Census shows big growth in townships

BY JIM BAUMANN

The rural areas of Charlevoix County showed dramatic growth from 1970 to 1980, according to final census figures which have just been received.

As a whole, the population of Charlevoix County increased 20.3 percent, from 16,541 to 19,907. Almost all of that growth was in the rural areas.

The county's three cities grew by a total of only 300 people, or 3.5 percent, while the townships grew by 3,006 at a rate of 38 percent.

The townships and the Village of Boyne Falls, taken together, increased from 8,012 to 11,078 in the 10 year span. Following a national trend, there are now more people living in rural areas than in cities in both our county and the nation.

In 1970, only 48 percent of the county populace lived in rural areas. Now nearly 56 percent are living in the townships.

As previously reported in preliminary census figures, the City of Charlevoix was the only municipal unit in the county to lose population in the past 10 years, dropping from 3,519 to 3,296, a 6.3 percent decrease.

Boyne City became the largest city in the county by a margin of 52 people, growing 12.8 percent from 2,969 to 3,348.

The county's third city, East Jordan, showed a modest 7.1 percent increase to 2,185.

The most dramatic growth was in Hayes and Wilson Townships.

Wilson showed the greatest percentage increase by growing from 650 to 1,199—a jump of 84.5 percent.

Wilson's 549 increase was second in pure growth to Hayes, which grew by 568 people from 706 to 1,274. That 80.4 percent increase makes Hayes the most populous township over second place South Arm, which grew 24 percent to 1,237.

In terms of pure growth, the City of Boyne City is third in the county after Hayes and Wilson with an increase of 379.

Townships showing the slowest growth rates were Boyne Valley with a 13.8 percent increase, and Melrose with a 14.1 percent increase.

The smallest townships are still Peaine on Beaver Island with 81 residents and Chandler with 132.

A boom in second homes is suggested by the fact that the number of housing units in the county increased by 45.9 percent—more than twice the growth rate of the population.

Despite its drop in population, the City of Charlevoix showed a 19.7 percent increase in the number of housing units. Charlevoix now has 1,779 housing units to lead the county in that category.

Boyne City is second with 1,563 housing units, an increase of nearly 40 percent in 10 years.

The most dramatic growth rate in housing units came in sparsely populated Hudson Township. Housing units increased 365 percent from 83 to 386.

Housing units increased by 303 while the population increased by only 124 in Hudson.

There are now more houses (386) than people (343) in Hudson Township. The only other township with this phenomenon is Peaine, which has 231 housing units and 81 people.

The census also breaks down the population by race, showing that 98 percent of the population is white. The remaining two percent includes 325 people of Indian descent, 62 Spanish, 38 Asian, 15 Black and 18 other.

The population breakdown is now being used by the county reapportionment board to draw new boundaries for the districts by which county commissioners are elected.

Their task is to rearrange the districts so they are nearly equal in population while at the same time trying to keep the districts square-shaped and to avoid splitting parts of townships and cities between districts.

BC people may be in Super Bowl TV

BY JIM BAUMANN

BOYNE CITY - Look closely if you're watching the Super Bowl on television this January. You may see some people you know.

A film crew came to Boyne City last weekend to line up some local residents as "extras" for some commercials it will be shooting in December.

The commercials, paid for by the State of Michigan, will promote winter sports vacations in Michigan. They will be shown during the Super Bowl, which traditionally has one of the viewing audiences of all television programs.

State tourism officials figure this is a logical time to promote winter sports in Michigan, since the Super Bowl will be played in the Pontiac Silverdome, focusing national attention on the state.

The film is being produced by a New York company which has hired a Detroit firm called Ultra Media to do the filming for the commercial.

About 90 Boyne City residents, including a number of children, were interviewed Saturday in Boyne City by a preliminary scouting crew for possible use in the actual filming.

The interviews were conducted in the offices of Real Estate One in Boyne City, and many of the local people were lined up on short notice by Arlene Kuhn. Kuhn is an associate broker for the firm, who was asked to help out "by a friend of a friend" of Judy Wright, an Ultra Media representative who is working on the commercial.

The theme of the commercial, Kuhn said, will be "Yes—Michigan," upbeat and positive.

She said a considerable portion of the filming will be done at Boyne Mountain and Boyne Highlands, plus other scenes in the Upper Peninsula.

