News Briefs

Your taxes just went up. Charlevoix County Commissioners authorized the raising of the levy, already approved by the voters. For the last few years, the board was collecting .175 mills of the .25 mills authorized.

This December, the amount represented on the tax bills will add an additional $147,000.

Those who are receiving surplus food in Charlevoix County from the Northwest Michigan Human Services Agency will have to be recertified as to the amount of income they have in order to continue to receive the surplus foods the agency is giving out. For senior citizens households, the base income level is $8,400 for one person; $11,280 for two people. Add $2,880 for each additional person in the household. For all others, the base income level is $6,564 for one person, $8,813 for two. Add $2,250 for each additional person in the household.

Wilson Township is asking residents if they favor buying land for a new township hall that could also be used for family gatherings and recreation. Currently, the township owns only one acre of land which is in a swamp and is renting the township hall.

East Jordan schools will be getting a new phone system after settling on a Comtel engineered package. The system will have room for up to eight lines and 24 phones in both the elementary-middle and high school buildings. The new Comdial system will cost the school system $12,700.

A scary good time is promised by the Boyne Falls School when they hold their annual Halloween Carnival on Wed., Oct. 30 from 6 to 8:30 p.m. They will be having fun, games, activities and costume contests for everyone from preschoolers to adults.

Boyne City's United Way Drive has reached $9820 in trying to reach the goal of $25,000 for this year's drive. "Thanks to you, it's working."

Sex ed committee almost dissolved

Sex education issues were raised again at the Boyne City School Board meeting held Monday night when board member John Mathers suggested a motion to dissolve the committee working on Human Growth and Development.

Mathers, disgusted with the fact that the committee has not really functioned over the last few years, along with the committee's inability to meet when school board members could attend meetings, told board members that he felt the committee was going off in the wrong direction, and since the group meets to serve the board in an advisory capacity, "felt it had served its purpose."

Mathers motion called for the school administrators to bring to the school board all Human Growth and Development materials that are being used and planned usage, so the board could review the material and then deal with it without having to go through the committee.

Mathers found support from other members on the board with board president Phil Bowman agreeing that "the committee was not serving the board."

Richard May asked that the board get a statement from the committee telling what its goals and objectives are, along with the justification for continuing.

Mathers told the board, "I feel we've reached the peak. There is a starting point and a finishing point of what the children should know at those early stages." Mathers was referring to some of the curriculum that is being developed for the elementary children. "The program has gone far enough," he added.

Speaking from the audience, former board member Eleanor West told the board "It sounds to me like if the board doesn't like what is being done, they will dissolve the program." She asked about the public's input into the program from the volunteers serving on the committee.

She was told that when the board took over the functions of the committee they could come to the school board to review what was being presented.

West then told the board that if the motion passed, "It would be a slap in the face, very undemocratic. They don't have a chance to defend themselves."

Another visitor in the audience agreed with West and asked the board "What's the hurry to make a decision. From what I have heard here tonight, the committee has met very seldom and has not done much lately."

Stating that he would like to see an in-depth report from the school principals on everything concerning Human Growth and Development in the present curriculum, Mathers pressed the issue by reminding the board of the motion on the floor.

After some more discussion, board member Larry Monshor withdrew the second to the motion, thus causing the motion to be dropped.

Don Glowinski then presented a new motion to have the committee meet and make a report back to the school board by the next meeting, in November. He wanted the committee to analyze and finalize their goals and objectives by that meeting so they could be presented to the school board.

The motion was passed with a voice vote.

In other action, the school board agreed to borrow $648,070 from the Charlevoix County State Bank. They bid a low of 5.38 percent interest on the note that is borrowed annually in anticipation of receiving taxes. Northwestern State Bank was the highest bid received by the board, asking 6.85 percent interest from the school.

They then heard a report from Bill Coberly, the energy specialist hired by the school board on the latest changes and status of the improvements.

The board then authorized the firm to set up the bid specifications on the repair of the high school gymnasium roof.

A determination is being made as to how much weight the roof will presently hold, and what needs to be beefed up to meet the current load regulations. The roof will be repaired next spring and summer, according to Larry Monshor, one of the members of the building committee.

He did tell the school board that the cost may run well over $100,000 for the repair of the roof.

The board also heard a presentation from an AT&T salesperson concerning a new $14,972 phone system that would replace the present telephones in all three schools.

They also agreed to purchase a new freezer for the high school cafeteria.

It was also agreed to a request to buy a new 19 ft. aerial work platform until they could explore other equipment that could do the job.

$300,000 grant will pay for industrial park improvements

Boyne City will be getting a $300,000 grant to help pay for the construction of utilities to the new Air-Industrial Park. The grant request was approved, according to Senator Mitch Irwin's office, a week ago Tuesday.

The grant, along with the money earned from the sale of the property in the park to Magna of America, and the tax increment financing plan that was approved several weeks ago, will be used for water and sewer construction. That construction is supposed to be started early next spring.

The TIFA area will be providing $445,000, along with the $15,000 from the property sale which is the city's matching share they had to provide in order to get the grant.

Also included is the construction of roads, curb and gutter within the park area.

The first plant to go into the new park is the LexaMar plant, which is presently under construction. Completion of both the plant and the utility construction is expected to be by May of 1986.

Luncheon favors and table centerpieces were furnished by the East Jordan Garden Club members.

Jottings

BY JIM SILBAR

Recently I was asked what I could recommend to the state so as to help out some of the businesses in the northern part of the state.

Since the person asking for advice did not put any qualifying remarks to his question, I answered in another way to another question.

This was something that I learned a long time ago from watching and listening to politicians. You can learn from it too, if you just listen to what they are really saying when they are asked for a direct response to a direct question.

Like if they asked, "Do you want to have a ham and cheese sandwich or do you want a roast beef?"

Their answer might be, "Well, of course I would like to have a lunch, Lord knows that we are so busy with the state's business we can't find much time for it, but rather than having any of the two choices, because I don't want to offend the hog raising group if I had the beef, or offend the beef group if I had the pork, I think we should be providing a free lunch to anyone who thinks they can qualify to the standard qualifications of our welfare system."

