Hornbeck to play softball for Lansing Community College

By Chris Fiel

BOYNE CITY -- Good things come to those who wait. And with that, another Northern Michigan athlete, and recent Boyne City graduate, Paige Hornbeck, will take her softball talent and ability to the next level.

Hornbeck recently committed to play college ball for Lansing Community College where coach Marc Kibby said she has opportunity to help the team right away.

Paige will have every opportunity to earn a starting spot as a freshman, coach Kibby noted. With her work habit and athletic ability, she will succeed.

When Hornbeck was asked about how she felt getting the chance to continue her softball career, she replied, I feel great. I started a little late in the whole recruiting path, so my options dialed down, but after meeting with the LCC coach (Kibby), I knew that's where I wanted to be.

Going to the open field and meeting the girls, they were amazing, I already feel apart of the Stars family, Paige added. I've played softball my entire life and I'm so grateful and blessed to have the opportunity to play outside of high school, because there are so many kids who only dream to continue on doing what they love at a collegiate level.

Paige also touched on her work ethic and getting to this level. She noted that she really focuses on pushing herself in practice, but more importantly, she believes that one must be a strong player both physically as well as mentally, so hitting the gym to work on strength and cardio became a necessity and that extra work reflected to her on-field play.

She found that with the extra work, she could push herself harder and for longer periods and saw a lot more offensive power as one of the benefits.

Hornbeck attributes getting her mental toughness from her sister Lexis, who would on a regular basis remind her of a famous quote almost daily. The separation of talent and skill is one of the greatest misunderstood concepts for people who are trying to excel, who have dreams, who want to do things. Talent you have naturally. Skill is only developed by hours and hours and hours of beating on your craft. - Will Smith.

Paige also noted that Lexis also reminded her to not talk about herself, but to let her work speak for itself. Now I sit here today and finally understand what she was talking about, Paige added.

Headed into her freshman year, Paige is going in focused and with confidence in her ability, knowing the player she can be. She also noted that there is an opening at third base, which just happens to be where she spent a majority of her high school career. If I put in time outside of practice, hopefully I can continue playing at the position I love. On an academic note, Hornbeck said she will be studying Architecture.

Coach Kibby commented that when the opportunity to get a player of Hornbeck's caliber came along, he knew that she would be a good fit for the program.

Paige fits into the program with her academic and athletic skills that we here at LCC look for, he said. Her experience coming from a winning program to help this years team and the program to be winners. Goals for Paige as well as the team, is TEAM, about working hard to improve yourself and the team. Learning what teamwork is, can't win without it.

Hornbeck credits her Boyne City Little League coach Dean Hicks with making her the player she is today.

I honestly don't think I'd be half the player I am today if it weren't for coach Hicks, Paige said. He was my little league coach, but he was the man that pushed me to my limits and brought out the aggressive side in me that would have never been brought out of it wasn't for him. I really believe with me having this opportunity to play outside of high school has a lot to do with him. And for that, (coach Hicks) I thank you.

And last but not least, Paige noted that she couldn't have done/had the opportunity with sports that she had if she didn't have her dad by her side.

From never missing a game to driving hours to get to a tournament, he was always there and you could always count on him for being the loudest one in the bleachers, she said.

Good Luck Paige, as you take the next step in your softball career and in life. We know that you will put in the necessary hard work to succeed in both.

LITTLE LEAGUE RESULTS

Boys 11-12 Little League All-Stars underway

By Chris Fiel

Gaylord 17, East Jordan 7
Boyne City 12, Charlevoix 4

CHARLEVOIX -- The 2015 Little League tournament got underway on June 29 in sunny Charlevoix, in front of a good sized crowd as four teams took the field in hopes of beginning a journey that ends up in Williamsport, PA.

In game one of the double-header, it was East Jordan taking on Gaylord. The EJ All-Stars jumped out to a 3-0 lead in the top portion of the first as Brendan Slough and Jack Cross drew walks and after Caleb Boyer reached on a fielder's choice, Adam Skrocki was hit by a pitch. Three of the four runners would then score on additional fielder's choice hits by Jackson Raymond and Cooper Stevenson.

Gaylord would respond with five runs in their half of the inning and the score would stay at a 5-3 Gaylord advantage until the third inning, when East Jordan would plate three more, as Stevenson would single and score, while Ayden Kluth walked and scored and Slough tripled and would eventually score on a Cross base-hit for a 6-5 EJ lead.

East Jordan would carry that lead into the bottom of the fourth and that's when the Gaylord bats came to life as they scored eight times on six hits, but were aided by three errors.

