43 to 42. Ellsworth as expected, walked away with the Class D crown. Petoskey pulled the upset of the year in defeating Alpena Catholic Central in the Class B Finals.

It was the second District crown in a row for the Jordanites, who last year picked up similar honors at Gaylord. East Jordan will enter Regional play at Petoskey tonight (Thursday) when they meet powerful Traverse City St. Francis at the Petoskey High School gymnasium at 7:15 p. m. The East Jordan-St. Francis winner will play Cheboygan Catholic Central Friday night and Gaylord will meet Marion the same evening. The winners will meet in the finals Saturday night to determine the championship.

A determined band of Jordan cagers set about in Tuesday night's opening round to avenge a defeat suffered at the hands of the Harbor Springs "Rams" a week earlier. Revenge was sweet; East Jordan won going away 67 to 43.

Harbor Springs made a battle of it until midway in the third stanza and then the Jordan power began to tell. Harbor held a one point advantage at the close of the 1st period leading 13 to 12 but fell behind during the second frame. East Jordan led at half-time 29 to 23.

With the score knotted at 32 all, the "Red Devils" suddenly caught fire as Frank, Danforth, and Evans began hitting consistently from all over the front court and by the close of the third period the locals held a comfortable 52 to 37 lead. With both coaches substituting freely during the last frame, East Jordan continued strong by piling up 15 points to 6 for the opposition.

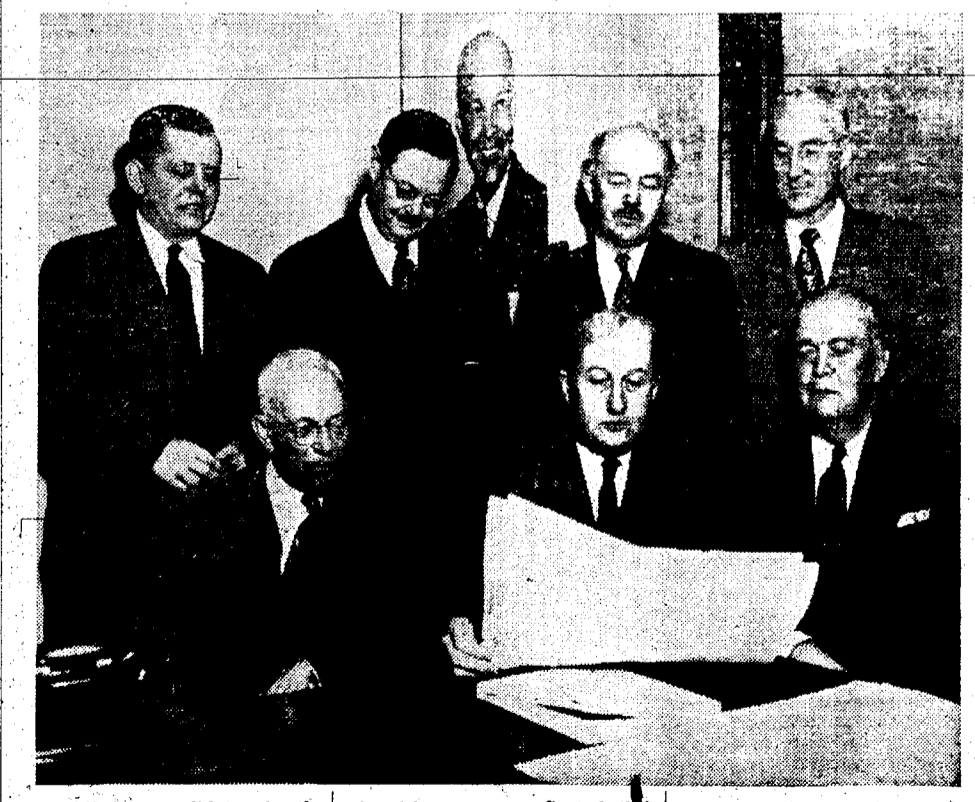

Warren Frank bagged 22 points for the top offensive performance of the evening as he led the Jordan attack. Stan Pifer was high man for the losers with 16. "Revenge"

