News Briefs

Figures for Charlevoix County show an unemployment rate of 14.8 percent for April, the last month for which figures are available. At that time, 8,750 people were employed while 1,375 were unemployed. The figures represent those in tourist related businesses that usually go back to work about the middle of May.

The state legislature approved an organ donor bill designed to increase the number of kidneys, livers, hearts and other body parts available for transplanting. The bill needs the governor's signature, but when signed, will require hospitals to ask the families of patients who die to authorize the use of the patient's organs if they are suitable for transplanting. Experts on the subject of organ donation predict if the family is approached correctly, about 85 percent would be willing to donate.

With the primary election just about a month or so away, have you noticed the increase in political ads on television? Makes you wonder about the candidate who used to come to town to explain his side of the problems as to what happened to our government. How could it go so wrong so soon. Is the "other" guy really that bad? Or does the new guy offer more. Only time will tell, television time where the candidate can't get past the "Hello", let alone get into the issues in his thirty second spot. And if he is running for an office outside of our district, why does he waste the money?

Boyne City will start their farmer's market this coming Saturday at the old city park, downtown Boyne City. Area farmers will be bringing in the fresh picked items all summer long.

Fireworks in Boyne off new beach

Boyne City's fireworks display will be set off from the new Peninsula Beach currently under construction after the city commission approved the action during Tuesday's noon meeting.

The action was required because some of the boaters renting the slips at the city marina have told the city officials they will not be moving their boats as required under the marina rules that were passed last year.

The boaters told commissioners they would not be in the area and did not want to move their boats.

Fearing suits from possible damage, the commissioner relented from a decision made last year to set the fireworks off from the end of the marina to go over to the new beach site.

The new site is only a temporary measure, according to City Manager Randy Frykberg, as next year the site will be in use as a beach.

In presenting a review of all of the activities set for the fourth of July in Boyne, Chamber of Commerce secretary Gloria Anderson summed it up by saying "We're going to see a packed town this weekend."

That was an understatement according to some of the members of the commission who added that it looked like Boyne was the only town in the area that is celebrating the holiday on the fourth.

Commissioner Thelma Behling asked Frykberg if he could start researching an ordinance that would require boaters to move their craft from the city docks over the Fourth of July weekend. One suggestion from Butch Erber the fire chief and the person in charge of setting off the fireworks for the celebration was to have in the ordinance wording that would require a boater renting the slip to move the boat during the event or be placed the following year on the end of the waiting list the city has for slip rentals.

In other action, a member of the audience asked if the city would install a "Slow Children sign" and a "Dead End" sign for Adams Street. She told the commissioners that 17 children live along the street and the end has been used as a lovers lane for several years. Frykberg told her signs would be installed this week if the city had them or in a few weeks if they had to order them.

Serving coffee at one of the stops on the Boyne City Historical Society's Home Tour last Wednesday was Billie Beckenhauer, the head of the group trying to preserve some of the past in Boyne City. She was serving the coffee and tea at the newly restored Wolverine Dilworth Hotel which is owned by her son. According to the society, the tour was very successful and plans are being made to have another tour next year.

BC school delays start decision until new board is seated

Boyne City's school board, meeting in the last meeting of the fiscal year and two weeks before a new board is seated, decided Monday night to let the new board handle the question of the starting time of the day for the schools.

The board discussed and listened to members of the audience for over an hour before Don Glowinski made a motion to have the school system go back to the starting time the school used last year.

His motion died for the lack of support after Superintendent Rich Kelly told the board the decision was not as critical as he had thought it would be two weeks ago when the board first heard objections to the new start-up times.

In the meeting the previous month they had voted the start the school day a few minutes earlier to allow those high school students involved with the vocational education program in Petoskey and East Jordan to make the classes at those schools and be able to come back to Boyne City to finish out the school day.

Earlier this month, the board heard objections from many elementary school parents who were concerned about the safety for their children. The board opted to hold a special meeting to decide the issue.

After the dust settled Monday night, the new board of officers and members will have to make the decision as to the start time. That meeting will be held July 14th in the media center of the high school.

The board then agreed to hire two new teachers for the elementary school. Christy

Sue Dunne as a special education teacher and Diane Kelly to teach vocal music. Dunne had taught in the system for two years previously while Kelly has been teaching at Boyne Falls for the last two years.

New teachers were also hired for the middle school and the high school as well.

North Central report shows school in good overall light

Boyne School Board members were recently given a report from the North Central Accreditation Committee that found the school system to be in a pretty good position with just a few areas that might need attention.

The committee, which reviews each school every seven years, made recommendations as to the lack of a current school statement of philosophy or a organized plan for public relations within the community.

The report was also critical of the schools in the amount of students involved with special education programs.

The recommendations, according to outgoing board member Dr. Richard Fish, showed the system is by and large, pretty good. Fish told the board that the committee would always find areas that needed improvement.

Listed as strong points, the committee said the general attitudes of the community was supportive, the students expressed a positive attitude, the community is receptive to change and expansion and the there was a strong sense of "pride" in the heritage of the Kaboom. The Fourth of July weekend upon us, being announced by parades in Boyne City, East Jordan and Horton Bay.

All of this is to be followed by the fireworks displays at Boyne City and East Jordan, although they are not on the same night.

In Boyne City, the day will be starting with a road race with two and eight mile contests at 8:30 a.m.

After that, the annual Fourth of July Parade will be starting from the high school and going downtown to the Veterans Memorial Park at 10:30 a.m.

The activities in the park will all be starting at 11 a.m. with the Rotary Club Chicken Barbeque, the Volunteer Firemen's barbeque and the garden club's pie sale.

But those in the know about parades will all be heading to Horton Bay for their now annual Fourth of July Parade. That parade features a tremendous amount of creativity as the entrants vie for honors from the parade judges.

Many of the entries are humorous, and it helps to be a resident to get some of the humor. But the entrants dress up in costumes, make their own floats from scratch, and have a good time while marching down the Boyne City-Charlevoix Road. That parade is starting at 1:00 p.m. from the corner of Horton Bay Road and then heads towards the township park. This year, entrants will be told to continue marching until they at least get to the Methodist Church.

