Northern Michigan Begins its Own Economic Recovery

Be a Part of the 20/20 Project

By Dave Baragrey

It is no secret that Michigan's economy has been declining during the past couple of years. The auto manufacturers have reduced their workforce, newspapers have closed, home values have plummeted and the list goes on and on. Michigan's unemployment rate has been the highest in the nation month after month. It seems as though every time we watch the news on television that another economic disaster has taken place.

However, we don't hear about the independently owned businesses that have really taken a hit during this economic nightmare. Those small businesses in our town and neighboring towns throughout Northern Michigan may have been hit the hardest of all. The effect this has on community goes much deeper than just a store closing or struggling to keep the doors open. When these locally owned businesses hurt it cuts deep into our city tax base, our schools, our nonprofit groups, our churches and our own households. Independently owned BusiThe 20/20 Project promotes supporting non-profit organizations, shopping locally and benefits independently owned businesses right here in our Northern Michigan communities.

Carrie Ann Bricker-Hauger

(November 16, 1975 -January 24, 2010)

Carrie Ann Bricker-Hauger, born on November 16, 1975 lost her life in a two car accident on Sunday, January 24, 2010.

Carrie married Joey Hauger in 1999, and together they were blessed with four gifts from God, Cora 9, Inanna 6, Mira 5, and little brother Bruyn 7 months.

Carrie lived life to the fullest as a terrific mom, wonderful wife and best friend to Joey, beloved daughter, and great role model and friend to her 5 younger sisters. She will also be missed by her elementary students and staff at Central Lake Schools and the many girls she coached at Boyne City Public Schools. She will be there in spirit at gymnastics, swim school, soccer, football and snowmobile races.

Carrie is survived by her best friends and sisters Katie, Molly, Emily, Samantha and Anna. She is also survived by her loving parents Robin and Dave Bricker, Joey's parents Pat and Joseph Hauger of Levering and his great grandparent Rosemary Graubner of Vassar, and grandparents Nancy and Jerry Adams and Darlene and Don Persons of Boyne City. Carrie was surrounded and loved by many aunts, uncles, cousins, nieces and nephew.

Carrie loved her husband, Joey and her kids, Cora, Inanna, Mira and Bruyn. She leaves a huge void in the hearts of everyone. She left way too soon, but will forever be in our hearts and prayers. Carrie Ann will forever walk the most fertile fields of our minds.

Donations are appreciated and can be made through the Stackus Funeral Home; C/O Joe Hauger for a scholarship trust fund to be established for the kids.

Schools

2007-2008 school year. Once this information was collected, schools went through a ranking process.

The ranking is evaluated using several criteria, including an overall principle that a high school should serve all students, regardless of the path they intend to follow after graduation, and an analysis of measurable results showing the school is educating students over a wide range of performance indicators.

A primary factor in this area was test performance, determining if students were achieving scores, particularly in the area of math and reading, above the statistical average for students in their state.

Schools that achieved this performance level were also eligible to be judged nationally based on college-readiness performance, measuring which schools produced the best college-level achievement for the highest percentages of their students.

Project Connect connects people in need with a range of health and human services needed to improve their lives.

"Over 50 local non-profit agencies, as well as some businesses, will be on hand to provide a wide variety of services and resources," says Jamie Winters, Chair of the Homeless Continuum of Care workgroup of the Charlevoix-Emmet Human Services Coordinating Body.

All services are free. They include: housing programs; utility support; food assistance; tax preparation; health screenings and services; children's activities, and much more. people bring picture ID, birth certificate, and income information with them, if they wish to apply for benefits.

"With so many people out of work at this time, people who have never had to request assistance before don't know where to turn," says Shirley Gillespie, Co-Chair of the event. "By. bringing together all of the services in one place, in one day, we can help make those connections."

Guests are encouraged to park at the Emmet County fairgrounds. Free parking and shuttle service to the K of C will be provided all day.

United Way is coordinating donations of funds and items, as well as volunteer staffing. Information about what is needed or how to volunteer is available on the website: www.charemunitedway.org or people can call 231-487-1006.

Goals

The method used at the meeting allowed everyone to voice his or her opinions and ideas. People were divided into groups of about six to a table. Each table then had a facilitator who asked each person what they thought were goals that the city should concentrate on and the priority of those

Some of the concerns named were the declining revenue base, the need for job creation and retention, broadband expansion to attract high-tech businesses, development of the Dilworth Hotel, trails in and out of the city, access to downtown for snowmobiles, Downtown Development Authority renewal, the stalled Devlon property plans and the shopper's dock.