Scenes will include skiing, skating, tobogganing, sleigh rides, ice fishing and even some romantic "apres ski" fireplace shots. One of Kuhn's jobs was to provide the production crew with the names of area residents who had large, attractive fireplaces.

Sonya Eggers' sleigh may be used, as well.

So when the Super Bowl commercials come on, don't run into the kitchen to make a sandwich! You may miss seeing a friend on national TV.

Hunters eye largest deer herd in 30 years

Hunting experts are predicting that hunters should find the largest deer herd in 30 years this year.

More than 700,000 hunters are expected to take to the woods over the 15-day firearm deer season which starts this Sunday, Nov. 15.

Last year a record 727,000 hunters purchased firearm deer licenses.

The deer herd is expected to be the largest since at least 1951 because of two consecutive mild winters, excellent fawn survival rates and bountiful acorn crops, one of a deer's chief foods.

Department of Natural Resources officials report firearm hunters should take a minimum of 100,000 bucks and 50,000 does over the season, up 20 percent from last year.

According to Department of Natural Resources estimates there are approximately one and a quarter million deer in Michigan, the highest number in the state's history.

Surveys indicate that hunters took 165,000 whitetails last year and are expected to increase that total during the 1981 season. Biologists anticipate the number will reach a 30-year peak.

Of the 165,000 deer taken last year 30,000 were antlerless.

The biologists expect bow and firearm hunters to take approximately 190,000 deer this year and nearly 100,000 may be taken in the northern lower peninsula.

The antlerless firearm harvest will increase by 92 percent.

Of the 225,000 permits to be issued 100,000 will be for 11,748 square miles of the northern lower peninsula. With that many permits issued DNR biologists expect a kill of 31,740 does and fawns.

DNR deer expert Dave Arnold is hoping for a larger than usual army of hunters on Nov. 15.

The large deer herd could be severely damaged by starvation and thus wasted if the winter turns bad.

Hunters are reminded to wear either a hat, vest or coat of blaze orange to hunt on public lands.

EJ to get professional advice on hiring new city supt.

EAST JORDAN - The city council will hold a special meeting Thursday night to continue its search for a new city superintendent.

Rush Cattell resigned last week after holding the position for only two months.

Cattell left the job Nov. 3 because he knew that a Charlevoix County Press investigation was going to be printed the next day, reporting numerous problems in his past jobs.

The city council met last week to review applications it had received when the city had originally advertised the job late in the summer. Four top candidates were chosen this week—two who had been interviewed previously, and two new applicants.

But first the city will be getting some professional advice. Williams and Works, a Grand Rapids firm which has done some engineering projects for the city in the past, has offered their assistance.

City clerk-treasurer Fern Morris said a Williams and Works engineer who has also worked in a city management position will offer his advice to the council Thursday "on what a city of our size should be looking for in this position."

Williams and Works may also be able to assist in checking out the background of top candidates, Morris said, because the firm has contacts throughout the state.

Walloon Trust receives major land donation

WALLOON LAKE - A donation of 82 acres has been given to the Walloon Lake Trust. The land, located on the west shore of Walloon Lake's South Arm, was part of the Ben E. Ellis estate.

A group of long-time residents joined together for the purchase of the estate property which they then turned over to the trust.

Making the purchase were: Mrs. Cynthia W. Ottaway, Mr. and Mrs. E. Curtis Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Graham, Mr. Charles E. Wilson, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William B. Hargreaves, and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar H. Lotspeich. Dr. William A. Heisel, president of the trust, called it a major contribution and said, "All residents of Walloon Lake extend their grateful appreciation to this group for their gift of land."

The land will be held in its natural state in "perpetuity." "Everyone will benefit," said William Fisher, trust treasurer. He said the donation "provides a tree-lined half-mile of Shadow Trails Road, protection of water quality, a haven for wildlife, and the aesthetic quality of a large tract of undeveloped land."

This is the second land donation to the trust. The first was "the Wolf Property," also along Shadow Trails Drive, given earlier this year.

The trust is a tax-exempt charitable trust, affiliated with the Walloon Lake Association.

Officer named for EJ sheriff's sub-station

EAST JORDAN - An officer has been appointed for the sheriff's sub-station in East Jordan.

County Sheriff George Lasater named David Kurchinski to the position, which was vacated when Under-Sheriff Dale Boehm moved to his new position in the department.

