Solution to home occupations shown

Although Boyne City planners couldn't come up with a quorum to work on the regularly scheduled advisory board meeting, the planners in attendance were given something to consider the next time they get together concerning a newly proposed ordinance amendment to the zoning rules.

The amendment would cover those home occupations the planners have been concerned with for the past several years.

Included in the proposed regulations will be language that requires those homes with home occupations to have off street parking for the one additional employee, as well as family members involved in the business.

The home occupation classifications is limited to one employee outside of the family.

Other suggested language specifies the space of the home occupation will be within the area of the dwelling used as living quarters by the family and that the dwelling shall have the appearance of a single family home.

No addition to the home can be constructed or used for the specific purpose of the home occupation.

In addition, all home occupations shall be registered with the City Clerk on newly designed registration forms which would show the use proposed, the address and the area of the dwelling to be used. A site plan of the parcel and the buildings on it, showing the off street parking will also be required.

The proposed wording has teeth in it to allow the city zoning administrator to order the home occupation operator to appear in front of the planning board for a review of the use. That part of the amended ordinance would come into effect if the city has received a complaint against the home business.

If the planning board finds, following the hearing on the matter, that requirements for home occupations are not being followed, then the zoning board may order a limit to the number of hours the business may operate, impose conditions on the operation, or order a complete termination of the activity.

Wording was also added that would prohibit a home occupation in multiple family structures containing three or more single family units or in a mobile home park licensed by the state.

The planning board is intending to hold a public meeting on the proposed amendment very soon and they expect to have several wording changes made in the proposed language before passing it on to the City Commission to adopt.

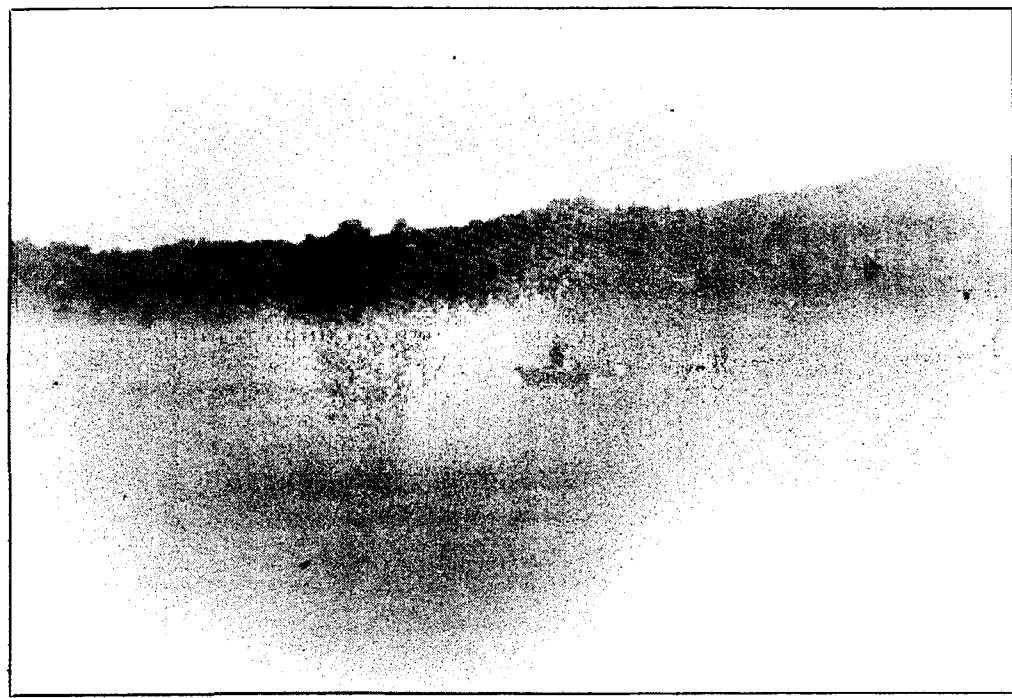

In other action at Monday's aborted meeting, the advisory board members were supposed to discuss and work out Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificates, or tax abatements, on the Prestige Press building and Temprel Inc.

Both businesses are building new facilities in the Air/Industrial Park located on the east edge of town.

The board also had a chance to look over a proposed site plan being presented to the City Commission on a building proposed for the fifth lot of the park. RBI Mechanical Contractors is prepared to build a new facility for themselves in the park as soon as they purchase the property. They are expected to buy it at the Tuesday noon meeting of the City Commission.

Nothing was approved as the formal site plan has yet to be presented.

Also not approved was the naming of three members to the planning board. All of the matters, except the tax abatements will be taken care of when the board will meet in a special session to review the formal site plans for RBI.

Out of the mist caused by the lake shaking off some heat in the early morning, a lone boat was out trying to catch some salmon. The early frost that covered many of the cars in the area Tuesday morning may help bring the colors out on the trees. The only consolation we all have is that we are working our way to winter.

Massey named to fill vacancy on Boyne Falls school board

Mrs. Kathy Massey was named as the new school board member in Boyne Falls Schools to replace Pat Griffith who has resigned at the last school board meeting.

Griffith has moved out of the district, forcing the school board on Monday night to name Massey to fill the term until next June.

Massey was picked after a committee had searched through six people before coming up with the recommendation that Massey be named.

Board member Ron Barnadyn asked, before the nomination was approved, that the board know all of the proposed candidates to see if they had any objections. Hearing none, the board proceeded to name Massey to the position.

In other action, the Boyne Falls School Board named Dale Reinhardt as the boys and girls junior high basketball coach. They also named Rebecca Palmeter as the teacher of the Boyne Falls Pep and Summer Band. Palmeter is the music teacher for the school system.

When introduced, she told the board she was expecting to field a sixth grade band by the end of October, and the other bands are coming along nicely being able to provide music for the basketball games.