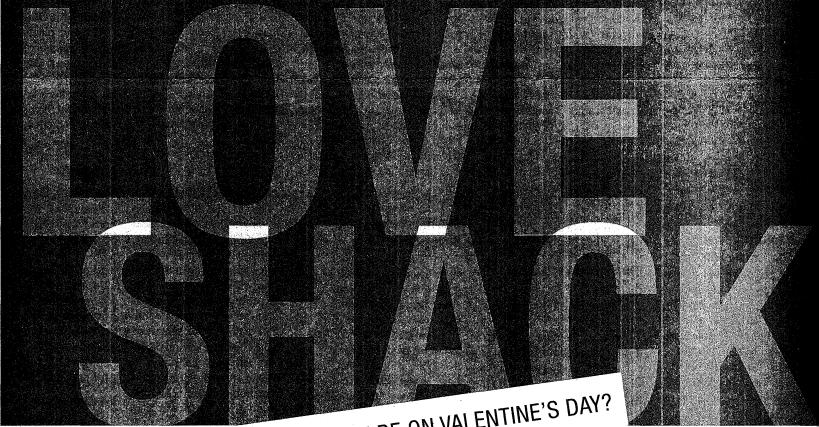

Some ideas were to build a downtown skating rink, to move city offices off of the waterfront, and to development recreational facilities, or improve existing facilities, for youth and for senior citizens's

Following the input from the groups, Hayes and Solomon compiled a list of the top nine areas for the 2010 city goals. The development of the historic Dilworth Hotel was at the top of the list. That was followed by the need to work on a healthy local business base, job creation and retention, renewal of the Downtown Development Authority (Main Street Program), relocation of city offices, building upon current success and to address the stalled development of the Devlon property on Lake Street, across from Glen's Plaza.

The information gathered at the goal-setting meeting will be organized and presented to city commissioners at a commission meeting. The results will be available to the public when they are completed. Additional meetings are expected in the future. For more information call Dean Solomon at MSU Extension: 231-582-6232.

garage? Donate it to the City of Boyne City, Avalanche Park for use at the sledding hill. Much like the program the City has now for loaning ice skates, the City would like to have a few sleds available to loan out as well. While the City has been offering the loaner skates for many years, the idea of offering the sleds is new for this year. After hearing many comments from visitors who would like to sled at Avalanche but did not have room in their vehicles to pack sleds or from families who were not aware of the Avalanche sledding hill until arriving in the area, the City decided to look into having a few sleds that could be lent out to anyone in need. Sleds would be distributed on a first come - first serve basis and may not be taken off property. Hours of the Avalanche warming house are Monday - Friday from 4-9 p.m. Saturday and Sunday from 11a.m. - 9 p.m., and holidays when the kids are not in school will fol-

New Mackinac Bridge postage stamp to be unveiled Feb. 3

January 25, 2010 -- In partnership with the United States Postal Service (USPS), the Mackinac Bridge Authority (MBA) and the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) today announced a special ceremony to unveil a new Priority Mail stamp commemorating the iconic Mackinac Bridge. The ceremony begins at 11 a.m. on Feb. 3 at Bridge View Park in St. Ignace.

MBA Board Chairman William H. Gnodtke said, "Once again, the Mackinac Bridge will be featured on a USPS stamp. At the same time, collectors also can look forward to the release of a new gift pack of commemorative Mackinac Bridge tokens."

Joining Gnodtke at the event will be Michigan congressional representatives, State Transportation Director Kirk T. Steudle, and district and local USPS representatives. In addition to a brief program unveiling the new stamp, various items featuring the "Mighty Mac" will be on sale.

"We're honored that the Mackinac Bridge, a landmark from our district, was selected as a subject for the 2010 stamp program," said Charles Howe, USPS Greater Michigan District Manager. "The Mackinac Bridge stamp will be headlining the 2010 stamp program with such notable subjects as Nobel Peace Prize honoree
Mother Teresa, legendary actress Katharine Hepburn, Negro Leagues Baseball and Cowboys of the Silver Screen."

Artist Dan Cosgrove used several panoramic photographs of the Mackinac Bridge to create the stamp artwork, which features seagulls flying around the two towers and a large ship passing underneath. This is one of several designs that the Chicago-based artist has produced for the USPS.

DAVE Says

(buy a foreclosure bargain)

Dave Ramsey

Dear Dave,

I want to buy a foreclosure. How do I go about it, and where do I look? I'm having a hard time making anything happen, because it seems like the real estate brokers are buying them up before I know they're available or have a chance to look at them.

Jeff

Dear Jeff,

I used to buy and sell foreclosures for a living, and for a while I ran into the same trouble you're having now. It didn't take long for me to realize that you need to be the first one to talk to the person who's suffering the foreclosure. It can almost be a first-come, first-served situation, and you need to beat a path to the person's door in a hurry if you want a chance to make a deal!

Another problem I noticed was that a lot of the people who were being foreclosed on owed lots more on the house than I was ever willing to pay. Plus, it's really tough to get a short sale worked out in the two or three weeks before the foreclosure actually occurs. So, I started looking for houses that had some decent equity in them. I'd leave it alone if the house was worth $110,000 and there was still $100,000 owed. But if you've got a situation where they owe $100,000 and it's worth $300,000, then we've got something to talk about!

Once you find some good possibilities, cut them out of the local newspaper or legal publication, then go to the courthouse and look up how much each one of them owed. That culls about 90 percent of them. After that, I'd just drive over and talk to the 10 percent that are left. I found lots of good deals just talking to the owner before the foreclosure sale took place!

—Dave

(it isn't the same as cash)

Dear Dave,

My wife and I bought some furniture a while back on what we thought was a 24-months-same-as-cash plan. The original purchase price was $1,600. The other day, I got a call from a collector saying that it was actually a 12month plan, and the balance is now $2,800. We looked at the contract, and it was our mistake on the length of the plan. Still, that makes the interest rate about 30 percent. Is there anything we can do about this?

