Splitting well project bids saves Boyne $31,782

The new well project in Boyne City will cost $31,782.61 less, thanks to rebidding in separate packages. The new bid is $58,885.39, offered by C.H. Smith Co., Inc., of Charlevoix.

Last month, said city manager Randy Frykberg, these components, when they were included in the over-all proposals for a new well, had come to $90,668. At the time Frykberg said the error was in not asking various specialists involved to bid their own work.

The new bid request drew two respondents. In addition to the Smith Company bid, one came in for $83,004.11 by La Fave Construction, Inc. of Caro, MI.

The contract is for "Water System Improvements, Phase II (wellhouse, water mains, controls, landscaping, and electrical connections)," said Frykberg.

"The project is a component of the One Water Street Project and is covered by the Small Cities Community Block Grant," he said.

At their Tuesday noon meeting, the city commission also approved a two-page resolution concerning investment of city surplus funds. Based on wording in the related Public Act 217, the resolution puts into written form the oral policy of the city administration which has been passed from one administration to the next.

The policy limits investments to those in institutions doing business in Michigan.

City commissioners voted to come out against Proposal C, slated for the November general election. In their motion, the commissioners stipulated the damage it would do to city finances unless by special elections voters chose to pick up certain taxes again.

Without these special elections, Frykberg said, Proposal C would cause the city to lose $44,000 during the rest of this fiscal year, and $151,500 in 1985-'86.

In other matters, Frykberg reported sanitary landfill will go on its winter schedule, starting November 1. This means that the landfill will be closed on Wednesdays.

Rotary Park refurbishing is almost complete, said Frykberg. The rear field needs the ball players to do their raking in preparation for mulching by the city. Frykberg noted that the mulching equipment is soon due to be put up for the winter.

After local citizen files complaint

State to review Baptist school questions

"Everything is in place except the certified teacher," said Pat Taylor, speaking of the Boyne City Baptist Church school. Taylor is deputy superintendent at Charlevoix Intermediate School District.

In the past few weeks the school has been the focus of concern in the Boyne City school district, following a complaint by resident Ruth Jackson.

Jackson's concern was that existence of the school "sets education back 50 years." She said she believes that children should have experience in their outside world. "If you have faith in yourself as a parent, then you can trust your children to say no."

It was Jackson who publicized the fact that the 13 children were being taught by uncertified teachers, and this question is still in the process of being resolved.

Taylor said, "We want to take all the information to the state department of education and sit down and talk with them and ask their direction at this point."

Although the teachers are not state-certified, Rev. Delbert Nixon, pastor of the Baptist Church, said they are trained in the Accelerated Christian Education program and teach from curriculum materials supplied to 135 other similar schools.

These materials are now being reviewed by the Boyne City public school system, Superintendent Rich Kelly said he had no conclusions to offer at this time. "I'm working on the problem with the Intermediate School District and the state department of education," he said.

Both Jackson and Nixon referred to two lawsuits regarding small church supported private schools in other parts of Michigan. They both believe those suits could have an effect on the local question.

Meantime, Taylor noted, "There is nothing unique in this once they get a certified teacher. There are many church schools operating in Michigan."

It is the Intermediate School District that decides first whether to proceed with the Jackson's complaint, according to Rev. Nixon. If they decide there is a case, it would go to the county prosecuting attorney.

Jackson's concern also included whether or not the children were truants from the public school. Nixon explained that with the exception of one or two that had been in public school for two or three years, the students had always been enrolled in Christian academies, and therefore could not be called truant.

As a matter of interest, Nixon continued, "these 13 students save the taxpayers $35,000 a year."

Another concern noted by Jackson was that early in September when the school started up in the church building, it had not been approved for school health and fire safety.

These measures have been taken, however. A few minor corrections remain for entire health code approval.

"We don't have any intention of being a big school," said Nixon. It is primarily for our church members."

He said they will be in a position to cover kindergarten through twelfth grade. School days are planned for 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. with one-half hour for lunch. The students will have the full school year, said Nixon, suggesting that the private school students are treated to the same educational opportunities that the public school students have.

With the opening of the moat around the 1 Water St. restaurant, the big question amongst local wags is which way the water will flow through the moat. The restaurant still plans an open house sometime in December for Boyne City residents to see the new building. More on that as soon as plans are finalized.

County Planners start looking for lake advisory group

During the month of November, the Charlevoix County Planning Commission will be looking over names presented to them for a 15-member study committee the commission hopes will be able to start working on a Lake Charlevoix management plan.

The committee will be named in December and will include 15 members. Each township and governing body bordering the lake have been asked to submit names for the advisory group.

The other five members of the group will be chosen from the Lake Charlevoix Association, a representative of the developers and contractors, an environmentalist, and two members from the county at large.

Larry Sullivan, county planner, said that the appointments would be made yet this year so that the advisory panel can start work early in January.

One of the first things that the group is going to have to do, is set up the objectives, goals, and criteria that they will use in developing a lake management plan. Levensgood stated that the county planners that the committee will have to look at areas such as, marina development, pump-out facilities, boat launches and recreational site uses, green belt preservation, sensitive lands, unbuildable properties, sport fishing, commercial usages, zoning, lake traffic problems and many other areas that will be of concern to the citizens of the county.

Levensgood told the planners that the group was only an advisory committee and that its findings will come to the planners as recommendations only. The planners will have the final say on what the ultimate management plan would have in it.

Planner Dennis Jason wondered about the process that the governing bodies may use, suggesting that the group could be filled with environmentalists, or that it could be all developers with no concerns about the area. He warned that special interest groups could present an imbalance to the committee.

After a motion by Levensgood was approved, the planners asked that the townships and cities concerned submit more than one name so that the planners would be able to determine the members of the advisory group.

Howard Neilson, president of WATCH, Inc., told the planners that he was working with a private foundation to secure a substantial grant to help fund the efforts of the group to develop a lake management plan.

So far, the county has earmarked $12,500 for the planning effort.

An application has also been made with the Coastal Zone Management program to secure federal matching funds.

Car-deer accidents at peak season

Few people around the county would like to pay out more than $8,000 to bag their deer, but that is what it is likely to cost if you hit a deer while driving around the county.

According to the sheriff's office, the county is averaging two deer-car accidents a day. The reason is that the deer are traveling around, bucks are looking for available does to mate.

Deer-vehicle accidents in the state last year hit a record high with 21,509 accidents reported, the Michigan Department of Transportation said.

The accidents cost a total of $37.1 million, including $24.7 million in property damage, averaging out to $8,600 per accident. The record also included two fatalities and 1,141 injuries. In 1982, there were 19,614 accidents, including one fatality and 1,049 injuries.

The sheriff's office also suggests that you slow down when driving at night and drive defensively.

The bulk of the car-deer accidents occur in October, November, and December. Deer tend to be more active during the hours just before sunrise and sunset.