"And speaking of welfare, I would like it on the record that I am for trying to cut back on the expense of welfare to the taxpayers who are going to have to cover the cost for such a program."

See what I mean? We still don't know what the guy wants for lunch, or even if he is going to have lunch.

But we have heard a lot of gobble-de-gook about nothing, filled with lots of conflicting arguments that answers no one no way.

I think they must have to go to school to learn how to talk that way.

This is especially true to those who are higher in governing circles.

A county level politician would not be able to talk that way as compared to a state level politician. And if you get to talk to a federal level person, they are even worse.

It is almost the same way when you talk to civil servants between differing governing bodies. Or worse yet, different divisions of the DNR.

While one person may say that it is all right to dump something like stumps in a certified landfill, because stumps pollute, someone from the forestry division may say that the stumps are great for the development of wildlife and should be left to rot out in the open.

Another example may be the difference between persons who have to "grade" a wet area into differing types of wetlands.

They just can't seem to have the same criteria for each. What one person may say is a swampy area, another will say it is a wetland.

Both may have some water, but both are different as one reads the rules for a wetland or rules for a swamp.

And what one may say, another from a differing department may disagree.

Or, they will change the rules of the game in the middle of it making it even more difficult to determine what is right in the public interest.

Too bad our politicians can't put a handle on some of the changes that they vote to create, we could use some good solid decisions on a lot of matters, like landfills.

Do you know what a trillion is? Try the federal budget deficit and then double it. Great. You have just figured out what the government owes to itself.

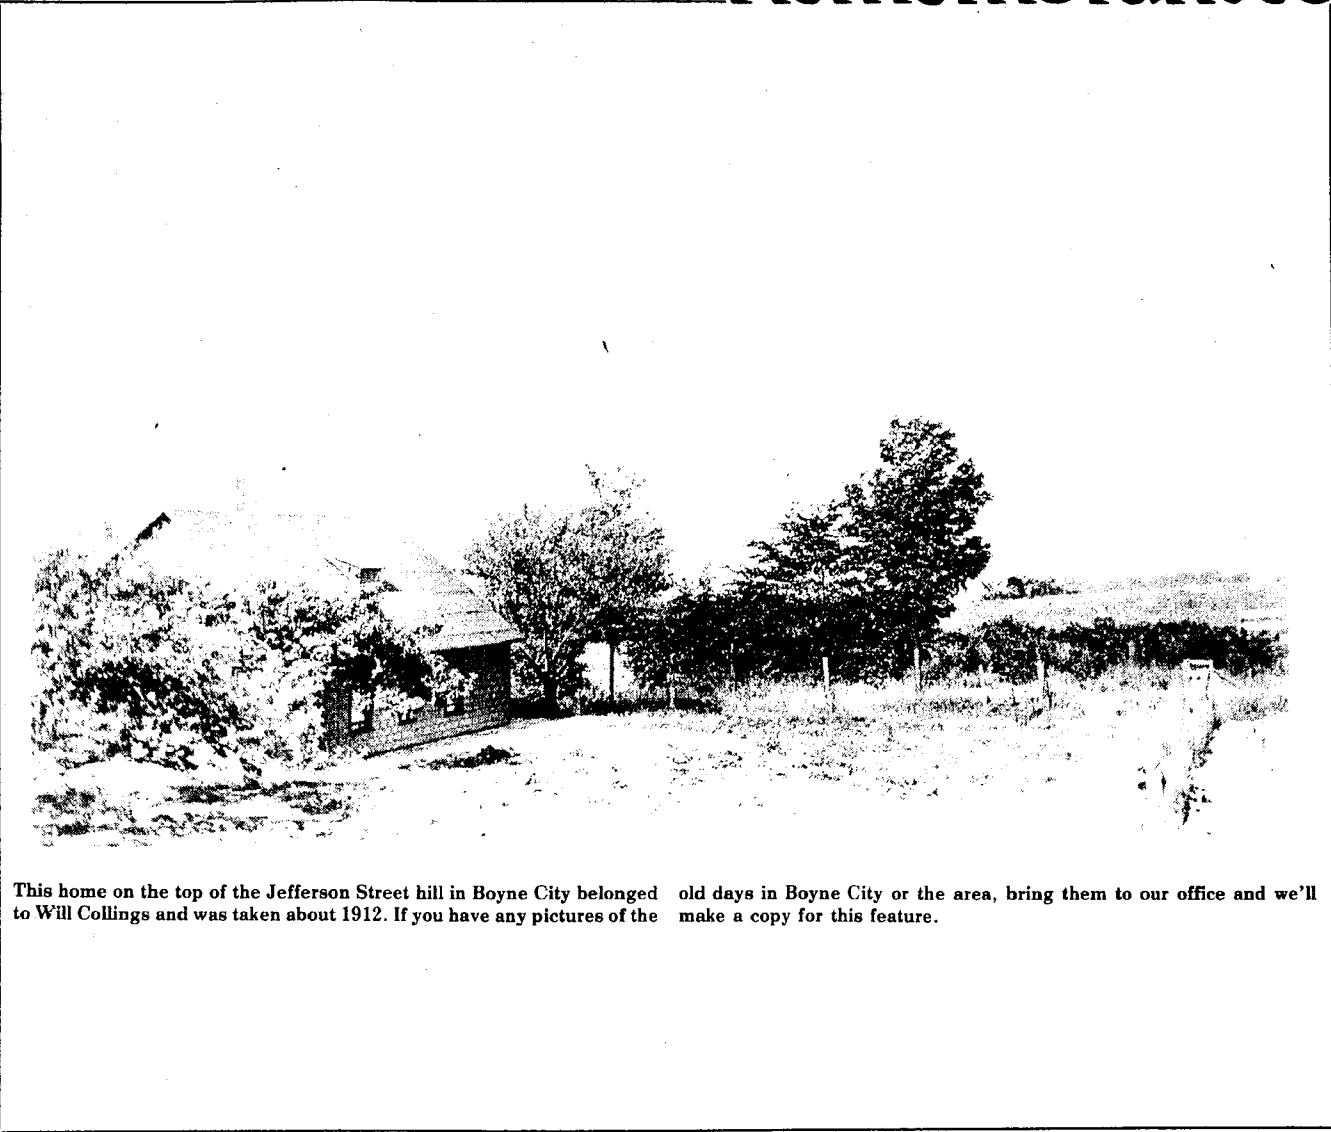

I say itself, because they are the controlling factor of debt. Federal Debt. With the capital letters.

