The weather is not the only thing that's mixed up this season. Kelly Fortune, 4, thought the weather was so much like spring last weekend that she made an Easter Rabbit snowman. Kelly is the daughter of Gloria Fortune and lives at 700 Wenonah Street in Boyne City. "Spring-like" temperatures ranged into the high 30s all week. Health Dept. cuts to hit young, old

BY DIANNE MURRAY

Cuts in services or personnel at District Health Department No. 3 are inevitable. Department Administrator Gerald Chase said.

Chase stated that a deficit of between $20,000 and $30,000 in this year's budget is largely due to lack of support from the counties it serves. Collectively, the four counties served by the health department—Charlevoix, Emmet, Antrim and Otsego—did not contribute enough money to fund the 1980 budget, Chase said.

The four-page list of services provided falls under four main categories: environmental health programs, personal health care, substance abuse services and health education programs.

Most of the services provided under personal health care are done in the home, Chase said. A health department nurse goes into a patient's home and gives personal therapy.

Another program offered, such as family planning, is scheduled at the East Jordan Health Center. The classes are scheduled based on appointments, a receptionist at the health department said, and after some people have called in, a class is scheduled. Chase said approximately 900 people a year take a family planning course.

Between 5,000 and 10,000 immunizations are given each year, Chase said. The East Jordan Health Center, the Presbyterian Church in Boyne City and the District Health Department office in Charlevoix schedule immunization programs once a month.

Substance abuse services—individual, and group drug or alcohol counseling, and court referral services such as drug awareness or personal insight classes—are available in Charlevoix County at the health department office during normal office hours.

WIC (Women, Infant and Children) is a supplemental nutrition program offered in each county. In Charlevoix County it is offered at the East Jordan Family Health Clinic. In this program mothers learn how to provide good nutritional meals for their family and find out if they are eligible for coupons redeemable for nutritional foods, Chase said.

Roughly 1,100 people take WIC programs, he said.

Special services for senior citizens such as health screening or high blood pressure monitoring are done at the three senior citizen centers in the county. Senior citizen centers are located in East Jordan, Boyne City and in the city of Charlevoix.

According to Marv Loding, Charlevoix County Commissioner and also a member of the Board of Health, the services provided by the District Health Department are "good and essential."

"It would be hard to say what, if any services should be cut back. If personnel are laid off now, what happens during their busy season?"

The health department also provides water well permits, samples water people may want checked and check on-site sewage. This time of the year, requests for these services slow down, Loding said, but when building and construction picks up again in the spring and summer, the health department needs all the 10 field workers it currently has employed.

Chase said the food licensing and inspection service also provided by the health department, is behind in inspections.

"We're supposed to inspect restaurants twice a year to see if they're up to code; we're behind in that and we'd be even farther behind if there's a reduction in our staff," Chase said.

"There's definitely a communication problem (between health and county officials). The counties are not identifying public health as a county organization. The community expects public health people to be there for many things, yet no one wants to pay for our service," Chase said.

In October and November Chase went before the four county commission boards and asked for an additional $10,000 to supplement the department's general fund.

The Antrim County Board of Commis-ioners approved a measure to supplement the department's budget. Otsego County commissioners said they did not have any additional money in their budget to appropriate funds to the health department.

Charlevoix County commissioners also vetoed supplementing the department's funds due to lack of funds in the county's budget, Chase said. Emmet County commissioners said they would okay additional funds only if the other county commissions did.

The Health Board was supposed to have a meeting regarding the health department's financial problems, but due to a lack of quorum, it was cancelled. About 30 citizens and health department employees turned out, but only three board members attended.

Chase said another meeting which some of the commissioners had to attend was scheduled at the same time as the Health Board's meeting.

The next scheduled meeting of the Board of Health is March 3 at 9:30 a.m. at the Petoskey branch office at 116 W. Mitchell St.

EJ clinic may expand; Official quits

BY JIM BAUMANN

EAST JORDAN - The East Jordan Family Health Center may be expanding this summer to make room for its second doctor, although one board member has resigned in protest of the expansion.

The health center board of directors has decided to apply for a $135,000 low interest government loan to finance the project.

Health Center Administrator Neal Colburn said the addition would include six rooms connected to the east side of the building.

The addition would include both medical offices and examining rooms.

Only one center board member, Karen Bennett, opposed the idea of the expansion. Bennett, in fact, resigned from the board at its February meeting in protest of the expansion project.

"I don't want to harm the health center," she said. "But I felt the goal of the health center was to become self-sustaining. If we keep taking government assistance we will never be able to (become self-sustaining)."

"We've got a nice little health center here. Let's not turn it into a Burns Clinic," Bennett said. "We'll lose our identity and our local control."

The center has received nearly $500,000 in federal funds in its first three years of operation. The building, worth about $150,000, was paid for by local contributions and loans, but most of the staff and equipment has been funded by the government.

Originally, the center received federal money as start-up costs for its first three years, a period which will end this year. But Bennett is afraid that acceptance of federal loans and federally paid health corps doctors will "commit us to a long-term government obligation."

"It looks to me like they (other board members and center officials) want a permanently government subsidized health center. The government tells us what positions we have to have and how much we have to pay them."

Colburn, the center administrator, said that the expansion project is not a new idea. "It was in the original plans that were drawn up in 1977," he said.

The plans were scaled down to correspond to the amount of money available at the time, Colburn explained. There was also a need "to get something built as soon as possible" in order to recruit a doctor, he said.

Most doctors' offices have three examining rooms per doctor, Colburn said, and this expansion is needed to bring the health center up to this standard size.

Dr. Mitch Carey and Physicians Assistant Ed Newington now have only two examining rooms each.

When Dr. Bruce Lindsay joins the health center staff this July, more space will be needed, Colburn said. "We can double up for awhile, but the space we have won't be adequate as we grow."

Colburn said that if the loan is approved by the Farmers Home Administration, he hopes the health center addition can be completed by the end of the summer. He is fairly confident that approval will be given.

East Jordan won't require remodeling bids after all

EAST JORDAN - The city council has changed its mind and decided to allow City Supt. Herman Rasch to complete the Community Center remodeling project without soliciting bids.

The council called a special meeting Friday to rescind its motion of last Tuesday (Feb. 19) which stated that only "work in progress" would be approved without bids. The motion was rescinded by a unanimous vote of all seven council members.

According to City Clerk Treasurer Fern Morris, Friday's special meeting was called because Rasch and council members were unsure exactly how to proceed after the Feb. 19 meeting.

The council defined that procedure, Clerk Morris said, by passing a resolution directing Rasch to "shop around, get the best deals and continue to inform the council on the progress of the project and all new suppliers." This resolution was passed by a 6-1 vote, with Al Joseph dissenting.

