Tax Amnesty, the newest way to increase money into the state coffers, has a hotline to answer questions about the program. Calls are being taken at 1-800-468-2937 Monday through Friday during normal business hours. The program will let those who owe the state taxes pay them with interest but without penalties.

Boyne Country Convention and Visitors Bureau introduced a new logotype to help popularize the area. The logo, symbolizing hills, trees and water was designed by a downstate advertising agency.

A stop sign was installed Monday on the corner of State Street and Walloon Street in Walloon Village and Melrose Township. The road is better known as Dump Road and has been used as a shortcut from M-75 in Walloon Village to get over to U.S. 131. While popular for many years for those going to and from Petoskey, the growth of the area with homes, a proposed senior citizen complex and additional families were the factors for installing the signs. Deputies from the Sheriff's office have been giving warning tickets to those not heeding the sign but will be giving tickets soon. The township is trying to discourage the use of the road as a way to get to Petoskey. They feel the junction of M-75 and U.S. 131 is safer due to the blinker light.

Tickets for the annual barbershoppers show which is held yearly in Boyne City are still available. The show features quartets that are just beginning to make inroads into the area of barbershop singing. The contest is held Saturday afternoon with the show Saturday night. The singing is grand and promises to be a good night of entertainment.

Sportsmans club wants 25 year lease

East Jordan--A potential controversy regarding the extension of a lease to the Jordan River Sportsmans Club is beginning to stir the dander of some members of the club. The property in question is the Sportsmans Park area on the west side of the city bridge. The city stands on the platform saying that the Sportsmans Club has neglected to keep up their end of the lease, claiming that the degeneration of the park's appearance is due to neglect. The sportsmen contend that a continuation clause exists in the lease for successive periods of 25 years, and that their lease calls for wildlife habitat maintenance to be enacted upon at least once every three years.

East Jordan Mayor Pat Sweet says that the city will be reluctant to renew a long-term lease with any organizations at this time, stating that the city has to be in control of pieces of property if grants and fund requests are to be made for the improvement of said property. The city is currently offering a one year lease to the club, to be renewed each year. The Sportsmans Club stands firm with their present renewal clause and appears to hold the position for some time to come. Mayor Sweet says that the city attorney is presently reviewing the old lease that was supplied by the Sportsman's Club. It seems as though through the years, the city has misplaced their copy of the lease along with other documents regarding the Sportsman's Club.

Mayor Sweet was expected to attend and address the Sportsman's Club meeting on April 22, but was not aware that the club was meeting that evening. When informed that the meeting had been held, Sweet was relatively dismayed, saying that she did intend to attend, and would have enjoyed a discussion over the matter. While the club went through their regular agenda and a city council representative did not appear, they became even more disgruntled with the situation and discussed what further action they might take. It was decided that two members of the club would again approach the city council for further debate over the matter.

Sweet contends that low membership, lack of funds, and lack of club member involvement in the maintenance of the park have been the main faults of the club's neglectfulness of the park. Sweet does agree that in recent years high water levels have accounted for the downfall of the park's appearance, and that the city wants to raise the horseshoe drive above water level for use by the public again. Sweet also stated that the city is interested in taking over the property in order to restore the entire park's acreage to a suitable standard for public enjoyment.

As it is now, Sweet says the property is something to be ashamed of, and would like to see the city have an opportunity to work on it. Sweet claims that she has been approached by returning visitors from the past wanting to know how a park that was once an enjoyable place to visit had deteriorated to such a state. In historical pictures of the park, walkways were in place with people promenading along the banks of the water.

Sweet is under the weight of a problem trying to understand the Sportsmans Club's position over the lease. She fears that the club thinks the city wants to put in parking lots on the property. Rather than take away the availability of natural habitat from the park, Sweet claims that the city wishes to eventually improve wildlife habitat in the area, and combine it with public viewing access walks.

BC balances funds, approves changes

Boyne City - Financial matters held the attention of the Boyne City Commissioners at their noon meeting Tuesday. The city was trying to clear up budget transfers between the various city funds before the fiscal year ends April 30.

After moving fund balances to make the books come out even, the commissioners then entered into an agreement to change the contract of the Hodgekiss and Douma Company to include a $11,500 turn around at the end of the proposed runway expansion.

They also agreed to change the contract for the Air/Industrial Park to make a sewer line bigger and add a larger catch basin. The additional cost for that part of the contract will add $2,925 for the total project.

Then they authorized another contract change for the Peninsula Beach construction to allow for a bigger peninsula at the end of the proposed extension out into the lake. The expansion, which was part of the recommendations of the DNR will eliminate a breakwater as it would be large enough to be its own breakwater. Another reason for the expansion was to add more control and protection from boats wanting to get into the marina being constructed next to the park.

In other action, the commissioners approved a request from the Boyne City School System to have one-half of the school taxes collected in the summer. The move would help save the school system money they would have to borrow until the winter taxes are collected.

The Commission also voted again to sell the two parcels of land next to the wastewater treatment plant and along the Maple Street right-of-way. The revote was made because the vote taken last week was not proper as one commissioner, the mayor, was absent from the meeting. The vote turns out the same as last week, the land will be sold to provide the income for meeting the grant that is making the beach possible.

The city then voted to help Wolverine Power get a tax abatement in the community the power company is moving to soon. When the company moves, the city losing them has to agree to the tax abatement in the new community in order to let the company have a reduction in taxes.

The commissioners heard a complaint from Jim Daniels concerning sand and gravel being put into the North Boyne Dump. According to Daniels, he wanted the city to be aware that those materials are not supposed to be stored at that site. City Manager Randy Frykberg said he would look into the problem and see that it does not happen.

Hy Stover, a resident of State Street in Boyne City, asked the commission to look at every possible way to fund the capital improvement program along the street. He wanted the city to evaluate different means to fund the capital improvement program slated to replace the water, storm sewer lines, sidewalks and paving of the project.

