SEASON PREVIEW

BOYNE FALLS

BASEBALL: Loggers baseball team is young again

BOYNE FALLS — The Loggers look to build upon what was a rebuilding year last season as they return seven of their starters and like pretty much every other team in northern Michigan, have yet to get outside to field a full practice.

Leading Boyne Falls is the lone senior, centerfielder William Miller. Miller, a fifth-year player, brings a solid bat to the lineup and will use his speed to run down fly balls as he patrols the outfield.

Freshman Marcus Matelski and a pair of sophomores; Andrew Stevens and Hunter Williams, will also be key players for the Loggers this season.

"All three have very good arms and will see plenty of time on the mound," Loggers coach Bill Montgomery said. "I am definitely looking to improve this year, as your youngsters mature."

Other returnees for Boyne Falls are sophomores Jordan Berreth, Andrew Campbell and Truman Crego.

The Loggers will suit up 11 players this season.

SOFTBALL: Loggers return strong cast

BOYNE FALLS — The Loggers return a strong nucleus of talent and second year coach Richard Matelski likes his team's chances to compete for the Northern Lakes Conference title.

"Even though we haven't had the opportunity to get outside, I like what I see so far in the gym," coach Matelski said. "We're working on as many situations as possible and the kids are hitting the ball well in the cage."

One of the main reasons the coach is excited is the return of junior pitcher/infielder, Emily Matelski. Emily, entering her fourth season on the Loggers varsity, finished 8-6 as a sophomore, fanning 43 and walking 31 with an ERA of 4.50, and she looks strong this preseason.

Emily is also the top returning offensive threat for the Loggers as she hit .351, walked 17 times and scored 28 runs and had an on base average of .500.

Also returning for Boyne Falls are key infielders; senior Melody Ann Harmon and juniors Calsey Matelski and Kathryn Miller. Freshman Kurstin Wilson is a five-tool player with a strong arm and will take over duties behind the plate and looks to add some offensive power to the Logger line-up.

"The girls are getting a little antsy being inside," coach Matelski said, "We all are ready to get outside and get the season underway, but when the weather allows, we will be ready."

CHARLEVOIX

BASEBALL: Rayders looking to rebuild after losing key players to graduation

CHARLEVOIX — Coming off a 17-17 season of a year ago, including 8-6 in the always tough Lake Michigan Conference, veteran Rayder coach Allen Telgenhof looks to rebuild his team around youth as Charlevoix must replace five graduated seniors.

"We had heavy losses due to graduation and will be very young, starting only two seniors," coach Telgenhof said. "Though we don't have dominant #1 and #2 starting pitchers like we have for the past few years with Coby Herriman (three time all-district player, all-time school record holder for strikeouts season and career) and Andrew Potter (two-time all-district and all-conference), we should be solid from top to bottom and have a lot of interchangeable parts that will give us a lot of lineup flexibility."

Another thing that the 11 year veteran is excited about is the numbers between the varsity and JV levels, which is currently at 29, the highest total during his time in the program.

Top returnees for the Rayders are senior centerfield-pitcher Tommy Zipp. Zipp batted .313, scored 19 runs and had 28 runs batted in with a .500 slugging percentage. He was also 2-4 on the mound, fanning 27 in 28 innings of work; he was an All-Conference and All-District selection last season.

Junior catcher/infield/outfielder Luke Klinger was an All-Conference honorable mention last season as he led the Rayders with a .518 on base average and drew 25 walks. Another junior All-Conference honorable mention, Shane Sutherland - SS/P, hit .261, with 19 runs, 17 RBIs and 20 stolen bases.

A trio of sophomores round out the key returnees, including All-Conference honorable mention Nate Moon - shortstop/third base/outfield, hit .278, scored 17 runs, added 17 RBIs, stole 13 bases and went 2-0 on the mound with a 2.64 ERA. Noah Certa 1B/OF hit .275; and Will Telgenhof - catcher, batted .234 with 15 runs scored and swiped 10 bases.

Top newcomers for Charlevoix are senior Tag McCreadie who will start at 2B; junior J.J. Bottomley 3B/OF/P; junior Logan Eckhardt OF/P; junior Jared Cole OF; sophomore KeNen Borths OF/P; and freshmen Austin Putman and Hunter Cox who are both IF/OF/P.

