Rayders bounce back with big 39-21 win over Comets

By Chris Fiel

Charlevoix 39, Coleman 21

CHARLEVOIX — The Charlevoix football team responded from a loss to Boyne City the previous week with a convincing 39-21 victory over Coleman on Saturday, September 13.

The game didn't start out like the Rayders had planned as the spread offense of the Comets manufactured a scoring drive just about three minutes into the contest for a 7-0 Coleman lead.

"We came out not focused and lost concentration early, but we got it back and they kids responded well," Charlevoix coach Ron Bindi said. "I was really pleased with how we came back from the early adversity."

Charlevoix would respond with a drive of their own, highlighted by the rushing of senior Sam Hovie who would make his way to within the 5-yard line, one play later, junior Justin Adkins would punch it in for a Rayder score, with an unsuccessful point after attempt, Charlevoix would trail 7-6.

Following a Comet turnover on down, the Rayders would once again look to Hovie and the ground game to bring them within sight of the goal line. Hovie would help move the ball down to the Comet one-foot line, but Charlevoix was unable to score on four unsuccessful plays, turning it back over to Coleman.

The Comets would then bust through the middle of the defense, resulting in a 99-yard touchdown run and following a two-point conversion, extending their lead to 15-6.

Charlevoix would respond with another big drive as the Hovie and Adkins combination proved to be too much for the Comets to stop with Adkins crossing the goal line for his second score of the day, with a successful two-point conversion of their own, the Rayders trailed 15-14.

With under two minutes before intermission the Rayders would recover a Comet fumble and the offense got to work as Rayder quarterback, Nate Moon found sure handed tight end Austin Putman for a 27-yard touchdown reception and a 21-15 Charlevoix lead at the break.

Hovie would continue to lead the rushing attack in the second half as he blasted through for a pair of touchdown runs, sandwiched around another Moon to Putman TD reception. A diving 33-yard reception from Moon to Ben Boss along the right sideline highlighted the Putman scoring drive.

The Rayder offense was led by Hovie, who tallied 192 yards rushing on 18 attempts and two scores and Malcolm Williams added 43 yards on four carries.

Also for Charlevoix, Moon finished 7-of-14 passing for 129 yards and two touchdowns, Boss hauled in four passes for 80 yards, while Putman had the two touchdown receptions totalling 41 yards. Adkins finished with two scores rushing.

Hunter Cox booted an extra point and the Rayders also converted a two-point conversion on a Moon to Putman pass.

The Rayder defense was led by Putman with eight tackles.

"Our secondary played really well," coach Bindi added. "The kids did what they needed to do, they played the coverages they were supposed to, everyone played well."

Charlevoix travels to Grayling on September 19, game time is 7 p.m.

"It was another physical game against another well coached team," Boyne City coach Dave Hills said. "We knew they would move the ball with their running game, but our kids put pressure

Kalkaska 6, East Jordan 0

KALKASKA — In their first Northern Michigan Football League II contest, the East Jordan Red Devils came up just short in falling to Kalkaska 6-0 on September 12.

The Red Devil defense played lockdown coverage the entire night as they limited the Blue Blazers to six total yards for the game.

"Our defense played very well," EJ coach Allan Peterson said. "Wyatt Crick, Bob Sherman, Hershel Sutton and Trey Peterson had an interception and just about everyone recovered a fumble."

The only scoring that took place in the contest came on a Jake Kies 70-yard fumble return at 7:32 of the first quarter for a 6-0 Blazer lead.

Both teams would find little success on the moving the ball throughout the contest as the would combine for 15 turnovers (14 fumbles, eight Kalkaska, six East Jordan).

The Red Devils, 0-3, would finish 99 yards of total offense, all coming on the ground, led by Ryan Graham's 30 yards on 21 carries, Noah Raymond tallied 26 yards on two attempts, while Trey Peterson added 15 yards rushing on 14 carries.

"They stopped us inside the five once and we stopped ourselves once, so we had our chances," coach Peterson added. "We need to keep getting better and clear up some mistakes and we will be ok."

Defensively Michael Suess recorded 11 tackles, while Sutton had nine and Sherman added seven.

East Jordan hosts Rudyard in a non-conference battle on September 18, game time is 7 p.m. at Boswell Stadium.

Designers of the 2015 Ford F-150 had a challenging goal to meet when they set out to re-imagine the world's best-selling pickup: Create an aerodynamic, efficient design that did not compromise the tough, bold looks that define Ford trucks. IMAGE COPYRIGHT FORD MOTOR COMPANY

How Ford engineers made the all-new F-150 toughest-looking, most aerodynamically efficient F-150 ever

Designers of the 2015 Ford F-150 had a challenging goal to meet when they set out to re-imagine the world's best-selling pickup: Create an aerodynamic, efficient design that did not compromise the tough, bold looks that define Ford trucks. The team succeeded.

The new F-150's structured look features squared-off edges, shapes and surfaces that convey confidence, capability and work readiness. Yet these elements also work together to allow F-150 to slip through the air more efficiently.

"The truck's sharp, boxy shape gives it a tough appearance, but actually the key to the design is aerodynamic efficiency - getting the most out of the shape," said Brad Richards, Ford F-150 exterior design manager. "We made F-150 look tough and capable, while also reducing wind resistance."

