Chaperon Resigns From Planning Commission

BY: DOM SANTINA

EAST JORDAN - The City Commission spent a majority of their time focusing their discussion on the upcoming budget. The next issue was for a resolution to put delinquent bills on the 2021 Summer Tax Roll for collection. The next issue on the agenda was evaluating the logistics of the Freedom Festival which were submitted by Jordan Valley Freedom Festival Treasurer Heather Jackson. The first part was to approve the first two blocks of Spring Street from Mill Street to behind Busy Bridge on June 25 from 3-11 o'clock. The next thing was to ask for approval for two parade permits, one for Wednesday June 23 and the other for Saturday, June 26. The Youth Parade would be on Wednesday with the Grand Parade being on Saturday. The Festival would also ask for restrooms to be available and open, trash cans to be placed throughout the festival locations and cross walk signs put out as well. They would also go on to ask for permission to use LoveDay Field for Movie in the Park and the permission to use the Basketball Courts for the 3 on 3 basketball tournament. There were quite a few other requests submitted by the festival as well. The Fireworks display is scheduled for Saturday, June 26. City Manager Tom Cannon updated everyone about how the Waste Water Treatment Plant received an EGLE grant for $14,285. The project will be geared towards improvements which will focus on timers on mixers at the plant, programming change to plant controls, manhole repairs and lining and manhole cover sealing. The Commission would accept the resignation of Matt Chaperon from the Planning Commission. The next City Commission meeting will be held on Tuesday, April 20 at 7 o'clock on Zoom.

Benefits available to Perkins program enrollees

LANSING, Mich. - Michigan students in college career and technical education programs are reminded they are now eligible to receive food assistance if they meet other eligibility requirements.

The Michigan Departments of Labor and Economic Opportunity (LEO) and Health and Human Services (MDHHS) are encouraging students to apply for food assistance benefits online at Michigan.gov/MIBridges.

LEO and MDHHS developed this new initiative in 2020 to address rising food insecurity among students that has been made worse by COVID-19.

Close to 16,000 low-income college students in Michigan who are enrolled in career and technical education (CTE) programs are eligible to receive food assistance benefits through the federal Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP).

"As many CTE students are back on their campuses, what better time to encourage them to take advantage of critical resources that will support their lives as they prepare for high-demand, critical job openings," said LEO Acting Director Susan Corbin. "These SNAP benefits will help them focus on their educational needs and prepare for a successful future."

Previously, college students enrolled in qualifying CTE programs who attended school at least half-time could not qualify for SNAP benefits, even if they met income eligibility requirements, unless they fell into certain categories such as working at least 20 hours per week, caring for a child, or being unable to work.

"MDHHS was already working to help more people put nutritious food on the table prior to the pandemic," said MDHHS Director Elizabeth Hertel. "COVID-19 made this priority even more critical. Due to the pandemic, many students lost their jobs. As a result, they lost their SNAP eligibility through no fault of their own."

College students in Michigan are eligible for SNAP if they meet income and other program requirements and are enrolled at least half-time in an occupational program that leads to employment under the Strengthening Career and Technical Education for the Twenty-First Century Act of 2018 known as Perkins V.

Additionally, CTE college students who enroll in SNAP can take advantage of an additional payment provided each month until June, which amounts to an extra 15% to help recipients affected by the COVID-19 pandemic.

The Perkins Postsecondary Career and Technical Education Program provides funding to 28 community colleges, three public universities and one tribal college to support pathways to high-wage, high-skilled, and in-demand careers that require less than a bachelor's degree.

Those institutions offer more than 3,600 qualifying programs, offering a certificate or associate's degree to careers in fields such as information technology, health care, hospitality and manufacturing. There are nearly 90,000 students enrolled in these programs in Michigan. Some of those students may already be receiving food assistance benefits, while others will become eligible for this new opportunity.

For anyone currently enrolled in a Perkins program with an existing food assistance case who has experienced a loss of income, their MDHHS caseworker will determine Perkins program status to ensure the benefits are correct.

Any Perkins student who wants to apply for food assistance should provide documentation from their school that outlines their major and program or course of study to assist in determining their eligibility for SNAP. Examples could include a proof of registration and a document showing their major, program, or course of study. A caseworker will use that information to determine eligibility.

Students interested in applying for food assistance can go to Michigan.gov/MIBridges. Verification of enrollment in a Perkins program must be provided by the student or may be requested from the postsecondary institution.

Learn more about the Perkins Postsecondary CTE Program at Michigan.gov/LEO-Perkins.

Case spike causing backlog in notification, contact tracing

With the increase in COVID-19 cases in the state and across northern Michigan, you might not hear from the health department right away, so residents are being asked to help take mitigating measures to help stop the spread of the virus.

"We are working very hard to reach out to anyone who has tested positive and trace those they may have come into contact with but with case counts rising to over 100 new cases per day, it is very difficult to ensure people are contacted in a timely way" said Lisa Peacock, Health Officer for the Health Department of Northwest Michigan. "We are shifting staff responsibilities in order to meet the demand for case investigation and contract tracing and are still being overwhelmed by new cases every day, so we are asking individuals to take these precautionary measures until we are able to call."

If anyone is notified by a lab or any other provider that they have tested positive for COVID-19, they need to take these steps:

1. Isolate right away for ten days from the start of your symptoms or from the date your test was taken if you aren't having symptoms. Isolation keeps someone who is infected with the virus away from others, even in their home.

2. Notify your close contacts so they can start to quarantine themselves. Close contacts are people who are within 6 feet or less of the person who tested positive for COVID-19 for a cumulative 15 minutes in a 24-hour period. Close contacts should quarantine for 14 days from the last contact with the COVID-19 positive person.

3. You can resume normal activities when it has been 10 days since symptoms began or, if you don't have symptoms, 10 days since your positive test date, AND you have been fever-free for 24 hours without taking fever-reducing medication, AND other symptoms like cough or shortness of breath have improved.

4. You can be vaccinated after the completion of your isolation or quarantine period as long as you are feeling better. Please click here to pre-register for scheduling your vaccination after your recovery.