EJ would attempt a comeback in the fifth, but were only able to score once, and Gaylord would score four more times for a 10-run mercy and 17-7 final score.

Leading hitters for EJ were: Cross with two, while Slough tripled, and Raymond and Stevenson added one hit each.

In the nightcap, visiting Boyne City came out of the gates swinging as leadoff man, Paxton Giem punched a bloop single to right field and Aaron Bess followed up with a sharp hit of his own to put the first two on for Boyne. After an out, BC cleanup hitter, Michael Deming was hit by a pitch, loading the bases.

Giem would score on a passed ball and the other two would eventually come around to score on a pair of Charlevoix errors for a 3-0 BC lead after a half inning of play.

Charlevoix would respond with a pair of runs in the bottom half of the frame as Phillip Sterrett doubled to get the Charlevoix All-Stars on the basepath. Luke Snyder and Caleb Stuck would then hit back-to-back singles, scoring Sterret. Snyder would come home on batter later as Joshua House sacrificed him in, cutting the BC lead to 3-2 at the end of one inning.

Boyne would score their fourth run of the game in the second as Bess drew a base on balls and advanced all the way around, courtesy of two wild pitches and a passed ball.

Charlevoix would get one back in the bottom of the third when Spencer Weber hit a sacrifice that plated Stuck, drawing the team to within one run at 4-3.

In the top of the fourth, BC picked up a pair of runs, courtesy of a Zach Hardy two-run double. Charlevoix would score once in their half of the inning as Jake Clafin singled and came around on a Sterret double, but that would be the final run of the evening for Charlevoix.

After a quiet fifth inning, Boyne opened the game up with a five-run sixth as Bess, Deming, and Hardy all doubled.

Deming got the pitching win for Boyne.

At the plate for BC, Hardy had three hits, including two doubles, while Bess doubled among two hits. Deming doubled and Giem singled.

For Charlevoix, Sterrett doubled twice, Snyder, Stuck and Jake Clafin all had one hit.

DNR Fishing Report

Water levels are high around state. High water levels may slow catch rates in some areas but could also help shore anglers

Northeast Lower Peninsula Fishing Report

Cheboygan River: Is still producing some walleye at the mouth. Try crawlers, leeches or body baits.

Rogers City: Has great lake trout fishing with limit catches reported. The water is beginning to warm up so the fish are starting to scatter and were suspended. The best fishing was found in the bottom 10 feet in 40 to 65 feet with dodgers or cowbells with spin-glo's or green, orange and silver spoons for the fish that are suspended. The better action was north towards the State Park, Forty Mile Point or south towards Calcite, Swan Bay and Adams Point. Anglers are hoping other species such as Atlantic salmon, chinook and steelhead will show up with warmer water. Try spoons up higher and faster trolling speeds.

East and West Twin Lakes: Walleye fishing was pretty good in the 14 foot holes on East Twin. One angler caught a 41 inch pike when trolling the deep hole. Walleye fishing was also good on West Twin in the 10 to 12 foot holes. The fish range 15 to 18 inches. Perch fishing is slowly starting to pick up in both lakes with anglers catching fish up to 11 inches. Bass fishing has been really good. Many are catching good size smallmouth and lots of rock bass in 5 to 8 feet off Eagle Point.

Alpena: Walleye fishing continues with a good night bite. The walleyes seem to be on the move so anglers will have to do some searching to find them. The better places to try are Grad Island, Sulphur Island, Scarecrow Island and along the shore at the city beach. Best depths were 8 to 20 feet with crawler harnesses and body baits. Good colors were green and purple, green and copper, perch and fire-tiger. Lake trout fishing continues to be good just off the bottom in 60 to 80 feet around Thunder Bay Island. Try Hootchie Mama's with squid, spin-glo's and flies or dodgers and cowbells with spin-glo's.

Thunder Bay River: Is producing channel catfish and freshwater drum. Fish the bottom with night crawlers. Only a couple walleye have been taken off the Ninth Street Bridge when drifting body baits in the current or with crawlers and leeches on the bottom.

Harrisville: Dredging in the harbor is done. Lake trout are here in good numbers. Anglers did very well in 60 to 120 feet straight out from the harbor, north and south. Spoons are working well on downriggers and lead core. Most of the fish are suspended throughout the water column. A wide spread of bait will be the best way to target them. There have been some chinook and steelhead but numbers are low. Walleye seem to be north of the harbor between Sturgeon Point and the Black River in 20 to 50 feet. Body baits worked best but some were taken on crawler harnesses.

Oscoda: Lake trout can be found straight out, to the north and the south. Most anglers had success in 80 to 150 feet with spoons, cut bait and wobble glow's. Fish are suspended so spread you're bait throughout the water column.

