Boyer City firemen were busy over the weekend. This fire last Friday afternoon at the Boyer River Inn started off the weekend when a heat buildup caused the wall behind the kitchen to catch on fire. The firemen tore out some of the wall to get to the smoldering fire. Then the firemen had two false alarms at Wildwood Condominiums when the automatic alarm system malfunctioned twice. Sunday they responded to a chimney fire at Kari Skornia's residence on Camp Daggett Road. Damage at the BRI was confined to the kitchen, and they were back in operation soon after cleaning up the mess from the fire, serving their famous fish dinners.

Char-Em residents give schools good marks for quality

Residents in Charlevoix and Emmet counties want more basics, more vocational education, and a required course in computer training. Those are some of the opinions revealed in the Project Outreach poll taken last November 8-11 in the Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District.

Results of the survey were given by Ned Hubbell, director of Project Outreach, a program originating in the State Board of Education. Hubbell met with school administrators in the Char-Em district on February 16 with the report.

Hubbell said the polling was done with the assistance of Char-Em and 84 volunteers from the area. Their purpose was to find out what residents thought about their schools.

The volunteers were given training, and made their calls under supervision. A total of 416 phone interviews were completed, the numbers being selected by a computer in a sampling process called random digit dialing.

Hubbell said that the average interview was 27 minutes long and produced answers to direct as well as to open-ended questions. Four out of every 10 adults, the survey said, think the quality of their local public schools has remained "about the same."

Seventeen percent could not give an opinion on that question; 24.3 percent said schools were getting better, and 10.8 percent, that they were getting worse.

Hubbell said the random selection of 416 respondents gave a "95 percent confidence that sample error is no larger or smaller than 5.8 percent." This means that the survey of opinions was considered to be reasonably accurate.

People were asked why they felt the schools were about the same and these were some of their opinions: 19.5 percent—school quality isn't that good or that bad; 16.1 percent—school programs were still the same; 13.8 percent—quality of teaching is the same; 9.2 percent—considering the economy, it's ok; 27 percent couldn't say.

The biggest reason given for thinking schools had improved was the 38.5 percent for improved curriculum. The biggest reason for thinking schools were worse was the belief that the quality of teaching had declined (40 percent).

Nearly six out of every 10 respondents rated their public schools with an A or a B. Statewide, the department's 1981 survey showed 42 percent gave A or B ratings, and the 1982 Gallup Poll showed 37 percent.

People with children in school tended to give more favorable answers throughout than people with no school children in the family.

A follow-up question asked how schools could improve their rating. "Stress basic skills," 27.8 percent said. "Provide quality education," said 22.2 percent. "Have a good teaching staff," was suggested by 20 percent.

Others asked for varied programs (12.7), good curriculum (11.2), strong discipline (11.2), parental involvement (5.9), adequate facility (3.2), solution to financial problems (2.2), miscellaneous (16.6), and "can't say" (23.4). Some gave more than one suggestion.

The majority of those questioned (40.4) said they didn't know what the biggest problem their school board faced. "Finances," said 38.5 percent. Among other opinions revealed by the survey were these:

Parent/community volunteers in school would be a great deal of help—besides parent-teacher conferences, already a great help.

While opinion is almost equally divided as to whether schools meet today's needs, those who wanted change asked for more emphasis on basic skills, (28.7) more vocational/technical classes (20.5), more knowledge of computers (19.9), higher standards for students (12.9), more "hands on" learning (12.3) more math and science (12).

Greater variety, better college preparation, more languages and English, better textbooks, sex education, and fine arts had votes of 10 percent or less.

A strong plurality want half their taxes collected in the summer and half in the winter. One-fourth want all their tax collected in summer.

On bussing, 70.7 percent said they didn't want to pay a fee for bus service.

A majority of over 60 percent would vote millage for needed vocational classes and for special ed classes. (This question was of direct help to school districts, but Hubbell maintained the entire survey was not designed to get millages passed.)

After reviewing these and many other questions, Hubbell said the survey information should be used by the schools. He explained the poll was not taken in individual school districts because breaking it down into samples of about 35 respondents each would make the sample too small to reflect opinion accurately.

He suggested schools could make their own surveys with the help of the trained interviewers.

The $108,600 program was funded by the Michigan legislature, he said, and included student forums, town hall meetings, and communication reviews. Hubbell and one other professional constitute the staff. Much of the work is done through the cooperation of the intermediate school districts.

The program funded enough for 10 districts to make surveys in 1983.

Boyer discusses further cuts in city budget predicament

What do you do when you have already cut back? This is the question looming before the Boyer City commission, as it is throughout Michigan. City manager Tim Clifton gave the commission a pre-budget indication of the city predicament at noon on Tuesday, Feb. 22.

Pointing out that the city has lost $60,000 in state and federal (mainly state) revenue sharing this fiscal year out of a total $210,000 expected, and expects the loss of $40,000 in the fiscal year starting this spring, Clifton said the commission has an unpleasant choice ahead.

"We've already cut services as far as we can," he said. This refers to the administrative responsibility to preserve the health, welfare, and safety of the people. It indicates that further cuts would be, as Clifton said, political decisions. If they do not cut, they will have to find revenue from alternative sources.

Last year, he said, the city postponed some services and purchases, hoping a better state situation would make it possible to make up at least some of them this year. He said he also has had a freeze on all spending for the last two months.

At the March 8 budget presentation "we may still not know what the state will do," Clifton said. "We have till the second Tuesday in April, when the commission enacts the budget, to make any changes."

The total $100,000 cut back in two years amounts to about 3 1/2 mills. "Every year but one we have gone down in our millage (request)," Clifton noted, referring to the past five years.

Three years ago, executive cuts were taken from schools, universities, and cities to the tune of 68.6 percent of the General Funding General Purpose fund reductions.

In 1980-81, it was 54.2 percent, but in 1981-82, it was 100 percent. The schools, universities and cities bore the full brunt of the public sector economies, according to the February Legislative Bulletin, put out by the Michigan Municipal League.

Local governments have lost $89,000,000 in state revenue sharing, Clifton noted, adding that the last executive order budget cut was supposed to be actually a delay—depending on a tax hike proposal.

Referring to the city's own problem, he said, "Politically, it will be, 'What services do you want and what taxes do you want to pay—or users' fees or whatever?'"

East Jordan, volunteers rebuild off-road ambulance

Thanks to the generosity of various people in the community, East Jordan has an off-road, four-wheel drive ambulance for when such emergencies arise. And for only $968, Bernie Hammond, ambulance chief, said.

The vehicle is a restored Army Willys, once stationed on Beaver Island but not used. The Charlevoix County sheriff's department alerted Hammond to the opportunity. It had been assigned to the sheriff, but the department did not have the funds to overhaul it. Thus, it was transferred to East Jordan.

Hammond said at the February 15 meeting of the city council that Jerry's Body Shop had donated painting the vehicle; Jordan Auto had donated the paint; Walker Auto Parts donated seats; and Bill Porter is housing it free in his garage.

Mayor Bill Merwin added that Hammond had donated considerable work on the vehicle.

Also at the city council meeting, the council approved use of the Civic Center for 4-H Achievement Day on May 7 with fee waived.

Two policy changes were debated.

One was a regulation to remove from a board anyone who had two consecutive, unexcused absences. Mayor Merwin pointed out that people's time is valuable and it wastes time when people don't show up, causing a no quorum situation. Without a quorum, a meeting can not go on. Those who did come, can only go home again.

Councilman Al Joseph asked if instead of having the regulation, the board could submit to the council any such problems. Councilman Keith Kenney, who had proposed the policy, asked if the council would sponsor some sort of uniform policy, for example, having reports turned in to the council of people missing X number of meetings.

The proposal was tabled for study on wording.

The second policy resolution was that bids shall be opened in the presence of the city superintendent, the clerk, and at least one appropriate committee member.

