Memorial Day Program

Prayer
Almighty God, Giver of all victories, we thank Thee for the opportunities which abide in our land, for Thy guidance in the hour of peril and thy tender love in times of need. Help us to remember with reverence the valor and devotion of our departed comrades; not only those whose bodies consecrate our Country's soil, but also those who sleep beyond the seas; and those others whose resting place will not be known until that last day when the deep has given up its dead. O God, teach us to honor them by ever cherishing the ideals for which they fought. Keep us steadfast in the cause of human rights and liberties, of law and order, and true Americanism. Give us the power to see, and will to do the right. Grant that the American Legion may preserve the high ideal for which our comrades died. May Thy merciful blessing rest upon those they left behind. Keep us forever firm in righteousness, humble of heart, and unselfish in purpose. Amen.

Auxiliary to Serve Breakfast On Memorial Day

The American Legion and Auxiliary of Rebec-Sweet Post 227, attended Memorial Services at the United Missionary Church, on Sunday, May 24. Rev. Thompson conducted the services. His text was "Patriotism" which was very inspiring.

All Auxiliary members are asked to attend Memorial Day ceremonies. Members will meet at the Legion Home preceding services at the bridge, to march there in a body. They will then assemble at the school to form for the parade. Cars will be provided for Gold Star Mothers and others who are unable to march. Let us have a fine turnout of Auxiliary members, so be sure and attend.

The Auxiliary will again, as in previous years, serve breakfast to the men who take part in the services at the cemeteries.

Florence Stucker, Poppy Chairman, announced that the recent Poppy Sale was a big success and wishes to thank all who worked on her committee, and especially the girls of the Junior Auxiliary, who did such a splendid job of selling poppies.

Sees $5.5 Million Annual Deficit For Proposed Mackinac Bridge

In the Detroit Free Press of May 16 the following letter from Jos. Bugai to the Detroit Board of Commerce appeared concerning the proposed bridge at the Straits of Mackinac—

This is a copy of a letter sent to Nicholas J. Rini, assistant secretary, Detroit Board of Commerce:

As one secretary to another, we read with considerable interest an article in the Detroit Free Press in which among other things you say, "But under the toll plan, the (proposed Mackinac) bridge wouldn't cost the taxpayers a cent beyond the $500,000 (annual maintenance cost), if that much. This is an item needed only to attract bond buyers."

We believe it is the duty of Chamber of Commerce organizations to protect the public interest, and we feel that your statements are far short of stating the full story and, therefore, inviting misunderstanding.

Is it not true that the $500,000 so-called maintenance asked for is in addition to the 25 per cent fare increase granted to the bridge over and above rates charged by the ferries?

Is it also not true that the appropriation for a new ferry was not asked for by our Highway Department, but injected merely as fear propaganda by boosters for the straits bridge?

It seems that Mr. Ziegler testified that the new ferry is not needed, and we who live near the bridge site and who use the ferries a good deal agree with that statement.

According to information we have, cost of the bridge will be about $100,000,000. To pay for it in 30 years, the figures disclose on a yearly basis:

Interest at 4% (until principal reduced) $4,000,000
Maintenance, at least 500,000
Refunding 3,333,333

Total $7,833,333
High gross income in past $1,400,000
25% authorized increase 350,000

1,750,000
Yearly deficit $6,083,333
If the Legislature gives to the bridge $500,000 toward maintenance, it still leaves a yearly deficit of $5,583,333. Who pays this, may we ask?

In addition to the above which concerns itself directly with the bridge, Mr. Ziegler declared, according to the Grand Rapids Press, that it will cost the State in the neighborhood of $50,000,000 for construction of approaches to the bridge. Who pays for this, may we ask?

Mr. Ziegler testified that the state highway program will be crippled for several years, according to the newspapers.

In a letter received by us from a State representative it is stated, "There is some feeling that the facilities at both Mackinaw City and St. Ignace should be maintained, at least skeleton-wise, so that if anything should happen to the bridge we hope service could quickly be inaugurated again, even on a temporary basis."

Who pays for this, may we ask? And why skeleton facilities with one or two ferries if engineering promises are foolproof?

There is involved here an obligation of between two and three hundred million dollars that cost. Should not the people of the State be told the complete story, instead of on a piecemeal basis so that it appears like we are about to have a magnificent bridge for practically nothing?

