Mayor pay question to be voted on again in EJ

The legality of Pat Sweet's appointment to fill out Bill Merwin's term as mayor of East Jordan received additional support at city council's February 19 meeting.

City attorney Scott Beatty said that, encouraged by councilman Al Joseph, he had researched the city's compliance with state statutes regarding charter amendment. He said he found that the city had not taken all the steps required in raising the pay of the mayor from $400 to $500 and of the council members from $300 to $400.

It was the pay raise that had brought on the original challenge to Sweet's appointment. The charter states that those that create a pay increase may not benefit from that raise during their term in office. Sweet had been on the council at the time of the pay increase, voted November 6.

Beatty, at the February 5 meeting, said Sweet would not be receiving the increase as she would be filling out the mayor's term at $400.

With the discovery that the city had failed to have the charter amendment reviewed by the governor, as required by state statutes concerning "home rule cities," the question on pay increase disappeared entirely.

As Beatty said, "In my opinion, the charter has not been amended."

If the increase is to be achieved, it will have to go to a vote once more. In addition, the amendment will have to go for review, after the proposed language has attorney approval. Further, after passage, the amendment has to go on file with the county clerk and with the secretary of state. These steps had not been taken.

The failure to take these steps was probably brought on by two changes of clerks in the past year and a half.

At any rate, councilman Al Joseph, who had voted against Sweet's appointment, said, "I can now in clear conscience support you!"

In other business, city superintendent Mike Dionne reported that the growths on city tree trunks were lichens and would not cause the death of trees along the streets as feared by some residents. Dionne had the material checked at a university. He said, "If the trees die it will be because of some other problem. Which, of course, we would try to prevent."

Dionne also reported on the empty house purchased by the city for the land which will be used for city parking. He said the house as it stands is rentable.

The council voted to have Dionne arrange to rent it by the month. The police department's 1980 Plymouth will go out for bids by council approval.

A letter from Senator Don Riegler, Jr. was read. It indicated Riegler's support of the city and the East Jordan Family Health Center's effort to be selected as the area center for Veterans Administration's outpatient service. But Riegler warned that because of budget-tightening such a center may not become a reality.

A request for use of the Civic Center during Freedom Festival this year was tabled for two weeks while parks and recreation committee members study the public safety requirements.

Boyer City school officials couldn't agree on any of the four names presented to them at Monday nights' school board meeting to fill the position open when Dr. Gary Mellon resigned. One of the empty seats in the front of the picture are where the new board member was to sit.

BC school board can't agree on replacement for Mellon

After three of the four names presented to the Boyne City School Board to fill the position held by Gary Mellon were turned down, the board agreed to let the Charlevoix Intermediate School District name someone to fill the slot on the Boyne City Board.

That agreement wasn't by board acclamation but rather by the rules of the Intermediate School District. Those rules say that if the school board cannot agree on someone to fill a unexpired term, then the ISD will take over to fill the position.

The position, created by the resignation of Mellon will be for only four months or until the annual school election in June.

The four who asked to be considered included a past board member, Bill Chipman, Tom Suedhoff, Richard May and Janet Froats.

Board member Eleanor West nominated Chipman, saying that for the four months, the board needed someone who understood what the board was considering and had the experience to fill the position. His nomination failed for lack of a majority vote.

Then Larry Monshor nominated Richard May, an attorney who lives in Boyne City. May also lost because of a majority vote by the board.

Janet Froats name was then placed into contention by West, who told the board of her credentials but that nomination failed to find a second supporter.

At that point, board president George Shotelis then said that the IMD would have to name a member to serve out the term if the board could not agree on someone to serve. The board had twenty days in which to find a suitable candidate to serve. The twenty days were up as of Wednesday, Feb. 27.

Before the board tried to fill the position, they agreed to have Larry Monshor become the new treasurer replacing Mellon.

Mellon was given a certificate in appreciation for his work for the schools.

In other action, the board approved Jack Caverly as the girls varsity basketball coach for the next season. This will be Caverly's second year as the girls coach.

Then the board went into a negotiation session with the school librarians who were asking for more than the board had offered after several meetings in the committee stage.

Two school librarians, acting as a group had rejected two proposals that the board had offered saying that they think that they shouldn't be offered any less than that of a janitor.

Shotelis told them that he thought the board had made them an attractive offer, giving them the choice of two proposals. One of the proposals included paid family health while the other offered paid dental after three years.

"Evidently you don't agree with the proposals as offered," he concluded.

The board then set up a different committee to negotiate with the librarians.

Then the school board started a discussion on energy conservation needs and the high school roof. They are considering whether or not to hire just an architect or engineer for the roof, or hire a firm that can do both the energy work as well as the roof.

After some discussion, the board members will have the building committee come back to the full board with recommendations as to a course of action at the March meeting.

They heard a report on the budget session that was held by the IMD that board member Monshor attended.

Superintendent Rich Kelly then told the board that the date of April 29 was approved by the special elections committee of the county for a special election that the school system plans for a millage election.

City expectations high on beach after DNR approval

Satisfaction was general at the Tuesday city commission meeting over the Department of Natural Resources approval of Boyne City beach plans.

The beach in question is Peninsula Beach which has evolved over the past year as old wood was dredged out and sand and public parking added.

Now with the DNR approval the city property, located opposite Maple Street, is going to have further development, most notably the 200 to 300 foot manmade peninsula for which the beach will be named.

The peninsula will perform several services: protect swimmers from boat traffic, provide more beach area, offer a scenic viewpoint at its tip, provide a dock for Harborage Marina boat slips, and offer a diverting promenade.

Harborage property will extend to a depth of a few feet along the west side of the peninsula and will be maintained by Harborage.

In enumerating the advantages, city manager Randy Frykberg said, "I think it's coming out to be a really good design."

Frykberg and Harborage developer Rick Smith took several trips to Lansing, finally meeting with DNR's top director Ronald Skoog.

Smith told city commissioners that they had been greatly assisted in the project by Senator Mitch Irwin. The city and the DNR agreed to some minor compromises over bottom land, and the project was approved before the grant deadline ran out.

The total cost, covered by a grant from the Department of the Interior, Land and Water Conservation Agency, will be $215,000. Frykberg said construction would begin this spring.

In other business, commissioners approved installation of two more street lights from Consumers Power Company. One of the high sodium lights will go in the middle of River Street between Park and North East streets.

The other will go on Court Street, immediately west of the intersection of Court and Charlevoix streets.

Frykberg also announced that the public library has income tax forms, including the special kinds.

He said too that the new plat book is out.

Boyne landfill days are numbered by DNR

Four new test wells at Boyne City sanitary landfill may or may not show groundwater contamination, but, according to a Department of Natural Resources official, the state wants the landfill closed, regardless.

Larry Thornton of the DNR's Roscommon office said in a phone interview that he is waiting on the chemical analysis of the water. A local contractor put the test wells in a few weeks ago. They vary between 165 and 30 feet deep.

"We don't know what we're dealing with yet," said Thornton, but one need, he said, is to know the state of the groundwater under the landfill, and another is to determine possible impact on private wells in the neighborhood.

The city has resisted DNR efforts to close the landfill, basing its stand on the original Department of Health approval for its operation.

DNR officials say the soil, like most of the soil in the area, is so sandy that contamination can leach through into groundwater. Contaminated groundwater, now a fairly widespread problem in the state, is expensive and sometimes impossible to clean up.