Kenney, who made this proposal also, said it would facilitate awarding contracts, cutting down on the number of possible meetings involved. On occasion, the bids opened at city council meetings are too complicated for decision at that time, Kenney said. They have to go to committee for study. According to Kenney, by having bids opened in advance of the meeting and reviews typed up ahead of time for study by council members, time can be saved.

Joseph responded by saying, "But it's not a meeting. We're required to publish the occasion (of opening bids)." Joseph added that very few examples of having to refer bids to committee have occurred.

Fire chief Dick Barnett noted that department heads concerned with the bids should also be on hand.

The main point for Merwin was efficiency. "We could have hashed this all out before the meeting, and have it ready for the meeting."

Joseph responded, "When council members get together—maybe in pairs—ahead of the meeting, it gets very close to infringing the open meetings act."

And councilwoman Pat Sweet contributed, "We need the interaction of the other fellow."

Kenney then withdrew his motion.

Planners delay several requests

Members of the City Planning Commission either delayed taking action or set up future meetings at their meeting Monday evening in Boyer City.

After reviewing a proposed property split from Marvin Roberts, the commission realized that they did not have enough information and tabled the request.

Roberts wanted to split some property on the northeast side of town off State Street and also wanted to close an alley that has never been used. Last year Roberts asked to have the same property rezoned to R-3 from its present zoning R-2. The commission wanted to hear from Roberts as to what his intentions for the split and the vacating of the alley are and what the property will be used for before making a decision.

The commission also set a public hearing on a proposal for the Morgan Shaw School property. The buyer for the property wants to change the school into six apartment units and wants to add some minor changes to the structure as well as a parking lot for the tenants.

They also set a public hearing for the same night, March 21st, for the new development to be located on the former railroad roundhouse property at the base of Water Street in the downtown area of Boyer City. The project is supposed to have a large restaurant and a motel-convention center according to informed sources.

Then the commission referred to the zoning board of appeals a decision concerning whether Darryl Gillespie and his Boyneland Refuse can get a special use permit or a variance so that he may store his garbage collection vehicles in an inside location.

The location the company has an option on is the old North East Street school building that has been vacant for many years. The location has had many businesses in it since it has not been used as a school including an organ factory, a plumbing warehouse and other business activities.

The commission tabled a request from Courter/Bendix who are proposing a temporary parking lot that they want to construct on property that they own on the East side of Lake Street next to their annex. The commission wants a more substantial plan to be presented to them by the Courter company before they make a decision to allow its use.

The proposed parking lot is gravel because the company plans in the future to expand its operations on the property across from the present location. Because of the expansion plans, the company doesn't know exactly where the new building will be placed on the property according to Tim Clifton the city manager.

Since no one from the company came to the meeting to explain their request, the commission tabled it.

In other action, the planners heard of the future plans that the city is proposing to do with the continuing capital improvement program. The planners have to approve the program and help decide the direction that the city commissioners will want for the betterment of the city.

Included in the capital improvement program are the continuation of the reconstruction of the downtown streets with the Lake street portion to be done this year. Also in the program is a new well for the city, and other improvements.

"We have the momentum going now in the restoration of the downtown," said Clifton, "And I feel that we shouldn't stop it." Clifton wanted to keep the city on schedule with the street program although he had discussed the spending of the capital improvement monies being spent on many other projects scattered throughout the city.

The planners asked that the traffic islands that were considered last year in the budget be added back by the 1985-86 fiscal year. The islands were pulled out of the budget when the Country Star supermarket and the city could not decide the best way to control the traffic going in and out of the shopping center.

The entire capital improvement program will involve about one million dollars with the South Lake Street project taking about $250,000.

East Jordan confirms DNR well drilling offer

With no word yet from the Department of Natural Resources, East Jordan is standing pat on the DNR offer to drill wells at the East Jordan landfill.

After two exploratory letters from the DNR and sundry phone conversations, the city responded with a letter, approved at the February 15 city council meeting.

The letter stipulates that if the drilling takes place, the city must have access to overseeing the operation; to information regarding water samples and the samples themselves; to do samplings; to copies of funding documents; and to have no responsibility for costs of drilling, monitoring, or cleanup of any possibly discovered contamination.

A definite problem exists with the last stipulation as the state and federal procedure has been to require whoever runs the landfill to pay for clean-up. If the condition is beyond the local power to finance it, the federal Environmental Protection Agency lists it for their Superfund.

It is not known that any contamination exists. Former mayor Archie Nemecek once said that about 12 years ago, core drilling revealed "solid clay, under there," which was thought sufficient to prevent pollution of groundwater.

Opinions

Join politicians to get raises and after job security?

We should all consider running for a political office like a state legislature or a state senator, or maybe one of the many federal positions that are available to each and every one of us if we want the job.

And of course, we will want the job.

The first thing you have to realize that in order to get the job, you must accumulate hundreds, thousands of dollars and maybe even millions from all your friends, from the political action groups, from the labor unions, and anybody else that you can think of that can donate to your cause.

The reason is that you don't want to spend your own money, just to get a job that, until recently, doesn't pay very well. Or at least doesn't pay as much as you have gathered and put out to get the job in the first place.

Now, assuming that you get elected to your position of choice, you begin to see what in the world is going on...and how much you can't do anything about it. So you ride with the mainstream, voting on issues you think your constituents might like, and then you get raises.

Your work isn't really hard, at least not in the sense that it doesn't require a whole lot of energy and muscle power, just brain power. And everyone knows that a politician doesn't have to have a lot of that, or else we wouldn't be in the state we are forced to live in.

And then, since you are riding with the flow, you will get periodic wage increases. Even though you may not want them, you get them anyway thanks to a certain group called the State Officers Compensation Commission.

They will mandate that you continue to be the highest paid state official in the nation. And all you have to do to continue on with the program is to go with the flow.

If there is an opportunity to vote down the pay raise, just do as all the others have done in the past. Become more concerned with doing nothing, or causing a big todo about something else so that you don't vote on turning down your pay increase. Shazam, you are now getting a $2,200 per year kick in your paycheck. It is even more if you are the Governor, $8,000, or a Supreme Court Justice, $5,000.

Now, let's continue on and all of a sudden you find yourself not re-elected.

Do you think you are out of a job? Nope, the Governor will take care of you, just as he has done with a lot of other past legislators.

You will be given a job like, Department of Mental Health Deputy Director for legislative and public affairs. Not a bad title, and it pays $48,000 per year.

Or you may be given something else, but in almost all cases, the new position for the ex-lawmaker is costing us, the taxpayer, more than when he was a lawmaker.

There used to be a time when a person thought that they should do something for their country and should be part of it hoping to make it a better place to live. And, when the time came that someone else took the position, you went back to what you were doing. Whether you were a farmer, or a laborer.

Not now. Most of our elected officials come from the lawyer ranks, and a lot of them don't want to go back into the practice...at least not when they can pick up another job that pays better without the hassle of having to deal with people.

If only we could urge our lawmakers to let loose of the public apron strings and go on with their lives and not be an additional burden to us taxpayers.

Marshall Sayles

These two men are holding an intelligent conversation even though they live in Boyne City.

Those who are dumb will read part of it, get bored, and turn to the classified page to see who will no longer be responsible for debts contracted by anyone but themselves.

The smarter person will read the entire conversation, get mad at the ending, shake a fist and ask what this country is coming to. That will show his intelligence, for most dumb people claim they already know what this country is coming to.

Q- Will you tell me again how you were so poor when you grew up in north Michigan that you had to cook your shoes and eat them with a fork like me, son?

A- You've got me mixed up with Charlie Chaplin. He made a movie about Alaska. It showed him eating his shoestrings to keep from starving to death.

Q- Well, what was it you did in north

Boyne to keep from starving to death?

A- Sometimes I would wander in the field and eat wild berries.

Q- What kind of berries?

A- Ras and straw mostly.

Q- How about black and huck? Did you eat any of them?

A- Blacks were plentiful, but hucks were kind of scarce around there.

Q- What did you have in the winter?

A- Sometimes my uncle would kill a cow and we would pick at that until it was gone.

Q- Did you ever starve to death when you were a poor boy?