If you test positive for COVID or you've been exposed, it is important to watch for a call or text with directions from health department case investigators and contract tracers or Michigan Department of Health and Human services contract tracers. "Even if you do not receive a call or text right away, it is important that you immediately take steps to get the care you need and avoid giving COVID to people around you," Peacock said.

Raptor Watch On-line auction and new speaker series

Mackinac Straits Raptor Watch has announced a series of three talks one week apart, starting April 15. The series, named Raptors Revealed, is a free opportunity to learn more about hawks and other raptors in our area.

"Many more people during the pandemic have noticed and are appreciating bird life. We want to expand their horizons from backyard birds to migrating birds of prey, to increase their enjoyment and understanding," said MSRW publicity volunteer John Merrill from Cross Village. "To keep people safe, we offer the new speaker series, Raptors Revealed, through Zoom, with an easy registration process."

The opening talk on April 15, 4 pm is Joys of Hawk-watching: Basics to Beyond. Sharing his enthusiasm for these birds will be John Richardson, Hawk Count Director and Naturalist of the Hawk Ridge Bird Observatory in Duluth Minnesota. Mr. Richardson brings years of experience introducing novices to the thrill of seeing hawks swoop low overhead during migration or spiral in kettles as they ride thermals high in the sky.

Mr. Merrill continues, "Once people enjoy seeing birds, they begin to wonder what they are." To help with this, on April 22, 4 pm, MSRW will host Hawks on the Wing: Identifying Hawks on the Wing. Making the presentation with videos he took of birds in flight is Josh Haas, Owner, Hawks on the Wing, from Delton, Michigan.

Closing the series on April 29, 4 pm, participants will get an answer to the mystery of where migrating hawks go. Chasing Broad-winged from Pennsylvania to Peru: Broad-winged Hawk Migration Ecology shows results from one species of hawk that have worn GPS transmitters. Sharing her many years of research is Dr. Laurie Goodrich, Director of Conservation Science, Hawk Mountain Bird Sanctuary, Pennsylvania.

To register for free and receive the links to any of the three talks, visit www.mackinacaptorwatch.org/events/#RaptorsRevealed

In addition, Mr. Merrill told how people can acquire nature art and help birds at the same time by bidding at an on-line auction benefiting Mackinac Straits Raptor Watch. Nearly three dozen beautiful or practical items will be available from April 10 to 30 at www.BiddingOwl.com.

Visit www.mackinacaptorwatch.org or email info@mackinacaptorwatch.org for more information.

The Mackinac Straits Raptor Watch (MSRW) is a non-profit organization that conducts scientific research, educational programs, and conservation efforts regarding raptors, owls, and waterbirds migrating through northern Michigan.

"Raven Hill is re-opening"

After closing in March of 2020 to prevent the spread of COVID-19, Raven Hill Discovery Center is planning to re-open on Saturday, April 17, 2021, assuming that state and local guidelines allow. Raven Hill is committed to protecting the health and safety of guests, volunteers and staff, so visitor numbers and time spent indoors will both be limited and by appointment only. Visitors will be asked to mask and socially distance inside and out. The indoors will become a one-way "eyes-only" series of exhibits, including displays of skulls, fossils, petrified wood and much more! Visitors will find a few familiar hands-on exhibits remaining on display, like the generator bikes, marimba and kaleidoscopes.

The Center has been working to "move" the concept of hands-on exhibits outside, so that Raven Hill can reopen safely and meet its mission to provide a place that enhances hands-on and lifelong learning for all ages by connecting science, history & the arts. Thanks to grant awards from the Baiardi and Charlevoix County Community Foundations, preliminary work has already begun on a half-mile Connections Trail with hands-on learning stations spaced out along it. The pathway is laid out; artists have begun to design and build some of the learning stations; and the fundraising continues.

The Connections Trail, with its 40 new & existing stations will allow visitors to enjoy hands-on science, history & art activities in an open-air setting. The new trail will parallel the existing Taxi Trail and together the two trails will be ideal learning resources—dedicated to nurturing informal education, while encouraging the mental & physical health of visitors.

To reserve a date and time to visit Raven Hill or for information on other programs, such as outreach, field trips and summer camps, please call 231.536.3369 or email info@miravenhill.org Be sure to check in by phone, email or the website (www.miravenhill.org), prior your scheduled visit, to make sure that the Center is able to open.

Raven Hill Discovery Center is a unique place in northern Lower Michigan where children and adults can link science, history & the arts with hands-on activities and explorations both inside and out. For 30 years, connections have emerged through exhibits, facilities & programs that provide opportunities for all ages to learn, create, grow & play.

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY SENIOR AND EMERGENCY GROCERY SERVICE:

Charlevoix County Transit & the COA has a Senior and Emergency grocery ordering delivery service as part of the services offered by the County's Transit. While delivery of items such as food pantry boxes, prescriptions and senior meals was well received, the grocery delivery was not widely used during the early months of the pandemic. One of the drawbacks that transit officials noticed was that for curbside pickup available for groceries an individual needed to place their order via a smartphone or web-based application.

The expansion of the Transit's delivery program will provide assistance to those needing help with ordering their groceries. County residents who would like to use the Grocery Ordering/Delivery Program can call Program Coordinator at 231-497-1430 on designated shopping days to place their grocery order. The program coordinator will then input the order with the caller, take payment information (credit/debit card) and then place the order as well as scheduling the grocery delivery in transit's scheduling system. This program is currently limited to in-county grocery stores utilizing the store shopping app.

Designated days/times for orders to be placed: Monday 1:30-3:00pm; Tuesday 9:00-

10:00am and 1:30-3:00pm; Wednesday 1:30-3:00pm; Thursday 9:00-10:00am and 1:30-2:30pm

While this program initially focused on helping our county's aging population, with a surge in COVID cases and the flu season upon us, transit officials felt this was a worthwhile community service that should be offered to anyone who is in need of help or worried about going into stores. Charlevoix County's Commission on Aging will assist the Charlevoix County Transit with getting information about this program out to the county's aging population as well as continue to assist those over 60 years old with transit fares for in-county rides as well as out-of-county medical appointments. For more information about Transit rides or the free delivery services offered, please call 231-582-6900 between 7:30am and 4:30pm, Monday through Friday.