Following the county study by the ad hoc sanitary landfill committee a few years ago, all sanitary landfills but one were asked to convert to transfer stations. Solid waste is now trucked to the one licensed landfill near Ironton. Boyne, however, has continued to maintain its own operation.

Boyer city manager Randy Frykberg said that the city also awaits results of water tests. He added he expects they will find ways of cooperating with DNR findings. In the past year, the city has been acquiring information on transfer station construction, he said.

Agreement settled between walloon water system and state

A formal agreement between the owners of the Walloon Lake Water System, Inc. and the Michigan Attorney General's office was signed by the owners of the system that will require them to update and upgrade the water operation to their customers in Walloon Village.

The agreement, reached orally last week, and a written agreement that was signed early this month, asks that the system submit plans for replacing the current system by March 15, 1985. They are to have a new well and other equipment functional by May 15, and comply with all of the other state requirements by Oct. 15.

Work is already under way to meet the agreement, said Dennis Hass, the system operator for Joan and Alfred Hass, the owners of the water system.

He said that a new well has been drilled and work is underway to upgrade a second well.

The wells will eventually replace a spring fed system. Much of the other requirements that the state is asking for, have been completed. The new well will be used next month providing the well receives approval from the health department of the county.

The system, which serves 75 year-around homes and 140 vacation homes, was constructed some time ago by the Hasses, before the current health codes requiring strict compliance were enacted.

The state thinks that the system was improperly constructed so that it could be contaminated by bacteria and other pollutants. According to Hass, and the Attorney General Frank Kelley, no bacteria or pollutants have ever been found in the system.

The system is being upgraded so that in the future, the people who are getting water from the system will be able to enjoy safe drinking water from a system that meets the state requirements.

Dr. Gary Mellon receives a certificate of appreciation from school board president George Shotelis at Monday nights' meeting as recognition for the work he has done for the Boyne City School system.

Bay approves pond construction

Bay township officials approved the construction of a trout pond that will be constructed near Walloon Lake this spring by Robert Taylor, a DeWitt resident who was formerly from Petoskey.

He had received approval for the building of the pond previously from the Department of Natural Resources after they had held a public meeting last December.

While the pond was approved, other proposed activities on the property were not approved. He had asked permission for building roads and placing rip-rap along the shoreline.

The pond will be 120 feet by 320 feet with a island in the middle. It will be about five feet deep. Taylor said that the pond will be an asset to wildlife and that he hopes to use it to raise trout and walleye fish for possible introduction into Walloon Lake.

On another matter that had a public hearing, the request for excavation for a homesite on Horton Bay by Pete and Elaine Kapp of Flushing, Michigan was denied by the DNR.

The Kapps are attempting to build a single family residence in a wetland area, and their request was denied as presented to the DNR. They will have to replace the digging that had been started and make the ground as close to what it was prior to starting construction.

The Kapps have told the Press that they are in the process of starting an appeal of the decision and are going to try to work within the rules of the wetlands act.

Other permits through the DNR have been denied also based on the wetlands act in the township. One of those permits was for a site next to the Kapps while another was for property further east on Horton Bay where the property owner had asked to install some drain tile through a natural dike that had been built up through the years by nature.

Boyer students drop Quiz Bowl match

Boyer City students lost their round in the annual Alma College Quiz Bowl against students from Saugatuck last Saturday at the Alma College campus.

Boyer took a team of Chris Howard, Simon Sharp, Dan Stolt and Derek Smith to the match, losing by only 30 points to the Saugatuck team. Saugatuck was the champion last year.

Called the "varsity sport of the mind," Quiz Bowl is a game of quick recall and fast response played between two teams of four players each.

At the bowl games, there were two divisions that competed that corresponded to the athletic classifications of the schools. That way, schools of equal size compete against each other. Boyne City was in the C and D school classification.

55 schools were competing in the games.

Cooking

I acquire a stimulating appetite just thinking of the many potluck suppers that I have attended in the past. In memory I can almost smell the tantalizing aroma of the appetizing casserole dishes on entering the various church dining rooms. Those hot dishes warming in the ovens were scalloped potatoes with ham, meatloaf, chicken potpies, macaroni and tomato dishes, scalloped corn and other cheesy casseroles. Everyone brought his or her favorites in salads and desserts. The pies disappeared fast and someone always brought her favorite preserves such as watermelon rind pickles, dill pickles and my favorite corn relish.

I recall with affection the exceptional cooks who brought their best to potluck suppers and what lasting friendships have resulted. Nowhere else can one see and taste such a wonderful variety of foods than at those well-attended church suppers. Smaller groups need to plan some sort of menu so that no two people bring the same thing. My memory takes me back to a time when we had one casserole of potatoes and ham and everyone else brought jello. Nothing is more tasty and beautiful to behold than just red jello made with fruit cocktail and topped with whipped cream unless that is all that is on the menu. Anyway, it was a potluck of fun to remember. Our local genealogy society has one potluck a year, in December. With a little previous planning the food is out of this world.

No potluck is complete without baked beans. This casserole is a one-dish meal so it is perfect for any size group. No matter what else is brought, you cannot go wrong.

TWO BEAN CASSEROLE

- 1 tablespoon vegetable oil
 - 1 cup diced onion
 - 1/2 cup diced green pepper
 - 1 cup cooked ham, diced
 - 1 can (16 oz) white beans, drained
 - 1 can red kidney beans drained
 - 1 can (8 oz) crushed pineapple
 - 1/2 cup ketchup
 - 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 - 2 tablespoons prepared mustard
 - 1/2 teaspoon Tabasco peppercorns
 - 1/2 cup shredded cheddar cheese
- In a medium skillet heat oil; saute onion and green pepper. In a 2 quart casserole combine sauteed vegetables, ham, beans, pineapple, ketchup, lemon juice, mustard and pepper sauce. Mix well. Sprinkle cheese over top.

You might wish to double this recipe for a large crowd.

If you want to take a different dish with a real appetite appeal to your next potluck, make this tasty salad. Prepare it a couple of days ahead so that the flavors can blend. This is good to take if one does not have the time to prepare something during the day of the potluck.

SAUERKRAUT SALAD

- 1/2 lb. can sauerkraut (I like the glass cans for kraut)
- 2 cups diced celery
- 1 cup chopped green pepper
- 1 cup diced onion

Dressing:

- 1/2 cup vinegar
- 2 cups sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt

Mix together, heat to boiling point and add to the vegetables. Cover and keep in the refrigerator a day or two. This salad will keep for weeks refrigerated.

Take the following cake and all of your friends will want to know how you did it; and it is luscious!

SOUR CREAM COCONUT CAKE

- 1 pkg. deluxe yellow cake mix
 - 2 cups sour cream
 - 2 cups sugar
 - 16 oz. fresh coconut
 - 1 large carton whipped topping
- Bake cake using package directions. Cool. Split layers in half, with a thread, to make 4 layers. Combine sour cream, sugar and coconut in a bowl; mix well.

Reserve 1 cup. Spread remaining mixture between cake layers.

Mix whipped topping with reserved mixture. Frost sides and top of cake. Garnish with nuts or cherries if you wish.

Store in refrigerator.

FREDERICK M. WRIGHT

Frederick M. Wright, 88, of East Jordan, died Feb. 21, 1985, at Grandvue Medical Care Facility.

Services were Friday, Feb. 22, at the Oak Chapel of the Vanderwall Funeral Home. The Rev. Brian Secor of the East Jordan United Methodist Church officiated and burial was in Brookside Cemetery in Charlevoix.

