OBITUARIES

Jacob Ryan Clute, 21
(SEPT. 7, 1991 - AUG. 4, 2013)

A loving dad, a wonderful son and brother and an amazing friend with a heart as big as the moon; these words describe a young man who was taken far too soon!

Jacob Clute passed from this life as the result of an automobile accident on Sunday, Aug. 4, 2013.

Jacob was born on Sept. 7, 1991, in Charlevoix, the son of Peggy Ellenberger and Jody Clute. He grew up and attended school in Petoskey.

Like many young men Jacob's interests were wide and varied but his passions were specific ... snowboarding and mud'n, the order in which they came depended on the season. He was vibrant, genuine and full of life, meeting each and every day like a new adventure.

Jacob is survived by his son, Sawyer, and his parents, Peggy Ellenberger and Jody Clute, and brother, Joshua. His surviving grandparents include Clara Ellenberger and Art Clute as well as many aunts, uncles, cousins and many, many friends.

Jacob's life will be remembered and celebrated at 11 a.m. on Thursday, Aug. 8 at Nub's Nob (shoes are optional). Visitation will take place from 5-8 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 7, at Nub's Nob.

Friends wishing to honor his memory are asked to consider donations to The Jacob Clute Memorial at St. Francis Credit Union. Funds raised will go to establish a memorial scholarship fund for Jacob's son Sawyer's college education.

Recycling, More User Friendly

By Tina Sundelius

CHARLEVOIX—As of June 1, Charlevoix County's recycling centers has implemented a new recycling program called single stream recycling. The system eliminates the need for residents to separate their trash into separate bins and allows even more items to be recycled, like the environmentally unfriendly, Styrofoam.

The goal is to make it more convenient to recycle. "We've noticed in the last month that recycling has increased, people are loving it," said Frank Shaler, Maintenance Supervisor for Charlevoix County and Department Head for Recycling. As a result of the system, a nationwide study shows a 63% increase in recycling. Paper, plastic, tin, glass and styrofoam can all be placed in the same bins. Cardboard is kept separate because it holds air and the compactor allows for more efficiency.

On a Friday midmorning the year old recycling station's parking lot was full. Ellis Boal of Charlevoix brought his puppy along as he emptied his trunk into one of the green bins. "I appreciate that they're doing recycling," he said. Boal has been a recycler and composter since 1985 and had questions regarding the new system as did some of the other users. "How do they separate it?" asked Phyllis Elzinga, who never recycled until she moved to Charlevoix eleven years ago. The answer is that when 100 yards of recyclable material is collected it is hauled to a twelve million dollar processing center in Traverse City where it is separated, bailed and sent off to the different recyclable mills. In response to questions about whether the new system costs the county more for the added step of separation Shaler replied that it does not.

Petoskey resident Tory Werth also wonders how they do it, "I love the one stream method, it seems to be more efficient and easier to organize your stuff because you don't have to," he said. "Maybe more people will jump on board with recycling since it's so much easier. Florida residents John and Dawn Mahoney are accustomed to separating their recyclables into color coded bins before setting it on the curb for pick up. "It's nice that there's finally recycling here," they said.

In 2000 Charlevoix County's recycling center consisted of three bins in the Sheriff Department parking lot, one for cardboard which filled up quickly and wasn't cost effective, one for glass, plastic and tin and one for office paper. Today there are centers in Boyne City, East Jordan, Boyne Valley Township, Melrose Township and on Beaver Island as well as the Charlevoix station located just south of the Sheriff department on Grant Street.

A cement pad has recently been poured under the single stream bins at the Boyne Valley Township station. "We're trying to make it more user friendly by making improvements to all the stations," said Shaler. Trees have been planted around the Charlevoix station to deaden noise and lights for the neighboring residents and hours have been set from 8 A.M. to 8 P.M. and new employees for Boyne City and Charlevoix have been hired to help residents with the new system.

