Governor Snyder tours Boyne City

By Jim Akans

Greeted by a perfect northern Michigan afternoon for a leisurely stroll, Michigan Governor Rick Snyder stopped by Boyne City last Thursday, August 9th, as part of a "Downtown Economic Tours" series he has been making across the state. State Representative Greg MacMaster and local resident and businessman, Wes Dilworth, organized Thursday's visit to Boyne City.

The timing of Governor Snyder's visit was also perfect, coinciding with the release of a recent USA Today poll naming Lake

It didn't take long for Governor Snyder to learn that Boyne City is an excellent model for his favorite slogan of achieving success through "Relentless Positive Action." Here, along with Mayor Ron Grunch and City Manager Michael Cain, he holds the Governor's Award for Historic Renovation plaque presented in May of this year for the preservation work on the Boyne City Water Works Building located at 1910 Water Street. Downtown Boyne City just seems to bring out the smiles so easily. Governor Snyder toured the downtown area last Thursday, making several stops at local businesses and sharing thoughts and ideas, shown here speaking with Main Street Manager Hugh Conklin and accompanied Representative Greg MacMaster, his wife Kim, and Chamber Executive Director Jim Baumann. ## Charlevoix County Commission concerned about unrepresented Senior Citizens

By Tina Sundelius

CHARLEVOIX—At the August 8 Charlevoix County Commissioner's meeting the commissioners approved payment of $2,000 on behalf of the gun board to conclude ongoing litigation and agreed that the citizen advisory board to the Commission on Aging should be allowed to advise the commission on more than just matters of nutrition.

Civil Council Bryan Graham presented the commissioners with a letter asking them to approve the payment of $2,000 to settle the Mark W. Dupuis v Charlevoix County Concealed Weapon Licensing Board case that has been ongoing. A settlement of the litigation was approved by the gun board on August 1 and involves the payment of $3,000 to Mr. Dupuis to cover his attorney fees. Mr. Dupuis was denied a concealed weapons permit by the gun board last year and contested the ruling. At that time the board was unable to substantiate their reasoning with witnesses and Mr. Dupuis sued the board.

"There were some police reports and some conduct that was evaluated by the gun board and they felt it appropriate to deny," said Under Sheriff Charles Vondra a member of the Gun Board. The Gun Board doesn't have a budget from which to draw from so they reluctantly approached the board. "If the litigation were to continue, the potential costs to the county could be significantly more, it is in the county's best interest to resolve the case," said Graham.

Jack Messer, executive director of Charlevoix County Commission on Aging was scheduled to speak to the board to get their feelings of where to go now that Charlevoix County citizens have reaffirmed their commitment to seniors. Tuesday citizens passed the Senior Citizen Millage increase from 0.4 mills to 0.65 mills with a 184-148 vote. The increase in mill-

Northern Michigan Counties to Receive Millions in Grant Money

Lansing - Gov. Rick Snyder recently signed legislation authorizing more than $3 million in grants from the Michigan Natural Resources Trust Fund (MNRTF) to fund outdoor recreation acquisition and development projects across the 37th Senate District, said Sen. Howard Walker.

The money is part of $38 million in grants from the MNRTF to support projects in more than 48 counties in Michigan.

Some of the projects funded in the 37th District include $862,500 to Acme Township for purchasing approximately 475 feet of frontage on East Grand Traverse Bay for Acme Waterfront; $300,000 to Charlevoix County for developing a 10-foot-wide non-motorized recreation trail from the Boyne City limits to the Evangeline/Bay Township line; and $280,000 to Mullett Township for improvements to Topinabee Lakeside Park.

"This grant money will enhance life out of doors for tens of thousands of northern Michigan residents," said Walker, R-Traverse City. "I'm grateful the projects can now get underway. I'm eager to see the final products."

To date, the trust fund has made the protection of natural areas and the development of outdoor recreation opportunities a reality for more than 500 cities, villages, townships and counties. These projects help create vibrant communities, enhance resident quality of life and foster the growth of local economies. MNRTF grants fund the development and acquisition of parks and green space, create viable trail networks and provide many outdoor experiences in urban areas.

The total cost of the 2011 projects is $65 million, when matching funds of more than $27 million are combined with the $38 million appropriated. The trust fund requires grant applicants to provide matching funds to help leverage an even greater investment in communities.

Since 1976, MNRTF has provided more than $900 million to local communities and the state of Michigan to fund the acquisition of land for resource protection and the development of recreation opportunities for residents.

State and local units of government may submit applications for trust fund grants on an annual basis. All potential grantees must have a five-year recreation plan on file with the Michigan Department of Natural Resources to be eligible. Learn more about the Michigan Natural Resources Trust Fund at www.michigan.gov/mnrtf.

