Boyne City's United Way drive is very close to the half way mark hitting $14,299 as of Monday. The goal the drive is trying to reach for the programs within the city is $30,000. Although there is a couple of weeks left, drive officials are hoping the donations will come in faster.

With all of the high water, it is a relief to know that Eveline and South Arm Townships have been recently admitted to the national flood insurance program. For those living in those townships, it may be a good idea to contact your insurance agent for flood insurance. If you live in Boyne City, East Jordan or Charlevoix, your community has already been approved for flood insurance.

The next food give-away will be held next Wednesday, Oct. 29 at the Community Services Center in Boyne City, the Civic Center in East Jordan, and the V.F.W. Hall in Charlevoix. The food program will start at 10 a.m. and continue through to 2 p.m. or until the food is gone. This month is recertification month so you will need proof of your income. Call 347-9080 if you have any questions.

This is the weekend you should turn the clocks. Remember the old adage, started when the time change thing came into being. "Spring ahead, Fall back." Those who enjoy sleeping you get another hour to make up for the hour they missed last spring. Turn your clocks back one hour this coming Saturday night before you go to bed.

Boyne gets preliminary grant okay

Boyne City commissioners found out Tuesday the city is in the running for a grant from the National Park Service through the Land and Water Conservation Fund.

City Manager Randy Frykberg told the commissioners at the Tuesday noon meeting the city has passed the pre-application stage and was recommended for funding by the DNR, which is reviewing all the grant requests.

With the city grant request making it through the first round of requests received by the state, the city will be making a full application on the grant request which must be submitted back to the DNR by Nov. 28.

The grant being asked by the city may be for the full $250,000 which is a matching grant. The city would have to come up with $125,000 in cash or other funding.

What the city is intending on asking for would be a new shoppers dock along Sunset Park, a boardwalk and river bank stabilization along the Boyne River all the way to Old City Park. Also included in the pre-application was a pedestrian bridge from the park to the downtown business district.

The commissioners authorized city and county officials to make the full application after hearing they had made it through the first phase.

In other action, the commissioners gave the city manager the authority to spend up to $13,000 for a new or used ¾ ton pick-up truck that would be used by the city to help plow and other activities.

The city has looked for a truck to replace a 1977 pick-up the city manager said possibly would not make it through the winter. He told the commissioners the truck has rusted through the floorboards. City officials found a 1985 Chevrolet at Tallberg Chevrolet in Petoskey that would fill the needs for $11,900. Frykberg told the commissioners a new 1987 ¾ ton truck base cost would be about $13,000. That was the reason the commissioners authorized the spending of that amount of money for a truck to replace the present truck.

The city manager reminded those in the audience that hunting within the city or on city owned land like Avalanche Preserve is not allowed.

Through John Talboys, police chief, the city commission recommended times for Halloween Trick or Treating between the hours of 5 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Frykberg announced a baby sitting service has been arranged during the afternoon and early evening hours for those voting in the November election. Norvita Anderson will be in charge of the service which will be set up in the hall of the city office and will include books and crayons for the children while the adults vote.

Boyne Falls PTO to carpet elementary classroom

Boyne Falls School will be getting new carpeting for one of their classrooms after the Parents-Teachers-Organization received approval from the board. They will be paying for the carpet and they hope to provide carpeting for a room a year, if the group can get the approval from other members.

The first classroom to be carpeted by the donation of the PTO will be the first grade classroom, according to Debbie Kuhn, a member of the PTO in charge of the project.

When board members asked about the maintenance cost of the free carpeting, they were told by superintendent Bob Redmond the cost would be about the same in man hours or slightly less as compared to the costs used presently.

Kuhn told the board the PTO had not voted on the project yet, but figured the cost to the PTO would be about $940 per room. She asked if the board would have any objection to the PTO providing the carpeting.

The board agreed to accept the carpeting if the PTO desired to make it a project.

The board then heard a report on the school's audit which was recently completed. Niles Hill and another accountant with the firm went over the amount of money the school had spent last year in detail. Hill told the board the school had done a great job of budgeting which made the school system come out well in the audit. "Overall," he told the board, "Your school is in good financial shape."

The board then agreed to start an honors club within the high school to reward those from an academic level similar to the sports level the school presently rewards athletes.

Called the "Stars" program, the high school will honor those who do well through the marking periods all the way to the end of the year. A proposed budget of $400 was approved to help start the program which will be run under the direction of the school principal. Mike Wallace told the board he was hoping to get area businesses to help support the academic program with other rewards as well.

Bus drivers were asked what they would like to see the school do to help shorten the time it takes to get the kindergarten children from the morning session home earlier. Redmond gave the bus drivers a few different options with which they could comment on to help alleviate the problem. Of the four options, the only one the bus drivers would respond to was to leave the situation the same as it is now.

Last year, the board had used the Charlevoix County Transit buses to help get the children home sooner. That brought a grievance from the bus drivers that was upheld by the arbitrator and cost the school system about $1,000.

According to Redmond, they had told him if they would have just asked, they might have complied with the request to use the transit system. Redmond's

EJ board hears subs ask for more pay

After approval of the regular and special meeting minutes and payment of bills, which included charges for repair of the East Jordan High School roof, the school board heard a presentation by substitute teachers at their regular meeting on Monday, Oct. 13, at 7 p.m. Represented by Mike Bos, the substitutes of the tricounty area requested a pay increase and comparable pay in neighboring areas.

Bids were read for work on the repair of the bus garage and work to be done on the football field stands. Superintendent Rossler explained the necessity of keeping the bus garage in repair, the low initial investment and the age of the garage.

High school Principal Moore reported on the Michigan High School Athletic Association meeting he attended with athletic director Steve Hines.

He also discussed the current review of the computer education program needs. He added that the new in-house suspension program is working well.

Administrative Assistant Gary Albring reported a K-8 enrollment of 705, with kindergarten enrollment at 84; that Oct. 15 is Picture Day; and that fourth, seventh and tenth grade state assessment tests were completed. The seventh and eighth grade classes had recently held their first dance, which was very successful. He reported that a halftime position had been posted for a teacher for the learning center.

Community Education Director Anne Dingman reported that 12 classes were currently being offered for high school com-

Planners close to home control

Boyne City planners moved one step closer to working out the details of a home occupation revision to the zoning guide Monday, finally deciding it was ready to go to the city commission for their approval.

The ordinance change would require those with home occupations to have parking for at least one employee as well as family members. It would also require the registration with the city of new home occupation startups so the city could determine where they are located. Those who already have home occupations will be asked to register with the city also, but they won't be required, according to city planners.

If approved by the city commission, the change in the ordinance will allow the city to have some voice in the operation of those home related businesses. One section of the proposed revision says that if the requirements for home occupation are not being followed the planning board will have the authority to limit the hours of operation, or if deemed necessary, order a complete termination of the activity.

If the operator of the home occupation causes a complaint to be filed against it for creating or causing a nuisance, then the zoning administrator may order the operator to appear before the city commission for a review of the use.

The new rules would limit home occupations from operating in congested areas like the mobile home park or in a multiple family structure. The home occupation may not have a sign located on the dwelling larger than two square feet.

After the review of the planning board, they agreed to move it to the city commission for review and adoption. The change will require two readings and a public hearing before it is enacted.

In other action coming in front of the planners Monday was a lot split asked by Sandra Newville. She wanted to have her lot, located on the corner of Michigan and Robinson split so she could clear up a mortgage. The planners recommended the lot split be approved by the city commission after working out where the new property lines would be and what might happen to the property after the split was made.

They also agreed to take on the Bendix Courter company after hearing that the use of the former A & W building, which has had walls installed on the building where the former car parking serving area used to be,

Would a prestigious optical store like NuVision resort to gimmicks like coupons during their Fall Sale?

