Second attempt to recall board members started

BC board members subject to recall

Unhappy with the way some members of the Boyne City school board handled the Human Development program and other actions of the school board in general, board president Phil Bowman, along with trustees Larry Monshor and John Mathers, were named in petitions for recall by a committee headed up by Judy Follette of Walloon Lake.

The three were named in petitions filed Monday with the Charlevoix County clerk.

The petition drive to gain enough signatures to have the three members recalled will start as soon as the election board approves the wording of the petitions and the members of the board being cited have time to make known any objections they may have.

The elections board has 10 to 20 days to approve the wording of the petitions.

The reasons given for the recall petitions were cited as the three have violated the state statutes and the oath to which they made when elected to uphold, openly lied to the electorate who elected them, and two of the three members do not believe in the concepts of public education for their own children, therefore, should not be on the board.

The petitions filed Monday say, "(Name of board member) has opinionated views of educational matters contrary to a substantial number of educators, parents of children enrolled in the Boyne City school district to the degree that his objectivity as a member of the school board is not in the best interest of the students, parents and electors." The final wording is to be worked out by the elections board.

The drive is not the first the three have faced. Last year, another ill-fated drive was started but failed due to the lack of signatures required.

Approximately 567 signatures will be needed to force the recall election.

If the signature drive is successful, and the election to recall the three is also, then the remaining members of the board will have 20 days in which to name new members to the board to fill out the terms of those recalled or until next June's election. If the board cannot come up with names to fill the board positions within the 20 days, then the Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District will have to determine the board makeup. The remaining four members of the school board will have to cast unanimous ballots on each name presented due to the board makeup of seven members and a majority of seven is needed to pass any resolution or action.

The committee already has 35 people set up to get signatures. They expect to have 45 out collecting names as they get the petitions in hand.

A local source said that, "This drive is going to be successful, we are much more organized than the previous attempt, and are going after the three with real information."

The source also told the Press he thinks the present board will, "Give lip service to the present problem they are having concerning the Human Development committee and will 'stonewall' it." He also thinks the board will continue to work to make the present committee ineffective.

Bowman, as president of the school board, is the member with the longest term of service. He has been on the board for two years having been elected to a four year term in June of 1983.

Monshor and Mathers were voted to the board in the election held in June 1984.

Newly elected board member Richard May was not part of the recall drive as he has not yet served six months on the board. Drive members were asked to consider his name also but were not able to because of his not yet serving six months. Whether or not the committee will try to recall May will be considered in January, the source said.

Moving a house creates all kinds of excitement. Last Monday, one of the Boyne Falls Log Homes was moved from Boyne Falls to a site on Hayden's Pointe next to Whiting Park. The move required the hopscotching efforts of Consumers Power, Wolverine Power, Top O'Michigan, and the cable company as the building went down the road to its new home. The building was purchased by Don Hayden who will be using it for his home when he finishes his move to the area. The property has been in the Hayden family since 1871 when Hayden's great-grandfather bought it. The route took the home down M-75 then out to Behling Road and back on other roads until it was on the site. The move was made by a Grayling house moving firm.

EJ write-in votes, council seat questioned

When councilman Carl Beck voiced an objection to the seating of one of the two new council members in East Jordan last week, a special meeting within a meeting was called to determine whether or not the newly elected member could be seated.

The objection was, according to Beck, that the seat was not earned according to the charter. The charter, Beck said, banished write-in votes some time ago.

The two people in contention for the seat are Jim Meredith and Jim Black. Both had write-in votes of three each. The tie was broken by a flip of a coin by the County Board of Canvassers.

After a 20 minute delay ordered by Mayor Pat Sweet, city attorney Scott Beatty reported that not enough research material was available at City Hall and further investigation into the matter would be required. Beck had presented a cursory reading earlier in the meeting from William McTaggart and Beatty was of the opinion that there was grounds for a motion not to seat Meredith. Beck offered the motion and Cliff Gibbard supported it. The motion was carried 6-0, and Meredith took a seat in the audience.

City clerk Kathy O'Rear then swore Schmitt into office and the meeting commenced. Health care insurance for city employees was then discussed. Beck questioned the purchase of the insurance at this time, thinking that those items were included in the standards set by union contract. City treasurer Glendora Gettel informed Beck that health care benefits are under a yearly contract and are separate from the union. She also added that the renewal of the insurance must be at least equal to the plan that is presently in use. Beck then asked for opinion as to the addition of prescription drugs coverage. Mayor Sweet thought that the increases in coverage could eventually be used as a bargaining chip for future union negotiations. A motion was offered by Al Joseph to provide the insurance plan, seconded by Jim Yettaw, and passed 6-0.