A- During the winter of the big snow when they closed the school and nobody left home for two weeks, I thought I had starved to death. But my folks said no I hadn't and to quit worrying about it.

Q- Didn't the government take pity on you and come running?

A- The government was wallowing in pity, but not quite enough to come a running.

Q- Today's government is all the rage and most everyone is well fed. What would we do without it?

A- You're right. We have unemployment compensation for young people and social security for older folks. If the government hadn't come a running with these programs a lot of us would be out looking for berries in the summer and picking cow meat in the winter.

Q- Isn't it wonderful how the government now takes pity on us?

A- Yes it is. But lately there's been strong talk in Washington about slacking off on these programs. The government needs billions for national defense in case some country should get mad at us. So they're cutting back on money for the needy.

Q- They can't do that. How do they expect poor people to live?

A- I don't know, but just the other night the President said on television that shoestrings were quite tasty if they were cooked just right.

Barbara Cruden

We think of nature as the opposite of assembly-line production. An object made by nature is individual, while one made in a factory is exactly like another.

On the other hand, "a rose is a rose is a rose," said poet Gertrude Stein, meaning all manner of things, including, no doubt, that nature has a great consistency, and maple seeds produce only maple trees.

Looking out through a grove of young maple trees in winter, you can see this consistency, at once stern and tender. The angle of departure of every branch of a maple is about 30 degrees, not counting where events accidentally altered it.

Thus, you observe not a mish-mash of branches looking like a scribbled page, but hundreds of criss-crossing Vs, precisely parallel to each other. Nature loves her maple trees and preserves their identity.

In no less a way, pines, beeches, wild cherry, all, have specific design, though usually not as clearcut as the maple's. For one thing, the maple is one of only four trees whose branches grow out as opposite pairs. All others have branches alternating up the trunk.

It's easy to remember the four, my botany teacher said. Just think of "mad horse." The M is for maple; the A is for ash; D is for dogwood; and "horse" is for horse chestnut.

Beech trees have nearly horizontal branches. This, with the smooth, gray bark, gives them a look of great dignity and elegance. I always feel more presumptuous in cutting down a beech tree, than with any other, though any tree is worth a second thought.

As you look up the trunk of a tree, you can see the rhythm in the way the branches come out. First this one, then perhaps one-third the way around, the next one comes forth. Then the next, another one-third of the way around. And so on up the trunk of the tree.

Another kind of tree will have an even more complex rhythm. And it will dance to that all its life.

Looking up the trunk of trees at its branching patterns, I discovered it is also one of the best places to stand to appreciate a tree.

"A tree is a tree is a tree," someone might say about all this, choosing a disparaging tone.

I once assigned a class of eighth graders a short essay on what they felt when they looked at a tree, asking them to stand right at the base of the trunk, put one hand on each side of it, and look straight up.

Some of them wrote they felt absolutely silly, and had to wait until dark to do it, thus not seeing very much at all.

Surprisingly, it became a big issue in the homes of these suburban children. This is how I found out.

About six months later I stopped at an unfamiliar service station on the other side of town. Using a credit card, I bought some gas.

The station owner looked at the card. "Mrs. Cruden, eh," he said. Then he bent to look at me.

"Let me invite you," he said gently, but sardonically, "to step out, put one hand on each side of the gas pump, and look straight up. Then tell me what you feel..."

Jottings

We don't like to admit it, because we think we are trying better than we are, but we made a whole bunch of mistakes in last week's newspaper. And we want to clear up any misrepresentations that we may have caused.

First, the project over in Charlevoix should have been only a 5.9 million dollar job, and not the 60 million we came out with in the headline. Lord knows, we could use a 60 million dollar project here in the county so that we could put bread on every construction man's table and let that also filter down to all the other businesses that could also use some of the money.

But it was only a 44 million dollar mistake. That sounds like the government doesn't it? And we wish to correct it here. Seems that somewhere between looking at the story and then seeing the headline, we had a case of momentary brain fade.

Another mistake we made was in the spelling of Rick Casper, the principal at the high school. Now we know that his name is spelled with a C* but our fingers on the keyboard kept hitting the K key every time his name came up in the article.

Names are something a newspaper person almost dreads. That is because he knows that if you misspell a person's name, you are committing a sin that is worse than Cardinal and Venial when you are a small child.

Besides Caspers' name, we also lost an "r" on Barbara Pritchard's name. All of this just shows that when you deal with names, places, and items in the rush of the time span you have to work in, you are liable to make mistakes. And we did.

I hope that everybody will accept our apology.

And now on to other more pressing issues, like who is still going to keep their ice fishing shanty out on the ice when we have been having almost summer conditions in the weather department? I have heard of a few brave souls who are planning on keeping their shanties out as long as they can so that they could catch all the smelt. I hope that they don't catch all of the smelt, as one of the things a lot of folks enjoy, is smelt dipping in the springtime in our area streams.

I guess it is a case of getting lazy. Why spend a lot of time with one or two hooks, a mess of pinhead minnows, and an expensively built shanty, just to catch a couple hundred smelt when you can wait until spring and catch them by the bucketful.

Dear Editor,

As one of the first owners of a Harborage Condo, I thought I should pass on some of my family's feelings about the problems of the road relocation along the lake.

Before purchasing at the Harborage, we had looked at several areas in Northern Michigan. We decided on Boyne City as a great location for the things we enjoy to do such as golfing, skiing and water sports. I have traveled the road around the lake many times and could only remember this area because of the sewage treatment plant, high grass and weeds.

Everytime we come up we marvel at the change and how much nicer the area looks. Last summer when we were staying for a few weeks, we noticed

Of course there is always the problem of who is going to clean the little critters. Perhaps, cleaning a few hundred in a night is better than cleaning a few thousand after wiping out a run in the spring.

And, they say that the taste is better in the wintertime as the fish is more firm. Now, I have had them both ways, but my taster is so out of wack that I couldn't tell the difference. Of course it has been a long time since I went out smelt dipping because the last time I did, about a hundred smelt or so ended up being fertilizer in my garden. Seems nobody wanted to help clean them in our family, so, like the story about the chicken, those who help prepare the food, get a chance to eat the food. And when nobody helped, out went the smelt.

While at the Harborage, we eat in Boyne City restaurants, use the stores and service stations as do our guests. This development is bringing a lot of tax money that could very easily go elsewhere. I think that the people of this area should be proud of Rick and Dave Smith for having the courage to develop this project in these "tough" times.

Some food for thought!!!

Sincerely Yours,
George A. Haffelder, Jr.
Maumee, Ohio

Editor,

I want to thank you for your participation in this year's Smeltania celebration.

Several factors combined to make this year an unqualified success: congenial weather, a hard-working committee, dozens of volunteers, great smelt fishing, increased participation of area residents, clubs and organizations, and of course a nicely frozen lake (thanks to former Mayor Underhill).

Next year will be bigger and better, Mother Nature willing. (And if she isn't let's hope Bill is willing to make another sacrifice to the Gods).

JANUARY 6, 1983

The organizational meeting of the 115th session of the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners was called to order at 9:40 AM by County Clerk Jane E. Brannon.

The invocation was offered by Rev. Walter Hastings of the Community Church of God.

Roll was taken with the following members in attendance: Commissioners: Matthew, Harmon, Sutliff, Breakey, Smith and Moerland, 6.

The pledge of allegiance to the flag was led by Commissioner Sutliff.

ELECTION OF BOARD CHAIRMAN

Moved by Commissioner Matthew that Commissioner Moerland be nominated as Chairman. Moved by Commissioner Smith and supported by Commissioner Harmon that the nominations be closed and that a unanimous vote be cast for Commissioner Moerland. VOICE VOTE: all in favor. Motion carried.

ELECTION OF VICE-CHAIRMAN

Moved by Commissioner Sutliff that Commissioner Matthew be nominated as Vice-Chairman. Moved by Commissioner Smith and supported by Commissioner Moerland that the nominations be closed and a unanimous vote be cast for Commissioner Matthew. VOICE VOTE: all in favor. Motion carried.