HALLOWEEN

When we oldsters reminisce about Halloween, we are so very thankful for the age in which we are now living. We recall that there was a time when pranks were played, property was destroyed, and helpless people were frightened, as well as windows soaped with wax. Now, it is a happy time for especially the young and the young at heart. A time when pumpkins and children's faces reflect an inner radiant light. It is one night in the year when even the "littles" one can get out and have fun even if Mother and Dad have to go along.

I am of the belief that it is a good idea to feed the youngsters before they venture out and eat too many of those sweets. They are not going to be interested in food while getting into those outlandish costumes; however a bowl of cream soup will go down easy and they just might eat one-half of a sandwich. They will not know that they are getting extra protein in this soup which is just what they will need.

TOMATO PEANUT-BUTTER SOUP
1 can condensed tomato soup
1 can milk
4 tablespoons creamy peanut butter
Just mix and heat. Do not boil.
Grilled cheese sandwiches go good with this soup.

I do not know why the children should have all the fun on Halloween night. Why not plan a little party for adults after the monsters have returned home with their bags full of goodies and are safely and reluctantly put to bed. The history books I read convince me that our forebears really had lots of fun; neighbors got together to sing, dance and eat. They loved cakes of all kinds and of course cider - sweet as well as hard.

Here are a few suggestions for a delicious late evening buffet. Serve this easy pate with crackers and a tray of raw vegetables with a dip from the deli. They are very good.

Cider and doughnuts are expected along with pieces of cheese.

EASY PATE

½ pound liverwurst
2 tablespoons butter, softened
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon thinly sliced green onion
2 slices bacon, cooked and crumbled
1 3 oz. package cream cheese, softened

Blend first 5 ingredients together. Turn out onto wax paper, form into a 3 x 5 inch rectangle. Chill for ½ hour. Spread top and sides with the cream cheese. Chill for ½ hour or longer.

I find that this is very good made the day before. Serves 6.

For an extra special treat that Grandpa and Grandma would have loved you might make Susie Smith's pineapple cake. Anything that Susie suggests, I am ready to make as she is a terrific cook as all of her many friends will agree.

Do not hesitate to make this cake because it does not have either shortening or baking powder in it. I found it to be rich, moist and very delicious.

SUSIE'S PINEAPPLE CAKE

2 cups flour
2 cups sugar
2 eggs
2 teaspoons soda
1 large can crushed pineapple (with juice)

Mix above ingredients and bake in a 9 x 13 pan at 375 degrees 35 to 40 minutes.

Topping:
½ cup evaporated milk (small can)
1 stick oleo
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sugar
1 cup coconut
1 cup nuts

Cook milk, oleo, vanilla and sugar for 3 minutes. Add the coconut and nuts. Spread over hot cake.

Shouldn't the wronged have rights?

Suppose your luck runs out — and you become the victim of a serious crime. What then? Chances are you'll be called as a witness. But once you've testified, the court is likely to treat you and your concerns as irrelevant. You won't be told what's happening in the case, or be allowed to protest delays in trial. You won't be heard on the subject of sentencing. Or get any restitution for the losses and injuries you've suffered. Treating victims this way doesn't seem to be a concern to some people. To them it's just business as usual. But to Dick Pajtas, it's a crime in itself. How important should victims' rights be to you? Well, that depends. Just how good is your luck?

MAN FROM OUTER SPACE TELLS FOLKS HOW TO VOTE

Me: Do you know what next Tuesday is? It's "M-Day" in Boyne City. "M" is for Museum. And on "M-Day" you are supposed to go to the polls and vote YES on the proposal to place one measley mill on property tax assessments to raise funds for the city's much needed Historical Museum.

Vote YES, I say!

He: How dare you mouth such advice when you don't live within the legal limits of our tight little incorporated circle? How dare you, a foreigner, a Wilson Township alien, tell us blue bloods how to cast our vote? Outer space people are not recognized in Boyne City on election day.

Me: That's two "how dare you's" and I must meet them face to mouth. I am an unofficial member of the city's Historical Commission. I have helped fuss with this thing for a long time. We need a Historical Museum. So much so I, along with others who do not bed down on Boyne City's legal sod, have dug down and forked over some of the hard earned to help construct the Museum.

He: Are you telling me that you actually dumped the jingling and folding into the project?

Me: All legal tender, yes.

He: Well now, that's a whole different pan of beans. Tell us again what we are supposed to do on election day.

Me: Go to the city hall, step into the voting booth and praise the Lord with a well meant honest vote in favor of Boyne City's Historical Museum.

He: I'll do just that, oh wonderful alien from Wilson Township. By the way, do you mind if I vote for president of the United States as long as I am in the booth anyway?

Me: Not at all. But remember, first things first.

OF, IF I COULD DRAW THE BOW

All my waking life I have wanted to play the violin. It has been a gnawing ambition. I don't want to practice. I just want to pick up the violin and play. Oh, how my head would blow up like a bladder if I could do that.

Many times I've dreamt of giving a recital at Carnegie Hall—of the bowing and the scraping and the stage-door signing of programs thrust into my face.

If I could do that, if I could pick up a violin and play "There's A Pawnshop on a Corner in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania" without missing a note, for that I would give my entire Kingdom. In fact, I might go all the way and throw in my right to receive government cheese. Remember now, I would only go that far if my life-long gnawing were to materialize. Otherwise, I take it all back and will hang on to it with all the strength I've got. That's the kind of a guy I am.

OUT WITH THE OLD ON WITH THE NEW

Some time ago I suggested that the city change the name of Front Street to one that would more closely fit its modern appearance. Nothing, it seems, has been done about it.

Now, if readers will suggest a new, modern name for Front Street and mail them to me on a postcard, I will publish the suggestions. No names will be returned. All names will become the sole property of the committee to get the Front Street controversy back on the front page where it belongs. Act before midnight tonight so you won't forget. Once people forget, it's hard for them to remember what I told them to do.

FINIS

Enough! Enough! I've squealed enough for this week.

Write USSR protest letters

Editor,

As the old man walked the beach at dawn, he noticed a young man ahead of him picking up starfish and flinging them into the sea. Finally catching up with the youth, he asked him why he was doing this. The answer was that the stranded starfish would die if left until the morning sun.

"But the beach goes on for miles and there are millions of starfish," countered the other. "How can your effort make any difference?"

The young man looked at the starfish in his hand then threw to safety in the waves. "It makes a difference to this one," he said.

So many times people wonder what difference they can make in a world that seems heartless and devoid of justice.

Two years ago Yelena Bonner, wife of Soviet dissident Andrei Sakharov, stated that she and her husband would die exiled in the city of Gorky unless they were released soon. Bonner and Sakharov were exiled for speaking out against the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan, for championing human rights, protesting nuclear weapons, and as a slap in the face of then President Carter for the Olympic boycott. Bonner was recently sentenced to five additional years of exile. Experts feel that the fact that she is Jewish also has some bearing on this persecution.

