Crowd urges settlement

Teacher strike drags on

BY JIM BAUMANN
EAST JORDAN - This community's teacher strike entered its second week Tuesday with about 400 people attending a school board meeting to hear all kinds of arguments aired.

Teachers, school board members and citizens all were given the opportunity to speak their mind.

But when it was all over, neither side expressed any willingness to bend. Another contract negotiating session was scheduled for Wednesday.

Some citizens who spoke out at the meeting were clearly supportive of one side or the other. Others implored both sides to quickly compromise to end the strike.

See page 4 for statements from both the school board and the teachers' association.

Hagen said the low level of trust between the board and teachers was to blame for negotiating problems. He suggested the board "seriously consider" granting the teachers binding arbitration, one of the major requests in the negotiations.

The audience applauded when he suggested the board and teachers negotiate face to face "continuously for 24 hours with bread and water until the contract is settled."

Rodger Ransom, president of the local teachers' association, presented the board with petitions signed by 570 people. The petitions urged the board to reach an agreement on a new teachers' contract "which includes binding arbitration."

Binding arbitration was by far the most discussed issue at the meeting, and many of the people who addressed the large crowd said they thought the board should grant this to the teachers.

Board member Bob Sherman reiterated the board's position that the local board should retain final authority on grievances filed by teachers.

"We were elected by the people of the district and we are accountable to the people of the district," Sherman said.

Teachers have pointed out that East Jordan and Boyne Falls are the only schools in a 17 district area of Northern Michigan which don't have binding arbitration.

Ransom said that the vast majority of teachers grievances are settled before they reach arbitration. Only 11 cases have gone to arbitration since it has been implemented in other Northern Michigan schools, he said.

Of those 11 cases, arbitrators ruled in favor of the school board in six, and in favor of the teachers in five.

The school board revealed its latest salary proposal to the teachers.

The board offered a $1,250 raise to all teachers, regardless of experience. This would raise the average teacher's salary by about 7.3 percent, from $17,125 to $18,375.

The teachers were originally asking for increases ranging from 12 to 15 percent, but they say they are willing to compromise. They say they are not amenable to an across-the-board raise, however.

Court order possible?

EAST JORDAN - What if the teachers' strike drags on and on with no end in sight?

There is a possibility that a court injunction may be sought by the school board or local citizens to force teachers to return to work—and to force further negotiations.

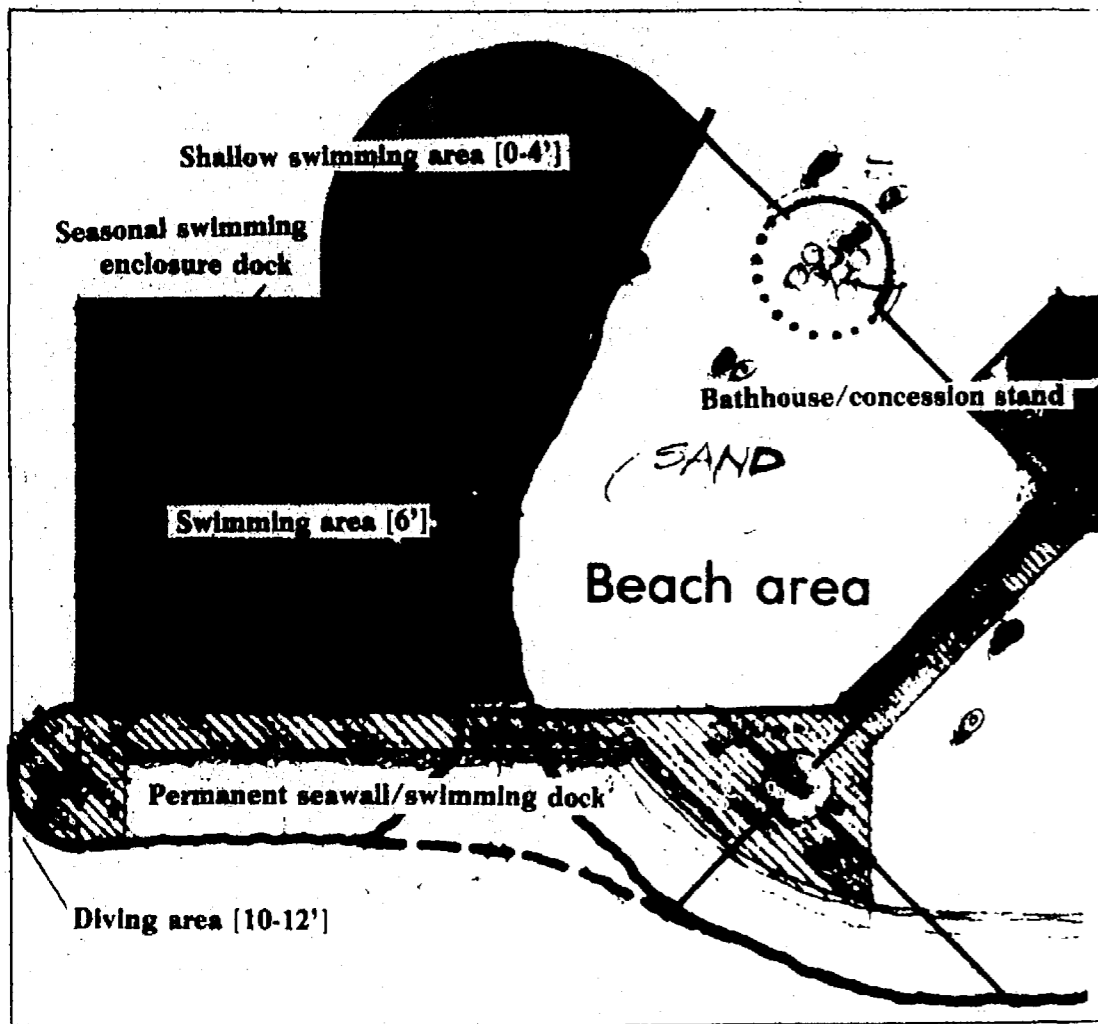

Neither the East Jordan teachers or school board are willing to discuss this alternative at this time, but it is a tool that has been used in other districts.

School board President Mary Jason told The Press after Tuesday's board meeting that the board is "considering" the injunction possibility along with other alternatives which she did not elaborate on.

Teacher association negotiator Len Staley said the teachers would not be in favor of an injunction unless it was tied to forced "round the clock" negotiating.

If a judge simply orders the teachers back to work, Staley said, serious bargaining would be delayed even further because there is no longer a pressing reason for the board to compromise.

Finally...a beach for Boyne City?

BOYNE CITY - For over two decades, individuals and groups have been pursuing a public beach in Boyne City, but the latest pursuit may finally make it possible.

A hearing last Thursday, chaired by City Manager Tim Clifton, revealed a site plan detailing proposed beach and park improvements at Veterans Memorial Park.

The consulting firm of Johnson, Johnson and Roy, the same firm which worked on the city's comprehensive plan, drew up six master plans for the entire Memorial Park. Feedback was gathered and one of the six plans was then chosen as a final choice.

The whole plan will be completed in a step-by-step manner over a decade. The cost of the program could be about $1 million, but Clifton noted that matching state funds, possible federal grants, and local volunteer work could bring down that figure dramatically.

The beach is the first step because most citizens view it as having the most priority. Clifton said local people need an easily accessible beach. "We have five miles of waterfront but we're the only community that doesn't have public swimming. The new beach is designed to serve Boyne City residents."

The beach, which would take about three years to complete, will feature three different swimming areas: shallow (0-4 feet deep), regular (6 feet) and diving (10-12 feet).

Clifton said the park plan has three main goals: the formation of a public beach, making the park more pedestrian-oriented and making a new walkway system lead to park activities and connect with the downtown area.

The latter two goals will be accomplished by adding asphalt walkways and a concrete waterfront boardwalk, and having only one road (which leads to a centrally-located parking lot for 126 cars) for vehicles to enter and leave.

The park plan, which will now go before the city, planning and parks and recreation commissions for their endorsement, also contains a bathhouse/concession stand, a covered pavilion, shuffleboard and horseshoes for senior citizens, an amphitheatre, a bridge across the mouth of the Boyne River and an extension of Water Street in Sunset Park where motorists could still drive and take a close look at the lake.

