Rasch confident about center

EAST JORDAN-Despite bids which came in 35 percent too high and a petition drive against the project, city council members are proceeding with their plans to renovate the Community Center.

"I'm gonna do it, I'll tell you that," City Superintendent Herm Rasch said this week.

After taking two weeks to study the situation, the city council last week decided to go ahead with the project.

They had learned on June 19 that bids for the renovation were $107,000 and $94,300. Only $70,000 had been budgeted for the project.

Council member Harry Watson, who is also a contractor, said last week he thinks those bids were high because of uncertainty about the project. A petition drive had threatened to delay or stop the project. That could have affected the bids, Watson noted.

Rasch said Watson's logic "makes sense to me. If you've got a work force and equipment, you're going to put your thrust where you know there's going to be work."

He also said it is possible that the city can get better prices on the renovation job by waiting until November when contractors are not nearly as busy as they are during the summer.

"Time is not the essence. If I can save the city money by waiting until November, I will," Rasch said. "That might be a factor."

He said his only target date for finishing the project is the end of the city's fiscal year-April 1, 1980.

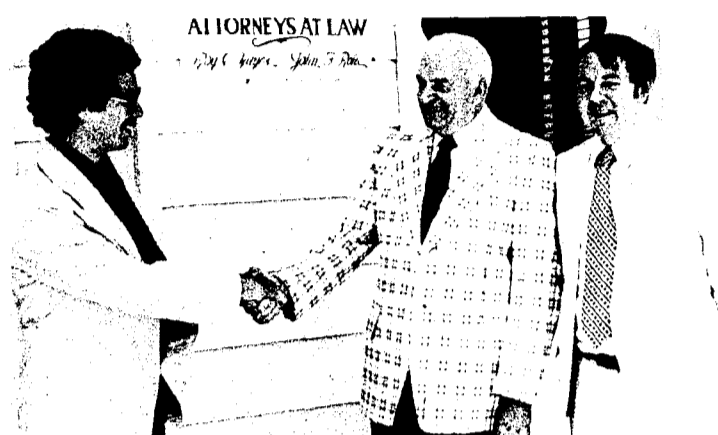

The project won't be let out on bids again, Rasch said. "Everyone's had their chance to bid," he said. "I'm going to act like the general contractor and job it out piece by piece."

"I know what each part ought to go for, and I'm going to have to get quotes on all of the different phases. I'll have to know the costs before I start."

Not hurrying the project will allow Rasch to use some city employees to help when they run out of other work.

"If I see that one of our guys can go over there and put in a window or a door, I might have him do that," he said.

The renovation project would make the Community Center into a multi-purpose auditorium, recreation center and youth center. The half-finished community building needs a new floor, ceiling, bleachers, rest rooms, heating and plumbing to make it useable.

Local real estate agent Walt Thorsen, center, was on hand to welcome John Rohe, left, and Roy Hayes as they opened their new law office in East Jordan last week. "This is good for the town," Thorsen said. "We need more professional people."

At last, city has a law office

EAST JORDAN - After nearly two years of doing without, the city now has a law office again.

Roy Hayes of Charlevoix, who has served as the official city attorney for about a year, has taken on a partner and opened an office downtown.

The office is located at 123 Main St. in the same office occupied by attorney Madeline Dinu before she retired in 1977. The phone number of the new office is 536-2361.

Hayes' new partner is John Rohe, 29, a resident of Petoskey. Hayes and Rohe will split their time between the East Jordan office and Hayes' existing office in Charlevoix. Tentative plans call for Rohe to be in East Jordan three days a week, and Hayes two days.

Hayes said he decided to expand his practice because he has enjoyed being the city attorney and has made a number of contacts here through that job. "Also, he said, "My practice in Charlevoix has been super busy. It's more fun and you can do a better job with a partner," he said.

Rohe was born in Detroit, graduated from Redford St. Mary High School and earned a degree in mechanical engineering from Michigan State University in 1972.

He joined the Peace Corps, working in the Philippines until 1974. Rohe then returned to Michigan to study at Cooley Law School in Lansing. He graduated cum laude in 1977. He practiced law in Lansing and Petoskey before joining Hayes' practice.

He and his wife Deborah plan to move to the East Jordan-Charlevoix area.

Hayes came to Charlevoix County in January of 1976, when he was appointed to the position of County Prosecutor. He served 2½ years before resigning to start his private practice.

Hayes was also born in Detroit, and graduated from the University of Notre Dame before completing law school at the University of Detroit. He was an assistant prosecuting attorney in Wayne County and served as director of the county's Organized Crime Task Force for four years.

He and his wife Jacqueline have two children. They live in Charlevoix.

New state law

Get ready for inspection

For the safety of the citizens of Charlevoix County, the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department will conduct vehicle inspections on certain roads and highways in the county, starting July 16, Sheriff George T. Lasater said.

Public Act 416, the Sheriff's Secondary Road Patrol Bill, passed a year ago in October, gives the sheriff's department certain patrol obligations, including vehicle inspection. Sheriff Lasater said the reason the act has taken so long to go into effect is because of the delay in getting funds.

The sites of these inspection lanes will not be announced because "people will not be there if we announce the roads we'll be inspecting cars on," Sheriff Lasater said.

The inspection lanes will be manned by deputies from the department who will inspect vehicles for defective headlights, turn signals, defective tires, brakes, exhaust, mirrors, brake lights, and other possible defects.

Drivers passing through the inspection lanes will also be asked to produce a valid driver's license.

Not all cars pulled over into the inspection lanes will be inspected. Sheriff Lasater said that about one out of 20 cars will be inspected. Officers will also be inspecting cars on routine traffic stops, he said.

Vehicles passing the inspection will be issued a state of Michigan Vehicle inspection sticker for 1979.

Sheriff Lasater said he hopes by announcing the inspections a week early that people will check their own cars for possible defects and pass the inspection "with flying colors."

Inspection of a car will take between three and seven minutes. Sheriff

Lasater said he hopes people will react favorably for having to be stopped because the inspections are being done for their safety. "Sometimes accidents are caused by defective equipment on their car and by doing this inspection we plan on preventing a lot of accidents."

Sheriff's deputies are only expecting to find defects on three or four percent of the cars passing through the vehicle inspection lanes.

A notice of appear form will be issued to a motorist to have defective equipment repaired or replaced. The notice to appear will be voided upon proof that the equipment has been repaired or replaced. Failure to comply will result in a traffic citation being issued Sheriff Lasater said.

The notice to appear will have a date on it stating when the defect will have to be repaired or replaced. "That will depend on the type of delinquency as to how long the person will have to repair it. Something real critical may have to be repaired in five to ten days, but for something minor we might allow 15 days or more," Sheriff Lasater said.

Visitors to Charlevoix County who receive a notice to appear form will have to prove to their local police that their defective equipment has been fixed.

Deputy Sheriff Roger C. Moses checks the tires of a vehicle. The Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department will start vehicle inspection in the county July 16.

Name that bird!

Don't worry folks, there's still time to enter the Name The Bird contest being sponsored by The Charlevoix County Press.

Several weeks ago The Press introduced a new version of the bird that graces our masthead. But we feel this stylish new bird deserves a name of its own.

Whoever comes up with the winning name gets dinner for two, not including drinks, at any area restaurant. Send your suggestion, in 25 words or less, to "Name The Bird," c/o The Charlevoix County Press, Box 216, Boyne City, Michigan.

Here's a hint for name searchers. The name "Jonathan," after Jonathan Livingston Seagull, has already been suggested.

So has this: "Behold the McElbird. It knows not its head from its tail, hence cannot tell if it's coming or going." The suggestion is apparently a parody on the last name of Joe McElroy, Press managing editor.

'Living History' available

EAST JORDAN - Extra copies of the "Living History" magazine distributed with last week's Press are available in several locations throughout the community.

The 24-page section was written by a magazine class for the school Community Education Department. It is available for 25 cents, and poster reprints of the cover drawing by Hazel Colburn are available for 75 cents.

The section and the poster are available at the Community Education office, the Senior Center, Portside Art and Historical Museum, Jordan Valley Pharmacy, Hite Drugs, Huckle's Camera Shop, The Charlevoix County Press and Schafer's in Boyne City.

The magazine was made possible by a grant from the Michigan Council for the Humanities and the financial backing of a number of local sponsors.

'New look' 4th big success

BOYNE CITY - The community's first "new look" Fourth of July came off Wednesday with perfect weather, more activities and few problems.