Robert

Dear Robert,

This is one of the reasons I tell people to stay away from "same as cash" agreements. You may not have agreed to a specific percentage rate, and I'll bet it's something less when you factor in the time before and after the 12-month period ended. Still, I'm pretty sure that when you signed the contract you did agree to have this thing convert to a financed contract if you didn't pay it off in 12 months. These kinds of deals are really scummy. Not only have they charged you interest since the 12month period ended, they've also back-charged you interest for the entire length of the contract!

These same-as-cash contracts are a bear trap, Robert. They're designed to screw you over big time. You can try to dispute it, but I've got a feeling you'll lose and have to pay about $1,200 in stupid tax on this one. Lots of people think they can pull one over on a company with the "same as cash" deal, but stuff almost always comes up even if you don't misread the contract. I've said it a million times, Robert. If you play with snakes, you will be bitten!

Marriages Experience Stale Periods; Must be Energized

QUESTION: My wife and I love each other very much, but we're going through a time of apathy. We just don't feel close to each other. Is this normal, and is there a way to bring back the fire?

DR. DOBSON: This happens sooner or later in every marriage. A man and woman just seem to lose the wind in their romantic sails for a period of time.

Their plight reminds me of seamen back in the days of wooden vessels. Sailors in that era had much to fear, including pirates, storms and diseases. But their greatest fear was that the ship might encounter the Doldrums. The Doldrums was an area of the ocean near the equator characterized by calm and very light shifting winds. It could mean certain death for the entire crew. The ship's food and water supply would be exhausted as they drifted for days, or even weeks, waiting for a breeze to put them back on course.

Well, marriages that were once exciting and loving can also get caught in the romantic doldrums, causing a slow and painful death to the relationship. Author Doug Fields, in his book "Creative Romance," writes, "Dating and romancing your spouse can change those patterns, and it can be a lot of fun. There's no quick fix to a stagnant marriage, of course, but you can lay aside the excuses and begin to date your sweetheart."

In fact, you might want to try thinking like a teenager again. Let me explain.

Recall for a moment the craziness of your dating days -- the coy attitudes, the flirting, the fantasies, the chasing after the prize. As we moved from courtship into marriage, most of us felt we should grow up and leave the game playing behind. But we may not have matured as much as we'd like to think.

In some ways, our romantic relationships will always bear some characteristics of adolescent sexuality. Adults still love the thrill of the chase, the lure of the unattainable, excitement of the new and boredom with the old. Immature impulses are controlled and minimized in a committed relationship, of course, but they never fully disappear.

This could help you keep vitality in your marriage. When things have grown stale between you and your spouse, maybe you should remember some old tricks. How about breakfast in bed? A kiss in the rain? Or rereading those old love letters together? A night in a nearby hotel? Roasting marshmallows by an open fire? A phone call in the middle of the day? A long-stem red rose and a love note? There are dozens of ways to fill the sails with wind once more.

If it all sounds a little immature to act like a teenager again, just keep this in mind: In the best marriages, the chase is never really over.

MOVIE REVIEW

By Jim Akans

When two of their three young children were diagnosed with Pompe disease, a progressive neuromuscular disorder, John Crowley and his wife, Aileen, set out upon a remarkable journey to challenge their children's seemingly unchange-

Extraordinary Measures is a gripping, gratifyng, often gritty film based on a true life tale. Like the drama unfolding in the story line, the film has a stark, down-to-earth feel that pits an emotional air of desperation against an unvielding sense of possibility and hope.

Played by Brendan Fraser (George of the Jungle), John Crowley is a highly successful advertising executive, harboring an Ivy League college degree, living in a fine home located in a Portland, Oregon suburb. As his children grow near to succumbing to their illness, John quits his high paying job to assist biotechnology researcher, Dr. Robert Stonehill (played by Harrison Ford) create a new company to develop an enzyme that could halt the progress their terrible disease.

As expected, there are several unexpected barricades thrown into the path of this unlikely team as they race against the clock to bring their new drug to market. But the real struggle is an emotional one, as the "system" isn't very accomodating when faced with Crowley and Stonehill's determination and spirit. As demonstrated time and time again in research labs and executive board rooms everywhere, objective science, and corporate politics, has no tolerance for senti-

Extraordinary Measures was filmed in the Beaverton, Portland and Vancouver areas of the Pacific Northwest. The location-based shooting crafts a subtle feeling of authenticity into the film; it's not as crisp and clean as a studio backlot production, nor should it be. It's easy to sense these roles represent real characters, their triumphs and set backs as well.

The film is rated PG for the intense nature of the overall theme, and for a few "language moments." While not a movie for very young children, the message is certainly a positive and inspirational one.

Extraordinary Measures is a tale of courage, perseverance and faith that even though something may be proclaimed as our fate, we always have the power to challenge. And this isn't just another Hollywood fairy tale, the underlying story here is true.

Rayders on rise in LMC standings

Win streak reaches four after Friday's victory at home over EJ

Charlevoix 82, East Jordan 68

CHARLEVOIX - It was a good week for the Charlevoix Rayders. On Tuesday, Jan. 19, the Rayders outscored highpowered Lake Michigan Conference rival Elk Rapids 100-91 on the road in double overtime. On Friday, the Rayders returned home and won impressively against league foe East Jordan, 82-68.