Magistrate will still be provided for EJ

BY BARBARA CRUDEN

EAST JORDAN - District Court officials say they will still provide a magistrate for East Jordan when one is needed.

Their response came after East Jordan Police Chief Joe Hammond told the city council on Sept. 2 that the magistrate would no longer be serving the city. His report prompted the council to write a "strong letter asking reconsideration" of the matter.

Hammond told the council he had no information as to why the half-day-a-week service was being discontinued. "It was a phone call," he said.

About the call, District Judge David Fershee said later, "Nobody ever said they're not going to have a magistrate, period."

Patricia Conkle, the clerk magistrate in question, told The Press the service is still available "whenever there is a need."

She explained she and Judge Fershee made the decision about two weeks ago when she began "handling all the work for the county."

Fershee said Conkle had tried to reach Hammond, but had not been able to talk to him directly before the city council meeting. She has since been able to discuss it with him.

Although the magistrate won't be on a Wednesday schedule—mornings in East Jordan and afternoons in Boyne City—she will come to hold informal hearings on civil infractions, make decisions, and have complaints signed whenever there is a need.

"It won't take long to get (anything) done," Fershee said when asked how promptly she could respond.

Conkle noted on many of her Wednesdays no one at all came in.

Also at the Sept. 2 city council meeting Hillcrest Subdivision property owners received a hearing on their petition for paving Orchard Drive, Woodland, and Lakeview. Owners of over half the front-footage were represented on the petition, brought to the council by realtor Ben Schenck at the previous council meeting.

Residents at the hearing complained that Hillcrest had been accepted into the city before the council passed an "80-20" motion, in August of 1978.

This motion called for residents to pay 80 percent of paving costs for new roads before a development was accepted by the city.

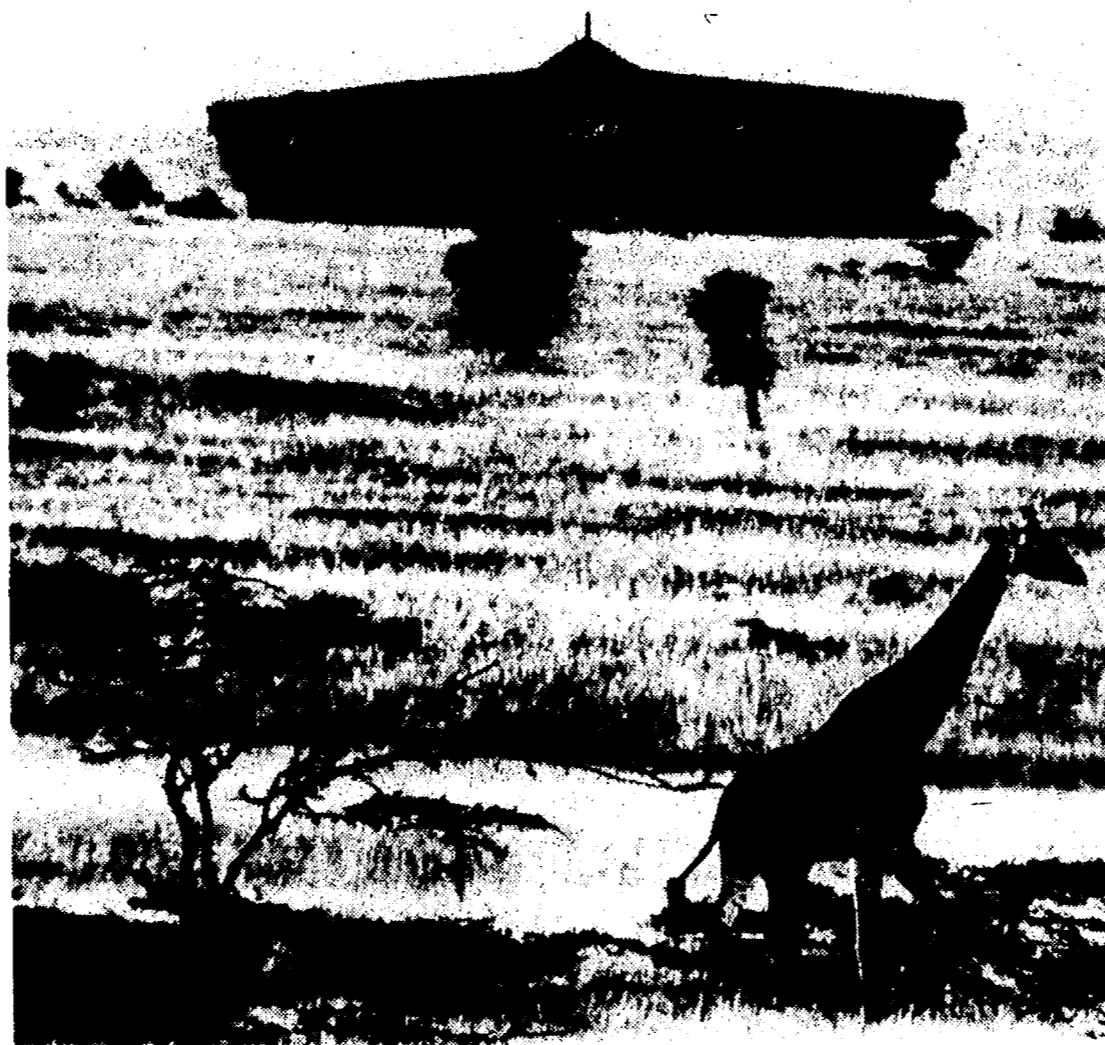

At the council meeting following the hearing, the council voted to rescind the 1978 motion by a count of 5-0 with two abstentions.

Council members noted the street paving needs have already been allocated for the year. The street committee will draw up a list of priorities for unpaved streets.

City Superintendent Herm Rasch's request for repaving on Fourth Street between Williams and Garfield, Elm Point Drive, and a light seal on a portion of Boyne Road also went to the street committee for action.

Bids for widening and curbing part of Main Street's west side were opened. The job includes resetting six manholes. The street committee will study the bids and recommendations for widening the east side also.

Councilman Al Joseph showed plans for the airport. A motion was made to have the taxi-way and tie-in area finished along with the paving of the runway. The cost will be covered from the original allocations.

From Walloon to Kenya

Photographer's artistry blooms in Africa

BY TRISH WRIGHT

WALLOON LAKE - What would make a successful New York fashion model give up the glamour of being photographed to becoming the photographer? The answer lies in Africa.

Carol Cawthra, daughter of Hank and Martha Cawthra of Walloon, will no longer pose for advertisements. You won't find her on any billboards, but you may find her behind her 500 millimeter lens in the hinterlands of Nairobi, Kenya.

In 1969 Carol made her first African safari. She became interested enough in the wildlife there to return in 1972 when she began photographing the animals for wildlife movies and documentaries. Her "stills" have been used in educational books and the news media.

It can be dangerous work. Carol recounts a time in Zaire, Africa, when working with a group of photographers for a documentary on gorillas, that the photographers were rushed by the three male gorillas of the tribe.

"Our leader was a man who had been photographing this particular gorilla family for some time. Every day we wore the same clothes and walked in single file so that we were recognizable to the gorillas. One day we made a mistake. Our leader was not first in line. Casimir, the gorilla's leader did not recognize the first face and began to demonstrate against us. The other two gorillas rushed us and the pygmy scouts threw up their knives and fled under the bush. Some of us were cut by the falling knives. It was terrible. They had made demonstrations against us before but this was real."

Carol takes many of her wildlife pictures on the 20,000 acre game ranch that she and her husband, David Hopcraft, own. The ranch is about 30 miles outside of Kenya's capital, Nairobi and employs 50 Swahili speaking Africans.

The Hopcraft ranch began as a cattle ranch by David's family. But the Hopcraft herd is dwindling. There are only 1,500 head of cattle now. "We are trying to diminish the size of our herd," says Carol.

"Cattle are not indigenous to Kenya. The Asians and Europeans brought cattle to Africa. They also brought energy forms and technology with them, like fuel and wells to bring up water for the animals," she said.

Because there are problems of raising cattle in the semi-arid climate, the Hopcraft ranch is beginning to experiment with raising game.

"Alternatives to cattle must be explored. Game is the thing of the future. Indigenous animals have a symbiotic relationship with the land and vegetation. All the species on the ranch have a holistic effect. Different animals eat different types of grasses," says Carol.

