Consortium helps EJ, BC in different way

BY BARBARA CRUDEN

The community education consortium which Boyne City and East Jordan have just joined is giving a big boost to both schools' programs—but in different ways.

East Jordan is getting badly needed administrative help with its program, while Boyne City is getting badly needed state funding, which it wouldn't get without being in the consortium.

The Straits Area Consortium is run out of the St. Ignace school district.

The East Jordan link-up gives the district on-the-spot direction from Boyne City Community Education director Shelly Cobe.

That was a life-saver for East Jordan, which was left without a director Aug. 7 when Frank Holes accepted another job downstate. The school couldn't find a qualified person to run the program on a half-time salary, which was all that was budgeted.

So the problem was solved through the consortium, which will have Cobe devote 25 percent of her time to running East Jordan's adult education program.

Cobe will set up classes and provide counseling to people who want to know how to go about going back to high school and what courses to take to earn a diploma.

Superintendent Tom Rossler said inquiries either about teaching community ed or taking courses could be handled through the community education numbers, 536-3241.

"We will have our own adult education program here," Rossler emphasized. It will not cost East Jordan anything.

On the Boyne City side of the operation, where Cobe will spend the other 75 percent of her time, the consortium will be saving the school about $29,000, Cobe said.

The school board had been willing to do what it could to support continuing education in the community. With the consortium arrangement, the cost to the school system is down to $12,000.

Boyne City's loss of membership in the student state aid program this year puts it into a different category from East Jordan.

The total program, including Cobe's $15,000 full-time salary and half of secretarial expenses, will be funded through St. Ignace. Cobe said it will amount to about $38,100.

Of that also, the cost to educate 30 to 40 adult education students in East Jordan will be about $6,000. Boyne City will have $8,000 for its anticipated 50 to 60 students.

The rest of the money goes for books, supplies, and advertising.

Brochures are now out for the Boyne City classes, but East Jordan will have to rely on media advertising this semester, Rossler said.

"But we're not just throwing anything together to make an adult ed program," Cobe stressed. And not only will the high school completion program go forward, but enrichment classes will also begin—Monday, Oct. 5 for Boyne City and Monday, Oct. 12 for East Jordan.

While adult education is designed for those who want to finish up high school, enrichment classes are provided for anyone wanting additional training or information. These classes, for which modest fees are charged, may be in anything from home carpentry to sociology or business law.

The number in Boyne City for community education information is 582-6765.

Boyne City's new municipal beach will soon be ready, and these young people can hardly wait. They were watching a crane and bulldozer donated by the Harborage Condominium developers, which were working on the beach last Friday. The crane was dredging debris, left from an old lumber mill, from Lake Charlevoix to make the area near the city sewage treatment plant safe for swimming. About 2,000 cubic yards of sand dredged from the nearby Harborage Marina will be used to fill in the beach. It should be ready for swimming soon, city officials say. The beach development arrangement was proposed by the state Department of Natural Resources as a compromise. The DNR agreed to a Harborage Marina request for building a peninsula out into the lake if the developers would help the city build its beach. Everyone promptly agreed, and the city will finally have the beach it has wanted for many years.

New EJ city chief has wide experience

EAST JORDAN - An engineer with considerable background in city management, Rush V. Cattell has been appointed the city's new superintendent of public works.

City council, in making the appointment said Cattell was valued for his wide experience.

Cattell, who replaces Herm Rasch, will have somewhat revised duties. According to the newly-written job description, Cattell will "correlate all work programs with the respective committee chairmen."

He will also report on work done and work in prospect at each city council meeting, the description said. And it noted that he must deal with "citizens and employees with diplomacy and tact."

For supervising work done on city streets and other city property, issuing zoning permits, writing bids and other such duties, Cattell will receive a salary of $22,500. He is not under contract, as he will be evaluated in six months.

Cattell is from Ann Arbor. Study at Ford Motor Company Technical School was interrupted by World War II. He was then put in charge of an 80-man crew to build barracks and laboratories for the Air Force training base at Willow Run.

After the war he completed the training and remained with Ford until 1952 as a construction engineer.

Following this he worked for other corporations in setting up sewage treatment plants. He also took a program of courses in city and county management.

He has served as city manager for Manistique, Saulte Ste. Marie and Cheboygan. In a news story from Manistique it was reported, "during the past four years (he) had gotten the city moving again."

It was at Manistique that he secured over $24 million in grants and loans for the city and county from federal and state agencies.

He told the council he already is familiar with the area, having worked at Camp Charlevoix for years.

Cattell and his wife Imogene will live in the city. Their three children are grown and married, and the Cattells have nine grandchildren.

BC Stores stay open during street project

BOYNE CITY - Water Street was scheduled to be closed on Wednesday, Sept. 9, for the complete reconstruction of the block between Park and Lake Streets.

Sidewalk access to the businesses on both sides of the street will continue until the street work is finished.

The schedule is:

-Sept. 9-18, street demolition.

-Sept. 21-Oct. 10, new utility lines put in and street paved.

-Oct. 12-16, sidewalk demolition.

-Oct. 19-Nov. 2, new sidewalk construction.

The total schedule will take from six to eight weeks, going to Nov. 15 if the weather turns uncooperative.

People will be able to get to the stores and offices on the block at all times. The street will be in use before the sidewalks are torn up, and access will be provided while sidewalks are being constructed.

Project foreman is G. A. Barnwell of Granger Engineering. He may be contacted at 517-732-3584.

Crumbling sidewalks on the 100 block of Water Street in downtown Boyne City will soon be a thing of the past. Work begins this week on a major project to put in a new street, sidewalks, water lines and sewer lines. First to be torn up will be the street. The sidewalks will be torn up during the week of Oct. 12 if everything goes according to schedule.

No BVRR saviour yet

BOYNE CITY - No saviour has appeared yet to rescue the Boyne Valley Railroad, although railroad officials appear willing to stall selling it for scrap a little while longer.

One railroad official told The Press that the BVRR board was investigating the possibility of operating the tourist train a few weekends this fall for color tours.

The fall season had traditionally been the most lucrative for the railroad in past years, because the train only operated on weekends and often ran near capacity.

But the color tour idea is just a possibility at this point, it was emphasized. Insurance, publicity and manpower would all have to be organized on short notice.

Boyne City Chamber of Commerce Director Kate Schafer has been leading the way in trying to organize a last-ditch save the railroad effort.

Her latest attempt was "a desperate plea for assistance" sent to state representatives and officials on Aug. 31.

"The community is sick over the anticipated loss of the railroad, but without help from some agency with funding it is now certain that the railroad cannot be saved," she said in a letter she drafted which was signed by Chamber President Art Gibbs and Mayor Keith Fitzpatrick.