Au Sable River: Walleye are coming in and most are being caught up river behind the bank and further toward the dam. Crawlers and body baits have produced the most catches. Some good catches of brown trout were reported on the South Branch.

Lake Margrethe: Panfish action has been slow to steady.

Houghton Lake: Is producing walleye and pike. Anglers are trolling or drifting crawler harnesses and leeches along the weed lines.

Lake St. Helen: Is producing panfish, walleye and pike.

Tawas: Walleye fishing was good near the Crib in 18 to 25 feet and along the drop-off in 35 to 70 feet. Try crawler harnesses, spoons and body baits. A lake trout and one Atlantic salmon were also caught. Pier fishing was slow. There was a big mayfly hatch in progress.

Tawas River: Is producing a few channel catfish, pike, smallmouth bass and freshwater drum.

Northwest Lower Peninsula Fishing Report

Harbor Springs: Lake trout fishing was hit-or-miss around Harbor Point. A few were caught about 50 feet down in 150 feet. Smallmouth anglers are still targeting the waters near shore inside the Point and around the harbor when casting artificial baits.

Petoskey: Boat anglers targeting lake trout can typically be found between the breakwall and Bay Harbor. Those fishing the mouth of the river are taking a variety of species in-

DNR Fishing Tip Using a float while fishing

Floats can be a useful tool for anglers looking to find bigger fish while also producing a relaxing fishing opportunity while sitting back and letting the gear work its magic.

Using a float, such as a traditional bobber, classic teardrop or oval-shaped option, will allow fish to have time to check out your bait up close and decide if they want to take a bite.

Anglers will also need to decide between using a spring-type fixed bobber or a slip bobber. A slip bobber offers you more flexibility because it can move up and down the line - depending on where you put a stopper.

This tip was adapted from Michigan Outdoor News.

cluding smallmouth bass, rock bass, pike, catfish, suckers, freshwater drum, carp and bullhead. Most of the fish were caught off the D Pier when using worms or casting crank baits and spinners.

Bear River: Had little activity. A couple rock bass were caught near the dam.

Charlevoix: Lake trout fishing has been more hit-or-miss however when the boats find them, they are catching quite a few. The fish are scattered and were caught south of the channel in 60 feet or north of the channel, 80 feet down in 100 feet. Some reported the fish were moving to even deeper waters. Try spoons or dodgers with spin-glo's. Those jigging in 70 feet near the channel caught a few cisco. Smallmouth bass are in the channel but still not hitting. Walleye fishing in the channel was down but there may still be a few for night anglers to catch. Pier anglers caught a couple lake trout. Freshwater drum and Cisco were caught in the channel. Those fly fishing along the shoreline at Fisherman's Island State Park have caught carp which are in the shallows and spawning.

Elk River: Smallmouth bass fishing has been fair. Most anglers are using leeches, crawlers, or tube baits.

Traverse City: Lake trout and cisco fishing was good in the East Bay. With surface water temperatures in the 60's the trout are beginning to move out deeper so try 60 feet or more for lake trout. Smallmouth bass fishing has been good. Males are on the beds. In the West Bay, lake trout fishing was fair in 60 to 100 feet. Cisco and a few whitefish were also caught. Smallmouth bass fishing has been good in the shallows.

Boardman River: Fishing has picked up along the section in Grand Traverse County. Those using flies and spinners have caught the most brown trout and brook trout. A couple large brown trout were caught below Sabin Dam. Bass fishing has slowed below the Union Street Dam. Anglers caught a few rock bass and carp.

Upper Peninsula Fishing Report

Little Bay De Noc: With the alewife and fly hatches, there is a lot of food out there for the fish. The best walleye catches were still south in the Breezy Point area when trolling in 8 to 14 feet. Catch rates for perch were spotty at best. Fish were caught off Gladstone beach when using minnows and worms in 18 to 26 feet or the green buoy near the Day's River in 14 to 20 feet. Smallmouth bass fishing was fair to good on the Ford River but most of the fish were too small. Try casting crank baits, spinners or plastics all through the river.

Big Bay De Noc: Had mostly bass anglers. Catch rates were better but most of the fish were small. Best area to fish was the head of the bay and over to Porcupine Point in 12 feet with spinners or plastics. At Fairport, it is still a bit early but anglers are catching salmon and steelhead on spoons 30 to 90 feet down in 110 to 160 feet. The reports are mixed with most searching for warmer water.

