Boyne City woman facing open murder charge will be evaluated for mental competency

By Michelle Medjesky

CHARLEVOIX - The attorney representing a Boyne City woman accused of murdering her mother last month plans to use an insanity defense in her case, which has now been delayed until her mental competency can be evaluated.

Charlevoix 90th District Court Judge James Erhart on November 8 approved an order to evaluate the competency of Rachael Marie Crisman of Boyne City to stand trial after her attorney, Kyle Legel, notified the court of his intent to assert an insanity defense in her case.

Crisman, 30, is facing an open murder charge in the death of her mother, 53-year-old Regina Plevinski, also of Boyne City, on October 25.

According to police reports and a court affidavit, a neighbor found Crisman standing outside her home at 606 East Main Street around 5 p.m. that day covered in blood and stating that she had killed her mother.

Police said they entered Crisman's home and found Plevinski deceased, evidently from stab wounds.

Crisman's preliminary examination had been scheduled for November 15, however, that has now been delayed until an evaluation of her criminal responsibility and competency to stand trial is completed.

The evaluation will be conducted by the Michigan Center for Forensic Psychiatry, which will have 60 days to complete the exam and report its findings to the court.

The preliminary examination will then be re-scheduled if Crisman is found competent to stand trial. meaning she fully understands the charges against her and is capable of contributing to her defense.

Crisman's criminal responsibility will also be examined during the center's evaluation to determine whether she suffers from a mental illness and if that may have contributed to her allegedly committing the crime.

Charlevoix County Prosecuting Attorney Allen Telgenhof said during Crisman's arraignment that he had concerns from previous court

Fire sweeps through downtown Charlevoix businesses

CHARLEVOIX - A fire that swept through downtown Charlevoix on Sunday left in its wake two businesses destroyed and several others damaged.

Firefighters were called to Johan's Cafe' at 327 Bridge Street just after 2 p.m. November 13 to a report of a fire in the building's basement.

Charlevoix Fire Department shift commander Bob Roloff said employees at Johan's reported they had seen smoke coming from floor vents at the business and went to investigate in the basement. But when they opened the basement door, a "ball of fire" shot out and they immediately shut the door and evacuated the building.

Roloff said when he arrived at the scene, he saw flames coming through the roof of the building and at once called nearby fire departments in Charlevoix Township, East Jordan and Boyne City for assistance.

The fire spread quickly from Johan's Cafe to neighboring Round Lake Art Gallery, destroying both businesses and also damaging several nearby businesses and two adjacent apartments.

It took firefighters about three hours and some 100,000 gallons of water to contain the blaze, which also required emergency crews to shut down Bridge Street/U.S. 31 between Park and Antrim Streets for about six hours.

An excavator was also used to tear down the facade of Johan's Cafe and Round Lake Gallery so that crews could

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE A MAJOR CAUSE OF HOMELESSNESS

Homelessness is a continued crisis in our country, state and local community and an issue to be acknowledged during National Homeless Awareness Week, November 12-20, 2016. The Campaign to End Homelessness reports a total of 97,642 people in Michigan who were homeless during 2014. In Northwest Lower Michigan during the same timeframe, more than 7,500 children and adults were homeless; roughly 4,200 living with friends and 3,300 living on the streets or in shelters.

There are many causes of homelessness including poverty, untreated mental illness, natural disasters, loss of employment and substance abuse. What many don't realize is that more than half of the homeless nationwide are families with children and many of those are forced into homelessness because of violence in the home. According to The National Center on Family Homelessness, domestic violence is the immediate cause of homelessness for 50% of all women who are homeless

Domestic violence involves physical, emotional, psychological, sexual and/or economic abuse within a highly controlled, intimate partner relationship. When a survivor is able to escape an abusive relationship, they are often forced to leave their own home. Often they have nowhere to turn because the abuser has deliberately cut them off from the support of friends and family and resources needed to leave. Many survivors arrive at the Women's Resource Center of Northern Michigan (WRCNM) Safe Home without basic necessities such as clothing, personal care items, or money. They are then faced with the daunting task of finding and securing safe and affordable housing.