Since 1975 city department heads have received 10 paid holidays, union employees received nine, and non-union employees have received six and a half paid holidays. In past years this situation has resulted in confusion and it was recommended by O'Rear to revise the holiday scheduling. Mayor Sweet informed the council that in the past the city has attempted to keep non-union employees' benefits as close to union benefits as possible. In past years non-union employees have been granted the holidays in question off and received pay for them to boot which does not conform to policy. Joseph offered that the council should update the policy to eliminate confusion in the future and set up 10 holidays for everyone. The motion carried 6-0.

In regards to the Marina Harbor bond issue, Mayor Sweet informed the council that bonds are now in the process of being printed and go up for sale by Dec. 1. Both Sweet and Yettaw, of the Ways and Means Committee, felt that sale of the bonds at this time would take advantage an expected mid eight percent interest rate, rather than waiting three months and chance losing the low rates to changes in new tax laws. Mayor Sweet added that "everything looks go, we're getting in before the door closes." She also hopes to see the dredging part of the marina-harbor project begin in the spring.

Attorney Beatty reported to the council that in the future when questions such as the seating dilemma arise, he would appreciate some advance notice on the matter to give him a chance to investigate the situation thoroughly before the council meets. Beatty also commended the council for undertaking a monumental task of organizing the marina-harbor project and praised the citizens of East Jordan for backing it.

A request was received from the East Jordan Lions Club for the use of the council chambers for

Santa visits BC Friday

Santa Claus will be arriving in Boyne City this year in style, according to the Boyne City Chamber of Commerce. He will be riding on the new Boyne City float at 7 p.m. Friday night as part of a parade set to open the Christmas season in the county.

Last year, Santa arrived on the back of one of the Boyne fire trucks and was missed by several children who wanted to see him. This year, the parade committee asked Santa to ride on the float the city made for the Fourth of July parade behind the marching band and other interested groups.

Davis announces grant

Boyne City was awarded a federal grant from the Department of Interior to rehabilitate its beach area, Congressman Bob Davis announced.

The city received $219,364 in a matching grant from the Interior Department's Land and Water Conservation Program (LAWCON) to construct a peninsula dividing its lakefront.

"The project is essential for Boyne City because of the importance of tourism to the area," said Davis. "It will expand the use of the lakefront and make it safer for swimmers."

The peninsula will act as a buffer between the beach and the new 216 slip marina. The beach will run along one side of the peninsula and will be equipped with a beach house and parking lot.

"This is exciting," said Randy Frykberg, City Manager for Boyne City. "It is a large project that has been supported by a number of people in this community for many years."

Frykberg said they will soon be taking construction bids on the project and hope to begin the project yet this year.

East Jordan Garden Club meets

Janet Rathke, Charlevoix County extension leader, was guest speaker at the November meeting of the East Jordan Garden Club held in the Fireside Room of the First Presbyterian Church of East Jordan.

Mrs. Rathke spoke on the value of wild edible plants and the use of herbs in our diet. Many plants were used years ago by the settlers in Michigan. She warned that one must be sure the plants being used are non-poisonous.

The members were astonished to discover that parts of the cattail, day lilies, milkweed and acorns are edible, contain vitamins and provide natural fibers in the diet. Boiling and roasting are methods used in preparing these foods for the table.

Herbs and spices have been used for generations as seasonings and for medicinal purposes. Herbs can be dried in the attic or microwave oven.

Some spices such as peppers need to be refrigerated in hot weather.

Martha Mathews and Martha Annear served dessert and coffee.

In October, Norma and Walter Thorsen gave an interesting program on Pioneer Plants and related historic businesses in the East Jordan area.

Press the button on either one and a call is automatically placed to our Support Center staffed by trained professionals. Within seconds they speak to you through the speaker in the communication unit. All you have to do is speak back. The special equipment lets you talk back and forth as if they were in the room with you.

A Friend Is Always There.

Jottings

BY JIM SILBAR

Ahhhh, the traumas of having children.

I can't think back to the days when I was a small hellion running around the house, but I am sure I was.

I can remember causing my parents some grief, especially when I didn't bring home the grades my brother did.

The parents though, understanding as they are, just made me want to work a little harder on something else, and that is the reason why I think sports are important to many students.

Sports can do many things for those growing up, like causing them to learn how to get good enough grades in order to be able to compete; the joy of winning, the grief of losing, and the discipline necessary to be able to do either.