Deputy Sheriff Kurchinski was an officer in a Florida police department for 10 years, but he is originally from Charlevoix County. His experience has included detective work in both criminal and juvenile divisions.

Lasater, in making the appointment, said he was glad to have a deputy sheriff with training and experience.

Kurchinski, 34, is married and the father of three school-age children. He lives in South Arm Township.

Students from Don Lockman's middle school Discovery class are assisting the Boyne Valley Garden Club with their beautification project at Old City Park in Boyne City. Local contractor Blake Kenny and the City of Boyne City hauled in top soil, and the students are spreading it on uneven spots throughout the park. Grass will be planted in the spring.

The Open Door Coffee House

Teens have a spot for recreation

BY BARBARA CRUDEN
EAST JORDAN - A place to go to, a place where a person can just drop in and talk, a place that doesn't sell alcoholic beverages—these are the rather special characteristics of The Open Door, soon to open in the city in the ground floor of the Masonic Temple next to City Hall on Main Street.

Ron Klooster, one of the group organizing the project, said on Saturday, Nov. 14 they would celebrate their opening with a concert at the Civic Center. At that time, also, he said, The Open Door would have an open house, serving coffee and tea.

After the 14th, The Open Door will be open Fridays and Saturdays from 7 to 11 p.m.

The full name of the gathering spot is The Open Door Christian Coffee House. It's not a church, though, nor an informal opportunity to hear preaching, Klooster said. Rather, it's a place for people of any age to go to enjoy themselves, Klooster said.

He hopes they will have local talent and talent from the outside to make music. On occasion they will have "an untalented talent night."

Similar coffee houses have been functioning in cities like Manistee, where, Klooster said, he visited with the manager of one that has been running for five years.

They are good, he noted, not only for recreation, but also for people who want to rap, and even people trying to get a little perspective on their large or small troubles.

"But it's not a rehab center," Jim McWatters said. McWatters, who is the minister of the Church of the Everlasting God, said they will not be giving counseling unless someone specifically requests help from a minister. "Then the place could help make the contact," he said.

A number of churches have become interested in the project, including some in Charlevoix and Boyne City. They plan to help support the coffee house. A donation box will also be perched on the premises, McWatters said, but nobody will be passing the hat.

Volunteers from the group that has organized the project will take turns being on hand. Members of the executive board are: Lynn Bulmann, chairwoman; Linda Patton, vice-chairwoman; Lynn Carson, secretary-treasurer; Shirley and Lawrence Schumacher, and Klooster and McWatters.

Both Klooster and McWatters have children—young people, really. Their wives Toni Lynn Klooster and Colleen McWatters, like the others backing the project, are interested that young people find this a good gathering place.

"We'll have packaged snacks, and we can take orders for pizza to be brought in," Klooster said.

While the new coffee house has the cooperation of churches in the area, Klooster said, "We're not trying to replace the church, just accent it." He added that the idea is to have a good time in an ecumenical way.

Mel Holden, a member of the Jewish faith who lives in Walloon Lake, recently was invited to Boyne Falls School as a speaker in the seventh grade class taught by Nancy Hellman. Holden told the class about current and past practices of his religion and answered a number of questions from the students.

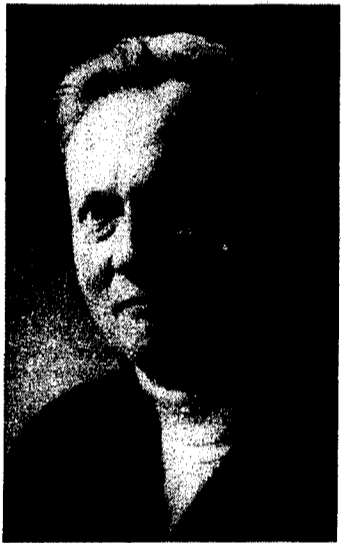

Boyne City man is Farmer of the Week

BOYNE CITY - Local farmer William Korthase has been named Farmer of the Week for the week of Nov. 9 in recognition of his contributions to Michigan agriculture.

The weekly award, which honors farmers in Michigan, is sponsored by the Michigan Farm Radio Network and Farm Bureau Insurance Group.

Korthase, 58, who has been farming all his life, is a dairy farmer. He currently farms 440 acres and milks about 35 cows.