The Safe Home provides survivors with a caring, supportive place to stay while they regain control of their lives. Last year, the Safe Home provided 2,898 nights of refuge to 133 women and children from Antrim, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Emmet and Otsego counties.

Since 1977, the WRCNM has helped thousands of women on their journey to a more positive future free from violence. Yet, if we as a community truly want to end violence against women and its resulting effects, such as homelessness, we need more people to acknowledge this societal problem and stand up to speak out against it. For more information or support, call the WRCNM's 24-Hour crisis and information line, at (231) 347-0082 or visit www.wrcnm.org.

MAD HATTER'S TEA PARTY 2.1

To the Editor, LMAO. As I'm sure all Europeans are (Zose crazy Americans), all Aussies, Nordics, Russians, Canadians. We're not too sure about the Asians. But, okay, I get it. People are tired of politics as usual. I think dynasties bode ill for the country. Hillary isn't the best choice. Donald Trump certainly isn't politics as usual. But wait'll he does the first crazy things that he's sure to do, then voters will have second thoughts. It's unconscionable but we get what we pay for. The United States, the founding thereof, has always been fraught with some wild and radical ideas. It was the New World after all and wide open for exploitation. Well, now we'll be exploited to the max by this ersatz billionaire. O there might have been some wild and woolly characters in the earlier days in DC; some anecdotes remain frozen from the spittoon and dueling days. I just wonder how long it will take before the regulators step in to hogtie this guy for being too outrageous and verboten. Frankly I'd have appreciated the first female president in office because they only got to vote a hundred years ago. TSAR. Then we could have appreciated the first black president AND the first woman president back to back, quite an achievement that would have been. Now all we have is another white guy and a dubious one at that. This guy's not rational. I get his supporters too because many think just like him. See, the working class, which is a wide and varied composite, were driven out of the Democratic Party and straight into the kiosks of the Republicans. It was a strange transition when history is considered, but history means nothing to the working class. That's the domain of scholars and academ-

We knew we were in trouble with Bill Clinton but the conventional wisdom remained that another Clinton was a lot safer than some wacko cowboy high rise entrepreneur looking like Slim Pickins riding that explosive down in Doctor Strangelove. Well, that's what you have now, America, good luck with that. The Shakespearean festivities are about to begin. That's why we're LOAO. Or shall we say SOOL. If you need translation for these acronyms check with your teenage kids, even the adolescents. There is always the possibility that Trump will screw up so badly that he'll be ousted summarily. You know, the old Clinton impeachment thingy. They can do that if they don't like you. Personally I think a black grandma would be the better choice vou know, a no-nonsense soul saving things like "Looka heah, sukkah, straighten up or get yo butt out my house, you ain't sleepin' in my Lincoln Room no mo." She would say that as easily to Vlad Putin as Newt Gingrich. Now that would be politics I could relate to.

As it is, though, we have some fun days ahead. Some vulgar days. I think it's hilarious – um, as opposed to Hillary-ous. Or perhaps William Jefferson Clinton-ous Even Monica Lewinski-ous. Whatever. This is simply due to the old (now) adage from the sixties of bring it all down, it ain't worth saving philosophy if one can allude that to the Socrates school. Some have postulated that a democracy has something like a 200-300 year run before it dissolves of its own inertia. We don't know that, of course, it's only conjecture, but it causes you to ponder. Realistically I've always gravitated to the working class because it also encompasses professional workers as well as actual physically-oriented working people who also dabble in the arts and humanities. I've always liked most of them, save for perhaps a few of the backwater redneck rabble types who don't like nothin' no how especially if it has hair and a beard.

So that's what we have now, a redneck in office. Hey, I didn't vote for him, not my problem. Oh, he'll screw up the Supreme Court and a bunch of other stuff before he's through but they'll stop him in due course. One thing about being president, it's a learning process more than a presiding one. But yeah, I get it, people are tired of the same old same old.

