Boyer Falls balks at paying remodeling fee

Dissatisfied with the quality of the work that was done by the contractor during the recent energy remodeling done on the Boyne Falls School, the school board Monday night voted to only pay the contractor 50 percent until the job was completed to the board's satisfaction.

Board member Bob Winhusen, during the discussion that preceded the motion, told other members of the board that the people within the community were saying that it was a lousy job. Another board member told the members of the board that in his estimation, the job was not acceptable.

The board members were complaining about a color mismatch in the insulated cement that was applied during the conversion to smaller windows and the fact that the stucco effect was not as specified by the contract.

The board is satisfied with the work that was done on the inside of the building though, and will be paying for the work that was completed.

That will represent the 50 percent payment that the board will make.

The contractor, Frank Foster Construction, will be given time to make corrections and get the job completed as the board had asked for in the contract.

According to superintendent Robert Redmond, there are two alternatives to making the job right. He told the board that the stucco could be painted all the same color, or that another layer of insulate could be applied to the present layer on the building.

The board agreed that an additional layer might be the best answer to correct the esthetic problem.

Redmond said that the project manager and the contractor said that the quality, esthetics of the job were not up to par. Board member Bill Cousineau made the motion that the board withhold the final payment until the job is completed to the board's satisfaction.

In other action, the building principal, Mike Wallace, told the board that the school is starting a program for the gifted and talented. The program this year will consist of testing and identifying those that may be eligible for the program. "We intend on using as many resources from other schools in the area that have a program in place," he said. "And using the resources from the intermediate school district to keep our costs down to nothing."

The board also approved a motion to be opposed to Proposition C, the Voters Choice amendment that will be voted on in November's election.

They also approved a request that Redmond be allowed to advertise the extra bus for sale.

The board accepted the resignation of Maxine Hough, the business and library teacher who is resigning effective Oct. 31. The board also approved the request of a men's club to use the gym and approved the pay scale of the school's bookkeeper.

The new airport terminal arrived at Boyne City Airport in four sections. The city provided foundations and the terminal is now well on the way to completion. It will contain a waiting room, rest rooms, and offices. The modular units were constructed by inmates in the Michigan prison system.

Math scholarship program established by EJ resident

A new scholarship worth $1,400 will reward math students in East Jordan. At its October 9 meeting the school board announced the gift of a perpetual scholarship established by Kenneth Garlock, an East Jordan resident.

Garlock named the scholarship for his late life Alice Garlock, and stipulated that it should go to a senior who intends to continue study in the field of mathematics in college.

The student must have had four years of math and have the highest grades in the school in that subject, but not necessarily in all subjects.

The superintendent's office confirmed that the scholarship has the highest monetary value of those awarded at the school. The funds are supplied by the interest from bonds held by Garlock.

The Garlocks began coming to East Jordan in 1937, and became year around residents in 1956 at Garlock's retirement.

A second board announcement related to Chapter I, a federal program for improving reading and math skills. Arline Rullman, Chapter I director, said the school has been awarded $27,500 for one year. "We received some additional funds because of a drop in our Michigan Education Assessment Program."

Rullman said to The Press later that she was told the elementary school math scores were something like one-half point below the acceptability cutoff point, so on that evidence of presumed need, the school was given the funding to provide more help for students in grades 5-8, who are not doing well in math.

"We'll do intensive diagnostic testing of any children about whose work there have been questions," she said. The school will hire aides to work under the direction of the math teachers during regular classes. The aides will be dealing with individuals or small groups.

Although the funding will be only for one year, Rullman said there is a guarantee for 40 percent of the amount for next year, even if the scores go above the cutoff line.

The Chapter I program has been in effect at the school prior to this year, but was used chiefly for reading for children from pre-school to grade five who need extra help.

The additional funds will also go to reducing the size of the reading groups. Reading scores have not gone down, said Rullman.

Of the funding, she said, "It's a real boon for our school district." During the meeting, the board also appointed advisors and two substitute bus drivers, Terry Healey and Glen Segraves.

Fourth grade teacher Mary Murray was granted leave of absence, extending from January 1 to the end of the school year.

Planners discuss ordinance updating at easy meeting

Occasionally the Boyne City planning board has a light agenda as they did last Monday night, and they used it after a busy summer to catch up on some of the things that they had been putting off.

The board, after they okayed the final approval of the Brooks-Deitze Apartment site plan, started hearing the committee reports that they have had under consideration for a long time.

The first thing that they heard was a report on the updating of the sign ordinance that included several suggestions to be made into law.

They are thinking about adding language that would allow the city to have more control over abandoned signs, setting up the procedures that they would like to see included in the ordinance so that the city would be able to force the compliance with those who have gone out of business and left signs throughout the town.

They also discussed revising the enforcement section so that the city has a procedure for removal of signs that are not in conformance.

After much discussion about window signs and what could be done with them, the board agreed to set up a committee to meet with the retail merchants board of the Chamber of Commerce to work out any problems that the board would not see, but the merchants could.

"One of the areas we should look at," suggested retiring president of the planning board Kate DeRosier, "is how specific should we be."

The planners also heard an update on the master plan of the city and decided that they would follow a recommendation from the professional planner that they review sections of the plan every year to keep the plan current.

The planners will be trying to go through a section of the master plan at every meeting starting with the next meeting in November.

BC beach application in review period

While Boyne City had formally applied for the permits to build a municipal beach on the end of Maple Street months ago, the permit notices were issued this past week by the Corps and the DNR. The permit was filed with the DNR and the Corps of Engineers months ago according to Randy Frykberg, the City Manager.

The delay in the issuance of the notice was caused by the DNR and the Corps not understanding how the project relates to others in the same area that are being constructed by Lakes Associates in the expansion of the Harborage marina.

One of the concerns of the DNR was the distance the city will be going out into the water with a breakwall. According to Frykberg, this was designed so that the eventual shoreline will line up and correspond with the breakwater that the marina developers are installing. Their permit for the construction of the marina has already been approved.

The City is planning on going out into the lake 380 feet with a breakwall that will be 75 feet wide at the end of the lake. That area will be filled with sand and will work its way back to the existing shoreline getting wider as it goes to the end of Main Street.

A navigational light will be installed at the end of the breakwall for incoming boaters.