Despite the psychological and cultural taboos of eating wild game, Carol and husband David believe that game ranching may be a way to feed Third World countries and to conserve African wildlife.

David Hopcraft won the Mitchell prize last year for his ideas on establishing wildlife ranches in dry areas of the world. The Mitchell prize, founded by George Mitchell, a Texas geologist, honors people who make limited or sustained growth proposals for the future.

Dr. John Tanton from Petoskey, a Mitchell Prize winner for his essay on immigration, says, "There are five bi-annual conferences in Texas. Contestants must submit an essay from their ideas about limited growth and alternative lifestyles." A $5,000 prize is awarded the winners, a trip to the conference, as well as publication of their essays.

As a result of attending the conference, David and Carol have been invited to Mexico to lecture and present a slide series on their game ranching ideas. The dry climate of Mexico is similar to that of Kenya.

Life on the Kenya ranch sounds primitive—no electricity, dirty water, laundry done by hand in a tub. But the lack of luxuries doesn't seem to bother Carol. Power for her darkroom equipment comes from a generator. Water must be filtered through cheesecloth before used.

Windmills pull up water for the animals. Grass must be burnt for feeding because wild animals prefer short grass. Oxen are being trained to carry supplies but the roads through the ranch require constant attention. Carol says, "They are especially bad during the two rainy seasons. The surface of the roads turns to grease."

The 50 kilometers of perimeter fence was hand woven by employees on the ranch. Machines were made to crimp the heavily galvanized steel from old car parts. The fence stands 7 1/2 ft. tall with another 1 1/4 ft. of barbed wire. "It's loose but strong," Carol explains. "It will give if an animal charges it. Larger animals on the ranch may jump the fence but it has discouraged them from leaving and it keeps people out."

The wild game on the Hopcraft ranch includes wildebeests, gnus, gazelles, giraffe, zebra, wart hogs, dik dik, and eland.

Much of the research and experimenting done on the ranch will be conducted by three Cornell University graduate students this year. They will concentrate on the animals' nutrition, economic factors involved in marketing the game, and veterinary medicine.

One of Carol's current projects is writing a book of social commentary of Kenya. "Ninety percent of Kenya's people live on a subsistence level. Because of the population increase there are more slums. Education is a luxury for the natives. Public school is provided up to the fourth grade. Transportation is a problem for most children and the families don't have the means to continue their children's education."

Carol is presently exhibiting her photos at Chandler's For Hunting & Fishing, 217 Howard St., in the Gaslight District, Petoskey. The ambiance is suitable for her work. She has managed to catch the spirit of African mustangs as well as African giraffes.

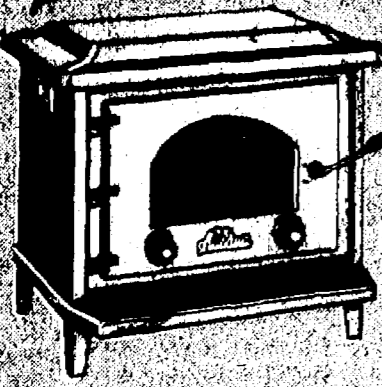

The French Cultural Center in Nairobi will feature Carol's artistry this December. Few of us will be able to attend the exhibit in Nairobi. A glimpse of African wildlife is available for the next several weeks in Petoskey. A trip to this miniature museum is second only to an African safari. Her photos will be there through the month of September, open Monday through Saturday, 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

The Menominee MBW-7900 Boiler is an energy-conserving supplemental woodburning boiler for use with conventional gas or oil fired boilers for central hot water heat. The MBW-7900 is controlled by its own thermostat. When heat is required, the thermostatically controlled draft blower is actuated. When the water in the boiler reaches a pre-set temperature, the circulating pump automatically begins circulating water through the hot water system. As the desired heat is reached, the draft blower is automatically shut off. The circulating pump will continue operating until the water drops below a pre-set temperature. (See installation instructions for setting of aqua-stat) If the fire should die down or be allowed to go out, the existing oil or gas fired boiler will be automatically activated to assure uninterrupted heat.

GREAT LAKES ENERGY SYSTEMS

Monday through Saturday 10 a.m. - 6 p.m.

Downtown Boyne City
Phone 616-582-2601

It's a sure sign that winter is just around the corner when the big boats return to the Northern Michigan Electric Company steam generating plant in Advance. Sixteen shipments of coal are expected before the lake freezes.

Electric plant expects 90,000 tons of coal

BOYNE CITY - Some 90,000 tons of coal are expected to be on hand when the last of a planned 16 shiploads of coal has been delivered to the Northern Michigan Electric Cooperative plant located in Advance.

John Clark, production manager for Northern Michigan Electric, explained that each of the ships carries 8,100 to 8,200 tons of coal per load. "If we get all that we have scheduled we'll have 16 shiploads before the lake freezes," Clark explained.

Clark said there was no reason to think they might not get all that's planned. "The earliest the lake freezes is sometime in early December and we try to get all our coal in by November," he further said.

Serving 22 counties through three rural electric cooperatives, Northern Michigan Electric now has almost 73,000 customers. The peak demand in 1979 was 102,700 kilowatts, which was up only 600 kilowatts from 1978.

When asked about the small increase in kilowatts Clark said the increased cost of energy couples with the conversion by more and more people to wood heat explained a lot of it. He further stated that the lack of snow and winter tourists in the area last year had also kept usage down.

Noon meeting changed in BC

BOYNE CITY - The City Commission this week decided to change its weekly noon meetings from Tuesdays to Mondays.

On the second week of each month, however, the commission will continue to meet on Tuesdays—at noon and at 7 p.m.

The new Monday schedule will begin on Sept. 29. There will be no meeting next week because City Manager Tim Clifton and City Clerk Tom Garlock will be out of town.

The schedule change was made following a request by The Charlevoix County Press. The Press has found it difficult to cover the Tuesday noon meetings because Tuesday is deadline day for the weekly newspaper.

East Jordan's Rhonda Beishlag and her two brothers each raised a Hereford and they proudly displayed them at the Charlevoix County 4-H Fall Achievement Day. From left is Garrett with "Chocolate Fudge," Rhonda with "Lucy" and Aaron with "Fireworks." Rhonda and Aaron obviously also took part in the clown activities.

4-H Achievement Day draws 200 exhibits

BOYNE CITY - Fifty-four children were responsible for the completion of over 200 exhibits in the annual Charlevoix County 4-H Fall Achievement Day which took place at Whiting Park on Aug. 29.

Most of the entries were in the crafts, but other exhibits on view were baking, livestock, gardening, (flowers and vegetables), wildflower conservation and clowning.

The following is a list of participants:

Harborage groundbreaking

A crowd of more than 100 well-wishers and city officials were on hand Saturday morning for a groundbreaking ceremony at the Harborage condominium and marina project on Lake Charlevoix in Boyne City. Mayor Keith Fitzpatrick and developer Rick Smith turned over the ceremonial first shovel of dirt. Construction of condominium units is expected to begin soon, with completion of the first units planned for next spring.

Have Funerals Changed?

The name of the local newspaper in Tombstone, Arizona, is "The Tombstone Epitaph." The town's famous graveyard, Boot Hill, is a widely known tourist attraction and an American history lesson all in one. Tombstone has purposely secured its niche in western America by clinging to elements of its historic past.

While times and cultures do change, some traditional observances have never altered significantly. Such is the case in the observation of the traditional full-service funeral.

Progress of civilization has brought about improved techniques and products, but the basic reasons for conducting traditional funeral services have remained the same. Dignity, respect and love for the individual; loyalty to high ideals; and expressions of tender sympathy are timeless, universal qualities among advanced societies.

We are experienced and professional funeral directors. As such, you may confidently put into our care all the responsibilities of preparation and conducting of a traditional full-service funeral.

Good arguments for local MESC office

In a time of record-high gasoline costs and near-record unemployment levels in Charlevoix County, the possibility of a temporary MESC pay station in Boyne City is attractive.

The Michigan Employment Security Commission is now considering a request for the pay office, and approval seems likely.

The Boyne City Area Chamber of Commerce initiated the request several months ago, and enlisted the assistance of State Rep. Steve Andrews. City Manager Tim Clifton has also worked hard on the project.

