Retiring Charlevoix city staff honored at Council Meeting

BOYNE CITY, CHARLEVOIX, EAST JORDAN, ELLSWORTH AND SURROUNDING AREAS

CHARLEVOIX CITY COUNCIL MEETING, JANUARY 4, 2021

BY: DOM SANTINA

CHARLEVOIX - The first meeting of the new year started with Mayor Luther Kurtz giving two Mayoral Proclamations thanking two city workers for their service and sending them onto their retirement.

Mattlafontaineford.com

The first Proclamation was for Deputy Police Chief Scott Hankins, who has worked for the city for 30 years. Hankins graduated from the United States Police School in 1984, was deployed to South Korea on two different operations.

He then served for the Kalkaska County Sherriff's department before starting with the City of Charlevoix. In June of 1990 he started as a Police Officer for the city and in 2005 was promoted to Deputy Police Officer. In 1991, he received the Commendation Medal for the arrest of an armed robber that involved a shooting situation at a Charlevoix Hotel. Hankins served 15 years on the JOLT Investigation team and the Drug Death Team as part of a countywide drug enforcement team. Upon retirement from the police force and the city of Charlevoix, Hankins will serve as a Commissioner for the

Charlevoix County Board of Commission-

The second proclamation was for Electric Superintendent Don Swem, who will be retiring in the coming days after 18 years of service with the city. Swem earned his Bachelor of Science degree in Nuclear Engineering from the University of Michigan in 1977. Swem then would spend 10 years working at the Big Rock Point Nuclear Plant as a Project Engineer. He would then go on to work for Charlevoix Abstract & Engineering and Performance Engineers, Inc. While there he designed and inspected a

Organize for the New Year

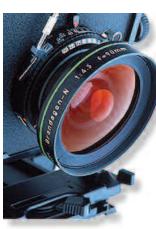

BY JIM AKANS

2021 has (finally) arrived! We are all looking forward to a slow and steady return to semblance of normal daily life as the year rolls out. A good place to start is getting organized.

While many utilize the ceremonial switch of the calendar year as an opportunity to pursue a New Year's resolution or two, here is a checklist that requires a little less, well...resolve, but can help get the coming year off to a great start just the same.

1. SIMPLIFY

Great advice any time of the year that can reduce stress, debt and increase the quality of life. Put cabin fever to good use by going through closets, cupboards, basement storage areas and getting rid of unused items. It they are still functional, sell them on eBay or Craigslist, donate them to local agencies such as Goodwill, Salvation Army, Habitat for Humanity or a local resale store. If applicable, be sure to get a tax-deductible receipt for next year's tax return. Take those old magazines and newspapers to the local recycle center.

2. MAKE A PRIMARY GOAL FOR 2021

What is your 2021 "hot button." Whether gaining control of finances, going on a dream vacation, improving personal health...whatever your goal, be specific about your plan to achieve it - write it down, and review your progress monthly.

3. PREPARE FOR THE TAX SEASON

Now is the time to gather income statements and taxdeductible receipts. Make a list of items and forms you will need to file your 2020 taxes such as mortgage interest statements, W-2's or 1099's. Check these items off as you receive them and file taxes as early as possible (even if you owe taxes, prepare your forms early so they are ready to file). You, and your tax preparer, will be grateful for easing the April madness.

4. MAKE A FINANCIAL PLAN FOR THE YEAR

While digging through last year's bill statements and receipts, group them by spending category and prepare a household budget for the coming year. Look at small ways you can save money, such as cutting down on dining out, not stopping for that cup of coffee on the way to work, limiting alcohol or tobacco purchases, or starting to utilize shopping lists and sticking to them.

5. FILL OUT THE CALENDAR Go through the 2021 calendar, month by month, and mark the birthdays and anniversaries of family members and friends, special events such as graduations or reunions, and block out desired vacation weeks before your co-workers can even think about asking for the time off. Note reminders for making appointments for annual and semi-annual events such as dental or doctor exams.

6. CHECK YOUR CREDIT REPORT

One report is available free of charge once per year.

AnnualCreditReport.com. You can dispute any errors online through each credit

7. TAKE CARE OF SMALL MAINTENANCE TASKS AROUND THE HOUSE

Install fresh batteries in smoke and CO2 detectors, change the furnace filter, touchup paint on interior walls, replace burnt out light bulbs with new energy efficient compact fluorescent bulbs, lubricate squeaky door hinges (don't forget the garage door). Speaking of doors, check to see that your spare front door key is still hidden where you think it is.