(Couldn't hurt.)

There are those who consider it a bit undignified to offer quality eyewear at a discount price.

In most cases, the people who feel this way are the people who sell eyeglasses or contact lenses. Not the people who buy them.

After all, most people in the market for designer frames welcome the opportunity to save as much as $40 on their next pair of glasses. They don't mind taking scissors in hand in order to pay $20 less for a pair of daily wear soft or extended wear contact lenses.

But, if the prospect of clipping coupons out of a newspaper strikes you as a bit unseemly, feel free to continue paying too much for the latest innovations in eye care. The rest of us will be holding these coupons in our hot little hands and heading to NuVision before the big Fall Sale ends Nov. 22.

(Notice to the reader: I would appreciate it if you would quit thinking about something else while you are reading this column.)

Only ten days or so before the general election. At no other time can you wake up the government by shaking your fist. As it approaches, some candidates seem to be wasting their money on television ads.

The other morning I was watching a Bugs Bunny cartoon; the commercial was that of a candidate running for congress.

Why would he be wasting campaign money talking to viewers of an early morning children's program? Children can't vote.

As I sat there deeply engrossed in the Bugs Bunny show, I wondered again why he was campaigning on a children's program.

What he had to say about the future of the social security program made me mad. I shall not vote for him.

After three weeks of dark clouds, and rain, the sun came out. There's a new feeling, a new life when the sun shines. That's when you discover that you weren't sick after all, just down in the dumps.

Many years ago I needed thirty-thousand dollars to satisfy an urgent whim. I went into the bank and asked the man in his private office if he could oblige me with that sum.

In those days a loan of that magnitude had to be approved by the five members of the board of directors.

I came back the next day and the man at the desk told me that the board had turned me down, seven votes to none.

"Seven votes," I said, "there are only five members on the board."

"I know," he said, "but when they turn down a man like you, they don't fool around about it."

I sat down in my easy chair the other day to listen to the goings on between the U.S. and Russia at Iceland. There was a bottle of aspirin and a bottle of Alka Seltzer on the table next to me. After the two men had finished their talks, I discovered something, that medicine is worthless.

When I was child during the tail end of the hob-nail boot lumbering era, Boyne City got better every day, then worse again on Saturday night.

Thank you for not thinking of something else while reading this column.

BY GAIL WARE

For news of national interest, the matter got very little press coverage when it was released in September. A picture of a couple of Congressmen clutching the successful candidate, a couple of unusually brief statements by both men and a few paragraphs of explanation was it. That wall all there was to the announcement that the bill had passed the House and thus a new national symbol had been chosen. The nation's official flower, the rose, would now take its place with the other symbols of our country, the bald eagle and the colors red, white and blue.

That this historic news item should be so short, especially the Congressmen's statements, struck me as very odd. And so I decided to look into it.

At first I thought that the story came out short and flat because the winner obviously couldn't be interviewed. And personal interviews have become a big part of press coverage, especially if the subject has just won something. But the Statute of Liberty can't give interviews and she still gets lots of publicity.

Then I realized that it was the Congressmen setting a low key tone that gave the matter an underwhelming air. They didn't seem to care, acted like the announcement was a non-event. And that didn't make any sense at all for politicians.

Then I found out some of the background of the flower picking issue from "Insight" magazine. And now my sympathies are with the Boyne City, because of the lack of success in their sports program for the last few years, may be finding themselves left out of playing sports with many of the schools within easy traveling distance as the school year starts in 1988.

Opinions

The biggest reason for this may be blamed on the start up of a new sports league that will have many of the same schools that Boyne has been playing for years. Only Boyne will not be allowed to play with them.

As we understand sports schedules, schools play a few non-league teams, usually at the start of a season, and then spend the rest of the sports season playing the other schools within the conference the school is a member of.

With the beginning of a new league that will feature only eight schools, Sault Ste. Marie, Petoskey, Gaylord, Cheboygan, Grayling, Charlevoix, Rogers City, and St. Ignace, good old Boyne City may be left out playing a schedule that will make the student athletes travel miles to find teams with which to compete.

Only Boyne City and Onaway will be the two schools left out of the new league.

This will leave Boyne City several options to consider.

One would be to ask if they could join a present league that already has eight teams, and have them work out a schedule that would allow Boyne to Play with them. The nearest league presently under consideration is the Ski Valley League which includes such schools as East Jordan and Harbor Springs.

Another option would be to go independent. There are several good things and several bad things about being an independent. The bad out weigh the good. The good things are that Boyne may be able to schedule schools they can compete with, may set up a schedule that would allow for exam periods, and vacations and allow competition in sports of the schools choosing.

The bad things include the amount of mileage the school will have to go to find that competition. While football games held on a Friday may not be too bad for traveling, when you get to basketball with games during the week, a drive with a school bus of over two hours would or could cause problems as far as safety, student health, and studies are concerned.

A third option would be to admit defeat as far as a sports program is concerned and eliminate almost all sports within the school.

No matter what the choice the school board is going to have to make, they will have to make it soon so planning can be started.

The one question being asked, by sports enthusiasts around town, is why? Why was Boyne so slow to realize this may happen? Why was Boyne not aware that a good sports program, with good coaching on all levels, a higher priority with school officials? Who should share the blame?

Perhaps some of the blame can be put on the State High School Athletic Association for coming up with a computer program that requires point standings so schools can participate in state championships and get the recognition they desire. Perhaps some of the blame can be put on the Boyne City School Board who for years, has lacked the leadership to try to bring Boyne City back to a period when they were a sports power as they were in the fifties and early sixties.

No matter where the blame is put, the sports program of the school is sure to suffer. Boyne will be facing bleak years in sporting success until they can find a league, provide the coaching, get the interest of the students who will make up the teams, and provide a sense of pride within the community.

Jottings

BY JIM SILBAR

Geeeesopete. Just when I thought I could enjoy a short Indian summer, I opened my mailbox to find a third class brochure asking if I wanted to subscribe to a magazine for Christmas.

I have heard of rushing the season, but we aren't even to November yet.

Even some of the stores have started featuring Christmas items. I'll bet someone somewhere is putting up Christmas decorations, too.

Someday, someone will put a stop to all this change trying to get us to spend our hard earned bucks so soon for Christmas presents.

Someday, someone is going to say that Christmas is a religious holiday, and not offer anything for sale.

Don't hold your breath, though.

When we are wondering if the hunting season will be a good one, others are wondering if the Christmas sales will be good enough to cover all the losses they incurred over the year. Many merchants hope the Christmas season will bring the store its yearly profit.

Heck, even I hope the Christmas season will bring us lots of advertising so we could make a profit, too.

But I hate being brought to the reality of Christmas so early in the year.

I think the state should pass a law saying Christmas can't start until Thanksgiving at least.

Of course, the state should pass a few other laws, too.

Like I would like to see them pass a law that would require schools to start after Labor Day. I would also like to see the state make a law that would require the lottery monies be sent back to the schools on a per capita basis instead as part of the state aid package. For those schools out of "formula" like Boyne, it could be a godsend.

Of course, if such a law were passed, I would like to see the quality of education rise to about a college level.

This would mean no teacher could work in the system unless they had a doctorate degree in the area they intend to teach. No doctorates of education, but real world type of stuff.

Of course, pay levels for those teachers would have to be at rates lower than we are presently paying. That way, the school system could ask the voters to reduce the amount of millage required to pay for the schooling our children learn.

But don't hold your breath on that one either. I have never heard of any governmental body asking the voters or the person paying to reduce their taxes.

They just figure out a way to spend the money in addition.

Just like the state. With the supposed reduction in our federal taxes, the state will be making a whole lot more as they haven't changed themselves.

And the federal tax thing, most will find it will be a new nightmare as they try to figure out what and how much they will have to pay.

