2012 BASEBALL/SOFTBALL SEASON PREVIEW

PART 2 OF 2

East Jordan Softball

Lady Red Devils poised for promising season;
Solid offense and defense to carry team

By Chris Fiel

EAST JORDAN – Veteran softball coach Meg Kitson is ready to get the season underway, and with a strong returning cast mixed with some youth, she has good reason.

Some of the top talent returns as shortstop/relief pitcher Valerie Peters leads the way. Peters is about as solid as they come at the middle infield position according to many of the area coaches. She was also the teams leading hitter last spring and will also see some time on the mound in situational relief.

Kara LaVanway returns to her position behind the plate at catcher. Her strong and accurate arm will be sure to make would be base stealers think twice about advancing, she also brings a good stick to the line-up.

First basemen, Emily Crick plays good defense and helps supply the power to the East Jordan offense. Crick will also be counted on to be one of the Red Devils team leaders.

Jordan Bacchus return to the hot corner at third along with Lissa Vincent returning to the mound and sophomore pitcher Tommie Outman is up from a successful freshman year on the JV and will see time as a backup catcher and provide coach Kitson with a much needed utility player.

“We have a 36 game schedule as long as Mother Nature allows it,” Kitson said. “Our kids are talented enough and if they play like they are capable, our goal of winning 20 plus games is reachable.”

“We should be competitive, and expect to challenge Kalkaska and Charlevoix,” she noted.

So far this spring, the Lady Red Devils have had some good outdoor practices, and are ready to go.

“We’re definitely ready to get into the swing of things, no pun intended,” Kitson said.

East Jordan played at Pellston on April 11, and will host Grayling in their

Lake Michigan Conference opener on Friday, April 13.

East Jordan returns experienced squad
Red Devils top hurlers set for promising year

By Chris Fiel

EAST JORDAN – Red Devils coach Al Stallard is excited to get the season underway, as the spring has been a promising one.

“We’ve had a great spring so far,” coach Stallard said. “We’ve only had to be indoors about three times, the kids are focused and working hard.”

Those outdoor practices have given the team the opportunity to work on things that sometimes have to wait in a normal Michigan spring. “With getting outdoors so early, sometimes we try to get to much too fast,” the coach said. “We’ve have to tone things down a little, making sure we don’t overdue things.”

The Red Devils return all but one player off last seasons 11-14 team, including all five pitchers. Leading the pack is senior ace hurler Austen Mellios along with Jordan Harasewicz and Matt Bolser.

Mellios is also one of the big sticks that return, Austen hit .308 last spring, Harasewicz was a force at the plate where he batted .304, and Bolser flirted with the .300 mark, finishing at a .294 clip.

Senior Wyatt Werner returns to centerfield, while others expected to make an impact are senior Aaron Peck and junior Zach Shepard. Skyler Gibson will do the catching and according to coach Stallard, he is a very good defensive catcher.

The Red Devils opened play at Pellston on April 11 and will play host to Grayling at 4:30 pm on Friday, April 13.

Boyne Falls Baseball

Loggers depending on youth. Forrest Williams looks to lead team

By Chris Fiel

BOYNE FALLS – A new year, a new coach for the Loggers.

Bill Montgomery takes over at the helm for Boyne Falls this season, and while this will be his first year as a varsity coach, he is no stranger to the dugout as he has many seasons under his belt as the skipper of the Harbor Springs junior varsity coach.

“Were young, were working on learning the game and situation awareness,” coach Montgomery said. “We are also tight on numbers, so we’re looking at getting more students interested as well.”

That youth will feature seven of the nine starters either in the eighth or ninth grades and the experience only includes only a pair of seniors in the form of team leader Forrest Williams and Elliott Clink.

Williams is in his fourth season for the Loggers, where he will spend time on the mound once again as the ace of the team, as well as call the pitches from behind the plate in his first season as a converted catcher.

Also, expected to see time on the mound for Boyne Falls will be freshman Andrew Stevens and eighth grader Marcus Matelski, with both seeing significant time at shortstop as well.

“We’ll have some growing pains, but we will also have some fun and that’s important,” the coach noted.

The infield will also feature freshman Hunter Williams and eighth grader Andrew Campbell and returning to the outfield for his fourth season is junior William Miller.

Rounding out the squad is freshman Jordan Berreth, Truman Crego, Tyler Bearss and

Sean Lynch. Boyne Falls opened play at Gaylord St. Mary on April 10, travel to Central Lake on Thursday, April 12 at 4:30pm and host Joburg on Friday, April 13.

Ellsworth Softball

Talented upperclassmen combined with youth gives Ellsworth good mix

By Chris Fiel

ELLSWORTH – Coach Al Gregory takes over the Lancer varsity program after coaching in neighboring East Jordan and Charlevoix over the past couple of seasons.

Coach Gregory is excited to get the season going as he has a good mix of talent with 16 girls out for the team.

“We have a good mix of talent from our seniors down through our eighth graders,” Gregory said. “Things are going good so far this spring and the girls seem to be learning a lot.”

Some of those that are honing their skills are returning players

Kari Steenwyk, Tara Essenberg, Emily Veenstra and Jordyn Higbee.

Steenwyk and Essenberg will control the middle of the infield, while Higbee sets up camp at the hot corner and Veenstra will play first.

Steenwyk will lead the Lancer offense with her ability to make solid contact and take it deep when needed. Setting the table for her will be Essenberg and Kendra Warner, and she has protection behind her as well in the form of Higbee and Veenstra.