Charlevoix County residents voted in a .15 mileage to cover recycling costs. That amounts to $10-$15 annually per household. The millage was originally voted in, in 2000 and then renewed in 2004, 2008, and again in 2012. "Everything that people recycle is that much more that won't go into a landfill," said Shaler.

A second household hazardous waste pick up is scheduled for September 6-7 and a scrap tire pick up for August 17 for further information call 231-582-6193.

Beware of Corporate Records Service Solicitations!

This week you may have received your annual Michigan Corporation Information update, a regular annual filing required of all Michigan corporations. You may also have received a green envelope with a very similar looking document from "Corporate Records Service" in Lansing, MI, asking for the form to be returned with a $125.00 fee.

According to information provided by many area businesses and non-profits, the company sends unsolicited mailings to businesses outlining State laws that require businesses to file an "Annual Minutes Records Form." For a fee of $125, the company states they will complete the required form for the businesses. Even though the correspondence does state that Corporate Records Service is not a government agency, many recipients state they believed the material was from a state office.

Corporate Records Service is identified as a scam on the State of Michigan website:

http://www.michigan.gov/som/0,4669,7-192-53480_53484-295672-,00.html.

BBB advises businesses and non-profit corporations to ignore mailings from Corporate Records Service, and to report solicitations from this company to the state Attorney General's office.

News Get Messy

By Jamie Woodall

One time I contemplated a remodeling project. I'm certainly not a professional, but I've got ideas. You know, the kind of ideas that work in your mind one way and turn out a different way. I was thinking about redoing a room in our first home. So after committing, I borrowed a sledgehammer, called a couple friends, put on a mask and had some demolition fun. That was the best part of the project.

However then came the cleanup, the insulating, hanging the drywall, and my less than favorite job, spackling. How do you make it smooth? And finally came the painting. This job took more time, and more money than I anticipated. And it was certainly messy. Have you ever experienced anything like this?

This is what occurs some times when we get involved in helping others. It can be messy. It usually requires more sacrifice then we first anticipate. Jesus told a parable about the messiness of helping others. In the Parable of the Good Samaritan from Luke's gospel chapter ten Jesus shares, "A man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among robbers, and they stripped him and beat him, and went away leaving him half dead. And by chance a priest was going down on that road, and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side. Likewise a Levite also, when he came to the place and saw him, passed by on the other side. But a Samaritan, who was on a journey, came upon him; and when he saw him, he felt compassion, and came to him and bandaged up his wounds, pouring oil and wine on them; and he put him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn and took care of him. On the next day he took out two denarii and gave them to the innkeeper and said, "Take care of him; and whatever more you spend, when I return I will repay you."

The first two "religious" people passed up the person in serious need. But this Samaritan man got messy. He could have walked on by, but he didn't. He saw a real need and got involved. This parable from Jesus reveals three elements we need to understand in order to really get messy and help others.

- Compassion: The meaning of passion is "to suffer." The meaning of com is "with". So compassion means to "suffer with" someone. This Samaritan man felt pity, but went beyond feelings. He was willing to step in and suffer with this beaten man. He doesn't pass by on the other side. He moved toward the injured man. This is so significant because you must move toward people in order to love, in order to build relationships. It doesn't just happen. It isn't convenient. - Care - He stopped and took care of his wounds (oil and wine were the traveling medicine kit of the day). He put him on his own donkey and the Samaritan walked. He took the wounded man to a nearby hotel. He took the time to take care of him. He pushed other priorities aside. I think we sometimes make a donation to a worthy cause to pacify our conscience when perhaps we should have gotten involved.

- Cost - He gave money to take care of him and put no limit on how much he would spend to see that the wounded man was taken care of. He gave 2 denarii. A denarii was roughly an average days wages. Basically he left 200-300 dollars for a stranger to care for this man.

Talk about vulnerability!!! This is also significant because vulnerability is also essential for loving others. When you move toward someone else, you might be hurt. It's possible you could be taken advantage of. But you must be willing to sacrifice and be vulnerable, and take the chance of being hurt.