The Chamber pointed out to the MESC that such an office would be a time and energy-saver for the large numbers of unemployed people in the Boyne City and East Jordan area. Jobless workers now have to drive to Petoskey, 17 miles from Boyne City and 28 miles from East Jordan, to get unemployment checks.

With gasoline costs what they are, that's an expensive trip.

The Chamber, of course, is also concerned that a fair portion of those unemployment dollars are probably being spent in Petoskey, since people have to go there to get their checks.

The current recession has been hard enough on small businesses. With more people unemployed, there are fewer local dollars available. And of the fewer available dollars, more are going out of town because the MESC office is in Petoskey.

The fact that 1980 is an election year is undoubtedly helping Boyne's effort to land a local MESC pay office. In fact, so much pressure was being applied a few weeks ago that the MESC and Rep. Andrews' office announced that the office had been approved and the pay station would be located in City Hall.

approved the City Hall site because it wouldn't cost them anything.

That leads us to a final point. Nobody wants to look a gift horse in the mouth, but... in the interest of governmental efficiency, it seems that the MESC rules could have been bent slightly to allow a one-day pay station in Boyne City.

A five-day office will certainly be nice, but one day would have been sufficient. That was all the Chamber asked for in the first place. But another regulation got in the way.

The MESC says that one-day pay stations must be at least 20 miles from a branch office. So Boyne City missed out by three miles and had to take a five-day office—even though they had a better, rent-free location for their one-day office.

Thus, the costs for the five-day office will be much higher for both rent and staff. Since it is a "temporary" office, we might expect to lose it when the jobless rate goes down.

In the meantime, if this is the case, the Chamber and Rep. Andrews might work on getting the MESC to change its rule to allow one-day pay stations for under the 20-mile limit. That would be a sensible solution for a long-term basis.

Editorial

That, however, was premature. The City Commission had given a commitment to provide space for the MESC on a once-a-week basis, but couldn't give up the large space needed on a five-day basis. Unfortunately MESC regulations state that temporary offices must be open five days a week. So the approval announcement had to be retracted, and a five-day office had to be found.

After a long search, such an office was found (it's at 210 S. Lake St.), and the request was recently re-submitted. Hopefully it will be approved, but the $250 monthly rent could be a stumbling block. The MESC had quickly

East Jordan's teachers were still on the picket lines early this week, as contract negotiations entered their second week. Youngsters watching the picketers are, no doubt, wondering when they will be returning to classes.

EJ teachers, board explain their positions

The strike by teachers in the East Jordan School District is now in its second week.

As of early this week, the teachers and the local board of education were still at an impasse on major issues such as salary, binding arbitration and teacher layoff and recall procedures.

Both the teachers and the school board issued statements about their general positions on Monday.

In the interest of keeping the community informed about all sides of the issue, The Press is reprinting both statements.

For recent developments and more detail on specific issues, see story on front page.

1980-81. During the past year, state revenue was reduced by order of the governor and it is certain that he will order further reductions in the year ahead.

Unemployment is a fact in Michigan and is very high here in our own community. This affects both local and state revenue for schools. Everyone must face the reality of a badly damaged Michigan economy.

These are constraints which your board of education must—and does—recognize.

Within these constraints, the board of education is attempting to reach an agreement that is fair and equitable and which this community can afford.

We urge any citizen who wants further information or who has questions to call us. We also urge similar calls to NMEA leaders regarding their stance on these issues.

binding arbitration. What the board offered was "advisory" arbitration. All that an advisory arbitrator does is study the grievance and make recommendations. These recommendations may or may not be followed by their party. (It is for this reason that advisory arbitration is so pointless and has so little meaning in the fair settlement of a grievance.)

On the other hand a binding arbitrator listens to the presentation of facts of the grievance from both parties, studies his findings and submits a decision which both parties are bound to accept.

Another stumbling block to our contract settlement is the recent offer by the board of an across-the-board increase. The board's offer of a flat rate increase is totally unacceptable because it undermines the beginning teacher's justified credit for experience.

As in all other jobs, teachers start at the bottom of the salary scale. An "across the board" raise denies the beginning teacher the raise already earned by the previous year's service. A sacrifice of monetary gain by many teachers is necessary in order to guarantee beginning teachers a fair and just wage. The reason the EJE must reject any "across the board" raise is because it is unfair to all of our teachers with 1-11 years of teaching experience.

In closing, the EJE wishes to repeat what it has said all along. And, we feel this is the echoed request of all the people: "We charge the board with its primary responsibility... provide education in our community... This can be speedily accomplished by a fair and equitable settlement of the contract."

School board

The East Jordan Board of Education wants to assure the citizens of this community that it will continue to bargain in good faith with the Northern Michigan Education Association (NMEA), which negotiates for the East Jordan teachers, to reach a fair and equitable settlement. However, this board of education does not intend to break its public trust by negotiating an agreement beyond its fiscal resources.

Citizens should also understand that the board of education is attempting to negotiate during very uncertain economic times. At this time the legislature has not set the amount of state aid for next year. So the board can only speculate about the amount of resources it will have for Finally, we want to address the charge of "foot-dragging" by the board during recent negotiations. Since Aug. 28, bargaining in East Jordan has been in mediation. It is still proceeding in the direction and under the schedule of the state mediator.

Teachers

The East Jordan Education Association continues their job action because a contract settlement has not been reached. The EJE is not asking for anything that is not already available to other teachers in this area. What we want is a fair and just contract.

The board of education did not offer

Letters to the editor

School cut is short-sighted

Editor,

On Aug. 21, the East Jordan Board of Education met to determine further budget cuts due to the millage defeat. One of the programs determined expendable was the Emotionally Impaired Program (Project LEAP) which was housed in the East Jordan Middle School.

The rationale given for terminating the program was that even though it was 100 percent funded by Char-Em, the funds were received on a one-year delayed basis and the East Jordan budget couldn't tolerate the expense.

The program was scheduled to begin its third year Sept. 2. Its demise is inexcusable and unwarranted, and the alternative proposed by Char-Em, as printed in the Aug. 29 Petoskey News-

Review, is inadequate and unacceptable.

Prior to the inception of the self-contained, regional E.I. Program in East Jordan in September, 1978, Char-Em had attempted to service those students diagnosed as emotionally impaired with a program similar to the one presently being proposed. The effort was less than successful.

The program in East Jordan demonstrated quantifiable success. During its two-year existence the program staff had developed a sound structure and methodology for working effectively with the students assigned to the program.

Now, with the cancellation of the program those two years of effort have been discarded, not to mention the expense to the taxpayers. A continuous program is essential for these students.

The students' best interest was definitively not at the heart of the school board's decision. It would be my hope that the parents of the eight to 10 students scheduled into the program for this year's session would take the legal action at their disposal to cause the reinstatement of the program in its entirety. It would be my additional hope that the parents of the seven graduates of the program support the efforts of the current program parents.

Michael J. Distelrath
Michael Distelrath was the teacher of the Emotionally Impaired Program for the past two years. He resigned this summer to take a position as a Catholic school principal in Ionia.

Gossip is old hat nowadays

Dear Editor,

Some people have asked why I do not write a nice, juicy gossip column for the County Press. I thought they were joking. But when I realized they were serious I was flabbergasted.

There's plenty of gossip stuff in Boyne City and East Jordan. Enough to fit everyone's need, if they'd only pay attention to it.

But they don't. They hear it and reject it and go about their business as though nothing was happening behind their backs at all.

So a gossip column would be passe. (I looked that word up. It means old stuff.)

A column of tantalizing tidbits would have been heard and forgotten before the paper hit the streets. In these days gossip travels faster and is forgotten quicker than one of Ronald Reagan's famous boo-boos.

For instance: In the restaurant one woman was saying to another, "Did you know that Geraldine left her husband and kids to live with John?"

The other lady raised her eyebrows. "You don't say." Then she looked at her plate. "This meat needs more salt."

If I were to write that the editor came to work sober Monday morning, the reader would grunt, toss the paper aside and switch on the TV set.

Marshall Sayles

Maybe when old Ralph was writing stuff by lamplight, but not now. Today, so many people are brazenly doing their thing, we older people would wear ourselves out trying to chew on the gossip.

I was standing by the hotel watching Boyne's Fourth of July parade. The girl next to me was wearing a light summer dress open to her navel. I turned to a stranger. "My God, look at that," I said. "Aw, that's nothing," he said. "You ought to live in Detroit."