The United Nations has agreed to see that the chairman of the Supreme Soviet receives any letters of protest. Won't you please take a few moments to write a note to let the Russian government know that someone perceives this injustice and cares for the welfare of the Sakharovs? State surplus means bad planning

Editor,

To say I am irate would be a gross understatement! The following is an excerpt from a letter I received from my State Senator.

"The Senate Fiscal Agency reports that the State is sitting on estimated 338 million dollar surplus for '83-'84 and a 227 million dollar surplus for '84-'85. This surplus exists even after the 13% increased state spending. This means 87% of the tax increase went to create new programs or expand existing programs." "It seems our bankrupt state government is living pretty well!"

That is the reason I am supporting Proposal C.

Our opponents, Pro Michigan hired the same Ohio advertising firm who confused the wording on the ballot which defeated their tax revolt. Dirty tricks!

Auto Club of Michigan published an anti Proposal C article in their magazine which went to some 800,000 members.

General Motors donated $40,000 to Pro Michigan, along with other businesses to defeat Proposal C.

Now, we have Cecil Mackey, president of MSU sending out letters to faculty, staff and students stating a "Yes" vote on Proposal C would be a vote against education, research, business, jobs, etc. More [Concluded on Page 8]

Road commissioner explains what's what on 'C'

Editor,

It is important for the public to realize that Proposition C would seriously cut road funding and the magnitude of the impact.

Our number one priority has been and will continue to be the safety of traveling public to the fullest extent possible. Our second priority has been and will continue to be the preservation of the existing road system.

Lesser priorities, such as improving the road through widening, straightening, paving, bridge replacements and other upgradings, will be the first to suffer.

The effects of the other Fiscal 1985 cutbacks would not be apparent until much later, as equipment not replaced begins breaking down and repairs to bridges and guardrails that are already overdue have to wait even longer.

The staff cutbacks and resulting service cuts projected for Fiscal 1985 would become immediately apparent, and the following are some of the ways:

*Suppliers of labor, equipment and materials for county road improvement projects will lose 100 percent of the Road Commission's business.
* Patching of potholes on paved roads will continue at the same level, if possible, but response times may be slower.

*Resurfacing of roads by our maintenance forces will be cut to half.

*Road base repairs will be cut 100 percent.

*Gravel road grading will be cut 15 percent.

*Roadside mowing along county roads will be cut 100 percent.

*Curb sweeping on subdivision street will be cut 100 percent.

*Curb sweeping on other county roads will be cut 50 percent.

*Bridge maintenance will be cut 100 percent.

*Shoulder repairs and reconditioning will be cut 100 percent.

*Drainage and backslope preventative measures will be cut 100 percent and all ditch work will be cut 50 percent.

*Guardrail upgrading will be eliminated, and repairs will be cut 50 percent.

*Edgemarking of pavements will be cut 50 percent.

Please consider a (NO) vote on Proposal (C) for the benefit of Michigan roads.

Charlevoix County Road Comm.
John D. Kujawski, Chairman

Complainers vote?

Editor,

Why is it so many complain about welfare spending but fail to voice the same outrage about our tax dollars spent chauffeuring the U.S. Attorney General's wife ($17,000) and for phones in the home of the USIA director ($4,436)?

Both were forced to return the money but we're still footing the bill for $16,000 three-cubic-foot refrigerators, $7,600 Air Force coffeepots, and at least $140 million for "public relations" activities of military contractors billed to the Pentagon. These included golf shirts, airplane models and exhibits at the Paris Air Show.

Don't forget fantastic prices paid for vertical pressure appliers (screwdrivers) and plastic stool caps. Remember how the Pentagon paid $9,600 for a hex wrench which normally sells for 12 cents. Is that how we achieve a "strong defense?"

But then, why should the Pentagon worry about our money when it has $27 million to spend each hour. So what if the average Michigan family of four sends $70 each week to pay for such things as another 17,000 nuclear warheads. Yet one percent of our present arsenal could trigger "nuclear winter" and the extinction of our civilization.

With our current policy of "prevailing" in a nuclear war and this kind of spending, no wonder we have record deficits—$180 billion this year alone.

The military-industrial complex is spending $5 million during October showing a film to orchestrate paranoia about communism so we will become like Jonestown followers and willingly swallow the deadly cyanide of the arms race.

This is the most critical election in U.S. History—vote for candidates favoring arms control—both your life and your livelihood depend on it.

WHY VOTE FOR

SEBERON "BOO" LITZENBURGER For Circuit Judge?

There are three important answers to this question:

1. Boo has one of the finest legal minds in the north. Among the hundreds of local and Appellate and Supreme Court cases he has successfully pleaded in his 21 year practice were two which resulted in "Landmark" (precedent-setting) decisions. That is, they established points of law that had never before been developed in Michigan's 147 year history as a state. This is as notable as winning a Pulitzer Prize in other professions.

Right now we have an opportunity to elect this man of talent to the Charlevoix-Emmet Circuit Judgeship.

2. Boo cares about people, and the land and water around us. If we want to elect a caring person, and we do, Boo more than qualifies. For fifteen years he has devoted thousands of hours without pay to helping the largest hospital complex in the north become the biggest employer, in fact, the biggest business in the north.

He has always been identified with preservation of our natural resources—the great future of our area. For example, he helped found, and is a Trustee of The Little Traverse Conservancy.

3. Boo is native to this country. Fifty years ago his dad, "Doc Litz", brought everyone into the world for miles around Boyne City. Ask anyone who knew him, he was the kind of doctor who wouldn't start off on a family vacation unless all his patients were on the mend. He was there when you needed him, a real neighbor, a member of everyone's family.

Somehow you feel more comfortable with elected officials who are built into the local scenery that way, too. Take our District Judge, Harvey Varnum for example. You can rely on Harvey because he is "home-town"; he has deepdown integrity you can feel. He is conscientious; he is predictable because he is one of us. Boo is that way, too.

For these three reasons we are going to vote for Boo Litzenburger for Circuit Judge November 6th., and hope you will, too.

In your heart you know he's right.

Boyne Valley Garden Club hears about conservancy projects

Twenty-three members of the Boyne Valley Garden Club and special guests met on October 25th at Litzzenburger Place. President Winifred Shields called the meeting to order. Following the Club Collect our special guests, Mrs. James Lawrence, District Five Director; Mrs. Victor Tsaloff, President of the Petoskey Garden Club; and James Silbar, publisher of the Charlevoix County Press were introduced.