In the past, the Fourth of July activities have been sponsored and funded by the Boyne Area Chamber of Commerce. But this proved so expensive that the chamber was too broke the rest of the year to sponsor more activities to benefit the business community.

So this year a special Fourth of July Committee did the work. Members succeeded in their goal of relieving the chamber's financial burden while expanding the number of activities. New activities this year included a running race, raft race and special meals at area restaurants.

After a slow spring, local businessmen reported a brisk Fourth of July week business. "I can't complain," said Gary Schafer, who owns Schafer's store. "There seem to be a lot more tourists around."

At Young State Park, Manager Ken MacKeller said the park's 294 campsites were filled every night from Saturday, June 30 through Sunday, July 8. "We had the good weather, so we had a lot of people," he said.

"In fact this week it was a little bit better than normal."

The Auto Club of Michigan and the state's Travel Bureau said gasoline supplies in Northern Michigan were sufficient, but worries about lack of gas apparently kept some people close to home.

Tourism was up two percent in southeast Michigan, down five percent in western Michigan, down 10 percent; and down 25 percent in the Upper Peninsula.

The Auto Club cited Boyne Mountain, Traverse City and Petoskey as areas that did well over the holiday. "It was a very good week," said Mac McNichol, Boyne Area Chamber of Commerce president and owner of the Boyne River Inn. "The Fourth of July was super."

McNichol thinks "It's the weather, not the gas," that kept tourists from the Boyne area earlier this year. "This was the first time we've had a whole nice week," he said.

McNichol said he thought tourists coming to Boyne City got their money's worth. "There were so many activities. That Fourth of July Committee did a super job."

Arlyne Froysaa of the Fieldcrest Motel said her place was filled for the weekends before and after the Fourth, but she still thinks it could be a tough summer. "I'm sure it's going to be slower," she said.

"People have decided to not take long vacations because of the price of gas." She said the Fieldcrest was not completely filled on the Fourth, but added, "Being in the middle of the week, you can't expect much else."

Dick Stark of Stark's Total station said he closed for the holiday this year for the first time in 16 years. But lack of gasoline wasn't the problem.

"I just got tired and wanted the day off. We've had plenty of gas."

"We're selling more gas this year because a couple other stations in town have closed," he said. "There's been a pretty good influx of traffic, but it hasn't been as good as other years."

"Business hasn't been as good as other years, but it's been good."

The Fourth of July Committee hasn't counted up all the proceeds yet, but chairman Gary Schafer says the group raised over $2,000.

The only hitch in the day's activities was a fireworks show that some viewers thought was not as good as previous years. The problem was caused by a decision to switch fireworks companies and by a strong wind coming in off the lake.

The winners for best parade floats were: Roberts Restaurant first and Char-Em Realtors Association second in the retail division; St. Matthew's Catholic Church first and Eta Nu second in the church-fraternal category; and Steve Moody first and Harvey Varnum second in the individual category.

The Chamber of Commerce took first place in the civic category, followed by the Boyne Area Nursery Center.

In the raft race, the winners were Mike Weeks and Andy Poineau.

The Most Original Raft award went to Jeff Aimesbury, Les Hardy and Bill Conkle. The foursome of Fred Lehto, Nord Schroeder, Terry Fitzpatrick and Maurizio Baccocchi won an award for having the most people on any raft that finished the race.

Cliff Holzhauser and friend were two of the senior citizens represented in the Boyne City Fourth of July parade. He is president of the Friendship Club, a local senior organization.

Catch!

The Charlevoix County Press gave away frisbees and papers in the East Jordan and Boyne City parades last week. Here Diane Murray tosses a CCP frisbe into the East Jordan crowd, while fellow staffer Cheryl Goodburn looks on.

Boyne man convicted of sexual assault

BOYNE CITY - Darryl Smith of 711 South Lake Street has been convicted of criminal sexual assault in the second degree and has been sentenced to eight to 15 years in Jackson State Prison, according to Charlevoix County Prosecutor Scott Beatty.

Smith was convicted Friday, June 28 and sentenced Monday, July 9.

The conviction stems from an incident that took place in Smith's home last summer involving a 12-year-old girl, Beatty said.

Beatty said Smith, 45, was convicted of having "sexual contact, but not penetration," with the girl, who has since moved out of Boyne City.

He said Smith could get up to 15 years in jail.

Beatty said two other girls, ages eight and nine, testified in the trial that they had had similar experiences with Smith, but he was charged on just one count.

Jolleen Eaton, also of 711 South Lake, is scheduled to stand trial on the same charge relating to the same incident, Beatty said.

Beatty said Smith, who acted as his own attorney in the three day trial, was charged and acquitted on a similar charge two years ago. This is his first felony conviction.

Johnecheck named to board

BOYNE CITY - Newly appointed Board of Education member Betty Johnnecheck has a simple reason for volunteering to fill the seat vacated by the resignation of Fritz Sutter, even though her own seven children are now out of the school system.

"Anything for the kids," says the Camp Daggett Road resident. "Anything that will help them get a better education, I'm all for it. If there's something I can contribute, I think I should do it."

"If there's anything I can do to improve the school system, I want to do it."

Mrs. Johnnecheck will fill the unexpired term of Fritz Sutter, who has been transferred to Ionia by Michigan Bell. If she wants to stay on the board, she will have to run for election next June.

An employee at the Boyne City Post Office, Mrs. Johnnecheck was active in the effort to demerge the old Twin Valley school district. "I think we have a good basic curriculum," she said, but sees the need for "improving communication between people of the community and the board."

"If people have any concerns, I hope they let me know about them."

Mrs. Johnnecheck was appointed to the board Monday night. In other action that night, the board approved salaries for its three school principals and Superintendent Rich Kelly. All four got eight percent raises.

Kelly's salary went from $27,900 to $29,532; Elementary Principal Ed Snyder went from $25,003 to $27,003; Middle School Principal Jack Cyr went from $23,293 to $25,156; and High School Principal Rick Casper's salary stayed at $24,100, but he will get $160.66 a month for travel expenses.

Community education Director Judy Johnson also got an eight percent raise, going from $16,750 to $18,090.

The board also hired two new elementary teachers, both on a one year basis. Catherine Bourdon will teach music, replacing Linda Fry, who is on maternity leave. Catherine Copeland will teach art, replacing Betty Adgate, who is taking a one year leave of absence to study.

The board also was informed that another elementary teacher, Carole Hague, is taking a leave of absence to further her education. She teaches fourth grade.

No lawn watering in Boyne City

BOYNE CITY - Because of low water pressure, city officials are asking resident not to water their lawns and gardens "until further notice."

Water Department Supervisor Basil Moore said the water pressure has been especially low in the Lakeview Village mobile home park. He said low water pressure can become a health hazard.

"We have to do this," Moore told the City Commission Tuesday. "I know some people will be upset, but we have to do it to protect the people."

City Manager Tim Clifton said the city wants to store up water now so it will have a surplus for August, usually a dry month. "This is mainly a precautionary measure at this point," he said.

The city won't have this problem after this year, Clifton said, because of improvements being made in the city's water system.

Also at the Tuesday noon meeting, Clifton warned that the police are going to crack down on those who illegally dump trash in the old North Boyne Dump. Only decomposable materials such as wood and brush can be dumped there.

A glorious Fourth; Tourism up

There was fun for everyone in the Fourth of July Boyne City raft race, although some of the participants got a bit wetter than they expected as hecklers sprayed them with garden hoses. The race was just one of the day's many successful events. [Press photo by Joe McElroy.]

After a worrisome spring, it appears the area's summer tourist season isn't going to be so bad after all. Local businessmen reported a few weeks back that the tourist season was off to a slow start. Nobody was certain whether to blame the gasoline scare or the consistently bad weekend weather.

But following seven days of good weather, most area businessmen this week say the Fourth of July and the weekends before and after it were good. Maybe not quite as good as some previous years, but markedly better than earlier weekends this year.

In addition to The Man in Charge of The Weather, Charlevoix County residents have others to thank for a successful holiday week. In Boyne City, a group of residents worked very hard to present a number of fun activities in this, the first year the Chamber of Commerce has not run the show.

In previous years, paying for fireworks and other Fourth of July activities has left the chamber without enough money to undertake other projects throughout the year. The chamber is supposed to provide more than fireworks to the community, so the establishment of a special, outside committee to handle the Fourth was a good idea.