Some members of the council had criticized Rasch last week when they learned he had hired a firm K.D. Contractors, in which Rasch has a possible conflict of interest. Rasch has loaned money to the firm, his nephew is part owner, and his wife works for the company.

Most of the criticism stemmed from the fact that Rasch had not informed the council of his involvement with the firm before it was hired.

Now that the council members know of his involvement, however, they apparently feel Rasch should be allowed to finish the Community Center as he originally planned.

At the Feb. 19 meeting, when the council told Rasch he must get bids for the rest of the work on the center, the superintendent said he could no longer guarantee he would finish the project on time or under budget.

The Press contacted Rasch about the deadline and budget this week, and the superintendent said he was uncertain whether the interruption of work would affect the project.

He had originally projected a May 1 grand opening for the $70,000 remodeling project.

To unveil master plan

BOYNE CITY - The final Comprehensive Plan workshop with Johnson, Johnson and Roy will be held Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Commission Chambers of City Hall.

The third public meeting with the Ann Arbor planning firm preparing the city Master Plan will involve land use recommendations and policies and programs for land use, City Manager Tim Clifton said.

The comprehensive document involving future planning for Boyne City will be presented subsequent to any alterations which the city commission feels are needed. The public meeting is designed to allow residents to make requests or changes in the document and is open to the public.

Concerts, plays planned

Artrain visit will be more than exhibits

BOYNE CITY - Artrain's visit to Boyne City will be much more than just an art exhibit. A number of related events such as drama and musical performances will make the week of June 12 through 16 filled with festival-like activity.

Other events tentatively scheduled to coincide with the Artrain visit are the Boyne City High School drama club performing in an outdoor theatre set up near the Artrain, Antique Auto Club car displays, a concert by a local band and a magic show.

Artrain committee members will be the featured speakers at the next meeting of the Boyne City Perculator Club on Friday, March 7 at 8 a.m. in City Hall.

The exhibit will also include a children's exhibit and an art carnival, chairperson Gail Toffolo said.

Artrain is a six-car railroad train designed to bring museum arts to rural areas. The theme of the art exhibit is "The Changing Canvas" and will trace American paintings from post-war to abstract and new realism paintings.

A seven-member local steering committee has been raising funds by asking local businesses, service clubs and churches for donations to help finance the summer art exhibit. Although there is no rental to the city or admission to Artrain, expenses up to $2,000 are required for housing of the Artrain staff and for electrical costs for operating the train.

The Artrain committee is also looking for gallery guides. To volunteer as a guide or to make a donation call City Hall or write to Artrain c/o City Hall, 319 N. Lake Street, Boyne City.

CAN A FUNERAL DIRECTOR CONDUCT FUNERALS OF ANY FAITH?

The answer is "yes" for most experienced funeral directors. We have acquainted ourselves with most of the local religious customs and can advise you about them.

From the time we and the clergyman are called, we are in close touch with each other so as to pay strict heed to the family's wishes for any and all religious services. It is important for you to contact your own pastor or priest EARLY so he can help you -- and us. If you don't happen to be active in any church, we can suggest an appropriate clergy person.

During the time of the funeral planning and service, your religious faith can be mighty strong support and source of comfort to you. To include meaningful portions of your faith in the funeral service can render additional comfort to those attending the funeral.

If you have any questions about the funeral service and any religious practices, feel free to contact us by phone or stop in for consultation.

Officer honored for arson probe

BOYNE CITY - Charlevoix County Prosecutor Scott Beatty presented Boyne City Police Officer Randy Howard with the prosecutor's award Tuesday for his investigation in the F.O. Barden arson.

Officer Howard, who has been with the police department over two years, is the first officer to receive the award.

Howard's investigation of the Barden fire May 11 led to the arrest and prosecution of William Malcomson. Further, the investigation led to the recovery of property taken in nine other breaking and enterings.

Howard spent two months on the investigation. Malcomson was arrested in July in Milwaukee on criminal warrants issued from Boyne City and brought back for trial.

Malcomson is currently serving a term of three to 10 years in prison.

"I'm just awfully happy to be the recipient of the award and it's nice to share with the Boyne City Police Department. It was a team effort, really," said Howard, 27, of Boyne City. Howard also said state police and the Boyne City Fire Department assisted in the investigation.

Beatty said the annual award reflects "on the attention due to police officers," and that the work done by Howard was "exceptional and reflects well on Howard and the Boyne City Police Department."

East Jordan Ambulance Administrator Bernie Hammond shows off a new portable radio and antenna which the ambulance squad has just received. With the new system, the ambulance squad can take the portable radio into a victim's house or up to two miles away from the ambulance and still communicate with the ambulance or a hospital. The main radio in the ambulance has also been replaced. Altogether about $3,600 was spent on the radio equipment, $1,100 from city funds and $2,500 from donations and memorial funds.

Sheryl Kashmerick

Porch becomes an art studio

BY HAZEL COLBURN

EAST JORDAN - What was once a glassed-in porch has become artist Sheryl Kashmerick's Morning Star Studio where she displays her work in pottery and stained glass.

Kashmerick, who opened her studio at 119 South Maple last fall, is one of the most recent artists to make the move north.

"East Jordan is a lovely town in which to raise my family and the communication with nature tends to work well for craftspeople," she says.

She has studied art at the University of Michigan, Center for Creative Studies and Wayne State University and has exhibited her paintings at the Midland Center for the Arts, the Lansing Art Guild, Ann Arbor Summer Show and the Ann Arbor Art Association. She is now a member of Artists North.

Since moving to East Jordan she has changed her focus from large surrealist paintings, to functional pottery such as mugs, bowls, and ashtrays, and also stained glass, ranging from small free-hanging pieces to lamps and full-sized windows. Most stained glass is done by special order.

"I'm small. I'm not like dealing with a whole store," she says. "The buyer can have personal contact."

She works directly with the buyers on designs and colors which will best suit them.

Many of her pieces include butterflies, which she finds to be pleasurable, comfortable images.

Most of her pottery is glazed blue and white or green and cream, and is reasonably priced.

"I have no big overhead since I am operating out of my own home," she says. "I am attempting to keep my prices down."

By next fall she hopes to expand her studio. She will also begin teaching art classes for both children and adults, starting this spring with oil painting classes for Boyne City Community Education.

People are encouraged to drop by Morning Star Studio to see her work. Although there are no set hours, she is usually in the studio Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays throughout the year and will be open Saturdays and Sundays from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the summer.

Study will determine water rate increase

BOYNE CITY - City water and sewage users will receive a rate increase, but not without a study to determine how much.

City Manager Tim Clifton said last week the water/sewer fund is $100,000 over its budget. "That figure is intended to alarm you intentionally," Clifton told city commissioners.

