2012 CHARLEVOIX COUNTY NEWS' ALL-AREA BOYS BASKETBALL DREAM TEAM

BOYNE CITY – Much like the girls basketball season that came to an end almost two weeks ago, the boy's tournament capped its season this past weekend in East Lansing at the Breslin Center, crowing its respective Class champions.

So with the season closing its doors on the 2011-12 season, the Charlevoix County News is proud to announce the Boys All-Area Basketball "Dream Team".

It was a difficult decision that came right down to the wire, but after it was all said and done, Boyne Falls big man and Lawrence Tech signee, Josh Puroll has been selected as the Player of the Year for the second consecutive season. Puroll, is an "old school" post player that spends most of his time in the trenches, banging and battling for position night in and night out, is the Boyne Falls all-time leading scorer with more than 1750 points, and his rebound total is well over the 900 mark for his career. He repeatedly drew the attention of multiple defenders, and if a team was brave enough to try and play the fourth year Logger center one-on-one, he made them pay for it by posting huge numbers against them.

This season, "JP" averaged 21.4 points and 11.6 rebounds per game, shooting a remarkable 74 percent from the floor and 63 percent from the charity stripe. His ability to draw multiple defenders opened up the outside for his teammates, and his unselfish play made him a much more complete player his senior season.

When asked to reflect on this season, Puroll responded, "Well we wish we would have went further in the state tournament, and it was definitely a new challenge with all the new guys coming in at the begging of the year." "Overall, I think we came together as the season progressed and I know I am going to miss all of the open gyms and not being around the area, but I will definitely look for an opportunity to visit and see these guys continue to get better."

As far as Josh getting ready for the next step at Lawrence Tech, he said, "I'm working hard running, working out and doing drills to get where I need to be, coach Smith has been a positive influence on myself and the program, by being at the gym whenever we need him there and he pushes us past our limits and makes us better than we thought possible, I also like the fact that if your doing something incorrect, he stops you and lets you know and we work on fixing it."

Joining Puroll on the All-Area "Dream Team" is senior teammate Logan Jenkins. Boyne City is well represented by Ryan Carson, Keegan LaBlance, Corey Redman and Jay Redman; Charlevoix boasted four players of their own in Tanner Catt, Charlie Hamilton, Andrew Potter and Andrew Plude. East Jordan showcases the duo of Noah Bacchus and John Richards and Ellsworth of fers senior all-around talent, Jake Seaney.

Jenkins, a senior transfer for the Loggers this season, made his presence felt from the opening tip of the first game as he brought some much needed experience to the young backcourt of Boyne Falls.

Logan surpassed the 1000 point mark for his career earlier this season and averaged 14.9 ppg, 6.2 assists and 4.5 rebounds and four steals per game running the show for Boyne Falls. He had multiple triple-doubles during the year, and on a side note, knocked down six three-pointers in the first quarter against Alanson back on February 28.

Boyne City's Keegan LaBlance dazzled crowds as well as opposing defenders with his unbelievable handles and quickness that allowed him to stop on a dime and take off like a rocket. Add in his beyond NBA three point range, and you could see why opponents could not sag off and play the drive, as there were many times LaBlance knocked down triples from what seemed like another area code.

Keegan averaged 14.5 points per contest for the balanced Ramblers, while dishing out three assists, grabbing 2.5 boards and two steals per game.

In his third season on the varsity, Rambler senior Jay Redman, averaged 12 points, two rebounds, three assists and four steals per game. Many nights Jay was called upon to shut down one of the opponents top scoring threats and his ability to play all five positions on the floor made him a tough match-up for opponents as he could take a bigger player outside and hit the long range shot as well as post up with precision. Redman has signed to play at Lawrence Tech this fall.

Sophomore Ryan Carson brought the Boyne City faithful to their feet on numerous occasions this season with his "jump out of

Boyne City's Ryan Carson edges Pellston's Chris Hass for BCAM Free Throw title

By Chris Fiel

EAST LANSING – And then there were two.

