The graduates Where will they work?

BY DIANNE MURRAY

Almost 400 graduates county-wide will soon hit the streets looking for employment. Some will seek temporary summer employment while many will be looking for a full-time, permanent job.

But, who's hiring?
At a time when the county unemployment rate has hit an all-time high, where will these graduates work now that they've completed 13 years of education and are ready to "make it in the real world?"

As The Press interviewed high school counselors, area personnel directors and employment professionals, the echo that "times are tough" was repeated over and over. Almost every employer said his business is not hiring this summer, either part-time or full-time, and it is quite possible that there won't be any job openings this fall either.

Courtesy, Boyne Essex, Medusa Cement Company, and the East Jordan Iron Works, some of the county's largest employers are not hiring any additional help for the summer or have all ready hired any needed employees for the months ahead.

Even some smaller employers that normally use seasonal help—super markets, restaurants and clothing stores—are not hiring for the summer. At some stores, part-time employees will begin additional hours to help out during busy times. But many store owners and managers will attempt to "make it alone" with no additional help.

Statistically, the number of unemployed Michigan workers during the month of May surpassed the worst rate of the 1974-75 recession, according to estimates released by the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESOC).

There are currently 607,000 people out of work statewide, or a 14.0 percent unemployment rate. The current May estimates are nearly double those of last year, May 1979, when the state's unemployment rate was 7.2 percent with 310,000 people out-of-work.

According to Dennis McCullough, vocational employment counselor with the Petoskey MESOC office, the county unemployment rate is over 15 percent, and it is even higher for the high school graduate. "We've definitely had a lot of graduates coming in looking for employment. A lot of them are not finding it, though," McCullough said.

A file is kept at the employment commission on job listings and Friday when The Press inquired about how many jobs were listed, there were none. "Finding a job right now is tough," McCullough said. When graduates and others come in looking for a job, they are requested to fill out a job eligibility form listing their qualifications and past experiences. The commission then matches job-seekers with employers they have listed in their files.

COUNSELORS OF LITTLE HELP

Counselors at East Jordan, Boyne City, Boyne Falls and Charlevoix High Schools admit there's little they can do to help students find a job. They suggest vocational skills may help students find the kind of employment they may be most interested in.

Charlevoix High School has also sponsored a Career Exploration Program to help students learn how to fill out job applications and prepare for an interview. The counselors report that students are having more difficulty finding jobs this summer than in the past.

Between 35 and 60 percent of the graduated students at the various high schools will be going on to college, counselors said. But between 50 and 60 percent of the seniors at each school plan to stay in the area and seek permanent employment.

"Jobs aren't here for adults let alone for the graduates," said East Jordan counselor Chub Rothenburger. "I've told seniors who came to me for help in looking for a job, to pray that the economy gets better. Charlevoix County is not the only area affected, it's nationwide."

Boyne Falls counselor Jim Crowell said that for many graduates getting a job is just a matter of being in the right place at the right time. "It's just a matter of hanging around and hoping something opens up somewhere along the line," he said.

Boyne City counselor Glen Irwin told graduating seniors not to be discouraged. "There are jobs out there for the creative job seeker. I told the graduates not to be discouraged and keep their heads up and be looking. They've begun to enter the real world."

So many graduates stay around the area because of its beauty, Charlevoix counselor Gayle Kaczynski said. "There's a strong attachment to the area, so that even a lot of those who go away for college this fall will come back next summer or after they graduate to look for full-time employment," she said.

AREA INDUSTRIES NOT HIRING

A survey of area industries taken by The Press indicate that the counselors are correct that there aren't many job openings.

"The outlook for summer employment is not very good," said Medusa Cement Company office manager Clem Wagner. The Charlevoix-based company had budgeted for some summer employees to fill in for vacationing full-time employees, but Wagner said those positions have already been filled. He would not say how many summer employees were hired.

"We're not hiring any longer (this summer) and I don't think we'll be hiring come fall," he said. Wagner said Medusa's work force has been stable, about 150 people are employed at the plant, but because of a slowdown in the building industry, business for the cement plant has slowed proportionally.

Courtesy, Inc. of Boyne City closes its doors for two weeks this summer to give employees vacations all at the same time. Prior to this action, the company hired temporary help to fill in for vacationing employees. Approximately 20 new positions were created during previous summers.

"Our business is holding, but we're not hiring any people this summer," personnel manager Ken Gilbert said. Will Courters be hiring this fall? "No, it will be sometime before we will be hiring anyone at all," he said.

Spring and summer is normally the busiest period for Essex, Inc. of Boyne City, said personnel director Jim Gian-toni, but Essex will not be hiring any additional employees this summer. Since Essex is auto-related Gian-toni said "we take things a week at a time here. We did not hire last summer and I don't foresee any hiring this summer. Plus we have people on lay-off who would have to be hired back first," he said.

"It's really sad that we and others are not hiring graduates, because I know these kids need tuition money for college. And they're really good workers," Gian-toni added.

According to the personnel director of East Jordan Iron Works, there'll be no hiring there this summer or fall. "We have qualified people on lay-off that we would have to call back first before adding new employees," Bill C. Christensen said.

Millage defeats reflect the times

The defeated millage requests for area schools reflect the hard economic conditions within our community, school superintendents and board presidents say. Boyne City and East Jordan millage requests were turned down Monday by voters, as was Boyne Falls' request not to roll-back its millage due to the Headlee amendment.

Boyne City and East Jordan will have another millage election. The schools have to wait 60 days before another election can be held and Boyne City hopes to repeat the millage election Aug. 11.

EAST JORDAN had a two mill increase on the ballot. Voters, by a margin of almost two to one, defeated the proposal totalling 23.2 operating mills. There were 235 votes in favor and 438 votes opposed to the operating millage.

Mary Jason, president of East Jordan school board, said she was disappointed in the millage defeat. "We made all the cuts we felt possible before setting a fair millage request. We didn't cut any programs but we tightened budgets wherever possible. I don't know where any further cuts will be made," she said.

The school board met Tuesday night to discuss when the second election for the millage request would be held. Jason assumed it would be sometime in August. The board also discussed what Jason called "the community's priorities."

"I didn't think we were talking about that much additional money—between $20 and $40 per family per year. So now we'll try to find out where the people's priorities lie and what they want done with their children's education," Jason said.

BOYNE CITY had two millage requests which were defeated at Monday's elec-

An editorial about the millage defeats is on page 4.

In a close 410 to 383 vote, the requested 21.4 operating millage was defeated. This reflected a 2.6 mill increase over last year's 18.8 voted millage.

Voters also overwhelmingly turned down the one mill request for a $52,000 handicap elevator to be installed at the middle school. The vote was 488 against and 294 favoring the elevator.

Superintendent Rich Kelly said he too is disappointed in the millage defeat. The second millage election Aug. 11 will include both the operating and elevator millage requests, he said.

"The school board worked hard to make the operating millage request as low as possible. And we're going to have to make another request for the millage. I thought it was going to pass," Kelly said.

Kelly said the board discussed additional cuts which may have to be made "depending on what our state aid cut will be, what the enrollment next year is and also on what our cash balance will be."

Governor William Milliken cut $35 million from state aid in order to balance the state budget. Kelly said the direct effect of this cut will be an approximate $22,900 cut to the Boyne school district.

BOYNE FALLS voters also defeated the school board's request to retain its full 22.24 mills to cover next year's operating cost.

The 22.24 for 1980-81 were already approved by voters two years ago, but due to the state Headlee Amendment, a proposal to keep the authorized millage from being rolled back was put on the ballot.

Because of the defeated request, Boyne Falls may have to be operating with 1.33 less mills or 20.91 mills next year. The vote was 88 to 84 to roll the millage back by 1.33 mills.

Superintendent Bill Upton said the school board will have to make curriculum or staff cuts in order to operate within its budget.

At the school board's next meeting at 7 p.m. Monday, at the school, the possible cuts will again be discussed, Upton said.

The school board may consider whether to hold another election to request the additional 1.33 mills.