I think the lobbyists for the tax lawyers, the accountants and the income tax preparers are having a field day saying that millions more will be coming to them to sort out the amount of taxes they will have to pay. Lobbyists and other special interest groups have long run the country, just look at all the legislation that has been created just for them.

Bumper Bowling gets started right

Lifting a 10 pound to a 14 pound bowling ball and having to roll it down a bowling lane without it going into a lane gutter may have been the toughest thing for a young bowler to do if they wanted to learn about the sport of bowling some years ago. All that is changed today, due to a new idea being brought to the Boyne City Lanes Bowling Center this year.

Bumper bowling, a program designed to start out young bowlers on the right track has started at Boyne City Lanes and is drawing an astonishing amount of interest from parents and young bowlers with more and more children participating every week.

The program is based on the problem many young bowlers have had to face as they tried to get a heavy ball down the alley to hit the pins and make a score. Many children just give up after throwing gutter ball after gutter ball without even getting the bowling ball past the approach area of the alley.

Bumper bowling is designed so that the children participating will have that chance to score points by knocking down the pins at the end of the alley.

How the program works is almost too easy, one observer said, and why it hasn't started at other bowling centers in the area is unclear.

Before any of the junior bowlers take to the lanes, management takes four inch plastic drain tile and places them in the gutters so balls cannot fall into the gutter. They also place an old hula hoop over the lane and have another plastic bowling pins hanging from the center of the arch.

To those who say just those features would keep the children from learning the basics of bowling should come out to the center when the children are having fun learning to bowl.

The plastic pin hanging from the hula hoop arch is over the center of the alley.

If a young bowler hits "Mr. Pin" as it is called, they receive a 2 point bonus each time they roll the ball. With the gutter barrier and the "Mr. Pin", it is amazing how simple the game becomes for the youngsters.

The turn out at the center has been astonishing, according to Don Kleinschrodt, one of the adults working with the program. He said the adults have had to break the young bowlers into three squads with one squad bowling on Wednesday after school and the other two on Saturday starting at 10 a.m. and again at 12:30.

About 85 children are involved at this point of the program and range from kindergarten through the fourth grade. Each child bowls two games a day and some of the scores are getting over 100 pins early in the season.

Parents and others interested in watching or bringing their children to participate are invited to come to the bowling center. They have said they will add more programs for the children as the need arises.

Environmental concerns to taxes, with doctors, insurance companies, lawyers, real estate pros and everyone else probably has had a law created to help them make some more money.

Speaking of that, and while I am on this soapbox, I noticed my gas bill no longer has the words on it saying "Availability Charge." I guess they got a little scared when I threatened to send them a bill for two thousand a month because the newspaper had space available for them to use, but they neglected using it. The only problem with that was that I never followed through with the bill. I guess now I will have to charge them for the deterioration of the pipe from all the gas flow going through them. That ought to be worth a couple of thousand each month until they get caught up with the amount of money they should be paying for the privilege of providing me gas which I don't use as much of as they think I should.

How do you find flood insurance that protects your home and business?

No problem.

Because regular homeowners and business insurance policies do not protect you from flood loss, you might be all wet if you wait until the water rises to apply for flood insurance.

You can now purchase flood protection from Auto-Owners Insurance, the "No Problem" people.

So ask your local Auto-Owners agent just how his flood insurance can be "no problem" keeping you afloat if your home or business is flooded.

Burn education education should begin in your home

It's been said that the kitchen is the heart of the home - the place where family and friends take refuge in comforting aromas and lighthearted banter. Ironically, the kitchen is also the most dangerous room in the house, as far as burn accidents among very young children are concerned.

For children between the ages of 1 and 14, burns and fires are the leading cause of accidental death in the home, according to the statistics compiled by the National Institute for Burn Medicine (NIBM) in Ann Arbor. NIBM, a not-for-profit health care support organization, was founded in 1968 by Irving Feller, M.D., director of the University of Michigan Burn Center.

Of these young burn victims, 11.5 percent are infants and toddlers, half of whom are burned in the kitchen. These accidents almost always occur around mealtime.

Hot liquid scalds are the most frequent type of burn among toddlers, whose curious hands grope overhead for pots and pans filled with hot liquids.

For 1 and 2 year olds, 77 percent are victims of their own actions, 21 percent are innocent bystanders and 2 percent are intended victims, according to the National Burn Information Exchange (NBIE), a national voluntary data-gathering division of the U-M Burn Center.

"A majority of these accidents could be prevented," says Claudella A. Jones, R.N., education director of NIBM and director of Professional Activities at the U-M Burn Center.

The activities which cause 90 percent of the burn accidents among toddlers are entirely preventable, she says. Thirty-three percent of these children are burned while bathing; 42 percent are burned while pulling over pots, pans, skillets and containers of hot liquids, and 15 percent are scalded by pulling over appliances or by having hot liquid spilled on them, according to the NBIE statistics.

Jones estimates that more than 50 percent of all burn accidents involving children can be prevented.

"The key is education," she says. "It's a two-pronged thing. You've got to educate the kids (about burn prevention) but the parents have to make an effort, too."

There is currently a bill in the Michigan Legislature (House Bill 5556) which, if passed, will require the formation of a state commission to promote, support and conduct burn prevention programs for the general public through out Michigan. Known as the Fire Safety Education Act, the bill will see to it that everyone, from pre-school age children to adults, is supplied with education in all aspects of fire safety, prevention and control.

"The changes people have to make don't cost any money and there's no change in lifestyle required," Jones says. The NIBM suggests the following burn prevention tips to make your home a safer place for children as well as adults:

The Kitchen: Cook on back burners only. This will prevent children from pulling boiling liquids off front burners. Don't leave cords to electrical cooking appliances dangling. Don't leave hot pans of food or liquids unattended on the range, counter-tops or tables. If this is unavoidable, push them to the very back of the counter or range. Don't leave pan handles extended over the edge of a counter or range. Don't let a young child pour or serve hot food or liquids. Don't pour hot coffee, tea, soup or other fluids at the table and leave them unattended. Don't drink coffee, tea or other hot liquids with a child on your lap. Don't store foods, especially cereal, over the stove - children could climb onto the stove to reach it.

The Bathroom - The kitchen isn't the only area of the house where children are prone to burn accidents. An additional 27 percent of burn injuries to children 2 and under occur in the bathroom, almost always while the child is bathing, Jones says. To help minimize the risk of such injuries: Don't place your child in a tub of water until you have checked the water temperature on the back of your hand. The water should feel warm, not hot, because the skin of a 1 or 2 year old is tender and vulnerable to scalds. Don't leave your child in the tub attended. Many scalds occur when the child turns on the hot water while playing.

Electrical - Use only Underwriter's Laboratory-approved appliances. Keep electrical appliances away from water. Never leave a hot iron unattended. Cover electrical outlets to prevent children from poking things into them. Don't overload extension cords.

The Bedroom - Keep the baby's or toddler's crib a safe distance from radiators, heaters and electrical outlets. Keep space heaters and vaporizers away from beds and curtains. Don't let cords dangle. Keep them away from children's reach. Use fire-retardant sleepwear for infants, toddlers and young children. Be careful when using heating pads - follow direction provided. Never smoke in bed.

Barbecues - Use only proper lighter fluid to light a barbecue, not gasoline or any other flammable fluid. Don't squirt barbecue lighter fluid on burning fires. Keep grill away from combustible walls or fences. Keep children away from barbecue fires. Don't throw hot embers on the ground - they could burn feet.

Congressmen. They've had a hard way to go to get to September, 1986. And they're tired of talking about flowers.

As a drama of unfinished business, the flower matter has probably had the longest run in

with Bea Smith

SAUCES AND GRAVIES

In our modern society everyone can be a gourmet cook. I am amazed at the choices of sauces and gravies available; even our fast-food restaurants serve delicious dips and sauces for chicken, fish or beef.

