It's the "big town festival with the small-town appeal," and from Saturday, July 20h, through the following Saturday, the 83rd Annual Venetian Festival will once again bring an amazing amount of music, athletic competitions, games, beach parties, food, fun and of course, a boat parade and fireworks, to the city of Charlevoix.

"While the number and caliber of events we offer at the Venetian Festival is more typical of what one would find in large metropolitan area," observes Dan Barron, who has served as the president of the Festival for 15 years, "we have always worked very hard to make sure the festival keeps its local flavor. This has truly become a Charlevoix homecoming celebration over the years."

The Venetian Festival began back in 1930 with a small parade of candle-lit sailing vessels circling Round Lake harbor in a post race celebration featuring members of the Chicago and Belvedere Clubs. Little did those participants expect that eighty-one years later that lighted boat parade tradition would continue as the closing ceremony for the annual Charlevoix Venetian Festival.

Rhythms musical performances at this year's Venetian Festival will include nationally renown acts such as Mitch Ryder and the Detroit Wheels, Nashville's contemporary country blockbuster bands The Farm and The Kari Lynch Band and classic rockers Paul Revere and the Raiders, and much, much more. tival.

Today, the Venetian Festival has grown to feature just over a week of athletic events, top notch live entertainment, lots of activities for the kids, a street parade, carnival rides, the AquaPalooza event that includes an on-water boating party, beach games, and music, the Venetian Beach Bash kick-off at Perry Beach and so much more. Of course, the lighted boat parade remains an anchor event of the Venetian Festival, taking place this year on July 27th at dusk on Round Lake. Fireworks displays will take place on Friday, July 26th over Lake Charlevoix, and again on Saturday, July 27th at dusk over Round Lake.

"Our fireworks are world class," affirms Dan Barron. "We have people who are involved

This year's South Arm Classic was a truly memorable event

By Jim Akans

Organizers of the 8th annual South Arm Classic event in East Jordan could not have asked for better weather than what greeted this year's festival last weekend. Attendance numbers reflected those perfect Northern Michigan mid summer days and evenings, as over 200 people filled Memorial Park on Friday evening to listen to the Full Circle Band perform for a solid two-hour show.

"We had a very successful turn out for both the car show and boat show events," relates East Jordan Area Chamber of Commerce Executive Director, Mary Faculak. "We even had a boat on display that was brought to the show all the way from Florida."

The expanded selections of local and regional beers at the highly popular Microbrew Tent were also very well received by attendees. Musical performances at the tent on Saturday included Crossbow; a Celtic band featuring 13 musicians from Grand Valley State University and Highway Robbery closed the evening with some excellent classic tunes.

"Our first ever kayak poker run had a great turnout," Faculak adds. "The East Jordan Area Chamber wants to say thank you to all the organizations, sponsors, individual volunteers, and all the city departments who helped to make this years show possible. The South Arm Classic is truly a community event."

Cool Cars at the South Arm Classic Car Show

East Jordan – If you spent time around East Jordan last weekend you probably noticed all the cool cars cruising town Friday night and on display Saturday. The South Arm Classics Car Show was held on Friday July 12 and July 13.

The car show was hosted by the East Jordan Lions Club. “We had event winners or Best of Show winners from 5 different car shows on display” said Dan Miller, the event director. Miller went on to say that the show team worked very hard to get some of these cars here on display for this years show, and wanted to make sure that as many different styles of vehicles were shown. There were 57 entries with some nice quality.

The feature vehicle for the show was the Corvette. This is the 60th anniversary of the iconic sports car. Miler said, “We also had rat rods for the first time.” Rat Rods are really different. The beauty is more in the form of function rather than just a fancy paint job and eye candy. It’s in the build itself, what a classic car owner can do with wrenches and a welder.

The East Jordan Lions Club expressed thanks all those who participated in as contestants, the people who attended (and there were thousands in the streets of East Jordan on Saturday) and a huge thank you to all of our sponsors for your generous contributions that made this event possible. Contributors included Wit-son Carbide, East Jordan True Value, Steve’s Towing, Charlevoix State Bank, Charlevoix Area Hospital, Parts Plus, Ron’s Roofing, and Tom’s Diesel all of East Jordan. Car Quest of Boyne City donated door prize gifts. Many other businesses gave gift certificates as well.

Next year the South Arm Classic Car Show will feature the Pontiac GTO on the 50th anniversary of what many consider the start of the muscle car era. Also Chrysler Corp launched a new platform for Dodge it was the Coronet and the Plymouth side was the Satellite.

Next year’s show will be again the second weekend in July.

OBITUARIES

Erma Johanna Eichler, 98

(JUNE 24, 1915 - JULY 12, 2013)

Erma Johanna Eichler, of Frankenmuth, and formerly of East Jordan, passed away on Friday, July 12, 2013, at Nottingham Assisted Care in Midland, Mich., at the age of 98 years.

Erma Johanna Gatzke was born on June 24, 1915, the third eldest child and second eldest daughter in a family of eight siblings, to Julius and Emilie Gatzke of Chicago, Ill. Erma attended primary school at Immanuel Lutheran School in South Chicago and excelled in mathematics and literary skills, eventually graduating salutatorian of her class before moving on to secondary school.