Editorial

But the good idea called for a lot of hard work and generosity on the part of local residents. Business establishments such as the Sportsman Bar and Roberts Restaurant sponsored special meals to raise money for the fireworks. There were numerous other fund-raising activities.

The committee members did a fine job of promoting the fund-raising and staging the activities. Although there were a few inevitable last minute hassles, everybody had a good time. A good Fourth of July is important to the community for several reasons. Everybody should have a good time on their birthday, and our country should be no exception. Have you ever noticed that it hardly ever rains on the Fourth?

But a successful holiday has important financial implications in a tourist-oriented area such as ours. Since the Fourth is considered the unofficial beginning of the main tourist season, it's good to get the season off to a good start.

Another positive aspect of this year's Fourth was the successful running race, which brought hundreds of people into the community while promoting a healthy sport. Again, it took hard work on the part of many people to make it work.

Too often, people spend much of their time and energy working against one another, espousing various points of view. It's always heartening to see people pull together to support a worthwhile project, and that's what happened this year on the Fourth of July.

Everyone loves a parade, but nobody loves them more than Steve Moody and his gang of creative float designers. Every year they come up with something unusual and funny. This year's effort posed a possible solution to the gasoline shortage. E&M Standard owner Henry Erber offers to give them a hand in the photo above.

No more Mr. Nice Guy

Almost a year and a half ago I wrote what was supposed to be a humorous column about the problem of howling dogs in my neighborhood. I was mad because I found it difficult to recover from the flu with demented canines barking all day and much of the night. But because we were afraid of upsetting local dog lovers, obviously a huge special interest group, I wrote in a humorous fashion.

Once again I am compelled to write about man's best friend. No more Mr. Nice Guy.

Some of us treat our pets better than some parents treat their children. I once lived in a community overrun with pint-sized mutts who wore jewelry, got their hair done in beauty shops and probably went to an animal psychiatrist when life got too tough.

Thank goodness nobody in Boyne City treats their dogs that way. But many seem to go to the other extreme. Their dogs seem to have no role in life other than sitting outside their dog houses, eating and howling.

Within earshot of my bedroom are several large, loud dogs. I see them on my way to work and their masters never seem to do anything with them except feed them. Big dogs need exercise but can't get much when constantly confined to a fenced-in backyard or a chain.

by people who have some consideration for their neighbors. He hardly ever barks more than once or twice and when he does, his owners rap on the window and tell him to shut up. Which he does.

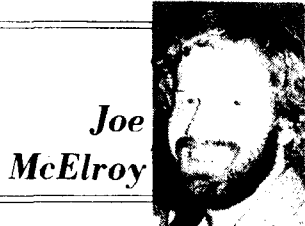

Take the hint, dog owners. Your pets are other people's pains in the neck. Maybe you can sleep with your mutt screaming, but others can't and shouldn't have to learn.

Maybe your dog only howls during the daytime, which you define as sunrise to sunset. But what about waitresses, newspaper reporters, policemen and others who often have to work until the early hours of the morning? Just because you're awake doesn't mean everyone else in the neighborhood has to get up.

OK, I admit that I'm lucky to live in a town where the worst anti-social problem is dog barking. But if my neighbors can teach their pet to keep quiet, so can you. Or else you can give your dog some attention or exercise. Or get a smaller dog. But give us a break.

So dogs are reduced to howling if they want to exercise in between hunting seasons. It is obvious that after years of practice, Boyne City dogs are the loudest in the world. And when one starts, they all start.

No, I take that back. Fortunately, the dog who lives next to me is owned

Underneath the bed with Ms. Susan B. Anthony

I always change my pants whenever I go out to fuss around in the garden. Our roses and blackberry and raspberry bushes have thorns on them. They tear your pants and make them unfit to wear out of the yard.

I was changing into those old pants when the money in my pocket fell on the floor.

My brand new Susan B. Anthony silver dollar couldn't lay on the rug with the rest of the coins. No. It had to roll under the bed and hide. Somehow I knew it would become a nuisance when the bank began handing them out. Bigger than a quarter, smaller than a half dollar. Phooey.

My wife came in. "Why are you under the bed mumbling like that?" she asked.

"I'm looking for a silver dollar with that old bat on it," I said.

"She wasn't an old bat!" my wife insisted. "She was a very courageous woman. If it wasn't for Susan B. Anthony we women wouldn't be able to vote."

If there's anything I can't stand it's being lectured to when I'm under the bed.

"How did she get under there?" my wife asked.

"She fell on the floor and rolled under the bed when I took my pants off," I said.

"Why didn't you move the bed instead of crawling under it?"

"It's too heavy. I've got to remember my condition."

"Throw that dollar out to me," she said. "I want to put it away and save it."

"What for?"

"If people like you keep hollering,

"No, don't do that. My hair is caught in the springs."

"Oh, heavens," she said. "Stick your good leg out and I'll pull you out of there."

"No, my leg hurts too much. It's the same one that went out on me when we were watching Harvey Varnum drive that old car in the parade. Remember?"

"At least you can push that dollar out," she said. "I want to put it away."

"There it is. I'll push it out."

"I've got it," she said, walking into the living room.

"Hey! Where are you going?"

"I'm going downtown to do some shopping."

"Downtown! And leave me with this leg and my hair caught in the springs?"

She raised her voice. "Any man who can't tell the difference between a Canadian quarter with Queen Elizabeth on it and a Susan B. Anthony silver dollar can stay under the bed as far as I'm concerned."

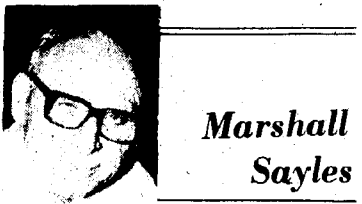

"Wives are supposed to help husbands in cases like this," I said.

"You've got to get me out of here so I can write a column. People will want to know about this."

"Oh, well, here."

"What's that you're sticking under the bed?"

"It's a pencil and some paper. Have a 'ce afternoon.

Marshall Sayles

they might quit making them. I want one for a souvenir just in case."

"I can't see it, not with all this dirt under here."

"Dirt! I'll have you know I vacuumed this whole bedroom three days ago."

"Then what's this sock doing here?" I asked.

"I wondered if you had taken to wearing only one sock again. Hand it out to me."

"My leg just gave out," I said. "I can't move."

"Lie still. I'll move the bed over."

Preserve our natural resources

Editor, I am now on my way home from a month & a half trip to Europe. It has been a lovely experience. I'm happy to know where "home" is. I've learned & seen much & want to see some good happen in Boyne.

There are some lovely parks in Europe & that was a very special "highlight" of my stay. I almost touched a real live peacock, many of which were cruising around one of the parks, quite comfortably amidst all the people. Nature is a haven for wild life of all forms & it was interesting to see the ease of which man coincided.

The land available for this type of enjoyment is fairly well used up. We must respect this in America now.

There is a matter which has concerned all of us for sometime now, the tannery project. I sat in on a meeting last spring, (quite a heated one) and there the developers said, "We will not build if there are any objections." Well, there are objections. The argument at this meeting, the closing of the road as opposed, to financial ruin, I find impossible to accept.

The point is not closing a road, how tall the condos are, how far away from the lake, or financial ruin, none of that matters and there is no such thing as financial ruin in our times. The mistake is that money & progress have gotten in the way of clear thinking. I believe the problem is that finally a piece of property has returned to its natural state & it is important that it remain so.

We must act now to preserve what is in its natural state & gives such pleasure. I am deeply concerned about the environment, having studied natural resources & environmental education at M.S.U. It is of utmost importance that we do not develop land which has returned to its natural state.

The government wants to preserve land in Alaska & along riverways, why not here in Boyne? A natural beach is forming already and nature will take care of itself. That area only needs some cleaning. Working together it could be done. You don't need to hire a planner for the "development" of the city, there is tons of mindpower in Boyne already.

My wish is to see the swamp behind the train building return, maybe the swans & other birds will also. I like to pick wild strawberries there. Leave the pigeons at the R.R. office, utilize Barn Mountain in the best way and the Tannery property also.

We already have two marinas - we have all we need, a heaven here. Maybe the "owners of the Lakefront" will donate it as a "natural gift," to Boyne City & we can all sit back & enjoy the beauty. It would be nice to see the arts & education developed instead of land.