I could end this with an acronym but I "chuse" not to do so in Trumpian lingo. As absurd as this is going to get I can't reduce myself to such vulgarities. What I can say is that America has just reduced itself to that level. Oh it won't last, it's too brazen, but the memento will be with the world for a long time to come. America will never gain credulity again. The Statue of Liberty is weeping inconsolably. This is the brief era of the Vulgar-Redneck-In-Chief. Lots of women like that brazen machismo stuff, just like lots of men like women who strut their "stuff". There's even great art to that effect, Michelangelo's David, Rodin's Thinker. Perhaps there'll even be a statue erected on the White House grounds, Trump with his drawers down showing his self-aggrandizing supposedly best side. You don't want to see the other

National Community Foundation week is November 14-18

At a time when our differences are highlighted and many feel very divided, there is one thing we can all agree on: we love this corner of our country in northwest Michigan. Out of that affection and the desire to see our communities thrive, local people came together to establish the Charlevoix County Community Foundation and the Petoskey-Harbor Springs Area Community Foundation 25 years ago. Since that time, we have worked diligently to connect donors with community needs and help people make a difference close to home.

When our incredible natural surroundings are protected and accessible, people make visiting our region a priority and all of us can enjoy our lakes, beaches, forests, and trails. When our children and families have the support they need, our communities are strengthened. When our history is preserved and our creativity is encouraged, our experiences are enriched. The community foundations are supporting these vital areas of our communities and more by strategic grantmakingmaking grants, this year alone totaling $4.3 million. Of equal importance is the effort to grow endowment resources so that years from now, whatever the current need or opportunity, your local community foundations will be able to respond for the good of friends and neighbors across the region.

As we celebrate National Community Foundation Week, we thank the thousands of individuals, families, businesses, and organizations who have made the good work of your local community foundations possible. We encourage you to learn more about how you can enhance the quality of life in Charlevoix and Emmet counties through the community foundations. Becoming involved is simple; the results are remarkable.

Sincerely

Malpass family honored with USTA/ Midwest Section Family of the Year award

The Malpass (Tad and Brenda) Family of East Jordan, Mich., has been named the winner of the 2016 USTA/Midwest Section Family of the Year Award, which recognizes a family that has contributed the most toward tennis through the years. All family members are involved in tennis, serving their local area or district in promoting and perpetuating the development of the game at all levels. The family will be honored at an awards luncheon on Saturday, January 28, 2017, in Indianapolis during the USTA/Midwest Section Annual Meeting.

Husband Tad and wife Brenda have supported tennis in the East Jordan community for many years. In fact, they met through tennis and even had their first date on the tennis court back in 1985. Both Tad and Brenda are still active players, along with their two daughters Kirsten and Keegan. The family plays together at Bay Tennis & Fitness in Harbor Springs, Mich. Tad and Brenda have been active supporters of their daughters' junior tennis careers over the years, including supporting tennis fundraisers for the East Jordan High School Girls tennis team.

Daughter Kirsten is a sophomore at Lake State University in Sault St. Marie, Mich., where she is a member of the tennis team. She grew up playing junior tennis and competed for the Northern Michigan Tennis Association (NMTA) on its Team Cup as a junior player. Kirsten was the driving force that led to the formation of a girl's tennis team at East Jordan High School. She continues to share her passion for the sport by volunteering her time to help introduce youth in her community to the game.

Daughter Keegan is a junior at East

Jordan High School where she plays No. 1 singles for the girls' high school team. She plays junior tournaments and represents the Northern Michigan Tennis Association (NMTA) on its Team Cup.

The USTA/Midwest Section exceeds 70,000 individual members and approximately 1,100 member organizations. It is the second largest section of the United States Tennis Association. The USTA/Midwest Section consists of 13 Districts in the following states: Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin as well as designated counties in West Virginia and Kentucky. The USTA/Midwest Section offers recreational and competitive tennis for individuals of all ages and abilities. Visit www.midwest.usta.com for more information.