After secondary school, Erma found employment as an office administrator working for the renowned Chicago estate litigator, Balford Quintin Shields, located in the Commerce Clearing House building. Shortly thereafter, Erma met her eventual husband Fred Eichler while studying piano under their instructor, Clara Gose. Erma and Fred married on Sept. 2, 1939, and made their home in south Chicago, near their families. While in Chicago, Erma and Fred welcomed into the world their sons Thomas, Lawrence and Richard.

Erma, Fred and their new family vacationed with relatives in Northern Michigan and came to love the area. In the interest of getting out of the big city, they moved to Boyne City in 1953 and made their home on a farm located on Dietz Road. The farm was without electrical service or running water for the years that they resided there. Long-standing friendships were formed in their church family as Erma became the full-time organist at Christ Lutheran Church in Boyne City. Erma and Fred collaborated on many occasions as the organist/soloist at weddings that occurred at the church.

Erma participated actively in the church chapters of the Ladies Aid and LWML and saw to the education of all of their sons via the Walther League activity and confirmation classes.

In time, Fred found employment at the East Jordan Iron Works and the family moved to the farm at the intersection of Ranney and Nelson Road, where their youngest three sons, Paul, Robert and Gary, were born and raised. The family bolstered their income by actively operating a dairy farm, which required Fred and the boys who were old enough, to milk and tend to the cattle prior to going to work and school. Erma tended the farm while the men were away during the day, and pitched in with the farm chores when needed.

In 1967 as the youngest of her sons became of high school age, Erma decided to re-enter the outside work force and found employment at the T.W. Ellis of Boyne Ski Shop, as a sales associate. Erma was employed for 20 years at T.W. Ellis and earned a reputation as "The Lady Who Could Fix Anything That Needed Sewing," doing on the spot clothing repairs for skiers who visited the store.

The East Jordan farm was the oft time weekend getaway place for her sons and their families whether it being skiing at Boyne Mountain or in the summer hosting cross country camps for her coach-son Larry, during which she provided the cooking for the campers from his high school cross country team.

In 1987, Erma and Fred sold most of their East Jordan farm, and moved to 152 Reif St., in Frankenmuth, to live out their retirement and to be nearer their sons. They became members of St. Lorenz Lutheran Church while there and Erma actively participated in the Meals on Wheels program delivering meals to the elderly. More friendships were formed in Frankenmuth and other time was spent with the growing grandchildren who spent summertime weeks with Grandpa and Grandpa and attended basketball camps and swimming lessons.

In 1993, Fred preceded Erma in death and she lived out the rest of her years until the age of 96 at the Reif Street home enjoying the company of friends and visits from her family.

Surviving are: sister, Martha Gatzke Danke, of Upland, Calif.; son, Thomas (Gerda), of Elizabeth City, N.C.; son, Lawrence (Karen), of Hartland, Mich.; son, Richard (Alice), of Aiken, S.C.; son, Paul, of Lakeview, Mich.; son, Robert (Patricia), of Midland, Mich.; son, Gary (Denise), of Novi, Mich.; 13 grandchildren, and 12 great-grandchildren.

The funeral service will take place at noon on Wednesday, July 17, at the Cederberg Funeral Home of Frankenmuth, 590 N. Franklin St. The Rev. Joel C. Kaiser will officiate, with burial to follow at St. Lorenz Cemetery. Erma's family will receive visitors at the funeral home from 10 a.m. until the time of service on Wednesday.

Those planning an expression of sympathy may wish to consider memorials to a charity of their choice. Sign the guest book or share an online condolence with the family at www.cederbergfh.com.

Robert Benson, 77

Robert Benson of Walloon Lake died Friday, July 12, 2013, at McLaren Northern Michigan hospital. Arrangements are pending and will be announced.

Virginia M. Jarvis, 97

After a journey of 97 years, Virginia M. Jarvis has been called home to be with her Lord.

In April of 1916, she was born in Zanesville, Ohio, to Benjamin and Mayme (Spring) White. Later in the 1920s, she and her family moved to Detroit.

In 1934, she married Walter "Turk" Jarvis. They moved to Charlevoix in 1943 and have made Charlevoix their home ever since.

Virginia spent many years working as an aide at Charlevoix Area Hospital. She also worked at Charlevoix schools as a cook but finally returned to the job and people she loved at the hospital. After retiring, she continued to be active with her church, her friends and family, and found part-time work "just to keep busy."

Virginia loved to knit. She made sure her family and friends always had a ready supply of everything from booties to afghans. A knitting bag was always found by her side. "Wait until I finish my row," was a most common phrase from her.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Walter; her son-in-law, Thomas McInnis; and her niece, Karen Christie.

She is survived by her sister, Evangeline "Betty" Inman, of Charlevoix; daughter, Barbara McInnis, of Westminster, Calif.; son, Jeffrey (Janice) Jarvis, of Petoskey; niece, Beth (Mitch) Simmons, of Scottsdale, Ariz.; grandchildren, Michele (Sean) Butler, Heather (Chad) Ambler and Jeff McInnis, all of California, Janna (Justin) Baker of Bala Cynwyd, Pa., Jessica (Nick) Strong of Fayetteville, N.C., and Jacqueline Jarvis of Petoskey. Virginia left behind 10 great-grandchildren.

There is no doubt she'll be missed from this earth, but the fellowship will just be starting with "Ginny" back in her circle of friends. We're sure she's having coffee and laughs with Mike and Rachael, Rev. and Mrs. Majors, Joanie and Jock, Clem, Ike and Lucille, Tom and Hazel, Dorcus and so many others she shared this life with.