Earth movers started the preliminary work to extend the runway at the Boyne City Airport Tuesday. Hodgekiss and Douma won the bid for the extension which will allow small jets to land on the field. The work is expected to be completed in time for the annual Fly-in or around Memorial Day if there are no weather delays.

Barbershoppers contest and show set for Saturday

Boyne City - Of the many things Boyne City is noted for in the springtime, the annual Bush League Contest and Show of the Boyne City Chapter of the S.P.E.B. S.Q.S.A. (Barbershoppers) is at the top of the list along with the National Mushroom Hunt.

This Saturday marks the day barbershop groups will be coming into town to try to win awards for their group.

The contest starts the day off with groups singing in front of judges.

The groups have to meet certain criteria, such as never having won an award in any other contest, in order to be eligible for the Bush

League. Usually this is the first contest the quartets enter as they work their way to recognition.

The contest party of the Saturday event will be starting with registration and a pre-glow where the quartets start warming up.

At 2:00 p.m. the contest begins in the high school gymnasium. After the contest, a clinic is held to help the groups further their experiences.

But the big event is the annual show which starts at 8:00 p.m. in the gym. After introductions, the Boyne City Snow Belt Chorus will be singing a few tunes and then the quartets from previous years will be performing.

Last year's featured quartet, the Ivy League will be returning this year to entertain the crowd. This group of young singers is from the Ypsilanti area and brought the house down last year.

Runnersup and winners will also be part of the show singing the tunes they prepared for the contest.

After the show, an After-glow will be held at the Boyne City Lanes.

Tickets are available at the door and at the Ben Franklin Store in Boyne City. If purchased before the show, a fifty cents savings can be made.

Boyne historical group asks city purchase church for museum

Boyne City--Members of the Boyne City Historical Commission voted to ask the city commissioners to okay the purchase of the old Baptist Church located on the corner of Groveland and Michigan for use as a city museum.

The selection of a site for the museum has been an ongoing project for the historical group as they have had tried for several years to find a place to display many of the artifacts from the old days in Boyne City that have been donated.

The city has been collecting a one-mill-for-one-year voters approved last year to help fund the museum project.

The site under consideration was built in the early 1900's and has been used recently as a skiers dormitory. It was recently put up for sale by the owners.

The group voted unanimously to ask the city to purchase the property with the funds raised by the millage issue.

Members of the historical group were asked to present their ideas as to whether or not they should ask the city to purchase the building at a special meeting held last Monday night.

They were told a new building to house all of the artifacts would run about $80,000 to $100,000 to build a new building designed to house the city's old fire engine and other items.

Proponents for the purchase said the building was an ideal site as it has parking available and could be refurbished without too much extra money.

One member of the historical group, Thelma Behling, told the rest of the group she did not like the location or the layout of the building but felt the building was the best they had been able to find and should be brought to a vote of the city commission. Behling is also a city commissioner.

Other members told the board the Boyne City Historical Society was also in favor of the purchase of the building. They indicated they would be willing to help run the museum after it is opened and would help with the expenses of running it.

The board has about $50,000 in the fund earmarked for the museum from donations and the millage issue. While they indicated they have that much, they also said they will have operating expenses and improvement costs that will have to come out of the monies raised so far.

Under consideration as the future Boyne City Museum, this structure, located across the street from the Charlevoix County Press was recommended for purchase by the city's historical commission. The city is going to have to make the purchase, and city commissioners were asked to look through the structure which was built in the early 1900's as the Baptist Church, to make sure it would fit the city's needs.

MOTHER'S DAY

In an old pamphlet from the Detroit Creamery published in 1917 there is a recipe that I like to think my Mother used. I quote. "SWEET DISPOSITION RECIPE" Three grains of common sense, 1 large heart, 1 good liver, plenty of fresh air and sunlight, a bushel contentment, 1 good husband. Do not bring to a boil."

Looking back, it seems that everything she did for her family was a gift of love, though I know that we all tried that sweet disposition of hers many times.

Now, my thoughts are turned from the past to the new generation of mothers. They inspire me and I am impressed with their dedication to motherhood. My granddaughter, Barbie, became a mother this last year and I am reminded about what it takes to be the kind of mother these young people expect to be, they set high hopes for their children and delight in their growth.

The young mothers of today deserve a day dedicated to them. Many need to work outside of the homes a number of hours each week to help provide for their families and I am amazed at their ability and ambition to do this. We talk about how our pioneer mothers sacrificed for their children. Many of our young ones now have every hour of their day filled, and I believe that this is the time for us "oldsters" to recognize our young mothers with a special day and dinner.

MENU

- Baked Ham — For easy preparation I use the canned of fully cooked ones.
- New potatoes—Herbed Cottage Cheese Sauce
- Overnight Layered Green Salad
- Ollie's Sundae Dessert
- Bakery Rolls
- Coffee

This is another of those dinners that can be mainly prepared ahead of time. Your dessert and salad made the day before, which gives the hostess a little more time to enjoy the festivities and observe the antics of "Bobby" that new grandchild. The day before make this:

OVERNIGHT LAYERED GREEN SALAD

a delightful recipe from Frances Ridgeway. Use a glass pan 8 x 13 x 2 in. This recipe will make 6 to 8 generous servings.

Shred one medium sized head of iceberg lettuce, (about 1 lb.) and place in bottom of the above shallow dish.

Top with:

- 1/2 cup thinly sliced green onion
- 1 cup thinly sliced celery
- 1 can (8 oz.) water chestnuts (drained and sliced)
- 1 package (10 oz.) frozen peas broken apart

- Sprinkle over the salad:
- 2 cups mayonnaise spread evenly over the top.
- 2 teaspoons sugar sprinkled over the top.
- 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese (2 oz.) sprinkled on top
- 1 teaspoon seasoned salt
- 1/2 teaspoon garlic

Cover and chill in the refrigerator for as long as 24 hours. Just before serving sprinkle with: 3 hard boiled eggs, chopped 1/2 to 3/4 lb. sliced bacon (crisply fried and crumbled) 2 medium sized tomatoes cut into wedges and arranged around salad, if desired.