This would not surprise our grandmothers who made sauces for almost every dish they prepared. In Lowney's Cookbook, published in 1908, there were recipes for 40 sauces for meat and vegetables and 39 for puddings!

In another old book, I found 31 sauces for meat and fish, 24 for puddings and 16 recipes for salad dressings. Grandma made her own cottage cheese, however, she never dreamed of eating her garden vegetables raw with a dip - think of what she missed!

I am sold on the sauce mixes that come in an envelope. How would we make tacos without them? Just a suggestion: Serve lemon sauce mix over your next gingerbread made from a mix, the family will feel special.

Our grandmothers made gravy for almost every meal including breakfast, and I doubt very much if there were any more obese people then than we have today. Though in olden times I understand that was no problem. I have read that when John Adams returned home from attending the Continental Congress, he was happy to find that his Abigail was "as plump as a pigeon."

My mother-in-law, Sarah Smith, taught me how to make brown gravy by browning flour in the frying pan, then adding meat drippings if she had them and then water or milk, stirring all the time. Her's always came out smooth, though if you have a few little lumps you can always say that they are little dumplings.

Here is a recipe for brown gravy very much like Sarah made. This was served with boiled potatoes for supper after the chores were done. With this Sarah often served pie made from her canned fruit. (She canned hundreds of quarts).

Brown Sauce or Gravy

3 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk or brown stock
1/4 teaspoon salt
Few grains of pepper

Melt the butter and cook until brown, add flour and seasonings and stir until brown. Add liquid a little at a time and boil 4 minutes stirring all the time. If this is too thick thin with a little more milk. This is another time when it is necessary to taste for the right amount of salt and pepper.

Milk Gravy

Mother made milk gravy very often and I still love it. It is made like the above only you do not brown the butter or flour; season with salt and a little cayenne pepper. Or you can make a cream sauce this way for any vegetable or:

Creamed Dried Beef

An old fashioned favorite
1 2 1/2 oz. pkg. dried beef
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup half & half or milk
Pepper

If the dried beef is real salty rinse with hot water and drain. Melt the butter, add the flour mixing well and gradually add half & half. Cook until thick and add the dried beef and pour over hot buttered toast or baked potatoes.

Then there was salt pork. Old-timers had to salt down their pork to keep it through the winter. It was delicious soaked overnight in milk or rinsed in boiling water to eliminate some of the salt. Then fried until golden brown and crisp. Milk gravy was nearly always made with the drippings. The old time salt pork had strips of lean in it like our bacon. I am afraid that the salt pork bought in chunks is a poor imitation of that good home made salt pork.

Although I did buy a good brand recently in order to make corn chowder and I was delighted with the flavor. I had forgotten how good salt pork was, especially in chowder and will use some very soon in baked beans.

Oh, by the way, I discovered those wooden boxes of salt cod at the supermarket the other day. I am happy that some of these old basics are coming back. Many people fixed the salt cod the same way as the above recipe for creamed dried beef. How, my friend, Nellie, hungered for that old time flavor with boiled potatoes.

One can buy delicious dips and sauces already prepared at the deli or on our grocery shelves, though do not be afraid to experiment adding your own choices of herbs, spices, onions and chives to sour cream, yogurt or creamed cottage cheese. You will be delighted. I made this delicious

Sweet and Sour Sauce

Mix honey and barbecue sauce together.

I used about twice as much honey as sauce as my sauce was quite hot. You will be surprised! I dipped my breakfast sausage in this dip and ate it with French toast.

Then I mixed a little of this sauce with lite mayonnaise for a very tasty salad dressing.

Ware-withal

that he couldn't get the votes he needed being the persuasive man that he was.

Even the corn tassel was a candidate at one time. I'm glad that one didn't make it. Practical it is, but pretty it's not.

At one time or another, more than 70 bills were introduced for various flowers that Senators thought should represent the nation. But when all was said and done, which was a great deal in this case, the rose came out the winner. I wouldn't go as far as Representative Robert Garcia of New York, who said, "The rose is widely viewed as a symbol of love, peace, friendship, courage and devotion." But I do think it's a good choice. And maybe when Congressmen feel better about the subject of flowers, they'll call for a National Rose Day to celebrate our new national symbol.

Safety alert sounded by Honeywell

Honeywell today initiated a second major LP-gas safety alert on a combination gas valve manufactured between 1966 and 1972. The company estimates that 220,000 of these valves were installed on LP-gas heating systems during the time period. The valves must be located and replaced to ensure the safety of individuals using LP heating systems including central furnaces, boilers, pool heaters, conversion burners, floor furnaces, gas-fired logs and recreational vehicle heaters.

An explosion or fire could result if the control should fail. In such an instance, the valve does not shut off the gas supply when the pilot light is out. Since LP gas is heavier than air, it may temporarily exist at floor level. If the combustible gas is exposed to an ignition source, such as electric sparks or matches, a fire or explosion may occur, causing property damage and personal injury.

All LP-gas users should check their furnace or heating appliance and identify the model number of their combination gas control valve. Model numbers being recalled are the C5133, C5134, CS5133, CS5134, V4136, V4146, V5189, V7234, V8129, V8136, V8139, V8148, V8169, V8188, VS8133, VS8138, and VS8193.

If the gas control has one of these numbers, the user should immediately call Honeywell toll free at 1-800-328-8149.

The recalled controls will be replaced with newer models at Honeywell's expense. Honeywell will contact a service contractor and make arrangements to replace the valves.

Honeywell is concerned for the safety of LP-gas users and the potential safety hazard that may exist should the control fail. In April 1980, the company in cooperation with the Consumer Product Safety Commission began a voluntary recall of the LP controls when field reports indicated instances in which the control failed to operate properly.

The current voluntary program is an effort to reach LP users who may not have been reached during the first campaign.

Honeywell supports the "Gas Check Program," a safety-inspection program offered by many LP-gas dealers, and urges users to contact their suppliers for more information about the program.

Kelly Smith (24) goes up to get a hand on this shot attempt by Rayder Cynthia Boss (22). Boss went on to lead the Rayders with 12 points as Charlevoix defeated the Boyne City Ramblers.

Rayders defeat Ramblers by 30 points

Boyne City's varsity girls' basketball squad traveled to Charlevoix Thursday evening to take on the league contending Rayders and dropped the game by 30 points, 51-21.

Charlevoix opened the game with a three point play from Cynthia Boss and was off and running. By quarter's end, the Rayders had built a 13-3 lead despite the fact that Boyne had shut the inside game off from Rayder usual high scorer Amy Pichner.

With the Rambler concentrating on keeping the ball from reaching Pichner the Boss sisters, Cynthia and Barbie opened the game up with phenomenal shooting from the perimeter.

Through the entire first quarter, Boyne held Pichner to just two points, but from the outside Cynthia Boss closed the period with nine points. The Ramblers first points of the game came at the mid-period point when Kelly Montgomery hit from the key.

Charlevoix continued to score heavily from outside through the second quarter with Pichner being shut out entirely. With two minutes left in the half, Pichner was retired to the bench after the Ramblers had failed to yield any points to her.

Barbie Boss however picked up where Cynthia had left off, and compiled nine points in the period. Charlevoix held a commanding 32-10 lead at the half.

The Rayders unexpectedly went into a stall to open the second half, drawing the Rambler defenders to the outside. Utilizing this tactic, the Rayders built on their lead while the Ramblers were unable to generate any offensive momentum. Charlevoix led 42-16 as they entered the final quarter.

The game's high scorer was Cynthia Boss with 12 points while Barbie Boss and Ann Kroll had nine points each. Ellen Pearl and Pichner finished with five points each. Allison Hall had four points, while Becky Smith and Jill Austin had two points each.

