Warming up

A snowstorm helped thaw some hard feelings between Boyne City and East Jordan athletic departments last week. Because of the storm, the two schools lost basketball games with other schools on Tuesday and decided to play each other on Saturday. Boyne City Coach Bob Taylor, at left, and East Jordan Coach Bill Chase shake hands after the game, which Boyne won. For details on the end of the feud, turn to page 8.

Boyne City may look 100% better in 5 years

BY BARBARA CRUDEN

BOYNE CITY — "The town will look 100% better!" is the emphatic comment of City Manager Tim Clifton concerning the new five-year Capital Improvement Program he is proposing for city commission action.

Action on the entire city budget, including the improvement program, is not due until March 10, but since the planning commission is required to study the proposed changes in relation to the city's comprehensive plan, Clifton wants the city commission to discuss it in advance as well.

Clifton calls the program "costly but affordable." He notes it is to alleviate problems as well as to encourage new development in the business life of the city.

In the process of reconstruction, the plan is to improve appearances also, widening and redesigning sidewalks and putting up the new street lamps.

Larger communities have had annual planning for capital improvement for years. Two years ago Boyne City began to include capital improvement in the annual budget.

The work for those two years was spread all over the town, Clifton said.

"But the oldest part of the town is downtown," he pointed out. This is the part that needs reconstruction the most.

Last summer when the street crew was washing the street, the men invited Tim to open one of the hydrants.

"I opened the fire hydrant," Tim reported, "and nothing happened." He said the water simply leaked out around the base of the hydrant.

"About 90 percent of the people who visit the town, visit the downtown," he added in explaining the fact that for two of the next five years the program will concentrate on the business district.

The 1981-82 stage of the program will spend $135,000 on total wall-to-wall reconstruction of the block of Water Street between Lake and Park Streets.

This will include engineering, complete street and sidewalk reconstruction as well as replacement for old water, sewer, and storm lines, new service lines, new street light fixtures.

In 1982-83 and the subsequent years, the funding drops to $100,000. In '82 it will be for resurfacing streets, water line improvements, a traffic island in front of Country Star Market, drilling a new 12" well in North Boyne, and planning and improving industrial park lands.

The five-year program schedules the needs in terms not only of funds, but also of equipment dispersal, and outright need.

The following years include more street work, traffic islands at Roberts Restaurant, Ski and Shore Real Estate, Lindsay Insurance, Behling's Market, and Dr. Gary Mellon's office, a well in South Boyne, more industrial park development, and of course, more work on the water/wastewater lines.

Not only downtown, but all over town in the last three years of the program, sidewalks will be constructed and reconstructed. People will be able to roller skate to work.

Clifton pointed out cities make a distinction between capital outlay and capital improvement, the former pertaining to purchase of equipment and to small construction.

The capital improvements, on the other hand, relate to large-scale change and require engineering and specific funding.

The marina, for example, would be built with capital outlay.

Recently states and other agencies have been advising five-year planning "to provide continuity," Clifton explained.

Without planning, things constructed in one year may have to be torn up to make way for needed construction a year later, he said.

Affordability is the result of Federal Revenue Sharing Funds. The funds are assigned to city operating expenses. Money thus freed-up in the general fund would then be assigned to capital improvements.

Inflation may cause adjustments either in the funding or in the priority of improvements. Changes in revenue sharing apportionment could also affect the program, Clifton said.

The city commission would have to decide what adjustments to make if any of these factors loomed on the budget horizon. But whatever came up, the point of planning, Clifton said, does not lose its validity.

It's a big job assessing 20,000 parcels

BY KATHY JOHNSON

Property assessing is an important job and a big one in Charlevoix County. It requires training, certification, and time to properly assess the 20,004 parcels of land in the county.

"Assessors are supposed to check annually," said Joan Blanchard, Charlevoix County Equalization Director. "New rolls are being prepared now. All rolls must be completed by the first Monday in March."

"Then the board of review for each city and township has its first meeting on the first Tuesday in March. The public meeting is the second Monday in March. All these dates are set by law."

But getting those rolls ready is a long, time consuming process. Dave Willson, assessor for Eveline Township, explained how he made his assessments this year. "I didn't take an across the board factor. I went through and changed each one individually," he said.

Willson, who is a new assessor, spent one night a week for 16 weeks going to college last summer to pass the state certification examination. Following that the Equalization Department assisted him by having an experienced assessor visit property with Willson.

Eveline Township has 1,400 parcels of land and Willson has a property record sheet on each one. Willson explained that to assess them he uses the current year's sheets, last year's sheets, building permits, copies of deeds and any applicable construction or remodeling permits. These items notify the property owner. If they do change the assessment, up or down, then they must notify the owner and set another meeting to give him time to question the newest change.

Blanchard pointed out that neither the assessment nor the state equalized value raised taxes. "If there wasn't any millage voted, then there wouldn't be any taxes," she said. "The millage increases the taxes, not the assessment."

Condo developers head group which may buy railroad

BY JIM BAUMANN

BOYNE CITY — After a long period of uncertainty, a move is now underway to pump new money and ideas into the Boyne Valley Railroad.

The tourist railroad suspended operations in 1980 after being plagued with financial problems during four years of operation.

The local development group of Lake Associates has signed options to buy stock from three railroad directors. The combined total of the stock, if purchased, would give Lake Associates a majority interest in the railroad.

The BVRR is owned by about 300 local residents who purchased $79,000 worth of stock. But 80 percent of the stock is owned by eight people, according to railroad directors.

Rick and Dave Smith of rural Boyne City are the principal owners of Lake Associates. Their development group is now building The Harborage, a multi-million dollar condominium and marina development on Front Street in Boyne City. They also built Wildwood on Walloon, a condominium development on Walloon Lake.

Rick Smith points out that, while they don't have the time or expertise to operate it, they "feel strongly that the railroad could be and should be a major community asset."

"What we think we can do is bring together some railroad enthusiasts and investors to provide the capital the railroad needs."

The railroad board of directors have stated that they would like to sell the railroad to people with local ties who would continue to operate it as a tourist business and who would be able to invest enough money to run the railroad properly.

As reported at a stockholders' meeting in June, 1980, the railroad has about $186,000 in assets and $81,000 in debts. The company had trouble paying its bills because it was not making a profit. Last June, the board proposed that the railroad be reorganized or sold in order to raise more capital.

The assessor who rechecks all his property every year and reassesses it, "is really doing a good job for the taxpayer because he's letting them know where they stand," Blanchard said. If he doesn't reassess them every year, then the state equalized factors are used and the property owners don't know where they actually stand.

The board of review meetings are the public's opportunity to question and challenge their assessments. Property owners who question their assessments should take any documents they feel will substantiate their claims to the board of review.

The board of review members can make a change at the meeting, but if they say "we'll let you know" and they do not make any changes in the "new" assessment, they do not legally have to

Your taxes

This article is one of a series on property taxes which are appearing in The Press. Next in the series will be details about two state proposals to reduce or shift property taxes.

plus on-site visits, state equalized factors and multiple other considerations all go into properly assessing his 1,400 parcels.

Assessment is based on the way the property stood on Dec. 31, but in reality it is usually made prior to that time. Assessors find it impossible to visit all their property on Dec. 31, said Blanchard. Most assessors try to do this in the early fall.

Once the assessors have done their jobs (in this case they are completing rolls for 1981 taxes which were based on the way the property stood Dec. 31, 1980) the rolls are turned in to the board of review. This must be done this year by March 2. The board of review for each municipality will then meet with the assessor to discuss changes in assessments and to understand why these changes were made.

The assessors must then send a letter of notification to the property owners 10 days prior to the board of review public meeting, which will be held this year on March 9. Later meetings are also held. Schedules are now being printed in local newspapers.

The law requires that the first meeting must start at 9 a.m. and must meet for at least six hours. Some boards meet at 9 a.m., take a break in the afternoon, and meet again later that day, said Blanchard.

The assessor who rechecks all his property every year and reassesses it, "is really doing a good job for the taxpayer because he's letting them know where they stand," Blanchard said. If he doesn't reassess them every year, then the state equalized factors are used and the property owners don't know where they actually stand.