The Chairman announced a new policy of no smoking during Board sessions. He then asked the members of the Board to introduce themselves and indicate which district they represented. He also asked the audience and guests to introduce themselves.

ADOPTION OF RULES & PROCEDURES

Moved by Commissioner Breakey and supported by Commissioner Harmon that the rules set forth in the "Rules & Procedures of the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners" be adopted and further that Mason's Manual for Legislative Procedure be used as a guideline. All were in favor and the Clerk was instructed to cast a unanimous ballot. Motion carried.

COMMITTEE APPOINTMENTS

Moved by Commissioner Sutliff that the appointments set forth in the attached addendum and incorporated herein be confirmed. All were in favor, and the Clerk was instructed to cast a unanimous ballot. Motion carried. The Chairman instructed the Clerk to see that copies of the appointment list were distributed to the various departments and that the appointments to various agencies were certified by letter of confirmation.

COOPERATIVE REIMBURSEMENT PROGRAM REPORT

Prosecuting Attorney Beatty presented a report on the cooperative reimbursement program and its purpose as well as an outline of budgets for the program from 1978 through 1982. He indicated that the purpose of the program, which operates nationwide, is to obtain repayment of ADC money and to involve putative fathers in the support of their children. It was also explained that the State returns approximately 15% of monies collected under this program as an incentive for continued participation. Mr Beatty indicated that in the past, the County has not paid him the full amount negotiated in the contract for his supervision of the program and requested that the general fund budget be amended to reflect payment of the full amount this year. After discussion, it was moved by Commissioner Matthew and supported by Commissioner Smith that the original URESA budget be amended to conform with Mr Beatty's negotiations with the State, showing the sum of $4962 in lieu of $3897. ROLL CALL VOTE: Yeas, 6, Nays, none. Motion carried.

RESOLUTION--COOPERATIVE REIMBURSEMENT PROGRAM (#83-001)

Moved by Commissioner Matthew that the following resolution be adopted: WHEREAS, the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners has received a standard state contract CS-83-025 for the Cooperative Reimbursement (IV-D) Program; and

WHEREAS, the terms and conditions of that contract are satisfactory to the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners for that program;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners ratifies the Cooperative Reimbursement Contract CS-83-025 and authorizes I. Lee Moerland, Chairman of the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners to execute said contract.

There being no opposition to the foregoing resolution, the Clerk was instructed to cast a unanimous ballot. Motion carried.

The Chairman then suggested that each liaison commissioner be responsible for maintaining a contract file for the departments under his jurisdiction. These files would be in addition to the master file of contracts maintained in the Clerk's office.

REPORT--EMMET COUNTY'S PROPOSED SANITARY CODE

Dean Mikulski, Sanitarian for the District Health Department, presented a report on Emmet County's proposed revisions to their sanitary code, particularly as they would affect the Walloon Lake watershed, part of which is in Charlevoix County. County Planner Larry Sullivan introduced the topic by a brief description of the Walloon Lake watershed and its geographic location in this county. Mr Mikulski outlined a brief history of the sanitary code from its inception in 1967 through several revisions and explained that, in 1979, an ad hoc committee was formed to review the code and make recommendations for revisions and/or amendments in Emmet County. He then explained the possible impact of the proposed revisions on the Walloon Lake watershed. A question and answer session followed.

The Board recessed at 11:50 AM, reconvening at 1:07 PM.

AFTERNOON SESSION

All members of the Board were in attendance to hear the Chairman read the following correspondence:

- 1.) a letter from the prosecuting attorney regarding the EDC/Weathervane project and the necessity for another public hearing.
- 2.) a MAC publication regarding house bill 4495 which deals with the publication of Board minutes.
- 3.) a notice of a meeting of the RC&D Board in Traverse City.
- 4.) a resolution from the VanBuren County Board of Commissioners regarding court reorganization.
- 5.) a resolution from Montcalm County indicating their intention of withdrawing from the Michigan Association of Counties and urging other counties to follow suit.
- 6.) the Boundary Annexation Survey from the Bureau of Census. This document was referred to the Clerk and Equalization Director for review prior to signature by the Chairman.

The Chairman announced the decision of the EDC concerning the FAA Flight Service Station and the need for Board of Commissioner members to be appointed to the EDC.

STATUS REVIEW OF COUNTY TRANSIT SYSTEM

The recommendations of the Transportation Committee submitted to the Board on March 24, 1982 were reviewed and discussed. Oscar Stroud and Peg Ohle of the Commission on Aging presented their views as did Fran Martin. The general consensus was that changes are needed to make the transit system both cost- and service-effective. Among the areas of concern expressed were: 1) schedules; 2) plan of operation; 3) expenses; 4) source of funding for new buses.

It was decided to request the Transit System Director, Art Saworski, to meet with the Board, acting as a committee of the whole, on Wednesday, January 12 at 9:00 AM to discuss these and other concerns. Moved by Commissioner Breakey that Mr Saworski be requested to attend the meeting on the 12th. All being in favor, the Clerk was instructed to cast a unanimous ballot.

The Board recessed briefly at 2:05 PM, reconvening at 2:15 PM.

RESOLUTION--WEATHERVANE PUBLIC HEARING (#83-002)

Moved by Commissioner Breakey that the following resolution be adopted: WHEREAS, the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners has taken certain actions with regard to the Economic Development Corporation of the County of Charlevoix, Weathervane Terrace Project; and

WHEREAS, the Federal Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act has taken effect; and

WHEREAS, it is necessary to hold an additional public hearing with regard to the Economic Development Corporation of the County of Charlevoix Weathervane Terrace Project;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that a public hearing be set for 7:30 o'clock on the 26th day of January, 1983 at the Charlevoix County Building Annex; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Clerk is hereby directed to publish a notice of public hearing in a newspaper of general circulation within the county prior to fourteen (14) days before the hearing. Said notice of public hearing to be prepared by bond counsel and reviewed by the office of the Prosecuting Attorney.

All being in favor, the Clerk was instructed to cast a unanimous ballot. Motion carried.

COA APPOINTMENT, DISTRICT 3

The Chairman requested approval for the appointment of Marvin Loding to the Commission on Aging as the representative for District 3. Moved by Commissioner Sutliff that the appointment be confirmed. All being in favor, the Clerk was instructed to cast a unanimous ballot.

FINANCE COMMITTEE MEETINGS

Moved by Commissioner Sutliff that the meetings of the Statutory Finance Committee be held on the last Thursday of each month. All being in favor, the Clerk was instructed to cast a unanimous ballot.

OTHER BUSINESS

Commissioner Smith pointed out the fact that Hudson Township does not have a certified assessor to sign the tax rolls.

The Chairman referred the matter of Board appointments to the EDC to the Ways and Means Committee for their review and appropriate recommendations.

The Chairman suggested contacting the Area Agency on Aging for possible help for janitorial duties at the jail as well as possible clerical assistance for the Commission on Aging.

The Chairman also discussed problems that the Register of Deeds is experiencing with staffing and equipment. Commissioner Matthew, the liaison with that department, was instructed to meet with the Register of Deeds within the next 30 days and make a report to the full Board.

Moved by Commissioner Sutliff that the meeting be adjourned. All in favor. Next meeting, Wednesday, January 26, 1983 at 7:00 PM.

JANE E. BRANNON, COUNTY CLERK

I. LEE MOERLAND, CHAIRMAN

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS
JANUARY 26, 1983

A meeting of the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners was called to order at 7:00 PM by the Chairman, I. Lee Moerland.

Roll was taken with the following members in attendance: Commissioners Matthew, Harmon, Sutliff, Breakey, Smith and Moerland, 6.

The pledge of allegiance to the flag was led by Commissioner Breakey.

APPROVAL OF MINUTES OF JANUARY 6, 1983 SESSION

Moved by Commissioner Harmon that the minutes of the January 6, 1983 session be approved as presented. There being no objections, the Clerk was instructed to cast a unanimous ballot. Motion carried.

