Rayders notch first win, eye big week

League opener, key non-leaguer on tap

By Andy Sneddon

CHARLEVOIX – First win under their belts, first win for Bret Erskine as the Charlevoix High School boys basketball coach.

Now, it's get-down-to-league-business time, and a measuring-stick game for the Rayders.

Nate Moon scored 11 points and Shane Sutherland added 10 Saturday and Charlevoix jumped to a big early lead in downing Leland, 60-40, in a Northwest Conference-Lake Michigan Conference Challenge game at Kingsley High School.

The win lifted the Rayders to 1-2 after relatively close non-league losses to St. Ignace, 67-60, and Gaylord, 56-47.

The Rayders were scheduled to open Lake Michigan Conference play on Tuesday at Elk Rapids, then entertain Petoskey in a non-leaguer on Friday.

Elk Rapids entered the week 2-0 after wins over Suttons Bay and Maple City Glen Lake, while the Northmen were 1-1, having split its games in its season-opening Petoskey Invitational with Brighton (53-49 loss) and Milford (53-49 win).

"We feel pretty good," said Erskine, whose team will play without injured 6-foot-9 senior center Zak Hankins until after the Christmas Break. "We played a great first half Saturday (against Leland). We moved the ball around really well and hit the open shots. It just looked great. If we can play like that the next couple of games, the whole game like that, that would be great."

The Rayders built a 22-7 lead after one quarter against the Comets, and by halftime were firmly in command at 37-15. Leland outscored the Rayders, 25-23, over the final two quarters.

"The second half we didn't play so well," Erskine said. "You get a lead and you kind of get comfortable and I'm trying to get past that and get them to play hard the whole game. (Leland) switched up their defense a little bit and the guys had trouble adjusting to that."

"We had a lot of guys taking the ACT test on Saturday and they didn't get a really good chance to warm up. I think we're still finding our way."

This week will be telling, Erskine said, about how the Rayders measure up. First they face the Elks, led by one of the top up-and-coming coaches in Northern Michigan, Luke Johnson; and then they'll take the court against Petoskey, headed by the legendary Dennis Starkey, who is in his 28th year at the school.

"Two great teams with two great coaches," Erskine said. "Hopefully we can just go and compete as hard as we can."

added eight and seven points, respectively, in Charlevoix's win over Leland.

Justin Pearl led the Rayders with 10 points in their loss to Gaylord, while Sutherland added nine.

Moon finished with 18 points in the season-opening loss to St. Ignace, while Sutherland added 10 and Nick Plude had nine.

Rayder Girls open league play, then take a break

By Andy Sneddon

CHARLEVOIX – On the good side, Madeline Boss has established herself as a force.

On the bad, an ankle injury could sideline the 5-foot-10 Charlevoix junior.

Boss scored a career-high 29 points and grabbed 16 rebounds last week in a 50-42 non-league loss to Gaylord. Three days later, Boss injured her ankle in practice and was questionable for the Rayders' Lake Michigan Conference opener Tuesday at home against Elk Rapids.

"We'll just do what's best for her," Charlevoix coach Liz Shaw said of the possibility that the ankle would sideline Boss for the Elk Rapids game.

In any event, Boss and her teammates will have time to rest and get healthy over the Christmas break.

After the Elk Rapids game, the Rayders, who are 2-1, are idle until Tuesday, Jan. 7, when they go to Harbor Springs for a Lake Michigan Conference game.

Boss, who is in her third year on the varsity, was a force against the Blue Devils, who entered this week 2-1 with the lone loss coming to a strong St. Ignace team.

Boss' performance against Gaylord came one night after a 17-point, 12-rebound, seven-steal effort in a 54-34 win over Bellaire.

"She was just a workhorse that night," Shaw said of Boss' output against Gaylord. "She got her own rebounds and put them back.

She worked for every one of those points. ... And there were a lot of assists from her teammates and her (working to) get open."

Gabby Gray added seven points and made three steals in Charlevoix's loss to Gaylord.

The Rayders seized a comfortable 27-13 halftime lead against Bellaire, and were firmly in command, 42-26, after three quarters.

Lady Devils drop close pair of non-conference games

By Chris Fiel

Leland 36, East Jordan 29

EAST JORDAN — The Lady Red Devils came up short against Leland 36-29 on December 11 in front of the home crowd.

