Ramblers stand alone atop the Lake Michigan Conference

Fourth quarter surge by Boyne the difference

By Chris Fiel

Boyne City 57, East Jordan 42

EAST JORDAN — Corey Redman and Zach Napont both finished in double figures for Boyne City, as the Ramblers pulled away late down the stretch for a 57-42 Lake Michigan Conference victory over East Jordan and sole possession of first place on February 6, in front of a packed, standing room only gym in East Jordan.

The Ramblers, 10-2 overall, 7-1 conference, and winners of 10 straight, used an 18-4 advantage in the fourth quarter to turn a 39-38 lead into the final score, led by Cole Butler as the senior swingman netted seven of his nine in the final frame.

Boyne held the Red Devils without a field goal in the quarter, limiting EJ to four free throws, all from junior Collin Bajko.

"We played a great fourth quarter to get a nice win on the road," Boyne City coach Nick Redman said. "Great experience for the kids to play in games like that. Packed gym full of Enthusiasm. Fun."

The Ramblers came roaring out of the gates to begin the game as Redman made his presence known early blocking two East Jordan shot attempts on the same series, leading to a Boyne City fastbreak to Cole Butler. Dalton Gardner would follow with another easy Rambler layup seconds later, forcing the Red Devils to use an early timeout just over a minute into the contest.

East Jordan would respond to the early Boyne City start, pulling even at 7-7 with just under four minutes to play in the quarter, behind a Colin Petrie three-pointer, a pair of Jordan Weber free throws and a Thomas Brandell putback.

The Ramblers would then go on an 8-2 run to close out the quarter for a 15-9 Boyne lead.

With a few of the Boyne City starters strapped with foul trouble, coach Redman elected to sit them the entire quarter as the Rambler bench was able to come through, although East Jordan was able to outscore Boyne 14-9 in the quarter, as the Red Devils took a 23-20 lead with 1:15 remaining in the quarter, with EJ getting eight points from Weber and five from Petrie. A pair of baskets with under a minute to play from Colton Sieradski and Napont were just enough for Boyne to pull out a 24-23 lead going into halftime.

"We got off to a great start then had some early foul trouble so our bench stepped up and kept us in it," coach Redman added.

The two teams would return to the floor following intermission and match each other blow for blow, shot for shot, like two heavy-weight boxers engaged in a tight battle, with both teams scoring 15 points apiece, and the Ramblers clinging to a 39-38 lead headed into the final eight minutes of regulation.

Boyne would begin the fourth quarter scoring with an under the basket inbound play to Redman, as the senior would lay in an easy left handed shot at the glass for a 41-38 Rambler lead at the 7:17 mark.

On the Red Devils next trip, Gardner would make a steal and go the distance to a layup with 6:45 left in the contest and a 43-38 lead.

Boyne would misfire on their next two possessions, while the Red Devils would be called for a pair of offensive fouls on their next two trips down the court, sandwiched around a Redman driving basket down the middle of the lane.

Butler would push the Rambler lead to double digits, 48-38 with a triple from the left wing with just over five minutes to play.

East Jordan's Collin Bajko would nail a pair of free throws on the Red Devils next possession, breaking the teams scoring drought with 4:54 on the clock.

Boyne would then go on another run (9-2) to end the game and take over first place in the LMC.

Redman would finish with 18 points, seven rebounds, three assists and two blocks to lead Boyne, while Napont added 14 points, four boards and three assists.

Also for the Ramblers, Butler had nine points and nine rebounds and Gardner added eight points, three assists and two steals.

East Jordan, (9-2, 6-2) was paced by Weber with a game-high 20 points, while Petrie added 13 and Bajko chipped in with five points, all from the free throw line.

At press time, on February 10, the Ramblers will be visiting Elk Rapids and the Red Devils will travel to Charlevoix. On Friday, February 13, East Jordan hosts TC St. Francis, while Boyne hosts Grayling.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

Lady Red Devils hold off Ramblers 47-38

By Chris Fiel

East Jordan 47, Boyne City 38

EAST JORDAN — The East Jordan girls basketball team picked up a hard-fought Lake Michigan Conference win over neighboring Boyne City, 47-38 on February 6.

The Red Devils moved to 3-11 overall, 2-7 conference, on the season with the win, while the Ramblers fell to 1-13, 1-7.

