Ramblers ousted by Braves in Division III softball regional final

By Chris Fiel

Boyne City 1, Gladstone 4 (championship game)

Boyne City 10, Tawas 5 (semifinal)

TRAVERSE CITY — So close.

The Boyne City softball program took that next step as they followed up last seasons Division III regional semifinal appearance, by advancing to the finals this year, before falling to Gladstone 4-1 on June 7.

The Ramblers got on the board first in the top of the opening inning as senior Rainy McCune was hit by a pitch and came all the way from first to score on a Paige Hornbeck RBI single. Hornbeck would advance to second on the Braves throw home.

The score would remain that way until the third inning when Gladstone got a leadoff single from Mikayla Depuydt and the Braves were able to plate her on a single by Tina Sharon, resulting in their first run of the contest.

Boyne City was able to put runners on in every inning but the second either via hit or walk as they threatened in the sixth inning with two runners aboard as Hornbeck and Katelyn Banner each drew walks, but were unable to move the runners.

Brooke Fouchia was able to work a walk in the top of the seventh with one out, but once again, the Ramblers were unable to advance her.

Boyne stranded seven runners in the contest.

In the bottom of the sixth, Gladstone shortstop Lexi Hongisto drew a lead-off walk, followed by Jessica Beaudry reaching on a throwing error, moving Hongisto to third on the play. Morgan Kowalski then executed a squeeze bunt, scoring Hongisto. Another Brave hit and sacrifice, followed by an RBI double by Depuydt would give Gladstone a 4-1 lead headed into the final inning of play.

Rambler sophomore Emma Shumaker took the loss, going the distance, allowing four runs (one earned) on seven hits and two walks.

At the plate, Banner, Hornbeck, McCune and Shumaker all singled for Boyne City, which closes out a 19-7 season, which includes a 13-1, co-Lake Michigan Conference championship and repeat district crown.

"We had a hard time catching up against the Gladstone pitcher," Rambler coach Sandy Clausen said. "She through hard."

Boyne City will return a majority of their lineup as the Ramblers only graduate two seniors, McCune, a three year varsity starter and Katria Wilkins.

In the semifinal opener, Boyne City jumped out to an early in the top of the first inning as McCune reached on an error and moved to third on a Hannah Hoth double. Hornbeck followed that with a two-run triple and scored herself a pitch later on a passed ball for a 3-0 lead.

Tawas would respond with a run of their own in the bottom half of the inning following a leadoff double and sacrifice fly.

The game would remain 3-1 until the Tawas third when the Lady Braves capitalized on three Rambler errors and knotted the score at 3-all.

Boyne City was quick to respond in a big way their half of the fourth, as back to back doubles by Celena Brzezinski and Banner, followed by an Emma Vondra single, setting the stage for Jordan Weiss, as the Rambler junior blasted a two-run homer over the right-center fence, giving Boyne a 7-3 lead with nobody out. The Ramblers were able to add another run in the inning as Brooke Fouchia singled and moved to third on a McCune double and scored on a passed ball for a 8-3 cushion.

In the Rambler portion of the sixth, Hoth got things going with a two-out single and then trotted around the bases as Hornbeck followed her with a two-strike, two-run blast over the left-center fence, giving Boyne a 10-3 advantage.

"Real please with how we played against Tawas," coach Clausen said. "We hit the ball well, in which we could afford to make some mistakes and not worry."

Shania Alda then led off the bottom of the sixth with a home run to left field, pulling Tawas to within 10-4, following that, the Lady Braves could only muster one more run, as that came in their half of the seventh on a two out double by Courtney Flory and a deep fly ball that was misjudged by the Rambler centerfielder off the bat of Jordyn Look.

Shumaker, who picked up the win in the circle, forced the next hitter to hit a high pop-up to short left field, where the shortstop, Brzezinski made the grab and held on as both left and center fielders Weiss and McCune converged and the three tumbled over each other, pushing the Ramblers into the title game.

Offensively for BC, Hornbeck finished with two hits, including the home run and triple and four RBI, to lead the 11 hit attack; while Hoth and Banner both finished with two hits, including doubles; Weiss added her two-run shot; McCune doubled; while Brzezinski, Emma Vondra and Fouchia all added singles, with Vondra picking up an RBI.