Upton summed up the defeat by saying "My guess is that there are a lot of people out of work here and that influenced their vote."

School board races close in EJ, BC

In addition to millage requests, voters elected school board members at Monday's elections.

EAST JORDAN voters had six candidates to choose from to fill two, four-year terms.

Unopposed incumbent Ed Drenth won a one year term on the board. Shirley Bauer with 275 votes and Dan Nachazel with 255 were elected to serve the four year terms. They will be replacing incumbents Dick Noirot and Leon Bartlett.

Write-in candidate Lucille Malpass came in a close third place with 242 votes. Other candidates and their vote totals were: Terry Lord, 153; Richard Barnett, 129; and Richard Lord, 100 votes.

BOYNE CITY voters re-elected incumbents Mark Behling and Willard Chipman over Francis Wicker for two, four-year terms on the board.

Behling received 600 votes; Chipman, 402; and Wicker had 340 votes in Monday's election.

Eleanor West won the bid for a one-year term with 432 votes compared to incumbent Betty Johncheck's 65 votes. Both were write-in candidates.

BOYNE FALLS candidates Ronald Barnadyn and James Churchill were unopposed for two vacancies on the Boyne Falls School Board. Barnadyn received 144 votes and Churchill had 115 votes.

$10-million price tag

New condos to boost economy?

BY DIANNE MURRAY

BOYNE CITY - It's taken blood, sweat and a hint of tears, but Rick and Dave Smith finally have had their $10 million lakefront condominium project approved by the city. And it's the city that's bound to benefit, the Smiths say.

They see their project, called The Harborage, as a beginning of jobs and money flowing into the area and as an opportunity to upgrade some city services through increased tax revenue.

The brothers admit they've gone through a lot of hassles—public hearings, a public vote and court appearances on their original proposal to close Front Street—but, they say, the approval has made it all worthwhile.

"We're proud of what we're going to build. Dave and I have come through it all and I believe in the long run Boyne City will realize all the good that is going to come out of The Harborage," Rich Smith told The Press.

Technically, final approval of the Smiths' project—108 condo units and a 197-alp marina—rests with Johnson, Johnson and Roy, the consulting firm which completed the city comprehensive plan. The city commission approved Lake Associates' condo complex at a special meeting last Wednesday, but for important development projects, the commissioners consult with JJR.

JJR approved earlier the preliminary plan of The Harborage, so Rich Smith and he is confident the firm will approve this final plan. "We're right on target with what JJK has said should be done with this property," he said.

Last week, the Smiths purchased the 61 acre parcel which they will develop. The selling price was not disclosed.

It's been almost two years since the first public hearing on the proposed condo development was held Aug. 3, 1978. At that time the Smiths proposed to develop a 250 unit condominium complex on 59 acres. This plan also called for closing Front Street, but it was scrapped last summer after a public vote favored leaving the street open.

Changes have been made since then and the new proposal calls for three clusters of 36 units each, a marina and marine shop, a private swimming beach, two tennis courts, approximately 300 parking spaces for condominium owners.

Brenda still looking; Kerry is all set

For Brenda Gee of East Jordan, the job search has not been fruitful so far. But Kerry Wilson of Boyne City has been fortunate; his employer has upgraded his part-time job and is providing him with on-the-job training for full-time work.

They're just two of the local graduates looking for full-time employment in a time when the older generation, and the hundreds of graduates who came before them in recent years, are having a hard-time keeping their jobs.

Brenda, an honors graduate, started looking seriously for full-time work just prior to her high school graduation because her time was limited earlier due to track team practice. In the past few weeks, she has been busy filling out applications, having interviews, and following tips. She has secretarial skills learned in high school to offer prospective employers, but at 17 and without experience she is in a competitive market during hard times.

She plans to continue her business education at North Central Michigan College at night this fall if she finds the right job. If she comes up empty handed this summer, she will go to college on a full-time basis.

Although the job search has not gone well so far, Brenda says "it's too early" to be pessimistic, or depressed.

Kerry Wilson has a number of friends in the Class of 1980 at Boyne City High School who "are having trouble" finding jobs, but he's doing just fine because he started working as a stockboy at Edward's IGA several months ago.

His employers there are moving him up in the business now that he is available full-time. He'll start working full-time this summer in the meat department learning skills from the two butchers already employed by Edward's.

The full-time work suits Kerry's plan quite nicely. In the fall, he'll go to North Central Michigan College at night, studying criminal justice. His long-term goal is employment in the law enforcement field. Kerry plans to live at home "for the next two years" while he studies, fairly secure in the knowledge that he will have a job and a skill that allows him to plan for the future.

Many others in the class of 1980 should be so fortunate.

$10-million condo project to improve economy?

and a separate parking facility for marina users.

Front Street will be relocated, at the furthest point, 350 ft. from the present centerline, away from Lake Charlevoix. This will provide a 10 degree higher slope and better visibility, architect Dave Trautman said.

In retrospect, Rick Smith said he is glad he and his brother chose to continue with the development "even through those hard times." He is also very enthusiastic about the potential of the condominium development.
"The development will be a stimulus to Boyne City. It will provide jobs, a tax base, bring money into the community and provide the city with a means to upgrade a lot of city services," both Smiths said.

Rick Smith stressed that construction of The Harborage will put local builders to work. "Wherever possible we'll use local contractors and sub-contractors," he said. Construction is expected to begin for the first two condo units late this summer. The two tennis courts located south of the relocated Front Street should begin to be built this summer or fall, in time for play next spring. Construction of part of the marina will start this fall and Rick Smith said an operable marina will be available by next summer. The swimming beach will be completed by next spring, also.

Total construction cost for the 108 units is expected to exceed $10 million, Dave Smith said. But interest to purchase or rent a Harborage condominium is great, he added.

"The buying interest is very strong. People have heard about The Harborage through newspapers, word of mouth, or when they've vacationed here and have asked about them. We have signs that our sales will be rapid," Dave Smith said. The Smiths have not set an asking price for the individual units, and no sales pitch for the condo project has begun. But, Rick Smith said they've received about a dozen commitments both from local residents and second home-seekers who would like to purchase a condominium. The Smiths indicated about a dozen people, have said they'd like to purchase a unit, enough people to fill the first two buildings.

The Smiths also believe the additional marina slips in the area are needed.

The marina will be one of the largest and most up-to-date developments in Michigan, they say. The Smiths, however, were not able to offer a construction cost for the project.

The breakwater and slips will be made of concrete. The 197-berth marina will have a support store for fishing supplies, beer and gasoline. Parking will accommodate 199 cars, the plan shows.

"The community will really benefit from the marina. It will bring people into the community for shopping and eating. There will be a primary benefit felt by the businesses, but the marina will also second-handly aid employment," Rick Smith said.

The Smiths propose to sell some slips, but others will be leased for public and private use. Options will include telephone and cable television service.

We're glad you asked!

SHOULD I CONSIDER ANYTHING LESS THAN A FULL-SERVICE FUNERAL?

Generally, the full-service funeral best meets the needs of the bereaved, as well as providing for the deceased. It is a declaration of death, as well as a testimonial to a life.

The full-service funeral is also a ritual of deeply profound psychological significance in our civilized society.

It was Gladstone, the famous English statesman, who wisely said, "Show me the manner in which a nation or community cares for its dead and I will measure with mathematical exactness the tender sympathies of its people, their respect for the law of the land, and their loyalty to high ideals."

We are living in an age of great change and progress. While many customs are influenced by the times, the full-service funeral has not been much altered. Progress has refined techniques and procedures, but the high ideals to which Gladstone refers have not been minimized or compromised. Man still buries his dead with ceremony and dignity.

Your choice of a full-service funeral demonstrates the tender sympathy and respect for the high ideals of which Gladstone would greatly approve.

Jazz, rock concert in BC?

BOYNE CITY - The city commission Tuesday, heard tentative plans for a jazz and rock concert Saturday July 5, at Avalanche Mountain Preserve.

Before making a final decision, the commissioners wanted to hear public input. The matter was tabled until the next Tuesday noon meeting.

