News Briefs

Petitions for East Jordan offices, three council seats and the mayoral position are being accepted until 4 p.m. Tuesday, June 18. The election for those seats will be November 5.

Candidates for council seats need at least 10 signatures and no more than 24 signatures. For the mayor's spot, candidates will need between 25 and 50 signatures.

Petitions are available at city hall.

Residential and single line customers of the Century Telephone Company, those in the Boyne Falls area, will see a one dollar charge added to their monthly bills, due to a FCC mandated charge.

Designed to help the phone companies recover a portion of the costs of connecting customers to the nationwide telephone network. The cost increase is part of the deregulation of the telephone industry, according to Century officials.

Friday night business hours at most downtown Boyne City stores is proving to be successful, according to the Chamber. Customer counts were up from the first week.

Six students will be inducted into the National Honors' Society next Wednesday, May 22, at 7 p.m., at Boyne City High School Media Center. Honored will be Amy Alger, Karen DeSchryver, Hal Leach, Kevin Shotelis, Sandy Schmoldt, and Peter Skornia.

As of Monday, May 14, 1985, the Commissioner of Aging, in order to institute a cost effective program of providing meals, now says it will be necessary to make reservations for the lunch meals. Please sign up or call one day in advance. The number of meals which have been reserved for that day will be ordered. This way costs may be reduced. Call 582-6682.

All parents that will have kindergarteners in the fall of 1985-86 school year are reminded they must pre-enroll their child if they have not already done so. They may do so by calling 536-2823 or by stopping in at the Early Childhood Development Center and filling out the registration.

City takes action on park water bills

Boyer City took steps to ensure that a disputed water bill between the Lakeview Village Trailer Park and the city would be paid in full at their noon meeting Tuesday.

The water bill has been in dispute by the park owners since the November billing and the city has been paid 75 percent of the total amount while the dispute was being discussed.

According to the park owners, the size of the water meter was wrong coming into the park, making the flow rates higher. This would increase the water bills.

The city removed the meter, found out that the water line serving the park is of the proper size for the meter, and sent the meter back to the Badger Meter Company in Milwaukee for testing.

The test of the meter showed that it was accurate within one percent on most flow rates and as accurate as 91 percent on other higher flow rates. This would mean the park received more water than what would be billed.

In a meeting this spring, the park management told the lot renters that the water bills were being contested and that because of the high usage of water, the rates for lot rents would be increased. The park is planning on installing their own meters for each unit so that the rates for the lots could be lower and the renters would pay according to individual usage.

If the park does not pay the current bill, now that the dispute is resolved, the city is authorized by the commissioners to shut off the water to the park, just as they would with any other user.

The park owes the city $1988.14 for the two water bills that were in dispute.

In other action taken at the noon meeting, the city moved to the planning board a request to rezone some property that had been rezoned as public property when the new zoning map was created in 1982. The city had intended on purchasing the property at that time, but has been unable to reach agreement with the property owner as to worth. The property is the Federal Oil property at the corner of Main and Front Streets. The city wanted to purchase the property for use with the new city beach that is planned in that area.

Commissioner Cass Toton was appointed to become a liaison person between the commission and the city planning board. He will be meeting along with the planners at their monthly Monday meetings. City Manager Randy Frykberg told the commissioners that the cemetery would be groomed and spruced up prior to the Memorial Day weekend and that the docks in the city marina that are under water due to the high water this year would be raised when the crane that will be used to install machinery at the new well site is in town.

BC school board approves baseball

Boys baseball, girls softball will be new spring sports for Boyne City High School next season after the school board approved the funding for the sports at their Monday night meeting. The board also approved the one-time donation of $5,000 to be given to the Boyne City Library Board so that a new furnace can be installed and replace the old system that was installed when the building was constructed in 1918.

The request to start the new spring sports was asked by a group of parents last week. The board considered the request and granted approval at this week's meeting.

Several discussions were started about the new program when the board was trying to make the motion. The board considered having a minimum of 15 participants prior to the season to ensure that the sport would be supported and whether the coaches should be paid or volunteer. Both discussions were left out of the motion that approved the sports.

Superintendent Rich Kelly then asked the board to consider the paying of the volunteer coaches in the Middle School programs as they look at other aspects of the school systems sports programs.

Boyer City will also start a search for a new high school principal as Rick Casper asked to step down as the principal and be assigned a classroom position. The resignation request was regrettably accepted by the board.

Superintendent Rich Kelly praised Casper saying "He did an excellent job as administrator for the school system and we know he will be an excellent teacher. Casper thanked the board for the last eight years he has been an administrator. The resignation will take effect at the end of this school year.

A new textbook was then approved by the board for the seventh grade social studies classes. The book will replace one that has been in use since 1969 and is out of date with the world today.

Due to a request from one of the board members on whether or not the system should require competency testing in the area of English and language skills. Math testing was approved previously for those moving from the middle school level to the high school.

After much discussion, and the feelings of the school administrators telling the board that they feel the school is doing enough testing and

And the national champions are: left to right, Nancy Weber, non-resident women; Rex Behling, resident non-resident men; and Gerry Boris, resident women.

Mushroom champions find good picking for contest

"It was a pleasant way to spend the weekend," said one of the 185 mushroom championship contenders. Especially after the weather that this event has had in the past couple of years.

The weather was just one of the good factors that the mushroom hunt had. Another was the fact that the people in the contest found not just the early black and cap types of morel, but the whites were available also for the pickers.

With all three varieties out for the picking contest, officials thought that record pickings would be possible. But, when the results were totaled, only about 4000 mushrooms were picked in the two one-and-a-half hour sessions.

The most mushrooms were picked by Dana Shaler, contending in the pro division, who gathered 414 for the two days. Tim Harwick took the second place in the division with a total of 205.

The resident men's division found Rex Behling as the new winner when he gathered 128 mushrooms on Sunday for the championship session. His total for the preliminary session was only 60 as he was the last place qualifier.

Second place in the local men's division was taken by Aaron Boris who had 124 mushrooms for the final count. Third place went to Mark Hall who brought in 130 mushrooms but was penalized 20 mushrooms for being two minutes late. All of the men were from Boyne City.

In the women's resident division, Gerry Boris found 142 in the 90 minute picking period. She was followed by Lisa Truitt who brought in 94, while Carol Hudkins had 90 for the third place. All three are from the Boyne City area.

In the women's non-resident class, first place was taken by Dr. Nancy Weber, Ann Arbor, Mi., who found 129 mushrooms in the Sunday final. Weber is a nationally known mycologist from the University of Michigan and is the first winner in the history of the mushroom contest to come from the professional level.

Her specialty at the university is mycology, or the study of mushrooms. She was the guest speaker at the mushroom seminar that the Press sponsored at the Depot Restaurant.