Palmeter was also named to be the new part-time kindergarten aide.

The Chapter Two program, which is funded by the Federal Government, came in at a little less than $3,000, announced Superintendent Bob Redmond. He told the board he had projected a lot less money for the program and the additional money will allow the school system to do a little more for the program.

Principal Mike Wallace told the board members the school had 293 students with 167 students in the elementary aide while 126 students are in the seventh through twelfth grades.

The board also agreed to look ahead at the possible conflicts in the graduation ceremonies next June, and decided to continue with the evening graduation exercises. Graduation was set for Saturday, June 6th at 7:00 p.m.

The move to the evening graduation was because of possible conflicts with the district and regional baseball programs. In the past, that has caused some problems with the school as they had set graduation for the same afternoon as a district or regional game.

By naming this early, one board member said, it will allow parents to schedule around the ceremony for their graduation parties.

The board then went into a closed executive session to discuss negotiations with the teachers union.

EJ to host Child Watch program

With both East Jordan and Boyne City declaring the week of September 21-27 as "Michigan Child Watch Week", the East Jordan community is starting to gear up with a contest, teen dance and an informational meeting to help the program grow in the East Jordan area.

The program, originally started in the Grand Rapids area in 1979, is designed to help protect children by training adults to observe and report suspicious activity to the area police departments.

After completing a one hour training session, and allowing the police department to check the backgrounds for a criminal history, volunteers receive a handbook and a poster to display in their window.

Children are trained to look for the window poster as it designates a place to go to for help in an emergency.

To criminals, the posters indicate the community is working together to help prevent crime.

After starting in Grand Rapids, the program has spread to over 40 communities in 18 counties within the state. In East Jordan, the program is administered by volunteers working with local law enforcement and school districts.

The Child Watch program is not limited to just those parents

BC sells another industrial park lot

Boyne City Commissioners agreed to sell another piece of property in the new Air/Industrial Park at their Tuesday noon meeting. The city now only has four pieces of property left to sell in the park, according to Randy Frykberg, City Manager.

The purchase of the property was by the RBI Mechanical Components, a firm that has been located along M-75 on the way to Boyne Falls.

The company intends on starting yet this year, a 3,000 square foot building to house the business. Frykberg told the commissioners the company had some contracts that requires an expansion of the business. RBI officials intend to have the building completed by Christmas.

In other action, the com-

City crews to fix easement seawall, commissioners decide

After several minutes of discussion, the city decided to repair a seawall, using city crews, after hearing a request by Cele Pollock. She is replacing her seawall after it was determined to have sustained severe damage due to the high water.

As part of the repair, she wanted the city to go along with her to repair the seawall along the waterfront on the city's easement at the end of West Street off Michigan Avenue.

She said if the city did not want to go along with her seawall, she would have to add a missioners granted authority to Mayor Keith Fitzpatrick to proclaim next week as Michigan Child Watch Week in Boyne City.

They also were given an update on the McKune Art Center, which the city had given a $500 donation to last year so the art center could attain a grant to allow them to have an outreach program in the area they serve.

The center is planning on bringing to the community a professional theatrical group to perform excerpts of various Broadway musicals. The group intends to be putting on a performance near the end of October. The performance would be at the Boyne Cinema, according to Edith Beck, a member of the committee that is overseeing the city's involvement with the program.

return to protect her property. When the commissioners heard the estimated cost could be as high as $200 per foot for the type of seawall she was going to construct, they balked. It was estimated it would have cost the city about $12,000 to do the 66 feet of easement.

The commissioners learned the easement wasn't being used by many people and would not warrant the spending of that much money. "We have to be realistic, we just don't have the money to do this," Moody said. Toton agreed saying, "it has to be a matter of priorities."

with school age children, but is open to any adult concerned with the safety of children in the area.

Those interested in becoming involved with the program are asked to contact the East Jordan Police Department or the Charlevoix County Sheriff's department.

Other events children can participate in include a poster drawing contest for students in the kindergarten through eighth grade. Awards will be given in several categories with the theme being "Safety" and will include several aspects given out as information at the school.

The teen dance will be held

Saturday at the East Jordan Civic Center for those wanting to listen to and danced to the music of Music Unlimited. The dance will be a money making project as the proceeds will be going to the Community Child Watch program.

For parents and adults, Tuesday September 23 will see an informational meeting at the East Jordan Elementary School Cafeteria starting at 7:30 p.m.

Deputy John O'Rourke from the Kent County Sheriff's Department will be giving a slide presentation and will be explaining how the program began and how it can be used

Back in the days when there were not fishing limits, this judge, Judge Hammond showed off a string of whitefish he caught in Lake Charlevoix. While fishermen today aren't trying for whitefish, they are out trying to catch salmon and steelhead this time of year. If you have any pictures of the old days, bring them to our office so we can make a copy for this feature.

Mrs. Lucille Jenkins Former EJ grad still enjoying learning

BY ELOUISE ROSSLER
Just 52 years ago Lucille Stanek was a "scared and timid kid from the country" graduating as salutatorian of the 1934 East Jordan High School class. She received a $100.00 Porter Scholarship to attend County Normal to become a teacher. This spring she 'graduated' again as she says, by retiring after 51 years of teaching. To commemorate her many happy years of teaching and to repay her help, she awarded a $100.00 scholarship to the 1986 East Jordan salutatorian Steve Gee. She plans to continue this practice in the future to encourage young people as she was encouraged.