Rick Vogel, manager of the Dilworth, presented to the city and parks and recreation commissions plans for five bands to play between noon and 7 p.m. at Avalanche. Vogel is working with the July 4 Committee and Crowd Pleasers Promoters of Lansing to put on the concert.

Commissioners were split Tuesday over the idea.

"Call your commissioners and let us know how you feel about this," Jessup said.

BVRR meeting set; New engine set to arrive this week

BOYNE CITY - A new 38 ton diesel engine for the Boyne Valley Railroad was scheduled to arrive early this week at the Boyne Falls Depot.

The locomotive was to arrive last week and was going to be used to pull the Artrain cars into Boyne City for its stay June 12-16, according to a railroad spokesman. But, because of a delay, a "trackmobile" was used to pull the cars into place by The Depot Restaurant in downtown Boyne City.

Whether the Boyne Valley Railroad will run this summer will be decided at the stockholder's meeting at 2 p.m., June 22, at the City Hall chambers. Letters announcing the date were mailed last week and stockholders should have received the letter, railroad board member Tom Workman said.

The board has not decided the fate of the railroad this summer but instead is leaving it up to stockholders for a decision, he said.

The railroad has had its share of troubles when, according to court files, an Illinois broker the railroad employed to sell its previous engine, Ladybug, made off with the sale money.

Boyne Valley Railroad filed a general civil suit against Charles S. Hicks of Illinois on July 25, 1979.

The court file reads that the BVRR entered into an agreement with Hicks to lease and find a buyer for the Ladybug engine which was owned by the railroad.

Hicks sold the engine to the Donnelly and Sons Publishing Company of Chicago, Ill., for approximately $40,000. He allegedly received that amount of money, but the BVRR never saw any of it.

In a pre-trial conference at Charlevoix Circuit Court, a judge found Hicks guilty and ordered him to pay BVRR the $40,000 plus interest.

It will take a while to receive payments from Hicks, according to court files, and the railroad has not received payment yet.

Meanwhile, last seen, Ladybug was in Utah at a U.S. Steel plant.

Erber honored with sign

BOYNE CITY - Henry Erber of E and M Standard Station was honored with a wooden Amoco sign at an open house Saturday at his station.

Erber said he was very surprised when, following his open house, 125 people presented him with the three ft. by three ft. red, white and blue sign built by Bruce Janssen.

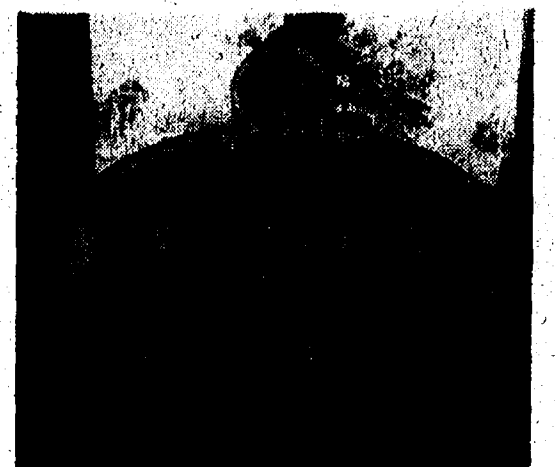

"All of a sudden 125 people who had been hiding all over town came to my station and started to set up tables and put ham sandwiches, baked beans and a congratulatory cake in one of by bays. I was speechless and then they presented me with the sign. Who could believe I've got friends like that?" Erber said.

Erber had an open house Saturday for the recently completed re-built station and everyone showed up after Erber thought the "open house was over."

Members of the city fire, police and ambulance departments along with several local residents pitched in and purchased the gas station sign.

Erber said he will have the sign installed sometime next week.

Henry Erber, owner of the E and M Standard Station was presented with this sign at his open house Saturday.

Summer pre-school program slated

BOYNE CITY - The Youth Activities Program and Boyne City Nursery School, are co-hosting a summer pre-school program for area children.

The program for children 2 1/2 to 6 years of age, runs from June 16 to Aug. 22. Two sessions are offered Monday through Friday, 8:45-11:45 a.m. and 12:30-3:30 p.m. at the nursery school.

Cost for each session is $25. Activities include arts and crafts, story hour and other pre-school education programs.

For more information contact the Youth program at 547-4471 or Krista Crosby at 582-7131.

Correction

BOYNE CITY - It was incorrectly reported in last week's paper that the Economic Development corporation (EDC) advocates using the city airport property for an industrial park.

Although the EDC favors industrial growth, The Press was told that the corporation has not yet taken a position on whether it would support using the airport property for an industrial park.

The EDC will study several factors including employment forecasts, pay scales, citizen requests and possibly alternative locations for industrial expansion before making a final decision.

EJ recreation plans

EAST JORDAN - Everything from swimming lessons to archery will be offered this summer through the city recreation program, director Patricia Berlo announced.

Many of the final details of classes - such as the time and dates - will not be announced until Berlo knows how many people will sign up for the classes. Persons interested in any of the summer recreation activities should sign up at city hall or call Berlo at 536-2111.

The list of the activities follows:

SWIM LESSONS will be offered for pre-school, beginning, intermediates, advanced and adult swimmers. A "test day," to indicate which level class a person should attend, will be held from 9 a.m. to noon June 16 and 17 at Tourist Park. Register before attending this lesson.

Forty-five minute lessons will be offered every Monday, Wednesday and Friday beginning Wednesday, June 18. Cost of the eight-week course is $2 per person, not to exceed $5 per family, Berlo said.

Instructors will be certified lifeguards Kim Barnett, Dawn Tims and Melissa Hite.

The East Jordan Library will have a SUMMER READING program June 16-

Aug. 2. Barbara Alger will instruct children during the free-program of books and movies. Call the library for more information.

TENNIS lessons will be taught at the city courts beginning June 17. Nancy Helland will be the instructor of the five-week class which starts at 9 a.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Beginning, intermediate and advanced lessons will be offered as well as private lessons. Cost is $10 for all five weeks. Bring your own tennis racquet and balls.

The Crooked Tree Arts Council will offer an ART CLASS entitled "Creative Art Experience for Young People" for ages seven to 15. Peggy Midener who was head of the children's art classes at the Detroit Society for Arts and Crafts will teach the class. We're in trouble if we don't support schools

Our local communities are in trouble if citizens don't support their schools. Thus, we are dismayed that voters in Boyne City, East Jordan and Boyne Falls defeated school tax proposals Monday.

It is extremely unfortunate that voters would vent their feeling of economic frustration via the ballot box.

School tax is the only one we can say no to, but this is not the proper way to send a message to Washington or Lansing.

In order to save a very few dollars—$30 or $40 a year for the average homeowner—voters are cheating more than a thousand kids in East Jordan and Boyne City and about 250 in Boyne Falls.

We do understand that times are tough, and the towns where the economy is the worst are where the millages were defeated.

Editorials

East Jordan has been particularly hard hit by job layoffs, thus the millage was defeated by a wider margin (nearly two to one) in that community. In Boyne City and Boyne Falls, the millages nearly passed.

But what do the schools do now? We suggest that teachers, administrators, board members and school supporters roll up their sleeves and work to educate the public about the schools' needs.

"Yes" voters need to be identified and urged to vote. "No" voters need to be convinced that the schools are not asking for frills—and we are convinced that they are not, as we stated in an editorial last week.

It is traditional for school supporters to do little more than cross their fingers for millage requests on the first time around. But it is clear there is much work to be done if we want to get the asked-for millages on the second try.

This is unfortunate, because all that time and energy could certainly be put to better use preparing for the coming school year—but there seems to be no other choice at this time.

At the grand opening of the East Jordan Civic Center, a plaque was hung on the wall which will record contributors to the Century Club. The "club" will include anyone who donates $100 or more to help equip the center. Helping put up the plaque are, from left, Mayor Jim Meredith, Century Club committee member Bruce Malpass, Recreation Director Pat Berlo and City Supt. Herman

EJ should be proud of its new Civic Center

We congratulate the city of East Jordan and City Supt. Herman Rasch on the recent opening of their new Civic Center.