With the posting of the notice, the public has about 15 days left in which to file complaints or ask that the Corps and the DNR have a public hearing on the matter. The closing date for comment is October 30.

Frykberg said that he hasn't heard of anyone wanting to do that, as the property is in city ownership already, and the proposed use is an expansion of the existing use.

The area to be filled will contain about 20,000 yards of sand, 200 cubic yards of cobble stone, 1,200 square yards of 200 to 400 lb. cover stone on the breakwall as rip-rap protection.

Also part of the project will be extension of existing storm sewer outlets of Main and Maple Streets out into the lake.

Boyer City buys sand for winter use

Boyer City commissioners approved the C.H. Smith Company bid for ice-control sand and processed road gravel for a total expenditure of $7,440.

The Smith bid came in for $3.64 a cubic yard for sand and $5.95 for the gravel. Three bids were received, the highest going $6 and $7.70.

The city is buying 500 cubic yards of the sand and 1,000 of the gravel. The sand is for winter road safety. The gravel is purchased for filling chuck holes and washouts in winter when hot patches won't hold, said city clerk Tom Garlock.

Also at the Tuesday noon meeting the commissioners received a donation of $150, 10 percent of the returns from the Antique Car Show last August. Club member Pat Kubesh made the presentation. He asked if the city park arrangements could be made available again for the second week of August next year.

The commissioners approved the request, saying the Antique Car Show was good for the city.

Following a federal mandate for grievance procedures for the handicapped, the city commissioners approved procedures assembled by the clerk. Approval was subject to review of the procedures by the city attorney.

Garlock, who was city manager prior to the meeting, said no complaints had come in to city hall, but the procedures were required by the Rehabilitation Act in order that the city continue to receive general revenue sharing funds.

Drapeau, and Todd Nachazel. Coronation will take place at Friday night's game with Mancelona during halftime. The King and Queen will also reign over the dance that follows the game.

Work has started on a new addition to the Control Engineering facility located on M-76 South. They are constructing a 100 x 200 foot addition.

Still expecting a completion date and an opening on Dec. 15, Stafford's One Water Street is a flurry of activity as the contractors and workers are rushing to complete the building on time. According to a Stafford's spokesman, all of the kitchen appliances were ordered this week. Other supplies are coming in to the Inn in Petoskey where they are being stored until the time to bring them to Boyne City.

Roadway Express, Inc., the nation's largest motor freight carrier, has opened a new terminal at 1262 Old Rt. 27 North in Gaylord.

Lynn Kaczor is manager of the facility, which provides daily pickup and delivery service to the communities of Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Gaylord, Grayling, Harbor Springs and Petoskey.

Roadway, based in Akron, Ohio, has 537 terminals in its nationwide distribution network.

12:08. Fix some lunch, but better hurry. Have to be downtown by 1:15 p.m. Get harp music on the radio.

12:09. Begin opening can of anchovies for rare, epicurean sandwich. Key slips off tin tab. Refuses to roll up the cover of the flat can.

12:11. After five tries, hunt for pliers. Discover pliers don't help. Harp music begins "Afternoon of a Faun." Doesn't help, either. Wrong mood.

12:14. Promise the anchovies three more tries with the key. Key continues to slip off despite innovative approaches.

12:16. Resort to can opener, which should have been first choice.

12:17. Next, open cheese package. No tab to pull. Resists being stretched apart. Hunt for scissors...There.

12:18. Another minute now and we'll have the sprouts package open, too.

12:19. Toaster in operation. All systems A-OK.

12:21. Toaster pops, leaving one piece of toast crumpled halfway up, which comes apart readily after attempts to hoist it with two table knives.

12:23. Oh well, how much more like an hors d'oeuvre without the top slice. One bites down on the alfalfa sprouts, scattering them freely, just like at a cocktail party.

I have a neighbor who is a spontaneous inventor of sandwich fillings, all tasting epicureanly. But he depends on leftovers, which means he never opens a tin, package, sack, or carton.

In a state of quiet bemusement he layers on the leftovers, and then, as chefs say, "Voila!"

When last seen he was wandering toward the barn with a peanut butter, cabbage, applesauce sandwich, which he allowed me to test.

"Voila!"

I know people enjoy talking about food. But some don't. I don't because I think of all those hours standing at the sink, peeling, chopping...It's a noble effort if one has a family, but otherwise, I can think of innumerable alternatives, like playing with the cat or weeding or yelling at bluejays.

Indeed, I'm always on the lookout for one-dish meals like popcorn or soup. I even once wrote to the Kellogg cereal company, asking if they would come up with a one-dish dinner as they did with the one-bowl breakfast.

In their reply, although they were very nice, they noted that suggestions had to come from within the company. The fact that I have interalized some 9,400 boxes of their cereals tends, I suppose, to make me more of an outsider than an insider in their company.

Well enough about food. I'll be late downtown because, of all things, talking about food.

Topolinski starts restaurant named after famous legend of seven ladies

One of the first questions a dinner guest has at the new Seven Ladies Family Restaurant in Boyne Falls is where did the name come from, and if so, why is it being run by a man?

The first question is readily answered when you receive the menu which explains that in the olden days, a king was trying to find the best cook in the land to replace his present cook.

After all the preliminary exams, seven ladies were brought before the king to decide which would become the new cook. He had the ladies each prepare a meal for him, one a night.

After the week he still could not make up his mind as the seven ladies each had spectacular meals so he named all seven as cooks.

And that legend is the basis for the restaurant.

The second question is also easy to explain, once you meet the chef who makes up the meals.

Warren Topolinski started cooking his own breakfast when he was four years old, moved over to become a cook at Boyne Mountain when he was fourteen, working under Violet and Louis Manglos.

After a college stint and then teaching for eight years, Topolinski quit the game to go back to another love... cooking.

He then worked full time cooking at the Holiday Inn in Petoskey, at Boyne Mountain, Betty's Restaurant, and lastly at the Bootlegger in Petoskey before striking out and starting the Seven Ladies.

Warren is unique to the business as he believes that everything should be made from scratch. Most restaurants only make the main courses from scratch he says, so he makes his own breads, pastries, pies, and soups.

One of the items that he specializes in making at the restaurant is omelets. "I would have to say that I have only eaten about two out of the thousands I figure I have made over the years, though. The problem is that when I get done making one, someone else wants the same thing so I send it out to have them eat it." He continued that he has never had one come back to the kitchen.

