Solid defense, timely offense, propel Ramblers to Superior Dome

By Chris Fiel

Boyne City 27, Elk Rapids 6

BOYNE CITY — It took them a little while to get things going on another wet and rainy Friday night, but when they did, the Boyne City Rambler football team made it count as they powered past Elk Rapids 27-6 on November 1 in a Division 6 pre-district playoff match-up.

The Ramblers turned the ball over three times and spotted Elk Rapids a 6-0 cushion as the Elks Kole Douglas returned an interception 49 yards for a score, and that's the way the first quarter would end.

But after that, it was all Boyne as they reeled off 27 unanswered points over the final 36 minutes of play.

"I'm real proud of the kids," Rambler coach David Hills said.

"We've been challenged and faced a lot of adversity these last two-three weeks and we've dealt with sickness, we've dealt with injuries and through it all I think our kids have just shown they're very resilient." "They worked very hard this week and I think we're getting back to playing some consistent football."

Malik Smith got the Ramblers on the scoreboard at the 8:15 mark of the second quarter as he took a handoff up the middle and powered his way from six yards out, stretching out at the last second to get the ball over the goal line, knotting the score at 6-6 as the point after attempt was no good.

The score was set up by a 29 yard pass from Jordan Wilmot to Bradley Fouchia to the Elk Rapids eight yard line.

Wilmot, a senior, filling in for an injured Corey Redman seemed to relax and settle in from that point on.

Smith would add his second touchdown of the night on another run, this time from five yards out, followed by a successful extra point kick by Dalton Gardner and the Ramblers were in front 13-6 with just over a minute remaining in the first half.

Elk Rapids would move the ball down the field quickly as the half was coming to a close, only to see Wilmot pick off an Adam Trautman pass with 36.8 seconds left in the half and the score would remain 13-6 headed into intermission.

Boyne City and Elk Rapids would then take turns turning the ball over on downs to begin the second half, before Smith would once again dazzle the Rambler faithful as he zig-zagged his way down the Boyne sideline for a 57-yard touchdown run.

A strong stiff arm by Smith and a key block by Mike Dohm near the 15-yard line, helped spring Malik for the score. Gardner added the point after for a 20-6 BC lead with just over 30 seconds remaining in the third quarter.

Wilmot would tack on the final tally of the night for Boyne with 2:44 left in the game as he scrambled his way around the right side into the South end zone for 12-yard TD. Another successful Gardner kick would make it a 27-6 lead.

Wilmot's mobility proved to be a key factor for Boyne City throughout the contest.

"I thought he played great and I think he adds a different dimension to our offense," coach Hills said in reference of Wilmot. "I think our offense is different with him, I think he adds some things to it that are hard to defend." "Jordan hasn't taken a ton of snaps at quarterback, I was overly aggressive early, and the interceptions are my fault."

The Rambler defense limited the Elks to 135 total yards, including holding speedy running back Thais Grays to just 30 yards on seven carries.

"I think our defense has been playing well all year," Hills noted. "I thought the kids executed well and that's what we need from here on out."

Senior defensive linemen Zach Wandrie helped the Ramblers set the tone early and he came up with some big sacks late in the game as he finished with six tackles, three and a half sacks and a fumble recovery.

When asked about the play of Wandrie, coach Hills replied, "Fantastic, fantastic, I thought real late in the game he had that sack and almost beat the guard to the point he was trying to get at and that was late in the fourth quarter. He has tremendous heart and a motor that just doesn't quit."

In addition to Wandrie's efforts, Luke Sage recorded 10 tackles, Max Cuper added nine stops, with one and a half sacks and Will Calo added a sack.

On the offensive side, Smith rushed 25 times for 184 yards and the three scores, while Wilmot added 45 yards on seven carries and completed two passes for 39 yards.

Maceo Vroman added 79 yards rushing and Fouchia carried 10 times for 45 yards and hauled in two passes for 39 yards.

With the win, the Ramblers improve to 8-2, and keep their season going as they advance to the Div. 6 district final on November 8, at Northern Michigan University's Superior Dome at 7pm, where they will take on perennial UP power Negaunee, 9-1.

Negaunee advanced to the final with a 51-0 victory over Inland Lakes.

Rayders advance, Red Devils bow out of Districts

By Chris Fiel

Rayders advance in District Play

CHARLEVOIX – The Charlevoix Rayders advanced past the first round of district volleyball play as they defeated Elk Rapids 25-19, 25-19, 26-24 on November 4 in front of the home crowd.

“We came out poised and ready for this day knowing we had never played Elk Rapids with all their players present, so we didn’t want to play with any assumptions on the table because we had beaten them in season,” Rayder coach Audra Randall said. “The girls were all amped up about starting districts.”

Madeline Boss had a team-high 17 kills, three aces and four digs, while Jennaca Holecheck had a personal-high of 14 kills, 12 digs and an ace.

Gloria Greene and Olivia Storm each contributed 17 assists for the Rayders, with Greene and Madi Carey each adding two kills each. Kylee Scholten and Kelsey Pischner each added a kill.

Emily Zabowa added three kills and four blocks.