New Changes to Medicare Drug Plans for 2017

Medicare has just announced the details for the Part D prescription drug plans available for 2017. Beneficiaries can switch their plans during the Annual Enrollment Period that runs from October 15th through December 7th.

Jim Verville, Regional Coordinator for the 10 county Medicare/Medicaid Assistance Program said "as is usually the case, there will be several changes in plan offerings, premium costs, and benefit details for Medicare Part

D drug plans next year" Following are some of the significant highlights of those changes:

· There is a marked reduction in the number of plan offerings. There will be 23 plans available for the new calendar year, or 5 fewer than approved for Michigan Medicare beneficiaries in 2016. In addition, two of the plans for 2017 are cur-

Medicare due to noncomplirently sanctioned by ance issues, and may not be available at the start of next year.

· The two plans under sanction are sponsored by Clgna-HealthSpring and include their Rx Secure and Rx-Secure-Extra Part D plans. Current members are permitted to remain in these plans for 2017, however, neither are available for new enrollment until the sanction is lifted.

· Several Part D plans have an annual deductible. Medicare has authorized an increase of $40 to a new ceiling of $400. Normally, the deductible must be met before the plan will provide any insurance coverage for drugs. When the full cost of medications reach $3,700 in 2017, Medicare beneficiaries enter the donut hole, otherwise known as the gap. This results in significantly higher co-pays for their drugs. The donut hole will increase by $390 next year. Those who enter the donut hole will pay 40% of the total cost of their brand name drugs and 51% of tailed comparisons for each the full cost for the generic equivalents. Part D companies are required to notify their subscribers of all of these details in their Annual Notice of Change mailing. Beneficiaries should have already received this information.

While the list of plan offerings is quite extensive and confusing to navigate, there is a very helpful tool available that can be used to compare an existing drug tool is called the Medicare Plan Finder. To do your own comparisons, or get help in plan with other plans available for 2017. The finding the best plan simply select one of the following options:

• If you are comfortable doing your own research, visit the Medicare website at www.medicare.gov. Just click on the green box entitled "Find health & drug plans", and enter the information requested. You will be given de-plan, sorted by lowest cost. Enrollment in a new plan can also be done at the same website.

· Also, you can call the Medicare/Medicaid Assistance Program (MMAP) at 800-803-7174, and ask to have a prescription drug worksheet mailed to you. Once you complete the form and return it to the MMAP office, a certified Counselor will review drug plan options and furnish vou with recommendations for 2017. Counselors can also help you enroll in a new Part D plan if needed.

"Drug plan details and costs often change each vear so we encourage all Medicare beneficiaries to have their plans reviewed during the fall Medicare Annual Enrollment Period", said Verville,

Kelly's Antiques & Furniture Barn offer quality vintage and custom furniture

By Jim Akans

From antique wicker to Early American and European imports, the vast selection is sure to tantalize the imagination of virtually every furniture shopper.

Don Kelly founded his business back in 1985, as he recalls, "it was in a small room off my garage. I loved working with furniture, and while attending a furniture show I discovered a new type of finish stripper that worked extremely well. I went home, tried it out, and started my new business. It kept expanding and I moved into my current location in 1990.

Kelly adds, "Something we specialize in is wicker furniture items. People love old wicker furniture, and we also sell lots of old pine, oak and items made from other $% \left\{ 1,2,...,n\right\}$ woods as well. Vintage furniture is generally made with sold wood or very good veneers. The workmanship and craftsmanship is excellent."

The services offered at Kelly'w Antiques & Furniture Barn also include customizing the size of furniture to match the customer's needs, and they will paint, stain and refinish items to match the customer's décor if they desire.

When the fire was extinguished hours later, Johan's Cafe and Round Lake Art Gallery were both gutted, and extensive water and/or smoke damage was found at neighboring businesses on the same block including The Clothing Company, Charlevoix Wear, Ga Ga For Kids and Murdick's Fudge.

Roloff said while firefighters left the scene around 9 p.m. they were called back later to a report of more smoke coming from the site and returned to douse the buildings again with water. A crew remained on the scene throughout the night to ensure the blaze did not re-ignite, he said.