Mr. Wright was born Jan. 18, 1897, at Alden. He completed his high school education at Ferris Institute and on July 30, 1927, married the former Irene H. Parks. The couple always lived in the East Jordan area.

In his youth, Mr. Wright worked in the lumbering business and then for 25 years, was in charge of the furnace at the East Jordan Iron Works. He retired in 1967.

He was an outdoorsman and enjoyed hunting and gardening and was also interested in steam engines, trains and boats. He was also a student of the Bible.

He is survived by his wife; one daughter, Mrs. Jacqueline Ream of Charlevoix; one sister, Mrs. Paula Schillair of Tampa, Fla.

The family suggests memorials to the Gideon Fund and envelopes for the purpose are available at the Vanderwall Funeral Home.

JOHN Z. PIENTA

John Z. Pienta, 74, of East Jordan died Feb. 23, 1985 at his home on Metz Road, East Jordan.

Services were held Feb. 26 at St. Josephs Church in East Jordan. The Rev. Arthur Mulka officiated and burial was in St. Josephs Calvary Cemetery.

Mr. Pienta was born June 23, 1910 in Poland. He came to the United States as a child with his family, which settled in Taylor. He spent most of his life in the Taylor area, moving to East Jordan in 1980.

Mr. Pienta was a veteran of World War II, serving with the U.S. Army in Europe. During the war, he received disabling injuries when a troop ship on which he was a passenger was torpedoed.

Mr. Pienta was employed at a stamping plant in Wyandotte until retiring in 1970.

He was a member of St. Josephs Church in East Jordan and a former member of St. Cyrils Church in Taylor. He was also a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans, Democratic Club, Fraternal Order of Eagles, Rangers, and Loyal Order of Moose, all in Taylor, and the Eagles Lodge in Boyne City.

Mr. Pienta enjoyed traveling. He is survived by three brothers, Joseph and Benny of East Jordan, and Edward of Taylor.

The family suggests memorials to the East Jordan Ambulance Fund. Envelopes for that purpose are available at the Vanderwall Funeral Home.

What is alcoholism and why is it considered a chemical dependency?

Chemical dependency occurs when a person becomes physically and/or psychologically reliant on a chemical substance such as alcohol, pills or "street drugs". Because alcohol is a sedative drug, alcoholism is considered a chemical dependency.

Above all, alcoholism is a disease. A disease that affects men, women and teenagers in ever-increasing numbers and usually involves the use of more than one drug. The use of other drugs or chemicals such as sleeping pills, valium or marijuana, in combination with alcohol is called cross-dependency.

A 28-day residential treatment center for alcoholism and other chemical dependencies is now open at Alpena General Hospital.

Jottings

BY JIM SILBAR

Weather update: Our January thaw came this last week of February and brought out the potholes. There seems to be more of them and they keep growing. The city's got a handle on 'em though, they just got out with their super duper pothole filling machine, (two guys and a truck of tar), and are driving around the town looking for places to fill them in.

Still lots of snow though to make the spring runoff seem like white-water rafting in the ditches along the roads.

Maybe the sun will come out before all those folks get back from Florida in time to go mushrooming.

We editors get some mail that is even literate, but sometimes, the mail comes in that definitely leaves a lot to be desired.

The other day I looked at something from some guy out in California who sent out the most wordy, confused, and illiterate piece of mail that I have had in several years.

Took me about an hour to just read through it.

Seems he was looking for someone to carry his letters and other old information that he had gleaned about UFO's.

And that he was a messenger of those guys from outer space and that he had the answer to all of the ills of the world.

Now, a small newspaper like mine isn't going to carry stuff from a guy who has a hard time writing about his subject, that is left up to the editor himself. And our little newspaper probably wouldn't carry much weight for those of the other worlds that may be looking at us to see if we are ready to have them land and say take me to your leader.

To do that they would have to land in Washington, D.C., where they have enough people from outer space in office already.

Speaking of Washington, we have a congressman's wife who is still creating a stir with a picture of herself that she sent into some magazine.

We don't care to comment that the picture was similar to the cheesecake photos of the war years, but several other people in the media are trying to make a big thing about it.

We just happen to think that there must be slow news days in Washington, just so all those reporters who are covering all the action for us can keep us updated on all the tidbits of the governing politics.

I would rather they sent out news releases on how the government is trying to lower the taxes and the budget so that us folks out here in the country can afford to keep all those guys in office.

Remembrances

Back in the old days, the loggers used a team of horses to bring the big logs out of the woods with lots of "gees" and "haws." The horses pulled the logs to the nearest railroad track where they were loaded onto flat cars for the trip to the mills in Boyne City, East Jordan or Boyne Falls. Today, even with all the mechanization of the logging industry, horses can still be found out working in the woods pulling the logs to the nearest logging truck where it makes the trip to the nearest sawmill.

Marshall Sayles

Please drop your knife and fork and listen to this historic tidbit in the life of Boyne City.

Gregg Smith's letter to the editor was the most accurate account ever published covering the birth of Smeltania—Boyne City's nationally known "City on ice". The letter should be framed and hung on the wall of the Chamber of Commerce for Mr. and Mrs. Posterity. I know that the events Gregg described are true because I was there hovering in the background.

He mentioned my reprimand after Smeltania stories appeared in two national publications at the same time.

Colliers magazine was upset because Life published the story the same week they did theirs. (I was accused of playing one against the other. I did not do this intentionally, I did it on purpose.)

I did some work with Colliers, but most of my time was spent helping Life's photographer Hart Preston develop his photo story. Life sent me ninety dollars for my work. Colliers somehow had forgotten my name. (Life is still being published. Colliers stubbed its toe and now rests in magazine heaven.)

Now, let me tell you about that check from Life. Any young man who was single during the big depression and fingered ninety dollars in his hip pocket had his pick of more than one roost. More than one roost, mind you!

There was only one great, big insignificant error in Gregg's letter. He said I was known as "Fizzy" in those days. Wrong. My nickname was "Fuzzy". Like in fuzzy headed.

He: Did you see where the Michigan legislature passed a law requiring seat belts to be worn at all times?

Me: It seems that I glanced at a screaming headline about it.

He: Do you know why they passed such a law?

Me: I heard once, but I've forgotten. Tell me again why they saddled the public with a seat belt law.

He: They say that statistics show that you feel much better if you are banged up while wearing a seat belt.

Me: What happens if a cop peers into your car and whistles a sad song because you are beltless?

He: You can be written up and fined ten bucks and get your name in the paper along with the rest of the city's honest crooks, or merely warned to buckle up, depending upon what the policeman had for breakfast.

Me: Are you telling me that he can ticket you or not ticket you, depending upon whether or not he tickets you?

He: They've got to let some go free or the judge would have people lined up in front of him, out the door and down the street; and if there's anything a judge hates, it's cluttering up the streets.

Me: Personally, I think the law was passed by good men with heads on their shoulders. It's for our own good. After all, Lansing knows best.

He: Phooey! The law helps insurance companies. With seat belts you get hurt less and the company will not have to pay so much. But they will not lower their rates because of it.

Me: You certainly have a weird idea about this wonderful new seat belt law.

He: Yes, that's what some people tell me.

Me: Look, Bub. From now on you can quit cluttering up my column.

"Shoot it!" exclaimed the big woodcutter, half in earnest.

I was talking about a pileated woodpecker that was ruining the pines belonging to someone I know.

