EAST JORDAN FOOTBALL SEASON PREVIEW

Red Devils look to continue last year's success on the Gridiron

Solid returning cast mixing well with talented youth

By Chris Fiel

EAST JORDAN — The fall sports season is finally upon us. The 2013-14 school year was twelve months of great accomplishments for East Jordan athletics, and that success all began with the resurgence of the football program that put in the work and time necessary to form the building blocks of a successful program. Last seasons Red Devil football team began the year by reeling off three straight victories over TC Christian, Hillman and Harbor Springs. Those three victories resulted in EJ outscoring their opponents 117-32, and doing so in convincing fashion with a mixture of speed to go along with a pound and ground running game as well as a deep threat aerial attack. And don't forget a well disciplined smash mouth defensive front, complemented by a glue like secondary. East Jordan would cool off as they hit the heart of their schedule, but they remained competitive in each of their league contests and would finish the season with a 5-4 record, just missing the postseason, it was their first winning campaign in over a decade. This year the Red Devils will take on a new look as some long-time key players have graduated, but they do return a lot of talent in the form of Jordan Peterson, who will call the plays from under center as well as shore up the secondary. Noah Raymond will set up shop on both sides of the offensive line as a tight end and defensive end, respectfully. Herchel Sutton returns to his tackle and linebacker positions, while Andrew Drenth will mirror Raymond on the opposite end of the lines. Also back are linemen Alex Herriman and Hunter Stowe. "We had some real good numbers at our pre-conditioning this summer, but most of the kids were young," East Jordan coach Allan Peterson said. Up from last seasons JV squad are Bob Sherman, James Brown, while some of the newcomers for this year include Jorel McCoy, Izic Inman and Riley Kliber. "This team seems to be a lot of workers and they don't complain much," coach Peterson added. "I think the new league (The Northern Michigan Football League. Division II) will be good for us because of our size." "We will still play Boyne City and Elk Rapids from the other league (Division I), so not much has changed as far as rivals." In addition to their new non-conference rivals, the Red Devils will be competing in the NMFL Division II along with neighboring Charlevoix, Frankfort, Harbor Springs, Kalkaska and Suttons Bay.

"This team seems to be a lot of workers and they don't complain much. I think the new league (The Northern Michigan Football League. Division II) will be good for us because of our size."

CHARLEVOIX FOOTBALL SEASON PREVIEW

Rayders looking to showcase toughness with physicality

Senior leadership to carry team

By Chris Fiel

CHARLEVOIX — A new season. Same focus.

The 2014 Charlevoix Rayder football program has a full season under their belts running second-year coach Ron Bindi's offense and it's starting to show.

"The kids are getting a lot more familiar with the offense," Bindi said. "Combine that with the coaching staff being together for the same time period and things are starting to come together."

Bindi also notes that the numbers have improved from last fall as the Rayders will suit up over twenty student-athletes, comprised of a majority of upper-classmen.

"The numbers will help us a lot, especially late in games when we were getting tired last season, we will now be able to rotate people in and give the kids breaks" the coach added.

bigger schools as well as some individuals took part in camps at Northern Michigan and Ferris State.

"The kids got after it at camp and didn't shy away against the bigger schools," Bindi said. "Our toughness and ability to play physical will help determine our success."

"We had quite a few guys take ownership and take part in summer workouts," he added. "They came into camp knowing what was expected of them, and by that, our practices have been a lot crisper as we have a lot to prove. Our team goal is to be better than last year."

The Rayders will return seven seasoned veterans on offense as well as six on defense.

"The senior leadership has been great, they're definitely ahead of the game and leading the team," Bindi noted.

Charlevoix football players go through drills during the first week of practice.

Some of the key offensive returnees include: quarterback Nate Moon; running backs Bryan

Noiro and Sam Hovie; linemen Adam Michaud, Andrew Michaud, Devin Largent and

Spencer Bruce; and wideout Will Telgenhof. Junior Austin Putman will also be looked at to produce from his end position and another key component will be running back Ben Boss, a junior who played on the JV last fall.

Those same players along with a slew of others will be counted on to keep opposing offenses off the field for extended periods of time.

"Our schedule is tough, there are no easy dates on it," he said. "Frankfort, Suttons Bay, etc.. those are good football programs."