It makes me mad to see how our beautiful people have taken all the excitement out of pointing and whispering and tut-tutting.

So, Mr. Editor, I cannot write a gossip column for the Press. It would be too difficult to come up with the kind of stuff that would leave our modern day readers flabbergasted.

You are lucky. You can still write an editorial that will make people sit up and take notice. But a gossip column? Not in our present society.

I couldn't flabbergast the readers even though there is one awful hand-wringing need for it.

Or if the column explained what some folks were doing at a football field after the game was over and the lights turned out, most readers would say, "I could have told you that."

"No. Good, old tongue-wagging grapevine stuff doesn't strike home like it did when we oldsters were younger."

So Ralph Waldo Emerson was wrong. He said small town gossips fill a necessary need. They keep townspeople from doing some of the hair-raising things they'd like to do but are afraid of what people might say.

Skates, fudge and other tidbits

Bombs Away

I can't wait to see my first basketball game at Boyne Falls' matchbox gym. It will be interesting to see triple-figure scores and half-court shots falling in like free throws.

Rolling in EJ

Probably the most entertaining part of any city council meeting I've been to was at East Jordan when the commissioners tested out several kinds of roller skates before making a purchase for the Civic Center. They didn't actually wear them and go for a spin around the room, but there was enough entertainment while they were constantly spinning the wheels at their tables.

Waters Under Troubled Bridges

Some of you have probably been stopped and then waited on the infamous Zilwaukee Bridge while traveling on I-75.

James Gibowski

I wonder if that bridge's designer helped engineer the bridge in Charlevoix.

D- in Priorities

According to Boyne City School Superintendent Rich Kelly, the State of Michigan has been steadily decreasing the amount of state aid to schools while increasing its aid to welfare. I think Gov. Milliken has his priorities all screwed up in trying to balance the budget.

The Press vs. Government

Boyne City City Manager Tim Clifton is a very good tennis player. I think I can handle a racket pretty well, but he recently creamed me. However, sometime this fall I predict I'll get revenge.

Party Hardy

There wasn't anything mentioned in this newspaper about Terry Toomey hosting a party for his friends aboard the Beaver Island Ferry on Aug. 13. There were three Press staffers on board but they decided to have a good time, which was very easy, instead of taking notes and photos. No one had to worry if the ferry did capsize. There were enough empty bottles on board which would have allowed everyone to float to shore.

A Roar in Detroit

The Detroit Lions should win their division this year. They have a healthy Gary Danielson and Billy Sims, they play in the NFL's weakest division and they have an easy schedule. They only play one team outside of their conference which finished above .500 last year. That team is Los Angeles and they have already crushed the Rams.

Fault Advertising

John McEnroe may have won this past weekend's televised U.S. Open tennis championship by defeating Bjorn Borg, but he will no longer win me over with his "moving up" 7-UP commercials. While changing courts, it was quite obvious he was drinking Coca-Cola.

Oh Fudge

I've been putting this off for too long—I was a "fudgie" a couple of months ago. While I was in the area interviewing for this job, I stopped into Murdock's in Charlevoix and bought some maple and peanut butter-chocolate bars. I haven't bought any fudge since then. I guess I am now an official resident of the area.

Lots of help for swim program

Editor,

The 1980 season has ended for Boyne City Swim School and it was one of the most successful ever for us. Sometimes it seems like we don't have a chance to thank everyone that helps us be successful and I would like to take this opportunity to thank a few.

The community of Boyne City should first be thanked for supporting such a fine program as Boyne City Swim School. It is a United Way (Community Chest) program that exists for the purpose of teaching children how to swim. Not many communities can boast they have such a program available or that they can provide it to the students at such a low cost (only $12 per family).

The students of the Boyne City Swim School should also be commended for working eight weeks a summer to complete Red Cross swimming requirements. Wouldn't the Boyne City community be a much safer community if all their students participated in the program?

The County of Charlevoix should be thanked for maintaining such a fine park as Whiting Park. It is a beautiful park, well maintained by Philo Sumner. This past summer Mr. Sumner has added a new parking area to the park and brought in more beach sand to make it a more safe beach. The county should be proud that they have allowed the park to be expanded each year under Mr. Sumner's direction.

Mr. Sumner, is a further help to the swim school program because he helps in crowd control and maintenance of the docks we use, to the extent that he puts carpet on them to keep our children from slipping.

Also, the Charlevoix County Sheriff Department should be thanked for the help they give us in patrolling boats that come to close to the marked buoy areas of Whiting Park. They also accompany our lake swimmers on their August swim from Young State Park to Whiting Park to add to the safety of the large group (this year 26 strong).

Lastly, I would like to thank the staff of Boyne City Swim School for helping the program develop into the one it is today and for giving their all to the students. Thanks Steph Moody, Jodell Almesbury, Becky Almesbury, Pat Upton and Amil Lasater.

Board won't answer phones?

Editor,

Why aren't our East Jordan School System administrators and board members answering their phones?

A number of parents, including myself, have tried to call them all week. The phones ring and ring and are not answered.

We citizens pay their salaries and they won't even talk to us! That makes a statement in itself!

Answer your phone Mr. Rullman, Ms. Ruby, Ms. Jason, Mr. Sherman, Mr. Griffin, Mr. Drenth, Mr. Bauer, Mr. Galmore and Mr. Nachazel (no phone?)! What are you afraid of?!

Porky visits downtown

A curious porcupine took a stroll through downtown Boyne City early one morning last week, and he ended up in a small tree which is planted in the sidewalk in front of Valentine Studios and Charlevoix Properties on Water Street. Realtor Gary Winters saw the prickly-quilled porky in the tree as he came to work. Winters called the local Department of Natural Resources office, which sent someone to rescue the scared animal, which was then transported out of town and returned to freedom.

German resident sends greeting to 1955 grad class

Mrs. Vera Tokoly has arrived home after spending the past four weeks visiting European countries. While in Germany, she was a dinner guest at the home of Heinz Stormer. The Stormer family was here in July to attend Mr. Stormer's 25th Boyne City High School class reunion. He again wishes to extend greetings to the members of his graduating class.

Shirley and Harvey Crosier and Irene and Larry Williams were among the 100 guests attending the Lamb and Rum Bash held at the home of the Rich Bernackis in Petoskey on Saturday. The lawn party was in farewell to Rich, a project engineer at Northern Michigan Hospitals, Inc., who is being transferred to the Virgin Islands to build a hospital there.

Ramona McGeorge returned home this week after spending a few days of vacation visiting her aunt Mrs. Mary Clancey in Flushing. She also visited a few of her cousins while there.

Labor Day guests at a cookout at the Oral Sutliff home were Thurman Sutliff and Mr. and Mrs. Jim McCarry.

JoAnne and Earl Bennett took their daughter to Allendale where she will be attending Grand Valley State College in their nursing program. Her address is: Susan Bennett, Ravine Apartments - No. 87, Grand Valley State College, Allendale, MI 49401.

The first Girl Scout leaders' meeting was held at the Presbyterian Church on Monday night for new and past volunteer leaders.

Marie Schmittiel, the Bill Dunlops and the Robert McCulloughs all went to the football game in Alma on Saturday.

Weekend guests of the Larry Lingles were his parents, Gayle and Ann Goodall, his brother Stuart Goodall, and Steve Kirby, all of Tawas.

Weekend guests of Fay and Jean Limron were their daughter Betty Jean and husband Rick Austin and two children of Durand.

Dave Manglos, son of Pat and Jack Manglos of Independence, Mo., who has been here with his grandparents, Helen and Walt Fritz, attending North Central Michigan College in Petoskey, left to attend Northern Michigan Tech. in Sault Ste. Marie.

Overnight guest at the Lloyd Van-Alstine home was their aunt Mrs. Howard Tumser of Grand Rapids. Other weekend guests were Terry's friends and former classmates Debbie of Northwood Institute in Midland and Don of Detroit.

Thurleen and Joe Eaton spent the past week at their cabin in the Upper Peninsula.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hoyt of Reading spent a few days visiting Jean and Bill Korhase. Other guests were former residents Mr. and Mrs. Andy Kish of Phoenix, Ariz., and their daughter Mrs. Joan (Kish) Colby of Highland, Ind.

