Water main breaks new concern of Boyne City

Water lines are becoming a problem for Boyne City as the city is repairing two a day and has for the last several days, according to Randy Frykberg, city manager.

The reason for the water line breaks is unknown to city officials, but they are looking into the possibility of fluctuating water pressures due to the starting and stopping of the new city well.

Most of the breaks have occurred since the well was put into service.

Frykberg told the commissioners at the noon city meeting that the breaks are happening at joints and also at other places in the lines where they should not be.

The water lines are old, he continued, and although the city doesn't know the reason for the breaks, they have asked the city engineer for an opinion.

Frykberg also told the commissioners that with the number of breaks, the city crews have devised another way of repairing the leaks. They are driving a cedar plug into the hole.

"While it's bad, now," commissioner Cass Toten said, "Just think what we could have if this happened in January or February."

Frykberg told the commissioners that the city is keeping track of the breaks as to where they occur, and if the line gets too many, the city will have to replace the old water line.

One of the problems of the water lines is that they have deteriorated with age, and they may not be able to stand the new water pressures that the pump is putting out. Currently, most of the city is working on water pressures of 30 to 60 pounds but, according to Frykberg, the water mains should be able to stand pressures over 100 pounds.

"This is one of the things that we are going to have to look at when we consider our capital improvement program," Frykberg said.

In other action at the noon meeting, the city okayed a resolution to allow the City Housing Administration to be the overseer of a program that allows residents to get low interest loans to improve their property.

While the qualifying rules for the low interest loans limit them to the disadvantaged, city officials hope that residents will be able to use them.

The money for the program is included in a Small Cities Community Development Housing Block Grant that the city authorized the housing commission to apply for several weeks ago.

Loan applications are going to be accepted by the Boyne City Housing Commission when the grant is approved.

The city also recognized Dane Earl, a senior citizen who walks down to the Senior Center for lunch frequently from the Litzenburger Apartments. On his way downtown, he often stops to pick up litter to deposit in trash containers. He was given a city hat by Frykberg.

Planners okay plans for duplex, Peninsula Bch Suites

Meeting in another special session, Boyne City planners okayed two site plans for developers. One of the site plans is for the second phase of the One Water Street project area, while the other will allow the building of a duplex condominium on Front Street.

The duplex plan was approved after the developers Jim Gray and Doug Nickel showed plans for a Victorian styled building.

The height of the proposed structure will be slightly less than the present building on the site, according to the developers. The site is located next to the Harborage Marina office.

Parking for the occupants will be off Elm Street, similar to another plan that was rejected by the planners on another project in the same area. The developers hope to start the teardown of the building on the project yet this fall so they can begin building.

The Peninsula Beach Suite section of the Country Inn portion of the One Water Street development will be in stages, according to Rick Smith the project manager. The first section will be started this fall and will be the center portion of the three buildings. Each building will contain 15 rooms and after one is completed, the next will start.

Completion of all three buildings is expected to be by the summer of 1987. The buildings will be joined by removable partitions, and will also carry the early era theme that the project features.

Footings and pilings are expected to be constructed yet this year for the first building, and then the site will see construction starting again next spring.

The final portion of the 55 room inn is expected to see construction start in 1987 with completion by 1988.

Parking for the new portion will see another 57 parking spaces developed in the area along Front Street.

About the only concern of the planners on the Peninsula Beach site was whether or not the developers would allow sufficient green belt areas along the lakefront. They were assured by the developers that the 20 feet of greenbelt would be enough and that trees and shrubs would be planted in the greenbelt area.

While planners okayed both projects, they did express some concern about the developing pressures to rebuild areas along the first tier of buildings around the lake.

Some of the concerns were expressed by Dale Parsons, the president of the board. In reaction to Parson's statements, board member Bill Casper said that the planning board had set a precedent with this development, and that they would have to look at each one in the future on its own merits. City Manager Randy Frykberg also told the board that they would see more of these questions as the city continues to have growth.