Shumaker allowed four runs (one earned) on six hits, walked one and tallied seven K's.

"Overall very proud of the girls, we had a great season and look forward to our future seasons," Clausen added.

Boyne City falls to Gladstone in Division III regional baseball finals

Strong pitching effort by Boyne's Willis not enough to overcome No. 2 ranked Braves

By Chris Fiel

Boyne City 2, Gladstone 5 (championship game)

Boyne City 11, Whitmore-Prescott 5 (semifinal)

TRAVERSE CITY — The Boyne City High School baseball team exceeded everyone's expectations by advancing to the regional round, and then proved they belonged there as they ousted Whitmore-Prescott in the semifinal 11-5, before falling to eventual champion and Division III No. 2 ranked Gladstone, 5-2.

In the championship contest, the Braves were able to get on the board first in the opening two innings as they were able to push across two runs in each frame for a 4-0 lead. They would add their final run of the day in the bottom of the fourth.

"We allowed them to score all five of their runs with two outs and we left a lot of runners on base," Boyne first year coach Mark Pontoni said. "One key play in the field and one key hit at the plate and we'd still be playing this week...that's how close that came was."

The Ramblers would score a pair of runs in the top half of the fifth inning as sophomores Colton Sieradski and Derek Willis each knocked in a run to pull Boyne to within 5-2, but the Ramblers would strand the pair on the basepath. Boyne would once again put the pressure on Gladstone in the top of the sixth as they had runners on second and third with no outs, but an outstanding diving play by Brave pitcher Jake Peterson and a throw home would gun down Rambler James Roberson, a pinch runner trying to score from third. Peterson would send the next two BC hitters down to end the inning.

Rambler sophomore Tanner Kruzal took the loss, tossing three and two thirds innings, allowing five runs on seven hits and six walks, while fanning six. Fellow sophomore Derek Willis came on in relief of Kruzal, going the final two and a third innings, allowing no runs on no hits, no walks and striking out three.

"Derek threw two and a third perfect innings against Gladstone and I'm willing to bet not many pitchers could make that claim," coach Pontoni added.

Offensively for the Ramblers, Willis and Maceo Vroman each pounded out two hits, while Max Cuper doubled and Spencer Binkley, Jordan Fair, Jeff Miller and Sieradski all singled. Boyne would strand seven runners in the contest.

Peterson went the distance for the Braves on the mound, allowing two runs on nine hits, granting one walk and striking out nine.

Peterson and Hunter Garling led the Gladstone offense with two hits each, with Peterson picking up a pair of RBI's.

"Going forward we have to only fill two holes next year, but they are big holes," coach Pontoni added. "Jordan Fair, who is off to play college ball in Minnesota, and Chandler Roberts, our outstanding left fielder, will be missed. There are a lot of reasons to be excited about Rambler baseball, but the guys will soon find out that what they accomplished this year is going to raise expectations next year."

Boyne City finishes the season 14-10, while Gladstone improves to 28-4.

In the Ramblers opening regional semifinal contest against Whitmore-Prescott, it took them a little while to get untracked, trailing 2-1 following one inning of play, but managed to knot things up at 2-2 after scoring another run in the top of the second.

Boyne would explode for four runs in the fourth, three in the fifth and added two more insurance runs in the top of sixth, and then had to withstand a two run seventh by the Cardinals before coming away with the victory.

Leading the Boyne City 13-hit attack at the plate was Sieradski and Kruzal with three hits and three RBI's each, while Jeff Miller added a pair of singles and two runs batted in.

"Colton Sieradski was pulled up from JV to make his first varsity start in the first game," Boyne coach Mark Pontoni said. "Dalton Gardner (starting shortstop) had to miss the tournament because he was best man in his brother's wedding. Colton played like he's been the varsity shortstop all year. He had a great day at the plate and was not over-matched at all in the field. One of the great things about high school athletics is seeing young men given an opportunity and watching them run with it."

Also for Ramblers; Willis, Cuper, Binkley, Roberts and Vroman all finished with one hit, with Roberts being a double.

Willis started and worked five innings of eight hit ball, allowing three runs (two earned), walking none and striking out six. Miller pitched the final two innings for the Ramblers, giving up two runs on two hits, one walk and fanned three.

