Boyer Board told accreditation by spring

New textbooks for the Middle School, new coach, contracts and budgets, and the sale of school busses were some of the items that were considered at the Boyne City School Board meeting last Monday night, but the real news was the prediction by high school principal Rick Casper that the high school would have their North Central Accreditation for students graduating this spring.

Casper brought the board up to date on the accreditation process, explaining that the school has agreed with all suggestions and rules that North Central proposed, and that he will ask for a deferred acceptance plan where the school would be approved within the state this spring.

He told the board that the school would have to make a self-exam of the system in the next school year, and that an outside evaluation team would be coming to the school in the spring of 1987.

The board meeting included a presentation on the "How to say no" program that is being presented to seventh and eighth graders in middle school. The program deals with helping students deal with peer pressures toward teenage sex as well as other pressures relating to drugs and other social problems.

Scott Blanchard, who is in charge of the one-year program for the northern part of the state, described the program, the teachers, and the success of the program to date.

In Boyne City, seventh and eighth graders are receiving the instruction.

The board then heard a report on the Michigan Educational Assessment Program that the school system is involved in as part of the state guidelines.

Barbara Martin, one of the school counselors, said students in Boyne City are doing very well compared to others across the state on the reading aspects of the test, while the math test scores could show improvement. She noted that the school system is working on bringing up the math scores so that they are well above the state level.

The assessment tests are given to students in fourth, seventh and tenth grades each fall and are used by the state to determine how well the students are learning the material being presented to them.

As part of the program to improve math scores on the test, the board looked at a new policy that they will be considering at their March meeting. The policy will require students to pass a competency test in math classes before they will be allowed to take any math in high school.

Those who do not pass the tests will be given remedial and special instruction to help them become competent.

The board then went into a workshop session to review superintendent Rich Kelly's proposed budget for 1985-86 and 1986-87.

Kelly is projecting approximately a six percent increase in revenues for those years due to new construction coming on the tax roles. He is projecting budget surpluses even with expenses being projected at higher levels than anticipated.

The session was to help the board to decide the amount of millage that will be asked at an upcoming special election. That decision will be made at the March board meeting.

As part of the special election process, the board asked the superintendent to apply to the Special Election Committee of Charlevoix County to hold an election on April 29. The reason for holding a special election is to inform those governing bodies that collect summer taxes so that they will have that data in time for sending out the tax notices.

The board then approved Terry Reinhardt as a new coach for the sixth grade basketball program. A coach was to have been named for the varsity girls' program but that was tabled until the next meeting.

The board also approved new textbooks for science and history classes in the middle school.

The board then approved non-renewal of contracts for two administrators, Shelly Martin and Sherry Sheldon. Both administrators are involved with programs that may not be funded next year, and the move by the board was a precautionary procedure. Both have had this action applied to them for the past five years and the administration as well as the board expect to rehire them when they are certain of funding for Community Education and Chapter One programs.

Contract settlements were approved covering non-affiliated members of the staff. The board agreed to follow guidelines similar to those of other bargaining units within the school system.

In other action, the board approved the selling of two used school busses. Ron's Transmission Service won the bid on a 1966 GMC bus, and Emmanuel Baptist School of Pontiac won the bid for the International bus.

They also approved the firm of Robertson and Carpenter, P.C. to be auditors of the school system.

While snow plow giants must roar down streets and highways in order to get some thrust behind that heavy layer of snow, the role of the motorist is care in passing. In the swirls of snow it isn't always easy to see the scraper that projects to the left from under the snowplow truck. Motorists have to stay clear also of road sand in the process of being spread for their safety.

Recycling plan may help ease landfill burden

The county has received a grant to pursue recycling of some waste items. The $5,928 is an amount similar to that being awarded by the state to other counties.

County planner Larry Sullivan said the money will go mainly in three directions: work toward recycling used motor oil, recycling used newspapers, and studying Beaver Island waste disposal.

Sullivan wants to have drop-off points set up for the oil recycling. Such oil can be cleaned and used for heating fuel.

In East Jordan city superintendent Mike Dionne said the city is exploring using the waste oil for heating the city garage.

Possible markets for recycled newspapers also occupy Sullivan. Suggestions include animal bedding material, insulation, and shipment to paper mills.

Officials agree, as Dionne said, "landfills are good only for a short term. There is not enough suitable land to continue as we are."

This spring Governor James Blanchard is expected to ask for legislation to start solid waste incineration. A bond proposal last year by state legislator Connie Binsfield for $350,000 failed in the house after passing the senate with only one dissenting vote.

Sullivan's effort is directed to removing some of the pressure on the one licensed landfill in the county, because, as officials have pointed out, incineration will probably come last to such rural counties as those in northern Michigan.

The state's concern over increases in contamination of groundwater has resulted in the closing of community landfills for Type II (household/industrial) waste.

In their place are compactors that take local waste and truck it to a licensed landfill.

In East Jordan's landfill, a pond made by a spring caused the Department of Natural Resources to suspect the pond water of carrying waste leachate into groundwater. The city was obliged to cut through a "peninsula" to allow the pond water to run off.

Dionne said they moved about 1000 cubic yards of soil that which was suitable was used to increase the final cover over the waste. The purpose of capping the landfill in this way is to make rainfall run off, preventing leaching through the

Fire fighters wearing new equipment

Boyer City volunteer fire fighters have shiny new red helmets as a result of their vote to buy the helmets from proceeds from their fund raiser, the Country Western Show.

City clerk and fireman Tom Garlock displayed one of the helmets at the city commission meeting Tuesday, pointing out the protective face shield which is now a requirement by the Michigan Occupational Safety and Health Agency.

Garlock said the previous black helmets could not accommodate the deposited solid waste.

Randy Frykberg, Boyne City city manager, reporting on landfill alternatives a few months ago, said, "Most resource recovery is viable economically when other factors are included like the degradation of the environment." He hopes that in spite of added costs, other methods of reducing solid waste will become acceptable.

He noted that both Ann Arbor and Saginaw are composting leaf collections and using sludge. The materials are used in land improvement projects.

Composting, recycling, and incineration, will help, officials all say, but some waste will still have no place to go but the dump, thus the reasoning to make landfills last as long as possible.

The black helmets have been in use for about 15 years, Garlock said. The new red ones make the second change in Garlock's own association with the fire department.

The city usually provides the fire fighters' equipment, city manager Randy Frykberg said, but the volunteers wanted to make this contribution to help out.

The helmets cost about $68 apiece and the total purchase was for 20

Pat Sweet named mayor of EJ, replacing Merwin

With the departure from East Jordan of mayor Bill Merwin, city council members appointed a new mayor. Their choice of former councilwoman Pat Sweet followed a probing of the city charter by city attorney Scott Beatty.

Residents had voted a pay raise for the mayor at the November general election in 1984. Since Sweet was on the council when the raise was voted, Beatty interpreted the charter as prohibiting her from accepting the position.

Beatty said according to the charter if the council created a position or increased pay, that council could not put someone into that position.

"The plain thrust of this is to forbid any council from creating a 'sweetheart' position and then putting someone in it," Beatty said, even though obviously, that intent was not involved in the present situation, he said.

But after a brief recess, Beatty learned that the raise wasn't to go into effect until the end of the mayoral term. Sweet's appointment would only go for the 11 months remaining in Merwin's term, therefore she was eligible.

Sweet was present at the meeting, having been previously informed of the projected motion to appoint, so after being sworn in she took the vacant mayor's seat.

Councilman Tim Hoffman, who had been appointed mayor pro tem and who had opened the meeting, said he was not a candidate for the appointment, although Merwin, favoring someone already on the council for the job, had recommended him.

Hoffman said the summer hours of his job would interfere with the extra time required for the position of mayor. Also, he said, he felt he needed more council experience.

In the vote on Sweet's appointment, there were two "nays." One was from councilman Carl Beck and the other from councilman Al Joseph.

Sweet said, in accepting the appointment, "It's flattering and it's an honor, but I want you to know I'm taking it on with a lot of sincerity and determination." Her intention, she said later is to follow through on the programs the council was working on.

Merwin had resigned from the mayor's position after accepting a job transfer to Palisades Nuclear Power Plant near South Haven.