When considerable land in Michigan is being assessed for tax purposes at more than resale value, when small industry in our area is reluctant to improve or expand facilities because of the tax threat, it appears to us unwise and improper that our people should be expected to carry this additional enormous financial burden as is promoted in connection with the straits bridge, particularly at this time of high market costs.

We have made a quite thorough survey of the bridge situation, and we do not find that it will bring us any noticeable economic benefits.

It merely involves saving a few minutes time for cars and trucks, and replacing of one facility with another. We still have to depend on the railroad facility for heavy traffic.

We who live in the area of the bridge site are unable to find anyone who is willing to buy any of the bonds. We, therefore, find no moral grounds for expecting others to invest in it.

Maybe the Bridge Authority should ask those who so strongly work for the bridge just how much they are willing to invest in it.

The promised increase in traffic can hardly be accepted. We are not on natural cross-country lanes for year-around travel, the site is not near concentration of people, most of U. P. is dedicated to state and national forests.

How is Ambassador Bridge getting along, where millions of people live, and which cost much less money?
ELLSWORTH COMMUNITY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, Joseph F. Bugai, Secretary.

Concerning the Ambassador Bridge, Detroit, the following is reprinted from The Capitol Digest of April 20:—"The infamous Ambassador Bridge deal at Detroit was floated on a $20 million basis, then defaulted, saw $12 million in bonds squeezed out of it, giving to the "smart" boys an $8 million bridge which is now reported making money on that capitalization."

Ed. Note:—When it comes to the field of transportation Mr. Bugai is no newcomer. He was a prominent industrial traffic manager for many years. In "Who's Who in Transportation and Communications" for the years 1942-43 his biography is listed with those who distinguished themselves in the field of transportation and communication, and Mr. Jos. Bugai is shown as author of "Milling-in-Transit Freight Arrangements Trans-Continental."

In next week's issue we will publish another communication dealing with area economics, disclosing disadvantages to industry in our area.

The Dropped Gauntlet BY ED LEHRBASS

The opinions expressed by Ed Lehrbass in this column are not to be construed necessarily, nor even probably as those of The Herald. They are only those of an experienced and responsible commentator.

This is another of the times when a column comes hard. Notes, there aren't any. Thoughts in the same category. There are many items which in the past I've commented on which could be brought to paper. But they for the nonce need rest where they're at.

About all I know is what I read and hear and see. For one thing that grand gathering of Boy Scouts for their Jamboree brings thoughts of the future. They're our future and to my way of thinking they're a grand future to look forward to. For among them are many leaders. They'll rise without push and against odds. Today I've many friends, I'm happy to say, that are rising in commerce and industry. And they were scouts with me. Just because I happened to be just one of the folks didn't hold them back, they're getting up there.

Another thing which keeps jabbing me, that I'll give a comment or two. That's that the pollsters are finding that the women, bless them, are the voters that gave the majority to Ike, putting him in the White House. Now that's a grand thought.

We here in the East Jordan and Charlevoix county area need to have women running for elective office. Any not a woman appointed to the road commission? All she'd need to do is turn her lovely smile on the board of supervisors and she'd be appointed.

Also, need we keep the women in East Jordan only in the clerk's office? We need them at some of the other appointive posts. Surely this is after the election thinking, but there is no time like the present to bring up the next elections. And what about a woman Mayor or women as members of the council?

Women have been part of all history as managers and as keepers of the budget. Even though from the background, in the past. Why can't we build a future for women in this area by interesting them in public office? Why can't we get them to do for all folks those things which they have been doing for years past in each household? Time to keep our thoughts in that line and I'll keep bringing it up.

Don't know when the announcement day is, but the way rumors are flying, the new business building will be starting soon. 'Tis said the property is bought, but then I've mentioned something on that before.

Why the prospective business hasn't wanted the name mentioned in print all these past weeks has been something many of us have wondered about. But that's his business and we all have respected those wishes. But, my-oh, how the word has been around. Everyone seems to know the who and the why and the whereof of what's going on. Even though I've been badgered to mention it, I've refrained, 'cause I've got to eat.

My family likes food, too. That rumor of me having a big wooden spoon rapping the wrists of the girls when they reach for something on the table, is false. And Mama burned the baseball bat that I had along side the desk, with which I chased members of the family when they interrupted the writing of this column.