East Jordan picks Moore as new H.S. principal

"Schools are for kids!" is the basis of educational philosophy of Keith Moore, newly hired principal at East Jordan High School. Moore, who replaces Harry "Bud" Ashton who resigned to take a job in Colorado, comes north from Vassar, Michigan, also a small town.

Moore was approved as the new high school principal at the Oct. 1 East Jordan school board meeting. Superintendent Tom Rossler said, "The board and I feel that Keith Moore possesses the personal and professional qualities that the East Jordan public schools need at this time."

The 46 year old principal was assistant principal of Vassar High School the past five years, athletic director for seven years and a coach and teacher making 17 years in the system.

He was high school principal at Owendale-Gagetown High School for one year, but decided he wanted to continue coaching and went to Vassar. He had taught in four other systems prior to the Owendale-Gagetown position.

Moore grew up in Remus, Michigan, and went through high school there. He received his B.A. from Albion College in Physical Education and Social Studies and his M.A. in Education Administration from Central Michigan University.

Moore hopes to be on the job in East Jordan within the next two weeks, providing he can make all the necessary arrangements professionally and personally.

His wife is a first grade teacher and will not move here as quickly as he, as they also must dispose of their home and find housing here. They have three children, one daughter is a commercial artist, a second daughter is studying commercial art and fashion design in Atlanta, Georgia, and a son who is a ninth grader.

Moore and his family enjoy many of the recreational interests available here, however, he states "his primary motivation to come here is because I feel it is time to move into a full time principalship." The family enjoys sports, especially basketball (which Moore coached), golfing, cross country skiing, and he hopes they can get back into fishing.

Moore cited as specific goals for the immediate future is to get acquainted with the students and faculty and become familiar with the methods of operation of the school system.

"After 17 years in one system, you know it very well. I am sure East Jordan will have some different ways of doing things." First, he will learn the daily operation of the high school and begin to handle those matters. Later he may have some ideas for programs which he has been involved in before and are not present here. He did not elaborate on this matter, giving himself the option of making that decision himself.

Moore has handled discipline at Vassar High School for the past five years and believes that you should be fair but you must enforce the school's policies.

Moore's goal is to promote innovative, creative teaching which motivates students. He believes that all teachers can learn and all students can benefit from this philosophy.

EJ man held for death

An East Jordan man is expected to be arraigned in Charlevoix District Court Wednesday morning in connection with the death of Patricia Marie Swanson, 31, also of East Jordan.

Aided by state police detectives from the Petoskey and Traverse City posts, the East Jordan police department and the state police detectives made an arrest Saturday around 6 p.m., slightly less than 24 hours after the body was discovered.

When the police and ambulance crews found the woman dead, they

Legion, Auxiliary aiding Statue of Liberty work

Members of the American Legion and Auxiliary held their October meeting Thursday at the Post Home. Following a 6:30 dinner the program was given by Warren Davis, Post Adjutant. A letter was read from Lee Iacocca relative to the Statue of Liberty, Ellis Island Foundation, thanking both organizations for their financial support to this project. Further that great progress has been made in constructing a new torch and strengthening the statue's framework for the future. He stated, "We've got a long, long way to go in raising our full budget of $230 million to restore the statue. Liberty Island and Ellis Island. That's why I hope you will help once again with another contribution so that we can complete each crucial phase of our construction repairs."

"The statue represents for you and me, and for every American the hope of freedom and the dream of opportunity. But to keep this symbol of our hopes and dreams alive we have to protect her copper and iron from the ravage of wind, weather and time which have seriously corroded her." The letter further detailed the crucial phase of restoration. During their separate business meetings the Legion and Auxiliary each voted an additional contribution be sent to this project. This brings their combined contribution to $425. Any individual or other organization may send their contribution to P.O. Box Liberty, New York, N.Y. 10117.

Jottings

BY JIM SILBAR

Boy, have I got the hot tip for those of you that want to get in shape for the upcoming ski season. Also for those of you who really want to look at all the fall color around this town.

All you have to do is make a plan to walk up the 422 steps at the Avalanche Mountain Preserve here in Boyne City.

It is enough to make you at least winded, if not exhausted.

At least there are plenty of places to stop and catch your breath, even sit a spell as you look over the town.