The Rayders pushed their winning streak to four and improved their overall record to 5-4 and, more importantly, their league mark to 4-1. That gives them sole possession of second place behind unbeaten Traverse City St. Francis in the league

The Bazooka, Ben Myers, unloaded the heavy artillery for the Rayders in Friday's win over East Jordan, assaulting the iron for a team-high 19 points. Point guard Keegan LaBlance displayed once again the kind of poise and floor generalship a sophomore does not normally possess. He racked up a whopping 14 assists in the contest. Myers also had three assists and a team-high six rebounds.

Big Bill Ivan, Charlevoix's Rock in the paint, hit for 10 points along with Andrew Plude.

For East Jordan, Nico Cornstalk had another big scoring night, making the twine dance to the tune of 19 points, and Josh Williams hit for 13.

Charlevoix coach Keith Haske put an emphasis on limiting the Red Devils' explosive senior guard Teddy Snowden. Haske assigned the relentless Myers to guard Snowden and Myers did the job, holding the silkysmooth senior to 11 points.

East Jordan (4-6, 2-3) had a three-game winning streak snapped.

Charlevoix won the freshmen game 75-54 behind the 21-point performance of hard-charging Charlie Hamilton.

Charlevoix 72, Ellsworth 45

ON TUESDAY, Jan. 19, both the Rayders and the Red Devils won. Charlevoix outscored the Elks in a wild shootout and East Jordan earned a 72-45 decision over visiting Ellsworth.

LaBlance helped carry the offensive load, scorching the nets for 25 points and Plude was poison from the floor as well, hitting for 20. Dylan Putman and Bill Ivan both recorded double-doubles, with Putman notching 16 points and 14 boards and Ivan scoring 13 to go with 10 rebounds. Putman also had six assists and three blocked shots.

Myers had a typically effective stat line with 16 points, six assists and five steals.

Snowden was super for East Jordan in its win over Ellsworth, connecting for 23 points and handling the ball efficiently against an aggressive Lancer defense.

Cornstalk was also in double figures with 15 and senior sharpshooter Travis Braman rang up a pair of 3pointers.

Senior Andrew Nemecek was a defensive stalwart for the Red Devils, helping to keep Ellsworth's ever-dangerous All-Stater Jared Danbert under wraps in the first half and limit his point production for the game to 10 points. Senior forward Nate Peterson tallied 15 to lead the Lancers.

East Jordan, fueled by the missiles of Austin Mellios (19 points) and Dustin Mellios (16 points), won the JV game 64-58. John Richards also helped the cause, ringing up 13.

Fourth-quarter rally lifts Red Devils

Peters scorches nets for 25 points as EJ evens league mark at 2-2

By Mike Dunn

CHARLEVOIX – The East Jordan girls snapped a three-game losing streak on the road Friday night, finishing strong in the fourth quarter to edge perennial Lake Michigan Conference rival Charlevoix 63-59.

Coach Steve Hines credited a solid team effort for the victory and particularly the ball handling of Maribeth Poindexter, Tanner McCune and freshman Val Peters in the second half against the aggressive Rayder defense.

"In the first half, we turned the ball over 17 times; in the second half, we only turned the ball over five times," Hines noted. "Maribeth, Tanner and Val did a really nice job against their pressure."

East Jordan led most of the way but Charlevoix, coming off an impressive win over Elk Rapids, showed lots of fight, rallying behind the hot hand of Lynzie Gotshall to take the lead in the fourth quarter. The Red Devils were able to finish strong, however, sparked by the free-throw shooting of Poindexter down the stretch and some key buckets from senior wing Shaina Peters.

"Any time you can win a conference game on the road, it's a big win," Hines said. "It was especially big for us because it broke the three-game losing streak."

The Red Devils, who improved to 3-6 overall and 2-3 in the league, made 26 of 54 shots, including some breakaway buckets following forced turnovers. The Rayders slipped to 3-7 and 2-3.

Peters was hotter than a heaping bowl of Texas chili, scorching the nets for 25 points to pace the Red Devils. She had lots of help, too, receiving pinpoint passes from Poindexter and McCune in breakaway situations.

McCune was also in double digits with 15 points and she recorded three assists. The versatile Poindexter, who hit 3 of 4 from the charity stripe in the final minute, finished with eight points to go with a teamhigh six steals and seven rebounds. Junior center Stephanie Holm, making her first appearance in the new year after being sidelined by illness, also grabbed seven rebounds with three assists and was a physical presence in the paint at both ends of the floor.

Forward Gracie Howes helped to spark the offense in the early going, scoring all six of her points in the first quarter before being forced to the bench with foul trouble.

"After losing the last three games, all relatively close, it was nice to get back in the win column," Hines said. "And to do it at Charlevoix after they got the lead back from us in the fourth quarter is a huge confidence boost."

Gotshall had a monster game for the Rayders, scoring 19 and pulling down 21 rebounds, and Madison Way hit for 15.

Charlevoix won the JV game with East Jordan that was played on Thursday, 61-14, as Sydney Carlson scored 14 and Bailee Stevens notched a double-double with 11 points and 10 boards. The Rayders pushed their record to 8-1.