For the Ramblers Kelly Smith was the top scorer with eight points while Lori Knight had five points. Montgomery scored four points, Colleen Toton had two, while Mary Beth Archambault and Kerry Harvey had one point apiece.

BC jayvees edged by Rayders 36-32

The Boyne City jayvee girls' basketball team dropped a heartbreaker to the Charlevoix Rayders Thursday evening in Charlevoix 36-32, after leading through nearly half of the second period.

The first period saw relatively little scoring as the Ramblers trailed 3-4 when time expired. Cynthia Boydston had collected all of the Rayder scoring while the Ramblers were unable to score from the floor. The Ramblers put all of their points through from the charity stripe as Michelle Montgomery went two for two, and Marci Center was one of two.

The Ramblers came back to take the lead midway through the second quarter, with Tysh Crozier hitting two buckets, while Mindy Stadt put one through. It took half of the third quarter to accomplish, but the Rayders took over the lead after playing to a 17 point tie with four minutes to go. With 1:10 in the period, Charlevoix went up 18-17 by virtue of the charity stripe, but Boyne came right back to re-take the lead when Montgomery sent an offensive rebound back up and through the net.

Leading 19-18, Boyne added to the slim margin when Center hit the first shot of a one-and-one situation, but that was to be the final lead for the Ramblers as Charlevoix scored three unanswered hoops to lead 24-20 going into period four.

The Ramblers opened the quarter pressing full court, but was unable to become effective from the press. After five minutes of action, the Rayders had compiled a 30-23 lead and the Ramblers were in trouble. Abandoning the press, Boyne began to hit and pulled the score to a 33-28 margin when Stadt was fouled while driving through the key. Stadt converted for a three point play and Charlevoix's lead was cut to two points after another three point play went to the Ramblers.

With :30 on the clock the Rayders were sent to the charity stripe where the game was put away after a controversial entry into the shooters circle was allowed by the officials.

Stacy Gebott was the game's high scorer with 20 points for the Rayders while Boydston had eight points. Mellisa Ritt scored four points while Chrissy Dillon and Billie Jean Habel contributed two points each.

For the Ramblers, Stadt was the team's leading scorer with 11 points, while Crozier had six points. Amy Weeks, Montgomery, and Center all scored five points apiece.

East Jordan Marina project first class

BY ELOUISE ROSSLER

Snuggled into the cove created by a small bay of the South Arm of Lake Charlevoix and the mouth of the Jordan River is the structure that is making the East Jordan Marina a reality. As you drive across the bridge on M-32 you see the pilings to support the dock being placed in the water, replacing the dredge equipment which had been there for several weeks removing 23,000 yards of bottom from the area.

By studying the recorded depths of the lake area of the past 100 years, the engineers of United Design Association and City Superintendent Mike Dionne determined that the dock would have to be placed at 584 feet above sea level. This is the level of the steps of the Round Table Restaurant, just across the street from the comfort station now being constructed. Therefore, the water would have to rise as high as M-32 to cover the new dock. (Should the water rise to that level, there would be other concerns in the city also!)

By keeping the present dock, and extending it to accommodate fuel pumps and a sewage pump station for the boats, the harbor will become an enclosed haven for those using it. Bordered on one side by land with the comfort station housing showers, bathrooms, and a harbormaster's office, as well as a parking lot and park area, the marina will be bounded by the M-32 bridge toward the river and will build its own boundaries into the lake. The main dock will run 582 feet into the lake and then form an L back toward the present dock. This protective L will create an area of quiet water inside the marina by protecting it from waves on windy days.

The dock will have a 12 foot wide fixed pier which will serve as a viewing dock and fishing dock. A cantilever ramp, which is hinged to the solid main dock, will allow the boat docks to be mobile enough to accommodate water changes. This means that the dock will rise or fall with the level of water because of either storms or increase in overall lake water level. This same mechanism will protect the dock from major ice damage as it will allow movement of the structure, rather than being forced against the bulk of the ice.

The current of the Jordan River will flow into the marina quiet water area, thus reducing the amount of ice buildup in the marina area.

Around the outside perimeter of the dock are pilings placed very close together which are 12" in diameter by 48 feet long. This row of pilings will fend any large waves or large ice chunks, thus protecting the marina year around. With the warmer currents of the Jordan River preventing ice attachment for a longer period of time in the winter, and the additional pilings, there should be no ice damage, according to Superintendent Dionne. He also said that large icebergs coming too near the dock in the spring breakup would be removed so they did not hit the dock.

The dredging of the area was done using the low water datum figures supplied by the Army Corps of Engineers. The dredging took the bottom out from six to 10 feet below the figure given by the Corps of Engineers to insure that a significant lowering of the water level would not leave any boats "high and dry." According to engineer John Schlak, the dredging should not have to be done again as the bottom will not refill with new material.

The dock is being constructed of timber, as the old dock which is timber has held up very well. The dock will provide water, electric, phone and cable TV hook-ups and will be well lit by pier lights. Fifty new boat slips are being built and the seven existing slips will also be used.

The dock will have a separate walkway for those just wishing to stroll and look or for the fishermen who will now have a much larger area of the lake to fish without using a boat. The dock should provide haven for the migratory fish such as walleye, salmon, lake trout, as well as the usual blue gills, perch, and crappies found in the lake.

The hinged cantilever ramp will also insure that the dock will always be at the same level on a boat anchored in its slip. This will eliminate the need for ladders in the boat wells and will make the boats always accessible.

Tanks to hold 6,000 gallons of gasoline and 4,000 gallons of diesel fuel will be buried on shore to provide the fuel pumps on the old dock. The water and sewage systems will hook into the existing city system.

The comfort station, being constructed by Colwell-Wangeman Contractors is well under way. The cost of this portion of the project is approximately $135,000.

The water work is being done by Roen Salvage of Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin, with the floating pier systems having been sub-contracted to Flotation Docking of Cedarville, Michigan. The parking lot is being constructed by the City of East Jordan Department of Public Works. The water work cost is approximately $92,000.

Looking at the marina drawings and then driving by the construction, one sees the reality of dreams. Many have envisioned this type of facility to accommodate local boats as well as visiting boats for a long time.

Standing at the end of the new dock will certainly afford a view unmatched, as you gaze across the sometimes rolling, sometimes mirror calm waters of Lake Charlevoix.

Along the edge of the shore are homes and businesses which will go on functioning, even when the dock is empty and visited only by the wind and ice in the winter.

Beyond that shoreline are the hills rising above and into East Jordan. But all of that is beyond the protected little niche the marina will provide for countless boat and boaters in years to come.

Like bottles in a row, these pilings will make up the breakwall of the new marina.

NMH plans expectation classes

Northern Michigan Hospital's Great Expectations Society, has a number of classes coming up in the next few weeks designed just for expectant parents.

A six-week child-birth preparation class which offers a step-by-step run through of what to expect during labor and delivery and the weeks beyond, beginning Wednesday, November 5 through December 17. The class should be taken between your seventh and eighth month of pregnancy. Class sizes are limited to register early. The next session begins December 4.

County Commission Minutes

JULY SYNOPSIS
The Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners met in regular sessions on July 9 and 23, with all members in attendance.

In addition to correspondence and other routine items, the Board heard reports on youth employment, animal control and the circuit court probation grant.

The Board adopted resolutions requesting a "no wake zone" along a portion of Lake Charlevoix, designating a portion of liquor tax revenue rebates for substance abuse programs, adopting job study recommendations and authorizing the Building Authority to work with the Northern Michigan Mental Health Agency to purchase a handicapped group home.

AUGUST SYNOPSIS
The Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners met on August 21 and 27. Commissioner Breakley was excused from the 21st meeting; all other members were present at both sessions.

The Board heard reports from the Sheriff, County Planner and Prosecuting Attorney and reviewed items of routine correspondence.

