News Briefs

The Michigan Travel Bureau is predicting a vigorous tourism season. Officials foresee a $8.2 billion summer with a nine percent total growth for all travel in Michigan for the year. Summer travel accounts for six out of every ten trips in Michigan.

In a continuing effort to fight auto theft, the Michigan Department of State will accept only complete title transfer documents for processing. Branch officials will verify the back of the title is completed including name, address and signature of purchaser. The mileage statement date of sale, selling price and address of the seller, as well as the signature, will also be required.

With the reorganization of the County Animal Control Officer position to better serve the county, new control officer Brian Smith of East Jordan will be working 24 hours weekly, six days a week. He will have an office in the Humane Society building and complaints to him will be handled by a new number, 547-9711, Monday thru Friday, from noon to 6 p.m. Other hours, complaints can be made to 547-9062.

The state Board of Education will be holding two public hearings concerning Char-Em on the transfer of certain property from the East Jordan school district to the Charlevoix district in the first case. The second case involves land from the Petoskey school district to the Charlevoix school district. Both cases will be heard in Lansing in the Tenure Hearing Room of the Ottawa-South Office Building, June 12.

Eligible farmers in Charlevoix County are invited to become nominees for the Farm Home Administration county committee. The committee helps determine eligibility of applicants for certain types of FmHA loans. Nominations for the position are being accepted until June 18 at the Petoskey office of FmHA.

Millages all pass in annual elections

Boyer City Schools will see a few new faces on the board, Boyne Falls is elated their school system will be able to expand, and East Jordan is planning on buying new textbooks and changing the funding for their library after the annual school elections held Monday.

In Boyne City, the hotly contested seats for the school board were taken by Judy Follette with 444 votes over former board member John Mather's 323 for the four year term while Bill Christensen garnered 584 votes to lead the pack for the two year term.

A problem arose though after the vote count was taken Monday night in the two year race when the second seat was taken by Gary Winter with 231 votes. Winter had dropped out of the race prior to the election but it was too late to pull his name from the ballot. "I have decided to serve," Winter told the Press Tuesday morning. "My original concern was amount of time involved to do the job right, and thanks to a supportive family, I am going to devote the time. I'll have to learn the ropes and act accordingly."

Other vote totals for the two seats were Bob Schmoltd with 223, Ken Giem with 227, and Dave Crumbaugh with 194.

In the one-year term race, Thelma Behling, the retiring school nurse and Boyne City Council person won with 425 votes for one of the two positions available. Dave Guzniczak took the other position with 554 votes. Ron Bishop had 360 votes.

The millage in Boyne City was renewed with 538 votes cast on the yes side to 172 votes cast for the no side.

"This community has always been very supportive to our millage needs," Superintendent Rich Kelly said after the election.

In Boyne Falls, both incumbent board members were re-elected with votes of 218 for William Cousineau and 195 for Patricia Griffith. Both were unopposed in the election.

The millage vote was approved by the voters within the district by 29 votes. 159 votes were cast on the yes side while the no vote was 130.

The additional millage made

Superintendent Bob Redmond happy as he said he was "very pleased. It will allow us to do all of the things we need to do and also to add two sections of classes for the students."

He also expressed deep thanks to two groups of people who worked to get the vote. The students did a phone survey last Friday, and citizens, staff and a board member did a phone campaign Monday.

In East Jordan, Larry Chanda will be returning to the school board as the incumbent beat out Michael Burr with a vote tally of 421 to 123.

Both proposals passed in the school system. The first, which will add .5 mill for new textbooks passed by a 364 yes to 213 no vote.

The library millage, which increases the millage by one mill for ten years was approved by a 376 yes vote to a 196 no vote.

"The district appreciates the support of the community and the textbook proposal will allow us to update our textbooks for better learning," Superintendent Tom Rossler said Tuesday morning.

Tearing down the old Boyne City Locker Plant along North Lake Street was a crew from Dunkel Excavating. The proposed plan would involve the changing of zoning for the land from general business to multiple dwelling. A public hearing is slated for the change down to make room for a proposed condominium project.

$4.25 million budget for 86-87

After hearing and working with the numbers for over a month, Boyne City School Board members approved $4.25 million budget for the 1986-87 school year, that has the school district dipping into its fund equity for about $200,000 in order to make the budget balance.