Republican Candidates Plan Campaign

Republican candidates in the April 6 spring election are shown above as they made plans to cover the State in a series of regional and local campaign rallies. The Republican nominees emphasized the importance of the spring election to keep Michigan schools, courts and roads in sound hands for the benefit of all the people and away from the influence of "special interest" groups. Looking over a proposed campaign itinerary are: Seated (left to right) — Highway Commissioner Charles M. Zeigler, Lansing, candidate for reelection; Chief Justice of the Supreme Court John R. Dehmers, Lansing, candidate for reelection; former Gov. Harry F. Kelly, Detroit, candidate for Supreme Court Justice. Standing (left to right) — Arthur K. Rouse, Boyne City, candidate for State Board of Agriculture; Dr. Charles S. Kennedy, Detroit, and Otto E. Eckert, Lansing, both candidates for reelection to the University of Michigan Board of Regents; and Clair Taylor, Lansing, candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction. Absent when the picture was taken were Clark L. Brody, Lansing, candidate for reelection to the State Board of Agriculture; and Walter F. Gries, Negaunee, nominee for the State Board of Education.

Deer Repellent Tests

Hungry deer cause much damage to Michigan's fruit and grain crops each year and many attempts have been made to halt this loss. To date, none has been very effective. The conservation department, seeking an answer to this problem, is running deer feeding tests at the Houghton Lake wildlife experiment station. Pinned deer are fed a normal diet, half of which is sprayed with various chemical repellents. An inexpensive repellent would mean much saving to Michigan's farmers and orchard owners. Here Ted Herman, aide at the station, offers a fawn a bushel of the feed.

FARM FACTS
from your County
Agricultural Agent
Ed. Rehman, Co. Agr'l Agent

Special attention by Charlevoix county farmers to see selection for oats and forage—the county's two most important crops—will pay off, Ed Rehman, county agr'l agent said today.

D. L. Clananah, Mich. State College extension specialist in farm crops, says oats are the north's top grain crop, with 10 to 11 percent of the land planted to oats. Nearly 50 percent of the cropland is in forage crops.

Early planting is important for northern oats and variety is important. Oats must be rust-resistant to grow successfully year after year. Recommended varieties are Clinton, Eaton, Bonham and others that are rust-resistant.

Annual new seedlings of legumes must be of hardy northern ones are northern-grown and Canadian variegated. Growers should check the seed tag for the place grown.

Bacteria wilt, a factor in alfalfa production is more serious on some farms than others. Unless stands are to be left more than two or three hay-cutting years, other varieties may give greater tonnage than the wilt-resistant ones. Certified Ranger is recommended where wilt is a problem and stands are to be left longer.

Red clover is an excellent forage crop. Growers will see larger quantities in the future of Kenland and Pennscoot seed but Kenland has not yielded much higher in tests than locally-grown strains.

Seeding two to three pounds of bromegrass in the mixture per acre helps thicken the stand, helps the field of older stand and—in pasture—may help in bloat control in cattle.

Barns are where winter farm chores and animals gather, and "good" places for bad accidents, warns Ed Rehman Charlevoix Co. agr'l agent. Some precautions can save the time, money and pain that accompany accidents, he suggests, as well as guard farmers against livestock losses, and turn up some ways to put in labor short-cuts.

Some hazards and inconveniences may have been lurking in a barn for year, waiting to be discovered and corrected, or waiting for a careless drudge to turn into a victim. The farmer who looks for troubles will find them, but when he has his eyes open.

Loose objects that can fall on you or trip you into a fall, stumbling blocks like high door sills, jogs in floor levels, weak or "spring" boards, anything you can trip over should be removed. Solid, flat continuous floors don't cause accidents to farmers or losses in livestock, reminds Rehman. A high door sill, for instance, can cause mastitis in dairy cows.

It's never too late to clean house in the barn, except "after" the accident that cripples you so badly you can't. Alleyways and work areas are no place for feed, tools, harness, or carts. Don't work in the dark, the agent advises; see that dangerous corners and work areas are properly lighted. Avoid storing loose material overhead—especially pitch-forks.