So serve, lift out with fork and spoon.

Then make Olive Livingston's special

SUNDAE DESSERT

- Crust:
- 1 1/2 sticks oleo
- 1 1/2 cups flour
- 3/4 cup nuts

Mix the oleo and flour with a fork until crumbly and add the nuts. Press into a 13 x 9 inch pan. Bake at 350° until golden brown. Cool.

- Second layer:
- 8 oz. cream cheese
- 1 cup powdered sugar
- 1/2 carton cool whip

Mix together, spread on crust. Third layer: 2 boxes vanilla pudding (instant) 1 box other pudding of your choice 4 cups milk — whip until thickens Spread on second layer.

Spread cool whip on pudding. Sprinkle with chopped nuts. Ollie says, "Excellent"

You can even make the cottage cheese sauce for the potatoes the day before. Then the next day all you need to do is bake the ham and cook the potatoes.

NEW POTATOES WITH HERBED COTTAGE CHEESE SAUCE

- 32 or 3 lb. new potatoes
- Scrub potatoes with soft brush, do not peel
- Boil in salted water 20 to 30 minutes, until tender. Drain.

COTTAGE CHEESE SAUCE

- 1/2 cup plain yogurt
- 1 (12 oz.) carton cottage cheese, creamed in blender
- 1 onion finely chopped
- 4 hard cooked eggs
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- salt and pepper to taste
- 3 tablespoons chopped chives or scallions

Stir yogurt into cottage. Strain yolks of eggs through sieve. Chop whites and add to cheese mixture. Season with lemon juice, salt and pepper. Stir in Chives. Serve as sauce with potatoes.

Jottings

BY JIM SILBAR

"Yeah, we shore need rain," the little critter from the forest floor was saying to me over the weekend. "After all, here I am expected to make sure all these mushrooms pop out at the right time for the famous mushroom hunt, but Lord knows, I am not a miracle worker. I need help just like the regular people."

The critter, a sort of elf-like guy, stood about one hand high as the horsey types would say, and had on the most curious kind of clothing for a man who lives in the deep woods.

He was dressed a little like all the elves you read about, only different. Instead of an Irish gnome you would see in the books, he was wearing a coat made from the inner bark of a dead elm. Sure, his hat was from an acorn, but the feather in it came from a bluebird, something quite rare this time of year. His leggings were made from spider web tunnels, but how he got two to match I don't know. And how he got two sewn together must have been a whole story in itself. Since the weather was nice I didn't see any shoes, but he must have had some as he told me what the winter was like this year.

I ran across the critter, as he likes to be called, because I stopped to see if the thing I thought was a morel, was. It wasn't. It was the critter out sunning himself in the unusual summer conditions.

"Heck," he said when I spotted him. "There's not supposed to be anyone in these woods yet. The morels aren't ready. I've got spring fever right now, and I don't want to make any more pop until we get some rain."

When I asked why he needed rain, he said, "Well," kind of like the President. "I hate rain. You can see I'm not dressed for rain and when I have to work in it, I work fast. The rain helps me to slide from point to point where I know the mushroom roots cross."

I knew from past talks with a mushroom expert the mushroom is the last part of the mating sequence, I think. It takes two roots crossing and touching to make a mushroom come up almost overnight. But I always wondered about the "triggering action" that caused the mushroom to grow.

"I'm the guy who does it," the critter told me proudly. "I'm a little like cupid. When I see where a couple of roots are going to cross, I make sure they get the knot tied between them to make a mushroom."

I was about to ask him how he gets some morels to grow big and others to be real small when he ran off, stopping about every five feet or so and reaching down with a twig or something, pushing it into the ground.

As he was going his job, I also noticed he was running around in a circle. Sometimes large, sometimes small. It was like he was making figure eights on the forest floor.

When he stopped, I caught up with him and asked why he ran in circles.

"I've got one leg a little shorter than the other because I keep missing the connection between the two roots and hit my foot instead. You'll notice I'm right handed and I always run clockwise," he told me.

"After all, you've heard of fairy rings haven't you?" he asked. "I do that too. I have to after all these years of making the morels pop."

I think I asked him what he did after the mushroom season was over when he started darting about again.

As he worked he shouted back to me, "Spring mushrooms, summer mushrooms, fall mushrooms, I hardly have any time between seasons these days."

"And besides, all these people keep coming into the woods and taking out all of my work. If you people wouldn't hunt them for eating, they'd be a whole lot closer and easier for me to make more."

Then he went behind an old dead elm stump and I lost sight of him. But at least I know there is a critter out there making those morels so we could eat a bunch of them on our steaks this spring.

Some of the values in American society are most confusing because Americans embrace the strangest combinations of them. Saving money is considered good. But the opposite, spending money that one doesn't have on something that will likely be worn out by the time it's paid for, is also quite acceptable. And currently there's the matter of two popular concepts coexisting peacefully in society while one runs counter to the aims of the other. And no one seems to find a thing amiss with the arrangement.

On one hand, there are the "all you can eat" meals for one fixed price that more and more restaurants are serving. They attract crowds because they satisfy Americans' love for eating out plus their need to feel they're getting a real bargain. The price is always reasonable as restaurant meals go, but it's only a great bargain if the diner eats a lot. Americans, being hearty eaters, rise to the occasion every time. And they enjoy every minute of it.

On the other hand, Americans have a yearning for slim, trim bodies. And in recent years, they've developed an interest in being fit. Movie stars have trained the spotlight on the healthy glow—or sweat—that comes from exercise. And they've made sure that the light shines on them as well. So their books and records on diet and exercise are racking up healthy sales. And memberships in health clubs that go with the fitness movement are selling as they've never sold before. The fitness buffs don't enjoy themselves as much as bargain diners. But they feel and look better, even with sweat dripping from their brows.