What I would like to know, is if they owe this money to themselves, why can't they just write off a few hundred billion everytime they get together to raise the debt limit?

If they would write off their own debt like they allow people who file for bankruptcy do, then the federal debt would surely get to the point where there would be none.

At least to my way of thinking, it could be a way to do something about the ever increasing debt load we all have to face.

But then my thinking on such problems as the national debt are way beyond my scope. I have a hard time trying to balance the check stubs.

Marshall Sayles

I got out of bed the other morning and discovered frost on my pumpkin—the first warning that Boyne City will soon be clobbered with the first blast of the cold shivers. I don't mind the second or third blast so much, it's that first blast that gets me. Gad, how I hate first blasts.

And speaking of pumpkins.... No more holidays until Halloween. It will swoop down Oct. the 31st—a Thursday. Kids aren't thinking much about it yet, but stores are pushing pumpkins, masks and all sorts of gadgets to brandish about on "Devil's Night".

I was surprised the other day when I saw a full sized Halloween pumpkin sitting on a store shelf. It looked so real. It had eyes, nose and a mouth with teeth. I rapped on it and it rapped right back at me.

Plastic, mind you! When I was a kid we made our own jack-o-lanterns, even if we had to walk out to the edge of town and select a nice one from someone's garden. At night, of course.

One Halloween, when the world was young, five of us kids were in a garden up behind the old Tannery, off Division street. It was so dark we could hardly see which pumpkins to steal. All of a sudden we lost all interest in what we were doing and ran for town as fast as our legs would carry us. It's hard to steal a pumpkin when someone is shooting buckshot over your head.

Personally, I never stole a pumpkin in my life; and I want my younger readers to understand that. The other kids did it. I just went along for the fun of it; and I've never lied about anything else, either.

He: Get off that Halloween stuff and tell me what inroads you've made getting the city to change the name of Front street to Harbor View Drive.

Me: None at all. The city dropped the issue and kicked it aside. I picked it up and carried it home for safe keeping. One day I shall take it back to the city and see if the commission has had a change of heart.

He: You mean a change of head. Me: No, I mean heart. They've already made up their heads. Do you have any idea how difficult it is to change a group of made up heads?

The highway department will resurface Boyne Avenue up near the school, then down and around the corner at the post office, out to State street and then up State. The department will not go beyond Judge Harvey Varnum's house at Hannah and State streets. I do not know why. I have passed his house a lot of times and nothing every happened to me.

It says here that a husband with no faults is either a bore or a genius; and it also says that a wife with no faults is either a... Now, that's funny. My typewriter refuses to finish that sentence.

In a Boyne Falls restaurant the other day I made a harmless comment about how women's wigs are nothing more than cleverly designed hats.

Well, holy 'old Round Top! The lady's head next to me was supporting a wig; and was I ever lit into!

"Well," she said. "If I remember right, you folks in Boyne City are not as perfect as you think you are."

"How's that?" I asked, not wanting to hear her at all.

"They tell me," she said, "that Boyne City drivers are so bad the police department is going to install signs warning parents not to let their kids play on the sidewalks."

The average person does not get up and fly out of a restaurant, so I tried my best not to.

Now, let me get off women and talk about men. It says here that men caused the women's movement.

We brought the Calamondin back inside before October came this year. That's early, but we're getting more cautious about our one success in the field of growing house plants. Actually, although this miniature orange is called a plant, it's really a tree, which may or may not have something to do with our success in keeping it alive.

It's always been a disappointment to our family that potted things couldn't survive at our house. But they couldn't. So we gave up. Then, 11 years ago, our daughter was given this tree for a birthday present.

A violent orange brochure entitled, "Your Bit of Florida," came with the Calamondin, giving detailed instructions on how to care for the plant. It was summer, so we put the Calamondin outside as directed. We took turns watering it until mid-September when rainy days took over. Then, because it didn't need us, we forgot about the plant.

In late October, we remembered. The Calamondin had a two-inch icecap in its pot. We carried the rigid plant inside and set it on the plastic runner by the front door. The icecap wouldn't budge, so we had to let it melt and bail out the water. The ping of dry leaves hitting the plastic runner echoed in our ears for days.

And then new buds formed on the branches. We viewed our little tree with admiration and glee. That it had survived our neglect was a tribute to it not to us certainly. Still we acted like the vigilant parents of a sick child who had passed the crisis.

Yesterday I re-read the orange brochure that tells all about our citrus plant. I found out that we caretakers haven't done much that we were supposed to. But then, neither has our Calamondin.

We were supposed to water the plant regularly. Our performance in this area has been spotty at best. And then there's the matter of fertilizer. We were directed to fertilize once a month. We did it one time, long ago. The plant looked so disheartened afterwards that we never did it again.

Of course, there was the business about not leaving our Calamondin out in freezing temperatures. We muffed that too. Only once, but never would have been better.

As for the plant's obligations, according to the brochure, it's supposed to blossom in February and throughout the spring and summer months. Our Calamondin never did that. It did bloom twice a year for a couple of years. But all it's been able to manage for a long time is a small showing once a year.

Furthermore, I read that the Calamondin fruit is supposed to be small but juicy and delicious, like an orange or a tangerine. Our resident fruit tasters spit it out. In light of this judgment, it hasn't mattered much that few blossoms ever became fruits.

In spite of our not having kept faith with one another, I'm grateful that the Calamondin is back inside now. I'm not a winter creature. Neither is the plant. But somehow I feel better about facing toward winter when we face it together, the Calamondin and I.

Belated thanks given to Country Star

Editor,

A belated "Thank you" to all the fine folk at Country Star, both the grocery and the restaurant. Walloon has been our "home away from home" for so many years—(sixty is "many"!)

Truly, everything that happens here in our beloved northland impacts deeply within our hearts. We enjoyed the beautiful store and the restaurant, first as "B and C", then as "Country Star." We were always treated with respect and courtesy, and we miss you!!