Lindsay Schroeder led East Jordan with 10 points and six boards, while Paige Poindexter added six points and nine rebounds.

Freshman Miranda Burks added four rebounds and five steals for EJ.

“We didn’t play particularly well, only shooting 24 percent from the floor and not making a single free throw,” East Jordan coach Steve Hines said. “Defense kept us in the game until the fourth quarter when we gave up some easy baskets.”

“We stumbled a bit in this game, but will be ready to jump into league play this next week,” the coach added.

Libby Munoz scored 20 to lead Leland, while Maddie Trunbell added nine.

EAST JORDAN — They just ran out of time.

The Lady Red Devils gave it their all, with a valiant fourth quarter comeback only to come up short, 55-54 in a non-conference contest with JoBurg on December 9.

The Red Devils led 6-4 after the first quarter, trailed 20-17 at intermission and 41-32 headed into the fourth.

“We made a nice comeback in the fourth quarter (EJ outscored JoBurg 22-14) and tied the game with about 28 seconds left,” East Jordan coach Steve Hines said. “We fouled them with 10.8 sec and they made the first and missed the second; we got the rebound but couldn’t get a shot off before the buzzer.”

The Red Devils put three players in double figures as Paige Poindexter paced EJ with 16, while Lindsay Schroeder added 13 and Tiffany Polaski 10.

Poindexter grabbed eight boards, while Schroeder and Tori Goodrich each added five.

“We shot 40 percent from the floor and we were 18-of-36 from the line,” Hines noted.

Julia Nieman led JoBurg with 15, while Maddy Showerman added 13 and Brittany Cherwinski had 10.

East Jordan 77, Buckley 33

KINGSLEY — The Red Devils got off to a fast start as they raced out to a 39-10 first quarter, en route to a 77-33 victory over Buckley in the Lake Michigan-Northwest Conference Crossover Classic on December 13.

Sophomore Jordan Weber led that first quarter charge as he dropped 15 of his game-high 25 points during that stretch.

“We jumped on them early,”

East Jordan coach Darrin Weber said. “It was a great team win.”

The Red Devils extended their lead to 50-13 at the break before upping it to 64-23 after the third quarter.

Seniors Noah Bacchus and Dustin Hejka added 15 and 12 points respectively for EJ, while Colin Petrie had eight.

The Red Devils improved to 2-0 on the season with the victory.

East Jordan 85, Mancelona 71 OT

MANCELONA — What a way to start the season.

The Red Devils picked up an early season victory over Mancelona, 85-71 in a thrilling overtime contest in the opener for both schools on December 10.

East Jordan forced the overtime contest with four seconds remaining in regulation on a Donnie Cutler basket. Cutler, a sophomore, scored eight of his 12 points in the fourth quarter.

“Good high school game,” Red Devils coach Darrin Weber said. “Close game throughout.” East Jordan would lead 20-16 after the first eight minutes of play before clinging to a 35-33 lead at halftime.

The Red Devils would then carry a 60-54 cushion into the fourth quarter, only to see the host Ironmen make a late run and take a 70-68, led by the efforts of Brandon Dingman.

Dingman would score a game-high 38 points on the night.

Once in the extra session, East Jordan clamped down on defense, holding Mancelona to a single point, as they outscored the Ironmen 15-1.

“We stayed in the game late in the fourth as they struggled from the line (Mancelona was 1-of-6) down the stretch,” coach Weber noted.

Noah Bacchus scored a career-high 31 points to lead EJ, while Jordan Weber added 14, Cutler 12, Dustin Hejka and Colin Petrie each had 10.

Griffin Borst added 17 points for Mancelona.

Boyne City 64, Benzie Central 43
KINGSLEY — And they're off! The Boyne City Ramblers have started the season off with a pair of non-conference wins and have shown their versatility in process.

The Ramblers picked up their latest win 64-43, over Benzie Central on December 14 in the annual Lake Michigan-Northwest Conference Crossover Classic at the Kingsley High School gymnasium.

Boyne City held a slim 17-16 lead after the first quarter of play, expanded that cushion to 35-28 at the half before opening up a 48-35 margin headed into the final eight minutes.