Michigan Bipartisan Relief Bill extends unemployment benefits to 26 Weeks

Governor Gretchen Whitmer signed the bipartisan relief bill that the Michigan legislature passed after she urged them to provide support for Michigan families, frontline workers, and small businesses. The relief bill includes $55 million to help small businesses impacted by COVID-19. Grants of up to $20,000 will be made available to small businesses across the state that need support this winter. The relief bill also includes $3.5 million for grants of up to $40,000 each for live music and entertainment venues and includes $45 million in direct payments to workers who have been laid off or furloughed as a result of the

"I proposed this stimulus plan to the legislature in November because I know how much our families, frontline workers, and small businesses need relief. This bipartisan bill will provide families and businesses the support they need to stay afloat as we continue working to distribute the safe and effective vaccine and eliminate COVID-19 once and for all," said Governor Whitmer. "There is still more work to do to eliminate this virus and grow our economy. All Michiganders have a personal responsibility to do their part and mask up, practice safe social distancing, and avoid indoor gatherings where the virus can easily spread from person to person. We will beat this virus together."

Lake Superior State University releases annual "List of Banished Words"

Enough already with COVID-19!

People across the U.S. and around the world let Lake Superior State University know that they're tired not only of the coronavirus pandemic but also of hearing, reading, and talking about it-especially when the communication is bad or excessive.

COVID-19 terminology monopolized submissions for LSSU's annual Banished Words List this year. Out of 1,450-plus nominations, upwards of 250 of the words and terms suggested for banishment for overuse, misuse, or uselessness relate to the coronavirus. In fact, seven of the 10 words and terms that LSSU is banishing for 2021 are about it.

Ranked No. 1 to get rid of is what started of all this: "COVID-19" itself.

"It should surprise no one that this year's list was dominated by words and terms related to COVID-19," said Peter Szatmary, executive director of marketing and communications. "LSSU's Banished Words List has reflected signs of the times since debuting in the mid-1970s, and the zeitgeist this year is: We're all in this together by banishing expressions like 'We're all in this together.' To be sure, COVID-19 is unprecedented in wreaking havoc and destroying lives. But so is the overreliance on 'unprecedented' to frame things, so it has to go, LSSU has compiled an annual Banished Words List since 1976 to uphold, protect, and support excellence in language by encouraging avoidance of words and terms that are overworked. redundant, oxymoronic, clichéd, illogical, nonsensical—and otherwise ineffective, baffling, or irritating.

IN AN ABUNDANCE OF CAUTION LA MACARENA for Misuse, Overuse, and Uselessness KAREN I KNOW, RIGHT? IN THESE UNCERTAIN TIMES

LAKE SUPERIOR
STATE UNIVERSITY DA BOMB

The wordsmiths at Lake Superior State University have released LSSU's annual List of Words Banished from the Queen's English for Mis-use, Over-use and General Uselessness. Courtesy image

Over the decades, LSSU has received tens of thousands of nominations for the list, which now totals more than 1,000 entries. This year, nominations came from most major U.S. cities and many U.S. states, as well as from Australia, the Czech Republic, England, and Canada. Here are the list of the banished words and terms for 2021 and the reasons for their banishment:

1. COVID-19

(COVID, coronavirus, Rona)

A large number of nominators are clearly resentful of the virus and how it has overtaken our vocabulary. No matter how necessary or socially and medically useful these words are, the committee cannot help but wish we could banish them along with the virus itself. Coincidentally, this list arrives as does a vaccine—the committee hopes this proves a type of double whammy.

2. Social distancing

This phrase is useful, as wearing a mask and keeping vour distance have a massive effect on preventing the spread of infection. But we'd be lying if we said we weren't ready for this phrase to become "useless." With north of 50 nominations, many others clearly feel the same, and the tone of their reasoning ranged from impatient to heartfelt.

3. We're all in this together

This phrase was likely intended as a way to keep everyone feeling safe and calm at the start of the pandemic. However, as the virus made its way across the globe and nation, it became clear that we are all dealing with COVID-19 in different ways and that we confront some vastly different challenges in coping with it. As with many words that show up on the list, its usefulness has faded.

4. In an abundance of caution (various phrasings)

Yes, humanity needs to follow safeguards during COVID-19. The statistics are sobering: more than 342,000 deaths and more than 19 million confirmed cases in the U.S. and more than 1.8 million deaths and more than 82 million confirmed cases worldwide. But the phrasing about how to take preventative steps is vague. What is the standard measurement for caution, metric or U.S. standard?