"Our bats really woke up halfway through the game," coach Pontoni said. "It was great to see key hits and great base running. We built up a big enough lead that it allowed me to pull Derek Willis, our starting pitcher, in case we needed him in game two."

Drs. Oz and Roizen

Television's Dr. Oz and Cleveland Clinic's Dr. Roizen report on health, wellness and quality of life.

FOOD OR MEDICINE? HOW TO HAVE BOTH

MICHAEL ROIZEN, M.D., AND MEHMET OZ, M.D.

More than one in three Americans has a chronic health condition such as diabetes, high blood pressure or arthritis (by age 65, it's 95 percent), and 33 percent of you (around 44 million) face a stark financial choice: food or medicine. That's the conclusion of a troubling new Harvard Medical School study that checked the health records and daily habits of almost 10,000 women and men living with ongoing health problems such as asthma, chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, heart disease or the aftermath of a stroke or cancer treatment.

It's a dangerous reality. Stopping or skimping on meds lets chronic conditions become worse, boosting your risk for ER visits, hospital stays and higher health costs. Case in point: People with high LDL cholesterol, high blood pressure and/or diabetes who don't take all their medications as directed can increase their yearly out-of-pocket health-care costs by more than $600! And while noncompliance with prescribed medicine regimens happens for many reasons, personal financial constraints are a major contributor to the $100 billion to $300 billion extra it costs the U.S. health-care system annually to handle the repercussions of missed or lax treatment.

Soaring drug prices (even for some generics), increased deductibles, co-pays and co-insurance rates that are too high (an issue for some people even with new insurance plans) and lack of insurance -- still the situation for 13 percent of Americans -- are all to blame. And so is the taboo about talking with your doctor about the cost of prescribed drugs. Just one in three docs brings it up, and at least half of us aren't comfortable discussing our financial hardships with our physician or office staff. It's time to break the ice, and get the care you need and deserve. We hope these six steps can help:

Talk about your budget. Take a deep breath next time your doc mentions your meds, then ask: "Is there a lower-priced alternative that would work for me?" And if you're already stuck with a pricey prescription, call your doc with this question or ask your pharmacist. If you discover at the pharmacy that a drug costs too much, don't just walk away. Your pharmacist can check with your doc and may be able to substitute a more affordable generic on the spot.

Ask about generics. Generic drugs can cost 30 percent to 95 percent less than brand versions, and in most cases the medications are equally effective. Also, many chains such as Costco, RiteAid and Walgreens offer a large assortment of generic meds at rock-bottom prices.

Double-check your health plan's drug coverage. Before you go to the pharmacy, check with your health insurance provider to see if it covers the brand name or generic meds you need and how much each costs.

Don't let your doc lock you into brands that offer freebies and samples. Drug samples and drug-company coupons are short-term money-savers when there's no affordable alternative. But when it comes time to give you a longer prescription, they may cause your doctor to overlook less-pricey alternatives and generic versions that would be just as good for you.

Be choosy about discount cards. While some drug discount cards offer true savings, last year the federal government cracked down on several that were scamming Medicare members. Before signing up for a card, find out about fees and limits on benefits, and ask your pharmacist if it covers the medications you use, at a savings.

Look into assistance programs. If you don't have any drug coverage, or if you need an expensive medication you just can't afford, several organizations can help you look for assistance programs. Most are run by pharmaceutical companies. Three we like are Partnership for Prescription Assistance (www.pparx.org), RxAssist (www.rxassist.org) and Needy Meds (www.needy meds.org). Some states also have pharmaceutical assistance programs; contact your state's department of health for more information. If you're on Social Security and/or Medicare, you may qualify for "Extra Help." Go to medicare.gov for more information.

Are you sitting down? Stand up!

Deb Hagen-Foley

You are probably sitting as you are reading this. I am sitting as I am writing this. We should both stand up. If you regularly read this column, you know that I frequently write about the importance of regular physical activity. I have described the value of varying your workouts and incorporating cardiovascular activity, strength training and flexibility into your workouts to increase overall fitness.