Find the latest in "back to school" items at Goodwill Retail & Distribution Centers in Petoskey and Gaylord

By Jim Akans

Back-to-school shopping can be expensive, time consuming and stressful, but it doesn't have to be. Parents and students can find all the latest trends, hottest brands and coolest styles for kids, teens and adults at the Gaylord and Petoskey Goodwill® stores. Students can get back to school in style without setting back the budget.

At the Goodwill stores back-to-school shoppers can expect to find fashionable, trendy affordable clothes, new and gently used classroom supplies, electronics, sporting equipment, dorm furnishings and more. Unlike regular retail stores, Goodwill's inventory is never the same twice. Each day thousands of new pieces of merchandise are put on the sales floor, all one of a kind and unique just like each student.

"The end of summer also offers a unique opportunity for parents to help their children sort through outgrown clothing, shoes, books and toys and donate those items to Goodwill" says Heather Silny, assistant director of Goodwill's Retail Operations. "This is a great opportunity to inspire young people to be charitable, teach them that there are things you donate and things you recycle and that by shopping and donating at Goodwill they are making a difference in their community."

Shopping at Goodwill is not only good for the wallet, it is good for the environment and the community as well. Goodwill Centers in Petoskey and Gaylord, employ a total of 34 people, utilizing proceeds from sales at each location to help support programs throughout Northern Michigan that help people overcome barriers to independence. Goodwill Industries of Northern Michigan is also one of the largest recyclers of used goods in northern Michigan, helping to divert 3.4 million pounds of materials from landfills each year.

"Part of our business model is also being 'green,'" observes Ruth Blick, Director of Marketing and Communications for Goodwill Industries of Northern Michigan. "Everything that is donated to our stores is either reduced, reused or recycled. Items that come in that don't meet quality standards go through our salvage program. We are also in partnership with Dell Reconnect and we accept all types of computer equipment and recycle those items. Many people don't realize that a computer monitor can contain up to a pound of lead. We are able to safely recycle those units."

Goodwill also recycles metal items, cardboard, purses, belts, shoes, books and clothing. The gently used items on the sales floor follow a rotation model where they are on display for four weeks at a regular price, then half-off for a week, then reduced per item to 99-cents for adult sizes and 49-cents for children sizes, and those items are finally recycled if not sold.

"So there are always items at sale prices when someone visits our store," observes Ruth Blick. "People want to see different items on display when they visit us. Thousands of items are regularly coming in and going out of our stores."

Submitting items for donation is easy. Each location has a drive up donation center, open 7 days a week, and members of the Goodwill team will happily unload items from the donor's vehicle.

Heather Silny adds, "We encourage parents to have their children play Goodwill's fun and informative interactive Donation Match game at <https://donate.goodwill.org/kids/>. It is never too early to teach children that they make a difference to the planet and their community".

The 6,000 square foot Goodwill Retail and Donation Center at 1361 Pineview Drive in Gaylord is managed by Jessica McDowell, and is open Monday through Saturday from 9 am to 7 pm, and Sunday from 11am until 6 pm. The 6,700 square foot Goodwill Retail and Donation Center at 1600 Anderson Road in Petoskey is managed by Jan Henderson, and is open Monday through Saturday from 9 am to 8 pm, and Sunday from 11am until 6 pm.

BOYNE CITY COMMISSION MEETING - AUGUST 14, 2012

Planning & Zoning Department May Decide Fate of Manufacturing Firm

City Commission sends permit back to Zoning Department

Boyne City - The City Commission decided to remand the permit for Kirtland Products back to the Planning & Zoning Dept. for reconsideration Tuesday night at their city commission meeting.

Kirtland Products opened in 2011 and manufactures wood pellets at their plant in Boyne City's Industrial Park. The plant has been the center of controversy revolving around the noise and created by the manufacturing process and the plumes of steam rising from the stack from the wood drying operation in the plant.

City Manager, Michael Cain, told the commission that Kirtland has installed mufflers and cut the operating hours of the plant. He also noted that he has received petitions and e-mails from 74 city residents complaining about the manufacturing plant and that nothing has been resolved yet.

CEO of Kirtland Products, Leon Tupper, addressed the city commission updating them on the progress the company has made since the citizens committee released their report to the commission in mid-July. The company hired Kodiak Group, an Industrial Engineering and Computer IT Services Company, to study the operation and recommend plans to resolve the noise coming from the plant. Tupper said, "We just received the finding from Kodiak this afternoon. We have not had the time to examine the findings yet. As soon as we do, we will share the findings with the city commission."

City residents shared thoughts with the commission commenting that the vibration noise is not the only issue. They expressed concern over the emissions from the plant and reduced home values for residents that live near the industrial area.

Chamber of Commerce executive director, Jim Baumann stated, "It seems like Kirtland has provided what the commission has asked of them. They have hired the Kodiak Group and have said they will provide a timeline for resolving the issues and should have the answers within a month. Give them the month."