5. In these uncertain times (various phrasings)

The committee agrees that COVID-19 has upended everyday life and wishes this weren't so. But putting things into imprecise context doesn't help matters. The blur dilutes reality and, to some, sounds like the beginning of a movie trailer. Keep as wide a berth of trite parlance as those who don't wear masks in public. What exactly does it mean for times to be uncertain? Look at a clock!

6. Pivot

Reporters, commentators, talking heads, and others from the media reference how everyone must adapt to the coronavirus through contactless delivery, virtual learning, curbside pickup, video conferencing, remote working, and other urgent readjustments. That's all true and vital. But basketball players pivot; let's keep it that way.

7. Unprecedented

It's unheard of that a word would be repeated on the Banished Words List. Actually, it's not. In the early years, words wound up repeated, although we try to avoid repetition nowadays. Despite the fact that "unprecedented" was banished in 2002, given that it was nominated many times this year for misuse in describing events that do have precedent, inclusion again seems warranted

2021 Banished Words and Terms Not About COVID-19:

8. Karen

What began as an antiracist critique of the behavior of white women in response to Black and Brown people has become a misogynist umbrella term for critiquing the perceived overemotional behavior of women. As one nominator said about reasons for its banishment, "I would tell you why, but I'd sound like a Karen." Another critic observed, "Offensive to all normal people named Karen."

9. Sus

It's a shortened version for "suspicious" in the video game Among Us. No committee members play, but our children who do explained that this multiplayer online social game is designed around identifying "sus" imposters so they can be "thrown into the lava." Complainers a) ask: How much effort does it take to say the entire word; and b) request: If that can't happen, confine the syllable to the gaming world.

8. BACK UP YOUR COMPUTER

This should really be done on a more short-term basis, say montniy or even weekly, but just in case you forgot, back up documents and financial records. Don't forget to sort those 2020 digital photos before storing them on backup disk. While you're at it, take the best ones to your local photo processing station and print them. It's much easier to share "hard copies" of your favorite photos when family and friends come to visit

9. TAKE STOCK OF REOC-CURRING EXPENSE ITEMS

Do some price comparison-shopping for your auto, home, medical and insurance policies. Pull out statement for mortgage, equity line, charge cards, and investment accounts. Write down the balances and interest rates. Go online (remember: if it looks too good to be true...), or call local lenders or investment professionals to see if more attractive terms are available.

10. ENJOY THE NEW YEAR

With 12 months stretching before you, make some room on the calendar to take some time for yourself and yours. Whether a twoweek vacation or a few three or four day weekends; plan a trip to a local or far off location. Schedule a regular date night, some hobby time, attend a concert or play (as that becomes possible), go fishing...whatever floats your boat!

There's a whole New Year ahead.

MDHHS updates priority group guidance for COVID vaccinations

Health and Human Services (MDHHS) officials updated prioritization guidance for COVID-19 vaccination administration for essential workers and those at high risk of severe infection.

According to Dr. Joneigh Khaldun, Chief Medical Executive and Chief Deputy for Health at MDHHS, "Some essential workers are at higher risk of exposure or exposing others due to the nature of their work and older individuals, particularly those with underlying health conditions, are particularly vulnerable to the virus. As new information is learned, this guidance will continue to evolve. The availability of these safe and effective vaccines means the end to the pandemic is near. Everyone should be planning now for how they will get their vaccine when it becomes available to them." MDHHS is following the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recommendations for prioritization of distribution and administration of COVID-19 vaccines. CDC recommendations are based on input from the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices (ACIP), the federal advisory committee made up of medical and public health experts who develop recommendations on the use of vaccines in the United States.

Updated phases are as follows:

Phase 1A: Paid and unpaid persons serving in healthcare settings who have the potential for direct or indirect exposure to patients or infectious materials and are unable to work from home as care facilities. Phase 1B: Persons 75 years of age or older and frontline essential workers in critical infrastructure.

well as residents in long term

Phase 1C: Individuals 16 years of age or older at high risk of severe illness due to COVID-19 infection and some other essential workers whose position impacts life, safety and protection during the COVID-19 response.

Phase 2: Individuals 16 years of age or older.

These prioritizations may change as more information on vaccine effectiveness and additional vaccination products become available. MDHHS has provided additional prioritization guidance within these categories. It is important to note that vaccination in one phase may not be complete before vaccination in another phase begins. There may be vaccination of phases that occur simultaneously. The timing of the start of vaccination in a phase is dependent on the supply of vaccine from the manufacturer, how vaccine is allocated from the federal level to Michigan and the capacity to administer the vaccine to populations. Decisions on moving to the next phase will be made at the state level.