Last year, this parade drew one of the biggest crowds of all the parades in the area.

Then drive back to Boyne City where band concerts will be held in the Veterans Park starting at 3 p.m. Also starting at the same time will be the annual Raft Race down the Boyne River. The rafts and

While a few people were sleeping in last Sunday, hundreds came to the annual Volunteer Firemen's Auxiliary Breakfast held at Robert's Restaurant. Along with residents were several tables of visitors all wanting the all-you-can-eat breakfast that brings in a few more dollars to the annual Boyne City Fireworks Fund. The meal is one of the highlights during the early summer according to many residents who came before and after church services.

MR. AND MRS. JON BOGEMA

Laurel Redmer weds Jon Bogema at Christ Lutheran Church

On June 14, 1986, at the Christ Lutheran Church in Boyne city, Laurel Anne Redmer of Boyne City daughter of Gilbert Redmer Sr. and Loretta Redmer, both of Boyne City, became the bride of Jon Bogema, formerly of Boyne City and now of Atlanta, Georgia. Jon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bogema, now of Brevard, N. Carolina.

The Rev. Kenneth Bernthal, pastor of the Christ Lutheran Church, performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her parents, Laurel chose a bridal gown of satin with an English net yoke and a Victorian collar trimmed with chanti lace and silk Venise lace. Her Juliet sleeves were of satin and chanti lace. A semi-cathedral train was edged with chanti lace and Chantilly lace a ruffled, scalloped back train formed petals. She wore a Mary Queen of Scots bridal hat.

Raquel Redmer was maid of honor for her sister in a royal blue satin tea length gown with scoop back and short, feathered sleeves. Bridesmaids, similarly dressed, were her friends, Judy Upton, Sheri Fitzpatrick and Shelley Stevens, all of Boyne City, and Mary Mazarakio of Ann Arbor. The girls carried bouquets of carnations, baby's breath, and bachelor buttons.

Serving Jon as best man was his friend Phillip Mazarakio of Ann Arbor. Groomsmen for their friend were Bill Holland, Mike Anderson and Patrick Abel of Boyne City, and Tim Ellis of Ann Arbor. Ushers were Gil Redmer Jr., brother of the bride, and Jim Lahmann and David Prescott, both brothers-in-law of the groom, and friend Rob Hower.

Music was provided by organist Phyllis Hosier, who also accompanied duettists Jani Prescott (sister of the groom) and Ted Delphia.

After a reception at the Eagles Hall in Boyne City and a wedding trip to West Virginia and South Carolina, the couple will make their home in Stone Mountain, Georgia.

Both Laurel and Jon are graduates of Boyne City High School and the University of Michigan. Jon is an executive for Macy's Department Store in Atlanta and Laurel will be seeking employment in the social service field.

Pediatrician joins EJ Health Center staff

Roderic Tinney, M.D., a specialist in the care of children, will be joining the staff of the East Jordan Family Health Center on July 1. Dr. Tinney, who has also been named to the active medical staff of Charlevoix Area Hospital, will be holding office hours in Charlevoix one day a week.

At the Family Health Center, Dr. Tinney joins family practice physicians Drs. Mitchell Carey and Thomas Curtin, physician's assistant Edwin Newington and optometrist Dr. Robert Anderson.

According to Administrator Chris Shea, Health Center board members have been planning the addition of a pediatrician to the medical staff for the past three years. Their efforts have included the adding of exam rooms to the Center and the purchasing of special equipment for the care of children.

Charlevoix Area Hospital has also made renovations to their pediatric ward in preparation for Dr. Tinney's arrival.

Dr. Tinney is originally from Vermont and is a graduate of the University of Vermont Medical School. He completed a three-year residency program in pediatric medicine at University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor in

with Nancy Northup
582-9174

Jim and Linda Felton and Dee and Tom Nagle have returned after spending a week vacationing in Nashville, Gatlinburg, the Smoky Mts., and other areas of the South.

Guests this week at the Louie and Pat Upton home were their children Gregg and Lisa Upton of CA, Scott and Sue Upton and children of Ann Arbor, and Pat's sister, Sally Pasque, and son Randy of Hazel Park. Scott and Sue's daughter, Erin, 5, will spend a week here with her grandparents.

In last week's item about Ken and Bertha Caplin's 50th wedding anniversary party, it was mistakenly reported that there was dancing at the Christ Lutheran Church fellowship hall. There was no dancing, just good music.

The Arthur Davis' of Lincoln Park spent a few days this past week at their cottage here.

The Charles (Charlotte) Keech's of Vancouver, Washington were here this week visiting her sister, Dorothy Crandell. Dorothy's son, USMC Kevin Crandell and wife Shiela of Oceanside, CA, arrived on Thursday for a 22 day visit with their families.

Jottings

BY JIM SILBAR

Busy, Busy, Busy.
That is what everybody is during this time of the week. Everybody getting ready for the upcoming weekend.

Some are building floats for the various parades while others are cleaning up the guest rooms for the coming visitors and relatives.

Shopowners are making sure their inventories are at the fullest as the tourist season is upon us.

Even the firemen are busy trying to find the best place to shoot off the fireworks. At least that must have been the booms I heard shortly after supertime in the park.

I remember a time when I shot off fireworks. I don't think I will ever do it again. Too dangerous. Better to watch them than get burned when one of those mortar shells goes off in the tube, I find myself saying nowadays.