In other business the council approved a new policy for closed minutes. Joseph explained that formerly the tradition had been to seal closed minutes and store them in the city safe. No reproduction could be made and nobody could get at them except with a subpoena.

The new policy states that "the city clerk and council members will be allowed access to the closed minutes," which "will only be viewed in the clerk's office and no reproduction made."

They will continue to be stored in the safe until the council determines it is time to destroy them.

Such minutes are of closed sessions and usually pertain to union negotiations.

The policy follows guidelines of Act #442, known as the Freedom of Information Act and Act #267, P.A. 1976, known as the Open Meetings Act.

Mellon resigns: Candidates sought

Dr. Gary Mellon, treasurer of the Boyne City School Board, and board member since being appointed to fill the remaining term of Shirley Crozier in 1980, resigned effective February 7. His letter to the board cites economic reasons for the resignation.

The resignation was accepted with regret by the board at Monday night's meeting.

The board then slated a special meeting to be held on February 26 to fill the vacancy.

The board asked that anybody interested in the position contact a board member or the administration office of the school system. The appointment will be for filling the term until the June school election.

At the June election, there will be three positions open, two four-year terms and one one-year term.

A Department of Natural Resources [DNR] Conservation Officer [C.O.] and an employee with the Defense Department working as a Volunteer Conservation Officer [V.C.O.], were recent recipients of the distinguished DNR Employee Recognition Award for exceptional performance and service to the Department.

Conservation officer Thomas Sweet and V.C.O. David Williams, both of Boyne City, were each presented an award during the February 7 meeting of the Natural Resources Commission [NRC]. The pair were honored for their combined acts of heroism and prompt actions in arriving at the scene and preventing the drowning of two fishermen whose boat had capsized last September.

"The award represents one of the highest departmental honors bestowed upon an employee by his peers and the DNR Commission," comments NRC chairperson Thomas J. Anderson.

Officer Sweet, employed with the DNR since 1972, works today in Antrim County, and V.C.O. Williams, who has been employed with the defense department since 1972, was on patrol on Lake Charlevoix when they observed a boat with two fishermen aboard capsize. The two men were clinging to the side of the boat when the officers arrived at the scene. Williams and Sweet's prompt actions in assisting the two men to shore, undoubtedly prevented a tragic accident from occurring.

Both Williams and Sweet, along with six other award recipients were honored at a luncheon at Jim's Tiffany Restaurant in Lansing following the presentation.

We all know the story about George Washington cutting down his father's cherry tree with his little hatchet. This story was written by Mason Lock Weems (1759-1825) published in Philadelphia in 1800. The Reverend Weems was a preacher and a book seller. He went about the country with a cart full of books. This story, no doubt, is probably not exactly true as Rev. Weems liked to exaggerate and always had to have a moral to his stories, however it has had some credence through the years.

The early 1800s must have been a great patriotic time for our country as so many people named their sons after George Washington and Benjamin Franklin. My great grandfather, born in 1803, was named George Washington McNeil; later he named his son Benjamin Franklin McNeil, who named his second son B.F. or Benjamin Franklin, we called him Uncle Frank. I grew up reading the cherry tree story as true and I am glad that it has survived through the years. Otherwise how would we have the inspiration to prepare those wonderful cherry desserts every February? Here is a cheery, cherry dessert.

CHERRY SAUCE WITH BRANDY
This fabulous dessert will make any meal a real party. Of course for this use your best crystal stemware. I have been told that crystal should be used often as it is good for the glass to be used.

Ingredients:
1/2 cup sugar
1 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/4 cup brandy
1 tablespoon lemon juice (optional)
1 lb. can pitted cherries in heavy syrup

Combine sugar and cornstarch in a 1 quart glass bowl. Gradually add the brandy, stirring to a smooth paste. Add lemon juice and cherries. Stir to blend well.

For microwave cover bowl and microwave at high 10 to 13 minutes or until sauce is hot and thickened, stirring twice. Serve warm over ice cream or cake.

For stove top, pour mixture into a heavy saucepan after all ingredients are blended and cook at a medium heat until thick, stirring constantly. Here is a way to use those cherry nuggets, sold throughout our area. This is one of my favorite breakfasts, made in the microwave. Of course, those delicious nuggets could be added to any dish of cereal.

FRUITY OATMEAL
2 cups hot water
1 cup quick cooking oatmeal
1/2 cup cherry nuggets or raisins
1/8 cup packed brown sugar
1/8 teaspoon salt

Topping:
1 tablespoon butter
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
a dash of nutmeg, ginger, allspice

Combine water, oats, fruit, sugar and salt in a 1 1/2 qt. casserole. Cover.

Microwave on high about 4 minutes or until oatmeal bubbles and thickens, stirring twice.

Add all of the topping ingredients and stir to blend. Cover and let set 3 minutes before serving.

This will serve 2 generously.

Now, if you want a really old-fashioned dessert, try this

CHERRY SLUMP

Take 2 cups of fresh, canned or frozen cherries
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Bring to a boil then drop the following mixture onto the boiling cherries by spoonful.
1 cup flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup milk

Mix flour, baking powder, salt and add the milk gradually. When all of this mixture is spooned over the boiling cherries, cover and cook 25 minutes over medium heat. Remove the cover and cook 10 minutes.

Serve with cream. These are really cherry dumplings and so good. When making this recipe with canned cherries, just sweeten to taste, add the cinnamon and other spices and continue with the rest of the recipe.

Boyer Valley Medical clinic expands scope, adds doctors

A new concept is coming to Boyne City: Dr. Richard Mansfield calls it the total health center. Mansfield explained that Boyne Valley Medical Clinic is now on its way to becoming Boyne Valley Wellness Center.

A signal participant of the new concept is Dr. Harry Custer's role in surgery. As a certified specialist in the field, he will perform ambulatory surgery and surgical consultations each Thursday. Dorothy Custer, a trained surgical nurse is another part of the team.

An addition, expected this summer, will be Dr. Thomas McKeon, presently at East Jordan Family Health Center. The concept includes prevention as well as rehabilitation, said Mansfield. On the expanded staff will be a physical therapist, an inhalation therapist—both trained technicians. Two registered nurses will also serve as therapeutic masseuses.

"Then we're going to have a room for recreational exercise," said Mansfield. He added that they are planning for weight watching, and a room for Nautilus equipment, "to keep you shipshape," said Custer with a smile. A dietician will provide nutritional consultation.

The clinic will eventually have a hot tub, whirlpool, and sauna. To accommodate all these improvements, the doctors will remodel and enlarge the present facility which is located on M-75, north.

"This is the coming thing," explained Custer. Part of the concept is the wellness aspect and part is the expanded clinic aspect, where, as Custer said, "You get more for your health dollar," because in comparison with clinics, hospitals have a much greater expense to meet.

Custer noted the difference between Boyne Valley Wellness Center and the East Jordan Family Health Center. The Health Center receives government funding for serving a particular area need. It is not fully supported by fees as the Wellness Center is.

Custer described the Wellness Center as "a private venture with private practitioners."

According to Mansfield, the Center will serve a larger area than Charlevoix County. "The clinic already does," he said.

Mansfield, an osteopathic physician, is a family practitioner with a special interest in sports medicine. He has been in Boyne City since 1969. Custer, from Charlevoix is general surgeon and chief of the department of surgery at Charlevoix Area Hospital, where he has been for 15 years.

Dorothy Custer's special training was for a career in surgical nursing.

Put all together, it is as Custer said, "Trying to keep people well."

Church conference for area choir directors slated

First Congregational Church of Traverse City is sponsoring a Church Music Conference for area choir directors and organists on Saturday, March 16. Designed for churches of all denominations, the conference features guest clinician Melvin Larimer of Albion College. Session topics include choral techniques and literature, music for the small church choir, an organist's seminar, a conductor - workshop, children's choirs techniques and literature, and music for the church soloist. Time will be available for informal discussion with the clinicians, as well as for examining the exhibits of music and materials from Publishers Outlet of Nashville and Rainbow Bookstore of Traverse City.

Persons desiring more information about the workshop should call First Congregational Church at (616) 947-6698.