Exercise is good for you; 30-minutes per day of moderate exercise is the standard recommendation. Regular exercise has multiple benefits: Lower blood pressure, improved cardiovascular health and metabolism and improving your ability to deal with stress. Now researchers are finding that daily exercise cannot counteract the effects of a sedentary lifestyle.

Many of us have sedentary jobs. When we are not working, we are sitting down to dinner or watching television. The more time you spend sitting, the less you are physically active. Inactivity is a health risk comparable to smoking. Inactivity, sitting for nine or more hours per day, increases the likelihood of long-term disability. Using data from the National Health and Nutrition Examination Surveys, including health data for 2286 adults aged 60 and over, researchers found that people spent nine hours per day sitting, on average. Nine hours out of their 14 waking hours spent sitting, for almost two-thirds of the sample.

The more time people spent sitting, the more likely they were to become disabled. Sitting for twelve hours per day meant a six percent risk of disability in this sample. Each additional hour spent sitting increased the likelihood of disability requiring assistance with activities of daily living.

Research from the Uni-

Using an exercise ball rather than a desk chair is one way to begin to counteract the negative impact of a sedentary lifestyle. PHOTO BY DEB HAGEN-FOLEY versity of South Carolina found similar results. In a study of adult men, those who spent more time sitting were more likely to die of heart disease. Men who were sedentary for more than 23 hours per week had a 64 percent greater risk of dying from heart disease than those who were sedentary for less than 11 hours per week.

Our bodies were designed to move, not for long sedentary periods. Some recommendations to get moving: Stand up and move around on an hourly basis - even a minute an hour can make a difference. Stand up, take a few steps, march in place, dance around, if you can. In a long meeting, stand up and stretch. If you spend hours at a desk, sit on an exercise ball instead of a desk chair (I'll be using mine tomorrow). Take the stairs instead of the elevator. Park further away from your destination. Set an alarm to remind you to move around every hour. In your non-working hours, find reasons to be more active. If you are watching television, move around, walk on a treadmill, or lift weights.

Encourage your family to do the same. Now, if you will excuse me, I have to get moving - and so do you!

Automotive Review

Dodge Unleashes Most Powerful Challenger Ever

The newly consolidated Dodge and SRT brands are launching out of the gate at full throttle, introducing the new 600-plus horsepower 2015 Dodge Challenger SRT with a Hellcat engine and its stablemate – the 2015 Dodge Challenger SRT – just one month after taking the wraps off the new Dodge Challenger 392 HEMI® Scat Pack Shaker at the New York Auto Show.

Driven by the five SRT performance hallmarks, the new 2015 Dodge Challenger SRT and Challenger SRT with the Hellcat engine are re-designed and totally re-engineered to be the most true-to-form muscle coupes on the market with performance-enhancing technologies inside and out. The Dodge Challenger SRT Hellcat will feature the most powerful V-8 engine ever produced by Chrysler Group – the supercharged 6.2-liter HEMI V-8.

“The new 2015 Dodge Challenger SRT Hellcat is the ultimate performance muscle car,” said Tim Kuniskis, President and CEO – Dodge Brand, Chrysler Group LLC. “Dodge is the Mainstream Performance brand, and now combined with SRT, we are able to unleash a true GT car with an all-new driver-focused interior and the TorqueFlite eight-speed transmission combined with the most powerful V-8 Chrysler has ever produced. The Challenger Hellcat has been released!”

Dodge and SRT designers and engineers spent 35 percent more time in the Chrysler Group’s full-scale wind tunnel in Auburn Hills, Michigan, (compared with the previous-generation Dodge Challenger SRT) developing and further refining the aggressive and functional exteriors on the Challenger SRT and Challenger SRT Hellcat. The result is a re-engineered Challenger capable of maximum aerodynamic performance for spirited driving on the road or the racetrack.

At the front, new fascia designs and all-new vertical-split grille provide a menacing update of its 1971 inspiration. A larger, power-bulge aluminum hood features a dedicated “cold-air” intake – a visual styling cue from the first Viper coupe built in 1996.

The hood on the new Dodge Challenger SRT with a Hellcat engine also includes dual air extractors to ensure effective removal of heat and reduced air turbulence in the engine compartment. The hood is standard in body color and is available in a Satin Black finish. Both models of the Challenger SRT feature all-aluminum hoods designed to reduce weight.