The restaurant serves specials everyday, like soups and lunches, and a different special nightly, but the real special that the restaurant serves has to be what is called the "Earlybird Special." The earlybird is served daily from 4:30 to 5:30 and features a choice of items for only $4.50.

But more than specials keep the customers coming back for meals say many of those who have eaten at the Ladies. "It's the quality of the food," said Topolinski. "That is what I try to prepare and instill in all of my dishes."

That was reflected in the many customers during the early evening.

The restaurant business is more than just a chef though. Topolinski is helped by his wife, Diane, who treats the customers like they are wanted guests.

She did have a complaint about being in the restaurant business though, "We've been so busy, I haven't been able to eat a meal myself in the restaurant."

Being busy is not really the answer as both are putting in 14 hour days trying to make the best meals possible for their customers.

"I might be spending a lot of time here in the kitchen," Topolinski said. "But the pressure isn't there like it was when I was working for someone else. When you work for them, you have to go by their guidelines, not your own. It's much better being the boss rather than being bossed."

The restaurant is open everyday but Monday for breakfast, lunch and dinners.

Adoption series set for group

The Infertility Support Group of Northern Michigan has organized a three-part series on adoption, beginning Wednesday, October 17.

Staff from three Northern Michigan agencies that handle adoptions will present an overview of their services, policies, and procedures, and be available to answer questions.

The Infertility Support

Group is encouraging individuals considering adoption to attend all three programs. According to Patt Graybiel, volunteer coordinator of the group, "There are some important differences among agencies, and couples can make a more intelligent decision about whether to adopt and which agency to use if they know all the alternatives."

"We put this adoption series together to make it easier for couples to become familiar with all the local agencies. If you check them out on your own, it can take a long time because each agency holds orientation meetings only twice a year."

All programs will be held at Cross of Christ Lutheran Church, 1400 E. Mitchell, Petoskey. There is no admission charge, and all interested persons are invited to attend.

THOUGHTS WHILE RAKING LEAVES, LEAVES, LEAVES

One of these days Jack Frost will be sitting upon the pumpkin, the scarecrow will be wearing double-knit polyester and we will have dreams of Florida bouncing around in our heads.

Some people who own condominiums hereabouts now claim that our tax structure is a frightening mess. Ha! Did you ever see a mess of taxes that weren't frightening?

Ronald Reagan says that, while jingling money in their pockets and patting a full stomach, the people will march to the polls and vote Republican. Walter Mondale says that if they do, the President will sooner or later appoint a committee to study fresh ways to syphon additional money from the hands of the working class. And I say that if these two men were not motivated partly by ignorance, much of the excitement would be missing from our lives.

I took my TV set down to have it fixed. The man at the shop said: "There's nothing wrong with your set. That was the presidential debate you were watching last night."

If things continue the way they are, one of these days your taxes will come due even though you might not own anything.

My wife won $63 in the Michigan Lotto contest. My religion was against gambling right up to the moment she won that money.

The papers are saying that there are nearly one million people in Michigan who are "functionally illiterate." That means that they operate their lives on about a fifth grade level.

When I was in the fifth grade I was not yet an adult. So I was not considered an illiterate at that time.

Not being illiterate, I often wrote poems and sayings, leaving them around for people to read. One day my teacher came across a sarcastic poem she somehow thought I'd written about her. That month my folks received my report-card with a note attached: "Your son has an originality that must be curbed at all cost." There was a P.S. It said: "His poorest writing comes when he means to be clever."

All my "formal" education and a lot of the prank things I did with it took place in the big central school at the corner of Park and Main Streets. That's why they tore the building down. They said that never again would poppycock be fostered in "these hallowed halls."

After that I sneaked down an alley and joined the local newspaper. I used the alley because I thought someone at the school might head me off if they knew what I had in mind.

I did not become "functionally illiterate" until years later. It happened when I was a feature writer on the Kalamazoo Gazette. Three city councilmen came into the office. "What's the matter with that guy?" they asked the editor, pointing at me. "Didn't he ever go to school?"

Little did they know that I had gone to school so much they were forced to tear the place down.

Trick or Treat hours set in BC

Boyer City commissioners agreed with police chief John Talboys to set Wednesday night for children's trick or treating. October 31 is the official calendar date for Halloween, and the officials didn't believe that the children would wait for the weekend.

Although authorities across the land have been pushing for daylight hours for trick or treating, Talboys said he didn't think such a big change would go over.

As it is, Daylight Savings Time will be through, and darkness will be setting in an hour earlier.

The hours will be from 5 to 8 p.m.

BY JIM SILBAR

Last Saturday I was told by some wag around town that the news in the County Press was always at least a week to two weeks old when compared to other papers in the area.

In some instances I would have to agree with him.

When local area meetings are held on Tuesday night, it is exactly the wrong time for a weekly publication like ours to be able to cover it, write it, set it into type, paste it in the proper place, and get it over to the printer.

Perhaps a day will come when we could be able to do it, but not now.

Each of those job functions requires a person. First, the reporter who has to sit through the sometimes boring, sometimes exciting, sometimes very involved meetings that the local governing bodies have. Not only do they have to be able to take the comments of those involved, but they have to be able to understand exactly what is going on so that they will be able to write an article and explain it to those who read it.

After the meeting, which can get over as late as midnight, the reporter has to come back to the office, sort through the notes, decide what is important and what is not, and then put all these things in proper order and sit down and write the information so that the reader can understand what happened at the meeting.

It would be nice to have every person in town go to all the school board, city and township meetings, but, they don't and never will.

After writing the article, the reporter then lets the editor read it so that he can clarify any of the areas that need it, and make sure that the article is in the proper journalistic style that his newspaper wants.

Then the story is sent to a typesetter to work her fingers to the bone typing about a thousand words a minute into the machine that sets the type. After that, and after the typeset column is developed and dried, then a proofreader attacks the story looking for mistakes. Yes, sometimes some are missed.

From there, the story is cut up, waxed, and pressed down into the proper place provided that the article is of the right size to fit the area that was planned for it. If it isn't, then someone has to go through the article to cut out even more so that it will fit.

So far, in our case, five people have looked at, worked with, and physically touched the article.