Marquette: Lake trout anglers had poor results for the week. Some reported three or four fish however most caught none. Some caught fish on spoons and cut bait in waters over 200 feet deep while others caught none. Try north of the white rocks, the Clay Banks, Little Presque Isle, Sand Hole and towards Shot Point. Those jigging reported some limit catches while others reported slow action around Stannard Rock. One 40 pound fish was reported along with some 20 pounders. One nice steelhead and a couple smaller chinook were caught but most of the salmon action as non-existent. A couple menominee were caught near the mouth of the Carp River.

Au Train Lake: Had a significant mayfly hatch. Surface water temperatures were in the low to mid 60's. Those using crawlers and leeches caught suckers and bullhead. The pike action was fair but the majority of fish were undersize. Anglers are casting or trolling spinners, small crank baits and power worms. The best pike action was on the weed beds along the shoreline. Walleye were hitting on crawlers in 15 feet but catch rates were still slow.

Munising: Weather has once again limited angler activity. Catch rates were slow for chinook and coho as anglers were trolling all over in waters between 60 and 200 feet deep. Those using fresh spawn off the dock of the Anna River had decent catch rates but many of the splake were small. Water temperatures were in the 40's.

Grand Marais: Most anglers are trolling the deeper waters about 5 miles out. Catch rates are good for lake trout with anglers bringing in fish 18 to 30 inches every trip. The whitefish bite has picked up and the fish caught ranged 15 to 22 inches. A single egg works best. A few coho were also caught.

Indian Lake: In Schoolcraft County is producing a few walleye.

South Manistique Lake: Has had excellent largemouth and smallmouth bass fishing all over the lake. Most have been caught using top water lures in the morning and evening, and jigging soft plastics in the afternoon. A few walleye have been reported in the northern end of the lake and along the points of each bay, but overall catch rates were slow. Those targeting bluegill and crappie have done well especially along the weeds in the southwestern bay.

Newberry: Bluegills were on the beds on the inland lakes and many were in the middle of the spawn. Largemouth bass were also starting to spawn. A cold spring has delayed the spawn this year.

DeTour: Water temperatures warmed up over the last week and with that came improved catch rates for Atlantic salmon. Anglers are trolling 25 to 28 feet down in 60 feet with 4 inch green and white spoons. Chinook were caught 25 to 30 feet down in 80 feet around the lighthouse when using chartrouse spin-glo's. Those targeting lake trout were trolling two miles south of the lighthouse with solid chrome spoons in 80 feet.

Drummond Island: The smallmouth bass fishing was excellent for those casting spinners or small hard baits in 3 to 5 feet along the North Shore of Scott Bay. The walleye bite improved for those trolling with planer boards and crawler harnesses from Paw Pointe to Peck Island in 4 to 9 feet. Northern pike and yellow perch have been hard to locate this past week in Scott Bay and Maxton Bay.

Cedarville and Hessel: Perch are in the marina at Hessel but the bite was slow. The best location to try for perch is the Moscoe Channel. Pier anglers continue to target pike and smallmouth bass. Those trolling for pike are fishing Musky Bay, Middle Entrance and Government Bay in 8 feet of water. The water is still high and cold so casting in the shallow bays may be more productive.

Kirtland's warbler census just finished

Warbler recovery program in northern Michigan has helped rare songbird since mid-1980s

ROSCOMMON COUNTY – The Kirtland's warbler is one of the rarest members of the wood warbler family. The only places on Earth it currently nests are mainly in Michigan's northern Lower and Upper peninsulas, and a few locations in Wisconsin and the province of Ontario.

In northern Michigan, June 6-20 is a special time, when dozens of surveyors are in large jack pine forests listening for the unique song of the male Kirtland's warbler.

We have a great group of DNR, U.S. Forest Service and U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service staff members, as well as volunteers, who are trudging through young, thick jack pine in the early morning hours, said Department of Natural Resources wildlife supervisor Keith Kintigh. The reward is getting to hear that singing male Kirtland's warbler, which is the way we actually census the population.

The Kirtland's warbler census is a tool managers use to compare population numbers relative to recovery goals by listening for the male's song. Kirtland's warbler numbers had been very low, under 200 nesting pairs, in the mid-1980s. Michigan became the focus for habitat management, since it has been a primary location for the birds' reproduction.