The city commission okayed a $5,000 engineering and cost study which will look into past costs to operate the water/sewer system and project costs over the next five years. The study would then recommend a rate schedule and Clifton said the increase won't be as large if a study wasn't done.

Clifton said the rate increase would possibly go into effect either late spring or early summer. The increase would be phased in gradually, he said. The city's water/sewer system serves 1,100 customers.

Clifton recommended the utility study in December but withdrew the request after receiving negative comments from city commissioners. This time when he brought the study before the commissioners for approval, it was okayed with Thelma Behling casting a lone "no" vote.

Behling thought the money should be spent to help the city water/sewer fund and not to initiate a study.

"The public is not going to feel one bit better after a $5,000 study is done when they get the rate increase anyway," she said.

Clifton said the study will pay for itself by finding other ways to financially support the city's water/sewer operation.

Alternative forms of financing mentioned were separate billing for commercial and industrial businesses and charging for private fire-sprinkler protection, Clifton said.

"There's a need for a rate increase, but it is important that we have an engineering and financial study done to give a foundation in terms of financing, engineering and a basis for the rate increase," Clifton said.

There has not been a city water and sewer increase since 1977 and for the past three years the water/sewer fund has been subsidized from the general fund.

City Attorney Harvey Varnum told commissioners they are in violation of the city charter because the utility is supposed to pay its own way. The water and sewer fund is also required to pay for any capital improvements or repairs to the water/sewer system. When capital improvements were made last year, they were paid by taxpayers' money through the general fund, Clifton said.

Attorney to run for judgeship

Harold A. Johnson, Jr., 36, a Cheboygan attorney, has announced his intention to be a candidate for the newly created circuit judgeship which includes Charlevoix, Cheboygan and Emmet Counties.

Emmet and Charlevoix County District Judge David Fershee earlier announced his candidacy for circuit judge.

Johnson moved to Cheboygan in 1969 from Grosse Pointe. He attended college at Xavier University, Cincinnati, Ohio; and law school at the University of Detroit. He has been a practicing attorney for 11 years.

In 1976, Johnson was appointed as an Assistant United States Attorney by the then United States Attorney General, Edward H. Levi. In that position he served as the attorney in charge of the Flint and Bay City offices of the United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Michigan. The office served a total of 25 counties in the State of Michigan. The duties and responsibilities of this office included the representation of the United States government in all matters before the federal and state courts. Such matters included both criminal and civil trials.

In September, 1978, he returned to Cheboygan to continue practice with his former partner Peter Patrick.

Prior to leaving Cheboygan, Johnson was city attorney for the City of Cheboygan, between the years 1970 through 1974. He is a member of the Michigan Bar and a member of the Negligence Law, Probate and Trust Law, and the Real Property Sections of the Bar. He resides in Aloha.

Foreign exchange student will miss new friends, peanut butter

BOYNE CITY - Theresa Herrera, a foreign exchange student from El Salvador, will certainly miss her new-found family and friends when she returns to her hometown.

But she'll also miss peanut butter. "I will miss my new family up here and my new friends I met through school," the shy 18-year-old said.

What else will she miss? "I will miss peanut butter. I love the peanut butter here," she said in an interview the day before she left for home last week.

Theresa has been staying with the Harold Leach family at Walloon Lake for the past two and a half months. She came to northern Michigan through the International Fellowship exchange program during her summer vacation from school.

Theresa attends an all-girl Catholic school in El Salvador. She will graduate in October and plans on attending college and studying psychology.

She found several things about the United States different from her hometown, she said.

School is different here because there are co-ed classes, the schools are much larger and the class schedule is quite different.

In El Salvador Theresa goes to school from 1 to 6 p.m., but she likes the school hours here because the time seems to pass quicker, she said.

"Here people live very much faster. You eat faster, talk faster, do things faster," Theresa said in her broken, but precise English. "The people in my country do not hurry as much."

The Christmas and New Year's Eve

holidays are celebrated in a much quieter fashion here than her hometown, however.

"In my country we have Christmas tree, Santa Claus and gifts like you do here, but we also have dancing and drinking in the streets at midnight. Firecrackers, too!" she added.

But she did enjoy the holidays—and especially the cookies—at the Leach home.

Theresa learned a lot about American culture from the Leach family and they learned from her.

"Mr. Leach at dinner time would say some things in Spanish like 'Please pass the butter,'" Theresa said.

Theresa learned to cross-country ski while she was here. It was the first time she'd seen snow and she didn't necessarily like the cold weather.

She tried ice skating—with an accent on "tried." When asked how she did, Theresa just laughed and shook her head. Weak ankles, I suppose.

Theresa also visited Grand Rapids, Detroit, Lansing, Sault Ste. Marie and Tahquamenon Falls. "I really liked the capital," she said. "It is big."

Theresa left Feb. 14 to return to her family. She has three brothers, but no sisters. "But now I have three sisters here," Theresa said. "I am sad to leave my new family, but I will take memories."

Amidst all the souvenirs Theresa packed away in her suitcase is the one thing she cherished most about her trip to the United States—a bucket full of peanut butter. "They don't make it with the same taste in my country," she said.

First National's tv, cash prize winners

BOYNE CITY - Mrs. Olive Bernier of Boyne City was the winner of the 19 inch color television given away by Boyne City's First National Bank during its opening celebrations last week.

Mrs. Bernier guessed closest to the amount of money in the plexiglas model of the new bank. She guessed $3,972 and the correct amount was $3,967.88, bank manager Steve Woodcock said.

The bank also gave away $100 daily in random drawings. The $100 winners were Ralph Metzger of Boyne Falls, Ruth Schafer of Boyne City and Jay Alton, also of Boyne City.

The grand opening festivities began with a ribbon cutting ceremony Wednesday at 9 a.m. The ribbon was made of 50 $2 bills which were given away to the bank's first customers.

Present for the opening ceremony were John Clark, director; Forest Evashevsk, director; Raymond T. Conley, president; John Linck, senior vice-president; Richard Thomas, vice-president and cashier; Gerald Gougeon of Thompson-Pheasant, general contractor; and Ray McCalpin of Barker McCalpin Associates.

Drug use goes down; Let's keep working at it

The Press examined the local drug scene in a series of articles last week and, despite the subject matter, not all the news is discouraging.

Nearly all of the people we talked with indicated that drug use among young people, while it is certainly still a problem, appears to be on the decrease.

With all the money our society pumps into social service agencies, it is satisfying to find that at least in some cases the desired effect is being accomplished. Too often, it seems like we throw money at social problems with no measurable long-term results.

Of course it is hard to tell whether a decrease in drug use is a result of the work of schools and social agencies, or whether it is simply a result of changing social attitudes.

Our reporters talked to students, teachers, substance abuse counselors, parents, principals, police and others. A prevailing theme was that communication has been the key to preventing drug abuse.