Miss Stanek became Mrs. Jenkins and reared two children, but continued to teach. Her first experience with teaching was while she was in high school when she taught sewing to 13 eighth grade girls. Neither the girls or Miss Stanek received any credit, but the girls were eager to learn in the depression years and she discovered her life's work—teaching. She attended County Normal for one year (the $100.00 paid for the whole year! How times and expenses have changed!) and then began her career at Brown School, where she had attended as an elementary student. She earned the whole sum of $50.00 that first year. She went to Manistique from Brown School and later to Jackson, where she spent 30 years in the area schools. During this time she had a chance for a County Normal principalship, but decided against it, and continued in the classroom. During her many years of teaching, Mrs. Jenkins spent 20 years in summer school to get her Bachelors and Masters degrees in education. She was not too active politically, she commented, but she did serve as vice president of the Rural Teachers Association of Michigan in 1941-42.

Most recently Mrs. Jenkins has taught sixth grade and she incorporated her own projects such as cooking, ceramics, knitting, woodworking, pillow-making and others into the already busy curriculum. She enjoyed watching the youngsters learn life skills as well as Readin', Ritin' and Rithmetical!

The recipient of Mrs. Jenkins scholarship, Steve Gee, is headed for Central Michigan University. He doesn't plan at this time to teach (his Dad is a teacher, so he does know a little about it) and does plan to go into accounting and computers, eventually becoming a C.P.A.

"I was quite surprised and really pleased," Steve said about receiving the award. "It'll help buy books this first semester."

Steve, who was active on Student Council for four years, played baseball and basketball, graduated with about 70 others. As he starts college he is looking at it costing $5300.00 for his first year's tuition, room, and board. That's a long ways from the $100.00 it cost Mrs. Jenkins at County Normal 52 years ago.

As Steve excitedly goes off to school, Mrs. Jenkins will continue to ride her bicycle (purchased this spring) and continue to learn. She is eyeing an offer by a parochial school. Her advice to Steve would no doubt be—choose your life's work and then enjoy it and keep on enjoying it!

New Consumers PR office now in BC Seaway Review publisher named to Seaway committee

"It's a difficult task." Christopher C. Bandy, the recently named area community service director for Consumers Power said, "There are so many people to meet and get acquainted with, but I am grateful that everyone understands that it is going to take me some time before I actually accomplish this."

Bandy was transferred to Boyne City to head up the consumers relations department for the Boyne City-Cheboygan-Gaylord area of the company's northwestern district.

The office is located in the recently reopened building that, for the past few years, has served as an emergency operations site for Charlevoix's Big Rock Nuclear plant. Bandy is the first occupant in the facility.

Although he doesn't deal directly with the public, Bandy is eager to answer questions from those who ask. If he can't answer immediately, he'll take the time to find out the answer and get back to the questioner.

Bandy joined Consumers in 1973 and has worked in various capacities in the Flint office. Before coming to Boyne City, he was a market services consultant in the Flint area.

Bandy said he will be moving to the Boyne City area with his wife, Candace, and their three children, Christopher, Matthew and Meaghan.

Bandy says, "Trying to move into a new office in a new city and relocating my family in a timely fashion has become a real challenge. Everyone that I have met so far has been very helpful and has assisted in making the transition go as smoothly as possible. We're looking forward to living in this beautiful, friendly and progressive community."

Bandy's responsibilities include government, media and public relations for the Charlevoix, Emmet, Cheboygan, Presque Isle and parts of Antrim and Crawford counties.

Consumers reason for locating him in Boyne City was the central location to the territory he is serving. The company also wanted to have a presence in the community and Bandy said he will become involved in many community activities.

"We have been successfully serving our customers for one hundred years and the fact that I will be working out of the local office should give this community an idea of how important we feel our customers are to us," Bandy stated.

"Our chief executive officer, Mr. McCormick, has led the way since being with the company by meeting community leaders in many areas of the state. We feel that our customers are the most important part of our business."

Consumers Power Company serves 210,000 electric and 2,000 gas customers in the 31 counties of northern Michigan that make up the Northern region.

U.S. Secretary of Transportation Elizabeth Hanford Dole has asked Grand Traverse author and publisher Jacques LesStrang to accept an appointment to a select committee to develop a strategic plan for shipping in the Great Lakes/St. Lawrence Region.

The select committee, Mrs. Dole said, is being created "to make specific recommendations on the development of a plan to address the marketing of the Seaway System, incentive tolls, long range infrastructure (rail and highway) needs and financial planning. The recommendations will be submitted to Dole on November 1.

LesStrang was in 1985 the first American to be named Great Lake Man of the Year by U.S. and Canadian governmental and industrial entities and was also that same year named Journalist of the Year by the U.S. Merchant Marine industry. He is author of several books on Great Lakes subjects and is chairman and publisher of Seaway Review Magazine, which is published from offices in Boyne City.

The select committee will be chaired by Senator Mark Andrews (R-ND), chairman of the Senate Appropriation Subcommittee on Transportation; Congressman Carl Pursell (R-MI), member of the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Transportation; and Congressman Henry Nowak (D-NY), member of the House Committee on Public Works.

Secretary Dole, in a letter to participants said, "The St. Lawrence Seaway has proven and continues to be an integral part of the national transportation system. It is now appropriate, however, to look to the future role of the Seaway in this system. For this reason, I have established an Advisory Group on Strategic Planning..."

Seaway Administrator James L. Emery said the impetus for the group came from Seaway users including port directors, labor leaders and government officials who have requested the development of a strategic plan. The Canadian Parliament has established a special committee to examine the Seaway's future. Emery intends to take the recommendations up with the Seaway Authority of Canada to develop a joint United States-Canadian strategic plan.

The first meeting of the group will be held September 17 in Washington.

Laura Nemecek goes to Washington as 'Top O' Michigan winner

BY ELOUISE ROSSLER

Ask Laura Nemecek, an East Jordan High School senior, what her impression of Washington, D.C. is and she'll unhesitatingly exclaim, "It's really exciting!" In the next few minutes phrases such as "a pretty city," "not as big as I thought," and "has lots of culture" roll easily into a paragraph of sparkling description of the "good opportunity" she took as a delegate of Top O' Michigan Cooperative to the 22nd annual National Rural Electric Tour.