The battle for your dollars begins right here

It's that time again — tax time. If you want to keep more of what you earn, you can. Start today by opening an Individual Retirement Account at First National Bank and Trust.

Frankly, for most taxpayers, the IRA provides the best combination of dollar benefits and safety — that is, a substantial "right now" tax reduction and FDIC protection for your retirement plan.

The larger your IRA contribution, up to the allowable limit*, appearing on the IRA line in the "Adjustments to Income" section of your 1984 tax form, the less you pay in taxes — its that simple.

—with an FNB&T IRA, both the amounts of those contributions and the interest they earn are tax deferred — the immediate benefits of an IRA.

—your IRA plan will grow in value rapidly over the years, helping to assure a comfortable, secure retirement — the long-term advantage of an IRA.

First National Bank and Trust offers a variety of easy-to-understand IRA options — all paying market — competitive interest rates. One plan allows deposits any time for as little as $100.

Our Branch Managers and Deposit Account Representatives will be happy to explain our IRA's and discuss your personal savings objectives. We'll help you in the "battle" to keep more of what you earn.

*2,000 annual maximum contribution for singles
$4,000 annually for married couples when both work
$2,250 annually with a non-employed spouse
There are substantial penalties for early withdrawal from IRA's.

What is alcoholism and why is it considered a chemical dependency?

Chemical dependency occurs when a person becomes physically and/or psychologically reliant on a chemical substance such as alcohol, pills or "street drugs". Because alcohol is a sedative drug, alcoholism is considered a chemical dependency.

Above all, alcoholism is a disease. A disease that affects men, women and teenagers in ever-increasing numbers and usually involves the use of more than one drug. The use of other drugs or chemicals such as sleeping pills, valium or marijuana, in combination with alcohol is called cross-dependency.

A 28-day residential treatment center for alcoholism and other chemical dependencies is now open at Alpena General Hospital.

Marshall Sayles

Knowing what has happened in Boyne City does not bother me; it's not knowing what is going to happen in Boyne City that drives me batty.

I held a state Lotto ticket when the top prize was nearly fourteen million big ones. Chewing about it in bed, I decided that in no way could I suffer the indigestion brought on by winning all that loot. I'm too old to have my stomach cluttered up with money sickness. When six people hit the jackpot and divided the cabbage, I let out a sigh of relief louder than those heard when county road trucks come to sand Marshall road hill.

I was born in Boyne City, raised and reared here and taught how to keep the cows from the corn. Although I do not live in the city proper at this time, I am still a citizen. In fact, whenever I walk through town I feel so tall my head touches heaven. (That's a true fact. I have never written a false fact in my life.)

Listen to how Mother Nature rattles her chains: When it freezes in Florida, fruit growers go belly up. When it does not freeze in northern Michigan, ski lodge owners walk around with their stomachs out of joint. But the weather cannot satisfy each and all at the same time. I know. I have fought northern Michigan weather for more than 50 years and it's still laughing at me.

Just between the two of us....
Wife: What would people say if they knew that all the valuable contributions you have made through your columns came from a man who puts peanut butter on his pancakes?

Me: Other living egg-heads have worse foibles and I don't see a great throng questioning the drivels from their nogginns.

Wife: I don't care what you say. If you don't break that habit, your wit will suffer. In fact, it will become unacceptable to the great mass you like to report as huddled.

Me: The inner recesses of my brain tell me differently. So hush. I'm writing my column and I've got some fresh wisdom to spout.

Wife: Ok, take leave of your senses and see if I care.

Me: Before I forget, pick up the smooth kind the next time you are in town. I can't stand that crunchy kind.

Next month I shall hang a right and turn into another year of having lived upon this earth—most of the time. There was a period when I went broke living in the clouds.

Ma Nature zeroed in refusing to let my car operate on more than one lung. It backfired, swore, rattled and finally started in a puff of smoke, seconds before it became boneyard material.

That afternoon I went in a huff to look over the new cars, merely to scare the Devil out of my old one, I guess. Holy old scored crankshaft! Four wheels and a plastic box costs nearly three times what I paid for that nice, old one-lunger sitting out there in the street. I was going to faint, but the auto salesman was a woman so I held on and managed a slight swoon.

She told me what they would allow for my car and said they would run the balance over three years. I heard, but I was confused. It was the first time I had been confronted with such a high price from a woman salesman.

Still flustered, I took my pen to see what the monthly payments would be. As my hand shook I divided the total by 36, dropped my garbage and carried my laundry; then I dotted the two zeros. Wow! The way I figured it, there was no way I could afford a new automobile.

I went out, got into my old car and drove off. The old girl never ran so good.

My wife went shopping and I was at home alone without a thing to fiddle around with. So I sat in an easy chair reading the paper until she got back. It was the second time this week that I have behaved myself when it wasn't necessary.

Have a happy Valentine's Day. Buy candy for your wife, but keep your fingers out of it.

Remembrances

When the weather has been as rotten as it can get in the middle of the winter, then comes the time to dig out a remembrance picture that brings back the good old days down at the swimming hole. Only this really wasn't a swimming hole, it was the mill pond on the Boyne River that these young men are jumping and diving into during a summer back in the early twenties. They say that they found this perfect piece of slabwood to make their diving board, stuck it into the bank of the river and proceeded to have some fun as only kids can do in the summer. We wonder how many other children of the day took advantage of the river for swimming in between the logs for the lumber mills?

Barbara Cruden

It is very bothersome, and also rather revealing that I can't find a good comprehensible word for "get up and do." It needs to be a word that includes industriousness, energy, productivity, initiative, responsibility, diligence, and just being a hard worker.

No one of these words suffices. Yet the concept is of first rank importance. Does the fact that we have no proper term signify that we are discounting the importance of industriousness, diligence, initiative, and all that?

Maybe we take it for granted. Still, there should be a word for such a world-turning entity, if only for praising it.

That may be the problem. The rich are not supposed to work, and therefore work is a lowly necessity like blowing one's nose. So one rarely holds work up for admiration and praise.

Workingness (in place of no word at all), however, is an admirable idea. It is one of the three chief aspects of being human. The other two are love and truth.

And here with these two terms, we have the opposite problem. We have the words, but we don't seem to share precise meanings for love or truth.

I remember the day when I got a very good sense of what love is. I had been trying to be a good mother to what I was coming to think of as some naughty children. Also, there were the neighbors...

I went to the window in frustration, and as I looked out, I suddenly saw the sun was shining so mellowly upon us all. There was hardly a place where darkness could hide. From then on that was my symbol of the meaning of love.

Then there's truth, that logical debt we owe each other. It seems to have about as bad a time as love does. Some people even flatly say there is no truth.

As in workingness, it takes a host of aspects to add up to the whole idea of truth: honor, faithfulness, honesty, purity, clarity, consistency, recognizability, and provability are some. It would be impossible to say these don't exist!

And as for the existence of absolute truth—I don't see how we can deny that, when we don't yet have absolute truthfulness.

Workingness, love, and truth are the tripod of our existence. And they are a tripod because if any one fails, the others fail, too. They are intriguingly interactive, for love must be truthful and truth endures because of love, and both need work every-day, and both make work worthwhile.

Many other qualities are desirable. A sense of humor, imagination, intelligence, but they are all worthless if the tripod fails. Indeed, it is love, truth, and work that develop other qualities.

The marvelous thing, actually, is that the tripod doesn't fail. We fail it. But we can always begin again, and we can find out that we never run out of love, truth, or the power to work in some capacity.

Jottings

BY JIM SILBAR

My attempts to get new things for our area haven't been going so good.

Like trying to get half of the Zilwaukee Bridge to go over the Boyne River, or getting the whole bridge to go over the whole Ironton ferry narrows. And the attempt to have the county seat moved over to Boyne City by putting a new jail on this side of the county.

Another attempt was to have our get-business director to go after the new Saturn automobile plant.

All of these did not create a thing. I won't say that the ideas were hairbrained, but, most were definitely off the wall and were meant to create some thoughts as to what we need or want in the area to provide a good solid economic base for the community.

I guess I will just have to continue on with the attempt to create some thoughts.