Second place in the non-resident class was taken by Laura Holmes, who came in with 61 mushrooms. Third was a tie between Rebecca Holmes and Rebecca Kost with 55 mushrooms each.

The non-resident men's class was taken by Darrin Huntoon of Elsie, Mi., who brought in 208 mushrooms for the final. Second place was taken by Roger Thurow of Scottville, with 169 mushrooms. Third place went to last year's winner, Paul Whipple of Nunica, Mi., who found 106 mushrooms.

While the weather was the big factor in the success of the contest, another was the quality of the entrants. One mycology club from Illinois, chartered a bus to bring 30 people to the contest. Two other

ADAPTING SUCCESSFUL RECIPES USING MUSHROOMS

Mushrooms are really interesting and unique plants, they are so very rich in nearly all of the vitamins and a good source of iron, yet they have no leaves, blossoms or fruit; and they are a fungus. A cup-full yields only 40 calories. What a terrific addition to our meals. They are so versatile and so easily adapted to our regular recipes.

The old-timers liked to make a rich sauce or gravy for almost any vegetable or meat. I am sure that mushrooms prepared the following way would be delicious, baked and served with a sauce made with cream.

BAKED MUSHROOMS

Prepare mushrooms by soaking in cold, salted water and let them dry. Slice them if they are quite large. Place them in a baking pan in a moderate oven. Season with salt, pepper, lemon juice and chopped parsley. Cook in oven 15 minutes, baste with butter. Arrange on a dish and pour the following sauce over them.

SAUCE

1 cup cream (I use Half and Half)
1 tablespoon butter (or a non-cholesterol margarine)
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
Dash of cayenne pepper
1/8 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon flour
2 tablespoons milk
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Heat cream, butter, parsley and seasonings in a sauce pan; make a paste with the milk and flour, and add to mixture. Cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until thick but do not boil.
Adapted from "White House Cookbook 1926"

My recipe for Alpine Asparagus Quiche has been a terrific success, my first story published in the Charlevoix County Press June 12, 1980. Now, I am going to vary that recipe by using mushrooms in place of the asparagus. I hope it will be received as well as the first one was.

Do it this way.

MUSHROOM QUICHE

1 unbaked 9" pie shell
1 cup mushrooms washed, sliced and lightly sauteed in butter for flavor
3/4 cup milk
3/4 cup half and half
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
Dash of pepper

3 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup shredded Swiss cheese
1/2 cup white wine (optional)
Bake pie shell for 8 to 10 minutes at 375 degrees.

Combine milk, cream, onion, salt, nutmeg and pepper and wine in a saucepan. Bring to a boil, then simmer 1 minute. Stir hot mixture into eggs. Sprinkle 1/2 of the cheese into partially baked pie shell.

Arrange mushrooms over cheese. Pour in egg mixture. Sprinkle remaining cheese over top and bake at 375° for 20 to 25 minutes or until silver knife inserted 1 inch from center comes out clean.

To make the original Alpine Asparagus Quiche use a 10 oz. pkg. of frozen asparagus cooked according to directions on the box in place of the mushrooms.

Now, this is the way I have adapted my friend Nellie's Egg Foo Yung, and she approves. This is her original recipe and it is very good.

EGG FOO YUNG

1 can bean sprouts, drained or
1 cup fresh
1/2 cup chopped cooked ham, pork or shrimp
2 eggs
1 green onion (use some of the green part)
1 teaspoon soy sauce
1/8 teaspoon salt
Vegetable oil

To adapt this recipe, omit the meat and add 1 cup sliced and washed mushrooms lightly sauteed in a little butter. Also add 1/4 cup of water chestnuts, chopped which gives it a crunchy texture and cook it this way.

Dry sprouts well with paper towel. Coarsely chop them and toss with mushrooms, green onion, water chestnuts and salt. Beat eggs and fold in all of the other ingredients.

Heat enough oil in a large skillet to cover the bottom. Gently spoon egg mixture into pan forming 4 patties. Cook slowly 2 to 3 minutes, turn as pancakes and fry several minutes more or until ingredients are set.

This makes 2 generous servings.

SOY SAUCE

1 tablespoon butter
2 tablespoons corn starch
1 teaspoon brown sugar or honey
1/2 cup water
1 1/2 tablespoons soy sauce
Melt butter; combine cornstarch and sugar and blend into butter. Add water and soy sauce. Cook, stirring constantly, until thick and bubbly.

Serve hot over the eggs foo yung.

The Bill Dunlops and Marie Schmittiel attended the graduation and pinning ceremonies of Julie Dunlap from Grand Valley State College in Grand Rapids over the weekend. Julie, who had been in the nursing program there, received a Bachelor of Science degree.

Alan Dolwick has returned to his home on Lake Street for the summer.

The Dan DeRoos and family of Grand Rapids were here over the Mother's Day weekend visiting the Adrian DeRoos. They were accompanied by their sister, Rachel, a student at the Baptist Bible College, returning home for the summer.

Last weekend, Virginia Hegerberg attended the golden anniversary celebration of former East Jordan residents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hegerberg, in Jackson, MI.

On Friday night, the tenants of Litzemberger Place enjoyed being entertained by the children of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Hoover. The children, as a Mother's Day tribute, accompanied by Mom on the piano, sang several numbers, followed by a visitation time with the tenants, which was all recorded on video.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Dougherty and daughter Dawn of Battle Creek and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Pranshka of Hastings were here over the weekend at the home of their sister Helen Larson and called on their mother, Mrs. Mabel Thompson of Mother's Day, at the former Petoskey Nursing Center. It is now the Petoskey Geriatric Village.

Mr. and Mrs. Monte Townley have returned home from spending the winter in Florida.

Sharon Thompson, daughter of the Verlin Thompsons, received her diploma from the Petoskey Beauty Academy on Wednesday and enjoyed a party of congratulations.

Ann Jenkins returned to her home in Boyne Falls last weekend for the summer. Her daughter, June and James Morey and family of Traverse City were here for the Mother's Day weekend and also visited the Jack Moreys in Vanderbilt to join in the surprise 60th birthday celebration of Mrs. Morey.

Kathy Rice and children Shannon and Jeremy of Tecumseh were here over the Mother's Day weekend visiting her parents, the Charles Inmans. Her niece, Sharon Thompson, made the return trip to Tecumseh for a week's visit.

The tables of the community room of Litzemberger Place were decorated with yellow crepe paper streamers and vases of yellow mums on Saturday afternoon in honor of Daisy Brown's 87th birthday. Several friends shared in the party hosted by her daughter Evelyn Boden and son Gary. They enjoyed ham, icecream, and a beautifully decorated cake made by Juanita Burrows. Daisy received many cards and gifts, and commented that she didn't feel any older than she did the day before, and about how her great grandmother had lived to be 112!