East Jordan senior Lindsay Schroeder scored eight of her team-high 13 points in the paint during the opening quarter, as the Red Devils built a 10-5 lead.

“Very pleased with our performance tonight, four good quarters, tough defense and best night shooting the ball in a long time,” East Jordan coach Steve Hines said. “Lindsay (Schroeder) set the tone for the game tonight as she had numerous steals in the first half that she converted into buckets. She showed her leadership skills tonight as she was dominant at times.”

The second quarter saw EJ move to the outside as Kendall McNitt connected on two long-range bombs and Miranda Burks added another for the Red Devils as they held off a Ramblers push, led by four points each from Celenia Brzezinski and Hannah Hoth for a 23-15 East Jordan lead headed into halftime.

Following intermission, the Red Devils would continue to utilize their outside game as Jill Atwood connected for a pair of triples before pounding it inside for easy looks from Schroeder, Burks and Kassey Wojan.

Boyne tried to keep it close by going inside to Jordan Weiss and the junior responded with four points, while Brzezinski added two baskets off of steals.

East Jordan would still hold a 38-23 cushion after three quarters of play.

A strong 15 point effort by the Ramblers in the fourth quarter, led by Brzezinski and Hoth would close the gap, but Boyne would run out of time as EJ was able to get a basket when needed and close the game out from the charity stripe, making five in the quarter.

In addition to Schroeder’s efforts, Burks would finish with 11 points, while Atwood and McNitt each chipped in with six points each as all seven Red Devils got in the scoring column.

Kassey Wojan led EJ with eight rebounds and three assists, while Burks and Schroeder each grabbed seven, with Burks adding three assists.

“Everyone scored tonight and we did a great job on the defensive boards tonight,” coach Hines added. “Miranda played her best all around game tonight, nice to see her hard work beginning to pay off.”

Brzezinski led the Ramblers with 16 points, while Hoth added nine and Weiss netted six.

Kalkaska 70, East Jordan 34

KALKASKA — The Red Devils ran into a hot shooting Blazer team and were unable to match Kalkaska’s effort as they fell 70-34 in a Lake Michigan Conference girls basketball game on February 3.

The Blazers led at the quarter breaks 18-8, 36-18 and 58-28.

“Rough night for the Lady Red Devils as we turned the ball over too many times and we were out of sync on both ends of the floor,” East Jordan coach Steve Hines said.

Lindsay Schroeder paced EJ with 12 points and six rebounds, while Kassey Wojan and Kaitlin Hines netted six points apiece.

Wojan was also credited by coach Hines with a great night on the boards, as she hauled in 13.

Kalkaska was led by Taylor Kirby with 14 points, while McKenzie Wilkenon added 13 and Rann Homan had 12.

The Red Devils slipped to 2-11 overall, 1-7 conference.

BOYS BASKETBALL

Loggers tested, pull out big wins, finish week 3-0

By Chris Fiel

Boyne Falls 43, Mackinaw City 42

MACKINAW CITY — The Boyne Falls boys were tested down to the wire by Mackinaw City and they passed as the Loggers pulled out a 43-42 Northern Lakes Conference win over the Comets on February 6.

The Comets held a 6-4 lead after one quarter of play, but the Loggers found some offense in the second quarter to pull ahead 16-13 at halftime and extended their lead to 27-17 after three quarters of play.

"We again struggled offensively as another team played a special defense in attempt to stop Marcus (Matelski)," Boyne Falls coach Tim Smith said. "With his injury and the guys we have sick its been effective strategy."

Boyne Falls was up 14 late in the fourth quarter when Mackinaw's Jonah Robbins caught fire, nailing three triples in the final minute, and only free throws by Boyne Falls Marcus Matelski and Andrew Stevens (a combined 8-of-8 from the charity stripe) helped the Loggers pull out the win.

"We did play well defensively and really locked them down until the last minute of the game when they scored 15 points," Smith said. "Jonah Robbins made three 3s in the last 16 seconds of game. Give them credit they extended the game and made some shots."

"It was a great game to be a part of. Boyne Falls is well coached and very disciplined," Mackinaw City coach John Martin said. "We knew we were going to have to battle all night to stay in this one. I couldn't be more proud of my kids efforts. They promised me 32 minutes of 100% effort and I definitely got that."