Like those people who have told me that we should put a bubble over the whole city, from one side of the town to the other. This plastic bubble would let the sunlight through, and if there was no sun, we could hang a great big light in the center of the dome so that we could always have sunshine in our town.

The bubble idea is not new, it just hasn't been done anywhere other than a football stadium.

Just think of the many jobs that could be created by this one. Steelworkers to walk up and down the arches that would support all that plastic. Glazers to put the plastic windows into the spaces between the supports, electricians to wire up the lights, and most importantly, the entire group of sidewalk supervisors who will say that the entire project will never get off the ground.

Just hundreds and hundreds of people will be needed to tell those who have the ideas that they will not work. They are also the same ones who don't want to see the changes that are happening to our communities already. They are the folks that want us to maintain the status quo, never change a thing and have no progress at all in the community, just when we have things going right.

The only problem with having to deal with no growth, no progress, and no change is that if we do, the community will soon die off and will be like a town somewhere in the U.P. that used to have mining as its base. With the lack of mines, the town just rotted into the past memories of those who may have had parents or relatives who worked there, grew up there, and died and are buried there.

Now, I don't know if that is what we want for our towns, but I hope that it doesn't happen while I am still here.

I like a town that has the energy to hold festivals, to get the merchants behind community projects, and to have all the volunteers dedicating themselves to the many things that help make the town a great place to live.

We presently have a lot of that going on in both Boynes and East Jordan.

And I hope that all the ideas will continue to help develop the community to the way that we want it to be or to become.

Editor,

I was an adopted child and, now that I am an adult of 20, I am searching for my natural twin brothers. I was advised to write to you in the hopes that your paper could aid me in my search.

I know that my brothers are or were in your area. Their names are Pat and Gerry or perhaps a longer version of those names.

I was adopted in '68 while they were later adopted in '69 or '70. I believe. They were originally adopted out of Scottsville together, but I do not know if they were kept together.

They are 19 years old now. They are approximately 10 months younger than I; my birthdate is 12/31/64. We were in a foster home together in Scottsville until I was adopted; they were later adopted and moved to the Traverse City area.

I am not sure of what exactly you may be able to do, but I would greatly appreciate any and all help in my search for my natural brothers.

Gratefully yours,

Allyn Alana gave the folks at the Boyne City senior luncheon a taste of Hawaii without them having to go there when he presented a fire dance for the dinner guests. The affair was a feature of the senior citizen dinners and featured lots of good food with a Hawaiian flavor. Alana is from Boyne City, while a helper who did the hula, Tammy Bell, came from Petoskey to put on the show.

Nancy La Croix, EJ's woman of courage helping others

BY ELOUISE ROSSLER
 "Just wonderful." "Tremendous courage." "So willing to work." These phrases are typical descriptions of Nancy LaCroix, an East Jordan native confined to a wheelchair by severe spina bifida. The 1976 East Jordan High School graduate is working to gain an Associate Degree in psychology from North Central Michigan College. The eternal optimist, she hopes to complete a four year college program and find a job.
 A break in the spine, which occurred in the second month of pregnancy, causes Nancy to be paralyzed from the waist down. However, this has not stopped her from being ready to try new experiences and challenges or to help others.
 She was the only participant in a wheelchair in the St. Jude's Bike-a-Thon last September, completing her goal of 3 miles. She took driver's education in high school and "loved it."
 As a volunteer in Donna Tison's kindergarten class in the East Jordan Elementary School, she has worked with the children, done bulletin boards, and run errands. "These children are young enough they don't fear me; they accept me," commented Nancy.
 Her philosophy of life revolves around the survival instinct, which she believes gives her the momentum to go on even against the odds of a shortened life span (45-50 years) and the daily irritants such as pressure sores and immobility.

 "Hardly anyone has it as good as it may look," Nancy said. "We are all struggling to meet our own needs." She takes one day at a time and feels it must be made worthwhile and hopes her life will be another brick in the building of progress for the lives of handicapped persons.
 Nancy does not feel that being born with spina bifida was a "mistake of nature." She prefers to think there is a purpose in her handicap.
 Nancy's philosophy of life has been encouraged and supported by Terry Smith, a former CHIP Counseling Center worker, who told her, "I don't have answers for you, but I'll come with you on your journey to discover your own answers."
 Finding someone to be a friend or companion is not easy, Nancy explained. "Most people don't see me, they see the CHAIR." Nancy has suffered loneliness and estrangement throughout her life. Nancy credits her mother, with whom she lives, as being a very important influence in her life, as she has had the sole responsibility of rearing Nancy.

The need for a support group for people in wheelchairs and their families is something she believes is greatly needed. Nancy thinks there are enough persons in the area to form a group if someone took the leadership.
 With her spunkiness and intelligence, it would not be surprising to see Nancy as that leader in the not so distant future.

Irwin legislation protects Lakes water

Declaring 1985 "The Year of the Great Lakes," a coalition of Democratic lawmakers today introduced legislation that would establish a unified strategy for protecting and conserving the Great Lakes and Michigan's water resources.
 State Senator Mitch Irwin (D-Sault Ste. Marie) unveiled the package at a news conference in Lansing earlier this week. Irwin, who has made Great Lakes water resources planning a high priority, was joined in making the announcement by prime co-sponsors Senate Minority Leader William Faust (D-Westland) and Senator Patrick McCollough (D-Deerborn), as well as State Representative Patrick Gagliardi (D-Drummond Island).
 "Michigan has a rich heritage, closely tied with the fortunes of the Great Lakes. The two, in fact, are inseparable," Irwin said. "Water is our economic lifeblood, and we must take every step necessary to protect and conserve this vital asset."
 Gagliardi also stressed the need for planning. "It is no secret that other parts of the country are experiencing severe water shortages and talk of diverting water from the Great Lakes basin to alleviate that problem is not unheard of even today," he said.

 Spearheading the legislative package is a bill establishing an independent Great Lakes and Water Resources Planning Commission. The commission will be charged with developing the comprehensive water management plan for both the Great Lakes and Michigan's inland waters. The plan must be presented to the Governor and Legislature within two years.
 A second bill in the package would place a temporary ban on any new water diversions from the Great Lakes basin to expire one year after the plan is presented. A third bill changes the composition of the Michigan delegation to the eight-state Great Lakes Commission.
 "Our goal is to establish a strong, coherent plan. This package is of the highest priority for this new legislative session and we pledge an all-out effort to assure its passage," Irwin said.
 "The concept of protecting our water resources has been endorsed by the State Chamber of Commerce, the Natural Resources Commission and the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, just to name a few," he added.

Yes, you can protest your property assessment

The Michigan Consumers Council is again reminding Michigan property owners that they can protest their property tax assessments. To assist those consumers, the Council has available a brochure outlining how to review property tax assessments, what to look for in determining the accuracy of the assessments, and how to proceed through an appeal process.
 The pamphlet is one of the most popular informational items published by the Council this time of year as property owners receive their tax assessment notices, while many consumers feel that their tax assessments are unfairly high, many are reluctant to "fight city hall" because they feel it's hopeless.
 "Many assessment changes simply reflect inflation in the housing market," according to Consumers Council Director Kent S. Wilcox. "However, errors are made frequently. These can range from incorrectly computing the tax to an actual error in judging the property's value. The first thing consumers need to do is check the appraisal records in the assessor's office for accuracy," said Wilcox. "It's possible that the appraisal may have been based on assumptions that are simply incorrect, such as stating that the house has a finished basement or fireplace when it doesn't. The appraisal may have also missed defects that might tend to reduce the house's value such as settling or shifting on the foundation."

 The Council advised discussing any errors with the assessor first. Some assessors may be willing to adjust the appraisal, saving the consumer and themselves the nuisance of a formal protest. If the consumer finds it necessary to proceed with a protest, the brochure outlines information that may be useful in documenting a case before a local Board of Review.
 The importance of deadlines is also stressed as each town-

Salvation Army, Consumers Power join together for PeopleCare effort

Citing a continuing widespread need among the elderly, low income and unemployed families for financial assistance with the cost of food, energy and other essentials, officials of the Salvation Army and Consumers Power Company jointly announced the start of the 1985 PeopleCare program recently.