Dream To Reality Exhibit Opening At Charlevoix Circle Of Arts

Charlevoix, MI, April 9, 2021— Charlevoix artist and author Kim Richelle will star in Charlevoix Circle of Arts' upcoming exhibition, Dream to Reality: Exploring What We Believe and Why, from April 23 to May 29, 2021. The exhibit begins Friday, April 23, 2021, with an opening reception from 5p.m. to 7p.m. featuring an artist discussion and book signing. Capacity is limited and pre-registration is strongly encouraged.

Dream to Reality explores the fascinating path to why we believe what we believe through the mythological illustrations and writing of Charlevoix artist Kim Richelle. Richelle's books don't fit tidily into a category or genre. Yet she has created tomes and tales of faerie and tarot, written and illuminated for adults. Richelle is an elegant illustrator who has embraced mythology and her own gift of clairvoyance since childhood. As a lifelong artist, Richelle struggled with her community's resistance to creative thought. Her books explore soaring expression of self, from saying "no more" to the status quo to the roots and consequences of bias and control.

The exhibit is designed with distinct paths reflecting Richelle's body of work in 2D and 3D, including original illustrations from her books, The Day Rue Flew, 2000, Banshee, Shed the Cloak of Control, 2019. Banshee is being newly re-released in hard cover. Richelle's next illustrated book Faerie Fobia, focuses on fear and suppression of other beliefs or lifestyles than our own. Hand-painted fairy wings on the East gallery wall offer a unique photo-op for visitors of all ages, and a fairy-themed "Take & Make" children's art project will be available while supplies last.

Gallery talks are scheduled each Thursday at noon during the exhibit and include discussions, readings and book signings. Richelle and invited guest speakers will explore variations of reality, dreams and beliefs, from tarot card readings and symbolism, local Indigenous history and teachings, stories and lore of the stars, constellations and planets. More details and registration can be found online at CharlevoixCircle.org. Invited guest speakers include:

—Noon, Thursday, May 13: Sandy Witherspoon, local resident and member of the Odawa tribe, and Sandy McSaub, direct descendant of Chief Louis McSaub, will discuss the stories of the tribes and families who inhabited and cared for the land north of Charlevoix for thousands of years, including sacred burial grounds of Mt. McSaub.
—Noon, Thursday May

20: Mary Stewart Adams, star lore historian and author of Star Tales of Mother Goose, will lead visitors through the connection between the night sky and the cultural arts such as nursery rhymes, fairy tales and mythologies. Mary will discuss her recently published book, which is designed to awaken the imagination in relationship to the stars as a companion to the science of astronomy. It is illustrated by her sister and collaborator, Patricia DeLisa. Star Tales will be available for purchase and signing.

The public is invited to stop in and see the latest exhibit, made possible by the sponsorship of DCL, Inc. Charlevoix Circle of Arts is open Monday through Saturday and is located at 109 Clinton Street in downtown Charlevoix. For more information about the exhibit or the Charlevoix Circle of Arts please call (231) 547-3554 or visit our website: www.charlevoix-circle.org.

A Dave's Hopper dry fly perched next to the live grasshopper it's tied to imitate

This Au Sable River rainbow trout was fooled by a Dave's Hopper fly last summer

Brian Kozminski, of Boyne City, landed this behemoth brown trout on a Zoo Cougar streamer fly on the Manistee River.

NORTHERN MICHIGAN OUTDOORS

The Terrific 12 Fly Fishing Patterns

BY PATRICK BEVIER

In preparation for a sacred day in the lives of many Michigan trout season opener on April 24th, I solicited input from several fly fishing experts to come up with the "Terrific 12" fly patterns that no respectable angler should be without. Of course, that's no small task considering there are now thousands of creative dry fly, streamer, and nymph patterns crafted by folks all over the globe. Here's the Top 12, featuring six dry flies, five streamers, and one nymph:

Adam's Parachute: This is a catch-all, mayfly imitating dry fly. Gates Au Sable Lodge (989-348-8462) owner, Josh Greenberg, said, "This is a great morning and daytime dry fly throughout much of the season."

Rusty's White Knot: A large mayfly imitation that is the product of the vis-artisty of the late, great Rusty Gates. Greenberg explained, "This is a favorite dry fly pattern for large trout. It's June, it's 7 pm, this is what I'm fishing with!"

Bear's Iso / Slate Drake Pattern: You should never be without Isonychia sp. dry fly patterns because these mayflies often hatch for extended periods. Brian Kozminski, the highly-skilled owner of True North Trout guide service (231-675-1237) added, "A close second is Dave's Oh-So Iso."

Patriot Fly in Purple: Kozminski smiled, "These dry flies are in the category of not replicating a certain insect per se, but curious trout will inhale them without inquiry." Greenberg added, "I especially like the Patriot in purple at all times of the day in May."

Robert's Yellow Drake: In a broad range of sizes-from #4 to #18-this dry fly covers a wide spectrum for matching many light colored mayflies including sulfurs and light Hendrickson's. Boyne Outfitters (231-549-6064) director, Ethan Winchester, said,

"This is one of my top flies throughout the year."

Lynch's White-Bellied Mouse: It's unimaginable that one of the most effective dry flies imitates a mouse! Winchester said, "This is an absolutely great fly for trophy brown trout at night. Nuff said!"

Galloup's Zoo Cougar: This stupendous streamer pattern is a killer for coaxing big brown trout out of their deepest lairs. Kozminski explained, "I like the Zoo Cougar in black, olive, or ginger."

Circus Peanut: This is a big, showy streamer that, according to Greenberg, "Can be fished at a number of different speeds and depths, in big water or in small water."

Lynch's Drunk & Disorderly Streamer: If nothing else, it takes the cake for catchiest name! Winchester said, "It's easily one of the most responsive articulated streamers available, especially in burnt orange color!"

Whitlock Muddler: An-

other very popular streamer fly crafted to resemble a riverine fish called a sculpin. These big-headed, bug-eyed bottom-dwellers are an absolute delicacy for large brown trout, in particular.

