Sports and facilities draw complaints from fans

Boyer City school's athletic facilities and the football program drew the wrath of a few concerned citizens as they vented their complaints to the school board at Monday night's meeting.

The board heard from Mrs. Celia Polack who asked why the school system is affiliated with the Michigan-Huron Shores Conference when so many of the schools are bigger than Boyne City. Her reasoning for the football team having its difficulties in winning was that the other schools in the league had more students, and thus more talent to draw from when compared to Boyne City.

Speaking only about the football program of the sports that are presented in the conference, she noted that she feels the school is in the wrong league. She wondered if the high school could affiliate with the Ski Valley Conference where the school sizes are better and could give the team an even advantage when fielding teams.

Rick Casper, the high school principal, told the board a different setting as the school, along with Charlevoix, were asked to leave the Ski Valley Conference many years ago because they were dominating the sports offered in that conference.

Casper also told the board that things are changing in the Michigan-Huron Shores Conference and that the administrators of the schools involved are well aware of the problems of having Class C and Class B schools competing against each other.

He told the board that the conference may be considering at some time in the future of splitting up into two leagues, one for Class B schools and the other for schools the size of Boyne City.

"We will be a Class C school for many years," said Casper, and asked the board to consider the other options that are available.

Those included asking another league to accept them, going the independent route, dropping football, or working to get the league into the two tiers that they are already heading towards.

Casper told the board that size was not the problem with fielding winning teams, as he pointed out that St. Ignace, the current powerhouse of the league, is smaller than Boyne and has developed a powerful football program.

He added that when Boyne City first joined the league back in 1968, that team had an 8-0 record against the same schools.

Casper told the board that currently, there are four Class B schools and six Class C in the league. With the current scheduling, Boyne City does not play against one of the Class B schools and has always played well against the others.

He added that besides the scheduling problems of changing leagues, most of the students he asked would prefer to be playing against the schools presently in the league. "I would like to see our kids play in a B-C league rather than play in a D league as Mrs. Polack has proposed."

Casper told the board that he would keep them informed as to the future of the league as changes are hopefully in the works that would make the schools compete against each other on an equal basis.

Mike Weeks then asked the board if they had looked at the playing field lately, and asked if the board had any money or any plans to improve the playing surface. Weeks told the board that there are holes, bad turf, and other problems with the field.

When he was told by the board that they do not have any money planned for the maintenance of the field, Weeks suggested that volunteers could be found to rebuild the surface to make it a safer, better place to play.

Weeks told the board members that he has talked with several businessmen who have offered money, supplies and time to repair the field. He understands that the field repair is not the easiest thing to do, but that it should be done.

George Shiotellis, president of the board, told Weeks that the Lions Club was working on a plan to improve the lights in the stadium but had dropped the plan when the costs were figured out.

The lights are the original lights that were installed along with the circuitry and the poles in 1952.

Marty McCullough, the girls' track coach, who was visiting the meeting, told the board that the track is in bad shape also. She said that the other schools in the league don't want to come to Boyne for meets because of the track.

Shiotellis told the audience that the athletic committee will look into the problems and will meet with those wanting to become involved.

In other action, the board passed a motion to start the school board meeting with the Pledge of Allegiance. The motion passed after the board considered also having the students within the system also saying it, but then allowed that portion of the idea to be tabled until further study.

The original idea was suggested by board member Larry Monshor who said that saying the pledge helped create patriotism within the system for the students and the board members.

The school system authorized the First National Bank and Trust to be the provider of the tax anticipation loan. Theirs was the lowest bid received by the administration and was for only 6.98 percent. Other bids went as high as 7.59 percent.

Superintendent Rich Kelly told the board that the amount being borrowed this year, $549,000, was not as much as last year because of the summer tax collections made this year.

The board also granted the First National Bank and Trust the bid for the purchase of two school buses that were ordered last spring. The two diesel powered buses will replace two aging buses currently in use. The board will be borrowing $60,583.50 at an interest rate of 7.75 percent.

Board member Dick Wulff mentioned that the bank was very aggressively supporting the Boyne City area, which was one of the reasons the loans were so low. Other bids were as high as 11.69 percent.

After a discussion about what the board would like to see or hear in educational reports for the school year, Wulff asked the board to consider a motion giving the gifted and talented program of the school an additional $7,000 this year to be spent on the continual upgrading of the program.

Boyer Falls holding open house Oct. 16

On Tuesday, Oct. 16, the Boyne Falls Parent Teacher Organization will hold Parent In-service. The subject matter will consist of information on gifted and talented children. Kathy Martincheck, the "Gifted and Talented" coordinator from the local Intermediate School District, will be speaking about identifying gifted children and their characteristics.