Hopefully everyone involved in this decision making process have looked at every side. Please take a hike up on Barn Mountain and look out, go out on the lake & look at Boyne, at the spot where the Tannery was rising up to Barn Mountain in back. The beauty of Boyne is that it is so natural & untouched.

The freedom for anyone to sit on the lake front at the old coal docks, between them & the sewage plant or farther down & watch the sunset or spend a few minutes of quiet reflexion there in the early morning is very wonderful. Please try it sometime. It's ungrooved & it's the best!

School board elects Mary Jason president

EAST JORDAN - The Board of Education has a new president. She's Mary Jason, who replaces Dick Noirot. Noirot has been president since John buick resigned from the board a year and a half ago.

Noirot will remain on the board as a trustee. A school official said he felt he needs to devote more time to his construction business in the next year.

Mrs. Jason, who has been on the board three years, formerly served as vice-president. The new vice-president is Tom Galmore. Ed Drenth was elected secretary and Herb Griffin was named treasurer.

The new officers were chosen at Monday's board meeting. In other action, the board approved an energy conservation resolution calling for heating classrooms and other school buildings at 68 degrees.

Meeting postponed

BOYNE CITY - Because three commissioners were out of town, Tuesday's Boyne City Commission meeting was postponed until Friday, July 13, at 7 p.m.

The meeting will be held in the Litzburger Place, at the end of South Park Street.

EJ dolls on display

EAST JORDAN - Local resident Annie Evans will present a program on her collection of dolls at the East Jordan Historical Society meeting Thursday, July 12.

The public is invited to the meeting at 7:30 p.m. at the Portside Art and Historical Museum at Elm Point.

Members and visitors are urged to bring their favorite collector's doll to the program.

Auto-Owners has 2 car insurance rates for young marrieds: Better. And better.

If you're a young married couple, chances are Auto-Owners can save you money on car insurance. Because, unlike some other companies, Auto-Owners doesn't make you wait until you're 25 years old to get good rates. You can get Auto-Owners preferred married rate on car insurance at 23. And that can save you money.

Plus, if you're married and under 23, Auto-Owners also has a reduced rate for you. Check out our lower rates and you'll probably discover that you and Auto-Owners should get together. And that could turn out to be the perfect marriage.

ARE YOUR MONEY MATTERS IN ORDER?

Financial planning is part of your future security program; but if you were to die tomorrow, would your family know what to do? You may already have taken care of most of the important elements, but here is a general checklist for your reference.

1. INSURANCE: Is beneficiary up-to-date? Are premiums paid?
2. ARE BANKBOOK, Social Security, V.A. and other important documents all together? Does your family know where they are?
3. IS YOUR WILL current and available?
4. DO YOU HAVE A LIST of names, addresses, phone numbers of your brokers, insurance agencies, accountants and lawyers?

Your questions and comments on this and other subjects are welcome -- in private or publicly through this column.

Skating champions renew their vows

Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Brunet receive a blessing from Father Dennis Stilwell as they celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary by repeating their vows at St. Matthew's Catholic Church. (Photo by Gregg Smith.)

BOYNE CITY - A burst of applause resounded through St. Matthew's here Sunday, July 1, as the dapper, elderly couple turned away from the altar in what was perhaps their last public performance.

But this time it was not on skates. Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Brunet had just repeated their wedding vows before Rev. Dennis Stilwell.

And for the first time, in their long residence here, dozens of their fellow parishioners learned that the modest greying couple, celebrating their golden wedding anniversary, were the world renowned French figure skating team of Brunet and Joly.

As an introductory to the matrimonial sacrament, Father Stilwell recounted highlights of their career.

They first met on the ice of the only covered rink in Paris in the early 20's and in 1923 were selected to represent France in the pairs figure skating Olympic competition to be held at Chamonix, France, in 1924. The new stars won the bronze medal -- and thus served notice to the sports world that here was something new in the galaxy of figure skating.

In the Olympics at San Moritz in 1928, they took the gold medal -- first place -- as another memorable star, Sonja Henie, emerged as the singles champ taking the gold for Norway.

Other highlights cited by Fr. Stilwell:

They won the Olympic pairs gold in 1932 at Lake Placid; they won 7 world championships.

While Sonja Henie went to Hollywood to star in films, the Brunets went on tour of the world's metropolitan centers, Berlin, Oslo, London, Rome, New York, in "show biz."

The Manhattan Skating Club offered them instructorships -- when they began to tire of the stage grind. Their ice campus was the fourth floor of the old Madison Square Garden on 8th Avenue.

There they developed such stars as Carol Heiss, Kathy Malmberg, Gordon McCallum, Donald Jackson. The French government even sent its figure skating Olympic hopefuls to the Brunet ice camps. Champions Alan Gilletti, Patrik Pera, and Alan Calmat were trained by Pierre.

In 1972, Pierre was enlisted to go to Rockton, Illinois Ice Palace to put the finishing touches on Janet Lynn, top U.S. singles hopeful, whose career was cut short by an accidental fall in the Olympic finals.

And how did the Brunets happen to make Boyne City their home?

As guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allen (Allen A. Hosiery) in 1942 they were boating between Boyne and Charlevoix when their craft stuck on a sand bar.

Just abeam was a partially completed cabin. It was Bob Allen's suggestion that Pierre should buy the property -- that took fire. They bought a home in town too; their wandering days were over.

Today, their summer home is often visited by skating pros from all over the world seeking tips on everything from sharpening skates to training methods. The couple work long hours keeping up their grounds -- and they like to plow through the mounds of memorabilia that they are collecting for the Figure Skating Hall of Fame, at Boston. The Brunets were the first pairs team to be honored with a nomination to the Hall of Fame -- and the only professional couple, to date, to be honored.

Foundation chairmen named

The Cystic Fibrosis Foundation has announced the Chairmen of the 1979 Breath of Life Campaign in Michigan. Local chairmen are: Linda Fiel, Boyne Falls; Sharon LaVanway, East Jordan and Lynn Bowman, Charlevoix.

September has been designated by the National Health Council as the month for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation to accept contributions door-to-door. The chairmen will organize campaigns to raise money for research, education, diagnosis and treatment of Cystic Fibrosis (CF).

Although Cystic Fibrosis (CF) is still the leading genetic cause of death among children, the average life expectancy has risen from five to eighteen years since 1965. The greatest health problems from CF are caused by increased lung damage from repeated infections and by malnutrition from inadequate digestion of food.

EAST JORDAN - A funeral Mass for William H. Goik, 51, who died unexpectedly June 26 of an apparent heart attack at his Six Mile Lake home were held at St. Joseph's Church June 30. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

The Rosary was recited at the Oak Chapel of the Vanderwall-Watson Funeral Home Friday.

Born in Detroit, Nov. 5, 1927, Mr. Goik was a lieutenant with the Detroit Fire Department for 26 years prior to his retirement in 1976. He moved to his present home from southern Michigan early in 1977. On Aug. 26, 1950, he was married to the former Florence Pomcier in Detroit. He was a veteran of World War II having served as a Seaman with the U.S. Navy in the South Pacific theatre. He was a member of the Pruss-Szelong Post No. 5672, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

He is survived by his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Michael (Michelle) Armbruster of Novi and a son, Robert of Detroit.

The family suggests memorials to the Detroit Firemen's Fund. Envelopes are available at the chapel.

Chemical plant remembered

Wallace Merchant will give a presentation on the Boyne City Chemical Company when the Boyne City Historical Society meets Tuesday, July 17, at 7 p.m. in the public library. The public is invited.

At the turn of the century, during the area's lumbering era, lumber barons figured out a way to make money from inferior trees that were not being cut for lumber. So they pooled their resources and founded the chemical company on what is now North Lake Street.

The plant began operation in 1902 and soon became one of the largest of its kind in the world, producing two million bushels of charcoal, half a million pounds of acetate of lime and 600,000 of wood alcohol annually.

Every day, 180 cords of wood were cut and brought to a wood yard where Lakeview Mobile Home Park is today. At its peak, 100 men worked at the plant, which was closed in the 1920's when the area's wood supply was exhausted.

Students of distinction

Barbara Umlor

Barbara Umlor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Umlor, East Jordan, was named to the President's List at Muskegon Business College. The honor is granted to students who earn straight A's for that quarter.

Kelly A. Alger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Alger of East Jordan, was named to the Dean's List at Muskegon Business College. The list recognizes students earning at least a 3.25 grade average for the quarter.

David L. Behling

David L. Behling of Charlevoix has been named to the Dean's List at Northwood Institute for spring term.