But if you are into trying to make a ski team, you should try running up the steps. If you can do it without stopping, you are in better shape than anyone I know.

Probably not a heart attack candidate, either.

That is the only caution I could think of, after I walked up the face of the hill on those steps.

But, the trip was worth it, even though I was stiff for a couple of days afterwards because I, and I admit it, am out of shape.

Maybe I oughta join the health spa just so I could get a massage for all those aching muscles in the legs.

Of course I will have to do it again and again. Climb those steps, that is. I want to get in shape for ski season.

If you haven't heard it already, the newest item to take hold among the kids are whistles. I do mean hear, because they become extremely irritable after a child blows one in your ear a couple of times too many.

Those little sirens are selling like hotcakes according to a couple of shops that have them.

As far as I am concerned, those stores can sell a ton of them. They sure brighten up a moment when you blow on them. Of course a little bit goes a long way, and I don't think I could take a whole lot of hearing that siren in my ears.

It's always interesting to hear some of the "debates" that go on at the coffee shops and bars between those who know what the latest thing is on the rumor mill and those who have to add something else to fuel the fire. I am amazed that some of the things talked about may come true, and that the rumor mill was accurate enough.

Of course I also know that I can't beat the rumor mill as far as news goes, only because we have to take the time to make sure the type-setter is working. Some of the best stories of the day can be heard on the rumor mill, and I kinda enjoy hearing them long before they are officially released.

Some of the things I know about because of the position of being the press in the community, but I have had a long tradition of waiting for the story to be officially released before I will write about it.

Right now, I can think of five stories that we are following along the mill. Hopefully, three of the five will be true.

Then I can write about it and let you know what was right, or what was wrong, about the rumor you heard last week or so.

* * *

One of the things that is always appealing to a newspaper person, you used to be able to call them newspapermen, but in light of today's world, you have to say person, is that you are either so far in the know because you are on top of things, or so far out of it you would like to take a vacation as far away from here as possible.

One of the things that we have never liked though, is deliberate withholding of the news as in the case of most lawyers.

Sure, they may have to protect their own interest for their client, but if something is going to happen for sure, then they ought to be able to release some facts.

Now, if they don't want to, that becomes another story.

Ware-withal

BY GAIL WARE

There was a time in my life when I pored over pictures in magazines that showed the transformation of dismal houses into gracious homes. The "before" and "after" photographs stirred my imagination to grand plans for making our house into a haven of style and charm. But that was before the bathroom project.

We knew from the start that the bathroom needed big help. The room had entertained four leisurely shower-takers for 17 years with only paint and contact paper to protect its drywall construction. The walls had given up on standing erect and the ceiling had grown freckles of mildew. What the room needed was a fairy godmother. Lacking faith that we might locate one in time, we settled for hiring a contractor.

The bathroom remodeling work began at 9:30 one bright September morning. Three men laid a canvas runner on the floor between the bathroom and the front door and shut off our water. Then they began breaking up the bathroom. They ripped out hunks of wall, carried them through the living room and threw them into the garage. I noticed right off that the canvas runner gave slim protection in the wide area that was being used. As the men trotted through the house, they swung their pieces of drywall in sweeping arcs, scattering dust and wall bits as they went.

After a while, they began tearing out the ceiling. Insulation poofed down into the bathroom and drifted out to the living room.

The workmen had gutted and gone by 5 o'clock. They left the living room frosted with drywall fibers while tufts of insulation floated in the late afternoon sunlight. Cleaning up the mess was not in the men's job description. They did turn the water back on. And though the tub and basin decorated the driveway, the toilet was still in place.

Sometime during the night, I discovered that the workmen had not only torn out the walls and ceiling in the bathroom but punched a hole in the roof as well. I don't usually wake in the night, but my subconscious must have felt that I needed the experience of sitting on the toilet with rain falling on my head.

After the first day, the men's interest in their work flagged. They moved about listlessly. We had two weeks of listless as a matter of fact before the fellows managed to finish rebuilding what had taken them only a few hours to dismantle.