Lacey and Joyce Stevenson and family are now making their home in the Lansing area, where he was recently transferred from Carter's of Petoskey.

Norman and Jean Nowland of Evert were here over the week end to attend the Debra Kindy-Craig Rensburg wedding on Saturday and Mother's Day with Mom, Dorothy Nowland.

Opinions

National hunt only unique opportunity to attract hundreds

Another mushroom hunt is over until next year and while the success of the event is weather prone, this year the hunt enjoyed much success with both the hunters and the organizers of the event.

We happen to think that of all the events that concern Boyne City, the annual mushroom hunt is the only one which can draw people to the community from around the world. Sure, we have lots of other events and festivals throughout the area, and because of the tourist populations, draw many people from the local area. But how many would we draw from New York, Minnesota, Colorado, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Maine, and all of the other places that this particular event draws.

This year, we had visiting entrants and journalists from several national magazines, and one major newspaper from Sweden. Could a Fourth of July celebration bring those kinds of people to our community?

While the Fourth is listed as the biggest weekend of the year for most of the merchants, and those same merchants list the mushroom festival much lower as to the worth of the event, we think that they are misdirected as to what some of the festivals, like the mushroom festival, are supposed to do.

For one thing, they are not established to bring money into every merchant's pocket. Some merchants may never see any money directly from any of the festivals that the area holds.

But, the spinoff effect sure can bring money to them. A person who is working at one of the local restaurants, for example, that gets a good play from a festival may need some other service which is being sold here in Boyne. While one has a good weekend, another may get some benefits weeks later.

With the importance implied by being the National Mushroom Hunt Championships, our community can and is drawing entrants from around the world. It is a shame that some don't appreciate the work and the effort that such an event requires. They would rather sit back and try to reap the wealth.

It is also a shame that the local entrants don't get as much support as they should. We have hundreds of mushroom hunters living and working around the town.

The resident division of the contest should have many more entrants than the non-resident divisions. But it seems that is not the case.

Perhaps the locals would rather hunt at their leisure, without the pressures of trying to find as many as possible within the time frame that the contest requires.

Next year promises to be even larger and better as far as the hunt contest is concerned. Many of this year's entrants have come back for the last several years trying to win the prize. We need the support of the entire community to make the event just one of the things that helps put Boyne City on the map.

Jottings

BY JIM SILBAR

Michigan Department of Commerce Lansing, Michigan
ATTN: Mr. Doug Ross:

I am looking for a package of incentives similar to the one being offered by the state to Generous Motors, just so they would locate their Saturn Plant in Michigan.

According to what I have read about a proposed tax abatement plan, I need exactly what is being offered to GM.

After all, they made just a few million dollars as a corporation last year, and while we were not in the megabuck range like they were, we almost broke even.

One reason why we lost a little money last year, was because we could not get the same type of incentives as are being offered the big guys.

Sure, we can't make any promise of hiring at least 3,000 people, but maybe we could hire a couple more to help with the work load.

But if we did hire anyone, we would need those single business tax credits, and other deductions like unemployment compensation payments to be at a reasonable level.

Especially since the state is in such good shape that they have paid back a loan made by the feds earlier than committed.

If the state is in such good shape, and if they can offer such inducements to get new businesses, then I think they should provide the same to us little guys.

After all, there is more growth potential of a little company than a big one for providing jobs, and, according to your states' figures, there certainly are more little guys than big guys.

Anyway, please send me complete information as to what tax abatements I can qualify for, as well as other programs that reduce the governmental load that small business has to carry.

After all, if my company can become extremely profitable, such as one of the big guys, then we could afford to pay the taxes and the other costs that the state is enforcing on all the little guys.

Especially the unemployment stuff as we have never had any employee able to draw on our account since we took ownership.

We also feel that the state is being very unfair to many of the businesses here in the north.

You should know that the tourist season is too short for all of us and we would like to see you extend the season by about six or seven more months.

We northern businesses love being in business.

All we really want is fairness. If Generous Motors can get benefits because they are big, then we who are small want the same benefits given to us so that we could make it through a long cold winters.

Give us the same breaks. Tell those representatives that small businesses, those who gross under one-million dollars a year and have fewer than 20 employees, need the help, too.

signed,

Jim Silbar

P.S.—Since the state is granting all those abatements for Saturn, tell them that we need the plant up here, not downstate. Check with Mr. Beagle at the Boyne City Hall, he has lots of tax incentives he could add to those of the state for locating that project in Charlevoix County. Or send some other businesses up here for him to work with. We need both kinds of business, retail and manufacturing.

School

The feeling of the board after the discussion was that they should learn more about what is being tested before asking that more tests be put into the program.

In other action, the board granted tenure to Mrs. Cheryl Leach, a teacher in the Middle School and gave recognition to retiring teacher Mrs. Rosemary Mackowiak. Mackowiak was given a school bell in honor of her 27 years of teaching in the Boyne system.

They also approved the continuing of First Agency, Inc. as the carrier of student insurance for another year.

The board also heard about the student forum that was held last week at the Boyne City High School. Over 300 students from other schools in the Char-Em district came to Boyne City for the day. Students from the high school told the board of the actions that were taken at the forum.

Letters

Look at facts, first

Editor,

In reply to Ira W. Breneman's letter to the editor on May 8, 1985 in the County Press. Lets take a quick look at some of his logic and facts.

After World War I we opened our hearts and pocketbooks to the German people and their allies and helped them rebuild their countries. They repaid us with World War II. We helped rebuild their country once more. Now forty years later we have a president that wants us to forgive and forget again, and you applaud. What are you trying for Mr. Breneman - World War III?

To compare World War II with our Civil War is absolutely ridiculous. Reagan had to be forced to visit the Viet Nam Memorial in Washington, D.C. He fought every inch of the way. This same Reagan then lays a wreath in a German cemetery honoring the very people that murdered millions of people and caused so much misery in the world. He called it symbolic. Symbolic to what? Would you really recognize a fact if you saw one Mr. Breneman. Does your logic tell that that Reagan is headed in the right direction? To quote Ann Landers-I think you should wake up and smell the coffee.

Inservice thanks given

Editor,

An inservice day for Boyne City teachers and several staff members was held at Stafford's One Water Street on Tuesday, May 7. Our day was outstanding for two reasons. The speaker, Dr. T. Roger Taylor, gave an exciting presentation on the subject of gifted and talented education. In reality, the presentation was much broader and we all learned a great deal. The other reason was the location. We would like to thank the owners and management of One Water Street and especially Mrs. Renate Smith for allowing us to use their beautiful facilities at no cost to the school district.

The mushroom festival is over; and according to a careful search of our back forty, so are the mushrooms.

A gallon of milk costs more than a gallon of gas. If this keeps up I'm going to buy a cow and a horse. And that will be kind of rough. I haven't milked nor saddled in years.