The East Jordan varsity played at Cheboygan on Tuesday (after this issue went to press) and returns home Friday for a league showdown with Kalkaska.

Charlevoix played at Harbor Springs on Tuesday and is home Friday against Grayling.

On Tuesday, Jan. 19, Charlevoix won impressively on the road against Elk Rapids, 48-22. Senior forward Sarah Potter was a strong presence inside, scoring 24 points to pace the Rayders, who outscored the home team 24-3 in the third quarter. Jenna Way tallied eight and Madison Way seven.

DNR REPORT

Turkey hunt application deadline is Feb. 1

The Department of Natural Resources and Environment reminds hunters that the deadline for application for spring turkey hunting licenses is Feb 1. Hunters may apply at any authorized license dealer or online using the state's E-License system at www.michigan.gov/dnre.

The 2010 season runs from April 19 through May 31 with hunts lasting from seven to 42 days, depending on the hunt unit. A total of 113,890 licenses are available, including 48,890 general licenses and 65,000 privateland licenses.

"Hunters looking for the greatest flexibility should consider Hunt No. 234, which includes all open areas of the state except the public lands of southern Michigan," said DNR upland game bird specialist Al Stewart. "Hunters who do not purchase a license or apply for a limited-entry hunt by the Feb. 1 deadline will not be allowed to purchase a license

for Hunt 234."

Hunters may purchase a license for Hunt No. 234, which runs May 3-31, so they do not have to pay the $4 fee to enter the lottery for restricted licenses. Hunters who do apply for a limited hunt are responsible for verifying their customer ID (Michigan Driver's License) numbers. Incorrect ID numbers disqualify applicants from the lottery.

Applicants can check if they were drawn for a license beginning March 2 at www.michigan.gov/ www.michigan.gov/ dnrdrawings.

. "The current regulations were established to maximize hunting opportunity while maintaining high-quality experiences and allowing turkey populations to expand," Stewart said. "There are now 48,138 square miles of Michigan open to spring turkey hunting."

ATHLETE OF WEEK

Keegan LeBlance, Charlevoix

The Rayders' sophomore point guard had a monster week, helping his team outscore Elk Rapids in wild double overtime thriller with a 25-point performance on Tuesday and then dishing off 14 assists in Charlevoix's 82-68 victory over East Jordan on Friday.

Lancers win one, lose one

Win at Boyne Falls keeps Ellsworth close but loss to Harbor Light is blow in league race

By Mike Dunn

BOYNE FALLS - Two days after a disappointing performance on the road against East Jordan, the Ellsworth boys bounced back big time on the road against Northern Lakes Conference rival Boyne Falls. The Lancers limited the potent Boyne Falls arsenal to 45 points en route to an impressive 60-45 victory.

Ellworth improved to 6-3 overall and 6-1 in the league and kept itself one game behind Harbor Light Christian. The Loggers, who were hoping to forge a second-place tie in the league standings, fell to 4-4 and 4-3.

The win over the Loggers put Ellsworth in a position to forge a tie with Harbor Light in the league standings when the Swordsmen came to town on Monday. It didn't happen, though. Harbor Light played exceptional defense and earned a 43-27 victory to push its record to 10-1 overall and 8-0 in the league.

After losing for the second time in three starts, Ellsworth slipped to 6-4 and 6-2. Senior guard-forward Jared Danbert, who surpassed the 1,000-point plateau in his career the week before, paced the Lancers with nine points to go with eight rebounds and three steals and fellow senior Nate Peterson was strong in the paint, scoring seven with nine boards. For the most part, though, the Lancers struggled offensively.

Nate Cook scored 21 to lead talented Harbor Light and junior guard Collin Hewitt dished off seven assists.

IN THE victory Thursday over the Loggers, it was Ellsworth's defense that made the difference. The Lancers played a bark-tight man-to-man defense and did a good job of collapsing to the basket and denying easy access to the lane. Boyne Falls' 6foot-3 sophomore strong man Josh Puroll scored 17 but he battled for every Ellsworth coach Tex Drenth liked his team's intensity, especially on the heels of the 72-45 loss at East Jordan the game before.

"After getting our butts handed to us at East Jordan, it was nice to see us come out and play with the kind of intensity we showed tonight," the veteran coach said. "We expected a tough game here. Boyne Falls is well-coached and they have some weapons. I thought our aggressiveness on defense kept them from getting into a comfortable rhythm."

The Lancers led 16-9, 27-18 and 41-27 at the quarter breaks.

Junior guard Jordan Muma, the Lancers' little stick of dynamite, tallied 21 points with two connections from downtown and 6-for-6 shooting at the stripe. Muma also pulled down seven boards.

Danbert had a typically effective stat line, recording a double-double with 14 points and 11 boards to go with five steals and four assists. Peterson was also a power inside, battling Puroll in the paint while scoring 10 with 12 boards. Slick junior point guard Robert Gruse put up nine points with four assists and Jeff Sutherland scored four and provided solid minutes inside. Hardworking junior forward Ben Veenstra brought his usual energy off the bench in the fourth quarter.

Joining Puroll in double digits for the Loggers were senior forward Jared Mathers with 12 and junior point guard Reggie Fiel with 10.

