2010-11 BOYS VARSITY SEASON RECAP

Rayder boys claim Lake Michigan Conference title

Steady play of seniors Putman, Ackerman led Charlevoix to a 16-6 Season Record

BY CHRIS FIEL

CHARLEVOIX – The 2010-11 Charlevoix Rayders came out of the gates firing on all cylinders, as they won their first three contests and nine of their first ten games. The only loss during that time was to the 2009-10 Class C runner-up Suttons Bay led by eventual Mr. Basketball winner Dwaun Anderson.

A key league victory would take place in game number three when Traverse City St. Francis and former longtime Rayder coach Keith Haske paid a visit.

In front of a packed house, the Rayders welcomed the former coach, and the end result of the basketball contest was even better for Charlevoix.

The Rayders jumped out to an early lead and never trailed as they came away with a hard-fought 66-58 Lake Michigan Conference victory. Leading the charge was senior center Brennan Ackerman, with 18 points, eight rebounds and five blocks, while senior Dylan Putman chipped in with 16 points and six boards.

Charlevoix led at the quarter breaks 16-13, 32-26, and 41-34 before holding off a fourth quarter Gladiator charge, as TCSF cut the Rayder lead to 50-48 early in the quarter, but Charlevoix responded with a run of their own to go up 58-52 with just over two minutes to go.

After the loss to Suttons Bay, Charlevoix reeled off six straight league wins to

2011-12 BOYS VARSITY SEASON PREVIEW

Rayders looking to build upon last season success

Hard work, leadership will set the tone

BY CHRIS FIEL

CHARLEVOIX – With 10 seniors lost to graduation off of last year’s Lake Michigan Conference championship squad, the Charlevoix Rayders will be looking to the returning players and incoming junior class to fill the roles of those departed. Charlevoix finished with a 16-6 record last season.

Coach Adam Wood returns at the helm for his second season and is excited for the year. “Our seniors are the type of kids that every coach dreams of, they come in and work extremely hard everyday without a single complaint,” Wood noted. “Their leadership is what will lead our young group this year, I am excited that our juniors will get to play with and learn from these guys.”

The senior leadership has already paid dividends thus far in preseason practice. Wood credits the senior class with setting an example of hard work for the younger players.

“They (seniors) have really set the tone for the intensity and effort we want to play with,” the coach said. “I have been very excited with what I’ve seen so far and just can’t wait to watch this team grow throughout the season.”

Looking to lead the lead the way this season for Charlevoix will be Andrew Potter and Andrew Plude. Both players saw significant playing time last year and have taken the reigns of this years squad. The Andrew’s lead with their effort, intensity and attitude everyday and looks to have that work ethic rub off on the rest of the team.

Coby Herriman, Matthew Batdorff and Will Jeakle also saw minutes last season, and will look to progress as the season goes on. The trio has also jumped onboard with the others leading the team. A new face this year will be 6’6” senior Josh Hogan, Hogan will be in his first season on the hardcourt and immediately gives the Rayders some much needed size in the frontcourt and has made tremendous strides in the preseason expects to progress throughout the season.

Others looking to contribute are juniors Sawyer Russel, Charlie Hamilton and Tanner Catt. The three are skilled players that play physical, and compliment the hard working efforts of the seniors.

As the season goes on, look for the new Rayders to adjust to the demands of the varsity level and look for the team to get better each time they take the court.

Go Rayders!

2010-11 GIRLS VARSITY SEASON RECAP

Lady Rayders battle through season of streaks

Injuries to guards take toll throughout season

BY CHRIS FIEL

CHARLEVOIX – The 2010-11 Lady Rayders season was that of streaks, to begin the year the team got off to a rough start, dropping six of their first seven games, including losses to a very tough Travers City St. Francis team as well as eventual Class C State Champion St. Ignace, a team that included Miss Basketball runner-up and Wisconsin-bound Nicole Elmbald.

Injuries to guards Jenna Way at the start of the season and a mid-season injury to Sydney Carlson did not help as the lineup had to constantly be adjusted.

The Rayders then won four of their next five starts, including convincing Lake Michigan Conference victories over Boyne City, 61-20; Elk Rapids, 67-47; East Jordan, 43-31; and Harbor Springs, 47-39; the only loss during that time was to powerhouse Kalkaska.

Charlevoix would then fall in seven of their next eight contests to tough opponents; Class A 58-19 before falling in close games to Grayling, Elk Rapids, and East Jordan.

The Rayders would and 14 points from Dani Barron, while Kelly Greyerbiehl dished out eight assists.