If kids openly communicate with their parents, their peers and others they come in contact with, there is a much better chance of averting problems. As one counselor said, "Scare tactics just haven't worked as a deterrent."

And if parents make an effort to communicate better with young people they will notice the "signs" which may indicate drug use:

Have their friends changed? Are they secretive about their activities? Do they have a negative attitude? Do they seem to have a lower motivation? Are there truancy problems? Are grades and school involvement dropping? Do they seem to have extra money, or need extra money more often? Is behavior erratic? Are there physical symptoms, changes in appearance.

Our stories mentioned some examples of parent groups, teen groups, school programs and other means of increasing knowledge—and therefore communication—about drugs and young people's problems in general.

These groups are excellent and we hope they can be expanded. If young people feel that others truly care about them, and their problems, chances are they will try to solve them in a constructive manner rather than trying to forget their problems by drinking or taking other drugs.

One official, who sees firsthand the problems drugs can cause mourned the fact that drug use is "a sad commentary on our passive society. You don't have to involve yourself in activities. Just sit back and feel high."

The experts point out we cannot discount the fact that alcohol, despite its legality, is a powerful drug—and in terms of numbers of people affected, it is undoubtedly the most harmful drug of all.

Another man, a school official, told us he thinks "Values are better caught than taught." In other words, the example set by adults is critical. We can't drink beer and get bombed night after night and expect our young people to avoid "getting high" in one manner or another.

Letters to the editor

Is The Press trying to stir things up in East Jordan?

Dear Editor,

It was interesting for me to read about a certain "news event" in two different papers. I refer to articles written about our city superintendent and our city council.

Some comedians milk a gag for all it is worth and then some. Have you considered that it might not have been George Romney's remark about brainwashing so much that ended his career as a presidential contender. Could it have been that the news media kept the statement alive and literally brainwashed the public with their continual milking of the remark?

Could it be that one of the newspapers is trying to keep this issue alive and stirred up?

Most people realize that newsmen are in the business of selling papers and that if they can get a community all stirred up they sell more papers and maybe even come out looking like a hero or a savior.

Our city housing commission has had some interesting experience with bids and contractors in the past. . . . Do you remember the 10 or so houses that were built when Lake View Manor was built? The lowest responsible bidder was paid but somehow the sub-contractors were not paid. Some small businessmen went bankrupt from that one. Also the houses were unoccupied for a year or two because we didn't have a clear title to them even though we had paid for them.

Most of us have said at one time or another, "If you want something done right do it yourself."

All outside work reported by this newspaper that our city superintendent has done, has been done on public buildings within the city for the benefit of the citizens of the city. I for one would like to see how much the city has spent and how much the city has saved on the community building. I think that the original bids of other contractors should be printed also.

It is easy to complain, easy to criticize, easy to throw a monkey wrench into someone's dreams or someone's life.

Some things may have been done which we wish would have been handled a little differently but they are a mole hill compared to the mountain that has been made of it. The whole thing might be titled much ado about nothing.

Smeltania remembered

The increasing number of fish shanties on Lake Charlevoix reminds me of the $90 I earned from Life Magazine for helping their photographer develop a story on Smeltania.

I was just a kid when Life's Hart Preston and I did the story. It was during the big depression of the 1930's and that $90 check loomed as big as the Star Spangled Banner.

The going price was about a cent per fish. With everyone but the mayor out of work we needed the Tannery and Smeltania to keep food on the table.

If memory serves there were 10 to 15 times more shanties on the lake than now—forming an ice city called "Smeltania." The men weren't out there fishing for fun, they were working. Those who didn't care for fishing earned or lost a few dollars playing poker in the poolroom.

Although Smeltania meant work, it did have its lighter moments.

Like the time the late Harry Parker, of Parker Motor Freight, drove his pickup truck out to the shanties. We were late getting the Boyne Citizen out that night and were surprised to see Harry come in the door soaking wet. "My car went through the ice," he said. "It scared the hell out of me."

Mrs. Guy Baker, the publisher's wife, who had known the famous trucker since the day he was born, gave him a serious look. "I doubt that, Harry," she said.

And the time we kids went out to our shanty to do some fishing on a Saturday afternoon. The door was locked. Smoke was coming out of the chimney. Our friend Frank (F.D.) Thompson was inside refusing to open the door. So we slid a piece of wood over the chimney. Within minutes he came bursting out the side ripping a large hole in the tarpaper. I had never seen such coughing and hacking.

In the spring the smelt ran up the Boyne and Jordan Rivers by the thousands. Both cities made a big deal of the smelt runs. People came from all over the north for nightly dipping.

One Saturday night a few hundred people in East Jordan were highly put out because the fish weren't running there at all. So the crowd left the river, going downtown to eat and drink and grumble.

Three or four wisecracks had put down just enough beer to pull a funny. They came over to Boyne City where smelt were running. Here they picked up a bushel of smelt, took them to East Jordan and reported they had just dipped them from the Jordan River.

Hundreds rushed to the banks, dipping amid yells and curses. There wasn't a fish in the river.

After I had helped Life Magazine do its story on Boyne's smelt fishing, Collier's Magazine editor Jim Bishop, now a nationally syndicated columnist, sent their top reporter. He was followed by Look Magazine writers. The hurrah gave Boyne's smelt activities nation-wide attention.

In the 45 years or so that have followed Boyne's money-producing Smeltania our economic situation has come full circle. I just paid my inflation ridden property taxes. That $90 looks as big today as it did when I was a thunder struck kid waving a million dollar check around for all to see.

Keep up the good work

Editor,

I would like to be one of many people in the community to welcome your newest reporter, Karen Bennett.

I have read her column (on the neighbor's page) and really enjoyed it. I know many of the people in or around the area enjoy seeing new faces and to hear of different things going on around here.

I hope Karen will enjoy writing for your paper and I want to say "Keep up the good work!"

It's letter writing week, so...

Editor,

In one of your recent newspapers you encouraged "letters to the editor" and since Feb. 24-March 1 is National Letter Writing Week, I couldn't find a more appropriate time for this letter.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank your fine paper for providing the Boyne City Post Office with coverage on all our public interest news. Your cooperation is greatly appreciated.

I keep well informed on all local news by reading The Charlevoix County Press. Keep up the good work.

Seeing red? It's tax time again

Taxes. Finding enough money to pay for them is hard enough, but trying to figure out your property tax bill is even worse. Sometimes I'm thankful I rent and only have to worry about such things as paying the monthly rent on time and the cost of the utility bills.

Many taxpayers are confused by the tax statement they received just in time to put under their Christmas tree. (A nice gift from the local government.) But think of what the township and city and county treasurers are going through with irate taxpayers calling them constantly with questions.