When I was younger I had family take me in for a summer. They saw things in my life I needed and thought they could help. It was messy. I was coming out of a lot of raw emotion and anger because of difficult things that affected me growing up. However they understood the messiness and got involved. That changed my life forever. That's what Jesus did. That's what he invites us to do if we really desire to follow him, and if we really want to make a difference.

I have to admit this is very difficult for me. Sometimes I fail to get involved. Other times I do and it becomes challenging. However the reward of seeing a person encouraged for life is worth it. Who around us in need?

Let's get messy!

Tube Accident on Thumb Lake

On July 30, 2013 at approximately 5:30 p.m. the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office investigated a watercraft accident on Thumb Lake near Camp Louise in Hudson Township.

Debbie Barnes, age 39 from Lansing, was being towed on a tube with multiple people on board when they struck a wave, causing bodies to collide together when thrown from the tube. Barnes was taken to Otsego Memorial Hospital for treatment of minor neck injuries and released. The accident remains under investigation.

Bicyclist hit by car

On July 30, 2013 at approximately 16:03 hrs., the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office, Charlevoix EMS, and Charlevoix Ambulance responded to a bicyclist hit by a car on US 31 East of Villa Road in Hayes Township.

Levi Charles Kilmer, age 15 of Charlevoix, was riding his bike with his 18 year old brother. Levi was pedaling Westbound on the Southside shoulder on US 31. He glanced over his shoulder to count the approaching Westbound cars. When he thought the cars had all passed, he merged across the roadway to the Northside, crossing into the Westbound lane.

Robert Michael Hartung, age 64 of Alanson was Westbound on US 31 in a 2001 Dodge Grand Caravan. Hartung reacted well with hard braking as he steered to the right, trying to avoid the bicyclist coming across his lane. Levi impacted the vehicle as they met on the Westbound edge, fog, line. Levi was transported by Charlevoix Ambulance to McLaren Northern Michigan hospital for minor scrapes and bruises.

One injured when boat runs aground

On Friday, August 2nd, 2013 at approximately 10:50 p.m., the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office investigated a watercraft accident with injuries on Lake Charlevoix near Flagg Road in South Arm Township.

Edward John Demmer, age 54 of West Palm Beach, Florida, was navigating his 41 foot vessel from the East Jordan area back to his residence in Ironton when he ran aground near the crossing of M-66 and Flagg Road.

Demmer suffered four broken ribs and a partially collapsed lung. He was treated at the Charlevoix Area Hospital.

The Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office was assisted at the scene by East Jordan EMS.

The accident remains under investigation.

Two men injured in four-wheeler accident

On Saturday, August 3rd, 2013 at approximately 7:45 p.m., the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office was called to the area of County Line Road and Springvale Road in Chandler Township for a subject that had been thrown from a four-wheeler.

Eric Watland, age 47 from Dearborn Heights, Michigan, and Joseph Allen, age 49 of Grosse Pointe Farms, were riding double on Watland's 2013 Polaris 500 ATV. Watland stated a deer jumped out in front of them and he swerved to miss the deer. Both Watland and Allen were thrown from the four-wheeler.

Watland became disoriented after the crash and it took them nearly an hour to find help. Allied EMS transported Watland to McLaren Northern Michigan Hospital where he was treated for a shoulder injury and a laceration to his head. Allen also sustained a laceration to his head, but sought treatment on his own at McLaren Northern Michigan Hospital. Neither Watland nor Allen were wearing helmets at the time of the accident.

The incident is still being investigated.

One vehicle accident in South Arm Township

On Sunday, August 4th, 2013 at approximately 6:17 a.m., the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office took a one vehicle accident at the corner of Boyne City-East Jordan Road and Sloop Road in South Arm Township.

A White 1995 Ford Mustang, that was later determined to be driven by 21 year old Joseph Cates from Johannesburg, Michigan, was found in the ditch at the corner of Boyne City-East Jordan Road and Sloop Road. It appears Cates crossed the centerline and ran off the road and down into the ditch. Cates' Mustang then became airborne as it crossed over Sloop Road, taking out a stop sign.