MaryAnn Wright of Bloomfield Hills was in Charlevoix on Sunday when the blaze broke out and watched the event unfold. Wright said she and her friends decided to travel up north last weekend for a "post peak leaf peek" drive when they saw the billowing smoke from the downtown area and went to investigate.

What they saw unfolding on the city's main street "broke our hearts," said Wright, who noted she has been coming with family and friends to visit or vacation in Charlevoix for some 30 years.

"I couldn't believe what was happening right before our eyes," she said, "It was literally like watching someone burn a hole in the heart of Charlevoix."

Investigators early this week were still trying to determine the cause of the fire.

Charlevoix Area Chamber of Commerce President Alison Hubbard said she has been amazed at how many people have rallied to support the businesses affected and want to help lessen the impact the fire will have on them and the local economy.

"I am humbled by the outreach we have received from throughout the state to support the community as the business owners assess the damage from (Sunday's) devastating fire," Hubbard said, "The Chamber staff and the Board of Directors are on hand to help in any way we can as the businesses plan to reopen and re-build."

Clean-up started was already underway early this week along the block where the fire occurred so surrounding businesses can open. The buildings that housed Johan's Cafe and Round Lake Gallery will likely be torn down.

Johan's owner Clayton Brown, said he expects to re-open his shop somewhere in Charlevoix by next summer. "We aren't going to leave Charlevoix-the people have been good to us here," he said, "We'll be back."

Kirby Dipert, owner of Charlevoix Wear and The Clothing Company, said most all of his inventory was damaged but he also hopes to re-open by next summer.

Friends of Kathy Ackerman, owner of Round Lake Gallery, have set up a GoFundMe account to help her recover losses at the gallery. The gallery had been home to numerous artists, many of whom were not insured for their individual works of art that had been on display and for sale. EAST JORDAN CITY COMMISSION MEETING, NOVEMBER 15, 2016

From "glamping" to ice skating, East Jordan Parks and Rec has it all

By Krystal Johnson

EAST JORDAN - Mayor Russ Peck opened Tuesday evening's East Jordan commission meeting with a comp time proposal due to new labor laws, followed by a parks department report, and a warming center location discussion.

Effective December 1, new federal overtime regulations will go into effect which will require any city department heads whose salary is less than $47,476 to be paid overtime. At Tuesday's meeting, commissioners also approved a proposal to provide compensatory time off for department head employees who make greater than the $47,476 threshold. For every hour of overtime worked by the employee, they will earn one and one half hours of comp time to be used at a later requested date.

Parks and Recreation Director Trina VanderArk joined the meeting to give a 2016 season report, highlighting the new and profitable changes that have taken place over the year.

With water levels up and the newly constructed silt diversion wall in place, the harbor saw record gasoline sales, selling 32,000 gallons of fuel. The Tourist Park also rented boat slips for the first time in many years and brought in nearly $4,000 in sales. A highlight at the Tourist Park VanderArk said was a "glamping weekend" – a first ever, ladies only camping weekend. With over 30 women attending, the event helped to pack the campground, more than doubling the number of sites sold on that weekend the previous year.

VanderArk helped to host the second annual Fall Fest and offered boat rides for veterans on Memorial Day, two events which she hopes to continue growing in 2017. And this winter, she plans to finish work on a 108' x 160' outdoor ice skating rink at the Community Park. Located behind the soccer building, the facility will have established operational times and will be staffed for safety reasons.

Commissioner Paul Timmons addressed the commission Tuesday concerning East Jordan's lack of providing a warming center. In case of an emergency or extended power outage, a warming center could be made available for citizens as a safe harbor. While a site like the city-owned Civic Center or one of the school buildings would be an ideal location, due to their size, kitchen/cafeteria space, and bathroom facilities, none of these sites have an alternative power source. Commissioners came to a consensus to pursue the possibility of making the Emergency Medical Services (EMS) building a temporary warming center, as the facility does have a back-up generator; however half of the building is being leased to the Jordan Valley Ambulance Authority. Commissioners plan to seek a meeting with the authority board to discuss the possibility of designating the EMS building as a warming center.