Vi Manglos presented Nellie Flodquist, historian, the award which the club received for having the largest increase in membership. Placing flower arrangements in various public buildings in recognition of Membership Month was carried out as planned. Billie Beckenhauer gave a complete report on District Five's Annual Fall Meeting and Lois Pollack showed several of her design arrangements she had displayed at the District Meeting. Program Chairman Lois Pollack introduced the speaker, Mr. Louis Borie, Director of Little Traverse Conservancy. Four counties with 22 preserves

Dinner was over and there was a half hour before the youngest member of the family had to go to bed. The one oil lamp made too little light for playing Chinese checkers. So, with Hallowe'en near, we agreed it was appropriate then to play GHOST.

One of the virtues of camping or living in a cabin, especially a temporary one, is that hardships usually end at the day's end, making the darkness especially delightful. Rain and wind cease to matter, and never mind till tomorrow the absence of hot running water.

Outside in the night, spawning fish were just beginning their labors. After the day's waiting under overhanging stream banks, they were resuming their trek upstream, occasionally through Ah, the crises of youth. Last Friday, my daughter called me in a great emergency, telling me that at that moment of her life, she needed some pizza cheese for her foods class.

Of course, at that moment in my life, I was helping Judge Varnum put an ad into the newspaper, and since political ads are a cash deal, pretty important to me.

But, I was expected to drop everything, run to the store so that I could make a purchase of pizza cheese, and then drive the car out to the high school to deliver it in time so that she could make a frozen pizza.

Now, I would like to say a thing or two to those in the school that require my providing their school supplies, but that is another matter.

I would think that my 15 year old would know how to make a pizza, as that seems to be one of the staples of teenagers these years.

And I would rather see the school system, if they are going to teach her foods, to have a food program similar to the one down at Cass Tech in Detroit. There they teach students to become chefs, bakers, and master nutritionists.

I don't think they mess around making a pizza.

I would like to see them make something with one of those long French names that, when served at a restaurant, cost a ton.

I would think that they might also contact some of the many chefs, and we have quite a few very, very good chefs running restaurants in the area, and ask them what kind of person they are looking for when they want to hire someone. Then the schools could be providing a real service to the growth of the community, and provide some training to those students who will want to be staying in the community after they graduate.

They could also have a true co-op program within the schools. One where the students actually go and work half a day for a real employer so the student has some on-the-job training.

Then the schools would become worth something to area employers.

lose the round with "raisin," (and earn a G towards being a ghost).

"I'm not!" she laughed. "So I can kibitz!"

Father grunted in noticeable scorn, and child contentedly shifted position on his lap.

The next round began with P.

"U," said I; and "L," said father.

For another moment the child puzzled. Finally he objected. "You can't add anything to that word."

Now we were puzzled. His mother, ready to be amused, asked with a glint in her eyes, "What word?"

"P-U-L spells 'pool,'" he explained to us dummies.

And so it could, since D-U-T-Y is pronounced "dooty," and D-U-N-E is pronounced "doon." Never mind he forgot the silent E.

What the youngest lacked in spelling, he made up for in strategy. Before long I was a GH, on my way to earning all five letters of "ghost."

"Well, I have to go," I said. The half hour was up anyway, and no nine-year-old strategy could change that.

And the stars were out now. We stood outside to star-gaze a few moments. No yard lights dimmed the splendor.

There was one constellation of three stars. We named it for the starlit family. And then I hiked up the trail to the car to head back to the sharp, bright electric world.

Opinions

1 mill, 1 year for future through past gets our ok

Among the many things that the newer Boyne City folks ask, is what was the place like before what is now happening along the waterfront. They see our new streets in the downtown area, along with some of the old buildings that are still standing in the city.

All of these add up to a heritage that many would like to keep.

That is one of the reasons that the city installed old-looking street lamps when they redid the downtown, and one of the reasons that developers of the One Water Street project, currently under construction have felt they should contribute to in their design for the building.

There is a lot of pride in what our community has done in the past, and unlike many other communities, we have and are still trying to retain the feeling of small town America as it was in the early part of this century.

This feeling is also evident in one of our more popular features that we have been running in our newspaper for the last couple of years, a fond look at the beginnings of the city and the area. The responses we are getting to our Remembrances pictures shows that the interest of the community is there.

Because of that interest in our past, we have often wondered why the city, or some group hasn't been able to put together a museum where many of the articles, the artifacts, and the items of the last few generations could be displayed so that future generations could join in on the feeling of being part of the community, its heritage.

That feeling was developed in many ways, from the school programs of Bob Morgridge to the way the city is building today.

Many folks around the town want all of us to share in that feeling.

And that is why the Historical Advisory Board has asked the commissioners to place a question on the ballot, requesting some additional millage so that a museum could be built to display the history of the community.

The board over the past few years tried to raise funds to develop such a museum, a place where children of today can visit and wonder about the yesterdays, a place where the children of tomorrow can see how we ever lived without the machines and instruments we use today.

If the millage were approved, and we hope that enough people in the community agree with the idea and vote yes, those aspirations could be attained.

Boyne City has a very interesting history. Much of it stems from an era that makes it still possible to find the many items that could be displayed.

Members of the committee have had many things offered to them, but they have had to postpone acceptance because they haven't any place to keep them.

With the passage of one mill the committee could develop such a museum.

They have looked at many possible buildings, have even considered building a new one that would be located in one of the city's parks. Currently they are looking at one of the old churches here in town.

We would like to urge the voters to say yes to this request for one mill for one year so that we and our visitors could see first hand the evidence of our past.

Final preparations being made for Win-some

Final preparations are being made for the 13th Annual Win-Some Women retreat which will be held Friday, November 2nd and Saturday, November 3rd at the Boyne Mountain Convention Center in Boyne Falls, Michigan.

Keynote speakers are actress, author, and playwright Jeannette Clift George, who appeared as Corrie ten Boom in the film, THE HIDING PLACE, and author and Bible teacher Margaret Hess.

Margaret Hess, a preacher's child, grew up in Chicago and is currently a wife and mother of four in Livonia, Michigan. She and her husband, Dr. Bartlett L. Hess, have travelled extensively around the world and to the Middle and Far East. She has taught Women's Bible classes for over 25 years in the Detroit area. At present her class at Ward Presbyterian Church in Livonia, where her husband is Senior Pastor, has 300-500 attending.

Through this class she seeks to make the Bible come alive, with a knowledge of historical and geographical backgrounds and local customs of the people drawn from eight tours of the Bible lands conducted by her husband and herself. She also emphasizes practical application to problems of modern life.

Her books include: "Esther: Courage in Crisis", "Love Knows No Barriers", "Unconventional Women", and she has co-authored with her husband, "How to Have a Giving Church", "The Power of a Loving Church", and "How Does Your Marriage Grow".

Evelyn Smiley of Milford returns with her musical talent to play the organ, while Jeanine Jezierski of Troy provides music on the piano. Johnny Hall, a dynamic gospel communicator and recording artist from Tempe, Arizona, will be the featured music artist for this year's retreat.