The federal government will not give you a doggone thing unless you can prove that you do not have anything. Most banks will not loan you any money unless you already have some. It's stuff like this that has helped the average American to become crazy like a bat.

Some people who are not in business seem to feel that the businessman has pocket full of jingle and leads the high life. If they only knew! I was in business for thirty years and it was one long bank note of existence.

We were having a conversation with a bigamist in the restaurant the other day. (That's bigamist, not bigot. There are no bigots in Boyne City and I can't stand a one of them.) When this two-wife character was told that most religions forbid a man having more than one better half, he shook his head.

"It's not so much a sin as it is a bore," he said.
Boy! Was I glad he warned me about that.

The intelligent man asks: "What in the world is wrong with Boyne City?"

And the fool says: "I think I've got the answer."

High interest rates, taxes, federal and state controls along with inflation make this a splendid time to start up a new business. These general conditions will greatly shorten that awful period of floundering by causing you to fail much sooner than normal.

Have you read in the papers about the expected increased population of northern Michigan within ten years or so? They are saying that our northern part of the state will have another 250,000 residents by the year 2,000.

That doesn't sound good to me because Boyne City is already becoming over-crowded. When you go downtown on a busy day there isn't enough room to swing a cat.

That's why I like living out here in the air conditioned boondocks. I enjoy the fact that I can swing a cat anytime it pleases me to do so. And it makes me quietly proud to report that in the 13 years we've trod this plot of ground there hasn't been a single recorded complaint of anyone being hit by a swung cat.

If you think that I enjoy sweeping aside the tender fig of Boyne City to show things as they really are, you are shooting at the wrong target. It's just that if I don't put these black marks on white paper I won't get paid hardly at all. And not getting paid hardly at all makes me walk down the alleys to dodge my creditors.

That makes me feel creepy, crawly and shabby. Other alley walkers tell me that the creepy, crawly beats the shabby all to pieces.

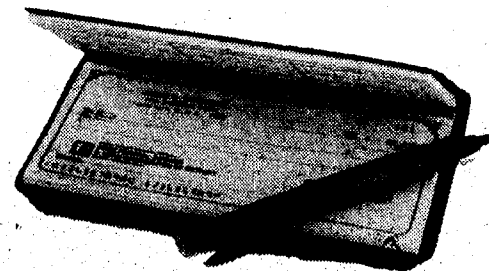

ARE YOU GIVING MONEY AWAY?

Some people still insist on having an old-fashioned checking account. Letting their financial institution use their money while they get no interest for it.

Smart First Federal of Michigan checking account customers know better. They earn interest on the money in their checking account from the date of their deposit right up until the day their checks are paid. And that can add up to a lot of money.

In 1984, the average interest earned by First Federal regular checking account customers was almost $70. And that's money they didn't have before. Extra money for a bill, a gift or a great dinner out. You can even avoid monthly service charges by maintaining a $300 balance in your account.

So stop by our Boyne City office for details. And stop giving money away on your checking account.

Staffel featured at McCune

Charlevoix potter Bonnie Staffel will be featured in a solo showcase at the Art Tree, a sales gallery in Petoskey's McCune Arts Center, through the end of May.

A professional potter for over three decades, Staffel has created a new collection of designs in porcelain inspired by her 1984 tour of China and Japan.

"For me, it's a return to simplicity," Staffel said. She added that the shapes, while free-formed, are reminiscent of the lotus, a powerful symbol in the oriental culture.

Sales gallery coordinator Audrey Collins called Staffel's new work clean, liquid, soaring.

"Bonnie has developed some delicious, soft glazes for this collection, and uses them in an unexpected way," Collins said.

"It's a privilege for the Art Tree to be able to unveil this new body of work," Collins said. "The Staffel name is highly respected for producing work that is consistently excellent. She has long been a mainstay in our sales gallery, and our reputation has been enhanced by her affiliation with us."

"Since she moved to Charlevoix in 1966, Bonnie has been one of the stellar influences in the artistic community," Collins said. "She is supportive, innovative, and energetic. Many successful potters in this area started as her apprentice, and she continues to act as mentor and friend both to students and to her fellow professionals."

An instructor of pottery for the Crooked Tree Arts Council Community School for the Arts, Staffel is also among a number of Northern Michigan potters organizing a guild for the region. She is one of the original artists who worked to establish the Art Tree Sales Gallery in the Virginia McCune Community Arts Center.

Staffel, who also sells her work from her studio south of Charlevoix, began her artistic instruction at Feather Art School in Houston, Texas, in 1943. She also studied at the American Academy of Art in Chicago, and the Toledo Museum of Art as well as at Cranbrook.

Her work has been featured in such nationally known publications as "Ceramics Monthly," "House Beautiful," "Craft Horizon," and "Ceramic Decoration." As an artist-business woman, Staffel has held offices in the Toledo Potters' Guild, the Toledo Federation of Art Societies, Artist's North, Michigan Potter's Association, Business and Professional Women of Charlevoix, American Cancer Society, and Charlevoix Garden and Camera clubs.

Her expertise and background as a painter, printmaker, and potter have earned her juror status for the Charlevoix Waterfront Art Fair, the Traverse City Art Show, the Sault Ste. Marie Art Fair, and the Michigan Potters' Association annual exhibition. She has taught seminars at Oakland Community College, the Upper Peninsula Crafts Council, and the William Boniface Art Center in Escanaba.

Staffel has amassed an impressive array of award and exhibition honors beginning in 1950 when her work was featured in the craft show at the Toledo Museum of Art. After a string of one-man shows and invitational exhibitions in the midwest, she had work accepted in the International Japan Pottery Design Competition in Nagoya-shi. Most recently, her work has expanded to include photography, a medium in which she has received awards for juried work by the Traverse City and Crooked Tree arts councils.

Staffel's new design in porcelain was featured in the Michigan Potter's Association 1985 perspective at Delta College. The invitational exhibition was on display at the college during April.

EJ's past gets Historical Society care

BY ELOUISE ROSSLER

Step into the Lodge at Elm Point and you have gone back 100 years! The East Jordan Historical Museum Society has created an authentic and purely delightful "corner of history" of East Jordan in a building once used as a 7 or 8 car garage. The displays are getting their annual dusting and updating this month in anticipation of a busy summer beginning in June.

According to Cyg Riley, about 20 or so years ago the Bridge Tournament Society saw the need for a local museum. A committee of Elaine Savory, Jane Jackson and Cyg Riley worked on the idea, keeping it alive. The Bridge Tournament Society agreed to set aside money for three years, but the committee was unable to find a suitable location, so the Society donated the money to other worthy causes.

The original committee continued to work toward their goal, joined by Doris Huckle who had a "museum jug" for donations in her antique business and display shop. Money and artifacts were collected for 11 years.