A memorial service will take place at 10 a.m. Wednesday, July 17, at Winchester Funeral Home in Charlevoix. After a brief graveside service, a celebration of her life and family together will be at Ferry Beach in Charlevoix.

Philip Boal, 56

(APRIL 11, 1957 - JULY 6, 2013)

Philip Boal, beloved brother of Winnie and Tom Boal, uncle of Sarah Boal, brother-in-law of Jila Boal, and cousin of many, died of a heart attack Saturday afternoon, July 6, 2013, while swimming in Lake Charlevoix, one of his favorite spots in the world.

Philip was born in Chicago, Ill., on April 11, 1957, and was 56 years old. He lived in Tucson, Ariz., and had a vacation home in Charlevoix. Philip is also survived by his two dogs, which he adored, Maggie and Homer. His extra special dog, Max, passed away a few years ago.

Philip studied communications at Columbia College in Chicago and distinguished himself as a video editor, working the last eight years as a senior editor at the Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA) at its headquarters in Tucson, Ariz., editing many of its videos, including many of those that were used each Labor Day for the annual telethon. Previously, he was one of the first employees of the Home and Garden TV channel in Knoxville, Tenn.

Philip played a wide variety of outdoor sports from baseball (he was a tragic Chicago Cubs fan) to windsurfing. One reason he loved living in Tucson was the ability to play outdoors all year round. He regularly hiked the mountains all around Tucson. Philip played all manner of land sports, but his favorite was tennis. He was an avid tennis player in Tucson, playing in several leagues and helping his teams win many victories. On the Thursday before he died, he won the annual family Fourth of July tennis tournament on the shore of Lake Charlevoix, sporting a huge grin - winning the family tournament was just as important to him as winning a league tournament.

He loved Charlevoix, and he was loved in Charlevoix. 2013 marked the 100th year of the purchase of this special property on Lake Charlevoix by his grandparents, Ayres and Lesley Boal, and the extended family had gathered to celebrate the occasion. One consolation was that Philip was able to reconnect with so many members of his extended family this last week. Philip's untimely death has greatly saddened his immediate family and many cousins and friends, who will miss him dearly. He was a special man, and we are all privileged to have had him in our lives.

Philip's ashes will be spread in the place he loved, Charlevoix, and also buried next to his parents, Tom and Pauline Boal, at Christ Church in Winnetka, Ill.

Memorial services to celebrate Philip's life took place on Tuesday, July 9, in Charlevoix, with dates to be determined in Winnetka, Ill., and Tucson, Ariz.

In lieu of flowers, donations to the Muscular Dystrophy Association would be appreciated.

Dr. Jim Farner, of Walloon Lake, passed peacefully from this world on March 6, 2013, in Kalamazoo.

He will be honored by his family, his fishing buddies and bridge buddies, and all his friends from Noon - 3 p.m. on Saturday, July 20, at his cottage, 1964 North Shore Drive, Walloon Lake. All his friends are welcome.

Much more than Nails

By Tina Sundelius

CHARLEVOIX—The Charlevoix Spa which has been tucked discreetly in the corner of the Oleson's plaza for the last two years has moved to a more prominent space in the chain.

Boyer City resident Brenda Lamb, the owner of the Charlevoix Spa has been in the pampering business for twenty-five years. "I was told you'd never make it in Charlevoix and it's been fantastic," she said. "If it wasn't for the public this great new space wouldn't be possible."

Lamb began her career in her hometown of Boyne City with a spa called the Body Shop on Maple Street where she was called to help others who were opening salons. Two years ago she opened the Charlevoix Spa and although business grew so quickly she out grew the 400 square foot space before her two year lease, she still had people entering the spa asking if she was new. "People who shop at Olesons every week would suddenly discover us," she said.

Lamb is a fully licensed cosmetologist but you can't get a haircut at the Spa. "This isn't the typical eight nail technicians under one roof with hairdryers going, odd smells and gossip," she said. When a client enters to take advantage of the natural nail manicures, pedicures, face and body waxing, facials, buffs and massages they are almost completely alone in the salon. "When they come in it's just them and we have a treatment room for complete privacy and relaxation," she said.

The spa's licensed Massage Therapist, Alyssa Themm, is now offering ten minute chair massages for five dollars. This is intended to allow people on their lunch hour to get some relief. "Most people go for a second ten minutes," said Themm. The pair often double team to give the ultimate pampering experience.

The treatment menu is always expanding from a sixty minute massage for $50 to a house party where you bring the Champaign and a few friends, and pampering can begin either at the spa or, in the winter months, they'll come to you.

Lamb has a desire to see more seniors and men come to the spa. For seniors she will do house calls. "Sometimes they are in a lot of pain and discomfort and no one thinks to bring them to the spa, they end up at the foot doctor," she said.

For the men she wants them to know that the Spa is not the standard hair salon and typical nail place. "Here it's one on one, there's no women sitting around watching and I don't use girly stuff," she said. Lamb knows that it is as important for women that their men are well groomed and relaxed as it is for men to have a well groomed and pampered girl. "It feels good to look good and smell good, it makes you feel sexy," she said.

The Spa is open five days a week, even on Mondays, and year round. Specials and updates on their Ultimate Girl's Night Out events can be found daily on their facebook page. For spa services contact 231 330 4469 and for massage services 231 675 3660.