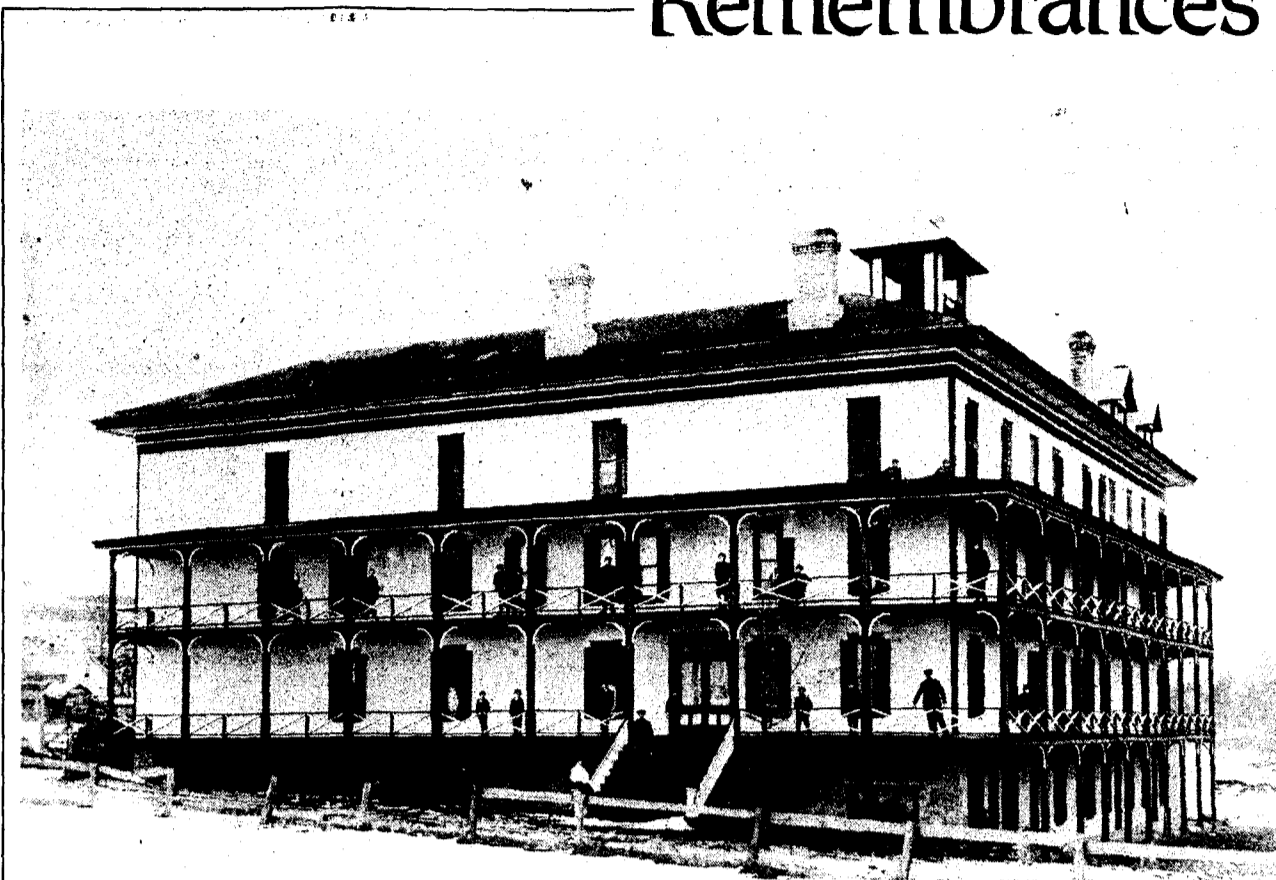

I must be getting old or something. Shooting off fireworks was always exciting for me as a kid. Especially the illegal varieties. I could blow a soup can about 500 feet in the air with some of those things. Looking back, it was a wonder none of us kids ever blew ourselves up.

Remember those days, John Buick? When we were kids back in good ol' B'ham, we all spent many days during the summer trying all those types of things to destroy ourselves. How we ever lived to adulthood may be one of the wonders of the earth.

Of course we also spent a lot of time during the summer going to boy scout camp. Our whole troop used to go for a couple of weeks during this month every year, but that is another story for another time.

Remembrances

This former North Boyne Building was erected in the 1890s for a resort hotel. Failing in that it was used for a teacher's school, and still later operated as the Beulah Home for delinquent boys. This venture closed under a "cloud" [our information reads] and the building was raised about 1920.

Ware-withal

BY GAIL WARE

It's not the gift, it's the thought that counts. Pronouncing these words over a peculiar gift—a hassock dressed up to look like a daisy or a silver framed picture of a penguin tap dancing—has always struck me as utter nonsense. If the giver of a strange gift, often a wedding gift, had thought about what he was buying, he wouldn't have selected such silliness. Thoughtful people give thoughtful gifts, especially for weddings.

Until recently, my thoughtful wedding presents were sheets or towels. Colorful and useful, they made good, solid gifts. And newlyweds can't have too many of them.

Except some can, and do. Friends of ours are marrying for the second time. The bride has a closet full of sheets and towels already. The old formula doesn't work.

I looked forward to picking out their wedding gift. Something for their home that showed my thoughtfulness, practical but winsome, was what I had in mind.

I went into the housewares department of the store where I usually buy the sheets and towels. The lamps looked interesting from a distance. But close up, I couldn't warm up to them. The ceramic lamps looked overfed and garish. Those made of brass reminded me of clothes poles. So much for my idea of the symbolism of new light in their newly formed partnership.

Near the lamps, mirrors were displayed. Decorators say that a mirror adds grace and charm to a living room. I walked by several mirrors propped upright on the floor that called attention to my scuffed sneakers. When I turned to the mirrors hanging on the wall

I noticed that my hair looked like it had last been combed day before yesterday. Decorators never mention this dark side of mirrors, their insistence on painful honesty.

If the bride and groom want a mirror in the living room, they can buy one themselves. I refuse to have anything further to do with the matter.

I shifted my thinking to a smaller token of my affection. A vase or planter sounded acceptable.

From what I could tell, the vases came in two sizes. There was a large size, about right for an armload of sunflowers. And then there were the dainty ones, suitable for rosebuds.

Geese and swans dominated the planter shelves except for one lonely unicorn that maybe didn't belong there anyway. The unicorn was smiling. I figured that it was amused by the pale pink and green flowers that decorated the lid covering the square opening in its back. With the lid off, the unicorn could be a small planter. On the other hand, it would make a decent candy dish.

Whatever it is, it appealed to me. And I bought it. A unicorn might seem too fanciful to be considered a practical wedding gift. But it certainly is winsome. And it has centuries of lore behind it, including the ancient Chinese belief that the unicorn is a gentle harbinger of good fortune. Marriages can use a good luck piece such as this. So the unicorn is practical as well as charming, which makes it a thoughtful wedding gift.