Resolutions included an intergovernmental flood insurance agreement with Hayes Township; mechanical and plumbing fees and scheduling 1986 millage hearings.

SEPTEMBER SYNOPSIS

The Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners met in regular sessions on September 10 and 24 with all members in attendance at both sessions.

On September 10, the Board held public hearings to review millages proposed for 1986. The millages were adopted on September 24.

Other resolutions included agreement to participate in the Straits Area Narcotics Enforcement organization; an endorsement of the concept of alcohol enforcement programs; and a pledge of financial support for the Community Growth Alliance's 1987 fiscal budget.

Copies of the complete board minutes are on file in the office of the county clerk and are available for public inspection during regular business hours.

BOYNE CITY LANES

PRESENTS ITS

BOWLERS OF THE WEEK

ARNOLD GREEN

A new bowler, a new bowling ball, and a little practice. Put them all together and you get our bowler of the week, Arnold Green. Arnold joined a league this fall for the first time ever and after a couple of weeks of just so-so bowling, Arnold decided to get a little serious about his game, and it paid off well, with a beautiful 588 series, featuring a 204 and a 207 game with his 142 average. Mr. Green was an astounding 168 pins over average for his effort. Great job, Arnold!

MARY GASCO

One of our Thursday Night girls came through with a nice effort last week as Mary Gasco had a great night of bowling. Rolling for the Sportsman Bar team, Mary had games of 209-201-160 for a fine 570 series, good for 108 pins over her 154 average. Mary's set gives her the fourth highest series rolled by a lady kegger so far this year. When asked about her successful evening, all Mary could say was, "I owe it all to diet coke!" Whatever the reason, nice series Mary! Oh, by the way. When was the last time you've seen a white Russian look like a diet coke?

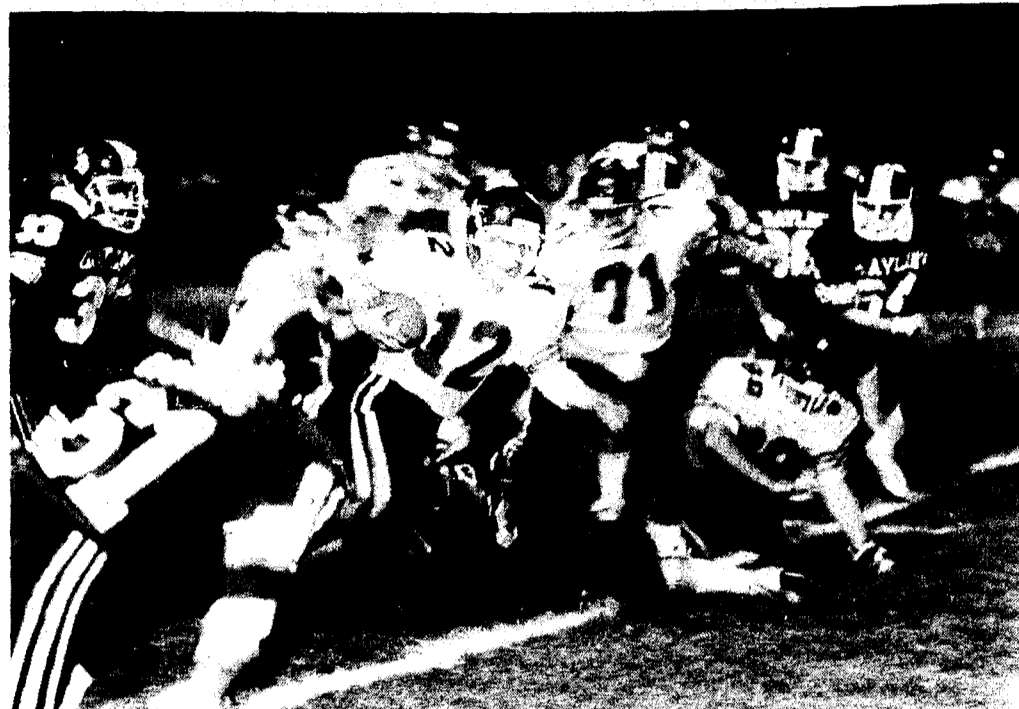

CONGRATULATIONS.

Mistakes beat Ramblers

Mistakes...critical mistakes while threatening to score, put the Boyne City Rambler varsity football squad behind the eight ball Friday night as the Ramblers went down to the Grayling Vikings 18-6. The Ramblers fumbled the ball away early in the second period on the Grayling three, and late in the third period, after reaching the Vikings 15, the ball skidded out of the hands of a Rambler runner and carried into the endzone where Grayling recovered.

Boyer City quarterback Pat Weeks (12) ran for some extra yardage on this play and carried to the Grayling 15 where the Ramblers lost the ball.

Midway through the second quarter the Ramblers threatened the Viking goal for the second time, this time from the six, and watched the ball fall through the hands of a Rambler receiver all alone in the endzone.

What could have been the Ramblers second win of the season was dashed to the ground as the Vikings were hyped up for their Homecoming game, but Boyne continued to choke near the goal line as they have done on several occasions in the past.

The Rambler defense in all reality did perform to the standards that they are capable of, forcing a punt, taking the ball away on downs twice, Rambler Pat Weeks picked off two Viking passes, and five Grayling fumbles were recovered by the Rambler defense, the last one in the fourth period to set up the Ramblers TD.

The Grayling offense scored the first TD of the game early in the first period, receiving a Rambler punt and setting themselves up to the Boyne City 45. A 20 yard run around the end put the Vikings at the Rambler 25, and a pass over the middle put the first points on the board. The conversion pass failed and Grayling led 6-0.

The Ramblers were unable to put together enough yardage for a first down after receiving the kick-off, despite Rambler quarterback Weeks connecting for two consecutive passes. One reception went to Aaron Richards for six yards, and the other was to Brandon Billings for three yards. On fourth and one, the Ramblers elected not to gamble for the first down and punted the ball.

The Rambler defense stopped the Vikings on the following series with Weeks batting a pass attempt to the turf while the interior of the defensive line stopped the advancement of the Vikings twice for negative yardage.

With the Ramblers taking over possession at their own 47, Keoki Kuheana went to work for Boyne to begin their first sustained drive. Kuheana carried twice to get the first down, while Weeks hit Billings for a short gain.

Boyer continued to roll down the field with receptions by Kuheana for six yards, and another by Richards for five yards. On three running attempts, the Ramblers were held to the line of scrimmage before Weeks went to the air again, this time to Scott Beebe for a 13 yard gain and a first down. Beebe's reception put the Ramblers at the Vikings' 3 yard line with first and goal to go, but the Ramblers went away scoreless after fumbling their first opportunity away.

Grayling picked up a first down after recovering the fumble, but returned the favor shortly after when Rambler Don Karlskin came up with the loose ball. Karlskin's recovery set the Ramblers up at the Grayling 25 and Kuheana broke loose for a 12 yard run to the Viking 15. From there the Ramblers were stymied and turned the ball over after dropping a TD pass.

With three minutes left in the second period, the Ramblers were knocking on the door again after Weeks hit Richard Vondra for pass reception that carried from midfield to the Grayling 24.

But another chance at paydirt was denied as the Vikings picked off a Weeks' pass from the endzone. The opportunity had been set up when Weeks picked off an errant Vikings' pass attempt.

Grayling served up their second interception to Weeks shortly after when they controlled the ball and were using the remainder of the period in an attempt to march downfield.

The most electrifying play of the evening went to the Vikings with seven minutes left in the third quarter when Grayling cut in front of a Rambler pass and returned the interception 65 yards for a TD, and a 12-0 lead for the Vikings.