Entries (geek sheets) are due back to the library by July 31 at 5 p.m. Participating businesses will have a geek poster displayed in their business, but the correct answer is not the one on the poster. Hunters will need to ask for the "secret geek" in order to correctly fill in who geeks what. The grand prize is an iPad Mini, and 10 other completed entries will receive a Geek the Library t-shirt. Businesses who would like to participate can contact the library by July 8 at 231-582-7861. NCMC offers courses locally

North Central Michigan College will offer college courses in Charlevoix County starting Sept. 3. The courses will be held in Charlevoix, Boyne City and East Jordan. North Central students living in Charlevoix County and taking any of the above classes may be eligible for tuition assistance through the North Central Michigan College Link to Learning Fund. The Link to Learning program pays the difference between Emmet County tuition rates (the lowest rate because Emmet County taxpayers partially fund the College) and the higher tuition paid by residents of all other Michigan counties. The difference in tuition for a typical three contact hour class is $170.25. The award is granted per contact hour. However, if students are receiving other forms of financial aid that cover tuition costs, they will not be eligible for the Charlevoix County Link to Learning award. The Link to Learning program, based on the availability of funds, is a designated fund of the Charlevoix County Community Foundation. The money for this program has been contributed by donors with an interest in helping students in Charlevoix County.

Micro-Grants available to help communities with their placemaking efforts

NORTHWEST MI - Grants available through the Northwest Michigan Council of Governments (NWMCOG) and in partnership with the Alliance for Economic Success, the Michigan Economic Development Corporation, Northern Lakes Economic Alliance, and the Traverse Bay Economic Development Corporation, will give local units of government an opportunity to support their communities' Placemaking goals. The Placemaking Micro-Grants of up to $5,000 and/or technical assistance, will be made available on a competitive basis to city, village, and township governments within Antrim, Benzie, Charlevoix, Emmet, Grand Traverse, Kalkaska, Leelanau, Manistee, Missaukee, and Wexford Counties. The grant application deadline is August 2, 2013.

"The Placemaking Micro-Grant Program is intended to assist local decision makers wishing to improve the places within their community so they invite greater interaction between people and foster healthier, more social, aesthetically pleasing, and economically viable communities," said Matt McCauley, NWMCOG director of regional planning and community development.

Placemaking is a community-based approach involving the discovery and implementation of practices that make our communities distinctive, economically viable, accessible, and visually pleasing.

Placemaking capitalizes on a local community's assets, inspiration and potential, creating good public spaces that promote people's health, happiness, and economic well-being. In support of assisting communities with their placemaking goals, the Placemaking Micro-Grants Program is intended to provide resources to communities looking to realize their placemaking efforts.

Placemaking Micro-Grant applicants are encouraged to review the NWMCOG Placemaking website, CreateMIPlace.org, for additional information on the principals of placemaking and how it supports efforts like The Grand Vision. This website is designed to empower local citizens and unique collaborative groups in communities across northwest lower Michigan to foster community pride through better public spaces. It also provides the Northern Michigan Community Placemaking Guidebook that offers critical approaches to creating and managing successful public spaces. The level of a community's local pride plays a significant role in the quality and maintenance of local places, an overall sense of place and identity, and ultimately economic prosperity.

Charlevoix Historical Society Speaker Series event presents "Dig into the Todd Family History"

The Charlevoix County History Preservation Society's July 2013 History Speaker Series program will be "Dig into the Todd Family History" at 7 p.m. on Monday, July 22, at the Raven Hill Discovery Center's Warren Loranger Great Room, located at 4737 Fuller Road, between East Jordan & Boyne City, just off C48 at Pearsall Road within Mile 15 of the Breezeway. Guest Speaker will be Professor Kerri Finlayson.

Enjoy learning about the Todd Family history including a visit to their pioneer home site located in Wilson Township on the grounds of Raven Hill Discovery Center. Professor of Archeology and Sociology at North Central Michigan College, Kerri Finlayson has been conducting research at this 1860's homestead for 13 years. Through plat maps and historical documents and studying physical remains (pottery, tools, clothing, toys), we will see how the Todd family changed through time as well as examine the archaeological evidence found during numerous digs with kids and teachers since 2000.

Artifacts found by middle school students throughout the years will be on display. Be ready to get down and dirty, because to find out about an old home site, you have to "dig it"! The Annual CCHPS Membership Meeting will follow this program. Light refreshments will be served and the program is free and open to the public.

For more information, call 231-582-5326.

Strawberry Patch ReSale-Consignment helps Mio area residents buy and sell quality goods

By Jim Akans

Established in their present location in Downtown Mio approximately eight years ago, Strawberry Patch ReSale-Consignment store offers area residents an excellent opportunity to sell their quality used items, and purchase a wide variety of clothing and household goods at very reasonable prices. The shop, which was founded by Sharon Gardulski, Pastor of the Freedom Worship Center, is operated by a dedicated group of thirteen volunteer from the Mio area.

"We have many different types of items in the store," states Gardulski. "That includes furniture, appliances and other household items, and we have a lot of new and used clothing, including coats in men's, women's and children's sizes, as well as several items that would make excellent Christmas gifts."