As the report came to me. A defender of mine, when told that my comments were getting under the skin of members of the road commission, retorted to the talker, "Well, the shoe fits, don't it?"

The businessman was rushing to a very important meeting with his boss, True tells us, but was unable to find a parking place near his office.

Frantic after having circled the block in vain for ten minutes, he finally pulled to the curb where a sign proclaimed "No Parking," and left the following note under his windshield wiper:

I know I have parked illegally, but my job depends on it. I must get to the office immediately. "Forgive us our trespasses."

Mr. J.
Getting out of the meeting several hours later he returned to the car. Under the windshield wiper was a parking ticket and another note which read:

My job also depends on your illegal parking. "Lead us not into temptation."

Mrs. L.G. Bunker Passes After Long Illness

Miss Leah M. Spencer was born January 23, 1903, to Mr. and Mrs. Eilan Spencer in Mecost County and when a child of five years came with her parents to Boyne City where she lived until the passing of her mother, when she went to live with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William Peirce at Lakeview.

On December 19, 1920, she was united in marriage to L. G. Bunker of Lakeview, Mich. They came to East Jordan in 1934, moving onto her brother's farm in the Geyman Settlement for two years, then to what is known as the Kenny farm, north of the city, then to their present home.

Mrs. Bunker passed away at her home in South Arm township, Wednesday afternoon, May 20, 1953, after being in ill health for several months.

Surviving, besides the husband, the three children: L. Dewaine of Lansing, Berton of the armed forces and Mrs. Lois Lewis of Big Rapids. Five grandchildren and one brother, Randell Spencer of Grand Lodge.

Funeral services were held at the East Jordan Methodist Church of which she was a member, Sunday, May 24, 1953, at 2:30 p. m., conducted by Rev. Robert Moore. Interment was at Sunset Hill. Bearers were: William Shepard, Heston Shepard, Cyril McKenney, Theodore LaCroix, August Bulmann and Clarence Lord.

Relatives and friends from away to attend the service were:—Mr. and Mrs. L. Lewaine Bunker, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Bunker, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jackalke, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Bunker, and families of Lansing; Emil Bunker, Waterloo, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Randall Spencer and LeRoy and Leon Leininger, Grand Lodge; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Stanslasi, Big Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. Forest Lake, Mrs. Clara Home, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schubert and family, Lakeview; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sias, Comstock Park; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hoyt, James Griffith, Mrs. Anna Spencer, Bob and Marlene Spencer, South Haven; Mrs. Joe Gallenger, Mr. and Mrs. George Gallenger, Fred Capin, of Rodney; Al Bunker, Lela Bunn, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bunker and family, Jackson; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Gould, Grand Blanc.

Why can't we build a future for women in this area by interesting them in public office? Why can't we get them to do for all folks those things which they have been doing for years past in each household? Time to keep our thoughts in that line and I'll keep bringing it up.

Cherryvale Extension Class

The Cherryvale Extension Class met at the home of Jean Penny. Pot luck dinner was served to 14 present. Two new members join hands with us, Mrs. Charles Williams, Mrs. Minnie Gould and Mrs. Clinton Penny.

Discussion was about the project we'd like for the coming year. There was one more lesson plan on making "Trays." A very enjoyable time was had by all. At this time we like to express our appreciation to members in the past whose work kept this club together. To you from us, a great big "Thank You."

How about us—Extension members here in East Jordan flooding Emma Rienbolt's office with cards and letters, telling her what we liked about last year and what we would like next year. Let's do it, huh? Yep, write today—do her old heart good. Just address to: Emma Rienbolt, Extension Office, Court House, Petoskey, Mich.

The city youngsters, visiting their grandfather's farm for the first time, were entranced with all the animals. But when they came to the pen where the huge bull was quartered, young Bobby was more than a little puzzled by the brass ring in the animal's nose.
"Oh, I know what that's for," explained his sister. "It's to show he's married."