City Commissioners felt differently. Commissioner Gene Towne stated he felt they should send it back to the Planning commission for review of their conditional permit.

Commissioner Laura Sansom felt disappointed that Kirtland had not addressed the issues sooner. In light of the e-mails and petitions from city residents this doesn't seem to be working. Sansom said, "We are looking for specific plans and still don't have them."

President of Kirtland Products, Tom Monley addressed the commission. "The city commission set up a citizens committee to review the situation and we respected that decision, but this held up the process by 5 months. We have waited 22 weeks for the findings of the citizens committee. Now just 4 weeks after getting the report we have hired an engineering firm that has just completed their findings. We have moved quickly."

Commissioner Derek Gaylord made a motion to remand the Kirtland permit back to the Planning & Zoning Dept. for reconsideration. The issue will be discussed at their meeting on September 17, 2012.

In other business, Ron Crozier addressed the commission asking that a "No Poop" regulation be enforced in Veteran's Park. He said, "My wife and I are frustrated having to clean up after other people's dogs leaving us 'gifts' in Veteran's Park. Dog owners should be held responsible for cleaning up after their pet in public parks."

The commission also approved an agreement to hire DC Assessing of Traverse City to provide assessing services for the city, pending approval of the city attorney and similar approvals from the cities of East Jordan and Charlevoix.

A 4 year extension for a tax abatement was also approved for GAG Sim / Tech. The next meeting of the Boyne City Commission is scheduled for August 28, 2012.

Kirtland Products CEO, Leon Tupper, addressed the Boyne City Commission explaining steps they are taking to resolve the noise issues at the Kirtland Products plant in Boyne City's Industrial Park.

DAVE Says

Dave Ramsey

Are coupons a waste of time?

Dear Dave,

Is it worth the time and effort to use coupons, or are they just a waste of time and a ploy to get you to buy things?

Tammy

Dear Tammy,

Coupons are definitely a ploy to entice you to buy something you may not have purchased otherwise. But that doesn't mean they're bad things. The practical and sensible application of coupons can definitely help you save money.

The main things to watch out for when using coupons are overbuying and spending your money on things you don't really need. Seriously, you don't need to hit Sam's or Costco and walk out with nine gallons of mustard. I've even heard of people buying things they know they don't like just because it was on sale or they had a coupon. I mean, how dumb is that?

I guess there is a time factor involved in collecting coupons, especially if you still like to clip them from the newspapers or flyers that come in the mail. Plenty of folks still do that every week. I think online coupons are a lot easier to search for and save though. There's a company I love called eMeals that will work with you to plan recipes and also give you information on coupons and sales in your area to make the meals.

 I'm definitely not anti-coupon, but at the same time couponing alone won't change your family tree. It's like any other tool. If used in a smart way, it can help you save money. And that's not a bad thing!

—Dave

Birthday money is a last resort

Dear Dave,

What's the best way to save or use money given to a baby as a birthday present?

Ron

Dear Ron,

I think it depends on your financial situation along with your plans and goals. If you're at a place where you can't afford necessities, then there's absolutely nothing wrong with using birthday money for food, diapers or clothes. That's not a fun answer, but sometimes you have to do whatever it takes to properly care for your family.

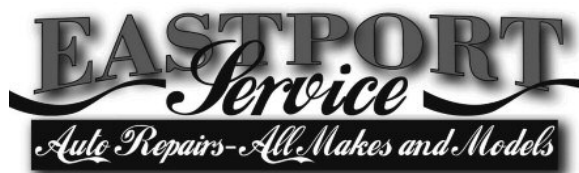

If money isn't a big issue though, you're left with figuring out a plan. In our case, we invested lots of it toward their college funds. Then we taught them to save for other things themselves. For instance, we didn't buy any of our kids their first cars. But we did agree to match whatever they saved when it came to this purchase.

There's also nothing wrong with just setting up a simple savings account and watching it grow. As they get older, you can involve them in the process and begin to teach them about the three uses for money: spending, saving and giving. And if you start something like this when they're really little, chances are they'll already have a nice pile of money already stashed away when they become old enough for those teachable moments.

The point is to have a plan. Once you have a definite idea in mind, it's a lot easier to achieve the goal!

Camp Daggett thanks community for generous support

Camp Daggett wishes to extend its thanks to many individuals and businesses in our community who have given their time and energy toward contributions for Camp Daggett. Among the many community supported events and donations this year are:

- On January 28 and February 25, more than 500 snowshoers enjoyed the beauty of Camp Daggett during the Torchlight Snowshoe Outing, sponsored by Bearcub Outfitters of Petoskey. Camp is proud to report that more than $1,000 was raised to support the programs at Camp Daggett.