If you can imagine all this taking place in about a three hour period, then you know what chaos is.

In our small operation, we don't have the manpower to do all of that. Most daily newspapers do. But most daily newspapers would rather just let the news services write the stories to fill in the holes between the ads.

Some, put a lot of emphasis on local news coverage and then back that up with very large staffs of workers to do all the work.

Daily newspapers are a whole different breed as they are "geared" up to be able to handle the workload. And they do. If they are a morning newspaper, like the Detroit Free Press, the workers who put the thing together start showing up for work about 4:00 p.m. and then they work into the night to prepare all the things that go into the newspaper. If it is an afternoon newspaper, like the Petoskey News-Review, the workers show up as early as 4:00 a.m. to start putting together that afternoon's newspaper.

And if they are a weekly newspaper like ours, the reporters under the direction of the publisher, know what the costs are in terms of time, and go home to bed so that they can have a fresh start in the morning.

Then they have the time to write an article from what they heard and saw the evening before.

The only problem with that, is that the next newspaper to be published is about a week away, hence, old news.

But the news is not necessarily old, it is a fresh viewpoint on something that happened a few days ago.

It is a viewpoint that no other media will have, and, from the reader's standpoint, still news.

It is hard enough to beat the daily newspaper who can have the resources to do the job in a very short

Recalling wrong person

Editor,

Just received County Press dated Sept. 26 and noted there is a move for recall of two school board members who have mixed emotions about sending their children to Boyne City Public Schools.

I don't think this can be confined to the two school board members because if you notice we have a Supt. Rich Kelly who after 8 years, give or take a year or so, and has training and is in a position to evaluate the Boyne City Schools, finds the Boyne City Schools lacking to send his own children to.

If Boyne City Schools are not good enough for Mr. Kelly's children does this mean no one else can question the System.

I personally think if it is right to question the school members place on the board it is time to question Mr. Kelly's position.

We should have a superintendent who could run a school he would be proud to send his children to.

Maybe we should start a recall petition for a new superintendent.

Proposal C is not what they say

Editor,

There they go again. Wasn't it predictable? Michigan's big government machine using scare tactics, threatening the citizens. Politicians, labor unions, special interest groups, big business, and every bureaucracy that has their hands in the taxpayers' pockets preaching doom and gloom.

They didn't miss a one—police, fire, schools, seniors, businesses closing, higher college tuition, children's education, and the list goes on. And they call this an upbeat, positive campaign. Gee, I hope they never get vicious.

When is the governor and the state government in general going to start treating us like adults instead of adolescents? Start trusting us and our judgement? And, stop insulting our intelligence with these tired, old campaigns and scare tactics? Please, give us the credit we deserve. We're tired of being coned. People of Michigan, it's time to stand up and be counted! Who do we trust—Us or Them? Give the voters a choice and a voice. Vote yes on Voter's Choice—Proposal C.

The last get together of the workers and their families of the former Howe Leather Company was a huge success. A crowd of nearly two hundred enjoyed a buffet dinner of chicken, ham, Swedish meat balls, salads and an assortment of refreshes on Saturday night at the VFW Hall. The dinner was catered by the Country Star Restaurant.

About sixty listed what their jobs were and the number of years they put in on the job, before the tannery closed its doors in November of '69. Out of those attending, Clarence McGeorge was the longest, with forty-three years, followed by Gay Erber with forty-two. The only woman listed was Elsie Fettig of Petoskey who had worked in the office for twenty-five years.

Group pictures were taken with about 55 who were together then, and there was lots of talk of the old tannery days. All enjoyed the music and dancing to the Shades of Blue band.

The evening was provided by the Howe Leather Company Emergency Fund. It was organized by Katherine Spaniak, assisted by Clara Rolls and Thelma Bradley. Jim Bradley and Dave Reidel were in charge of the refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tison went to Marion, MI on Sunday to visit his sisters Eva and Lucille.

Myrtle Schott, accompanied by her son Richard Haviland, spent Thursday in Bay City visiting her brother, George Esterbrook. On the trip home, she visited her sister, Ruth Murthan, in West Branch.

Parnell Lemerand of Wyandotte spent a few days here visiting his cousin Fay and Jean Limron.

Opal and Bob Kataya of Grand Rapids were here over the weekend visiting Frank and Peg Spencer.

Twenty-two attended an awards dinner, hosted by the Boyne City Senior Citizen Center, on Tuesday night at the Depot Restaurant. Honored guests were those who gave their time as volunteers this past year at the Center. Of the Top Ten, the Distinguished Volunteer of the Year was for Leslie Norton for his participation in managing the Farmers' Market. Others were: Mary Kritcher, Margaret Compton, Phyllis Tison, Virginia Nelson, Goldie Harrelson, Harold Yenson, JoAnn Bennett, Beatrice Zarella, and Erma Norton.

The Boyne City Friendship Club enjoyed their annual fall color tour, beautiful, in spite of the overcast sky, on October 8th. The group of 45 took the Petoskey-Harbor Springs route across to Levering and on to Cheboygan, where they had lunch. Special observances were given to Mr. and Mrs. Bill (Inga) Casper and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph (Lois) Brooks, each marking 51 years of wedding anniversaries. Congratulations!

Over 150 attended the Youth for Christ/Campus Life Intercessors brunch at the Holiday Inn on Thursday morning. This month's brunch was in honor of the area pastor's wives. The movie of the month was Living the Life of a Christian.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Davis of Portage spent a few days at their cottage here and visited relatives in the area.

Ann Jenkins hosted a potluck picnic on Thursday night for her Lakeview Village friends, and other friends. Also there were her new renters Jack and Judy Hammtreee of Jackson. On Tuesday night, Ann had a first time experience of flying in a small plane. With Leon Jarema as her pilot, she enjoyed the aerial view of all the fall color around her home.

Lester and Zola Hardy spent last weekend in Harrison visiting their son Harold and Judy Hardy and family. The elder Hardys will soon be leaving for Florida for the winter.

A group of 41 of the New Horizon Travel Club spent Thursday combining a color tour and a tour of the Walter Reuther Educational Center in Black Lake. They enjoyed observing classrooms, the art center, historical museum and lunching in the large cafeteria there.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Yahr of Lincoln Park were here over the weekend visiting their daughter Sandra Newville.