Meanwhile, the house was coated with drywall dust and the garage became a combination workroom and junkpile for the bathroom project. After five days, we did prevail on the men to install the tub and the shower. Being able to shower at home gave us a sense that we had regained some control over our disrupted lives.

For over a year, we've enjoyed our stylish bathroom with its blue and white striped wallpaper, blue fixtures and ivory and blue floor. For a time my pleasure was mixed with resentment at the "before" and "after" pictures that made remodeling look so simple. But soon I realized that my grand plans just never took into account that there had to be a period of disorder between "dismal" and "done".

I guess that in my heart of hearts I carried the notion that fairy godmothers not mortals take care of home improvements.

While much has been written about the Boyne City Tanning Company, which was located where the Harborage Condominiums are today, this picture of the workers at the tannery shows how many men were employed. While this is probably not the entire crew working, the 80 some workers took some time off to pose for this picture of unknown origin. Pictures like this were common of the time as the photographers of the day really had to work to earn a living. Hopefully men would buy the photographs to show their wives and girlfriends.

Saturday is Columbus Day. That's October 12th. It is not October 14th as listed on some calendars. And while we're talking about it, let us remember that this great American land of ours is the result of Christopher Columbus getting lost.

There were several things to be done the other morning and I didn't know which to do first—go to the bank, the hardware or the grocery store. I figured first things first should be the rule. But I didn't know if the hardware or the bank came first. I knew the grocery store wasn't first. Grocery stores can be gone to anytime. Usually last, so the milk won't get warm in your car while you're running in and out of those other places.

When I got downtown, I started to go to the bank and then said to myself, "No, I'll stop here at the hardware; it's closer." Then I thought I might run out of money, so I'd better go to the bank first.

Years ago when Robert Campbell was president of the old State Bank of East Jordan he told me that most people took care of their business at the bank first, no matter what else they might have to do.

So it would be the bank first. But before I knew it, it had driven beyond the bank, turning around at the corner restaurant, my car spit a couple of times and stalled. To heck with it, I'd stop in for coffee and then go to the bank.

I sat there drinking and joshing with some retired merchants and then got into an argument over what year Lake Charlevoix froze the earliest. After a while I looked at my watch. Heavens it was after eleven. I had to run home and do some things I had promised my wife.

I walked into the house and looked at her. Then it hit me. What I had heard years ago was wrong, wives come first.

* * *

There are times when a Boyne City rumor will start out as a thin piece of thread and wind up at the barbershop as a nice ball of string.

I had difficulty sleeping the other night. I would sleep a little then wake up and then go back to sleep, only to wake up again. Finally, I became disgusted and got up off the davenport and went to bed.

Do you know why, at my age, I refuse to slow down? If I were to do that my past might catch up with me, and I'm in no condition to wrestle with that.

What would you do if your past were to catch up with you? Lie to your spouse? Leave town as soon as it got dark? Wring your hands and say the past is bunk? (It may be now, but it wasn't when you were fussing with it.)

Personally, I keep pounding this typewriter to keep my past where it belongs.

Speaking of the past, remember back when women were not so worldly wise and could not tell how far a frog would jump merely by looking at him?

And now to chop this thing off with a question for the Boyne City postmaster: How come, sir, that junk mail is never addressed to the wrong boxholder?

Sheridan receives award

Tom Sheridan, an East Jordan High School teacher, was recently awarded the Michigan Association for Career Education Award. This award is given to provide formal recognition for one person in each Career Education Planning District. It is given to an individual who has made significant contributions to career education and is a practitioner's award open to all individuals who work to provide career awareness.

Sheridan was the recipient of this award because of his educational work as well as his summer work with youth. He is a day time Auto Mechanics teacher, an Adult High School computers instructor and during the summer he runs the Charlevoix/Emmet Intermediate School District Auto Project. In this latter program he works with young adults who fall under Job Training and Placement Authority (JTPA) guidelines.

Sheridan's work on the East Jordan Community Education Advisory Council has assured the establishment of the SCORE (School, Community Occupational Resources) Program. As part of this program the school is inviting professional men and women from the community to volunteer their time to speak with youth. Some community members have signed up to give a presentation on their particular profession.