More than 231,000 doses of Moderna and Pfizer COVID-19 vaccine have been delivered to local health departments and hospitals across the state with over 120,000 additional doses expected next week. This data is being tracked on the COVID-19 Vaccine Dashboard, which also includes information on the number of providers enrolled to provide the vaccine, and doses administered. The dashboard will be expanded over the coming weeks to include vaccination coverage rates by age and race.

Even with COVID-19 vaccinations starting in Michigan and worldwide, Khaldun urges everyone to continue to practice preventative measures such as properly wearing masks, social distancing and frequent handwashing to reduce the spread of the virus until the vast majority of people have been vaccinated.

Michigan health officials have set a goal of vaccinating 70% of Michiganders over age 16, about 5.6 million people, by the end of 2021. There will be no out-of-pocket costs to individuals for the vaccine, however, healthcare providers may bill insurance for administrative costs. The COVID-19 vaccine will require two doses, separated by three or four weeks depending on the manufacturer. Michiganders should receive both doses in order to have full protection from the virus. Individuals who receive the vaccine may experience mild side effects such as low-grade fever, sore arm and general discomfort, which indicate that the vaccine is working. There is a robust state and national process for tracking vaccines and reporting side

Health Department of Northwest Michigan COVID-19 Update

On January 5, the Health Department of Northwest Michigan is reporting 37 new cases in Antrim (17), Charlevoix (6), Emmet (10), and Otsego (4) counties, and 1 COVID-19 associated death in Antrim county. Case investigation and contact tracing are in progress, and relevant information will be shared when it is available.

We have been receiving an influx of questions and calls related to our COVID-19 vaccination administration status for adults 75 and older in Phase 1B. We understand our community members are eager to know when they can anticipate receiving their vaccine and want more information on the process, we are currently working closely with community partners such as the Area Agency on Aging and others who provide services to seniors as well as Community Connections and hospital partners to create effective processes for vaccine distribution for our most vulnerable residents. We know that safety is of great concern to everyone and vaccinating large numbers of people can be challenging when trying to reach this population, but we are working hard to ensure that we have effective strategies to reach older adults. We are currently working on adapting our process for pre-registration for individuals in this age group to ensure a smooth process for scheduling. At this time, we are still asking healthcare workers and any individuals in Phase 1A to complete the COVID-19 Vaccination Information Form so that we can get their appointments scheduled.

"There are several exciting things happening right now and we are working on our public health messaging to quickly notify the community. We are still working on vaccinating healthcare workers in Phase 1A, while simultaneously planning for the next priority groups and will notify the community when we move to our next phase," stated Lisa Peacock. Health Officer. "We will continue to provide regular updates through press releases, individuals can also monitor our COVID-19 Vaccination webpage and our Facebook."

As of 4 pm on January 5, the Health Department of Northwest Michigan is reporting:

Total COVID-19 cases in the following counties: Antrim - 695, Charlevoix -865, Emmet - 1,259, Otsego -

Recovered COVID-19 cases in the following counties: Antrim - 485, Charlevoix -696, Emmet – 980, Otsego –

Confirmed COVID-19 associated deaths in the following counties: Antrim – 10, Charlevoix -10, Emmet -32, Otsego-24

The State of Michigan is reporting 504,410 cases and 12.867 deaths.

National Birth Defect Prevention Month

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, birth defects occur in about 1 in every 33 infants born in the United States per year. That's why during National Birth Defect Prevention Month in January, District Health Department #10 (DHD#10) is seeking to increase public knowledge of five critical tips to reduce the chances of birth defects in babies.

"Not all birth defects can be prevented. But you can increase your chances of having a healthy baby by managing health conditions and adopting healthy behaviors before and during pregnancy," said Anne Bianchi, MS, RD, Director of District Health Department #10's Women, Infant, and Children (WIC) program. "Taking care of yourself and doing what's best for you is also best for your baby!"

Women should note the following steps to increase chances for a healthy baby:

Before getting pregnant, try to reach a healthy weight. Obesity increases the risk of several serious birth defects and other pregnancy complications. If you are underweight, overweight or have obesity talk with your healthcare provider about ways to reach and maintain a healthy weight before getting pregnant. Take 400 micrograms (mcg) of folic acid every day. Folic acid is a vitamin that can be taken prior to becoming pregnant as well as during pregnancy.