The Comets were led by Robbins with 13 points, while Zach Smith had 12 and Matt Rivera added seven.

Boyne Falls, 12-0 overall, 9-0 conference, got 18 points and seven rebounds from Matelski, while Stevens added 14 points and Tyler Bearss six.

"We had a great week going 3-0 while beating the two teams chasing us. Very proud of my guys playing hurt and sick they all were warriors," coach Smith added.

three quarters, and then they found their rhythm in the final eight minutes of regulation as Boyne Falls downed Alanson 63-39 in a Northern Lakes Conference contest on February 4.

"Alanson played extremely hard and out hustled us for much of game," Boyne Falls coach Tim Smith said. "We did play well in the fourth as we picked up our defense and started to execute on the offensive end. I was happy that we did show a championship pedigree down stretch."

Marcus Matelski finished with a game-high 25 points, 10 rebounds and five assists to lead Boyne Falls, while Andrew Stevens added 11 and Tyler Bearss had 10 points and six rebounds and Andrew Campbell netted nine points.

The Loggers led 17-11 following the first quarter, 29-21 at halftime and 39-36 after the third quarter.

"We really played with no energy until fourth quarter," Smith added. "We have a lot of guys not feeling well. Andrew Campbell guttled it out as he was really sick. Marcus (Matelski) also continues to battle his injury as he is not close to 100%.

Boyne Falls 65, Vanderbilt 21

VANDERBILT — Tyler Bearss finished with 17 points and nine rebounds to lead the Loggers to a 65-21 Northern Lakes Conference win over Vanderbilt on February 2.

Boyne Falls led 18-6, 35-10 and 59-13 at the quarter breaks.

Andrew Campbell added 14 points and 10 rebounds, Truman Crego had 10 points and Andrew Stevens finished with seven points, nine rebounds and six assists for BF.

"We played without Marcus (Matelski) who is nursing a bad ankle," Logger coach Tim Smith said. "Every one scored, we really wanted to emphasize getting ball inside to Bearss and Crego and they both finished well scoring 27 points between them."

CHARLEVOIX — The Charlevoix Rayders wrestling team finished in second place in the annual Lake Michigan Conference wrestling tournament on February 7.

Grayling won the tourney with 109 points; Charlevoix had 104; Boyne City 81; T.C. St. Francis 71; Elk Rapids 48; and Kalkaska 30.

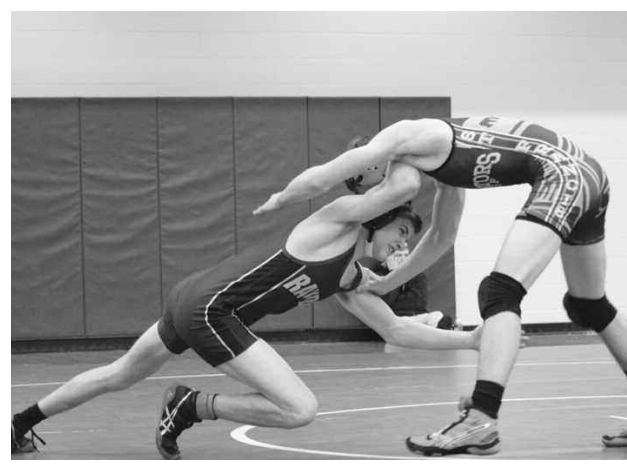

Tyler McCallum (130 lbs.) and Spencer Bruce (Hwt) each took first place earning All-Conference honors.

Honorable Mention went to Camden Alden (125 lbs.); Elliot Bartelli (135 lbs.); Justin Adkins (140 lbs.); Sam Hovie (160 lbs.); and Mick Hinkle (189 lbs.) with second place finishes.

Devin Largent (215 lbs.) took third place.

"There were some great matches here today," Charlevoix coach Mike Hinkle said. "Sophomore Tyler McCallum won his second conference championship, and has the potential to go 4-for-4 during his high school career. Senior Spencer Bruce defeated James Mogford of Elk Rapids for the first time this year to win the championship at heavy weight."

DNR NEWS

Number of fur harvester licenses in Michigan has tripled since 1994

Doug Reeves remembers his first time as though it were yesterday.