Johnny Hall began his singing career at the age of four when he joined the renowned Children's Bible Hour of Grand Rapids, Mich. He later attended the National Music Camp at Interlochen and the University of Michigan School of Music, and he has served on the voice faculty at Olivet College. He has travelled extensively with the famed composer John W. Peterson as a featured soloist and recently has been featured in several Billy Graham Evangelistic Association's crusades in the United States and Canada.

Johnny Hall has released seven albums, the most recent being "Rain Your Love" and "By Request".

He ministers not only through music but by speaking as well. He will share a seminar session entitled "Inner-Directed". Other seminar speakers will further develop the retreat's theme "Inner Peace" as well. Margaret Hess will speak about "Stress, Distress, and Burn-out". Carol Kent of Port Huron will share how to "Speak Up With Confidence", and Joyce Winters of St. Paul, Minnesota will speak about "Quiet Time in a Noisy World". The Phillip Keller film "Lessons From a Sheep Dog" will also be shown. The Friday evening assembly will close with a presentation of the life of Catherine Booth by Major Joyce Winters of the Salvation Army.

The retreat will close with a special Community Banquet for men and women of all ages. Jeannette Clift George will be the featured speaker with music provided by Johnny Hall. The dinner and program will be held Saturday, November 5th at 7:00 p.m. in the Boyne Mountain Convention Center.

More information, registration forms and banquet tickets may be obtained by contacting your local area coordinator, Diane Bowman,

Ironton boat moved within South Arm of Lake Charlevoix

The big boat that was tied up at Ironton for the past eight or nine years suddenly disappeared last week. County residents who have driven past it on M-66 may miss the familiar shape. The boat is now tied up farther down the shore in South Arm.

Morris Taylor, whose son owns the boat, had been having work done on the yacht-sized hull, raising the super structure and painting it. About two years ago Morris, according to a newspaper report, contemplated having the boat used as a floating scientific laboratory for expeditions on the Great Lakes.

Morris could not be reached for comment as to present plans.

The removal of the boat came about after sale of the Ironton shoreline property which Morris had been renting. Purchased by Melvin Renaud for Robert Tripp, the property will be used by Renaud for docking his own cruiser.

Renaud said he gave

Morris notice in March, allowing him necessary time to relocate the big boat where it is now at the property Morris owns in South Arm.

Taylor's boat has a new home in South Arm, after years at Ironton. Along with the new location has come a new silhouette as Taylor continues rebuilding the boat.

Qualified students wanted for ASSE

"Qualified high school students are offered a unique opportunity to spend an academic year or six-week summer holiday in Sweden, Denmark, Norway, Finland, Iceland, Germany, Switzerland, or Great Britain as part of the ASSE International (ASSE) Student Exchange Program," announced Warren Clague, Midwestern Director of ASSE.

"Until a few years ago, only a fortunate few could afford to spend a school year or summer in Europe. Now, ASSE has changed all that," continued Clague.

Students, 15 to 18 years old, are selected on the basis of a good academic record, excellent character references, and a genuine desire to experience life abroad with a volunteer European host family.

"At least one member of the carefully-screened host family will be fluent in English," added Clague, "so that communication will not be a problem." Year students are provided language/culture instruction as part of the ASSE program.

The non-profit ASSE International (formerly American Scandinavian Student Exchange) is affiliated with the Swedish and Finnish Departments of Education and has been officially designated by the U.S. Information Agency as an Exchange Visitor Program.

Local students interested in receiving more information can contact: Mary Elizabeth Stone, 4076 Wyatt Road, Traverse City, MI 49684, 616-947-5977.

Dow serves the genetic improvement needs of dairy and beef breeders in northern Michigan. This is part of the area serviced by MABC-Select Sires, the largest member of the Select Sires federation of A.I. cooperatives. Nationally, over 400 other sales representatives competed for the honor.

of the same "scare" tactics. Do we, the people who support Proposal C, have any recourse? Can we obtain the list that Mackey used to express our views? I doubt it!

If you want the "special interests" to run the State, vote No. If you want a VOICE in your government, vote YES!

Sydney England
Rochester

Editor,
Are you concerned about education? Are you concerned about what Proposal C will do for our chances of decent education for our children? Well, if you're an educator or concerned parent on the bandwagon against Proposal C, I think you may need to be educated:
First, all school millages (taxes) already voted on by the people will not be affected by the passage of Proposal C. Second, would you eliminate a Michigan school for the deaf and blind? Eliminate funding for computer literacy and other educational incentive programs? Eliminate vocational rehabilitation for the handicapped?

No! We wouldn't, but these scare tactics are what the Legislators in office and Promote Michigan council are threatening to do if we don't knuckle under and allow them a free hand to squander our tax dollars on their pet projects. They have proved to us in the past that the educational system and our children are second class citizens when it comes to budgets. The educational budget has dwindled from 32% in 1967 to 16.6% in 1983. Schools were forced to either seek expensive short-term loans, or cut programs part way into the school year to make up deficiencies in state aid. From 1981 through 1983, late state aid payments cost schools an estimated 15.3 million in interest costs. These budget priorities are set by the Legislators and the Governor's office, both of whom call themselves Pro Michigan.

Well, whose Michigan are they talking about, theirs or ours (the people)? The Legislators' number one priority is the protection of the citizens, not the special interest groups.

Let's pass Proposal C and make each individual person vote his lobby.

"Electricity..."

The Best Bargain Is Right At Home"

Now that the days are getting shorter and the nights cooler, many of us like to dream of escaping the Michigan winter for sunny Florida. Or Texas. Maybe even far-off California.

But whether you favor the South or West, have you considered the energy bargain you would be leaving behind in the Great Lakes State?

Even if, like most of us, you intend to move no farther than your favorite armchair this winter, you may be interested to know what folks in other parts of the country pay for the same amount of electric power.

"Bargain" may not be the description that comes first to mind when you think about utility bills. But all things are relative, and the cost of electricity in Michigan compares very favorably with the Sunbelt rates that lie at the end of I-75 or I-80.

Some comparisons will illustrate the point. They are based on an average consumption of 500 kilowatt-hours (kWh) a month, which excludes water and space heating but may allow for a little air conditioning.

Consumers Power Company's current rate for this level of consumption is $31.66, as of the October 1984 bill. In the comparisons which follow, July 1984 rates—the latest available—will be quoted for other utilities. Incidentally, the Consumers Power rate at that time was $29.96.

So let's switch on the air and head down to Florida...

Should you choose to spend the winter in Miami you become a customer of Florida Power and Light, whose 500 kWh rate was $48.63. St. Petersburg (Florida Power Company) was a little cheaper at $41.89. And so was Tampa (Tampa Electric Company) at $43.49.