The action came after a budget hearing held Monday night during the monthly school board meeting.

While the budgeted figures aren't the actual amount of money the school district is going to spend, Superintendent Rich Kelly has told the board many times in the past he figures a budget showing the most amount of money that could be spent. He quickly added though, he has never spent as much as he has budgeted.

The budget is based on income from local sources, taxes, state and federal monies as well as other transactions. Kelly figures the school will be earning an estimated $3,767,010 for the upcoming school year which starts the first of July.

Areas where the money will be spent include increases in the basic instructional program where new teachers and programs are going to be added. There will be also increases in the support services due to pay raises and other increased costs.

One increase in cost not figured in the budget are tremendous increases in the insurances the school system has had in the past. Kelly estimated one policy quote was up from $5,000 to $40,000.

Even after the board approved the budget, the school system is constantly working with the numbers to make sure they are less than the budgeted amounts.

In other action, middle school principal, Jack Cyr, told members of the audience he was going to fit the fifth graders into the middle school.

Last month, the school board approved the moving of the fifth grade to the middle school because

Yes, fireworks in Boyne on 4th of July

Boyer City-The fourth of July will be a normal Fourth of July as City Officials announced the city will be hosting a fireworks display in conjunction with all of the other activities planned.

There was some concern about the fireworks because of growing insurance costs and the impossibility of finding coverage for those viewing the display.

But thanks to the Boyne City Firemen, the Boyne City Lions Club and the Rotarians, the display will be held.

The Lions arranged to have the evening insured through the Lions International policy which covers all Lions sponsored events. The Rotary club has agreed to pay for the display, or at least make sure there is enough money to purchase the display the volunteer firemen will be shooting off that night, and the firemen will be providing the manpower to shoot the rockets off the end of the marina in Veterans Memorial Park.

In other action, the City Commissioners passed a resolution that will let city boards, volunteer groups and commissioners be held

Even little Indians need something to eat as this tyke gets a mouth full of Indian bread during a pause in the festivities during the East Jordan Ashinabe Pow-wow held this past weekend.

Fancy dress, fancy steps were some of the things that could be seen during the many dances of the weekend at the Pow-wow. Over 40 booths were selling everything from sleigh bells to jewelry as about 4,000 people enjoyed the action.

Learning from the right age is critical for many of the intricate Indian dance steps. This little brave was trying to do the steps next to his father at one of the inter-tribal dances.

GIFTS FROM OUR FATHERS

There is so very much written about the sacrifices that our Mothers made through the years and there were many, however, what about Father? Until the last couple of generations, the sole responsibility of making a living was on "Papa's" shoulders, and I wonder if he gets enough credit for his work and his strivings to make ends meet. I like to ponder on the gifts that some fathers have given to their children.

What gifts did my father give me: He expected great things of me and no matter what he was doing, I always felt welcome in his presence. He always talked to me as a grown-up, we had good visits though he used to say that I either talked all of the time or else I said nothing at all. I believed that one of the most important gifts he left me was love of the land. I rode with him on the seat of the manure spreader in the early spring and walked behind him in the furrow when he plowed and when I was very small I remember riding on his lap when he cultivated corn. He provided for our family through the depression years and was proud to say, "We never had to go on welfare." I do not suppose that he ever knew how I appreciated his gifts, I really did not know it myself until it was too late to tell him.

Then there are the many gifts from my children's father. Gifts to me as well as to our daughters. Sometimes I think that he was a little too didactic with them though he did give them the confidence to try new things. He believed that they could accomplish anything they really wanted to do and they have believed it through the years. He taught them appreciation of art and shared with all of us his love of Northern Michigan's woods, lakes, birds, flowers and trees. These were gifts we did not even know we were receiving at the time. Now we know!

Father's Day is the time to think of these things and I will make an upside-down cake for my son-in-law which is a special favorite of his. I believe he is trying, with success, to be a good father.

PINEAPPLE UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

Make a yellow cake from scratch or from a mix following directions on the box. The following is a good recipe which you might want to use as this is for a special occasion.

YELLOW CAKE

2 1/4 cups sifted cake flour or
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 1/4 cups sugar
3/4 cup shortening
3/4 cup milk
3 eggs
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon almond flavoring

To prepare batter, measure all ingredients into the large mixer bowl. Mix at low speed until well blended. Increase speed to medium and mix 5 minutes scraping bowl occasionally.