- On Saturday, May 19 and Saturday, June 9, Grandpa Shorter's and Sons donated 20 percent of the daily proceeds to the C.G. and Ruth Shorter Memorial Scholarship Fund at Camp Daggett. From these two days, $1,146.00 was raised for Camp Daggett.

- On Memorial Day, Monday, May 28, Dr. Kyle Denholm and his staff hosted a 5K run fundraiser to bring awareness to the childhood obesity epidemic. The camper scholarship program at Camp Daggett received $207 from this effort. Camp

Daggett was chosen as a recipient of the funds because of its continued programming to keep children moving and active.

- On Thursday, June 7, Camp Daggett hosted its 9th Annual Camp Daggett Golf Benefit at Walloon Lake Country Club. 84 participants enjoyed 18 holes of golf at Walloon Lake Country Club, lunch on the veranda, dinner and a silent and live auction of premium items. This event brought more than $31,000 for camper scholarships to Camp Daggett. Camp would like to thank all of the golfers, sponsors and donors who made this such a success event.

Finally, the 4th annual Kayak for a Cause on Walloon Lake event, held on Saturday and Sunday, July 21-22 raised more than $7,600 for school scholarships for programs at Camp Daggett's Adventure Center. Many thanks to the kayakers who participated, sponsors, and homeowners around Walloon Lake for making this such a successful event. In total, Camp Daggett has raised close to $41,000 for scholarships for summer camp and the Adventure Center.

Each year, Camp Daggett offers meaningful and memorable

Before son joins football team, he must know health risks

Q: Our son wants to try out for the football team this year, but I'm concerned. He's only a freshman, and we have friends whose sons have sustained fairly serious injuries playing high school football. Should we forbid him from trying out?

Jim: There's no denying football is a rough sport. I should know -- my own high school football career ended with a broken collarbone!

And there's a significant amount of research suggesting that broken bones are just the tip of the iceberg. According to a 2010 New York Times article, football accounts for 22 percent of all concussions among 8- to 19-year-olds. In fact, 27 percent of football players ages 12 through 17 have had a least one concussion.

And the sport only gets more brutal when you move to the college and professional levels. Researchers have identified a serious condition in some NFL players called chronic traumatic encephalopathy, or C.T.E. It can develop after repeated concussions and other trauma, resulting in serious depression and lack of impulse control. This condition may affect college-level players, too.

Despite these alarming facts, I think it could be a mistake to prohibit your son from trying out for the team. Football is a great sport that teaches kids teamwork and helps them get in shape. At this point, the dangers of college and pro football are not a factor regarding your son, and probably never will be.

However, the "win at all costs" mentality that pervades professional sports can trickle down to the high school level as well. You -- and your son -- simply need to be aware of the risks involved. Most injuries will have no long-term impact, so long as they're allowed to heal properly. Talk to the coach, and make sure he doesn't push his players back out on the field too soon after being hurt. Playing while injured isn't just tough -- it's stupid.

Q: I have a 15-year-old daughter who's very artistic and melodramatic. Lately, she's started acting odd -- dressing in black, staying in her room a lot and avoiding the family. Is this normal teenage behavior, or should I be concerned?

Juli: Yes, it's normal teenage behavior, and yes, you should be concerned. The adolescent years often include the behaviors your daughter is exhibiting: mood swings, withdrawal and going through "fads" with music and clothing. Just because these behaviors are normal doesn't mean they shouldn't cause concern.

Teenagers lack both life experience and the ability to think through consequences of their choices. This leaves them vulnerable to high-risk behaviors, including drug and alcohol use, sexual activity and self-injury.

Parents of teens should be especially attentive when they notice drastic changes in behavior. For example, a straight-A student begins neglecting his schoolwork or a social teen suddenly doesn't want to talk to her friends.

While your daughter is pulling away from you, your strategy should be to "lean into" her. It's critical that you work at connecting with her, even if she seems to resist. Find ways to spend time with her, such as running errands or going to the mall. Ask open-ended questions about school, her friends and the music she likes. Is there anything going on in her life -- family conflict, a breakup, or even problems with a bully -- that may be causing her pain above and beyond the normal adolescent experience?

You mentioned that she's artistic. Perhaps her drawings, poetry or other forms of expression can be a window into what she's feeling. While a certain amount of moodiness is normal in teens, if you see consistent themes of despair or thoughts of self-injury or suicide, it's time to contact someone who specializes in teen issues to help your daughter weather the storm.

Jack Williams will return to Aten Place on Saturday August 18th at 7:30 p.m.

Counted among the most dynamic performers on today's folk circuit, Jack Williams is considered to be a musician's musician. Jack is an uncommonly unique guitarist, a writer of vivid songs with a strong sense of place, and a storyteller in an old Southern tradition who further illustrates each tale with his guitar. A native of South Carolina, he has shaped a 54-year career of playing folk, rock, jazz, R&B, classical and the popular music of the 30s, 40s and 50s.