Due to scheduling conflicts for city staff, the next regular meeting of the East Jordan City Commission has been moved from Tuesday, December 6 to Monday, December 5, 2016 at 7 p.m.

Charlevoix Hospital Foundation's annual Holly Daze event

This year's holiday giving tradition is ready to welcome you "Home for the Holly Daze." Plans are well underway for the holiday event of the year - Holly Daze 2016. Seats are filling up for the big night, which is just around the corner on Friday, December 2. Once again hosted at beautiful Castle Farms in Charlevoix, this year's theme, "Home for the Holly Daze," promises a warm and friendly atmosphere, amazing food, and fantastic silent and live auction items. Proceeds from the event will benefit an expansion of the hospital's laboratory, by far its busiest department.

Munson Healthcare Charlevoix Hospital is wellknown for being a leader in patient satisfaction. Physicians, nurses, and support staff work hand-in-hand every day to provide superior quality care. And while she won't take credit for it, her staff will tell you that Lyn Jenks, CEO, is the driving force behind it all. In light of her recently announced retirement, a very special part of the evening will pay tribute to Lyn's many contributions to Charlevoix Hospital. This year, "Gifts of Love," where bidders traditionally pledge gifts toward a chosen hospital need, will be "Gifts of Lyn." While the proceeds will benefit an important component of our laboratory, they will also honor the leader who has created such a strong and bright future for our hospital.

Seating is limited. To purchase tickets or to make a donation to Home for the Holly Daze, please contact Faye Parrish at 231-547-8501 no later than Monday, November 21.

Plans are well underway for the holiday event of the year - Holly Daze 2016, taking place on December 2 at Castle Farms. COURTESY

Consumers Energy's CARE Program

More than 16,000 Michigan households will receive assistance from Consumers Energy to stay warm this winter through its CARE program, part of the energy provider's commitment to extend help to its customers facing hardship.

"CARE is one of the most powerful tools that we offer at Consumers Energy to help people manage their energy bills," said Chad Miller, Consumers Energy's manager of low-income programs. "With winter on its way, we urge customers to visit our website for assistance options to help them stay on top of their energy bills. Help is available."

CARE is an affordable payment plan available to Consumers Energy customers based on their income. For qualified households with a past due balance, CARE can provide help for as long as 12 months. The program is in its fourth year and is funded through a State of Michigan grant from the Michigan Energy Assistance Program.

Among its benefits:

- Participants receive a 50 percent credit on their monthly energy bill from November through March, and 30 percent in April through October.

- A past due balance is frozen and will be paid down over the program year as long as participants make regular monthly payments.

- Participants qualify to receive a free in-home energy efficiency visit and weatherization services through Consumers Energy's Helping Neighbors program, www.ConsumersHelpingNeighbors.com.

"It's truly unimaginable that this type of compassion and action has been done through yourself and the CARE program!" one former participant wrote. "Thank you, thank you, thank you to you and to your program for this fresh start! I will pay this forward, (without question, I promise) as I catapult back to stability!"

Space in the CARE program is limited, and enrollment ends as soon as seats are filled. Customers statewide can apply through two agencies that process applications for eligibility — the United Way of Jackson County (844-220-6098) or TrueNorth Community Services (231-355-5880).

Visit www.ConsumersEnergy.com/care to learn more about CARE participation benefits, eligibility, and enrollment process and to download an application packet. Alternatively, pick up an application at the Consumers Energy payment office nearest you.

In addition to the CARE Program, Consumers Energy recently announced a partnership with five nonprofit organizations to provide $12 million in assistance to help with energy bills. That will help as many as an additional 30,000 households stay on track to pay their energy Assistance to help individuals and families afford and manage their bills is available through a variety of channels. People are encouraged to visit www.ConsumersEnergy.com/assista nce or dial 2-1-1 to learn about assistance options in their community.