EDC BOARD OF DIRECTORS APPOINTMENTS

The Chairman indicated that the term of Richard Sayward, a member of the EDC Board of Directors, has expired and requested confirmation of Mr Sayward's reappointment to the Board for a six (6) year term. Moved by Commissioner Matthew that the appointment be confirmed. There being no objections, the Clerk was instructed to cast a unanimous ballot. Motion carried.

The Chairman then explained that the by-laws of the EDC state that directors who are also county commissioners serve on the EDC Board only as long as they remain county commissioners. This rule created two (2) vacancies on the EDC Board as of January 1, 1983 when Oscar Ward and Casimir Toton left the County Board of Commissioners. Because of the reduction in size of the Board of Commissioners and the need to modify its committees and procedures, the Chairman indicated the desire to reappoint Mr Ward and Mr Toton to the EDC Board for one year terms. This would give the Board of Commissioners time to evaluate its new procedures.

Moved by Commissioner Smith that the appointment of Oscar Ward to a one year term on the EDC Board of Directors be confirmed. There being no objections, the Clerk was instructed to cast a unanimous ballot. Motion carried.

Moved by Commissioner Sutliff that the appointment of Casimir Toton to a one year term on the EDC Board of Directors be confirmed. There being no objections, the Clerk was instructed to cast a unanimous ballot. Motion carried.

A brief introductory session followed, during which, members of the Board and guests identified themselves.

The Chairman read a letter from the Prosecuting Attorney regarding the EDC/Weathervane project. He explained that because of new federal legislation and refinancing of the bonds, the project must come before the Board again. Thomas Linn, bonding attorney from the firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, indicated that proper notices were not completed in October and that this was another reason for the second hearing.

The Chairman indicated the need for an appointment to the Act 258 Board (Mental Health) to fill the vacancy left by the recent resignation of Sam Kosci. The Chairman appointed Larry Matthew to fill the remainder of Mr Kosci's unexpired term (12-31-83). Moved by Commissioner Sutliff that the appointment be confirmed. There being no objections, the Clerk was instructed to cast a unanimous ballot. Motion carried.

Commissioner Smith indicated the desire of the Social Services Board to change the procedure by which capital improvements for Grandvue come before the Board. Currently, a resolution authorizing the County Treasurer to transfer the funds must be passed by the Board of Commissioners prior to such purchases. The Social Services Board asked that they be given more latitude in making capital expenditures. The Chairman explained that the care and keeping of Grandvue capital monies is in the hands of the County. He felt that a resolution authorizing capital expenditures would still be necessary but that it could come to the Board after the fact. Commissioner Smith was directed to send a letter to Condit Drury, Chairman of the Social Services Board explaining the Board's position.

Commissioner Smith also indicated that the rate for private patients at Grandvue will be increased from $48 per day to $51 per day, effective March 1, 1983. This increase is necessary in order for Grandvue to remain in compliance with Medicare/Medicaid regulations. He also stated that a formal admissions policy is being developed and will be available shortly.

The County Clerk explained the procedure by which a fee is developed for copies of tapes of the proceedings of the Board of Commissioners.

PUBLIC HEARING--EDC/WEATHERVANE TERRACE PROJECT

At 7:30 PM, the meeting was opened for public comments on the proposed EDC project. A question regarding the change of interest rates on the bonds was discussed.

RESOLUTION--RATIFYING & APPROVING SUPPLEMENTED PROJECT PLAN (#83-003)

Moved by Commissioner Breakey and supported by Commissioner Harmon that the following resolution be adopted:

WHEREAS, there exists in the County of Charlevoix, Michigan (the "County") the need for certain programs to alleviate and prevent conditions of unemploy-

Cooking

I was inspired in church Sunday morning when our pastor, Forest Crum talked about using our after-holiday left overs of happiness, love, good, cheer, thankfulness to our maker, and our spiritual inspirations all through the year. He said that sometimes the left overs are better than the original experience which might come to us at a very special time in our lives.

Now Forest was really talking right down my alley as I have always been "in" with left overs, especially when it comes to food. Creative cooks really can go all out when using leftovers. Here are just a few tips on how to use that wonderful expensive food that is too good to ignore.

Save those small amounts of vegetables like corn, green beans, broccoli, peas, mix them combined or alone, in a white sauce; season with your favorite seasonings. I like dill weed on peas, try a little chili powder on corn or just freshly ground black pepper, and sweet basil on carrots. This sauce is delicious on crepes or toast. Or just put those seasoned vegetables without the sauce in an omelet with a slice of cheese. These vegetables are a flavorful addition to any salad and some of the best salad dressings are a mixture of more than one dressing.

Then there are soups. Many cooks make a tasty turkey soup from the holiday turkey. I like to make home made noodles to put in this soup. My friend, Erma Mills, cooks the turkey legs, which she buys at the supermarket and makes a delicious soup the second day with the broth. She adds one can of cream of chicken soup to give it body and then whatever vegetables she has on hand. Cubed potatoes, carrots, onions, also canned or frozen peas are very good in this soup. Try a little left over squash in canned soups such as cream of celery or chicken, it adds that something extra, and pieces of sweet potatoes are good in vegetable soup.

Buttered squash and sweet potatoes can be something very special the second time around. Just add a beaten egg, a little milk, a little brown sugar and spices and bake until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean; almost as good as pie.

Sometimes the left overs really are better than the original dish. There is always cranberry sauce left over after my dinners and I have found that it is delicious added to cherry flavored jello. My friends tell me that it improves both the cranberries and the jello.

I am one of many cooks who do not always enjoy eating their own cooking because we are just testing the recipe, however the other day I truly relished this left over. I just made a white sauce like this.

WHITE SAUCE

1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon flour
1 cup milk
just a dash of salt and pepper.

Melt the butter in a heavy sauce pan, add the flour and mix well, then gradually add the milk, stirring constantly. Season with salt and pepper - go easy here. To this white sauce I added about 1 cup of left over bean dip, recipe follows. Heat this good and hot and pour over toasted corn muffins. I will make the bean dip again soon just to have left overs because that sauce has everything, cheese, meat and wonderful seasonings!

BEAN DIP

1 lb. Hamburger
1 pkg. taco seasoning
1 15 oz. can refried beans
6 ozs. cheddar cheese, grated
8 oz. sour cream
Tortilla chips

Fry hamburger and drain. Add taco seasoning, following directions on back of seasoning package. (Mine called for 1 cup hot water and to simmer about 10 minutes.) Then add the refried beans and mix well. Put in a pie pan and put grated cheese on top. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes or until cheese is melted. Cool 10 minutes, put sour cream on top and serve with the chips. The family will never know that they are eating leftovers when you heat up Sunday's pork roast in sweet and sour sauce made from those delicious mixes that come in envelopes using the recipes on the package. Serve this with rice.

Then there is the all-time favorite hash made with roast beef. This is the way I make it. Using a course knife of the food grinder, grind the meat, cooked potatoes, a small onion and maybe a slice of bread all together. Moisten this mixture with either broth, any left over gravy or milk or both. Mix this up good, put into a casserole and bake at 350 degrees until brown, about 1 hour. Serve this with cheese roll biscuits, escalloped tomatoes and fruit jello with whipped topping and your family will feel very special.

Make the cheese roll biscuits like this.

CHEESE ROLL BISCUITS

2 cups biscuit mix
2/3 cup milk
Mix these well and roll out on a lightly floured board to 1/2 inch thick. Sprinkle generously with grated cheddar cheese and roll up and slice in 1 inch thick slices. Put on a cookie sheet and bake in 450 degree oven 10 to 11 minutes, until golden brown. You could put them in the oven when you take the hash out, and they will be piping hot when served.

ROLL CALL VOTE: Yeas, 6. Nays, none. Motion carried.

The Board of Commissioners meeting was recessed at 7:40 PM so that a brief meeting of the EDC could be conducted. The Board of Commissioners reconvened at 7:50 PM, at which time, the Chairman introduced Richard Bidstrup, Chairman of the Emmet County Board of Commissioners.