The woodcutter was aware I would get all riled up, but he staggered just a little from the combustion that followed.

"Listen, do you know why the poor bird was digging into the pines? Do you know? Do you?"

"Who cares. Shoot it."

I ignored the interruption. "The guy had cleared out all the dead trees, so where was the bird to go?"

Anyone, I thought, should know that woodpeckers prefer dead trees.

"Dead trees have bugs that go over and kill live trees."

"Not so! Dead tree bugs are different. They eat different. Naturally!"

The woodcutter was now through with the subject but I was not.

"So if you shoot the woodpecker, do you know what happens to the chickadees?"

He was a little dazed at this turn in the conversation.

"Chickadees nest in old woodpecker holes. With no nesting places, what's to happen to them?" I exclaimed.

"Shoot 'em," he said.

"Haven't you ever seen the chickadees all winter long, eating, eating the insect larvae in the trees? If there were no chickadees insects would devour the new leaves in spring. I suppose you will shoot the insects, too," I said smugly.

"Right," he said.

It's too sad, I thought, when even country people don't know wildlife. But they don't. I don't. Do red squirrels challenge and kill moles and mice under that heap of dead branches during winter?

Why does the nuthatch fly around with the chickadees?

How did the mouse fill that old purse in the basement with corn when the nearest cornfield is 400 feet away?

Why can maple trees grow under the black walnut tree, but other things can't?

There's so much I don't know. I don't even know what I don't know. And all of it has effect on the balance of nature.

We complain that city people make laws that spoil the country, and then there is the Corps of Army Engineers.

But out here in the country we each have our specializations. Bill knows trees. I know birds. Liza knows vegetables.

What we need is a pool. And to put away guns!

Resident thanks Charlevoix County groups

Editor,

On the evening of February 18, 1985 when, as a patient, looking out the window of room 105 of the Charlevoix Area Hospital at a ten foot snowbank and a blinding snow storm adding more I was in absolute despair.

Earlier that morning a young man, Robert Malpass of East Jordan, with a big snow blower attached to an even bigger Farmall tractor, had made a special trip to blow out our 500' downhill Lake Charlevoix driveway so my wife who was recovering but still ill with the 'flu', would not be snowbound and would be able to pick me up at the hospital the next day. As it was, the storm I was watching cancelled all that effort and expectation and I found that rather devastating.

An early call the next morning to the Charlevoix County Road Commission offices in Boyne City got the sympathetic ear of a young lady, after being advised of my predicament, checked with the foreman and in turn advised me that my service road LaLonde would be plowed out by 9:30 a.m. sufficiently for me to be brought to my driveway. Great!

A second early call to the dispatcher of the Charlevoix County Transit in Boyne City describing my predicament and the advice that my service road would be plowed (at least a single lane) by 9:30 a.m. secured the promise that a bus would pick me up at 10:30 a.m. and deliver me to my driveway entrance on LaLonde. I had to advise the dispatcher that I would not be able to pay the fare as I had sent my wallet home with my wife and didn't have a penny on me, but, if they would trust me to do so I would make certain they would be paid later. They did so and I did as I promised the next day.

I need to mention the fine nurses and medical staff at the Charlevoix Area Hospital who understood my concerns and went out of their way with kindness and assistance to help me resolve my medical and emotional concerns.

Given all this I want to pay a special public thanks to the Charlevoix County Road Commission staff and the Charlevoix County Transit system who went out of their way to help me after I explained my problems even though I am just a resident who asked for help when I needed it. Thanks again one and all.

I would simply add that this and my other past experiences make it clear that if you need help and ask for it you will probably get it. Secondly, never give way to despair and give up and, lastly, remember the old adage "It is darkest before dawn" which to me in my 68th year means however big or small the problem, if time will permit, sleep on it and act on same in the morning.

Has words for 'Dear Abby' on gun control

Editor,

Several weeks ago Dear Abby ran some 1980 statistics designed to show why we need gun control, presumably because the availability of guns inevitably results in more murders and other violent crime.

Well, how does Dear Abby explain the steady decline of the 1980 homicide rate of 10.2 per 100,000 to 9.1 in 1982 while approximately 2.5 million new handguns each year were going into private hands?

Why didn't Dear Abby include the Mexican homicide rate which is 5 1/2 times greater than that of the U.S.? Maybe it doesn't count that the Mexican murder rate with knives is 3 times greater than the U.S. handgun homicide rate. Maybe Dear Abby left Mexico out of the account because the country is like a huge Morton Grove—it's illegal for private citizens to have handguns.

For Dear Abby to support gun control she has to assume that gun control reduces guns in circulation which, in turn, reduces crime. The facts clearly don't support Dear Abby's wishes.

One thing we know works. Keeping violent criminals off the street and executing murderers keeps them from preying upon new victims.

Time to write your leaders

Editor,

A congressional ban on production of MX missiles expires on March 1 and the administration must request Congress to release funds for resumption of new MX missile production. Those who oppose MX production should write to their Congressmen, now, to vote against funding for this missile which threatens the security of our own nation as much as it threatens the Soviet Union.

Another important issue that will be before Congress in the first two weeks of March is the moratorium on testing ASAT (anti-satellite) weapons. Congress can extend this moratorium if it acts within 15 days after the President submits his report justifying the testing. Let your Congressmen know how you feel about testing in outer space.

A third vote expected sometime

Michigan firms travel to L.A. vying for Department of Defense contracts

State officials and representatives from 21 Michigan firms—including seven from the western region—traveled to Los Angeles in an attempt to secure a bigger chunk of the multi-billion dollar Defense Department procurement budget.

The business leaders from specialized manufacturing firms throughout Michigan displayed their space technology and communication and defense systems to primary defense contractors at the three-day mission, Feb. 25-27.

"This is an important opportunity for Michigan manufacturers to meet individually with technical and engineering specialists who are interested in buying their products," said Governor

James J. Blanchard. "This mission helped target federal procurement dollars to our small businesses and also greatly assisted our effort to create jobs."

The mission was designed to provide exposure to large contractors that these small businesses would otherwise not be able to get. Each company paid its own expenses for the state-sponsored effort.

State procurement officials are encouraged by the response from the primary California contractors involved in the event, especially since Michigan ranks near the bottom in per capita federal procurement dollars and the goal of the trade mission is to increase the state's return of those federal dollars to Michigan.

"Michigan has lagged behind long enough when it comes to obtaining federal money," said Commerce Director Doug Ross. "Initiatives like this one help our businesses gain the know-how they need to successfully win federal contracts."

Engineered ceramics, adhesive-bonded assemblies, wire harnesses, test sets and antennas for airborne, ground and naval ship applications were some of the products and services available to buyers from Allied Bendix GSD Operations of Boyne City, Henco Enterprises of Niles, Mid-America Engineering of Grand Rapids, R.A. Miller Industries of Grand Haven and Broide Products, LOM Corporation and Quality Circle Corp., all of Traverse City.

These firms along with other participating Michigan manufacturers, sought contracts for a wide range of products and services, including communications/office equipment, software programs, aerospace products and fiber optics.

The firms met one-on-one with such leading buyers as General Dynamics Corp., TRW, Hughes Aircraft and Rockwell International, who told them what products are needed and how to go about winning bids.

Michigan has great potential in this market, primarily because it receives only about two percent of the national total of goods and services purchased by the Department of Defense annually for private-sector contracts.