For the topping use:
1/2 cup butter or margarine
2 cups packed brown sugar
1 (15 1/4 oz.) can sliced or chunk pineapple, drained
Maraschino cherries
Set oven to 375°.

Place butter in a 13 in. by 9 in. pan. Put in oven until melted. Sprinkle brown sugar over butter and place pineapple over sugar and garnish with cherries. Pour the prepared batter over pineapple and bake 35 to 40 minutes or until a pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pan on rack 10 minutes, loosen cake from sides of pan. Place a platter over top and invert. You might need to replace any fruit that happens to stick to pan.

Serve with ice cream; this is a real Father's Day treat.

For his Father's Day dinner Joe would like roast turkey or chicken. This is the easy way Shirley fixes

JOE'S FAVORITE BARBECUED CHICKEN

She buys whichever is the best buy for chicken at the supermarket, usually mixed parts. In order to cut down on fats she removes the skin and fat from all of the pieces, lays them on a foil lined cookie sheet, seasons them with salt and some pepper and puts a little dab of margarine on each piece; then bakes it at 350° for 45 minutes. Then covers each piece with a bottled, thick and rich barbecue sauce and bakes 15 minutes, then turns each piece over and covers them with more barbecue sauce and bakes another 15 minutes. This takes one hour and fifteen minutes all together and this chicken is always very good.

Serving this with a huge tossed salad and a dish of cottage cheese makes it a good day for Mother as well as Day. Happy Father's Day!

Engaged?

The Charlevoix County Press publishes engagement and wedding announcements without charge.

Pictures are welcomed, but we do suggest a few guidelines. Good quality black and white photographs, either of the couple or bride-elect, are preferred. All photographs are kept on file in the Press office and may be picked up at any time following publication; those pictures not picked up after six months will be discarded.

Wedding and engagement announcement forms are available at our office or will be mailed upon request and the receipt of a self-addressed stamped envelope.

While we try to publish each announcement the week that we receive it (and in the case of weddings, the first publication date following the ceremony), space constraints sometimes force us to delay the printing of the announcement for one or two weeks. Therefore, we ask that information be received at least two weeks before the intended publication so that we might better plan for its publication.

We will not accept wedding announcements received more than four weeks after the wedding.

couple of weeks. They instructed Kelly to get more input from the parents, students, and other concerning the change of the start of the school day.

The change was made at the last board meeting in order to let about 30 students from the high school be able to attend classes in the vocational education area of the high school.

While the change involves all of the students, the intent was to be able to have the school day start earlier to eliminate some of the problems caused when Petoskey schools changed their start time for the upcoming year.

The board also approved the letting of a bid for a new elevator housing at the middle school to O.D. Sayles Masonry for $11,400, accepted a resignation letter from Pat Robinson, approved the rehiring of Shelly Martin and Sherry Sheldon, rejoined the Northern Michigan School Food Service Cooperative, agreed to continue with Blue Cross-Blue Shield as the prime health insurance carrier and agreed to give five percent raises to the non-affiliated members of the staff.

day rotation. The sixth, seventh and eighth grade will have two enrichment classes in the same subject with the exception of art for the seventh graders.

Cyr told the board about the only time the grades will mix will be before school starts and after it finishes, according to his plan.

In a related action, the board heard a discussion on whether or not they made the right decision concerning the starting time for the children. After hearing some complaints from parents, they decided to table the discussion to take another look at the matter in a of a lack of rooms in the elementary school.

In introducing the new utilization of the middle school, Kelly told the board and members of the audience "I think parents will be pleased with what Cyr came up with concerning the way the school was going to handle the additional grade."

Cyr told the board the school system was going to try to make two schools within one. He has structured the rooms on the west end of the building to contain the fifth and sixth grade while the west end of the school will have the seventh and eighth grade classes.

Cyr told the board he had segregated the school as much as possible, and every room in the building will be used for education. He added the students in the fifth and sixth grades will have separate lunch periods and about the only time the four classes might mix would be when the seventh and eighth grades have to go to some of the enrichment classes like music and band.

But, he admonished the board the plan he and other administrators came up with, will only last for about three years. He figures within three years he will run out of class rooms to house the students coming up from the elementary level.