The public is welcome and any parents who feel that their children may possibly have gifted qualities are encouraged to attend.

On Wednesday, Oct. 17, the Boyne Falls school is holding an Open House from 6:30 to 8 p.m. The public is welcome and parents are encouraged to come and meet with their children's teachers.

Everyone is encouraged to meet the new administration principal, Mike Wallace, and superintendent Robert Redmond.

The P.T.O. will provide refreshments throughout the open house.

Digging for the moat that will surround the new Stafford's One Water Street Restaurant was started Monday. The dragline of C.H. Smith and Company is performing the work of digging out the channel that will separate the restaurant from the land. The company had to dig through layers of slab wood that was used as fill when the lumber and railroad companies moved into the land back at the turn of the century.

Woodburners learn at seminar

"We don't want people to feel like we're going after them," said Gary Hlavka, Michigan mechanical code inspector, "but I'd rather have you call me before you put in a wood burner." He emphasized the word "before."

"That's so you won't possibly have to tear out what you did."

Hlavka answered woodburners' questions along with a panel of others at a public meeting at the Civic Center in East Jordan Monday night. The occasion was sponsored by the city volunteer fire department to mark Fire Prevention Week and forestall as many dangerous fires as possible.

Others on the panel were fire chief Dick Barnett, building inspector Ron Geer; chimney sweep contractor Mark Loding; Larry Zak, masonry contractor; and Jay Bingham for insurance. Howard Carson, county building inspector was chairman.

Carson underlined Hlavka's statement, saying, "We've had too many (systems) that had to be torn out we didn't know about until they were in."

Hlavka, in answer to an audience question, said, "If you plan to buy a home, have the owner pay for an inspection first." Houses built before code restrictions might not pass today's requirements. Loding said, "When you've put all you can into a down payment, any chimney job is expensive." The panel agreed that requiring the

Condo owners file petition to reduce taxes

Twenty-two owners of Harborage Condominiums have asked the State Tax Tribunal to review the assessments given them on their properties that they own here in Boyne City.

The appraisals for the property were raised last spring during the Board of Review process that was trying to have all property owners within the city pay their fair share of taxes.

The Harborage owners feel that the reassessments given them were inappropriate to the real value of the condominium units and, through the tax tribunal process, hope to have them lowered to what they were before the Board raised them.

The assessments on the properties range as low as $66,300 and as high as $137,700 on the units of the petition that are listed in the complaint.

The city has been given 30 days to file a reply to the complaint before the tax tribunal will start hearings on the matter.

When a property owner doesn't like the assessment given to his property at the Board of Review, they then have the option of submitting a petition to the Michigan Tax Tribunal for their review.

If they agree with the city and its Board of Review, the taxes will stand. But if they agree with the property owners, the taxes on the parcels will be reduced to their prior years' assessment.

Boyer City has their appraisals done by the county and those assessments for the Harborage development were lower than those set by the board.

Many things are considered in the reviewing process, according to one of the members of the Board, and after all the consideration, the board then approves an assessment on the property. The Board member said that is what happened and that they stand behind what they have done, which was to correctly reflect the value of the properties within the city.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES P. SMITH

Patti Ann Bates, Charles P. Smith united

In a ceremony at the First Presbyterian Church of Boyne City, performed by the Rev. Luginbill, Patti Ann Bates became the bride of Charles P. Smith. Both are Boyne City residents. Patti is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin G. Bates, Sr. of Boyne City, and Charles is the son of Mrs. Earl L. Smith of Ft. Wayne, Indiana.

Given in marriage by her parents, Patti chose a gown with a scoop neckline, Victorian puff sleeves, and a silk Venice lace bodice. Her full bouffant skirt featured Chantilly lace in front and hemline ruffles with ante-bellum pick-up of taffeta with bows, completed with an attached chapel train. She wore a wide-brimmed hat with ribbon, and carried a long silk bouquet of maroon and pink sweetheart roses, white carnations and baby's breath.

The mother of the bride chose a long gown of tan and cream, while the groom's mother was dressed in a long, lavender gown. Jo Ellen Bates of Boyne City served her sister as maid of honor and Timothy Smith of Ft. Wayne, Indiana was the best man for his brother. Bridesmaids were Connie Stevens, sister of the bride; Shelly Rose and Elaine Pouliot, friends of the bride; and Patti's nieces, Melinda and Trina Stevens.