In fiscal 1984, Michigan received 8,000 individual contracts worth $2.7 billion. Ninety-two percent of those contracts were defense related. About half involved the U.S. Army, principally the U.S. Army Tank Automotive Command (TACOM) in Warren.

The tri-county region received most of those contracts. Macomb County accounted for $712 million—mostly in Warren, Center Line and Sterling Heights. Oakland County totaled $403 million, followed by Wayne County with $378 million. Washtenaw County collected $59 million.

Each member of this solid gold group of realtors listed and sold a million dollars of real estate in the Antrim-Charlevoix county areas in 1984. The realtors, honored at Gray Gables in Charlevoix were: Suzi Reis, Joyce J. Boydston, GRI, Roger P. Shepard, Michael L. Barnard, Richard E. Lobenherz, all of Ski and Shore of Charlevoix. Eugene S. Steele, William L. Dietrich, Joseph T. Vogelheim, Steve H. Andrea, all from Coldwell Banker-Schmidt Realtors, Charlevoix. Linda Felton, GRI, Mark D. Kowalske, GRI, Robert C. Winters, GRI, Gary W. Roberts, GRI, all from Century 21 - Kowalske & Associates. John O. Buick and Gary E. Winter, from John Buick Real Estate; Charles F. Themm, Char-Kay Real Estate; Edward B. Wojan, Wojan Real Estate; Robert J. Murray, Jr., Ski & Shore of Kalkaska; Robert M. Bailey, Constance D. Troll, All Seasons Realty. Dennis P. Heck; Donald M. Snizik, GRI; and James L. Thomas were not present but also honored.

Legislation co-sponsored by Ostling to require DNR to pay monies owed communities

The Department of Natural Resources, which has owed money to many local communities for almost two years, would be forced to pay on time or pay a penalty under legislation introduced Thursday in the Michigan House of Representatives.

State Representative Ralph Ostling (R-Roscommon), cosponsor of the bill, said the DNR is habitually in arrears on the money it pays to local governments in lieu of taxes on state-owned land.

"Some communities still haven't received the money owed them by the DNR for bills due in the summer of 1983," Ostling said. "This bill would require the department to make these payments promptly and face interest and penalty charges."

Ostling explained that the penalties and interest would be assessed on the same basis and at the same rate as they are charged to individual and business taxpayers who make late property tax payments.

"The DNR hasn't made its payments for 1983 summer tax bills and no money has even been appropriated to pay it. This obviously doesn't cause the DNR any problems, but it makes it more difficult to run local governments efficiently," Ostling said. "This bill provides the incentive for the department to pay on time and for the Legislature to appropriate the money."

Ostling said that legislation approved last year requires the state to pay interest on late state revenue sharing payments to local governments and interest on late payments for purchases made by the state.

"This measure merely extends the principle that the state should pay its bills and obligations on time or suffer the same consequences it imposes on individuals and businesses in a similar situation," he concluded.

St. Jude's Bike-a-Thon chairwomen named

The Central Regional Office of St. Jude Children's Research Hospital announced today that the following individuals in Charlevoix County have agreed to chair the 1985 Bike-A-Thons in their communities.

Ms. Glenda Rose for Boyne City and Mrs. Doris Danbert for Boyne Falls will each chair separate Bike-A-Thons this spring.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital was founded by entertainer

Danny Thomas. The institution opened its doors to the public in 1962 to combat catastrophic diseases which afflict our children. St. Jude Hospital is non-sectarian, non-discriminatory, and provides medical care to over 4,200 patients.

The Bike-A-Thon program is dedicated to "Jaime." Jaime is from Ohio and was diagnosed with leukemia in May of 1983, and began treatment at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. Today her cancer is in remission and she is doing quite well. Jaime is a living example of the progress and success of the research, patient care, and educational programs of this internationally recognized hospital.

When Michigan's capital was changed from Detroit to Lansing in 1847, historians repeat a story that all of the state's records fit into a single wagon.

the bill, said the DNR is habitually in arrears on the money it pays to local governments in lieu of taxes on state-owned land.

Bud and Ginny Carey—the American dream lives

BY ELOUISE ROSSLER

A smile is contagious. That is the simple and basic principle on which Bud and Ginny Carey create the atmosphere of their business place. They are owners of Carey's Corner Market since May, 1984, in East Jordan. Both are "local" having been born and raised in East Jordan, and having spent their entire married life here. Each of them attributes much of their philosophy for success to the warm families in which they grew up. "We were both brought up on the philosophy that no matter where you start, if you work hard and if you think positively and if you dream dreams and if you have good character, you can be someone! This doesn't mean that your objective is to become rich or famous. Just do the best you can with yourself," said Ginny. Bud is the next to the oldest of five children, son of Mercer and Bernice Carey; Ginny is the oldest of the four children of Harry and Louise Moore of Williamsburg.

The Careys both declare that growing up in East Jordan has definite advantages. They cite long lasting friendships, the small town "homey" feeling, and knowing everyone by name as pluses. They also have an understanding of the potential of the city, as they have experienced the changes it has made in the past two decades.

Business ownership is not new to the Careys as they also own a rental storage business and previously owned a building business. Bud has built homes and commercial additions locally, as well as two homes for his family. Ginny has worked for the local Chamber of Commerce, W. A. Porter Construction Company and was an officer for Northwestern State Bank, bringing expertise from these experiences to their latest endeavor. Both have been civic-minded and have served on the South Arm Township Board as well as working for several charitable organizations.

Bud and Ginny typify the American Dream; starting with little but their own talents, faith in hard work, and mountains of enthusiasm. At the core of this is a special kind of teamwork in which there is tremendous respect for each other and each one's capabilities and aiming for the same goals. This includes the attitudes they have endeavored to teach son Leon, who will graduate from East Jordan High School in June. He has had part time jobs in recent years to "earn" the things he wanted, but were not a part of the family budget.

Neither Bud or Ginny went to college as High School graduates, believing that becoming a successful person is enthusiastically using your abilities and common sense. Ginny received a banking degree from North Central Michigan College and Northwestern Michigan College in 1984.

Both Careys say that the hours are long in the grocery business. This is true when you add some of the extras they provide (such as delivering groceries to a snowbound family, senior citizens or shut-ins), the re-arrangement of the physical operation of the store, and making plans for additional changes, to say nothing of always taking time for a friendly chat. "We work hard because we feel good about what we're doing," sums their attitude toward the long hours and time limits the business places on them.

Bud and Ginny would advise young people to establish who and what is important and essential in your life, then set some personal goals, develop a plan of action which organizes your time and resources, use common sense and then Go For It!

Young or old, if you are in need of a smile along with some friendliness and concern, just stop in to chat with Bud and Ginny. You're guaranteed a positive return on your time!

Bud and Ginny Carey smiled last May as they began a new career at their Corner Market. Their smiles are more assured now after nine months of operation.

Schaefer beer comes to Petoskey

Schaefer beer, brewed and enjoyed on the east coast since 1842, will be introduced to Petoskey consumers beginning on February 18.

Roger Fridholm, president of The Stroh Brewery Company, announced the appointment of Petoskey Beverage Co., Inc. as the distributor of Schaefer for the Petoskey area.

Schaefer, which originated in the eastern region of the United States some 140 years ago, was acquired by

The Stroh Brewery Company in 1981. At the time, Schaefer was the seventh largest domestic brewer.

"We are most delighted to be able to bring Schaefer to the Petoskey area beer drinkers," said Edward Kopecky, Schaefer brand manager for Stroh. "Today's Schaefer is better than ever, and I think once consumers try it, they'll find out what made this product one of the top beers in regions of the country."