Now, more than a week later, there has been no response to the letter, and

Schafer said she is "getting quite discouraged."

She said she has had a few inquiries about investing in the railroad, but apparently little has come of them.

Railroad officials told The Press two weeks ago that unless someone is willing to buy the railroad for about $130,000, they would probably be forced to sell the railroad property, cars, rails, ties and other equipment.

Shrinking gas taxes pinch county road maintenance

Sometime shortly after the state legislature reconvenes on Sept. 15, the vote will come on House Bills 4937 and 4940. These and two others concerning mass transportation make up the package which has been put together to rescue county road commissions in the state.

In varying degrees, counties, including Charlevoix County, have been suffering from the drop in revenue caused by fewer and lighter-weight cars on the road.

Mackinaw County Road Commission announced a close-down date of June 19 for lack of funds. The state pays four times a year.

Mackinaw was the first county casualty. The 17 percent drop on gas consumption may make more of them.

"We do not get any property tax," emphasized Fred Welch, engineer-director of Charlevoix County Road Commission. Money to repair roads must come from the road users, according to the original tax legislation, written in 1951. And that means gas tax and weight tax. Welch went to the Charlevoix County Commission's Aug. 26 meeting to discuss the changes proposed in the tax package.

"Gas tax would go from 11 cents a gallon to 11 percent of the average wholesale price," Welch explained. At present, he said, that would amount to an increase to 12 or 13 cents a gallon for tax.

In House Bill 4940, weight taxes would also be figured differently, Welch said. Cars weighing up to 5000 pounds would pay $28. Those going from 5001 to 7,500 would pay $65, and those over 75,000 would pay $86.

At present, the fee is figured at approximately 72 cents per hundred-weight, Welch noted. Thus, the new bill would add about $2 to the license fee of people with the light cars, but a person with a 5000-pound car, who paid around $36 this year, would get quite a break, although they would lose some of it back to the cost of gas consumption.

Welch described the cutbacks made necessary so far this year by revenue loss.

They have cut back about 25 percent on maintenance, seal-coating, and repaving. Primary road reconstruction has been completely out so far, according to Welch.

"We're just very grateful the townships pay 100 percent of construction costs (on their roads)," he said, noting that has been the case since 1979.

Capital outlay has also been cut, he said. Instead of two $43,000 trucks for road maintenance and snowplowing, they are buying one. "We are in bad need of a grader and a loader," he added. These items cost over $90,000 each. They will not be purchased.

As for staff cuts, Welch said they have just not hired people to replace the four who have left their jobs over the year.

Besides responsibility for the county roads, the road commissions also have the maintenance of state roads—31, 32, 66, 75, and 131.

If the package goes, the road commissions will get help this year. They are paid four times a year by the state.

If it doesn't, Welch has little hope of it being revived next year, an election year.

"So that puts it at 1983 before anything could happen."

Boyne postmaster discusses new box policies with city

BOYNE CITY - Postmaster Frank Jasinski explained the new post office concept at city commission meeting Tuesday noon.

To deal with deliveries to 1,485 boxes on a 175 mile route, he said, the post office is putting up curbside boxes in the city where it will make delivery more economical.

Harold Beach of the Boyne Valley Council of the Knights of Columbus presents a check for $559 to Char-Em Intermediate School District Supt. Jim Shepard. The funds will be used for youngsters in the pre-school developmental needs program, which is centered in the East Jordan schools. Money for the project was raised through the Knights' annual Tootsie Roll candy drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Knop, former residents celebrate 50th

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Knop, former Boyne City and East Jordan residents, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with a family dinner and open house Sept. 5 in Norton Shores, near Muskegon.

Albert Knop is a 1926 graduate of Boyne City High School, and his wife, the former Alice Keats, graduated from East Jordan High School the same year.

Mr. Knop and the former Alice Keats were married Sept. 9, 1931 at Chicago, Ill.

The couple are now retired. Mr. Knop worked at Lumberman's Bank and his wife was employed at Heritage Hos-

You stray and I pay? No sir!

There is nothing like coming home to a good wife and a good hot meal. Especially after you've spent a long, hard day watching those workmen building condominiums down by the lake.

In the house I yelled, "Yoo-hoo!" That's what our neighbors do instead of knocking.

There was no answer. So I yoo-hooed again. Still no answer. I checked every room in the house, including the broom closet. No wife. No supper. No nice kitchen smells.

Finally, I sat on the davenport, pondering the situation. All my successful pondering has occurred on the davenport. I could get my own supper, but there's something about my messing up the kitchen.

Now, let's see. Was she lost, strayed or stolen? Sometimes when a wife is lost or stolen, it costs money to get her back. But if she has inadvertently strayed off someplace, money isn't usually involved, it's the irritating principal of the thing.

Marshall Sayles

Maybe she had gone shopping or to the beauty parlor without telling me. I checked the calendar notes for a clue. Ah, so that's where she had strayed off to.

I got back into the car, heading for town. After passing a couple of unusual beauty parlors I came to her usual one. Inside I looked from Dan to Beer-sheba. (Dans do visit beauty parlors, life being the upside down thing it is).

I went over to the nearest woman, lifting that helmet-like thing from her head. "Is that you?" I asked.

"No," she said.

Boy! Was I glad of that. I would have wasted my gas getting down here if that one had been her.

"I'm over here," she said above the hum of everything. Oh, good. If she hadn't known who she was I'd have been stumped. With all that stuff on her head, I couldn't tell her from an astronaut preparing to go to the moon any day now.

The manager came over. "If you are waiting for your wife," she said, "you'll have to sit over there."

"Over there" was a chair with some reading material. I picked up a woman's magazine and began reading. "How to avoid getting into trouble without being married."

Suddenly I was conscious of six women all in a row sizing me up. All in a row, mind you! That's one thing I've never been able to do. I cannot concentrate on my reading with six women sizing me up. And I did so want to read how a woman could avoid getting into trouble without being married.

I looked at those women looking at me and it struck me that I should get out of this place. Perhaps go home and play my fiddle in the basement so no one could hear these hunger pangs.

After her hair had been curled until it hurt just right, my wife got up, getting her coat. "What was it you wanted?" she asked.

"I want to know when supper will be ready," I said.

"You came way down here for that!" "Now, look," I said. "I've had a hard day watching those men build the condominiums and I'm hungry."

"Oh, good," she said. "We'll go to the restaurant so I can show off my new hair-do."

"You stray and I pay? No, sir!" I said, looking for someplace to pound my fist.