The inventory at Strawberry Patch ReSale-Consignment is brought in by local individuals who receive 40-percent of the amount those items sell for. Strawberry Patch takes care of the tagging and marketing of those items, and after a 60 day period, unsold clothing is sent to an Amish warehouse facility that distributes that clothing to people in need all over the world. "Our location is a great resource for people in the Mio area," observes Gardulski. "Major shopping areas, such as Gaylord, Alpena and West Branch, are all an hour or more drive away. So this is a convenient, local spot where people can make some extra money selling items, and shop for a wide assortment of clothing and household items."

The Strawberry Patch ReSale-Consignment Shop is located in Downtown Mio next to the Rite Aid store. The facility is open Monday through Saturday from 10 am until 6 pm. For additional information, please call (989) 826-1503.

New Medicare Rules for Purchase of Diabetic Supplies

By: Jim Verville, Region 10 Coordinator
Michigan Medicare/Medicaid Assistance Program
Area Agency on Aging, Traverse City, MI

Effective July 1, 2013, Medicare will implement a new set of rules regarding the purchase of diabetic supplies. The supplies affected by this change include glucose meters, test strips, lancets, and glu-cose meter calibration fluid.

If beneficiaries intend to use a mail order vendor, they will need to get their diabetic supplies from a Medicare contracted provider. This is a new requirement in order for Medicare to participate in the payment for these items. People should not assume that their current or future mail order provider has a contract with Medicare. The contracts are for specific models of diabetic items. For example, if a beneficiary wants a particular glucose meter or certain brand of test strip, they will need to make that mail order purchase from a supplier who is authorized by Medicare to sell that specific item.

Medicare beneficiaries who prefer to purchase their diabetic supplies from a local pharmacy or busi-ness need to ask that supplier two important questions as follows:

- ☐ Will the vendor bill Medicare for the items?
- ☐ Does the supplier accept Medicare assignment?

If they do not accept assignment, then the beneficiary could be responsible for an additional cost be-sides the normal 20% co-pay. Worse yet, if the supplier does not bill Medicare, then the beneficiary could be responsible to pay for the entire cost of the purchase.

Beneficiaries who decide to switch to another supplier will need to make sure that the new supplier has a valid prescription from their physician. This should be set up prior to July 1, so the transition is seamless and there is no delay in obtaining their diabetic supplies.

One of the main reasons for these changes is due to the large amount of Medicare fraud that is tak-ing place throughout the United States. Diabetic supplies, particularly test strips, are very expensive. These and other higher end durable medical equipment items are under close scrutiny as a means to protect the Medicare Trust Fund. Also, by using vendors that have contracts with Medicare, it will save the tax-payers' money because it is generally cheaper to use those businesses.

If beneficiaries have a difficult time understanding these new rules, they can call the Medi-care/Medicaid Assistance Program (MMAP) and receive free and unbiased assistance concerning this or any other topic related to Medicare and Medicaid. A MMAP counselor can be reached by call-ing 800-803-7174.

This document was pro-duced by the Regional MMAP office at the Area Agency on Aging of Northwest Michigan.

Chair Yoga can help both the younger and older generations improve their general physical fitness and overall health. People are fit when they can do physical activity with energy and a sense of well being.

This program can improve your ability to twist, bend and move around. While it does not directly prepare you for intense physical activity, it enhances your ability to keep up with your daily life and improves your basic fitness level.

A series of poses are used to increase flexibility and strength.

After stretching, strengthening and breathing through chair poses, your body and mind can experience a release of stress and tension. A great way to start (or end) your day!

Chair Yoga classes are offered at the Charlevoix Senior Center on Tuesday mornings at 10:30am. Call (231) 547-5361 for more information.

History of Charlevoix Series begins at library

The Charlevoix Public Library is pleased to announce a series of programs highlighting the history of Charlevoix. The series will be hosted at 6:30 PM on three Tuesdays. Kicking off the series on July 16, David Miles, Co-Director of the Charlevoix Harsha House Museum, will feature the History of Charlevoix's Business and Industry. Mr. Miles will present a chronological history of the industries and businesses that made their home in Charlevoix from 1869-present. Channels were cut to connect Lake Charlevoix to Lake Michigan in 1869 and it blossomed into one of the most important commercial venues in northern Michigan due to its proximity to the Lake Michigan shipping lanes as well as being blessed with one of the most protected natural harbors on the Great Lakes.

artist's studio, and for a twenty-year period was rock'n roll venue.

Purchased by Linda Mueller in 2001, the Castle property has undergone a complete restoration, and is now listed on both the National as well as State of Michigan Historic Registries. Castle Farms was recently named by AARP to their prestigious list of one of the "Top-Ten Must See" Castles in North America. The evening's presentation will include a brief pictorial overview featuring rare black and white archival photos and contemporary color images accompanying a historical narration by Kathleen Paterka, followed by a lively question and answer period with Linda Mueller. Co-authors of the Castle's recently published biography, Linda and Kathleen will be autographing copies of For the Love of a Castle following the presentation.