But don't forget that Consumers Power's rate is $31.66!

Perhaps you prefer the wide open spaces of Texas. Houston Lighting and Power Company will welcome you at $40.58.

Swinging northwest will bring you to Phoenix, where Arizona Public Service Company's rate was $48.00.

Palm Springs (Southern California Edison Company) offers some relief from the desert dryness—and high electric rates—at $39.06.

But if you want to siesta in San Diego, hold on to your wallet! San Diego Gas and Electric Company charged $58.93—almost DOUBLE the current Consumers Power rate ($31.66, remember) for the same amount of power.

In fact, the average rate Consumers Power residential electric customers paid last winter was 25 percent below the national average.

Michigan may not be able to offer burnished beaches in the dead of winter. But compared with many other states, it can let a little sunshine into your electric bill.

After 62-0 loss to Hurons Boyer looks to Petoskey

BY JERRY FROATS

After taking it on the chin 62-0, the Boyne City varsity football team put the Rogers City team behind them and look to this Friday's game with the stadium boys from Petoskey. The Ramblers will go into the game in Northman country looking to upset their long-time rivals with a new view of their situation. Coach Bob McCullough says "whoever gets their heads up best will win the game." Petoskey was soundly defeated by the Saints in a higher scoring game than when Boyne City lost to St. Ignace.

In Friday night's game, Rogers City hit the scoreboard early in the game after getting a 38 yard pass to the Rambler 8 yard line. With the Ramblers down 8-0, Boyne City engineered a good drive that took them from their own 30 yard line to the Huron 24 yard line.

Dave Wandrie had two good rushes in the drive, one for 9 yards and the other for 25 yards and a first down.

On fourth down and 7 yards to go, Tony Napont received a pitch-out and threw a pass to Wandrie but the Zebras declared an incomplete pass and Boyne City was forced to turn the ball over on downs.

Rogers City took over the ball and the Ramblers forced the Hurons to punt the ball away after getting good defensive plays from Pat Weeks, Darren Everest, and Chris Howard. The Ramblers took the punt at their own 48 yard line and went for no gain on two plays rushing, but Howard connected with Kevin Snyder on third down and the Ramblers were into the short of the field at the Hurons' 39 yard line.

The following play was fumbled and Rogers City took over the game from that point on. They took the fumble recovery and marched down the field nearly at will as the Ramblers stopped many of the plays at the line of scrimmage, but the Hurons were able to break the tackles and run for long yardage and finally the touchdown.

With Boyne City behind 14-0, Rogers City rolled up the field passing and breaking away for long gains and four minutes into the second period the Hurons crossed the Ramblers' goal again, making the score 20-0. Rogers City continued to build up points through the remainder of the half and led 44-0 at halftime.

The second half opened with Boyne City starting at their own 31 yard line and punted from the same position as their small gains were nullified by losses. The Hurons worked their way to the Rambler 3 yard line and scored on a trap play to make the score 50-0.

Boyer City took the kick-off at their own 40 yard line and punted from the 45 yard line and the Hurons found themselves at the Rogers City 29 yard line when the period ended.

The Hurons ran through the Ramblers to midfield when Mike Meadows covered a Huron fumble and Boyne City held good field position at the Hurons' 46 yard line. Boyne City's first play was intercepted and Rogers City peeled off 10 yards on nearly every play as they ate up most of the fourth period on scoring drive.

With 2:00 left in the game the Hurons added their final touchdown for the 62-0 score on a pass to the endzone.

In rushing for the Ramblers, Wandrie totaled 34 yards, while Craig Napont got 39 yards, Mark Williams ran twice for 29 yards, while Weeks and Howard were held to 15 yards each.

Defensively Boyne City was at a loss for large numbers of tacklers but T. Napont took up some of the slack with 9 unassisted tackles. Dan McGeorge, Norm Howard, Weeks and Everest had 5 tackles each, and C. Napont tackled 8 Hurons.

The Boyne City Ramblers did not get very many gang tackles like this one Friday night. On this play Norm Howard [70], Tony Napont [83], and Chris Howard team up to tackle this Rogers City ball runner.

Ramblerettes JVs, varsity lose tough games with Rogers City Hurons

BY JERRY FROATS

The Ramblers lost both girls' basketball games Thursday night to the Hurons from Rogers City. The Varsity played against a very tall team that came up with the long baskets when the defense worked well for Boyne City, and the JV team continued to have trouble breaking the press consistently.

In Varsity action the Ramblers got off to a slow start as they threw their first three passes away, but not before going on to tie the score at 10-10 late in the opening quarter. The Hurons hit four shots from 20 feet out in the period and led 14-12 going into the second quarter.

Boyer City got the tip and Keisha Crozier got a fast break to tie the score at 14 all. The Rambler defense refused to let Rogers City into the key area and the Hurons went to the long shots again and the Ramblers trailed 23-19 midway through the period. Late in the quarter Tammy Winters got two baskets as Rogers City tried to dump the ball over Boyne City's zone defense and she stole the ball away to bring the Ramblers within two points at the half 25-23.

Linda Bieganski got the Ramblers rolling in the third period by getting a quick steal and converted in into points to tie the score at 25-25. Rogers City took over control of the game half way through the quarter by dominating the rebounds and scoring almost at will and the Ramblers were down by 7 points going into the final period at 40-33.

The Hurons tightened up their defense and kept Boyne City from getting the ball into the middle area to force the Ramblers into taking long shots. With 3:00 left in the game Boyne City was down 35-46 and could not get a late charge going to tighten the score. The final outcome ran 46-39 for the Hurons.

In the early game, the younger girls were outrebounded 19-11 in the first half and went down 38-26 at the end of the game.

Kelly Montgomery and Shelly Vroman shared the scoring honors for the Ramblers with 7 points each. Vroman getting 9 rebounds. Lacinda Tompkins and Lori Knight scored 4 points each while Colleen Williams and Heather Thayer added two points apiece.

Crozier led the Ramblers in scoring with 16 points and Winters showed 9 points with 13 rebounds. Michelle Guzniczak hit for 6 points while J. Montgomery had 4 points. The Bieganski sisters added two points each.

Boyer JV drops game to Rogers City

BY JERRY FROATS

The Boyne City JV football team when down to the Rogers City Hurons Thursday night 31-12, but coach Dave Bricker thought that without a couple of key plays for the Hurons, the Ramblers outplayed their opponent well. The JVs are regrouping their team and using freshman players in starting positions to get experience for next year's season.

The Hurons' first play went for a touchdown and Rogers City was quick to add the conversion for an 8-0 early lead. Both teams fumbled the ball away and Boyne City came out on top in the exchange as Todd Fanning galloped 25 yards to paydirt to tighten the score. The conversion failed and the score stood at 8-6 after one complete quarter.