To achieve Dean's List recognition, students must earn a 3.0 or above on a 4.0 grade point scale.

Northwood Institute is a private, coeducational accredited college specializing in practical career preparation in those business fields where there are job opportunities. The college's curriculums include both two-year and four-year career degree programs.

Congratulations

Irene Mackie

Irene Mackie receives congratulations upon successful completion of a 15 week real estate program at North Central Michigan College. Irene is a lifelong resident of the area and a graduate of Boyne City High School. She joined Bieganowski and Associates earlier this year after successfully managing a gaslight area shop for five years. "It's an exciting and very satisfying job to be able to help people through such an important time of their lives." Irene also said "Our continuing education program helps us help you." If you are ready to buy or sell property think of Irene and give her a call any time, day or evening at 582-6771. She is working full time for you!

Larry Fisher sprints across the finish line after breezing to victory in the eight-mile race.

Mary Loesberg won the women's division of the eight-mile race.

Boyne's race had...

BOYNE CITY - The first annual Boyne City Independence Day Race attracted 254 runners from 11 states on the Fourth of July, prompting race planners to predict a turnout of 500 or more for next year.

Race chairman and local dentist Rob Polleys was heartened by the turnout, which was unusually large for the first year of such a race.

A Gaylord race which is now drawing nearly 1,000 runners started with only 100 in its first year.

Many runners commented on how well Polleys and other volunteers had organized the race -- it started on time.

it had a police escort, mile markers, refreshments and many other "extra touches" which the organizers hope will help attract everyone back next year.

The weather was perfect -- sunny and relatively cool -- and the race course itself was an attraction in itself, as more than half of the eight-mile course ran along Lake Charlevoix.

Before and after the race, former residents Dee and Gregg Smith acted as masters of ceremonies, and kept the atmosphere lively with running commentary and recorded music.

The race committee will be meeting soon to work out the problems that did

... runners from all over

arise, however, to help make next year's race even better. Polleys noted that one problem was getting results to all the finishers. They may mail results out now, and a better plan is being devised to have the results available quicker.

There were two races, with 136 runners in the eight-mile division and 119 in the two-mile. Out-of-towners won both races.

Larry Fisher, 24, of Gaylord, won the eight mile race in 42:36, nearly three minutes ahead of the next finisher.

Fisher is the track coach at Alba High School.

The top woman finisher in the eight-mile race was Mary Loesberg, 36, of Long Island, N.Y. A summer resident of Charlevoix, she finished in 42nd place overall with a time of 54:26.

Top finishers among Charlevoix County residents were Mark Stormzand of Boyne Falls, second place; Tom Lawrence of Walloon Lake, fourth; and Larry Horchner of Boyne Falls, 12th.

The two-mile race was actually about 1.9 miles, and 16-year-old Dan Biehl of Mancelona won it in 9:14.

Another youngster won the women's division -- 15-year-old Dawn Clark of Grand Haven. She finished 16th overall with a time of 11:21.

Top local runners in the two-mile were Rick Hawley of East Jordan, fifth; Jim Patterson of Boyne City, sixth; and Brian Thompson of Charlevoix, eighth.

Runners came from all over Michigan and 10 other states, including, Alaska, Texas, California, New York, Missouri, Wisconsin, Ohio, Illinois, Pennsylvania and Indiana.

East Jordan City Council met in regular session Tuesday, July 3, 1979 at 7:30 p.m. Mayor Meredith presiding and all members present. Minutes were approved, authorization was given to pay bills of $46,485.63 as presented and the necessary transfers were made.
Business included receiving the Annual Audit report; the Ambulance report for June showing 31 runs for the month; and issuing a Special Use Permit as recommended by the Zoning Board of Appeals for Jerry Vrondran to allow a Auto Body repair operation in an R-1 zone.
Other business included closing Main Street between 1-2 p.m. on July 4th & 7th to allow the Senior Citizens Variety Show; allowing the Chamber of Commerce Flea Market in Memorial Park on July 7th from 9 a.m. to dark; allowing the Roatry to use the Ambulance garage for their Annual Chicken Barbecue on July 7th and allowing the Women's Softball League to use the Launching Facility for a car-wash on July 8th.
Since all bids received for the Community Building Renovation were about 25 percent over estimate and since Council and the Superintendent felt these were out of line all bids were rejected as being not in the best interest of the City and the Superintendent was instructed to proceed with the project as budgeted, substituting where necessary.
Upon recommendation of the Water Committee, the Superintendent was instructed to plan, develop and execute a plan to insure water quality standards as required under P.A. 399 of 1976.
Tourist Park rates for RV's with full hookup were lowered to $8/day or $48 per week.
The City Superintendent will be Delegate to the Municipal League Annual Convention with the City Clerk as Alternate.

Smiths have new plan if Front St. stays open

BY JOE McELROY

BOYNE CITY - Faced with the possibility that their original plans might be voted down in an Aug. 7 special city election, the partners in Lake Associates are considering alternate uses for development of the old tannery property along Lake Charlevoix.

Rick and Dave Smith of Lake Associates say they are considering a plan calling for approximately 50 condominium units, nine large single family lakefront homes, a small marina and restaurant, a commercial shopping district, medium-priced single family homes and low-priced government subsidized housing for senior citizens.

The Smiths say they still would rather build 270 high-priced condos, their initial proposal. But they are considering alternatives because their original plan calls for the closing of Front Street, opposed by many local residents.

The Smiths say their original plan won't work unless the street is closed from Second to Division St.

The Smiths said they still hope they can go with their original plan because it will provide more tax money for the city and probably be more profitable for them.

Rick Smith said the revised plan, "in no way is designed to be of a threatening nature. What we will present is a very viable, low risk, high return development. I just don't think it's as good a usage of the land."
"All plans can be modified."

The Smiths said their revised proposal doesn't call for the closing of Front Street or the donation of a public beach to the city, both included in their initial plan.

The developers said they will present their new proposal to the City Commission at its noon meeting on Tuesday, July 24. They say they want the commission and voters to get a look at what will probably be built on the property if Front Street stays open.

"We look at the tannery as having four or five distinct parcels of land," Dave Smith said. The nine, high-priced lakefront homes would be along 900 feet of lakefront on the northeast end of the property, the site presently slated for the public beach.

The property is already zoned for residential use. The rest of the tannery property is zoned for commercial use. Further south along the lakefront would be 40-60 condominium townhouses. In back of the lakefront development would be medium priced homes with access to the lake.

At the top of the property, near Division Street, would be the proposed government-subsidized, low-cost housing, probably for senior citizens. Boyne City is presently short of senior citizen housing, although the city's housing commission has been seeking funds to build more complexes like the Litzenger senior center on South Park Street.

Another part of the plan calls for a small commercial area. "It would be a convenient shopping district for those who live there," Dave Smith said. The Smiths said they would also expect business from East Jordan people who often come to Boyne City to shop.

The Smiths are still considering a marina/restaurant complex, but on a smaller scale than in the condominium project. The marina would include dry dock storage.

Initial plans called for a high-priced, fancy restaurant. "A restaurant is still in our plans," Rick Smith said, "but it would be more modest, somewhat similar to the ones already in town."

Although they have developed a substitute plan, the Smiths are still hoping voters will approve the closing of Front Street so they can go ahead with their original plans.

"Certainly there would be much less tax money for the city involved," Rick Smith said of the new plan. "And there's no beach."

He also predicted that the city will soon have to buy additional land on either side of Front Street to repave it, since the city does not own any right-of-way along the road.

"Some day the citizens are going to have to pay the price for that pretty drive," he said.

Smith added that Lake Associates' first proposal would also create more jobs, especially in the construction field.

Most voters say . . .

'Don't close street'

BOYNE CITY - An overwhelming majority of voters polled in a random telephone survey taken by The Charlevoix County Press oppose the proposed closing of Front Street.

The potential developers, Lake Associates, say their condominium development on the former tannery property won't work unless Front Street is closed.

But in the random survey taken by The Press, 44 registered city voters said they will vote against closing the street. Just five said they would vote yes, while two were uncertain.

Those 44 no votes represent 89.8 percent of those who gave yes or no answers.

When voters go to the polls Aug. 7 for a special city election on the issue, they will see a ballot reading: "Shall the City Commission vacate Front Street in the City of Boyne City from Second Street to Division Street?" The choices are "yes" and "no."