SALADS WITH A HAWAIIAN TOUCH

I have received some exciting salad recipes from Frances Ridge-way of Sacramento, California, which I am anxious to share. They all sound so very different and delicious. She has just returned from a long vacation in Hawaii, visiting her daughter. These recipes have the Hawaiian touch.

Frances has written to me before as she spent her growing-up years in the Boyne City area. She writes, "Before my family moved to Michigan in March, 1929, we lived on a true homestead in northern Minnesota. My dad had died and my mother with four small children married a bachelor of 40 years of age. He had come to Minnesota from South Dakota after World War I. He took up a homestead in northern Minnesota, built himself a log cabin and lived a life of the true pioneer. We lived there about a year before the folks decided to move to Michigan.

I'll never forget our first spring in Michigan. We had nine apple trees that bloomed that spring. We thought we were in heaven. The old house on Lewis Street is torn down now, but I believe the maple trees are still out in front. I am proud of my pioneer heritage, though I am far removed from such a life now."

Now for the recipes. How about starting with her daughter's

HAWAIIAN CHICKEN SALAD

You will need:
Baked chicken breasts, cooled and cut into small pieces.
Dry Chinese noodles, broken in small pieces, or Won Ton Chips
Head lettuce
Shredded carrots
Green onions
Water chestnuts
Mix all together and add the following:

SPICY HAWAIIAN FRENCH DRESSING

1 cup salad oil
1/2 cup catsup
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/4 cup vinegar
1/4 cup water
1 teas. salt
1/2 teas. paprika

2 cloves garlic, pressed
2 tab. lemon juice
3 tab. sesame oil
2 teasp. prepared mustard
Mix all together in a quart jar. Frances also likes to use this dressing on plain lettuce for a tasty salad.

THREE BEAN SALAD

with a different dressing
1 can green beans
1 can kidney beans
1 can garbanzo beans
Drain all of the beans. Put into bowl and add 1 red onion, sliced. Add parsley. Also add green pepper if you have it. You can vary the above ingredients to your taste.

DRESSING

1/2 cup oil
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup honey
Now for a real Caesar salad. This recipe was given to her daughter's friend from the chef at Harrah's in Reno.

CAESAR SALAD

2 heads romaine lettuce. Wash, drain well and chill for several hours.

1 cup croutons; homemade are best. Just toast bread cubes in 350° oven for 10 minutes. Cool
1/2 cup Parmesan cheese
1/4 teas. salt

2 small cloves garlic
2 anchovy fillets
1/2 lemon, juice of
4 oz. olive oil
1 1/2 oz. red wine vinegar
1 egg

2 tab. Worcestershire sauce
10 drops Tabasco sauce
1 tab. Dijon-style mustard

Put salt and garlic in bottom of a wooden salad bowl. Take two forks and mash garlic until no large particles are left. Add the anchovy fillets and mash into garlic until you make a paste. Add the next ingredients, one at a time, mixing well after each addition so the dressing will be well blended. Set bowl with dressing in refrigerator to chill until ready to serve. Then, add lettuce and toss greens to coat. Add Parmesan cheese and croutons and toss to distribute.

This makes enough salad for four to six persons, depending on size of helpings.

Thanks, Frances.

Cindy Jo Crozier named to represent Northern Michigan in AAQHC

Cinda Jo Crozier, 22 year old blonde from Boyne City will be Northern Michigan Quarterhorse Ass'n. first representative to the All American Quarterhorse Congress in Columbus in October.

She currently holds double titles in queen contests, being runner-up at the Mason Show for the State of Michigan and being selected the queen for northern Michigan. Cinda was judged on personality, poise, knowledge of AQHA Rules and Horsemanship.

She has an associate degree in Business Administration with emphasis on computers from Ferris State and Northwestern Michigan Colleges and has been working the past year as the Charlevoix County numbering specialist. She will be attending Central Michigan University in September for a degree in teaching as a special education major for younger children.