Grant to bring $2-million in construction

BOYNE CITY - After a good start with the Litzenger apartment for senior citizens, Boyne City Housing Commission has governmental approval for further construction—$1,995,390 worth. The money is a grant from Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

City Housing Commission Director Todd Sorenson reviewed the project with Boyne City City Commission at their noon meeting Tuesday.

He said construction is scheduled to begin June 1 and will be finished by January 1982. Actually, he said, it would have begun sooner, but it turned out some of the land needed, which had been platted as city-owned, had to be bought from private land holders.

To be constructed is the two-story wing adjoining the Litzenger building, two houses on lots on Ann Street; two on East Main, and a total of six dwellings on lots between Jersey and Jefferson.

City philosophy—approval by HUD—is that these low-rent dwellings for low-income families should be dispersed about the city, not built cheek-by-jowl in a "project."

"These people are citizens," said Sorenson. "We want (their homes) to fit in functionally with the community." The attractive, one-story brick or rough-siding homes will not be different-looking, he said.

The 30-unit addition to be built for senior citizens, and the landscaping to go with it, will cost $679,000, Sorenson told the commission. It will have gas-fired boilers and apartment temperature-control.

The three-bedroom houses will cost $28,700 each. Two-bedroom houses will cost a little more as they will be brick. The houses will be 24 x 44 feet.

Water and sewer lines will have to go in at Litzenger and lines laid around the lots on Jersey and Jefferson. The lots in this area are not suitable for septic tanks so the introduction of sewer lines will make the adjacent land much more valuable as building sites for others.

The water/sewer bill of $118,600 will also be covered by the grant money.

Sorenson says the money also covers street work which in some cases will amount to actual construction of gravelled street sections.

The bonding for a general contractor is unusually high—there haven't been many two million dollar projects in the area. Sorenson and the commission stress their hopes that much of the subcontracting will be local.

The grant is one allotted competitively. Boyne City has tried for it before. Although the technicalities involved have increased, the city's experience made it possible to save $25,000, Sorenson said, by not hiring a consultant.

Neighboring cities also have housing commissions. Charlevoix is at present putting up a high rise strictly for senior citizens.

We're glad you asked!

How does one deal with a deceased's belongings?

One of the most painful jobs the family of the deceased must face after the funeral is the disposition of the deceased's personal possessions.

Hastily discarding possessions is not always the wise thing to do. Memorabilia can become valuable with time; not intrinsically, perhaps, but sentimentally.

Clothing, jewelry, books, a stamp collection, a camera, a pocket watch—are these items to be discarded? Or retained as keepsakes?

We've observed that many articles, like jewelry, or a watch, are not discarded; rather they are prized by members of the family as precious mementos. Nostalgia often takes over and a simple item, like a small pocket knife, becomes a son's pride and bittersweet pleasure.

Clothing, on the other hand, may find its way into the hands of the needy by way of a favored charity; or, very often, many mourners take great pleasure in seeing a close relative regaled in a favorite suede jacket, a suit, a fur.

Big Rock film

Although President Ronald Reagan has never been to Charlevoix County, he did narrate a 12-minute film about the Big Rock Point Nuclear Plant in 1962. Reagan, an actor at the time, was shown on camera often during the film, but his parts were filmed in California. The film was made to tell about the building and future operation of Big Rock, which was the nation's fifth commercial nuclear power plant. There is only one print of the film left, and it is no longer in circulation.

'Water jet' updates city

BOYNE CITY - A "water jet," as City Manager Tim Clifton uses the term, is a $50,000-plus object used to unplug city water lines.

But the city had no water jet nor any $50,000-plus object used to unplug city water lines. The jet, mounted on a trim 1970 Ford truck, along with a 3,000 gallon tank and a powerful pump, will cost $19,000 after the trade-in for the rodder is accounted for.

The advantages are not only in the cutback of labor costs, but also in longevity, maintenance, and safety—several accidents to the work force have occurred in the 10 years' use of the rodder.

The water jet can be used for cleaning buildings and equipment, and even, Clifton adds, for additional fire fighting.

On Feb. 3, for their noon meeting the city commission members saw the water jet in action and, standing in a circle around the demonstration manhole outside City Hall, voted unanimously to purchase it.

The jet, mounted on a trim 1970 Ford truck, along with a 3,000 gallon tank and a powerful pump, will cost $19,000 after the trade-in for the rodder is accounted for.

Sen. Irwin to speak at Chamber dinner

BOYNE CITY - State Senator Mitch Irwin will be the featured speaker at the annual dinner of the Boyne City Area Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday, Feb. 24.

The dinner will be held at Boyne Mountain Lodge in Boyne Falls. A social hour will begin at 6:30 p.m. and dinner will follow at 7:30. Irwin, a Democrat from Sault St. Marie, will speak after dinner on current legislation affecting small businesses in Michigan.

Sean Ryan, one of Northern Michigan's most popular entertainers, will provide musical entertainment following Irwin's update on state legislation. Ryan sings Irish and American ballads and folk songs, as well as his own compositions. He is Co-owner of Ryan's Public House near Boyne City.

Tickets for the dinner are $17.50 per person and are available from Chamber board members and the Chamber office. Phone reservations are being taken at 582-6222. Ticket deadline will be Thursday, Feb. 19. Proceeds from the dinner will go to the Chamber for operations in the coming year.

New board members for the Chamber will be introduced at the dinner. Chamber members have received ballots to vote for three new board members from seven candidates: Ralph Gillett, Certified Public Accountant; John Kircher, Boyne Mountain Lodge; Richard May, Attorney; Tim Moody, Boyne City Lanes; Rick Smith, The Harborage; Lyssa Williams Truitt, The Depot; Dave Williamson, Dave Williamson, Insurance.

Books out, office supplies in

BOYNE CITY - Schafer's has closed out the bookstore portion of their store, located at 113 E. Water Street, and is planning to expand their office supply area.

Owner Gary Schafer said, "When Kate and I moved to Boyne City we wanted to bring the joy of reading to the area. Financially, we've just had to make the decision to close out the bookstore. It was a very difficult decision to make and we certainly appreciate everyone's support of the bookstore."

Schafer said the bookstore was too costly in space and time to be very profitable. "The office supply business just keeps growing and we want to develop that area more," Schafer said. "We're going to expand with more office machines and we're getting into computers."