Trying to get through to the county Equalization Department this time of year is like trying to see the Iranian hostages. I called Joan Blanchard, the director, to try to get some quotes from her for this column, and all I got was a busy signal. After finally getting through to her office, she was too swamped with work to talk—understandable though.

The 1980 assessments were recently mailed out to Boyne City residents and those in surrounding townships and cities should receive theirs soon. An assessment is based on the current market value—or what your property, home or building is worth on the real estate market today.

But, taxpayers should note that assessment is not taxes. Taxes are based on county, city (or township) and school millage rates. Taxes go up because the budgets of these departments go up.

Realtors should be happy to hear that property and residential assessments are going up because the price of homes and lots are rising. Real estate sales have slowed down, due to high mortgage rates, but the value of that property or home is still increasing.

Boards of review are being scheduled in each city and township starting next week and from just listening to a few complaints people have I can tell the officers at these review boards are going to be kept busy.

People being taxed for a garage that isn't there or reassessed incorrectly for any variety of reasons is not uncommon.

The review officers will hear tales of people's taxes going up fifty percent when really the home they built on a lakefront three years ago is just now being assessed. It's happened before that the assessors have missed the fact that a home was built until a few years later. And when it's caught, obviously that person's taxes go up and he questions why.

Everyone from city commissioners to the township treasurers themselves has the option to go to a review board meeting. It will be a "Who's Who of Charlevoix County" event.

DID YOU KNOW... The sight you would have seen in 1911? The first two blocks of Main Street were paved and what a relief that was to the men who hauled lumber. Before the street was paved, it took four horses, in the spring and fall rainy seasons, to pull a load of lumber from Mill A, better known as the little mill, which stood south of what is now the Northwestern State Bank, to the docks where the East Jordan Iron Works office now stands. Often the wheels would get stuck hub deep in the mud.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT REVENUE BONDS BY THE COUNTY OF CHARLEVOIX, MICHIGAN, AND RIGHTS OF REFERENDUM THEREON

TO ALL ELECTORS OF THE COUNTY OF CHARLEVOIX:

TAKE NOTICE that the County of Charlevoix intends to issue industrial development revenue bonds in the principal amount of not to exceed One Million Dollars ($1,000,000), extending for not more than forty (40) years and bearing interest at not more than ten percent (10%) per annum, or such higher rate as may be permitted by law, for the purpose of financing all or part of the cost of acquiring and installing air pollution control equipment (including buildings, structures, facilities, equipment and their appurtenances together with to the extent necessary lands or interests in lands therefor) as defined in Act No. 62, Public Acts of Michigan, 1963, as amended, and included as part of the aforesaid air pollution control equipment all portions of cement manufacturing facilities which qualify as air pollution control facilities under Section 103(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, in or near, and for use in connection with the Charlevoix Plant of Medusa Corporation (including costs incidental to the issuance of said bonds). The air pollution control equipment referred to herein is the same equipment referred to in a notice of intention published in this newspaper on December 21, 1977; however, the bonds, in principal amount not to exceed $1,000,000, referred to herein (the "Additional Bonds") are in addition to the bonds in principal amount not to exceed $10,000,000 (the "Original Bonds") referred to in such earlier publication, which Additional Bonds are necessary to pay the increased cost of such equipment. Said air pollution control equipment is to be sold under an installment sales contract or contracts to Medusa Corporation.

Said Additional Bonds are to be issued in accordance with the provisions of Act No. 62, Public Acts of Michigan, 1963, as amended (The Industrial Development Revenue Bond Act of 1963). Said Bonds may be issued by the County in one or more series.

SOURCE OF PAYMENT

Said Additional Bonds will be issued in accordance with the provisions of Act No. 62, Public Acts of Michigan, 1963, as amended. Said Additional Bonds and the interest thereon will not be a general obligation of the County of Charlevoix and will in no event be payable from any tax revenues or other general funds of the County of Charlevoix, but will be payable solely and only from revenues derived from payments to be received as rental installments from Medusa Corporation.

RIGHT OF REFERENDUM

This notice is given to and for the benefit of the electors of the County of Charlevoix, in order to inform them that said Additional Bonds will be issued without submitting the question of their issuance to the electors of the County, unless within forty-five (45) days from the publication of this notice, a petition signed by not less than five percent (5%) of the registered electors of the County, requesting a referendum upon the question of the issuance of said Additional Bonds, is filed with the County Clerk of the County of Charlevoix, in which event the Additional Bonds in principal amount of up to One Million Dollars ($1,000,000) will not be issued unless and until approved by a majority of the electors of the County voting thereon at a general or special election. The right of referendum described in the notice of intention published with respect to the Original Bonds has expired.

THIS NOTICE is given by order of the Board of Commissioners of the County of Charlevoix, Michigan, pursuant to the requirements of Section 12 of Act No. 62, Public Acts of Michigan, 1963, as amended. Further information with respect to the Project to be financed, the Additional Bonds to be issued and the right of referendum may be obtained from the undersigned.

County Clerk

This notice of intention is a republication of a similar notice of intention published in this newspaper on February 14, 1980. The referendum period referred to in the prior publication and in this Notice of Intention shall run from the date of publication of this Notice of Intention.

Winter sports parks, cheap family fun

BY DIANNE MURRAY

Need a place to bring the kids for an afternoon of sledding, figure skating, downhill skiing or hockey—plus a concession stand to feed them and keep them warm? How about a choice of three area parks for full winter recreation?

The Winter Sports Park in Petoskey, Mt. McSauba in Charlevoix and the Kiwanis Park in Harbor Springs offer all sorts of winter fun for children—and grown-ups too. Each of the parks is an runs down the side of the hill.

Daily ski rates for adults are $4 during the day and $3 at night; for students day rates are $2.50 and $2 at night; and for children nine and under, the rates are $2 during the day and $1.75 at night. Season rates are available.

Ski lessons are available for $2 for 45 minutes. Mt. McSauba's hours are Monday, Wednesday and Thursday, 6 to 10 p.m.; Saturday, 10:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and Sunday from 1 to 6 p.m.

Three and a half miles of cross country ski trails stretch out over the 55 acres of city owned property. The trails are free and start at the Elementary School, wind around the golf course and end at Mt. McSauba.

Ike Boss, city recreation director, said many new things, including an additional seven miles of cross country ski trails are in the planning stages.

Next year, Boss said he hopes to have a hockey rink added to the city park. Other plans include an ice skating rink and a sledding hill. The additions are available through state grants, Boss said.

Mt. McSauba is located off U.S. 31. Turn west on Mercer Road, go four blocks and turn left on Pleasant Road.

PETOSKEY WINTER SPORTS PARK has a ski hill, a sledding hill, an ice skating and hockey rink and a large warming house—all for use at no charge.

During a good weekend day, about 300 people can be seen enjoying the recreation activities offered.