After outlasting the top twenty of the state's best free throw shooters, it all came down to a pair of Northern Michigan boys, and when the dust settled, Boyne City's Ryan Carson stood alone as the BCAM (Basketball Coaches Association of Michigan) Free throw champion.

Carson, a sophomore, made all 10 of his finals free throw attempts, while Pellston senior, Christopher Hass made his first nine and saw his 10th rim off.

"We were all excited for Ryan," Boyne City coach Nick Redman said. "It was great that Ryan and Chris made the final, also it was nice to see a Boyne uniform on the Breslin floor."

The BCAM competition was made up of the top 20 free throw shooters in the state. Each player was nominated by their respective coaches.

The competition consisted of three rounds, Carson finished round one 21-of-25, while his Northern Michigan counterpart nailed 23-of-25. Round two saw Carson make 23-of-25 and Hass finished 22-of-25.

Those totals were good enough to move on to the finals at the Breslin Center, home of the Michigan State Spartans.

Having made the highest number of free throws in the second round, Carson got to choose whether he go first or last in the final round. He chose first, figuring to put the pressure on the Pellston senior.

In the final, each competitor matched shot for shot, until the final shot, that's when Hass's attempt rimmed off and Carson was the champion, going a per-

"I couldn't believe I won it," the Boyne City sophomore said. "It was a great feeling, also it was great for Northern Michigan to be represented by two people from our area."

"What a great experience and a well run event," Ryan said. "It was also really cool to be shooting on the same court as the Spartans."

Carson will now look to the off-season to continue to improve his game before his junior season in Boyne, while Hass will take his talents to the collegiate level at Bucknell.

Real Estate Corner

Question & Answers About Selling Real Estate

The Top Three Mistakes that Home Buyers are Making?

Mike Stark

Compliments of Mike Stark, Stark Realty, Inc. (231) 536-7700

PART 1 OF 3

In today's very tight real estate market, buyers are making mistakes that can cost them lots of money, time, and even the home they really want.

The single largest mistake that I see over and over again from end use buyers is trying to "get a steal" on a home. Everyone who has turned on a TV, picked up a newspaper or gone to a cocktail party knows the real estate market has been turned on its ear for going on 5-6 years or more. Home values are at lows not seen in decades.

Look for a Good Deal - Not the Perfect Deal

How big of a steal do you really need? A $200,000 difference will probably impact your life for the next 30 years over the life of a typical standard mortgage. However, in contrast, 10K, 15K or even 20K extra, when amortized over 30 years, won't really create the same size ripple in your standard of living.

Also, a home that looks like a steal often has some hidden (and expensive) reasons why the house is so affordable. This is especially true in REO homes that are purchased at the trustee sale, where the bank won't let you inspect the home until the final closing.

Also, as the home is on the open market, you are competing with other homeowners also looking for a perfect deal. If you wait too long or attempt to negotiate too low of a purchase price, you may find yourself on the outside looking in. Even worse, you are competing against investors who are willing to spend cash for the home. If you need to sell your existing home first or have another contingency, you are at a severe disadvantage. In addition, as many investors are also real estate professionals, the seller does not have to pay your buying agent anything. This puts you at an even bigger disadvantage.

We have had numerous buyers put their heart and soul, and lots of time and effort into chasing down the perfect house at a great price only to have an investor come in at the last second, and steal it away for just a couple of thousand dollars more which equates to $15 or $20 per month.

the gym" ups, throwing down thunderous dunks on what seemed to be routine basis as the season went on. The super soph was not only a jumping machine, he showed his range, hitting three's on multiple occasions as well as pull up jumpers for those that chose to guard the basket.

Ryan averaged 10.5 points, 5.5 rebounds and one assist and steal per game, and shot 85 percent from the foul line.

Boyne City freshman Corey Redman did not disappoint this season, playing like a veteran from the first game of the year. Corey used his quickness, leaping ability and soft touch to torch opponents that chose to let the freshman beat them mentality.