I hope the bride and groom see it that way. Of course they might look at it and say, "It's not the gift, it's the thought that counts." They might say that. But I hope they won't.

Independence day!
It's a time when we, as mankind's happy race, should give giant whoops for the mess our forefathers got themselves into 210 years ago.

Yes, let us all use the fourth of July to applaud their decision to give fresh air to a brand new form of government by saying: "When in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the..."

Their message went on and on, telling the King of England to get off their backs.

Some people look at our country today and somehow get the idea that it was put together with castor oil and hypnotism.

Not so. Not so. Forever not so.

After our forefathers had told the King of England where to go, all hell broke loose with a revolutionary war bouncing off every house, tree and mountain top.

English soldiers, who were in charge of everything as far as the eye could see, drew words, slashing right and left in the name of the King. They fought in wild fear of losing their rights of taxation without representation.

The battle was so wide spread farmers milked their cows with one hand while holding their life in the other. The land was ravished until cold beans and chile sauce was considered a tasty Sunday dinner.

Thousand of noses yearned for a good whiff of beef steak.

What our forefathers and foremothers had in mind was the killing off of a five-cent aristocracy ordered by the King and carried out by neatly dressed stumble bums.

In one section of our history I see where George Washington crossed the Delaware, waving his sword and yelling, "Christopher Columbus did not discover America for nothing!" Washington fought to save this country for Howard Cosell. His men were not so inclined. They were fighting because they had lost their temper.

Our forefathers finally won the war and their right to read the Sunday papers in peace, thus ended long years of struggle, leaving many wives biting their thumbs and wondering what their husbands were going to do for excitement from now on.

These brave men thumbing their noses at the King had at long last brought freedom to America. Our new government stored great batches of freedom in barns throughout the colonies, doling it out in wagon loads as citizens arrived to claim their share; and as time passed our supply of freedom increased until today we have so much freedom many people don't know what to do with it.

Now, I have given the reader a better idea of why we celebrate the signing of the Declaration of Independence as well as the great rush toward life, liberty and the pursuit of indoor plumbing.

One thing bothers me. Our hard fought freedom allows some to drink beer, watch television and scratch their stomachs. On the fourth of July yet!

They, of all people, should be in the street whooping it up and teaching their children the proper way to tinker with patriotism.

Lest we forget.

Animal Crackers, new children's store in BC Atrium Mall

The one thing you can't find in the new Animal Crackers store is a cookie from your childhood. What you will find is a store stocked with children's wear for infants to size 6x for girls, and up to size 7 for boys.

The new store, located at the back of the Atrium Mall is the perfect place to find an article of clothing for that grandson or granddaughter. The new place of clothing for delete above

The new store, located at the back of the Atrium Mall is the perfect place to find an article of clothing for that grandson or granddaughter. The new store has over nine different lines of brand names of the children's clothing world and is stocked as well as a downstate women's clothing store.

Some of the lines the store carries include Brian, Bluebird, Schwab, Quiltex, Frog Pond, Nannette, Stone, Her Majesty and a few others, all designed to make the child well dressed.

Owned by Jack Fox and Dorothy Noble, the specialty shop has downstate pricing on their merchandise as the owners took heed of many concerns of some of the local residents who asked them not to forget the person who lives and works in the community.

That is what Fox and Noble have tried to do. Develop a store for the local person who may want the best clothing they can afford for their son or daughter.

Fox, whose daughter and son-in-law purchased the building and had it renovated into the Atrium Mall over the winter and spring, is going to become the building superintendent and is leaving the day to day operation of the store to Noble.

Both are long time friends and business

Although opened last week, Animal Crackers has started to set the town busy with parents buying their children clothing. The children's shop features many brand name lines and is well-stocked for the summer. Owners Jack Fox and Dorothy Noble arrange one of the many displays.

EJ summer adventure: grades 1-7 day camp to be held at Elm Pointe

Thanks to the efforts of many East Jordan Area groups (City Recreation, Community Education, the Portside Arts and Historical Society), this year's Summer Adventures Day Camp will be held at Elm Pointe, East Jordan. There will be two, 2 week sessions: July 21st-August 1st and August 4th-August 15th. The day will begin at 9:00 a.m. and end at 3:00 p.m. The program will take place in a relaxed atmosphere where new activities and challenges can be tried with confidence. Outdoor discovery hikes, balsa wood architecture, storytelling or writing, drama and swimming will be regular activities. These will be interlaced with games, quiet times, crafts, reading, movies and projects which the students choose. Students will be grouped by age, interests and abilities depending upon the activity. Safety in all activities will be stressed.

Alan Swan and Mary Irwin will be the two instructors this year. Alan worked with August Adventures last year. He is a science and social studies teacher who has also worked with the OM program for 2 years. Mary is a new teacher in our area. Her expertise is in speech, drama, and English. She is excited about the relaxed atmosphere of the camp and is looking forward to developing the dramatics and storytelling program.

Anne Johnston will be the waterfront director. She is the Community Education Director and has taught swimming in this area for 4 years.

EJ Farmers' Mkt. opens July 11

The Farmers' Market will open in East Jordan on July 11. It will be sponsored again this year by the East Jordan Garden Club.

The market will be held every Friday morning from 8:30 to 12:30 in the North-western Bank parking lot down town near the bridge. The market is a community service provided for both buyers and sellers.

Farmers, gardeners, crafters and bakers can sell their produce and products at the market. Sellers must live within 30 miles of East Jordan and the produce must be grown locally; products must be hand made. Space rental is $1.50 and sellers must provide their own tables.

Last year market-goers were able to purchase fresh fruits, vegetables, cut flowers, crafts, home-made bread, jellies, honey, maple syrup and fresh eggs. For information concerning the market call the chairperson, Bernadine Greig, at 536-7382.

Registration may be completed through the mail: write a letter of intent to the East Jordan Community Education Office, P.O. Box 638, East Jordan, Michigan 49727 and we will mail you the registration forms. Or you may register in person at the E.J. High School Community Education Office during the week of July 14-18, 1986. During that week, you may also call the office for more information, 536-2250.