Avoiding the compromises of the commercial music industry during his 50+ year professional career, Jack prefers touring under the radar, playing concerts, large and small, week in and week out, from the sheer love of music and performing. Playing for more than 50 house concerts each year, Jack enjoys the intimacy of that venue most of all, with a more personal connection to his listeners. Jack is a sought-after artist on all contemporary acoustic music stages, from coffeehouses and festivals to music halls and city arts stages. From acclaimed appearances at the Newport, Boston, Philadelphia, Kerrville, New Bedford SummerFest Folk Festivals, his musicianship, songs, stories and commanding presence have established him as an uncommonly inspiring and influential performer. Jack's performance at Aten Place will be one of the highlights of this summer's concerts.

Aten Place is located 1/2 mile south of Cherry Hill Road on Old Mackinaw Trail in Boyne Falls. The venue is a ninety plus year old oak frame barn with seating for 180, overlooking the Boyne River valley, in the shadow of Boyne Mountain. Tickets are $15 and go on sale at 6:30 p.m. the day of the concert, with performances beginning at 7:30 p.m. Advanced tickets and schedule details are available by visiting www.atenplace.com. Aten Place is a non-profit endeavor, and no food or beverage is sold on the premises. Many patrons bring snacks and desserts to share at intermission. ## MI Council for Arts and Cultural Affairs announces FY13 funding increase

The Michigan Council for Arts and Cultural Affairs (MCACA) today announced an increase in funding to $6.1 million for its Fiscal Year 2013 programs.

"We are very excited about the support from Governor Rick Snyder and his administration for this increase in funding," said MCACA Executive Director John Bracey. "The additional dollars will allow us to add a new Capital Improvement program, intended for the renovation of facilities and equipment. We also have a new logo to celebrate our future."

MCACA will offer grants through three programs:

- Program for Operations and Project Support – Provides specific operational support to arts and cultural organizations only. Municipalities, schools and non-arts nonprofit organizations are encouraged to apply in the Projects Support category. MCACA defines arts and cultural organizations as those organizations whose primary mission is to provide an experience, including a learning experience, that is based in a specific arts or cultural discipline.
- Capital Improvements – Provides funding assistance to Michigan nonprofit organizations and municipalities for the expansion, renovation or construction of cultural facilities; upgrade of equipment and furnishing to provide a competitive and up-to-date environment; equipment and instrument acquisitions that are integral to the implementation of events and services.

- Mini-grants – A partnership between the MCACA and 19 regional re-granting agencies throughout the state. There are two components of the Mini-grant program, Arts Projects and Professional Development grants. These are special opportunities to address local arts and cultural needs as well as increase public access to arts and culture.

Michigan nonprofit organizations, schools and municipalities are eligible to apply for projects that would take place between January 1, 2013 and September 30, 2013. Completed online applications are due on October 1, 2012.

Information about specific grant programs as well as the guidelines is available on the web at www.michiganadvantage.org/arts.

Emmet-Charlevoix County Fair Manager, Agnes Shaw, notes, "We have totally renovated the inside of our oldest horse barn this year. We began this project last fall and called it "The Year of the Horse." We were able to raise about $19,000 for creating the new stalls, and volunteers have been hard at work, virtually non-stop, since early June. The results are absolutely beautiful." COURTESY PHOTO

Emmet-Charlevoix County Fair Opens This Weekend

By Jim Akans

The midway will soon be bustling with carnival set-up activity, the 4-H livestock barns will be filling up, vendors and exhibitors will begin creating their spaces in the 10,000 square foot Community Building, and the 2,500 seat Grandstand area is being prepared for a week of exciting shows. It's an annual tradition that has been thrilling Emmet and Charlevoix county residents and visitors to the area for 107 years, and the Emmet-Charlevoix County Fair is set to open once again this Saturday, August 18th, and continues through the following Sunday, August 26th.

There has been a lot of updating to the fairgrounds in recent years, and while enjoying the carnival rides, exhibits, entertainment and fantastic foods and beverages, attendees will certainly appreciate the beautifully manicured grounds, updated barns and restroom facilities, and the general sense of pride the fair organization and community has for this historic site and event.

Emmet-Charlevoix County Fair Manager, Agnes Shaw, notes, "We have totally renovated the inside of our oldest horse barn this year. We began this project last fall and called it "The Year of the Horse." We were able to raise about $19,000 for the renovation and creating the new stalls, and volunteers have been hard at work, virtually non-stop, since early June. The results are absolutely beautiful."