Colin Morrison of East Detroit is here visiting his cousin Margaret and Clifford Frantz.

Bert Jones, former owner of Roberts Restaurant, was killed in a car accident this last week, near Brutus.

Constance Fraley is leaving the area this week to spend the winter in Louisiana.

The Free Methodist Church monthly pot luck fellowship dinner was well-attended on Tuesday night. They also enjoyed the movie 'It's Friday, but Sunday's Coming.'

The 9th District Convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union (WCTU) was held at the Methodist Church in Pickford, MI, with 75 attending. Those there from Boyne City were Lillian Cikaló, Pauline Laisure, Eula Pritchard, Margaret Frantz, and Lelia Voelker.

Ruth VanHoesen of Rogers City, and Delcie Phillips returned this week after touring England, Scotland, and Wales. High points of their trip included a cruise on Loch Lomond, a visit to Westminster Abbey, the Roman Baths, Oxford University, the Cotswolds, and Stonehenge in Wiltshire. Enroute home they stopped in Dearborn to visit friends and enjoyed a dinner party at the Dearborn Inn.

The Boyne City Senior Citizens Center had a busy week. They served 250 meals in the Center, with another 76 meals on wheels going to the shut-ins. The Senior ID card day had to be cancelled, due to camera difficulties. A new date will be announced for doing SIDs.

Craft classes are on Mondays. On Thursdays from 10 to 12 there will be Health and First Aid classes. These are all continuing education classes and anyone wishing to participate is welcome.

On Tuesday, the seniors held a birthday party for those having birthdays in October. Winners in bingo were, regulars, Virginia Blouffe, Manning Sayles, and Ione Ploughman. Special winners were Manning Sayles and Elmer Crandall. Cover all went to Jennie Jodway and Elmer Crandall.

The senior citizen halloween party will be Saturday, October 27 at the center.

WEEKLY MEETING, SEPTEMBER 18, 1984, 11:30 a.m.: Present: Mayor Pro-Tem Behling, Commissioners Loding, Moody and Grimm. Absent: Mayor Fitzpatrick. There were 8 people in attendance at the meeting.

Commissioner comments consisted of inquiries on collection of summer taxes and problems with parking on S. East Street.

The City Manager reported that the bids for the drilling of a new 12 inch well and related construction work, came to $50,000.00 over the estimated costs. He recommended that only the well bid be awarded at this time and the other phases be bid out under another contract, in order to get the first phase in motion before inclement weather.

It was resolved that the bid of $64,600.00 to drill a 12 inch production well in South Boyne be awarded to Layne Northern and that phase 2 of the project be re-bid, with all local contractors and sub contractors invited to participate in the bidding process. The Resolution passed. The meeting was adjourned at 12:18 p.m.

WEEKLY MEETING, SEPTEMBER 25, 1984, 11:30 a.m.: Present: Mayor Fitzpatrick, Commissioners Moody, Grimm and Behling. Absent: Commissioner Loding. There were 7 people in attendance at the meeting.

The City Commission awarded the bid to demolish the old airport hangars to William Brooks and Frank Shaler. They will pay the City the amount of $157.57 for doing the work. They have until December 1, 1984 to finish the demolition.

The City Manager gave an outline of the request of the Parks and Recreation Board to install a sprinkler system at Rotary Park this fall with volunteer labor. Besides installing the sprinkler system, Field B will also be disced up and applications of dolomite and fertilizer will be worked into the soil. The Commission approved of the work to be scheduled to be done. The meeting adjourned at 12:18 p.m.

WEEKLY MEETING, OCTOBER 3, 1984, 11:30 p.m.: Present: Mayor Fitzpatrick, Commissioners Loding, Grimm, Behling and Moody. There were 5 people in attendance at the meeting.

Commissioner Grimm reported he had received some complaints about the work being done by Michigan Bell by the Boyne City Co-op and that he was concerned the mess wouldn't be cleaned up before winter sets in. The City Manager stated he would keep in contact with Michigan Bell to get the work done and the area cleaned up before winter.

Authorization was given to the City Manager to sign an agreement with the Charlevoix County Road Commission for the City's share in paving a portion of Anderson Road in the amount of $9,635.03 as the City's share. Work to be completed by July 1, 1985.

The City Manager reported that some work is being accomplished at Rotary Park, but lack of volunteer labor has made it very difficult to complete the job, since the City crews are obligated to do many other projects in the City before winter comes. He also indicated that there is a possibility that the DNR may install monitoring wells at the City's landfill at State expense; announced that the Corps of Engineers are now printing the Public Hearing notices on the Peninsula Beach construction project and the date of the hearing will be announced soon; and announced that the new Air Terminal Building at the Airport is now under construction. Meeting adjourned at 12:00 noon.

WEEKLY MEETING, OCTOBER 9, 1984 at 11:30 a.m.: Present: Mayor Fitzpatrick, Commissioners Behling, Loding and Grimm. Absent: Commissioner Moody. There were 4 people in attendance at the meeting.

Commissioner comments covered missing parts of the downtown street lights; property owners should be responsible for finding their property lines before zoning permits will be issued; and a complaint was received from a city resident who was not notified of a pending Public Hearing concerning the Conditional Use Permit at the Harborage Marina.

The City Manager reported that an oil slick that was reported at the City Marina was merely a growth of algae; gave a progress report on Rotary Park. Work was still being delayed due to a lack of volunteer labor, but the underground sprinkling system should be installed before winter; announced that land-fill tipping fees may have to be raised in the near future.

A bid in the amount of $3,972.00 for the purchase of a new truck dump box and hydraulics was awarded to Hyde Equipment company of Petoskey.

Ramifications of State Proposal "C" were discussed and how it would adversely affect the City of Boyne City. The meeting adjourned at 11:54 a.m.

REGULAR MEETING, OCTOBER 9, 1984 at 7:00 p.m.: Present Mayor Fitzpatrick, Commissioners Loding, Behling and Grimm. Absent: Commissioner Moody. There were 3 people in attendance at the meeting.

The Second Reading of Amendment #5-84 to Zoning Ordinance A-28 and a Public Hearing was held to re-zone 20 acres of property owned by Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Behling, from R-1 to Planned Residential Development, on Property Tax Code #1551-403-003-00. It was resolved to authorize the Final

Troop 49 holds Court of Honor

Two scouts earning the rank of Star was the highlight of the recently held Court of Honor for Troop 49 of Boyne City. Other scouts earned the ranks of First Class as well as merit badges and one scout was initiated into the troop.