Laura, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Nemecek of rural East Jordan, saw an article in an area paper giving information about an essay contest Top O' Michigan was having to determine a delegate to the Youth Tour. In her 500 word essay, Laura wrote about her Grandfather Nemecek circulating petitions many years ago to get the first electric cooperative started in this area. She gave this historical perspective as her reason for desiring to go and—she won the trip!

Laura and 11 other Michigan youth (one from Gaylord representing Top O' Michigan) also spent five days getting to know many of the 1,000 plus students, touring and sight-seeing, meeting Congressmen and Senators, and learning as well as helping campaign for continued federal aid for cooperatives.

The group learned more about rural electric co-ops, energy issues and related topics. They saw Washington's highlights—Capitol, Jefferson, Washington and Lincoln Memorials, and the Smithsonian Institute. The group received personal invitations to be part of a welcoming group for President Julius Sanguenetti of Uruguay at the White House and heard both President Reagan and President Sanguenetti speak.

Laura enthuses, "I'd go again!" as she tells of the delightful and meaningful experience she had. "It was well planned, wasn't boring, but we learned a lot." She would encourage students to enter the contest next year; the trip is well worth the effort.

The changing of the guard at Arlington Cemetery Tomb of the Unknown Soldier was the most impressive thing to Laura. "It took my breath away," she reflected. "To think of what they are guarding—all of us—makes you proud!" Young people such as you who are interested in our history and our future make us proud, Laura.

Garden Club meets

In spite of a crisp, cool, early fall afternoon, many Boyne Valley Garden Club members and guests gathered at Litzengraber Place for a very informative August meeting.

The regular business meeting was followed with an interesting exhibition by Olive Bernier, a local teacher of china painting. She stated the techniques of painting flowers on china, types of paints used, shading of objects, the importance of firing and the finished product. Much interest was generated by this demonstration.

Lois Pollock, the club president, closed the afternoon meeting by instructing the group on the mechanics to be used for successful flower arranging.

Tasty desserts were served by Thelma Erber, Marcia Perkins and Thelma Bentley, hostesses for the day.

In service

Navy Constructionman Apprentice Edward D. Sehl, son of M. Sehl of Elmira, MI., recently reported for duty with Naval Mobile Construction Battalion One, Gulfport, MS.

As the saying goes, Tuesday's child is full of grace. For the past two years, the newly reorganized Boyne City Historical Society has been meeting the third Tuesday of each monday at the City Hall. From the first meeting at the Horton Bay home of Billie Beckenhauer, the group has increased its support from half a dozen to a hundred friends who live near

Grand Rapids.

He is board certified in family medicine by the American Academy of Family Physicians.

Dr. Fark will also be on the staff of Northern Michigan Hospitals. He will see patients beginning September 15 at the Burns Clinic's Boyne City Office on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays and Dr. LaBeau will continue to staff the office on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Dr. Fark and his wife, Louann, are purchasing a home in Boyne City.

The Burns Clinic's Boyne City Office is located at 210 Lake. Appointments may be scheduled by calling 582-2513.

museum a reality soon. The society has sponsored several fundraisers to benefit the proposed museum including the Boyne Area Home Tour and Auction '86 which was held on the lawn at One Water Street in August. The auction chaired by Boyne City's Rainy Day Lady, Judie Kostin, netted more than $10,000.

We've settled nicely into winter with enough snow to make any winter sports fan happy. Our village streets and country roads are a winter wonderland even more beautiful than pictured on a Christmas card. I am filled with awe and wonder at our Michigan winter scenery.

A day like today when the temperature is about 20° above zero and the sun is shining, I almost feel sorry for those who have fled to warmer climes. Of course I will have to admit that I feel just a little bit envious of them when the thermometer plunges to 20 below.

It seems that we are hungry all of the time during these invigorating days and nothing tastes better than a bowl of hot chili or bean soup after shoveling the driveway. I see ice fishermen out on our lake and I have been curious about what they eat during their long vigils either out in the open or in their ice shanties. One young man said that he did not eat except for a candy bar. He wanted to eat in a nice warm environment, though he said that he and his friends always had a thermos of hot coffee. Another friend says that when he fishes for salmon in a stream they build a fire and broil a fresh caught salmon this way. They get a good fire going and make a grill with green twigs, interlacing them to make a square grill. Then put the salmon on the grill to roast. This takes about five minutes on each side over hot coals, and sometimes they put a slab of butter on both sides of the fish, wrap in foil and cook on the coals.

Cross country skiing and snowshoeing is another winter appetizer. Ed Still of Petoskey says that when he was a young boy he and his father would set out on their snowshoes and when they got hungry they had this special

TIN FOIL DINNER

- Hamburger
- Pat of butter
- Thin sliced carrots
- Thin sliced potatoes
- A slice of onion
- Salt and pepper

Layer the above ingredients in foil and close tightly. Do this at home. Then when they were ready to stop for food they built a fire and cooked the foil packages on the coals approximately 10 minutes on each side. The above could be for a snowshoe enthusiast.

Ed also says that if a snowmobile is available they take along a small charcoal grill out on the ice and grill weiners or any kind of meat handy, however Kielbasa is best. He says that you most likely will have guests when other fishermen get a whiff of that smoky kielbasa aroma drifting across the lake, so have plenty. Serve with hotdog buns.

There is nothing like a pot of thick stew or Hungarian goulash to feed those hungry skiers and fishermen when they get home after a long hard day on the lake or slopes. I like to think that the Indians cooked stews like this in their winter camps in the woods. Of course, they did not use pork, they most likely would make this next recipe with venison and would not have had canned tomato soup, though we did learn of tomatoes from them. New England clam bake and Boston baked beans also were gifts from them.