Commissioner Smith discussed a meeting of the Planning Commission at which the need for a recording secretary was presented. It had been recommended that the recording secretary be appointed from among the members of the Commission rather than hiring someone for the position. The Planning Commission wondered if it would be possible to leave their per diem at a lower rate and use the extra funds to compensate a staff secretary. The Chairman of the Board of Commissioners recommended that the Planning Commission submit a formal request or recommendation to the Board in writing at which time the Board will consider the matter.

The Chairman commented on the organizational meeting of the District Health Board (of which he was elected chairman). The meeting, held earlier on the 26th, dealt primarily with the problem of TCE in the Charlevoix and Petoskey water systems and the need for better communication among all the parties concerned with the situation. Also announced at the meeting was the retirement of Frances Hooper, Public Health Nurse.

Commissioner Harmon reported that the Ironton Ferry carried 45,185 vehicles last year, incurring expenses of $56,248.04 and ending the year with a deficit of $13,794 which is to be divided equally between the county and the road commission.

The Chairman reviewed a communication from MAC which discussed the deferment of state revenue sharing funds.

Karl Waldner appeared before the Board to request that the Board authorize a special election for the purpose of reducing the county's authorized millage by 1.4 mills. He also indicated some areas of the county budget where he felt cuts could be made. He inquired about the Delinquent Tax Revolving Fund and wondered why it does not show up in the general fund budget as well as the balance of the fund. He further stated that the greatest saving to the taxpayers would come if Charlevoix and Emmet Counties were to be combined. No action was taken by the Board on his request.

The Board recessed briefly at 8:30 PM, reconvening at 8:45 PM.

The Chairman reviewed the following correspondence:

1. a letter from the Michigan State Medical Society indicating the need for stray animals to be used for research purposes. The matter was referred to the Public Safety liaison commissioner, Mr Breakey.

2. an announcement of a meeting of the Northern Michigan Mental Health System Agency to be held on February 2 at 1:00 PM at the Chalet in Gaylord. On the agenda is to be a review of funding for the East Jordan Family Health Center. The matter was referred to Commissioner Harmon.

3. an announcement from the Department of Labor of a meeting to be held at the Grand Traverse Resort to explain the Job Training Partnership Act.

4. a letter from the Department of Labor detailing minimum population and other requirements for designated areas of the Job Training Partnership Act.

5. a letter from an Ohio firm which specializes in the restoration of old county buildings.

The Chairman reminded the Board of the need to have the transportation issue resolved in a manner that will provide the county with an efficient transit program. Various ideas were discussed.

Commissioner Breakey reported on several topics discussed in a recent meeting he held with the Sheriff.

The Chairman reviewed a request by the Manpower Consortium for an amendment to its charter which would allow persons other than county commissioners to be appointed to the Consortium board. Moved by Commissioner Smith that the recommendation to amend the charter be accepted. There being no objections, the Clerk was instructed to cast a unanimous ballot. Motion carried.

Montcalm County's problem with MAC was reviewed briefly.

Commissioner Harmon moved that the meeting be adjourned. All in favor,

Next meeting, Wednesday, February 9, 1983 at 9:30 AM.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Bennett are holding an open house in honor of their parents' 45th wedding anniversary on Saturday, Feb. 26, from 2 to 4 and 7 to 8 at their home on Vance Road, East Jordan.

and the deer herd at Hulbert.

Last Friday evening through Saturday at noon the United Methodist Youth Fellowship participated in a Rock-a-thon to raise money for the kitchen facility at Lake Louise camp. They spent 18 hours rocking in rocking chairs at the United Methodist Church in Charlevoix. There were 12 youths who participated and four of them were from East Jordan.

They were Bridget and Nichole Simmons, Ginnie Brooks and Danita Bennet. They were able to raise over five hundred dollars.

Dr. Richard Mansfield, Charlevoix Area Hospital staff physician, and physician at the Boyne Valley Medical Clinic, demonstrates cardio-pulmonary resuscitation for Nursing Services Director Mary Ann Cox. Dr. Mansfield recently attended an intensive four-day seminar for certification in Advanced Cardiac Life Support. The physician credited Mrs. Cox's earlier coaching with assisting him during his testing for certification.

Mansfield completes cardiac seminar

Physicians working in hospital emergency rooms are recommended to be certified in Advanced Cardiac Life Support demonstrating their thorough knowledge of and ability to use all aspects of cardio-pulmonary resuscitation.

Dr. Richard Mansfield, of Boyne City, already certified in Basic Cardiac Life Support, recently successfully completed an intensive four-day training seminar in all aspects of advanced cardiac life support. The seminar, held January 27-31 at Sugar Loaf Ski Resort near Traverse City, was conducted jointly by the American Heart Association and the Osteopathic General Practitioners of Michigan. Some 36 physicians and nurses attended from around northern Michigan.

Two days of intensive lectures by cardiologists, internal medicine specialists and other physicians and nurses were followed by two days of practice on Resuscit Annie manikins which simulate realistic situations of heart arrest and respond to CPR only if properly applied. During the practice sessions the physicians seeking their ACLS cards were overseen and repeatedly questioned on procedure by the team of physicians administering the tests.

Mansfield described the experience as both "grueling" and "satisfying."

The two hour written examination was followed by a final testing on the manikins, with the physicians and nurses being subjected to rapid fire questioning on procedures, medications and diagnosis.

"We had to explain exactly why we were doing each procedure. We had to know the exact dosages of any medication used, and everything had to be done in proper sequence," Dr. Mansfield explained, pointing out that "this was as close to a real-life situation as it could be. My adrenalin was pumping. I felt very anxious. It seemed like a real emergency room situation."

Dr. Mansfield, who received his degree in Osteopathic Medicine from Kansas City College of Osteopathic Medicine, has been a member of the Charlevoix Area Hospital medical staff since 1969. He practices in Boyne City at the Boyne Valley Medical Clinic and is the Charlevoix County Medical Examiner.

Dr. Mansfield is a member of the American Osteopathic Academy of Sports Medicine, the International Association of Coroners and Medical Examiners, the Civil Aeronautics Medical Association, and is a Certified Member of the American College of General Practitioners in Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery.

ACTION: Notice of Finding of No Significant Impact

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Mr. Homer R. Hilner, State Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, 1405 South Harrison Road, East Lansing, Michigan 48823, telephone 517-337-6702.

NOTICE: Pursuant to Section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969; the Council on Environmental Quality Guidelines, (40 CFR Part 1500); and the Soil Conservation Service Guidelines (7 CFR Part 650); the Soil Conservation Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, gives notice that an environmental impact statement is not being prepared for the Boyne City's Old City Park RC&D Measure, Charlevoix, Michigan.

The environmental assessment of this federally assisted action indicates that the project will not cause significant local, regional, or national impacts on the environment. A contact has been made with the State Historical Preservation Officer and concludes that it will have no effect on any cultural resources either eligible for or listed on the National Register of Historic Places. The State Archaeologist will be contacted if any land disturbance associated with this project and archaeological sites, features or materials are encountered during actual construction. As a result of these findings, Mr. Homer R. Hilner, State Conservationist, has determined that the preparation and review of an environmental impact statement are not needed for this project.

This measure concerns a plan for the installation of practices for critical area treatment. Critical area treatment measures will include: 800 feet of rock riprap, two timber walkways, 350 feet of wood rail fence and critical area planting. Total construction cost is estimated to be $66,000; $49,500 RC&D funds and $16,500 local funds.

The Notice of a Finding of No Significant Impact (FONSI) has been forwarded to the Environmental Protection Agency. The basic data developed during the environmental assessment are on file and may be reviewed by contacting Mr. Homer R. Hilner. The FONSI has been sent to various federal, state, and local agencies and interested parties. A limited number of copies of the FONSI are available to fill single copy requests at the above address.

Implementation of the proposal will not be initiated until 30 days after the date of the publication in the Federal Register.

Obituaries

Gene Mickey shows East Jordan youngsters some of the science of photography at the Unlimited Potential exhibit continuing till the end of this week.