The 100 x 50 foot barn dates back to the early 1900's, and the new tongue and groove wood siding behind each stall and new stall doors breathe new life into the structure that has housed countless horses over the decades. Show notes that among the contributors to the project were a sizable donation from the Baiaradi Family Foundation of Harbor Springs, and donations from the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners, Northern Michigan Dust Control, as well as proceeds from a 4H "Hairy Horse Show" held in early May.

For those who love to spend several days coming back again and again to enjoy the Emmet-Charlevoix County Fair, two value-oriented passes are being offered. The Fair Fun Pass allows gate entrance and grandstand event access all week long for just $50. The Mega Ride Pass is also available, which allows those holding this "magic ticket" to ride Skerbeck Carnival rides all week long, as many times as they wish. The price of the Mega Pass is $50 if purchased at the fair office by August 20th, or $60 thereafter.

There's a lot going on in the Grandstand area at the Emmet-Charlevoix County Fair this year: On Tuesday, August 21st, Pony Pulls will take place at noon, followed by Open Mule Pulls at 2:30 pm and Open Horse Pulls at 6 pm. The Hometown Idol competition will take place next Wednesday evening starting at 7 pm. Admission for either of these events is just $5 for those 13 and older and free for those 12 and under.

Other exciting events in the Grandstand area include the Tough Truck (with ATV and Side-by-Side Quad competitions added this year) on Thursday, August 23rd starting at 7 pm, and Autocross Racing on Friday, August 24th starting at 7 pm. Admission for either of these events is $10 for those 13 and up, $5 for those ages 5 to 12, and kids under 5 get in free.

Next Saturday evening, August 25th, the spectacular Monster Truck Show will take place at the Grandstand area beginning at 7 pm, and admission is $15 per person or $25 for two, $5 for those age 2 to 12, and free for those under 2 years of age.

Skerbeck Carnival Rides will open on Tuesday, August 21st at 2pm and run each day thereafter from noon until close. $20 all day armbands will be available on

The Emmet-Charlevoix County Fair is set to open once again this Saturday, August 18th and continue through the following Sunday, August 26th. COURTESY PHOTO

Wednesday and Thursday, there will be a "Dollar Day" ($1 per ride) special from noon to 6 pm on Friday, and a $15 all day armband available on Sunday...and rides will close at 6 pm on Sunday, August 26th.

Building on a tradition that is well over 100 years old, the Emmet-Charlevoix County Fair is well seasoned in entertaining those of every age and interest, and the weeklong adventure is also truly a bargain. Parking is free, and gate admission is a very reasonable $5 per person (12 and under are free) each day.

"Our goal is to make the fair affordable for families," affirms Agnes Shaw. "It is a wonderful opportunity to showcase agriculture in our community and provide lots of family fun and entertainment."

Rummage Sale Funds Mission Trip

Charlevoix – A group representing the Charlevoix United Methodist Church and Community Church of God will spend a week-long mission trip ding home repairs in Henderson Settlement, Frakes, KY. Henderson Settlement is a mission outreach supported by the Methodist Church, which ministers to the basic needs of people in southeastern Kentucky and northern Tennessee. This area of Appalachia is severely economically depressed. The economy had always been coal mining. Now most mines have closed and other jobs lost to automation, resulting in an unemployment rate of more than 50%. There is no money to spare for needed home repairs, so crews from all over go there for a week at a time to help. At the same time, bonds of friendships are formed. In the past, Charlevoix teams have completed repairs including putting in new doors and windows, insulation and siding, rebuild and tile a kitchen floor, wiring a small home for an elderly man who had been living in a tent. The mission team must raise funds for all construction supplies needed for their project. To fund this mission trip the team has an annual rummage sale. The sale is 9 a.m. – 5 p.m., Friday and Saturday, August 17-18, at the United Methodist Church, 104 State St. in Charlevoix. There will be patio set, office chair, Thomas Kincaid pictures, golf clubs and much more. Find a treasure and help repair a home. For more information call Jan at (231)547-5439.

Governor Tours Boyne

for phase II, and embarked on a tour of the downtown Boyne City area.

During his walk, accompanied by Representative MacMaster and his wife Kim, Chamber of Commerce Director Jim Baumann, Mayor Ron Grunch, City Manager Michael Cain and Main Street Manager Hugh Conklin, the governor was greeted by several Boyne City residents. He made stops at the Dilworth Yacht Brokers, Beyond Borders, spoke with Realtor Pat O'Brien and his staff, and concluded his tour at Country Now & Then. In preparation for the governor's visit, several businesses, the Chamber office and even the Boyne City High School posted yellow signs displaying the slogan "RPA is our way!" reflecting the governor's ongoing motto of "Relentless Positive Action." Boyne City's amazing achievements over the past several years in areas such as the Main Street Program, historic preservation and the SOBO arts district are a true testament to the positive changes that can occur in a community when "Positive Action" is applied "Relentlessly." After visiting Boyne City, Governor Snyder traveled to Petoskey where he stopped at North Central Michigan College for a ceremonial signing of Public Act 251, known locally as the "Dark Sky Coast" bill, which protects the night sky above nearly 21,000 contiguous acres of land in Northwest Emmet County.