Program Underway To Eliminate Dangerous Passing

Chief Harry Simmons today announced that his department is cooperating with the State Safety Commission in a safety program aimed at reducing traffic accidents due to dangerous passing. This program is under the leadership of Charles M. Ziegler, State Highway Commissioner and Chairman of the Commission.
According to Chief Simmons, head-on collisions caused by dangerous passing are one of the most fatal types of traffic accidents. "The next time you drive by a wrecked car junkyard, look for a car that has the whole front end caved in and the windshield smashed to bits. This should be sufficient evidence for anyone as to what happens when you hit another car head-on," he said.
"Keep in Lane - Don't be a Road Hog", the official slogan of the campaign, is good advice for all motorists to follow.
"Cutting in on the driver you are passing is one of the dirtiest tricks one motorist can pull on another," the Chief added; "you may force him into the ditch or cause him to stop too suddenly and be hit by a surprised driver behind him."
"The professional driver never cuts in on the car he is passing. He waits until he can see this car in his rear vision mirror before he turns right to get back into the right-hand lane. In this way, he knows he will not interfere with the car he is passing."
Chief Simmons stated that he is instructing his men to pay particular attention to dangerous passing and to stop all violators.
"After all of the information motorists receive through the educational campaign of newspapers, radio stations, and posters, there is no excuse for a motorist to pass dangerously," he concluded.
When asked if he had any brothers or sisters, the young lad told his teacher, "No, Ma'am, I'm single."

cent is printed on the bag and simple arithmetic will tell how much should be added," Rebman says.

All forms of nitrogen are highly soluble and can be applied on the soil or directly in the soil. Surface applications are carried to the corn roots by rain or dew.

Rebman recommends a planting time application of 100 to 150 pounds of a mixed complete fertilizer to hasten early growth. This makes early cultivation easier, faster and more effective, and will give a profitable yield increased in years of good rainfall.

Plans for emergency pasture come in plenty handy during periods when regular pastures fail, says Ed Rebman.

Found well adapted to Northern Michigan is a mixture of oats and field peas, Rebman says. This mixture is best suited to heavier soils but will also do well in light soils.

Usual rate of seeding is one bushel of oats and one bushel of peas per acre. It should be sown two to two and one-half bushels per acre. For pasture seeding the seed should be drilled half one way and half the other for a better sod, Rebman says. A legume seeding may be added and will not be harmed by normal pasturing.

Pastures being seeded in this manner should be fertilized with 300 pounds per acre of 10-6-4

An emergency oat pasture is good for six to eight weeks, Rebman says. The second half of the oat pasture time will produce about half the cow-days pasture that the first half will.

Other emergency pasture possibilities:

German millet seeded at 25-30 pounds per acre, after the ground is warm in the spring. This also makes an emergency hay crop.

Balho rye seeded in mid-August for late fall pasture and a good early spring pasture.

Good corn cannot be grown on nitrogen-deficient ground, and if nitrogen is not adequate, it should be added, says Ed Rebman, Charlevoix County Agricultural Agent.

Michigan corn suffers more from lack of nitrogen than from lack of any other element. Rebman suggests that a soil test will show the fertilizer analysis that is needed.

Nitrogen can be supplied by plowing under a good legume sod or by barnyard manure; either may supply enough nitrogen but both together almost certainly will.

Extra nitrogen can be applied where there is not enough from legumes or manure. Rebman reminds. He cites work done at Michigan State College which shows that 40 to 50 pounds of actual nitrogen per acre, added to ground lacking it, has raised yields from 15 to 30 additional bushels per acre. The cost of the fertilizer is from $7 to $10 per acre.

When will corn need the extra nitrogen? Rebman advises add-

Lighted Ball Grounds Dedication Services Saturday Evening

Two softball games will feature dedication activities Saturday evening of the recently completed lighted ball grounds here. Atwood will play Ellsworth in the first game at 7:30, followed by a varied program, and Charlevoix will oppose Ellsworth in the second game. Peter John Drenth of Ellsworth and John DeYoung of Atwood are in charge of the program.

The lighted field, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce as a project for youth entertainment at home, will be busy this summer as many softball games are expected to be played. Cost of the completed field is about $3,000 which does not include much donated labor and materials by interested persons and groups.