The Loggers played hard but had difficulty getting untracked offensively.

"We played pretty well on defense at times but we didn't give ourselves good looks at the basket offensively," said Boyne Falls coach Al Massey. "We wanted to go inside-out but they made it tough for us to get the ball inside. They forced us to the perimeter but we didn't make smart decisions. We should have moved the ball more and created better opportunities."

The Loggers, who have shown the ability to light it up from long range, hit only 4 of 26 from 3-point land for the game and that cost

"We see Ellsworth two more times and I know we'll play better than we did tonight," Massey said.

GIRLS HOOPS Lady Loggers even league mark

Bearss is Beast for Boyne Falls in wins over Mack City, Wolverine

By Mike Dunn

BOYNE FALLS - It was a productive week for the Boyne Falls girls basketball team. The Loggers got the best of Northern Lakes Conference foes Mackinaw City and Wolverine to push their record to 6-5 overall and 4-4 in league play. Ali Bearss was a Beast for Boyne Falls, leading the way offensively in both games.

On Wednesday, the Loggers posted a 51-39 victory over Mack City as Bearss put up 15 points and the Matelski Towers stood tall in the paint. Kristin and Emily Matelski combined for 20 points and 15 rebounds with Kristin recording 11 points and seven boards and Emily amassing nine points with eight boards and five assists. Taylor Puroll was powerful inside as well, recording eight rebounds.

On Friday, the Loggers edged visiting Wolverine 47-45 in a barnburner. Boyne Falls trailed by three, 35-32, in the fourth quarter but rallied to claim the win as Bearss bore down, putting up nine of her team's 15 points in the period.

Emily Matelski showed up big as well, scoring 10 and playing super-glue defense against Wolverine's explosive Catrise Bunker. Kristin Matelski tallied seven with 10 boards and tall Taylor Puroll had a 7-UP game with seven points and seven rebounds.

Tammy Bickmann scored 18 to pace the

Elk Rapids 38, Boyne City 35

BOYNE CITY - Senior guard Sydney

Gahn put up 13 points for the host Ramblers on Friday but it was visiting Elk Rapids prevailing by three, 38-35, in a defensive Lake Michigan Conference showdown.

The Elks improved to 6-4 overall and 4-1 in the league while the young Boyne City squad fell to 3-7 and 1-4.

Megan Gregorski and Makayla Sanford each scored nine to pace the Elks.

Ellsworth 69, Alba 38

ELLSWORTH - Emily Veenstra continued her strong play for the Lancers, recording another double-double with 22 points and 10 boards in a 69-38 victory Wednesday over Lake Michigan Conference foe Alba.

Jalyn Ingalls, a jump shot waiting to happen, nearly had a double-double off her own, recording 15 points and nine boards for the Lancers and reliable Haley Drenth helped the cause, too, hitting for 14.

Taylor Roberts was tops for Alba with 16 points.

In the JV game, Aubrey Goodrich was good for 10 points in the Lancers' thrilling 34-33 victory.

Elk Rapids 51, Boyne City 49

BOYNE CITY - The host Ramblers put up a hellacious battle Friday against high-powered Lake Michigan Conference rival Elk Rapids. In the end, though, the Elks were able to pull out a tense 51-49 victory.

Caleb Roberts, who rang up 17 points with 10 rebounds and three steals, and sweet-shooting sophomore Jay Redman helped to spark a late comeback that brought Boyne City within a basket of forcing overtime. It wasn't to be, though, as the Ramblers' final shot of the night rolled around the rim and out.

Redman finished with 11 points for the Ramblers, who battled hard all the way through but slipped to 1-7 overall and 0-5 in the league. Elk Rapids improved to 5-3 and 3-2.

Kyle Doran and Reece Isenhart had 15 and 14 points, respectively, to lead the Elks.

Boyne City defenders Nick Young, Kolbi Shumaker and Parker Ameel did a super job of neutralizing the offensive fireworks of Elks' sophomore sharpshooter Luke Morrison, limiting him to seven points.

BC grapplers split at Elk Rapids

Ramblers beat Elks, lose narrowly to Kalkaska

By Mike Dunn

ELK RAPIDS - It was very nearly a sweep for Boyne City in a double-dual wrestling meet Wednesday, Jan. 20, at Elk Rapids. Coach Don Nohel's Ramblers defeated the Elks 33-18 and lost a close one to Kalkaska, 33-30.

The match of the night turned out to be the bruising battle at 135 pounds between Kalkaska's Peter Finfrock and Boyne City's mini-bulldozer, Zach Bush. Finfrock finally prevailed 10-8 in the grueling bout between two of the top grapplers in the area. Bush gave a good account of himself, though.

"Even though Zach lost he wrestled really well against a very good opponent," Nohel said.

The Caveman, Jon Calo, was one of four Boyne City wrestlers to win both of his matches on the night. Calo, who does his business at 152 pounds, pinned Chris Spann of Kalkaska in the second period and then engaged in a hellacious mat war with Elk Rapids' highly regarded Zach Perrault. Calo ultimately pulled out a tense 9-8 decision after falling behind 5-0 early in the bout.

Senior Drew Nohel pushed his personal log to 20-1 this season with his sweep at 160 pounds, including a second-period pin over the Elks' Jeff Jennings.

