Ramblers pull out pair of close LMC wins

Balanced attack gets the job done

By Chris Fiel

Boyne City 60, East Jordan 59

BOYNE CITY — A tale of two halves.

The Boyne City boys basketball team overcame a 16-point half-time deficit as they came back against a red hot East Jordan team to escape with 60-59 Lake Michigan Conference victory on December 17.

The contest started with both teams missing shots before Boyne's Ryan Carson rebounded a missed layup and in one motion slammed it home to give the Ramblers a 2-0 lead about a minute into the contest. That would be all the BC scoring for a while as East Jordan reeled off eight straight points to take a 8-0 lead as the Red Devil guards, Noah Bacchus and Donnie Cutler drove their way to the basket.

East Jordan would close out the quarter with another burst to lead 17-8.

The Red Devils would continue to navigate the Boyne defense and get what seemed to be whatever shot selection they wanted during the first half of the second quarter. EJ would take their biggest lead of the night, 30-10 on a triple from sophomore Jordan Weber with 4:40 remaining in the half.

Boyne would battle back to pull within 16 points, 36-20 headed into intermission.

The Ramblers would open the second half with a three from Corey Redman to pull to 36-23, followed by a Zach Napont three-point play on a drive from the top of the key and then a pair of jumpers from Cole Butler would bring Boyne to within 39-31 with just over three minutes remaining in the third quarter.

East Jordan's Cutler slowed the Rambler momentum with a three point play of his own to put the Red Devils up 42-31 at the 2:13 mark.

Boyne would outscore the Red Devils 6-3 over the final two minutes on baskets from Tanner Kruzel and Bradley Fouchia, while the EJ got free throws from Weber and Dustin Hejka.

East Jordan would take a 45-37 lead into the final eight minutes of regulation.

The two teams would then trade tosses from the charity stripe before a Fouchia triple cut the Red Devil lead to 46-42 with 6:35 left, but EJ senior guard Bacchus would respond with a drive and layup to push the lead back to 48-42 just twenty seconds later.

Carson would then draw fouls on back-to-back possessions for the Ramblers and knock down a shot and two free throws over a 40 second stretch to pull within 49-47 with five minutes remaining.

Another Fouchia triple after a Red Devil basket would put the Ramblers down a single point 51-50 with just over four minutes left.

BC would go ahead 52-51 on a pair of Kruzel free throws seconds later.

A Cole Butler jumper and a pair of Carson free throws would give Boyne a 56-52 lead with 2:48 to go in the game before Bacchus would knock down a pair of freebies himself.

Following a Rambler timeout with 1:52 remaining, Fouchia would make a pair of free throws to push the lead back to four points only to see EJ's Weber hit a deep three to pull the Red Devils within one, 58-57 with one minute left in the game.

After another BC timeout, Maceo Vroman was fouled on the inbounds and calmly connected on both tosses to put Boyne up 60-57 with 50.9 seconds left.

Red Devil senior Dustin Hejka would then recover a loose ball and with a little english, get the shot to drop as the ball seemed to roll around the rim for seconds before finally dropping to pull within 60-59.

EJ would then foul Boyne's Kruzel with 20 seconds left and it would pay off as he was unable to convert either attempt, giving the Red Devils another chance to pull out the victory, but a drive by Bacchus with time running out would not fall as Carson gathered up the rebound and the Ramblers escaped with a LMC victory.

"We got off to a terrible start," Rambler coach Nick Redman said. "We couldn't get anything going, but credit our kids because they didn't quit."

Carson led the way for Boyne, 3-0 overall, 1-0 conference, with 14 points, while Butler and Fouchia netted 12 points each and Napont added 11.

"We weren't ready to play from the start," Redman said. "It seemed like we had everybody in foul trouble, but our kids stepped up and stayed focused and got the win."

The Red Devils got 17 points from Bacchus and 16 from Weber as they dropped their first game of the young season to head into the holiday break at 2-1 overall, 0-1 conference.

Boyne City 65, Elk Rapids 62

ELK RAPIDS — Cole Butler scored 16 points in leading Boyne City to a 65-62 Lake Michigan Conference win as three other Ramblers notched double figures in the win on December 20.