"Come along now," she smiled, patting me on the head. I like being patted on the head and smiled at, but not in front of six astronauts who refuse to mind their own business.

In the restaurant she said, "My, don't we look grumpy."

The coffee was cold and the food stuck in my throat. I could have handled things a lot better if she had been lost or stolen.

Job workshop

A six-week employability workshop is being offered by the Women's Resource Center of Petoskey, beginning Wednesday, Sept. 16. It is designed to meet the needs of women who are entering the job market or contemplating a change in jobs. The workshops will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. on Wednesdays through Oct. 21. To register, call 347-0067.

Postmaster discusses policies

This would be in fewer than 60 cases where houses are far apart or where delivery can be improved by curbside boxes. For the present, it won't be everywhere in the city. Jasinski explained.

He said the post office is not authorized to give door-to-door delivery to any new addresses, and new homes in developments or in condos will get their mail in locked cluster units which the post office department will put up near the groups of dwellings.

Representing a number of people who had complaints, Commissioner Thelma Behling pointed out that city ordinances had been very particular about signs and such going up on city property. She brought in complaints about the appearance of the boxes, about their blocking traffic visibility, and about the elderly being unable to shovel snow drifts from the post boxes.

Jasinski and city officials will check the positioning of the boxes for traffic conditions and for snow plow safety. He said they would work out the problem of individual responsibility for clearing snow from around the recently-installed boxes.

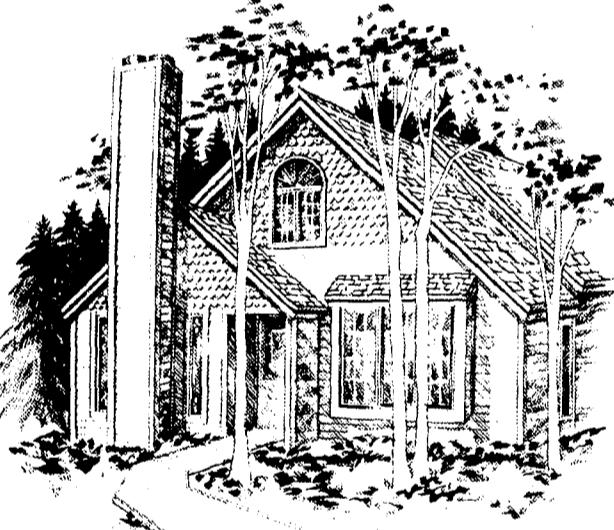

If any of the newly-placed boxes are knocked over by snow plows, Jasinski said, the post office will reinstall them.

This, he added, does not apply to rural delivery boxes or any boxes put up at new addresses, only those being switched from door delivery in this economy move.

"It costs $86 a year to provide service to each address," Jasinski said. "With curb deliveries, it would go down to $63 each. And with cluster boxes, the cost would be only $43."

He explained the postal department, is not going to be subsidized after 1984, so they are anxious to get to a "break even status."

New day care center opens

BY BARBARA CRUDEN

BOYNE CITY - An advertisement recently appeared in this paper announcing the opening of a child care center. It's Debbie Poineau's, but in a way, it is also Jeremiah's.

Jeremiah is the small son of Debbie and Keith Breuker. Debbie was hunting for day care for him while she looked for work when someone said, "Why don't you do day care yourself?"

So she did. Beginning Tuesday, Sept. 8, Debbie's child care opened at 6:45 a.m., going to 6 p.m. She expects to care for children who come in after school as well as those who will spend the whole day. But no more than five children, maximum.

The reason is that she is providing activities for them. They will have music and stories to act out and to dance about.

Dress-ups, painting, clay work, a sand table, and blocks provide some of the activity.

"We alternate between quiet and active times," Debbie said. Her standpoint is to watch the children and "enter in at their interests—let them take the lead."

Two years old would probably be the youngest that the center could accept. Debbie hopes to have children there of various age levels for the benefit they have on each other.

Her ideas have a professional basis—she was a Headstart teacher in California. Recently she has led discussion classes in parenting at the Women's Debbie Poineau needed someone to take care of her son Jeremiah, so she decided to open a day care center in Boyne City.

Resource Center in Petoskey.

She said she believes in non-violent child-raising, which means no spanking or threats of spanking. Instead she helps children solve their problems, helps them understand their relationships with each other.

She noted she has seen it work when she served as a volunteer at Safe Home, which is the shelter for abused spouses and their children, operated by Women's Resource Center.

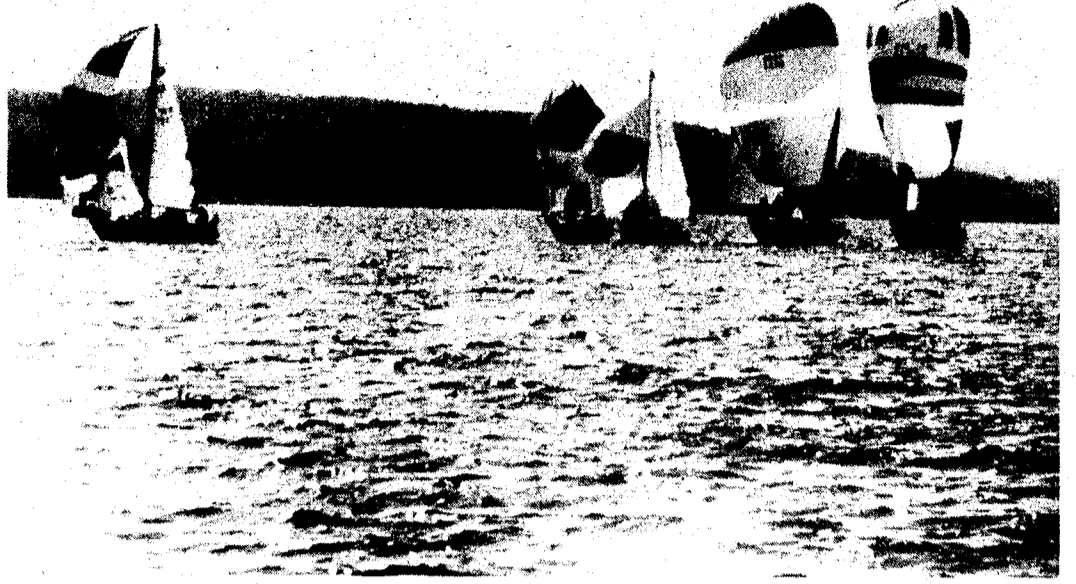

Children like snacks. At Debbie's, snacks and meals will be of natural foods—no additives, no sugar. Debbie worked as manager of Grain Train, a natural foods store in Petoskey. She has 10 years of study, experience, and teaching with safe foods and diet.

