Rayders return to regional finals

Rayders defeat Forest Area 25-18, 25-16, 25-11

UP NEXT: PINE RIVER(41-12-5): THURS., NOV. 10, 7PM IN KALKASKA

By Chris Fiel

KALKASKA – The Charlevoix Rayders returned to familiar ground Tuesday, November 8, and just like they have all season, showed up focused, ready to tackle the task at hand, and that they did as they swept Forest Area in three straight in regional semi-final action to make a repeat appearance in the regional finals.

The Rayders wasted little time in taking care of business as they defeated the Warriors 25-18, 25-16, 25-11 at Kalkaska High School.

With the victory, Charlevoix improved to 47-4-6 and earned a chance at the school's first regional volleyball title. Charlevoix will play Pine River, 41-12-5 in the championship match set for Thursday, November 10 at 7pm in Kalkaska. The match-up is a repeat of last season's regional final that was won by Pine River.

"We came in looking to take care of business and walk off the court knowing that we did all we could do to win," Rayders coach Liz Shaw said. "We did that tonight."

Megan Peters finished with a career high 18 kills and Jenna Way had 31 assists, seven aces and four kills to lead Charlevoix to victory.

Also for the Rayders, Madeline Boss had 10 kills, Karley Pearsall finished with eight kills and two blocks, while Kelly Greyerbiehl added 17 digs, and was a perfect 24-of-24 in serve reception. Chelsie Hoffman added 14 digs, and Kelsey Way was 9-of-10 serve reception and had four digs.

"We are focused, and ready to go in there Thursday, and take care of business," added Shaw. "The girls are really looking forward to it."

The winner of the Kalkaska regional final advances to the state quarterfinals at Charlevoix High School on Tuesday, November 15 at 7pm and will face the winner of the Negaunee regional.

THREE-PEAT: Rayders team puts their stamp on district dominance

By Chris Fiel

EAST JORDAN – The Charlevoix Rayders volleyball team accomplished a couple of things last week, as they won their third district title in a row and in the process, set a new school record for wins in a season as they stand 46-4-6 headed for the regional's in Kalkaska.

On Thursday, November 3, the Rayders and the Ramblers of Boyne City met in the finals, with Charlevoix earning the victory 25-13, 25-11, 25-20.

"It feels great winning districts for the third year in a row," Charlevoix coach Liz Shaw said. "These two wins also help to break and surpass the record for total wins on the season with 46-4-6, and we are playing some of our best team ball."

"Charlevoix served tough all night making it harder for us to set up our offense," Boyne City coach Casie Parker said. "They are an experienced team, and their setter (Jenna Way) is one of the best in the state. We have two of the best blockers in the conference, but with Jenna setting, it was hard to tell where they were going with the ball."

Charlevoix was led by Jenna Way with 20 assists and 16 digs, while Megan Peters had 12 kills and one dig.

Also for the Rayders, Kelly Greyerbiehl finished with 21 digs and four aces; Karley Pearsall had five kills and three blocks; Chelsie Hoffman added 14 digs; Jennaca Holecheck had three aces; and Anna Way and Madeline Boss each had three kills. Kelsey Way was 12-of-12 on serve reception and added four digs and seven kills.

"Jenna Way is doing a great job moving the ball around the net," Shaw noted. "Her ability to do so really makes it difficult for the blockers to get a double block on our hitters, also, our defense is playing the best it has all season, we are scrappy and really work together well."

"The main difference from the beginning of the season until now is my defensive players are very disciplined about staying outside the block and have worked hard to read the angle of the attacker to position themselves in the best spot to dig the ball up," Shaw added. "This week we have Forest Area on Tuesday, if we continue to play hard and execute our offense while minimizing our mental errors, I am confident we will leave the court feeling good about our play."

The Ramblers close out their season 19-21-8, and were led by, Heather Nichols with 15 assist, Ketrin Hocquard had 13 digs, and Kylie Hicks added nine kills and five blocks

"All in all we had a great season," Boyne coach Parker said. "The competition in this area is getting better and better, we also had some great leadership this year which was nice since we have a lot of young girls on the team."