"The first thing I ever caught was an ermine, a white weasel," said Reeves, assistant chief of the Department Natural Resources' Wildlife Division and a lifelong trapper. "I sold it for 50 cents to a traveling fur buyer. To me that was big time."

He was 9 years old. And he was hooked. The next year he got three traps and starting chasing muskrats. He progressed from there.

"Back then you had to be 12 years old to trap beaver," he said. "The first one I got I brought home in the basket of my sister's fat-tire bike."

Now, 50 years later, Reeves is still trapping – muskrats, raccoons, coyotes, fox – just about everything.

"You have to learn a lot," Reeves said. "The learning curve is very steep. The element of exploration and discovery is a lot of fun. It's a blast. I just love it."

Reeves isn't alone. In Michigan, trapping is growing in popularity.

According to DNR records, just more than 10,000 people bought a fur harvester license in 1994. Two decades later, that number has tripled.

"It's been increasing," said Adam Bump, the DNR's furbearer specialist. "Some of it may be because of pelt prices. When you have generally increasing pelt prices, you have an increase in trapping and the last three or four years the pelt prices for muskrats have been near or at record highs. But price for every species varies on its own, so just because 'rat prices are up, that doesn't mean they all are.'"

Indeed, it's not all about fur prices, said Dale Hendershot, president of the 1,200-member Michigan Trappers and Predator Callers Association, one of three fur-taker associations in the state. A 64-year-old retired diesel mechanic from Gladwin who's been trapping since he was 14, Hendershot said "the vast majority of trappers are not professionals."

Most trappers are hobbyists, Hendershot said, recreationalists who "can probably make enough money to pay for their gasoline." Hendershot said it's the challenge that intrigues trappers. "You really have to know the habits of the animals to get them," he said.

"Trapping is not for the faint of heart," he added. "If you're hunting and it's below zero and the wind's blowing, you have an option – you can say 'I'm going to stay in the cabin today.' But if you have traps out there, you have to get out there in that stuff and check them. It's a huge commitment."

The Michigan Trappers and Predator Callers Association – formerly the Michigan Trappers Association – holds fur sales for its members and offers a landowner assistance program to connect folks who have issues with furbearers causing problems.

"Typically it's either beaver- or coyote- related, but everybody's got a problem with raccoons," Hendershot said.

The association also helps the DNR with its trapper education program, which has been in existence since 2009.

"Trapping is misunderstood," Hendershot said. "We're trying to make it better understood. We do a lot of educational stuff. I would hope that the educational movement is paying off." Just like hunting and fishing, trapping is highly regulated by the DNR. There are prescribed seasons for all 17 of the species that fur-takers can harvest, and the means and methods of capture are regulated as well.

"We tend to set seasons when the pelts are most valuable," Bump said. "Most trapping gears up in fall and runs through the winter, though you can trap beaver and otter into spring. And weasels are open year-round."

Dwayne Etter, a research biologist with the DNR, is a relative newcomer to trapping.

"As kids we messed around with it, but we really didn't know what we were doing," Etter said.

"I was fortunate enough to attend trapper's college. The Michigan trappers association and national trappers association sponsor a biologist every year for a week to go to trapper's college. It's a week of intensive learning – how to trap, how to put up fur, good stuff."

"I immediately got excited, so I got home, bought some traps, and started trapping. It's kind of an addicting hobby – it grows and grows."

Now Etter takes a week's vacation every year to go the Upper Peninsula and trap.

"It's kind of the same as deer camp – we go with the guys, hang out, cruise around the woods and we have the anticipation that we're going to catch something."

Trapping is also a tool for population management; when furbearer populations begin to exceed the carrying capacity, disease inevitably follows.

"Whenever raccoons get too thick, you see a distemper outbreak," Reeves said. "When you get too many coyotes, you get mange. I've seen it where I live."

To Reeves, being an ethical trapper is critical to wildlife management.

"To me, it's important that the animal is well caught, that it's dispatched humanely, and the fur is handled in a respectful way," he said.

For others, the allure of trapping is reconnecting to times past.

"It's kind of a lifestyle to some people," Hendershot said. "It's a throwback to when our country was settled. And a lot of people like the feel of it."