The children at "Debbie's" have three rules, she said: Can't do things that would harm themselves; can't do things that would harm others; and can't harm their toys and other equipment.

"I am adhering pretty closely to guidelines set by Social Services who licensed me," she said, and explained her dual emphasis was on safety and also on letting the children feel this was a place where they were cared about.

She has joined the Petoskey Child Study group and Grand Traverse Area Community Coordinated Child Care, and plans to take the course on child psychology at North Central Michigan College.

The children, Debbie said, play in her house and in the large, fenced yard on Pine Street, and care for the two small dogs and a guinea pig, and each day, as the day winds down, they sit together and read stories and listen to music for a peaceful time in their home away from home.

The Red Fox Regatta was held last weekend on Lake Charlevoix, with 60 sailboats participating. Race director Warren Todter of Boyne City said winners will be announced later, due to some problems in figuring handicap times. "It was a great race," he said of the event, which included a race from Charlevoix to Boyne City on Saturday and a race back to Charlevoix on Sunday.

Women's center opens resale shop

PETOSKEY - The Women's Resource Center, which serves Charlevoix County as well as Emmet and Cheboygan Counties, has started a new project—a resale store called The Gold Mine.

The Gold Mine is to help support another of the center's projects—the spouse abuse refuge called Safe Home, which, like the other shelters in the state, has this year lost much of its original governmental funding.

In the almost two years since Safe Home was established, over 236 cases have been served. Last year the center had an immense rummage sale to raise funds, but with the need now more pressing, they have converted the former IGA store at 1002 Emmet St. at the corner of Washington into a full-time resale project.

The center's board of directors picked Celeste Mulhauser to manage the new shop. Mulhauser, who moved here from Aspen, Colo., ran a resale shop out west.

She will be working with a totally volunteer staff, she said, and added either she or the center would be glad to set up a once-a-month or half-day a week or any such schedule for people interested in helping the project.

Opening date was Saturday, Aug. 22, Mulhauser said. The regular hours are 10-6 every day.

Furniture, clothing, small appliances, books, household items in general—and in salable condition—donated to the Gold Mine make up the merchandise they handle. Donors may obtain a receipt as the value of the donations is tax deductible.

Mulhauser said if anyone has a refrigerator or other large item, to sell, the fact could simply be posted on a bulletin board at the shop as sales space is limited.

Proceeds from the shop will also help the center run its services which include classes in such concerns as parenting, communication skills, living single, and so on.

Women from Charlevoix County who have been there report the center is a very welcoming place, giving counseling or just an attentive ear, which ever is wanted, on all sorts of women's problems.

The phone for volunteering or information or help is 347-0067. The phone at the shop is 347-3970.

Hunger walk planned for Sept. 20

A county-wide walk against hunger will take place on Sunday, Sept. 20. Sponsored by the churches in the county and directed by David Phillips of Charlevoix, the occasion is open to everyone—"friends and neighbors," as Phillips said.

Phillips, who is known as the baker of the World's Largest Cherry Pie and for the re-enactment of the Battle for Pine River, explained it is "a getting together of friends and neighbors" to do battle with worldwide hunger.

The walkers may start at 2 p.m. from any one of three points and end at 5 p.m. at the Char-Em School at Iron-ton with a corn roast and sing-along music. Boyne City people may start from Whiting Park; Charlevoix walkers will leave from Captain's Corner; and the East Jordan walk starts from Elm Pointe.

A Hunger Walk was held last month in Traverse City. One will be held in Petoskey in October.

Walkers are to get themselves sponsored for ten cents, fifty cents, or fifty dollars a mile—whatever they can arrange—using form sheets obtained from one of the churches or from Phillips at Gray Gables, or at the start of the walk.

They can also check on the form which organization they want the money they collect to go to.

It is a way for people to do something about their concern for the problem of hunger, and, as Phillips said, to get together over something the way folks used to, and have a good time together.

The funds will be handled by Community Hunger Appeals, Church World Service (CROP), which takes only 10 percent for the service.

East Jordan man tours Europe with orchestra

Timothy Kotowich, a native of East Jordan, is currently touring Europe as principal percussionist with Orquesta Sinfonica Municipal of Caracas, Venezuela.

The tour itinerary extends from Aug. 19 through September. Concerts feature contemporary orchestral repertoire of South America.

Additionally, the orchestra is serving as resident orchestra for a two-week seminar in conducting at The Academy of Santa Cecilia in Rome, Italy.

Principal percussionist of the orchestra since October 1979, Kotowich is professor of percussion and timpani for the National Youth Orchestras of Venezuela. An active performer of chamber music and jazz, he is a member of Musica Viva, a contemporary improvisational ensemble, and the leader of La Vela, a jazz sextet. Both groups have recordings and performances for Venezuelan National Public Television.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Kotowich of East Jordan, Tim is a 1972 graduate of Interlochen Arts Academy, and holds a degree in composition from Berklee College of Music, Boston.

Easter Seal Society reactivated in county

The re-organization of the Charlevoix County Chapter of the Easter Seal Society was initiated recently at a luncheon meeting.

Mrs. Harvey C. Varnum of Boyne City accepted the chairmanship for the county and other volunteers present offered their assistance in order to continue the services available to crippled children and adults by the county chapter.

Maria DePuyat, state director of the Easter Seal Society, was present and advised the group in its efforts to continue the loan closet which has been one of the chapter's main services.

Mrs. Arthur Thompson of East

Jordan, retiring president, presented certificates of appreciation to persons who had worked with her, many for the 27 years in which she was active in the society. Among those receiving certificates was Rev. Dale Turner of East Jordan, whose efforts helped to keep the loan closet in operation.

Other recipients were Mrs. Varnum and Mrs. Thelma Behling of Boyne City, Mrs. Phyllis Malpass and Mrs. Lawrence Schumacher of East Jordan and Mrs. William Lusk and Fran Martin of Charlevoix and Mrs. Olga Cook.

Hocquards have identical twins

Shari and Kevin Hocquard of Boyne City became parents of identical twin sons on Aug. 30 at Northern Michigan Hospital in Petoskey. Jason Douglas weighed six pounds, and brother Jesse Dean weighed five pounds, two ounces. The twins have a brother Ryan, age two, at home. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Willis Young and Mr. and Mrs. Don Hocquard, all of Boyne City.

Coffeehouse ministry underway in East Jordan

EAST JORDAN - A new effort to provide a gathering place for people of all ages is underway in the city.

Ron Klooster, heading an informal committee, presented their plans at the last city council meeting. "So you'd know what is going on," he said.