Leading Benzie Central was Javier Rodriguez with 13 points. Boyne improves to 2-0 on the season.

Benzie took the JV contest 39-37 despite a 23 point effort by Boyne's Derek Willis.

"Calsey worked hard inside and really crashed the boards," Boyne Falls coach Lyndel Sage said. "Defensively between her and Raegan (Pedigo, who finished with 22 rebounds and three blocks) they created a nice inside tandem. Calsey is definitely playing at the top of her game."

The Loggers improved to 3-1 overall, 3-0 conference, with the victory.

Avoiding Holiday Weight Gain

By Deb Hagen-Foley

Beginning with Thanksgiving and through New Year's Day, there are multiple opportunities to deviate from a regular healthy eating plan. The often-repeated statistic that the average adult gains seven to ten pounds over the holidays has been the subject of research. Researchers have examined this issue and find that the average person overestimates their holiday weight gain.

According to a 2000 study reported in the New England Journal of Medicine, participants estimated their holiday weight gain at "at least five pounds," but their actual weight gain was just over one pound. However, people who were overweight did gain five pounds. While this is better than ten or fifteen pounds, there is bad news about this weight gain - most of those who gain a pound (or five) in December will not lose the weight. Instead, they will gain another pound (or more) the next December. If the pounds continue to accumulate, the health risks associated with being overweight will also mount. You don't need to welcome the New Year with extra poundage. It is possible to enjoy the tastes of the season without gaining weight. Perhaps one or more of these tips will keep you from gaining one to five pounds in the coming weeks.

Plan ahead. Planning ahead, thinking about strategies for dealing with the abundance of holiday foods, is step one. Think of the reasons you are following a healthy eating plan and write them down. Make a plan for a day that includes a holiday feast. Don't skimp on your workout. It is easy to get busy and "forget" the workout, but it would be better to work out for a longer period or with more intensity. Working out in the morning will give your metabolism a boost. After working out, you are more likely to eat in a way that is consistent with your health lifestyle. If you do eat extra calories, at least the damage is reduced through the calorie burn of the workout.

Don't arrive hungry. Knowing that you are going to have a large meal, you might think it is better to "save" your daily calories and to skip meals. That is a big mistake. Eat on your regular schedule during the day AND eat something healthy shortly before the celebratory meal. Eating your regular meals, perhaps smaller servings, plus some vegetables or a piece of fruit shortly before going to the event will ensure that you aren't starving when you arrive. If you are hungry, seeing all that food will make you want to eat everything in sight!

It is more than just the food. The holiday feast might seem central to the event, but remember that the gathering is also about connecting with family and friends. It might also be a good time to meet somebody new! Don't start at the buffet table. Walk around the room, chat with others in attendance and observe the decorations. Don't drink your calories. Avoiding alcohol all together or at least keep it to a minimum. Alcohol reduces inhibitions and can easily make you forget your intention to eat in moderation. Alcohol is wasted calories without any nutritional benefit. Along with the eggnog or hot chocolate and you have multiplied the calories of that drink.

Stay hydrated. Drink plenty of water, add some lemon or lime for more flavor. Club soda is also a good choice. Water will help to fill you up and carrying a glass will give you something to do with your hands besides snacking! Have a large glass of water or more before you get to the buffet table.

Review your options. When you decide to eat, review your options before filling your plate. Take your time in deciding what is most appealing to you of the options that best support your healthy lifestyle. Vegetables, fruit, lean protein are good choices. Go for simpler foods. The more complex the food, the more difficult it is to tell what it contains. Fill most of your plate with healthier choices while being selective about which treats you will select. Filling up on healthier options will make it easier to resist the high calorie, high fat choices. To have even better control over your options, consider bringing your own food. If attending a potluck, go with a choice that supports your goals. You could also bring some raw vegetables or raw nuts in case the good options on the buffet table are very limited. And, don't put multiple layers on your plate - it takes more thought and effort to go for seconds than to overfill the plate on the first trip.

Choose your indulgences thoughtfully. Of course you are going to enjoy a taste of the season, but do you need to try everything? Only select those goodies that look the most delicious to you. A treat in moderation is fine. Before you grab a plate full with one of everything, think about the effort you have put into your otherwise healthy lifestyle. Is that plate full of sweets worth undoing all that work? That frosted sugar cookie is about 100 calories. For a 150-pound adult, burning off those calories will take about 15 minutes of swimming or 6 minutes of running stairs. Four cookies will take an hour of swimming or biking. Is that treat worth the effort?