Most of the awards resulted from the summer camp that the scouts attended this past summer.

Earning the Star award, the third highest ranking in scouting, were Troy Bishop and Steve Ketchman. The First Class award was won by Nathan Clark and Keith Harvey.

Boys earning merit badges included Richard Boone, fishing and woodcarving; Nathan Clark, camping, first aid and swimming; Keith Harvey, camping, emergency preparedness, first aid and swimming; Steve Ketchman, camping, emergency preparedness, swimming; Brian Ledahl, camping, emergency preparedness, rifle and shotgun shooting; and Todd Urman, fishing and woodcarving.

Other awards were given out at the ceremony that was held after a family night and hot dog boil, included the formal induction of Jacob Clark into boy scouting.

Order of the Arrow sashes were given to Keith Harvey, Brian Ledahl and scoutmaster, Jim Ledahl.

A special troop "Most Improved Scout of the Year" award was given to Richard Boone.

With every scout receiving awards, the scoutmaster was heard to say, although the troop was small when compared to several other troops, the scouts in Troop 49 more than make up in quality what they lack in numbers.

All of the scouts left the meeting making plans for the awards they want to receive at the next Court of Honor.

Boyne JV team loses to Onaway

BY JERRY FROATS
Boyne City's JV football team lost to Onaway Thursday night as the Ramblers played to a 12-6 Cardinal halftime lead and the second half got away from them completely for a final score of 38-6.

Onaway used a power style full house backfield very effectively as Boyne City experienced difficulty picking up the third running back coming through the line.

The first period went scoreless as the Ramblers got good defensive plays from Aaron Richards, Ray Eggers, Todd Eggers, Tom Lasater, Scott Beebe, and Troy Heiermann.

In the second quarter, Onaway took the ball from their own 47 yard line to Rambler 9 yard line before putting it over on an off tackle play to the right side to lead 6-0. Boyne City took the kick-off from their own 37 yard line but were intercepted three plays later to set Onaway up at the Rambler 28 yard line. Using the full house backfield, the Cardinals ran four plays for a first down at the Rambler 3 yard line and carried it into the endzone for a 12-0 lead with 4:50 showing on the clock.

On third down and 19 yards to go, quarterback Paul McGeorge hit Ray Eggers for a 12 yard pass play that set up a 38 yard reverse for Todd Fanning. With a first down at the Onaway 10 yard line, McGeorge ran the ball twice before breaking through for a Rambler touchdown with 1:23 remaining in the half. Onaway tried to get the long pass to go for them, but Lasater and Todd Eggers held them down to end the half with Boyne City trailing 12-6.

Onaway had no trouble getting four more touchdowns in the second half, as they marched along at seven or eight yards per carry and got a long pass reception for 37 yards.

The Ramblers

totalled 235 yards rushing as Fanning lead it with 120 yards gained. Heiermann rushed for 45 yards, McGeorge totaled 32 yards in his QB debut, Brandon Billings ran for 13 yards, and Beebe, Ray Eggers and Feagan earned 10, 8, and 7 yards respectively.

On defense, Lasa ter got 17 tackles to his credit, Heiermann 15, Todd Eggers 13, Norm Hadix 11, R. Eggers 9, while Fanning and McGeorge got 7 tackles apiece.

Red Devils JV's add to win streak

BY JERRY FROATS
The East Jordan Junior Red Devils are rolling along with a four game winning streak as they put the Harbor Springs Rams down in a 38-6 demonstration of outspeeding your opponents.

In the first quarter East Jordan blanked the Rams as Darren Graham got a 15 yard touchdown run, Steve Dionne ran one in from the eight yard line, and Don Reich scored from the nine yard line. Quarterback Gregg Kitson ran in an extra point to put the Red Devils on top 20-0.

East Jordan pushed the Rams into a safety and James Bartlett ran the kick back 55 yards to make a 26-0 score. Kitson found Reich in the endzone for the extra points passing.

Harbor Springs

found the endzone early in the fourth quarter on a 30 yard touchdown run, but the Devils found strength in their second team as Doug Bennett got a touchdown from three yards out. Another safety was added to the score to account for the 38 Devil points.

Graham totaled 56 yards on five carries, Dionne had 25 yards on five assignments and Bartlett ran 25 yards on three carries.

Devensively, Terry Burt had seven unassisted tackles for four others to lead in the tackling department. Bennett took 4 tackles alone and assisted on two others, as Kim McKinnon, Dionne, Bartlett, and Shannon Ostrom totaled five tackles each.

Ron Peters takes 2nd place at first pro match

Hats off to Don Erving of Traverse City. This forty-six year old grandfather really put on a bowling clinic. He won all of his match games moving from tenth position to first.

Don bowled match games of 173-255-234-235-216-234-256. Don defeated Ron Peters of Boyne City in the championship match 256-162. Ron did a terrific job in leading the tournament with a 1368 qualifying round. He had games of 204-254 191-267-221-231 a 228 average.

Don Kleinschrod bowling in his first ever MHLNMC put on quite a show almost getting a 300 game. He had the first 10 strikes in game six.

Don was the second high qualifier besides having high game for the tournament.

Dr. George Williams of Gaylord also did a fine job in the match game portion of the tournament moving from eighth position to fourth.

HIGH GAME AWARDS

Game 1 - Ron Grunch, 246; Steve Hamlin, 242; game 2 - Ron Peters, 254; Ron Krzyanowski, 237; game 3 - Dennis Bannish, 267; George Wheelock, 263.

Game 4 - Ron Peters, 267; George Williams, 264; game 5 Dave Leroue, 258, Mike Schlimme, 245; game 6, Don Kleinschrod, 286, Mark Ivencek, 247.

DOUBLE JUMPING

is a rule that at least 50 percent of the membership does not understand. The easiest way to explain this rule is that the bowlers on a pair do not throw a ball until a shot is thrown on the adjoining pair of either side. This means if you are on 5&6 then 3&4 and 7&8 must deliver a shot before you do. This rule is strictly enforced in PBA tournaments, also the Michigan Majors and other major singles' tournaments.