Patti's attendants were dressed in floor length skirts of maroon print, and white blouses completed their ensembles. They carried small bouquets of silk miniature carnations and baby's breath.

Groomsmen were David and Larry Smith, Charles' brothers, and Mark Lauletta, a friend. Larry Smith and Virgil Bates performed the ushering tasks.

Music for the couple was provided by organist Dava Maat and soloist Eric Cherry.

After a reception at the banquet room of Boyne City Lanes and a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the couple will make their home in Boyne City.

Patti is a 1982 graduate of Boyne City High School and Charles is a 1976 graduate of Wayne High School, Ft. Wayne, Ind., and both are employed at United Technologies of Boyne City.

The bluejays are noisy this time of year. One of them caught sight of a certain sprightly elf yesterday and yelled, "Hey! Hey, Jack Frost!"

Jack stopped, lowering his buckets of paint for a minute.

"What's this I see in the papers!" exclaimed the jay.

Jack, who never even reads the weather forecasts, replied sharply, "What about it?"

The jay, who is always full of news, replied, "It said the color is only 30 percent advanced."

"Oh, a pox on their percent!" answered Jack, angrily.

The jay eyed him briefly. "I guess you artists don't relate well to percent," he said.

"Well, look at it, friend Jay. Is this a matter for percent?"

Jack paused, then said crossly, "I suppose next they'll give statistics on how many yellow and how many red."

Even jays have meditative moments. This one said, "But how else are they going to tell autumn lovers when to drive up?"

"Let them count geese, if they're so mathematical. At 329 geese, the color will be 40 percent." Jack bent to pick up his buckets.

"What they should do is ask you for some new words to describe the different days of color," suggested the jay.

"Not my line," replied Jack and strode off, swinging his brush splendidly in all directions.

But the bluejay was seized by his notion. He flew to his sister and brother jays, and together they produced a new color vocabulary.

That's why tourist bureaus should look up when the jays call by.

Another question was how often does one clean one's chimney.