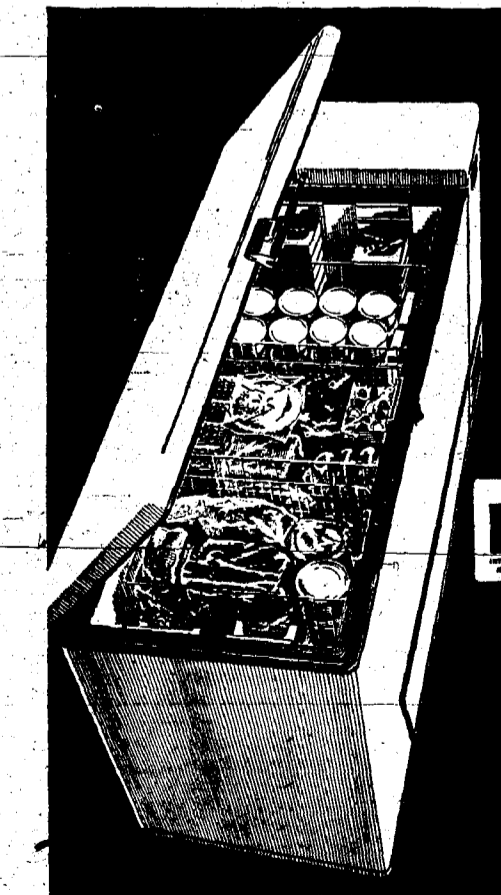

Banks township and Ellsworth village each have donated $1,000 in addition to donations by the commerce group, American Legion, two churches, village firemen and the Banks Township Sportsmen's club. Lighting equipment consists of four 40 foot poles, four fifty foot poles and 36 1500 watt floodlamps. A 6 x 8 brick building provides housing for light switches and room for score keepers and officials.

Much credit for the field is due Henry Smith, superintendent of Banks school, as it was his "brain child" and was suggested to the Chamber of Commerce as a worthwhile project. Thank you, Henry.

Officers of the Banks Township athletic association are: President, Marvin Elzinga; secretary, Grant A. Hastings; and treasurer, Peter John Drenth.

Knowledge is Power

(1) That depends on your age and income, according to Sylvia Porter. She gives you some important rules of thumb in Good Housekeeping magazine: (a) Don't buy a house that costs more than 2½ times your annual income before taxes. (b) If you buy furniture or appliances, don't let your monthly installments get beyond 10 per cent of your monthly income before taxes. (c) Don't buy a new car unless you can pay one-third down and the balance in 24 months. (d) When you borrow money to buy a major item, borrow exactly the amount you need, no more, no less.

(2) That depends on the community. If tests of the water supply reveal a high concentration of fluorides in the water, steps should be taken to remove some of it from the water. In other communities the addition of one part of fluorine to one million parts of water helps reduce dental decay by as much as 50 per cent in children under 12 years old.

The use of fluorine in controlled amounts is endorsed by the American Medical association, the American Dental association and other public medical organizations. O. A. Battista's recent article in a Catholic Digest article. In some communities, such as Lewiston, Idaho, a 77 per cent reduction in dental decay resulted from fluoridation of drinking water.

(3) Each year residents of Chincoteague island, off the sea-coast of Virginia, round up wild horses on near-by Assateague island. The horses are supposedly descendants of Moor ponies which swam ashore from a wrecked Spanish galleon. They live on marsh grass and myrtle leaves. Each summer the Chincoteague islanders round up the herd, sell some of the ponies, and return the others to the island for another year of freedom.

Michigan Mirror

A tax on Michigan business payrolls and earnings is the legislature's answer to the deepening state deficit at Lansing.

The levy, first of its kind in the state, was steamrolled through the House of Representatives at 24-hours' notice last week.

Strategy of the Senate Taxation committee, led by Senator George Higgins, was apparently to ditch the carefully drafted state income bill on both business and individuals and to spring at the 11th hour the business receipts measure. This bill was so new at the capitol that a press conference was called Wednesday, May 13, to explain its provisions. Seven days later, including a two-day weekend the bill had been rushed through the Senate and House.

A veteran Detroit newspaper correspondent observed: "It's so new, not a half dozen legislators understand it."

House Minority Leader Ed Carey, (D-Detroit) insisted that official house records show the measure was "jammed through without adequate consideration or knowledge of the bill's content." A Republican move to delete his protest was not successful.

Pointing out that the bill had been written by a representative of the Ford Motor Company, a fact which was conceded openly by the Senate Taxation committee; Carey charged: "The bill is full of obscure language that can only be interpreted by courts."