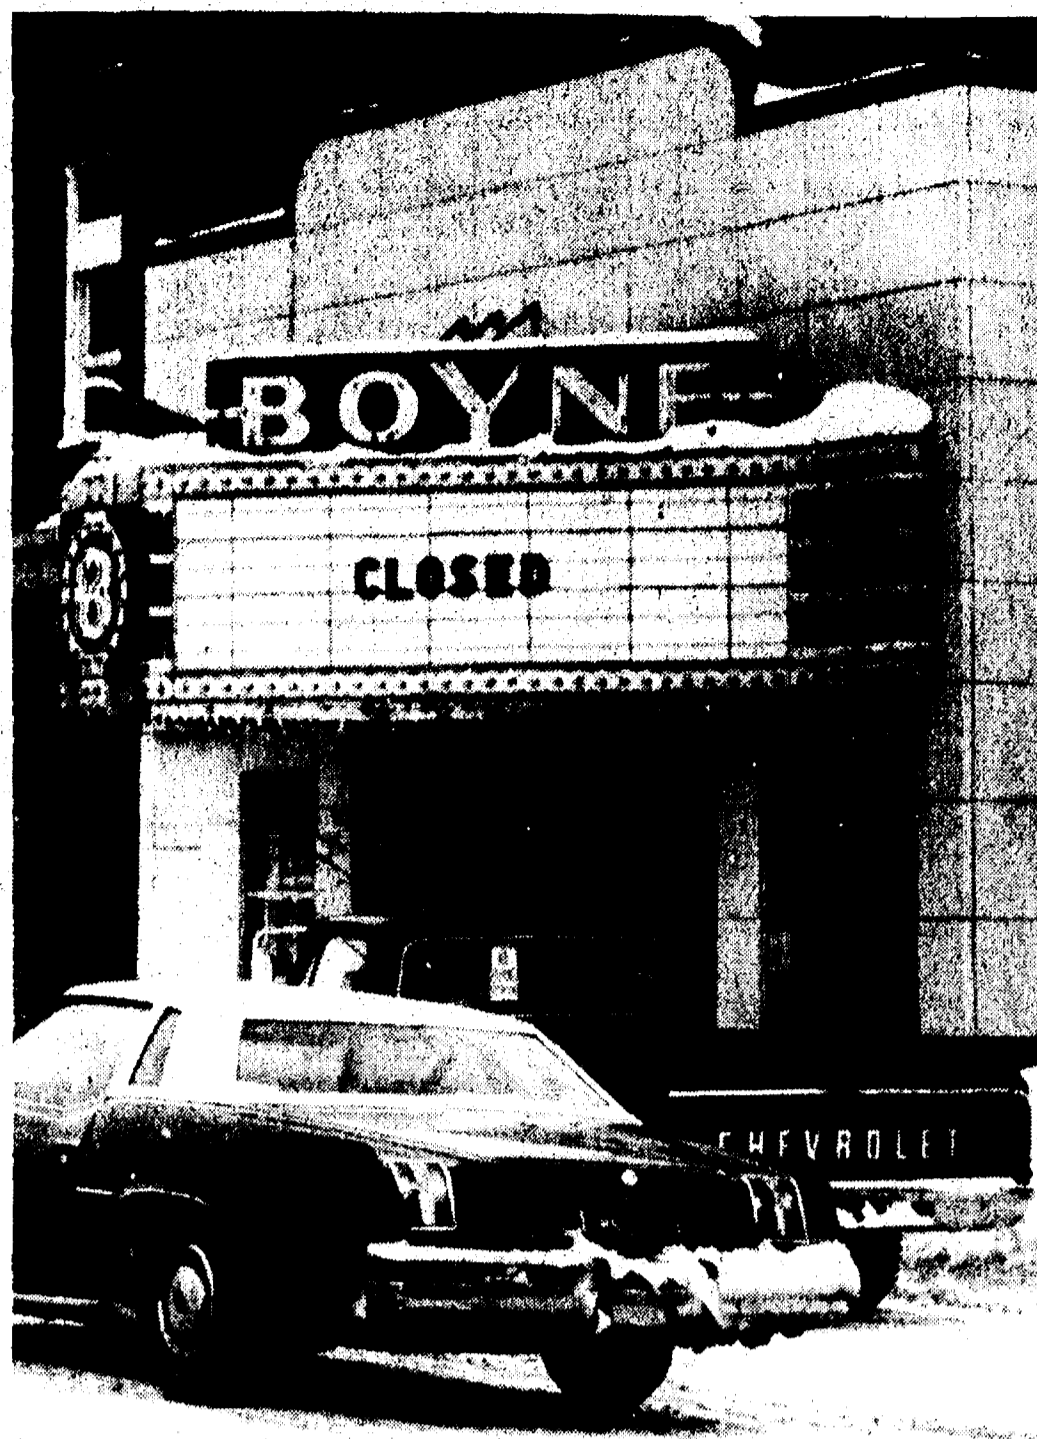

Dan Osmer

Elected to energy board

BOYNE CITY - Dan Osmer of Great Lakes Energy Systems in Boyne City has been elected to a three year term on the Alternate Energy Industries Association of Michigan board of directors.

"The AEIAM is responsible for promoting the industries dealing with alternative energy: wind, woodstoves, solar applications and other energy sources," Osmer said. "We educated the public, distributors and retailers of alternative energy equipment for updated and uniform information."

Boyne Cinema closes for winter

BOYNE CITY - With the high cost of heating and plans under way for repairs and cleaning, the Boyne Cinema has closed for the duration of the winter season.

Owner Pat Patterson said, "There's not much business now and it is just cheaper for us to close right now. There are some repairs and cleaning I want to get done and now is a good time."

Patterson said the theatre would open again in the spring.

Microfiche coming to EJ library

EAST JORDAN - Microfiche (pronounced micro-feesh) is newer and smaller than microfilm. A four-by-five-inch transparent card of microfiche can hold all the pages of a magazine. Put the card in a microfiche reader and you can read the magazine.

Thanks to Friends of the Library and the Rotary Club, who contributed $700 each, the public library will not only have a microfiche reader, but included in it will be the capacity to print copies of the magazine pages.

Ron and Nancy Postma and Susan Murcau, founding members of Friends of the Library, said their group had a book sale, bake sales, and raffles to raise the money.

Microfiche cards, as Nancy Postma said, take up far less room to store than do the back copies of magazines. Besides saving space in an already bulging building, microfiche prevents wear and tear on old, often valuable material.

Best of all, it makes possible source material for the ever-increasing numbers of people doing research.

Railroad rescue would be good news

The prospect of new money, ideas and organization for the Boyne Valley Railroad comes as welcome news for the Boyne City community.

A previous railroad "rescue" was also exciting in 1976, but in a different way. At that time, shares were being sold to the public, and more than 300 people bought $79,000 worth of stocks.

Now, five years and many financial problems later, it is apparent that much more capital is needed.

Editorial

What is exciting is that a number of other major community changes have been unveiled. They would all seem to make the railroad more viable.

We have two lakefront developments in the works which will result in the construction of a marina, restaurant, motel, shops and condominiums. The Chamber of Commerce has commissioned architect's drawings for an old-fashioned downtown storefront restoration, and the city commission has adopted a progressive new master plan.

All of these things would seem to complement each other, making the Boyne City community a better, more attractive and interesting place to live and visit.

People who live in the new condos and sleep in the new motel

It was time to repaint the outside of Moore's Hardware last fall, and not knowing the future of the Boyne Valley Railroad, the store owners had the BVRR sign painted over when the wall was painted.

will want to ride the railroad. People who come to ride the railroad will shop in our stores and eat in our restaurants.

Everything fits in so nicely together.

The railroad is, strangely enough, the most unique yet the most fragile part of this renaissance.

There are very few such living, breathing tourist attractions anywhere.

Its appeal is obvious. Even in 1979, a year when the BVRR lost money, 16,000 people rode the train.

But after four years of struggling along with rising cost and insufficient capital it's no wonder the current directors have lost some of their enthusiasm.

A fresh start, new energy and a major financial commitment can, we feel, be enough to eventually pull the railroad into a profitable status for its owners and the community in general.

Remember the good old days?

Prices are rising so fast that last week is now the good old days.

Let's take the price of gasoline. When it hit $1.50 per gallon, I did something rather unusual. I sat down and started to think.

It was now time to go out of town and buy that low price gas everyone had been talking about.

So I drove over and tried it. How nice. It certainly was cheaper. I liked that word. I hadn't heard it in years.

When I got home I fiddled with my calculator, figuring how many miles I got per gallon and how much I paid per gallon.

Going out of town to buy cheap gas cost me 15 cents more than if I had bought it at home.

Of course I threw a fit. Well, not really. I just stood still, letting my hands and feet cooperate with my mouth. Anyone with half a brain and no water on the knee has no business trying to out-wit today's strong financial chaos.

Take the price of anything. Wouldn't it be nice if you could go to the store and buy something for a dollar? Dreamer.

With our rapidly rising costs we now have reached the point where if a man owed you a dollar, you couldn't afford to go and collect. You would save money if he kept it.

Panhandlers have been quick to understand this. They used to say, "Loan me a dollar." Now they say, "Give me a dollar."

I used to go down and put a thousand into my savings account, grinning all the way home. You can't do that any more. Before you get home inflation has syphoned off the top end of it. Things are changing so fast your total worth today has no relationship to your total worth tomorrow.

I know people who check in at the bank every day to see if they are poor.

I feel very sorry for the needy, the halt and the lame. For them there seems no easy way out of today's depressing financial mess.

But he who cuts down on his spending, puts his wife and all of his children to work and has a rich uncle has got it made.

I was kind of envying him after I had paid such a high price for that cheap gasoline.

This winter has been a winner for Boyne City

At the beginning of the 1980-81 winter I shivered and shook with icy fear of the frigid days ahead. The short cold days and sub-zero nights I thought were to be endured rather than enjoyed.