The Finnish Fire Storm, Joakim Brander, won twice at 215, pinning Sam Warner of Kalkaska in 3:34 and winning by void over Elk Rapids. Heavyweight Dylan Nelson was dynamite in his two matches, including an explosive 38-second pin of Kalkaska' Brennan Burrick.

Zach LeDere (119) and Bryan Wonski (189) each went 1-1 on the night. Wonski, a Rambler power broker, won by pin over the Elks' Marcus Shannaquet.

HEALTH & WELLNESS

Is it a Cold or the Flug

By Amanda Knoles

If you find it difficult to tell the difference between a cold and flu, you're not alone. Many people misdiagnose symptoms and take over-the-counter or prescription medicines that have little effect or may even do more harm than good. Colds are transmitted most often through contact with individuals or objects that have been contaminated with cold viruses. Flu spreads more rapidly than colds, moving from person to person via virus-contaminated airborne droplets released by coughs, sneezes and even conversation. It can also be spread through hands and inanimate objects. With both colds and flu a person can be infected with the virus and show no symptoms for one to three days.

The most reliable way to distinguish a cold from the flu is how your illness begins. A cold may begin with sneezing or a scratchy feeling in the throat that gradually progresses to a stuffy or runny nose accompanied by a sore throat. A hacking cough and mild fatigue are common symptoms of a cold. Colds generally last from seven to ten days. People often mistake allergy and sinus infections for colds. In fact, sinusitis frequently begins as a cold and progresses into a bacterial infection in the sinuses or middle ear. Allergy sufferers more often experience itchy and watering eyes, sneezing and feelings of head congestion. Cold and flu symptoms can also mimic more serious bacterial illnesses like strep throat. Strep often begins like a cold but progresses swiftly to a sore throat that makes swallowing dif-

Flu usually develops with a quick onset of symptoms including a high fever (102 - 104 F). It frequently is accompanied by headache, chills, severe muscle aches and may include nausea, vomiting and diarrhea. Flu sufferers also experience overwhelming feelings of fatigue. Respiratory symptoms include nasal congestion, sore throat and cough. While the sore throat from a cold usually disappears in a day or two, a sore throat with flu is likely to get worse the second or third day. Most people recover from the flu in one to two weeks, but in some cases dangerous complications can develop, including pneumonia.

Facts vs. Myths

You do not put yourself at increased risk of catching a cold by getting caught in the rain or not dressing warmly enough in cold weather. Many people mistakenly believe that bacteria cause colds and flu. Colds are caused by more than 200 strains of viruses from eight different viral groups. The viruses spread through mucus secretions, coughs and sneezes. Flu is caused by constantly evolving virus strains and spreads more rapidly. Flu viruses can live from one to three hours on an infected person's hands or on objects handled by an infected person.

Children have more colds than adults because they haven't yet built up immunity to the viruses and they are exposed to more illnesses at school and day care facilities. It is not uncommon for children to have three to six colds a year. Highly stressed people are more susceptible to colds because stress weakens the immune system; and smokers experience more severe symptoms than nonsmokers

Many people take extra Vitamin C in winter to boost their immune systems while others swear

they ward off colds by taking the herbs Echinacea and goldenseal. There is continuing controversy on the effectiveness of Vitamin C as a cold remedy or preventive measure although studies have shown it can sometimes lessen the symptoms or shorten the duration of a cold. The value of taking Echinacea and goldenseal is also hotly debated. Talk to your doctor or pharmacist before taking any vitamins or herbs you are unsure about particularly if you are taking other prescription med-

Over-the-Counter Medications

Many people go to the drug store and can't decide which over-the-counter medicine to buy due to the overwhelming choice of products. Describe your symptoms to the pharmacist or get a recommendation from your doctor's office. Decongestants help relieve stuffy, congested noses. Nonprescription cough medicines containing guaifenesin and dextromethorphan can relieve coughs while loosening mucus secretions. Expectorants help to keep mucus secretions liquid so that coughs are productive, (helping to expel the mucus your body is trying to get rid of). Aspirin and ibuprofen reduce fever and help relieve headache and body aches. Hard candy or throat lozenges soothe irritated throats and calm coughing spasms. Most experts agree that cold and flu sufferers should avoid antihistamines because they can thicken secretions in the chest and sinuses, making them harder to expel and possibly setting the stage for a bacterial infection. Combination medicines are rarely a good idea because you end up getting some drugs you don't need and not enough of medications that could help. And don't try to treat a cold or flu with antibiotics in your medicine chest. Antibiotics have no effect on viral infections.

How to Avoid Colds and Flu

Wash your hands often especially during peak cold and flu season (late fall to late spring). Handshakes, telephones, sneezing and touching surfaces frequently transfer colds. (Many companies use a disinfectant spray like Lysol to spray common areas like telephones, computer keyboards and counter tops during cold and flu season. Surfaces can also be made germ free by wiping them down with alcohol.) Consider carrying individually packaged alcohol wipes to use in public places, especially before using public phones.