Kirtland's warblers spend eight months wintering in the Bahamas. The males arrive back in Michigan between May 3 and May 20, a few days ahead of the females. The males es-establish and defend territories and then court the females when they arrive. The males' song is loud, yet low-pitched, ending with an upward inflection – easily recognized to identify the presence of a Kirtland's warbler. Additionally, the presence or absence of Kirtland's warblers determines if protection of that area is needed and allows evaluation of different habitat management techniques. The habitat requirements for Kirtland's warbler are very specific; they prefer large blocks of young jack pine, usually hundreds of acres in size. The Kirtland's warbler is a ground-nester, often using the living branches of 5- to 20-foot-tall jack pine trees to conceal their nests, so jack pine trees must be actively managed. Large areas of sandy soils are planted with jack pine and then cut decades later, on specific intervals, to achieve the perfect-aged stands.

The Kirtland's warbler census allows wildlife managers to determine if the number of nesting birds is staying stable, increasing or decreasing. In 1976, the first Kirtland's Warbler Recovery Plan was developed, and then updated in 1985, providing state and federal agencies with a guide to direct management efforts toward increasing the Kirtland's warbler population. The primary recovery objective is to establish and sustain a Kirtland's warbler population throughout its known range at a minimum level of 1,000 pairs.

Through the Kirtland's warbler census, Michigan has been able to report having greater than the minimum level from 2002 to the present.

The Kirtland's warbler recovery is an example of great conservation through cooperation, said Kintigh. Many partners have been involved in this success story, including the U.S. Forest Service, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, and more recently Huron Pines and the Nature Conservancy. To learn more about the Kirtland's warbler and how to help, visit www.michigan.gov/wildlife.

2016 Ram Heavy Duty:

Best-in-class Power, Towing Capacity & Payload Capacity

Ram continues as King of the Hill in the heavy-duty battleground with the introduction of the 2016 model year Ram 2500 and 3500 Heavy Duty pickups. The capability leaders further build on a list of best-in-class claims. Additionally, for two years running, the Ram 1500 leads pickup truck fuel economy with the exclusive 3.0-liter EcoDiesel V-6 engine, delivering 240 horsepower, 420 lb.-ft. of torque and 29 miles per gallon (mpg).

Ram maintains leadership in all three pickup segments offering best-in-class fuel efficiency, best-in-class towing, best-in-class power and best-in-class payload, said Bob Hegbloom, President and CEO — Ram Truck Brand, FCA US. Ram continues to break records in the most important consumer-driven titles of the pickup truck market and we're not slowing down.

Ram Engineering and Cummins developed a new, hard-hitting fuel delivery and turbo boost calibration for the 6.7-liter I-6 diesel that produces an additional 35 lb.-ft. of torque. This improvement raises the bar from Ram's current title at 865 lb.-ft. of torque to 900 lb.-ft. of torque — a number never achieved in a mass-produced vehicle.

The previous heavy-duty towing title also belongs to the Ram 3500 at 30,000 pounds. The 2016 Ram 3500 brings that stat to 31,210 pounds, further distancing the closest rival by more than two tons. To handle the increased towing capacity, Ram engineers beefed up the rear axle ring gear hardware from 12 to 16 bolts on all trucks equipped with the 11.8-inch axle. The additional hardened bolts and stronger material are used in the differential case to assure long-term durability.

The most payload available in a pickup is 7,390 pounds for a 6.4-liter-equipped Ram 3500 model, more than 3.5 tons. The 2016 Ram 2500 also continues its three-quarter-ton towing leadership with a dominating 17,980 pounds of capacity. Ram is the only automaker to back its entire pickup truck line and towing claims with SAE J2807 testing criteria.

Ram has bookended its innovation leadership in the pickup segments and thoughtfully engineered better trucks, including our Ram 1500 with real-world fuel economy approaching 30 mpg and the Ram 3500 with a mind-boggling 31,210 pounds of towing capacity, even on the hottest day, said Mike Cairns, Director — Ram Truck Engineering, FCA US. Our 2016 Ram Trucks own pertinent, functional titles while delivering award-winning interiors and exclusive features that entice customers.

2016 Ram 1500, 2500 and 3500 pickups will arrive in dealerships in the fourth quarter of 2015.

A Timeline for Your Summer Move

Part 2 of 5
3 weeks from move date:

Once you've selected a mover, begin by taking inventory of your belongings and their worth and decide what will be coming with you to your next home.

Tip: Start cleaning out closets, drawers and storage areas of your home and divide things into categories: pack, recycle and give to friend. You can always have a garage sale or donate old items to charity. This will make packing day a lot easier and you may reduce the total weight you'll be paying for to move.

Tip: If you're moving yourself or contracting for a self-service move, pack the items you know you won't need until 30 days after the move. It will feel great to get started early.

Tip: If possible, take pictures of rooms and areas inside the home or apartment you'll be moving into so you can start thinking about placement of furniture, artwork and other items. This will help save time, headaches...and money...on moving day.