We used to call it training. They still do. The training was designed as the place to learn how to throw things better, how to jump higher or farther, how to run faster and all of the things that can make you a better athlete.

In the matches or the contests, they were just benchmarks to show how well you did because of your training, and to show you how much more you have to work during the training to keep up with the other people in the competition.

Nothing is more humiliating than a last place finish.

In Boyne City, our football team has seen a lot of finishes like that, and like all interested sports fans, I wonder why.

The kids playing the sport I am sure are working their hearts out, trying their best to make a winner.

I am sure the coaches are trying even harder to come up with a winning program. Or at least I think they are.

But we keep ending up the season, whatever the sport, at the far end of the stick.

It seems that a whole attitude will have to be changed.

In colleges and in the pros, they just replace the coaches. But I am not totally convinced it could work around here without a change in attitude from the fans, and the students.

Enough said about the sports programs at the school. That is up to the school board to resolve. I hope they do it soon so the program can become as interesting as the development of the city.

One of the things that I find most satisfying in life is making lists, probably because it's one of the few activities that I've encountered that seems so much like accomplishing great work while requiring so little effort. My list-making interest is usually strongest either when the weather is lousy or when I'm feeling that way. Since November is being its usually sullen self and I have a cold, I've been working on a list this week.

Colds make me reflective, mostly about the fact that I've come so far and accomplished so little. So I've made a list of things that I plan to do as soon as I feel up to it.

The first thing I've listed is to finish reading "Doctor Zhivago". Or maybe I'll just start from the beginning again. I didn't get far past the list of principal characters the first time. I don't mean to be picky, but it does seem to me that the people who translated the book from Russian could have touched up the names a bit so that they wouldn't be so hard to English-speaking people to relate to. When the characters have names like Victor Ippolitovich Komarovskiy and Lavrentii Mikhailovich Kologrivov, it's pretty hard to warm up to them.

After "Doctor Zhivago", I don't have any definite plans for other mind-improving books. I've thought of reading some Shakespeare. At least his characters have names I can pronounce. I do wish there were a little less blood in his plays though. Maybe it would be better if I read something lighter. Something that raised the spirits instead of expanding the mind might be better for a cold. A book to make me laugh, like one of Erma Bombeck's books.

As for improving my body, I've been thinking about that a lot lately. In this age of physical fitness, looking and feeling young and limber is what we're supposed to be about. I did once consider taking an aerobic class, but that was before yesterday. Yesterday I watched a group of lovely, limber young ladies doing the exercises on TV. Then and there I decided that aerobics and I could never be compatible. All that strenuous exercise without going anywhere seems like a waste of time and energy. It also looks exhausting.