Boyne City Commission Minutes

WEEKLY MEETING, JUNE 17, 1986 at 11:30 a.m.: All Commissioners were present except Commissioner Moody. There were 11 people in attendance at the meeting.

It was reported by the City Manager that the flowing well drinking fountain in the park has been repaired.

The following Resolution was passed:

RESOLUTION OF APPRECIATION

In Memory Of

Vera Tokoly, City of Boyne City Distinguished Citizen

RESOLVED:

WHEREAS, The City of Boyne City Commission acting as the official body of Boyne City wishes to publicly acknowledge the passing of Vera Tokoly, a life-time resident of the City and express their deepest sorrow for the loss; and

WHEREAS, Vera Tokoly, a life-time contributor to the history of Boyne City, whose proud heritage went back to the original settlers of Boyne City, Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, who landed upon the shores of Pine Lake (Lake Charlevoix) in 1856; and

WHEREAS, Vera being the great-granddaughter of the original settlers, carried a great responsibility with her in keeping and preserving the great historic value of being a descendant of the Millers; and

WHEREAS, through the years, Vera accepted this responsibility and strove to unselfishly share and preserve the artifacts in her possession, so that others may receive pleasure in tracing the history of Boyne City; and

WHEREAS, she stepped forward time after time to offer her time, effort and wisdom when volunteers were needed to lead and assist with worthwhile community projects, especially those having a historic value.

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That with the death of Vera Tokoly, Boyne City has lost a great citizen, who can never be replaced and therefore acknowledges her loss. She will be greatly missed.

The First Reading was adopted on Amendment #14-86 to the Zoning Ordinance to rezone the old Locker Plant property from General Commercial to Residential 3. The Second Reading and adoption of the Amendment will take place at the July 25, 1986 Commission Meeting.

Approval was given to install new sidewalk on River Street along the Old City Park.

The City Manager was given permission to develop a new Capital Improvement Program for 1986 which would include some recapping of streets and a sewer main replacement at costs not to exceed $83,000. Meeting adjourned at 12:04 p.m.

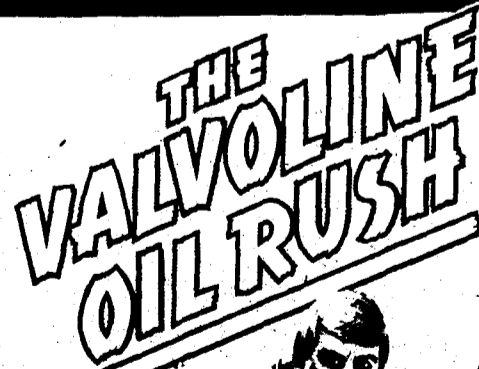

WEEKLY MEETING, JUNE 24, 1986 at 11:30 a.m.: All Commissioners were presented except Moody. There were 12 people present at the meeting.

The County Equalization Department was again retained to do the City assessing for the year 1986/87.

Approval was given to purchase a new ambulance at the cost of $48,198.00. The vehicle will be a Ford S-1440 Type III, 4-wheel drive wide track vehicle.

Meeting adjourned at 12:28 p.m.

In the middle school, Virginia Kim Peters will be added to the special education staff. She is a new teacher, fresh out of Michigan State University and is a former Boyne City graduate. Amelia Ryan was named to become a new English teacher. She has been substituting in the school system previously.

Katherine Bobowski will be the new physical education instructor. She has also subbed in the Boyne School system.

With the moving of Mrs. Neidhammer to the high school to teach home economics, Susan Allise Vrondran was hired to replace her at the Middle School. Vrondran has taught in the Ellsworth system for the past 14 years.

In the high school, Pamela Crouch was named as a special education instructor. The former Alanson resident has been teaching in Kansas for the last five years.

Maurice Seaman was named to teach science and mathematics. Seaman has been teaching in East Jordan for the last 11 years. Also named to teach Spanish and mathematics was Stephen Edwards. He previously had taught at Howe Military Academy.

Rachel Klevorn was named to teach science and mathematics at the high school. She has substituted in the system in the past. Elizabeth Dodge will be another new teacher in the Boyne School when she starts teaching French classes.

Named as school nurse was former Twin Valley school nurse Pat Greene.

The board then accepted the resignation letter of Peggy Suedhoff. She has asked the board to have her leave of absence extended and if it couldn't to accept her letter of resignation. The board, on the recommendation of Superintendent Rich Kelly voted to accept the resignation as they did not want to start a precedent of granting a second leave of absence to a teacher.

The board members then heard Kelly read a resolution they later adopted asking to have their lawyer file a claim against the State of Michigan for under-funding the mandated lunch programs in the schools.

They then approved the school calendar which has the students returning to school September 2.

In other action, the board discussed the hiring of a girl's basketball coach and decided to table the naming of the coach until the July meeting. One of the new teachers had indicated she was interested in the position and was named to become part of the coaching staff in order to get the girls started with basketball camps. The naming of a varsity and jayvee coach will be made at the July meeting.

The board then went into a short executive session to discuss the purchase of three lots on the corner of First and Ann Streets for the building trades program. After coming out of the session, the board decided to purchase the lots for $4,500 to make one building site.

The reason for the purchase, according to Kelly, was there was no more room for houses on the Alice Street property where they had been building homes for the past several years.

school and the community.

They then made five recommendations to the school to explore and develop a public relations program, organize a parents group, develop communication with the senior citizen were among the recommendations.

They also suggested other areas where the school could improve.

Members of the Board of Education said they are taking a look at all of the recommendations and may try to implement some of them in the future.

The 1986 Peggy Carey Northway Nursing Scholarship administered by Charlevoix Area Hospital was recently awarded to Amy Alger of Boyne City, left, received the scholarship from Dr. Merle Plagge of the Hospital's medical staff who serves on the scholarship selection committee. The award, presented annually to a graduating high school senior within the hospital's service area who plans to pursue a nursing career, totals $1,200 over four years. Amy is a 1986 graduate of Boyne City High School and the daughter of John and Georgene Alger of Boyne City. She plans to begin her nursing studies this fall at North Central Michigan College in Petoskey.