It is very important to take while pregnant because it can help prevent some major birth defects of the baby's brain and spine.

Book a visit with your healthcare provider before stopping or starting any medication.

There are often benefits to continuing treatment throughout pregnancy. Discussing a treatment plan before a pregnancy allows a woman and her health care provider to weigh the pros and cons of all options to keep mom and baby as healthy as possible.

Become up-to-date with all vaccines, including the flu shot.

Having the right vaccinations, like the flu and Tdap vaccines, at the right time during pregnancy can help keep a woman and her baby

Boost your health by avoiding harmful substances during pregnancy, such as alcohol, tobacco, marijuana, and other drugs.

There is no known safe amount of alcohol during pregnancy and its exposure can cause major birth de-

Smoking tobacco and/or marijuana during pregnancy can cause dangerous chemicals to damage the placenta and/or reach baby's bloodstream.

The opioid addiction epidemic has led to a sharp increase in Neonatal Abstinence Syndrome (NAS), premature birth and drug withdrawal in developing ba-variety of City of Charlevoix projects involving sewer, water, stormwater management, roads and septic systems. Swem was hired in April of 2002 as the Electric Department Superintendent / City Engineer for the City of Charlevoix. In his time, Swem vastly improved the reliability of the City's electric system and inspected and engineered all reconstruction of the streetscape from hill to hill in downtown. Swem converted 90 percent of the City's streetlights to LED technology and to further the renewable energy goal, assisted with the purchase of a wind farm and solar project.

HOUSING PROJECT UPDATE

The proclamations were followed by a presentation by Zoning Administrator Jonathan Scheel about the zoning incentives for Yearround housing. The plan presented to the board discussed ideas such as tweaking the Master Plan to state that year around housing is a primary goal. The presenfor adding fourplexes and duplexes in certain districts. Along with adding incentives and bonuses based on certain criteria. Allowing housing development in underutilized areas such as the Industrial Park zoning district. While also eliminating things like required parking spaces for residential development, reducing or eliminating floor area minimums for year-round residential housing. The plan was very full of different strategies and information. The Council had brief discussions and a short question-answer session with Scheel but made no action on the presentation other than to continue to evaluate and work towards a solution in the future.

EMS REPLACEMENT FUNDS

The City Council unanimously agreed to approve the motion of expectation for Ambulance Service dated January 4, 2021. This motion approved the use of a fund balance that is managed by the City and ultimately City Council. The motion will reallocate some of the fund balance reserved for future ambulance and equipment replacement towards current operating liabilities for each entity. The different phases, the first phase will transfer $65,000 this month and will be credited proportionally to each member. The second phase is figured to be around $100,000 but is subject to change based on what is needed to maintain equipment in the meantime. The need to reallocate funds comes due to the current fiscal conditions brought on largely by the pandemic and changes in the industry. The dialogue of the creation of an EMS Authority between the City and the townships is ongoing, with the possibility of having something for each board later this month.

NORTHSIDE TRAIL DEVEL-OPMENT AGREEMENT

The Council would again unanimously approve a motion to authorize the City Manager to negotiate and sign an agreement with TART Trails to develop the Northside Non-Motorized Trail. This motion will help to keep the process moving forward with the approved easements for the construction of a non-motorized trail on the north side of Charlevoix. This trail will connect the Northern Michigan Wheelway to downtown. The City has begun discussions with OHM Advisors who have experience helping struct the trail between Boyne City and Charlevoix. They have also had contact with TART Trails who is managing the extension of trails between Traverse City and Charlevoix. In order to support the vital link, TART Trails is willing to support the engineering portion of the project, which is currently estimated at $150,000. The City also hopes to qualify for MDOT grants in the range of $750,000 to $1 million. This would leave the city with a $200,000 local match for the project minus any local fundraising and assistance from other units of government, like Charlevoix County. The agreement would allow to receive the TART funding. The agreement will also cover who will oversee longterm maintenance on the trail between the intersection of Waller Road and US 31 until the trail comes out on Division Street by the new County building. The final agreement will be presented to Council once it is completed.

The next City Council meeting will be on January 18, 2021, at 6 o'clock on Zoom.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letters may be submitted by e-mail to office@Charlevoix CountyNews.com.