Of course, no one is signed on for life on either of these roads. They can switch back and forth. And many of them do. The temptations of the tummy or sloth or pure exhaustion can lead dieters and exercisers to give up figure building or diminishing. They can decide that tomorrow or some tomorrow in the future is soon enough to have a body beautiful. So they put down their carrot juice and slip over to the route that has the lovely bargain dinners.

And the folks who've been indulging in gustatory pleasures will oftentimes decide to give a try at being able to look straight down at their shotops instead of having to bend over to inspect them. So they join the roots and rice and aching muscles group. And they purchase all the books and records and the health club memberships that go with the more active life in the faster land.

So this is how it is in America today. Perhaps it's not so crazy as it seems. It may be that the restaurants and the health clubs are working for each other. The restaurants fatten up the folks which sends them to the health clubs where they slim down. Then, thin and fit, these people feel free to indulge in bargain dinners which sets the whole cycle in motion once again.

So it does make some sense when it's chalked up to free enterprise, which after all is what the American Way is all about.

Rememberances

It appears that the Boyne City, Gaylord & Alpena excursion train was a popular form of entertainment after the cross-state construction of rails was completed December 20, 1918. This early summer photo shows such an excursion crowd at the depot in Boyne City.

Marshall Sayles

For some people there is no greater joy than swindling a used car dealer.

He: You have been gone six months; what changes have you noticed since returning to the pine, the hemlock and those seasoned pot holes?

Me: I was struck by the fact that some people have died while others are still alive.

He: You seemed to have survived the winter. What was it like in the land of crutches and false teeth?

Me: If you were to talk like that in Florida, they would set the alligators upon you. You wouldn't live to write a story for Readers' Digest about your terrible struggle for life.

He: When you left last fall, the town quieted down and became liveable again. But now that your presence is evident, there seems to be less dancing in the streets.

Me: Look, man. When a person returns to the land of his birth, he is usually welcomed with open arms. I have strong objection to your open mouth affront. In fact, I rather expected a sugar and spice greeting followed by the kissing of the hem of my garment.

He: For Heaven's sake. You have returned with a head full of poppycock and twiddle-twaddle. You would have done well to have remained in Florida, out of the range of your enemies and the city council.

Me: Now I am beginning to understand. Why didn't you say that in the first place?

Waiting for the house boy: I feel sorry for the young go-getters of today. Those who want to go into business for themselves.

Right off they are hit with city, state and federal regulations almost beyond their ability to cope. Down payments, interest rates, insurance, lawyers, CPA'S and a number of other financial drains must be tackled before opening the door to customers.

And then, of course, there is always a passel of half-smart serpents hanging around advising them against eating the apple.

Should the young person succeed in accomplishing all that that must be done to open for business.

The first encounter is with a couple of merchants down the street who welcome the youngster into the fold by saying, "How in the world do you expect to make a living in this town?"

If that doesn't discourage the new merchant there is yet another final blow. It is the fact that there is a string tied to the business with the Internal Revenue Service on the other end of it.

I walked through that circus 30 years ago when I was young and full of vinegar and that other stuff. When I started I thought that it wouldn't be long before I would be sitting on my front porch clapping my hands for a Hindu house boy to bring me a mint julep.

The S.O.B. hasn't shown up yet.

I would like to thank those people who noticed that my column did not appear in last week's paper while I was exceeding the speed limit on the way home from the Sunshine State. And I would like to say "hush up" to those who are disgusted because I am back in the fiddle again.

EJ Middle schoolers salute America

A spirited, upbeat patriotic musical was presented by the East Jordan fifth, sixth, and seventh graders on March 25, directed by Ms. Margaret Thompson. The Middle School choir, which contains some fourth graders, was the core group for the "Kids for America" presentation to an enthusiastic audience. All the Middle School teachers got into the spirit of the musical which deals with beginning of our nation, its break for freedom, and the preservation of freedom today.

Ms. Sharon MacJennett and Mr. Bill Chase worked with a cast of 32 for the dramatic acting. Ms. Keeney was in charge of a large group of youngsters who produced the many costumes needs of the group. Mr. Tom Steggall directed the Rhythm choir and scenery was accomplished by Mr. Jim Everest and a willing group of young workers. Advertising was done by Mrs. Kay Holley and Mrs. D'Ann Rothenberger and signing was worked with by Mrs. Gayle Gotts. Ms. Eleanor Sadowski took charge of Photography and slides. Mrs. Phil Goebel assisted Ms. Thompson with the choir and Mr. Mike Farrimond was in charge of crowd control. The program cover was designed by Danielle Looze, a fifth grade student.

Students having acting parts and giving quotes were Jodie Arget-singer, Chris Brewer, Rick Brooks, Becky Bos, Lynn Bowden, Chris Ciszewski, Amy Drenth, Julie Healey, Angela Inman, Donna Knudsen, Katie Kretschmann, Angie Levell, Ross Miller, Adam Nemecek, Tom Reid, Renee Ruhlman, Tim Shea, Shawn Shepard, Jenny Sherman, Holly Spaulding, Jennifer Stark, Cliff Sutton, Kelly Vallad, Melanie VanHoosier, John Wilson, Angie Chase, Dan Freil, Jason Gaunt, Jerry Hosler, Steve Poole, Heather Shank, and Lisa Thompson.

Costume designers were Karla McKinnon, Lisa Burks, Danielle Looze, Dina Hitchcock, Kathy Kenney, Cathy Moblo, B. J. Hawley, Christi McKenney, Billie Jo Roberts, Amanda Farmer, Gretchen Peck, Tim Snyder, Lisa Richter, Linda Lewis, Tony Everett, Sarah Bourdo, Manuel Cordova, Adam Bartlett, Alex Salinas, Theresa Cutler, Denis Arnott, Tina

Metcalfe, Jenny Neumann, Jenny Cook, Dellie Barber.