For the enrichment classes, the fifth graders will have vocal, music and physical education on a three

The resolution was enacted because of society becoming more litigious, according to City Attorney Bill McTaggart. He said the resolution will help in the case of a suit filed by someone against the city. He told the commissioners that anything that was deliberately malicious or negligent would not be covered under this resolution, but would protect the city from actions done by volunteer boards, appointed and elected officials.

City commissioners then voted to have Commissioner Thelma Behling be the designated voting delegate to the Michigan Municipal League convention. Edith Beck was named as the alternate.

How do you find boat insurance that protects more than your boat?

No problem.

Boat Insurance from Auto-Owners protects you in case of collision on land or water...it provides fire and theft coverage; and liability and medical protection for you and your family can also be added.

So ask your Auto-Owners agent just how their Boat Insurance can be "no problem" keeping you afloat.

Jottings

BY JIM SILBAR

I read a lot. Sometimes I read a lot of junk, but every now and then, I read something that helps make the world seem a little ridiculous and that helps maintain the sanity of every day.

Like last week, I read an article that told me not to kiss any toads.

Now I am not looking to find a prince or a princess in my case, just by looking for a toad to kiss and I don't think I have any warts that need removing by rubbing a toad, but the whole idea of someone actually kissing a toad or a frog just doesn't set too well with my ideas.

But someone else has told me time and again, it takes a lot of different people to make the world what it is, and that requires some strange actions.

As the article turned out, a certain species of toad, like the Colorado River Toad, is poisonous. Kissing that toad has in some cases caused death and severe sickness in others.

As an adult, I can't imagine anyone getting a toad in their mouth, but at the same time to eat I was a kid I probably liked to eat dirt and put a lot of that in my mouth. After all, kids do a lot of things that we adults shudder at.

Maybe that is why kids like small animals as pets, or adults like to feel like kids and have larger pets.

I don't know.

But I do know not to put any toads to my mouth or give them a kiss. That was probably the point of the article. Some one might have their life saved by reading something like that article and heeding the advice that was implied.

Another item that caught my eye was written about the Tufts University Diet and Nutrition letter.

It concerned the use of coffee lighteners. Seems most of the dried products that say "no cholesterol" have more saturated fat than the cream it is supposed to replace.

The article said none of the coffee lighteners should be used by those people trying to lower their blood cholesterol. The reason they suggest that is the coconut oil commonly used in the powdered lightener is even more saturated than the fat in cream, and works to raise blood cholesterol levels.

They suggest those who want to lighten their coffee use a non-fat dry milk powder or a low-fat evaporated milk. That's because they contain very little fat of any sort and virtually no cholesterol.