Follow the three-bite rule. Now that you have selected some extra-special treats, take time to really enjoy them. Use the three-bite rule, the first bite is to taste it, the second to really enjoy it, and the third bite tells you that is isn't going to get any better. Save your calories to try something else. If you don't think you can stop after three bites, at least take small portions.

Go for a walk. During the event, don't stand near the buffet table. Enjoy your selections away from the remaining food. After the meal, organize a walk to view the holiday lights. The exercise will help you burn off a few of those calories and getting away from the leftovers will reduce mindless overeating.

Remember your commitment. If you want to keep eating, review your reasons for wanting to eat healthy. You made a commitment to take good care of yourself. Are those reasons more important than those holiday treats? If you have overindulged, commit to getting back on the healthy lifestyle track right away. Don't let one experience lead to more overeating.

Following some of these tips will help you to enjoy holiday events while respecting your healthy lifestyle. Your commitment to your weight loss goals, even on special occasions, will encourage others to respect them also.

Health Department sees increase in flu cases

Vaccinations still readily available

The Health Department of Northwest Michigan has received reports of increased flu activity, and reminds families throughout Northern Michigan to schedule an appointment to receive this year's flu vaccine.

Anyone older than six (6) months of age should receive the flu shot, according to Suzette Daly, Family and Community Health Supervisor for the Health Department. Daly says the clinic staff can also work with the whole family to provide other essential vaccinations during your visit. The cost for seasonal flu vaccination is $25, payable by check or cash. Private insurance, Medicare and Medicaid are also accepted.

"Vaccination is the best way to protect against the flu," Daly said. "It can prevent serious illness and save lives, especially among kids and the elderly. And it's not too late to get yours for the 2013-2014 season."

Flu vaccinations offer protection throughout the entire flu season, which can begin as early as October and last as late as May. There are two types of flu vaccines: the flu shot, approved for use in people six (6) months of age and older, including healthy people, people with chronic medical conditions and pregnant women; and the nasal-spray flu vaccine, approved for use in healthy people from 2-49 years of age who are not pregnant.

The Health Department has vaccine in stock, and appointments are available for flu shots and other vaccines at its offices in Bellaire, Mancelona, Charlevoix, Petoskey/Harbor Springs and Gaylord, as well as its youth health clinics - the Hornet Health Center in Pellston, and the Ironmen Health Center in Mancelona. Call the Health Department at (800) 432-4121 to schedule an appointment. You can also visit www.nwhealth.org or www.facebook.com/nwhealthdepartment for details on the flu vaccine and other important vaccines.

The Health Department of Northwest Michigan is mandated by the Michigan Public Health Code to promote wellness, prevent disease, provide quality healthcare, address health problems of vulnerable populations, and protect the environment for the residents and visitors of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet, and Otsego Counties.

Question & Answers About Selling Real Estate

Things Not to Do Before Purchasing a Home

Compliments of Mike Stark, Stark Realty, Inc. (231) 536-7700

No Major Purchase of Any Kind

Don't Buy a Car or any major purchase that would create debt of any kind. This includes furniture, appliances, electronic equipment, jewelry, vacations, expensive weddings, etc.

Don't Move Money Around

When a lender reviews your loan package for approval, one of the things they are concerned about is the source of funds for your down payment and closing costs. Most likely, you will be asked to provide statements for the last two or three months on any of your liquid assets. This includes checking accounts, savings accounts, money market funds, certificates of deposit, stock statements, mutual funds, and even your company 401K and retirement accounts.

If you have been moving money between accounts during that time, there may be large deposits and withdrawals in some of them.

The mortgage underwriter (the person who actually approves your loan) will probably require a complete paper trail of all the withdrawals and deposits. You may be required to produce cancelled checks, deposit receipts, and other seemingly inconsequential data, which could get quite tedious.

Perhaps you become exasperated at your lender, but they are only doing their job correctly. To ensure quality control and eliminate potential fraud, it is a requirement on most loans to completely document the source of all funds. Moving your money around, even if you are consolidating your funds to make it easier, could make it more difficult for the lender to properly document.