The group is looking for a location to use for Friday and Saturday nights where people could get together over coffee and talk or see a film or have music—different kinds for different tastes, but all suitable, he said, to the Christian impetus of the group.

In the group's brochure they write, "We are an interdenominational organization dedicated to both the spiritual and physical welfare of persons living within our society."

Klooster said churches in the area have expressed their support of this "nondenominational outreach."

Jim McWatters, Pastor of the Church of the Everlasting God, also with the group, said the gathering spot, to be called "The Open Door, would be run with volunteer help.

The encouragement to start the project comes from the success of a coffee house run in Manistee by Earl Moore. Klooster said such a place provides a way "to unwind—the Christian way."

Tax-Free Interest

Northwestern Savings & Loan doesn't want you to lose interest while you wait for the new All-Savers Tax-Free Certificate, available October 1, 1981.

So we invite you to invest a minimum of $10,000.00 in our popular six month Money Market certificate right now. In return, beginning October 1, 1981, or after we will redeem, without penalty, your investment plus earnings and deposit the balance into a new Tax-Free All-Savers certificate. Act now because the Money Market certificate rates will change each Tuesday.

High degree of safety. Your Investment is fully insured up to $100,000.00 by the Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corporation. This investment is a regular Savings Certificate, however, if the Account is converted to an All-Savers Tax-Free certificate after October 1, 1981, Northwestern will waive any premature withdrawal penalty. If you have an existing Money Market Certificate with Northwestern issued or renewed after April 1, 1981, your account will also qualify for the no penalty "treatment"

Here's how to do it without penalty.

Beginning October 1, 1981 or later, convert your Money Market Certificate plus interest to a new one year All-Savers Tax-Free certificate. There is no further paper work involved, or even the necessity of visiting your Northwestern Savings Office.

This Tax-Free Certificate will pay the highest rate allowed by law. The first $2,000.00 of interest you receive will be exempt from Federal Taxes, assuming you file jointly. If you file as an individual $1,000.00 is tax exempt.

The All-Savers Tax-Free Certificates you are issued on October 1, 1981 are deposits and are insured up to $100,000.00 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation. These certificates are available to individuals only. This offer is subject to final Federal Regulations.

It's what's left after taxes that counts.

*Federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty if your account is closed prior to maturity, and not deposited to an All-Savers Certificate.

All-American cloverleaf rolls

Anything concerning history seems so far away in the past, then something like Grandma Smith's birthday suddenly hits me. She was born in 1860 and that is history, but so very recent. She was 16 when all the towns in Michigan were celebrating our country's centennial with guns, fireworks, and dances. Yet her life touched ours and she would have been thrilled to see and hear the Young Americans as we did the other night. They danced, sang, and entertained us through three hours with about 50 songs composed by Richard Rogers.

I was so proud of the Young Americans and I felt that I shall not worry too much about our country's future when there are so many dedicated, talented, ambitious, young people with such a terrific sense of humor and patriotism as these throughout our land.

Naturally I wondered about what these young Americans eat and I believe they love the same foods as my grandchildren do. They love deviled eggs, baked beans, hamburger any way you fix it, milk and ice cream.

They do not care for fancy pies and desserts, but they love chocolate cake and chocolate chip cookies. Other foods teenagers love are pizza, homemade break and warm rolls with lots of butter and jelly or jam.

These clover leaf rolls are a favorite with our teenagers. This recipe will make about 18 rolls and it is not too many to bake at one time as they disappear quickly.

CLOVERLEAF ROLLS

- 1 cup hot water
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/2 tablespoons shortening
- 1/4 cup granulated sugar
- 1 package dry yeast
- 2 tablespoons lukewarm water
- 1 egg, well beaten
- 3 1/2 to 4 cups sifted flour.

Combine hot water, salt, shortening, and sugar. Cool to lukewarm; add yeast dissolved in lukewarm water. Add the egg, half the flour, and beat well. Stir in more of the flour—enough to make the dough easily handled. Grease top of dough; cover with a towel and set in a warm place until double in bulk. Push down and shape into rolls by making little balls so that three balls fit nicely into greased muffin pans. Let rise until double in bulk again and bake in a hot oven 425 degrees 12 to 15 minutes. Remove from muffin pans and brush with melted butter.

JESSICA KEMPTON

Jessica Sue Kempton, the infant daughter of Dr. John T. and Christine Kempton of East Jordan, died 17 hours after she was born on Sept. 3 at Northern Michigan Hospital in Petoskey. The infant was born three months prematurely.

Graveside funeral services were held Sept. 8 at Sunset Hill Cemetery, East Jordan. Rev. David Sydnor of the Boyne City Seventh Day Adventist Church conducted the services.

Jessica is survived by her parents; her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James L. McKelvey of Augusta, Mich.; maternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Fern Russell, also of Augusta; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Kempton III of New City, N. Y.; paternal great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Kempton Sr., of Middletown, N.Y.; and her paternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Pauline Dingman of Orlando, Fla.

Memorial donations may be made to the Special Care Nursery, Little Traverse Division, Northern Michigan Hospital. Funeral arrangements were handled by Vanderwall Funeral Home.

ANNA CZERKIS

Mrs. Anna Czerkis, 91, a Polish immigrant who came to the Boyne Falls area in the early 1900's, died Aug. 29 at Grandvue Medical Care Facility in East Jordan.

She was born Anna Kondratt on July 24, 1890 in Hludno, Poland, and came to the United States and Northern Michigan in 1907.

Oct. 24, 1910, at Boyne Falls, she married Jacob Czerkis. He preceded her in death.

Mrs. Czerkis was a member of St. Augustine Church.

Survivors include: three sons, Joseph of Petoskey, Casimir of Detroit and Michael of St. Claire Shores; three daughters, Mrs. Frank (Mary) Kolinski of Petoskey, Mrs. Stanley (Caroline) Tutak of Armada and Mrs. John (Ann) Nelson of Southgate; 17 grandchildren; 23 great-grandchildren; one great-great-grandchild; and one sister, Mrs. Peter (Theresa) Gratkowski of Centerline.

Funeral services were held Sept. 2 at St. Augustine Church in Boyne Falls with Fr. Dennis Stillwell officiating. Burial was in the church cemetery.

KAY GERIE PEARSON

Mrs. Robert (Kay Gerrie) Pearson, former Boyne City resident, died Aug. 30 in Traverse City.

Funeral services were held Sept. 2 in Traverse City.

The former Kay Gerrie was born in Boyne City and graduated from Boyne City High School. Her husband, Dr. Robert Pearson, practiced in Boyne City for a number of years prior to their move to Traverse City.