Rogers City got another long touchdown run early in the second period and converted for a 16-6 score. The Ramblers had their first punt of the period blocked and the Hurons recovered the ball on Boyne City's 10 yard line. It took them four plays to get it into the endzone and the score ran 24-6 for the Hurons. Later in the quarter Rogers City got another long touchdown run and kicked an extra point to lead 31-6 at intermission.

The third quarter went scoreless as neither team could get rolling long enough to score. In the fourth period Boyne City got a 15 yard carry from Jim Feagan to cross the goal line and the Ramblers shut the Hurons down for the remainder of the game.

EJ girls nipped by Central Lake

The East Jordan varsity girls got nipped by the Central Lake Trojans 41-37, even with the large support of the fans.

East Jordan trailed at halftime 21-14, but the she-Devils fought back and tied it at 36-36. However, the familiar story appears again, they lost the game in the fourth quarter by the score of 41-37.

Danielle Baker led East Jordan with 14 points. Jody McDermott and Darla Looze added six points each, and Cindy Fay canned five points. Fay led the team with 13 rebounds. McDermott snagged 11 rebounds, Baker grabbed eight, and Kelly Noirot totaled seven rebounds.

The junior varsity girls lost 38-23. Kristy Miller led the scorers with 12 points. Chris Nietupski scored eight points. Miller also led the team with nine rebounds and Brenda Drenth grabbed six.

The East Jordan girls will host Gaylor St. Mary's tomorrow night at 6:30.

Battling for a rebound is Kerry Harvey [40], while Tammy Winters [20], and Sue Bieganski [22] watch for the ball to pop loose, or to take an outlet pass for a fast break.

Falls back winning, beats Vanderbilt

BY JERRY FROATS

The Boyne Falls varsity basketball team got back on the winning track Thursday night in a big way as they bombed Vanderbilt 81-37 and totally dominated the rebounding game, with an astounding 113 rebounds.

The Lady Loggers jumped to a whopping 21-0 first quarter score with Kris Bell canning 10 points in the period.

Boyer Falls continued to build up the score in the second quarter hitting 20 points as Vanderbilt came up with 4 points for a 41-4 score. At intermission, Bell had hit for 16 points and Monique Churchill followed with 10 points.

Vanderbilt scored better in the second half as all of the Loggers saw lots of action and led 58-20 after three periods of play.

The Loggers had their best quarter in the fourth period, getting 23 points and plenty of practice at the free throw line as two of Vanderbilt's team fouled out of the game.

Bell and Churchill played busy games getting 35 and 30 rebounds respectively. Mary Murray and Sandy Towne had good showings on the boards also, as Murray hauled down 12 rebounds and Towne got 11.

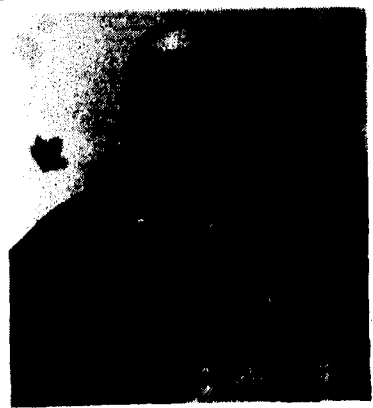

Bell was also phenomenal in scoring with 30 points, while Churchill hit for 18 points and Kim McNew hit double figures at 12 points. Collette Sparks got three baskets to go in the final period for 6 points, and came up with 5 points, all on free throws. Dianne Massey and Towne had 4 points each and Kelly Payton added two points.

Red Devil JVs pluck snowbirds with 27-8 win

BY STEVE GEE
East Jordan's junior varsity football team plucked every feather possible from the Gaylord St. Mary's Snowbirds, stomping them 27-8. The Devils upped their conference leading record to six wins and no defeats.

Neither team scored in the first quarter but the Devils struck early in the second stanza. Steve Dionne put the Devils on top when he rambled 12 yards to a touchdown. The two point conversion attempt failed.

The Snowbirds took the Devil kickoff, however, on their first play. Darren Graham intercepted a pass and ran 20 yards for a touchdown. The extra point attempt failed again.

The Devils scored again before the half expired when Jamie Bartlett scrambled seven yards for a touchdown. Quarterback Greg Kitson connected with Don Reich for the two point conversion. The touchdown was set up on a 36 yard punt return by Dionne. The Devils held a gigantic halftime lead of 20-0.

The Snowbirds finally got on the scoreboard in the third quarter when they scored on a 32 yard pass and added the two point conversion.

East Jordan's defense helped the Devils score their final points. Gaylor had the ball but Graham sacked the quarterback for a 12 yard loss on fourth down. Bartlett carried the ball 20 yards to the three yard line where Dionne hustled through for the touchdown. Darcy Bennett kicked the extra point putting the Devils up 37-8.

Gaylor's last chance came with 4:05 remaining in the game. But Shannon Olstrom sealed up the victory by intercepting a pass with 45 seconds left. The final score found the Devils on top by the score of 27-8.

Jamie Bartlett led the team with 87 yards on the ground. Graham gained 46 yards and Dionne added 40 yards.

Greg Kitson completed three of four passes for 17 yards. Reich had two receptions and Bartlett hauled down the other.

For the second straight week, Terry Burt led the team with 8 tackles. Bartlett got the hit on 7 tackles and Graham had 6 take-downs, including 3 sacks.

East Jordan's final game is tomorrow evening at the home of the Central Lake Trojans.

Rayders in thick of league leading action with 4-0 record

BY JERRY FROATS
Although St. Ignace remains undefeated in the Michigan Huron Shores Conference Class C division, they are 4-0 in division action and the Red Rayders of Charlevoix have the opportunity to share half of the division title if they can unseat the powerhouse champs.

Charlevoix kept their division title chances alive by winning in fine style over the Grayling Vikings 19-0.

The Rayders displayed excellent defense against the Vikings, allowing just 60 yards through the entire game. Grayling is usually a big ground gainer and was 4-3 at the beginning of the onslaught.

The opening period went scoreless as both teams failed to sustain drives long enough to seriously threaten.

In the second quarter, the Rayders showed their hometown fans what offense was all about as they took the ball to the Vikings 1 yard line and sent Brent Cole across the goal line to lead 6-0.

Ulf Ewaldsson kicked the extra point to cap the score. The scoring drive ate up most of the second period and went 80 yards on some 11 plays. After taking the ball away from the Vikings, Charlevoix got a 15 yard run from Matt Lignell to the Grayling 19 yard line and with time rushing short, added six more points to their lead. The touchdown was scored by Mike Louise on a pass reception from Cole.

Midway through the third quarter Charlevoix had the Vikings backed up on their own 20 yard line when Thad Morgan gave the defense more claim to credit with an interception that set the Rayders up with another golden opportunity. Charlevoix worked the ball to the two yard line where Lignell hit the paydirt for the 19-0 score.