Being no stranger to the horse world—she has been showing for 17½ years—and from a humble beginning on a dapple grey pony that her grandfather hauled up from Arkansas, Cinda has surpassed her expectations and is enthusiastically looking forward to the congress.

She has broken and trained all of the horses she has ridden and shown. Credit should be given to her friend, Mike Greer who helped her and also allowed her the use of his gelding one summer when she was 'between' horses.

Cinda's grey youth mare, Donna Bar Twist, carried her to many wins and championships at halter, showmanship, equitation and pleasure, as well as English, along with gold and silver medals at MSU state show competition. She holds area ass'n. awards and superiors in pleasure, showmanship, western pleasure and equitation; AQHA mare and foal and broodmare year end awards and member of

Devils romp over Pellston Hornets, 45-16 to tie for 1st

The East Jordan Red Devils ran all over the Pellston Hornets Friday night in a 45-16 romping. The Devils gained 332 yards rushing and 103 in passing. The win put the Devils in a tie for first place in the Ski Valley Conference.

East Jordan was able to use every player which made coach Ted Jeffery very happy. He said that the next few games are going to be tough and playing time for the substitutes may be limited.

Pellston got on the score board first on a 73 yard run. They added the extra point to go up 8-0. The Devils came right back, as they moved the ball effortlessly down the field and scored on a 22 yards pass completion from Bill Lytle to Mike Goebel. Dave Russell ran in the extra point to tie the game up.

In the Devil's next possession, Darren Graham scored on a 42 yard run. Pellston keyed on Ted Snowden all night which opened it up for the other backs. East Jordan scored once again in the first quarter on a two yard run by Russell. Lytle connected with Jim Raymond for the extra point which put the Devils up 22-8 at the end of the first quarter.

The only scoring in the second quarter came when, East Jordan Halfback, Steve Dionne rambled 45 yards for paydirt. Greg Kitson then hit Shannon Olstrom for the two point conversion. At the end of the first half, East Jordan led 30-8.

Darren Graham scored his second touchdown on the first play of the second half when he broke through the line and ran 72 yards for the score. Lytle connected with Goebel to put the Red Devils up 38-8.

The Devil's last score came on a one yard run by Dionne. Russell booted the extra point through to raise the lead to 45-8.

Pellston scored their final touchdown in the fourth period, but fell quite a bit short.

In the rushing department for the Red Devils, Graham carried the ball five times and gained 150 yards. Dionne rushed for 60 yards, Russell gained 40, Snowden totaled 34, Aaron Spence collected 26, and Gerald Clark added 25.

Bill Lytle completed six of nine passes for 73 yards, while Greg Kitson hit on three of six passes for 30 yards. Goebel pulled down three passes for 41 yards while Raymond, Snowden, and Olstrom each had two pass receptions.

Defensively for the Devils, Darren Bishop totaled a season high of 10 tackles. Terry Burt got the hit on eight tackles while Dale Schroeder had seven, Jeff Gee had five, and Lytle, Olstrom, and Bill Kraemer each had four. Bishop and Ron Cook each had fumble recoveries and Spence had two pass interceptions.

East Jordan will host Harbor Springs next Friday in East Jordan's homecoming.

And he's into the endzone. Carrying the ball is Steve Dionne of the East Jordan Red Devils. Dionne's TD run went for 45 yards and came in the second quarter.

EJ girls take 1st win, beat Pellston 42-31

BY STEVE GEE

After losing their first seven games, the East Jordan Red Devils girls' varsity basketball team won their first game, over the winless Pellston Hornets.

On Tuesday, East Jordan hosted Central Lake and fell 42-31. The Red Devils received a strong performance from both Jody McDermott and Kristy Miller.

A low scoring first period found Central Lake on top 6-2. The Devils stayed right with the Trojans in the second period and went into the locker rooms trailing 22-17. Central Lake managed to outscore the Devils 9-6 and 11-8 in the final two periods.

McDermott led the scoring with 15 points while Kristy Miller was right behind her with 14. Shelly Malpass scored East Jordan's other two points. McDermott also led the team with 10 rebounds.