The Mustang then crashed into a wooded area, hitting several trees. Cates was located walking a short distance from the crash and was transported by East Jordan EMS to McLaren Northern Michigan Hospital, where he was treated for minor injuries.

The incident is still under investigation.

Petoskey man killed in rollover accident on Springbrook Road

On Sunday, August 4th, 2013 at approximately 5:51 p.m., the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office began an investigation into a fatal, single vehicle crash on Springbrook Road near the Challenge Mountain Adaptive Recreation Facility in Melrose Township.

A 2008 Ford Super Duty Pick-up truck, driven by Jacob Clute age 21 of Petoskey, was traveling North on Springbrook Road when he lost control and struck a tree. He was able to remove the Pick-up from the ditch after this crash and continued North on Springbrook Road. A short distance later, he lost control a second time sending the Pick-up into a skid and entered a ditch on the Eastside of the road. As the Pick-up entered the ditch, it overturned onto the driver's side, partially ejecting Clute and trapping him underneath the vehicle, where he died due to his injuries.

Caryssa Rouser, age 22 from Boyne City, was a passenger in the vehicle at the time of the crash. Rouser was trapped inside the cab on the pick-up truck. A passerby was able to break out the rear window with a log, freeing Rouser. She was treated on scene by EMS personnel and released.

Neither Clute nor Rouser was wearing seatbelts at the time of the crash. Speed and alcohol are believed to be contributing factors in this crash, which is still under investigation.

The Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office was assisted on scene by the Melrose Township Fire Department, the Boyne Valley Township EMS, and Boyne City EMS.

New Consignment store opens in Atwood

By Tina Sundelius

ATWOOD—Another Charlevoix County native has returned home to Northern Michigan with his family and the entrepreneuring skills he has honed elsewhere. Eric Voorheis and his wife Connie are opening Nine Yards Consignment on 31 in Atwood. After 24 years of business success in Florida, Voorheis has decided that returning to his roots is the best way to raise his future. The new store is more than a second hand shop, it contains the whole nine yards from a Mackinaw Island sleigh to cheap golf balls he hopes visitors to the Antrim Dells will find useful. The Voorheis' are also hoping to attract Michigan artists to the shop that already has many beautiful pieces of art on display.

Voorheis graduated from Charlevoix High School in 1988. His parents owned Voorheis Jewelry and Fine Arts by the Bridge. "We sold all the class rings and my mother pierced a lot of lady's ears in this town," he said. During the summers he cleaned boats at Northwest Marina and shortly after he graduated he hatched a plan to take his skills south. He decided that he could detail boats year round in a warmer climate and moved to Florida in 89. While there Voorheis expanded his detailing business and opened a car wash, auto body shop, restaurant and eventually a consignment shop. "What brought me back to Northern Michigan was that I wanted to raise my boys near family," he said. Voorheis intends to send his boys Jett, 8 and Cameron, 6 to Charlevoix Schools. "That's Where I went to school, they still have the same rope I climbed when I went to elementary, a lot of my school mates are now teachers," said Voorheis.

The couple moved back to Northern Michigan last summer

Nine Yards Consignment owners, Eric and Connie Voorheis, Jett, Cameron and Dude sit in the main display area of the new super store in Atwood. The shop offers everyday values and high end art and furniture, the whole nine yards.

and have been restoring and re-purposing the old Atwood General Store since then. "What I've tried to do with the building is bring back the history of it," said Voorheis who has had several local residents visit the store and share their memories of the building. One resident played one of the two pianos for sale in the main display area, one of which is a Mini Grand, while sharing memories of the old general store. "Atwood has been wonderful neighbors and supportive of me and my ideas and I really appreciate that," he said.