In July, 1972, Dr. George and Betty (Allen) Westgate donated their summer home, Elm Pointe, to the city of East Jordan. The Historical Society finally had a possible place for a museum. A grant from the Michigan Council for the Arts for site planning at Elm Pointe got things rolling nicely. The planning architect was Victor Hogg, the same planner who worked on Mackinac Island Fort Michilimackinac. The Lodge, a 7 to 8 car garage with a huge recreation room in its second story was the building used. The Lodge was constructed in 1947 by well known builder Ben Ellis of Walloon Lake.

In 1976, America's Bicentennial, the East Jordan Historical Museum opened its doors and a long pursued dream became a reality. For several years the upstairs was used as a studio for art and ballet classes. Portside Art Fair held each August is an integral part of the Society. (The Art Fair is a story in itself!)

Displays are varied and interestingly done, though space is at a premium. The clothing display is extensive and varies from undergarments to shoes to hats and dresses. Mrs. Esther Dye donated some clothes of her mother's dating back to the early to middle 1800's. J.C. Penney's of Petoskey recently donated some bust mannequins which can be used to exhibit more of the clothes.

One wall has a display of agricultural tools of early East Jordan days. A State Fair Committee member commented it is "one of the finest agricultural displays in the state."

Musical instruments of interest are a melodeon from the 1860's "bought with bounty money," a pump organ and a Victorian organ that looks like an upright piano.

Other exhibits include the kitchen collection which reminds modern women how much easier laundry and cooking are today. There are artifacts from both World War I and II. Memorabilia from the Loveday Opera House is displayed as well as a dress of Miss Louisa Loveday, aunt of local artist Peggy Midener. Miss Loveday was a well known elocution teacher, lecturer and poetry reader, often performing in the Loveday Opera House, when not touring the country.

The East Jordan Iron Works has a pictorial display of their 100 years in business in East Jordan. A beautiful collection of leather tools and woodworking tools was donated by Russell Barnett.

Family histories are available for perusal as is the register of the Commercial House Hotel, listing guests from 1884, including Charles Strang in 1887 (son of "King Strang" of Beaver Island) and Dave Parrish who knew Amos Williams (the man who is reputed to have named the Jordan River).

In the Society's possession, but without ample display room they are stored, are the early business records of local farms, of the East Jordan Lumber Co., the East Jordan and Southern Railroad (dating from 1880's), and the East Jordan Canning Co. Other donations of early business artifacts are in early stages of development.

A beautifully original, handmade quilt is on display depicting events and families dating from early East Jordan. The quilt was made by ladies of the Society in 1976 to commemorate the nation's Bicentennial. The Society is already beginning plans for special events and programs in 1987 to celebrate the Sesquicentennial of the State of Michigan.

Present officers involved in May's dusting and 1987's plans are George Secord, President; Florence Stucker, Vice President; Kathy Sewell, Secretary; Betty Boswell, Treasurer. In addition to maintaining and operating the museum, members answer the many letters requesting family information for personal family trees.

Mrs. Riley and Mr. Secord said that local elementary school children are given tours of the museum each year. Cassette tapes made by senior citizens in adult education about the early days of East Jordan will soon be used more frequently.

The museum is open weekends only June and September, 1:00-4:30 p.m. and is open daily from 1:00-4:30 p.m. in July and August. Anyone wishing to be a member of the Society or to donate local artifacts is invited to monthly meetings held at 7:30 p.m. on the second Thursday of June through October. A $5.00 membership fee is charged per family.

Take a peek at yesteryear's treasures and visit the East Jordan Historical Museum at Elm Pointe on M-66 north of East Jordan. You'll be glad you did!

EJ ministerial assn. to host blood drive

The East Jordan Ministerial Ass'n. announced the spring Red Cross Blood Drive to be held May 16, Thursday, at the Evangelical Lutheran Church in East Jordan. Located at the corner of Nicholls and Third, donors are requested to come to the church between noon and 6 p.m. in order to give blood.

Co-ordinated by the Ministerial Association for the first time this May, the East Jordan drives have been very successful in the past. Red Cross personnel are highly dependent upon volunteers and local support in order to provide the estimated 58,000 pints needing to be collected in the Wolverine Region this year. The East Jordan May drive goal is 70 donors and pints of blood. In this last year, 270 pints were collected from the people of East Jordan of the total of 1050 pints collected in Charlevoix County. Persons involved with this effort, in addition to the Ministerial Association, are Volunteer Co-ordinator Delores Goebel; Donor Contact, Ometa Goebel; Publicity, Rev. Brian W. Secor; and Canteen, the East Jordan Lioness Club. Any person wishing to help with any of these items is encouraged to contact the person noted or Rev. Robert Herbon, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, at 536-7331 or 7586.

New donors are encouraged to walk in the day of the event or contact Ometa Goebel, 536-7084, for an appointment in the day. Regular donors will be contacted by phone prior to the event and encouraged to schedule an appointment. All who can give blood are surely encouraged to do so for only 5 of every 100 adults in this country donate blood, something that can only be shared, never made.

The Wolverine Regional Red Cross Blood Services supply blood and blood products to 37 hospitals throughout the 27 county area of Northern Michigan including the entire thumb area and portions of the Upper Peninsula. It is the newest of 57 Red Cross regions, being formed in July of 1968.

The sponsoring organization for the blood drive is the East Jordan Ministerial Ass'n. and is currently composed of the following pastors representing these churches: Rev. Robert Herbon, Evangelical Lutheran Church; Dr. Donald Ferguson, Presbyterian; Rev. James Duncan, Missionary; Rev. Wesley Norton, Church of the Everlasting God; and Rev. Brian W. Secor, United Methodist.

East Jordan Council Minutes

PROCEEDINGS OF EAST JORDAN CITY COUNCIL

The East Jordan City Council met in regular session, May 7, 1985, at 7:30 p.m., Mayor Sweet presiding, all members present except for Councilman Hoffman. Minutes and the investment report were accepted. Authorization was given to pay $97,713.76 in bills.

Council approved Elm Pointe rental requests from Northwestern State Bank and the Russ Bolt family. Both parties received a waiver of the no alcoholic beverage rule. The $25.00 team fees were eliminated for the unlighted little league fields of Murphy and Watson.

Several requests were granted to the Jordan Valley Freedom Festival for their 4th of July Celebration. Four requests are being held in abeyance until further information is received.

Council supported the East Jordan Family Health Center's idea to apply for a grant to provide supervised recreational activities for children after school hours whose parents are at work.

Council voted 4 to 2 to pursue a one year contract with Superior Sanitation for the operation of the City's landfill. Joseph and Beck opposed.

Nomination petitions for the offices of 1st, 2nd and 3rd ward alderman, as well as the Mayoral seat, are available at the Clerk's Office. All petitions must be filed no later than 4:00 p.m., June 18, 1985.