Still bound and determined to get on track, the Ramblers showed a different offensive look after receiving the kick-off. Three split ends were stacked up on the far right side, splitting the Viking defense for good yardage gained on option plays. A 32 yard pass to Kuheana went to the Viking 32, and a pass from Weeks to Scott Patton was good for five yards, but the keeper on the option play was fumbled forward into the endzone where Grayling recovered.

Grayling engineered their first real drive from that point on, working the ball from their own 20 to the Rambler 20 by periods end. Thirty seconds into the last quarter, Grayling was into the endzone for an 18-0 lead. The remainder of the period was played in near freezing temperatures that resulted in countless fumbles from both sides, while Weeks' passes were continually stolen away as the Rambler receivers left the ball hanging uncontested for interceptions.

Boyer's final break of the game proved to be yielding opportunity as Troy Bishop covered a mishandled Viking snap and the Ramblers took over the ball at the Grayling five.

With such an opportunity to score, Boyne was nearly repealed as they were called for illegal procedure, and with :32 in the game, allowed Weeks to be dropped for a six yard loss on a passing down.

On second and goal to go from the 17, Weeks sneaked the ball into the hands of a Rambler runner who went to the 10, but with time running out and no way to stop the clock Boyne went into the line-up without the benefit of a huddle. Weeks gave the ball to Kuheana with two seconds on the clock, and Kuheana ran to the left, bouncing off a tackler and falling over the corner of the endzone as time expired.

EJ receives first loss from Rams

By Dennis Skrocki

The East Jordan varsity football team was knocked from the ranks of the undefeated Friday night by a tough Harbor Springs squad. The loss leaves East Jordan tied with Harbor Springs, for the Ski-Valley conference lead.

The Red Devils trailed from the opening minutes as Harbor Springs led by Senior quarterback Doug Dickinson, scored on their first offensive series with 7:42 remaining in the first quarter as running back John Clancy scored from three yards out.

East Jordan was unable to retaliate on their opening series. After coming out strong and picking up two first downs, a penalty and two incomplete passes forced them to punt.

The Devils deficit was increased to 16-0 as the Rams again capitalized on their next possession.

East Jordan's next possession was short lived as it lasted only three plays before the Devils were forced to punt.

With the Red Devil defense finally playing up to their potential and forcing the Rams to punt, the offense retained possession of the ball at their own 21 yard line with 6:57 remaining in the first half. The Devils marched the ball to the Harbor Springs four yard line on a series of 11 runs for 26 yards and three passes for 48 yards. Despite such great field position the Devils were unable to score as the fourth down pass attempt to Shannon Olstrom fell incomplete as the first half came to an end.

After receiving the second half kickoff the Devils mounted an offensive drive similar to the last one of the first half. This time the offense fought their way down field to the ram 6 yard line where they were again unable to put the ball into the endzone before turning it over on downs.

The Rams offense made the best of the Devils inability to score as they took over deep in their own territory and mounted a seven minute drive which saw them score as the third period came to a close.

Down 24-0 the Devils showed that there was still a spark of hope as halfback Ted Snowden ran the first play of the fourth quarter 59 yards to paydirt. Quarterback Greg Kitson ran the extra point conversion into the endzone to cut the Harbor edge to 24-8.

The tough ram offense quickly put a damper on any thoughts of a Devil win as they scored the final points of the ballgame with 5:35 remaining in the fourth period to raise the score to 32-8, the score which remained as the final seconds ticked off the clock.

Ted Snowden was the Devils leading ground gainer picking up 128 yards and a touchdown on nine carries. Kitson was 5 of 11 in the passing department for a total of 83 yards.

The Devils were led defensively by linebacker Steve Dionne who turned in a fine performance with 14 tackles as Darren Graham collected 13, Jamie Bartlett 11 and Terry Burt 10.

The Red Devils will host the Central Lake Trojans Friday night in hopes of getting back on the winning trail and keeping their chances of a conference championship alive.

Steve Dionne (22) of the East Jordan Red Devils never had a chance to turn the corner on this play as a Harbor Springs Ram got a good hold on the runner.

East Jordan girls lose to Central and Inland Lakes

by Dennis Skrocki

The East Jordan girls' varsity basketball team lost games to Central Lake and Inland Lakes last week dropping their conference record to 3-7 (3-9 overall).

On Tuesday, Oct. 14, against Central Lake, things looked good in the early going for the lady Devils as the first period ended with the teams deadlocked 11-11.

After that first quarter the game was all Central Lake as the Trojans outscored the Devils in each of the next three periods enroute to a 56-33 victory.

Kristy Miller led the Red Devil offense with 17 points as Erin Snyder added five and Jill Burt contributed four.

Offensive leaders for Central Lake were Treeter Johnson, 14 points, Beth Winger, 12, and Willa Derenzy, 10.

The Red Devils Oct. 16 confrontation with Inland Lakes was, in many aspects, similar to Tuesday's loss to Central Lake. East Jordan once again showed strength in the early going as they outscored the Bulldogs 10-7. But, as against Central Lake, the Devils were shut down in the following three quarters and lost by the score of 48-30.

The Devil offense, without Miller, was led by Shelly Malpass with seven points as Kristy Burt contributed five and Jill Peters, Jill Burt and Brenda Dreth each added four.

The Inland Lakes offense was led by a 14 point effort from Lori Nichols. Also contributing to the winning cause were Renel Morrison, 12, Cynthia Diopo, 8, and Karen Hope, 4.

The lady Devils will play at Bellaire on Thursday, Oct. 23.

EJ runners go to Elk Rapids Jamboree

By Dennis Skrocki

The East Jordan Men's and Women's cross country teams competed in the Elk Rapids Jamboree on Tuesday, October 14. This meet was to determine the conference champions in both divisions. The top womens team was defending state champion Suttons Bay as Kingsley took top honors in the mens division.

The all-conference teams were also announced prior to this meet. The teams, selected by conference officials, consist of the seven best runners in both the mens and womens categories. East Jordan placed two runners on this team, Jody Cordova in the womens division and Tim Brennan in the mens.

Finishing individually for the mens team were: Keith Harchis, 15th (18:49), Gerry Cizewski, 33rd (19:12), Kevin Cordova, 45th (19:50) and Keith Vincent, 62nd (21:58).

For the women Jody Cordova finished with a time of 20:34 good for fourth place. Also placing were: Chris Jankowski, 11th (21:50), Laura Nemecek, 20th (23:25), and Amy Jason, 32nd (26:55).

The teams again traveled to Elk Rapids on Thursday, October 16 to compete in the annual Elk Rapids invitational. The mens team was led by Tracy Reich who finished 13th. Also turning in strong performances were: Nate Jason 23rd, Gerry Cizewski, 39th, Kevin Cordova, 45th, and Keith Vincent 50th.

Jody Cordova once again led the womens team capturing the fifth place spot with an impressive time of 20:01. Other runners include: Chris Jankowski, 11th, Renee Spence, 14th, Theresa Brennan, 21st, Laura Nemecek, 27th and Amy Jason, 43rd.

Coach Snareys selections for outstanding meet performers were Keith Vincent and Jody Cordova. Vincent for knocking 1:12 off his previous best course time and Cordova for knocking 33 seconds off her previous best time.

The squads will compete in the Gaylord invitational on Tuesday, October 21. This will be their final meet of the 1986 season.

East Jordan jayvees shut out Rams

By Dennis Skrocki

The East Jordan Red Devil junior varsity football team maintained its' perfect record bringing it to 7-0 with a 16-0 shut out victory over the Harbor Springs Rams in their final home game of the 1986 season.

After the tough Devil defense forced the Rams to punt on their opening possession, the offense went with the ground game early as running backs Ted Sherman, Matt Bishop and Brian Matheny combined for 37 yards on 8 carries to set up the 20 yard touchdown pass from quarterback Dan Pepin to Mark Moore.