TO THE EDITOR,

I want to thank Rep. Bergman for standing with the constituents of his district and signing on to the Amicus Brief. While conspiracy theories from both sides of the spectrum have been rampant since the 2016 election, this was not one of them. For those who are willing to read more than a headline, you would understand that this did not seek to overturn the election. Instead, it addressed the Michigan Secretary of State's multiple overreaches on the constitution and election laws. We stand with Rep. Bergman and applaud him for his continued hard work for our Dis-

It is critical to the success of our republic that every American can trust our electoral system. In 2016 my Democrat friends were telling me that Russia hacked our election - now they are saying this was the most secure election ever. We are all losing faith in our process which is harmful for the future of our Republic. I applaud Rep. Bergman for standing with his constituents to address the irregularities and concerns with our election process. Michigan is proud to have him in Washington.

Michigan's Secretary of State subverted Michigan state law and constitutional precedent, and I applaud Rep. Bergman for standing up for his constituents. He knows the future of our Republic is much bigger than him or his election and was willing to take a stand for America by asking the Supreme Court to look at these issues in our State. While there are people trying to say he pushed to overturn the results of the election - this simply isn't true. Rep. Bergman stood with the rule of law and stood for election integrity. We stand with our Congressman!

Reviewing specific instances where the Secretary of State subverted election laws and constitutional precedent should be a bipartisan issue. But unfortunately, the Supreme Court chose not to hear this case. I applaud Rep. Bergman for standing strong and supporting the will of his constituents. This can't be easy in the face of all the pressure, but I'm thankful we once again elected a strong leader. America needs more men and women in Washington with a spine. Thanks Rep. Bergman for standing with the over 250,000 people who once again elected you to serve in Washington.

Americans should be able to have confidence in the integrity of our voting system and the only way we can have confidence is with transparency. I applaud Rep. Bergman's steadfast work to ensure our elections are above board and his effort to ensure we know that our election laws were followed closely. Rep. Bergman will not back down from a fight and that is why we sent him back to Washington by an overwhelming majority (His largest win margin yet.) We applaud Rep. Bergman's continued effort to bring accountability and transparency to Washington.

Consumers Energy offers 10 tips for winter

It's that time of year when Mother Nature brings cold temperatures, snow and ice to our state. Consumers Energy is offering 10 safety and savings tips to help Michiganders conquer winter weather. Following these simple yet important tips can help ensure Michigan residents remain safe during the heating season and save money on energy bills. Members of Consumers Energy's media relations team are available to talk about these and other tips. Thank you for your consideration. Please contact Debra Dodd at 586-918-0597 to schedule interviews.

Remember: Help is available for those finding it difficult to pay energy bills. Consumers Energy this fall gave $12 million to help households and small businesses with their energy bills. Contact 2-1-1 to find out what resources within your community are available to help with energy, housing, transportation and other needs. Energy Saving Tips:

1.Consumers Energy is offering free smart thermostats to households and small businesses to help them reduce costs. Smart thermostats can help customers save 10 percent or more on energy bills, reduce energy waste and help the electric grid by reducing energy use during times when demand for energy is highest. The free thermostats are available to businesses that Consumers Energy serves. Businesses can see if they qualify at ConsumersEnergy.com/ma rketplace, where they can also purchase other energy-saving products. Residential customers can see if they qualify by visiting ConsumersEnergyStore.com.

2.A well-maintained system can save a lot of money. Have a professional perform annual tune-ups. Change your furnace filter monthly during winter months, especially with pets in the home.

3. Seal air leaks around windows and doors coming into your home with weather stripping and caulk. An 1/8-inch crack around a door is equal to a softball-sized hole in the middle of it.

4. With so many working/learning from home due to COVID-19, remember to regularly unplug electronic devices when not in use, or use a smart power strip. Devices that continue to draw power when they appear to be turned off can cost up to $200 annually in wasted en-

5.No-cost tips like letting drapes hang loose and making sure they don't block heat registers and air-return ducts and closing registers/ducts in unused rooms can help save on energy costs.

HEALTH SAFETY TIPS:

1.Install an audible UL listed carbon monoxide alarm. Poisonings from this colorless, odorless toxic gas are most prevalent in the winter when furnaces are operational, and doors and windows are shut

2.Make sure furnaces are operating efficiently and safely by having them inspected and tuned by a qualified professional annually.

3. Keep flammable materials such as clothing and boxes well away from the furnace. Also keep space heaters away from curtains, furniture, clothing and other flammable materials. Unplug space heaters before leaving the room or going to sleep.

4. Never use a stovetop or oven or charcoal grill to 5.Never use a generator inside a home, basement or garage. Keep them outdoors at least 25 feet from the home.