Richards and team accomplished the feat of balancing strength and efficiency by incorporating sharp edges into the overall design. The strategically designed edges convey toughness, but also enable airflow to hug the surfaces at the front portion of the truck. Rear corners are designed to allow the air to cleanly detach from the vehicle to reduce turbulence and swirling air that can cause drag and reduce efficiency.

The improved aerodynamics help increase efficiency by reducing the work performed by the engine to overcome aerodynamic drag. The grille is vertical, yet its outer portions are angled back and lead to the headlamps and bumper corners that are also swept back to smoothly direct airflow down the sides, reducing drag. The beveled leading edge of the hood helps promote smooth airflow to the windshield and roof.

As the design of the all-new F-150 evolved with clay models, wind tunnel testing enabled designers to see where they could gain greater aerodynamic efficiencies:

- Flush-mounted windshield eliminates need for molding that would disrupt smooth airflow

- Tailgate top is designed to act as a spoiler, giving air that flows off the roof a place to land before smoothly trailing off, reducing turbulence behind the truck

- Cargo box is narrower than the cab, with no reduction in box volume, which enhances airflow, while a trim piece prevents air from getting trapped between cab and box

- Rear corners including tail-lamps are precisely angled so air breaks off cleanly, reducing turbulence behind the truck

- The duct under the headlamp channels air through to the wheel housing and reduces the wake generated from the wheel.

"Testing in the wind tunnel helped us fine-tune a happy medium between styling, aerodynamics, engineering and cost," said Richards. "We learned where we could push shape and design to reduce drag, and where to stop when we weren't gaining anything."

"The shapes, lines, angles and motifs are much stronger on the all-new F-150, and the chiseled edges convey toughness," said Richards. "The hallmark beltline along the outside mirrors is the strongest piece of Built Ford Tough DNA. That's inspired by heavy equipment such as cranes and bulldozers. It looks good, but it also improves driver visibility." had a challenging goal to meet when they set out to re-imagine the world's best-selling pickup: Create an aerodynamic, efficient design that did not compromise the tough, bold looks that define Ford trucks.

Question & Answers About Selling Real Estate

Hidden Costs of Homeownership

Compliments of Mike Stark, Coldwell Banker Schmidt Realtors East Jordan. (231) 536-7700

SCHMIDT REALTORS

You've traded in renting for owning. So now what?

You may be surprised to find out that there is more money involved in owning a house than just taking out a home loan and making your monthly payments.

What you weren't responsible for as a renter becomes all yours as a homeowner. Property taxes, utilities, home maintenance and repairs, insurance and even decorating in any way you choose are all on you now, for better or worse. And if you live in an association or in other types of communities where special property taxes are assessed, you'll have to contend with that, too.

Let's break it down.

Closing Costs

Closing costs can add on thousands of dollars when your loan is settled. Those fees are often negotiated and vary state-by-state. As a buyer you may be responsible for a portion of them or the seller may assume all of them. The expense may be written into the offer so that the buyer doesn't have to come up with the cash.

Property Taxes

Your property taxes are the principal source of revenue for municipalities, counties and school districts. The United States average for property taxes is 1.38 percent of the home's value with the highest rates in New Jersey, Connecticut, New Hampshire, New York and Rhode Island and the lowest in Louisiana, Alabama, West Virginia, Mississippi, and Arkansas. Additionally, there are variances within counties, parishes, boroughs and the like.

If you live in a condo or a community that assesses its residents a special tax, such as a condo development, you will have fees on top of your property taxes.

Find out what your annual obligations are and budget accordingly. Otherwise, you'll have a shock when those taxes and fees become due.

Private Mortgage Insurance

If your down payment was less than 20 percent of the purchase price, you will be required to buy Private Mortgage Insurance. PMI enables you to buy a house with a smaller down payment. The insurance protects the lender against you defaulting on the loan. Once you have sufficient equity in the house, the PMI coverage can be canceled.

Homeowners Insurance

You can't get a loan without taking out homeowner's insurance but that doesn't cover everything, especially if you live in an area where natural disasters occur. You should consider supplemental policies for floods, tornados, hurricanes and earthquakes. And if you have a lot of valuable items, such as jewelry, antiques, art or a lot of expensive equipment like computers or cameras, you'll need to buy a rider if you want them covered.

Decorating

One of the most satisfying things about home ownership is the ability to make your house look just about any way you want it. Want a moat and drawbridge? Put them in. Want a tropical island theme? Do it. You can change the appearance of a house with something as simple as paint or as elaborate as a remodel. And a house new to you generally needs furniture and other items like window treatments, carpeting and light fixtures.

Home Maintenance and Repairs

If you bought a fixer-upper, you pretty much know what's ahead of you. Time, sweat and money... then add another 20 percent or more to the costs. But even a house in pristine move-in condition is going to need maintenance and it's better sooner rather than later.

There will come the day – maybe not now, but inevitably – that the roof will need to be replaced or the furnace breaks down or something goes terribly wrong with the plumbing. Your choice is to repair or replace. If you're handy at DIY, you have an advantage, but you'll still need to spend some money.

Don't be too startled if every year you have some sort of major expense, sometimes costing thousands of dollars. To smooth the edges off of those unexpected expenditures, start a savings account for your house.

And it's important to maintain your house. Down the line, you may want to move up. To sell your house for the best price, you want to show a well-maintained home, not a neglected house.

Country charmer near East Jordan on 10 acres

By Jim Akans

Conveniently located between East Jordan, Bellaire and Central Lake, this charming country home on 10 acres offers plenty of appeal and space both inside and out.