Mrs. Pearson is survived by her husband; three children, three stepchildren; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gerrie of Boyne City and one brother, Kennard Gerrie of Alpena.

The family suggests anyone wishing to honor the memory of Mrs. Pearson, may do so by contributing in her name to the Third Level Crisis Intervention Center, Box C, Traverse City State Hospital, Traverse City, 49684. Envelopes for that purpose may be obtained at Stackus Funeral Home in Boyne City, or the Hibbard Funeral Home in Traverse City.

Boyer City Commission Minutes

RECORD OF THE PROCEEDINGS OF A SPECIAL MEETING OF THE CITY COMMISSION DULY CALLED AND HELD IN THE OFFICE OF THE CITY MANAGER ON THURSDAY, AUGUST 27, 1981 AT 12 O'CLOCK NOON.

Present: Mayor Keith Fitzpatrick, Commissioners Martin Paul and Thelma Behling. Absent: Commissioners Catherine Jessup and Steven Moody. Also present: City Manager Timothy J. Clifton and City Clerk Tom Garlock.

The call of the meeting is to consider bids for the following projects:

1. Water street capital improvements.
2. Lakefront walkway.
3. Salt storage facility.

The city manager presented the following communication:

Of the three bidders for the Water Street capital improvements, the low bid is from M & M Excavating in the amount of $111,337.50. It is the recommendation of the city administration and the city's engineer after reviewing all of the bid documents for each of the bids submitted that the

In Service

Coast Guard Captain J. Curtis Ikens, son of Vera Ikens of Boyne City, recently returned from an Alaskan Fisheries Patrol. Ikens is the commanding officer of the Coast Guard Cutter Jarvis, homeported in Hawaii. During the patrol in the Bering Sea and Gulf of Alaska, the Jarvis made boardings of Japanese, Polish, West German, South Korean and Taiwanese fishing vessels to ensure compliance with U. S. laws and international treaties. The crew also participated in several oceanographic research programs and search and rescue activities.

contract be awarded to the low bidder, M & M Excavating.

$135,000 was budgeted for this project in the FY 81/82 Budget. In addition to the $111,000+ for the actual construction contract, the budgeted amount must also be used for payment for engineering fees which will amount to $10,000 to $15,000. Also, the expense of burying the other utility lines, i.e., gas, electric, telephone and cable TV, must also be reimbursed from this fund. Finally, the associated landscaping expense must be shared among the Parks and Recreation Fund and the Capital Improvement Fund Budget. Therefore, it is anticipated that upon completion of the project that the entire $135,000 budgeted will be expended on the project.

Moved by Paul, seconded by Behling, upon the recommendation of the city administration and city engineer, to award the Water Street Capital Improvement Program bid, to M & M Excavating, Gaylord, in the amount of $111,337.50 with funds budgeted in Account Code 101-958-000—Capital Improvement Fund.

Roll call all years. Motion carried. Moved by Behling, seconded by Fitzpatrick, upon the recommendation of the city administration, to accept the proposal of John E. Hoffman Landscaping to provide the associated landscaping services for the Water Street Project which includes moving and balling present trees for storage and the planting of 16 additional trees.

The city commission reviewed the bids of the four contractors that submitted proposals for the lakefront walkway project. The low bid by Blake Kenney in the amount of $17,642.50 was declared ineligible for failure to submit a bid bond. The eligible low bid was submitted by Seals and Roberts Construction Company, in the amount of $19,995, or $19,000 over the budgeted amount of the project.

Six alternatives were studied by the commission, ranging from starting the project on a limited, smaller scale to the elimination of the entire project.

Moved by Behling, seconded by Fitzpatrick that the commission reject all bids for the lakefront walkway project and that the budgeted $9,500 be carried forward from the Fiscal Year 1981/82 Budget to the Fiscal Year 1982/83 Budget, with the city manager directed to investigate alternatives to the project, by the use of different types of materials, i.e., tar and chips, wood chips, etc.

Roll call all years. Motion carried. The city commission reviewed two bids received for the construction of a salt storage facility in North Boyne.

Moved by Paul, seconded by Behling to award the bid for the construction of salt storage facility to Seals and Roberts Construction.

Further, the city administration is directed and authorized to make the necessary transfers within the major and local street fund, specifically the categories of construction—Account Codes 202-451-000 and 203-451-000 and that any deficit will be made up from the reduction in the maintenance of drains and the dust control categories in the major and local street funds, so that the total expense of the major and local street funds will not exceed the budgeted amount, pursuant to the State of Michigan's Uniform Accounting and Budgeting Act.

The city administration is further directed to meet with Seals and Roberts Construction Company, to work out alternatives for the construction of the salt storage facility, to facilitate a lesser expenditure for its construction, through the use of other building materials or the decreased use of anticipated labor costs.

Roll call all years. Motion carried.

Moved by Paul, seconded by Behling for the meeting to adjourn. Meeting adjourned at 12:41 p.m.

New resale shop in BC

BOYNE CITY - Marilyn and Larry Forcier planned their Boyne Avenue Resale Shop for about a year before opening it a few weeks ago on 414 Boyne Avenue.

The shop is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Call ahead if you want anything on Saturday, Forcier said.

For right now much of the clothes, furniture, and knickknacks have been brought up from down state.

"Clothes are really good," Marilyn Forcier said. "They have labels from Sak's, Alvin's, Ferris', and so on."

Everything is usable. "And if you find an antique, it's yours, said Forcier. She meant she is not in business to sell antiques, but if someone finds one in the store they will still find it has a plain, resale merchandise price tag.

Kelts is 'just working into' his catering business

BOYNE FALLS - "Just working into it," is the way Jerry Kelts described his new catering business, Catering by Kelts.

Working into it, Kelts provided 1100 ears of corn for the Red Fox Regatta. Some things have been on a smaller scale. He does platters of sandwiches for baby showers, for example, but also does sit-down dinners for class reunions.

"I enjoy doing party events when I take people to serve guests cocktails and hors d'oeuvres," he said.

People he calls on to serve, dress appropriately for the occasion, whether it is a white-tie function or a circus-theme birthday party.

Kelts who also runs the Great American Garage Sale in Boyne Falls, learned to cook when he was very young. Both his parents had to work, and all five of their children learned to cook.

"It was just something all of us enjoyed doing," Kelts said.

He uses family recipes, but said he also gets many ideas from magazines, like chicken livers with chestnuts, wrapped in bacon.

But his favorite is the ever-popular prime ribs of beef.

He has bought a place in which to install a commercial kitchen. Until it is completed, he may be found at his mother's restaurant, "Betty's Place" in the odd hours when the kitchen is not too busy.