Health Dept.

ment #10 (DHD#10) and the Health Department of Northwest Michigan are supporting the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) in a nationwide campaign to educate Americans about the dangers of radon exposure.

During National Radon Action Month, Health Departments are encouraging people to act to protect their homes and families by testing their homes for radon during National Radon Action Month. During the month of January, any resident who visits their local DHD#10 office can ask to receive a free radon testing kit and resources to educate themselves about this environmental hazard.

Radon is a naturally occurring, invisible, odorless, tasteless, radioactive gas found in rock and soil. Radon is usually harmless but can become dangerous when it is trapped inside buildings and homes. Radon can seep into homes through cracks and small openings in the foundation; it doesn't matter whether the home is new or old or built over a basement or crawlspace. In Michigan, nearly one in eight homes is expected to have a radon problem, and in some counties, as many as 40-45% of homes could be affected.

"If radon is present in your home, it has the potential to build up and become harmful," states Tom Reichard, Environmental Health Director at DHD#10. "Because there are no physical signs: rash, nausea, headache, that will alert people to the presence of radon in their homes, people tend to downplay the health effects and ignore the possibility that there might be a silent killer lurking. Testing for radon is the only way to know for sure if you are being exposed."

Scientists have long been concerned about the health risk of radon, but never before has there been such overwhelming evidence that exposure to elevated levels of radon causes lung cancer EPA, each year radon is responsible for approximately 21,000 American lung cancer deaths and is the number one cause of lung cancer among non-smokers.

Last year, the Health Department of Northwest Michigan ran a campaign called, "Give a Can, Get a Kit" and we were able to provide the donations to food pantries in the community and we are hoping to contribute to our community again this year. This vear we are offering two ways to receive low-cost radon testing kits, you can drop off 5 non-perishable items at one of our office locations for contactless pickup of a testing kit or you can choose to pay $5 to have the testing kit mailed to you.

Most homes contain some concentration of radon and should be tested. About 12% of homes in Michigan have unsafe levels of radon. In some counties, as many as 45% of homes are at risk. With testing, radon is easy to detect and remove from your home.

For additional information about radon test kits and to receive your test kit, please call 1-800-432-4121. Kits can be picked up - and non-perishable food items dropped off - at Health Department Offices in Bellaire, Charlevoix, Gaylord, and Harbor Springs/Petoskey Monday - Friday between 8:00AM-12:00PM, and 1:00PM-5:00PM until January 31, 2021.

For additional information about radon, visit the Environmental Protection Agency's site (epa.gov/radon).

BANISHED WORDS

10. I know, right?

An amusing phrase flooding social media, "I know, right?" is a relatively new construction to convey empathy with those who have expressed agreement. But as one wordsmith put it, if you know, why do you need to ask if it's correct or seek further approval? Another grammarian suggested that the desire for confirmation connotes insecurity. In other words, it's reiterating something already seconded.

"Real-world concerns preoccupied word watchdogs this year, first and foremost COVID-19, and that makes sense," said LSSU President Dr. Rodney S. Hanley. "In a small way, maybe this list will help 'flatten the curve,' which also was under consideration for banishment. We trust that your 'new normal'—another contender among nominations—for next year won't have to include that anymore.'

(Don't let budgeting myths sabotage your finances)

Dear Dave, I made a resolution to start following your plan in 2021. I talked to my parents about this, and while they like some parts of your teaching, they don't think living on a budget is necessary if you make good money. They also said budgeting is extremely difficult. Are they right? Jensen

Dear Jensen,

For whatever reason, I'm afraid your parents are way off base on this one. A lot of people trash talk the idea of budgeting, and make up all kinds of excuses for not living on one. The truth is a written, monthly budget is essential when it comes to beating debt and winning with money—period. It's the map you need to get where you want to go in your financial journey.

There are lots of myths, and just some bad information, out there where living on a budget is concerned. Making a budget isn't rocket science. If you can do basic math, you can create a budget. Your income minus your outgo needs to equal zero. That's it! You might spend a couple of hours tallying all your expenses when you first start, but the process soon becomes faster and easier. All it takes is a little prac-

If you think doing a budget is only for people who have trouble making ends meet, think again. My wife and I have lived by a written, monthly budget every single month for about 30 years. It doesn't matter whether you're a multi-millionaire, or if you have just $100 to your name. knowing exactly how much money you have—and where it's going—is an essential part of managing your finances accurately and successfully.