Mrs. Gail Toffolo returned over the weekend from taking her mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Toffolo, back to Detroit after Mrs. Natalie Yaich of Walloon Lake, Meguzee District president, and Florence Hollaway, representative of Montana, in Michigan attended the meeting of the Empire Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Stars on Monday night.

Herb Hamlin of Eustis, Fla., returned over the weekend on business.

House guests this week of the Keith Waggoners were their uncle, Mr. G. P. McManus of Birmingham, soon to be 91 and still going out on the golf course, and his daughter Mary McManus of Bloomfield Hills.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Frantz attended the Coddington-Morrison reunion over the Labor Day weekend at Washington, Mich. Mr. and Mrs. Archie Paterson of Elgin, Scotland are visiting with the Frantz.

Twenty-four seniors were present at Thursday's bingo games. Winners were Louise Morton, Violet Mueller, Alice Munson, Flossie Boughtman, Pearl Apins, and Alfreda Foster. The door prize went to Leslie Norton. Donations this week were from Gil Coons, Boyne Laundry & Dry Cleaning, Inc., Boyne Valley Printing Company and Florrine Kuzmik.

Horton Bay Church to hold special services

The Horton Bay United Methodist Church will be holding special services Sept. 14-19, with Rev. Kenneth R. Vaught of Hope United Methodist Church, Hastings, as the evangelist.

Rev. Vaught holds degrees from Indiana Central University, and Evangelical Theological Seminary, Naperville, Ill. He pastored 11 years in Indiana and 4 in his 13th year in Hastings.

The services begin Sunday, Sept. 14 with worship at 9:30 a.m. and Sunday School at 10:30. Sunday evening and each evening through Friday, "Focus," a pre-service prayer meeting will be held at 7 p.m., followed by the regular evangelistic service at 7:30.

There will be a special emphasis and award each evening as well as special music. Plan now to attend.

The church is located on the Boyne City-Charlevoix Road, six miles out of Boyne City and is pastored by Rev. Allan R. Valkema. The public is welcome to attend.

Coles celebrate wedding in Boyne City

Marcy Eaton and Gary Cole, both of Boyne City, were joined in marriage August 23 at the United Methodist Church in Boyne City.

The Reverend Ray Grienke conducted the ceremony and the bride was given in marriage by her father, Robert Eaton.

The bride wore a long polyester crepe gown with a high fitted bodice with lace overlay, wide scoop neckline with a lace ruffle and an A-line skirt.

Maid of honor for the wedding was Cherie Toton and Ray Miner was the best man. Bridesmaids were Robin Renkiewicz, sister of the bride and Bonnie Cole, sister-in-law of the groom. Ushers were Dan Cole, brother of the groom and Bob Eaton, brother of the bride.

A reception was held at the American Legion Hall in Boyne City.

Parents of both couples are Boyne City residents, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Cole, parents of the groom and the Robert Eatons, parents of the bride.

The groom is employed by Bendix-Courter, Inc. and the bride works for the Boyne City Lanes.

EJHS graduate weds

East Jordan resident Donna M. Kline and Michael P. Wiklanski of Petoskey were wed in an afternoon ceremony at St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church in Petoskey on Aug. 23.

The bride, a 1970 graduate of East Jordan High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Kline of East Jordan. She is employed as a seamstress at Adalaide's in Harbor Springs.

The groom, a fireman for the city of Petoskey, is the son of Julia E. Wiklanski of Petoskey and Peter Wiklanski of Chicago. He is a 1968 graduate of St. Francis High School in Petoskey.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a chantilly lace gown with Queen Ann neckline, bishop sleeves and a skirt with double flounce circling hem.

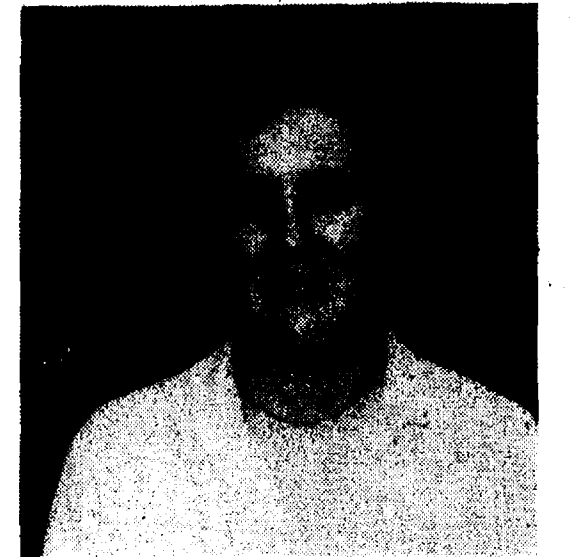

Maid of honor was Sherry Derenzy and the best man was John Wiklanski, brother of the groom.

The flower girl was the groom's niece, Amy VanDeCar and Ken Kline Jr., the bride's nephew, was the ringbearer.

Bridesmaids included Karen Shivley, sister of the bride, Sharon Cassidy, Helen Savoic, and Nancy McDonald. Ushers were James Hamrick, Bill VanDeCar, John Pickering, Paul Wiklanski, Jim Gibes, and Matt Balasa.

A reception, held at the American Legion in Charlevoix, was hosted by the bride's parents and assisted by Mary Balasa and Cass Pikur.

A wedding trip to Chicago was planned and the couple will reside in Petoskey.

All interested persons are invited to attend. For additional information contact Dorothy Leslie at 582-9826.

Pickles and relishes nice for a bazaar

My friend and neighbor, Mrs. Nellie Newton gave me this recipe for her favorite pickles. She says they are delicious and so pretty and attractive in the jar. These would be nice to make for that church bazaar.

BREAD AND BUTTER PICKLES

1 gallon sliced cucumbers
4 small onions chopped
2 green sweet peppers chopped
2 red sweet peppers chopped
1/4 cup salt
Slice and let stand in ice cubes 3 hours.

Syrup

5 cups sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons tumeric
1/2 teaspoon cloves
2 tablespoons mustard seed
1 teaspoon celery seed
5 cups vinegar

Combine these ingredients, bring to a boil, then add the drained vegetables. Bring to a good boil and put into pint jars and seal. Mrs. Newton says that one peck will make two pickles.

SWEET RELISH

Here is a good way to use those green tomatoes that do not ripen before that first frost.
6 lbs. (22 medium) green tomatoes
1/2 lb. (3 medium) onions
1 large stalk celery
1/2 lb. (2 medium) sweet red peppers
1 1/2 cups sugar

1 1/4 cups white vinegar
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon allspice
1/4 teaspoon tumeric
1/4 teaspoon cayenne pepper
1 1/2 teaspoons celery seed
3 tablespoons salt
Wash and trim vegetables, quarter and

Cooking Yesterday & Today

with Bea Smith

remove stem end from tomatoes. Put all vegetables through medium blade of food grinder. Drain excess liquid.

Bring sugar and remaining ingredients to a boil, add vegetables and simmer 10 minutes stirring occasionally. Continue simmering while quickly packing 1 hot sterilized jar at a time. Fill to 1/2 inch from top. Be sure vinegar solution covers vegetables. Seal each jar at once. Makes 5 to 6 pints.

CHILI SAUCE

This is Margie Behling's recipe for chili sauce. It's the best!
1 peck ripe tomatoes
12 onions
2 stalks celery
3 peppers
Chop all together. Add 1/2 cup salt and let stand overnight. Drain well in the morning then add:
3/4 teaspoons cloves
1/4 teaspoon ginger
1/4 teaspoon allspice
1 quart vinegar
6 cups sugar

1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon black pepper
Bring to a boil and can while hot. "I only use enough vinegar to moisten the vegetables," says Margie. We have eaten this chili sauce on hot dogs roasted over an open fire in the Behlings' yard on those wonderful long summer evenings. What a delightful way to entertain one's friends.

Tree farms certified

Basil Hause of Hayes Township, and Harold Goebel of South Arm Township, both Charlevoix Soil and Water Conservation District Cooperators, were recently certified as tree farmers.

Hause, a winter resident of Royal Oak, manages 56 acres in Hayes Township and Goebel 120 acres in South Arm Township.