Most city residents probably thought the old white elephant would never be finished. After all, it was started in 1940 and not completed until 1980.

It certainly had its share of headaches along the way—even in the past year. Petitions were signed protesting the renovation idea, bids came in too high, Rasch was criticized for his hiring practices once work was underway, and the price of roller skate rental was even criticized once the place opened.

But all of those problems have been resolved, and the city now has a facility it can be proud of. It has been painted brown so no one can call it a white elephant any more, and the alley by which you enter the building has even been renamed Civic Center Lane.

When the building was unveiled at a Memorial Day grand opening ceremony, most people commented that it was hard to believe how much was accomplished for $70,000. That must be a nice feeling for the city council in a time when most people complain about how little they receive for most of their tax dollars.

It is in keeping with this philosophy that a group of local residents has started a drive to raise $15,000 through private sources to equip the building with things like tables, chairs, games, a sign, records, piano and a portable stage. If you'd like to help the cause, send your contribution to Civic Center Committee, Century Club, East Jordan.

It's a little late, but we are also glad to see that the city council has finally set up a committee to decide what to do with the building now that it is ready.

If you have any ideas on policy or programs, contact committee members Pat Berlo, Ken Hagen, Al Joseph, Joe Hammond or Gary Cihak.

Letters to the editor

Boyne airport—essential asset

Editor's Note: This letter to the Boyne City Planning Commission was submitted for publication as a letter to the editor.

It has come to my attention that the consulting engineer you hired to develop your master plan has recommended the closing of the Boyne City Airport.

I am sure they gave careful consideration to this recommendation but I feel they have erred in this portion of their conclusions. Adoption of this portion would do irreparable harm to the development of the Boyne City area.

The airport is one of the city's greatest assets and is essential for the following reasons:

1. It provides an incentive for new industries to settle in Boyne City area. More and more businessmen are finding it essential to fly as part of their business, both for customer contacts and for shipment of freight into and out of this area. Instead of closing the airport, use it to attract more industry. A few good industrial lots sold and developed are of more value than 40 acres of unwanted and undeveloped land.

2. The airport is important to the development of the tourist and vacation industries. The enclosed photographs (sent to the planning commission) show the small private planes that brought vacationing visitors to Boyne City over the Memorial Day holiday. This does not include my plane or four other planes that I am familiar with that fly into the Boyne City airport regularly. This group of people contribute heavily to the tax base and economy of Boyne City and use very little of its services and none of the school taxes they pay. If I am typical of the people who fly into Boyne City, each of the 12 planes shown in this photo contributes approximately $2,000 per year in combined city and county taxes. If this represents one-third of the people that fly in regularly, this amounts to $72,000 in tax base for the area. Please don't discourage us or others like us from helping Boyne City prosper.

3. Charlevoix Airport gets a lot of its traffic due to its instrument approach and can be no help to Boyne City due to its distance and lack of available transportation to Boyne City.

Instead of closing the airport why not consider attracting traffic by installing an instrument approach to allow traffic to flow in and out of the airport during the majority of the year? A non-instrument approach severely restricts the use of the airport by both business and pleasure flying.

As a part-time resident and business man who is considering making my next business expansion in Boyne City, I urge you to reject this portion of the master plan. Closing of the airport will cause me to cancel my consideration of Boyne City in my business expansion plans.

Wouldn't you like to sell me and others like me a site on the north edge of the airport rather than force me to Gaylord, Harbor Springs, Charlevoix or other similar areas?

Airport, condo issues puzzling

Editor,

The people of Boyne City have spent a lot of time and money over the years to develop our airport and it represents a major investment to the city.

It was instrumental in bringing most of our present factories to town along with their payrolls. Everybody benefits from it.

It makes no sense whatsoever to do away with it in order to get other plants to locate here when they could very well use an airport so handy as ours. Any new factory will surely avail itself of the 50 percent reduction in taxes for their first 10 years.

These so-called experts from Ann Arbor could very easily get our town in a real mess with their expertise. It would make more sense to upgrade it into a real asset. Airplanes are not going away.

Why not have an industrial park outside of the city limits? We will lose half the taxes anyway but still have the payroll coming in, which is really the main thing to be considered. We could even extend the city limits somewhat. Just listen to those screams.

We have plenty of knowledgeable people right here at home that can resolve our problems. We could even use our former council members as an advisory panel. There are many alternatives to these self-proclaimed experts.

I understand the bill for their services comes to $33,000. That's right—$33,000. Our commissioners have got to have rocks in their heads to okay such a rip-off.

There are many projects that could use that kind of money to a better advantage—we might even try saving it for a real need. Our former commissioners have done an excellent job in developing our resources.

If our present officials can't handle the job without outside help, we need new officials. The answer to our present problems is just as simple as that. $33,000 for what? It's utterly ridiculous. Perhaps an ombudsman is the answer.

I just can't see the wisdom of entrusting the future well being of Boyne City to such inept outsiders. We have better qualified advisors right here. Let's use them.

As to the development of the Tannery properties and the other lakefront projects, it seems to me that the various developers are entitled to much more enthusiasm and cooperation from our city officials, planners, zoning board members and general public than they are now getting.

Every article I read seems to bring up a new roadblock by the obstructionists. It is time to give the builders a green light and let them get to work.

This whole project is the best thing Boyne City has ever had going for it. A multi-million dollar investment in our town. These delays can cost the city thousands of dollars in taxes as well as lost business for our merchants.

What does it really matter whether or not we will be able to see the lake so well from the relocated street? After a couple of blocks we'll still be able to look out over the lake for mile after mile without any obstructions.

We are allowing a mere handful of people to cause a lot of unnecessary delay. It is time for help—not hindrance.

The day is not too far off before Lake Shore Drive will need a lot of attention. The waves are slowly but surely washing it away. When that day comes, my friend, the real screaming will start.

Don't fear the odds, graduates

(Note to the Editor: Once in a while a humorist falls into ill humor. Thus, no humor today.)

Q—What do you say to our high school graduates who are being thrust into a world of dying vines, government strangulation, unemployment, rampant inflation, high prices and a dismal future?

A—One word. Hogwash.

Q—Why are you so flippant in these uncertain times?

A—I am not being flippant and these are not uncertain times.

Q—Tell that to those who do not know which way to turn in a society gone sour. What chance do our graduates have?

A—They have opportunities beyond belief. A chance to use their brains, their imagination, their enthusiasm, their creativeness. An opportunity to put their guts to work. An opportunity to say, "I am, I do, I dare!"

Marshall Sayles

Q—You lost me back there when you mentioned hogwash. Will you speak further about hogwash?

A—I say hogwash to uncertain times and a dismal future. These things are real only if you succumb to them. Graduates who refuse to bow to the so called adversities will find the world making way for them. This is no time for young people to knuckle under. It is a time to show strength and determination. A time to show the world that the world "Can't" appears only in the dictionary.

Q—We are talking about young folks who grew up under government regulations, a welfare state, a big brother society and the constant threat of world conflict. How can they think and do as they wish when we, the authority, have them by the very throat?

A—Hogwash fits this situation nicely. Even a weed grows up in a cement driveway. A young person can rise above a world that would keep him down. They have done it before. They will do it again.

Q—Tell me again how a graduate is going to fight today's system and become successful in his chosen field. When you study the situation, everything seems to be against him.

A—Let him chart his course, step into the boat and grasp the oars. The world drops its opposition when it sees a person who knows where he is going.

Q—When you were young, yes. But times are different. Many young folks fear charting their own course against today's heavy odds. Isn't that true?

A—Unfortunately, yes.

Q—Then, what do you say to them?

A—I say they should look this crazy government-controlled society squarely in the face and say, "I shall become a success in my chosen field in spite of your assumed authority and regulations designed to tell me what to do, when to do it, how to act and how to think. I do not fear the odds you have set against me. I shall set out and become a success in my own way. I am not afraid. I shall not become one of your honorable and upright cowards."

Q—Whew! You really mean that, don't you?