“Our two freshmen are very talented and I’m excited to see what they can do at the varsity level,” the coach added. “We also have a good nucleus returning with Klinger, Zipp and Sutherland in the middle of the lineup and our three sophomore returning starters - Moon, Certa and Telgenhof, but pitching will be the key for us, because I think we’ll hit and field well. I anticipate that Zipp, Sutherland and Moon will pitch most of the innings but its wide open behind them with Cox, Putman, Bottomley, Borths and Eckhardt all capable of contributing.”

The Rayders opened play on April 6 in Birch Run, defeating picking up a pair of wins, 3-0 and 5-4.

SOFTBALL: Charlevoix softball return numbers are strong

Hybl, Shull and Archey to lead team

By Chris Fiel
CHARLEVOIX — Despite losing six players to graduation last season, Rayder coach Ken Hoffman returns some key components to the team this spring.

Two of those returnees are seniors Katie Hybl and Rachel Shull. Both players are entering their fourth season on the Rayder varsity.

Hybl will be splitting time between the circle and behind the plate and hit a strong .540 last year. Shull is a three year starter in leftfield and looks to return to that position.

Another key player is returning junior centerfielder Jennifer Archey. Archey was another top hitter for Charlevoix last year as she finished with a .466 batting average.

Also returning for the Rayders are junior Kelsey Pischner (.333 BA) at firstbase, while fellow juniors Paige Bradley, Ryleigh Knoop, Jacy Herriman and Allie Balyo along with sophomores Kaitlin Loviska and Nicole Peterson.

New to the team this spring are senior Olivia Certa, junior Gabby Gray along with freshmen; Haley Berry, Yogi Hang and Skylar Herriman.

All look to contribute to the Rayder success this season.

ELLSWORTH

SOFTBALL: Lady Lancers looking to contend for Northern Lakes Crown

Experience, skilled players lead the way

ELLSWORTH — Look for the Lady Lancers to put up some big numbers and contend for the Northern Lakes Conference softball title this season.

Coach Al Gregory returns five seniors; Kari Steenwyk, Tara Esenberg, Kendra Warner, Whitney Heard and Elizabeth Sowers.

The Lancer senior group brings both offense and defense to the plate, so to speak. That being said, coach Gregory is even more impressed by their character.

“These five players have excellent skill sets—both at the plate and in the field—but it is their attitudes and spirit that impresses me the most,” the coach said. “They are all leaders in their own way and they mesh very well with the younger players on the team. We have some people playing a few different positions this year and the transition has been very smooth.”

Another reason for the Lancers to be optimistic for the season to begin is that their returning one thru four hitters combined to bat an amazing .536 last year, led by Steenwyk who hit .562 last year, pounding out 41 hits, including 14 for extra bases and three round-trippers and 42 RBIs, and had an OBP of .579.

“A big key for us this year will be getting production from the lower part of our lineup,” Gregory said. “Everyone has looked great in the batting cage and I look for a big seasons from Crissa Karavas, Katelyn Sowers and Molly Vanderslik at the plate.”

The Lancer defense should be solid infield and the return of number one pitcher junior, Ashley Drenth. Drenth tossed some valuable innings for Ellsworth last season and has put in time this off season to get even better.

“I see a much stronger and confident pitcher (Drenth) who gives us very few walks and is very consistent,” the coach added. “I really love coaching this team because they play together and are always supportive of each other. We always have a lot of fun while also having a serious attitude about playing the game.”

Rayders' baseball team off to a 2-0 start Shane Sutherland posts shutout in season opener

By Chris Fiel

Charlevoix 3-5, Birch Run 0-4

BIRCH RUN — The Charlevoix baseball team got the season off to a good start, picking up a pair of victories over Birch Run, 3-0 and 5-4 in non-conference twin bill on April 6.

In the opener, Shane Sutherland earned the victory on the mound, tossing six innings of two-hit ball, walking one and fanning two for the shutout.

Charlevoix gave Sutherland all the room he needed in the second inning as the Rayders crossed the plate three times as J.J. Bottomley singled, followed by a Hunter Cox reaching on a fielder's choice, Kenen Borths then reached on another FC, stole second, moved to third on a passed ball and scored on a Noah Certa RBI single.

Certa finished with two hits and two stolen bases to lead Charlevoix at the plate, while Will Telgenhof doubled and Nate Moon singled.

"It was a nice way to start the season on a very cold day," Rayder coach Allen Telgenhof said.

"Sutherland was dominant on the mound in game one and it was a great comeback in game two. We were down to our last out and even our last strike but kept battling. We were strong defensively and our pitchers threw strikes all day long."