Boyne led at quarter breaks 21-12, 33-26, before the Elks tied it at 45-45 headed into the fourth quarter.

"Really happy with our focus to start the game, we got off to a great start up 16, and Corey sparked us with a two handed dunk," Boyne coach Nick Redman said. "Everyone got in but we didn't finish quarter well and they (Elk Rapids) got the momentum and it was back and forth the rest of the game."

Ryan Carson added 13, Corey Redman 12 and Maceo Vroman finished with 11 for the Ramblers, 4-0 overall, 2-0 conference.

"Zach Napont hit a big three late in the game for us, big win against a good team on the road right before break," Redman added. "Great team effort."

Nikolai Dimitrov and Shae Summers scored 15 each for the Elks.

Harbor Springs, former coach up next for Charlevoix boys

By Andy Sneddon

CHARLEVOIX – As the calendar turns to 2014, the Charlevoix High School boys basketball team looks to turn the page as well.

The Rayders entered the Christmas break after a week in which they were bruised in their Lake Michigan Conference opener by Elk Rapids, and lost by 17 points to much-better-than-expected Petoskey team.

The Rayders stand 1-4, with those four losses coming to teams that went into the break a combined 9-5. Two of those teams, Petoskey and Gaylord, are Class A schools, while the other two, St. Ignace and Elk Rapids, are expected to be contend for championships in their respective leagues.

“We’ve had a pretty rough schedule, but that’s good because our league is going to be rough,” first-year Rayder coach Bret Erskine said. “It’s going to be a tough, tough conference, and a tough, tough schedule. That makes you better.”

The Rayders are hoping to have a healthy Zak Hankins sometime after the break. The 6-foot-9 Ferris State University signee will, unquestionably, add much upon his return.

Hankins has been sidelined with a broken foot and he was to visit the doctor this week, Erskine said, adding that he doesn’t want to rush Hankins back into the lineup no matter how badly his player wants to be on the floor.

“I know he wants to play, I know he wants to play bad,” Erskine said. “But we’re going to have to reel him in a little bit. The rough thing for him, and for me, is he’s a college basketball player. You have to put his best interest in front of anything else. As a person and as a coach, you don’t want him to hurt it worse so that he’s not able to play in college.”

“That’s a goal he had and he achieved that goal. You don’t want to screw that up.”

The Rayders finished the opening portion of their schedule with a 67-50 loss to a Petoskey team that, despite its relative youth (the Northmen have just one returning starter and three sophomores play prominent roles), hit the break 3-1.

That loss came three nights after the Rayders fell to Elk Rapids, 63-32, in their Lake Michigan Conference opener. Charlevoix trailed 23-3 after one quarter to the Elks, and was down 39-13 at halftime.

Cole Walker scored 13 points to lead a balanced Elk Rapids attack in the game. The Elks enter the Christmas break 3-1 overall, 1-1 league after a 65-62 conference loss on Friday to unbeaten Boyne City.

Nick Plude scored nine points to pace the Rayders against Elk Rapids.

The Rayders fell behind early against Petoskey and trailed by 14, 35-21, at halftime, but managed to remain within striking distance and had their deficit at 10 in the fourth quarter.

Petoskey’s Parker Monley, who hit four 3-pointers on the night, dropped in a timely triple to help re-extend the lead and Charlevoix could get no closer.

Hanging in against a Petoskey team that made 8-of-14 3-point attempts was a good lesson for the Rayders, Erskine said.

“I think the boys realized (against Petoskey) that they are a pretty good team without (Hankins),” he said. “I think the boys are starting to realize that hey, we don’t know if (Hankins) is coming back, and we need to step up and play.”

“They were playing really hard in the second half and I thought we might have a chance. At the end, we just ran out of gas and we just couldn’t catch them. We had some turnovers and some things didn’t go our way, and that happens.”

“They really fought back the whole game and played really hard, and that’s all you can ask. I was really proud of my guys. It’s starting to come. It’s just taken a little bit of time. If we play as hard as we did (against Petoskey), we’re going to be successful.”

Monley finished with 14 points to pace the Northmen, who had six players score at least eight points.