The hockey rink was refurbished this season by a local service club and is in excellent condition, hockey players said. A hockey league, the Little Traverse Bays, composed of 22 children from Petoskey and Harbor Springs practices and plays their games at the park rink. To join, inquire at the Petoskey Recreation Department.

The ski hill, which is smaller than the hill at Mt. McSauba, did not open this year due to lack of snow. The hill is fed by one tow rope and has one run.

Park Manager Steve Frye said the small size of the hill and the fact that it is free, generates a lot of parents to bring their children to the park to learn to ski.

"The consumer gets charged for just about everything in the world nowadays and it's nice to offer something for free," Frye said. "The kids don't stay long on the ski hills. They learn to ski here and then go on to bigger and better ski hills around the area."

The children have been using the ski hill to sled and bump-jump, since there's no skiing at the park this year. The sledding hill is a little steeper than the ski hill, although the ski hill is longer in length.

The Petoskey Winter Sports Park is open weekdays from 3:30 to 9:30 p.m. and on weekends from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Piped in music can be heard from the ski hill to the ice and hockey rink and inside the large warming house.

The park, which has been around since the early 1900s, is located on Winter Park Lane. Take U.S. 131 to Petoskey, past the Perry Davis Hotel, turn right on Winter Park Lane and it dead ends into the park.

KIWANIS PARK in Harbor Springs has cross-country skiing, downhill skiing and a sled run.

The 20-acre park was formerly the Harbor Springs city dump.

One tope tow feeds the hill, which is small and made for beginners, said Ed Crowle, one member of the Kiwanis Club who helped organize the planning for the park.

The sledding hill is "very challenging," he said, but sledders have to walk up to the top of the hill. "It's sort of discouraging because the skiers have a rope tow to the top of the hill and on the other side of the fence the sledders have to walk."

Day passes for the ski hill are $3 for a tow ticket and $2 for equipment rental. Season tickets are $15 for both tow ticket and equipment rental, but the price was reduced to $13 this year because of a shorter season due to lack of snow, Crowle said.

The park is open Monday and Thursday from 6 to 9 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m.

The Community Education Department offers six ski lessons for $8. Use of the cross country ski trail is free.

The park was opened in 1973 and is a Kiwanis Club project. It is located at the end of Arbor Street at the north end of Harbor Springs.

AVALANCHE MOUNTAIN PRESERVE, Boyne City's old Barn Mountain, is leased to the city by the Nature Conservancy.

The 300 acre property has 10 kilometers of cross country ski trails and children sled down the face of the mountain.

In 1977 Boyne USA owner Everett Kircher gave the property to the Nature Conservancy, an ecology-oriented private organization, which in turn offered the land to the city.

Included in the contract was a provision stating that the city could not operate any ski lift or tow ropes.

Avalanche is presently used as a passive recreation area. In the summer it is used for hiking and jogging. In the winter the cross country ski trails are used and kids sled there.

The Parks and Recreation Commission is currently looking into a 10-year management plan for Avalanche.

The biggest kids of them all turned out to be the adults who chaperoned Kate Left's third grade class winter picnic at Avalanche Mountain Wednesday. Twenty-six members of the Boyne City Elementary class enjoyed a lunch of roasted hot dogs over a bonfire, potato chips and s'mores followed by an afternoon of sledding down the face of the mountain.

Phil Weeter, 15, and Ed Wager, 14, both from Petoskey practice their shots at the hockey rink at Petoskey Winter Sports Park. The park has a separate rink for figure ice skating, a sledding hill and also a downhill skiing hill.

Tari Schlappi, 10, of Petoskey, was at the Petoskey Winter Sports Park Saturday to celebrate a girlfriend's birthday party. Tari comes to the park often to practice her skating and "perfect my twirl," she said.

ideal place to drop the youngsters for an afternoon of playing while you do some shopping. And there's plenty to keep them busy.

Mt. McSAUBA bought brand new equipment this year for the ski hills and warming house. The ski hill, which is quite impressive, attracts a large number of children between the ages of five and 15.

Mothers and fathers are also on hand practicing and teaching their child to ski. A child's rope tow goes half-way up the hill—ideal for children learning to ski.

Two rope tows feed the larger hill which has three separate runs. Mt. McSauba, like any other ski resort, has been hurt by the lack of snow this season and there are a few brown spots at the top of the hill.

From the top of the 168 ft. high hill the view of Lake Michigan, Lake Charlevoix, and North and South Fox Islands is beautiful.

Trails run down the front face on the hill, the back of the hill and a narrow trail

Buys old Homestead Ryan to open bar near Boyne City

BOYNE CITY - Folksinger Sean Ryan, probably Northern Michigan's best and best known entertainer, has purchased the former Homestead Inn near Boyne City.

Ryan and his partner Nolan Roe closed the deal last week and this week are starting a major remodeling and addition project at the bar. They hope to open it around April 15 with a new name—Ryan's Public House. The bar is located on Old State Road, just off highway M-75 east of Boyne City.

The former owner was Jerry Tallberg. Ryan has become a Northern Michigan favorite playing at Duffy's Country Inn near Harbor Springs for the past five years.

Ryan, who was born in Ireland, said he and his partner are going to restore the bar to look more like an old farmhouse, which is what it was before it became a bar.

"It's going to be like an old Irish pub," Ryan said. "We're going to put the windows back in so it looks like a farmhouse again. We'll fix up the front porch so people can have drinks out there in the summer, and we're going to plant a lot of shrubs and flowers. It's going to be a very nice looking place when we're done."

The Irish pub motif, besides being a tie to Ryan's background, also has ties to the history of the Boyne area.

Ryan notes that the Boyne River was named after a river of the same name in Ireland, because early settlers were Irish. "I don't think a lot of people know that," Ryan said, "and maybe we can help revive some of the other culture of the area, too." He hopes to include some antiques and other memorabilia from Boyne City's logging, railroad and tannery industries.

Ryan's Public House, although it is being remodeled, "won't be anything too fancy" in decor or in its menu offerings, Ryan said. "But it will be nice. It'll be a place you won't be ashamed to bring your mother to."

The menu will consist of mostly sandwiches and snacks. "We're going to emphasize the entertainment and the drinks," Ryan said. "It'll be a nice place to go, but it won't cost you $50 or $60 a couple to spend the evening."

The entertainment, of course, will mainly be Sean Ryan. On his opening weekend, however, he hopes to bring in some folksingers from downstate so Ryan can spend some time meeting people.

He is excited about being his own boss for the first time. "It's a great feeling," he laughs. "...but I'm nervous as hell. I've worked for other people for eight years, and now it's time to try it on my own."

"Boyne City is going to be home. It's time to sink down some roots," he said.

Ryan lives in a farmhouse on Camp Daggett Road north of Horton Bay.