Presenting of the certificates and Tree Farm signs at a recent meeting of the Charlevoix Soil and Water Conservation District was Bill Korthase, Jr., chairman of the district and Tom Stone, cooperative forester, Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

They will be displaying green and white signs indicating land which is dedicated to continuous production of forest products including timber, wildlife and recreation. The American Tree Farm Program, sponsored by American Institute and local industries, recognizes landowners who do an outstanding job of managing their woodlands.

Both Hause and Goebel meet the qualifications of a tree farmer. They have completed improved thinning to keep their woodlands healthy and productive, and each year carry out a prescribed Woodland Management Practice that will benefit the timber and wildlife habitat.

Bill Grimm, an official with the local conservation district, said "With responsible landowners like Hause and Goebel, the forest future in northern Michigan will be assured. The tree farm program is proud to welcome them into the growing ranks of tree farmers."

Landowners interested in having their woodlots inspected for certification, at no charge, contact the Charlevoix Soil and Water Conservation District, 319 N. Lake St., Boyne City, phone 582-6232.

Bible School opens

CHARLEVOIX - A Bible teaching center is now open in Charlevoix, with classes scheduled to begin on Monday, Sept. 22.

Bob Reid, organizer of Berean Bible Teaching Center, said he is starting

"Northern Michigan's first full-time Bible School."

Located at 219 Park St., the center will offer a "college level" program three hours a day, five days a week. Classes will be held from 9 a.m. to 12 noon daily through next June.

In-depth teaching will also be offered at 10 a.m. each Sunday, which will include workshop, family singing, teaching and a potluck luncheon.

A Tuesday evening Bible Study class will also be held at the home of Doug and Lorrie Way from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

Reid expects to make Charlevoix his home base of operations for a broader organization he founded in 1976, called Faith Tech Bible School. Started in Scottville, Faith Tech opened branches in seven other Michigan locations, one in Oklahoma City and eight in the West Indies.

For further information about the local Bible teaching center in Charlevoix, call Bob or Karen Reid at 547-6343.

EJ Garden Club

Gwen Frostic, the "Lady" of Arts and Flowers, will be the guest speaker at the meeting on Monday of the East Jordan Garden Club. Miss Frostic is a wildlife artist, poet, philosopher and businesswoman whose studio and shop in Benzonia attracts 1200 people daily throughout the summer months. Her work is enormously popular and is sold in all 50 states and in 71 foreign countries.

The meeting will be held at 1:30 at the residence located on Elm Pointe.

PWP corn roast

An Adult Corn Roast will be held at the Boyne City City Park on Saturday at 7 p.m. Bring corn in the husk, a dish to pass, and your own table service.

For additional information regarding the picnic or Parents Without Partners, contact Marje Hoekwater at 582-7377.

Information on local clubs sought by Press

The Charlevoix County Press is trying to compile a list of all clubs and organizations in the area.

If you are an officer or member of some group which meets in the area, please contact us with the following information: name of group, when your group meets, objectives of your organization, who is eligible to join, and the name, address and phone number of your membership chairman and your publicity chairman.

The information gathered will be printed by The Press at a future date for the use of newcomers and other interested persons. If you have any questions please contact Kathy Johnson at 582-6761.

Over 450 attend picnic

With 469 registered participants in the Senior Citizen picnic which was held last Saturday at Whiting Park, the members of the Charlevoix County Commission on Aging declared the picnic a great success.

Over 569 barbecued chickens were sold during the picnic and county seniors were entertained by the Barbershoppers and members of the Original Michigan Fiddlers Association Jamboree. Charles Mason of East Jordan was the program master of ceremonies.

Door prizes were made and donated by Margaret Thompson of East Jordan. Winning the first prize of a plant and plant hanger was Guy Woodcock of Charlevoix. Second prize winner of a plant and hanger was Violet Doby of East Jordan.

Four smaller plants and hangers were given as third prizes to Mildred Jackson of Boyne City. Bea Cherne of Boyne City, Ole Nielson of East Jordan and Mary Balch of Ellsworth. A quilt made by the Boyne City Senior Citizens was won by Rebecca Nauffs of Gaylord.

The picnic committee was comprised of Art Sorworski, Dorothy Pelton, Phyllis Tison, Hap Cunningham, and Eleanor Square. In addition, some 20 Boyne City and Boyne Falls senior citizens donated their time to make the picnic a success.

There were 469 registered seniors who attended the Saturday picnic held at Whiting Park. Those attending enjoyed barbecued chicken, square dancing, the Barbershoppers, and good ole' fiddlin'.

Gymnastics students get discount

Students attending the Charlevoix School of Gymnastics who wish to use the Charlevoix County Transit bus service will receive a 15 percent discount for bus fare allowance per month from the school, announced Jim Mitchell, owner of the school.

Mitchell also indicated that those youngsters interested in joining the school can still do so. "Our mailer failed to reach everyone by the time it should, so we're still trying to fill our classes," Mitchell said.

Students using the transit service will receive badges to assist the drivers in accommodating them. For more information regarding transit rides contact Kelly Stackus, the bus dispatch operator, at 582-6900 or 582-6964 in Boyne City for pooling arrangements.

The school is beginning its third year of gymnastics. Students not already enrolled who want more information about the tuition and class times, may contact Mitchell at 547-5181.

Members of the Original Michigan Fiddlers Association Jamboree and Margaret Ernst of Harrison on the piano were among the entertainers at Saturday's senior picnic sponsored by the Charlevoix County Commission on Aging.

Library to host series

The Boyne City Public Library, 201 E. Main St., will be hosting the television series "America," through Dec. 1. To be shown each Monday evening at 7:30 p.m., this Alistair Cooke series is a sweeping and intimate exploration of the land and people of the United States.

The films are a mix of the old and the new with aerial cinematography and on location sequences combined with period engravings and portraits and details of historic memorabilia.

Included in the series will be "Home Away from Home," to show Monday. Merchant adventurers and social dissenters pour in from Elizabethan England to settle America's East Coast. Regional character evolves as a landed gentry prospers in the highly productive feudal South.

Each of the "America" series is in color and is some 52 minutes in length. Recommended for ages 12 and older, the series was originally shown on NBC-TV.

Other titles in future weeks include "Making a Revolution," "Gone West," "Fireball in the Night," and "Domesticating a Wilderness."

Auto-Owners

for Mobile Home Insurance

If your present mobile home insurance protects just your mobile home, talk to us at Auto-Owners. You could be skating on thin ice.

Auto-Owners mobile home insurance protects more than your mobile home. If you own a garage or other structures on your dwelling property (which are not used for business, rental or lease), an Auto-Owners policy automatically covers it. For up to 10 percent of the value of your mobile home. At no extra charge.

Ask your independent Auto-Owners agent about mobile home insurance. He'll help you get your bearings.

Zoning & Building Protection

Most communities now have some rules about what you build where, and for what purposes. Check these restrictions carefully before buying or building. You could discover, for example, that local zoning laws forbid running a business out of your home. Or you may be prohibited from using certain building materials, or building a guesthouse on your land. Generally, your recourse is to appeal to the local board for a variance, an exception to the rule.

Sometimes the law requires you to take out a building permit in order to make changes in your home. Normally, a permit is required just for major projects, not simple tasks like laying down a new floor or adding cabinets or bookcases. If you aren't certain about the need for a permit, it's wise to check. Also, be sure that any contractor you hire has obtained the necessary permits. To be safe, have that guarantee in writing. Also have him state in writing that the work he completes will comply with the local building codes.

Being pursued by a host of Harbor Springs defense men doesn't stop Rambler John Tompkins from gaining some yardage.

Face Tawas Friday

5 Ramblers score TDs, crush Harbor Springs

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
BOYNE CITY - Rambler coach Bob McCullough saw something happen for the first time in years during last Friday night's season opener. Several little kids were throwing a football around the field at halftime.

The kids, like every Rambler fan present, had good reasons to be excited because they had just witnessed Boyne City jumping out ahead of Harbor Springs 20-0 at the half. The Ramblers then continued their domination in the second half and finished with a 32-0 victory to snap a 13-game losing streak.

Boyne City hopes to make it two in a row when it travels to Tawas Area Friday night at 7:30 p.m.

Tawas Area, which defeated Boyne City last year, 27-0, lost in its opener to Sanford-Meridian, 18-13.

Boyne City showed good balance on offense as five different players scored touchdowns.