PORK AND BEAN STEW

- 1 large glass can of cooked navy or Great Northern beans
  - 2 lb. lean pork, cubed
  - 4 onions, coarsely chopped
  - 1 to 2 cloves garlic, minced

- Brown the meat in oil in heavy skillet; add onions and cook until golden, then all salt, celery, garlic, about 1/2 cup water, and tomato soup. Cook (simmer) about 30 minutes. Put the beans in a bean pot or heavy dutch oven, add the meat mixture and condiments and cook in oven at low temperature at least 1/2 hour.
- Serves 6 to 8

TRADITIONAL GOULASH

- 2 lbs. beef, round or chuck, cubed
  - Oil for browning
  - 6 to 8 medium onions, sliced

history books. There's Irene, goddess of peace, and Iris, goddess of the rainbow, and Astraea, goddess of justice. They don't sound so great, though, connected up in front of the word "day". But one other does, Diana. She's goddess of the hunt and better yet, goddess of the moon. What more could anyone want than that Monday be renamed Diaday?

This lovely new name for Monday doesn't change the fact that the day commences the work week. But it does have to begin somewhere after all. And what finer place to start off the week of labor than on a day with a lifting sound to it.

Given a chance, a new name could make a difference in how the work week goes. Certainly it's worth a try. And it's a good bet that Juliet would have been most pleased.

Red Devils defeat Rayders after 23 years

The East Jordan Red Devils set the town to celebration Friday night, climaxing a twenty three year drought of victories with a win over their long time cross-county rivals, the Charlevoix Red Rayders. So sweet is the taste of victory and even more so when it is accomplished in such a stylish manner as a shut-out.

After so many years of continual defeats at the hands of the Rayders, the possibility of the game swinging to East Jordan became evident after they took the game-opening drive 74 yards to paydirt and the first lead that the Devils had held over the Rayders in four years. The 14-0 outcome of the game was made possible only by the cool-headedness of the Red Devil players and coaching staff. After scoring on their first drive against Charlevoix, East Jordan was faced with the monumental task of holding their emotions back and performing to the best of their abilities.

And perform they did. The Red Devil defense repelled many threats to their coveted lead, with Jim Raymond, Steve Dionne, and Terry Burt containing the Rayders on big plays.

Greg Kitson, offensive quarterback, doubled as a defensive back to pick off three Rayder passes that would have put East Jordan behind the eightball each time.

Offensively the Devils committed some costly errors, but were quickly vanquished with timely long yardage rushes, and lofty passes over the heads of the defenders from Kitson to Raymond.

East Jordan's initial spurt of adrenalin was provided by Darren Graham who broke loose for a 28 yard run from the E.J. 31 to near the Rayders 41. From there Ted Snowden and Dionne pushed forward for a pair of first downs to the Charlevoix 30 yard line. The Rayders tightened up their ranks and dropped the Devils for two consecutive losses before Dionne again broke away for a ten yard gain to the Rayder 10 yard line. With inches to go for a first down, the Devils crossed up the Rayders and went to the air where Kitson found Raymond in the endzone for the first touchdown. Raymond received the conversion pass for two points to highlight the game opening drive.

Charlevoix, undaunted, opened their own series with a twenty yard run from Michael Thompson to the Rayder 48, and Charlevoix appeared to be on a roll. But East Jordan countered a 27 yard pass to the Devil's 23 with a jam-em-up defensive line that soon denied the Rayders a chance to score. Charlevoix threw an incomplete pass, and were flagged for holding on fourth down. East Jordan declined the penalty and took over possession of the ball.

With the exception of two screen passes to Snowden for 45 yards, the Red Devils offense was held in check. At the Charlevoix 30, East Jordan completed three plays with no headway, and were forced into punt formation.

Both teams experienced difficulty completing the big plays on offense for the remainder of the half, with each team penetrating into the others field of play, but falling short of continuing the drives. Charlevoix reached the E.J. 17 midway through the quarter, but two sacks, one by Devil Rick Clark for 12 yards, and the other by Graham for 15 yards, forced a turnover on downs. East Jordan, on the other hand, carried to the Rayder 29 where Kitson found Raymond on a twenty yard pass to the Charlevoix nine yard line, but was nullified by a penalty. Flagged back to the 40, East Jordan fumbled the ball to the Rayders and were faced with yet another scoring threat.

Charlevoix rolled down the field with gains of 15 to 20 yards, and appeared to be heading into the endzone for a tie score at the half but Kitson soared into position from the defensive back field to pick-off a pass at the ten yard line. With ten seconds on the clock, the Devils put the ball on the ground and consumed the remaining time.

The Red Devil defense was not even warmed up for the second half when Charlevoix received the kick-off, and were called upon to repel another threat from the E.J. nine yard line. Graham became the hero of the night, stripping the ball from the arms of the Charlevoix ball carrier and recovering the fumble at the ten.

The Devils were stopped cold in their tracks by the Rayder defense and gave up the football on their own 29. A 23 yard Rayder pass went to the Devils five yard line for a first down, and again, Charlevoix was given a chance to score. Had it not been for the tremendous efforts of Burt, Graham, Raymond, and Darrin Bishop, something might have come from the supposed scoring opportunity for Charlevoix. But three consecutive plays were thwarted to nothing as the Devil defense held again. Charlevoix relinquished possession of the ball on the E.J. 5 after failing to get it in.

Deep in their own territory, with their back-ends hanging over their own goal line, E.J. needed a big play. It came in a most unexpected manner when Graham broke away from the pack and raced downfield 79 yards before Charlevoix's defenders were able to catch him. Two plays later, Kitson looked the endzone again, and there he was, big number 99 alone for the pass. Raymonds second touchdown reception gave the Devils a slight pad in the scoring column, 14-0, and hightened the Red Devil spirits to a sky-high level.