The old American custom of competition seems to work best for all concerned. In the interest of the community and visitors alike; we shall watch the news during the winter and perhaps by next spring those splendid facilities will be "open for business" once again. Best wishes to each and every one.

East Jordan's exchange student is from Philippines—anticipating snow

BY ELOUISE ROSSLER
A bright, wide smile and dancing, sparkling eyes greet you when you meet Mario Joaquin, the Rotary sponsored exchange student in East Jordan. Mario, who goes by Jun, meaning Junior, is from Quezon City, Philippines—a large, teeming city quite different from East Jordan. Mario is one of three children, having an older sister and a younger brother. His father is an executive and his mother owns a store which sells imported items (a favorite is American chocolates) and native produced items such as jewelry. He has many relatives in Hawaii and Los Angeles whom he was able to visit on his way to East Jordan.

"Pretty and cold," was his description of the area around East Jordan. He is eager to see snow, as he has never seen it and he is grappling with the fact that it is going to get much colder. He is enjoying the natural surroundings, as he rarely is able to get into the country where he lives. He is impressed with the autumn colors and commented, "I wish my Mother could see this season." In the Philippines there are two seasons he quipped, "Rainy and dry."

Since Mario is from the middle class in the Philippines, he lives in a large subdivision where you can enter only by car, must have your resident pass and is guarded. He is accustomed to having five or six servants and a driver. He is "learning to be more independent" as he puts it and to do things he's never done. His host parents presently are Mr. and Mrs. Cal Gotts and Mrs. Gotts says he is getting "good at doing dishes," something he had never done before.

Jun (Mario) says he can "cook rice, hot dogs, and do bologna." He fits right in with the Gotts family, as they have a senior, Bob, as well as Jun, who is a senior; Bill, a sophomore; Rick, an eighth grader, and Elizabeth, a fifth grader. The age span is the same as in Jun's family. He will be with the Gotts for three or four months and then will move to another Rotary host family. He will have three or four families during his stay in East Jordan.

Jun will graduate at East Jordan High School and this will be accepted as his graduation in his home school. He attended a large Catholic school at home which is modern, having computers, speech labs, swimming pool, and cameras to catch cheaters! Jun is very impressed with the friendliness of the students and especially of the teachers at East Jordan High School. In his home school, he had to wear a uniform (he is delighted to be able to wear fashionable clothes to school!), had to stand when the teacher entered the room and in general had a more closed and stricter atmosphere. He is pleased with his schedule of U.S. Government, U.S. History, Computers, Money Management, English Literature and Wood Shop. He is enjoying the same school sports here as he did at home and looks forward to basketball season. "I'm too small for football," he commented, but I'd like to try some sport during the year.

Since English is the primary language in the Philippines, Jun has had no difficulty in becoming a part of the mainstream of activity in school. He does also speak Tagalog, a native language similar to Spanish.

Jun wants to go to college after this year. He would like to attend in the United States, however, he is not sure if he will be able to. His father must put approximately $12,000 in a special account to prove the family can afford it, before a youngster can be considered. Jun would have to pass college entrance exams and an interview process. He will start his study of either computer engineering or business management in the Philippines, and later transfer, if he is not able to return to the United States next fall for college. His eventual hope and goal is to live in this country and become a citizen.

Jun is a typical teenager—he likes dances and going to parties with friends, laughs a lot, is curious, wants to do his best, but wants to have fun. He lists reading, especially war books, and guns among his hobbies. He would very much like to go deer hunting while he is here.

As a Rotary sponsored exchange student, Jun will have the opportunity to meet many businessmen, as he attends the weekly Rotary meetings; will be privileged to go on special trips as he did recently with other exchange students to Stratford, Ontario; will have the opportunity to speak to groups, including the local Rotary about his country. Jun feels this experience will be very advantageous for him personally when he applies for colleges and for jobs. He wanted to come to the United States to broaden his understanding of other cultures, cope with a different environment, learn about other races of people, and familiarize himself with as many facets of life as possible.

For a young man who was familiar with Wendy's and McDonald's, spoke the English language, and has an educational system similar to our own, there are still many new and exciting things to learn. If the spring in his step, size of his smile and devilish twinkle in his eye tell us anything, you can bet that Jun is going to gain, but he is also going to leave behind many happy times and have enriched many people's lives during this year.

Parents go to school in East Jordan, get acquainted

BY ELOUISE ROSSLER
Parents of PREP (pre-school), kindergarten, and junior primary students in East Jordan have a unique opportunity to spend time each week learning about their children's school, observing their children, and working on projects for their children. The Parenting Program swings into full force next week, having organizational meetings this week. Marilyn Friedly, parent coordinator, is the key organizational person, working with the teachers and the parents to arrange a time schedule and guiding the parent meetings in the future.

All three groups of parents will have classroom experience and observation in their children's rooms. The parents will also do art project preparation and games which will be used in the classrooms, when they are there and at other times. The parents will also meet with Mrs. Friedly to discuss and learn about home activities to do with their children.

As the year progresses Mrs. Friedly will bring in speakers and movies on child development. Last year's speakers included a dietician, a representative from the Women's Resource Center, and personnel from the East Jordan Family Health Center. Others will be added as needed and parent suggestion arises.

One of the primary purposes of the Parenting Program is to provide an avenue for parents to get to know each other and to get to know their children's teachers. This increases communication between parent and child as well as between parent and teacher or school.

For parents who are unfamiliar with today's classrooms or with the school building, this is a wonderful way to learn what is happening to their children each day.

Kindergarten parents are in for a special treat as they become involved in the Kindergarten Cooking done every other week. This allows parents to help by providing the necessary ingredients and to be in the classroom to prepare and supervise as children make sandwich faces, 3 Bear Porridge, Fruit Kabobs, and many other fun and nutritious snacks. It is a great sharing time—both children and parents learn and have fun.

All parents of preschool, kindergarten, and junior primary are invited and urged to attend these meetings. Junior Primary parents meet each Monday at 1 p.m. in the Parenting Room in the elementary school. Kindergarten parents will meet Tuesdays at 8:30 a.m.; Pre-school parents will meet at 8:30 a.m. and Wednesdays, also in the parenting room. Please come and share in the fun and work!