With 4:10 remaining in the first quarter, senior Kerry Kruzal ran through the left side of the line and scampered 12 yards for the Ramblers first touchdown.

Five minutes later junior halfback Benjie Williams ran 28 yards for the second touchdown and a running PAT made the score 14-0.

With 1:01 left in the first half, Todd Newville threw a 55-yard bomb into the hands of fellow senior Daryl Tims for another TD.

It appeared Tims was again ready to gobble up another long aerial in the third quarter, but he dropped the chance for a 40-yard touchdown.

In the fourth quarter, junior halfback Bob Christie ran 22 yards on a trap up the middle for a TD and another junior halfback, Kevin Crandell, closed out the scoring when he sped 32 yards with four seconds remaining.

The Ramblers, who played with five different quarterbacks, outscored the Rams (301-186 yards), outpassed them (99-15 yards) and had more first downs (12-4). The Rams fumbled seven times while the Ramblers never had to punt during the entire contest.

Williams ran 76 yards on six carries, junior Todd Rickard rushed for 61 on 17 carries and Kruzal handled the ball eight times and picked up 43. The Rams' Jeff Brown led all runners with 139 yards on 24 carries.

The hard-hitting Rambler defense was led by Kruzal's three solo and six assisted tackles. Other Ramblers with solo and assisted tackles were: Bob Prebble (2,4), Marty Moody (2,4), Paul Barden (1,7) and Bruce McGeorge (0,7).

While cars were honking outside the locker room and his players were just as noisy inside, McCullough said he was pleased with his team's performance.

"We talked about enthusiasm and togetherness during practices and tonight we got together."

He continued, "We hit well and it was great to be ahead. But the true test will be when they're behind."

Ram coach Lee McGonigal was also impressed with the Ramblers. "They just took off. I was especially impressed with their quickness and the way they stayed with it."

At Houghton Lake Friday

EJ faces 'toughest game'

BY JIM BAUMANN

EAST JORDAN - Coach Frank Holes thinks this Friday night's game at Houghton Lake will be "one of the best Class C games in the state and probably our toughest game of the year."

"I'm expecting a real donnybrook," Holes said. "We're really looking forward to this game."

For an early season non-conference game, the match-up is generating quite a bit of interest.

Both grid teams are defending champions of their respective conferences, and both have a large number of returning veterans from last year's teams.

East Jordan, in fact, will be putting a 12-game winning streak on the line Friday night.

Both teams are coming off lopsided first-game victories. East Jordan embarrassed Roscommon 38-0 last Friday, while Houghton Lake whipped Lake City, 35-0.

Holes said Houghton Lake sent five scouts to watch the Red Devils beat Roscommon, which is an indication that Houghton Lake is also taking the game quite seriously.

The Roscommon and Houghton Lake games are the result of a concerted effort by Holes to beef up his schedule. Last year, the East Jordan gridders breezed to a 9-0 record, but didn't make the state playoffs because they played a number of smaller (Class D) schools, and some of the Class C schools they played had poor seasons.

Scheduling a team from nearly 100 miles away, while dropping nearby Boyne City, caused some local controversy. But, Holes said, "We wanted to find out how good we are. That's why we made the schedule changes."

Houghton Lake, Holes said, "is a real fine ball club. They have 13 starters back from last year when they won their league."

"They have a more balanced attack than we have," Holes said, meaning that he expects the opposition to be passing quite a bit.

"They have an outstanding bootleg quarterback," he said, "and their other backs are tough, although they aren't very big."

Mike Sheridan stretches to haul in a pass for East Jordan.

"Our game plan will be to pound at them and try to wear them down with our running game," Holes said. "We found out against Roscommon that we are very physical, and we're going to use our size."

The ease of victory over Roscommon last week was "surprising, to say the least," Holes said. "I didn't expect it to be that easy. I thought it would be a knock-down drag-out battle."

The Red Devils demoralized Roscommon early in the game by stopping a drive at the four-yard line and then blocking a field goal attempt with 6:41 left in the first quarter.

The only other time Roscommon threatened, they fumbled on the seven yard line in the third quarter.

East Jordan scored all of its 38 points in the first half.

Steve Graham scored from five yards out with 47 seconds left in the first quarter, and Tom Peters ran the extra point.

Then the explosion started as EJHS crossed the goal line four times in the second quarter.

Peters, a junior reserve who was pressed into more action because of an injury to Graham, burst through for a 70 yard touchdown run at 10:15 of the second quarter.

"That run was a pleasant surprise," Holes said, "but we knew he was a good runner because he was a standout with the JV last year."

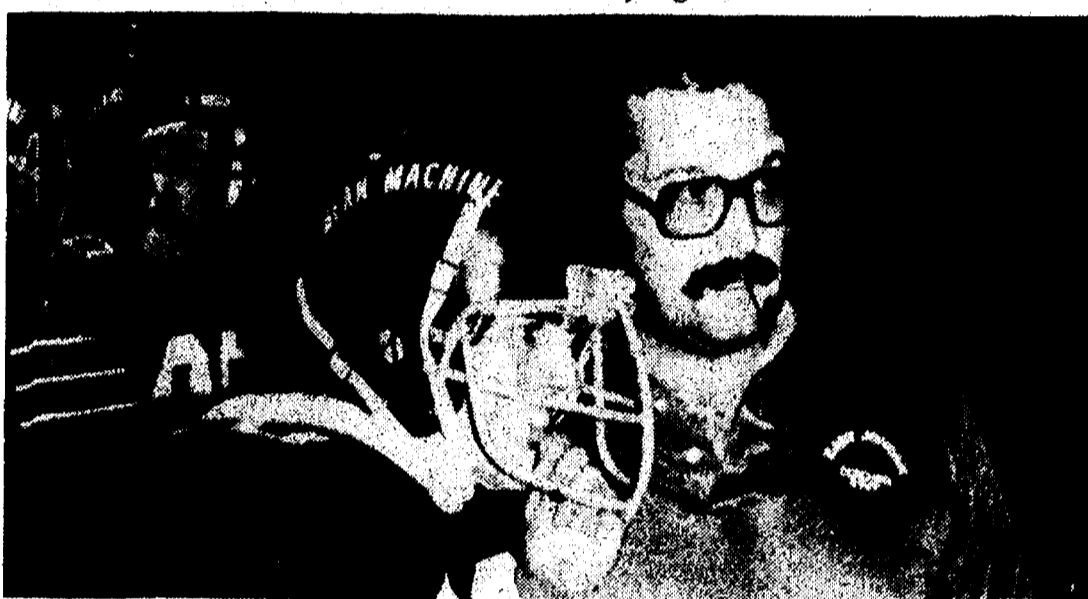

Peters' good showing allowed Graham to rest a pulled groin muscle for much of the game, but Graham, also a junior, had a second touchdown later in the second period on a 12 yard run.

Another TD came on a 35 yard pass from Del Ingalls to DuWayne Dougherty, and defensive back Larry Huckle closed the scoring with a 22 yard interception runback.

All total, East Jordan rolled up 471 yards on offense, 381 on the ground.

Junior fullback Bill Spence led the ground attack with 130 yards, while Peters had 104, Graham 57, Dougherty 42 and Huckle 20.

Ingalls completed four of six passes for 55 yards, while reserve quarterback Kevin Russel hit on two of eight for 35 yards.

East Jordan coach Frank Holes discusses a play with senior running back DuWayne Dougherty. All of the Red Devils' helmets are inscribed with the new "Mean Machine" nickname, as seen on Dougherty's helmet.

Boyne Sports Boosters' Club again aids athletes

"We've been in business" working for the school kids for "about 12 years," says Frank Shaler, president of Boyne City Sports Boosters' Club.

Shaler says the reason is that sports help a lot of young people survive school—sports being more than keeping kids off the streets.

All of the schools have had a struggle lately in balancing that concept into their budgets. Boyne City Middle School's inter-scholastic sports, for example, are whose children are no longer in school, gets together over projects for the schools, and it acts as focus of sports interest.

One year they got together and provided bleachers for the high school. Another year it was basketball courts at the elementary school.

This year is starting out with programs for the games.

Meetings of the boosters are informal. People call Shaler (582-7088) and are put on "the list." When a meeting comes up the boosters call everyone. The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. on Sept. 22 at Boyne City High School.

"Sports helped me," says Shaler. He's put his thanks into deeds.