“Those four or five girls will dictate a lot of the offense and the young girls will follow their leadership,” Gregory noted.

Senior Dana Neumann will participate in softball as a dual sport athlete, where she also runs track.

“Dana is a pure athlete and she will use that ability to make the necessary adjustments to perform at a high level,” the coach said.

Ashley Drenth is slated to be the teams number one pitcher and is expected to step up to the challenge and surprise a few people.

Another thing that coach Gregory mentioned was that the group is a close knit family, that works hard and brings a good work ethic to practice everyday.

“The girls really pull for each other, and that’s great,” he added.

“There is no “I” on this team.”

The Lancers host Bellaire at 4:30 on April, 12.

Ellsworth Baseball

Ellsworth looks strong despite youth McClellan returns to the helm to lead Lancers

By Chris Fiel

ELLSWORTH – The Lancers youth may have teams overlooking them, and that’s ok with coach Ryan McClellan.

“We have a young squad,” the coach said. “We have three seniors, two juniors, three freshmen and sophomores and a pair of eighth graders.”

Having a range in ages sometimes poses a problem to some teams, but not this bunch.

The Lancers will not look to any one player in particular to carry the team, but will do so as a group. Those leading that group are Nate St. Pierre, Dalton Swenson, Nate Velbboom, Diamond McPherson, Ethan Wallace, Zack Thorman and Troy Vandenberg.

“The kids get along real well, the older ones (St. Pierre, Swenson, Thorman and Wallace) lead by example with their actions and work ethic, and that’s good for the younger kids to follow.” McClellan said. “One thing we have noticed is that along with working hard this spring, there are a lot of smiles on their faces, so they are having fun too.”

Coach McClellan is happy to see the progression of the younger players, and is counting on some good production from each.

McPherson will be called upon to be the number one hurler for the Lancers, while the remaining players will bring a group effort to the mound, with up to seven athletes getting an opportunity to toss a few innings this season.

At the plate, coach McClellan said, each kids is getting good swings in for being so early in the year, and looks for the lineup to be pretty balanced with St. Pierre, Wallace, McPherson and Velbboom leading the charge.

Ellsworth opens play at home against Bellaire on Thursday, April 12 at 4pm and travel to Gaylord St. Mary on Monday, April 16 for a 4:30 contest against the Snowbirds.

Boyne Grads Reunite

Question & Answers About Selling Real Estate

The Top Three Mistakes that Home Buyers are Making?

Compliments of Mike Stark, Stark Realty, Inc. (231) 536-7700

Location First – Price Second

Everyone wants to buy a home at the best price. However, it is more important to find an affordable home that you and your family are going to want to live in. You can always improve and upgrade the look and size of the home but you can never change its location and the advantages or the disadvantages of the neighborhood around it.

Often a “worn out” house that requires a little bit of cosmetic work to make it shine can be the best possible deal.

If you are planning to live there - not flip the house or rent it out, then the long term environment is more important than trying to get the absolute best deal possible.

On the other hand, some buyers have too narrow of a geographic target. They want to live in a specific area of a specific neighborhood and will not consider a home, at a good price, just across the street or dividing line. Sometimes that attitude is justified, but many times it is not. Visit other neighborhoods outside of the targeted one and see if the homes look good and are well maintained, what is the renter to buyer ratio, are the schools acceptable, check to see if the home prices are going up or down. Often buyers find that within a large region without a stellar reputation, that there are many “secret” small neighborhoods with excellent residents that have pride of ownership.

Remember, you don't want to lose out on the perfect home for your family because you spent too much time and argued too much looking for the best possible deal or the best possible loan. A little bit of flexibility coupled with the ability to see what could be, can make your home hunting expedition much more successful and rewarding in the long run.

Yes, you may lose out on bragging rights among your friends, but you will have a comfortable home where you and your family will be happy for a long time.

Affordable log cabin with Six Mile Lake frontage

By Jim Akans

It's hard to imagine finding beautiful lakefront property here in the north plus a rustic log cabin for as an affordable price as this.

Situated along 63 feet of sandy beachfront on Six Mile Lake near the charming village of Ellsworth, this 440 square foot log cabin could be just the spot for enjoying countless family vacations for years to come. The one-bedroom, single bath cottage features a good-sized main living area that offers gorgeous views of the lake, but the real treat here is the fantastic outdoor setting.

The beach area is sandy and ready for some serious sunbathing, and the waters of Six Mile Lake are at the owners beck and call for spring, summer and fall days filled with kayaking, boating, swimming... whatever the heart desires. The lot size is plenty large enough for outdoor games or an afternoon barbeque. What more could a vacationer ask of a Northern Michigan retreat?

Perhaps an unbelievable price! Located at 5480 Swallow Lane near Ellsworth, this lakefront home is being offered at a listing price of just $59,900.

Would your business like to have a display at the 2012 Northern Michigan Wedding EXPO at Boyne Mountain Resort?

The EXPO is Sunday, May 20.

Vendor spaces are limited but still available.

Wedding EXPO Exhibitors receive a space at this popular event PLUS a ¼ page ad in the Wedding Planner Guide distributed throughout Northern Michigan. This Wedding Planner Guide remains in distribution for months and gives businesses a long shelf life of exposure.

To sign up contact us now before the spaces are gone.

E-Mail Dave Baragrey 1 at Office@CharlevoixCountyNews.com or call Choice Publications at 989-732-8160

The Northern Michigan Wedding EXPO is sponsored by Choice Publications and BOYNE.