In the nightcap, Charlevoix used a sixth inning rally to pull even and pushed across the eventual game winner in the top of the seventh as Luke Klinger scored from third on a throwing error.

Bottomley tossed the final 2 1/3 innings to picked up the win in relief of starter Nate Moon who went four innings, allowing three runs on two hits, striking out one and walking another. Bottomley fanned one, walked one and allowed one run. Cox also found time on the mound for 2/3 of an innings, striking out one and allowing one hit.

Bottomley also recorded the only Charlevoix hit in game two, a single in the sixth. Klinger reached base three times via walk and scored twice.

Birch Run scored twice in the first, once in the third and added their final run in the bottom of the sixth.

DNR

Bears on the move

GAYLORD – Although it is still quite cold outside, Michigan's wildlife knows the spring season is here (based on the increase of daylight hours) and is beginning to wake up from its winter hibernation. Bears are one of the animals starting to emerge from their dens.

Food and mating are the two drivers behind the increase of wildlife that Michigan residents may be seeing lately. Since bears typically mate in June or July, food is the primary cause for the increase in bear activity during the spring.

"At this time of year, bears are looking for food," said DNR bear and furbearer specialist Adam Bump. "They are hungry after spending months in their dens, and while we might not think of bird feeders and trash cans as food sources, a hungry bear certainly may."

Each spring, as bears leave their winter dens and resume daily activity, wildlife officials begin receiving calls about bear sightings and even the occasional bear damaging bird feeders, trash cans and grills.

Birdseed is especially attractive to bears because of its high fat content and easy accessibility. Once bird feeders are discovered, bears will keep coming back until the seed is gone or the feeders have been removed.

"The majority of complaints we receive about nuisance bears in the spring involve a food source. The easiest thing people can do to avoid creating a problem is to temporarily take in their bird feeders and store other attractants, like grills, trash cans and pet food, in a garage or storage shed," Bump said. "Once the woods green up, bears tend to move on to find more natural sources of food, as long as they haven't become habituated to the birdseed or garbage cans."

Bears that are rewarded with food each time they visit a yard can become habituated to these food sources unintentionally provided by people. This can create an unsafe situation for the bear and become a nuisance for landowners if a bear continuously visits their yard during the day and repeatedly destroys private property in search of food.

DNR Wildlife Division staff members are unable to respond directly to each nuisance bear complaint, and instead ask that landowners do their part to help reduce potential food sources in their yards first before calling for further assistance. The trapping of nuisance bears is only authorized by DNR wildlife officials in cases of significant property damage or threats to human safety when other techniques have failed.

Anyone who is experiencing problems with nuisance bears and has taken the appropriate action to remove food sources for a period of two to three weeks, but has not seen results, should contact the nearest DNR office and speak with a wildlife biologist or technician for further assistance.

Ford marks countdown to 50 Years of Mustang with all-new logo and licensed products

The Ford Mustang will soon become the newest member of a very exclusive club - vehicles in continuous production for 50 years. To help mark this milestone, 50 companies will sell products including watches, T-shirts, model cars and more that celebrate the Mustang's first 50 years.

"During its first 49 years of production, Mustang has come to evoke a variety of emotions in our customers - freedom, independence and being true to one's self - just to name a few," said John Nens, Ford's team lead for Global Brand Licensing. "We're marking this Mustang milestone with a distinctive collection of licensed products from select manufacturers that will carry the unique Mustang 50 Years logo."

All of the new merchandise will be easily identified with a custom logo that celebrates 50 years of Mustang. The logo was crafted by Ford designer Michael Thomson. It features the Mustang's trademark galloping pony in silhouette over the characters "50 YEARS." This new icon has a clean and sophisticated appearance in either white on black or black on white. Only 50 companies will be licensed to create products bearing this special logo including high-quality die cast models, videogames, watches and apparel.

"We're working closely with our licensees to ensure every item reflects the unique qualities of Mustang," said Nens. "Like the car itself, we want our licensed products to convey an attitude of strength, passion and the highest quality."

Over upcoming weeks and months, other Ford licensees will reveal a variety of Mustang products featuring the Mustang 50 Years logo to mark this special moment in automotive history and kick off the next 50 years of Mustang.