James Haun of Petoskey, Salvation Army Corps, the Salvation Army throughout Michigan will be responsible for administration of the program, including determining eligibility for assistance.

Customers are being asked to pledge $2 by checking a box on their bills. The utility will match the first $100,000 of contributions with an equal amount of bill credits. More than $2 can be given by making out a separate check payable to "The Salvation Army PeopleCare Program" and returning it with the bill payment.

The bill credits, targeted for Consumers Power Co. residential customers, will be used on a "last resort" basis when no other form of energy assistance is available to that customer.

PeopleCare has made an important difference in the lives of thousands of people," said Brigadier Larned. "It's a program that works." The Salvation Army, one of the oldest non-profit social service organizations in the U.S., was selected to distribute the funds raised by Consumers Power Co. because it has a statewide organizational network already experienced at screening applicants and processing aid.

BF varsity, JV's drop two in Mackinaw City

In Mackinaw City the JV Comets defeated the Loggers late in the game. On this play Chad Robinson puts one up from near the baseline.

BY JERRY FROATS

Friday night found the Boyne Falls' Loggers making a long trip to Mackinaw City where they took on the Comets and dropped both varsity and JV games. The JV squad went down 62-52, and the varsity game went 66-37 for the Comets.

The varsity Loggers had problems from the opening tip as the Comets played a blistering fast break that left the Loggers behind 17-9 after one quarter of action. Mackinaw got lots of rebounds on both ends of the court and passed to the outlets very quickly and sped away with 37-19 at halftime score. At the half, conference power Buddy Winnans of Mackinaw had scored 18 points, while playing a strong game under both boards.

Mackinaw took a 53-31 advantage into the closing period as the Loggers had problems hanging onto the ball all night long and the Comets seemed to hit everything they threw at the hoop.

Ross Payton led

Boyer Falls in scoring with 12 points, while Steve Jarema had 10 points. Brian Bennett scored 3 points while Ron Reynolds, David Gillespie, and Bill Sparks contributed 2 points each.

In the JV game things went pretty much the same way as the Mackinaw JVs played the same style of run and gun offense that kept Boyne Falls on the low end of the scoreboard.

Mackinaw took an 18-13 first period lead and stretched it out to a 10 point lead at the half, 34-24. The Loggers did get close to the Comets, 32-34, midway through the third quarter, but Mackinaw got a second wind and rolled through the remainder of the period.

In the final quarter Boyne Falls was down 38-46 and opened the period with a series of press breakers and offensive rebounds as they closed the margin to 47-48 on an outside shot by Matt Crego. Crego tied the score at 50-all with another long shot, but as in period three, the Comets got the fast break going again and closed the game on the run.

Crego led the Loggers with 18 points, while Chad Robinson scored 11 points. Chuck Skop was good for 6 points and Joe Kondrat, Kyle Carson, and Pat Topolinski all scored 5 points each. Joe Matelski added 2 points for the Loggers.

Tuesday at Wolverine the JV team won in a barn-burner 49-48 and the varsity squad lost 59-51.

In the varsity game Payton scored 17 points, Jarema and Bennett scored 10 each, Sparks had 8, Gillespie had 4, and Neil Wasylewski contributed 2 points.

Leading the JV team to victory was Robinson with 12 points, Carson scored 10, Matelski had 8, Skop and Kondrat totaled 6 each, and Topolinski had 7 points.

In varsity action at Mackinaw City, David Gillespie breaker and fast break were the dominant factors and Tim Czerckies boxed Buddy Winnans out of the game as they won 66-37. this play as Bill Sparks looks on. The Comets press

BC and EJ in conference meet

BY JERRY FROATS

Boyer Mountain U.S.A. hosted the Northern Michigan Ski Team Monday afternoon, where the Petoskey Northmen won the boys' overall and Charlevoix won the girls' overall team standings. Boyne City girls took the fifth position and East Jordan girls were seventh. In boys' competition, Boyne City was seventh and East Jordan ran eighth. Nine schools were represented in the meet and included Grayling, Harbor Springs, Gaylord, Sault Ste. Marie, and Bellaire.

For the East Jordan girls, Shelly Malpass placed 22nd in slalom and 31st in giant slalom. Jody McDermott placed 24th in slalom and giant slalom, Patty Nessel was 22nd in giant slalom. Miney Zoulek was 44th in giant slalom. Angie Zoulek was 34th in giant slalom, and Jane Crawford was 32nd in giant slalom.

Miriam Smith was 4th in giant slalom for Boyne City, while placing 13th in slalom. Colleen Toton was 25th in both slalom and giant slalom, Yvonne Hulett was 33rd in slalom and 37th in giant slalom, and Heidi Erber was 38th in giant slalom.

In boys' competition Leon Carey was 32nd in slalom for East Jordan and 25th in giant slalom. Steve Healey was 29th in slalom and 31st in giant slalom, John Stark was 35th in slalom and 41st in giant slalom, Mike Brooke was 43rd in slalom and 39th in giant slalom, Steve Dionne was 55th in slalom and 45th in giant slalom, Dan Bennett was 41st in slalom and 51st in giant slalom.

For Boyne City Joe Schlink was 45th in slalom and 24th in giant slalom, Derek Smith was 24th in slalom and 27th in giant slalom, Peter Smith was 55th in slalom and 42nd in giant slalom, John Hubbard was 36th in slalom and 46th in giant slalom, Jon Hartwell was 38th in slalom and 40th in giant slalom, and John McLeod was 33rd in slalom and 48th in giant slalom.

Third quarter action found the Ramblers struggling to hold their lead as Boyne was lacking in the rebound-

BY JERRY FROATS

Boyer Mountain hoopsters played the Kalkaska Blazers Monday evening and ended up losing a close one 45-44. The Ramblers got another high scoring effort from Mike DeSchrivver.

Boyer Mountain took the early lead 3-0 but the Blazers were tough inside the key and kept the Ramblers from getting any offensive rebounds in the first period. Kalkaska's full court press broke the Rambler lead down in short order as they closed the quarter leading 8-5.

Boyer Mountain's Frosh played better defense in the second period and took the lead early with some nice shooting by Tim Hennessey. DeSchrivver got a three point play three minutes into the quarter and gave the Ramblers a 12-8 advantage.

The Blazers came right back at them and tied the score a 16-all on one-for-one free throws. Brian Napont hit from the top of the key to give Boyne City an 18-16 lead and George Lasater added his soft touch at the charity stripe for a 20-17 score. After two more free throws from DeSchrivver, the Ramblers were in front 22-17 at the half.

Third quarter action found the Ramblers struggling to hold their lead as Boyne was lacking in the rebounding department. DeSchrivver opened the third period scoring for the Ramblers with a drive to the inside and a pair of free throws.

After that it was give and go for both teams as Kalkaska tightened the score with their fast break.

The Blazers had caught up at 30 points for a tie, but Kevin Beebe was timely on a long connection to give Boyne the edge and Kevin Hunt sank a pair of free throws for a 34-30 lead. Kalkaska made a last chance effort by driving through the Ramblers' zone defense and closed the period trailing 34-32.

The Blazers began to get inside the Ramblers' defense in the final period and out-rebounded Boyne as two teams traded baskets and Kalkaska took a 40-38 lead.

Hennessey assisted to DeSchrivver and tied it up at 40 points.

The bucket was good and a foul was committed for DeSchrivver's second three point play of the game.

The three point play gave the Ramblers a 42-43 lead, but as time ran short in the game, the Blazers took advantage of some Rambler fouls and won at the charity stripe.

DeSchrivver led the Ramblers in scoring with 25 points, Hennessey scored 9, Kevin Beebe had 3, while Hunt, Lasater, and Napont scored 2 points each.

DeSchrivver led Boyne in rebounding with 10, while Hennessey had 6, and Aaron Richards and Lasater had 4 each.

EJ nips Boyne JV's

BY STEVE GEE

East Jordan's junior varsity upped their overall record to nine wins and four losses by nipping the visiting Ramblers of Boyne City, 74-73. Boyne beat the Red Devils 72-58 earlier this season.