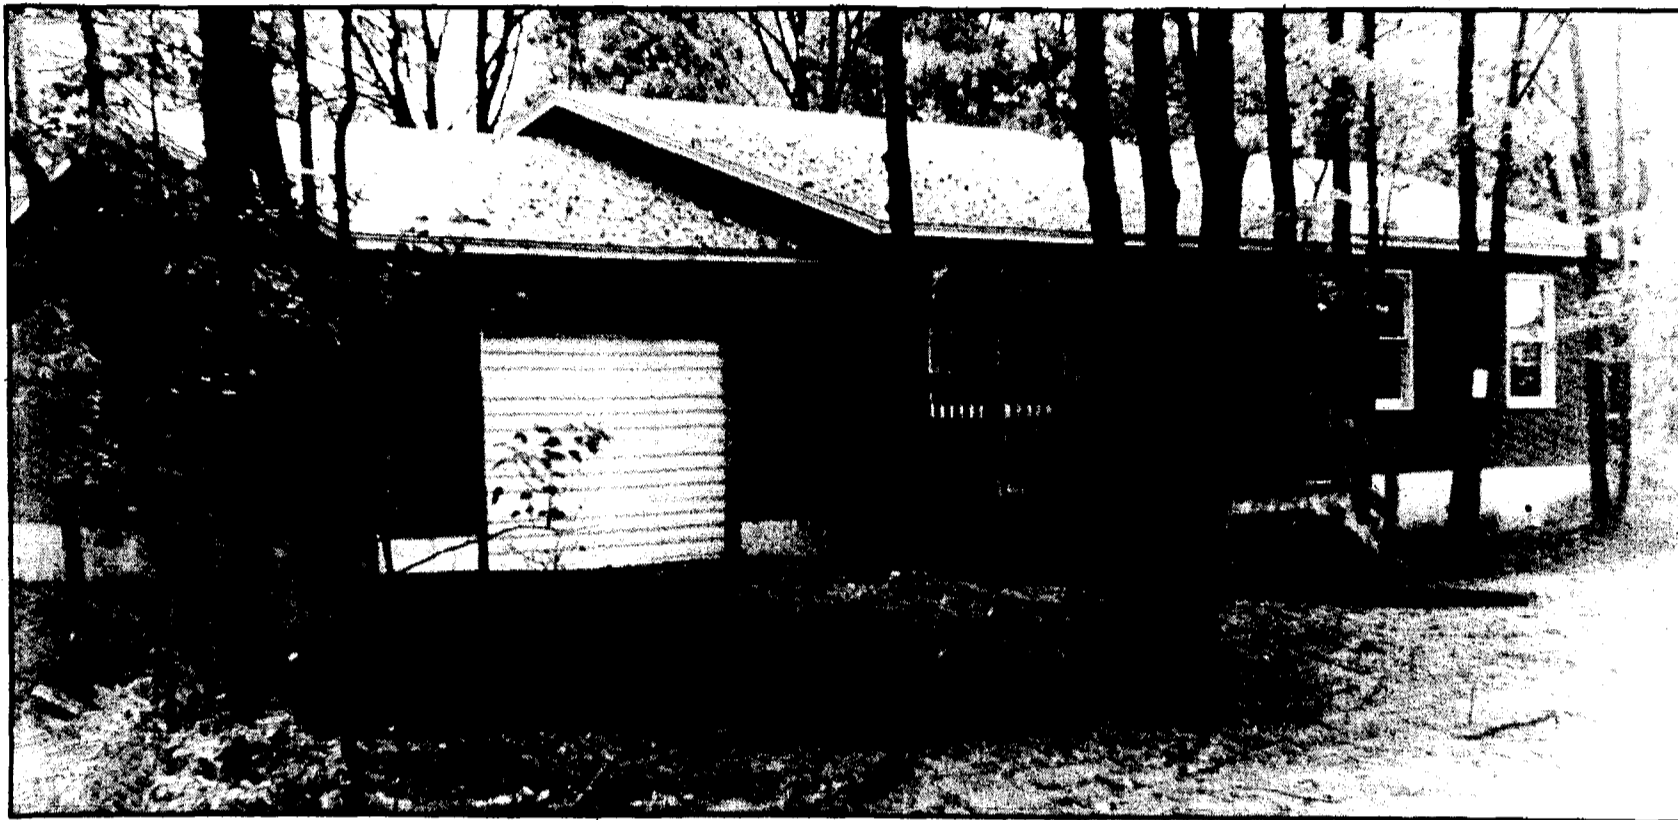

Loding was emphatic. "No two situations will be the same," he said. "Even with the same stoves, and similar houses." He explained that air movement alone can be a big factor.

Remembrances

FROM ARIES TO PISCES AND ALL THAT GOOD STUFF
 (Dear Editor: Several years ago there was a great clamor for me to write a horoscope column for the Press. I wrote one and readers guessed as how they didn't want any more of that sort of thing. Now, I am again asked to do a horoscope column. This one demanded all the deep thinking and logic I possessed at the time it was written. Honest.)

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Make the best of what you've got. If you find that impossible, make the best of what some one else has got.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Educate yourself to the highest level possible. Hurry! You will need all the smarts you can get to cope with the great sweep of uncontrolled hilarity after Ronald Reagan is re-elected.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21): Act on new ideas. Don't wait. You have no other choice if you wish to succeed in life. If you do not wish to succeed in life, move to Charlevoix and hang around the courthouse.

CANCER (June 22-July 22): Accept challenge. Realize that you are capable of increasing your income potential by going into business with someone who doesn't know you. Be prepared to leave town if necessary.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Bolster your drooping ego. Do this by figuring out how much you are worth. Tell people about it. Lie if you have to. People who figure prominently will nod and understand. Ignore people who don't figure and nod. This should banish drooping ego.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Virgo means virgin. Because of that I do not know what to say to you. I guess you will just have to focus on your work and make the best of a difficult situation. Perhaps moving to East Jordan will help.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23): Be content to live in Boyne City. Keep looking for a nice home to buy and settle down. Plan it smart, but don't plan on out-swindling any real estate agents.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21): Exude confidence. Wear bright colors. Welcome fresh contacts. Forget about opening that all night pizza parlor in Horton Bay.

SIGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Quit trying to get into the swim of things without getting wet. Avoid self-deception. Ignore the old adage that says: "If at first you don't succeed, move to Petoskey."

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Just because you fizzled out in the romance department, it doesn't mean that you have to stay fizzed. Pull yourself together and start over. Half the people in Boyne City pulled themselves together, and look what happened to them!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): It's too late. Others won't be able to help you now. You will need the services of a good lawyer, or possibly a fast horse that will get you to Boyne Falls in a hurry. If the horse costs more than the lawyer, I recommend the lawyer. However, it's up to you to figure out the best deal. But I warn you that you are going to need one horse of a lawyer.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Stop looking on the dark side of things. Wait until the sun comes up, you nut.

Workers of the old Boyne City Brick Works lined up in front of the kilns that were used to dry the bricks after they were formed. The bricks were baked for several days before they were brought out to cool and then get stacked in the warehouse. The picture shows the many workers that the firm employed back in the early days of Boyne. If you have any old pictures of the area, bring them in and we will make a copy for this feature.