North Echo Club celebrates 50th

BY WILMA ZOULEK

Sunday, June 22, the Ladies Get-Together Club of North Echo invited their husbands and families to a potluck lunch to celebrate with them their club's 50 birthday. The Derenzy and Graham families were represented by four generations of their families attending.

The club started back in 1936. Members lived in a rural community and had no electricity. All work was done by hand. Wood stoves were used for heating as well as for cooking family meals and canning in the summer.

Monday morning's laundry water was heated in a boiler on the stove. Clothes washed on a board by hand, then hung on a line to dry. Next came the heating of flat irons to iron the clothes. No wash & wear fabrics then.

The men worked hard, too. They used horses for farm work. TVs were scarcely heard of. A few lucky folks had battery operated radios. During the long winter months they were often unable to use the cars because of deep snow and unplowed roads. Days would go by with seeing only members of the immediate family.

The neighbor women seemed to need an opportunity for a bit of social leisure where they could meet on a regular basis to share their common concerns, joys and sometimes sadness.

Dec. 2, 1936, Wilma Zoulek invited the neighborhood women for lunch at her home. They came and decided to organize a club, elect officers, write a constitution, and select a club name. The ten charter members were Blanch Carney, Muriel Derenzy, Zella Lewis, Maude Petrie, Violet Ruckle, Effie Schroeder, Ruth Vance, Lucy Warren, Gladys Wilson, and Wilma Zoulek. Now there are 40 members on the roll.

Besides providing social outlets for visiting, games, book reports, skits, etc., the Club has contributed money to Cancer Fund, East ter Seals, March of Dimes, Red Cross, Meadowbrook and Grandvue Medical Care Facilities. During WWII club members had 30 of their young men join the armed forces. Care boxes were sent them. Each serviceman received a Christmas card and a birthday card from the Club. Two of these men made the supreme sacrifice.

Following the war the Club assumed the responsibility for erecting a memorial honoring the veterans of WWI and WW II including the veterans of the Korean and Vietnam conflicts. Two other organizations helping were Girl Scouts and the American Legion Auxiliary. This memorial is in Jordan River Sportsmans Park, East Jordan. The club also gives a quilt to area families who lose their homes by fire.

To finance these projects money has been raised by monthly meeting collections, club dues, bingo, sales of pepper, vanilla and dishcloths. Selling food and crafts at 4th of July stands and many bake sales.

A well-remembered project in 1939 was the piecing of 16 inch square crazy work quilt block. Then put one penny in the treasury for each piece in the block. The person having the most pieces in her block to receive all the other members' blocks and have enough blocks for a quilt. C. Clapsaddle had 135 pieces in her block so got the quilt. Today a penny does not seem much. At that time sugar cost $5.00 a hundred pounds. Men's bib overalls .75 a pair, 25 lb. sack of Ionia flour .49 etc. Husbands and families are due a sincere thank you for being so cooperative regarding the club.

For 50 years they have demonstrated people can live, work and play together with enthusiasm. They have added happiness to the community as well as to themselves.

EJ Historical group hears church history

BY ELOUISE ROSSLER

The history of the churches was explored by members of each of the longest in existence churches in East Jordan at the regular June meeting of the East Jordan Historical Society.

Agnes Hegeberg capsulized the Catholic heritage, as Carleton Bowen represented the Methodist Church, Alice Niesman shared about the Presbyterian history, Mercer Carey informed about the local Latter Day Saints group, Ruth Moore linked the Missionary Church's history, and Lois Snyder represented the Lutheran heritage. Adeline Bowerman, program chairman, gave a brief history of the other seven churches in the East Jordan area, some of them as new as two years.

Much of the early history of the East Jordan churches was gained from a book by East Jordanite Mildred Karr, who in 1949 wrote about the religious history and development in East Jordan for a sociology class.

Mrs. Karr is deceased, but was represented by her son Frank Karr (a summer resident in East Jordan) who read a poem "What Would You Do with $10,000?" written by his mother. Tribute was given by the Historical Society to Mrs. Karr for her excellent and accurate preservation of this portion of East Jordan's history.

In the business meeting section, Neva Cole replaced Kathy Sewell as secretary, as Mrs. Sewell has moved from the area.

Cyg Reilly reported on the expansion of the museum into the adjoining room. With the recent lease of the building this room became available to alleviate the overcrowded present museum. Another entrance is being added to the new section to help facilitate ease of movement of those visiting the museum.

Albert Vogel and Mabel Hudkins served refreshments to the group.

The July meeting will be Patriotic Heritage when flag etiquette will be a portion of the discussion. The official donation and replacement of some patriotic items will also be featured. The meeting will be at 7:30, July 10.

Health Dept. warning given on fireworks

The July 4th holiday weekend is one of the most enjoyable times of the summer. Backyard barbecues, picnic lunches and fireworks displays are only a few of the activities that help each of us to remember our Nation's Independence.

This normally happy time can end in such tragedies as death, blindness, amputations, and severe burns, when fireworks are used improperly.

The Consumer Product Safety Commission estimates that in 1985, 10,300 people were treated in hospital emergency rooms for injuries associated with fireworks. Over half the injuries were burns, and many of the injuries involved the head and face, including the mouth, ears, and eyes. Forty-two percent of the victims were under 15 years of age. Since January 1985, there have been 27 deaths reported to CPSC from fireworks.

A 14 year-old boy was seriously injured while mixing chemicals for making explosives in his family's home. The chemicals which were ordered from a mail-order firm exploded unexpectedly, destroying much of the home.

An 8-year-old girl received 2nd and 3rd degree burns to her leg when a spark from a sparkler she was holding ignited her dress.

A check of local Hospital Emergency Departments indicates that individuals have been treated for burns caused by fireworks on past July 4th Holidays.