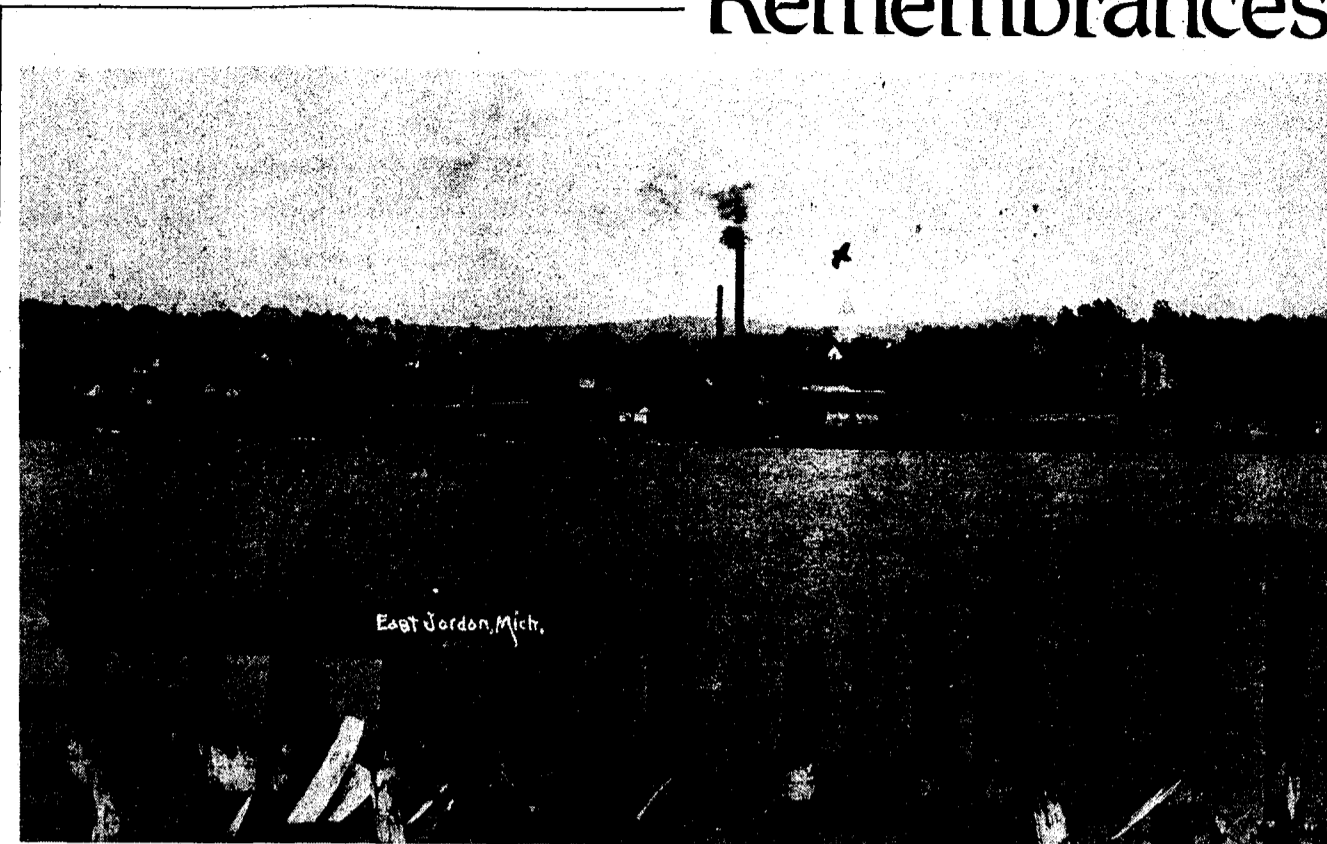

Letters to the editor, handwritten or typed, are a welcome and important part of this paper. They should be under 750 words in length and signed by the writer, although he or she, for special reasons, may request that the name not be printed. The paper reserves the right to edit material.

The Publishers

which does nothing to add to its appeal. Maybe when I feel stronger I'll like it better. But I doubt it.

Meanwhile, I'll settle for working on my face. I came across two free samples in the medicine cabinet the other day: one of moisturizer and one of wrinkle cream. So I'll write their fancy names on my list to help me remember to put them on my face every night. I figure that if my face starts looking younger, my body may decide to follow suit.

So this is my self-improvement list for November '85. It's short, but my cold is improving rapidly and I don't feel like sitting around thinking anymore. Besides, with a short list, I might get through it before I make another one. I've already started "The Grass Is Always Greener Over The Septic Tank" and opened both jars of the rejuvenating stuff, so I'm off to a good start.

When this picture postcard was sent back in 1910, the writer said Lake Charlevoix was said to be 285 feet deep and never gives up its dead. The view shown is of the early days in East Jordan and shows the lumber mills along the lake. Also the chemical plant can be seen. In the background is the steeple of the East Jordan Presbyterian Church which was removed some years ago.

Those who have ignored this offering for the last couple of weeks should be told that we are not at home. Gone. Way off some place.

We are quartered in Florida, dodging hurricanes, tornados and people who look at our license plate and ask, "What part of Michigan?"

An elderly man got out of his car, came up to me and said: "What part of Michigan?" I put my thumbs under my arms, stuck out my chest and, as an unofficial member of the Chamber of Commerce, said, "Boyne City."

I said it in a manner that assumed that everyone who is anybody knows where Booming Boyne is Based.

To my surprise, the man said, "I lived in Boyne City until 1916. After that we moved to Flint. I've still got a photograph of Mr. Stackus' furniture store and funeral home on Lake Street."

I was so amazed to find a man standing in a Florida parking lot who had lived in Boyne City that I forgot to get his name.

He was a small, wiry man about 75. If any reader knows a small, wiry man who left Boyne City in 1916 I would appreciate their telling me his name.

The papers down here are talking about Mr. Halley's comet. They say this is the best place in the United States to see the streaking fire. As a kid I used to fuss around on the warm shores of Lake Charlevoix after dark, but I was not there to look for Mr. Halley or his comet. (Perhaps one or two older readers will know what I'm talking about. I said perhaps.)

Whenever we go to the store we pay for just what we get. You can save quite a bit of money that way. Paying for what you get and nothing more is a great boon to your pocketbook. Some people may not know what I'm talking about, but I believe the more advanced reader will understand. Won't you, more advanced reader?