Letters

Jottings

BY JIM SILBAR

Some of the folks in this office are telling me that I should get ready for winter. Maybe it's because they can feel drafts of cold air when they get into the office in the morning, but all the signs are here. The leaves are turning rapidly, the dew is heavy on the cars in the morning, and Boyne Mountain is working very hard to get things ready for their winter season.

Someone else told me today that the flies seem to be heavier this season, and that the crickets seem more predominant than other seasons.

I told them that I have not heard about the woolly bears or the squirrels but I was told that some of the hunters are seeing signs amongst the deer and other animals.

But, like anything, I know that the winter is coming, and no matter whether it is a cold one, an early one, or has lots of snow, I will have to live through it.

About the only sign I see for the winter that everyone else seems to miss is that the Old Farmers' Almanac has hit the newstands. And everyone knows that they forecast the weather for the whole year and are mostly right.

I haven't had time to look through the thing yet, as I am too busy trying to figure out what I have left to do to get ready for the coming season.

I received something in the mail the other day on collectibles. The piece was promoting the idea that everybody collects almost everything. Of course that got my mind to working, especially about the everything.

I think it may be stretching it if I thought that someone was collecting outhouses, but I am sure that someone is. They also may be collecting parts of them too.

I used to know an insurance agent who collected staples. Seems that almost all of his mail that he received from the companies that he represented, always stapled together the many pages of information. Since he did not like things stapled together, he would use his staple puller and then deposit the staple in the ash tray. Since he didn't smoke, he would let the staples build up. Most of the times that I went into his office, there was a six inch pile of staples. Sometimes, he had two or three piles going, each about a couple of inches high.

I used to think that was strange, but then I started collecting popcorn machines. Old ones. I can tell you how I got interested in them, but I can't tell you why, other than I like to eat popcorn.

I still have one machine left, an automated one that used to be in a children's amusement park near Lansing. It is all apart, waiting for me to find the time to finish cleaning, painting, and restoring it so that it could be a marvel of the ages. That is just one of the projects that are on the list of things to do when you get the time.

George says no to DNR, weirs, Tempotect

Editor,

It's unbelievable reality that our DNR, whose sole purpose it is to protect and to set quotas so we may all share equally in our fur, fish and game for the State (and we the people are the State), once again the DNR and their co-partners, Tempo-Tech, Inc., are conspiring to deprive the people of our State of their rightful share of our salmon on the Jordan River.

The DNR takes our license money to raise and release these salmon, a protected game fish. Then they take State land, fence it off and declare it a "Little Kingdom" of Tempo-Tech, Inc., who then have preference over all the people of the state.

Tempo-Tech, Inc., seems to then write all the rules and regulations, and the DNR has the authority to arrest, convict and enforce them 24 hours a day.

Those rules seem to be:
 Rule #1. Notice to all the people of the state: Don't step on our "Little Kingdom," you will be arrested for trespassing.

Rule #2. Don't attempt to take one of our salmon, we want every last fish because we have a lush market for them in Japan.

Rule #3. Warning to all fishermen: You may or will be arrested by the DNR because the fish that the DNR planted, and we harvest, now belong to us, and don't you forget it.

Rule #4. Tempo-Tech, Inc., and the DNR have promised to give back to the people of the State of Michigan your beautiful wild river just as soon as we harvest all your salmon. But don't forget we shall return next year to harvest more.

It has been said that Tempo-Tech, Inc., took the opportunity to thank the DNR and the people for their thoughtful consideration in releasing Tempo-Tech, Inc. from the clause in their contract where they should pay the 2.5 cents per pound. This, Tempo-Tech, Inc., feels is just and fair because much of these salmon are unfit for American consumption because of being laden with PCB. The DNR has released Tempo-Tech, Inc., from the responsibility of warning Japan of this liability. For further information, call Mr. Vondette of the DNR, who has all the answers.

Something is wrong with our DNR and Tempo-Tech, Inc., when the State only received $80,000 last year and then the state spent many, many times this amount to patrol and protect their "Little Kingdom" on whatever river they may be, when Tempo-Tech sales run into the millions each year.

It appeared to me that the DNR was proud of this amount last year. I asked the DNR how much did they receive from Tempo-Tech, Inc. for the years January 1, 1976 through September 30, 1980?

If I am correctly informed, all departments of the state have to answer to the Auditor General for all moneys received. The audit that Senator Mitch Irwin and I asked for and received from the Wildlife and Fisheries Division of the Bureau of Resources DNR.