A sound stairway with a hand-rail is the best way to get into a haymow, especially if the stairs is kept clean, notes Rehman. Using stairwells as feed chutes is a good way to provide uncertain footing. Feed chutes should be separate from stairs and have high-level guards around them in the mow. Ladders should stick above the floor level so they can be seen and used and the ladder should have stout rungs out away from walls so there is footing.

Charlevoix county farmers are not working in circles when they boost rye acreages for green manure and then add nitrogen ahead of row crops to decompose the rye, Ed Rehman, county agr'l agent said today.

An explanation of the procedure is given by E. D. Longnecker, Michigan State College extension soil scientist.

Northern acreages are increasing in rye ahead of potatoes and other row crops, he notes, and this brings a need for more nitrogen early in the spring. Otherwise, row crops yields may not be cut as the non-leguminous green manure use the soil nitrogen to break down their structures—in completion with the row crops.

About 40 pounds of actual nitrogen per acre is recommended and it can come from 200 pounds of ammonium sulfate, Cal-Nitro, Nitro Lime or A-N-L, or 125 lbs. of ammonium nitrate or 100 pounds of urea, Uremon or Nugreen. This should be applied as soon as ground is firm in the spring.

This peculiarity—depressing effect on succeeding crops by non-nitrogenized non-leguminous green manures—has only recently become common knowledge, explains Longnecker. The green, juicy rye contains a lot of sugars for food for bacteria. The bacteria attack the green material in force as soon as it would into soil. The bacteria rot or decompose the green manure, which does not have enough protein or nitrogen to do so, the bacteria take soil nitrogen give the bacteria a balanced diet in competition with the following crop.

The rye manure practice is not a poor one; it simply means extra nitrogen is needed—not wasted. It is held for a short time, possibly a few weeks, until the rye decomposes. Then it goes to the growing crop. Farmers should order now for spring nitrogen fertilizer needs.

Records of 154 Michigan potato growers who raised more than 400 bushels per acre have been reported to the farm crops department at Michigan State College. Forty per cent went over 600 bushels. The 48 seed growers averaged 496 and the tablestock men averaged 526.

This is the second year that this group has been known as the "400 club", Ed Rehman, Charlevoix Co. agr'l agent notes. From 1922 to 1950, it was called the Michigan 300-bushel club but qualifications have been raised, explains D. L. Clananah of MSC farm crops department.

The club is organized to encourage the most modern production methods and to honor the growers who put the methods into good use. In 1952, Frank Falkies of Delta county set a new state record—1,083 bushels per acre on 13 acres. He has been growing potatoes for six years, averaging 862 bushels per acre. He was state champion in 1947 with 796 bushels, in 1948 with 847 bushels and in 1952 with 1,083 bushels.

Rehman believes Charlevoix county growers would like to know how growers made these record yields. Falkies had his field in alfalfa bromegrass sod, pastured, in 1951. Fifteen pounds of manure and 800 pounds of 0-12-12 fertilizer preceded the potatoes. The field was cultivated twice and a weeder was used twice. Sixteen fungicide sprays for plant disease control and four with DDT for insect control were included.

Charlevoix county dairy farmers, who are weather conscious and try to keep calves dry and out of drafts, also seek better feeding systems to bring calves to full growth at body weights, Ed Rehman, county agr'l agent said.

Leave the calf with the cow a day or two and make sure the calf gets the colostrum, the first milk after calving; then feed the calf a pound of milk for each 10 pounds of calf but not more than 10 lbs. a day. By the fifth week, start reducing the whole milk to wean the calf at six weeks—unless size and vigor rules otherwise.

Start feeding a good calf meal in the third week, a half pound a day and gradually more, with fairly free access by the fifth week, but a five-pound limit until the 6th week. Then put the calf on the dairy milking herds regular grain ration.