Cone-Head Woolley Bugger: This diving streamer is excellent for all three riverine species of trout - brown trout, brook trout, and rainbow trout - as well as small-mouth bass and stream dwelling walleye. The cone-head gives them extra weight and shine compared to the bead-head offering. I've taken trout most often with Buggers sporting black and olive hues.

Bead-Head Pheasant Tail: This quintessential nymph pattern has plenty of sink and flash and can be used all season to entice trout feeding beneath the surface.

I'm suggesting a baker's dozen and adding one more fly to the list. That would be the Dave's Hopper. This is a winning choice when late summer trout food consists largely of land dwelling "terrestrial" insects that have been blown into the water. I've caught bodacious brook trout, broad-shouldered brown trout, and rascally rainbow trout using a Dave's Hopper on streams all over mid-and northern Michigan!

A stream mid-Michiganers might meander to is the Cedar River. It's one of the Mitten State's most southern trout streams and runs through Gladwin County.

Bo Brines, owner of the well-equipped Little Forks Outfitters in Midland (989-832-4100) said, "The Cedar is a beautiful, small stream with good trout fishing in certain sections. It has three branches and is colder the further north you go."

Brines shared that the Rifle and Tobacco Rivers are also good trout waters that are an easy day-trip from Midland.

John VanDalen, a founding father of the Leon P. Murtuch Chapter of Trout Unlimited, has extensive knowledge of the Cedar River. He explained, "I've been fishing the Cedar for over four decades now and the greatest thing about it is that I can get there in 45 minutes to fish the evening hatches. And there are plenty of bugs on the river." He continued, "Another amazing thing about most stretches of the Cedar is that you rarely encounter another angler!"

VanDalen added, "Most stretches of the Cedar are brown trout water and the West Branch has the best trout population. If you hit the headwaters you can also catch some nice brook trout!"

Hopefully, this list of the 12 + 1 essential fly patterns will be helpful to both beginning anglers as well as to seasoned piscatorial pursuers!

"I fish because I love to, because I love the environs where trout are found, which are invariably beautiful." ~ Testament of a Fisherman - Robert Traver

MHSAA Issues Update on High School Spring Sports

Dear MHSAA Community, We hope this note finds you doing well. With the Governor's remarks from earlier today, we wanted to provide a brief update to member schools.

All Final basketball games will be played today and tomorrow as scheduled. With the continued mitigation efforts that have been in place since January for winter sports, we will continue to play as safely as possible. The efforts by staff of the MHSAA and Breslin Center have been extraordinary in following all safety protocols as we complete our basketball season. The basketball Finals will conclude all winter sports, as well as finishing all indoor high school sports for the school year.

The current MDHHS emergency order from March 19 remains unchanged. Spring sports can continue with weekly testing as required by MDHHS during weeks where schools are practicing and/or competing. This is based on all remaining sports being outdoors and spring sports have the fewest contact sports when compared to other seasons.

School districts will make local decisions for the coming weeks on spring sports based on local conditions and circumstances. If a school district wishes to pause activity, the MHSAA offers the following for consideration by member schools.

1. All spring MHSAA tournaments will be held as scheduled. Schools may voluntarily delay practices and competition in some or all sports with no impact on MHSAA tournament participation this spring.

2. If practices and/or competitions are held, weekly antigen testing must occur.

3. Remember that regular season games delayed or rescheduled can be played up until the MHSAA Final in each sport.

4. Strongly reinforce all existing protocols including proper wearing of facecoverings and sanitization.

Again, our plan remains that all spring MHSAA tournaments will be held as scheduled. Thank you. Mark Uyl MHSAA Executive Director

Governor Whitmer Announces 5 Million Vaccinations, Calls on Federal Government to Surge Additional Vaccines to Michigan

To slow the spread and protect Michiganders, Governor urges Michiganders to voluntarily suspend in-person activities for high schools, indoor dining, and youth sports for two weeks.

LANSING, Mich. - At a press conference in Lansing today, Governor Gretchen Whitmer announced that Michigan will hit more than five million vaccinations by the end of the day. While vaccine supply has increased dramatically since the Biden Administration took office, the state is currently experiencing a serious spike in COVID-19 cases that is putting pressure on Michigan hospital systems. To slow the spread of the virus and protect more Michiganders, the governor renewed her call for the federal government to surge additional vaccines to Michigan, while also urging high schools to shift to remote learning, encouraging diners to choose outdoor dining or takeout instead of indoor seating, and recommending youth sports suspend in-person activities for the next two weeks.

"Administering more than five million doses of the safe and effective COVID vaccine in under four months is a big deal, but we've still got a lot more work to do," said Governor Whitmer. "Right now our numbers are alarming, and we all have a role to play to get our state moving in the right direction again. That's why I'm renewing my call on the federal government to surge additional vaccines to our state. And it's why I'm urging high schools and youth sports to voluntarily suspend in-person activities for the next two weeks. This is a team effort. It's on all of us to do our part by masking up and getting vaccinated to protect ourselves and our families, so we can get back to normal. Let's get it done."

While many states across the country have dropped basic health protocols altogether, the State of Michigan continues to implement smart health policies and mitigation measures to slow the spread of COVID-19, including a statewide mask mandate, limits on indoor social gatherings larger than 25 people, expanded testing requirements for youth sports, and dozens of pop-up testing sites across the state.

"As a parent and former student-athlete myself, I understand how important athletics are to our children's physical and mental health. However, parents and athletes need to understand the risk involved with youth sports if they choose to participate," said Dr. Joneigh Khaldun, chief medical executive and chief deputy for health. "We've seen that the younger population has played a significant role in transmission during this most recent spike. I urge youth sports organizers to pause in-person activities for the next couple weeks, and as always, mask up, wash your hands, social distance and get your safe and effective COVID-19 vaccine as soon as you are able."

Over the last few weeks, Michigan has tracked outbreaks associated with youth sports. To prevent additional outbreaks, Governor Whitmer is urging youth sports on both school-sponsored and non-school sponsored teams to suspend in-person activities, like games and practices, for the next two weeks. The Michigan Department of Health and Human Services (MDHHS) requires testing for youth sports between the ages of 13-19, and provides testing assistance through the MI Safer Sports testing program, which expanded weekly testing protocols for athletes and teams. For all youth sports, participants must test on at least a weekly basis for COVID-19, and also before any unmasked activity.