Voorheis believes that what sets Nine Yards apart from other consignment outlets is that it is owned and operated by a man while most other shops of the same nature are run by women. The shop is filled with furniture, fine china, fishing poles, snow blowers, antiques, pinball machines, art work and much more. What's missing is an important difference also. You won't find any clothing at the store except during clothing 'events.' Nine Yards will be hosting 'events' throughout the year where people will bring what they wish to sell on consignment. Halloween, Christmas and Clothing events are three already in the works. "People can come out and get rid of their stuff and when it's over what's left will be donated," he said. During the off season the shop will be hosting monthly auctions. "People can get out of the house, join us for coffee and donuts and raise a little money," he said. Out back, RV's, campers, snowmobiles, golf carts, and motorcycles are for sale. There is a children's section that is stocked in part with the Voorheis children's cast-off toys and the profits from this section is returned to the boys. Sporting equipment including paddle boats, kayaks, and skis can be found in one of the outbuildings. "I want this to be the kind of place people have the option to find whatever odds and ends they might need," he said.

Now that he's back home Eric plans to expand again, hoping eventually to open more stores. The shop will buy estate sales, offers free pickup, and even has a trailer available for transporting. "Yesterday a guy carried off a gun case for ten dollars and that painting is an $18,000 painting, we have the whole nine yards," said Voorheis pointing to an acrylic of a beautiful winged nude on the back wall.

East Jordan City Commission moves forward in grant writing for iPads

By Krystal Johnson

EAST JORDAN—The East Jordan City Commission gave City Administrator Chris Yonker the go ahead at Tuesday evening's meeting to move forward in the grant writing process for the purchase of Apple iPads for city commission and staff members.

While the funds for purchasing iPads are not in the 2013-2014 fiscal year budget, commissioners are hopeful that they may be awarded a grant through the Charlevoix County Community Foundation. The foundation will not be looking to award grants again until later this fall, giving Yonker an October 1 deadline to submit an application.

City Clerk Cheltzi Wilson estimated that the city currently accrues just over $7,000 annually in commissioner printing expenses, a cost that could be dramatically reduced with the purchase of iPad tablets.

The 11 iPads with wi-fi access, cases, and other equipment, including new router(s) to boost signal strength, bandwidth capacity, speed, and reliability for wireless access throughout city hall, would cost around $6,050, reported Yonker.

In addition to offering savings on printing for the city, use of tablets would also offer savings on training costs. With the iPads, commissioners and city staff would be able to use the meeting room and projector for online presentations, training, and webinar meetings.

"With travel budgets reduced, we are using more of this technology to save on training costs," said Yonker.

But for now the city will sit on the purchase of tablets, waiting until the fall deadline for grant applications.

"At this point," said Yonker, "we will put in for a grant request asking to cover 100% of the expenses. We will have conversations, and the foundation may counter offer."

In the meantime, stop by the band shell in Memorial Park this Friday from 7-9 pm, for this week's concert in the park, featuring the Jet Beats, a 60s rock and roll, Beatles-esque band, said Mayor Peck. And on August 16, East Jordan native, Micah Middaugh and his Breathe Owl Breathe band mates will perform their original and eclectic songs.

The next regular meeting of the East Jordan City Commission is scheduled for Tuesday, August 20 at 7pm.

To the Editor,

VEHICULARISTS? Vehicularist: noun, one who drives a motorized vehicle. Bicyclists can legally ride a bike on paved roads. In fact it is postulated that paved roadways were first installed for bicycles to extend the life of tires, that being before Guinness invented the improved tire model. Cyclists can even legally ride two abreast as we find on rural roads during relay drives for some cause - mostly on weekends. Then vehicle drivers are forced to travel at velocity less than the posted speed limit, wait for an opening to pass, and/or shout obscenities when doing so. It's like those cyclists own the road! Well, they used to.

But it's like the telephone in its heyday superseding in-person conversation, the automobile took over by virtue of size and power. Who's going to argue with an elephant? But the cyclists are making a comeback. Most bicycles can travel the speed limits on town and city streets but not on highways unless they're really geared (21 and up) for racing. But then most cyclists don't aim for the speed limit since they're often long distance riders and want to preserve their stamina for the long haul hills inclusive and they amble along at between 15-19 mph coasting much of the way. Car & Driver want to go the speed limit and more and all that's needed is depressing an accelerator and you're there. The attempted recovery of usurped territory continues and inevitably there are altercations, accidental of course but imminent.