Club members attend luncheon

New Horizon Club members and guests attended the 15th Annual Snowflake Luncheon on February 14th, sponsored by the Friendship Centers of Petoskey and Emmet Counties.

Two buses provided transportation, picking members up at East Jordan, Charlevoix, Boyne City, and Boyne Falls.

The group of 50 made the Valentine's Day trip to Boyne

Highlands for the special event, which is on their tour program.

The afternoon began with "How Great Thou Art" sung by Milton Ververka, followed by prayer by Father Wilbert Hagener, O.F.M. from St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church of Petoskey.

After a delicious luncheon, a program was presented with "The Petoskey Choral Group" singing several selections and directed by Fran Tollas.

A delightful and amusing skit was enacted and thoroughly enjoyed.

The food basket drawing was won by Earl Smith of Pellston.

A snowy trip was made back to Charlevoix County after a lovely day, and everyone was glad to be back home.

BF Loggers JVs win 68-47 over Buckley, varsity bows 37-67

Ross Payton shook loose from a Buckley defender to put this shot up last week. Buckley displayed a young talented team and may be in the top ratings next year with six returning lettermen.

BY JERRY FROATS

The Boyne Falls Loggers split two games last week against the Buckley Bears. The Logger JV team won 68-47 in Boyne Falls, and the varsity squad went down to perhaps the best team they have faced all year 37-67. Buckley's varsity team was showy and aggressive as they displayed a downstate style of basketball that is rarely seen in our neck of the woods.

The varsity Loggers were nearly held scoreless in the first period as Buckley played man-to-man defense and cut in front of the Logger passes to set up fast breaks. Boyne Falls tried to run-and-gun with the Bears but it proved to be nearly impossible to stop the fast break as Buckley possessed hot shooting from all over the court. When the Loggers stopped the fast break, the Bears pulled up for short jumpers and rarely set up an offense. Boyne Falls scored two shots from the floor in the last minute of the first period and trailed 5-15 going into the second quarter.

Boyne Falls opened up their offense at the start of period two, trying to get a back door feed, but the Bears were on the ball every time for the dash downcourt.

With four minutes expired from the clock, Buckley led 23-8 as the Loggers were having trouble putting the ball through the hoop.

By quarter's end Boyne Falls had a long way to go to catch up with a 31-18 score. The Loggers' early period strategy worked well in the last three minutes of the quarter as Jeff Crouterfield popped from near the sideline. Ron Reynolds assisted to Ross Payton on a fast break when the Bears made a bad pass, and Reynolds put one through from near the half-court line.

Tim Czerkies broke the third period ice from the left side of the key and Steve Jarema put an offensive rebound through for a 22-33 score, but the Bears went wild again to score five successive times on their first shot downcourt.

This gave Buckley an even more comfortable lead at 22-43. At quarter's end the Loggers were behind 30-47.

In the early stages of the fourth period Boyne Falls got the back door pass to go, but failed to put the ball through the hoop and went completely cold for the remainder of the game.

Eight Loggers got into the scoring, but none could hit double figures. Payton had the most points with eight, Jarema was good for six points, Norm Hausler and Czerkies had five points each. Brian Bennett and Crouterfield got four points apiece, Kelly Harmon three, and Reynolds two points.

The JV team had a good time with the Bears as they took command of the game early. With three minutes left in the first quarter, the Loggers had taken an 11-0 lead as they showed what defense was all about by blocking numerous shots. By the end of the period Boyne Falls led 15-4.

Buckley opened the second quarter with a full court press and cut some points from the key while Carson followed up with another hoop in the key. This gave the Loggers a 42-26 lead and coach Bill Aten put another team on the court with Konradt being the play maker. He scored from low in the key driving and added two assists to Robinson and Skop. When time expired, Boyne Falls led 60-29.

from the key and Joe Matelski put an offensive rebound through.

Kyle Carson assisted to Joe Konradt and Konradt assisted the next play to Crego for a 24-14 lead midway through the quarter. Chad Robinson put two free throws in with time out called between shots, and assisted to Chuck Skop in the last minute of the period for a 32-24 lead at the half.

Robinson began the second half with a scoring three key buckets from the key while Carson followed up with another hoop in the key. This gave the Loggers a 42-26 lead and coach Bill Aten put another team on the court with Konradt being the play maker. He scored from low in the key driving and added two assists to Robinson and Skop. When time expired, Boyne Falls led 60-29.

In the fourth period the Loggers were hard pressed and scored rarely as the Bears tried to get back into the game against the Logger reserves. Henry Baumgartner opened the period with a nice turn around jumper, but that was pretty much all Boyne Falls came up with except that the Logger reserves gained some valuable experience against a fierce press.

Robinson earned top honors in scoring with 19 points, 10 of those in the third quarter. Skop totaled 18 points as he had one of his finest games. Matelski and Konradt canned eight each, Crego had seven. Carson had four, Baumgartner and Pat Topolinski added two points apiece.

Robinson had 11 rebounds, Matelski had nine, Konradt had six and Crego had five rebounds.

Conference toppers take East Jordan 87-54

BY STEVE GEE

East Jordan's ten-game winning streak was blown apart as the Rayders of Charlevoix trounced the Red Devils, 87-54, Tuesday night. Charlevoix took the opening tip-off in for a score and never trailed from then on.

East Jordan tried to avenge an opening season, 71-59, loss to Charlevoix, but the Red Devils quickly found out why the Rayders were on top of the Michigan-Huron Shores conference.

East Jordan kept up with the Rayders through the first four minutes as they trailed 15-13 midway into the first period. Charlevoix then put on a full court press which totally destroyed East Jordan.

At the end of the first period, Charlevoix had taken a commanding

25-13 lead. Brent Cole and Sean Ferguson carried the Rayders in the second period to a 45-23 halftime lead. For the second straight game, East Jordan's big man, Gary Coolman, had been held scoreless in the first half.

The Rayders continued to build up their lead throughout the second half. They led 67-41 at the third period's end and cruised on to a 33-point victory, 87-54.

Charlevoix sank 37 field goals, were 13-18 from the free throw line, grabbed 36 rebounds, blocked one shot, and committed 13 personal fouls.

Brent Cole led the scoring attack with 30 points, Sean Ferguson totaled 15, Doug Sloan scored 15 and Jody Putman added 13. The rest of the scoring came from Packy La Blance with six, John Pearl with four, Will Syvertsen with two, and Marc Himebauch added one. Leading rebounders were Cole with 12 and Sloan and Putman with six each.

East Jordan sank 21 field goals, were 12-21 from the free throw line, blocked three shots and committed 14 personal fouls. Mike Goebel had all three blocks.

Goebel led the scoring with 26 points, and Scot Hart also hit in double figures with 15. The remaining points came from Gary Coolman with six, Aaron Spence with three, and Todd Nachazel and Tracy Segraves each added two. Coolman led all rebounders with 13, Goebel grabbed 12 and Hart added eight.

Logger forward Matt Crego soars high over the defending Buckley Bears as he used the glass on this lay-up. Crego scored seven points against the Bears.

East Jordan Volleyballers have JV win and varsity loss

BY STEVE GEE

East Jordan closed out their regular season volleyball schedule against the visiting Central Lake Trojans with a varsity loss and a junior varsity victory on Parents' Night.