His partner Nolan Roe, is the former owner of the Outfitter, two sporting goods and casual shops in Petoskey and Harbor Springs. Roe, who lives on Oden Island in Crooked Lake, is the former head of corporate marketing research for Sears and Roebuck in Chicago. He will be helping out on the business end of the new bar, as well as tending bar.

Sean Ryan and his partner Nolan Roe recently purchased the former Homestead Inn near Boyne City. They are remodeling the bar and hope to open the new bar around April 15 under the name of Ryan's Public House.

Price Or Value?

Obviously, the quickest way to judge whether or not a property's asking price is reasonable is to compare it with similar property around it. Price, however, is not the only financial consideration; it is not even the most important one. If property is "cheap" there must be a reason. Bargain hunters seldom do well in real estate because they dwell too much on price and not enough on value. They make purchases they should avoid because they can't resist a bargain.

The value of property is determined by taking into consideration many factors, such as: construction, age, zoning, physical condition, prices of comparable properties, future income potential (for investment property) and, the most important element of all, location. Only after value is determined can you make an intelligent judgment as to the fairness of the price. In summary, don't let the purchase price be the overriding consideration. Future value is what you're looking for, because that will determine the sale price and how much money you will make in the future.

Japanese to film Mushroom Festival

BOYNE CITY - An award-winning television documentary film crew will be coming all the way from Japan to cover the 1980 National Mushroom Hunting Championship in Boyne City May 10 and 11.

"The World Around Us" is the name of the 21-year-old travel series produced, directed, written and narrated by Kaoru Rose Kanetaka, who will lead a four member team on the Boyne City expedition.

Kanetaka originated the program in 1959, and since then has seen it win the first Japanese Emmy awarded by the Radio and Television Critics Association. She has also been awarded citations for program excellence by many foreign governments, including the United States.

The Boyne City Chamber of Commerce received notice of the visit last week from sponsoring United States Travel Service. The team will film Boyne City's 21st annual scramble for morel mushrooms, an event which usually attracts more than 300 entrants.

After a 90-minute preliminary hunt in a pre-designated area, 10 finalists are chosen in both resident and non-resident categories to compete for cash prizes.

Kanetaka's documentary on the Mushroom Festival will be aired throughout Japan for its estimated viewing audience of over 13 million people.

Ski competition at Nub's Nob

HARBOR SPRINGS - Nub's Nob will host a regional championship freestyle competition this weekend.

Competitors will be representing four states. They will be competing for the right to enter the competition in the Mid-West Championships the following week at Cable, Wis., where they will in turn be trying to qualify for national competition.

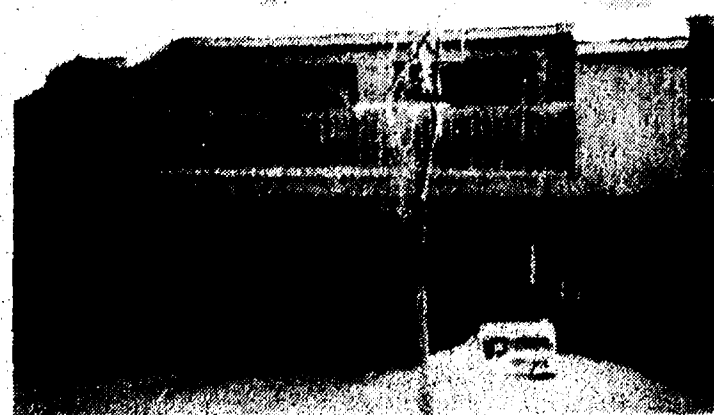

"The growth of freestyle skiing is just beginning in the Michigan area, as skiers realize there can be more to skiing than just going up and down hills," Crinnion said. "It can be as graceful as the ballet or as challenging as the moguls."

Anyone interested in joining a freestyle club can contact John Crinnion at this weekend's competition or call him at 347-2659.

Crinnion's son Jim, a sophomore at Charlevoix High School, took first place in both the mogul and aerial competition and a second place in the ballet in freestyle competition at Pine Knob in Oakland County last weekend. The performance gave him a first place in the overall competition for his age group.

District opener: EJ-Charlevoix

East Jordan and Charlevoix, the two top-rated contenders for district basketball honors, will meet each other in the first round of the tournament. They will face each other at 7 p.m. Tuesday at East Jordan.

East Jordan's Red Devils enter the Class C meet on the wings of their Ski Valley Conference championship, the first league title they have won since 1952.

Charlevoix won the district tourney last year, but is bringing few of the same players back. The team is very young—half the roster is made up of sophomores.

The Rayders split with East Jordan this year, losing their season opener but winning in a recent rematch.

As tournament host, East Jordan has the home court advantage as well as the best won-lost record (17-3) among the five competing teams. Charlevoix, however, competes in the tougher Michigan-Huron Shores Conference, and that exposure to teams from bigger schools is bound to help in the tournament.

Rogers City and Onaway will do battle Thursday, March 6 at 7 p.m. in the second round of tourney play. The teams split their two previous contests, Onaway taking a mid-season 67-59 victory and Rogers City making a comeback, winning 58-56.

Rogers City, with nine of its 15 players under six feet tall, wound up in the basement in the Michigan-Huron Shores Conference with an overall record of 4-13.

Independent Onaway ended its season with five wins and 10 losses. Among the losses were an 85-65 thumping at the hands of Boyne City and a 58-57 speaker pulled off by Charlevoix.

Rogers City split with Boyne City, winning the first contest but losing the second. Charlevoix beat Rogers City both times out.

Boyne City gets its chance to play giant-killer in the second game Thursday, meeting the winner of the East Jordan-Charlevoix contest. Starting time is 8:30 p.m.

The Ramblers finished their season with a disappointing record of four wins and 12 losses. Boyne City has a young ball club, with only four seniors on the squad.

Their inexperience has shown up on the court in some inconsistent play, but the cagers have come respectably close against more polished teams, losing to league-leading Gaylord by 10 points and Petoskey by only five.

The winner of the Onaway-Rogers City game will be matched with the winner of Boyne City's contest in the tournament championship Saturday, March 8, at 7:30 p.m.

Press prints programs

The Charlevoix County Press is printing the official program for the Class C District basketball tournament, which will be played in East Jordan next week.

The programs are free and will be distributed at all games.

Included in the program are stories about all five teams, rosters, team pictures and a rundown of each team's scores in the regular season.

You can pick up your program at the game. Don't miss it!

Red Devils savor their first league crown in 28 years

EAST JORDAN - The Red Devils are in possession of a big, shiny trophy which proclaims them champions of the Ski Valley League.

"It's been 28 years since we've been conference champs," says Varsity Coach Steve VanderHyde, "and it's the first time since we've been in this conference."