Charlevoix could have folded under at that point, but were inclined to keep pushing for the Devil goal-line. They went to the E.J. 32, to set up another opportunity, but Raymond foiled an option play single handedly for a nine yards loss. The big drop took the wind from the Rayder sails and on third and long, put one into the air. The pass was promptly gathered in by Kitson for his second interception, and put an end to another threat.

Kitson's third interception of the night could not have come at a more opportune time, as the Rayders had ball and were on the move again. Down near the E.J. 13, the Rayders were determined to pass for a touchdown, as they failed to make yardage after crossing the Devils' 20. Kitson broke the back of the Rayder offensive in two attempts to score through the air, once by knocking the pass to the ground, and finally, by intercepting.

Charlevoix was given another chance to score, but fumbled the ball away on the E.J. 11 where Kim McKinnon covered the ball, and the Devils ran out the clock for three minutes.

Kitson completed 5 of 8 passes for a total of 72 yards. Three to Raymond for 25 yards and one to Ted Snowden for 47 yards.

Whenever East Jordan and Charlevoix get together on the gridiron, the going gets tough. Here the two teams bang heads at the line of scrimmage.

The Red Devils enjoyed excellent pass receptions such as this one here by Jim Raymond.

Graham led the Devils ground attack with 158 yards on 16 carries for an average of 9.9 yards per carry.

Steve Dionne and Terry Burt led the Devils defensively with Dionne making 12 tackles and Burt getting in on 10. Jamie Bartlett, Darren Bishop and Greg Kitson had 7 tackles each. Kitson also intercepted 3 passes on the night while Kim Bob McKinnon, Ron Cook and Darren Graham had fumble recoveries.

Head Coach Ted Jeffery commented on the game. "I was impressed with our offense, even though we did make several costly mistakes to end drives. I think we have an effective offense and although parts of it can be shut down, it's tough to stop altogether." Jeffery also added, "on defense I was very impressed with the secondary and with the pass rush from the line. Coach Peterson called an excellent game as our defense stopped Charlevoix twice with 1st and goal. Defense gets the credit for this win."

The Red Devils will travel to Gaylord Saturday, to take on the St. Mary's Snowbirds, kickoff is a 7:30 p.m.

Greg Kitson [10], the Red Devil quarterback, rolls out to spot a receiver.

Devil girls lose two

By Dennis Skrocki
The East Jordan Girl's Varsity Basketball team had a rough go of it in their opening week dropping games to Charlevoix and Ellsworth.

On Monday the lady Devils bowed to Charlevoix 53-30. Cold shooting in the 3rd quarter diminished all hopes of a Red Devil victory when only 4 points were scored.

Kristy Miller led the Devil offense with 11 points while Jill Burt added 8.

Amy Pischner led the Rayder offense with 15 points while Barb Boss added 12 and Cindy Boss collected 9.

Wednesday saw the Devils go down in defeat to the Ellsworth Lancers by a score of 51-41. The Devils trailed by only two points going into the 4th quarter but couldn't keep pace with the quick moving Lancer offense led by Kathy Wynsma who scored 22 points on the night.

Kristy Miller again led the Devils scoring attack with 18 points while Jill Burt collected 8 and Erin Snyder added 7.

Miller also led the E.J. defense with 20 rebounds, Erin Snyder had 11 and Brenda Drenth pulled down 8.

This week the lady Devils will see action against Gaylord St. Mary's and Inland Lakes.

Rudyard overpowers Ramblers

Boyne has good second half

At Rudyard Saturday afternoon, the Boyne City Ramblers Varsity Football team took on the hometown Bulldogs in a match-up that featured the hosts piling up a 51-14 win.

Ramblers fans were indeed expecting a rough time of it, considering that Rudyard went undefeated in their league last year, and made a trip to the Silverdome in a bid for the state playoffs. The Ramblers knew that the Bulldogs had the distinct advantage of possessing two starting players over 200 pounds, but no one expected the results of the mammoth match-up combining the two players.

Junior fullback, Jim Suggit, utilized the overpowering size of 210 lb. senior Devon Dosson as a running shield to penetrate the Rambler defensive line. Suggit, tipping the scales at 205 lbs. himself, followed Dosson through the line on four occasions in the first half to score as many touchdowns, three of them being from 14 yards out or better. The fourth Suggit T.D. was the benefit of a six yard pass after the breaking through of the Rambler line behind Dosson on a fake hand-off.

The 36-0 first half score all began shortly after the Ramblers received the opening kick-off. A three down Boyne City series ended in a fumble recovery for Rudyard at the Rambler 27. Incidentally, the fumble was the result of the Bulldog pass defense, causing the Rambler receiver to drop the ball. After a five yard Suggit carry, the Dosson Suggit combination went into effect for an eighteen yarder to the endzone.

The following Rambler offensive series was dropped for a loss of yardage and a pass attempt for the first down fell to the ground. The fourth down punt went from the Boyne City 17 and was run back to the Rambler 39 and Suggit followed up behind Dosson for another

T.D. By this stage of the game, the Bulldogs were ecstatic with joy and appeared to be unstoppable.

Three Rambler passing downs failed to gain any yardage, and Rudyard returned the punt to the Rambler 39. One first down and four plays later, the Bulldogs were knocking on the door again, this time from the B.C. 14.

The Ramblers were not to be denied a look of respectability as they set themselves up on their own 26 and slowly punched small gains to the midfield line. Troy Heiermann and Keoki Kuheana chalked up short gains along the way, with quarter back Pat Weeks mixing in keepers and a nine yard pass to Aaron Richards. Midfield was the cutoff point for the Ramblers however, as the Bulldogs hit Weeks for an eight yard sack after crossing over into Rudyard territory.