East Jordan jumped out to an early 8-4 lead and by the end of the first period, they held a 7 point edge on the Ramblers, 23-16. In the second period, the Devils were leading by 8, 29-21, but minutes later, the score was 35-33. The Red Devils added 3 more points before halftime and led 38-33 at the intermission.

East Jordan came out of the locker room raring to go and built up a 48-36 lead. But the Ramblers didn't give up. They forced East Jordan to turn the ball over and closed to within three, 54-51 at the period's end. The Ramblers tied the score at 61-61 in the fourth and from there on, the lead traded hands a total of six times. It was the Red Devils of East Jordan who came out on the top of a 74-73 victory.

East Jordan sank 28 field goals, were 18-32 from the free throw line, pulled down 41 rebounds, and blocked four shots. Greg Kitson led the scoring attack with 25 points. Kevin Molby totaled 21 and Shannon Olstrom added 10. Molby grabbed 13 rebounds, Olstrom had 8 and Ted Snowden totaled 7.

Boyer Mountain sank 32 field goals, were 9 for 15 from the free throw line, pulled down 33 rebounds and blocked 7 shots.

Jim Raymond had 6 of the 7 blocks. Steve Stutzman was outstanding and scored 32 points in a losing effort. Scott Beebe totaled 14 and Steve Sutton added 11. Beebe had 9 rebounds and Raymond pulled down 8.

The action ran fast and furious in the preliminary game between East Jordan and Boyne City. Here Greg Kitson of the Red Devils and Rambler Steve Sutton try to get possession of the ball.

Devils still lead Ski Valley Conference

BY STEVE GEE

The Ski Valley Conference leading East Jordan Red Devils, topped the Central Lake Trojans 82-62 during Friday night play. East Jordan's twin towers, Mike Goebel (6-4) and Gary Coolman (6-5) scored 26 and 21 points, respectively.

East Jordan jumped out to an early 8-2 lead in the first period. The Trojans fought back to take their only lead at 18-17. At the end of the first period, the Red Devils led 21-20. East Jordan out-scored Central Lake, 19-11, in the second period, to lead 40-31 at halftime.

The Red Devils continued their fine play throughout the second half, leading 63-50 at the end of the third period. The Red Devils added 7 more points to their lead in the final period, as they won easily, 82-62.

East Jordan sank 31 field goals, were 20-31 from the free throw line, pulled down 54 rebounds, and blocked five shots.

Scott Hart pitched in 14 points for East Jordan, and Tom Galmore added 8. Goebel and Coolman each grabbed 15 rebounds and Hart snagged 11. Goebel blocked three shots, while Coolman blocked a pair.

East Jordan will host Mancelona this Friday.

Lassiter named to state committee

Sheriff George T. Lassiter of the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department, selected as one of four sheriffs from Michigan to represent the state on a President's Task Force for Victims and Witnesses, met in Detroit for a week's seminar with law enforcement representatives from Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Ohio and Missouri.
The purpose of the Task Force is to inform citizens and establish programs to assist victims and witnesses of crimes.

Sheriff Lassiter states that in our country's justice system we need accountability toward the treatment of victims. The scales of justice nationwide must be balanced, not only does the perpetrator have rights, but the victims must have rights and fair treatment by the system.
We do not have that balance now, unfortunately, it seems that the system has gone overboard on the rights of the perpetrators and have forgotten victim's rights in many cases.

Our criminal justice system must care for the rights of the victims-witnesses as well as the rights of the perpetrators. Rights on both must be comparable, any of us can be a victim at any time.
These programs and the concept of rights for victims-witnesses have the support of the three judges in our county who have the same concern as the sheriff and will continue to keep these concerns as a priority item.
If any individual or organization would like to assist with this new concept, please contact Sheriff Lassiter at 547-4461.

East Jordan avenges early season loss- beats Boyne City

BY JERRY FROATS

The last time that two inter-county rivals, East Jordan and Boyne City met each other in varsity basketball competition, the Boyne City Ramblers ran away with the game. It was not to be so this time as the Red Devils avenged their earlier season loss 54-49. The win was not easily gained by East Jordan as Boyne had a terrific run at the Devils in the fourth period, but the South Arm hoopsters held on to the end.

First quarter action got underway with Rambler Nick Redman taking the tip and driving to the hoop to give Boyne the first score of the game. The Ramblers' 2-1-2 defense held and on the opposite end of the court, Scott Penny hit from the key and the Ramblers led 4-0.

After Boyne scored another basket, Gary Coolman put the Red Devils on the scoreboard with two charity tosses and the rest of his team began to play better basketball.

Scott Hart scored the Devils' first shot from the floor with 3:55 remaining to play in the period for a score of 8-4 in the Ramblers' favor. Both teams took piles of defensive rebounds and were unable to pick up their own missed shots, as Redman scored Boyne's tenth point from the side of the key.

East Jordan began to hit from outside with a pair of 18 footers from Hart and Aaron Spence. With a 10-10 tie and 10 seconds showing on the clock, Todd Nachazel was good from the side of the key and East Jordan went on top 12-10 as time expired.

The Devils opened the second period by scoring two buckets from the efforts of their full court press and held the Ramblers scoreless for the first four minutes of the quarter.

Hart continued to be dominant in the high shooting percentage area as the Devils took a 24-10 lead. The Ramblers scored 8 points in the last two minutes of the quarter with Merle Carson wrapping up the first half scoring to make it 26-18 for East Jordan.

In the third period Boyne City had trouble hanging on to their rebounds and the Red Devils put on a stingy press. East Jordan scored heavily on offensive rebounds with Coolman and Mike Goebel controlling the action.

With three minutes left in the quarter, Paul Zinck entered the game for Boyne City and began to turn on the steam. Zinck began to take control of both boards and became a threat to the East Jordan offense as he blocked a couple of shots and tied Coolman up for a couple of minutes. Zinck scored the last two points of the quarter on an offensive rebound and East Jordan led 43-32.

East Jordan continued to apply full court pressure in the fourth period, but as Zinck assisted Redman off the tip, Boyne City began to take the momentum of the game away from the Red Devils.

The Ramblers used a press of their own and got back in the game with a steal from Mike Gabos that converted to a bucket. Gabos popped in a free throw and Redman hit again as the Ramblers pulled closer with a 41-43 score.

Coolman broke the fourth quarter drought for the Devils, hitting from the key and added a couple of free throws along with Goebel as East Jordan began to pull away and took over control of the game.