Red Devils fall

The East Jordan Lady Red Devils saw their season come to an end as they fell to Johannesburg-Lewiston in first round of district play. The Cardinals downed E.J; 11-25, 21-25 and 18-25.

Paige Poindexter finished with eight kills and three blocks, while Kristen Malpass added eight blocks, five kills and five digs.

mon and they were on their game,” Parker said. “Lately we have been having these ups and downs and need to learn how to focus better. In the second match against Kingsley the girls started talking and moving their feet more.

“For us, Erin Baker played great defensively.”

The Ramblers played their Class C district opener on November 6 in Charlevoix after press time. Check back next week for the results.

Lady Rayders pick up win over Glen Lake

GLEN LAKE – The Rayder volleyball team fine-tuned their game headed into district play with a 25-10, 25-11, 25-17 victory over the Lakers on October 31.

“All the girls got involved in the sets and we made some nice plays,” Charlevoix coach Audra Randall said. “We had some long volleys against them tonight and we were able to finish winning the point in most cases.”

Madeline Boss led the way with 22 kills, four digs, while Jennaca Holecheck added 13 kills, five assists and Olivia Storm had 18 assists, four aces and two digs.

Also for Charlevoix, Gloria Greene added 15 assists and was 15-of-15 serving with one ace. Yogi Hang was 11-of-12 serving and added eight digs; Alexis Tribfelner had seven digs and Kelsey Pischner had four kills.

blers went 2-1 to improve to 45-12-5 on the season.

Boyne opened with a 16-25, 19-25 loss to Roscommon, then defeated the host Stags, 25-18, 25-19; before downing Central Lake, 25-12, 25-16.

“We played the first match at 2:30 p.m. in front of the entire Kingsley school as well as a Roscommon fan bus,” Rambler coach Casie Parker said. “It was very loud in the gym and the girls struggled with hearing anything I said to them. We did, however, know we would be in the situation.”

“The coaches involved thought it would be good to do this before districts so that the girls would get some practice playing in these conditions.”

Rambler senior Heather Nichols had 52 assists, while fellow senior Kylie Hicks finished with 24 kills and eight aces to lead Boyne.

Paige Hornbeck added 13 kills and 29 digs; Mallory Karaszewki had 25 digs and 11 kills; and Erin Baker had 24 digs.

Kristen Rushlow, Hannah Brilinski, Courtney Weldon, Celen Brzezinski, Baker and Karaszewki were all perfect from the serve line.

Question & Answers About Selling Real Estate

Lifestyle Choices Affect Bottom Line

Compliments of Mike Stark,
Stark Realty, Inc. (231) 536-7700

When it comes to eventually moving into that dream home you've always wanted, keep in mind that many of the choices we make on a house are really driven by lifestyle desires, rather than lifestyle needs.

More bedrooms means more time to clean, more expensive to repaint and carpet/floor in the future. The bigger the house and the larger the lot, the more you're going to pay for it both in time and financial resources. The main three decision factors are larger lot, more space and more stuff. Each of these come with a price tag.

Larger lot
Depending on the acreage, this is going to cost the owner in regards to acquisition, monthly payment, and upkeep. First is the acquisition. Larger lot means larger price, thus larger down payment and monthly payment. In metropolitan areas, the closer in to the epicenter of town, the more the extra space is going to cost you. If you decide to get it cheaper by moving out of town, then you'll be paying more for gas and be losing the ever elusive minutes of your life.

A friend of mine is dying for a couple of acres. He's moving into the area from a community where houses with 2 acres are common and they are within minutes of the job centers. No problem. In this market, however, it means possibly driving 30 miles or more for what he's looking for. It also means a longer commute — upwards to 90 minutes — in morning and evening rush hour. If that's 30 minutes longer per day than what he does now, that's 2.5 hours per week longer on the road — folks that's 125 hours per year just on the road to work and back per year — MORE — than living closer in. (That's three weeks worth of working hours.)

The larger lot also means more upkeep. If you have teenagers, maybe it's not your problem, you think with a wry grin. Nevertheless, the larger lot that is cleared off and landscaped will take longer to mow, require more gas and possibly even more equipment. In addition, there's the landscaping that you may not have needed to fret about before.

Even in a wooded lot, you'll now have to start watching the trees that border your house. A neighbor told me before he was moving that he was spending about $500 per year taking down trees that were threatening his house. Once he did move, the new owners had a tree fall on their home within a few weeks, causing damage to the roof and patio.

More space

For most move up buyers, this is the No. 1 reason they are shopping for a home. The 3-bedroom townhouse isn't cutting it for the growing family and it's time for a yard. Let's get the 4th bedroom, or 4th bedroom with a "bonus" room in the basement.

More space creates more expenses for paint, accessories, flooring, etc., every time the room is repainted, remodeled, etc. It's no rocket science calculation to see that the 1,800 square foot home is going to be cheaper to care for than the 2,800 square foot home. Remember, percentage wise, we're talking 55 percent more home — which will interpret into 55 percent more flooring cost, 55 percent more paint, 55 percent more utilities, etc. When purchasing, don't forget to ask the owner for a rundown of monthly or annual expenses for upkeep of the property. (Most likely, it will be an estimate, but a good indicator of your true costs of the property.)