Ten or fifteen years ago in Charlevoix County, Michigan an elderly man (81) driving a pickup truck struck a pregnant woman riding a bicycle. She died as did the unborn child. She was presumably riding on the edge of the pavement as most cyclists do. Vehicle drivers tend to hug the fog line to stay away from the centerline which oncoming traffic sometimes strays across. Thus the potential for accidents is rife and hence the recent implementation of bike paths parallel to roadways. A good idea that. The 81-year-old man got a month in jail, some sort of compromise by judge to appease the cycling crowd and the general consternation of the public.

A very recent case that was taken to court was that of a pickup driver again striking and killing a pedestrian. Pedestrians are not supposed to be afoot on highways or city streets; that's why there are sidewalks albeit none on highways. Then one walks on the graded shoulder where vehicles also may have recourse at need and want. Evidently this pedestrian had strayed too close to the roadway or the driver may have strayed slightly off the edge of the pavement. The Emmet County, Michigan prosecutor opted to charge the driver with felony manslaughter. The jury didn't buy it, the sun being in the driver's face and the driver in fact stopped immediately distraught and aided the injured until the police arrived. But prosecutors are hired to prosecute and some take it a little too seriously. It is possible that the Emmet prosecutor had never experienced sun glare in his face but obviously the jurors had.

The law is the culprit as well as lack of dedicated bike trails which prohibit motorized vehicles of any type. The law is too vague. "Reasonable speed according to weather conditions and sight" is something cops cite in their calculations as if degreed experts in such specifications. Not so. They're looking to find culprits, not accidents. Reporting of blameless accidents is a waste of time for cops, no money there to be had. They may check as far as possible for seatbelt or registration infractions since that garners $65 and up per flagrant scofflaw but that's as far as it goes. So they "investigate" for possible extenuating circumstances, drugs, alcohol and the like. And if there's a death or injury involved we may be sure the prosecutor has attuned the patrol boys he wants to know about it ASAP. What he doesn't want to hear about are sun glare conditions. That's why cops wear sunglasses as exemplified in those southern boys with the wraparound spaceship goggles.

At any rate, the imbroglia continues. Even with bike trails bicyclists must conjoin with vehicular traffic at some junctions so there're always going to be danger zones. At this point the law operates on an ex post facto or bill of attainder basis, making up guilt where there were none. That's constitutionally forbidden but that hardly matters anymore.

MBA Board says no toll increase for at least a year; commuter tolls go back to 2012 rates

At its regular board meeting last week, the Mackinac Bridge Authority (MBA) voted to keep 2014 toll rates at the 2012 level. The decision also rolls back commuter costs to 2012 rates. MBA Board Chair William H. Gnodtke stated, "As promised in 2007, we reviewed our financial data and have postponed any toll increase for at least one year and will re-evaluate in late 2014 to determine if further action is required." At the December 2007 MBA Board meeting, incremental toll increases were implemented between 2008 and 2013, with future action hinging on existing 2013 revenues. When MBA officials examine the financial data again in late 2014, they will determine what adjustments, if any, are required beyond 2014. Gnodtke added, "The MBA Board and staff has done an outstanding job with efficiencies, such as reduced energy consumption, administrative costs, dark fiber leases, self-insurance, redefining commuters, and electronic tolling, which all has resulted in decreased costs. These efficiencies have allowed the Mackinac Bridge Authority to delay the planned 2014 toll increase for at least one more year." The 56-year-old Mackinac Bridge is maintained, and continues to operate, exclusively with toll revenue.