Florida consists of ninety percent senior citizens and ten percent ordinary people. I saw a bumper sticker on a retired man's car that said: From wine, women and song to beer, the old lady and TV.

Did you ever stop to think that grocery carts create higher food bills? A person who doesn't use one buys only what he can carry—or what she can carry—since she does the shopping and the carrying and a lot of other things he doesn't do at all. Have you ever stopped to think about the things he doesn't do at all? Have I started an argument?

Last question: How in the devil can you think about tomorrow when you aren't through wrestling around with today yet?

Foster kids have say

Editor,

As a volunteer transporter for the State of Michigan, I have come in contact with many children from foster homes. Here is what they have to say.

Doesn't anyone ever listen to the children? You have laws to protect the rights of minorities. After centuries of struggle you are forced to regard them as people. How old do we have to be before the law and society decide that children are no longer the property and chattel of adults, but real people worthy of respect?

In divorce courts the judge divides us between our parents with the same detachment and compassion that he divides the car and the house and any other communal property. He talks to us in court but he doesn't know us at all as people, and he knows that we cannot appeal to a higher court. We cannot fight back. His decisions are safe. We go to live with one parent to mainly hear what is wrong with the other parent. We are not people. We are brickbats.

The police whom we have been taught were our friends to go to for help come in their squad cars armed to the teeth to take us away from the only home or security we know and place us in foster homes where no one does anything for us unless they are paid well. Don't think we don't know it. We do. We may even get to stay in one place until their new car is paid for if we are lucky. Adults look down their noses at us and send us to counselors because we are not normal. We have problems. The counselors will talk to us for an hour, and that will make up for having no real home of our own, concerned responsible parents who protect, love, and discipline us so we know who we are and where we belong. Counselors are also paid well or they wouldn't talk to us at all. We know this, too.

We are sent to the doctor, to the dentist, to the counselor, to another foster home, even to the court with a stranger. We are scared little kids. If we are lucky the stranger understands about little kids and makes us feel safe and loved for a little while if we are lucky. Otherwise they are just doing a job. Over and over again we ask the stranger, "You wouldn't go away and leave me here and not come back." We don't have to watch monsters on TV. We have our own monster who lives with us.

Sometimes people tell us about God. How He loves every one of us—how precious we are in His sight. But a scared little kid has a hard time believing that one when he is all alone, and no one really cares.

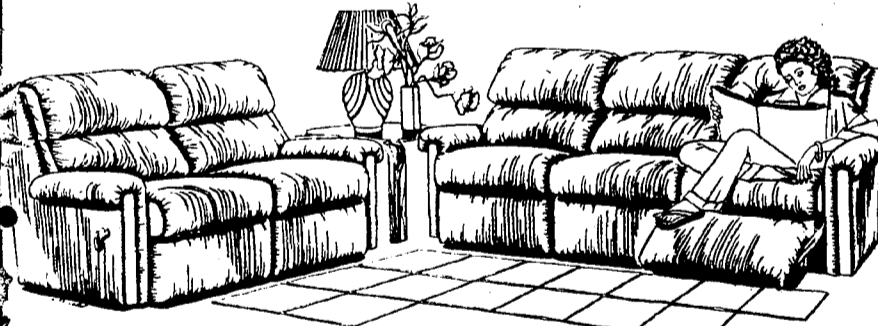

We see other kids going to Sunday School and Church all dressed up. That makes them nicer than us. Church people like nice kids. They do for nice kids. But we are not nice kids. Church people only like nice. They are very careful about that. You would think we were that lazy worthless neighbor of the church person who stands ahead of them at the check-out counter paying with food stamps. You would think we were just one step away from jail. Otherwise why are we in a foster home? There has got to be something wrong with us. If we were starving in Africa that would be different. But those foster kids down the road—well who wants them around their family—bad influence!

You have pro-life anti-abortion leagues, movements, associations, funds, counseling all across the United States. Why do they forget us so easily after we are born?

Boyne City Commission Minutes

BOYNE CITY COMMISSION MINUTES

WEEKLY MEETING, NOVEMBER 12, 1985, 11:30 a.m.: Commissioners Present: Fitzpatrick, Behling and Grimm. Absent: Commissioners Moody and Toton. There were 10 people in attendance at the meeting.

The City Manager announced that the paving of M-75 will not take place this year. The awarding of the bids came too late in the season for paving.

The ceremonial shovel for the groundbreaking ceremony at the Air/Industrial Park was presented to Commissioner Behling for her many years of service to the community.

C.H. Smith and Company was awarded the bid to construct the public improvements to the Air/Industrial Park in the amount of $556,340.65. Work will begin during the last week of November 1985.