'Writing with light' latest project

"Writing with Light" is Unlimited Potential's latest project at the East Jordan elementary school.

"Writing with light is photography," said parent leader Anne Johnston, by way of explanation.

She said the UP group has planned the program for grades K through seven for educational enrichment, starting this week and running through March 4.

Each class will have two visits to the room where presentations will be made, Johnston said. These programs were for the most part prepared by Nancy Carey, well-known local photographer.

Johnston said this week would be devoted to four areas: Light and Color, How We See, How a Camera Catches Light, and Photo-sensitivity. She explained that the program is designed for the various age levels of the students.

Next week, part II would present three more areas: Perceptions, How Photographs Communicate, and Moving Pictures.

During the week where interest is lively, classes will turn to whatever aspects of the subject attract students, from pin-hole cameras to flicks-ographs.

Johnston said the UP group would help teachers with information. She added that the group is hoping for a grant to come through to fund a "Writing III" program in April, featuring Mike Friend, a photographer and teacher from Marquette.

Unlimited Potential is a group composed of parents, teachers, and administrators with the goal of offering projects to encourage creative thinking and to provide topics of enrichment.

Contributing to the topic of photography, historians George Secord and Bill and Doris Huckle are providing an exhibit of old photographs.

And the children are all writing captions to a pair of unusual photographs. They are also trying to identify teachers from the teachers' baby pictures.

Students from other schools, having similar UP's groups, are visiting the East Jordan program. Others, too, like the East Jordan Rotarians, have asked to be scheduled in.

UP is also sponsoring, for the second year, participation in the interschool competition, Olympics of the Mind, coming up later in the spring.

Boyer City EMS joins council

For more uniform procedures and standards, approval was given February 22 for Boyne City to join the Northwest Michigan Medical Services Council.

One other of the provisions, stated in the council bylaws, that the city commission liked was that it proposed "to encourage and assist with the training and education of both the professional and the general public in the provision of emergency medical care."

City manager Tim Clifton said it could reduce over-all costs to belong.

The council is sponsored by Northwest Emergency Medical Services Council.

Concern that the council would lay down norms for its members was allayed by commissioner Thelma Behling who said, "Our people didn't feel it would be restrictive" in demands they (the local ambulance department) could not fulfill.

Clifton also pointed out, "They have no jurisdiction over the city." They merely make recommendations, he added.

Besides, the ambulance service directors, membership in the council is offered to physicians, hospital administrators, nurses, public agencies, health care professionals, governmental units, community leaders, "and, in general, any group or person interested in emergency care."

Chris Kuhn took the first place finish in the slalom and the giant slalom events at the Michigan high school regional races that were held last Friday at Schuss Mountain near Marcellona. Kuhn is expected to take the state individual titles at the state championships that will be held next Monday at Crystal Mountain, south of Traverse City.

Boyer skiers take 5th in regionals, Kuhn first

Boyer City skiers took a fifth place in the boys regional competition last Friday at Schuss Mountain, but the real winner of the event was Chris Kuhn who was the fastest down the slope and ended up with two first place finishes.

Kuhn, one of the best ski racers to come from the Boyne City area, took the first place honors in the slalom and the giant slalom events at the races.

The Boyne girls finished up in fifth place also at the competition which was won by the Traverse City skiers in both the girls and the boys divisions.

Because of his first place finish, Kuhn will go to the State championships Feb. 28 at Crystal Mountain, south of Traverse City. Kuhn is rated as one of the best skiers in the midwest. He was leading the Mid-America Series for a time until he was beat out by Brian Shorter who skis out of Harbor Springs. Shorter is not in high school anymore and is skiing out west. He had a 10th place finish in the U.S.

National races competing with the like of Phil and Steve Mahre, world champion twins from Washington.

Kuhn is competing this week in the Central Division Championships that are being held at Boyne Mountain.

EJ freshmen lose

BY R.C. SMITH
The Red Devil Freshmen basketball squad has had a rough time this year. They have posted a 0-8 season record with the last loss of the season by the Charlevoix cagers 50 to 38.

It seems that although most of the games were close, the Red Devils always came out at the short end of the stick, even the overtime game they had with Gaylord by only two points.

In the game with

Charlevoix, the Red Devils were down by nine points at the half. They continued to run away with the game in the second half by controlling the boards and getting some help from some careless turnovers finally putting the game away.

The high score for the Red Devils was Joyce with 13 points. For Charlevoix, the high point getter was Putman with 18.

Charlevoix ended the season with a outstanding 14-4 record.

Boyer fades, losing to St. Ignace 67-57

Boyer City's hopes for a win last Friday faded when visiting St. Ignace started to bomb the team in the last period, putting in 20 points to seal the victory over the Ramblers by a score of 67-57.

The Ramblers trailed the visitors in the first period by three points but really started to score during the second eight minute quarter putting up 18 points to the visitors 12.

Taking the lead going into the second half, the Ramblers were outscored and outplayed in the third period and just faded out of the game in the fourth to let the Saints take the game.

The downfall of the home team was the fact that they could only hit on four of six freethrows while they gave away 16 fouls to the St. Ignace cagers.

Taking the high scoring honors for the Ramblers was Mike Harris who canned 18 points. Kevin Fitzpatrick came off the bench to put another 12 on the board in the loss.

The JV team lost the preliminary game 64-57.

Red Devils pull upset beating St. Marys 71-66

By R.C. Smith
Although they have had a rough season so far, and although they went through a coaching change in midseason, the East Jordan Red Devils still have a little sparkle with the knowledge that they pulled off the upset of the season when the varsity beat first place title holder Gaylord St. Mary's 71-66 last Friday night on their home court.

The Red Devils took a seven point lead at the half with the score being 36 to 29.

After the halftime rest, the Devils seemed to be able to hit nothing but the bottom of the bucket while taking control of the backboards. They managed to hit often enough that they took the scoring honors in almost every quarter of the game albeit by a slim margin, leading 18-16 in the first, 18-13 in the second, 16-14 in the third, and then getting cold in the last quarter letting the Snowbirds take it 23 to 19. But the end result was enough points to put them above the Birds at the end.

This was a very big game for the Red Devils. The win gives them the boost and the confidence they will need to do well in the upcoming tournaments.

The high scorers for the Red Devils were Rich Raymond who hit on 18 buckets and Bob Finch who added 16. For the Snowbirds Ken Ftzek had 21 points to his credit.

The JV team won also in the preliminary game 65 to 50.

At the half, the Snowbirds had a four point lead, but in the second half, the Red Devils were ready to play.

Freshman Mike Gobel hit for 22 points for the Red Devils while Scot Hart added 17 points.

For the Snowbird JV's, Matt Nowicki had 17 points on the night.

The win puts the East Jordan JV team 13 and 2 for the year. They lost only to Charlevoix and Central Lake so it looks like the varsity team will be getting some help next season.

Going up for a rebound amidst three Warrior defenders, this Logger came down with the ball. The Loggers let the game slip away and lost 65-54.

On Honors List

The Dean's List for Northern Michigan University's fall semester, which ended Dec. 17, includes 1,217 undergraduates.

Qualifying for the Dean's List, according to Registrar Harry Rajala, are Kathlene A. Postma of East Jordan and Diane Dobrzewski of Elmira. Graceland College in Lamoni, Iowa, has announced that Terri Louise Landon, a sophomore, has been named to the President's List for having achieved a perfect 4.0 grade point average during the 1982 fall semester.

Terri is the daughter of Thomas and Lenore Landon of Boyne City.

Loggers lose, win last week

BY PAUL THEISEN
The Boyne Falls Loggers let another game slip away into the hands of winning Forest Area last Tuesday. It was a very close game, as both teams kept the number of baskets pretty even until the last quarter then Forest Area took the lead for an 11 point win over Boyne.

At the end of the first period, the score was 16-12, the Loggers getting off to a slight lead.

At halftime, the points stabilized at 29-29, and at the end of the third period the score was 42-41, the Loggers taking a slip.