Ernest Hemingway may have found a northern Michigan storm inspiring enough to eternalize three days of a snowy blast in a short story...but Hemingway and I were made of different stuff.

However, something happened to change my mind. I realized that other people were having fun and manipulating the snow and ice to serve their own purposes. The Avalanche Ski Classic in Boyne City and the Winter Festival that evolved from that event were prime examples of what makes winter worthwhile.

Trish Wright

Time Magazine and The New York Times put Boyne City on the map this year thanks to some careful planning by the Chamber of Commerce to put Smeltania back on the ice. A shanty town never looked so good.

But Boyne City has another claim to fame this winter. Cary Adgate, a 27 year old Boyne native Olympian, and seven year member of the U.S. Ski Team, made professional skiing history on Sunday, Feb. 7.

Adgate became the first skier in the 12 year history of the World Pro Skiing tour to win both slalom and giant slalom events in his first attempt. Andre Arnold, the Austrian three-time champion of the tour, was upset by an American who had just turned pro and just decided to give WPS a try.

After winning five straight races on the Peugeot-Great Lakes regional tour, Adgate travelled to Utah and took a first place in the Cooper American Pro Tour.

Now he is the winner of the First of Denver Cup, the WPS event in Winter Park, Colorado, and will hopefully take a first at Crystal Mountain, Wash., the next WPS race site.

Adgate's victories can be shared vicariously. Welcome to Boyne City signs, posted at the city limits, should be changed to read, "Welcome to Boyne City—Home of Cary Adgate—World Pro Skiing Champion." His success is inspiring, maybe most inspiring to the Boyne City High School Ski Team. Adgate took time to coach some of the ski team members recently before their conference meet at Schuss Mountain.

The team took a second place out of the five competing schools in the Michigan-Huron Shores Conference. Not a bad showing when you consider that it's a young team and a small school. Only one of the boys' team members is a senior. I'm certain that Adgate has influenced the team just as he has influenced the residents of Boyne.

It's festival time for high school musicians

Sounds of music bubbled out of classrooms at Cheboygan High School on Feb. 7, where students from northern Michigan were playing for judges at the annual Solo and Ensemble Festival.

Judges from the Michigan Band and Orchestra Association rated the high school student performers on a scale of five to one—one being tops.

East Jordan band director Tom Steggall reported number two ratings for Karen Alger, clarinet; Mary Richards, oboe; Maud Hanson, clarinet; Louie Drapeau, trumpet; and Susan Buick for piano.

The division two rating was also earned by the flute quartet work of Linda Detlaff, Cindy Spence, Kathy Joyce, and Kelly Knop.

Louie Drapeau and Cynthia Richards earned a two for their cornet duet. Gary Walker and Ben Griffin with their trombone and baritone duet, and Andy and Kathy Richards with their clarinet duet also earned a two.

Those receiving the highest rating were: Ron Chapman, flute and Karen Alger, Maud Hanson, Melissa Klooster.

Our Schools

BY BARBARA CRUDEN

and Korinna Kretschmann for their clarinet quartet.

Boyne City students in division three were Ben Redman for alto sax performance, Shelly Stevens and Laura Leach for their clarinet duet, and Cathy Judkins and Gary Williamson for their cornet duet.

Roberta Cortez's clarinet solo, Steve Kindy's trumpet solo, and Dawn Johnson and Matt Chellis' piano solos all won division two awards.

Earning top rating were Geanene

Froats, trumpet; Matt Irwin, trombone; Mary Jo McGeorge, tenor sax; and Cathy Judkins, piano.

The students in division one are eligible to participate at the state level festival on March 18.

Jim Bogetto, who teaches band at Boyne City High School and Middle School, said the northern Michigan middle school festival will be in April.

A Shot in the Binding For Children's Reading

Sherry Sheldon has a flyer (the printed kind) that says, "Bill Martin Jr. is perhaps the most creative innovator of our times."

Bill Martin Jr. will be the speaker at the fifth annual Northern Michigan Reading Inservice on Feb. 26.

All that about "inservice" sounds a bit heavy, but Sheldon, who is Title I Co-ordinator at Boyne City Elementary School, says, Martin doesn't just make a speech. He's interesting.

The inservice is not only for teachers, Sheldon notes. It's also for parents and everybody interested in children's reading.

Martin writes textbook materials that are "daringly different." "His name," as the flyer says, "is synonymous with faith in children and their ability to read."

In a Martin book, the print might just decide not to go conventionally across the page; rather it might run up and down mountains, bulge and shrink, or invade the illustrations—all to intrigue children and convince them that print is a fascinating puzzle.

So important does Sheldon think this opportunity is, she is taking phone calls at the school for car-pooling. (582-6728)

For those who want the full fling, dinner will be at 5:30 p.m. Publications will be on exhibit before dinner. Martin will speak at 7 p.m.

The whole outstanding program will be held at the Harbor Springs school gymnasium.

Charlevoix's Winter Cup a weekend for all reasons

BY TRISH WRIGHT

Charlevoix is celebrating winter again this year during the fifth annual Winter Cup Festival on Saturday, Feb. 21, and Sunday, Feb. 22. Two days of winter sports, entertainment and spectator events have been planned by area experts and fun lovers. Cross-country Ski Races Julie Cordano of Silent Sports North and Windmill Farm Ski Touring Center has organized the cross-country ski races that will be held Saturday at Windmill Farm, five miles east of Charlevoix.

"There will be two different races," explains Cordano. "The United States Ski Association (USSA) sanctioned races are eligible for USSA members only. This race begins at 11 a.m. and all participants should check in one hour before starting time to receive their bibs and race information."

Categories for the USSA sanctioned race include the following age groups: 12-13 and 14-17 for the five kilometer course; the 10 and 20 kilometer race will have divisions for men and women from 18-24, 25-34, 35-44 and 45 and over.

The citizens' 10 km race will start at 12 noon, and the five kilometer race will begin at 12:30 p.m. Says Cordano, "The most important part of a race is to participate, ski at your own pace and to enjoy the sport."

Citizen racers may enter the 5 km or the 10 km race in one of the following categories: 9 and under, 10-13, 14-17, 18-24, 25-34, 35-44 and 45 and over.

Registration fees for the races will be $10 for adults and $6 for juniors 17 years and under. USSA sanctioned racers must register no later than Friday, Feb. 20, at 5 p.m. Maps of the courses and race entry forms are available at the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce, Windmill Farm and Silent Sports North in downtown Charlevoix.

The Winter Cup cross-country course is situated on Windmill Farm's 500 acres of rolling, scenic terrain. Approximately one-third of the course will involve uphill climbs, one-third will be downhill runs and another third will be raced on level ground.

According to course setter, Steve Church, the 10 and 20 km races may be viewed by spectators for most of the race course. "We have made some narrow tracks paralleling the course so spectators can appreciate the race from selected vantage points."

"The 10 km course is quite hilly," says Church. "The 20 kilometer race involves going around the 10 km trail twice. We have eliminated last year's trouble spots and now have a more interesting course."

Church adds that the trails have been widened into firmly packed boulevards for better cruising and easier passing. The course will be groomed again the morning of the race.

"It will be a challenging race," says Cordano. "Maps of the different race trails will be available on Friday evening at registration outposts."

All participants who finish the race will receive a Winter Cup Festival T-shirt. Prizes will be awarded to the winners of each division.

Downhill Racing

Downhill skiers aged two to 18 will have a chance to participate in the dual slalom races at Mt. McSauba on Sunday at 1 p.m. According to Tom Kneeland of the Bahnhof Ski Shop the race will lead into an afternoon of serious and crazy races as well as downhill and cross-country exhibitions.

Age categories for the downhill slalom event include: 2-6, 7-9, 10-12, 13-15 and 16-18. Registration deadline for the slalom race is 12 noon on race day at Mt. McSauba. Medals and trophies will be presented to the winners of each category.

A "crazy race" will follow the slalom event. "The race is open to the public and will involve skiing around obstacles like tables and chairs. It ought to be really crazy," says Kneeland.