I have two letters from DNR officials that claim Act 165 of 1929, Section 10, Paragraph 3, given to the DNR the authority to sell our protected game fish. Our Senator, Mitch Irwin and our representative Pat Gagliardi requested from our Attorney General's office an opinion just a year ago, and they refused and ignored our Senator's request.

Wow! Do we have a powerful DNR.

I ask myself the simple question, if Tempo-Tech, Inc., of Hart, Michigan was first known as Tempo-Tel, then changed to Tempo-Tech, Inc., then the last year it was known as Tempo-Tech Industries, Inc., and is now registered in our Department of Commerce under that name under the date of incorporation of June 10, 1975, then why are they just starting to use the name when they have had it for the last eight years?

I think that something is radically wrong with our DNR when they use their power to deny the people of their lawful share of our salmon. They deny the poor and needy and the fishermen who want these fish. They take the food off your table and give it to Tempo-Tech, Inc., for the greed of that all-mighty dollar.

They have forgotten what their duty is to the people, and I think it's past time for us, the people, to set them straight where our legislature has failed. They have, over the years, given the DNR so much authority that now they ignore the real authority of our legislators.

These statements came from my personal files, and I alone am responsible for every word.

Applefest this weekend in Charlevoix

An "appealing" event is the "Apple Fest," which Charlevoix will celebrate on Oct. 13 and 14.

This fifth annual event will take place in the city's East Park on Round Lake. Coinciding with the now-famous Lake Charlevoix color cruises, the festival will feature booths of apples, apple pies and goodies, apple cider, chili, kielbasa, and braunschweiger.

On this play, the Ramblers went with a sweep to the left and this one went for about five yards as Craig Napont prepares to lay a heavy block on the tackler and Chris Howard turns the corner. The Ramblers stuck the Soo into the basement of the M.H.S.C. Friday night as they sat on a 6-0 lead throughout the second half.

Boyerne wins battle, beats Soo 6-0 gets out of cellar

BY JERRY FROATS

The mysteries of Homecoming were unveiled for the Boyne City Rambler fans Friday night, as the school spirit came alive and the Ramblers added spice to the evening by posting their first season victory while honored parents looked on.

The game had been billed as the battle of the basement by conference followers, and the 6-0 win put the 0-4 Sault St. Marie Blue Devils further into the hole. It turned out to be a grueling ground game as the griders hit each other violently throughout the game and tempers flared at end.

The Soo elected to receive the opening kick-off, but on their very first play the ball was fumbled and Dave Wandrie jumped at the chance for a recovery. Even with the game's first turnover going their way, Boyne City was pushed backwards to the Soo 34 yard line and turned it over on downs.

The Ramblers kept the action on the Blue Devils side of the field throughout the entire first half as the Boyne City defense never let the Soo get close to mid-field. The Blue Devils elected to punt on four separate fourth downs and the Ramblers held excellent field position after each punt, but their offense fizzled each time they neared the goal line.

Boyerne City played more extravagantly on their fourth down opportunities, going for the first down three times, but coming up short. The Ramblers elected to punt the ball away twice and both punts put the Blue Devils deep into their own territory.

Boyerne City performed considerably better in their first drive of the second half, as they received the kick-off and constantly ground it out to their objective, the Soo's goal line.

Craig Napont was the main ball carrier on the drive, getting five assignments for 47 yards, gained. Tony Napont and Wandrie ran well on the scoring drive also, and Wandrie carried it into the endzone for a 6-0 lead.

After the ensuing kick-off, the Soo went to the air, but Darren Everest got an interception to give the Ramblers a first down. A 15 yard penalty was assessed to the Ramblers and they began the drive with 25 yards to go for a first and 10.

Chris Howard hit Wandrie with a 7 yard pass in the series, but on fourth and 15 to go, the Ramblers went for a coffin corner punt. The punt angled into the endzone and the Soo took over on their own 20 yard line.

Neither team could get anything rolling on two exchanges and the Ramblers had their punt blocked to give the Soo their best field position of the game at the Rambler 43 yard line.

The Blue Devils ran into a wall of blue jerseys on three plays and went to the air on fourth down, but C. Howard played the receiver well and broke up the potential first down pass. The Ramblers turned the ball over on a fumble near the Soo 30 yard line, but Norm Howard came through the line to drop a sack on the Blue Devil quarterback and Dave Milks intercepted for the Ramblers.