A—Yes. And that isn't hogwash.

Diploma is special to adults

I have attended quite a few graduations, but none as heart-warming as the Boyne City Community Education adult graduation Sunday at Whiting Park. The thought never had occurred to me how much a high school diploma means to those graduates.

Dianne Murray

I know as I did, most graduates take their diplomas lightly. You've been through 13 years of school and by golly now you're out of that madhouse—yipee! But for the sake adult graduates of Boyne City and 12 adult graduates from East Jordan, graduation day was something special.

Imagine the changes that had to be made in their day-to-day schedules in order to work classes and homework into their adult lives. How frustrating that must have been. Those graduates weren't full-time students like many high school graduates.

They are full-time workers, mother, father, husband or wife—not to mention all the other sideliights such as picking up the scouts from meeting, driving to Little League or doing the family shopping, cooking and cleaning.

Upon receiving a diploma, each Boyne City graduate gave a short speech. The teary-eyed, nervous graduates took the time to thank their families for putting up with the hectic schedule while obtaining their goal of a high school diploma. Some thanked their children or spouses for pushing them on, cheering them up when they wanted to quit and standing beside them while pursuing their goal. Big thanks also went out to community ed administrators and all the teachers for spending time giving both personal and educational support.

Boyne City School Superintendent Rich Kelly appropriately said that we all go around congratulating people for graduation, or for having a baby, or for getting married, but not until that magic moment happens to you, do you realize why you've been saying congratulations all those years and what it really means.

It took a lot of courage and swallowed pride for these graduates to go back to school. And they should be proud of what they've done. It's hard enough making it through school once, but after dropping out, raising a family, watching your own kids graduate—to go back is quite an accomplishment.

In the program at the Boyne ceremony, graduates gave their reasons for going back. "I came back to school because I had an unfinished goal to complete—to get my diploma," one graduate said. "I went back—to better my job opportunities; to just be able to say that I'm a high school graduate; and that feels so good," another wrote.

I've never cried at a graduation—the two I've been through personally and all those I've attended—but sitting there for the short, one-hour program was like sitting through a double feature, tear-jerker at the movies.

Cooking column makes debut

The Press once again has a weekly cooking columnist. She is Bea Smith, a 66-year-old Boyne City grandmother.

She has lived in Boyne for the past seven years. Before that, she lived most of her life in Flint and Traverse City. She came to this area to be near her daughter Shirley (Mrs. Joe) Schlinck.

Mrs. Smith became interested in writing as she recorded her family history. She later took a creative writing class with Anne Kelly in the Boyne City Community Education program.

In writing her family history, she included background on old-time recipes and cooking methods. She will be drawing on these for her column, thus the name "Cooking, Yesterday and Today."

She also encourages readers of her column to share their favorite recipes with her and other readers. Recipes and comments can be sent to The Press, P.O. Box A, Boyne City.

Mrs. Smith's interest in tracing her family roots has led her to join a group of 15 or 20 Boyne area residents who are now in the process of forming a genealogy society.

The group is now meeting in the public library on the last Tuesday of every month.

'The girls' loved asparagus quiche

Terrific recipes turn up in the oddest places!

This one had been clipped out of some folder and left in a book in the public library.

I do not remember what the book was about but I will keep and treasure the recipe.

It is a delicious way to use the asparagus that many will soon have in their gardens. There are a number of asparagus growers in our own area, and shipments of asparagus are brought into Sherman's Canning Co. in East Jordan from other places like Bear Lake and Hart. Some of my friends buy asparagus by the case from the cannery.

It is a popular vegetable with dieters as it is very low in calories and rich in vitamins and bulk. Almost every woman's magazine has recipes for asparagus rolled in crepes or slices of ham and served with a variety of sauces; it is a very versatile vegetable.

The airlines and many good restaurants are serving quiches frequently, so let us treat ourselves to this delicious sample of foreign fare. I made this and served it to "the girls" for lunch and they loved it.

ALPINE ASPARAGUS QUICHE

- 1 unbaked 9-inch pie shell
- 1 package (10 oz.) frozen asparagus spears or cut asparagus or canned asparagus spears.
- ¾ cup milk
- ¾ cup half and half
- ½ cup finely chopped onion
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon nutmeg
- Dash of pepper
- 3 eggs, slightly beaten
- 1 cup shredded Swiss cheese

Bake pie shell for 8 to 10 minutes. Prepare asparagus as directed on package or cook your fresh asparagus and drain. Combine milk, cream, onion, salt, nutmeg and pepper in saucepan. Bring to a boil; then simmer 1 minute. Stir hot mixture into eggs. Sprinkle ¾ of cheese into partially baked pie shell. Arrange asparagus over cheese.

Pour in egg mixture. Sprinkle remaining cheese over top and bake at 375 for 20 to 25 minutes or until silver knife inserted 1 inch from center comes out clean. Make six servings.

A huge tossed salad with your favorite dressing and fruit is all you need to round out this menu, as the quiche is very filling.

If I have guests from out downstate I like to serve them cherries as they expect them from this area, so every year we take a trip to the orchards for dark sweet cherries. They are so easy to can and a real treat to our friends.

Court of Awards

Boyne City Girl Scouts received awards and badges at the Court of Awards ceremony May 28 at Boyne City High School. Many parents were on hand to watch their daughter receive recognition for one or more goals achieved. Some of the girls receiving the sign of the arrow and sign of the star awards were, front row left to right, Kerri Gay, Lesley DeGrow, Jennifer Butler, Julie Lingle, Lesa Curry, Michelle Davis and Vicki Moyer. Back row left to right, Shannon Heberling, Shannon Toner, Shawn Hammonree, Tina Marie VanAlstine, Christy Berry, Heidi Erber, Michelle Waeghe and Anya Woodcock. The sign of the arrow is a badge symbolizing direction and discovery. The sign of the star incorporates exploring, seeking and testing.

Larry and Darlea Matthew were at Crystal, Mich., last Sunday on business. Bruce and Pam Carlson, former Sterlin Heights residents moved to Charlevoix last Saturday. Pam is the daughter of Bob and Gloria Hull of Walloon.

Catching up on events of the past two years filled the day Sunday when Glen and Marilyn Townley of Harbor Beach visited at the home of Dennis and Audrey Collins. The two families haven't seen each other since 1978, when the Collinses moved north from their home in Michigan's Thumb area.

Mrs. Laurene Morgan visited her sister and brother-in-law in Caro last weekend.

12 graduate in adult program

The adult education graduation was held at Elm Point Sunday, with 12 students receiving diplomas or G.E.D. certificates. Rev. Ken Hagen said the opening prayer for the ceremonies. Guest speakers were Superintendent Mel Rullman, Sheriff George Lasater and English teacher Barbara Cruden. Students' point of view was expressed by adult education graduate Terry Kunde. The benediction was said by Rev. Dale Turner. A farewell gift was presented to Jamie Baumann, who is leaving her job as Community Education director.

Grandparents twice in 13 hours

BOYNE CITY - It's something to become grandparents, but Willard and Mary Jo Chipman of Boyne City, were surprised to learn they were grandparents twice within 13 hours.

The Chipmans' daughter and her husband, Chris and Ray Miner, were the proud parents of a daughter born May 28. Amanda Lynn, weighing six lbs., four ozs., was born at Little Traverse Hospital. Paternal grandmother is Mrs. Charlotte Miner of Boyne City.

Thirteen hours later, the Chipman's son and his wife, Bill and Patty Chipman, gave birth to a son at Charlevoix Area Hospital. Willard James weighed seven lbs., nine ozs. when born May 29 at Charlevoix Area Hospital. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kyle of Ellsworth.

Both mothers and babies are reported to be doing fine, but the grandparents are exhausted from going to Charlevoix and Little Traverse Hospitals and back to see their new grandchildren.

Women In Real Estate

Involvement of women in the real estate profession has grown rapidly in recent years and is expected to increase in the years ahead. Real Estate is one field where women always have received equal pay for equal work. They are limited only by the amount of time they spend and their effectiveness with prospects just the same as their male counterparts.