District semi-final results

EAST JORDAN – On Tuesday, November 1, both the Charlevoix Rayders and Boyne City Ramblers advanced to meet for yet another time in the district championship game.

Charlevoix advanced with a 25-13, 25-8, 25-17 sweep of the Mancelona Ironmen, giving them their 45th victory of the season for a new school record, while Boyne handled Harbor Springs in three straight, 25-14, 25-9, 25-21.

For Charlevoix against Mancelona, Jenna Way finished with 30 assists, 12 digs and seven kills; Megan Peters added 12 kills and 10 digs; while Karley Pearsall finished with 11 kills and three blocks to lead the way.

Also for the Rayders, Kelly Greyerbiehl had 14 digs; Madeline Boss had seven kills; Anna Way chipped in with four kills; Chelsie Hoffman had eight digs; and Kelsey Way was 18-of-18 in serve reception and finished with six digs.

In the Rambler victory over the Rams, Kylie Hicks recorded 17 kills and six blocks and Heather Nichols added 32 assists and five aces to lead Boyne.

Also for Boyne, Mary Meyers added six kills, while Erin Baker finished with 12 digs. Nichols and Tanner McCune both served at 100 percent in the contest.

Flu-like illnesses have arrived in the area and are on the rise

Appointments still available at upcoming Health Department Community Immunization Clinics

Influenza has arrived in northwest Michigan and is one the rise according to local public health officials. Over the last three weeks, schools reporting "flu-like illness" to the Health Department of Northwest Michigan have steadily increased. Last week, nearly 200 students were absent from school in Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet, and Otsego counties with flu symptoms.

"The single best way to prevent getting the flu is to get vaccinated every year," said Joshua Meyerson, MD, Medical Director for the Health Department of Northwest Michigan. "That's why the Health Department offers Community Immunization Clinics throughout the four-county health district." Meyerson said appointments for flu vaccine, and many other vaccines, are still available at three clinics:

Tuesday, November 8 at Petoskey Middle School at 4 PM to 7 PM.

Thursday, November 10, at Gaylord Intermediate School at 4 PM to 7 PM

Saturday, November 19 at North Central Michigan College at 10 AM to 2 PM (at the Health & Fitness Fair)

To schedule an appointment at any of the Community Immunization Clinics, call the Health Department of Northwest Michigan at 800-432-4121 during regular business hours. The charge for flu vaccine at Health Department clinics is $25; charges for additional vaccines vary. "We can bill Medicare, Medicaid, and several private health insurance companies for immunizations," said Pat Fralick, the Health Department's Director of Family & Community Health. Fralick said the Health Department does not turn away anyone age 18 or younger for inability to pay for immunizations required for school. She noted anyone under age 18 must have their parent or guardian accompany them for immunizations.

Fralick highly recommends making appointments at the Community Immunization Clinics. "We do quite a lot of preparation to make sure people can get in and out as quickly as possible," she said. "When we know how many are coming, we can bring plenty of vaccine and have adequate nursing staff. We can also identify any other vaccines individuals may need by checking Michigan Care Improvement Registry in advance and give them at that same appointment."

In addition to annual flu vaccination, other actions to take to avoid the flu are—

Avoid close contact with people who are sick.

Cover your mouth and nose.

Thoroughly clean your hands.

Avoid touching your eyes, nose, or mouth.

Influenza viruses are spread when someone who is sick with the flu coughs, sneezes, or speaks, releasing viruses into the air for other people to breathe. When these viruses enter the nose, throat, or lungs, they begin to multiply, causing disease. The viruses can also be spread when a person touches a surface with flu viruses on it and then touches his/her nose or mouth.

The Health Department of Northwest Michigan is mandated by the Michigan Public Health Code to promote wellness, prevent disease, provide quality healthcare, address health problems of vulnerable populations, and protect the environment for the residents and visitors of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet, and Otsego counties. For additional information, or to schedule a flu vaccine appointment, call the Health Department at 800-432-4121.