Shane Sutherland scored 13 points and Austin Putman and Nate Moon added 10 apiece for the Rayders, who will now turn their attention to 2014.

First up is a date on Friday, Jan. 7, with Harbor Springs and former Rayder mentor Adam Wood. Wood, a Charlevoix graduate who played on several outstanding teams under then-coach Keith Haske, left Charlevoix after last season to become the head coach and athletic director at Harbor.

The Rams are 2-2 overall, 1-0 in the Lake Michigan Conference.

Erskine coached Wood during the latter’s playing days in Charlevoix, and was an assistant to Wood when he headed up the Rayder program.

“Adam and I have been around together for a long time,” Erskine said. “You could just tell when he was younger, you could see he had a lot of love for basketball, a lot of passion for basketball. And to see him grow up and see what he is now ...

“He and I have just always had a great relationship. He’s just a special young man to me, a great guy to be around. To have a coaching relationship and a friendly relationship like we’ve had over the years is just special, just great.”

Rayder girls fall to Elk Rapids

ELK RAPIDS – Paige Granger scored 25 points and hauled down 15 rebounds as Elk Rapids topped Charlevoix, 66-49, in a Lake Michigan Conference girls basketball game.

It was the league opener and the final game before Christmas break for the Rayders, 2-2. Charlevoix returns to action on Tuesday, Jan. 7, at Harbor Springs in a league contest.

Kelsey Engstrom scored 18 points and Alexis Tribfelner added 12 points and grabbed five rebounds to lead the Rayders, who trailed 15-9 after one quarter and 32-18 at halftime.

Rachel Hintz added 18 points and 11 rebounds for Elk Rapids, while Bridget Hintz had 15 points and 12 boards. The Elks are 3-2 overall, 2-1 league.

“We had a 10 point lead in fourth quarter and didn’t make plays down stretch and Bellaire did they hit some big threes and we missed foul shots,” Logger coach Tim Smith said. “In overtime we had chances to win and we had a couple of freak things happen with guys falling down and they capitalized. Its a game where we learned a lot about our team.”

The Eagles outscored BF 14-9 in the extra period to capture the victory.

Sophomore Marcus Matelski led the Loggers with 33 points and 11 boards, Brendan Matelski added 16 and George “Clay” Whitley chipped in with 10.

Is what you're feeling just the 'holiday blues' or something more serious?

While the holidays are supposed to be a time filled with 'comfort and joy,' 90 percent of Americans actually report feelings of stress, anxiety, loneliness and depression.

Sadness or depression varies from person to person, but during the holidays they both can be reactions to the stresses and demands of the season. For many, it can be due to fatigue, unrealistic expectations, financial frustration, over commercialization, or not having the opportunity to spend time with family and friends. Others may feel depressed around the winter time due to a condition known as seasonal affective disorder (SAD), which occurs as the days grow shorter in the fall and winter.

Although many believe suicides occur more frequently during the holiday season, it is actually a perpetuated myth. In fact, the Centers for Disease Control's National Center for Health Statistics reports that the month of December marks the lowest suicide rate, with rates actually highest in the spring and fall. In reality, this unfortunate holiday myth supports misinformation about suicide that can sometimes hinder prevention efforts.

But one fact remains – depression continues to be the biggest risk factor associated with suicide. Individuals experiencing depression become more discouraged the deeper depression gets and the longer it goes on. Whether one's depression is associated with the holiday season or not, suicide and suicidal thinking are more widespread than typically believed. Each year in the U.S. alone, more than 36,000 people take their own lives, and nearly 400,000 people attempt suicides. Unfortunately, it can be hard to identify suicidal thinking in a loved one, but the following warning signs may help to identify those who are at risk.

- Talk about suicide- If someone you know talks about self-harm or not wanting to live, take it seriously. Don't leave this person alone and let them know you're going to get help.
- Bipolar disorder- The symptoms of bipolar disorder – a condition in which bouts of depression are interspersed with periods of mania – often drive people to consider suicide.
- Alcohol or drug use- Drug use and excessive alcohol use are often warning signs for suicide. In addition, alcoholism is a major contributor to suicide, with 1 in 3 suicides attributed to alcoholism.