Many women have an uncanny aptitude for residential real estate. They know what other women appreciate in a home and they know how to present these aspects.

The opportunities for women in real estate are, perhaps as good or better than in any other field. Those with the ability to learn their craft can reach the top. Many women own and manage their own real estate firms - some of which are multi-office operations in large metropolitan areas. Membership in the Women's Council of Realtors has grown seven times over in recent years to more than 13,000 members.

RESOLUTION - HOUSE NUMBERING (#80-049)
Page 29
Moved by Commissioner Suttiff and supported by Commissioner Toton that the following resolution be adopted:
WHEREAS, the Emergency Preparedness Director, and the employe is working on the house numbering system are at a point where some expert advice is needed to move the program along; and
WHEREAS, the person who worked on the Otsego County numbering system is willing to come up and spend a day advising us; and
WHEREAS, the man wants to be reimbursed for time and expenses;
THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the person be reimbursed for one day of services, for per diem and wages, not to exceed $75.00.
FURTHER, BE IT RESOLVED, that said monies be derived from the travel budget of the County Planning Department.
Respectfully submitted: Oral Suttiff, Delbert Ingalls, Marvin Loding and Ira L. Davis. ROLL CALL VOTE: Yeas, 13. Nays, None. Absent, Commissioner Davis, I. Excused, Commissioner Meggison, 1. Motion Carried.

RESOLUTION: SALARY ELECTRICAL INSPECTOR $13,599.00 (#80-050)
Moved by Commissioner Suttiff and supported by Commissioner Ingalls that the following resolution be adopted:
Whereas, the County Budget adopted for 1980 sets forth the salary for the Electrical Inspector; and
Whereas, the Personnel records reflect that the Electrical Inspector had been with the County for one year as of April 1, 1980,
Therefore, be it resolved, that effective April 28, 1980 his level be changed from "C" to "D" with annual salary of $13,599.00.
Be it further resolved, that funds to cover this increase, be taken from the surplus in the Building Officials Salary.
Respectfully submitted: Oral Suttiff and Delbert Ingalls, Ira L. Davis and Marvin Loding. ROLL CALL VOTE: Yeas, 13. Nays, None. Absent, Commissioner Davis, I. Excused, Commissioner Meggison, 1. Motion Carried.

RESOLUTION - HEALTH DEPARTMENT $4,948.00 (#80-051)
Moved by Commissioner Loding and supported by Commissioner Ingalls that the following resolution be adopted:
The Ways and Means Committee having had referred to it the question of complete funding for District Health Department #3, Charlevoix County, have met with Marvin Loding, member of the Board's Health and Welfare and Planning Committee and their Acting Health Officer, Gerry Chase and studied the revised Health Department #3 Budget with explanations, do recommend (with qualifications that all counties maintain equity in the District Health Department #3) an amount of $4,948.00 be appropriated to Charlevoix County's General Fund District Health Budget.
The Committee also reviewed their fee schedule of various services and recommend the Health Board again review charges made for services with the thought of revising the schedule to reflect more realistic actual costs.
Said funds are to be derived from unanticipated revenues generated by refunds returned from the State Treasury Department for audits paid under duress amounting to $5,640.00.
Respectfully submitted: Marvin Loding. ROLL CALL VOTE: Yeas, 10. Nays 3, - Commissioners Breakey, Anear and Ward. Excused, Commissioner Meggison, 1. Absent, Commissioner Davis, I. Motion Carried.

WHEREAS: There exists a vacancy in the Sheriffs Department for the Communications and Security Position
April 30, 1980

RESOLUTION - SHERIFF'S DEPT. - LATERAL MOVE (Continued)
AND WHEREAS: Deputy Sheriff Michael Bascom has requested a lateral move to this position
THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: That the Sheriff be allowed to make this lateral move.
AND FURTHER BE IT RESOLVED: That the Sheriff be allowed to take applications to fill the vacated Deputy Sheriffs position.
Respectfully submitted: John E. Haggard, Ralph Harmon and Thomas Breakey. VOICE VOTE: All in favor. Motion Carried.
Commissioner Haggard reported on the Regional Jail Study which introduced four options for handling correctional needs.
Plan A: Each individual County have its own facility
Plan B: One facility in Traverse City to serve all 10 Counties
Plan C: Three Multi-County facilities to serve 9 Counties with Missaukee going on its own
Plan D: Three Multi-County facilities to serve all 10 Counties
Commissioner Anear moved and was supported by Commissioner Breakey that this County go on record in favor of Plan A, in the Regional Jail Study. VOICE VOTE: All in favor.

A letter from South Arm Township was read inviting the Board to a Public Hearing to be held May 7th, 1980 to discuss establishment of an Industrial Development District. Commissioner Moerland supported by Commissioner Toton moved that Commissioner Ingalls be appointed as Board Representative at this meeting. VOICE VOTE: All in favor.
The Next meeting will be May 28, 1980 at 7:30 P.M.
Moved by Commissioner Anear and supported by Commissioner Harmon to adjourn. Motion carried.

FUN & SUN

Great Summer '80

Free supplement to The Charlevoix County Press June 12, 1980

Artrain visits Boyne City— Join the celebration!

The nation's only traveling art museum, the six-car Artrain, will be in Boyne City from June 12-16.

The Boyne City Artrain celebration is about to begin. FUN & SUN would like to encourage everyone to take advantage of the Artrain and the festivities which have been scheduled in its honor. Artrain will open for public viewing at noon Thursday. It will remain open from 12 noon to 8 p.m., Thursday through Monday. Here's a first-rate art museum right in Boyne City. And it is entirely free!

In fact, all of the activities connected with Artrain's visit to Boyne City are free - entertainment, antique auto show, church historical tours, art carnival, and a free art museum.

To top it off, the Boyne City Retail Board has over 30 stores participating in a "Great Train Robbery" sale on Thursday evening from 6:30 to 10 - bargains which can save you money.

This week's FUN & SUN will give you information on the Artrain itself and a complete schedule of all the other activities happening in connection with Artrain.

Go out to the Artrain site (next to the Depot Restaurant on Ray Street between Park Street and Lake Street), enjoy the exhibition and the festivities.

 This issue marks the beginning of the third year for FUN & SUN, our summer supplement.

All of the Artrain articles in this section were written by Jamie Baumann. She will also be writing and organizing next week's FUN & SUN, which will focus on the Little Traverse Bay Historical Festival June 12-16 in Petoskey.

Every week, FUN & SUN will be taking a look at some aspect of summer living and playing: entertainment, dining, fishing, boating, sports and more.

We have also expanded our Out & About section, a regular feature of The Press. This comprehensive "What's Happening" guide is continuously updated to tell you where to find movies, entertainment, live music, plays and other things like where to canoe, hike, golf or bowl.

"Best Bet" also returns as a part of our summer Out & About. It will give you hot tips every week on FUN & SUN discoveries - fun things to do and see. You'll also find our "Summer Highlights" calendar, which will give you a rundown on what's ahead for Great Summer '80.

Studio car shows local artists at work

If you've ever held a piece of pottery and wondered how the artist got that special glaze or looked at a painting or a piece of jewelry and wondered how it was created, be sure to stop by the studio car on the Artrain.

The studio car is an educational feature of the Artrain in which local artists will actually be working at their crafts. They will answer questions and explain what they are doing as they work.

The studio car will include more than 36 local artists in the five day period that the Artrain is in Boyne City.

Three artists at a time will be working in the studio car from 12 noon to 8 p.m.

In the few time slots a regional artist wasn't available, an Artrain staff artist will work and answer questions.

Turn to page 5 for a complete schedule of artists appearing in the Studio Car.

"Golden Opportunity"

Bruce Janssen, president of Artists North, felt the local artists' response to working on the studio car was really good. "About 95 percent of the people I called participated," he said.

Janssen worked on the Artrain when it visited Petoskey a year ago. He feels the Artrain experience is a golden opportunity for people to experience art.