For more information about flu vaccine, visit www.cdc.gov/flu. To schedule an appointment at a Community Immunization Clinic, call the Health Department at 800-432-4121 during regular business hours.

Learn to Eat Safe Fish

A recent report by the Biodiversity Research Institute, Great Lakes Commission and the University of Wisconsin-La Crosse cited that while environmental controls have limited the amount of new mercury pollution in our Great Lakes region, the levels of mercury found in some species of fish in local waterways have continued to increase.

Most locally-caught fish are a healthful, low-fat source of protein and can be safely eaten. However, consumption of some fish should be limited. For this reason, the Michigan Department of Community Health (MDCH) issues the Michigan Fish Advisory to help people choose fish that are low in mercury and other contaminants.

"With the evidence of increasing mercury levels in some areas, it's important for local residents to consult the Michigan Fish Advisory when deciding which fish to consume," said Joshua Meyerson, MD, Medical Director for the Health Department of Northwest Michigan.

Unlike other chemicals sometimes found in fish, you cannot reduce the amount of mercury in fish by cleaning and cooking it a certain way. You also cannot see or taste mercury in fish. The only way to detect mercury in fish is by having it tested by a laboratory.

This is why filets from fish taken from lakes and rivers around the state are tested each year for mercury and other chemicals at the MDCH Laboratory. The results from these tests allow MDCH to determine which species of fish are more likely to have higher levels of mercury than others.

MDCH uses the test results from the fish filets to develop consumption advice that protects everyone who eats the fish. The results, published in the Michigan Fish Advisory, can help you choose fish that are safe to eat for your entire family. Since Michigan has more than 11,000 lakes, streams and rivers to fish in, not all bodies of water have had fish tested for mercury. The MDCH Statewide Mercury Advisory provides general information on safe fish to eat from lakes that have not been tested and included in the Michigan Fish Advisory.

You can use the MDCH Eat 8 tool to help you select store-bought fish that are lower in mercury. Eat 8 features commonly purchased fish that have been assigned points based on the amount of mercury reported by the United States Food and Drug Administration. Eat eight points or less per month to stay within the accepted limits of mercury consumption to avoid health effects.

The Health Department of Northwest Michigan is mandated by the Michigan Public Health Code to promote wellness, prevent disease, provide quality healthcare, address health problems of vulnerable populations, and protect the environment for the residents and visitors of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet, and Otsego counties. For a copy of the Michigan Fish Advisory and the Eat 8 Tool, visit www.nwhealth.org.

Protect yourself against carbon monoxide poisoning as winter months near

Local public health officials are reminding everyone to be safe this winter and not put families in danger of being poisoned by carbon monoxide.

Carbon monoxide is an odorless, colorless, and tasteless gas that kills more than 500 Americans each year and up to 50 a year in Michigan. It is produced by all forms of combustion. Carbon monoxide poisoning is completely preventable. Warning signs include headache, nausea, vomiting, dizziness, drowsiness, and confusion.

"Now is the time to ensure that gas-fired furnaces, hot water heaters, and carbon monoxide detectors are working properly," said Joshua Meyerson, MD, Medical Director for the Health Department of Northwest Michigan. "Carbon monoxide is difficult to detect so it's important to evacuate the area of contamination immediately and seek medical attention if you suspect you have been exposed to carbon monoxide."

Never use generators, grills, camp stoves, or other gasoline or charcoal-burning devices inside your home, basement, garage or near a window because these appliances give off carbon monoxide. Running a car in an enclosed garage can create lethal levels of carbon monoxide in minutes.

Michigan's carbon monoxide poisoning tracking system counted 39 unintentional deaths and 1,340 non-fatal unintentional carbon monoxide poisonings in Michigan in 2009 alone. More than 60 percent occurred during the winter months and happened most frequently at home.