In the language of the man of the streets, Governor G. Mennen Williams was handed a "hot potato." Without his signature or vote, the bill would become law in 10 days.

During the early part of the 1953 session the Senate waited for the House to initiate tax legislation. The answer of the House was to approve both the Nills corporate profits tax and also provisions of Senator Joseph P. Cloon's income tax bill on both business and individuals.

Representatives then waited to see what would happen. It did and fast!

The Senate committee threw out the Cloon measure, carefully drafted by University of Michigan law experts. It sprung, as a sub-drafted tax bill on adjusted business receipts.

Automobile manufacturers who make parts in Michigan and then ship them to other states for assembly would benefit from the new tax. Protests were promptly registered at the governor's office from Kaiser-Frazer and Packard automobile companies who make assemble and sell all cars in Michigan. They charged unfair discrimination.

How many "voters" would be affected?

The total is estimated at Lansing to be 75,000.

From the Republicans' viewpoint this may be important at the 1954 state election, as the tax base is obviously limited.

PREDICTION FOREST TENT CATERPILLAR DEFOLIATION 1953

The forest tent caterpillar is going to be active soon in the areas shown by dark shading in the above map. Last year, the crawlers chewed their way through forest lands in about the same area. Conservation department foresters say, however, the nuisance caused by the bugs is greater than any damage they do to trees. At present there are indications the infestation will fall off considerably next year.

business and individuals would have been popular with more voters and hence more apt to expire on March 15, 1955 - the date selected for the business receipts levy. Observers are of the opinion that the likelihood of voters' repeal of the sales tax diversion amendment was lessened by adoption of the new business tax. By the same token the chances have been enhanced that the legislature may be forced to continue the new tax beyond 1955. So-called "temporary" taxes have a habit of becoming permanent taxes. Crisis is perpetuated as pressure groups lobby for more state funds.

The legislature's solution to the deficit dilemma was reall one of a possible two choices.

Quoting Treasurer D. Hale Brake, eight years a State Senator and 10 years a State administrative official:

"The permanent answer (to the deficit) must take one of two forms, or a combination of the two. A third, which one hears so frequently on the street as a solution, is not an answer. That third idea is that the elimination of waste, an increase in efficiency, will permit us to go on doing all the things that we are doing in the way of service and still balance the budget without new money."

"We must bear in mind that for the last four years our Legislature has been doing that job and they've got the excess water pretty well drained off. When you talk now of a continuance of all of our services at reduced cost, you are talking about a few thousand dollars that might be taken out somewhere NOT ABOUT MILLIONS."

"The legislative answer must be either a discontinuance of major services or additional revenue. There seems to be no third answer at this time...There remains but one answer - more money."

Agreeing with the state treasurer's logic, the legislature has turned to a tax on 75,000 business firms, while deploring the evils of the sales tax diversion amendment.

The Detroit sponsors of the business receipts bill really hoped for a stalemate in the legislature whereby no tax bill of any kind would have been approved. They study of state aid to local governments, the possibility of wooing also contemplated, in a detailed Michigan voters to repeal the invidious sales tax amendment.

The Princeton tax study report financed by these Detroit sponsors, declared that "all available data indicates that Michigan is now financing more of the costs of local government through state collected taxes than any other comparable state in the Nation."

"Among all the states, regardless of size or comparability, its total amount of state aid annually is exceeded only in California and New York - Experience everywhere has shown that this is wasteful of public funds and sooner or later leads beyond centralization of finance to the centralization of governmental operations."

Since 78 per cent of the state sales tax is now returned automatically to local governments, the State of Michigan has become a super tax collector for schools, cities, villages and townships.

Will a business tax on 75,000 firms and individuals lead to repeal of the sales tax diversion amendment? That is an interesting question which arises from the legislature's eleventh hour decision.

The answer will be written, of course, by the voters. Time will tell.

Coeds have to be mighty careful with their flirtations these days. We heard about one pert undergraduate who turned her charms on the school's football hero one day, and met with apparent success.

"Look, we've never been formally introduced," the athlete stammered, "but I've seen you around a lot."

"I've noticed you too," she admitted.

"Are you doing anything tonight?" he offered.

"Why, no," was her reply. "What did you have in mind?"

"Well, my wife and I want to go to the movies, and I wondered if you'd be free to sit with our baby."