The Ramblers became the beneficiary of a broken play when Greg Webb recovered a Bulldog fumble at the Rudyard 34 on the punt return. The sudden sight of the goalline was shortlived however, as the Ramblers rushed for just four yards on four plays, and punted, after Weeks was dropped seven yards back.

Second quarter action opened with the Bulldog threatening the Rambler goal again from the B.C. 15. Rudyard sailed into the endzone with 11:08 remaining in the half. The Ramblers gave up a turnover shortly after when the Bulldogs snatched a Rambler pass that turned into a 30 yard gallop to the B.C. 20.

The Bulldogs went on to score against the Ramblers again, but it was to be the last Rudyard T.D. of the half. Boyne City took on a better offensive look from that point on as Weeks hit Scott Beebe for two consecutive passes that netted the Ramblers 25 yards. Rambler penalties came into effect, killing a drive that had gone from the Rambler 23, into Rudyard territory for the second time in the game. The Bulldogs would have scored once more in the half, had it not been for Rambler Jeff Fineout stopping a potential touchdown run with :12 on the clock.

The second half opened with Rudyard receiving the kick and beginning another long drive to paydirt before the Ramblers got their hands on the ball. When Boyne returned to the offensive, the Bulldogs had added to their margin for a 43-0 score, but it became evident that Boyne was going to move the ball. The line provided running room as the Ramblers utilized Steve Sutton, Paul McGeorge, and Kuheana for good gains. Kuheana crossed over the midfield line on an 11 yard run, and Richards collected another pass at the Rudyard 48. McGeorge carried an eight yarder to the Bulldogs 30 for a first down, and Rudyard became the ill fated victim of frustration. Not being able to deny the Ramblers a chance to score, they committed costly violations that eventually wound up with the Ramblers on the Bulldog 1 yard line. On a keeper, Weeks plunged through the line to score the first Rambler T.D. of the year, spinning off the last would be Bulldog defender. Weeks also ran in the conversion and with 5:57 left in the third quarter, the Ramblers took on a new look both offensively and defensively.

Changes were made in the Boyne City defense, with many players coming over from the offensive squad. The Bulldogs first play from scrimmage demonstrated Boyne's new look as a powerful defensive hit at the line popped the ball loose. Brian Napont and Webb teamed up to drop a Bulldog rusher for a loss and the Rambler interior forced another fumble recovery by Rudyard. On fourth and 11 at the Bulldog 12 yard line, Don Karlskin broke into the punting formation to block the kick and the Ramblers recovered the ball on the Rudyard 14.

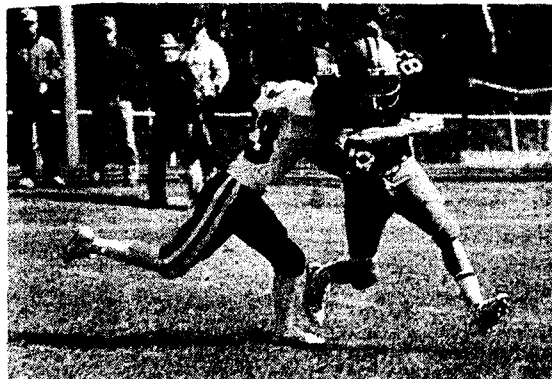

If the Bulldogs were disgruntled with not being able to move the ball earlier they demonstrated the fact even more when being called for face masking that sent the Ramblers to the seven yard line. A four yard run to the two yard line by Kuheana set the Ramblers up with a first and goal to go, when Kuheana went into the endzone through the interior of the line with three minutes left in the quarter.

The Bulldogs were held at bay through the remainder of the period, but early in the fourth quarter Rudyard scored on a two yard push for a 51-14 score. The Bulldogs held the ball through most of the final period, being hampered with penalties born of frustration at the denial of their long yardage offense. Boyne stubbornly gave up a yard or two at a time, while delivering tremendous hits on the Bulldog ball carriers. Offensively, Boyne was held down to a minimum with the exception of Sutton cutting back nicely against the grain of traffic for six yards. By this time, the Ramblers were caught up in the excitement of the defensive efforts, and Rudyard was finely forced to turn the ball over one downs when Kuheana stopped a desperate reverse play for a six yard loss.

The first half of the game was what some people expected for the outcome, but the second half could very well have become a new beginning for Boyne if things continue to follow the same pattern. The first half appeared that Rudyard would indeed become a state champion in their division, considering the 36-0 score. But Boyne outplayed the Bulldogs in the second half although being outscored 15-14 in the half, and gave the impression that a new team consisting of the same players would emerge for the Ramblers in future encounters.

The Bulldogs were tough goal-line defenders as this photo can attest to. This Rambler ball runner was stopped at the line, but the next play went across.

Keoki Kuheana [23] came into the defensive game in the second half to break into the Bulldogs backfield to stop an end around play.

Marshall Sayles

BY MARSHALL SAYLES
 He: What do you know? The editors of Who's Who want me to supply them with a brief sketch of your life. Will you write it out for me?

Me: I've never understood why they waited so long. You can give it to them yourself, you've known me all your life.

He: Look, just describe it in your own words into this microphone then I'll boil it down later, leaving out the sickening parts.

Me: Ok, here goes:
 I decided when I was born in that bucket seat called North Boyne that although it wasn't my fault, I would try my best to make the most of it.

He: Bucket seat?
 Me: Yes, it was a chemical plant town, a railroad town, a lumberjack town, noisy and stinky, not at all nice like it is today where the elite meet.

I knew that I had been sired in sin and that it would heckle me during my finest hours. But I wasn't going to let that frighten me into accepting life as a loaf of bread and a circus. I would have been ashamed of myself if I had succumbed to ho hum living.