NCMC offers courses locally

North Central Michigan College will offer college courses in Charlevoix County starting Sept. 3. The courses will be held in Charlevoix, Boyne City and East Jordan. North Central students living in Charlevoix County and taking any of the above classes may be eligible for tuition assistance through the North Central Michigan College Link to Learning Fund. The Link to Learning program pays the difference between Emmet County tuition rates (the lowest rate because Emmet County taxpayers partially fund the College) and the higher tuition paid by residents of all other Michigan counties. The difference in tuition for a typical three contact hour class is $170.25. The award is granted per contact hour. However, if students are receiving other forms of financial aid that cover tuition costs, they will not be eligible for the Charlevoix County Link to Learning award. The Link to Learning program, based on the availability of funds, is a designated fund of the Charlevoix County Community Foundation. The money for this program has been contributed by donors with an interest in helping students in Charlevoix County.

With a $20.00 fee to artists (aged 16 years and above), areas of sidewalk are available to participants to create their own chalk paintings. Registration begins at 8 am at a booth near the fishing pond on the Little Traverse Wheelway. Participants can stop by anytime during the morning and afternoon to create their work. Artist's chalk is included with the fee. Artists may also choose to enter a competition to have their work of art judged in two categories: Open Theme and a Master's or Renaissance Reproduction. There will be cash awards of $500 for first place in both categories and $250 second, and for $150 third place in the Open Theme both categories. There is also a Junior Division (15 years and younger) with $10 entry fee and 3 Honorable Mention Awards given. New for 2013 is the $500 People's Choice Award.

For a $5 fee per individual, you will be able to sample delicious chocolates and vote on your favorite. The proceeds of the chocolate sampling will be donated to the Crooked Tree Arts Center and the Top of Michigan Trails Council.

Music will fill the air and there are many more surprises as you stroll along the sidewalks viewing the artwork which remains in place until the next rainfall.

There are still opportunities for sponsorships of the event. Businesses can have their logos chalked by a student artist at the event site for $150. Sponsors for chalk purchases and general support are also being sought.

Moxie Strings at Aten Place

The Moxie Strings will bring a special and unique evening of electrifying fiddle and cello, plus foot stomping percussion, to the Aten Place stage on Saturday, August 10th at 7:30 pm. The Moxie Strings is fiddler Diana Ladio, cellist Alison Lynn and percussionist Fritz McGirr. Their feel-good melodies and foot-stomping rock-influenced rhythms put a fresh and enticing spin on Celtic and Americana music.

Though rooted in tradition, The Moxie Strings offer listeners the unique opportunity to experience two of the world's best-known instruments and oldest genres through a young progressive lens. Their music is a combination of ear-catching originals and dance-worthy traditional tunes, and they have quickly become one of Michigan's most promising and well-loved instrumental acts.

While the two can light up the stage, The Moxie Strings have also dedicated their careers to introducing new genres of music to string students, and preaching the importance of non-classical music in music education. They were selected as the featured artists/clinicians for MSBOA's 1st Alternative Styles Day, and have taught clinics in over 20 schools throughout the Midwest.

Aten Place is located 1/2 mile south of Cherry Hill Road on Old Mackinaw

Trail in Boyne Falls. The venue is a ninety plus year old oak frame barn with seating for 180, overlooking the Boyne River valley, in the shadow of Boyne Mountain. Tickets are $16 and can be purchased in advance by using the online order form or calling 549-2076. Tickets can also be purchased the evening of the show starting at 6:00 pm, with performances beginning at 7:30 p.m. Advanced tickets and schedule details are available by visiting www.atenplace.com. Aten Place is a non-profit endeavor, and no food or beverage is sold on the premises. Many patrons bring snacks and desserts to share at intermission. There is also a covered picnic pavilion for those who wish to come early and enjoy the grounds and peaceful setting.

For more information on this summer's schedule go to www.atenplace.com or call Bill or Maxine Aten at 231-549-2076.

"The library will be filled with so much fun that it will spill over into the street," said children's librarian Monica Kroondyk. "At the library, we geek kids and families, and we're putting on this Fun Fair just to provide a good time for them."