The Press conducted the survey by choosing random names from the telephone directory. Our poller kept making calls until receiving 51 firm replies, either yes, no, or uncertain. The number sampled is about two percent of the estimated 2,500 registered voters in the city.

Those telephoned were asked if they were city residents, if they were registered to vote and if they planned to vote Aug. 7. Those who answered yes to these questions, were read the ballot question and asked how they plan to vote.

The Press did not keep track of individuals' answers and explained that to each person called. Nevertheless, a number of people said they did not wish to reveal how they would vote.

Master plan hearing set

BOYNE CITY - The first public hearing on the city's master plan will be held Thursday, July 19, at 7 p.m. in the City Commission chambers.

The city recently hired the Ann Arbor consulting firm of Johnson, Johnson & Roy to develop a master plan, a document listing the city's strengths and weaknesses and offering proposals for future orderly growth in the community.

The planners are now gathering information about the community, and have scheduled the public hearing. "So we can begin to get an idea of where the city wants to go," said Bruce Michael, a member of the consulting team. "We're trying to get a handle on the broad issues the city will be facing," he said. Michael said those issues might include the future of the city's waterfront, the balance needed between tourism and industrial growth, and plans for Avalanche Mountain.

"We really want to encourage people to come," said City Manager Tim Clifton. "It's important that different interest groups, such as the downtown merchants, come. Everybody should be represented."

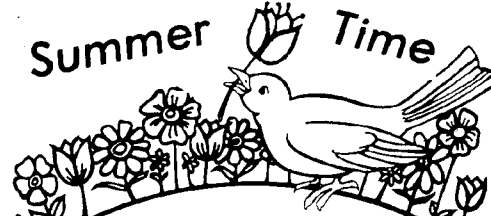

After getting information from the public hearing and other sources, the planners will develop a list of goals for the community to consider. "There's no way I alone can tell the consultants what those goals will be," Clifton said. "That should come from the people."

Fun & Sun

July 12, 1979

Supplement to the Charlevoix County Press

The joy of boating

If you have to ask, "What's so great about boating in Northern Michigan?" then you obviously have never boated in Charlevoix County. Beside from the sunshine and beauty of the land, Charlevoix County is blessed with several crystal clear lakes that are among the top of the list of favorite places to boat.

Fun & Sun this week will explore the world of boating. Some like it fast and some like it slow. If you've never been boating, you'll get tips on the right places to go for sightseeing, speedracing and also for renting boats. Boaters will tell you why they own the type of craft they do, and the reflection it has on their personality. Did you know that if you want to pick up girls the best way to do so is with a speedboat? Or at least so swear some sailboat owners. Or did you know that the nicest boaters own sailboats? So say the sailors.

Whether it be speedboating, pontooning, fishing, canoeing, or row boating you're interested in, Fun & Sun will tell you all you'll want to know about your favorite type of boating.

If you're a beginner, old pro, or just an adventurer see inside for some "different" ways to test your skill at boating. The Eastport Yacht Club will be having a day of fun for boaters that like to pretend they're millionaires sailing their yachts across the open waters.

Don't forget to look at our Out and About section featuring the newest highlights in Charlevoix County. Anything you need to know about places to go from libraries to the nightlife are listed in our comprehensive directory.

So grab your mate and come paddling, sailing, or speeding through these pages for the best idea of what boating is like in Charlevoix County.

Nothing compares to the fun of speeding along in a speedboat, speedboat owners and riders say.

Every boat and boater has an image

BY DIANNE MURRAY

"There is nowhere else in the world as beautiful for boating as the lakes of the north," one boater on Lake Charlevoix said while his sails flapped in the nice breeze on the warm summer day.

Boaters commute hundreds of miles to the lakes in Charlevoix County and the reason is because we have such beautiful, clean and unpopulated lakes here.

But boaters also hold an image of themselves as to why they own the type of craft they do. Pontoon boats are like family cars, slow and nice to bring a group in; speedboats are great for young people to meet other young people; sailboats are for lovers and couples who like the challenge of having to operate a boat with their hands; row boats and fishing boats are great for fishing and young boys who like to pretend they're on bigger boats.

Each boater Fun & Sun talked to was asked why he had come to Charlevoix County for boating and also the image he has of himself on his boat.

Speedboat owners said they owned fast boats because "the speed is fun. You can take speedboats out in any type of water," said Cory Lopus, 17, of Lansing. "It's not like sailboats, which are only fun when there's a breeze."

Todd Donagala, 17, of Detroit, said that the reason Cory and he were out on the rented Starcraft speedboat on Walloon Lake was because they like to waterski. Tod said more people own speedboats than any other type of boat, so in order to meet the most people, you must own a speedboat.

"It's especially nice and easy to meet girls when you have a speedboat. You always look like you're having fun and then everyone wants to come and join you," he said.

Terry and Julie McDonald, of Birmingham, said they bought a speedboat because their children talked them into it. "We have three teenage children and all they talked about after we told them we were thinking about buying a boat was that they have to have a speedboat," Mrs. McDonald said.

The reason? "Of course so they could meet other kids their age. We all waterski so the decision was unanimous to get a speedboat," she said.

The McDonalds have been visiting Lake Charlevoix and renting a cottage in Boyne City for the last five years. Mrs. McDonald said they love to waterski in Lake Charlevoix and could find no other lake as nice in all Southern Michigan or several other vacation spots they have visited.

Charles and Annette Thompson, from Chicago, came to Lake Charlevoix because they heard the fishing is good. "Boating is real nice in Northern Michigan and the reason we like to fish is because of the solitude and challenge the sport offers. Fishing on a small boat satisfies my primitive urge to hunt," Charles said.

Pat Carey and Robert ReVitte, both from Mt. Pleasant, said they were "just rowing around" in Pat's father's fishing boat because "we're too young to go on the sailboat where we really want to be," Pat said.

Sailboating might be described as hours of stark boredom interrupted by moments of fright. The boredom isn't really boring though because you can sightsee and the moments of fright are really the challenge of sailing.

"The challenge of sailing is what is so fun," Bob Sedlack of Mansfield, Ohio, said. Sedlack has been coming to Walloon Lake since he was a kid. "I like sailing and especially sailing on Walloon Lake for the same reason. Because they're both quiet. Walloon Lake doesn't get very crowded and I like sailing because it gives me time to think and rest," he said.

But sometimes the peacefulness turns into adventure. Sedlack and his crew said they like to go out to the middle of the lake and tip the sailboat over. "The farther you get it over, the more fun it is," he said.

For Dennis Loviska of Rochester, there's no comparison to sailing. Loviska has been coming to Lake Charlevoix to sail for the past five years because he said there's nothing like it downstate or anywhere else. "The lakes downstate are like I-75, there's too much traffic and you can't really enjoy yourself in that type of situation."

Loviska said he can totally forget everything else when he is sailing. "Where else can one find that kind of peace and tranquility? Certainly not with a 500 horse power motor behind you buzzing all the time."

William McGee, a resident of Boyne City for the past three years, said he enjoys sailboating because he doesn't like to hear the putt-putt of a motor while cruising the lake. Another reason he likes sailboating is because "gas for boats costs so much now. The main reason I bought a sailboat wasn't economic but it sure helps now not owning a big motor boat," he said.

Sailboats are for lovers, whether they be people lovers or lovers of the great outdoors. Mike Horshok of Okemos said the reason he owns a sailboat is because of the natural beauty and natural means of transporting himself.

"What better area could I have come to than here? Lake Charlevoix and some other northern lakes around here are so beautiful and clean and are hardly populated that I enjoy coming up here," he said.

When you think of pontoon boating you probably think of a family cruising around nice and slowly on the lake. Well, in some ways that's true, but even more true is that they are great for parties.

"They're nice to cruise in," Dick

Sailing away

Sailboating, a sport for lovers and couples, is a combination of challenging and peaceful times on the water.

Boaters of all ages and sizes enjoy the lakes in Northern Michigan. Wayne Quirk and Andy Gould, both from Elkhart, Indiana, like to paddle the lakes on their raft.

Dockmaster

When sailors need a helping hand he's there

BOYNE CITY - "Dockmaster, that's what they call me," said the white haired man with a slow walk as he made his way along the docks. Grant Moore has been the Boyne City dockmaster since the docks were built in 1966. The 71-year old retiree now works at his job only part time, keeping peace and good will between the boaters who dock at his port.