This limited whole milk feeding would require from 350 to 400 pounds of calf meal to grow the calf up to five months. If skim milk is available, switch the calf gradually from whole to skim milk at four to six weeks and continue

Revival Meetings at United Missionary Church Still On

Revival Meetings, of the Old-Fashioned kind, are still in progress at the United Missionary Church. Rev. Nathan W. Hawks, pastor of the Mancelona Nazarene Church, is doing the preaching. Meetings will continue each night at 7:30 p. m. through March 22. Saturday night March 14, is youth night. All young people are especially invited to this meeting and everyone is welcome.

The United Missionary Sunday School with its able teachers, Christ centered lessons, and interesting program is not only morally and spiritually uplifting to the children but is also very captivating. Children are so anxious to be present each Sunday that some have been nearly heartbroken when it seemed as though they would not be able to attend on a certain Sunday.

If you are not attending Sunday School and Church anyway, why not start in right away at the United Missionary Church? Children and adults will find a warm welcome awaiting them each Sunday.

skim milk up to four to six months. Farm grains also are to be fed during this period on skim milk.

Always give the calf free access to fresh hay and water, and if calves over six weeks are unthrifty or lack appetite, give a daily dose of a teaspoon of cobalt solution; mix an eighth ounce of cobalt sulfate in a pint of water for the solution.

Good results also are reported from feeding milk substitute from the fourth day on. Don Murray, Michigan State College dairy specialist said. One company reported Holsteins averaging 326 pounds and Guernseys 251 pounds at four months of age.

Pigs can be raised successfully on synthetic milk, points out Ed Rehman, Charlevoix county agr'l agent, but it's not putting the sows out to business yet. This practice has been used for years at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station and the idea has been adapted in commercial milk replacers.

The benefits of synthetic milk are not 100 per cent certain, according to Dr. A. J. Hoefler, swine feeding research specialist at Michigan State College. The pig hatcherman can use the method to breed sows quicker and boost his volume. The man with prolific sows, orphan pigs or pigs from sows that fail to milk can save pigs this way. Valuable bloodlines from a diseased herd can be salvaged for a new start with clean animals. Anyone can try the method, notes Dr. Hoefler, but it's best to try it first on one or two litters and learn management problems before putting litters of the whole herd on synthetic milk.

Advantages of synthetic milk, Rehman explains, includes more pigs per sow per year—about 2½ litters. Pigs are heavier at 56 days and there are fewer runts; pigs get all the milk they want with no hind teat or blind nipple problems. The first week after farrowing is worst normally for death losses; pigs put on synthetic milk at two days are safer.

Heavy losses can result if management detail is neglected, warns Rehman. Pigs on synthetic milk

Michigan highways will soon receive heavy travel of outstate vacationers.
 According to Charles M. Ziegler, state highway commissioner, the coming construction season will see more detour signs than in recent years as a mark of progress. Here's the prospect.

The state treasury expects to collect more money in 1953 for highway building and maintenance than the $125 millions which it received last year. Revenue comes from the state gasoline tax (cents) in all states is now 6 cents), from a graduated weight tax on commercial vehicles weighing 8,000 pounds or more, and from federal aid to the tune of $16 millions. Of this amount the state highway department will get 44 per cent.

Michigan, the tax collector for local governments, will return 56 per cent back to counties and cities. The 83 county road commissions will get 37 per cent, and the 488 cities and villages are counting on 19 per cent.

Commissioner Ziegler expects to spend about $19 million maintaining Michigan's 9,318 miles of state roads. About $28 million will be set aside for construction of new roads and bridges; $2 1/2 million will be earmarked to retire bond issues on Detroit expressways and another million and a half for bonds on the Detroit-Toledo expressway.

There are 5,073 miles of state concrete highways, 3,085 of bituminous surfaced roads and 1,160 of gravel.

Two big question marks in the highway department for next year are toll roads in Michigan and the bridge across the Mackinac Straits. Commissioner Ziegler's view on toll roads is a "middle of the road stand": improved roads are needed so badly that any legal method is better than no attempt to raise funds. Although he favors a free highway system, he would not oppose the creation of a tax road authority.