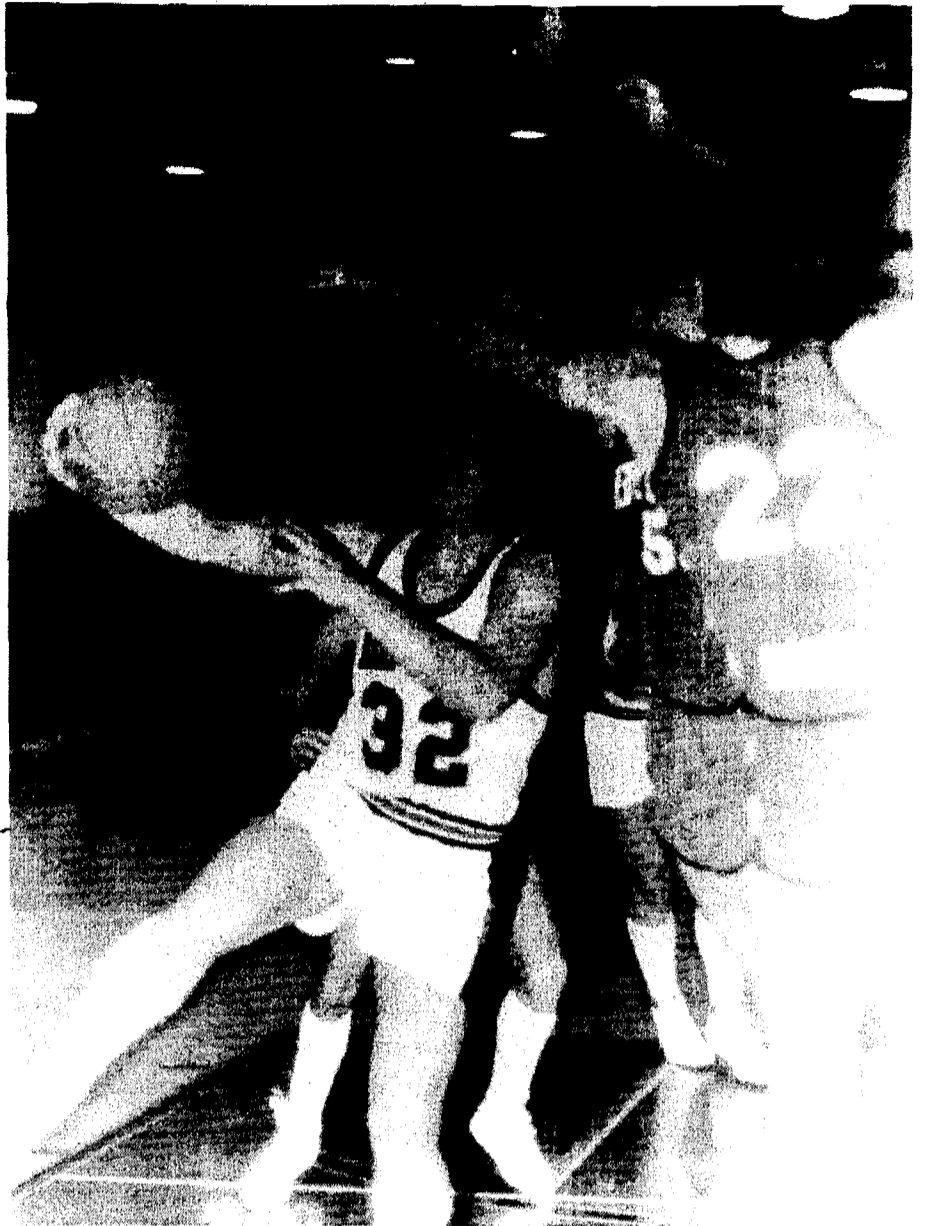

Hart led the winners with a 16 point game while Goebel finished up with 14. Coolman was also in double figures at 12 points while Tom Galmore totaled 6 points, Spence had 4, and Nachazel had 2 points.

For Boyne City Redman led all scorers in the game with 18 points. Zinck, Carson, and Penny scored 6 points each, Gabos had 7, Chris Jenkins had 3, while Steve Rickard had 2, and Kevin Snyder had 1 point.

Friday night, the Ramblers took their second win over the Rogers City Hurons and ended their seven game losing streak. The team also lost two of their starters as Carson and Jeff Johnson dropped out of basketball competition.

Boyne City led over the Hurons 12-10 after one period of action and led 32-24 at the half. The third quarter score ran 48-34 for the Ramblers and they finished with a winning score of 67-52.

Redman scored 23 points while Penny totaled 18 and Gabos scored 12 points. Rickard and Zinck had 4 each while Kevin Snyder and Tony Napont added 3 points each.

Scott Hart (32) played a terrific game inside the key while Merle Carson (5), and Kevin Snyder (22) try to block the shot.

Tony Napont came up with the ball on this play and looks downcourt for a possible fast break, while Aaron Spence (34) and Gary Coolman are unable to get a hand on the ball. Paul Zinck (30) was in good rebounding position, but the missed shot caromed long to Napont.

Red Devils trounce Mancy

BY STEVE GEE

The East Jordan Red Devils showed why they were at the top of the Ski Valley Conference Friday night as they easily defeated the visiting Mancelona Ironmen, 71-43.

Mancelona's only lead in the game came when they took the opening jump-ball in for a 2-0 lead. The Red Devils then started their first of many streaks and led 12-4 midway into the period. East Jordan led by 10 at the end of the first period, 24-24. The Red Devils showed no mercy in the second period as they outscored them 19-7 to take a 43-21 halftime lead into the locker rooms.

East Jordan led 54-33 at the end of the third period and finished with a 28 point win, 71-43.

The Red Devils sank

31 field goals, were 9-12 (75 percent) from the free throw line, pulled down 46 rebounds, blocked 5 shots and committed a mere 8 fouls.

Mike Goebel led the victors with 21 points. Gary Coolman totaled 13, James Price scored 12 and Thom Ashton added 8. Coolman led the team with 12 rebounds, Goebel grabbed 9 and Scot Hart snagged 8 caroms.

East Jordan will host the Gaylord St. Mary's Snowbirds in Friday night action.

EJ volleyballers lose to Gaylord JV's win

BY STEVE GEE

East Jordan had a little twist in volleyball action Wednesday night as they hosted Gaylord. With over half of the varsity team benched, four junior varsity girls: Teresa Poole, Kathy Knop, Kristy Burt and Michele Gibbard, were brought up to play on the squad.

East Jordan lost the match by scores of 15-4, 12-15, 15-4 and 15-9. In the first game, Poole had three serving points. The Red Devils received excellent serving from the newcomers in the second game as Poole served for 5 points and Burt served for 4. Out of East Jordan's total 32 points, 24 were scored by the four junior varsity members.

East Jordan's junior varsity won their match by scores of 6-15, 15-12 and 15-11. Michele Gibbard served for 5 points in the second game. In game three, Rachel McWatters served for 6 points and Teresa Poole served for four. Kathy Knop playing very good defense making many nice saves.

Gaylord brought along a freshman squad. The Red Devils JV team is made up of both freshman and sophomores so two sophomores had to play along with the freshman during the two game match.

East Jordan lost the first game 15-7 but won the second 15-7. In the victory, Rachel McWatters scored 7 serving points.

EJ JV's take close one 57-53

BY STEVE GEE

East Jordan's junior varsity beat the Mancelona Ironmen 57-53. It was another close victory for the Red Devils and they had to come from behind to do it. East Jordan was led by Greg Kitson who gave a 28 point performance.

The two teams were in a 10-10 deadlock at the first period's end. The Red Devils led 20-19 midway through the second period and at halftime the Red Devils led 29-25.

East Jordan came out strong in the third period and led 39-31 early into the period. The Ironmen then put in 9 straight points to lead 40-39 at the end of the third stanza. The Devils quickly regained the lead and sailed on to a 57-53 victory. The Red Devils sank 26 field goals, were 5-6 from the free throw line, grabbed 30 rebounds, blocked two shots and committed 13 fouls.

Ted Snowden totaled

10 points, Terry Burt scored 8 and Kevin Molby added 7 points. Kitson led the team with 10 rebounds and Shannon Olstrom and Don Reich each grabbed 6.

One of the first things that children learn to do when they have a ski lesson is learn to follow the leader. Whether or not it is to put the skis away in an orderly fashion before they have a hot chocolate break, or walk with the equipment to get closer to the lift lines - they follow their instructors with a passion. These children with their equipment all askew, were walking in for a hot chocolate break at Boyne Mountain some weeks ago.

"Ski Country" sets attendance records

If the ski industry is serious about turning "dilettantes" into "aficionados," they have a partner in Warren Miller Enterprises, Inc.

business does more to reach beginning and occasional skiers than Warren Miller," notes company vice president Paul Gongaware. "Too few people in the ski industry understand the reach of a Warren Miller film. Every year we're exposing millions of non-skiers and casual skiers to the adventure and fun of skiing. The numbers are staggering."

Warren Miller's current feature-length film, "Ski Country," has already completed 47 showings where Warren appeared live to narrate the film. Bookings were all across the United States and Canada in major auditoriums with an average of about 3,000 seats.

"More than half of the personal appearances were sold out," Gongaware said. "Overall, 'Ski Country' played to about 90 percent capacity. That's about 130,000 people who paid an average of about $7 each to spend a couple of hours being entertained with ski action."

In addition to Warren's personal appearances, through January 1, Island Alive, the national distributor of the 35mm theater version, had booked "Ski Country" into movie theaters in New York, New Jersey, Denver, Minneapolis, Milwaukee and many other areas. Additional theatrical bookings will continue to be made into early March. Island Alive is the distributor of the current theatrical hits, "Choose Me" and "Stop Making Sense." "Ski Country" opened in 35 theaters in the metropolitan New York area in late November. It was run in seven multiscreen theaters in Denver and attracted more than 25,000 theatergoers in the first three weeks of the run. In five of the seven multi-screen theaters, "Ski Country" was the top grossing film.