Doctor Brian Youngs, Regional Medical Director for District Health Department No. 3 and 4, offers the following advice to parents or anyone else that will be handling fireworks:

*Do not allow younger children to play with fireworks under any circumstances. Remember that fireworks are not toys for children. The sparkler, considered by many the ideal "safe" firework for the young, burns at very high temperatures and can easily ignite clothing. Children cannot appreciate the danger involved and cannot act correctly in case of an emergency.

*If you permit older children to use fireworks, be sure they use them only under close adult supervision. Do not allow any running or horse play while they are being used.

*Before using any fireworks, read and follow all warning instructions printed on the label.

*Light fireworks outdoors in a clear area away from houses and flammable materials (gasoline can, etc.)

*Keep a bucket of water nearby for emergencies and for dousing fireworks that don't go off.

*Do not try to relight or handle malfunctioning fireworks. Soak them with water and throw away.

*Be sure other people are out of range before lighting fireworks.

*Never ignite fireworks in a container, especially a glass or metal container.

*Store fireworks in a dry, cool place. Check instructions for special storage directions.

*Parents should supervise the ordering and use of mail-order "make your own" fireworks kits. Some kit contents can produce dangerous, explosive devices.

Not all "Department of Transportation Class C" labeled fireworks are legal in Michigan for use by the consumer. The only fireworks devices which may be sold at the retail level and used by the general consuming public are restricted to the following: Toy paper, caps, wire sparklers (size no. 14 or less), flitter sparklers, toy snakes, toy smoke devices, toy trick noise makers, cone fountains, and cylinder fountains.

Fireworks devices, other than those noted, are illegal for sale and use unless proper permits are obtained from the local governing body. Fireworks devices which send a projectile into the air, spin, swirl, or emit an audible signal (excluding toy paper caps and toy trick noise makers) are illegal.

Questions regarding types of legal fireworks should be directed to local law enforcement agencies.

Summer should be an enjoyable season for everyone. Please be careful with fireworks, and when traveling,

"Remember to buckle up!"

EJ Rotary installs new officers

BY ELOUISE ROSSLER

At a dinner in the newly renovated East Jordan Inn, the East Jordan Rotary Club began its 46th year with President Cal Gotts passing the gavel to the incoming President Jack Vincent. A brief rundown of the past year was given by outgoing President Gotts before Mr. Vincent tapped the gavel in adjournment.

The Rotarians and their wives recalled together the projects of the year which included the Youth Exchange Program (Jun Joaquin from the Philippines), the scholarship program, the Christmas party for handicapped children, the annual Father and Son Banquet, as well as their support of various school related programs, community programs including the Christmas toy program, Camp Daggett donations to send youngsters, and many others. Report on the fund raisers for these programs included the annual Pancake Supper, the annual Chicken Barbecue and a new one the First Annual Rotary Auction.

New members Walter Kaufman, Ed Burrows, and Bob Vance were welcomed to the East Jordan Rotary Club, swelling the membership to 53.

A large number of Paul

Harris Fellows for the year of 1985-86 were recognized. Durnell Stephens, Paul Michael, Bill Malpass, Harry Watson, and Fred Malpass became Paul Harris Fellows. Each of these individuals should be commended on his efforts in the community, his interest financially and service orientation to the Rotary Club and its Foundation, and developing leadership potential.

Rotarians having 100 percent attendance from 2 to 46 years were awarded certificates and new pins for this accomplishment. Those receiving acknowledgment were Bill Bennett and John Smith (2), Tad Malpass and Dick Wolf (3), Herm Raschel and Erroll Clark (4), Bill Taylor (5), Charlie Quick (6), Jack Vincent (7), Norm Bartlett (8), Paul Michael (13), Durnell Stephens (14), Bryce Vance (19), Walt Thorsen (25), Dave Pray (37), Harry Watson (38), Bill Porter (46). The astounding total of those years of attendance and service is over 235 years! That's a lot of work and effort on the part of 17 men!

The program was presented by Bob Guthrie, a classical guitarist, who for the fourth year is conducting a Master Class for guitarists from all over the country in the East Jordan Presbyterian Church. Guthrie is a world renowned classical guitarist, who has traveled extensively with his wife Mary Endress and Duo Classico.

The Guthries come to East Jordan for a "working vacation" and are returning to an area which Mary enjoyed as a child, coming to visit grandparents who summered here.

Mr. Guthrie "tantalized" his audience with two numbers, hoping to tease them into attending the free concert given by students each year. Mr. Guthrie also explained enough about the classic guitar style and technique to pique the interest of everyone in the audience.

Additional patrols added for weekend

An additional 1634 combined accident patrol hours have been scheduled for which runs from 6 Michigan State Police troopers as part of the Operation CARE effort this Fourth of July Holiday. Col. Gerald L. Hough, department director, reported.

Emphasis will be on enforcement of speed and safety belt laws and alcohol violations in this reduction effort better results this year. The Director emphasized that the safety belt law is being enforced and citizens are urged to comply.

The holiday weekend marks the end of the first year of safety belt use under the law passed in 1985.

Hough credits the law with helping to keep the number of fatalities down over the holiday last year and hopes for even better results this year.

4 schools pull out of Mich-Huron Shores

Future relief is in sight for the smaller schools in the Michigan-Huron Shores Athletic Conference as four of the larger class B schools have made the decision to pull out of the conference in search of more competitive action.

The exodus from the league was prompted by past complaints from both class B schools and class C schools after it was proven that the smaller schools were feeling the brunt of playing schools they had little chance of competing with. In recent years two schools have gone undefeated in the conference, (Cheboygan twice, and Gaylord once), but were not considered for the state tournament, probably due to the lack of high rated competition.

On the other hand, some schools have beaten every class C team, but were unable to contend for the title against the larger class B teams. Other problems prompting the pull out included scheduling. From 1982 to present, the league has been split into two divisions, B and C, in an effort to console the entire make-up of the conference, but that proved to be ineffective, as some of the smaller teams were forced to schedule games with the larger schools for lack of class B sized schools.