Ziegler said he favors the Mackinac bridge idea after making sure of two factors. One was that the project was practical from an engineering standpoint—this has been established by technical authorities. The second is that it is financially sound. This seems satisfactory also, for there is indication that bonding companies will be ready to finance the venture. Present schedules call for work to begin on the bridge in the spring of '54; completion the fall of '56.

Another big problem is that of safety. The first 11 months of 1952 recorded 1,541 fatalities of Michigan highways, an increase over the same period in 1951. Economic loss resulting from personal injuries and property damage in the state from January through November in 1952 amounted to $145 million.

The commissioner was recently elected chairman of the Michigan State Safety Commission. This body is responsible under law for highway safety programs. Seminars have been held and other methods are being used to analyze Michigan's problems so that legislative and administrative reforms designed to lead to greater safety can be recommended. The press of Michigan has cooperated with these activities.

Other activities for 1953 include studies to determine improved and more economic road design and the possible uses of radioactive materials to improve testing and research procedures.

In 1953 we can look for biggest year in our highway department's 48 years of existence with something more than $50 million being spent to maintain or build new roads and bridges, as well as the installation of warning, directional, distance and other safety signals along our roads. Commissioner Ziegler is proud of the Bureau of Public Roads report which shows Michigan is building comparable units of highway construction at least 15 per cent less than cost surrounding states.

While oldsters follow the birds to the south, Michigan youth are becoming winter-wise. Sports centers in North Michigan and the Upper Peninsula are attracting thousands to the North each weekend. Select one for a visit next week end; you'll be surprised.

We stopped at Cadillac's, Caberria, in the Manistee national forest, on the occasion of its sixth annual interclub meet. The place was jammed with young men and women, all attired in gay sports clothing of the ski world.

Contestants included skiers from Aspen, Colo.; Hartford, Conn.; New Jersey Ski Club and such Michigan clubs in Detroit, Dearborn, Saginaw, Rochester, Pontiac, Albion and Midland.

How to replace state funds which are now diverted by constitutional amendment to local governments—schools, cities, townships—is still the A-1 problem before the Michigan state legislature.

Deficits have accumulated to a total of $90,000,000.

Governor Williams and the legislature have been in a deadlock for two years over a proposed corporations profits tax. The governor insists the tax would be paid by corporations, not by consumers. The legislature's attempts to enact other levies have been blocked, in part by the governor's vetoes. A stalemate now exists.

The governor is now seeking some agreement with legislative leaders on a tax solution. The Higgins tax study commission's report was unveiled Monday, Feb. 18. Rep. Lewis Christman (R-Ann Arbor) proposes a 5 percent state income tax, repeal of the present 3 percent state sales tax, and local tax powers to municipalities. Christman believes an income tax, on individuals and corporations would yield $60,000,000 more than the present 3 percent sales tax. This sum would cover the state's needs, he says.

A majority of legislators are resigned to the prospect of a New Tax. What will it be? That's the $64 question.

Inside the Capitol
 by Charles M. Ziegler
 State Highway Commissioner

Michigan's highway organization and system ranks high among the states, even though it has been no easy job to make progress in highway development with the inadequate revenues which were made available up to 1951, and to contend with all the problems caused by war and defense preparations, such as shortages and Federal allocations of critical materials; more than doubled cost of construction; unprecedented depreciation caused by war and defense transportation; 50 percent over-all increase in traffic volumes and more than 90 percent increase in truck traffic; and a shortage of engineers caused by military service and private competition.

In 1952 was the first full year of operation by the State Highway Department with increased revenues, which were made available by the Legislature over vigorous opposition by the Governor and his supporters.

During 1952, the Department placed under construction, from regular funds, some $40 million of new work on state trunklines, in addition to obligating some $10 million of bond funds for construction on the Detroit expressways. Michigan is building comparable roads cheaper than are states in similar frost areas, and 15 percent cheaper than the average of all the states, according to surveys made by the Federal Bureau of Public Roads. The Department's labor relations have been so good that no time has been lost by strikes or disputes, which fact contributed greatly to the low bids received from contractors.