The next tournament will be held at Caberfae Lanes at Cadillac on Saturday, Nov. 3. There will be one squad at 11 a.m.; paddock and roll call will be at 10:30 a.m. Please be on time. Please get your entries in on time.

Volunteers are still being accepted to be directors to govern and manage the tournaments.

Lady Loggers take close one over Alba Wildcats

The Lady Loggers of Boyne Falls are establishing themselves as bitter rivals of the Alba Wildcats as they took a 40-39 decision at Alba. Earlier in the season, the Loggers deprived the Wildcats from a first place trophy in the Wildcat Tip-Off Tournament. The win moves the Loggers into first place in the Northern Lakes Conference as Ellsworth slipped behind to second place.

The rivalry caused the Wildcats to commit 26 fouls and the Loggers capitalized by hitting 12 of 28 free throws, six of them in the first period where the score was tied at 6-6. Each team scored six points in the second quarter for a 12-12 score at intermission.

Alba hit seven field goals in the third period to take a 24-21 lead into the final quarter. Kim McNew, who had been held to just two points in three quarters, came through for the Loggers with 10 points in period four as her team outscored the Wildcats 19-13 for the win.

Kris Bell led the Loggers in scoring with 15 points and 16 rebounds. Monique Churchill canned 9 points while hauling down 17 rebounds. McNew totaled 12 points and Mary Murray hit 4 points. Dianne Massey got 8 rebounds and Collette Sparks took down 6 rebounds for Boyne Falls.

Teenagers to get message that it is ok to say 'no'

Young teenagers in Northern Michigan will soon be getting a message that will come as a relief to many of them, thanks to a special grant from the Michigan Department of Social Services (DSS). The message: It's their absolute right to say "No" to teenage sex, no matter what they are told by their peers and the mass media.

Teens will get that message through an educational program entitled "How To Say No," to be offered to schools, churches and youth groups during the next 12 months. Northern Michigan Planned Parenthood has been selected by DSS to present the program, which will be offered free of charge throughout Northern Michigan. DSS has also awarded grants for the "Saying No" program to agencies in Ionia and Benton Harbor, Michigan.

The "How To Say No" series was developed by staff of the Emory University Medical School and the Grady Memorial Hospital Teen Services Program in Atlanta. The program has been used successfully for the past two years in Atlanta and Cleveland schools, churches, and youth groups. The series is designed to help 12-14 year olds understand and cope with peer and social pressures to become sexually active at an early age. Students participating in the program will use role-playing to practice being assertive in common pressure situations.

Scott Blanchard of Petoskey has been named Project Coordinator for the "How To Say No" Project. Blanchard moved to Petoskey in May 1984 from Copalis, Washington, where he served as a Children's Court Officer and law clerk in the tribal court located on the Quinault Indian Reservation. He earned a law degree from the University of Oregon, and holds a bachelor's degree in journalism and mass communication from Iowa State University. Prior to that, he completed training as a Preventive Medicine Specialist at Baylor University in Waco, Texas. He has taught community health seminars in Texas, Hawaii, and New Zealand.

330 Houses for sale

Blanchard explained that everything in the "How To Say No" series is designed to reinforce one value. "The program is based on the belief that teens should not be having sex," he said. "They're generally confused about sex, and unprepared for the physical and emotional consequences." Specially-trained Peer Educators will help Blanchard present the four-part program. The use of older youths to help present the program has been one key to its success elsewhere. "Young people are simply more willing to accept what they're told by their peers," Blanchard said. Blanchard hopes parents, too, will become involved in the program by attending special workshops designed to help them understand the pressures their children face and to help them reinforce their child's decision to say no to teenage sex. The workshops for parents will be conducted by Blanchard as part of the "How To Say No" Project.

According to Linda Lumley, Executive Director of Northern Michigan Planned Parenthood, there is good reason to believe the program's message will be well-received by young people. Despite the fact that about half of all teens are sexually active by age 16, recent studies show that many teen get involved with sex before they really want to. Teens say they felt they "had to," and give such reasons as "to be popular" or "to keep a boyfriend," Lumley said.

"What they're saying is they don't feel they have the right to say No, and they don't know how to," she said. "There is more to this program than simply teaching young people how to say No to teenage sex," added Blanchard. "The same skills can be used, for example, where teens are pressured by alcohol or drugs."

Lumley pointed out that teenage pregnancy is just as serious a problem in Northern Michigan as it is nationally. For example, in 1983 there were 122 pregnancies among teenage girls in Emmet and Charlevoix counties alone. That figure translates to one out of every 16 teenage girls in this area.

"And this is happening every year," Lumley stressed, "often with tragic consequences." Teenage mothers, for example, run a much higher risk of serious pregnancy complications, and are far more likely to give birth to children with birth defects.

"The 'How To Say No' Project is an important step towards preventing such tragedies," Lumley said. Albion College students have a unique opportunity to combine a liberal arts education with concentrated study of economics and management through the Liberal Arts Program in Professional Management (Pro-Man).

Redman attending Albion

As a supplement to the regular curriculum, the students in the program are able to meet leading corporation executives who visit the campus to speak or hold seminars on business topics. One of the most valuable aspects of the program is the internship. All students in professional management must complete at least two internships during their four years at Albion. Benjamin Redman, a freshman, is enrolled in Professional Management. He is from Boyne City and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Redman of Pleasant Valley Rd. and a 1984 graduate of Boyne City High School.

The lake trout and steelhead were biting regularly last week at the mouth of the Boyne River. This is one of many taken on Friday afternoon by Kim Hawver. Hawver was fishing with cut skien spawn and it paid off handsomely as he already had two lakers and a steelhead on the stringer.

Meeting set for salmon devotees

A meeting of the Little Traverse Bay Chapter of the Selmon Association has been scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 18, 7:00 p.m. at the Bear Creek Township Hall in Petoskey for all those interested in the salmon problem. The meeting should be of interest to those who feel they are being denied the economic dollars that the salmon fishermen would be bringing into the community.

Boyne trounced by Onaway, 30-8

BY JERRY FROATS

The Boyne City Ramblers fell victim to the Onaway Cardinals' homecoming celebration Friday night, but the Cardinal win was not cheap as they suffered some injuries from the vengeful tackling that the Ramblers threw on them. Boyne did experience some trouble in the tackling department though, as many plays were stopped at line of scrimmage and the Cardinal ball-carriers scampered loose for more yardage in the 30-8 game.