"Based on the increase in positivity rates and hospitalizations, we need the help of Michiganders," said Tina Freese Decker, President & CEO of Spectrum Health. "We ask you to practice the safety behaviors that we know work and get vaccinated as soon as possible. This will help us slow the spread and hopefully this will be our last surge."

In addition to urging youth sports to suspend in-person activities, Governor Whitmer is asking high schools to utilize virtual instruction for the next two weeks to slow the spread of COVID-19. MDHHS issued guidance to schools strongly encouraging them to enroll in the department's testing program if they are open to in-person instruction. Additionally, the state is offering 56 pop-up sites located throughout Michigan as part of the special program in an effort to increase access to testing for Michiganders returning from Spring Break. For more information on additional test sites, visit Michigan.gov/Coronavirus.

"Our recent COVID case numbers are the highest in the nation, and hospitalizations have climbed significantly in the last month. Michigan educators, students, and families have risen to the challenge over the past year, and I am confident they will continue to do what is needed to help save lives as we keep fighting the pandemic," said State Superintendent Dr. Michael Rice. "I support the recommendations of the governor. I urge schools to contribute the next two weeks toward the common good of our state and the health of our residents."

Governor Whitmer is also urging Michiganders to avoid dining indoors and avoid gathering with friends indoors for two weeks. The unfortunate nature of this deadly virus is that it spreads quickly when people are gathered indoors without masks for an extended period of time. By opting to dine outdoors or order takeout, restaurants can remain open while operating safely to mitigate the spread of COVID-19.

"MSYSA appreciates Governor Whitmer providing us the opportunity to review our specific risk mitigation strategies and return to play guidelines," said Thomas

Faro, Executive Director of Michigan State Youth Soccer Association, Inc. "We acknowledge the need for our members to continue to do their part with the consistent use of facial coverings and social distancing so that children can play soccer."

To date, Michigan has administered more than five million vaccines, moving the state closer to its goal of equitably vaccinating at least 70% of Michiganders ages 16 and older as soon as possible. Last week, Governor Whitmer raised Michigan's COVID-19 vaccination goal from 50,000 to 100,000 shots per day. After announcing the state had surpassed four million vaccines administered on March 29, another one million vaccine doses were administered in less than two weeks to reach the five million vaccine milestone.

CDC and FDA officials: Pause use of Johnson & Johnson Vaccine

Today the CDC and FDA released a joint statement informing providers of very rare but serious side effects and recommending the U.S. pause use of the Johnson & Johnson (J&J) COVID-19 vaccine out of an abundance of caution. The Health Department of Northwest Michigan is following this recommendation and pausing the administration of the J&J vaccine. There is no impact on the use of the Pfizer and Moderna vaccines.

Over 6.8 million doses of the J&J vaccine have been administered in the U.S., but in reviewing data, six cases of extremely rare side effects have occurred after vaccination leading the CDC and FDA to halt the use of the J&J vaccine. The six cases in focus included individuals experiencing a severe blood clot called cerebral venous sinus thrombosis (CVST) after receiving the vaccine. All cases have occurred in women between 18-48 year of age, with symptoms occurring 6-13 days after vaccination.

"At this time the report includes six cases, which is less than one in a million. Given the rarity, it is not surprising that this reaction was not found in the clinical trials. This reminds us that post-authorization surveillance of vaccines is important and effective at finding even rare potential adverse effects," said Dr. Josh Meyer-son, Medical Director. "What is currently being reported is not necessarily above the expected rate, but the number and timing after receiving the vaccination deserve more study, and more cases may be found," he said.

Currently, the severe and adverse side effects are extremely rare. For most, post vaccination symptoms after the J&J vaccine include pain at injection site, headache, and flu-like symptoms. Individuals that have received the J&J vaccine and develop severe headache, abdominal pain, leg pain, or shortness of breath within three weeks after vaccination should contact their health care provider immediately.

"In accordance with the CDC and FDA guidelines and out of abundance of safety for our community residents, we have paused all administration of the J&J vaccine until we receive further notification," said Lisa Peacock, Health Officer. "We also notified all our partner organizations to do likewise. We will continue to monitor this situation and take all appropriate steps for the safety and health of our community. The pause on J&J administration does not change our vaccination efforts and goals. We will continue with the use of Pfizer and Moderna, adjusting our plans to administer vaccine available with our current allocations," she said.

The CDC plans to convene a meeting of the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices (ACIP) on Wednesday to review the cases and assess their significance, and the FDA will review the analysis while investigating the cases. The pause on use of J&J will remain in place during the CDC and FDA data and case review. Health care providers are asked to report adverse reactions to the Vaccine Adverse Event Reporting System here.

DAVE Says

Dave Ramsey

(Help her get back out there)

Dear Dave, Our daughter recently moved back in with us after she lost her job and her apartment. She hasn't been able to find full-time work yet, and she had nowhere else to go. My husband and I are nearing retirement age, so we want to do the best and smartest thing to help her get back on her feet. What do you suggest?

Dear Joan, First, you need to define what helping your daughter really means. What does it look like? In my mind, you haven't helped her if she's still living at home two or three years from now. Going to those lengths is called being an enabler. At the same time, you shouldn't just show her the door and wish her good luck. You and your husband together should come to agreement on a forward-thinking plan that falls somewhere in the middle. I'm talking about something that allows your daughter a little time to heal and regain her dignity, but also includes a plan, expectations, and a move-out date.

If I were in your shoes, there would be requirements attached to her living at home again. One is that she would respect and abide by your household rules. If she's going to live in your home, she should be expected to respect her parents and their wishes. Number two, she should be thinking about and working on tangible career steps every single day. I'm pretty sure she could find a part-time job out there to put a little extra money in her pocket. When she's not earning some cash, she should be focusing on long-term career goals. Sending out resumes and filling out applications for full-time employment needs to be a priority.