Boyerne City decided to stay with their rushing game in the series and advanced the ball to the Soo 14 yard line, but a fumble and an illegal procedure penalty forced the Ramblers into a passing situation. The pass was intercepted in the endzone and an inadvertent whistle sounded, causing the action to halt and the Blue Devils lost their tempers with the officials and were hit with double ejections from the game and a 10 yard penalty. This set the Devils up extra deep with a first and 20 yards to go.

The Soo went to the air again with time running short but couldn't hit a receiver and turned it over to the Ramblers. Boyne City ran three plays and were penalized to give up the ball again. The Soo was still passing with 11 seconds left in the game when Todd Fall hauled down an interception and the Ramblers sat on the ball to win the game.

The Ramblers totaled 188 yards rushing against the Soo, with C. Napont gathering the largest share at 82 yards. T. Napont gained 60 yards while Wandrie ran for 46 yards.

On defense, C. Napont totaled six unassisted tackles with three assists. Fall came up with five unassisted tackles and three assists, and Mike Mansfield also had five unassisted tackles with two assists. Norm Howard totaled six touchdowns and Everest, Ramie Leist, Wandrie, and Dale Sutton all were given credit for four tackles.

East Jordan falls to Pellston, 18-12 now two wins, three losses for season

BY STEVE GEE

East Jordan Red Devils fell to the better sting of the Pellston Hornets in a thriller, 18-12, last Friday night.

Neither team scored until 10:33 into the first quarter, when Pellston's senior quarterback, Tim Bonter, connected with Ron Jurek on a 46-yard touchdown pass. The two point conversion failed and, at the end of the first quarter, Pellston held a slim 6-0 lead.

Dave Russell, junior fullback of the Red Devils, scored East Jordan's first points on a two-yard touchdown run. A 17-yard pass completion from Bill Lytle to Pete Zoulek set up the score.

Later in the second quarter, the Red Devils scored again on a six yard touchdown pass to Thom Ashton from Lytle; the big play of the drive being a 14 yard pass on third down and 15. Pellston retaliated later in the quarter when Randy Davis scrambled across the goal line with a one yard touchdown run. The touchdown was set up with a 46 yard pass from Bonter to Randy Terwilliger. At halftime, the two teams were in a 12-12 deadlock.

In the third quarter, neither team scored, although the Red Devils had a couple of scoring opportunities spoiled by turnovers. East Jordan was on Pellston's 30 yard line when Mike Gitre of the Hornets recovered a Devil fumble. Later in the quarter, Randy Davis got his first of two interceptions.

Pellston scored the final points of the game early into the fourth quarter when Randy Davis scored his second touchdown, a five yard run, making the final score 18-12 in favor of Pellston.

East Jordan's junior quarterback, Bill Lytle, completed seven of 16 passes for 78 yards, with a touchdown and two interceptions. Mike Goebel and Pete Zoulek each had two pass receptions for the Devils. While Todd Nachazel had the Devils only "take-away" with an interception.

Pellston quarterbacks, Tim Bonter (who was injured late in the third quarter) and Ron Jurek combined for 107 yards passing, completing three of 13 passes with a touchdown and an interception.

The Devils were held to 89 total yards rushing with Snowden earning 34 of them. Nachazel gained 33 yards and Dave Russell got 15 yards. East Jordan was hit for 12 negative yards to make a 77 yard net total.

For the defense, Jim Roberts got the hit on 17 tackles while R.C. Smith totaled 12 take-downs, four of them unassisted. Dale Schroeder took 10 tackles and Russell got in on five tackles. Nachazel and Jeff Gee contributed four tackles each.

Business briefs in area highlight new operations because of better visibility and the aspect of having walk-in traffic.

"We can see the results of our move already," said Dave Vondran, the owner of Boyne Appliances. "We are having much more traffic into the store than at our previous location." The store also sells televisions and satellite dishes, along with general appliances.

Things are shaping up for the new part of the Riverside Tire business as they are installing new equipment to make recapped tires. The molds are already in place and the training for the operation is underway. The company expects to be selling recapped tires from their Boyne City location as well as setting up other dealers throughout the north.

Opening plans for Pippins, the newest restaurant in Boyne City, are underway, with the opening of the new eating place sometime this month. While there is still a lot left to do to complete the restaurant, which will serve lunches only to start, the cooks have had many years of experience in operating restaurants in the Boyne Falls area.

One more store will be filled when the Seaway Review Company starts their publishing business here in Boyne City in the former law offices of Tom Anderson. Before Anderson, the offices were the headquarters of the Bieganowski Real Estate Company. The magazine will be bringing an international business to the Boyne City area dealing with the shipping industry on the Great Lakes. The company formerly was working out of the Elmira area, but with the owners moving in to the Boyne City area, they moved the publishing headquarters to Boyne.