MONTHLY MEETING NOVEMBER 12, 1985, 7:00 p.m. Commissioners Present: Fitzpatrick, Behling and Grimm. Absent: Commissioners Moody and Toton. There were 8 people in attendance at the meeting.

The oaths of office were given to Commissioners Grimm and Fitzpatrick. (Commissioner Moody was given his oath of office earlier in the week).

Keith Fitzpatrick was re-elected Mayor and Thelma Behling was re-elected Mayor Pro-Tem of the City Commission.

A Public Hearing was held at 7:09 p.m. to receive public input to review a Development Plan and Tax Increment Finance Plan for the City. There were no comments received. The Public Hearing was closed at 7:20 p.m.

A Resolution was approved by the Commission to authorize the Tax Increment Finance Authority of the City of Boyne City, Development Plan and Tax Increment Financing Plan (Boyne City Air/Industrial Park Development): and to authorize the issuance of bonds by the Tax Increment Finance Authority and to provide for the collection of Tax Increment Revenues.

Robert Dunnette was appointed to the Planning Advisory Board. Trudy Clark was appointed to the Planning Advisory Board.

Both terms to expire 10-1-88.

Discussion was held on a proposed ordinance A-67, a new Ordinance relating to the accumulation, collection and disposal of garbage and waste within the City of Boyne City. Darryl and Ceibert Gillespie, Boyne Refuse, were present to discuss various parts of the Ordinance which they felt were not necessary and presented suggestions which they thought should be included.

The Gillespies were concerned that they could be put out of business because of the competition and since they were taxpayers and live within the City, they should be given some consideration before other refuse haulers.

The City Commission felt the City should no longer be responsible for issuing refuse hauling licenses. They pointed out it was not necessary to regulate refuse haulers. The matter was tabled until November 19, 1985 to give Darryl and Ceibert Gillespie an opportunity to work out suitable wording of the Ordinance, so that all parties concerned can mutually agree upon a workable Ordinance.

Meeting adjourned at 8:15 p.m.

WEEKLY MEETING, NOVEMBER 19, 1985, 11:30 a.m.: All Commissioners were present. There were 14 people in attendance at the meeting.

Further discussion of Ordinance A-67 was held. Ceibert Gillespie did not have any new suggestions to make. He stated he would still like to include the section that required the City to issue refuse hauling licenses. The definition of containers that was supposed to be written by the Gillespies and presented at this meeting was also not presented.

The First Reading of Ordinance A-67 and the Repealing of Ordinances 18 and 90 were approved. The Second Reading will be held on December 17, 1985 at 11:30 a.m.

Approval was given for the expenditure of $6,600.00 to clean sludge out of the digester building. Approval was given for the installation of 420 feet of water main on E. Pine Street at a cost of $6,500.00, with C.H. Smith and Company doing the work. Meeting adjourned at 12:05 p.m.

New truck route defined in Boyne City

Boyne City now has new truck routes through town that will help alleviate the truck congestion in the downtown district. The new routes were named as follows: M-75 from Boyne Falls to Division Street to Lake Street, then downtown; M-75 from Walloon straight on State Street to Lake Street.

Other routes coming from Charlevoix were not changed after the city okayed the new resolution.

The city will be placing signs along the route as soon as they are received. The signage is the first phase of starting the routes. Enforcement will be the second phase with a warning ticket to be issued to the driver the first time, and then a ticket if a second offense.

Trucks serving the downtown area are not affected by the routes and will be able to continue to make deliveries in the downtown area.

No parking signs will be posted along State Street between the intersection at East Street and Lake Street.

In making the motion passing the request, one of the commissioners told the commission that the new routes would eliminate as many turns as possible for the drivers and make it a lot easier for the trucks.

In other action at the Tuesday noon meeting, the commissioners agreed to a transfer of retirement credits from the county to the city for a new police officer who had worked for the county and now works as a city police officer.

The commissioners also agreed to collect one-half of the summer school taxes with the bills sent out for the city. The issue was approved with no cost to the schools for the collection of the taxes.

City manager Randy Frykberg reminded the commissioners the downtown businesses are supposed to keep the sidewalks clean in front of their businesses. An ordinance will be enforced for those who do not comply, he said.

Recently inducted into the Boyne City National Honors Society were these three seniors at Boyne City High School. Danette Ratcliff and Debbie Gipperich look on as Kim Milks gets something out of her locker in the high school.