The Rhythm choir was made up of Kim Kraemer, Heather Addis, Jenny Neumann, Amy Smith, Rachel Norton, Robbie McArthur, Tony Everett, Phillip White, Cliff Russell, Tom Zipp, Joe Brennan, Matt Diller, Damon Norton, Steve Cain, David Prevo, Joe Hull, Billy Carson, Manuel Cordova, Mike Muma, Forrest Omland.

Those working on the scenery were David Patton, Kris Snyder, Paul Michael, Andy Malpass, Casey Mayher, Chuck Lord, Scott Vrondran, Jim McWatters, Scott Beal, Chuck Haney, Pete Inman, Jr., Adam Bartlett, Alan Anderson, Jason Rapin, Tim Freil, Brian Bennett, Brian Malpass, Amber Grutsch, and Guy Thayer.

Students involved in advertising the production were Kris Olstrom, Scott Coblenz, Tony Joseph, Shannon Brunett, Lori Chanda, John Jason, Brian Mickey, Theresa Cutler, Darcie Dietrich, Richard Hoffman, Debbie Roberts, Lisa Graham, and David Bavers.

Those helping with photography were Scott Howard, Mike Noiro, Steve Bulmann, Tricia Richards, Mike Milenovich, Lora Jankowski, Courtney Stone, Robbie Moblo, and Enos Bacon.

This was the grand finale performance being directed by Ms. Thompson, as she is retiring in June after many years of musical work with East Jordan students. Certainly it was a fine tribute to all the students she has worked with over the years and to the newly formed Middle School choir.

Students from East Jordan participated in the All-America day activities held at the East Jordan Middle School recently.

Students given books in EJ by RIF program

Amid smiles and thank yous six hundred thirty books were distributed to East Jordan students, grades kindergarten through seven, during the week of April 20-25, the twentieth anniversary of the national foundation of Reading is Fundamental. An exciting part of the week was giving books to grades kindergarten through second for the first time. Parent volunteers went into each classroom and read a story to each class relating to the theme of "A Boundless Voyage" and then went with the children to make their book selection. Volunteers reading were Darlene Renkiewicz, Gail Greenman, Brenda Malpass, Laurie McNeil.

Presentations were made in each classroom of grades three through seven on various modes of transportation. Local people presenting methods of travel were George Secord, railroads; Steve Mid-daugh, canoeing; Keith Richardson, Vikings; Elouise Rossler, Ironton Ferry; Debra Swan, bicycling; Ken Bluhm, deep sea photography; Don Ziegler, Airplanes and stunt flying; Jerry Aydlott, hot air ballooning.

The RIF committee is composed of volunteer parents and headed by Mrs. Gerda Sherk. The school's liaison is Mrs. Pam Allen, who writes the grant for the RIF Foundation. In addition to the Foundation grant the matching funds from the school, donations were made by the East Jordan Rotary, the East Jordan Lions Club, the East Jordan Lioness Club, and the East Jordan American Legion. Almost 1900 books will be distributed in the course of the year to students.

Twenty years ago Mrs. Robert McNamara pioneered the first book distribution and founded RIF. The Reading is Fundamental Foundation is now headed by Ruth Graves and has become a nationwide effort, having begun as a small inner-city project by Mrs. McNamara. There are about 10,000 sites in a network of 3,300 projects in all fifty states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and Guam. RIF projects exist in daycare centers, libraries, migrant worker camps, Indian reservations, correctional centers, home for the handicapped, hospitals, health clinics as well as public schools.

The thrust of the RIF Foundation

One nice thing about a R.I.F. program is sharing the new book you received with friends. Students at the East Jordan Elementary School received their books last week during a R.I.F. presentation at the school.

is to motivate children to read and to get books into homes that have none. The U.S. Department of Education has noted that the program has been effective in developing an overall motivation to read and develop in more positive attitude about themselves.

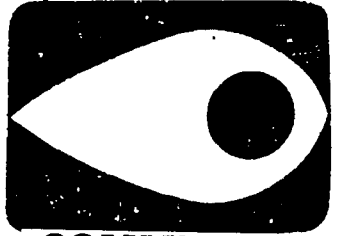

The key component of the success of the RIF program is the fact that nearly 100,000 citizens volunteer on the local level, contributing millions of hours to make the program work from the selection and ordering of books to the tailoring of activities to motivate to the actual distribution of the books.

Approximately 25 volunteers work on the East Jordan project, some of them are involved in all the activities, other give time as they can to specific activities. Some of these people have been involved in RIF for many of the eight years it has been in East Jordan; they simply moved up and down the grades as their children started and finished the elementary program.

Certainly the students have been happily aware of the RIF program as the halls had many colorful collages and many hand-lettered quotes on the walls. As parents were putting these up in the halls, students had trouble with running into each other as they eagerly tried to read them between classes. "The Little Engine the Could," "Peter Pan," "Mike Mulligan's Steam Shovel," and "Maud and Claud Go Abroad," got the kindergarteners through second grade launched into a reading program.

The best parts of the whole operation are the many, many happy smiles and the shy thank yous and the exclamations of "I want that one!" Volunteers certainly feel they have spent their hours in a worthwhile manner then. One volunteer was rewarded by a second grader with a bouquet of flowers later in the day! Kids do want to read and RIF is proud to help them learn!

Northwestern State Bank picks up cost of CMU news program

Northwestern State Bank of East Jordan, with branches in Atwood, Boyne City, Bellaire, Petoskey and Boyne Falls, announces that they will underwrite an evening newscast on CMU Public Television.

The MacNeil/Lehrer NewsHour, public television's alternative to the commercial networks' newscasts, has returned to CMU Public Television weeknights at 10 p.m. The program was dropped from the station's schedule when it became too costly and the new hour-long format was not received well by viewers.