"We're more experienced with all the playing time the kids got last season." "All we have to do is get after it like we're capable of and take care of business. Now we just have to go and prove it."

The Rayders open the season in Elk Rapids on August 28 at 7pm.

"We had quite a few guys take ownership and take part in summer workouts," he added. "They came into camp knowing what was expected of them, and by that, our practices have been a lot crisper as we have a lot to prove. Our team goal is to be better than last year."

By Chris Fiel

Rayders finish runner up at Pellston Invitational

PELLSTON -- The Charlevoix Rayder volleyball kicked off the 2014 season with a strong showing by finishing runner-up at the Pellston Invitational on August 23.

In pool play the Rayders defeated Harbor Light 25-14, 25-14; then downed Inland Lakes 25-10, 25-12; beat Central Lake 25-15, 25-15; before being challenged by Cheboygan but able to power past the Chiefs 14-25, 25-19, 16-14.

As the top seed in pool play, Charlevoix received a first round bye in bracket play where they met the Trojans once again and delivered the same results, 25-12, 22-25, 15-10.

In the finals against Kingsley, after a hard fought match, the Stags were able to pull out a 25-27 win, in the second set the Rayders responded with a 25-21 win. In the third and final set, Charlevoix battled their way to an 11-8 advantage, but some solid play from Kingsley led to a 12-12 tie, before the Stags were able to pull out a tough 15-12 win.

"I'm very proud of the girls that for their first outing of the season, they captured a second place in a field of 10 teams," Rayder coach Audra Randall said. "Madeline Boss earned a spot on the all tournament team with her outstanding play throughout the day."

Boss would lead the Rayders with 57 kills, 20 digs, 15 aces and seven blocks on the day, while Gloria Greene added 45 assists, 14 kills, 19 digs, seven aces and seven blocks.

Also for the Ramblers, Ashlyn Kartes finished with 72 assists, 14 digs, six kills, 12 aces and one block, while Morgan Weldon added 17 digs and was credited by Boyne assistant coach Ashley Heyboer with "outstanding hustle, she came in trying to get to every ball."

Carly Kruzal added 21 digs and seven aces, Madison Reynolds had four kills, four digs and four blocks, and Taylor Carrow finished with three assists and 11 aces and displayed great leadership on the court.

"We really had some great moments," coach Heyboer said. "It's going to be fun to see what we're capable of when it all comes together."

Lancers, Loggers runners also put on strong showing in Division IV

By Chris Fiel

CENTRAL LAKE — It may be early in the season, but a lot can be learned from one event as a pair of Lake Michigan Conference teams showed they look to be towards the top after a 1-2 finish in each race of the two-mile Ryan Shay Memorial Cross Country race on August 23.

The top 15 runners in each race earned medals.

In the Division III race the Boyne City and Charlevoix cross country teams started out strong in the first meet of the season as the Rambler and Rayder and boys finished tied at 36 points apiece, using the tie-breaker (each team sixth man's place) Charlevoix edged Boyne by one second to take home first place.

In the girls race, the Rayder girls raced to victory with 31 points, while the Ramblers took second with 48. A great start to the season for each team.

In the girls race, Charlevoix's Amber Way paced the field with her first place time of 11:46.4. Leroy-Pine River's Cheyanna Rizer and Olivia Thompson finished second and third respectively in times of 14:17.5 and 14:55.0.

Iron Man golf tournament Sept. 6

Joppa House invites our fellow Chamber members and members of the community to golf in the Iron Man Golf Tournament at the Charlevoix Country Club on Saturday, September 6th. This tournament is a fun way to raise money for Joppa House which is now housing women and children.

To get involved, a golfer pays a $55 registration fee, which includes their lunch, dinner and use of a golf cart. Then ask family, friends, co-workers, employers to sponsor you - either by the hole or for a set amount. From dawn to dusk, the iron men and women golf as many holes as they wish.

For this event to be wildly successful, we are looking for at least 25 businesses to commit one staff member to golf and their peers to sponsor them. If a business is without golfers, hole sponsorships are available. You do not have to be associated with a business to golf. Anyone is welcome to golf and/or sponsor.

For more information or to register please call 231.881.7335 or visit us on Facebook at .

10 driver-friendly features the Ford F-150 team thought of so customers wouldn't have to

There are 10 features of the all-new 2015 Ford F-150 pickup that were designed to satisfy customers without them ever even noticing.