His involvement in community and agricultural affairs includes: serving as a church leader in Christ Lutheran Church, serving on the Church Council and over 18 years on the board; served 12 years on the Charlevoix County Road Commission; member of the Boyne Valley Township Planning Commission; 23 years on the County Soil and Water Conservation Board; member of the County Farm Bureau for 36 years, including two terms as president; 15 years on the District Soil Conservation

William Korthase Board, serving as chairman for several years; and member of the Boyne City Cooperative Co. board of directors and the East Jordan Cooperative board of directors.

Korthase and his wife, Jean, have six children.

Recipients of the Farmer of the Week Award are chosen for the quality of their farming operation and for their contri-

Ruppe to bring Senate campaign to county

CHARLEVOIX - U.S. Senate candidate Philip E. Ruppe will be meeting area residents in an informal get-acquainted session at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 11, in Charlevoix.

The public is invited to meet the former congressman at Duffy's restaurant on U.S. 31.

Ruppe's visit is being sponsored by the Charlevoix County Ruppe for Senate Committee, which is chaired by Charlevoix industrialist Don Hufford. Also members of the committee are Arthur Rouse and Cass Toton of Boyne City.

Rouse and Toton were originally planning a breakfast session with Ruppe in Boyne City on Thursday, but schedule conflicts forced postponement. They hope to have Ruppe come to Boyne City sometime later.

E. J. Chatterings

Hello everyone, I am your new current correspondent for social news in the East Jordan area. I hope you will give me a ring at 536-2381 with interesting news or coming events.

Mrs. Marian Sheppard has just returned from Alpena after attending a funeral of an old classmate.

Mrs. Inez Parker, has been the piano player at the Senior Center, and quite a group of singers help her out on Wednesday. Mrs. Parker will be visiting her children in Grand Rapids and Dowagiac for the holidays, and then her daughter will drive her to Florida.

Rev. Phill Simmons is the new pastor of the United Methodist Church in East Jordan. He is serving in his first parish and is very enthusiastic about the congregation members he has met since his arrival on the 19th of August.

Rev. Simmons is a retired Air Force Pharmacy Technician, and says that he has "given up the healing of the physical for the healing of the spiritual." There is a great deal of similarity and he feels there is greater healing in the spiritual.

The church at East Jordan has 183 members and is very active. Their programs include Sunday morning workshop service, Sunday School, prayer groups and Bible studies. His capacity for organization will be used to the best of his ability in this church.

He has been stationed in Germany, England, and Viet Nam. His travels have taken him to many European countries and into Communist East Germany. In America he has been stationed in North Dakota, Nebraska, Massachusetts, Alabama, Louisiana and California. His career spans a 20 year period from 1956 to 1977.

Rev. Simmons is almost a local person, if you can call Lake City local. He was born there more years ago than he cares to remember. In 1956, his family moved to Caledonia, where he graduated from high school and went into the Air Force.

Pastor Phill, as he likes to be called, married an English girl by the name of Marian. They have two daughters, Bridget and Nichole, who are both attending East Jordan schools.

They reside in the parsonage which is located at 305 Esterly. Marian is happy about being in such a caring community as East Jordan and has been overwhelmed at the enthusiasm she has met in the people there.

The congregation at East Jordan is comprised of more older persons, and Rev. Simmons feels that more younger persons should be encouraged to participate in the programs. He is concentrating his ministry on the younger people in the community and on newly married persons.

Rev. Simmons states the future of the church is in the hands of today's youth. "Without them our church will soon be much less than it is today," he said. He feels the youth of our country are very important and they should be given every opportunity to be heard and seen in today's society. Much is attributed to youth which they do not deserve, he said.

The future of the church looks secure to Rev. Simmons and in particular the church in East Jordan. He hopes that he will be able to beat his predecessor's stay, which amounted to seven years.

A thought for today: A short and worthwhile trip is to visit friends or relatives at Grandvue Medical Care Facility to brighten or shorten a day for them.