At approximately 3 p.m. on Sunday the Bahnhof will sponsor a freestyle and Telemark exhibition. "John and Jim Crinnion will be our freestyle exhibitors and Dave Kondziela and Paul Genoa will be showing the Telemark skiing, which is cross-country skiing on a downhill course," adds Kneeland. The exhibitions will be staged at Mt. McSauba.

If you are a beginning cross-country skier and would like to be more than a spectator at next year's Winter Cup Festival learn how to cross-country from a real pro.

The Bahnhof will be teaching the sport on Saturday at 1 p.m. The lessons will be given next to Duffy's Restaurant of Charlevoix. The $2 rental fee for equipment will be donated by the Bahnhof to a charity.

The Winter Cup cross-country race on Saturday, Feb. 21 will consist of 5, 10 and 20 km courses for beginners, citizen races and USSA sanctioned skiers at Windmill Farms. A Telemark exhibition is scheduled for Sunday, after the downhill races, at Mt. McSauba.

Even 3 year olds can win a race. Amy Phillips, above, is only one of the downhill competitors from past Winter Cup races. The festival weekend offers downhill and cross-country racing for skiers of all abilities and all ages.

Boyne City, East Jordan warm up to each other after snowstorm

BY JIM BAUMANN

Thanks to a snowstorm last Tuesday, a year-long feud between the Boyne City and East Jordan high school athletic departments is apparently thawing.

The two schools weren't scheduled to play each other in most sports this year because of the feud.

It all started in the fall of 1979 when East Jordan dropped Boyne City from its football schedule for 1980. When that happened, Boyne City athletic officials became miffed and dropped East Jordan in all other sports.

That's where it stood until the snowstorm. Nearly every basketball game in Northern Michigan was cancelled because of the storm on Feb. 10. Boyne City was supposed to play Cadillac and East Jordan was to play Kalkaska.

Normal procedure would have been to reschedule the games for Saturday night, but Cadillac and East Jordan had prior commitments.

Boyne City Coach Bob Taylor, who is in his first year of coaching and living in the community, made the first move. He approached Jack Caverly about the possibility of a practice game between the two schools on Saturday. Caverly lives in Boyne and coaches the junior varsity team in East Jordan.

Caverly called East Jordan coach Bill Chase, who like Taylor is also in his first year of varsity coaching, and Chase thought it was a good idea. But it turned out that they'd have to play a real game or not at all. State high school rules provide that teams may only play two practice games a season. But they may play up to 20 regular season games, and both Boyne and East Jordan were under that limit, so they could play a real game.

The coaches checked with their principals and athletic directors, and everyone agreed that the game sounded like a good idea.

"It all happened during a break in practice on Wednesday afternoon," Taylor said. "I wanted a game real bad because we had only played three games in three weeks."

Boyne City was chosen as the location for the game "because East Jordan owed us one or two home games from 1978 and 1979," Taylor said.

He said school officials were glad to have the game because they knew it would draw a good crowd. The two schools are close to each other and both are enjoying good seasons. The good crowd they hoped for materialized, too. Boyne City's athletic program made $900 on ticket sales.

Now that it's all over, everyone agrees that it was time to end the feud and resume playing each other. The coming year's football and basketball schedules are already completed, so those sports can't be scheduled until the fall of 1982.

But, as Taylor points out, if there's another rash of snowed-out basketball games, there is always the possibility of a hastily arranged contest.

"It makes more sense to play a school that's right next door than to drive halfway across the state," he said.

Boyne City Athletic Director Paul Pfahler agrees. "It's a natural, the way things are with everybody trying to cut down on travel and expenses. We have no qualms about playing East Jordan, but it's up to them, really. They dropped us in the first place."

East Jordan Athletic Director Frank Holes is also all for ending the feud. He's the one who dropped Boyne in the first place so he could improve his football team's chances in the state playoff rankings. If he had it to do over again, he wouldn't drop Boyne again, he said.

As it turned out, Holes' strategy for improving his playoff chances didn't work. He replaced Boyne City on his football schedule with Houghton Lake, but Houghton Lake turned out to be the only team to beat East Jordan last fall. It was Houghton Lake that went to the state playoffs, not East Jordan. And Boyne City, which had been dropped because of its poor record in 1979, had its best season in a decade in 1980 with a 7-2 mark.

But we digress... Whatever happened in the quickly arranged basketball game that ended the feud?

Well, Boyne City walloped East Jordan 80-51. It was rather embarrassing for East Jordan, actually. And there may have been a bit of sweet revenge in the outcome for Boyne City, since they are the ones who were offended about being dropped in football.

The coaches and fans expected it to be a much closer game than that, since both squads had excellent records. But Boyne had a hot hand and all the momentum from the beginning, while East Jordan couldn't buy a basket in the first half.

The only explanation Red Devil Coach Bill Chase had was that his team had just won a tough 65-56 game at Central Lake the night before, and they might have been mentally and physically drained.