The Red Devils JV team, coached by Becky Gengle, ran away with a 41-23 victory over Central Lake. The Devils led 11-6, 24-11, and 31-16 at the end of the first three periods.

BOYNELAND REFUSE

Boyne loses 42-0 in wind, snow and rain

BY JERRY FROATS
In what was labeled as "their poorest showing of the season," the Boyne City Rambler football squad suffered their fifth loss in as many games at the hands of the Sault Ste. Marie Blue Devils, 42-0. In howling winds mixed with snow and rain the Ramblers had their hands full as the Blue Devils executed basic football strategies enroute to their second win of the season. Boyne City held the Sault off on the Blue Devils first possession, but a Rambler error set up the Sault's first score and took the wind from the Rambler sails. The Blue Devils scored twice in the second period to lead 20-0 at the half and continued into the third quarter with 14 more points for a score of 34-0 going into the fourth period. After scoring another touchdown and converting for two points the Blue Devils reached their final tally. This Friday night will be the Ramblers' Homecoming game and will be played against the Onaway Cardinals. Last year the Ramblers got their only win of the season on Homecoming night and local football fans hope the team can regroup for a repeat this year.

Attempting to break away from the defender's grasp is Stan Antoine [55], Terry Burt [65], and delivering a big hit is Ron Cook [88]. The linemen in on the play include Aaron Spence [40].

BC girls add 2 losses to list after facing league power

The Boyne City girls' basketball team added two more losses to their record last week against two powerful conference teams, Rogers City and Petoskey. Tuesday's score against Rogers City ran 60-40, and Thursday's game with Petoskey was 63-47.

Tuesday's action found the Ramblers playing to relatively close quarter scores, with the exception being period one. Rogers City outscored Boyne 14-3 in the first quarter, and both teams came up with a dozen points in period two. After halftime, the Ramblers went down by four more points as Rogers City scored 19 points to the Ramblers' 15 points.

In the fourth period, the Ramblers got six girls into the scoring column, but only for a bucket each as the Rogers City girls hit seven of 10 fourth period free throws and four shots from the floor.

Julie Montgomery led Boyne City with 14 points and was the only Rambler to reach double figures. Rogers City put three girls into double figures for a combination of 46 points. Other Ramblers to get on the board were Lisa Caverly with 8 points, Kerry Harvey had 7, Linda Bieganski scored 5, while Jill Harris, Kelly Smith, and Colleen Toton contributed a bucket each.

In Petoskey the home team took a 32-21 first half lead and followed up with 31 second half points for the win.

Boyne City had more balanced scoring against Petoskey as three girls hit 10 points or more. Montgomery canned 14 points while Harris and Caverly hit for 10 points each. Other Rambler scorers included Toton with 6 points, Harvey with 4, Smith with two, and Bieganski added a charity toss.

Comments

Once Boyne stops remembering past, town can work for future

BY JERRY FROATS
Longtime Rambler fans remember when Boyne City was revered and respected on the gridiron and wonder what has happened to the teams of today. After so many years of viewing loss after loss their enthusiasm has dwindled to ridicule and disgust, without realizing the damage they inflict on the spirit of the young athletes on our teams.

Winning teams have winning attitudes and attitudes of high school athletes are reflected by the community's attitude. With negative comments and unthinking actions the community is split in opinion as to what should be done to correct the situation. Some blame the coach, some blame the kids, and some blame the parents, but all agree—something should be done.

Perhaps the top order of correction should be centered on backing your team. Individuals have to feel good about what they are doing before they perform to their top capabilities.

Our teams need complete backing by the community as a whole to lift the city out of the doldrums and losing attitudes. If a team is expected to lose, they probably will. When emphatically encouraged and supported, teams feel better about themselves and are better able to grip difficult situations.

Rather than have one group of enthusiasts wanting to do one thing and another group fighting them off, get the two together and come up with a common goal towards the betterment of the total community. Too much energy is wasted when disputes are hotly contested on both sides. A blend of both factions may very well reveal other possibilities that could benefit our youth. UNITE, DON'T FIGHT!!