I have a little red cabin in the woods, it's not much, just a little one room cabin but it's always been this old vet's safe place. Partly because it's the place I grew up as a kid and partly because it's in the woods. I feel close to nature and God when I'm there. I want to extend a welcome to my fellow vets to come and share my safe place. I don't have much but would be proud to stoke up the fire and share a hot cup of Joe with you! ### 2015 Ford Expedition earns highest vehicle safety rating from National Highway Traffic Safety Administration

The 2015 Ford Expedition earned a five-star Overall Vehicle Score from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, the U.S. government's highest possible overall rating. The New Car Assessment Program is the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration's evaluation program for new automobile designs. It was established to test for performance against safety threats. It includes tests for front and side impacts.

"The 2015 Expedition now has driver-assist technology features that are new to the nameplate," said Steve Kenner, director, Ford Global Automotive Safety Office. "These technology upgrades make Expedition the full-size utility vehicle for customers who want capability, style and modern conveniences."

Expedition has a myriad of standard safety features aimed at protecting drivers and occupants, as well as driver-assist features that are new to the vehicle. Standard safety features include AdvanceTrac® with Roll Stability Control™, Safety Canopy® side-curtain airbags, SOS Post-Crash Alert System, tire pressure monitoring system and traction control.

The 2015 model debuts driver-assist technologies to the Expedition nameplate, like available radar-based Blind Spot Information System with cross-traffic alert. Using sensor-based radar technology, BLIS® can help detect when a vehicle is in a driver's blind spot and flashes a warning light in the appropriate sideview mirror. Cross-traffic alert uses radar to help detect vehicles approaching from the side when a driver is slowly backing out of a parking spot or driveway. When a vehicle is detected, an audible warning sounds and a visual cue will be issued in the message center. Other new technologies include a standard rearview camera, keyless entry with push-button start, and front and rear parking sensors.

The 2015 Expedition is the most powerful and fuel-efficient Expedition yet, offering customers a full-size utility vehicle with a stylish design and fresh interiors across a diverse lineup that includes a new Platinum trim level. The 3.5-liter EcoBoost® V6, the only engine available for Expedition in North America, generates 365 horsepower and 420 lb.-ft. of torque, and with an EPA-estimated rating of 16 mpg city and 22 mpg highway with two-wheel-drive. Actual mileage will vary. Expedition also offers best-in-class maximum cargo space for the extended-length version, and available best-in-class towing of up to 9,200 pounds when properly equipped. It all adds up to a truly useful utility vehicle.

Ford was the No. 1-selling utility brand in the United States for 2014, making for the fourth straight year the company has maintained its utility vehicle leadership in America.

SCHMIDT REALTORS

Should I Buy or Sell First?

Part 1 of 2

For homeowners aiming to sell their home and buy another, it's the classic real estate, which came first, the chicken or the egg, question — buy or sell first?

If you sell first, you may find yourself under a tight deadline to find another house, or be forced in temporary quarters. If you buy first, you may be saddled with two mortgage payments for at least a couple months. You may need the money from the sale of your original home in order to pre-qualify for a loan for your new home. You may be facing a job relocation and need to sell quickly. There are many variables involved; there is no universal correct answer. It basically comes down to your specific circumstances.

Dan Gregor, a Realtor in Pickerington, Ohio, says there is generally less pressure when you sell first.

"It really comes down to risk," Gregor said. "It's whether you want the risk of owning two houses, or possibly none at all."

Gregor says that if you have the money to make two mortgage payments, the pressure is off. But if you need to sell your house in order to qualify for a loan, then you have no choice — you'll have to sell first.

"You can write contingent contracts, but if you really want the home, you'll pay a premium — that's if the seller will even entertain a contingent offer," he says.

And if you go ahead with a contingent offer, then you may end up settling for less for the house you're selling in an effort to get it sold quickly.

Gregor says for most people, the stress level is lower when you sell first.

"You have time to get pre-approved for your mortgage and see all the housing options in the price range you'd like to buy," he said.

When your selling house is in contract, he suggests you pick the three best homes of those you've viewed and prepare to make an offer on the one that best meets your needs.

"The absolute worst that can happen is the right home isn't available," Gregor said. "You end up in a short-term rental with the cash in your pocket and pre-approved financing for the balance you need. So you look like a cash buyer when you make an offer on the home you finally decide on."