The pull out, scheduled to go into effect at the end of the 1988 spring sports season, will include Petoskey, Gaylord, Cheboygan, and Sault Ste. Marie, while Boyne City, Charlevoix, Grayling, Onaway, Rogers City, and St. Ignace will remain. It is not clear at present just what the B schools plan for the fulfillment of a schedule, but other C schools such as Boyne City have already initiated plans for filling their schedules. Boyne City has replaced Gaylord in their schedule with class D Rudyard. Gaylord is reluctant to play lowly Boyne City for the 1987 season in hopes of defeating a larger school in an effort to make the state play-offs. The class B schools are planning to get together again next month to come up with a feasible plan for filling the season's schedule in 1988.

The Michigan-Huron Shores Conference was initially started in 1968 when Charlevoix, Boyne City, and Gaylord joining with St. Ignace, Petoskey, Cheboygan, Rogers City, Alpena Catholic, and Traverse City St. Francis, and Alpena Catholic dropped out of the conference while Grayling entered into the competition, for an eight team conference. That too was short lived as Sault Ste. Marie and Onaway were admitted into the conference to make a ten-school conference. In the meantime, Petoskey, Gaylord, and Cheboygan grew in population to the extent that they enjoyed an overwhelming size factor with many athletes available to choose teams from. The schools that were not growing in population became disgruntled at the fact that evenly matched schedules were becoming a thing of the past.

Dodgers, Tigers get Little League wins

The Dodgers and Tigers emerged as winners after games of action in the Boyne City Little League majors division last Tuesday night.

The Dodgers took on the Giants in the first game getting a 10-7 victory after five innings. Although the Giants took a 5-3 lead after two innings, the Dodgers came back with three runs in the top of the third while holding the Giants to one run in the bottom half for a 6-6 tie. The Giants went up by one in the bottom of the fourth, but a four-run rally in the top of the fifth gave the Dodgers the win.

Dave LaPointe was the winning pitcher, retiring seven batters, walking four, and allowing three hits. Bodie Crumpler and Troy Peck were the Giants pitchers, with eight strike-outs, five walks, and giving up seven hits.

Joel Hamilton led the Dodgers with a double and a single, while Tim Fall singled twice, Shane May, Johncheck, and Flaming all had one single each.

For the Giants Jim McNaughton had a triple, while Aaron Fuller and Willie Sharp both singled.

In game two, the Tigers ousted the Orioles with a big 26-8 win. The Orioles led 5-2 after one inning, but a 16-run second inning put the Tigers on top for good.

Roy Angel was the winning pitcher with five strike-outs, seven walks, and four hits against him. Brian Sobleski and Luke Hausler were the Oriole pitchers with five strike-outs, 14 walks, and 16 hits.

Jason Joles was the premier hitter for the Tigers, getting his fourth home-run of the year along with a double and two singles in five at bats. Angel had four singles in five trips to the plate. Zimmer hit a triple and a single, John Bush singled twice, Andrew McCready had a double and a single, May and Shaler each singled once.

Bears take two wins in week

The Bears made it two wins in one week last week as they defeated the Koalas 10-9 on Wednesday night, and followed up Saturday with a 13-9 victory over the Twins.

In Wednesday's game the Bears were up 7-5 after two complete innings, and three score remained the same until both teams came up with a run apiece in the fifth inning. In the top of the sixth the Koalas took a one-run lead after scoring three runs, but were unable to hold the Bears down in the final stretch when two runners crossed the plate for the Bears win. The Bears collected five hits in the game with Michelle Pitiglio and A. Webb getting two singles each. Also getting hits were Leigh Redmond, Crissy Gervassi, and Annisa Clark.

For the Koalas Kristy Talberge had three singles while Sue McGeorge hit two, and Ricka Casper contributed one hit.

In Saturday's game the Bears took control from the start, scoring 13 runs in the first three innings, while holding the Twins to six runs. The Bears were unable to score any more runs in the remainder of the game and held off a three-run rally by the Twins in the bottom of the fifth.

The winners had just three hits in the game, with Alani Kuheana getting two singles while Gervassi had one.

The Twins had nine hits in the game, the most outstanding of which included a triple and a double from Kris Crozier. Julie Gasco and Vicki Crouch had two singles each, while Daphne Crozier, Lori Murray, Laurie Adams and Amy Smith all had one each.

Koalas get fourth win

The Koalas took a game away from the Angels Monday night in the Boyne City Little League Pigtail division by coming from behind for a 11-7 win.

The Angels took the early 5-4 after two innings, but the Koalas were able to catch them after three innings for a 6-6 tie. Five runs in the bottom of the fourth proved to be enough for a win as the Koalas held the Angels to one run in the last inning.

The Angels came out on top in the hitting department however with five hits. Crissy Alton led the effort with a double and a single, while Sara Cain singled twice, and Kelly Shepherd contributed a hit.

For the Koalas Ricka Casper, Sara Monshore and Michelle Griffin all had one single each.

Loggers take Orioles, 18-9

The Loggers came up with a big 18-9 score over the Orioles in Wednesday night's action in the Boyne City Little League Majors Division.

The Orioles led 3-1 after two innings, but a ten run surge in the bottom of the third gave the Loggers enough insurance to carry through for the win.

Mark Reynolds was the winning pitcher for the Loggers, fanning 11 batters, walking 11, and allowing eight hits. Hans Imel was the Orioles pitcher, striking out two batters, walking seven, and giving up ten hits.

For the Loggers Kurt Wilson went three-of-four at the plate with three singles; Sean Dubry had two singles and a double, Carl Oelke singled twice, Ron Grubaugh, Frankowiak and Matelski all singled once each.

For the Orioles Helbuycy went four-of-four at the plate with two doubles and two singles. Matt Cornell doubled once, Bruce Evans hit a double and a single, and Imel had one single.

Angel retired four batters, walked five, and allowed five hits. Other Tiger hitters included Andrew McCready with two singles, while John Bush and Steve May had a single each.

For the Giants Troy Peck had two singles, while Tracey Fortune, Bodie Crumpler, and Nick Sharp all had one single.

Tigers roar, 21-4

The Tiger had no trouble at all in defeating the Giants Monday night in the Boyne City Little League majors division with a 21-4 win. Roy Angel highlighted the evening, leading the Tigers to their win with a triple, and double, and a single, while working the mound on defense.