East Jordan Homecoming floats

"Walk All Over You" took top honors in the E.J. float competition and was designed by the seniors.

The E.J. eighth graders were "Red 'Hot'" enough to clinch second place.

"We Are the Champions", was the selection made by the East Jordan juniors and qualified for third place.

This "Stairway to Victory" didn't quite make the grade for an award.

BF b-ball victim of Wildcats

BY JERRY FROATS The Boyne Falls varsity girls' basketball squad became the latest victim of the Alba Wildcats last Tuesday 65-45, as the Wildcats moved into conference tie for first place.

Alba's height and speed combined with unusual girls' basketball talent was the major factor in the game as they controlled the action through all four quarters.

Bright spots for the Loggers were Dianne Massey and Pam Grubaugh who combined for 26 points. Sandy Towne got hot in the fourth period to sink three buckets, one on an assist from Grubaugh. Other assists in the game included Towne to Massey on two occasions, Grubaugh to Renee Reynolds, and Reynolds to Collette Sparks.

Alba took a 38-17 lead at the half, scoring 20 points in the second period to ten for Boyne Falls. In the third period the Loggers outscored the Wildcats 15-13, and the fourth quarter scoring ran 13-14 for Alba. Alba converted to three point plays on three separate occasions and scored countless times on the offensive rebound.

Fireman BC middleschoolers lose to Gaylord

house on Spruce Street that the owner asked to have burned down.

The accident occurred after the fire department had started and stopped two fires they set in the house to provide training for the younger firemen on the department.

Noticing that the training was not smokey enough, Schroeder went to a room where he set a mattress on fire. Because of a lack of oxygen, the smoke from the mattress was building up with gaseous fumes. When they were ignited in a flash fire, Schroeder had no chance to get out of the way of the flames.

The burns he received were only on his hands and the back of his leg. He was wearing a breathing apparatus at the time as he felt that although it probably would not be needed, he should be wearing what the rest of the training firefighters were wearing.

The mask probably saved his life, he said Tuesday, because of the heat that was generated from the fire and the flames he had to go through to get out of the building.

Schroeder dove through a window to escape the flames. The firemen then proceeded to let the house burn while Schroeder was taken to Northern Michigan Hospital for treatment.

After completely dominating four other middle schools in seventh grade girls' basketball competition, the Boyne City Rambler squad found an opponent who was to be reckoned with. The Gaylord Blue Devils visited Boyne City Middle School and took a heartbreaker 31-29 in overtime. The Ramblers, now 4-1 had previously beaten Charlevoix, East Jordan, Central Lake, and Petoskey. In the eighth grade game Gaylord was the dominant factor and swept all four quarters for a 31-16 Rambler defeat.

Crissy Gervasi opened the game for the Ramblers on an assist from Kristin Harvey. Shortly after Gervasi assisted to Brooke Coveyou and Harvey scored on a steal for a 6-0 lead for Boyne. Gaylord threw a press at the Ramblers and held them scoreless for the next three minutes while utilizing a fast break to catch up 6-5. With five seconds to play in the first period Coveyou assisted to Gervasi and the Ramblers led 8-5 when the horn sounded.

In the second quarter Gaylord outrebounded Boyne and tossed a lot of shots at the hoop, missing most of them, but enough fell through for the Blue Devils to take the lead late in the quarter. Scoring for the Ramblers were April Silbar and Gervasi while Boyne's height remained on the bench. Late in the quarter

Boyne inserted their taller girls into the game and began to get better boards.

After half-time it took the Ramblers two and a half minutes to regain the lead with Harvey scoring twice. The lead taking bucket came when Christa Degrow assisted to Harvey and the score was 16-15 for Boyne. Harvey added another bucket, Dawn Archambault popped on a technical free throw, and Degrow scored on an offensive rebound for a 21-15 Rambler lead. By quarters end Gaylord had scored and with :10 on the clock Kim Stadt sank one, and Boyne led 23-17.

To open the fourth period Gaylord pressed heavily enough to rattle the Ramblers and force repeated mistakes, but the Blue Devils were into a cold streak and the ball refused to fall for them. With :17, :08, and :02 remaining in regulation time, Boyne had the opportunity to put the game on ice at the free throw line, but each time Gaylord took control of the ball after the missed shots. When time expired the score was 25-25 and 2:00 were put on the clock for an overtime period.

With the action hotter than ever and the spectators screaming in delerium Stadt assisted to Archambault for a 27-25 advantage for Boyne. Archambault hit both ends of a one and one opportunity for a four point lead, but the Blue Devils put their fast break to work and quickly tied the score at 29 all. Boyne lost possession of their last chance to retake the lead and with :01 on the clock Gaylord put one through for the win.

High scorer for Boyne was Harvey with 8 points. Archambault totaled 5 points, four of them coming in the overtime period. Gervasi scored 4 points, while Stadt, Coveyou, Degrow, Silbar, and Andrea Davis contributed a bucket each.

In the eighth grade game Gaylord used their superior speed on the fastbreak as they easily outmatched Boyne.

Leading the Ramblers in scoring was Michelle Montgomery with 11 points. Marti Bragg tallied three points, while Trish Fanning and Toni Toton added a free throw each.

BC golf team to go to state

BY JERRY FROATS

Currently rated at sixth in the state, the Boyne City Rambler golf team has shot its way into the state finals as a team. This was accomplished when the Ramblers placed third overall at regional competition in Houghton Lake. The Rambler golfers have a team average of 332 and qualified for state competition even though they fell short of their average with a 350. Houghton Lake won the event with a 327 and Elk Rapids took second with a 348. Individually Joe Schlink was third overall and would have competed at the state meet alone if his teammates had not qualified also.

The Rambler scoring ran as follows: Schlink 40-41-81, Todd Buck-master 43-43-86, Todd Fall 46-47-93, Peter Smith 48-46-94, Bill Casper 44-46-90.