Charlevoix was the conduit through which flowed most of the business of this region when fishing, lumbering, and iron ore smelting ruled the commercial sector. At the end of the 19th century, Charlevoix handled more maritime tonnage than any other port on the east Lake Michigan shore outside Chicago. Then, on July 30, An Evening with Castle Farms will be presented by Linda Mueller, the owner of Castle Farms, and Kathleen Paterka, Castle Farms staff writer. Attendees will journey back in time as the origins of Northern Michigan's very own fairy-tale castle will be traced. Built in 1918 by Albert Loeb, acting president of Sears and Roebuck Company, Loeb Farms was originally designed based on the architecture of the castles in France, and was constructed as a working model dairy farm to showcase farm equipment available in the Sears catalog. In later years, the property was used as an

To round off our History Series, Michigan's Vanishing Railroad Stations: Architecture, History and Sense of Place, will be presented by Michael H. Hodges on Monday, August 5. In his new book, Michigan's Historic Railroad Stations, Detroit News art critic Michael H. Hodges photographs and profiles 31 depots across the state, from Detroit to Three Oaks to Charlevoix and Petoskey. In this lecture and slideshow, Hodges traces the evolution of the train station and the range of styles architects employed to both tame and exalt rail transportation. Touching on news accounts, literature and film, Hodges also considers the central role the Charlevoix Depot once played as the nation's principal crossroads — a much-used, much-loved public space that has no real analog in American life today. Round Lake Books will be selling copies of the book that Michael will autograph.

the festival is an amazing "Parade of Power," taking place at 2 pm as a procession of vintage tractors and farm-related equipment proceeds around the show grounds. There are also several demonstrations taking place daily, including a working sawmill, veneer mill, shingle mill, an operating basket factory, plus a

There is also an Arts & Craft show each day of the event, a museum on-site filled with vintage farm equipment, live musical entertainment, and there is even camping available, with both rustic sites and sites with electrical hook-ups.

The entrance fee for the Northern Michigan Antique-Flywheelers 26th Annual Tractor, Engine & Crafts show is just $7 per person, and children under 12 are admitted free with adult. That's one heck of an old-time value that makes it easy to bring the whole family out for a weekend of great fun.

They are both very different, with the Friday night display over Lake Charlevoix being high altitude displays, and the display over Round Lake on Saturday being low level displays. The hills surrounding Round Lake make the location an excellent pyrotechnic amphitheater...it is an amazing experience."

Among the many live Venetian Rhythms musical performances at this year's Venetian Festival will be nationally renowned acts such as Mitch Ryder and the Detroit Wheels, Nashville's contemporary country blockbuster bands The Farm and The Kari Lynch Band and classic rockers Paul Revere and the Raiders. Nearly every musical genre will be represented at the festival, such as the Glenn Miller era Up North Big Band, the rhythm & blues of Detroit's Motor City Women & Detroit Express, Charlevoix-based music from Tom Zipp Band, Loud Mouth Soup, Audio Circus, Chris Martin an Charlevoix City Band, as well as folk artists, fife and drum corps and more.

Venetian Games will include disc golf, volleyball, a horseshoe tournament, Beach Bash basketball, a Venetian Jam with bikes, blades and boards, sailboat regattas, croquet, soccer, the Drenth Memorial footrace and Ryan Shay Mile. There are plenty of delicious food vendors and nearby restaurants to visit nearby, so it nice to know there are lots of ways to work off calories at the Venetian Festival

Dan Barron observes, "The Venetian Festival is truly the granddaddy of festivals here in Northern Michigan. We have well over 400 volunteers who help us with the festival each year and about 100,000 people will attend over the week. We pride ourselves as being the big time festival with small town appeal. The festival is family oriented, offers free admission, and we welcome all of our friends and neighbors in Northern Michigan and beyond to come out and enjoy the Venetian Festival this year."

Raven Hill Discovery Center to host annual summer festival

The excitement is building as Raven Hill Discovery Center prepares for its annual fundraiser. This year's summer festival theme is "Grow with Us" and supporters of the nonprofit family-oriented science, art and history education center and museum will once again gather to help the facility continue its year-round goals. Last year's event raised more than $14,500 among corporate sponsors, silent auction proceeds and other monetary donations.

This year's benefit festival will begin at 6 p.m. Saturday, July 20, at Raven Hill Discovery Center's grounds, 4737 Fuller Road, in rural East Jordan. Tickets are $20 in advance or $25 the day of the event. Visit www.ravenhilldiscoverycenter.org for more information. Call (231) 536-3369 to make a reservation, or send an email to info@ravenhilldiscoverycenter.org.

On this one night a year, Raven Hill is reserved for adults only.

Guests can take a trolley ride to the Center's Ancient World display, learn through hands-on exhibits in the museum, meet the animals, enjoy the wheelchair-accessible Tree House, check out the off-the-grid Energy House and explore many other exhibits at the Center. Area musicians entertain, local restaurants provide hors d'oeuvres and guests can enjoy wine, tea or lemonade as they browse the silent auctions. A short program will end with the annual balloon pop where guests can purchase $10 balloons, each holding a prize valued from $10 to $350.

Proceeds from Raven Hill's annual summer festival support ongoing programs to connect science, art and history, as well as provide much-needed matching dollars for grant awards. Donations to Raven Hill are federally tax-deductible, as a nonprofit and tax-exempt 501(c)(3), whether it be monetary or the value of donated food, silent auction or other items.

Moors and McCumber at Aten Place Saturday

Saturday, July 20th at 7:30 pm, the acoustic duo Moors and McCumber will bring their rootsy folk and melodic pop music to the stage of Aten Place.