A celebration of music, drama and dance will take place in East Jordan on Monday, Nov. 16, 1981 when Theater Arts students from the Interlochen Arts Academy present the award-winning musical, "GODSPELL," at the Civic Center at 10 a.m. This free presentation is part of the Interlochen Show on the Road program which is supported by the Michigan Council for the Arts. "Godspell" is the staging of well-known parables and stories of the Gospels. Utilizing pantomime, children's games, puppetry, chorales, vaudeville routines, soft-shoe dancing and music of nearly every style, the cast takes the audience from early civilization (philosophy during the Dark Ages) to John the Baptist's early days through Jesus' ministry up to and including the Crucifixion and Resurrection. Local arrangements for the performance have been made by Pat Berle of the East Jordan Recreation Department.

New arrival

Tammy and Ronald Peck of East Jordan became parents for the first time at Northern Michigan Hospitals on Oct. 25. Their son, Michael Lee, weighed eight pounds and 12 ounces and measured 19 3/4 inches in length. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ron Schroeder of Boyne City and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Peck of East Jordan. Great grandmothers are Mrs. Persis Cooper of East Jordan, Mrs. Margaret Hellebuick and Mrs. Olga Schroeder of New Baltimore.

Widened sidewalks — 'stupid planning'?

Editor,
It is time to take off the gloves. If the facelift they gave Water Street is an example of our master planners' expertise, then Boyne City is in trouble. Big trouble.
Over the years our city fathers have made some pretty silly decisions but this cosmetic treatment for the two busiest corners in town has just got to be the most stupid piece of planning that has ever come out of city hall. It can move right up to the head of the line.

There are many things wrong with the design of the widened walks at these two corners but I consider the following three as the worst, but any one is faulty enough to require the scrapping of the whole concept of narrowing the usable roadway at the street corners.

1. Snow removal—Anyone can see that this new design is going to cause problems. It's going to be real awkward plowing around these corners. It will require more time and cost more money. The curbs will take a real beating—I guarantee that. If they stock pile the snow on these corners—as has been suggested—they will only make a dangerous situation worse.
2. Traffic flow—Any qualified traffic engineer will tell you to widen the roadway at busy intersections if at all possible to allow for turns, both right and left and still maintain the free flow of through traffic. Certainly you don't intentionally narrow them. The planners have disregarded this rule entirely and have deliberately restricted the flow of traffic. Traffic could very well get backed up for the full length of the block waiting for a car at the light to make a left turn. I don't think the merchants will be very happy about this. With the Harborage development coming along and the railroad property ready to go, our downtown traffic could very well triple in the next three or four years. Then the traffic flow problem will really get bad. The truck drivers certainly won't like it. It will be interesting to watch a big semi get onto Water Street from Park in heavy traffic. How about fire trucks?

3. Safety—God forbid it but the designers have built in a potential safety hazard that could very well be the cause of a tragic accident. There is no way the city could defend itself against any accident involving these misplaced curbs. I have traveled most of this country and Canada and have never seen such poor planning in an attempt to upgrade a city street. Our city commissioners had better see to it that they have plenty of liability insurance. They just could end up on the losing end of the damndest lawsuit they ever dreamed of.

Finally I think it is time for Mayor Fitzpatrick to start acting like a mayor. He is supposed to be the head man in town—not Timothy Clifton. If he doesn't have the stomach for the job he hadn't better stand for reelection. We, the citizens of Boyne City, need to hear from him personally as to why he allowed such a bad job of engineering on our main street.

Everyone is equal at the ballot box

Editor,
On Oct. 5 of this year, the citizens of Peaine Township, Beaver Island, held a recall vote on their supervisor who, indeed, was recalled. The question on the ballot or even the results are not significant. However, when the vote is analyzed, a significant lesson is learned.

votes, of which 57 were absentee ballots.

How do you get 121 votes from 81 citizens? Quite easy. Most of the people in the township are part-time (mostly summer) residents and by law are eligible to vote in that township.

A check of the absentee ballot applications indicates that 90 percent of those voters have residences off the island, mostly in southern Michigan.

The root of the lesson is: because of a feeling of neglect, indifference, or more likely due to a communication breakdown, those part-time residents decided to act and, as a group, were able to remove from office a native-born Beaver Islander.

Of course, this can only happen where there is a high number of part-time residents like Beaver Island, Charlevoix, Petoskey, Boyne City, Harbor Springs, etc., etc., etc.

So, it's important to remember when some of us try to differentiate between natives, non-natives, and "those people from down below" that at the ballot box, everyone is equal.