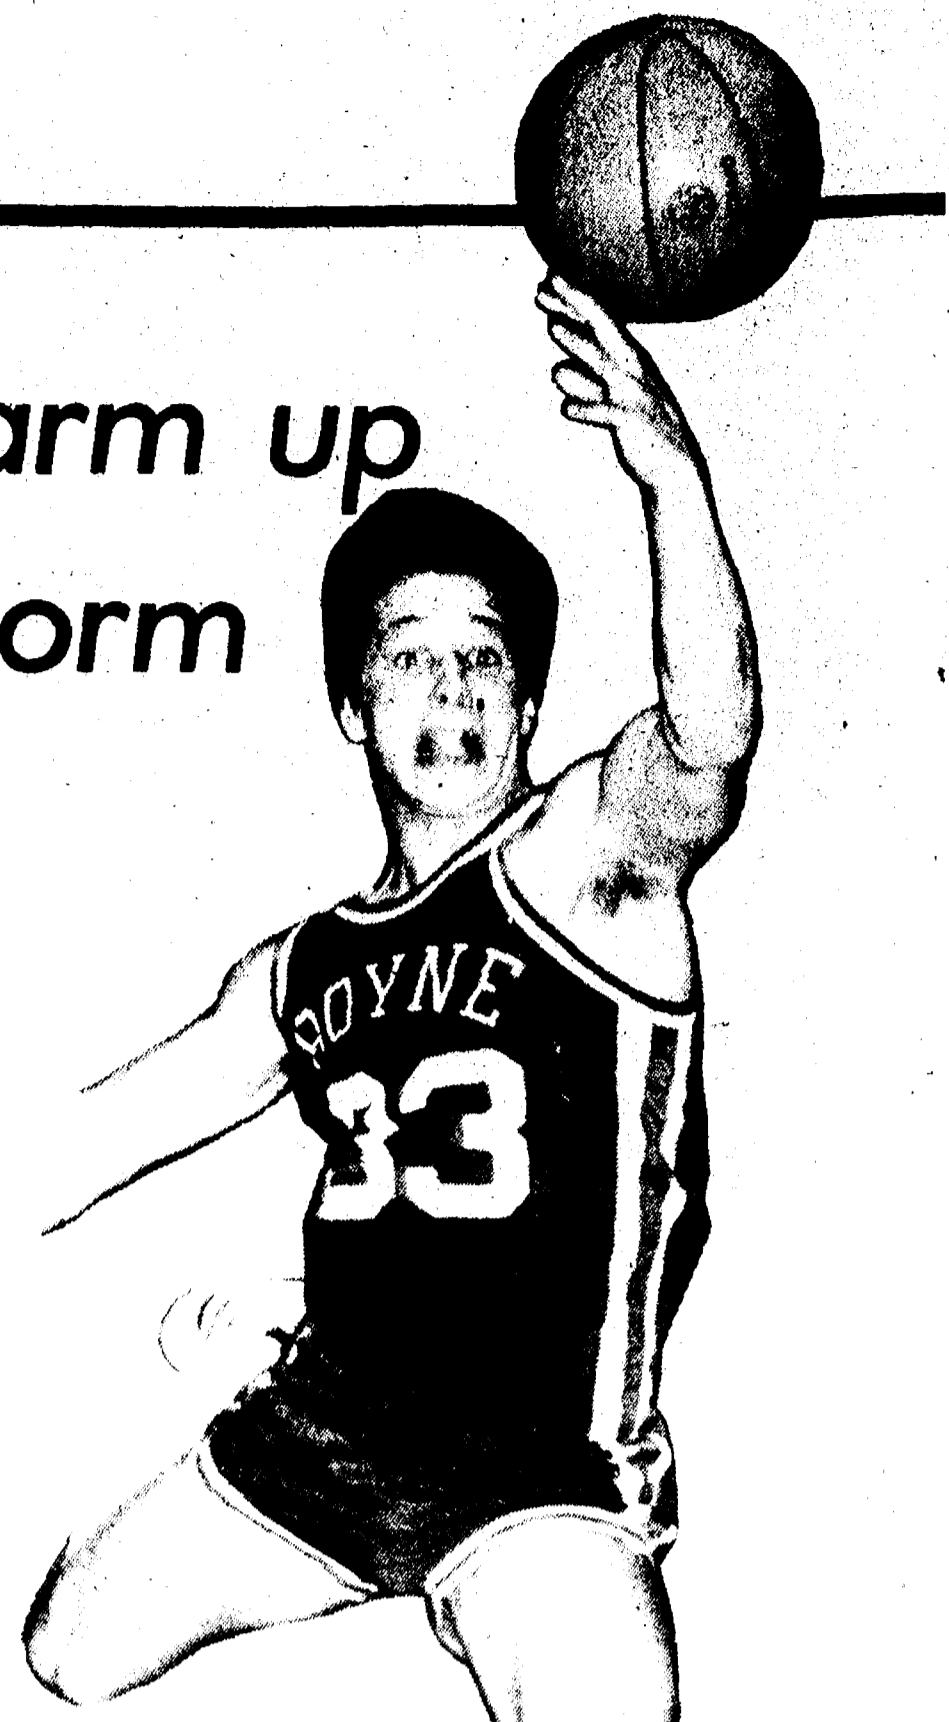

"But I don't want to take anything away from Boyne. They were really up for the game and we weren't. They certainly outplayed us," he said.

Boyne jumped out to a 28-14 first quarter lead and then held East Jordan to an unbelievable two points in the second period to take a 44-16 lead to the locker room at halftime.

All 15 Boyne City players scored, with the leaders being Brian Vroman with 14 points, Larry Jarema 12 and John Tompkins 10. For East Jordan, Todd Root hit 11 points, and Mike Brennan and Del Ingalls had eight apiece.

East Jordan salvaged a 49-45 victory in the JV contest, however. Todd Chanda pumped in 16 points, 14 in the second half, to take scoring honors. Bob Finch added nine, and Rick Newville and Mike Graham each had eight.

For the Boyne City JV's, Kevin Fitzpatrick led the way with 13 points, while Darryl Johnson and Tim Wandrie both added 10.

Larry Jarema of Boyne City looks horrified as he almost runs into a photographer and wall while trying to save the ball from going out of bounds.

Jim Plachta of Boyne City goes up for a jump shot, while East Jordan's Jeff Chanda tries to block it.

Cheboygan visits Boyne City

Last home game for 8 seniors

BOYNE CITY - Friday will be Senior Night for eight members of the Rambler basketball squad, and it will also be a special night for Coach Bob Taylor.

Since it is the last home game of the season, the seniors will be introduced and honored before the game starts.

Taylor has a special feeling for his seniors, partly because it is his first year of varsity coaching and partly because he thinks this particular group of kids is exceptional—in terms of personality, team spirit and sportsmanship as well as in athletic ability.

The seniors on the team are Larry Jarema, Kerry Kruzel, Jim Plachta, Darryl Tims, Mike Toffolo, Mark Zinck, Mark Harris and Brent Sweet.

"Most coaches will tell you you'll have a hard time with your seniors in your first year of coaching, because you're changing styles on them. But these kids have adapted beautifully."

"We're losing some class people. I don't think I'll ever coach a better bunch of kids than these guys. I got emotionally tied to my seniors. I've already got tears in my eyes when I think about losing them. I hope the fans really come out and send them off right Friday."

Friday also just happens to be an important game for Boyne as Class B power Cheboygan comes to town.

Boyne is on a hot streak, having won 12 out of its last 13 games. But the Chiefs may also be hot, having annihilated league leader Petoskey 70-41 last Friday.

As a result of that game Boyne, Cheboygan and Grayling all trail Petoskey by one game in the Michigan-Huron Shores Conference.

Boyne City is somewhat powerless, however. They must win their remaining two games and then hope that Grayling can knock off Petoskey at Grayling in the final game of the regular season next Friday, Feb. 27. On the same night, Boyne will be finishing with a game at Charlevoix.

East Jordan Iron Works salutes the East Jordan "Player of the Week"

Todd Root

Todd has been one of the most steady performers on the Red Devil basketball team this winter. The 6-0 senior forward led the team in scoring at Boyne City Saturday with 11 points, and chipped in 13 at Central Lake on Friday. "Todd has been playing really good lately," said Coach Bill Chase. "He gives it all on defense—he really hustles." Todd is the son of Spencer and Karen Root.

Boyne Country Body Shop salutes the Boyne City "Defensive Player of the Week"

Mitch Kruzel

He's only a freshman, but Mitch has been Boyne City's best wrestler this year. He finished second in the conference meet on Feb. 7 and third in the district on Feb. 14. His third place finish in the 14-team district qualifies him for the regional meet this Saturday. Mitch, who wrestles in the 98-pound division, has won 17 matches this year against only three losses. He is the son of Mike and Sandy Kruzel.

EJ needs last 2; Harbor has to lose

EAST JORDAN - Two tough games remain for the Red Devils, but even if they win them both, their league title hopes still depend on Harbor Springs losing.

The Rams lead East Jordan by one game with two left to play, and if they win them both they'll take the championship.

Harbor should have an easy time with last place Pellston this Friday, but their season finale will be a stiff test at Mancelona on Feb. 27.

Meanwhile, East Jordan must face Mancelona and Gaylord St. Mary, two teams the Devils had trouble with in January. East Jordan beat Mancelona by three points and lost to St. Mary by one in triple overtime.

This time, however, the Red Devils will be playing on their home court. The Mancelona contest is this Friday, Feb. 20, and Gaylord St. Mary comes to town on the following Friday for the last game of the season.

The Mancelona game will feature a matchup of the two leading scorers in the league. Del Ingalls of East Jordan is scoring 19.9 points a game, and Mark Scheppler of the Ironmen is hitting at a 17.3 pace.

Mancelona is 10-5 overall and 8-4 in the league, one game behind East Jordan, which is 12-5 overall and 9-3 in the league. Harbor leads the pack at 13-2 overall and 10-2 in the league.

The Devils stayed close last week by edging Central Lake 65-56. A man-to-man press in the third quarter helped East Jordan overcome a 30-29 halftime deficit. The Devils outscored the Lancers 13-6 in the period to regain the lead and they never lost it.

Ingalls tossed in 22 points, while Randy Morris had 14, Todd Root 13 and Mike Spence 12.

Loggers getting hot

BOYNE FALLS - "We're finally starting to put it all together," said basketball coach Dale Reinhardt after his Loggers had won their third game in four tries.

One explanation, he says, is that it has taken his players awhile to adjust to him as their new coach this year. "They had played one type of ball, and now we're doing something different, and it takes time to get used to that," Reinhardt said.

The most satisfying victory came Saturday when the Loggers avenged a 12-point loss on Jan. 6 with an 83-69 victory. Changing defensive strategies on Alba star Steve Bock let Bock score more points (42 this time), but kept his teammates more bottled up.

The Logger offense was rolling, too, as six players scored in double figures. Tim Smith led with 18, while John Hausler had 17, Jim Spencer 14, Bruce Crouterfield 11, and Pat Harmon and Norm Mahanke had 10.

Another good sign is that the Loggers have been outrebounding most opponents. Smith also led that department Saturday with 16, while Mahanke had 13 and Spencer and Crouterfield grabbed 10.