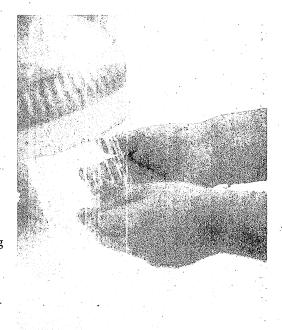

Eat nutritious meals, exercise regularly and get enough sleep. Research has shown that some foods can help ward off infectious illnesses. These include all members of the cabbage family, garlic, onions, citrus fruits, berries, tomatoes, peppers and zinc-rich foods like wheat germ, whole grains, seafood and meat.

Avoid sharing cups, glasses, and utensils with family members.

Try not to touch moist areas of your nose, eyes and mouth.

Drink plenty of fluids to keep your body hydrated. The liquid helps to keep mucous membranes moist, so they can trap cold viruses and eliminate them before they infect your cells. Staying hydrated is especially important in winter when both indoor and outdoor air is drier.

Get a flu shot in October or early November. It usually takes two to three weeks after receiving the vaccine for your body to build up an immunity to the flu virus. High-risk individuals not previously immunized should get a flu shot even if an outbreak is already reported.

Various strains of flu virus can be more serious for infants, the elderly and those suffering from chronic diseases. Doctors recommend that people over 65, those with heart disease and diabetes and health care workers receive the flu vaccine as an annual preventive measure. According to the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, the flu vaccine is a powerful weapon for anyone who wants to reduce their chances of getting the flu. Studies have shown the vaccine's effectiveness rate to be as high as 70 to 90 percent in healthy adults. As the demand for the flu vaccine grows, it is also becoming more accessible. Instead of paying for an office visit at your doctor's office, you may be able to get a flu shot at your local pharmacy or a nearby clinic.

Tips When You Have A Cold or Flu

Place your hand over your mouth and nose when you sneeze and always wash your hands after sneezing or blowing your nose.

Use paper tissues instead of handkerchiefs and dispose of used tissues as soon as possible to avoid spreading germs to others.

Drink lots of fluids especially if you have a fever. Liquids are also soothing to the throat and may relieve coughing. Drink as much water and juice as possible, preferably two quarts a day.

For a sore throat, gargle with warm salt water and suck on hard candy or ice cubes.

Eating warm soups and drinking hot tea can soothe your throat, help clear nasal passages and boost your energy. (Chicken soup really can Rest in a well-ventilated room and get extra sleep while your body is healing.

Wheezing from lung congestion can be relieved by drinking caffeinated beverages (coffee, tea, colas). Caffeine helps to dilate bronchial pas-

Taking a long, hot shower can help clear nasal passages and ease head congestion.

A cold or flu should work itself out of your system in seven days. Do call your doctor if symptoms persist longer than a week or if you experience severe sore throat, hoarseness or dark yellow or green discharge and intense pain around your sinuses. At the first signs of flu, your doctor may prescribe one of the newly developed medications that can lessen its severity.

FEBRUARY IS NATIONAL CHILDREN'S DENTAL HEALTH MONTH

Suggestions to Reduce the Risk of Tooth Decay

By Dr. Gregory Heintschel

Dental Clinics North with locations in Gaylord, Petoskey, Cheboygan, Mancelona and East Jordan, would like you to know that February is recognized as National Children's Dental Health Month. In large part this designation is made to bring to mind the importance of a child's oral health and its impact on overall systemic health. Diet and good oral hygiene are the most significant factors related to maintaining optimal oral

Related to our diets, parents across the country often issue a common refrain at dinnertime: "You'd better eat that, it's good for you!" Another old favorite in the parental arsenal of dietary admonitions is, "Don't eat that, it'll rot your teeth!" Now more than ever, kids are faced with a bewildering array of food choices, from fresh produce to sugar-laden processed convenience meals and snack foods. What children eat and when they eat it may affect not only their oral health, but their overall health as Americans are consuming foods, and drinks high in sugar and starches more often, and in larger portions, than ever before. Junk foods and drinks have gradually replaced nutritious beverages and foods for many people. For example, the average American teenage boy consumes 81 gallons of soft drinks each year! Alarmingly, a steady diet of sugary foods and drinks can ruin teeth, especially among those who snack throughout the day. Common activities such as constantly grazing on foods with minimal nutritional value, and frequently sipping on sugary drinks, may contribute to a tendency toward tooth decay.

When sugar is consumed over and over again in large, often hidden, amounts, the harmful effect on teeth can be dramatic. Sugar provides food for bacteria, which produce acid that can eat away the enamel on teeth. Almost all foods have some type of sugar that cannot - and should not be eliminated from our diets. Many of these foods contain important nutrients and add enjoyment to eating. But diets high in sugars and starches - which can be found in everything from bread to pretzels to salad dressing - presents a risk for tooth decay, so read labels carefully and plan your meals to provide a balanced, nutritious diet for you and your kids.

Here are some suggestions that can help reduce your children's risk of tooth decay:

only with meals. Saliva production increases during meals which helps neutralize acid and rinse food particles from the mouth. Limit between-meal snacks. If kids crave a snack, offer them nutritious foods.

Consume sugary foods and drinks

If your kids chew gum, make it sugarless. Chewing sugarless gum after eating can increase saliva flow and help wash out food and decayproducing acid.

Monitor beverage consumption. Instead of soft drinks, children should choose water and low-fat

Help your children develop good brushing and flossing habits. Schedule regular dental visits.