The last thing I'll suggest may sound a little strange, but trust me on this one. Right now, your daughter also needs some kind of physical activity on a regular basis. Exercise stimulates the mind, and she really needs that right now. It'll also be great for her body.

This young lady has been through a stressful experience. She needs some understanding and support right now. At the same time, you don't want to let her slide into bad habits and participate in promoting negative behavior. Step in, help her get her life back on track, and get her out in the world again. All three of you will be glad you did!

— Dave

(It'll work out better in the long run)

Dear Dave, My wife and I are having a financial disagreement. I would like to go ahead and fully fund our Roth IRAs, even though we have about $10,000 in car loan debt. She, on the other hand, thinks we should pay off the debt first. We can probably have either one completed by the end of the year. What do you think we should do?

Mark

Dear Mark, I've got to go along with your wife on this one. I'm glad you two are having money discussions, and working toward making decisions together, but you'll never get control of your finances until you rid yourself of the mindset that debt is okay. Once you lose that idea, you'll begin to understand missing a year of funding your Roth IRAs isn't going to kill you. It's also not going to prevent you from becoming wealthy and living like no one else when it's time to start thinking about retirement.

If you stay in the mindset that having debt is okay, or that you're going to let it hang around, eventually it will really mess you up financially. Winning with money is more about behavior than math. Don't get me wrong, you need to crunch the numbers and be mindful of them, but all the mathematical components are nothing but theory if the behavior doesn't kick in.

So yeah, I'm siding with your wife on this one. Just follow the Baby Steps plan. Have all your debt paid off, except for your home, and an emergency fund of three to six months of expenses saved and set aside before you start any long-term investing. A lot of folks will tell you my way isn't mathematically correct, but it will work better in the long run—for your money, your marriage, and in other areas of your life!

—Dave

(You may already have some)

Dear Dave, I started listening to your radio show recently, and I heard you say people should have 10 to 12 times their yearly income in life insurance. I'm single, with no plans to get married. Plus, I don't have any children. Do I still need a big life insurance policy like that?

Kris

Dear Kris, I do recommend most people, if they work outside the home and are married—especially if they have kids—have 10 to 12 times their annual income in a good, level term life insurance policy. You only need life insurance to take care of things you leave behind when you die. So, when it comes to this kind of coverage, just think about anyone who might be left in a bad financial situation if you died. Your family could never replace you, but in most cases, they would need to replace your income.

Someone in your shoes might not need a traditional life insurance policy, especially if you've been smart with your money and saved up a pile of cash. A simple, inexpensive burial policy might work. There's also a good chance you already have a small amount of life insurance coverage built into an existing health insurance policy or bank account.

Good question, Kris. I'm glad you're looking for answers!

BOYNE CITY SOCCER

Ramblers rout Trojans, fall to Elks, beat Grayling

BY: DOM SANTINA

The Boyne City Girls Soccer team looks to pick up where they left off two seasons ago. While hoping to make an even deeper run. The team started off their season with a home game against Traverse City Central on Wednesday, April 7.

T.C. CENTRAL

The Ramblers showed that they are primed and ready to go, even with having last year cancelled and it being the first game. The team would put a ton of pressure on the Trojans defense. As the Ramblers would fire 41 shots, 27 of them would find the goal. The Ramblers would end up finding the back of the net six times in the first half. The Ramblers would have Seniors Taylor and Jordan Noble each with two goals. Then Senior Ally Herrick and Sophomore Elly Day would score the other two goals. In the second half, the Ramblers would continue the onslaught, as the Ramblers would score four more goals and take a 10-2 victory. In the second half, Sophomore Megan Harmeling, Sophomore Reagan Woodall, Day and Senior Jaelyn Jarema would account for the goals. The win moves the Ramblers to 1-0 on the season.

"We played a tough game in some tough weather conditions. We have some new faces and their contribution to today's event far exceeded my expectations. What a great treat to come back from a year hiatus from coaching and be a part of a great performance from top to bottom," said Head Coach Ed Fontozzi.

ELK RAPIDS

The team would travel to play Elk Rapids in their first conference game of the season. The game would be really close throughout but it would be scoreless in the first half. In the second half, the Ramblers would be the ones to strike first. As Day scored at the 42 minute mark. The Ramblers lead would hold until the 70 minute mark, when the Elks got on the board and tied it at one. Then just three minutes later the Elks would break through for another goal. The Ramblers would drop their first game of the season. The Ramblers would only be able to get nine shots in this game. The loss moves the team to 1-1 on the season and 0-1 in the Lake Michigan Conference.

"The match against the Elks was difficult, Elk Rapids is a strong team with a ton of talent from the back to the top. Our girls did well and it was a game that I felt we needed. We learned much about our team yesterday and we have work to do," said Coach Fontozzi.

GRAYLING

The Ramblers would look to get back on track after the Elk Rapids loss. They would travel to play Grayling on Monday, April 12. The Ramblers would get back to playing dominant soccer once again. As they would find the back of the net just 42 seconds into the game. The team would end up getting another mercy against Grayling by a final score of 8-0 just 12 minutes and 42 seconds into the second half. The team would be led by Harmeling with a hat trick, Inanna Hauger with a goal and an assist and Jordan Noble with a goal and two assists. The Ramblers would get their first shutout of the season by Herrick, who would add a goal as well with a free kick. Then Gabby Dunlop and Maddie Smith would each pick up their first career Varsity goals.

"The girls came out firing on all cylinders tonight. Defensively we kept Grayling at bay allowing no shots on net. Our defense performed well, turning in a shutout and dominating the game. The Grayling group was young and up against a senior laden squad. They did exceptionally well under the circumstances. They are in a re-building stage and I see them doing great things with maturity," said Coach Fontozzi.

The Ramblers are now 2-1 on the season and 1-1 in the Lake Michigan Conference. The Ramblers will be back in action against Harbor Springs at home on Thursday, April 15.

EAST JORDAN SOFTBALL

Red Devils have rough start to season

BY: DOM SANTINA

The East Jordan Softball team would start the season off with a double header on Friday, April 9 against Inland Lakes.