Onaway elected to receive the opening kick-off and the squib kick went by the receiver and was downed on the Cardinal 39 yard line. From there, Onaway played a running game that earned them four first downs as they marched downfield to the Rambler 21 yard line. It looked as though Boyne City might repeat the scoring threat as Norm Howard broke up a play four yards into the Cardinal backfield and Todd Fall knocked down an attempted touchdown pass on third down, but with fourth and 13 to go the Cardinals hauled down a pass on the Rambler one yard line. The next play went through the middle of the line and the first TD was scored. The conversion run crossed the line and with 5:00 remaining in the first period, Onaway led 8-0.

Boyne City took the ensuing kick-off on their own 21 yard line and advanced to the 49 yard line where they punted with time running short in the quarter. The punt carried well and Onaway held possession at the 19 yard line. The Cardinals first play was fumbled and Steve Sutton recovered to give the Ramblers an excellent opportunity for a score.

After the change of quarters, Boyne City was facing a do or die situation with a first and goal from the 10 yard line with no room to spare.

Steve Rickard, Dave Wandrie, and Fall ground it out to the 2-inch mark when quarterback Chris Howard punched it over the line to tighten the score. The conversion pass went from Dave Milks to Tony Napont to tie the game at eight all.

The Ramblers tried an onsides kick, but it missed the front line and went to the Cardinal 29 yard line. With the defense holding well, a Rambler was caught with his hand in a facemask which set Onaway up with a first and 10 at the Rambler 35 yard line.

The Cardinals went to the air, but were met with stiff coverage as Milks and JV recruit Pat Weeks foiled the passes.

On the ground it was a different story as Onaway ran four plays for 20 yards to the Rambler 16 yard line, before they broke one loose for a tie breaking TD. The Cardinals ran in the conversion to lead 16-8 with 7:24 showing on the clock.

Boyne City took the kick-off on their own 30 yard line, but fumbled it away to the Cardinals on the Rambler 47 yard line.

After an exchange of punts, Onaway held possession at their own 48 yard line and threw a 52 yard touchdown pass, making the score 22-8 to which a conversion was added for a 24-8 score.

The Ramblers took the kick-off on their own 9 yard line and went to the air with time running out and connected Chris Howard to Rickard for nine yards. Craig Napont carried the ball to the 20 yard line for a first down but two unsuccessful passes made the Ramblers punt on third down with just under two minutes remaining in the half. The Boyne City defense held as Ramie Leist broke up a pass and Brian Hosmer got a fourth down sack to give the Ramblers the ball, but the time factor was too short to engineer a substantial drive and the half ended.

The second half tightened up considerably on both sides of the field as Boyne City could not advance any further than the Onaway 41 yard line and the Ramblers held the Cardinals to their own field. The Cardinals finally broke midfield late in the fourth period and used a lot of time on a 68 yard drive that was capped with a 12 yard run to the Rambler goal, making the score 30-8. The Ramblers were hampered with penalties throughout the fourth quarter and it held true to the end as Boyne City was backed up repeatedly by the referees.

East Jordan climbs all over league leader, 15-6

BY STEVE GEE

After losing a close one at Pellston last Friday night, the East Jordan Red Devils made the first place Harbor Springs Rams look like endangered species. The Devils beat the Rams 15-6, on a perfect evening for football, upping their record to three wins and three losses.

The opening quarter ended up scoreless with each team playing an aggressive defense. East Jordan had an impressive drive falter when they fumbled at Harbor Springs ten-yard-line late in the first stanza.

On the first play of the second quarter, Dave Russell intercepted a Ram pass at Harbor Springs 25-yard line; but on fourth down, the Devils failed to convert. Harbor Springs took over at their own 18-yard line and on fourth down, Jim Roberts ripped through the line and blocked the punt, carrying it to the Ram's 15-yard line.

After a seven-yard loss, the Devil's Junior quarterback, Bill Lytle, connected with Mike Goebel on a 22-yard touchdown pass. Dave Russell booted the extra point through, giving the Devils a 7-0 lead.

Turnovers kept both teams from scoring the second quarter. And at the half, the Devils held a slim 7-0 lead.

The two teams traded fumbles in the third quarter. Scot Hart recovered a Ram fumble and a few plays later the Devils gave it back with a fumble of their own. This gave Harbor Springs an excellent scoring chance, and they were not about to blow this one. After running the ball effectively six times, they caught the Devil defense off guard and completed a 31-yard pass to the one-yard line. The Rams scored on a one-yard run the very next play. The extra point attempt failed.

Going into the final quarter the score stood at 7-6 in favor of the Red Devils. East Jordan's defense stopped the Rams again when, on third down and five, an East Jordan sack put the Rams on their own three-yard line on fourth down. The punt snap sailed out of the endzone which gave the Devils a safety and put them up, 9-6.

East Jordan scored the final points on a one-yard "quarterback sneak" by Bill Lytle. The touchdown was set up by a 38-yard run from Aaron Spence. The score stood the rest of the game, making the final 15-6, in favor of East Jordan.

The Devils stuck mainly to the ground this week. Quarterback Bill Lytle, who passed 16 times last week, completed one of five passes for 22 yards, with a touchdown and an interception.

The Devils gained 214 yards rushing on 41 attempts. The leading rusher was Ted Snowden who gained 87 yards. Aaron Spence rushed for 85 yards, while Pete Zoulek added 23 yards on the ground.

The Devils defense was strong this week racking up five quarterback sacks. Jim Roberts lead the defense with 11 tackles including a sack and a blocked punt. Scot Hart totaled eight tackles with one sack and a fumble recovery. R.C. Smith had five tackles including two sacks and a fumble recovery, and Leon Carey and Bill Kraemer each added four tackles.

East Jordan plays host against the Mancelona Ironmen next Friday evening, which is also the Devils' Homecoming game.

Noiro on Alma field hockey team

Teresa Noiro, a 1981 graduate of Charlevoix High School, is helping the Alma College Scots defend the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association (MIAA) championship field hockey that she helped win in 1983. A three-time letter winner, Noiro plays link/defense for the Scots. She also is one of the team's four captains.

After five MIAA matches, Alma is undefeated with a 4-0-1 record.