So leave your money where it is until you talk to a loan officer. In addition, this would be a bad time to change banks.

Exceptional Boyne City ranch home on large double lot

By Jim Akans

There's plenty of room to garden, play or even putting up a new outbuilding as this exceptional Boyne City ranch style home sits on a large double lot, and yet it is located within walking distance to the excellent dining, shopping and recreational opportunities in downtown Boyne.

This three-bedroom home has also undergone several updates, including the kitchen and bath. The approximately 1,100 square foot floor plan features a beautiful main living area with wood flooring and tongue and groove ceiling, a spacious kitchen and adjoining dining area that are both stylish and functional, and a large, covered front porch provides an ideal spot for sitting back and enjoying the surroundings.

Pet owners will appreciate a fenced section of the rear yard that adjoins the back of the home. Located at 404 Trent Street in Boyne City, this exceptional ranch home on a large double lot is listed at just $106,900.

Ford announced today that Auto Start-Stop will be available on 70 percent of its North American vehicle lineup by 2017. IMAGE COPYRIGHT FORD MOTOR COMPANY

70 percent of Ford lineup to have auto start-stop by 2017; fuel economy plans accelerate

Ford announced today that Auto Start-Stop will be available on 70 percent of its North American vehicle lineup by 2017. A major part of the company's Blueprint for Sustainability, the expansion of Auto Start-Stop comes as the award-winning 1.0-liter EcoBoost® engine is set to go on sale in the 2014 Ford Fiesta. Rated at 45 mpg EPA highway, the new Fiesta is the most fuel-efficient non-hybrid or diesel on the market. Ford is also researching dynamic cruise control, a breakthrough technology that predicts road conditions to optimize fuel economy.

"Simply put, Auto Start-Stop helps customers use less fuel, which is an important component of Ford's Blueprint for Sustainability," said Bob Fascetti, vice president, Ford global powertrain. "By making Auto Start-Stop available on more vehicles, we are working to be part of the solution to environmental sustainability with effective, fuel-saving technologies."

Auto Start-Stop seamlessly turns off the engine when a vehicle stops, while an advanced battery powers vehicle accessories and systems in place of the engine - saving fuel. The engine restarts instantly when the driver begins to release the brake pedal.

Actual fuel savings vary and depend on driving patterns. While average improvement in fuel efficiency equals roughly 3.5 percent, those who drive in heavy traffic - such as congested urban environments - could see fuel efficiency increase by as much as 10 percent. It also provides a meaningful reduction to CO2 emissions that are avoided during long idle times.

Ford has years of experience with Auto Start-Stop via its electrified powertrain hybrid and plug-in hybrid offerings, and the feature is popular on a host of Ford models in Europe. By year-end, Ford expects to sell more than 500,000 vehicles equipped with Auto Start-Stop globally. In the United States, Auto Start-Stop is available on the 2014 Ford Fusion with 1.5-liter EcoBoost. The expansion of Auto Start-Stop marks a milestone in Ford's Blueprint for Sustainability, which includes a range of new technologies to improve vehicle efficiency.

Another milestone is the award-winning 1.0-liter EcoBoost engine that goes on sale in the 2014 Fiesta. Its 45-mpg highway rating is the highest of any non-hybrid, gasoline-powered car in America. The 1.0-liter EcoBoost Fiesta outperforms some competitor diesel and hybrid offerings, while providing the most powerful entry in the subcompact class with an SAE-certified 123 horsepower and 125 lb.-ft. of torque.

Looking to the future of the Blueprint for Sustainability, Ford is also researching dynamic cruise control. The advanced system enhances real-world fuel economy performance through optimized torque control, which minimizes fuel consumption while maximizing powertrain efficiencies.

Dynamic cruise control modifies the driver-selected set speed in response to not only current road conditions, but also to predicted road conditions - all onboard and in real time, with no Internet connection or stored databases. Ford research shows this feature could improve fuel efficiency up to 10 percent, depending on route.

"Think of this as cruise control technology that thinks," said Dimitar Filev, senior technical leader, Ford research and development. "While this is a research-based technology now, its objective is to think fuel economy first."