Coach Russ Harvey says his team will shoot for the top ten and pointed out that if the team can knock some strokes from their overall average that they may do even better than tenth. The state meet will be held this Friday at Vassar

City to fix surge causing water main breaks

Boyne City will be spending about $5,000 to take care of the water pressure surges that are causing many old water lines throughout the city to break when the newly installed water pump is turned on to provide water to the system.

The fix, according to Randy Frykberg, City Manager, will be a butterfly valve that will only allow a certain amount of water into the system.

The valve is electrically controlled and is tied into the system so that when the new well pump is started, the valve will shut down to only allow through a certain amount of water.

The new valve was one of the three solutions to the problem offered to the commissioners at the Tuesday noon meeting by George Granger of Granger Engineering in Gaylord. The firm is the city's engineer.

Commissioner Cass Toton, disturbed by the problem, said "It seems that we are paying for the design, and now paying for the mistake."

Granger replied that he felt the problem was not a design problem. Basil Moore, the head of the water department, told the commissioners the best thing that could be done would be to get a backhoe, start digging, and find out where the problems are in the system. He told the commissioners that a recommendation back in 1960 was to start replacing the water system throughout the city.

One of the problems the city has is that no one knows what water mains are where. Some of the lines are more than 100 years old.

In other action, the city okayed a resolution authorizing the city to get permits from the Michigan Department of State Highways so they could perform water main, sewer main and road work within the M-85 right-of-way.

They also heard from Jim Daniels, a resident who lives near the North Boyne landfill saying that since the city dump has closed, he noticed recently, a city employee opening the gate to the landfill, and depositing refuse that is not supposed to be in the landfill. This was done after hours, according to Daniels.

Red Devils romp over Rams in homecoming

BY STEVE GEE

The Homecoming spirit was evident in East Jordan as the Red Devils (4-2) knocked off the Harbor Springs Rams (4-2), 30-8 last Friday night. Harbor Springs had hopes of making the state playoffs this year, but it appears the Devils have halted that dream.

The Devils had a field day, racking up a total of 505 offensive yards. A high point in the game for East Jordan was that they only turned the ball over once. But they still picked up a lot of penalty yardage (12 penalties for 81 yards).

Darren Graham, who rushed for 150 yards last week against Pellston, had another fine rushing day gaining almost 200 yards.

The Devils took the opening kickoff and started at their own 20 yard line. East Jordan mixed passing and rushing and scored on a seven yard pass from Bill Lytle to Jim Raymond. In the series, Mike Goebel had three receptions for 53 yards.

The Red Devil's strong defense held Harbor and forced them to punt. The Rams received an excellent punt and downed the ball at the E.J. three yard line. After a couple of plays, Graham broke through the line and romped 84 yards for the score. The Devils had jumped out to an early 12-0 lead.

The Devils were not through in the first quarter, however. Steve Dionne scored for the Devils on a five yard blast, but again, the Devils were unable to convert the extra points. Dave Russell set up the score on an 18 yard run. At the end of the first quarter, the hometown favorites found themselves enjoying an 18-0 lead.

The Devils attacked early in the second quarter after Graham recovered a Ram fumble at the Harbor 48. After two big gains by Graham, Ted Snowden hurdled a couple of defenders enroute to a 28 yard touchdown carry. The Devils were up 24-0 with over half the game remaining.

Harbor put together a good drive, but turned the ball over on downs at the E.J. 17 yard line. With less than three minutes remaining in the half it appeared the Devils would try to run out the clock. But the Devils tried to be tricky when Snowden took the pitch from Lytle and tried to pass it back to Lytle. The pass was intercepted at the 36 yard line and carried into the endzone for the Rams' lone touchdown. Harbor then ran the ball in on the extra point attempt, but trailed the Red Devils 24-8 at halftime.

East Jordan's last score of the game came midway through the third quarter on a 21 yard scamper by Graham. Two completions from Lytle to Goebel set up the score.

East Jordan held off the Rams the rest of the way and remained in a tie for the lead in the Ski Valley Conference.

The Devils gained 414 yards on the ground with Graham rushing for 196. Senior Dave Russell had his best game of the year as he collected 116 yards. Ted Snowden was keyed on all night by the Ram defense, but was still able to gain 69 yards on eight carries. Also for the Devils, Steve Dionne totaled 28 yards, Gerald Clark gained four, and Darcy Bennett added one.

Bill Lytle had a nice game passing, completing six of 13 passes for 91 yards. Lytle has not thrown an interception since the second game of the year. Goebel pulled down five passes for 84 yards and Raymond had one reception for seven.

Defensively for the Red Devils, Dale Schroeder totaled 10 tackles while Russell, Jeff Gee, and Shannon Olstrom each had six. Other leading tacklers were Terry Burt with five and Aaron Spence, Darrin Bishop, Kim McKinnon, and Goebel with four each. The Devils totaled four sacks on the evening with Goebel collecting 1 1/2, Raymond 1, and Schroeder 1/2.

During halftime festivities, the float placings and the King and Queen were announced. This year's theme for the floats were song titles. Taking third place were the juniors with the song "We Are the Champions." Placing second were the eighth graders with the song "Red Hot." Capturing the top notch were the seniors with the song "Walk All Over You."

The Homecoming Court consisted of queen candidates; Danielle Joseph, Chirron Kuzmik, Lena Schmitt, Amy Sulak, Jennifer Thompson, and Holly Thorman. The king candidates were Mike Goebel, Bill Kraemer, Dave Russell, Dale Schroeder, and Aaron Spence. Amy Sulak was crowned Homecoming Queen and Aaron Spence Homecoming King.

East Jordan's junior varsity football team was defeated 22-0 by Harbor Springs last Wednesday. The Devil's j.v. team hosts Mancelona tonight while the varsity will travel to Mancelona on Friday.

Another one bites the dust at Boswell Field in East Jordan. Here Aaron Spence, Dave Russell, Greg Kitson, Steve Smith, and Jeff Gee all invade the Rams' backfield and make sure the quarterback has no escape.

On the opposite side of the line the Red Devils enjoyed good pass protection from the linemen and completed six passes for 91 yards. Five of those passes were to Mike Goebel for 84 yards.