Express thanks

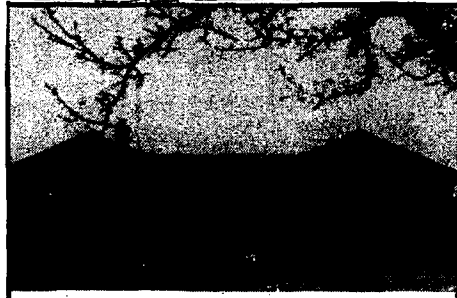

Editor,
As a store owner in East Jordan, we would like to express our appreciation for the consideration that the youth of East Jordan expressed on Devil's Night and Halloween.

We are a store owner on the main drag in East Jordan. We were warned by other owners of the many problems that would be ahead on those nights.

Much to our surprise, our youth proved that the rumors were wrong. There was no damage or destruction to our place of business.

Our hats are off to the young people of East Jordan.

Ramblers 'best 2-7 team around'

BY SCOTT PAQUETTE

BOYNE CITY - "I think we're probably the best 2-7 team around," Coach Bob McCullough said of his Ramblers as the season ended Friday with a 42-12 loss to mighty Cheboygan. "People who didn't see the guys play really missed something. All year long they played exciting, hard-hitting football, and it's just unfortunate that some of the scores turned out as they did. Five of the Ramblers' seven losses were by a margin of one touchdown or less—including a 15-14 loss to Tawas and a 26-20 overtime loss to Charlevoix. Their two wins came against Grayling (8-6) and St. Ignace (48-6). Last Friday night, the Rambler gridgers tried hard but failed to stop Cheboygan from winning its 37th consecutive game. "I thought we played real well," said McCullough. "The kids hit very hard and never ever quit. The game was actually a lot closer than the score indicates." The Ramblers put the first score on the board with six minutes left in the first quarter. An impressive combination of plays enabled a long drive, and set up a short run by senior Bob Christy for the touchdown. Cheboygan fought back with a score of their own to lead 7-6 at the end of the first quarter. In the second quarter, Cheboygan continued to effectively run the ball up the middle, throwing very few passes. They scored two more times before halftime—the last one coming with only 11 seconds left on the clock. Boyne made a few costly turnovers at the beginning of the second half, allowing Cheboygan to make two quick touchdowns. The Ramblers scored next on a 50-yard run by John Tompkins with four minutes remaining in the third quarter. Cheboygan scored later in the last quarter to make the final 42-12. "They've got a good team," said McCullough. "But I was pleased with the way we moved the ball and hit them."

Logger girls clinch third place in league

BOYNE FALLS - The Logger girls clinched third place in the Northern Lakes Conference last Thursday with a 45-37 win over Alanson. "It was a big win for us," said Boyne Falls Coach Joel Donaldson. "We beat them by one point on Oct. 6 when we played up there, and this game amounted to a battle for third place." The Logger victory improves their record to 5-4 in the conference and 10-6 overall. The Alanson game was tight all the way with Boyne Falls holding slim leads of 8-7, 19-13 and 27-22 at the end of each quarter.

quarter and 19 in the fourth to chalk up another victory. Guard Kim Mikula topped the Loggers in two departments with 16 points and nine rebounds. Sharon Franckowiak added nine points, while Patsy Grubaugh had eight points and nine rebounds, Pat Franckowiak had eight points and eight rebounds, and Karen Sevenski had seven points and eight rebounds. The Logger junior varsity played their best game of the season and took home their fourth victory with a 42-12 swamping of Alanson on Thursday. Kris Bell scored 14 points, Rhonda Grubaugh had nine, and Monique Churchill had 10 points and 10 rebounds. Boyne Falls also did well in a five-team junior high school tournament last week. The Loggers took first place in the girls' tournament and second place in the boys' tourney. According to league policy, junior high scores and game details aren't reported in the media. The varsity and junior varsity squads wrap up regular season action in the next few days with home games against Alba for Parents' Night on Thursday, Nov. 12, and against Inland Lakes next Tuesday, Nov. 17. After that, Boyne Falls will start district tournament play at Gaylord St. Mary's. Pairing will be announced this week for the tourney, which starts Nov. 19. The host Snowbirds are undefeated and will be heavily favored to win the district. Also chasing the crown will be Wolverine and Inland Lakes.