Great Start FreeCycle Book Bins offer free gently used books for kids

With the idea of getting free books in children's hands, the Great Start Collaborative and Parent Coalition have launched the FreeCycle Book Bin project in a three-county area of Charlevoix, Emmet and northern Antrim counties.

The project is a spin-off of the FreeCycle forum and allows families to choose free books from bins at locations where families and young children visit.

"Research tells us that children who own their own books are more likely to read and more likely to be better readers academically," said Maureen Hollocker, Director of Great Start of Charlevoix, Emmet and northern Antrim counties. "Sixty one percent of the children in low income families have no books at all that are appropriate for children. We are starting with a total of six bins and 300 books, with four more bins ready to go and 200 books in reserve to replenish the supply," she said.

The first six bins will be placed at the East Jordan Family Health Center, Central Lake Family Health Center, Boyne Area Medical Center, and the Health Department of Northwest Michigan locations in Harbor Springs, Charlevoix, and Bellaire. Great Start is seeking suggestions on where to place the additional four bins. All the books have a sticker on the cover that reads: "This Book is FREE - Great Start FreeCycle."

The Great Start Collaborative and Parent Coalition

launched a FreeCycle forum on Facebook to give families an opportunity to give and take gently used items for their children such as sports equipment, clothing and more. The forum is located at www.facebook.com/GreatStartFreeCycle.

"When the Great Start Parent Coalition started to spread the word to other families about the FreeCycle Book Bin idea, we immediately started to get book donations," said Mandy Peterson, Great Start Parent Coalition liaison. "We have over 700 books ready for kids to take home and have high hopes that other families will FreeCycle their gently used children books with Great Start. We are looking for books in good condition ranging in reading level from infant board books to age twelve small chapter books."

To donate books please contact Great Start at 231.582.8070 or greatstartforkids@gmail.com.

The Great Start Collaborative is currently made up of more than 30 different participants and organizations from around the community. Representatives from business, health, education, human services, legislative, higher education, non-profit, court systems, and parents are committed to creating a movement in our area that seeks to involve the entire community in supporting families as they raise their young children to succeed in school and in life.

Charlevoix Chamber names Central Drug Store as August "Business of the Month"

By Jim Akans

The Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce has selected Central Drug Store as the August Business of the Month, recognizing the organizations long-standing commitment in helping to make Charlevoix an outstanding community in which to live, work and play. This family-owned local business has been operating since 1897, started by F.N. Chapel, after the Noble Hotel burned and was rebuilt as Central Drug Store.

John Ochs, who currently owns and operates Central Drug Store with his wife, Lani, recalls, "It was sold sometime before 1914 to B.A Herman. My granddad, Harley Ochs came from his home in Roscommon by train to Boyne City, then by steamer to Charlevoix in 1914 to work for Mr. Herman. Granddad bought the store in 1929 and dad became a partner about 1960. Dad worked here for 75 years, starting when he was 13 years old."

Amazingly, Ochs relates that the store has been in the same location the whole time, except for a brief period between October of 1957 and January 1958 when the old building was torn down and the current one built.

He notes, "We moved into the Murdick's Fudge store during that time, which was in the current Maisson-Jardin store. Lani and I bought the business from Dad in 1982."

Today, Central Drug Store has a staff of five full time people, including John and Lani, plus a few additional part-time and summer employees. Embracing three generations of family ownership, it is a small local business that makes customer service a top priority.

Lani states, "Being small enables us to know our patients by name. We have time to talk with them, to answer their questions. When we need to work with another local business we know the name of the person we are working with."

John adds, "I think that knowing and caring for our customers has had the most impact on our success. We offer to deliver if needed. We're able to assist customers with further educating themselves on health related topics. We have our home phone listed for after-hours emergencies."

John and Lani are also very involved with their local community. In addition to being members of the Chamber of Commerce and offering their support to local civic organizations whenever possible, Lani is a member of Zonta International and John is chairman of the Charlevoix chapter of Ducks Unlimited. John was also chairman of the Venetian Boat Parade for several years.

Central Drug Store is located at 301 Bridge Street in Charlevoix, and hours of operation are 8 am to 6 pm Monday through Friday and from 9 am until 5 pm on Saturday. For additional information, visit their website at www.central-drug.com or call (231) 547-2424.

A New Way to Look at Antique Furniture

By Catherine L'Heureux

In downtown Charlevoix's Round Lake Gallery, Chris Way's repurposed antique furniture blooms in a delicate balance of color and the rich history of Norman Brumm's copper enamel sculptured art.