In district action, Charlevoix would draw East Jordan and after splitting the season series, the two teams knew it would come down to a few points as the Rayders pulled out a hard-fought 52-44 win.

The contest, which was nip and tuck the entire night, including a tie of 20-20 at halftime, Charlevoix then used a 32-24 second half scoring advantage to slowly pull away.

Jenna Way paced Charlevoix with 20 points, and Dani Barron finished with 14, while Kelly Greyerbiehl and Megan Peters each grabbed seven rebounds.

Advancing to the district final, Charlevoix would play another familiar opponent, and another that it had split with during the season in the form of Harbor Springs.

The Rayders battled hard throughout the game, and only trailed by one, 29-28, midway through the third quarter but found themselves down by 11 early in the fourth and again by nine with less than two minutes to go in regulation.

The Rayders, playing with a pair of injured guards (Jenna Way and Dani Barron), then went to a all out press and forced the Rams into six turnovers in the final minutes to pull within 48-46 with just over 18 seconds remaining in the game.

After the Rams were fouled, they sank both free throws, Charlevoix was then unable to find the bottom of the net again and Harbor Springs came away with a 50-46 Class C district championship victory.

Lynzie Gotshall finished with a game-high 21 points and 11 boards to lead Charlevoix while Barron added 11 points, and Way finished with eight.

2011-12 GIRLS VARSITY SEASON PREVIEW

Charlevoix girls look to outwork opponents

Depth, leadership key to season

BY CHRIS FIEL

CHARLEVOIX – Coming of an 8-14 season and entering her year as the head coach of the Rayders, Leslie Hoffman looks to build upon the success of this season's volleyball program.

Despite having only a couple of practices as a unit with the prolonged volleyball season, Hoffman is excited to see how much progression that the team has made despite the late start and it looks to be a promising season from her squad.

With eight of the 13 Rayders being members of the semifinalist volleyball team, they have a lot of ground to cover in a short period of time. The biggest transition will be the conditioning from one sport to the next.

Leading the team will be five returnees from last year in the form of seniors

Jenna Way, Kelsey Way, Kelly Greyerbiehl, Megan Peters and junior Sydney Carlson.

Jenna Way and Carlson both missed time last season with injuries but look to take on important roles for their team this season, sharing the point guard position. Jenna poured in about 11 points per game last year, while Carlson finished at about a five ppg clip. Both are solid outside threats, and have stepped up their games in efforts to finish more efficiently.

The inside game of Peters will be counted on to control the boards and look to finish easy scoring opportunities. Junior Karley Pearsall along with Bailey Stevens and freshman Madeline Boss will be counted on as well to help supply Charlevoix with strong post play and inside ing average from last season.” “With the late start, once we get our legs under us, we should be fine.”

Others looking to contribute to the success of the Lady Rayders are Greyerbiehl, Katie Hybl and Anna Way. Greyerbiehl and Hybl will lead the defense, with Greyerbiehl being the spark plug that ignites the team. Anna Way is a shooter that sees the floor well and will complement the Charlevoix outside game with her ability to stretch the opposing defenses.

Some of the goals that the team has set are more consistent finishing at the basket and limiting turnovers as well as having each player develop solid fundamental skills.

“I’m very excited for this season, this is a fun group to coach, I really enjoy working with them,” Hoffman noted. “We know our conference will be very tough, but we expect to contend.”

2010-11 Boys Recap

take a firm grasp in the conference race before dropping three straight to Class A Petoskey, Class D power Cedarville and a revenge minded TC St. Francis.

Charlevoix then went on to win six of their remaining seven games to capture the Lake Michigan Conference crown for the first time since the 2007-08 season.

Once post season play began, the Rayders disposed of league rival and district host East Jordan 46-38 in the opener, before running into a determined Boyne City Rambler team in the semifinal.

The Rayders had handled the Ramblers without much trouble during the regular season, as they won 63-38 in the first contest, and took the second match-up 69-39. The district semifinal was a different story though, the contest was a back and forth affair, with Charlevoix leading 20-16 at the half, before the Ramblers tied it at 29 apiece headed into the fourth quarter.

Regulation proved to not be enough as the teams battled to a 42-42 tie. Boyne outscored Charlevoix 5-4 in the extra session to come away with a 47-46 victory and end the outstanding Rayders season.

Leading the way in the semifinal loss was the always steady Dylan Putman with 23 points.

Charlevoix finished the 2010-11 season with a 16-6 record.