Mike Burr officially opens insurance office

EAST JORDAN - In business since 1976, Mike Burr officially opened his downtown office this August for the increased convenience of his customers.

Located on the second floor of the Ben Schenck and Associates building, Burr's entrance is at 101 Esterly Street.

Also rather new is Burr's "working relationship with Dave Williamson, Boyne City insurance agent.

"If I'm not around, people can contact Dave when they have a question—and he'll do the same for me," explained Burr. They're sharing this way as each of them is getting settled.

Burr is a full-line agent. He started when he got out of the armed services. He and his wife Pamela and their three daughters live in East Jordan.

Back to the business, Burr adds, "Women are more and more buying insurance. They are good risks."

Viewpoints

BY BARBARA CRUDEN

Let's start as if no school had ever existed. What would we decide children should know?

School boards, of course, work year around on their schools, but generally wind up with the money questions thrust at them, not the real education questions that often are their basic interest.

I've heard school board members explain what they think education should be, the improvements and developments they conscientiously desire.

But for now, let's not suggest improving what we have. Let's do the impossible—start in total originality.

We may wind up with something that looks exactly like the present-day school. Then again...

So I asked some people.

1. A lot of them said they would like their children to have pleasure in their learning. While that's a how instead of a what, it might be a useful guideline.

Does it mean children should learn what they enjoy, like climbing trees and throwing snowballs or should they enjoy what they learn like math and history?

It would be a good idea to combine both.

Trees have rings. There's a springboard for history. Wood has made America. There's a way to our past. People used to live in trees.

As for snowballs—go with them from addition through percentages.

Thus school might combine life with what they call hands-on learning with all the excitement of summer/winter camp.

2. I asked someone else what they thought children should know.

They should know God, they answered.

Indeed. But schools can teach only what is universally accepted. Things like democracy and the alphabet.

Some things—maybe even the main things children should know—must be taught at home.

3. One main thing, someone pointed out to me, is love, and the different kinds of love. If there are different kinds.

Can you teach love at school? Can you teach honesty? Can you teach children not to be self-righteous?

4. One of my ideas about what is important is to teach children how beautiful the light is shining through a red hollyhock. How beautiful the grace of a red squirrel streaming across the branches of the walnut tree. Even the marvel of the purposeful speed of a black ant along a log in the woods.

But you know what happens when you take 35 children out to look at an ant.

Could something be done about that?

5. For years teachers have believed they were teaching children how to think. They believed that three years of Latin would teach them, among other things, how to be well-organized mentally.

Physics teachers thought that physics would do it and English teachers and math and social studies and gym teachers all thought they were teaching thinking, too.

Tests have shown (Thorndike, c. 1904) that the courses taught children Latin, physics, math, etc., but the inquiry, the analysis, the organization, and other skills were not transferred to life experience, only to further courses in Latin, physics, math, etc. Except with from 2 to 4 percent of the students who were probably thinkers already.

I would have schools teach thinking directly as thinking. Some are trying it.

I know how I would do it, too.

But to go on.

6. Well, sure, children have to know reading, writing, and arithmetic. But maybe taught in different ways.

Instead of history with one war after another, history with how the people lived. That's being done.

Instead of grammar, imitation of great writers. (And A.A. Milne will do. It doesn't have to be Shakespeare.)

7. My artist friend says children should know how to express beauty and make things. Yes!

8. My biologist friend stresses biology, but I don't agree! They learn biology but know not how to plant a tree in their own front yard. The farmer learned biology and plows and knows not how many tons of topsoil have blown off his field, how many insects have increased because of loss of bird shelter and so on. How about relevant biology. Does the biologist know how to compost?

9. I know of a school where they teach imagination. In the nursery years, selected fairy tales and make-believe are a background for drama, art, dance, music—as they will always be, no matter how old the children become—or the human race gets.

Imagination also gives a flexibility that makes other more academic learning easier.

Every child should know the arts, even though he may not become an artist.

In nine ways we have come to school as it is, somewhat, and as it is not. It's a good way to look at education, isn't it?

What do you think children should learn?

DON'T DREAM!

Too long about a better home for your family—just as your salary increases so does the cost of housing. Bring your family to see this two-bedroom home with 800 square feet of living space, full basement, and a one-car garage, set up on a nice double lot. # East Jordan City Council Minutes

Special City Council Meeting August 29, 1981
 Minutes of a special meeting of City Council held Saturday, Aug. 29, 1981 at 10:00 a.m.
 Present: Mayor Nemecek, Councilmembers Joseph, Gots, Gee, Morris and Sweet, Clerk-Treasurer Morris.
 Absent: Councilman Fox.
 Purpose of the meeting was to interview for superintendent and consider applicants.
 The scheduled interviewee withdrew his resume.
 Applicants considered were Rush Cattell and John Dionne.
 A decision was made to ask those two applicants back and review their applications, re-interview them and hopefully hire one of them.
 The meeting was scheduled for 7:00 p.m., Aug. 31, 1981 with the applicants to be here at 7:30 p.m.

 Motion to adjourn was offered by Gee, supported by Morris and carried all ayes.

Special Council Meeting August 31
 Minutes of a Special Council meeting held Monday, Aug. 31, 1981 at 7:00 p.m.
 Present: Mayor Protem Joseph, Councilmembers Morris, Fox and Gee, Clerk-Treasurer Morris, Mayor Nemecek arrived about 7:30 p.m., Councilman Gots arrived about 8:15 p.m.
 Absent: Councilwoman Sweet.
 Those members present at 7:00 p.m. reviewed the Superintendent of Public Works job description.

At 7:30 p.m. John Dionne appeared for his interview. This interview continued to 8:10 p.m.
 At 8:15 p.m. Rush Cattell was asked to come in. This interview continued to about 9:00 p.m.
 Both applicants were asked to stay around for council's decision.
 Motion was offered by Gee, supported by Fox, that Rush Cattell be hired as Superintendent of Public Works.
 Motion carried with five ayes and Joseph voting nay.
 Motion was offered by Joseph, supported by Gee, that Cattell be offered $22,500, to find if that was acceptable.
 Motion carried all ayes.
 Rush Cattell was asked back and asked if he would work for $22,500. He said he would be willing to start for $22,500 if the salary could be renegotiated in six months. Six months will be the new budget year. At this time Councilman Joseph told him that he had the position. Cattell will start September 8 but will need September 16 off to wind up some other business.

 John Dionne was asked to come in and Councilman Joseph explained to him that the city had just hired Cattell.
 Motion to adjourn was offered by Joseph, supported by Fox, and carried all ayes.