Celebrating its centennial this year, Union, N.J.-based Schott NYC was one of the first manufacturers to sign on for the 50 Years licensing program. Irving and Jack Schott established their company the same year Ford began producing the Model T on the first moving assembly line. Great-grandson and COO Jason Schott runs the family business today, along with his mother Roz Schott, president, and his uncle, Steven L. Colin, CEO, producing premium jackets, shirts and accessories.

During World War II, Schott NYC dedicated its entire capacity to making sheepskin bomber jackets, leather flight jackets and peacoats for American soldiers, sailors and pilots fighting overseas. Among those who went into battle in Schott jackets were the pilots of the 332nd Fighter Group, better known as the Tuskegee Airmen.

"I can't think of a better partner with whom to celebrate our 100th anniversary," said Jason Schott. "We are honored to collaborate with an iconic family business that shares our commitment to domestic production."

While the Ford Mustang is classically identified with the wild horse of the American West, it was actually named for the famed North American P-51 fighter plane, the preferred mount of the Tuskegee Airmen in the final year of the war.

Over the next half-century, the Schott Perfecto leather jacket figured prominently in iconic images of Marlon Brando, James Dean, Peter Fonda, the Ramones and Bruce Springsteen. Today Jay-Z, Lady Gaga and Adam Levine can all be spotted in Schott jackets. Later this year, Schott NYC will reveal a limited-edition leather jacket celebrating 50 years of Mustang.

"The Mustang attitude of freedom and mobility is universal and enduring, and fans around the world will be honoring that heritage with numerous celebrations as we move forward," said Steve Ling, Ford Car Marketing manager.

Real Estate Corner

Question & Answers About Selling Real Estate

Why Isn't My Home Selling?

Part 2 of 3

Compliments of Mike Stark, Stark Realty, Inc. (231) 536-7700

Price based on greed
Even if it's been shown that your house will likely sell for around $250,000, you insist on listing it for $275,000 because "you never know, someone could come along who just has to have it. Besides, if we don't get any bites we can always lower the price later." The problem is it won't take long for buyers to realize your price is unrealistic and think you are, too, and won't want to deal with you unless the house is "a steal." The listing languishes, so you drop the price, but not enough, it sits even longer and pretty soon you have a listing that's been on the market so long buyers decide there is something wrong and steer clear. The solution is to get the price right. This is done by using what is called a Competitive Market

Analysis (CMA). If you've hired the right agent, this is the first folder out of their briefcase when you meet to list your home. A CMA breaks down the sales price of homes that are similar to yours in location, size, age and condition. Your agent will also consider the listing prices of homes on the market, but these are used more to identify the competition. Even with a strong agent and CMA, your price may not be on target. That's because the market is always changing and your agent should be updating your CMA whenever anything comparable to your property sells. Not every reason your home isn't selling will be the price, although they will be related to it. Here we have that value vs. price issue. If buyers perceive imperfections in your listing, they will want a discount, so if they're not buying, your price is not discounted enough for buyers to believe the value to them at least equals that of your price. For example, if your lawn is brown and the landscaping worn, buyers will want a discount. The problem is that a seller will not consider this a major issue and attach a much lower discount than a buyer will accept. This is why it is imperative that sellers do everything they can to eliminate any issues buyers may have with their house before listing. Obviously, you can't do anything about a bad location, such as being near railroad tracks, or that you have just one bathroom. But you and your agent should have factored these drawbacks into the listing price. More next week.

Over 60 acres of prime property features mix of woodlands and fields, plus Ranney Creek frontage

By Jim Akans

This week's feature is a fantastic 61-acre expanse of property that has a gorgeous mix of woodlands and pasture areas, road frontage on Miles Road, which is paved, and Nelson Road, plus the beautiful Ranney Creek meanders through the south end of the property.

Situated about midway between East Jordan and Ellsworth, the location offers an ideal blend of peaceful tranquility and natural beauty while being within easy reach of two vibrant northern Lower Michigan communities. Access to the vast network of snowmobile trails is also nearby.

The potential for this ample slice of paradise is virtually limitless. This is prime hunting property, has an abundance of wildlife, there are possible timber options, and the parcel has been surveyed and approved for numerous splits.

To view this property take C-48 (the East Jordan - Ellsworth Breezeway) to Miles Road and head south and the property will be on the right near Nelson Road. This awesome vacant land offering with plenty of possibilities is listed at just $155,000.

For additional information or to arrange for a tour of this home, please call Jennifer Burr at Stark Realty at 231-536-7700 or email Jennifer@starkrealtyonline.com