Boyne jayvee girls let 2 games get away

BY JERRY FROATS

The Boyne City Ramblers girls' jayvee basketball team let two games get away from them this week, one to St. Ignace, and the other to the Gaylord Blue Devils. Against the Saints the girls lost 44-34, and Thursday night came up short in a close game 43-45.

In the Gaylord game the Ramblers were shut out in the first two minutes of action with Gaylord pressing heavy in the entire period. Going into the second quarter Boyne was down by ten 4-14.

The Blue Devils pressed in the second period also and took the ball away from the Ramblers frequently with quick defense and by half-time Boyne was still down by ten points 17-27.

The third period saw the Rambler girls make up some points, stealing the ball and rushing downcourt for good hoops. By mid-quarter Boyne had pulled within six points, getting buckets on the offensive rebound from Lacinda Tompkins and Marci Center, but with the faster paced action Boyne began to play too fast and Gaylord capitalized on the Rambler errors and led 37-29 when the period expired.

The fourth quarter saw Boyne get back in it again as they began to pull down more defensive rebounds and pressed unmercifully. Boyne got rolling early in the period when Mary Beth Archambault assisted to Center and seconds later she hit from the top of the key for a 33-39 score.

Mindy Stadt got a steal from the press and drove the full length of the court to take two more points from the Devil lead. Both teams went cold for two minutes, but Boyne was the first to revive when Amy Weeks and Patty Schmoltd both hit from near the top of the key. Another assist from Tompkins to Archambault brought the Ramblers within four points 41-45 with two minutes left on the clock. Gaylord switched to a man-to-man defense and Stadt shook loose for a bucket to make the score 43-45 and it seemed as though Boyne would pull it off, but with two opportuities to score, failed to drive it home and time ran out.

High scorer for the Ramblers was Stadt with 17 points. Archambault put 8 points in. Center recorded 6 points, Weeks and Tompkins scored 4 points each, while Lori Knight and Schmoltd added a bucket apiece.

Fall's jayvee girls fall 4 short four

BY JERRY FROATS

The Boyne Falls jayvee girls' basketball team may have wound up on the short side of a 41-45 score against the Alba Wildcats, but the performance they put on was probably one of their best all season.

The Wildcats displayed an extremely tall squad in pre-game warm-ups, and when they took to the court were zone defense orientated. Alba's zone was all arms and legs in the way of Logger passes, but somehow Boyne Falls to nullify the Wildcat advantage to a certain extent.

On the game opening tip-off Boyne Falls came up with control of the ball and unable to penetrate to the inside, Patty Bearss swished one through from the right side of the key. Although it was to be the Loggers' last bucket for nearly three minutes, it was noted that a Logger scored the first basket to be recorded on their new scoreboard.

With the Loggers forcing their way through the Alba zone, they were unable to score and had a few of their shots rejected and the Wildcats began to find it easier to score on offensive rebounds downcourt. Late in the period Alba threw up shot after shot and took a 13-6 lead with 1:05 remaining. The Loggers were able to prevent any further scores by Alba, and with :03 on the clock Linda Dowson hit from the key for a 13-8 first quarter score.

Just three seconds into period two Nikki Kerridge showed quick hands as she stole the ball for a full court drive to the hoop. With three points separating the teams, Boyne Falls committed a foul and the Wildcats put both free shots through. Boyne Falls then got a hot streak going stemming from their quickness on defense and came back to a 16-18 score with Kelly Mc New and Kelly Payton scoring the points. Payton put the Loggers on top 18-17 shortly after as her teammates began to find good outlets on the rebound.

The Logger momentum lost its zip when one Mellissa Brandt rampaged the court scoring three unanswered buckets for the Wildcats. With less than a minute till the half, Linda Koeman connected from the left side to pull the Loggers within three points 20-23. In the closing seconds Boyne Falls gave up a free throw and trailed by four at the horn.

For the first three minutes of period three Alba pressed the Loggers and put up many shots, scoring most of their points on the offensive rebound enroute to a 30-24 lead. At that point Boyne Falls got their defense together and began to get more rebounds from Alba. Along with their good boards came steals as Koeman and Payton got quick scores and Bearss added a pair of charity tosses. Boyne Falls pulled within four points when Kerridge assisted to Bearss through the back door of the key. With :25 on the clock Payton hit from the key, but Alba scored two points from the free throw line to preserve a 37-32 lead.

By mid-period Alba had stretched their lead 43-36 as the Loggers had come up with a field goal and two free throws on separate fouls. Boyne Falls went back to their press and it began to pay off. Kerridge, Payton, and Koeman hit unanswered buckets to pull the Loggers up to 41-43 score, but Boyne Falls gave up another foul and Alba converted the charity tosses for a 45-41 lead. The Loggers had a little over one minute to catch up and took lots of shots, but they refused to fall and the score remained the same when time expired.

Payton led the Log-

Boyne blasted again in quest to find win, lose 49-12 to Onaway

BY JERRY FROATS

The Boyne City varsity football squad lost their Homecoming game to the Onaway Cardinals Friday night 49-12. The loss gave the Cardinals their first win of the season and Boyne has one more team to play that is looking for win number one, the Grayling Vikings this Friday night. After that it looks as though the Ramblers will be taking on the remainder of the conference power on the schedule, Rogers City and Petoskey.

In the game against Onaway the Cardinals took the game opening kick-off and used nearly four minutes in their first scoring drive. Converting to three first downs along the way, the oversized Cardinals carried Boyne tacklers for good yardage after being hit for what should have been a loss of yardage. With 8:30 to play in the quarter Onaway scored from the Rambler one yard line, running in the conversion.

On the kick-off Onaway pulled off an on-side kick and recovered the ball at the Rambler 40. Three first downs later the Cardinals scored from the Rambler 2 and led 16-0 before Boyne even fielded their offensive unit.

On the Rambler possession a penalty brought up a third and long situation and Glen LaCroix got around the left end for a ten yard gain and Rambler first down. Later, quarterback Pat Weeks threw a ten yard pass to Brandon Billings and Keoki Kuheana had a good six yard run to carry the Rambler into Cardinal territory. Things looked good for the Ramblers when Dan McGeorge squeezed out a first down on a second effort surge, but things suddenly went sour as the Ramblers missed a catch and promptly fumbled the ball setting up fourth and ten at the Cardinal 44.