The Department has maintained a policy of building roads where the greatest transportation needs exist, and in a manner that is fair and equitable to all sections of the State and partial to no one.

Close working relationships have been established between the Department, municipal agencies, and the county road commissions, for construction of trunklines within the corporate limits of cities and villages, by-passes to relieve congestion in cities, and Federal-aid Secondary roads.

The construction of the Detroit-Toledo and the Detroit-Chicago expressways are being expedited, as well as the development of all major north and south and east and west arteries and the improvement of connecting routes, taking into consideration the industrial, agricultural, tourist, resort, and other interests of the State. In the meantime, the people's enormous investment in highway surface is being protected by adequate maintenance, until all needed reconstruction is completed.

NEW ZEALAND BEEF BRINGS MANY PROTESTS

The offering of New Zealand beef by local markets at a time when American beef was selling at new lows brought many protests by farmer producers in all areas.

During the past several weeks the Antrim Agricultural Agent, Walter G. Kirkpatrick has been asked a number of times, as to what the facts were concerning this situation. In an effort to get made a number of inquiries and found that a reciprocal trade agreement was entered into, between the United States government and the Canadian government about 1948, that would allow the importation into the United States each year of approximately 80 to 90 million pounds of dressed Canadian beef & 450,000 head of feeder cattle. About a year ago all Canadian shipments were stopped because of the outbreak of the "hoof and mouth" disease in Canada.

For years England has been importing beef directly from New Zealand. When the shipment of Canadian beef to the United States was stopped, the government of the United States, Canada and England met and agreed to let New Zealand ship meat to the United States and Canada to ship beef to England in as much as England had no embargo against meat coming from a country with the "hoof and mouth" disease.

Import figures show that for the first 11 months of 1951, we imported 82 million pounds of beef from Canada and during the first 11 months of 1952 only 1.4 million pounds came into this country. In 1951, we imported no beef from New Zealand, but for the first 11 months of 1952, we imported about 59 million pounds—about 23 million pounds less than would normally be imported from Canada, plus thousands of head of feeder cattle. Many say "New Zealand beef broke the market." Foreign trade experts point out the above figures that show that we imported over twenty million pounds more beef in 1951 than '52 and during that year American beef prices rose to new record heights.

Agricultural economists point out that the United States beef supply has changed during the past two years. The United States beef herd has now built up to the highest figure on record—something like 93 million head. It just happened that the New Zealand beef hit the American market when unprecedented numbers of American beef cattle were being offered. Starting in September of 1952, and since, great numbers of American beef has been offered at slaughter yards. In February, the greatest number of cattle were offered of any one week in the past 27 years. They point out that actually the New Zealand beef represented only one-half of the one percent of the total annual American beef consumption or less than the amount of beef handled in any one week in Chicago which is just one of a number of important packing centers in the United States.

Bounce Per Ounce

It doesn't take long for this fellow to get started on his way, as the conservation department photographer discovered. But that speed, added to the white-in-winter, dark-in-summer coloration makes snowshoe hare hunting one of Michigan's outstanding sports. The snowshoe hare gains his name from the size of his hind feet, large enough to carry him over deep snow without bogging down.

Agricultural Department officials point out that as a whole the New Zealand beef was very low grade. Most of the beef was from two to three years old cattle that were grass fed and 83 per cent common to utility. It was offered at low prices because it was originally frozen and when it reached the United States it had to be moved fast to insure its consumption before spoiling. Best information available, indicates shipments of New Zealand beef will be received in the United States. However, informed sources say the embargo on Canadian beef is expected to lifted any day.

Whether it was right or wrong to import the New Zealand beef is a question for the public to decide. However, the New Zealand beef question illustrates the knotty and complex problem facing the United States in her efforts to make trade agreements with friendly countries, in our fight to broaden our democratic way of life, over communistic nations that stand ready and willing to deal with all such countries.

Kindergarten — I. Sidebotham
We are enjoying our books, "Getting Ready." We have found many pictures in them. Now we are finding different pictures that begin with "M". It is the first letter we have had.