A copy of the official minutes of the above meeting is posted in City Hall for perusal during normal business hours.

EJ approves landfill hauling contract

East Jordan city council approved entering into a one-year contract with Superior Sanitation Company to operate the city's landfill although councilman Cliff Gibbard urged the council to pursue other options. However, the council voted otherwise.

Additionally, council approved the elimination of fees on the unlighted Murphy and Watson fields which are used for Little League baseball. For the past two years, a fee of $25 per team was charged for use of the fields. Councilman Al Joseph remarked that the little revenue generated by the fees was more than offset by the hard feelings created.

Several requests for the Jordan Valley Freedom Festival, including restricting traffic on Spring Street to accommodate a flea market on July 5, were presented by Cele Malpass. Other ideas under consideration for the festival, scheduled for July 4 through July 7, are two parades, a dance, helicopter rides, and water events.

Supervisor Mike Dionne reported that the city was in the third year of tree planting on city streets. "The city loses a large percentage (of planted trees) through vandalism," Dionne stated, and urged citizen cooperation in deterring vandals.

The high water of the South Arm of Lake Charlevoix has devastated the city's beach and swim area.

Dionne remarked, "the water may go a foot higher." There has been a loss of sand, he said, and the city is currently looking for sand to re-establish the beach.

Dionne introduced Richard Beagle, coordinator of the Charlevoix County Business and Industry Task Force, who reported to council concerning the joint effort of Antrim and Charlevoix Counties to promote the growth of industry in this area. Beagle urged local businesses to participate in the Manufacturers' Fair to be held in October.

Signs for garage sales are to be posted only for 24 hours prior to a garage sale and to be removed within 24 hours after a garage sale. Councilman Ellen Cihak reminded the council. Because of several violations, Cihak urged stronger enforcement of the ordinance. Upon the motion of councilman Al Joseph, this matter was referred to the Public Safety Committee.

Mayor Pat Sweet announced that the Day of the Eagle Powwow is scheduled for June 8 and 9.

Treasurer Glendora Murphy reported that nominating petitions for the positions of mayor and aldermen in the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd districts are available. Petitions must be returned by June 18 at 4 p.m.

Among the incumbent aldermen, only Gibbard announced that he will not run again. Mayor Sweet and the others will announce their decisions soon.

mycology clubs were in attendance, but not as a club function. Next year, plans are to invite all the mycology clubs in the nation to come to the event.

Weber said that she is going to send out in the mycology journals, a challenge to other professors to come and enter the contest.

Merchants also said that they had a good weekend. Combined with the Mother's Day events, some stores reported that sales for the weekend were up as much as 50 percent. Restaurants in the area said that they had a great weekend with many meals being served to mushroomers and to Mother's Day eaters.

While this year's unusual weather brought out all three varieties of mushrooms for the pickers, the early caps and the blacks are expected to be past their prime by this weekend and only the whites will be available to the pickers coming from the south.

ORV reminded to use only designated trails

Department of Natural Resources (DNR) State Park managers are reporting an increase in illegal use of Off-the-Road-Vehicles (ORV) on State Park, Recreation and Wildlife Area Lands. ORV users are reminded that these areas are off limits to ORV use, with the exception of the Silver Lake State Park ORV area in Oceana County, where special rules apply.

Driving ORVs in non-designated areas in Michigan is a misdemeanor punishable by up to 90 days in jail and/or a $100 fine.

DNR State Park managers also point out that in order for any vehicle to travel on roads within State Parks, they must be street legal, have a vehicle license, and the operator must have a valid driver's license.

Over 1,400 miles of trails throughout Michigan are designated specifically for ORV use. These trails are listed in the Michigan Cross Country Cycle Trails guide published annually by the DNR. The guides are available at all DNR Upper Peninsula and northern Lower Peninsula Regional, District and Field Offices or DNR's Information Services Center, P.O. Box 30028 Lansing 48909, (517) 373-1220.

ORV users are reminded that they must renew their registration before hitting the trails this Spring. In-State ORV registration is handled at any Secretary of State Office; out-State registration is through DNR's Information Services Center in Lansing, at Silver Lake State Park, and many DNR District Offices.

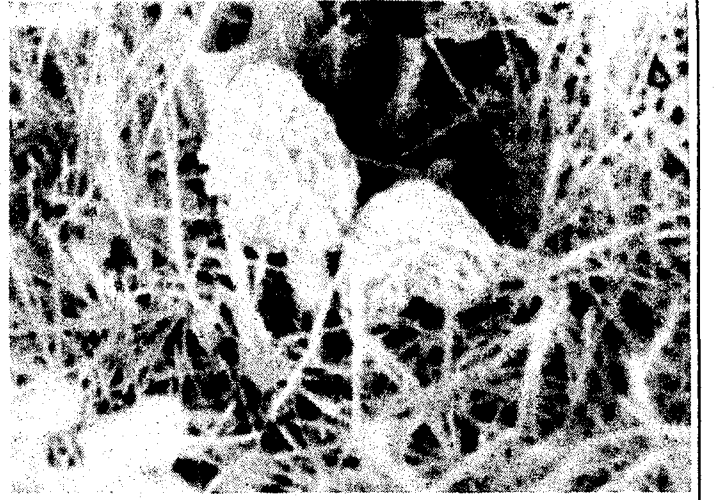

Urban parks losing city funds

Urban parks, many designed 50 to 100 years ago, are among the decade's big losers in the heated competition for city funds, reports National Wildlife magazine.

Morel hunters from the world over came to compete. . . then eat

Contestants for last weekend's mushroom hunt signed up early Saturday morning to get their bags for the contest.

Mushrooms could be found all over. These two were growing in Veterans Park just a few feet away from the registration desk.

Although he isn't trained as a mushroom dog, his owner told everybody that he had a sure lock on the first place with the dog's help.

After the Saturday hunt this crew of Lions counted every bag to determine the finalists in Sunday's event.

The mushroom club from Illinois chartered a bus for their 30 contestants.

Malfred Ferndock, Minnesota mushroom hunter brought his morelabilia to the event for many sales.

They're off and running at the sound of the siren for the finals of mushrooms in the two-day event. Many are going to be the national mushroom hunt. The hunters collected over 4,000 returning next year.

Surber to speak in EJ at U-M church

Miss Suzanne Surber, missionary with World Gospel Mission to Japan, will speak at the United Methodist Church located at the corner of 4th and Easterly in East Jordan on May 23 at 7:30 p.m. at Family Night. A potluck supper will precede Miss Surber's presentation and will be at 6:30 p.m.

Suzanne was born in Marion, Indiana, graduated from Taylor University in Upland, and secured a master's degree from Ball State University in Muncie. She also has obtained a teacher's certificate. Her areas of study in graduate school were elementary education and guidance counseling.