Between May 15 and October 15, if you walk out to the docks, the way you'll find Moore is by finding all the young kids. His favorite people are the young children who come to visit and listen to stories about boating, fishing, or Lake Charlevoix. Moore knows it all.

He may not be any good at remembering names, but that's not what counts when you're working with boats. "It's their operating number. I can usually get that (number) down real fast and then I work on the boat's name. People will come in and ask about a friend who's supposed to dock here and all I'll ask them is either the boat number, name or color and I can usually tell them where their friend is," Moore said.

Moore said he enjoys his job most for the opportunity it gives him to meet other people, especially boaters. The dock, with 10 slips for two boats each, has many summer boaters that come back year after year to stay for a week of their vacation.

"I like the boaters who come in here. We're a little different than Charlevoix because we're less populated and don't have as big of docks. It's quieter in Boyne City than Charlevoix, but there's that's probably why most the boaters do come here," he said.

Moore's favorite boat has to be a cruiser, he said. Although he does not own one now, he said cruisers are the best because of the distinct beauty of these boats and "they can go fast without having to prove themselves like speedboats."

Within the last two years the dockmaster said he has noticed an increase in the number of sailboats on the water and docking in Boyne City. "We're getting more sailboats, probably because of the economy and with gas being so bad it's a lot cheaper to own a sailboat. They're pretty boats and challenging to handle," he said.

Moore, whose birthday is this week, does not punch a time clock. "My job is to come when they (boaters) need me. I make my own hours. If a boat pulls in at 7 in the morning and they need me, I end up getting a call at my home at that time. Or they'll find out from the other boaters what time I'll be back."

If a boater has to get a hold of Moore, they call him on the pay phone by the docks. Moore's office is the trunk of his car, which proves difficult when it rains.

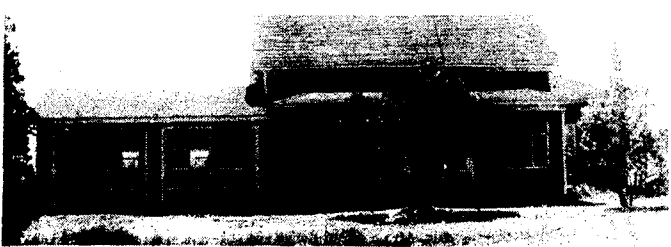

"I don't mind it too much not having an office, but it's rough in the rain. When a boat pulls into the docks when it's raining, it's really hard to fill out their receipt. The paper gets all wet and it's hard to write," Moore said.

But when it's sunny you can find Moore either walking the docks talking to the boaters or sitting on a park bench with a few children or an old friend watching the boat traffic on Lake Charlevoix pass.

Grant Moore's duties as dock master include helping incoming boats dock safely.

Here's where to rent boats

The lakes in Northern Michigan were made for boaters, it seems. Their beauty matches no other lakes in Michigan. As a visitor to our northern land, it's a must to rent a boat and go out and enjoy the water first hand.

Whether it's water skiing, fishing, canoeing, sailboating, or just rowing a boat out to the middle of the lake for relaxation, Charlevoix County supplies all different kinds of boating you might want to try.

On Walloon Lake, where bass and pike fishing is very good, you can rent a fishing boat for $15 to $25 a day, depending on the size of boat you want, at the Village Resort Store, 4127 Winsor Street. Howard and Kay Bills, owners of the store, have four fishing boats to rent out.

At Si's Marine Service, 4069 S. State, Walloon, they don't have enough boats for all the people who come in and want to rent them, an employee said. "Our boats are always rented out really fast. In the summer everyone wants to take a boat out for a day of enjoyment."

A fishing boat with motor costs $10 a day. A pontoon boat or speed boat can be rented for the day for $50. "There is no strict timing here because if it's a nice day, those people are going to have the boat out until it's dark," the employee said.

Master's Boats, Inc., 4037 S. State, Walloon, has the biggest selection of boats on Walloon Lake. Their 65-foot Starcraft boats range from $53 to $49 a day depending on the engine size you want. Pontoon boats unfurnished are $60 a day and $66 a day for a furnished boat. Their fishing boats with no engine are either $9 or $12 a day, again depending on the boat size. Engines for the fishing boats are available to rent also. Canoes are $6 a day. The sunfish sailboats rent for $20 a day.

Master's Boats' hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Half-day rates are available. The ski boats, sunfish and pontoon boats rent out the quickest, so during busy weekends and holidays, reservations are requested.

On Lake Charlevoix there are also many places to rent boats. One advantage of Lake Charlevoix boating is that you can sail on Lake Michigan if you want.

Charles and Annette Thompson, from Chicago, fish on Lake Charlevoix in their rented boat to "satisfy our primitive urge to hunt and enjoy the beautiful lake," Charles said.

Jim Bishop Charter Boats, on Thistle Road behind Finn Lumber Yard in Charlevoix, will take between four and six men out fishing and "almost guarantee that you'll catch a fish." A rate of $160 for a minimum of four people is required with additional charges of $35 each for the fifth and sixth man. The charter lasts five hours and starts at either 7:30 a.m. or 1:30 p.m.

Everything is furnished: the poles, bait, tackle and instruction is included in the rate. Right now the fishing is good for lake trout but in a couple of weeks the bass and salmon season will be just right. To make reservations or for additional information, call 547-9071.

Syfert's Marina, 645 Glenwood Beach, Boyne City, has a wide variety of boats for renting.

Pedal boats can be rented for $2.50 an hour or $12 a day. These are fun for kids and adults who want to enjoy the beauty of Lake Charlevoix by slowly cruising the water.

Pontoon boats rent for $40 a day or $240 a week, gas not included. A deposit is also required. Their Star Craft ski boats are available for $30 a half day, $50 a day, or $300 a week, gas and deposit not included.

Their fishing boats, including motors, are rented for $18 a day down to $8 for half days, depending on the size of engine. Canoes can be rented for $5 per hour, $25 per day or $100 per week. Any instruction you may need on how to operate any craft is easily accessible from any employee of Syfert's Marina.

The Swiss Hiway Canoe Livery, off M-66 between Mancelona and East Jordan, has canoes available for renting and traveling down the beautiful Jordan River. The 15 mile trip is more of a wilderness trip than canoeing on Lake Charlevoix or Walloon Lake. The river takes you through the Jordan Valley in about three or four hours. Some canoers like to bring a lunch or something to snack on and make a day or afternoon out of the venture. There are many nice places to pull ashore and watch the other canoers pass while eating lunch or enjoying a rest.

Canoes can be rented between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. for $12 a day. Paddles and oars are furnished. There is some fast water but mostly the ride is full of beautiful scenes of woody areas.

If you need any instructions on how to run a boat, any of these rental places would be happy to give you lessons and take you out on that first run to try it out.

Less experienced canoe enthusiasts might want to take a trip down the Bear River, between Walloon Lake and Petoskey. The river is beautiful and less challenging than the Jordan.

You can rent a canoe for $10 at Boyne Valley lodge on M-75 or at Bear River Canoe Livery on MacDougall Road in Petoskey.

Not your average yacht regatta

EASTPORT - If you like to do crazy things, Fun & Sun has found something that should interest you. It's the Eastport Yacht Club Regatta. The club is starting its third year and is expecting attendance to reach 500. "It's a spoof on all other yacht clubs," said Eileen Cartner, owner of Torch Lake Inn, headquarters for the yacht club. "The activities we planned for the Regatta are all spoof activities. We just like to be able to say we're in a yacht club and get other's reaction, but they don't know what we're like." Membership fees are only $1 for the year. Anyone can join, you don't have to own a boat or be a millionaire. In fact, they'd rather that you not. The Eastport Yacht Club Regatta will be July 28, beginning at 11:30 a.m. at the public access on the north end of Torch Lake in Eastport. The Regatta includes a pontoon challenge race, kids' inner-tube racing, a home-made boat race, a canoe tug-of-war, superstar competitions, and an awards dinner at Torch Lake Inn following the day's activities. The race actually ends up to be a craft race involving odd boats with goofy people on board to help steer them. "Once again, it's a spoof on yacht owners. We try to show what it would be like to own a yacht, but the yachts we have and race are odd crafts. We had some real strange crafts last year," Mrs. Cartner said. The winning craft last year was made of cardboard and covered with plastic. "Everyone in the crowd was betting on that boat to sink, so when it won it was a riot!" she said.