"Here is an art museum right on our doorstep and people should be encouraged to take advantage of it, especially to expose their children to the art on the train. They don't have to like what they see or even understand what they see. But to be aware of art, people have to expose themselves to it."

Janssen, a wood carver, felt that working on the Artrain was fun. In Petoskey people really showed an interest in his work. He didn't get much work done, because he was answering people's questions.

"It was great! People don't have to feel too intimidated to ask questions of the artists working on the car. Artists in the area love to talk to people about their work. That's why they are taking the time to be a part of the Artrain."

Artists Learn, Too

Nancy Koucky, local artist who also worked on the Artrain in Petoskey, felt that even the local artists learned from the Artrain's visit.

"It's interesting for me to see what is considered the best art in Michigan," she said. "My work is much more traditional, but viewing other artists' work does give me good ideas that I can explore in my own way."

Koucky especially enjoyed talking to the children who walked through the studio car in Petoskey. She will be quilting on the studio car this year. "I think it's important to expose the public to how some of the things on the train are produced."

Working on the Artrain is a lot of work for the artists. They must bring their work to the train and interrupt their work schedule at home.

"There are some darn good local artists up here who will be taking time to participate on the train," said Sue Bolt, Charlevoix artist. "People coming to the Artrain should be proud of their regional artists." Bolt has participated in several Artrain studio cars both in Petoskey and downtown.

Janssen, Koucky and Bolt are only three of the many local artists who will take time to work in the studio car. Some of the others are pictured on this page. They all encourage people to ask questions when visiting the Artrain studio car.

Mike Fulmer, a Boyne City weaver.

Dick Cunningham, Boyne City potter.

What in the world is an Artrain

You'll see all kinds of modern art on the Artrain.

Michigan Artrain is a bright red 415 ft. long train with six cars but no engine. It is the only traveling art museum of its kind in the nation.

It carries a first-rate collection of paintings and sculpture from public and private collections to rural areas of the state which do not have easy access to an art museum.

The Artrain first took to the tracks in May of 1971 as a project of the Michigan Council for the Arts, a state agency. The funds needed to create Michigan Artrain were provided by the Michigan Legislature, the National Endowment for the Arts, and the Michigan Foundation for the Arts, which represents numerous corporations, foundations and individuals.

After three and one half years of touring under sponsorship of the Michigan Council for the Arts, Michigan Artrain became an independent organization which is honorarily chaired by Mrs. William Milliken.

Funds for touring have continued to be provided by the State Legislature, federal and private sources as well as regional sponsoring organizations.

You may wonder how a six-car, bright red train travels from town to town without an engine. That's where the Michigan Railroads Association fits in.

The participating railroad companies donate the services of engines and crews to move the train and provide guidance in scheduling and repairs. Without full cooperation of the railroads, Michigan Artrain could not exist.

In Boyne City's case, the Artrain is coming from its last stop, Alpena, thanks to Michigan Northern Railroad and the Boyne Valley Railroad.

2 Million Visitors

The Artrain has visited 110 Michigan communities and 19 other states since 1971. Nearly two million people have visited Artrain.

Boyne City is fortunate to be one of 12 Michigan communities visited by Artrain this year. Next year Artrain will be touring outside the state of Michigan.

Artrain's caboose is a 1906 Michigan Central car, perhaps the oldest car still on rails in the country. The coaches are from the 1940's.

The Artrain staff will not reveal the total value of this year's Artrain exhibition, "The Changing Canvas," which will be coming to Boyne City, but one of the paintings on the train alone is insured for a half million dollars. Needless to say, Artrain is equipped with a sophisticated computerized security system to protect its art treasures.

Artrain travels with its own staff of about six people. Most of these people are practicing artists in their own right.

"The Changing Canvas"

Artrain's exhibition changes annually. This year's exhibition "The Changing Canvas" will show a progression of American modern art style from 1945 to the present with an emphasis on design. It will be vastly different from the more traditional exhibition which visited Petoskey last summer.

The Artrain will feature sculpture, paintings and a studio car which is manned mainly by local artists. The studio car gives the public a change to watch a practicing artist at work and to ask questions.

The true Artrain spirit, however is to be more than a traveling museum. It is designed to be a celebration of art. The Artrain people stress community-wide involvement in the Artrain visit.

This celebration takes on the unique character of the community which is the location of Artrain's visit.

No two visits are alike, but one thing is certain: Awareness of the arts and community heritage are enhanced by Artrain's presence.

Viewing tip: Take your time, enjoy it!

The 1980 Artrain exhibit "The Changing Canvas" will take you beyond traditional art forms into exciting, often controversial, concepts of modern art.

Appreciated by some and sneered at by others, modern art forces us to permit our minds and imaginations to run freely.

Here are some viewing tips from the Artrain committee:

- Take time to enjoy each work of art. Don't rush. Don't be afraid to walk up and take a closer look.

- Consider some of the following questions: What is it and how was it made?

What do you like about it? How does it make you feel? How do you suppose the artist felt? Why do you suppose the artist used a certain color or shape?

- Allow yourself to open your eyes and minds to new thoughts, new ways of seeing things.

- Recognize that each of the artists featured have the ability to create a familiar landscape, but each has chosen a new technique or design to express his feelings and talent.

- Exercise and trust your own judgment. Art should be experienced sensually, emotionally and spiritually. The purpose here is to generate interest, explore reactions and discover a new way of looking at things.

- Ultimately it is up to each individual to search within himself and the world around him to determine what art means.

Joseph Albers, a major artist and art theorist wrote this poem about the definition of art.

What is art to others is not necessarily art to me.

Nor for the same reason, and vice versa.

What was art to me
or was not some time ago, might have lost that value or gained it in the meantime, and may be again.

Thus art is not an object
but experience.
To be able to perceive it
we need to be receptive.

Therefore art is there where art seizes us.

...and how did it ever get to Boyne City?

Dedication, enthusiasm, and lots of hard work from the six-person Artrain steering committee and others is what has made this Artrain visit a reality.

They accomplished the monumental task of coordinating the efforts of more than 300 people who are participating directly in the Artrain visit and related festivities.

The steering committee has met weekly since October, 1979. Late in the summer, the city of Boyne City was contacted by Artrain Community Coordinator Jim Patterson. Boyne City had been chosen as a host for Artrain in 1980. It was necessary for the city commission to appoint a steering committee to make the arrangements.

Members of the steering committee met for the first time in October. They were assigned these responsibilities: Gail Toffolo, general chairman; Betty Adgate, education; Mary Greetis, festival; Ed Thurston, facilities; Carol McTaggart, promotion; and Tim Clifton, finance.

In the fall, steering committee members attended a workshop in Lansing. There with other committee members from around the state they learned the extent of their duties and ways in which they could successfully carry them out.

MONEY WAS TIGHT...

The first objective was to collect money to finance the train's five-day visit. The Artrain staff suggested that $2,500 was a reasonable goal to shoot for. So, armed with the fund-raising techniques recommended by the Artrain staff, the steering committee wrote letters to area businesses asking for a specific amount of money to be donated.

The letter got both favorable and unfavorable results. The committee members collected about $1,400 of the $2,500 needed, but some business people were a bit put off that they were asked to give a specific amount of money.

"No one knew where the economy in Michigan was going at the time," said Gail Toffolo. "People would say they wanted to help, but they just couldn't donate money."

In fact, up until mid-May, the Artrain steering committee had collected just $200 over the money necessary to pay for the $595 Artrain electrical generator fee, insurance, room and board for the Artrain

More than 70 individuals and businesses donated money or services to make the Artrain visit possible. A list of the donors is on page 8.

Artrain committee members Betty Adgate, Mary Greetis and Gail Toffolo display the quilt they will be selling tickets for this weekend. Raising money was a major responsibility of the local steering committee.

staff, and miscellaneous fixed expenses. "We weren't going to be able to cover our expenses for the Art Carnival, publicity or the opening ceremonies," Toffolo said.