Split leaves EJ girls with 10-7 mark

The Loggers' balanced scoring was again evident, as junior Sharon Franckowiak led the attack with 12 points. Sandra Payton chipped in with 11 points and 12 rebounds, and Patsy Grubaugh added seven points and 10 rebounds. Earlier in the week, Boyne Falls came from behind to beat Forest Area, 54-44, in a non-conference battle. The Loggers trailed by three after scoring only 18 points in the first half, but they rallied for 17 points in the third late to win it 36-32. Joelyn Ingalls led the East Jordan scoring with 14 points, and DeEtte Looze followed with 13. Coach Mike Bos said Looze, his junior center, played "an outstanding game," making 11 of 17 free throws and grabbing 24 rebounds. "DeEtte got up in the air and really dominated the boards, and she shot well from the free throw line too," Bos said. Gayle Crick played a good defensive game after she was assigned to stop Mancelona's Mary Patrick, who had scored nine points in the second quarter. Crick held Patrick to five points in the second half. The junior varsity beat Mancelona 39-22 with Bonnie Testa scoring 10 points and Patty Nessel eight for East Jordan. The varsity didn't play well in last Tuesday's 38-36 home court loss to Central Lake, a team the Devils had beaten in Central Lake on Oct. 6. The game was close all the way, but the Trojans had an 11-8 advantage in the fourth quarter to pull out the victory. Ingalls had 14 points for East Jordan, and Kim Etter added eight. The junior varsity beat Central Lake 33-20, with Testa hitting 12 points to lead East Jordan to victory. East Jordan closes its regular season with a home game against Wolverine on Thursday, Nov. 12. District tournament play begins the following week at Central Lake.

that, and St. Ignace coasted to a 53-35 win. For Boyne City, Michelle Russell canned 15 points, and Lori Paquette added eight. In junior varsity action, Boyne won 28-22 over St. Ignace. Thursday, Nov. 12, the Ramblers will be on the road to take on league-leading Cheboygan. Next Monday, on Nov. 16, Boyne will host Central Lake for their final regular season game. Pairings will be announced this week for the district tournament, Nov. 19-25. Boyne City will be playing at Kalkaska with five other Class C teams. Also participating in the Kalkaska District will be Charlevoix, Benzie Central, Elk Rapids, Kalkaska and Traverse City St. Francis.

Boyne City girls fall

BY SCOTT PAQUETTE
The Rambler girls' overall record slipped to 5-11 as they lost to both Petoskey and St. Ignace in basketball last week. Boyne had a good chance for a win when they visited Petoskey on Tuesday night. After the Northmen held a 25-22 halftime advantage, the Ramblers came back to take a 33-32 lead at the end of the third quarter. In the final quarter, Boyne played a control type offense and attempted to run some time off the clock before taking a shot. But the Petoskey defense put pressure on the Ramblers and forced turnovers. Petoskey then pulled ahead to win 48-43. Lori Paquette led the Ramblers with 15 points, followed by Julie Paquette who hit 10, and Shiela Smith with eight. On Thursday night, the Ramblers traveled further north to meet St. Ignace. Boyne stayed with the Saints throughout the first half and trailed by only one point at halftime, 20-19. But in the third quarter, St. Ignace came on strong to outscore the Ramblers by 16 points, making the score 39-22. Boyne just couldn't catch up after that, and St. Ignace coasted to a 53-35 win. For Boyne City, Michelle Russell canned 15 points, and Lori Paquette added eight. In junior varsity action, Boyne won 28-22 over St. Ignace. Thursday, Nov. 12, the Ramblers will be on the road to take on league-leading Cheboygan. Next Monday, on Nov. 16, Boyne will host Central Lake for their final regular season game. Pairings will be announced this week for the district tournament, Nov. 19-25. Boyne City will be playing at Kalkaska with five other Class C teams. Also participating in the Kalkaska District will be Charlevoix, Benzie Central, Elk Rapids, Kalkaska and Traverse City St. Francis.

Schafer's expands to Traverse City

Schafer's Office Systems of Boyne City, has opened a new branch at 126 E. Front St., Traverse City. Schafer's original office is in Boyne City.

Schafer's sells a complete line of computer components—plus copiers, office furniture and supplies.

Company founder Gary Schafer said his company offers "a full service approach to helping businesses operate more efficiently."