More stuff

Don't forget that once you get a larger place, it usually is compounded with a decision to replace older furnishings or purchase new furnishings to put into your new areas.

A recent home moving survey revealed that:

57 percent of owners and 37 percent of renters bought furniture within the 12 weeks surrounding their move; owners spent an average of $3,500 and renters spent $1,220.

55 percent of moving homeowners purchase at least one appliance when they move, and 57 percent of homeowners buy furniture.

35 percent of owners and 40 percent of renters bought bedding; of these individuals, 72 percent did so within three after their move. Owners spent an average of $420 and renters $240.

Automotive Review

The new Ford Fiesta equipped with the award-winning 1.0-liter EcoBoost® engine will be America's most fuel-efficient non-hybrid, gasoline-powered car with an EPA-estimated rating of 45 mpg on the highway. IMAGE COPYRIGHT FORD MOTOR COMPANY

2014 Ford Fiesta with new 1.0-liter EcoBoost engine sets new benchmark for fuel efficiency and power

The new Ford Fiesta equipped with the award-winning 1.0-liter EcoBoost® engine will be America's most fuel-efficient non-hybrid, gasoline-powered car with an EPA-estimated rating of 45 mpg on the highway, topping the EPA-estimated highway ratings of Honda Fit by 12 mpg and Toyota Yaris by 8 mpg.

The fuel economy rating not only establishes the Fiesta 1.0-liter EcoBoost as best-in-class highway fuel economy among subcompacts, but it also outperforms some competitors' diesels and hybrids on the highway driving cycle. The 2014 Honda Insight has an EPA-estimated rating of 44 mpg highway, while the 2014 Volkswagen Golf diesel with a manual transmission has an EPA-estimated rating of 42 mpg highway. This also makes the Fiesta the only car in its class that produces more than 120 horsepower and has an EPA-estimated rating of 45 mpg on the highway. Plus, while the 1.0-liter EcoBoost engine is officially SAE-certified at 123 horsepower and 125 lb.-ft. of torque, it features an overboost function that allows it to make more than 145 lb.-ft. for up to 15 seconds.

"Coupled with the new Fiesta ST, Fiesta covers the performance-efficiency continuum in the subcompact segment better than any other nameplate in the market," said Joe Hinrichs, executive vice president and president of the Americas for Ford.

Fuel economy is often cited as the No. 1 purchase consideration in the subcompact class, according to Ford research. The EPA estimated rating of 45 mpg highway is for both the four- and five-door, five-speed manual-equipped 2014 1.0-liter EcoBoost Fiesta, which also has an EPA-estimated rating of 32 mpg city and 37 mpg combined.

Automotive journalists named the 1.0-liter EcoBoost engine in the 2014 Ford Fiesta "International Engine of the Year" in 2012 and 2013. The smallest engine in the growing EcoBoost family is increasingly the choice of Ford customers in Europe, where it is now available on five nameplates, accounting for 32 percent of Focus sales and 26 percent of Fiesta sales this year. Robust demand for the 1.0-liter in Europe prompted Ford to double production capacity at its state-of-the-art Cologne, Germany, plant to more than 1,000 engines a day.

EcoBoost technology combines smaller-displacement engines with turbocharging, direct injection, variable valve timing and proprietary Ford software to bring customers outstanding performance and fuel economy.

Ford's global EcoBoost engine family now includes the 1.0-liter three-cylinder; 1.5-liter, 1.6-liter and 2.0-liter four-cylinder engines; and the powerful 3.5-liter V6 engine. EcoBoost technology is available in every region Ford serves worldwide, and will be offered on approximately 80 percent of the company's global nameplates by the end of this year.

Beyond the efficient new EcoBoost powerplant, Fiesta's aerodynamic design also helps save fuel. Along with cruise control, the Manual EcoBoost Package on the Fiesta SE adds a rear spoiler, side air deflectors, underbody shields, lower grille blockers and low-rolling-resistance tires that, together, decrease the amount of fuel needed to push the car through the air at speed.

In addition to the new leadership claim for highway fuel efficiency, the new Fiesta boasts an impressive suite of technologies and features that gives drivers a blend of a connected world and an untethered driving experience. A new SYNC with MyFord Touch® system with 6.5-inch touch screen featuring enhanced voice control is now available, providing drivers more options than ever for directions, communication and entertainment functions.

SYNC® AppLink™ capabilities pioneered on the first Fiesta continue to allow access and control of Ford-approved smartphone apps through voice commands and other controls for drivers on the go, helping them keep their hands on the wheel and eyes on the road. Turn-by-turn directions remain part of SYNC Services.

Ford MyKey® is a new feature for Fiesta. MyKey enables parents in particular to encourage safer driving and limit their teenagers' exposure to risk at the wheel. The system allows owners to configure maximum speed and audio volume limits. It mutes audio until safety belts are fastened and ensures driver aids, safety systems and more vigorous alerts cannot be deactivated when used.