And as the final period was over, Forest Area had "taken it away," and downed the Loggers, 65-54.

Breithaupt gained 22 points.

Boyer's luck pulled through last Friday as they beat the Vanderbilt Yellow Jackets, 43-22.

Coming out of the first quarter the score was an even tie, 6-6. As the half arrived, Boyne pulled in a fair lead, 20-13.

At the end of the third quarter, the score peaked at 30-19, the Loggers really using a team effort and making it impossible for the Vandy Yellow-jackets to catch them.

High pointer was Tim Smith as he pulled in 15 points for the Logger team.

Your Guide to Winter Fun

How to take snow pictures

The 35mm camera generally has a half dozen or more little f numbers on it that make people who are new to photography think there is something very complex and difficult to understand about the hobby. Despite this common attitude here in North America, the 35mm has made steady inroads in recent years and today nearly half own one or another kind of 35 mm.

The little f numbers are really not such a mystery at all, once you know where they come from and how to use the theory called reciprocity to improve your photo results.

The starting point in understanding f numbers is right at f 16. This is the light value of direct reflected sunlight and this value never changes whether it's winter or summer. We look up, see the sun shining down in a blue sky and we know the light reflecting off our photo subjects is always the same.

The reciprocity rule goes like this: In direct sunlight, the proper exposure is always f16 with the shutter speed set at the film's rated speed. Thus, if you are loaded with Plus X film at ASA 125, the exact exposure of a subject lit by direct sunlight is f16 at 125th of a second. Similarly, if you're shooting Ekta-chrome 200, the exposure is f16 at 200th of a second. In this case, of course, you would shoot at 250th as 35mm cameras most often won't feature the 200th setting.

A pro photographer who taught us much of what we know about photography once advised us to read the little piece of paper that falls out of the film box. Next time you open a box of film, you should do the same. The instructions will describe this reciprocity characteristic every time. For Plus X, rated at 125 ASA, the instructions for bright sunlight will call for f16 at 125, just like we prescribed above. The instructions will then say shoot f11 in "bright overcast" (visible but indistinct shadow), f8 in hazy bright (barely visible shadows) and f5.6 in overcast (no shadow).

Think about this unchanging quality of sunlight for a minute and you realize you can get along fine in outdoor, daylight situations without the light meter in your camera. The meter doesn't do half as good a job in snow as the theory. The meter often says shoot at two full stops less light than the rule. If you take two pictures of your skiing friends on the trail, one by the meter and one by the reciprocity theory, the theory will win every time. Going by what your brain says will always be better, no matter how sophisticated your camera, because the camera has no way of knowing where it's being pointed. Only the photographer knows what is important in a picture, so only he can determine how to expose the shot.

Once we explained this theory of exposure to a skier who later pointed out that the slip of paper in his film said expose snow and sand subjects at f22, one stop less light than direct sun. "How about that?" he said. We were puzzled by this at first, too. When we exposed our film at this small aperture, we always got dark subjects. The reason for this is logical, if somewhat confusing, but it doesn't shoot any holes in the theory. When the film company's little instruction sheet says shoot at f22 in sand, snow and aquatic settings, the idea is to allow you to expose for the sand, snow or whatever. If, for example, you wanted to shoot in bright sunlight and have the finished picture show the ski tracks or bunny tracks or whatever, then the f22 setting would be right because of the snow's high reflectivity. Shooting your friends on the same bright snow requires f16 (more exposure) because they have a more "normal" reflectivity.

Once you get used to "using your head" instead of your light meter for snow shooting, you might want to try focusing in your head, too. This is called prefocusing.

Be kind to your boots and they will last

Some thoughts on proper maintenance of ski boots:

1. Most flexible plastics have a "memory"—they tend to hold a shape after taking that shape for some time. So it's important to buckle boots before storing them, or they may "freeze" in the unbuckled position.
2. Mildew can be a problem if boots are stored with wet liners. Pull the inner boots out and dry them thoroughly before storing boots.
3. Boots that used to be warm but are now cold, are probably leaking. The usual source of the leak is a worn out snow dam, the rubber weather-stripping built into the flap over the toe of the boot under the first buckle. Cover the flat with a piece of duct tape to stop the leak.

4. Broken buckles and cables can be quickly replaced by any well-equipped ski shop. Cracked shells usually can't be permanently repaired, though they can be sealed temporarily. Nicks and scratches on the shell won't affect boot performance.

5. Most inner boot repairs are minor, and can be accomplished with duct tape, a needle and thread, and a little ingenuity. Leaky flow pockets, however, are usually terminal. If you encounter such a problem you should be able to replace the inner boot under warranty.

SKI YOU CAN DO IT GAMES THAT TEACH

It's sometimes tempting to offer adult-type instruction to youngsters on skis—but don't! Instead, create a game that will encourage them to move about and maneuver on their skis.

With children on skis for the first time, choose flat or very gentle terrain and invite them to chase and catch you, using the same skiing steps that you do. Move slowly at first, walking forward, step-turning, skiing in circles and sliding backward. As they progress, climb up a shallow hill by sidestepping or herringboning. Do a step turn and then slide down. Keep the game fun and challenging; don't make it too hard or too easy. And be sure you choose maneuvers that are within the child's ability to imitate.

First robin

It's probably no surprise since it has been early spring all winter, but there is a robin in the county. Probably more, but the staff naturalist at The Press saw only one in Wilson Township on February 11.

Audubon Society member Jennie Germond says that robins do sometimes stay all winter.

Championships being held

About 150 of the top skiers in the midwest are converging upon Boyne Mountain this week for a series of races to determine who will be the winner of the Mid-America Series, and who will have the bragging rights to being the best ski racer in the midwest. The races, called the Central Divisional Championships will be bringing young ski racers from Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan as well as Illinois, Indiana and Ohio together for competition in the slalom, giant slalom and downhill. The best skiers from the series of races will be chosen and named to the Cental Division ski team for the Junior National Races that will be held in March.

The skiers going out to those races will be classed according to age instead of being pitted against each other and racing by ability.

Classes included go as low as the thirteen year olds while the upper age limit is nineteen.

The races will be held on the South McClouth slope at the ski area, as that slope is recognized by the International Ski Federation in Switzerland and meets the qualifications and standards set up for the slalom event.

Locally, Chris Kuhn stands a good chance of doing well in the races as he has trained to peak at this time of the year.

His finishes at the high school level races this past weekend, put him in a good spot to be named to the traveling team.

While some of the top racers in the division will not be able to attend because they are competing in the Nor-Am races out west, there still are several good racers coming in to town.

On the women's side, Andrea Satterbach, skiing out of the Minnesota area and the current leader in the Mid-America Series, had an injury last week and was operated upon Monday.

The races are part of the program to develop Olympic team members here in the nation. The racers here have aspirations of someday being named to that team, and these races are the first step towards making the national teams that compete in the World Cup and the Olympics.

Before you start, check your poles

1. Be sure that the baskets, especially of new poles, are properly seated on the shaft. In some cases, a special tool is necessary to seat them properly.

2. Inspect baskets near the shaft; if cracked, replace baskets.

3. Check tip sharpness. Most new poles never require sharpening. However, if dull, some can be sharpened by an experienced mechanic, but others that contain a hardened tungsten carbide core, a complex shape, or are only surface-hardened, cannot be sharpened safely. Do not attempt to sharpen your own.

4. Check for bent shafts by rolling the pole shaft along a table. Poles bent beyond 5 mm (measured from the flat surface to the pole shaft) should be straightened by an experienced mechanic. This may be difficult or impossible for some of the high-strength alloys — in which case, replace.

5. Inspect the shaft for dents, cuts, or gouges. Surface imperfections in or lower third of the pole are only surface-hardened, cannot be sharpened safely. This is particularly true of poles made from high-strength alloys.

6. Test grip retention by pulling upward the way you would a wine cork (tip down, please). Make sure you grasp the pole grip from the top. If you can pull it off, have a qualified mechanic glue it in place.