Moore's extra point kick attempt split the uprights and the Devils were out on top 7-0.

After two unsuccessful offensive drives the defense put points on the board as Moore sacked Ram quarterback Greg Antilla in his own endzone to score a two point safety and increase the Devil lead to 9-0.

That point spread lasted only seven seconds as Bishop ran the post safety "free kick" 58 yards to paydirt. With Moore's extra point the Devils' edge was increased to 16-0, one which EJ took into the locker room with them at halftime.

The 16-0 score was not added upon in the second half as neither team was able to mount a scoring drive. The Red Devils forced Harbor Springs to turn the ball over on downs on both of their second half possessions as the Rams defense forced the Devils to punt on all but one drive, the last one, in which East Jordan was deep in Ram territory at the 27 yard line as time expired.

Matt Bishop was the Devils leading gainer picking up 73 yards on eight carries for an average of 9.1 yards per carry. Bishop also picked up 69 yards on kickoff returns. Pepin was two of eight in the passing department good for 30 yards and a TD.

Noseguard Brian Matheny led the Red Devil defense with 16 tackles (two of which were quarterback sacks) as Pepin added 12 tackles while Aaron Brock came up with nine.

Also turning in strong performances were Jeff Olstrom and Jeff Burks as they came up with six tackles each. Brock also had a fumble recovery and Lyle Walters had a blocked punt.

East Jordan's next game, scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 27 against Central Lake has been cancelled as Central Lake has dropped their JV football program.

Parsons also cited the need for a site plan as he said the city, "Has to look at aesthetics as well as use."

City Manager Randy Frykberg also said a site plan was needed. "The city gets shot at if we allow you to do what you are doing. If someone else comes to us, they will be able to use your company as an example and not follow the rules."

Gilbert told the planners that parking was a problem right now, as they are building an addition and the construction has taken away many parking spots for employees. He said that would be worked out as soon as the construction is completed enough to allow the cars back into the parking lot.

Gilbert also said that, "This has got to be the last building." He said he couldn't conceive of any more construction being done on the east side of the road as they have run out of space. He said he didn't anticipate any more even if the green house and the former Adgate Realty building were torn down.

Gilbert was asked to bring a master plan to the next board meeting so the planners can rezone the parcels to the PID zoning.

Also discussed was the possible future Community Pride Awards the planners hope to give out to residents, industries and businesses for fixing up or changing their buildings.

The planners would approve was going to become a reliability testing facility instead of a warehouse.

Presently, the property is zoned general commercial and not Planned Industrial Development. The property the company owns on the East Side of Lake Street is PID with the exception of the A & W and perhaps the green house that last was owned by a chiropractor.

City and company officials couldn't remember if they had changed the zoning for the green house so included it in the request to rezone the A & W part of the property.

The issue came about when Dale Parsons and Marty Paul questioned whether the company had proper zoning for the A & W and had asked the company to come to the meeting to explain what they were trying to do with the property.

Ken Gilbert, representing the company told the board what the company was using the newly remodeled building for.

This prompted Parsons, who heads the Planning Commission to ask if the company, since they had asked for the PID zoning had developed a master plan for all of the property it owns Gilbert told the planners that he did not have one as yet.

Since the company wants to include the property into the PID zoning, they would have to come in front of the board with a site plan, according to the city attorney Bill McTaggart.

PUBLIC HEARING REGARDING LOT SPLIT

Pursuant to rules and regulations as set by the City Commission concerning Lot Splits, the City of Boyne City has scheduled a Public Hearing for a Lot Split at the City Commission Meeting of Tuesday, November 11, 1986, at 7:00 p.m. in the City Commission Chambers of City Hall, 319 North Lake Street, to consider the following:

A petition from Sandra Newville, 414 W. Michigan Avenue, to split equally in half her property which consists of Block 4 of the William T. Addis Addition to Spring Harbor, now City of Boyne City. Property Code is 051-174-001-00. The split off East One-half of Block 4 would then become a separate parcel measuring approximately 165 feet by 142 feet. (Exact measurements to be determined through a land survey).

Also to be split off is the westerly 40 feet of the southerly 40 feet of Lot No. 4, Block No. 3, Hiram B. Chapman and William T. Addis Addition to Spring Harbor according to the recorded plat thereof.

All interested persons are invited to attend the Public Hearing to express their views should there be any opposition to the said Lot Split. Further information may be obtained by calling the City Clerk's Office at (616) 582-6597.

Mary Churchill then asked about some of the child day care centers in town saying that they weren't following state law as to distance between them. She thought this would relate to home occupation area, and asked if the city had some ordinance to control the day care and foster homes.

She was told the city administration was looking into the matter and would report back to her.

request this year was to get their input.

Kindergarten students are presently taking about an hour and 10 to 30 minutes for the ride home. This brought a comment from Judy Wagner, a resident who lives in Hudson Township with a child in the kindergarten class concerned. She said she felt asking a child of that level to ride a bus for more than an hour was too much, especially since the attention span in the class was only a few minutes.

The problem was referred to the transportation committee to come up with a solution that both the board and the bus union would agree on.

The board named several schedule B appointments, student council advisor, Jim Lent, National Honor Society, Mike Wallace and cheerleader coach, Debbie Selissen.

They also proposed a job description for class advisors and for Polish Festival duties. Kathy Massey volunteered to work on the final policy.

Jim Binienda was given the contract to plow and remove snow around the school. He will be paid $25 per hour for the time it takes. Binienda did the job last year.

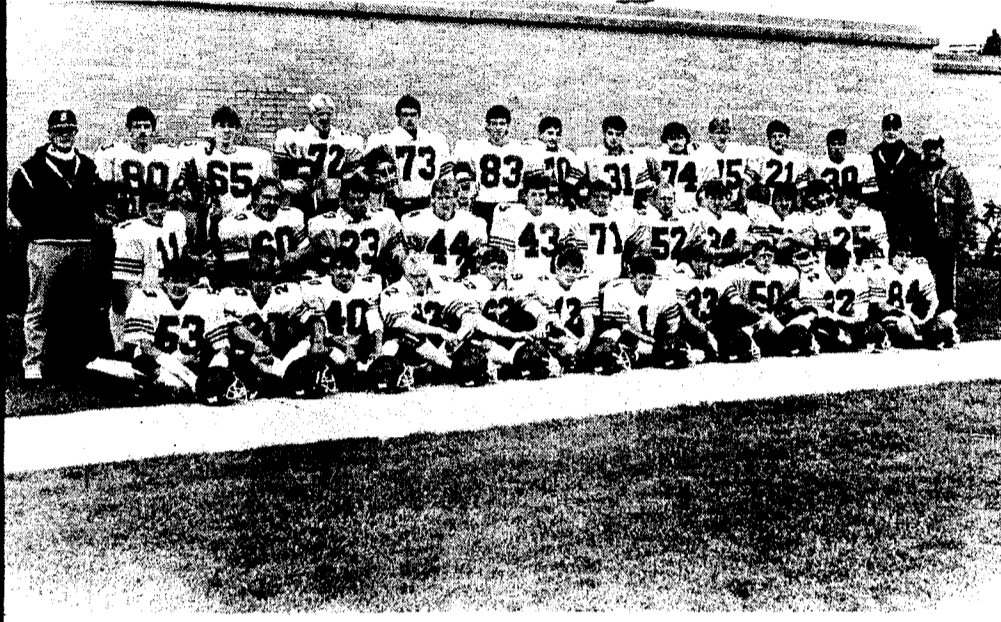

When the subject of long range planning was brought to the table as part of the ways and means committee report, a long discussion followed as to who should be on the proposed committee and how it should run. The matter, along with other policy procedures was referred back to the committee to work out the details.

The board did approve a resolution to have parents involved with the Chapter One program.

They then went into an executive session to work on negotiation strategy.