James Moors and Kort McCumber are independently successful solo artists who discovered that together they have a unique blend of harmonies and instrumentation. The duo met at the Rocky Mountain Folk Festival in 2005 and have been performing and writing together ever since. Embracing a bigger sound than most duos, they switch up instruments on almost every song (playing guitar, mandolin, piano, bouzouki, fiddle, harmonica, cello, 12-string guitar and Dobro), creating catchy melodies that are big, bright and electrifying to watch live.

Based in Superior, Wisconsin, James Moors has been heralded for his warm-hearted spirit that makes you want to hear more. An official recipient of the prestigious McKnight Foundation Emerging Artist Grant, his songwriting has been recognized three years in a row by the Big Top Chautauqua competition.

Colorado artist Kort McCumber plays a variety of instruments (guitar, banjo, mandolin, harmonica, piano) in his own brand of Americana that is one part rock and blues and two parts country bluegrass. His songwriting abilities have made him a Colorado favorite and garnered him national and international recognition. He won last year's Flat Rock Festival Songwriting Competition in North Carolina and was a finalist in this year's International Songwriting Competition.

Aten Place is located 1/2 mile south of Cherry Hill Road on Old Mackinaw Trail in Boyne Falls. The venue is a ninety plus year old oak frame barn with seating for 180, overlooking the Boyne River valley, in the shadow of Boyne Mountain. Tickets are $16 and can be purchased in advance by using the online order form or calling 549-2076. Tickets can also be purchased the evening of the show starting at 6:00 pm, with performances beginning at 7:30 p.m. Advanced tickets and schedule details are available by visiting www.atenplace.com. Aten Place is a non-profit endeavor, and no food or beverage is sold on the premises. Many patrons bring snacks and desserts to share at intermission. There is also a covered picnic pavilion for those who wish to come early and enjoy the grounds and peaceful setting.

Community Foundations support photo contest

BELLAIRE — The Charlevoix County Community Foundation and the Petoskey-Harbor Springs Area Community Foundation are supporting the photo contest Farm to Frame: Good Food, Good Neighbors. The exhibition, presented by Crooked Tree Arts Center and the Institute for Sustainable Living Art and Natural Design (ISLAND), encourages greater awareness of the benefits of local farming and locally-grown food here in northern Michigan.

This year's Farm to Frame exhibit will showcase the beauty of small farms, farmers and local foods through three different categories of entry: (1) local food production

("from the farm"), local food sales ("from the markets"), and local food preparation and presentation ("from the table"). All photographs must have been taken in Emmet or Charlevoix counties and must not have been previously exhibited at Crooked Tree Arts Center. Jury selected photographs will hang in an exhibition at Crooked Tree Arts Center's Atrium Gallery and will travel to several other venues around Charlevoix and Emmett counties. Winners will be announced and prizes awarded at the opening reception, October 22, 2013, during Local Food and Farm week.

Historic Dilworth Hotel sold to Boyne City investor

The historic Dilworth Hotel in the heart of downtown Boyne City has a new owner.

Tall Pines Investment, a Boyne City company, purchased the 101-year-old property on Saturday, July 13. Terms of the sale were not made public. The 27-room Dilworth Hotel has been closed for nearly five years and struggled for years prior to that. Signs of its physical deterioration were evident with parts of the cornice falling off, the front porch in need of repair and the grounds unkempt. Looking at the deterioration of the building led Bob Grove, a Boyne City resident and president of Tall Pines Investment, to inquire about the historic hotel.

"I would drive by and I would see it getting worse and worse," Grove said. "Everyone could see that if something wasn't done to preserve it, this beautiful historic building that has meant so much to Boyne City would be lost to the community forever. I didn't want that to happen. I love historic buildings. I know how important they are to a community. The Dilworth was, and will be again, a historic asset for the community to enjoy."

Tall Pines Investment's immediate goal is to secure the property so no further deterioration occurs. That will include roof, window and porch repairs. There will also be improvements to the landscaping. While that work is in progress the company will be working over the next several months to explore how best to return life to the property in a long-term sustainable manner.

Tall Pines Investment worked closely with the Boyne City Main Street Program to learn more about the Dilworth opportunity and facilitate due diligence. Kirk Jabara of Fulcrum Partners, a Boyne City business advisory firm, provided significant technical guidance over many months to help make this transaction the reality it now is.

"The goal of this project is to return the Dilworth to its historic use as a hotel and restaurant," said Hugh Conklin, manager of the Boyne City Main Street Program, "but much work has to be done before a final decision is made. The immediate goal at this time is to secure the building so there is no further deterioration and begin to make visible, if small, initial improvements to this historic structure. While that is underway, Mr. Grove will work to build the best team with the right skills to help make this property successful. He is committed to completing the renovation in the best possible way."

Boyne City City Manager Michael Cain expressed his pleasure with this new beginning. "This is a huge step forward for not only the Dilworth but for all of Boyne City. The potential the Dilworth has in again becoming an important economic engine for our community can not be understated. I have been very impressed in what I have seen in Mr. Grove so far. It appears that he has the resources, skills and heart to do what is needed for the long term success of the Dilworth. I look forward to working with him in the months ahead as plans are developed to bring the Dilworth back to life."

The Dilworth opened in 1912 and has been listed on the National Register of Historic Places since the mid 1980s. In recent years renovating the property has been identified as one of the top community goals. A feasibility study funded through a Michigan Economic Development Corporation planning grant and the Main Street Program, was completed on the property in 2011 and provided valuable information for this transaction. No grant money or public investment is being used for the purchase of the Dilworth although the Main Street Program will help to secure all local and state incentives available to the renovating the Dilworth, Conklin said.