We're counting different things and learning to make the same number as the objects we have counted. This week we are going to learn about 8.

Today some of the boys and girls brought books about Easter. It will be fun to read them.

Second Grade — Agnes Johnston
Our spelling booklets for February were finished last Friday. The work in the booklet covered the last six weeks' work. Some of us are showing marked improvement in our spelling.

Linda Healey brought the first pussy willows to our room. We drew pictures of them in art class. They look very pretty upon the front bulletin board.

Our gym period on Thursdays is being enjoyed by all. We are learning to play "I See You", "How Do You Do My Partner" and "The Muffin Man".

We are learning to tell time on the hour and half past the hour. It is fun to know how to tell when our different classes come during the day.

Last Tuesday, Marjorie Wood celebrated her ninth birthday. We each made a birthday card for her. Marjorie served candy to all her class friends.

Donald Bowerman brought two very interesting books to school for us to look at. One book was on real airplanes, the other on real boats. These books created much interest in our room.

Those who were neither absent nor tardy for the last six weeks are: Thomas Breakey, Dale Cutler, Jerry Holley, Marlynn Hughes and Louise Walton.

In spite of the flu epidemic during the last six weeks, we had 10 children in our room who did not miss any time during the period. They are Richard Annear, Louise Bader, Roger Clark, Tommy Derenzey, Patrick Greenman, Betty Healey, Keith Holley, Ronald Metcalf, Glenn Pinney and Donald Snyder.

Betty Healey treated her classmates with ice cream cups to celebrate her ninth birthday on March 5. Suzanne Malpass is planning to entertain several friends after school on Wednesday, March 11, in honor of her birthday.

Janet Dougherty brought the first bouquet of nice big pussy willows for us. We have been observing at home how the days are lengthening, the first sign of spring.

Our Group 4 read a nice story about puppets. We got some books from the public library to tell us about puppets and how to make a puppet theater. The group was divided into seven committees, each to make a puppet to represent some character, then to make up the conversation for their act. We had a variety of plays including the dramatization of Little Black Sambo, use of a record for acting a song, a wedding play, the three Stooges, a religious song dramatized and a school play. We had puppets made of potatoes, clay, wallpaper cleaner, rubber and finger puppets.

Fourth Grade — Marie Hughes
We celebrated Mary Murray's and Darlene McClanathan's birthday together because both were nine years old February 26th.

Five children have birthdays in March. Kathy Petrie, Steve Sutton, Jean Combest, Yvonne Redmer and Dawn Moore brought treats to share with the children in the room.

Mrs. Hughes draws a big birthday cake and greeting on the blackboard. We serve our treats and sing the birthday song. Most of the time we make birthday cards.

Gladys Archer, Michael McWaters, Patsy Cutler, Bernice Misner and Mary Murray have perfect attendance this past six weeks period.

That game that gives the greatest pleasure for noon and recess in our room during stormy or extremely cold weather is "Jacks".

Most of the children have done very well with their books about America.

Our children enjoy their gym period. We are glad they can have this half hour once a week.

There has been marked improvement in spelling and arithmetic lately among those who find these subjects so difficult. We are learning to keep after it.

Fourth Grade — Grace Galmore
Eight people were neither absent nor tardy during this six week period. They are: David Bartholomew, Yvonne Elzinga, Norma Gee, Barbara Kortan, Harold Murray, Gerald Peters, Anette Reed and Ronald Sulak.

We celebrated two birthdays last week. Harold Murray treated us to delicious cupcakes Wednesday and Barbara Kortan served hers on Thursday. We especially appreciated Barbara's treat as she was given the chance to choose whether to buy a gift for herself or a treat for us. We made thank you cards for both and wish to thank the mothers too.

Harold Murray and Donald Johnson did several experiments about air. These were taken from our new book, "See For Yourself", by Nancy Larrick. This book is easy enough that any boy or girl can read and work out an experiment on air or water.

Barbara Kortan is in charge of our exhibit on Florida. We have many things including shells which we are identifying.