INLAND LAKES

In game one of the double header, the Bulldogs jumped on Red Devil pitcher LeAnn Schroeder. As the Bulldogs would put up seven runs in the first inning. The Red Devils would be able to get a run for themselves but would have to try and play catch up for the rest of game one. The Bulldogs bats did not stop though, as they would put up runs each inning. The Bulldogs would end up taking a 19-4 mercy in four innings over the Red Devils. Schroeder would end up having 9 walks, 3 strikeouts and allow 11 hits. On the offensive end for the Red Devils Rhyen Olson would have two singles and Haley Gibson and Lillian Stone each contributed a single as well.

In game number two, the Red Devils would look for the split. However, the Bulldogs bats would stand in the way once again. As the Bulldogs would jump on top of the Red Devils again, putting them up 5-2 after the first inning. The Red Devils would be able to close in on the Bulldogs with a three run second inning. However, the Bulldogs would respond with two runs in the bottom of the inning. The game would calm down for the next few innings. Then, both teams would add a run in the fourth inning. The Bulldogs would add two more in the bottom of the fifth to help lock up a 10-6 win over the Red Devils. The loss would go to Hayley Gibson for the Red Devils. While on the offensive end, Skylar Barnett and Riley Saganeck would each have two singles.

“Inland Lakes bats looked like they were in mid-season form. We were just super happy to get on the field today and get some experience for our young team. Even with the two losses today, the girls had fun and gained necessary experience,” said Head Coach Meg Kitson.

The loss has the Red Devils start the season with a 0-2 record. The team would look to rebound on Monday, April 12 against Traverse City West on the road.

TRAVERSE CITY WEST

In game number one the Red Devils would have Schroeder start on the mound once again. Schroeder would end up having a rough outing as the Titans would jump on the board early with two runs. However, it would be the second inning that would be a very rough one for the Red Devils as they would allow a combined 14 runs in the second. The offense would get on the board with two runs, but would allow another on defense in the third. This would allow for the mercy rule to come into effect. The Trojans would pick up a 17-2 win in game number one. On the mound, Schroeder would have 2 strikeouts, 5 walks and allow 13 hits. On the offensive side, the Red Devils would be led by Gibson with a double and a single.

Then Stone would have a single with two runs batted in and Schroeder would have a single for herself. The loss has the Red Devils at 0-3 to start the year.

In game number two, the Red Devils would struggle once again with the Class A school. As Gibson would start on the mound for the Red Devils but would also get roughed up. As the Titans put up three in the first and then three more in the third and fourth. The bats would never get going on the offensive side and the Titans would come away with a 10-0 mercy after five innings. Gibson would have three walks, five strikeouts and eight hits allowed while on the mound. However, she would be the highlight for the offense as she would have a single. The Red Devils would be swept once again in their second double header of the season.

The losses move the Red Devils to 0-4 on the season. The team will be back in action on Wednesday, April 14 when they are scheduled to play Hillman and Central Lake on Thursday, April 15.

ELLSWORTH SOFTBALL & BASEBALL

Ellsworth Starts Spring Season

BY: DOM SANTINA

BASEBALL

The Ellsworth Baseball team started the season off with a double header against Pellston. In game number one the Lancers would be able to pick up a 9-8 victory. In game number two, the Hornets would be able to find some confidence and be able to come back and beat the Lancers 11-2. The Lancers would finish with an overall record of 1-1 to start the season.

SOFTBALL

The Ellsworth Softball team would also start with a double header against Pellston. In game number one, the Lancers would be in a battle. The Hornets would be able to pull out a 2-1 victory over the Lancers. In game number two, it would be the complete opposite of game number one. In game number one it was a pitching duel and game number two was a complete slug fest. In this one as well the Hornets would be able to top the Lancers 21-17. The Lancers would drop both of the games and start the season off with an 0-2 record.

The Baseball team will be back in action on Tuesday, April 13 when they host Mancelona. The Softball team will also be back in action on Tuesday against Mancelona.

CHARLEVOIX SOCCER

Rayders Start with two wins

BY: DOM SANTINA

BENZIE CENTRAL

The Charlevoix Rayders Soccer team opened their season on Friday, April 9 by hosting Benzie Central. The Rayders opened scoring early only 1:36 into the game when Sophomore midfielder Claire Scholten sent a cross from the corner for the assist and Freshman Kylee Rice was there to make sure it went in for the goal. At 7:36 Junior center mid Anna Kate Smith assisted Junior forward Camryn Turkelson for the second goal. The goals would continue to fly as at 12:34 Junior defender Lauren Shepherd assisted Anna Kate Smith for the third goal. Then at the 15:34 mark

Smith scored unassisted. While still in the first half and with a 4-0 lead, the Rayders would stay on the attack. As halftime approached, the Rayders would strike again at the 19:33 mark as Sophomore defender Mikayla Sharrow scored unassisted. The Rayders would contribute two more goals in the first half as Camryn Turkelson would score unassisted at the 28:25 mark, then Smith would complete the hat trick with a goal at the 28:35 mark. The Rayders would hold a 7-0 at the break.

It would not take long for the Rayders to get on the board again. As they would strike, Smith would assist Patria Muriel to get an 8-0. Which would be considered a mercy rule. The game would end with an 8-0 win for the Rayders. The win moves the Rayders to 1-0 on the season.

“It was wonderful to see the girls back on the pitch tonight. We have not had a game since districts in June 2019. We are a totally different team from then. I only had three girls from that team with me tonight. We are super excited that we have a lot of young talent in both the Freshman and Sophomore class that finally got to play their first Varsity contest tonight. It was great to finally see the girls play,” said Head Coach Peter Scholten.

HARBOR SPRINGS

The Rayders would be back in action on Monday, against Harbor Springs. The game would remain locked at 0-0 at halftime. However, with 12 minutes left in the game Freshman Ava Boss would set up a nice pass for Sophomore Emma Philp who would find the back of the net to make it 1-0. With just about two minutes remaining, the Rayders would get a penalty kick which would be taken by Smith who would find the back of the net as well. This would secure the 2-0 victory for the Rayders. Rayders keeper Claire Scholten would have four saves to record a shutout.