- Anxiety - About half of those who are depressed have "agitated depression" with anxiety being a main symptom. Those who are agitated are more at risk for suicide because anxiety is typically uncomfortable.
- Health problems- According to the National Institute of Mental Health, individuals 65 and older are at the highest risk for depression and suicide. While depression isn't a normal part of aging, problems with vision or hearing, chronic health conditions, and a loss of independence can increase the risk.

Though many myths about depression and suicide exist, one fact is for sure – treatment helps to decrease the risk of suicide. Successful treatment of an underlying psychiatric disorder is important and can help to reduce suicidal thoughts, especially among older adults. When depression is successfully treated, thoughts of suicide usually decline. In addition, family members and friends can play a significant role in helping prevent suicide, as social support is linked to helping lower the risk of suicide.

Counseling and support groups are another way to relieve some of the burdens of stress or sadness that come along with the holiday season. For more information regarding suicide awareness and prevention, visit the National Institute of Mental Health at www.nimh.nih.gov. In addition, the Michigan Association of Community Mental Health Boards (MACMHB) and community mental health facilities across the state can provide individuals with resources and support relating to stress, depression and suicide.

If you are in a crisis or know of an individual that is in need of help, call the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline at 1-800-273-TALK. The confidential service is available to anyone, 24 hours a day, seven days a week. You can also call Third Level Crisis Intervention Center at 800-442-7315 if you need to talk to someone in the northern Michigan area.

North Country Community Mental Health provides services to residents of Antrim, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Emmet, Kalkaska and Otsego Counties experiencing a severe emotional problem, serious mental illness or developmental disability. Persons wishing to know more about the agency are encouraged to visit www.norccmh.org, or to access services call 800-834-3393.

New Year's Resolutions

By Deb Hagen-Foley

The end of the calendar year is often a time for reflection. Reflecting on all that has happened, or not happened, in the prior year. Did you achieve your goals for 2013? Did you have New Year's resolutions? How long did they last?

Most of us have made resolutions to change in some way starting January 1. Many of us, as many as 45%, make them every year. Another 17% infrequently make New Year's resolutions. Thirty-eight percent claim that they never make them. It is our chance to start over, to do better next year, to build on the progress of the current year. Of those who attempt resolutions, only 8% are successful in achieving their goal and 24% are never successful. Nearly half, 49% are sometimes successful in keeping their resolutions. Overall, making resolutions is better than not, as persons who explicitly make resolutions are ten times more likely to attain their goals than those who do not make them.

We decide that January 1 is going to be the best time to stop smoking, exercise more, or eat better. Resolving to get more sleep or reduce stress are also common. Others set goals of starting a new career, writing a book, going back to school or finding a life partner. The start of a new year has become a traditional starting point for life changes. Unfortunately, the change is often short-lived, leading some people to make the same resolution every year.

If you have not been successful improving your health-related behaviors, you are not alone. More than 80 percent of adults report they have attempted lifestyle changes without success. A 2010 survey found that fewer than one in five adults (16 percent) report success at losing weight (20 percent), starting a regular exercise program (15 percent), eating a healthier diet (10 percent), or reducing stress (7 percent) in the prior year.

Making a lasting change is more than a one-time resolution. The best intentions start to fade in the reality of behavior change. As anyone who has tried to change a habit will tell you, maintaining behavior change is difficult. If you made New Year's resolutions in January, were not successful and want to try again in 2014, this is a good time to reflect on your last attempt. Why were you not successful?

In the 2010 study mentioned previously, 78 percent of participants reported that their progress was blocked by obstacles such as willpower (33 percent), making changes by themselves (24 percent), and too much stress (20 percent). Were you unsuccessful for one of these reasons? How will you overcome that problem in your next effort? Next week, I will share guidance on improving your likelihood for success in achieving your goals in 2014.

Real Estate Corner

Question & Answers About Selling Real Estate

Is the New Neighborhood Right for You? Test Drive It!

Compliments of Mike Stark, Stark Realty, Inc. (231) 536-7700

When seeking out new areas, check them out, live and in person. If you have a vacation coming up, pick a region, rent a car, and drive around to take a look. Spend some time in the area and ask yourselves these questions.

Do people have home pride?