...BUT OTHER DONATIONS HELPED

That's where the "in-kind" donations helped the committee. The project budget was lowered from $2,500 to $2,000 because of donations such as publicity, a building for the opening ceremony, site preparation, flowers for the site, food and beverages for the opening ceremonies, helium for the Art Carnival balloons, a discount on motel rates, and free artistic services -- to mention a few.

Over 70 individuals, businesses and service organizations have made donations to the Artrain steering committee.

"It's been a tough year financially for all businesses, but people have been great. They have all given what they could," said Toffolo.

Currently the Artrain steering committee has raised about $1,800 of the $2,000 it will need to cover the cost of the project. Ann Thurston of P's and Q's has donated a handmade red calico queen-size quilt and two matching pillow shams to be raffled as a fund-raising project. Tickets for the quilt are available at several locations in Boyne City and from any steering committee member. The quilt drawing will be Monday night at 7 p.m.

"We wanted to raise all the money necessary for the Artrain visit and the festival activities so we could offer everything free. We wanted the Artrain visit to be something everyone in the community could enjoy, whether they were unemployed or not," Toffolo added. "I'm confident we'll reach our goal."

WHERE TO PUT IT?

Another difficult situation was deciding on a site for the Artrain. After changing from a waterfront site because of a curve in the railroad tracts to a less desirable site, Ed Thurston told the Artrain steering committee that they could use the main Boyne Valley Railroad track next to the Depot Restaurant. "The location is perfect," said Toffolo.

Ray Street will be closed from Lake Street to Park Street to form a pedestrian arcade.

How was the Artrain going to get to Boyne City? Here was another question that had to be answered. Michigan Northern Railroad could get it to Boyne Falls, but how was the committee going to get the train into Boyne City?

The Boyne Valley Railroad was very cooperative, but they weren't sure they would have an engine by June 11 to bring the train to Boyne City.

Someone came up with the idea of using a trackmobile and bringing the train in car by car. When the local steering committee checked with state Artrain officials to see if this would be possible, they found out that the Artrain would have to be rewired to make it possible to have it brought in car by car.

Artrain agreed to rewire the train, so the Boyne Valley Railroad would have the option of using either a locomotive or a trackmobile.

"It's a good thing that they rewired it," said Toffolo, "because it appears that we will be bringing the train in car by car."

COMMUNITY EFFORT

Raising money, and working out site and logistical problems weren't the only hard situations the steering committee had to handle to make the Artrain visit a reality. They've had to do a massive job of coordinating.

"It was our concept that the Artrain was a community-wide activity and we wanted people from all different groups in Boyne City to work together for it to be Boyne City's Artrain."

So we hesitated to give any one group sole responsibility for an activity. We didn't want this to be a way for clubs to expand their own names in the community; rather we wanted it to be a way for Boyne City as a whole to polish its own apple. At first this was a hard concept for us to get across and we had some misunderstandings.

"But now there are over 300 people who have in some way been involved with Artrain's visit," Toffolo continues. "Although this is a project sponsored by Boyne City, it isn't a steering committee project or a city project. I really am proud of the broad-based community support which has made the Artrain visit a reality. I hope everyone comes to enjoy it."

The Snowbelt Chorus (above) and Lakeside Players (at right) are among the many performers who will entertain during the Artrain Celebration.

Artrain will be center of activity for many festivities

The Artrain visit to Boyne City will include a number of related festive activities occurring in the vicinity of the train. Thursday through Monday.

THURSDAY

Boyne City's Retail Board is sponsoring a "Great Train Robbery." More than 30 businesses will be open Thursday evening from 6:30 to 10 p.m.

The Snowbelt Chorus, a local barber-shop group, will be singing on Water Street from 8 to 8:30 p.m. Works of three local artists will be given away. There are other surprises in store for shoppers who come downtown Thursday evening to view the Artrain and browse in the stores.

A student art show will be on display at the Boyne City Library Thursday, Saturday, and Monday.

FRIDAY

Local country-rock band Captain Fishhook and His All-Night Crawlers is reuniting for a special appearance Friday night at 5 p.m. in Artrain's honor. The band will be playing in the Artrain stage area on Ray Street and Park Street.

SATURDAY

Saturday is filled with special events beginning with the Lioness Club's salad and cold-cut luncheon located at 208 S. Lake Street, just south of the Artrain at the Jaycee Bingo Hall.

An art carnival for people of all ages will be held from 12 to 5 p.m. in the immediate vicinity of Artrain on Ray Street between Lake and Park Streets. (See story on page 8 for details.)

Saturday's entertainment at the Artrain stage will be kicked off at 2:45 p.m. with a performance of three songs from the musical "Annie." The performers will be Boyne City Elementary School students Billy Casper, Karman Penfold and Sara Bergmann. Director of the musical is Katherine Bourdon, and the accompanist is Kim Bergmann.

Bluegrass music starting at 3 p.m. when Mike and Steve Harmeling will perform, also in the Artrain stage area.

Mike and Karen Deschryver will follow at 3:30 with two piano recitals. The Deschryvers are piano students directed by Linda Fry.

From 3:40 to 4 p.m. music students directed by Phyllis Hosier will perform. Michelle Newville will play a piano solo. Roberta Korthase and Barb Barden will perform on piano and flute.

The Boyne City High School Drama Club will perform from 4 to 4:30 when Kristy Johnson will take over with her magic show.

Entertainment concludes on Saturday with a Boyne City high school band concert directed by Jim Bogetto.

SUNDAY

On Sunday from 12 to 4 p.m. there will be an Antique Auto Show. Also from 12 to 4 p.m. the Presbyterian and Methodist churches will be giving guided historical tours of their church buildings.

From 3 to 3:30 p.m. the Lakeside Players, a local theater group, will be performing.

MONDAY

A drawing for a queen-size red calico quilt with matching pillow shams will be held at 7 p.m. Monday. The quilt was donated by Anne Thurston of P's and Q's.

Tickets for the quilt are available at several downtown locations or from Artrain committee members during Artrain's visit.

Carnival really gets you involved with art

Have you ever had the urge to paint your own custom design on a car or even your body?

Or have you wanted to squish barefoot through paint and create your very own masterpiece?

If any of these whims or other equally creative thoughts have passed through your mind, you'll enjoy the Art Carnival on Saturday from 12 to 5 p.m. on Ray Street next to the Artrain.

There will be 11 "creativity stations" to choose from for people of all ages. Whatever your fancy, you'll get to try a hands-on experience with art.

For all the art carnival activities, materials are provided free. If you need to bring something from home, it will be noted.

If you like, you can start out by creating your own masterpiece with paint. Phyllis Hosier will be at the easel eager to help you get started.

Be A Clown!

You can paint your own face with real clown make-up. If you want to add a rubber nose, a wig or other clown accessories, be sure to bring them from home. The clown make-up will be provided.

Styrofoam printing is an easy way to reproduce your own design. Beth McGraw will show you how to create and print with styrofoam at one station.

If you're an aspiring sculptor, Vivi Woodcock and Sue Cousineau will help you create monumental wood scrap sculptures.

For all of you auto painters, two old cars are available for custom paint jobs. For this particular activity, the Artrain committee needs contributions of old paint brushes, drop cloths, and leftover oil base paints or enamels. Contact an Artrain committee member if you have such items to donate.

Body Painting

At another station artists will be on hand to paint a picture on your body. (Don't get excited! Painting will be done on hands, arms, faces and knees only.) The paint is guaranteed to wash off eventually.

Bring a T-shirt or scarf from home and Joyce Baker will show you how to silk-screen one of two designs on your garment.

Barefoot people unite! With the help of Sherry Hartman you'll create your own barefoot footprints. (Soap and water will be available for cleanup when you're finished.)

Learn the art of making marbled designs on paper at the paper marbling station. The finished product makes beautiful gift wrap or kite paper.

If painting, printing or sculpture don't turn you on, help out with the chalk sidewalk mural. Get down on your hands and knees and help decorate the street.

Or try a new way of flying high with sky sculpture. Hellum and mylar balloons will be combined to create mystical floating forms in every shape imaginable.

The art carnival will provide everyone who attends a chance to be creative and have some fun with art.