"There are many places where people can buy computer hardware. Unfortunately, this doesn't solve people's problems. We have the staff to visit a business, analyze its needs, supply the programs, install the equipment, train the staff and then provide local service and follow-up," Schafer said.

"We think it is important to have somebody close by who can help customers with any problem that might arise. This is the kind of full-service approach that we feel sets our store apart from others in the area."

Schafer's has a unique 24-hour guarantee on all equipment the company sells. Schafer's pledges to repair or replace any of its equipment within 24 hours.

With the success of office supply sales in the area, Schafer saw a growing need for quality computer systems and services for Northern Michigan businesses.

As time went on, office furniture, copiers and finally computers were added to the Schafer's line-up. In March, 1981, the company name was changed to Schafer's Office Systems to more accurately describe its full-service approach.

Don MacNaughton opens realty office in Boyne

BOYNE CITY - Colwell and Company has reopened its Boyne City office in a new location, with Don MacNaughton as broker-owner.

The new office is located at 119 Water St. in downtown Boyne. The office phone number is 582-6711.

MacNaughton is no stranger to the Colwell organization, with which he was affiliated from 1973-80. After a year with another area realty firm, he rejoined Colwell.

MacNaughton has lived in the Horton Bay area since 1971, moving here from Flushing.

He moved here originally because he thought the Boyne City area had "the small town atmosphere where I wanted to raise my family, and also a potentially great real estate market."

Although real estate sales everywhere are slow at this time, Mac-

Naughton said he is still enthusiastic about the future of the Boyne City area.

Boyne City is on the verge of major growth, he thinks, because it has Boyne Mountain on the east and Lake Charlevoix on the west.

However, he thinks good planning and zoning are important to preserve the small town atmosphere that brought people like him here in the first place. In fact, MacNaughton is a member of the planning commission in Boy Township.

He likes the Chamber of Commerce idea of restoring older buildings in the Boyne City business district, and he plans to refinish the front of the Colwell office.

There is room for another office behind MacNaughton's in the Colwell building, and he expects to have an announcement on that in the near future.

A certified real estate appraiser, he is a past president of the Antrim-Charlevoix Board of Realtors, and he was named Realtor of the Year by that group in 1977.

MacNaughton and his wife Alleen have seven children, two who still live at home.

New owners for EJ restaurant

EAST JORDAN - The Round Table restaurant opened recently in the city, right at the end of the bridge. The restaurant is a familiar spot for East Jordan residents as it has served the public previously under other owners.

Stephen and Charlene Brennan, the new owners, have given it a new look, however, with new carpeting, fresh paint, and a fresh, spic and span aura.

But they're keeping the round table. Charlene said, "It went 'way back." As a part of East Jordan, the round table has been the location of many discussions as business people, fire department or police department members gathered there to talk business.

The familiar square tables and nooks are still there also, where Charlene serves home-cooked meals and home-cooked pies and rolls. Charlene has worked in restaurants, but always, she says, wanted one of her own.

Steve, employed at W.A. Porter, helps out on weekends. And their two daughters are a big help. Charlene says. The whole family is East Jordan-born-and-raised.

The restaurant is open seven days a week from 5:30 a.m. until 9 p.m., and on Friday, Nov. 13, they plan to start Friday fish-fries.

Charlene Brennan and her husband Stephen are the new owners of the Round Table restaurant in East Jordan.

Electric co-op plans youth conference

Area high school juniors will have an opportunity to learn about farm and consumer cooperatives at the first Michigan Rural Electric Youth Day sponsored Jan. 29, 1982, by Top O' Michigan Rural Electric Company and other rural electric co-ops.

Three students from each rural electric cooperative will be selected to attend Rural Electric Youth Day in Lansing.

Thomas G. Hanna, manager of Top O' Michigan in Boyne City, said students will be selected on the basis of their interest in cooperatives, their commitment to rural life, and their leadership potential.

He said interested juniors, whose parents are members of the rural electric co-op, are asked to write a letter to the co-op, expressing their desire to attend Rural Electric Youth Day. Letters should be sent to the attention of Bruce Graves, Youth Day Coordinator. The deadline for letters is Dec. 4.

He said students selected to attend will learn from a variety of activities and speakers about co-ops in general and rural electric co-ops in particular. They will also visit with legislators and take part in mock annual meetings and board meetings.

In youth the days are short and the years are long; in old age the years are short and the days long.