"Ski Country" has also been rented on a seasonal basis by 25 major U.S. destination ski resorts and is being shown daily in some resorts and at least once a week in all others.

Warren Miller Enterprises, Inc., has also booked and promoted "Ski Country" with Warren Miller's narration on the sound track directly into auditoriums across the U.S. and Canada. An additional 161 showings through the end of December were sponsored by organizations or clubs who rented "Ski Country" for an entertainment program or fund-raising opportunity.

"We have been interested in the ski industry reaction to the Milton Brand study of skiers," Gongaware said. "Their study seems to indicate that the serious skier, the 'aficionado,' and the casual skier, the 'dil-ettante," are worlds apart in their approach to skiing. The industry has concentrated on the serious skier for too long.

"Suddenly everyone seems to have accepted the challenge of how to turn casual skiers into more serious skiers as a key to future industry growth," Gongaware said. "Warren Miller films have always shown skiing on a level that the new skier could understand and identify with."

"Warren Miller has been turning casual skiers into serious skiers for 35 years. But not too many people have recognized Warren's contribution because he has operated almost independently of the formal industry. He has entertained skiers and would-be skiers every year without asking for or receiving direct support from the ski industry."

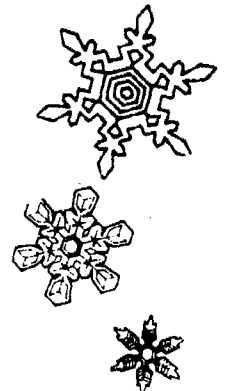

"It's impossible to pin down the exact numbers in looking ahead for 'Ski Country,' but we believe somewhere in the area of 5 to 6 million people will see 'Ski Country' during the lifetime of the film."

"That includes future film rentals, video sales and videocassette rentals, cable television and distribution of the film and videocassettes overseas. Several recent Warren Miller ski films have already been run on the Disney Channel during the past year or so. Each one runs several times and Disney already has over a million subscribers. In addition to all that, footage from 'Ski Country' goes into our film library for use in television commercials and in commercial films."

Gongaware, a serious recreational skier, joined Warren Miller Enterprises, Inc., last spring when Warren Miller Productions, Inc., and Eric Chandler, Ltd., joined forces to develop new opportunities for growth.

Gongaware is responsible for the day-to-day business operations of Warren Miller Enterprises, Inc. Before joining Warren Miller, his most recent assignment was for Concerts West as a producer of the Neil Diamond tour. He has also worked with Elvis Presley, Michael Jackson, Led Zeppelin and Rick James.

PACK THE HOLE IN BUMPS

When steep mogul runs become icy, snow-ski contact is the name of the game. If you allow yourself to get thrown into the air, you'll be out of control in seconds.

Skiing over mogul tops as much as possible (instead of in the troughs) is a good approach to skiing icy bumps. This naturally involves a lot of absorption (A) and extension of leg joints.

It's during the extension phase on the downside of the mogul that you'll probably encounter difficulty retaining contact with the snow. To avoid becoming airborne as the bottom drops out from under your skis, think of pushing your feet down against the snow (B) as if you were attempting to fill in the hole on the back side of the bump with your boots. When this motion becomes a habit and you can maintain contact with the snow at all times, try edging your skis during the extension phase to increase control over your turns.

Wanted: Sno-ball teams

It's time again for that cure of the mid-winter blahs of all those softball and slo-pitch fanatics who have been watching the snow pile up and are dreaming of a green spring. The local chapter of the March of Dimes is scheduling a Co-Ed Sno-Ball Softball Tournament at the Petoskey High School on Saturday, March 2.

Using modified rules, the games will run five innings, with the championship game seven innings. The rules are modified so that softball teams and slo-pitch teams can participate together, and the top teams will be determined through a double elimination system, according to Dave Burley.

Sno-Ball Softball originated in Omaha, Nebraska five years ago and is fast becoming a popular winter sport. Winner of last year's tournament was the Corner Inn team from Levering.

The registration fee is $50, with the proceeds going to March of Dimes in its fight against birth defects. Registration forms can be picked up at Burley's office at City Hall and should be returned by Feb. 22. In case of an emergency, the tournament will be rescheduled for March 9.

Further information can be obtained by calling Dave Burley at 347-4105.

YOU CAN DO IT

GAMES THAT TEACH

It's sometimes tempting to offer adult-type instruction to youngsters on skis—but don't! Instead, create a game that will encourage them to move about and maneuver on their skis.

With children on skis for the first time, choose flat or very gentle terrain and invite them to chase and catch you.

using the same skiing steps that you do. Move slowly at first, walking forward, step-turning, skiing in circles and sliding backward. As they progress, climb up a shallow hill by sidestepping or herringboning. Do a step turn and then slide down. Keep the game fun and challenging; don't make it too hard or too easy. And be sure you choose maneuvers that are within the child's ability to imitate.

.... Making turns

BY JIM SILBAR

This is the best part of the ski season. It's a time when the sun comes out, the days are longer, and the weather begins to warm up and you can start skiing in less than the entire collection of outer garments from the many ski shops in the state. This is also the time to be able to savor the juices of that bottle of vino that you took up on the hill along with the cheese and crackers and sausage.

Providing, of course, you didn't happen to fall down and crush all the crackers on that trip through the mogul field on your way to the halfway house.

Yes, enjoyable is the answer to weather of the spring time, and we all enjoy it.

Some of my best memories of skiing happened in the spring time. Like the time that a few instructors and myself were out busting the moguls down by trying to make a turn on the top of each one and push the snow into the gullies so that the next time down the hill we wouldn't have to ski on the ice that always builds up at the bottom of the gullies.

Anyway, we were blasting down the hill when all of a sudden I found myself on an ice patch...one that was about 75 feet across where a snowmaking line had busted the night before.

Now ice can do many things to skiers, among them raise the hackles on the back of the head as they worried about being scared of skiing on the ice. That is precisely what happened to me as I was unprepared to ski on it, let alone see the darn patch.

Anyway, after watching my downhill ski slide out from underneath me, I tried to make a turn to get off the patch. The turn was a total failure. Instead of getting off the patch, I new found my skis pointing straight down the slope...and I was still at the top of the hill.

You talk about busting moguls. I will bet you to this day that I hit just the tops of every other one on my way down the hill. And, of course, I had to have had the most flexible knees in the world as they were constantly soaking up the bumps.

Of course, I pulled a tuck like Robert Redford in the Downhill Racer and beat everybody, and I mean everybody, to the bottom of the hill.

After I pulled up to the lift, and with my legs like Jello, the only thing that I wanted to do was to thank the stars that I arrived alive, and where was the closest place that I could sit.

Of course that was on the lift that takes you back to the top of the hill again.

When I got to the top, all the others were telling me about the great, beautiful run that I had just made.

Heck, I thought I was just trying to survive.

And that was just one of the stories that I like to tell about some of the early days of skiing when the slopes weren't crowded with people who know how to ski. Those who dared out into the cold were hung up on doing the snow plow and stem turns.

Nowadays, those elements of skiing are taken care of in just a few short runs as the instructors have their acts together on telling people how to ski easily.

If you are still in the beginning stages, maybe a few bucks in the hands of an instructor could make a difference between a struggle and enjoyment. You ought to try one.

CHECK YOUR WEIGHTING

If you're a beginner trying to master basic wedge turns you may be making the mistake of leaning inside your turns. You may feel you are increasing your turning power by throwing your upper body toward the center of the turn. In actuality, moving the upper body toward the center of the turn encourages a stiff outside leg and reduces a skier's ability to steer the outside ski. Weighting and steering the outside ski are important skills needed for parallel skiing, so it's important to nip this "leaning-in" habit right away.

To check your stance in turns, ski through a real or imagined single-pole slalom with poles set in a straight line down the hill. Rounding each turn, check the position of your upper body. If you can feel your shoulders tipped in toward the pole, stop and assume the proper stance. When you are able to feel your upper body weight shifted away from the pole so that you are weighting the outside ski, steering your turns will become easy.