Way repaints and embellishes wooden furniture in her Brumm-Way Designs collection with Norman Brumm copper enameled flowers and leaves. This "repurposed functional art," as Way calls it, ranges from green leaves and colorful buds creeping up end tables and shelves to single flowers placed elegantly in the corners of framed mirrors. The natural-looking surprise of blossoming furniture is her specialty.

Way's husband's uncle, Norman Brumm, crafted nature-inspired copper enamel pieces for 40 years in northern Michigan, she said. His work was showcased in art shows, requested by royalty and has appeared in the White House. When he became ill and passed away in 2008, production ceased and hundreds of enameled flowers and leaves remained in shoeboxes. When the Brumm family tried to sell the beautiful pieces in garage sales, Way prayed for an idea to repurpose the valuable artwork that Brumm had left behind.

About a year ago, Way set up an art studio in her garage and began repainting wooden antique furniture, drilling and gluing a few simple Brumm flowers and leaves on each piece as an elegant garnish. She takes Brumm's copper enamel figures out of storage and cleans them with a toothbrush before applying them to each piece of furniture. Currently, Way is one of over 40 artists featured in the Round Lake Gallery of Art and Design, 325 Bridge St., a new gallery in downtown Charlevoix that opened on June 11.

Way focuses on making her art functional for a busy family lifestyle.

"It's an artistic piece of furniture, not just something sitting on a table that you look at. You're going to use this!" she said. "I'm using art from the past to bring it into the next generation in a practical application. Because I'm a mother of four, everything I did had to be practical and have a reason....Everything I do, I like it to have value."

Although Way admired Brumm's work

while growing up, she never expected to marry into the Brumm family's artistic legacy. Years ago at an art show, her future husband mentioned that Norman Brumm was his uncle. Way's immediate response: "Yeah, right."

"I thought he was teasing me so that I would go out with him again," she says.

Later that summer Way visited his home, met his parents and discovered Brumm pieces that were placed throughout the house. She was surprised to learn that Norman Brumm was indeed close family.

Way is happy that her work is appreciated by Norman's wife, Judith, who was also a partner in his copper enamel art business.

"She has seen the work and says it's whimsical and fun and that it's good. It's a different application but she's fine with it and enjoys the ways I've used it," Way said. "So that means a lot because I didn't want to offend anybody. I felt good when she thought that it was nice, that it was being continued and used."

While Way expects to continue with the Brumm pieces for a while, she says she could go back and learn to make copper enamel pieces for further production if her supply runs out. Brumm left patterns, stamps and powdered glass that she could eventually use to continue production, she said.

Brumm-Way Designs has helped to preserve Norman Brumm's artistic legacy.

"A lot of people I found in Charlevoix never knew what happened to Norm, never knew what happened to his product. It has been like the rest of the story for them and brought closure on his passing and on his ending of his art era," she said. "So hopefully people will find a purpose for it and be able to enjoy it and afford it at the same time."

County Commission

age will help fund senior programs and prevent deficit spending and will raise an estimated $1,312,034 for the county when first levied in 2012. It will represent about $65 per year for a taxpayer with a home with $100,000 taxable value, compared to about $40 previously when it was levied from 2008 to 2011. The funds will be utilized by Messer's office.

"The whole mission of the commission is to help people maintain independence keeping seniors in their own homes and helping them to be healthy and safe in their own homes. I'm very grateful to the people of Charlevoix and we will continue to work hard to provide those services," said Messer.

In order to more accurately address the needs of seniors Messer has relied on the conclusions of four public forums held in Charlevoix, East Jordan, Boyne City and Beaver Island last year. In those meetings citizens stated that they wanted the Commission on Aging to address the needs of seniors, not the wants, help seniors who need the help the most first, and they wanted the commission to be hardy not fancy. "I suggest to the board that our efforts have remained focused on the mission that our citizens have charged us with" said Messer.

Messer expects to more accurately meet the needs that he knows are coming. According to demographics 10,000 people are turning 65 in the country each day. He hopes do that by utilizing the input of the Commission on Aging Board. "What better time than now that we have the millage and the support of the public that we take a real hard look at where we are going with this" said Commissioner Chris Christensen.

Messer explained to the board that there are many seniors not utilizing needed services that are available and suggested a possible change of name for the advisory board that will more clearly portray to the public what the board does. "It is our intention to represent all seniors and not just the seniors that are using the COA," said Christiansen.

"If a citizen has concerns and issues they think affect seniors we want them to contact us," said Richard Fish, chairman of the COA advisory Board. The County Commission told Messer to discuss the change with the Advisory Board and return with suggestions.

The COA has monthly meetings that travel from city to city in order to be easily accessible by the public. For information on the next meeting contact the Commission on Aging office 231 237 0103.