Believe me, I hear dozens of other excuses, too. You'd be amazed at how many people don't make a budget every month because they think it's "boring." Others claim they can do their budgets in their heads. I don't think so! For a budget to really work, it needs to be something you can track down to the last penny. And if you're married and saying you can do a monthly budget in your head, that means only one of you is involved in the decision making. That's a recipe for disaster in your finances and your relationship.

A budget represents your financial game plan for the upcoming month and years ahead. As Benjamin Franklin said, "If you fail to plan, you are planning to fail.' —Dave

(Push the pause button)

Dear Dave,

I've been following your plan, but recently I experienced a medical emergency. I'm about halfway through Baby Step 2 and paying off my debts using the debt snowball system. Considering the circumstances, should I stop doing the debt snowball for now?

Brooke Dear Brooke,

That's exactly what you should do. But make sure you're only pressing the pause button on paying off debt. I'm talking about temporarily stopping the debt snowball, and making only minimum payments on all non-mortgage debt for now. Cash is your umbrella when it rains, and you never know just long the rain will last. Even if you have great health insurance, you might end up paying a chunk out of pocket. That's why it's important to save up and have plenty on hand. Things like this are often just a bump in the road, so don't get discouraged. They can be expensive, and they're part of life, but taking care of these kinds of issues doesn't have to mean giving up on getting control of your finances. Emergency issues, especially a medical emergency, come first. Then, go back when things are better and pick up where you left off knocking out debt using the debt snowball system.

You can do this, Brooke. God bless you!

–Dave

REAL ESTATE CORNER

BROUGHT TO YOU BY HOLLY STARK EXP REAL ESTATE

CLOSING COSTS

First, the responsibility of who pays for closing costs is always negotiable. Local custom may dictate which fees the buyer will pay and those the seller pays.

Typically, the buyer pays for home inspection services and escrow, deed preparation and recording fees, depending upon what is customary for the county the property is located in. He or she may also pay for title insurance, since this is required by the lender. The buyer is also responsible for any fees or costs associated with obtaining the purchase loan.

The seller customarily pays the real estate agent's commission, as well as costs associated with transferring an unencumbered title, such as a title search, reconveyance deed and documentary transfer tax.

Often, a seller will sweeten the deal by offering a one-year home warranty.

Who will pay for what closing costs customarily differs from county to county and should always be clearly spelled out in the purchase offer. A creative sales associate will consider the cash, income and tax situation of the home seller and the buyer when constructing an offer. For instance, if the buyer is short of cash, the agent may ask the seller to pay the buyer's loan points up front in exchange for some other concessions from the buyer. In this scenario, the buyer and seller benefit and both get what they want.

Late anterless season in northeast counties in Alcona, Alpena, Montmorency, Oscoda and Presque Isle counties

A late antlerless firearm hunt on private land in Alcona, Alpena, Montmorency, Oscoda and Presque Isle counties will be held Jan. 7-10 and Jan.

"This season will provide an additional opportunity for deer management in the bovine tuberculosis (bTB) area," said Emily Sewell, Michigan Department of Natural Resources wildlife health specialist. "Increased antlerless harvest in these counties is important to reducing the number of deer interacting with farms and helps to limit the number of bTBinfected wildlife and cattle herds in the future.'

Hunters who do not own property in the area are still able to participate. The Hunting Access Program offers access to quality private land across the state to provide more hunting opportunities. Many locations are available in the five-county hunt area. Enrolled properties can be viewed at Michigan.gov/HAP.

Hunters can take antlerless deer with an unused 2020 deer or deer combo license or a private-land antlerless license for Deer Management Unit 487. Additional tags can be purchased at any DNR license agent through Jan. 12. Disease control permits issued for 2021 will also be valid for use during this hunt.

Successful hunters can bring their deer to the Alpena, Atlanta or Mio DNR deer check stations between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. any day of the hunt. For added convenience, several 24-hour self-service drop boxes are available throughout the region to submit deer heads for bTB testing. The use of a smartphone is required to use the drop boxes. Check station and drop box locations can be found at Michigan.gov/DeerCheck.

The DNR strongly encourages anyone who is successful during this hunt to submit their deer head for testing. On average 40% of deer infected with bTB show symptoms such as nodules in the lungs and ribcage; 60% of infected deer show no signs of the disease. The only way to be sure the deer is not infected is to submit the head for testing at either a check station or a drop box loca-

A late antierless firearm deer hunt is open on private land in Alcona, Alpena, Montmorency, Oscoda and Presque Isle counties.