Charlevoix held the Vikings off in the final period and could not repeat for any more touchdowns.

The Rayders racked up some 290 yards rushing with Lignell earning 100 yards on 20 assignments. Morgan went 40 yards on seven carries.

For the defense Cole intercepted two Viking passes, and Brett Center blocked a punt. Pam Hamlin led the Rayders in tackles with 14, while Morgan and Cris Havens got 12 take-downs each. Cole and Marc Himebauch got in one nine tackles each.

EJ varsity loses tough match-up with Snowbirds 7-0

BY STEVE GEE
East Jordan lost a close game Friday night, 7-0, against the Snowbirds of Gaylord St. Mary's on a cold and misty evening.

Both teams played a good defense, but it was the Snowbirds who came out on top. The only scoring of the game came with 9:02 left in the half when Gaylor scored on an 18-yard run and added the extra-point kick. Gaylor held a half-time lead of 7-0.

East Jordan's last possession came with less than three minutes remaining in the game with the ball resting in their own 17 yard line. The Devils moved the ball up to the 21 yard line. With 1:45 remaining to play, Ted Snowden broke through and ran 79 yards for an apparent Devil touchdown. But bad luck struck the Devils again when a foolish clip that occurred 20 yards away from the play. The penalty brought the ball back and the Devils were unable to put the ball into the endzone. East Jordan lost 7-0 against the Snowbirds of Gaylord St. Mary's.

East Jordan's quarterback Bill

Lytle completed five of 19 passes for 81 yards with one interception. Ted Snowden grabbed four receptions for 63 yards and Mike Goebel pulled down the other for 18 yards.

The Devil rushers gained only 133 yards on 34 carries. Snowden led the team with 73 yards and Pete Zoulek added 31 yards.

The Devil defense played a strong game. Scot Hart got the hit on seven tackles. Jim Roberts and R.C. Smith each totaled six tackles and a fumble recovery. Leon Carey made six tackles and Dale Schroeder had five take-downs.

East Jordan (3-3) will play their final game at home against the Central Lake Trojans Friday night at 7:30.

Teen Halloween set for D Queen

Karen Kasuba wondered what the teenagers would be having for entertainment Wednesday night for Halloween. One thing led to another winding up with city manager Randy Frykberg saying to Kasuba, sure, go ahead with it.

So Art Gibbs, manager of the Dairy Queen, will donate the use of the Dairy Queen parking lot, and the Bread Box will donate doughnuts, all for a teen party Halloween, starting at 8 p.m.

There will be music over a donated public address system, and everything is GO.

Nutrition, diet can cure diseases says expert

"Many diseases are curable," says Douglas Hemstreet, a visitor to the Charlevoix County area. "Even those that many doctors say are incurable."

He was speaking about diseases that the human body is susceptible to, including arthritis, allergies, varicose veins, cataracts and others that can all be cured, according to Hemstreet, by the proper nutrition and diet.

Citing one example the Traverse City native said that Emma Wells of Charlevoix studied Paavo Airoola's nutrition books and cured herself of allergies and bursitis. She gives talks on nutrition and keeps hearing from people like Jesse Cunningham, also of Charlevoix, who healed her arthritis after reading some of the material by the famed naturopathic doctor.

Virginia Weber, president of the women's group of the United Methodist Church in Petoskey says that she healed herself after studying nutrition and another member of the group says the same.

According to Hemstreet, the doctors are missing the data in that they do not receive the training that the governments of Germany and Switzerland offer in their biological medicine clinics.

"They are victimized by an educational system that gives them no education in biological medicine, bionutrition, the role of the mind in health and illness, exercise, and the validity of other healing systems," he said. "They are brain-washed by the pharmaceutical companies and lack the understanding that the scientific method requires dealing with causes, not symptoms," he continued.

He says that the body is normally self-healing, that the diseases do not happen by accident.

He says that when the body is detoxified and a carefully designed program of toxin-free fresh raw juices, sprouts, vegetables and fruits are rigorously followed, the body will cure itself.

Hemstreet is the founder of the Serendipity Association, a non-profit Holistic Health organization that is working on health reform. For more information and reservations, call 547-5692 or leave messages at 589-2125.

Checking septic system now can save problems later

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources has recommended that septic tank pumps not be allowed to use some area municipal treatment plants for disposal of wastes of home septic tanks. During the summer these wastes are disposed of in an approved dumping area with recommended procedures on open land. The freezing temperatures and deep snow that occur during the winter will prevent use of these areas until late next spring.

District Health Department

Number 3 recommends that each tank should be checked on a yearly basis. Tanks should also be pumped every three years; or sooner if the yearly inspection indicates the need for pumping. The primary maintenance point in a septic system is the septic tank. Inspection is accomplished by measuring sludge depth in the tank once each year. If you do not know where the tank is located, a steel rod gently tapped into the ground, starting ten feet from where the sanitary drain leaves the house, should help you find it. Measuring Scum Depth:

1. Attach a 6 inch square board to the bottom of a stick about 6 feet long.
2. At the outlet end of your tank extend the stick through the scum layer to find the bottom of baffle or effluent pipe.
3. Mark your stick to indicate that point.
4. Raise the stick until you "feel" or see the bottom of the scum layer.
5. Mark your stick again to indicate that point.

CAH Guild to host annual Xmas show

Stocking stuffers, candies, Christmas ornaments, toys, candies, books, jewelry and more—all very affordable—will be featured at the Charlevoix Area Hospital Guild's Annual Pre-Christmas Show, Friday and Saturday (November 2 and 3.) And to entice early and wise Christmas shoppers, Guild members are hosting a bake sale throughout the Pre-Christmas show. Cookies, muffins, quick and yeast breads, candies and cupcakes will be for sale. The display of gifts and the baked goods will be in the Charlevoix Area Hospital Guild lobby, Friday, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. These same gifts will be featured in the Guild's Showcase Gift Shop throughout the Christmas season, but experienced buyers urge shoppers to come early and find a multitude of inexpensive good ideas. The Charlevoix Area Hospital Guild operates the Showcase as a major fund raising project. Open Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m., and on Sundays from 1 to 4 p.m., the Showcase is entirely staffed by Guild volunteers. Annually the Guild presents at least $2,000 to the hospital for important equipment.

DON'T:

1. Use chemicals to clean or "sweeten" your system except on the advice of your local health department.
2. Use a kitchen garbage disposal unit.
3. Put harmful materials in the tank. Avoid fats, solvents, oils, disinfectants, paints, chemicals, poisons, coffee grounds, paper towels, disposable diapers, sanitary napkins and tampons.

To prevent unnecessary problems this winter, home owners should inspect septic tanks now. Anyone that would like more information about septic system maintenance should call any office of District Health Dept. No. 3.