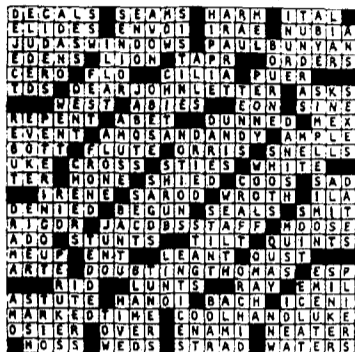

Another craft entered in last year's contest was a viking ship with everyone dressed like vikings. Another man spent months collecting plastic bottles for his ship he was building, Mrs. Cartner said, only to have it sink the day of the race as soon as he put it in the water. "It's things like this that are so funny," she said. "The whole day is a day of jokes. We get a crowd of young folks, middle aged and older folks. The older and younger crowd watch the homemade boat race and love it, but they get their chance of action during the superstar competition. About 200 people show up to either participate or just watch the day's activities. Mrs. Cartner said the club is getting bigger every year and that people really look forward to watching the activities. A half barrel of beer is available on the beach during the day. After the races and competition, an award banquet of hot dogs, baked beans and a pass dish is held at 7 p.m. in the Torch Lake Inn. The award money and booby prizes will be presented amidst laughs and jokes about the odd crafts, Mrs. Cartner said. "The whole day is such a fun time that after people have come for the first time, we see them back year after year again," she said. The Torch Lake Inn is located on the corner of U.S. 31 and M-88. For additional information contact Eileen Cartner at the Torch Lake Inn at 599-9495.

One of last year's entries in the Eastport Yacht Club Regatta home-made boat race is shown above. Inner-tubes and wood were used to lead the captain across the finish line.

Webble of Pontiac said. "We had four families out on this thing yesterday, boy what a party! Late in the afternoon we have just the grownups go out and we have our cocktail party on Lake Charlevoix. That's the life," he said.

Canoeers, pedal boaters and those out in rafts said they were boating for the fun of it and just waiting until they were older so they can go out in bigger boats.

A boater walking along a dock asked The Press not to write how nice the lakes are around here. "I just don't want a lot of downstate people to hear how nice it is up here because our lakes will start overflowing with boaters if they knew how beautiful and clean it is up here."

Well, the cat is out of the bag, many boaters already know how beautiful the lakes are and they keep coming back year after year for more.

Walloon Lake

Working to implement Project CLEAR

WALLOON LAKE - After sponsoring a study on local lake water quality, the Walloon Lake Association has set up a series of committees to implement some of the goals suggested by Project CLEAR, a team of scientists from the University of Michigan.

The committees are studying various aspects of the lake, such as water quality, wetlands and lakefront development. Project CLEAR, headquartered at the U of M's Pellston Biological Station, was commissioned by the association to do a report on the quality of the lake.

That report was made public over a year ago. Since then, "The board (of the lake association) has been very active," says Marion Secrest, a board member who is also part of the Project CLEAR team.

"The association can take a real strong role towards providing leadership and information," she said. Some of that leadership must be political, she said, because the lake boundaries include several townships in two counties, all having different zoning codes.

One township's tough zoning regulations, aimed at protecting the lake, don't do much good if its neighbors are taking a softer stance against pollution. But there is a solution, suggested in the report.

"We would like to see stronger lakefront zoning," Secrest said. The study suggests the establishment of a lakeshore planning district, within which a uniform zoning code could be established.

That code could include some of the report's other suggestions, such as stricter density rules and ordinances requiring a strip of vegetation, called a greenbelt, between new development and the water's edge.

The report says, "The overall water quality of Walloon Lake is very good," but cautioned that it must be protected against contamination from defective septic tank systems.

Septic systems can leak polluting materials, such as phosphorus, into the lake. Phosphorus acts as a fertilizer, spurring the growth of vegetation in the lake.

Too much vegetation in the water lowers its quality. The report says the area is rapidly becoming more populated, from 370 dwellings in 1957 to 695 in 1976.

The report quotes a Charlevoix County Planning Department estimate that the three Charlevoix County townships bordering the lake will have a 60 percent increase in population by 1990.

As population increases, so do the chances for septic tank seepage and pollution from other sources, such as fertilizer runoff. The U of M group discourages the use of fertilizer near the water, urging homeowners to foster more natural vegetation.

The report suggests creation of a septic system maintenance program, which would require periodic inspection of septic systems. It says a reasonable group rate could probably be obtained.

Another possibility is alternating drainfields. The drainfield is used to purify water after it goes through the septic tank but before it enters the lake.

An alternating system would have two drainfields but use just one at a time. "It gives the soil a chance to rejuvenate," Secrest said.

But she warned that such a system, although it sounds simple, will not become a reality in the near future. "Much more detailed study has to be done before any of it can be acted upon," she said of the report's lake management proposals.

In the meantime, the association is trying to strengthen its ability to protect the lake by improving its financial status. A Walloon Lake Trust has been founded, making it possible for those who want to support the association to make tax deductible gifts to it.

grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Foltz, of Mt. Pleasant for a month.

Barbara Anderson of Lansing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Anderson, is spending two weeks visiting her parents and vacationing. She will also visit her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Planck, their family and other friends.

The ladies of the Walloon Lake Community Church held a miscellaneous shower for Eva Penfold of Chandler Hill recently in the church basement. Miss Penfold became the bride of Dave Siegrist also of Chandler Hill on July 7 at the church with Pastor Ward officiating. About 30 ladies attended. Games were played and prizes were awarded. Eva received many beautiful gifts. Refreshments were then served.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim McDonald of Grand Rapids spent the 4th of July with her mother, Orpha Miller.

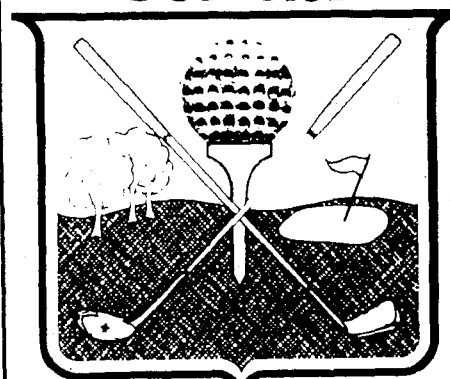

Andy Robinson, our local grocer, will star as Princess Grace at The Dilworth in Boyne City beginning July 18. The play "The Hostage" is under the direction of Gary Peltier former resident of Walloon area.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Yaich visited his sister, Kathryn Huard at her Mullet Lake cottage recently. While there they met and visited Mrs. Huard's daughter-in-law's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Zerdinand Stubenrauch of outside Frankfurt, Germany.

The grandparents were enjoying their grandchildren, Bradley, 15, who was born in Germany and meeting their other three who had never seen, Christiana, 9, Dennis, 10, and Michael, 3 years old. Mr. and Mrs. Michael (Mary Ann) Huard, nephew of Mr. Yaich, live in Brighton with their children.

Deadline is Aug. 12 for literary section

Sharpen up those pencils and oil those typewriters, budding literary giants. It's time to get ready for the Second Annual Charlevoix County Press Literary Supplement.

Charlevoix County was once the summer home of Ernest Hemingway, one of America's greatest writers. In honor of this, The Press sponsors a literary supplement at the end of every summer. The subject matter must pertain to Charlevoix County, "Hemingway Country."

This year's supplement will be published Thursday, August 30. The categories are: fiction, non-fiction essays, poetry and photography. Each contestant may submit only one item per category for the essay and fiction categories. Five entries per individual are permitted in the poetry category.

Those interested should contact The Press for contest guide-lines. The deadline for entries is Friday August 12, so send for those guidelines now. The Press is at 210 S. Lake Street, Box 216, Boyne City.

An impartial panel of three college professors will judge the literary entries. The three are: Tusco Heath of North Central Michigan College; Michael Steinberg from Michigan State University; and Lewis Carlson of Western Michigan University.

All three judges are familiar with Charlevoix County, and with good writing.

Heath has taught creative writing at NCMC for the past nine years. He has a master's degree from Montana State. Steinberg has taught English at MSU for the past five years and teaches a course called, "American Thought and Language." He received his doctorate degree from MSU in 1974.

Our third judge, Lewis Carlson, also received his doctorate from MSU. An avid fisherman who frequents the Boyne River, Carlson teaches American studies at Western Michigan. He was once voted the university's "Teacher of the Year" by students.

Photo judge Richard Jackson lives near Boyne City in Melrose Township. Jackson started the photography department at Cranbrook Academy of the Arts in Bloomfield Hills. He also taught photography at Oakland Community College.