Fourth Grade — Jean Strehl
Judy Malpass gave an interesting talk to the boys and girls on Wednesday about her mother's and father's trip to Florida. We have some beautiful shells left in our room to share.

Monday we saw the movie "Land of Liberty." It was very good and we saw many things we have been talking about in our classes.

In arithmetic class we divided into teams to help us learn our time tables. The teams are the "Shooting Stars", Captain Connie Bennett, and the "Globe Trotters", captain Ronald Klooster. The Globe Trotters are winning at the present.

Helen Addis celebrated her 10th birthday with us on Monday. The children made some very attractive cards and sang our birthday song. Mrs. Addis visited our room and treated us with some lovely cupcakes.

Harry Simmons visited our room on Monday.

Those having perfect attendance the past six weeks are Sharon Sweet, Helen Addis, Sharon Pinney, Richard Hayes, Bobby Omland, Ronald Klooster and Mary Porter.

We have been writing poems in our Language class. Some of us find it very interesting and have written several.

A PRETTY RAINBOW
I wish I was a rainbow, don't you? It has so many pretty colors, even red and blue.

It reaches to the clouds in the sky. And it is so very, very high. They say at the end there's a pot of gold.

But I don't believe that, it's just told.
— by Connie Bennett

Fourth Grade — Mrs. Galmore
Last week we organized a citizenship club with Gerald Peters, Beverly Snyder and Loretta Hawley chosen as officers. They decided, in the first meeting last Friday, that we would work on improvement in courtesy and workmanship.

Twenty people contributed to our exhibit of Michigan products which we have had for the past two weeks. We also have a mural showing chalk pictures of events in Michigan History. Gerald Peters drew one of Father Marquette and some Indians. Sharon Hughey, one of Cadillac and the fort that he built at the place that later became Detroit, Barbara Kortan drew one of Mossback Amelia and a bear picking berries on opposite sides of a bush, and Don Derenzey a logging scene.

Our next exhibit will be of pictures of early East Jordan. This is to prepare us for the spring operetta which will be glimpses of the past in our home town.

Fourth Grade — Jean Strehl
Larry Schumacher gave a report on the book "Bill Clark, American Explorer", during our geography class. It was the story of the Louis and Clark expedition. Larry gave a fine report. Also in geography we have been working on maps. After studying the claims and settlements of the early English, French, Dutch and Spanish colonists, we made maps to show the lands they claimed.

Monday we were happy to welcome Ronald Klooster into our "10 year club". Ronald's mother, Mrs. Klooster, surprised the boys and girls in the afternoon with ice cream and cake to celebrate Ronald's birthday. The children made cards and sang our birthday song to Ronald. We want to thank Mrs. Klooster for the wonderful treats.

We've been discussing signs of spring and watching the buds on the trees. Tommy Healey brought some pussy willows to school.

Several children brought new books for Mrs. Strehl to read. We voted as to the one we would read first. The winning book was "Mr. Pudgins" by Ruth C. Carlisle.

SHOOK'S ECONOMY MARKET
ELLSWORTH, MICH.

BOSTON, MASS.—All the specialized skills of some of the finest craftsmen of New England have been combined to create this life-size copy in wood of the famous painting "The Last Supper" by Leonardo da Vinci. More than a year was used in preparing the great carving—18 1/2 feet long and 8 1/2 feet wide. The figures, of limewood, are delicately tinted to give a feeling of lifelike reality, and a giant frame of contrasting walnut gives it depth. The carving will be the point of central interest in The Upper Room chapel, now nearing completion in Nashville. It is expected that visitors who view the carving will be moved to spend a few moments in prayer and meditation in keeping with the purpose of The Upper Room—a devotional guide issued in 17 languages and used round the world. The chapel itself is part of the new headquarters building for The Upper Room, the world's most widely used devotional guide. It is believed that it will become a devotional shrine and point of interest for visitors of the Midwest. The picture shows W. D. Irving, of Irving and Casson, New York and Boston, who have produced wood carvings for some of America's greatest churches and cathedrals. The wood carving was done from a model created by Earnest Pelligrini.