Rick Schudiske, CMU Public TV program manager, said, "The NewsHour producers have refined the program considerably now, and the full hour format is being accepted far better across the country."

Corporate support from local underwriters has made it financially possible for CMU Public Television to include MacNeil/Lehrer in its schedule again, Schudiske said.

Northwestern State Bank's Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer Charles McDowell said, "We knew viewers in our service area were looking forward to the return of the MacNeil/Lehrer NewsHour. It is a popular and distinguished newscast."

The MacNeil/Lehrer NewsHour fashions a fresh and often diverse approach toward covering the major news stories of the day. This approach is achieved by blending interviews and discussions, documentary reports from the field (often running 10-14 minutes in length), and special features such as book reviews, essays and profiles. Each night's broadcast includes an up-to-the-minute hard news rundown and in-depth, extended coverage of the day's top news stories.

CMU Public TV station manager Monte Higgins commented, "We sincerely appreciate Northwestern State Bank's support. Their commitment to public television has made possible the broadcast of MacNeil/Lehrer, a series that was just too expensive for our programming budget without corporate underwriting."

McDowell commented, "Northwestern State Bank chose to underwrite the newscasts to further our commitment to public television broadcasting. We hope viewers will appreciate the program and consider us for their financial services."

The MacNeil/Lehrer NewsHour is on Monday-Friday at 10 p.m. Northwestern State Bank has chosen to underwrite the Monday night broadcast. Other MacNeil/Lehrer broadcasts are still available to underwriters said Mr. Higgins.

The CMU Public Television Network includes WCMU-TV/14

Mt. Pleasant, WCMU-TV/6 Alpena, WCMW-TV/21 Manistee-Ludington, WCMV-TV/27 Cadillac, TV/46 Traverse City and TC/69 Leland-Suttons Bay.

Service clubs, schools in EJ form Career Day

Area business and service clubs have formed a partnership with the East Jordan Schools in order to offer a Career Fair on Friday, May 2, 1986. This is designed to develop occupational and self-awareness in our youth.

All seventh through twelfth graders will hear Gary Cass, Michigan Department of Education's Project Outreach Director, speak on "Career Success - It Doesn't Happen by Chance." Then all students will view a wide variety of exhibits set up in the high school gymnasium by area businesses and professionals. Special concerns take attention of Boyne Valley Garden Club

The April meeting of the Boyne Valley Garden Club was held on Thursday the 24th at Litzeburger Place with President Lois Pollack presiding.

The meeting was devoted to the special concerns of the club.

Members were pleased to learn that 6th grader Rod Meads had placed second in the Woodsy Owl Poster Contest sponsored by the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan. He will receive a patch badge and his entry will now go into regional competition. There will be a meeting of Presidents and interested members of the District Clubs at Elk Rapids on May 7. Plans were made for the May 12 buffet dinner which the local club will serve to people living at Litzeburger Place.

A statewide Garden Week will be observed the first week of June. Thorneta Rowe told of plans for beautifying the areas that the club has assumed responsibility for.

The club voted to establish a memorial fund to purchase trees in memory of former members and their spouses.

Connie Van Hoesen gave a report on Thomas Jefferson's gardens.

Members were reminded that the May meeting would be a 10:00 workshop on Japanese Flower Arranging.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Grace Davis, Irene Brannon, and Donna Mosely.

$5,000 Reward posted by Consumers for insulator shoot-out

For the third time in four months, Medusa Cement Corporation in Charlevoix has been knocked out of business by gunshot damage to 19 insulators on Consumers Power Company's 138,000 volt transmission line which provides them with electricity.

Consumers Power is offering a $5,000 cash reward for information leading to the arrest and arraignment of the person or persons responsible for this vandalism.

This most recent damage occurred at 7:03 a.m., April 21 in Antrim County. Damaged insulators were found one mile northwest of Hichcock on the line between Kearney and Echo Townships.

This kind of deliberate vandalism impacts both Consumers Power and Medusa in dollars. Since 1975, Consumers Power has spent over $700,000 replacing thousands of insulators damaged by gunfire.

Medusa Plant Manager Elbert Kaiser said

"This incident has cost Medusa Cement many dollars in nonproductive time, not to mention many dollars in future sales."

Previous damage occurred about half way between Central Lake and East Jordan on both December 11, 1985 and February 20 of this year.

When insulators are damaged and there is a short circuit, the protective equipment goes into action to "lock out" the line. The line has circuit breakers like those in your home to shut it down when there is an electrical problem...but they are large pieces of equipment.

The damage required the use of 11 field people who had to be reassigned from regularly scheduled work. Repairing this damage required about 10 hours and cost well in excess of $5,000.

CITY OF BOYNE CITY

ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

Pursuant to Rules and Regulations as outlined in the Boyne City Zoning Ordinance A-28, please take notice that a Public Hearing will be held by the Boyne City Zoning Board of Appeals on Thursday, May 15, 1986 at 7:30 p.m. in the Commission Chambers, 319 North Lake Street, to consider the following two requests for variances:

Variance No. 1: A request from Gary and Marcy Cole, 1374A Lewis Avenue, Property Tax No. 051-000-335-156-00. Property is located at the Southeast corner of Lewis Avenue and Division Street and is zoned Residential 2 (R-2).

Mr. and Mrs. Cole's request is to be granted a variance so that they may replace a 1962 10 ft. x 55 ft. mobile home, with a 1986 14 ft. x 70 ft. mobile home at the same location on their property. It would meet all zoning set back requirements. This property is one of six properties within the City that accommodate mobile homes under the grandfather clause of the previous Zoning Ordinance. Under the most recent Zoning Ordinance, the variance request would be for the expansion of a pre-existing, non-conforming use.