Houses that aren't kept up can either signal an area full of renters or a town on the decline. But if people are clearly investing in their properties, it's a great sign that they're staying put because they like the town and believe that their homes are good investments.

Who's hanging out?

Do people spend time outside? And are they the right kind of people? Do you feel comfortable saying hi to anyone? Are firefighters present at the local firehouse? Do packs of teenagers hang out on the corner? Depending on your observations, that town may or may not be a good fit.

What's the downtown vibe?

Walk through the downtown area. Visit and shop at the locally owned businesses.

What does it look like at night?

A cute neighborhood can look a lot different at night. You should walk or drive around town when the sun goes down.

Who are my future neighbors?

Make sure that your trip takes place during a weekend because that's when people are more likely going to be out and about. If there's a local coffee shop, get a cup and sit and listen because, chances are, some of these people will be your neighbors. Don't be afraid to ask them some questions.

Is the police report positive?

Ask the police department to give you a crime log. You'll see exactly what's going on, and where.

What's rush hour like?

Take the route to work when traffic is at its heaviest to find out what both of your commutes would be like during the morning and evening rush hours. Even if your dream neighborhood is 10 miles away from work, it could take much longer in traffic, and that doesn't make any homecoming welcoming.

Can we rent before we buy?

If you're still not sure and need to move ASAP, consider renting. This lets you really get to know the neighborhood before forking over a down payment.

Wonderful home on private setting close to downtown Boyne

By Jim Akans

Nestle on a just over half-acre wooded lot, this well-kept Boyne City home offers a fabulous three-bedroom, two-and-a-half bath floor plan, lots of privacy, and yet it is just a short distance to downtown and beautiful Lake Charlevoix.

The approximately 1,800 square foot design is impeccably laid out, with a large main living room featuring tongue and groove wood cathedral ceiling with skylights, an adjoining kitchen and dining space with wood flooring, a full basement with finished family room and plenty of storage area, plus the convenience of an attached two-car garage. This is a great home for those who love to entertain, as well as for those who enjoy a quiet getaway in the heart of Northern Michigan.

This custom-built home is located at 1220 Nordic Drive in Boyne City; it is listed at just $149,900. For a more information or to arrange a home tour, call Marty Moody or Chris Christensen at Lynda's Real Estate Service in Boyne City at 231-582-9555 or email at Marty@lyndas-realestateservice.com or Chris@lyndasrealestateservice.com

2014 Dodge Dart, Dodge Avenger and Chrysler 200 Sedans Each Named 2014 IIHS Top Safety Pick

The 2014 Dodge Dart, Dodge Avenger and Chrysler 200 sedans have achieved Top Safety Pick ratings from the Insurance Institute of Highway Safety (IIHS).

The announcement, made today, marks the sixth time the IIHS has commended the Avenger and 200 mid-size sedans. Meanwhile, the insurance industry organization has hailed the Dart compact sedan each year since it arrived on the market in 2012.

All three vehicles feature significant advanced-technology steel content, which enhances structural integrity. The Dart's 68 percent content ratio of high-strength steel is among the highest in the industry.

The first Chrysler Group product to utilize a vehicle architecture inspired by alliance partner Fiat S.p.A., the Dart also boasts a 5-star safety rating based on crash tests performed by the U.S. National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

To achieve a 2014 IIHS Top Safety Pick, a vehicle must achieve a rating of "good" in each of the following tests:

- moderate-overlap frontal crash
- side impact
- roof strength
- whiplash

In addition, a 2014 Top Safety Pick must rate "acceptable" or better in the IIHS' new small-overlap front crashworthiness evaluation.

The Dodge Dart, Avenger and Chrysler 200 sedans each scored "good" ratings in moderate-offset frontal crash, side impact, roof strength and whiplash. They were rated "acceptable" in the new small-overlap frontal crash test.

The Dart features 10 standard-equipment, advanced-technology airbags – a total unsurpassed in its segment.

The acclaimed compact was engineered with a class-leading total of more than 60 safety and security features. In addition to its solid structure and 10 standard air bags, the Dart features an available ParkView back-up camera, Blind-Spot Monitoring and Rear Cross Path detection, which alerts drivers to traffic that approaches the vehicle's