"The kids really wanted that game. They didn't want to share the trophy with Harbor Springs," VanderHyde says. His Devils demolished Inland Lakes 96-38 Friday to prove the point.

East Jordan lost no time in establishing the tone of the game, outscoring Inland Lakes 20-10 in the first quarter and 23-13 in the second quarter.

The third period told all, however, as the Devils pumped 24 points through the hoop while holding Inland Lakes to only four. In the final quarter of play, the Red Devils collected 29 points and allowed Inland Lakes only 11.

"The kids have been real hard working all year," said VanderHyde of his team; 16 and 3 overall season. East Jordan has consistently had two players in the top 10 conference scorers, Duane Carpenter and Jerry Fuller. Carpenter accounted for 23 points and Fuller for 14 against Inland Lakes.

East Jordan students are "pretty happy" about the trophy, says VanderHyde, who adds, "It's kind of nice to win football and basketball championships back-to-back."

Carpenter finished the season in fourth place in league scoring, averaging 18 points per game. In his 14-game total, he scored 214 points on field goals, shot 38 for 53 at the free throw line for an accumulation of 252 points.

Jerry Fuller came in seventh in the Ski Valley League, averaging 15.7 points in his 14 games for the Red Devils. Fuller collected a total of 220 points this year, 186 points in field goals and 35 points in 48 foul shot tries.

BC varsity avenges earlier loss to Chiefs

BOYNE CITY - It was a loose, confident Boyne City varsity that overcame Cheboygan's home court advantage Friday, avenging an earlier loss by dealing the Chiefs at 69-65 defeat.

Boyne City eased ahead 12-10 in the first quarter and widened the gap to nine by halftime, 36-27. The Chiefs were down 53-40 going into the final period, and then the game broke open.

"We ran a defense they just couldn't solve," said Coach Russ Harvey, "but we let down in the fourth period."

At the same time, Cheboygan got aggressive and started making mistakes, giving Boyne 18 opportunities at the free throw line. The Ramblers were successful on 14 of the shots, which saved the game for them since they made only one field goal during the quarter.

It was Cheboygan's best period as they put the pressure on and scored 25 points, but it was still not enough for a victory.

"We stayed very consistent," said Harvey. "Even when our defense let down, our desire made up for it. The kids knew they could win it, and they weren't about to let it go."

Boyne had some "fine performances," according to Harvey, who had special praise for Larry Jarema. Jarema scored 16 points, had six assists and three steals in the game. Scott Hausler added 18 points and eight rebounds while Daryl Tims had 11 points and eight rebounds.

The Ramblers host Charlevoix in their last regular season game on Friday.

Larry Jarema placed eighth in final Michigan-Huron Shores basketball scoring race with his points-per-game average at 15. Jarema has played in 13 league games and scored a total of 195 points for the Ramblers, 164 on field goals and 31 on free throws, out of 51 tries.

Finishing the season in 17th place in conference play was Daryl Tims, who averaged 9.7 points per game in 13 starts. Tims' season total was 126 points, 114 on field goals and 12 on free throws in 20 attempts.

Volleyball tournament

EAST JORDAN - Volleyball action in East Jordan becomes tournament minded this Saturday, as the women travel to Interlochen Arts Academy for district Class C competition.

East Jordan has had an impressive season, with 10 wins and two losses. The Devils have achieved the wins despite a lack of depth that would severely handicap a lesser team.

Seven girls have been playing on the varsity squad in a game which has six positions. The recent injury of Kelly Smith means EJ will have to play its entire team for the whole match, a pace which could become difficult to maintain.

East Jordan begins tourney play at 10 a.m. against Boyne City, a team they beat easily during season play according to Coach Nancy Helland. Elk Rapids is favored to win the district title, says Helland.

JVs turn tables on Inland

EAST JORDAN - East Jordan's JV basketball decision wasn't as spectacular as the varsity win over Inland Lakes, but the Devils still felt good about turning the tables on the team which defeated them earlier in the season in a triple overtime game.

The 67-56 victory brings EJ's record to eight wins and 11 losses, with one game left to play at Boyne Falls.

The Red Devils maintained a healthy lead over Inland Lakes beginning with a 21-10 first quarter edge. The distance was improved in the second period, giving EJ a 36-22 halftime advantage.

Inland Lakes just couldn't catch up, and lagged behind 54-42 going into the last stanza, when they were unable to make up the difference.

Bill Spence sparked the Devils, getting 15 points and 12 rebounds. Mike Brennan had 14 points and 12 rebounds.

Loggers win fifth

BOYNE FALLS - The Logger junior varsity won their fifth game of the season, edging Ellsworth 48-47 in the final seconds of Friday's game.

The Loggers got off to a 12-8 lead in the first quarter, but Ellsworth's Lancers pulled into a three point halftime lead which they held onto as the third period closed.

The score was tied with less than a minute to play when Ellsworth was called for charging, giving the Loggers three free shots at the hoop because of the technical foul. Only one point was scored, but it was all Boyne Falls needed.

Norman Mahanke scored 26 points for Boyne Falls and Ervin Moyer added eight.

A 71-50 loss to Mackinaw City earlier in the week brought the Loggers' total defeats to 12 for the season. East Jordan was the squad's final opponent in Tuesday competition.

Schmittiel, a 6 ft., 200 lb. defensive tackle, is a 1978 graduate of Boyne City High School. This is the second letter to be awarded to the Alma College sophomore.

EAST JORDAN - The Devils did a good job against Central Lake, Thursday, with a 77-57 victory for the Devils. The first quarter ended with the Trojans leading 20-22, however, by the end of the second quarter, the Devils took over the lead. 32-30, and remained in the lead throughout the remainder of the game. Their 77-57 victory over the Trojans raised the Devils' record up to 7-10.

Mike Ciszewski, Rick Newville and Brad Mayhew were the top scorers for the Devils with 13 points each. Todd Chanda added 12 points, and Bob Finch had 10, all during the third quarter.

Coach Brad Jones said, "Dan Nachazel and Rick Newville played very good offense, and the whole team played very good defense."

Future years look bright for BCHS ski team

BOYNE CITY - The high school ski team this season was not phenomenal, but the next few years look very bright.

The team is losing only four skiers to graduation, and the majority of the remaining skiers are ninth and tenth graders.

In the state regional ski meet held at Schuss Mountain on Feb. 15, the boys' team took an overall third and the girls' team took ninth.

until he fell in one of his runs.

McCullough said the year in skiing was rather satisfying as the team loses only Mike Neumann, Julie Dunlop, Dave Danville, and Todd Shay through graduation while retaining the majority of their racers.

Replacements are coming from the middle school, as Marsha Neumann, Brett Johnson, Mark Mantell, Heidi Lillis, and Kathy Kircher have shown promise. "The future looks bright," McCullough said.