Suzanne went to Japan in 1976 as a missionary specifically to work at the Christian Academy in Japan located in Tokyo. The Academy is an English speaking school with approximately three hundred students in kindergarten through the twelfth grade. The school is attended mostly by missionaries' children, though about 15 percent of the student body are Japanese and international children desiring schooling in English.

Suzanne's responsibilities at the Academy have been many, though her title was guidance counselor. She gave both personal and career counsel to students, planned curriculum, made class schedules, administered entrance exams, registered students, and recommended special programs for children with learning disabilities.

2 area restaurants out of 5, picked for Michigan dinner finals

The "All-Michigan Meal" Contest judges have named five top chefs as finalists with the announcement of the winner Friday, May 17, helping to kick off Michigan Week festivities.

Each finalist, chosen from over 40 entrants in the contest — sponsored by the Michigan Restaurant Ass'n., the Greater Michigan Foundation and AAA Michigan — has created a unique, four-course menu of such diverse Michigan products as pheasant, morel mushrooms, fiddlehead ferns and maple syrup.

The menu will be served at the winning chef's restaurant during Michigan Week (May 18-25) and will be unveiled at the commencement of Michigan Week celebrations at 10 a.m. May 17 at the Detroit Press Club.

The finalists are Harlan W. Peterson, chef at the Tapawingo, and Jim Milliman of the Rowe Inn, both in Ellsworth; Leopold K. Schaeli of The Machus Red Fox in Birmingham; Charles Rachwitz divisional kitchen specialist for the C.A. Muer Corp., and Brian Polycen of the Lark in West Bloomfield.

Entries in the first "All-Michigan Meal" contest were judged on the most innovative use of Michigan agricultural products, originality, simplicity, taste and eye appeal. Recipes include only Michigan ingredients for four servings of soup, vegetable, entree and dessert.

The initial judging was coordinated by Angelos Vlahakis, intern program coordinator at Michigan State University's School of Hotel, Restaurant and Institutional Management.

The final judging will be done by Detroit food and dining writers, including Molly Abraham and Jeremy Iggers of the Detroit Free Press; Sandra Silfven and Andrea Wojack of the Detroit News; Evelyn Cairns of the Mellus Newspapers; Nancy Kennedy of Ford Times; Ethel Simmons of the Observer and Eccentric Newspapers, and Len Barnes of Michigan Living.

The winning chef will receive either a weekend for two at a Michigan resort or $500 in cash.

County Extension service hosts a day at the farm for area 5th graders

Students for area fifth grades were invited to the Korthase Farm by the County Extension service in Boyne City to learn all about how food gets to the table. Here, the students just arrived and are getting into groups for the tour throughout the farm.

County Extension Agent Rod Cortright explains what plants are grown for food to the children from Boyne City and Boyne Falls.

Bill Korthase tells the students about the cows and how they are cared for on a real working farm.

One of the biologists from the University of Michigan Biological station was on hand to tell the children about farm ponds and what they do on a farm. Other stations on the tour told about soils, wetlands, and woodlands.

Then the representative from the Michigan Milk Producers' Ass'n. showed the students where the milk is contained after the milking of the cows.

And, of course, the best part of the field trip for the students was the cookie and milk break they had at the end of the tour.

Free colorectal cancer tests offered at CAH

The Charlevoix County unit of the American Cancer Society and Charlevoix Area Hospital are launching a week-long program May 20 through 25 they hope will help men and women forty years old and over protect themselves from colorectal cancer.

A simple do-it-yourself test that detects blood in the stool will be offered free to residents in the area served by Charlevoix Area Hospital from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the hospital.

"This test detects hidden blood which is a warning sign of colorectal cancer, the second most common type of cancer in adults forty and older," said Roger Sievertson, president of the Charlevoix County Unit of the American Cancer Society.

"This test can play an important role in helping save lives from this cancer since colorectal cancer is highly curable when found early and treated promptly," he added.

According to Sievertson, the test can help a physician find colorectal cancer even before there are any visible signs.

"A positive test doesn't mean you have cancer," he said.

"Blood in the stool may have several causes but it does mean you should see a physician."

Area residents who wish to be tested are asked to follow a simple diet outlined on the test itself, take several stool samples and return the test kit by mail for evaluation.

The project is part of a three-year initiative of the American Cancer Society, the Colorectal Health Check program, designed to improve survival rates for colorectal cancer. Currently, colorectal cancer is the number two cancer killer of American men and women after lung cancer. The disease will claim the lives of an estimated 60,000 Americans in 1985, 2,100 from Michigan alone. When colorectal cancer is detected and treated in an early stage, however, the national average five-year survival rate is 76 percent for colon cancer and 73 percent for rectal cancer.

Horton Bay UMC to host services starting May 19

A special series of inspirational and evangelistic services will be held at the Horton Bay United Methodist Church May 19-23. These services, called the New Life Mission, begin with the regular morning worship hour at 9:30 a.m. Sunday, May 19. Sunday evening worship will be at 7:00 p.m. Evening Preaching services will be held each evening Monday through Thursday at 7:30 p.m. An exciting program of special music is planned for each evening. A morning study hour will be held each morning Monday through Thursday at 10:00 a.m. on the topic "The Church's Ministry of Healing."

The guest speaker for these services is the Rev. Paul C. Frederick of the First United Methodist Church in St. Clair Shores. He has been conducting New Life Missions in local churches for ten years. He has preached in evangelistic missions in Michigan, W. Virginia, Wisconsin, Tennessee, Pennsylvania, and Sydney, Australia. Besides preaching he has been a teacher, probation officer, factory employee, and salesman, and has for many years made a serious study of the Charismatic movement. He regularly conducts seminars on the Church's ministry of healing.

The public is invited to these special services.

Boyne City track teams do well at Gaylord, Rudyard meets

Boyne City's boys' and girls' track teams attended the Gaylord Herald Times Invitational and the Rudyard Lions Relays this week and performed well, bringing home a few awards and ribbons.

At Gaylord, Nick Redman highlighted the day for Boyne City with a first place in the high jump at 5 ft. 10 in. Redman went on to attempt at six feet, but after clearing the bar with the upper body, failed to follow through with the lower body for a scratch.

Another bright spot on Friday was a third place run in the mile relay by Steve Parsons. Parsons led the race for two laps, but drifted back to third in the final two laps.

Another third place finish came from freshman pole vaulter Mike DeSchryver with a vault of 10 ft. 6 in. The vaulting pit at the meet was not set up properly ly and vaulters from many schools had difficulty clearing the bar.

The Ramblers took a fifth in the long jump relay with Terry Dell and Todd Fanning teaming up in the pit.

Tony Napont and Keoki Kuheana placed sixth in the shot put relay with their combined efforts.