He: Good stuff! Good stuff!
 Me: Being alive rather tickled me. At twenty I discovered how easy it was to outwit life and the Lord by using the brain part of my head.

He: Stop right there! The sun doesn't come up to hear you crows.

Me: I'm just telling how I escaped North Boyne without a scratch. If you recall, I grabbed the world by the horns and made good.

He: Yes, and after you left, there was something about a string of unpaid bills. I remember the sheriff putting up notices that said you were missing and presumed ignorant.

Me: That was three score and ten years ago. Do you have to drag it up when I'm trying to dodge those skeletons?

He: It needed to be said. For years it has needed to be said.

Me: You'll have to admit, though, that in my search for glory I did gather in quite a mess of sheaves.

He: Yeah, and the way you did it will never get you into heaven. On the other hand I doubt that you will be left out in the cold.

Me: Are you saying that I am scheduled to play poker with the Devil after my last dance?

He: I can't see it any other way.

Me: I had no idea that being born in North Boyne could get a man into such trouble. I thought sure that I would wind up drinking wine and smelling the roses.

He: I'm disappointed in you. You are the first man in Boyne City to get out of Who's Who before he got in.

Me: It wasn't really my fault.
 He: Now don't start telling me your sheep were as white as snow.

Me: No, but things would have been different if the city fathers had issued a warning against being born in North Boyne.

He: Warning?
 Me: Get that microphone out of my face.

Recommends togetherness before museum

Dear Editor:
 I have observed the controversy over a Museum to house Boyne City memorabilia. I was born and grew up in Boyne City too. Here is a list of some of those intangible things that made up the color, spirit, and character composing that innate quality that set up apart as a community that I only hope we can preserve, and that will not need a museum.

Our earliest settlers were a rare adventurous breed. They were strong individuals of necessity. Lesser persons could not have survived the rigors of creating a town where the impossible started the day. Let us preserve this faith in ourselves and our God.

Those who remember the early schools still value the feeling of one large family who felt they could twist the world's tail by learning everything in the book plus the collision course of walking to school, recess, and noon hours in the company of their peers. Let us preserve that intense and uniquely human experience.

Came the Depression and that same stinking tannery that has been decried today hung on

Dear Editor:
 This letter is in response to recent articles and letters concerning the location of a Historical Museum/Chamber of Commerce building proposed for Old City Park, Boyne City.

There are many questions and concerns that I, as a former Boyne City resident, and frequent visitor to this city, have concerning this issue.

First, while other cities in Michigan are begging for state and federal funds to support park beautification programs (i.e. planting of trees, flowers, etc.) why does the Boyne City Commission want to destroy an already beautiful park with its own history and natural beauty to construct a permanent new structure with plans for expansion in this tiny but valuable piece of public property?

Natural beauty such as this park is one of the reasons Boyne City attracts so many visitors.

Second, your City Manager has stated in a recent article that if the city is allowed to tear down the existing Chamber of Commerce building, it would enable the city to widen the view of Lake Charlevoix from Water Street.

Who's kidding who? This building has been a part of Boyne City and its history for over 40 years, and to the best of my knowledge, the fine residents of Boyne City have never complained about the view this small cabin obstructs. I have not heard the City express concern over the past or present development of the shoreline (which leaves no view of the lake). To let us now believe that they are concerned with maintaining and preserving the view of Lake Charlevoix by tearing down a historic and tiny (approximately 22' x 30') building to widen the view is an insult to anyone's intelligence.

Third, your Chief of Police as well as a few of your City Commissioners have claimed that only three families living adjacent to Old City Park are opposed to this project's location. However, during my most recent visit to Boyne, I talked with many people who are as equally opposed to the willful, destruction of this beautiful park. Those in favor of the location didn't particularly want to see a new building constructed, but felt this might be a way to keep vagrants out. How sad for the Historical Society to have this kind of sympathetic support. Sadder still is the attitude that you must construct a building to keep people out of a public park. City parks are designated for all to enjoy and for all to obey the rules. Your local law enforcement agency is responsible to see that they are enforced. To believe that restructuring a park will solve a vagrancy problem is shortsighted and shows a lack of commitment and involvement from the City Commissioners, local police, and the taxpayers of Boyne City.

Last, but certainly not least, didn't the Historical Society ask the voters in March, 1985 to help fund a Historical Museum? I don't recall them nor the voters asking for a new museum to be built in Old City Park, with expansion plans to house a new Chamber building, public restrooms and more. Who proposed this site and WHY?

What started out as a nice museum project has snowballed into a three-ring-circus. It has taken over 100 years for this park to develop, and now in just a few short months, you want to destroy what can never be replaced.

I must ask you, the people who currently live, work and play in this city, are you willing to let this historic and most charming piece of public property become irreversibly destroyed by the construction of a 1,750 sq. ft. building? A building that would include a museum, Chamber of Commerce and public restrooms, gazebo, and garage? A building that would be designed so that "a second story could be easily added at a later date"?

Finally, I challenge you, the elected city officials to react to the voice of the people in and around Boyne City concerning this issue. It's simply not enough to take this issue to an advisory vote and do whatever you please with it. It is your responsibility to react, reevaluate, and reassess your personal and professional feelings and work together to find a more acceptable site for this project.

To the Citizens of Boyne City: An advisory vote on this issue will take place on Nov. 4, along with the general election. Voters must be registered by Oct. 4. If you are not registered, please go to the City Hall in Boyne City or the Secretary of State Office. There will be two questions on the Ballot: 1. Do you want the Historical Museum placed in Old City Park? 2. If the Museum is placed in Old City Park, do you want a Chamber of Commerce placed there also, to help defray operating expenses?

Save Old City Park! Register and vote NO to both questions!