The Health Department of Northwest Michigan is mandated by the Michigan Public Health Code to promote wellness, prevent disease, provide quality healthcare, address health problems of vulnerable populations, and protect the environment for the residents and visitors of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet, and Otsego counties. For more information about carbon monoxide poisoning and poisoning prevention, visit www.michigan.gov/carbon-monoxide.

Real Estate Corner

Question & Answers About Selling Real Estate

2 Most Common Problems Keeping You from Buying a Home

Compliments of Mike Stark, Stark Realty, Inc. (231) 536-7700

Mike Stark

This is the best time to buy a home. Home prices are more affordable than they've been in decades and mortgage rates are at all time lows. Even if you were able to qualify 3 years ago, and even if your credit score has not changed, you may not be able to qualify today. There are 2 main reasons why people are not able to buy a home, but there is also hope and the American dream of home ownership might still be within your reach.

You may be one of millions of people who have recently been turned down for a home loan by the bank. One of the most common reasons good people get turned down for a loan is because they have less than perfect credit.

1. Less Than Perfect Credit. If you notice, I didn't say "bad credit." A few years ago, banks were lending to everyone who wanted a loan. Banks were lending to people who had credit scores in the mid 500s just a short while ago. Just recently it was announced that the minimum credit score, yes the minimum for a FHA backed mortgage is 640. But, even if you have a score in the mid to high 600s, you may still be required to put down a hefty down payment. A score of 720 or higher is considered good credit, and is what's required for a low-down payment loan today.

There are many reasons that credit scores can become less than perfect. Maybe you have had a bad event in your life such as a medical emergency or a divorce. These events may be unavoidable, but wreak havoc on a credit score.

Maybe you pay your bills on time, but you have had to run up the balances on some credit cards so the bank runs its formula and tells you that your debt to income ratio is too high. Maybe you were a victim of the economic recession and lost your job, but you've been diligent and found a new job, but because of being out of work you missed some payments on some of your accounts. The banks don't look at your situation and give you a break, they run your credit through their automated system and if the result comes back less than perfect, you don't qualify.

2. Not Enough Cash. Even if you do have perfect credit, 100% loans are hard to come by today. You see, banks got into a lot of trouble with the easy lending standards of the past by loaning too much money on houses. Banks used to loan 90%, 95%, 100% and even more of the value of the home that secured the mortgage, and then when the economy turned and people had trouble making their payments, the banks had to take big losses on these loans. Lending standards have changed, the pendulum has swung far back the other way and banks are more heavily regulated than ever before. If you do not have an extra 5 to 10 grand burning a hole in your pocket and a credit score in the mid 700s, you're going to be hard pressed to qualify for an average, modest home for your family.

You see, no one teaches us this credit game in school, but it is something that affects our entire lives. It is like coming onto the field in the middle of a football game without knowing the rules. It is impossible to win a game you don't know how to play. Once you know the rules, however, you can not only compete, but you can win!

East Jordan walk-out ranch offers exceptional views

By Jim Akans

The panoramic views offered by the setting of this well-kept East Jordan area ranch home are absolutely spectacular. Vistas of gently rolling hills and woodlands stretch to the horizon, creating a gorgeous backdrop to enjoy year round.

The home features approximately 2,100 square feet of nicely appointed living area, with about 1,200 square feet on the main level and the remainder on the finished lower level walk-out. There are a total of three bedrooms, each on the main floor, and two baths, one conveniently located on each level. A large, 16 x 24 foot living room on the main floor features beautiful hardwood flooring, as does the adjoining, and spacious kitchen area.

The lower level is highlighted by an even larger, 21 x 26 foot family room area with a gas fireplace, setting the stage for an excellent space to create a gaming room, media room, or simply a spot for the family to play. There are two additional finished rooms in the lower level, plus a utility room and storage area.

The home also features an attached two-and-a-half car garage, and a large front deck that is the perfect perch for relaxing while enjoying the fabulous views.

This terrific home and gorgeous setting is listed at just $94,500. For additional information or to arrange for a tour of this home, please call Mike Tomczak at 231-536-7700 or email at admin@starkrealtyonline.com.