Variance No. 2: A request from Phillip Johnson and Fred Moore, for property at 233 W. Cedar Street, Property Tax No. 051-000-457-082-00 (former Cedar Street Grocery Building). Property is located at the Southeast corner of W. Cedar Street and Douglas Street and is zoned Residential 2 (R-2).

Mr. Johnson's and Mr. Moore's request is to be granted a variance to convert said building into a 4 apartment building and eliminate the grocery store use. The request would be to allow a multi-family unit in an R-2 zoned area where only two family dwellings are allowed.

It is noted that at said Public Hearing, judgements of the Zoning Board and interpretation of the Zoning Ordinance may vary with that which is being officially published above and will not limit the discussion to what has been originally petitioned. Revisions may be made by the Planning Advisory Board on the Conditional Use and Site Plan requests provided they meet all laws and statutes.

Any input for or against these variances will be received by the City Clerk's Office, 319 N. Lake Street, through 5:00 p.m. of the Public Hearing Day, either via public appearance or mail.

Any and all objections for or against the requested variances will be heard at the Public Hearing.

A detailed location of the areas under consideration for these variances are available for review at City Hall.

State tax amnesty questions answered

Michigan taxpayers with confidential questions about the upcoming May 12-June 30 Tax Amnesty program can call a toll-free information hotline just installed by the Michigan Department of Treasury.

State Treasurer Robert A. Bowman said 16 specially-trained operators are available at 1-800-I.O.TAXES (468-2937) Monday-Friday from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. to answer questions about the Amnesty program.

"This service is available to help taxpayers evaluate whether or not they need Amnesty. We want to make it as easy as possible for individuals and companies to use the program before we crack down hard on tax frauds, because after Amnesty penalties double," he said.

Michigan's 50-day Amnesty program will allow delinquent taxpayers to pay back taxes without penalty or prosecution. The theme of the Michigan Amnesty program is "Get to us before we get to you." When Amnesty expires, the Treasury Department will pull out all the stops to catch, convict, and can tax cheats.

In another step to make Amnesty as convenient as possible, the Treasury Department will accept payments by VISA and Master Card during the program. Michigan is the first state to allow the use of credit cards during a Tax Amnesty program.

All tax forms can be received from the Treasury Dept. by calling the toll-free number 1-800-FORM-2-ME, 24 hours a day Monday through Saturday.

Wickes plant completes Head Start Program for Boyne City, year 2 without accident Falls accepting enrollments

Recently the East Jordan Plant of the Mechanical Components Division, Wickes Manufacturing Company completed two (2) years without a lost time accident. This milestone represents one million, sixty eight thousand manhours worked by the plants 286 employees without a day missed as the result of a work related injury or illness.

On April 25th the Company recognized the tremendous efforts put forth by their employees to achieve this record by providing them with a catered luncheon and a half day off with pay. In addition, numerous merchandise drawings were held for such items as televisions, microwaves, power tools and VCR's. A grand prize drawing of a one week paid vacation for two anywhere in the Continental U.S. capped off the celebration.

Company officials announced that a 1987 automobile will be the grand prize drawing when the three year mark is reached.

The Mechanical Components Division's Mancelona Plant, which has approximately 300 employees, also reached a safety milestone on March 1, 1986 with the completion of three (3) years and one million, seven hundred thousand manhours worked without a lost time accident.

A similar celebration was held on March 14th at that plant. The grand prize drawing was for a 1986 automobile.

The Company attributes the success of the safety program at their facilities to the attitude the employees display toward on-the-job safety. Mechanical devices can be provided to protect employees from the obvious work hazards but attitude and awareness are important ingredients for a successful safety program.

In an effort to reinforce the awareness toward safety, the employees are provided with coffee and donuts along with merchandise and cash drawings at the end of each month completed without a lost time accident.

A total of two million seven hundred thousand manhours worked between the two facilities without a lost time accident is a record for this type of industry in Northern Michigan.

Bill Deneen, Safety Consultant with the Michigan Department of Labor presented the Company with a plaque recognizing the Mechanical Components Division's safety achievements.

The Mechanical Components Division, produces parking brake controls, automatic and manual transmission shifters, latches, hinges, window regulators, switches and other related mechanical assemblies for the automotive industry.

East Jordan Sportsmans Club elects officers

Plans for the upcoming year were made recently at the Jordan River Sportsmans Club with the election of the club officers included on the agenda.

This years planned events include two black powder rendezvous with the first taking place on May 10 and 11. The second event is slated for August 9th and 10th.

The May shoot, entitled, Cabin Fever

Rendezvous, will feature two days of shoot-out competition with an awards ceremony to be held Sunday evening.

Some fifty prizes are to be awarded in three divisions including a wide assortment of events. Men will compete in one division, women in another, and youngsters will be slated in their own division.

The second rendezvous is in its eighth annual year and is attended by a larger field of competitors each year. Last year a record turnout was recorded, and club officers speculate for even more shooters to attend this year. The two day event will also feature three divisions of competitions with spectator events also on the agenda. A concession stand will be open both days for each event.

Six new officers were voted into office with two officers retaining possession of their seats. Duly nominated and elected were Dan Albert as president, Karl Gilewicz and Pete Gaskin were elected as first and second vice president respectively, Ken Lemon retained his seat as secretary, Ruth Mapes was elected as the treasurer, and Pepper Mapes and Jerry Froats Sr. were elected as trustees for the club. Dick McKinnon was elected to re-peat a term as a club trustee.

Hart earns scholarship

Patty Hart, another local photographer, won a scholarship to the Winona International School of Professional Photography based on the first picture she entered, titled "In Memory of Me" in the Professional Photographers of Michigan contest held recently.

She won a honorable mention for the picture.

The Winona school specializes in professional photography and offers an opportunity for those going to it to advance their careers through the science and art of photography.

The school is a subsidiary of the Professional Photographers of America and was founded in 1921. It provides hands-on experiences for those who are students with training to improve the skills, overall knowledge and understanding of the photographic industry.