Another key design element on the Challenger SRT Hellcat is the exclusive Air Catcher inlet port, which feeds ram-air directly into the engine air box through the driver-side parking lamp. All-new quad projector headlamps give a more detailed appearance, while a more aggressive brow “chops” the upper portion of the lamp design for an even more sinister attitude.

From the side, the signature muscular proportions and large thruster rear-quarter panels stand out from the crowd, while fender and belt lines tie together at the front and rear of the car to create a sleeker appearance. Differentiating the Challenger SRT Hellcat from the rest of the Challenger lineup are its “SUPERCHARGED” fender badges. Black sills accentuate the proportions of the muscle coupe and have been tuned in the wind tunnel to improve aerodynamics.

Out back, the 2015 Dodge Challenger SRT recalls the historic 1971 model’s styling with a new split tail-lamp design and rear fascia. The tail lamps feature the new signature LED graphic with its smooth glow of light that can be seen from blocks away. A re-designed rear valance helps the 2015 Challenger SRT models look more planted on the ground. A unique, taller rear spoiler on the SRT Hellcat features a raised SRT logo.

Inside the 2015 Dodge Challenger is an all-new enthusiast-centric cockpit with world-class materials, execution and technology. Key elements are inspired by the interior of the 1971 Challenger. The performance cockpit of the 2015 Dodge Challenger SRT carries an essence of the 1971 Challenger, in an artistic and more organically styled way.

The 2015 Dodge Challenger SRT coupes will be built at the Brampton (Ont.) Assembly plant. Production is scheduled to begin in the third quarter of 2014.

Real Estate Corner

Question & Answers About Selling Real Estate

What Homeowners' Insurance Discounts Are You Missing?

Compliments of Mike Stark, Coldwell Banker Schmidt Realtors East Jordan. (231) 536-7700

SCHMIDT REALTORS

Part 2 of 2

3) Home Maintenance—You may be able to qualify for an age of wiring discount depending on how old your wiring is. Is your roof resistant to hail? Roofing is graded as Class 1 through Class 4. Class 4 roofs are often eligible for discount. New pipes can also qualify you for a discount. Do you have handrails installed alongside your staircases? If you have a pool is it surrounded with a fence at a gate? Safety measures also can count toward your policy. If your home was recently renovated or is newer that may entitle you to a discount. Older homes can be retrofitted with materials that make them more earthquake and weather resistant.

4) Policyholder Discounts—If you haven't filed a home insurance claim in the last 10 years you may want to ask about a discount. Homeowners who haven't made a claim can often get as much as a 20% reduction. If you are older and retired you may also be entitled to a discount. Bundling your home insurance with other policies can also yield a savings as can being a long-term policyholder. Another money-saving factor you may consider is raising your deductible, which can lower your premium but make sure that in the event you need to use your insurance policy that your budget will accommodate a higher deductible.

In today's competitive market, it's important to shop around, because you may receive disparate quotes on policies that offer essentially the same coverage. Check consumer guides, insurance agents, companies and online insurance quote services. This will give you an idea of price ranges and tell you which companies have the lowest prices.

East Jordan area three-bedroom ranch in a beautiful, country setting

By Jim Akans

Situated on a beautiful, eight-acre country setting just a few miles outside of East Jordan, this spacious, nicely maintained three-bedroom ranch home is an ideal spot to enjoy a lifestyle of serenity and nature.

This approximately 1,560 square foot home has a wonderful, open floor plan that is perfect for entertaining as well as for the family. Amenities include central air conditioning, gorgeous wood flooring and tongue and groove wall in the living room, u-shaped kitchen with an abundance of wood cabinetry and countertop space, wood wainscot in the dining area, corner soaker tub in the master bath and much more.

Outdoors, the views of the Northern Michigan countryside are breathtaking and can be enjoyed from open decks on both the front and the rear of the home. The attached two-and-a-half car garage is insulated and heated, an ideal spot for a home workshop.

Located at 2403 West M-32

near East Jordan, this sharp, spacious ranch in a beautiful country setting is listed at $149,000. For additional information or to arrange for a tour, please call Jennifer Burr at Coldwell Banker Schmidt - East Jordan at 231-536-7700 or email Jennifer.burr@cbgreatlakes.com