On Tuesday night, Feb. 7, the Loggers again showed their improvement by beating Wolverine, a team they had lost to by 11 points earlier in the season.

A 100-62 loss to state-ranked Johannesburg on Friday is the only loss for Boyne Falls in its last four outings.

Next up for the Loggers is a road game with Ellsworth on Friday. The season finishes next week with home games against Forest Area on Friday, Feb. 27, and against Atlanta on Feb. 28. Then it's on to the district tourney at Vanderbilt.

March Madness is coming!

It's almost time for the state basketball tournaments to start, and The Charlevoix County Press will be previewing March Madness with a special Winter Fun section.

Besides the stories, we'll have team pictures, rosters and the scores from all of this year's games. Don't miss it...in next week's Winter Fun section of The Press.

But it's back to the rat race

Spectacular debut for Adgate

WINTER PARK—Cary Adgate is going for it, which shouldn't be much of a surprise to anyone who saw him make professional skiing history Sunday.

After summarily dispatching Austria's Andre Arnold in a fashion hardly fitting a three-time defending champion, the sometimes reluctant warrior from the north woods of Michigan has decided to take on the World Pro Skiing tour.

In what perhaps was the most unlikely series of events ever to surround a major ski race, Adgate became the first skier in the 12-year history of the WPS tour to sweep a weekend race series in his first attempt. That he did so largely at the expense of the usually indomitable Arnold was wonder enough. But, after winning $16,200 in prize money and earning perhaps in excess of $30,000 in all, he still kept insisting he really didn't want to be a part of the tour at all.

Adgate is what one might term an independent thinker, a mature and cerebral young man of 27 who has the knack of knowing what he wants in life. After bouncing around the mountains of five continents for the better part of seven years as a member of the U.S. Ski Team, his present goal is nothing more

Editor's note: This story about Cary Adgate of Boyne City is reprinted from the Feb. 9 edition of the Denver Post. The story was written by Charlie Meyers, the ski editor of the Post. It was sent to The Charlevoix County Press by Leone Bricker, a Boyne City resident who often spends her winters in Denver. Mrs. Bricker's son John, a graduate of Boyne City High School, now lives in Denver year-round, works in the advertising department of the Denver Post.

"I was surprised he didn't make more of a fight of it," Adgate said later.

Having dispatched Arnold, Adgate then attacked his real problem of the day, how to disentangle himself from his various obligations and find out where he was going next. Yet another complication is the WPS rule which makes any skier in the top 25 of the standings ineligible to compete on a regional tour.

After a series of urgent phone conversations Sunday night, Adgate had it all settled.

"It looks like I'm going to Calgary (site of the WPS event next week-end)," he said. "I'll fly back to Michigan, get some more skins and close up my house. It's back to the rat race again."

(Note: Adgate took a fifth in both slalom and giant slalom last weekend in Calgary. On the agenda this weekend for WPS is Crystal Mountain, Wash.)

The reason for the decision is largely economic, both for himself and his sponsors. Adgate currently is the hottest item on the tour and the companies which pay him to use their products can ill afford to have him out of the spotlight.

Sometimes a guy just can't get away from it all.

Cary Adgate

BC skiers finish strong ...but wait till next year!

BOYNE CITY - Members of the high school ski team can relax now that their racing season is finished.

The Regionals meet, held at Boyne Mountain last Friday, put Boyne behind Petoskey, Harbor Springs and Charlevoix but ahead of the remaining other 13 participating schools.

"We had a good season," says coach Kathy Rozycki. "Both teams did well and we're looking forward to the state finals next year, especially for the boys' team. We should be able to take at least a second place in state."

According to Rozycki, Boyne will have a better chance of making it to the state finals in 1982 because both girls' and boys' teams are young.

"Tom Ellis is the only senior that we'll lose this year. All the other boys are sophomores and juniors and girls' team this year consists of all freshmen and sophomores."

Chris Kuhn led the boys' team in the Regionals by taking a fourth in slalom and an eighth in giant slalom. Martin Neumann followed with a sixth in slalom. Scott Stackus placed 21st in giant slalom and Todd Ward took 25th in slalom and 35th in giant slalom. Tom Ellis finished 36th in giant slalom.

There were 106 racers in each of the boys' events.

Marsha Neumann, a freshman, led the Boyne girls' team, finishing 11th in slalom and 16th in giant slalom. Rene Raveau took 35th in slalom and Mary Beth Timms placed 40th in giant slalom.

No surprise ...Kruzel is in regional

BOYNE CITY - Freshman Mitch Kruzel won three of four wrestling matches Saturday to take third place in the district meet at Pine River.

His fine showing boosted his season record to 17-3 and qualified him for the regional meet this Saturday at Lakeview. The previous Saturday, he finished second in the conference meet.

The fact that a youngster by the name of Kruzel is a wrestling standout should be no surprise to local sports fans.

Mitch is the sixth boy in the family to wrestle for the BCHS team. His older brothers Jeff, Randy, Ken, Dennis and Kerry all excelled in the sport.

Now Mitch is off to a fast start. To qualify for the regional as a freshman is quite an accomplishment. Coach Rick Fowler notes.

Mitch was seeded fifth in the district meet last week and he won matches by scores of 8-1, 4-3 and 8-6 to take third place.

His only loss was a 12-4 decision to the eventual champion of the 98 pound weight division, Jim Wyant of Hesperia.

SPECIAL SCHOOL ELECTION EAST JORDAN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

NOTICE OF SPECIAL RECALL ELECTION OF THE ELECTORS OF EAST JORDAN PUBLIC SCHOOLS CHARLEVOIX AND ANTRIM COUNTIES, MICHIGAN TO BE HELD MARCH 3, 1981

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE SCHOOL DISTRICT:

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that, pursuant to the directions of the Charlevoix County Clerk, a Special Recall Election will be held in the School District on Tuesday, March 3, 1981, for the purpose of submitting the following propositions to the vote of the electors.

THE POLLS OF ELECTION WILL OPEN AT 7:00 O'CLOCK, A.M., AND CLOSE AT 8:00 O'CLOCK, P.M.

REASONS FOR DEMANDING RECALL OF THOMAS C. GALMORE, JR.

He has improperly exercised the prerogatives of his office and failed to act in the best interest of East Jordan Public Schools by not listening to and acting upon the will of the citizens in the School District as it relates to granting the employees Binding Arbitration for their grievances.

STATEMENT OF JUSTIFICATION OF CONDUCT IN OFFICE OF THOMAS C. GALMORE, JR.

I absolutely feel that I have acted in the best interest of the citizens of the East Jordan School District and especially for the students, whether some parents realize it or not.

The bottom line of this issue isn't whether you like me as a board member or not, it's who is going to run the school district. I, like the other three, ran for the school board position as a way to help the community and to do my part as a civic minded citizen. To be on recall is a humiliating thing and it discourages people with clean motives from running for the board. As the downgrading process continues it leaves the job open to those with selfish and financial motives in mind, namely the N.M.E.A. This in turn results in a decline in the quality of personnel, which we see evidence of now, and eventually a bankrupt school district.

Experience is something you cannot afford to be without. Lack of experience at this time means to be taken advantage of. You, your children, and this school district will most assuredly be the losers.

East Jordan Teachers Association or East Jordan Community - take your pick.
 Thomas C. Galmore, Jr.

I. RECALL PROPOSITION

Shall Thomas C. Galmore, Jr. be recalled from the office of school board member of East Jordan Public Schools, Charlevoix and Antrim Counties, Michigan?

REASONS FOR DEMANDING RECALL OF HERBERT M. GRIFFIN

He has improperly exercised the prerogatives of his office and failed to act in the best interest of the East Jordan Public Schools by not listening to and acting upon the will of the citizens in the School District as it relates to granting the employees Binding Arbitration for their grievances.

STATEMENT OF JUSTIFICATION OF CONDUCT IN OFFICE OF HERBERT M. GRIFFIN

The statement on this ballot is totally false. As school board members we offered the teachers binding arbitration in negotiations.

Throughout the negotiations, the board has attempted to offer proposals and compromises which will be responsive to the expressed desires and concerns of the teachers while at the same time ensuring that the administration and board have retained sufficient management authority to enable them to run the school system in a manner that is both economical and efficient and will guarantee a quality education for East Jordan children.