Just one bid was received for the purchase of the city's packer truck. The lone bidder was Robert Simons who offered $7,000. Joseph made a motion to reject the bid, it was seconded by Gibbard. The motion carried with Yettaw opposed and Schmitt abstaining.

Mayor Sweet presented a request that Charter and Ordinance investigate the possibility of council members being elected at large. In view of the light turnout for the last election she informed that it was disgusting to have members elected with as few as three votes and thought that if members were elected at large, it would draw more candidates and would be very democratic to permit people to campaign for the seats.

Ambulance director Bernard Hammond requested permission to add Wayne Fries and Judy Smalley to the ambulance crew and received no opposition.

Boyer Falls bumped out of Districts by Vandy after Yellow Jackets recover from deficit

In the first round of the Northern Lakes girls' basketball districts held at Vanderbilt, the Boyne Falls Loggers came on strong, after struggling all season, to threaten demolition of the Vanderbilt Yellowjackets in the game's first period, but lost 43-41 in the final seconds.

The Boyne Falls Logger offense was the key to taking an early 13-2 lead over the Yellowjackets. Boyne Falls posted two players high just outside the key and passed to the forwards and center who broke across the key repeatedly for easy shots.

The offensive maneuver was successful through the entire first period while on defense the Loggers dominated the boards and each Vandy shot was hotly contested.

With less than one minute in the first period Vandy made a run at the Logger 13-2 lead and was successful in scoring from the charity stripe.

The Yellowjackets hit both ends of a one and one situation, and seconds later were at the stripe again to convert a three point play from a missed second free throw. When the period expired the Loggers held a commanding 15-7 lead.

In the second period Vandy adjusted well to negate the Logger defense as they utilized a hot shooting left hander from outside the key area, hiding her under a screen set up. When their ace put one up, the entire Yellowjacket team converged into the key and put any missed shots through as they nearly caught Boyne Falls.

With the score tight at 18-17 for the Loggers, Pam Grubaugh sank a pair from the line and Renee Reynolds came up with a half court steal and a drive to the hoop to preserve a 22-17 Logger cushion.

Nichole Sparks added to that margin, scoring on an inbounds play, but Vandy had the momentum and pushed a missed shot through on offense to trail 21-24 at the half.

Vandy opened the second half putting their hot handed southpaw to work and momentarily took the lead away from the Loggers 25-24, but Sandy Towne came to life and popped from near the right sideline to put Boyne Falls on top. Towne continued to hit well for the remainder of the game as the Loggers led slightly through the remainder of the quarter.

Vandy closed the scoring in the period with a three point play at the line after being fouled on a fast break to the Logger hoop.

Trailing 33-34 at the beginning of the fourth quarter, Vandy took advantage of the Logger offense who left the key open after each Boyne Falls shot. The Yellowjackets were unable to put their attempted fast break together quickly enough as the Loggers beat them down the court to stop the play.

With the Loggers hitting well from outside, Boyne Falls took a 41-35 lead with half of the period to play, but shortly after midquarter Vandy got the fast break going and Logger attempts to stop it wound up with the Yellowjackets scoring at the charity stripe.

Five Vandy points were scored in two trips to the line as the Loggers suffered the inability to score against the Vandy press. Nearly four minutes went by without the Loggers scoring, while Vandy tied the score 41-41 at the line.

With less than 30 seconds left in the game Vandy scored on a fast break and the Loggers turned the ball over with violations down the stretch.

Leading the Logger scoring attack was Towne who finished up with 12 points. Reynolds scored eight points, Sparks scored seven, Lisa Topolinski scored six, Grubaugh scored five, and Diane Massey scored three points.

At Vanderbilt the Boyne Falls Loggers found it easy to take a huge first quarter lead, but the Yellowjackets regrouped to tighten the score, and eventually win the game by two points.

Also scoring for East Jordan were Cindy Merrill with 3, Chris Nietupski with 2, and Shelly Malpass with one.

East Jordan's height advantage allowed them to pull down 12 more rebounds than Boyne (42). McDermott led the team in this category, also, with 18, while Snyder and Nietupski each pulled down 9. The Devils committed 13 fouls, with many coming in the last quarter, but turned the ball over 32 times.

After finishing the year at the bottom of the Ski Valley Conference, the Devils will be hoping for a better season next year. The Devils will lose only one player due to graduation, but it is McDermott, their leading scorer and rebounder.

On the season for East Jordan, Jody McDermott led the team in scoring with 260 total points.

Charlevoix dumps BC to take District title

In the second round of the girls' basketball tourney hosted by the East Jordan Red Devils, the Charlevoix Red Raiders were matched against the Boyne City Ramblers and Charlevoix took the decision 43-24 after both teams got off to a relatively slow start.