The varsity team, which consisted of Jari Chanda, Tracie Drenth, Sheila Michael, Angela Noiro, Melissa Parmer, Janice Prebble and Chris Thornton, lost their match by scores of 15-7 and 15-5. Chanda served for four points in the first game and Prebble served for four points in the second game. Chanda will be the only girl to return next year as the rest of the girls are seniors. The varsity ended with a 1-10 record.

The Junior varsity won their fourth match of the season. After losing the first game 15-0, the Red Devils took the next two by scores of 15-11 and 15-7. The J.V. team consisted of Brianna Bennett, Cathy Bowen, Kristy Burt, Deanna Gardner, Michele Gibbard, Kathy Knop, Jenny Malpass, Rachel McWatters, and Teresa Poole. Gibbard served for four points in the second game. East Jordan trailed 7-1 at one time in the third game, but Poole racked off 12 straight serving points to win it for East Jordan. The J.V. ended with a 4-7 record.

Making an award to the winners of the recent logo contest the newly formed band, Jenkins & Company held recently is Paul Jenkins, the leader of the group. The winners were Mary Hramiec, an

East Jordan wins big over Bellaire Eagles

BY STEVE GEE

After losing big to Charlevoix Tuesday night, the East Jordan Red Devils won big over the Bellaire Eagles, 67-47. East Jordan's height was too much for the Eagles as the Devils wrapped up the Ski Valley Conference Title East Jordan won by 20, 56-36, the first time these two teams met.

East Jordan took an early 6-0 lead and extended it to 16-7 at the end of the first period. Mike Goebel scored eight of the 16 points for the Red Devils. In the second period, the Devils had an eight point run and took a halftime lead of 32-17.

East Jordan outscored Bellaire 19-15 in the third period to take a 51-32 lead at its end and sailed on to a 67-47 victory.

East Jordan sank 28 field goals, were 11-24 from the free throw line, pulled down 45 rebounds, blocked three shots, and committed 15 personal fouls.

Gary Coolman had the hot hand, as he led all scorers with 21 points, Mike Goebel totaled 16 and Scot Hart added 11. Other scorers were Tom Galmore with six; James Price with four; Thom

Ashton and Tracey Segraves with three each; Todd Nachazel with two; and Philip Nemceek added one. Leading rebounders were Coolman with 13 and Goebel with 11.

East Jordan will close out their season by traveling to Pellston to take on the Hornets Friday night.

Boyne City squeaks by St. Ignace 67-65 in thriller

BY JERRY FROATS

The Boyne City varsity basketball team found reason to celebrate Friday night as they outlasted the first half doldrums and won over St. Ignace 67-65 in the second half of the game.

First period action was touch and go as there were five tied scores in the quarter. Nick Redman broke three of those ties to give the Ramblers a lead, but the Saints were tough under their offensive boards where they scored heavily all period. Each time Redman came soaring into the key points flashed on the scoreboard and the Saints began to get pushy in the lane. Late in the quarter St. Ignace got some long shots to go their way and led 19-14 at the horn.

In the second period the Saints controlled the action as they took nearly every rebound that came their way. The Ramblers were not in good rebounding position on the back side on offense and the Saints got a 10 point run for a 29-20 point lead.

Late in the quarter Mike Gabos got an assist on a feed to Kevin Snyder in the key, and hit nothing but net on an 18-footer for a 31-24 score. The Ramblers gave the Saints an even better lead when a foul turned into a three point play for St. Ignace. The Saints led 40-24 at halftime.

The Saints opened the third period with a short series of fast breaks that gave them a 49-28 lead, but that was not the end of the game in Boyne's eyes. With the Saints doubling up on Redman's side of the key, Scott Penny became the Rambler workhorse as Gabos and Steve Rickard assisted to him for timely buckets.

The Ramblers also came off the floor and began to rebound on offense as they pulled the score to 42-59 at quarter's end. Tony Napont got into the thick of things near the end of the period as he assisted to Penny and sank one in the key on an assist from Redman.

The fourth quarter was all Boyne City as the hometown crowd became extremely vocal in their support of the Ramblers' comeback. The Ramblers' man-to-man press dominated the action as they stole the ball away and forced the Saints to commit turnovers. Gabos got Boyne rolling taking the tip-off of the hoop.

Redman scored on a steal and Napont put a lay-up in. Penny added another bucket from the left side of the key and the Ramblers were within nine points at a 50-59 score.

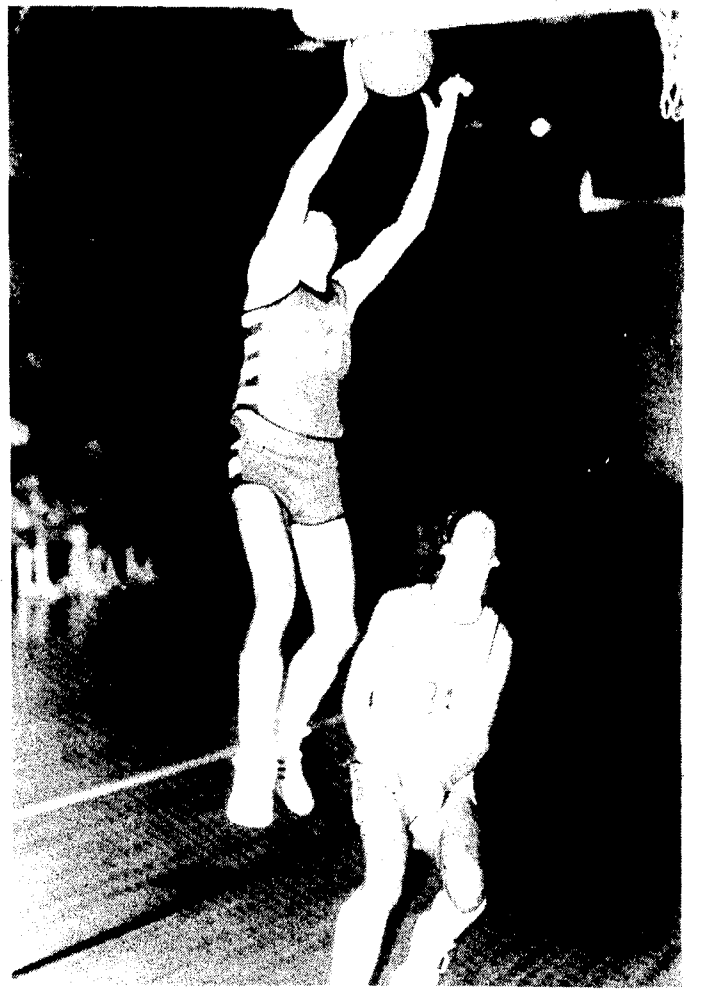

With the Saints missing the majority of their shots the Ramblers mounted a monumental rebounding effort. Rebounding combined with quick hands from Gabos, Rickard and Redman kept the ball on the Boyne offensive most of the period.

With five minutes left to play all five Ramblers got a string of assists in the key with the Saints holding steady at 63 points. With four minutes left Rickard popped from the right side of the key and the score was 58-63.

In the next 30 seconds both Rickard and Penny scored on defensive steals for a 61-63 score and Gabos tied it up at 63-all with a baseline jumper. Closing in on one minute to play Penny pushed an offensive rebound through, but the Saints got two charity tosses to tie it up again at 65-all. In the closing seconds of the game Rickard found Penny all alone near the left sideline for a winning assist to Penny. The Saints had time for one last shot, and with no pressure, missed.