The board has done its best to reconcile its responsibility to the taxpayers with its legal obligation to bargain in good faith with the teachers. We have done our best and granted as much to the teachers as the Board members feel in their hearts they can give without violating their responsibilities to the taxpayers who elected them.

Can she bake a cherry pie?

We had been home from our honeymoon about a week when I decided to make a cherry pie.

I was confident and thought I knew all about making pies, but before the crust was rolled out I was almost in a panic. It first stuck to the rolling pin then the board then to me.

I added more flour. The more I worked the worse it became.

Finally, completely frustrated, I patched it up, put the cherries in with lots of sugar and put it into the hot oven. There were no temperature controls on the stoves then. I ignored the strange burned smell coming from the oven, really not caring what happened to that pie—if one could call it that.

The first thing Walter said when he walked into the house was, "What did you burn today, Honey?" I was in tears. He ate the pie. It was crusty, sticky, crisp and almost burned.

Cooking Yesterday & Today

with Bea Smith

I guess he really wanted to show me that he loved me no matter what. The fact was that he had been eating all his meals in restaurants and this at least tasted different. Anyway, he said that the pie was delicious.

Then and there I decided to learn how to make a pie. I made one almost every day, I talked to good cooks and I read recipes. These are some of the things that I learned.

Pie Crust
First measure ingredients accurately.

¼ cup of vegetable shortening to exactly two sifted cups of flour, ¼ teaspoon salt and not one drop of ice water more than enough to loosely hold the dough together. I always cut the shortening into the flour with fork.

Divide the dough, form into balls and roll it out between layers of waxed paper. I have tried many ways but I like this method the best. You take the top paper off, turn the whole thing upside down over the pie pan and roll the paper off—no lifting of crust.

For cherry pie I always used more sugar than most people do—1½ cups of sugar for a 9" pie—because my husband liked his cherry pie sweet. I also use one tablespoon of tapioca to thicken the filling instead of flour.

Leona's Apple Pie
Leona was a wonderful cook, a perfect hostess and my husband's favorite niece, though more like a sister than a niece as they were the same age and grew up together.

One day she made apple pie. She said "Mother taught me how to make a good pie crust. Put the water in as if it were gold, not a bit more than necessary, and handle the dough lightly."

Leona always mixed the flour and sugar with the apples before putting them into the crust, and she used Northern Spy apples when she could get them. Her pies would melt in your mouth.

Some of my favorite pies are chocolate with graham cracker crust, pumpkin with ginger snap crust, orange chiffon pie, and of course apple, rhubarb and cherry. Do not hesitate to mix filling. Dark sweet cherries and canned or fresh peaches make a delicious pie.

Girl Scouts name cookie chairmen

Crooked Tree Girl Scout Council Cookie Chairman Nancy Snyder has appointed community cookie chairmen for Charlevoix County.

They are Trudy Clark of Boyne City, Mary Brennan of East Jordan, Geri Moore of Charlevoix, and Bonnie Wagner of Beaver Island.

Each chairman is responsible to see each local troop receives their cookie sale material and collects the troop orders at the end of the sale which is March 4-14.

After several years of baking their own cookies, in the fall of 1933 the Girl Scouts came up with a good idea. Armed with recipes furnished by two Girl Scout volunteers, the commissioner of a large metropolitan scout council approached the president of a local baking company and succeeded in getting the bakery to produce vanilla Girl Scout Cookies in the shape of the Girl Scout insignia, the trefoil. The cookies quickly caught on with the public.

Today the Crooked Tree Girl Scout Council is carrying on that tradition, although several new cookies have joined the original cookies. The annual cookie sale is the main fund raiser for the Girl Scouts.

If you aren't home when a Girl Scout knocks at your door, you may still order by calling 547-4202.

Moved by Behling, seconded by Jessup to adopt the following Resolution:

BE IT RESOLVED that the City of Boyne City hereby agrees to furnish fire service to the territory embraced within the District of Eveline Township, Charlevoix County, State of Michigan, it being expressly understood and agreed that such fire department response is binding upon the City of Boyne City at all times except in the event that the fire department is unable to respond for reasons beyond its control;

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the City of Boyne City shall provide for response to fire calls within the Township of Eveline with fire apparatus having a minimum of 500 gallons per minute pumping capacity and at least five firemen and that the fire department will respond to such fire calls without delay and under the same conditions as to fire alarms within the City limits;

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that inasmuch as a reduction in fire insurance rates on certain properties outside the corporate limits is recognized in connection with and on account of the above described response to fire calls, should this resolution be rescinded, the City Clerk is hereby instructed to notify the Insurance Services Office of Michigan.

Roll call all years. Motion carried. The City Manager gave a brief outline to the Commission regarding the second phase of the three year program to completely replace all street signs within the city limits.

When the bids were let during FY 1980/81 for the Street Sign Program, the criteria used to evaluate the bids in addition to cost, were: maintenance ease and expense; vandal-resistance and other factors relating to the installation and removal of the signs. Furthermore, when accepting the bid in the initial year, it was understood that the remainder of the signs purchased in the subsequent two years of the program would be purchased from the same supplier. This was done not only for consistency of appearance but also for ease of replacement, parts compatibility and reduced maintenance expense.

Im FY 1980/1981 there are 63 intersections in Central Boyne scheduled for installation of the new street sign.

It is the recommendation of the Administration that the City Commission authorize the City Manager to purchase street signs and associated equipment from Paul H. Callender Company, Inc., in the amount of $2,799.60.

Moved by Jessup, seconded by Paul to authorize the administration to purchase 63 street signs for the second phase of a three year program, plus associated equipment from Paul H. Callender Company, Inc., in the amount of $2,799.60. Funds were budgeted and appropriated within the CIP Account - Code 101-958-981 - Street Sign Program.

Roll call all years. Motion carried.

Moved by Fitzpatrick, seconded by Behling to authorize the administration to contract with White Pine Plumbing to install a sink with associated water and sewer connections, in the amount of $850.00 in the ASCS and U.S. Soil Conservation offices in City Hall. Funds are available within the Fiscal Year Budget in the Public Buildings Department - Account Code - 101-265-730.15 - Buildings Improvements and Maintenance.

Roll call all years. Motion carried.

Moved by Jessup, seconded by Paul to accept the gift from Robert Breidenstein in the amount of $100.00 as a donation to be used for the operation of the Ambulance service.

Commissioner Jessup also acknowledged that gifts from Northwestern State Bank in the amount of $500.00 and from First National Bank and Trust in the amount of $25.00 were received, as donations to the Boyne City Library.

The City Manager transmitted the monthly financial report for the month of January. The report was ordered filed.

The Public is invited to attend the following meetings of Boards and Commissions:

- A. Thursday, February 19, 1981, at 7:00 p.m. - Boyne City Parks and Recreation Commission, Commission Chambers, City Hall.
- B. Thursday, February 26, 1981, at 4:00 p.m. - Boyne City Historical Commission, District Court Magistrate Office, City Hall.
- C. Tuesday, March 3, 1981, at 7:30 p.m. - Boyne City Housing Commission, 829 S. Park St. at Litzenberg Place.

- E. Every Tuesday at 12:00 noon - City Commission at the Office of the City Manager, City Hall.

Moved by Jessup, seconded by Behling, as recommended by the Parks and Recreation Commission, to appoint Lester Crandell, Jr., to the Parks and Recreation Commission. Term to expire December 31, 1983.

Roll call all years. Motion carried. COMMISSIONER Jessup gave a report on the renovation of the library relating to the energy conservation projects that have been undertaken. The already installed ceiling fans and window insulation have showed a marked improvement in the environment of the building as well as a reduction in energy costs.

The City Manager reported that the Lakewood alley closure will be brought before the Planning Commission at their next meeting at which time Lakewood Savings and Loan and Northwestern State Bank will show detailed schematics of their proposal to move or close the alley. If the Planning Commission makes recommendations, the City Commission will have an opportunity to act upon their decision at the next Regular City Commission meeting.