In the girls' competition, Boyne City took first place in the shot put relay with 58 ft. 5 1/4 in. by Angela Reich and Tammy Winters. The same girls also took fifth place in the discus relay with tosses totaling 148 ft. 9 in.

The girls' team placed fifth in four other relay events including 400 meters, 800 meters, 1600 meters, and the Herald Times Medley.

Running in the 400 meter relay were Kelly Montgomery, Julie Montgomery, Angela

Reich, and Tami McPherson.

Running the 800 meter relay were Karen DeSchryver, Katie Vickers, and the Montgomery girls.

The 1600 meter relay was run by Michelle Vroman, Vickers, J. Montgomery, and DeSchryver.

In the Herald Times Medley, Kelly Smith ran a 100 meter leg, K. Montgomery ran the 300 meter leg, Vickers ran the 400 meter leg, and J. Montgomery ran the 200 meter leg.

Monday at Rudyard, Parsons won a special award for winning the two mile run with a time of 10:03. Hal Leach was not far behind Parsons and earned third place in the same event.

The rest of the boys' team collected a second in the Distance Medley, a third in the long jump relay, two fourths in the shot put and discus relays, and a fifth in the 800 meter relay.

The long jump relayers for Boyne were Redman, Fanning, and DeSchryver.

The Rambler shot put competitors were Napont, Kuheana, and Dale Sutton. The discus relayers were Napont, Kuheana, and Greg Webb.

The 800 meter relayers included

DeSchryver, Glen LaCroix, Redman, and Pat Weeks.

Competing in the distance medley were Travis Hartman, Roy Kitson, Parsons, and Leach.

In the Rudyard girls' competition Vroman, Reich, and Winters placed third in both the shot put and discus relays.

J. Montgomery, Reich, and K. Montgomery placed 5th in the 440 relay, while the Montgomery girls combined with DeSchryver and Smith for a fourth in the 880 relay. Boyne City's girls also placed fourth in the sprint medley running Vroman, Smith, West, and Force.

The girls had an exceptional run in the two mile relay for a second place finish running K. Montgomery, DeSchryver, Vickers, and J. Montgomery.

It is easy to see that Nick Redman is over the bar in the high jump pit. The bar is set at six feet, but Redman hit the bar with his legs. Redman did win the event with a leap of five feet ten inches, and hopes to clear six feet eventually.

Loggers win two by default, scrimmage

The Boyne Falls Loggers baseball team hosted the Mackinac Island Lakers Monday afternoon in a double header and posted two wins 6-0 by means of forfeit. The Lakers were one player short for a sanctioned game, but the two teams played a scrimmage style game to fill the afternoon. In game one, the Loggers won 20-2 and in the follow-up game outscored the Lakers 16-7.

In the first game Norm Hausler took the mound for the first time ever and went three innings with three hits, two walks, and fanned five. James Crego pitched the remainder of the game and struck out five batters.

The Loggers scored seven times in both the first and second innings, five times in the third, and once in the fourth. The Lakers' runs were scored in the second and third innings with Logger Brian Walker scoring once while he filled in for absent Lakers.

Collecting hits for the Loggers were Neil Wasylewski with an R.B.I. double, Hausler went three of five with a bunt single and two singles and two R.B.I.s. Scott Winhusen hit a double and two singles for two R.B.I.s. Kelly Harmon got an R.B.I. on his first inning triple. Ross Payton singled, David Gillespie tripled, and Neil Wasylewski singled twice and beat out a bunt down the sideline for an R.B.I. Chuck Skop singled. Wayne Reynolds got an R.B.I. on his single, J. Crego doubled, and Chad Robinson drove in two runs with his double.

In game two, Topolinski and Walker filled in for the Lakers and posted a single each. For the regular Logger team Reynolds singled in a run, Hausler drove in two runs on a double, Payton singled, Skop doubled for an R.B.I., Robinson singled twice to get two R.B.I.s on one hit. Adrian Churchill outran a bunt for an R.B.I., Matt Crego drove a run in on his single, and Neil Wasylewski singled.

These Boyne City track relayers placed fifth in the Herald Times Invitational 400 meter relay. Taking the hand-off is Rambler speedster Angela Reich.

$10,000 Trout tourney on tap for this weekend on lake

$10,000 in cash and many other prizes will be going to some lucky anglers this weekend when the first Lake Charlevoix Area Trout Tournament gets underway Saturday,

May 18 in the early morning hours for those who have signed up for the fishing. The tourney, which is the first one ever on the lake, will start from many spots around the lake including the Charlevoix, Boyne City and East Jordan areas. The fishermen will be going after honors in four divisions, brown trout, lake trout, steelhead and salmon.

The first place in the brown trout division will be $1,000 in cash and a 15 horsepower Yamaha outboard motor for the largest brown trout caught in the two day tourney.

An additional bonus for that division will include another $2,000 if the brown trout was caught on one of the locally made "Stinger" lures by the Advance Tackle Company.

If any angler catches a specially tagged brown trout, they will be awarded $5,000. That fish will be released in the middle of the lake and will be caught previous to the tourney by officials from the DNR. They will be marking the fish with a special DNR tag and re-releasing it into the lake.

Anglers can also register a boat into a mini "Tournament within the tournament" and pool up to five fish in weight of any of the four divisions for even more prizes. The fish will be weighed each day of the tourney and the winner will be determined by the total weight caught. The winnings will be divided up by tournament officials to cover the first three places. Boat registrations and the number of anglers on each boat, will determine the amount of cash to be given away.

While most of the prizes in the contest are set for the brown trout division, other prizes will be given for the first three places in all divisions. $2,000 will be split and awarded for the other divisions of the tournament. The sponsors will be paying the first three places in each of those divisions.

Anglers wishing to enter the tournament must be preregistered at area tackle stores and at area Chambers of Commerce. The entry fee for the contest is $15.00 per angler and those who wish to be in the "Tournament within the tournament" will be an additional $15.00 per boat.

Included in the entry fee will be a complimentary "Stinger" lure and a special-souvenir Lake Charlevoix Area Trout Tournament hat.

The officials are asking that all fish caught, even those that might not be eligible for a prize in the tournament be brought to the official weigh-in station in the East

Park at Charlevoix so that officials from the DNR can check on the entire fish catch for a cross section and analysis on how the fish are growing and living within the lake. To encourage that, the officials are giving each person bringing in a ticket for each fish on a chance to win a $750.00 Si-tex fish graph donated by Fairport Marina of Charlevoix. The tournament ends at 3:00 p.m. on Sunday. Prizes will be awarded shortly after the officials have a chance to check all the results. The prize ceremony will include a fish boil in the park with all interested people invited to meet the contestants and other dignitaries such as Ronald Skoog, the director of the DNR.