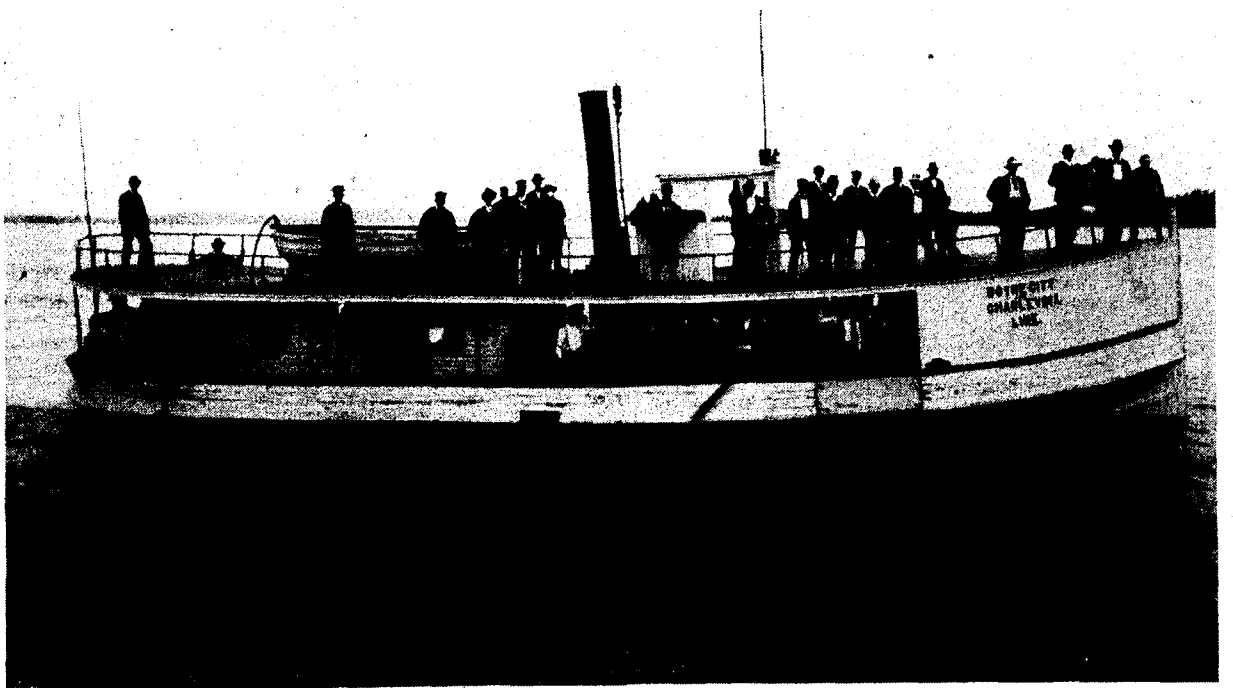

For those who drink a lot of coffee during the day, the use of a commercial lightener could contain as much as two grams of saturated fat per level teaspoon. The recommended amount of saturated fat a person is supposed to eat every day is only 22 grams. If you have 11 cups of coffee a day, I guess you are not allowed to eat anything else.

Maybe I could start a new diet for everybody who wants to lose weight.

We'll call it the coffee diet. Just drink all those cups of coffee and not eat anything else, and you will probably lose pounds. Especially if you combine the drinking of coffee, eating nothing else with a tremendous amount of physical exertion.

Like cutting wood to get ready for winter. Or running around town without a car. Or even typing on a computer and worrying about what you are going to fill the space with for the week.

Remembrances

The passenger ferry Rhocean, (you can see the name real low on the bow of the ship), was the sister ship to the City of Boyne City. The boat plied the lake between Boyne City and Charlevoix along with its sister ship back in the 1908 - 1909. Abner Hawkes was listed as the engineer for both of the boats. Since no women are seen on deck, it must be assumed they are all in the cabins. Or else the picture was taken during a men's outing.

Ware-withal

BY GAIL WARE

In May and June, warm breezes stir the air without and within campus auditoriums across the country. Graduation ceremonies bring on moving words from the podiums about Life and The Future along with enthusiastic references to Challenge and Success. Inspirational messages, these graduation speeches, but they're not much use in helping the younger generation deal with the nitty-gritty of everyday living. Things like assembling bicycles, finding lost teddy bears and remembering phone numbers call for concrete tools, not concepts.

A magnifying glass ranks high on the list of useful tools. A great many things these days come in boxes, unassembled, with instructions for assembly enclosed. But not all instructions are created equal. Some are created in the small print of pocket-sized editions of the Bible. Others come in type only a bit smaller than that used in books for beginning readers. The more complex the task of assembly, the more likely the instructions are to be in small print, which is where the magnifying glass comes in.

One can get by without a magnifying glass if he confines his assembling to things like end tables and toy boxes whose instructions are in big print with nice spaces in between the steps. But for putting together bicycles and complicated models, the trappings of wholesome family life, a magnifying glass preserves the eyesight as well as the humor of the assemblers. Since putting together the difficult stuff is certainly meeting a challenge, graduation speakers would probably agree that it's a worthwhile tool to carry on one's journey through life.

After dark, a tool that's indispensable is the flashlight. For campers, it helps find the fastest route between the tent and the toilet. Closer to home, items like footgear and kittens and teddy bears can be spotted by flashlight from the depths of the closets to the far reaches of the backyard.

A flashlight can't go far in dispelling widespread darkness. But it can help meet the challenge of venturing outside in a night without a moon.

Succeeding in life, or just making it, calls for having pencil and paper handy, tools for making notes. Days spill out a medley of sights and sounds, more than memory can hold. So some occasions require jotting down particulars of what went before.

Information like the insurance company and name and phone number of the driver of the other car in a little accident in the K Mart parking lot is the kind of thing that needs to be recorded. In the event that one forgets the details and hasn't recorded them, just describing the other driver as a bowlegged gentleman in baggy shorts who gestured broadly with a dripping box of eggs won't get much business transacted.