Proceedings of East Jordan City Council
September 1, 1981
 East Jordan City Council met in regular session Tuesday, Sept. 1, 1981 at 7:30 p.m., Mayor Nemecek presiding and all members present.

 Superintendent of Public Works, Rush V. Cattell was introduced.
 Minutes were approved, authorization was given to pay $52,569.11 in bills as presented minus a bill from Tri City Asphalt for $2,506.76, and the necessary transfers were made.
 Reports were heard that the ambulance made 39 runs in August; Sanford Sweet was hired as mechanic; police officer Bean has taken a position in Mancelona; the Airport Committee is protesting the placement of a 621 foot antenna on Richardson hill; and water samples from Brown Creek have been sent to the lab.
 Two bids were received for the 1974 ambulance which was sold to the high bidder for $2,126.00; there were 15 applications for the position of Landfill Caretaker which were referred to committee with power to hire.

 Pat Sweet and Gwendolyn Frank will represent the city at the MERS meeting Sept. 24; the clerk-treasurer will be attending school later this month; a complaint about the police department was referred to committee; water meters will be ordered; and revised duties of the Superintendent of Public Works were adopted.
 Meeting adjourned about 8:15 p.m.
 A copy of the official minutes of the above meeting are posted at the City Hall for perusal during normal working hours.

TAX BILLS
 City Manager Tim Clifton reminds residents that a four percent penalty would be figured on tax bills paid after the Tuesday, Sept. 15 due date.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY
 East Jordan area residents are encouraged to bring old scrapbooks and their own baby pictures to the next meeting of the Portside Art and Historical Society. The meeting will be held in the museum at Elm Pointe at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 10. A baby photo contest will be held, and prizes will be awarded.

ANCESTOR HUNTING
 To help area residents get started in the fast growing hobby of genealogy—or ancestor hunting—the Charlevoix Public Library, in cooperation with the ACE Genealogy Society, is offering a six-week series of classes.
 Classes will be taught by Mrs. Lloyd Arnold with Mrs. Charles Duerr assisting. The series will cover public and private records and how to use them, and systems for recording information.
 The course is offered free except for a small charge for materials. The first class will be at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 21, and will continue on Monday nights through Oct. 26. Phone the library to register for this course.

New manager for EJ Co-Op

EAST JORDAN - Starting Aug. 3, Ronald Massey became the new manager of East Jordan Co-op.
 Massey is taking over from Bob Allen who is retiring. His background is in industrial production with Freedman Artcraft in Charlevoix. This is his first position with the co-op.
 Massey and his wife Darlene live in Boyne City. "Been a resident there for 20 years," he said. He is a native of Charlevoix County.
 His new job will be in the supervision of the Co-op complex—the hardware farm store; the full service gas station, garage, auto parts operation; and the feed mill.

EJ Girl Scouts plan busy year

EAST JORDAN - Girl Scouts in the East Jordan Area will be starting off their new season in September with a trip to Traverse City to see a dance review in September.
 According to May Bavers, Girl Scout Service Team Chairwoman, the year will be full of activities directed toward fulfilling badge requirements. The calendar looks like this:
 Oct. - Visit to Sherman Canning factory in East Jordan and another trip to Traverse City to see a dance performance.
 Nov. - A talk by Police Chief Joe Hammond, and one by Michigan Bell Telephone.
 Dec. - Christmas bazaar and play, and a visit to Charlevoix County State Bank.
 Jan. - A talk by a nurse from the county health department and a first-aid class taught by Bernie Hammond.

 Feb. - Charlevoix's Aartvark coming to talk on taking photographs.
 Mar. - "We've invited Governor Milliken," said Bavers.
 Mar. - Vallance TV talk on how TV works. Also a trip to Charlevoix County Press.
 Apr. - A visit to Record-Eagle newspaper in Traverse City.
 May - Roller skating party for cookie sellers, plus a sports day.
 Bavers said they are "signing up Girl Scout leaders—and kids from ages six to 18. Grandma's are welcome!" she stressed. She really thinks they are good for the girls, she said.
 In addition to the program, there will be other activities, Bavers said, like horseback riding and cross-country skiing.

A new shop for fishermen

BOYNE CITY - Not a new face—Pat Mitchell has lived—and fished—around Boyne City all his life. But the business is new—Sportfisherman, a bait and tackle shop.

Mitchell opened his shop July 16 after his parents decided to sell the A & W Drive-in Restaurant that Pat had been managing for them.

He remodeled one of the four stalls of the car wash on North Lake Street across from the boat ramp—"a handsome job" according to Chamber of Commerce executive-director Kate Schafer.

Over the window hangs the mounted 14½-pound northern pike he caught.

The shop is open this summer from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. When it starts to get dark early, Mitchell said, he will change the hours.

This winter he plans to have fishing shanties for rent and ice-fishing spears for sale. For summer customers he has all kinds of live and artificial bait and fishing tackle.

"Lake Charlevoix is a good lake for fishing," Mitchell said, "but the Department of Natural Resources should plant more, I think. I'd like to see them plant walleyes, salmon, and trout."

Once in awhile Mitchell gets a chance to go out fishing himself. Helps him keep up on things when customers ask for advice.

Good year for EJ swimming program

EAST JORDAN - This year's swim program was the best she's seen, according to Pat Berlo, recreation director for the city.

Total enrollment of 216 included all ages from pre-school through adults learning or improving swim skills, Berlo said.

Classes were held at the city beach next to the Tourist Park, from June 22 through August 20. Of the 216, 65 passed Red Cross exams and tests.

To celebrate, the last day at the beach was fun day, Berlo said. The city provided watermelon, a soft drink, and balloons, and there were games played by everyone.

On the 20th and 21st, awards were given out.

"A good year," said Berlo.

About 800 bike riders cycled through Charlevoix County Sunday in the 11th annual Dick Allen Lansing to Mackinaw [DALMAC] bicycle trip. The riders were split into two routes, both of which went through the county. Allen, a state senator from Alma, started the ride in 1971 with a handful of riders to draw attention to bicycling "as a healthy means of recreation as well as a viable transportation alternative."

Anniversary open house for Davises

Mr. and Mrs. Max L. Davis of Boyne City will observe their 50th wedding anniversary at an open house from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 12, at the Board of Commerce in Advance.

The golden anniversary will be hosted by the couples' children and their spouses: Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Miller of Grand Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Argetsinger of East Jordan and Mrs. Nan Kritcher of Boyne City.

The couple were married on Nov. 18,

1931 in Boyne City. Davis worked at the Tannery for 32 years and at Essex Wire for six years. His wife Naomi was employed at Essex for 11 years.

Max and Naomi have eight grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

All family, friends and relatives are invited to the celebration.