Penny gathered up most of the Ramblers' points on the game with 21. He was followed closely by Redman with 18 points. Gabos hit double figures at 10 points, Napont had eight, Rickard was good for six, and Snyder had four points.

The Boyne City Ramblers have some high leapers on their team as is illustrated here by Nick Redman. The Ramblers won by a bucket 67-65.

Erick Richards got a first break when Kalkaska gave up a bad pass in seventh grade basketball. It was a pretty tight game through the first half, but the Boyne City youngsters took control in the end.

BC Middle school 7th grade wins, 8th loses to Kalkaska

BY JERRY FROATS

The Boyne City Middle School took on the Kalkaska Blazers this week and split the games between themselves. Boyne City's seventh graders won 44-37 while the eighth grade lost 44-26.

In the seventh grade game Jeremy Babcock hit the first bucket of the game while Todd Gasco and Scott Hammon tree kept the ball in the Ramblers' possession with full court pressure on the ball. Hammon tree and Gasco teamed up for many steals while Jim Abney and Babcock put more points through. Gasco scored on two steals driving to the hoop and Boyne City led 10-4 going into period two.

The seventh grade second team opened the second quarter with Chris Johnson hitting from near the left side baseline. The Blazers began to hit from way outside and the Rambler lead diminished to 12-11 by midquarter.

Up with a big basket on an offensive rebound, but Boyne committed a costly foul and Kalkaska took advantage to tie the score at 14-all. Avery got a steal on Kalkaska's out of bounds play and quickly put it up for a Ramblers lead, but the Blazers were still hitting from outside and took a 19-16 lead at the half.

The first team opened the second half and Hammon tree was quick to get another steal as he assisted to Scott Knipe and later to Babcock. Knipe tied the score at 22-all with a hoop on the offensive boards and Abney put one through to take the lead. Boyne stretched it out to a 26-22 advantage, but the Blazers threw their press at the Ramblers and closed in at 29-30 at quarter's end.

In the closing period Abney controlled the boards and Babcock scored at will while Hammon tree and Gasco demolished the Blazer press dribbling through. With two minutes left in the game Boyne had the victory well in hand with a 41-31 lead and coasted to the horn.

Gasco and Babcock led Boyne City in scoring with 14 points each. Abney, Knipe, and Brett Belford had four points each while Hammon tree and Johnson had two points apiece.

In the eighth grade game both teams made a lot of mistakes and the Ramblers were badly lacking in the rebounding department all game long. Kalkaska led 10-5 going into the second period.

Boyne almost caught up with the Blazers in the second quarter as they pressed to a 12-19 score, but Kalkaska double teamed the ball and kept the lead.

Damon Zucchiatti and Paul Molnar were Boyne's biggest assets in the quarter as they drove to the key to bring the Ramblers to a 12-13 score, but the Blazers controlled the boards and scored heavily on offensive rebounds.

After halftime Kalkaska took the game completely as Boyne committed multiple fouls on each shot and Boyne trailed 17-31 going into the final period.

Zucchiatti led the Ramblers in scoring with 11 points, while Keith Harvey had four points. Will Polleys and Molnar scored three points each, Jim Baker and Mike Knight had two points apiece and Tim Roof contributed one free throw.

Ramblers JVs take St. Ignace 54-52

BY JERRY FROATS

The Boyne City JV basketball team put another victory under their belt with a 54-52 win over the St. Ignace Saints Friday night.

The Ramblers took a 14-11 first period lead with freshman Mike DeSchryver scoring most of the points. DeSchryver worked the left side of the key where he received numerous assists from Keoki Kuheanna and Tim Hennessy.

The Saints outscored the Ramblers 19-15 in the second period to take a slim lead at halftime 30-29. The Ramblers relinquished their lead as they tried to play run-and-gun basketball with the Saints, and were unsuccessful in doing so. By the time intermission went into effect, DeSchryver had scored 18 points, most of them with two defenders on his back.

Boyne City retook the lead in the third quarter as they double teamed the ball all over the court and took command of the boards with DeSchryver and Brandon Billings snaring caroms. Kuheanna put the Ramblers out in front with a 15-foot jumper and DeSchryver followed up with a nice right handed hook shot from the key for a 37-34 Rambler lead.

Steve Sutton got four points in a row, a bucket from the left side, and two free throws on a shooting foul. This gave Boyne a 43-35 lead and DeSchryver stretched it out to a 45-37 score when the period ended.

In the fourth period the Saints made a run at the Ramblers and came close to pulling it out, but a free throw late in the quarter from Hennessy put the win on Rambler ice.

DeSchryver turned in a top rated performance with 26 points. Hennessy had 10 points, Scott Beebe had seven points, Sutton came through with six points, while Billings and Kyle Fitzpatrick added two points each.

East Jordan JVs bend to Charlevoix 85-64

BY STEVE GEE

Charlevoix's junior varsity ripped apart the Red Devils of East Jordan, 85-64. Tuesday night, Charlevoix had five people in double figures.

East Jordan was obviously outclassed, out hustled and out everything as Charlevoix led by 18, 25-7, at the end of the first period. Midway through the second period, Charlevoix led by 36, 44-8. East Jordan then put together a 16-5 run and at half-time trailed the Rayders, 49-24.

The Red Devils looked a lot better in the second half, but still could not pull off the victory. The Red Devils trailed 70-44 at the end of the third period and the Rayders sailed on to an 85-64 victory.

Charlevoix sank 37 field goals, were 11-27 from the free throw line, pulled down 48 rebounds, blocked two shots, and committed 25 personal fouls.

Terry Bonar led all scorers with 19 points, Jim Gibbs totaled 18, Jim Ciuk scored 16, Dan Drury totaled 15, and Quinton Walker added 13. Darrin Battordf and Kevin Shepard each added two points for the victors. Drury led all rebounders with 14, Walker grabbed 12 and Ciuk added seven. East Jordan sank 23 field goals, were 17-32 from the free throw line, pulled down 41 rebounds, blocked two shots, and committed 19 personal fouls.

Greg Kitson led East Jordan scorers with 13, Ted Snowden totaled 12, Shannon Olstrom scored 11 and Kevin Molby added 10. The rest of the scoring came from Kim Mc Kinnon with seven, Don Reich with six, and Terry Burt and Gene Hayden each added two points. Leading rebounders were Molby with 10, Kitson with eight and Snowden and Reich with seven each.

EJ JVs nip Bellaire Eagles 52-49

BY STEVE GEE

East Jordan's junior varsity rebounded from a Tuesday night thrashing to nip Bellaire 52-49 Friday night at Bellaire.

The Red Devils took an early 6-0 lead, but found themselves trailing 13-12 at the end of the first period. The second period was as close as the first, but this time the Red Devils took at 24-23 halftime lead.

The Red Devils outscored the Eagles, 16-14, in the third period to take a 40-37 lead going into the final eight minutes of play. In the fourth period, Bellaire pulled ahead 41-40 but the Devils regained the lead and fought off the Eagles to seal up the victory, 52-49.

East Jordan sank 22 field goals, were 8-21 (38%) from the free throw line, grabbed 52 rebounds, blocked nine shots, and committed 11 personal fouls. Greg Kitson totaled seven blocks and intimidated many more shots.

Kitson led the scoring attack with 20 points, Shannon Olstrom totaled 11, and Kevin Molby added 10. Other scorers were Ted Snowden with seven and Terry Burt and Kim McKinnon with two each.