The young Redman, was often paired up against an opponent's top offensive threat. He averaged 11.5 points, 4.5 boards, 1.5 assists and 1.5 steals per contest for the Ramblers.

The hard-working Charlevoix Rayders; Andrew Plude, Andrew Potter, Tanner Catt and Charlie Hamilton bring their talents, offensive execution and defensive prowess to the table.

Andrew Plude, one of the best shooters in the Lake Michigan Conference averaged 17 points per game for the Rayders. Plude shot over 40 percent from down town on the season, and many times set the tone for the game for Charlevoix with his aggressive offensive style of play. Coach Wood noted that Plude is tremendous person and great student.

Charlevoix senior Andrew Potter averaged 15 points and six assists per game for the Rayders. Andrew was the floor leader for the Rayders this season and many times took the team upon his shoulder and carried them through to victories. Coach Adam Wood said "Andrew is one of the toughest players I have ever been around in any sport and left all he had on the floor every single night, a great student and even better person!"

Junior Tanner Catt brought toughness and grittiness to the team each time he took the court and Coach Wood acknowledged that statistics do not describe what Tanner did for the team this season.

Catt was the top Rayder defender and one of the top rebounders on the team, despite only standing at 5'9".

The "sweet shooting" of junior Charlie Hamilton made him an easy selection as whenever he took the floor, he was like lightning in a bottle. If a defender played him too close, he would blow by them for a layup, and if they gave him the slightest bit of daylight, he would drain long range threes over the outstretched arms of defenders like it was nobody's business.

Charlie averaged 11 points per game, but had many nights as the leading scorer for Charlevoix while coming off the bench. If you underestimated him, he would make you pay as he played much larger than his 5'8" frame. Coach Wood described him as a much needed "spark" for the team this season.

East Jordan's John Richards led the Red Devils with a 10 point per game average, but found his mark down the stretch, notching games of 31, 27 and 23 points.

Sophomore Noah Bacchus was the motor that ran the East Jordan offense and led the team with a near four assist per game average while dropping six points per night for the Red Devils. His consistent play helped keep East Jordan in each contest this past season.

Ellsworth senior Jake Seaney rounds out the squad, Seaney was a bright spot for the Lancers this season. His all around play and unselfishness helped lead the Lancers. He averaged a near double-double this year, but finished the season with a quadruple-double, and a pair of triple doubles.

Coach of the Year, Tim Smith led his Boyne Falls team to a 20-2 record, sweeping the Northern Lakes Conference with a perfect 12-0 record in the process. Both Logger losses came at the hands of the Bellaire Eagles, the first in the season's second game and in the district finals.

After starting the season 1-1, Smith and the Loggers peeled off 19 straight wins, where as Boyne Falls averaged 69 points per game, while allowing only 39 per contest. On the season the Loggers averaged 66 points and allowed 40 per game.

"When we took over the program two years ago, we set goals of winning our league and advancing in the state tournament." Smith said. "I think that within that time frame, we have closed the gap on the elite teams in the state, one of which is in our district in the form of Bellaire."

While talking with the coach, it was noticeable that he wasn't relaxing at home or on the beach somewhere vacationing, you could hear the clanking of weights and encouragement of teammates pushing each other in the weight room.

"We have six guys in the weight room right now," Smith noted. "As a smaller school, we are going to have to outwork everyone and it starts in the offseason, and these guys have bought into that and believe it."

While Boyne Falls will say goodbye to the graduating Puroll and Jenkins, Smith will return a young, but very capable cast to give Boyne Falls a chance to defend its Northern Lakes Conference title as well as the Loggers will look to unseat Bellaire in district play.

"Also, while we are losing some great leadership in our seniors, and those guys have set the bar for future teams to reach for, we are excited for next season, where our middle school and junior varsity programs are doing well and we are developing the missing pieces. I think we will have a little more depth, be more versatile and may play more up-tempo, but all that hinges on how we develop in the off season, we do have the chance to be real good though."