"If I do my job, the customer simply intuitively that things are right – both inside and outside of his truck – without even having to think about it," said Cary Diehl, Ford human factors engineer, who worked on the design and development of the all-new F-150.

The 10 things F-150 engineers thought of:

1. Hard buttons on keypad: Designers wanted smooth capacitive touch keypad buttons on the outside of the driver-side door, but pickup truck drivers prefer tactile feedback, allowing easier usability for when they're wearing gloves. For customers who wear bifocals, hard buttons also enable input by feel, instead of having to tilt their head back to read numerals.

2. Beltline armrest on front doors: The beltline on the front doors is wide enough to accommodate most arms with the window up. The feature could be considered an armrest, and is at the same height as the center armrest.

3. Sculpted, finger relief inside door handle for easy hold: When grabbing the inside handle, the hand is already holding the door – a helpful feature to avoid losing control of the door on a windy day.

4. Buttons clustered for ease of use: Customer surveys showed a strong preference for controls clustered together. All lighting controls – headlamps, side spotlights, bed light – are grouped together on the left-hand side of the instrument panel, while all radio controls are to the right and below with the climate controls. Towing and other controls are to the right of the steering wheel as well.

5. Steering wheel feel: Finger indents remain on the back side of the steering wheel, a feature that on some competitor trucks is now smooth. These indents allow a lighter feel on the wheel for ease of maneuverability, especially when backing up a trailer or off-roading.

6. MyView productivity screen

customization: Because each customers uses the truck differently, the importance of specific features can vary. The truck is the "multi-tool" of vehicles. Some truck owners haul produce to farmers markets, while others tow horse trailers or go off-roading, making it tricky sometimes for engineers to determine the most essential information to include in the instrument cluster. Ford's solution is MyView, which allows truck customers to sort and organize their top seven favorite gauges in the cluster on the 2015 F-150's 8-inch screen. One button click can shift between individual tire pressure, trailer information, off-road mode or trip fuel – whichever their favorites are.

7. Entertainment information exclusively in center stack: Ford made a data-driven decision to not include any radio or entertainment features in the instrument panel cluster behind the steering wheel. "Our customers were adamant that trucks are different from cars, and vehicle information is essential," Diehl explained. "Their truck is their tool, and they need to know what it's doing. Other stuff can be in the center of the dashboard, or what we call the center stack." The only entertainment information that appears in the instrument cluster of the F-150 are incoming calls and turn-by-turn directions.

F-150's traditional, four-spoke design allows for a comfortable grip on the lower portion of the steering wheel. Other pickup truck manufacturers have closed off the bottom portion of the steering wheel.

9. Grooves in tailgate handle: For ease of grip and use, grooves in the tailgate handle allow a customer to open and close the tailgate with one hand.

10. Large box step: Ford made sure there was enough surface area on the box step of F-150 for a customer to place a full-size work boot – both to stand on the step and to push it back under the bed when not in use.

From nose to tailgate, the 2015 F-150 is an entirely new vehicle, right down to its signature feature – an all-new, fully boxed ladder frame with more high-strength steel than ever to make the truck stronger yet lighter. For the first time, high-strength, military-grade, aluminum alloys are used throughout the F-150 body. These alloys, already used in aerospace, commercial transportation and other industries, make the new truck's body lighter, stronger and more resistant to dents. Overall, F-150 is up to 700 pounds lighter, helping it tow and haul more, accelerate and stop faster, and operate more efficiently.

Steps to get your lawn ready for fall

PART 3 OF 3

5. Fill in bald spots

Autumn is also a great time of year to fix any bare, bald spots in your lawn. The quickest, easiest way to do this is with an all-in-one lawn-repair mixture. Sold at most garden shops and home centers, this ready-to-use mixture contains grass seed, a special quick-starter lawn fertilizer and organic mulch.

Use a garden rake to scratch loose the soil at the bald spot in your lawn. Then spread a thick layer of the lawn repair mixture over the area. Lightly compact the mixture, then water thoroughly, and continue to water every other day for two weeks.

Read the package label before use. Most herbicide manufacturers recommend applying the weed-killer in early to mid autumn, when daytime temperatures are consistently above 60 degrees.

6. Control the weeds

If broadleaf weeds such as dandelions have taken over your lawn, now's the time to fight back. Weeds,