The Ramblers punted to the Onaway 25 and the Cardinals had trouble getting their offense rolling under the swarming Rambler defenders. McGeorge nearly intercepted a Cardinal pass and a couple of penalties set Onaway back, but a 13 yard scamper gave the Cardinals new life and shortly after were into the endzone again for a 23-0 lead. McGeorge got into the Cardinal conversion attempt to break up the play.

McGeorge fielded the kick-off and set the Ramblers up with a good runback to the Onaway 47 and with a fresh look Weeks rolled around the left end to the Cardinal 35. McGeorge took the next play 9 yards and Weeks carried to the Onaway 20 yard line for a first and ten. After one yard was gained on two attempts LaCroix took a reverse into the Cardinal endzone for a 23-6 score.

The Onaway was not to be outdone however as they dropped the kick-off and turned it into a touchdown on the return up the right sideline, 29-6.

With time running short in the half Boyne got off a few passes until they turned it over on an interception. The Rambler defense buckled down and stopped the Cardinals from any further offensive threat as George Lasater recovered an Onaway fumble to give Boyne possession at their own 11.

With :10 on the clock Onaway picked off a Rambler pass across the grain of play and rolled into the endzone for a 35-6 score when the half ran out.

In the second half Boyne held the Cardinals scoreless through the entire third period. The Cardinals had advanced to the Rambler 2 yard line where Boyne put up a stand to repeal the threat.

LaCroix, McGeorge, Darren Everest, and Paul McGeorge all got in on separate tackles, causing the Cardinals to lose yardage. On fourth and 13 Onaway attempted a field goal, but it failed to pass through the uprights and Boyne took over.

Onaway's next scoring drive went from the 50, to the Rambler five, and across the goal line. The Cardinals converted to lead 43-6 in the fourth period.

The Ramblers held the Cardinals on the next series and took the ball at the Onaway 27 to set up the second Rambler TD. After completing passes from Weeks to Scott Beebe and Tom Lasater, McGeorge carried from the two yard line for a score of 43-12 with 4:29 left to play.

Onaway put another touchdown on the board in the remaining time and gave the Ramblers :35 to do something. Boyne got fancy. Twice in a row the Ramblers completed passes that went from Weeks to McGeorge to Beebe, and from Weeks to McGeorge to La Croix and ended up on the Cardinal eight, but in formation and starting the cadence, time ran out on the Ramblers.

In his first game of the season Rambler Pat Weeks (12) scampers around the left side of the line to gain some yardage for Boyne City. Weeks has just returned to action after sitting out six games with an injury.

BC jayvees play to tie with Onaway

BY JERRY FROATS

Thursday night's jayvee football action pitted the Boyne City Ramblers against the Onaway Cardinals at Onaway. The two teams played to a 6-6 tie with all of the scoring taking place in the first quarter.

Midway through the first period Rambler Troy Heirman broke away from the pack on a 65 yard run to the Onaway one yard line. Shane Baxter put the points up for Boyne City on a charge across the goal line.

On the next series the Cardinals worked the ball downfield and scored from the Rambler one yard line, the conversion attempt crumbled under stiff Rambler pressure.

The Rambler defense logged a lot of time in the second half, as the Ramblers only ran eight plays on offense. The rest of the time Boyne was on defense and repeated three scoring threats on goal line stands. The last play of the game was from the Rambler goal line, it too was denied.

Coach Dave Bricker was "extremely happy with the defense", adding that Boyne was "super on pass defense". Everyone who played was in on tackles, gaining valuable experience.

Bricker also praised the Rambler fans who made the trip to Onaway, stating, "a lot of the credit may be given to the fans. They were more vocal and may have been the reason that the kids were playing so hard".

The young Ramblers are fielding 16 sophomores with seven others being on the varsity squad. Twenty freshmen are on the team for an overall youngish look, but in their 0-5-1 record, "they have not been blown off the field by anyone", says Bricker.

Ramblerettes drop 2 in last week's action

BY JERRY FROATS

The Boyne City Rambler girls' varsity basketball squad lost a close game against a powerful St. Ignace team 38-33, and Thursday night dropped another to the Gaylord Blue Devils 72-30.

Against the Saints Boyne was down 9-3 after one period of action and kept even in the second quarter with a 10-16 score at the half. The Ramblers went down 20-33 in the third quarter, and outscored the Saints 13-5 in the stretch to fall short.

Thursday the Gaylord girls played their best game all season and looked as if they should be the team in the top of the standings. Gaylord went wild on fast breaks down the court, fielding full court passes with one hand, one dribble, and to the hoop.

In period one the Ramblers were still in it 9-12, but fell way behind in the second quarter when Gaylord scored 24 points to 7 for the Ramblers. After the third quarter Boyne trailed 58-25.

With a good portion of the Rambler starters sidelined with injuries the team is forced to rely on their reserves.

Leading the Ramblers scoring bracket against Gaylord was Jill Harris with 9 points. Julie Montgomery came up with 5 points, Sue Bieganowski had 4 points, Michelle Vroman scored 4 points, Linda Bieganowski and Sandra Schmoldt had three points each, and Lisa Caverly added two points.

It looks like the Ramblers will take this rebound away from the Gaylord Blue Devils. Jill Harris (24), Michelle Vroman (30), and Sue Bieganowski (20) all look to take the ball as Colleen Toton (00) waits for an outlet pass in the background.

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) has set up a new telephone hotline—517-373-WILD—to answer the public's questions about Michigan wildlife.

The hotline's two-three minute recorded messages will provide the latest information about hunting season dates, hunting license costs/availability deadlines, hunting tips and conditions in various parts of the state, rules reminders and rule changes, hunter safety, bird migrations and other general news about the state's wild animals and birds.

Tony Genco of the DNR's Wildlife Division, who is coordinator of the new hotline program, says additional tips will be given ers, hikers—especially our visitors from out of state."

Genco welcomes ideas for additional information the public wants to receive through the WILD hotline program. Call him with comments and suggestions at 517-373-9312, or write to DNR Wildlife Division, Box 30028, Lansing, MI 48909.