The youngster in this tid-bit from Tid-Bits arrived home one evening with a forlorn looking little chick that had strayed from a neighbor's brooder.

"You'll have to take the poor thing right back to its mother," his father told him.

"But it hasn't got a mother, answered the lad.

"Well, then, take it to its father."

"It hasn't got a father either," was the sad reply. "It hasn't got anything but an old lamp."

The Anchorage restaurant has blossomed out with a brand new idea in place mats. Printed in blue with a gold cross in the center, the mat has four prayers for the convenience of those who were brought up to ask the blessing before each meal, and possibly as a reminder for those who were not. Why not drop in and see one of these new place mats.

Judge Brown, in his address to the Boy Scouts assembled on Main Street Saturday afternoon, stated "During his term as Circuit Judge, he only had one boy before him who was a Boy Scout." This set us to wondering, "Did scouting get to the boys that had been in front of him?" We feel that Scouting is a wonderful experience for boys, and would be more wonderful if it could get to the boys that need it most.

The eighth grade hay ride came up the street Tuesday night, two trailers behind two tractors—this modern age—just don't seem like a hay ride without horses.

Just to settle any argument as to how far it is from here to there by different routes, we found that from the center of East Jordan to the center of Central Lake, it is exactly 15 miles whether by Pleasant Valley or Ellsworth.

F. F. A. TRIP

The East Jordan F. F. A. will take a camping trip this spring as they have the past few years. This year they plan on leaving June 5th, and returning June 9th. The camping site will be at Manistique, the same place as last year.

Clayton Healey, honorary member of the F. F. A., donated his truck so the boys could take all the equipment needed on the trip. Every year the boys work hard to earn money for the F. F. A. treasury, part of which is used to finance this event.

Chaperones will be Mr. Richard Schroeder, advisor, and Mr. Ed. Rebmam, County Agr'l Agent.

We've nothing but good to say about the chap who sets our type, now that we've heard, via Printsmith, about the newspaper that typographically referred to a couple of learned and scholarly gentlemen as two "bibulous old flies" rather than as "bibliophiles."

Next day, the editor received a wrathful letter protesting the error. The editor apologized for the mistake, adding that he was sure the gentlemen understood how such errors can slip through, and hoped they would not be "too fastidious" to forgive him.

It could be a coincidence that the linotypist erred again. This time the two bibliophiles were described as "too fast idiots."

For every woman who yearns for that schoolgirl complexion, there's a man who longs for that schoolboy digestion.

"I'm still driving up on the front line and they are keeping us busy. In one night we fired eleven hundred rounds and we were really tired when we finished. I am driving one of those new five ton trucks and they are big. We put 180 complete rounds on them and they walk away with it just as if there was nothing on it."

"The trout must be going to hit this week as Betty Jo has asked me for a few lines.

"Of course, you can imagine the town bursting all out with this 18 County Area of Boy Scouts bivouaced and roughing it out at the Fair Grounds. Between 800 and 1,000 Scouts are expected. So far, they look well fed so the campers must be sharp—or is it like the New Army, with chicken every Sunday.

"Seriously, fellows, the town has taken on a new lift and I'm sure it will look especially good to you after some of the far away places you are seeing.

"This being the Memorial Day week end, the Legion boys are getting sharpened up under the drilling of Archie Nemecek, Tom Breakey and Right Guide Sherman Thomas. PeeWee Gee says the Navy can drill, too. How about that, sailors?"

"I will close with the prayer used on Memorial Day."

"Let us pray. Almighty God, Giver of all victories, we thank Thee for the opportunities which abide in our land, for Thy guidance in the hour of peril and Thy tender love in times of need. Help us to remember with reverence the valor and devotion of our departed comrades; not only those whose bodies consecrate our Country's soil, but also those who sleep beyond the seas, and those others whose resting places will not be known until that last day when the deep will have given up its dead. O God, teach us to honor them by ever cherishing the ideals for which they fought. Keep us steadfast in the cause of human rights and liberties; of law and order, and true Americanism. Give us the power to see and the will to do the right. Grant that the American Legion may preserve the high ideal for which our comrades died. May Thy merciful blessing rest upon those left behind. Keep us forever firm in righteousness, humble of heart, and unselfish in purpose. Amen."