This year the Michigan organization awarded four scholarships for the school located in Illinois just north of the O'Hare airport.

Hart is looking forward to attending the school and has several classes lined up to take while she is attending.

Red Devils move to 6-0 season with wins

The East Jordan Red Devils moved to 6-0 on the season with a pair of victories over the Vanderbilt Yellowjackets and the Mancelona Ironmen. The Devil's Scott Bartig continued his fine pitching by winning two of the four games.

The Devils traveled to Vanderbilt last Tuesday. They pulled out a close 4-3 decision in the first game, and then blew away the Yellowjackets by a 20-3 score in only three innings.

In the first game, both teams struggled at the plate through the first three innings. In the fourth inning, Bill Lytle got things going for the Devils with a home run. East Jordan went on to score three more during the inning, the final two coming on a two out single by Dennis Skrocki. The Yellowjackets gave the Devils a scare in the bottom of the fifth by scoring three runs, but the Devils hung on to win, 4-3.

Bartig went the distance for the Devils giving up three hits, five walks and one earned run while striking out 11. The Devils managed only six hits. Collecting the hits were John Richards, John Hribljan, Carl Knop, Bartig, Skrocki, and Lytle.

The second game was called after three innings because of the cold weather and the lopsided score. The Devils won by a 20-3 margin.

East Jordan got things going in the first by scoring six runs. Vanderbilt scored three in the bottom of the second to pull to within three, but East Jordan went to work in the third scoring 14 times on only five hits.

Matt Bishop earned the victory for the Devils going two innings while giving up no hits, walks, or runs and striking out five. Senior Bill Kraemer was brought into pitch for the first time in his high school career. He walked three and gave up one hit while striking out three.

Collecting hits for the Devils were Bill Lytle with two (including his second home run of the day) and Bill Kraemer with two, and Dennis Skrocki, Glen Stevens, Steve Dionne, Steve Gee, Mark Moore, and Matt Vincent with one each.

East Jordan opened up the Ski Valley Conference play last Thursday at the home of the Mancelona Ironmen. East Jordan, coached by former Ironman Steve Hines, swept the twinnings.

The Devils got off to a slow start scoring only two runs in the first three innings. Going into the fourth inning, the Devils found themselves trailing 6-2. But three errors and a clutch two out hit by Dennis Skrocki gave the Devils three unearned runs to pull to within one run. The Devils then tied the game in the sixth on a double off the bat of Scott Bartig. East Jordan scored three more times in the inning and added one in the seventh to win 10-6.

Greg Kitson started the game, but lasted only 2½ innings after giving up three hits and five walks while striking out seven. Scott Bartig came on in relief for the victory going the final 4½ innings giving up no hits and two walks while fanning four.

Collecting hits for the Devils were Skrocki and Bartig with two each, and John Hribljan, Bill Kraemer, and Matt Vincent with one each. Kraemer's hit was a home run to dead center in the second inning.

In the second game, poor play by the Ironmen and hustle by the Devils got East Jordan on the scoreboard first. Dennis Skrocki led off the game with a ground ball to the third baseman. The throw sailed over the first basemen's head which enabled him to move to second. He advanced to third after an error on the catcher, and scored on a wild pitch. The Ironmen tied the game in the bottom half of the inning, but East Jordan came back and scored seven runs in the second, two coming from a double by Greg Kitson. East Jordan added a pair in the third with a two run homer from Steve Gee. The Devils sealed it up with three in each of the fourth and fifth inning for a 16-6 victory.

Steve Dionne pitched for the first time all season for the victory. He lasted four innings giving up two hits and 10 walks while striking out five. Matt Bishop came in during the fifth with two on and nobody out and struck out all three batters he faced.

Collecting hits for East Jordan were Steve Gee and Dan Pepin with two each and Greg Kitson, Matt Bishop, Carl Knop, Mark Moore, and Glen Stevens with one a piece.

East Jordan will travel to Central Lake on Thursday.

Giving congratulations to Greg Webb are Rambler teammates Keoki Kuheana and Aaron Richards, among others. Webb smashed a homer over the Boyne Falls center field fence late in the game to give Boyne City a game winning edge after trailing 9-10. Boyne City won the game 19-14.

EJ tracksters take 2nd in 1st meet

BY STEVE GEE

After winning only two games all season last year, the East Jordan girls softball team has already tripled that amount this season. The Red Devils have moved to 6-0 on the year by sweeping double headers from both the Vanderbilt Yellowjackets and the Mancelona Ironmen.

On Tuesday, the girls traveled to Vanderbilt. The Devils won the opening game by a score of 22-9. Shandra Sweet earned the victory for the Devils by giving up three hits and three walks while striking out four.

The Devils collected nine hits. Tina Reid, Jari Chanda, and Kris Burt each collected two while Chris Nietupski, Jody McDermott, and Jill Burt each added one. Reid had the teams only home run of the game.

East Jordan also won the second game, this time by a 15-9 margin. Shandra Sweet earned the win in this game also by giving up two hits and two walks while striking out a pair.

The Red Devils rapped out 13 hits including three off the bat of Senior Jody McDermott. Chris Nietupski, Jill Burt and Sweet each collected two while Kelli Mayhew, Kris Burt, Billi Jo Crawford, and Tina Reid each added one.

After winning their first four non conference games, the Devils continued their winning ways with a pair of conference victories over the Mancelona Ironmen.

East Jordan won the first game by a score of 14-5. Shandra Sweet earned her fourth victory of the season by giving up five hits and eight walks while striking out three.

The Devils totaled 11 hits including three off the bats of Jody McDermott, Shelly Malpass, and Billi Jo Crawford. Jill Burt and Tina Reid also collected hits.

Senior Kelli Mayhew earned her second win of the season by pitching a no hitter in the second game to give the Devils a 9-0 win. She walked three and fanned six.