The grand opening is underway at the Main Street Clothing Company in East Jordan with prizes, coffee and other goodies. Owners Bernie and Donna Schmitt want everyone to stop in to see the many items that they carry for men. The grand opening is going on until the end of the week.

If you have any tidbits that you want in this new feature, call our office at 582-6761 so that we can add them.

The Wolverine Wildcats attempted to use a full court press against the Loggers Thursday night, but some of the Boyne Falls girls were able to beat the pressure as is demonstrated by Kim McNew on this fast break to a lay-up.

Both Boyne Falls teams take wins over Wolverine last week

BY JERRY FROATS

Both Boyne Falls girls' basketball teams emerged from Thursday's home action with victories. The Junior Varsity Loggers won an overtime thriller 38-35, and the Varsity rolled to a 60-50 win over the Wildcats of Wolverine.

area. With six minutes left in the half, Boyne Falls enjoyed a 20-7 lead that came from their stiff full court press. Wolverine broke the press quite a few times, but the speed of the Loggers defense forced many of the fast break shots to miss.

The varsity began their game using a 1-2-2 defense with Kim McNew playing the point position and held the Wildcats scoreless until three minutes remained in the quarter. The Lady Loggers were outstanding on the boards in the period, but had trouble converting the rebounds into points until the Logger full court press got going and Boyne Falls held a 15-5 first quarter lead.

The Loggers opened the game up using a slow and deliberate zone offense that ate up the first half of the quarter. With 3:25 remaining to play, Boyne Falls led 51-31 and the press came to an end. Wolverine found energy for a final spurt that netted them enough points to close the gap to 56-46, but with the Wildcats playing with just four people on the court, Boyne Falls held them back easily. Churchill had another great night for the Loggers as she hit for 19 points and rebounded 23 missed shots. Kris Bell and McNew also hit double figures at 12 points each. Bell took 20 rebounds. Mary Murray had eight points as she went 4 of 6 at the free throw line. Sandy Towne went one better hitting 5 of six charity shots for her points. Collette Sparks hit a basket for 2 points and Dianne Massey sank two free throws.

EJ JVs start win streak

BY JERRY FROATS

The East Jordan JV basketball team broke the Red Devil losing streak Thursday night, and the varsity nearly carried it through in the second game, but it was not to be so as Pellston got a last minute spurt and pulled it away, 42-29.

the barrier in the second period, getting two field goals each. Angel Noirot and Looze added free throws to make an 18-13 halftime score in favor of the Hornets.

Pellston outscored East Jordan 10-8 in period three as only two Devils got on the scoreboard in the quarter.

The Devils tightened the score in the final quarter, but with Baker fouled out East Jordan fell behind in the closing moments as the Hornets hit six unanswered points to win.

The early game found East Jordan holding a 9-4 first quarter lead as four of the starting five girls scored a bucket apiece, and Pellston was held to a basket and a free throw.

EJ JVs take win

BY JERRY FROATS

Continuing with their winning ways, East Jordan's JV football team handed the Pellston Hornets their first season loss in a 26-6 Red Devil victory.

drive with a 15 yard run-in and the conversion was scored on a pass from Greg Kitson to Don Reich. The Hornets were held scoreless through the second quarter while Terry Burt put the defense on the scoreboard with a 35 yard pass interception for a 14-0 Red Devil lead at intermission.

Pellston took the ball to the Devil 3 yard line and finally punched it in for a third period score of 14-6. Shortly after, Graham put East Jordan up by 14 points with another drive capping run of four yards. Early in the final period, with East Jordan deep into their own territory, Graham burst through the middle and got away from everybody for a 97 yard touchdown run.

Ramblers lose in wild game

BY JERRY FROATS

The Rambler girls played a wild game Thursday night against the Petoskey Northmen and came out on the short end of a close one 50-45. Both teams were sporting identical win-loss records before the game, but Boyne City dropped to 2-5 and the Northmen went to 3-4.

in a very physical game where both teams took a beating. Petoskey tossed up some 35 shots under the basket and took an 11-9 first period lead as the Ramblers got a slow start.

thought there might be a cover on the basket as the Ramblers could only hit three buckets in the final period and Winters and Keisha Crozier were in deep foul trouble.

Montgomery seemed to take up a little slack by scoring 16 points. Winters and Guznick hit for eight points each as Linda Bieganski got three, and Kerry Harvey, Coleen Toton, and Sue Bieganski all added two points.