These tools can't defend in life's big crises. But they provide small arms for the little skirmishes. And even though the speech makers don't say so, that's mostly what life has been and always will be about.

Letters

Letters to the editor, handwritten or typed, are a welcome and important part of this paper. They should be under 750 words in length and signed by the writer, although he or she, for special reasons, may request that the name not be printed. The paper reserves the right to edit material.

The Publishers

I've had an experience worth telling. So I'll tell it. Those who do not take heed will make the same mistake that I did. They will grumble at their wives and their wives will grumble back. Now we don't want that, do we?

***

Here, then, is the mistake I made:

Some of the blackout on Marshall road suffered the rigors of the damned during spring break-up, along with those heavy trucks bouncing up and down on it most every day.

Instead of re-surfacing the road, the county spread gravel on those sections that had seen better days. One such section is in front of our house. So far the road is in pretty good shape.

The other day the county came by and oiled the gravel to reduce the amount of flying dust caused by the cars, wind and dry weather.

This action created two boons for us: One was the elimination of dust in our house, the other developed from a bright idea in my head where most of my ideas come from.

My car was two quarts low on oil. Why not screen some of the fresh oil from the gravel and use it in my car? When I get an idea I'm sudden. So I rushed out, put a screen over a pail and shoveled oily gravel on to it. The oil trickled into the pail until I had syphoned off two quarts.

Then I took a funnel and poured the oil into my car. What an idea, the car ran as well as ever. No smoke, no sputtering, no back firing. Stuff like this is the apple pie of living out here in the boon-docks.

I chanced to whisper the secret of this bonanza to a neighbor and he said, "You fool, that isn't oil. It's chemical or something, it won't work in your car." My car didn't know that so it ran anyway, releasing me of the need to go into town and pay the high dollar for the real thing. (If there's anything I hate, it's paying the high dollar.)

I know that swiping oil from the county to use in your car isn't legal. But I also know that the county now owes me money. They should fork over the cash for fixing my car motor. The smoke, sputtering and back firing that didn't happen at first, happened at second.

I wish the road commission would quit causing me so much trouble.

***

There's one thing that bothers me about writing this column, I've told the truth so often some people think I'm lying.

Tennis league being formed

A local tennis league is planned to get underway in the near future to accommodate all the local interest in tennis. Many people from the surrounding area are active tennis enthusiasts and a meeting for all interested people is set for Thursday, June 12, at the Boyne City Rotary Park at 7:00.

Not only are experienced players invited to attend, but the interested novice is also invited. Thursday's meeting is primarily for the gathering of ideas and futuristic preparation of plans. Tentative plans are currently being entertained for matches between players of similar talent and experience. According to Brad Marine, Boyne City Parks and Recreation director, "We don't want to be matching unexperienced players with experience players and creating bad feelings. We are going to try and match things up evenly to keep as many people interested as possible." Anyone interested in giving input to the idea is invited to attend the aforementioned meeting, or call Marine at 582-6597.

Pharmacy beats Wildcats 8-5

Jordan Valley Pharmacy put a good win into the books Thursday night as they put down the Boyne City Wildcats 8-5 in Senior League action. Pharmacy scored the majority of their runs in the first inning, getting four runs across to open the game. Dominique Gibson and Steve Shepherd received walks in the lead-off positions, and

Dan Pepin hit them home with a triple. Pepin scored next when Matt Bishop doubled and later came home. The Wildcats scored one follow-up when Mark Harris doubled to R.B.I. Ed Kuzmik from second. Pharmacy added two more runs in the second inning with another Pepin hitting barage. The Wildcats were held silent until the third inning when Mike Knight singled for two R.B.I.s. Both teams scored two runs in the fifth inning with Bishop doubling for Pharmacy and Justin Kelts getting a bases loaded single for the Wildcats. The Wildcats got Pharmacy out 1-2-3 in three innings with Harris throwing out two runners attempting to steal. The Wildcats went down 1-2-3 in the fourth inning with Pepin fanning the batters. Pepin and Bishop were the only hitters for Pharmacy, Pepin getting one triple and two singles for four R.B.I.s, and Bishop had two doubles for two R.B.I.s. For the Wildcats, Harris had a double and a single for two R.B.I.s, Knight singled twice for two R.B.I.s, Kelts singled once, while Chris Christenson and Bo Williamson added singles late in the game.