The Rayders are now 2-0 on the season and 1-0 in the Lake Michigan Conference. The team will host Grayling on Thursday at 5:00 at Charlevoix High School.

REAL ESTATE CORNER

BROUGHT TO YOU BY
HOLLY STARK
EXP REAL ESTATE

DO YOU HAVE BUYER'S PARALYSIS?

PART 1 OF 3

You've looked at dozens of homes. Your REALTOR® is about to tear his hair out with frustration. You are paralyzed, letting one great home after another pass you by. Why can't you make a decision?

Buying a home can be an overwhelming process. There are so many decisions to make and any of them can mean serious financial consequences. A home, after all, is hardly a liquid asset. Nor is it a growth investment, according to Wall Street definitions. It's your greatest financial debt, even while it puts a roof over your head. As it appreciates, it also needs repairs and maintenance. With all that weighing on you, no wonder you've got commitment phobia.

Yet, you really want to buy a home. You know that few purchases will provide you the quality of life that a home of your own does. There are plenty of advantages, as well - tax breaks, rising real estate values, a stable environment for the family, to name only a few. So you stifle your worries and keep looking for homes. You just can't find the one that's just right for you.

It might be time to back this train up and examine what is causing the conflict between wanting to buy and being unable to make a decision. There is a cause, and its name is money. The question is, which aspect of money is stopping you from moving forward?

Fear of spending too much
Lenders will loan you money at the top of your ability to borrow. Realtors will suggest that you will be happier in a "bigger, better" home, eliminating the need to "trade up" in a few years. Stretching to buy the most home you can possibly afford is a good strategy, but only under certain conditions - that you have confidence that your salary will rise, that your income is stable, and that you can handle large surprise expenses.

If you've been pre-qualified, you are already looking at bigger, better, more beautiful homes at the top of your range. But something isn't quite right. Even though you may feel that your income is stable, a feeling is telling you that if you buy in this range, you won't have enough in reserves should something happen. Those are your instincts talking, and you should listen, because your desires have been doing the talking up to now. Your instincts are telling you desires to scale back a little.

That means backtracking. Talk to your Realtor and ask her to show you less expensive homes. You can't go wrong buying slightly under your ability. In fact, many financial advisors tell their clients to budget about 25% of their income for housing in order to position them to build reserves for savings, investments, home improvements, emergencies and dozens of other reasons. That's almost six percent less than lenders will allow you to borrow. Just think what else you can do with six percent of your income. You'll still have your house, you'll just have more to do other things with.

DNR officer's quick actions saves man's life

MANISTEE COUNTY – A Michigan Department of Natural Resources conservation officer used a tourniquet to stop blood loss from a 22-year-old Scottville man, who is recovering in an area hospital from an accidental, self-inflicted gunshot wound.

The shooting occurred Sunday, April 12, on U.S. Forest Service-managed land that is available for target shooting, east of Manistee in Manistee County.

Conservation Officer Scott MacNeill – the first emergency responder on scene, spoke with the thankful man on Monday morning. To respect the man's medical privacy, the DNR is not releasing his name.

According to MacNeill, the man told him: "Your tourniquet saved my life. If I had to wait for EMS I don't know what I would have done."

The man used his cell-phone to call 911 after he accidentally discharged a bullet from his .40 caliber Smith and Wesson Body-guard pistol into his left leg. Manistee County Sheriff's Office deputies received the initial call and communicated the incident to local emergency responders at 11:49 a.m.

Three minutes later, MacNeill arrived at the federal shooting area located east of Manistee in Norman Township, on the west side of Udell Hills Road, south of Steinberg Road.

MacNeill located the man alone, sitting in the driver's seat of a pickup truck surrounded by blood. The man displayed initial symptoms of shock and was plugging the wound with his finger to slow the blood loss from his swollen and discolored leg.

Evaluating where the bullet entered the leg, MacNeill could not locate an exit wound and suspected the man had possible arterial bleeding under the skin that was filling his lower leg with blood.

MacNeill applied his department-issued tourniquet to the man's thigh, which immediately slowed the loss of blood. Once the tourniquet was secure, MacNeill advised the man to remove his finger from the wound, which had successfully stopped bleeding.

While waiting for additional medical assistance to arrive, MacNeill continued caring for the man who was now in shock. MacNeill kept the man stabilized in an upright position, while he established a calm conversation.

On Sunday, April 12, Michigan Department of Natural Resources Conservation Officer Scott MacNeill used a tourniquet to stop bleeding from the thigh of a 22-year-old Mason County man, who suffered an accidental, self-inflicted gunshot wound. MacNeill spoke with the thankful man on Monday morning, who is recovering in a nearby hospital. MacNeill has been a conservation officer since 2016 and patrols Manistee County. (photo courtesy of DNR)

The man told MacNeill that after he loaded the firearm at the rear of his truck, he put the firearm in the front, left pocket of his shorts, at which point, the firearm discharged.

At noon, Norman Township Fire and EMS personnel arrived on the scene and transported the man to Munson Medical Center in Traverse City. North Flight EMS also responded to the scene.

Per the man's request, MacNeill unloaded, cased and safely stowed the firearm, secured the vehicle, and returned the keys to the man, who asked a relative to drive his vehicle home.

"We are thankful to hear that as of this morning, a young man is recovering in the hospital after an accidental gunshot wound," said Chief Gary Hagler, DNR Law Enforcement Division. "Conservation Officer Scott MacNeill was patrolling nearby and immediately responded to the federal property where he delivered lifesaving first-aid and established a calm and trusting rapport with the man. This is a strong reminder to always practice the highest level of firearm safety."

MacNeill has been a conservation officer since 2016 and patrols Manistee County.

MDHHS
 Michigan Department of Health & Human Services

Do the new variants spread more easily and more quickly?

Unfortunately, yes. Some variants may spread more easily, so it's important to continue wearing a mask and social distancing. You can also help slow the spread by getting the vaccine as soon as it's available to you.

Can people with a history of allergic reactions get the vaccine?

Most people who have food or environmental allergies can still get the vaccine. Prior to getting vaccinated, talk to your health care provider if you have had any severe reactions to medicines or vaccines in the past.