"This is great news for our community," said Boyne City Mayor Ron Grunch. "Mr. Grove's commitment to Boyne City and his investment in our community are very much appreciated. We are excited to work with Mr. Grove and we will do everything we can as a city to help make the project successful."

The Dilworth Hotel is one of the few buildings still standing that is constructed from bricks manufactured by the Boyne City Brick Company, according to documentation from the city's National Historic Register application, which was approved last December. The building received renovations and updating over the decades, most often associated with changes in ownership, during the 1940s, the 1960s and the 1980s.

"The restoration of the Dilworth will be a tremendous economic boost for Boyne City. It will serve as a catalyst for our downtown, increase pedestrian traffic, vastly improve the entry into downtown, and will provide needed hotel accommodations," Conklin said.

The Wolverine Dilworth Hotel resulted from the vision of city fathers who desired first-class accommodations for visitors to the city, according to information published in "Settlers to Sidewalks in Boyne City," a history of Boyne City by Robert Morgridge. The Boyne City Hotel Co. was composed of 46 shareholders, and its directors read like a who's who of Boyne City's commercial elite: W.H. White was president and majority shareholder, and other directors included his business associates, William Martin and Ervan A. Ruegsegger. The grand hotel was constructed with locally-produced bricks from Boyne City Clay Products Co., and $40,000 had been expended by the time of the grand opening, attended by 240 patrons, on February 1, 1912. It is the only surviving large hotel from Boyne City's lumber era.

In 1935 it was renamed the Dilworth Hotel after it was purchased by Wesley Dilworth. During the 1930s and 1940s it was the site of the Smeltania Ball and fish dinner that culminated the three-month long fishing event held annually during the heyday of lake and river smelt runs. Dilworth sold the hotel by the mid-1940s, but it retained its reputation for serving the area's best food and remained a favorite dining spot. The Wolverine-Dilworth was the place to stay when visiting the area through the mid-twentieth century, and among other guests, Ernest Hemingway is reputed to have stayed here.

Mr. Grove is asking that all inquires for comment or additional information at this time regarding the Dilworth be directed to Hugh Conklin, Program Manager of the Boyne City Main Street office, at 231.582.9009 or email Mainstreet@boynecity.com. Additional information of this matter will be forthcoming through this office.

Chicago Club support continues for Camp McSauba fun

Camp McSauba is "rocking" again this summer, with a healthy dose of supervised fun and entertainment, combined with traditional summer camp activities. Many campers in attendance are benefiting from the support of the members of the Chicago Club, who have provided scholarships again this season to help youngsters attend northwest Michigan's coolest camp.

Utilizing a fund they established at the Charlevoix County Community Foundation, the members of the Chicago Club have had a long history of helping enrich and improve the lives of Charlevoix's young people. Through the fund, the Chicago Club members have provided more than $111,000 in supplemental resources to benefit children. "Chicago Club members have quietly but consistently helped meet the needs of Charlevoix's youth for more thirteen (13) years. The programs have made a positive impact on scores of young people," said Maureen Radke, Program Officer at the Community Foundation. Issues addressed have included: unmet dental and medical needs; teen substance abuse initiatives, and mental health needs. Examples of programs supported have included: the Charlevoix Public Schools, school nurse program; children's health, fitness, and nutrition programs, and support for the Charlevoix Area Community Pool.

The Camp McSauba scholarships are an extension of the Chicago Club's desire to continue to support enrichment activities for Charlevoix youth, and this year's grant will allow more than twenty campers to enjoy a week at camp that their families may otherwise have been unable to afford. "We feel very lucky to be able to make such a positive impact on our campers. The Chicago Club has helped many campers in need over the years afford to go to Camp McSauba," echoed City of Charlevoix

Recreation Director Amanda Wilkin.

Camp McSauba offers weekly sessions, planned around a specific theme including: Aloha Week, Treasure Hunters Week, Splish-Splash Week, and Fun & Fitness Week. Each camp session runs five days, with a sleepover on Thursday night, and an awards ceremony for campers, parents, grandparents and friends each Friday morning. Older campers also have the option of swimming at the Charlevoix Area Community Pool on Thursday night, before the sleepover. "Camp McSauba provides the camp experience of a lifetime for children ages five to thirteen. Campers do everything from arts and crafts, treasure hunts, and chemistry experiments to evening campfires, sporting events and trips to the beach. With each week having a new theme, campers are always entertained with something unique," said Wilkin.

The Chicago Club was established in 1880, and today, many founding families continue to maintain cottages in the association. Although most members are summer residents of Charlevoix, the club has a long history of generously supporting local causes. "So many youngsters in Charlevoix are getting a great experience thanks to the support of the Chicago Club," says Chip Hansen, President of the Community Foundation, adding, "good things happen when people work together, and the Chicago Club's members are working together to make good things happen in Charlevoix."

The Chicago Club's Fund is among the 238 funds held by the Charlevoix County Community Foundation, each one designated to support a specific cause or address general needs in education, the environment, arts and culture, health, civic projects, youth, and recreation.

For more information about grant application deadlines or other programs of the Charlevoix County Community Foundation, please call the foundation office at 231/536-2440, visit the foundation's website at www.c3f.org or e-mail Chip Hansen, President at chansen@c3f.org