EJ jvs knock off Pellston 22-8

BY STEVE GEE

East Jordan's junior varsity football team upped their season record to 2-3 by defeating the Pellston Hornets by a score of 22-8.

The first quarter was scoreless, but the Devils got on the board early in the second stanza when Dave Freeland ran seven yards for the touchdown.

Dennis Skrocki then connected with Matt Bishop on the extra point to put the Devils up 8-0.

Later in the quarter, Freeland broke loose on a 23 yard run for a touchdown. Skrocki then connected with Alvin Merrill for the extra point to put the Devils up 16-0 at the half.

DNR announces hunting rule changes

The Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Law Enforcement Division staff reminds hunters to keep abreast of hunting changes for the 1985-86 seasons. These changes are noted in the 1985-86 Michigan Hunting and Trapping Guide that can be obtained from all DNR Offices and license dealers throughout the state.

Hunters may not hunt with firearms on ANY lands during daylight hunting hours from August 15 through March 31, 1986 unless a hat, cap, vest, jacket, raingear or other outerwear of highly visible color (hunter orange) is worn and is visible from all sides. During the firearm deer season all hunters, including archers, must comply with this rule. This law does not apply, however, to those hunting waterfowl, bobcat, crow or wild turkey, nor to bow hunters seeking deer or bear during the open archery season.

New hunting hours for 1985-86 are set to begin one-half hour before sunrise and end one-half hour after sunset. Exceptions to this rule include migratory birds and turkeys (see 1985-86 Waterfowl and Turkey Guides for specific hunting times).

Artificial lights (hand carried or on person) may be used during Sept. 1-March 31 by a hunter carrying an unloaded gun while following dogs and at the point of kill for taking raccoons (treed), opossums, skunks and foxes during the open seasons on those animals.

Small game hunters should note that season or yearly bag limits have been taken off rabbits, squirrels, pheasants, ruffed grouse and sharptail and possession limits remain the same as last year.

For rabbit hunters, a new statewide season was established from September-March 31; for squirrel hunters a much longer season exists, running from Sept. 15-January 1, 1986 statewide.

Additional changes in the 1985-86 hunting season include bears being protected in the Upper Peninsula (Zone 1) during the November 15-30 firearm deer season. Bear baiting restrictions this year also prevented bait stations from being established prior to August 27 or after October 31 in the U.P. and October 7 in the northern Lower Peninsula. Bait can only be placed on the ground now and no containers can be left in the woods.

Hunters should note that all trapping has been banned in the Sleeping Bear Dunes and Pictured Rocks National Lakeshores.

Easing the path for the cross country trail on Avalanche Mountain was Al Sadowski of the C.H. Smith Company. The trail was designed several years ago by volunteers and promises to be in great shape for this coming season.

T.O.M. to return $2.5 million

BOYNE CITY-Top O' Michigan Rural Electric Company will return some $2.5 million in patronage capital refunds starting October 10th to more than 37,000 present and former members.

It will be the largest patronage capital revolvment made by a rural electric cooperative in the country, said Tom Hanna, Top O' Michigan General Manager. "We are extremely pleased that we are able to issue over $2 million in refunds to many of our residential, commercial and industrial members," Hanna said. "This is their cooperative and we are glad that we can return part of the equity they invested in it."

Most members will receive refunds from $10.00 to $300.00.

Refunds will be distributed throughout Top O' Michigan's twelve (12) county service area.

Per county totals are based on present and past members who received service in these counties and includes permanent and seasonal residents.

Refund sizes are based on the total amount of billing payments made by each member during 1971-1976 and also in 1984. A total of $2 million in patronage capital will be returned to members who received electric service any time during 1971-1976 and another $500,000 will be refunded to members who received service any time during 1984.

Money members pay in excess of the cost of providing them with electric service is patronage capital and it is their equity in the member owned cooperative. The revolvment entails returning portions of the equity to the early members on the system first. This keeps responsibility for maintaining equity in the cooperative on the current membership.

However, this year's revolvment includes issuing refunds to current members too.

This is the cooperative's second patronage capital revolvment. Last year Top O' Michigan returned some $830,000 to members who were on the system any time during 1963-1970.