After the first period had expired the Raiders led 9-6, all of the points scored by the Ramblers came from Julie Montgomery.

For the Raiders Michelle Gagnon hit three shots from the floor, while Amy Pichner hit one shot and Kris Austin got one of two at the free throw line.

In second period action, the Ramblers were held to just three points, a hoop from Linda Bieganowski and a charity toss by Jill Harris. For Charlevoix Austin went three of five in the period, while Pichner added two field goals. When the half expired the Red Raiders led 16-9 with two members of the Ramblers, Montgomery and Harris having three fouls each.

The second half opened with both teams committing turnovers and having a rough time of it getting the ball down the court.

The Raiders were the first to get on their game when Ellen Pearl assisted to Pichner and Austin followed up with a drive to key for a 20-9 Raider lead. Boyne coach Jack Caverly called for his team to put on their press, but received no response until calling time-out to organize the strategy.

The Ramblers applied the pressure, but Charlevoix was able to score from lofty shots that swished through for a 26-11 score.

Kerry Harvey scored twice late in the quarter, both shots coming from near the top of the key. In that time the Raiders could only come up with one point for a 27-15 score going into the fourth quarter.

The Ramblers quickly knocked four points from the margin, pulling within six, but the Raiders began to perform in a superior style of offense that led to a 33-22 lead by mid-quarter. Many of the Raider points were scored from offensive rebounds being put through the hoop as they outmaneuvered the Ramblers under the boards consistently.

The Raiders received balanced scoring as they found three girls with 10 points to their credit. Pichner, Gagnon, and Austin all hit double figures as Lara Stargardt scored six points, Pearl, Barb Boss, and Stephanie Martin all added two points, and Cindy Boss contributed one point.

For the Ramblers Montgomery finished up with 11 points, Harvey and L. Bieganowski had four points, Harris scored three points, and Colleen Toton added two points.

Ramblers knock out EJ in District prelim

BY STEVE GEE

On Thursday night in Class C. District #92, tournament action, the Boyne City Ramblers knocked off the East Jordan Red Devils by a score of 45-38. It was the third time in two weeks that the Ramblers beat the Devils.

East Jordan ended the season with a 1-20 record (1-13 in the Ski Valley Conference). Boyne City (5-16) moved on to face Charlevoix in the tournament. Boyne City took advantage of many costly turnovers by the Devils in the last half of the game.

The Devils brought up six players from the junior varsity for the tournament action, while the Ramblers stuck with their regular varsity squad. The newcomers for East Jordan were Erin Snyder, Kris Burt, Lisa Patton, Jill Burt, Monica Olstrom, and Jennifer Moreau. Snyder was brought up for EJ last regular season game against Boyne.

The first quarter was quite slow, as each team had a hard time getting their offense moving. The Ramblers held East Jordan to three free throws and led 7-3 at the period's end.

The Devils got things going in the second quarter, outscoring Boyne by a 14-8 margin. Jody McDermott, East Jordan's big gun all season, tied the game up with a pair of free throws and put East Jordan on top for the first time with another pair. East Jordan led 17-15 at the end of the first half.

Junior Kerry Harvey put Boyne back in the lead starting the third period, a lead they would never surrender. Julie Montgomery, who totaled 50 points in the three game series with EJ, was red hot in the third period.

For the Devils, McDermott scored five of the seven team points. McDermott outscored Montgomery by five with 55 points in the series. Going into the final eight minutes of play, the Ramblers led 32-24.

The Devils pulled to within two opening the fourth stanza, but baskets by Lisa Caverly, Montgomery, and Sue Bieganowski built the lead back up to 10. The Ramblers got fine foul shooting from Linda Bieganowski in the late goings to seal the victory for Boyne City.

The victors hit 19 field goals and were seven for 18 from the free throw line. Leading the scoring attacks were Montgomery and Linda Bieganowski with 16 and 11 points, respectively. Kerry Harvey totaled six for the Ramblers as Jill Harris managed five; Sue Bieganowski, Karen DeSchraver, and Caverly each totaled two; and Colleen Toton added one.

Boyne pulled down 30 rebounds with Harvey grabbing nine, Linda Bieganowski collecting six, and Sue Bieganowski adding four. The girls committed 22 personal fouls and turned the ball over 27 times.

The Red Devils connected on 12 field goals and were 15-23 from the bonus strip (one of their best games at the line all season). McDermott was high scorer on the team with 19, while sophomore Erin Snyder gave a strong performance with 13 points.
