Melrose Township will be spending about $13,000 on road maintenance this next fiscal year. They intend on using $10,000 to stabilize a portion of Washburn Road and will contribute $2,750 or one quarter of the cost for the extension of Padgett Road to the Hughey residence.

Challenge Mountain will be holding a combined dinner dance for the benefit of the program which takes people with disabilities and teaches them to ski on November 1st. Tickets are available from Boyne Mountain executive offices where the benefit will be held.

Boyne City has joined with East Jordan to initiate a "Child Watch" program thanks to the efforts of an organizational program held last week at the Elementary School P.T.O. meeting. Applications for becoming a Child Watch volunteer will be available soon from the Boyne City Police Department, according to police chief John Talboys.

The first part of the former Boyne City landfill report is expected from the engineering firm hired to do part of the work by the end of the week, according to officials from the company. Other sections of the report are being held up because of equipment problems within the agency providing the work. That section of the report will be coming soon.

Boyne City gets excellence award

Five years ago, Boyne City wouldn't have had a chance to be given the Commerce Department's Michigan Communities of Economic Excellence Program Award. But last week,

Boyne City officials accepted the award along with several other cities, Port Huron, Kalamazoo, Greenville, and Portage, as well as Muskegon County. During the past five years,

Boyne City has made tremendous gains in development mostly through the voluntary efforts of many of its citizens serving on committees, advisory councils and other citizen groups. All have worked to better the community.

While the city had been considered for the award, the final result wasn't known until city officials went to Novi last Thursday as one of the finalists.

Commerce officials judging the contest told the city they were surprised by the amount of enthusiasm the judging team met as they went through the city evaluating it in September. They looked at the city's economic strategy, the teamwork involved in the securing of new businesses and the accomplishment towards those goals.

The opening of the new Air/Industrial park was one of the many things that impressed the judges, Liane Zimny the program coordinator said.

Another thing that impressed the judges, according to Randy Frykberg, the City Manager, was the amount of teamwork through out the city, the new stores being upgraded in the downtown area, the Industrial Park, and the amount of volunteerism within the city to accomplish all of the work that has been done to make the changes within the city.

Being one of the winners from the statewide competition will mean the city will have a sign that is going to be installed at the entrance to the Air/Industrial Park. The city will also be allowed to use the designation of future publicity and promotion of even more businesses.

Frykberg was one of the team that went down to Novi for the award presentation. Paula Blanchard, the wife of Governor James Blanchard and a visitor here for the formal opening of the Industrial Park gave out the awards to the cities and county who were named the winners.

City officials somewhat expected they might win after getting messages about being in attendance at the presentation award, but did not know until the city's name was announced.

In getting the award and what it may mean in the future is all positive according to city officials. Even Richard Beagle, the executive director of the Antrim-Charlevoix Growth Alliance said that he expected the Showing off the new sign that will be installed at the city was given last week for Economic Excellence. The Air/Industrial Park are members of the Boyne City Commission. The sign designates the award.

Atlantic Salmon gets another chance with plant in lake

The prospect for a new inland lake Atlantic salmon fishery looks bright for local anglers as the Department of Natural Resources planted approximately 20,000 of an estimated 22,000 Atlantic salmon in Lake Charlevoix last Friday afternoon.

The plant, made with fingerlings that were surplus to the needs in Maine, were given to the state Thursday. About 20,000 of the fish survived a 29 hour trip from the Casco, Maine hatchery for the plant in Lake Charlevoix.

"Good sized fish, up to three pounds, from this plant should be seen by anglers in 1988-89," said Bill McClay, a DNR fisheries biologist. "Our purpose is to provide a diversity of fishing opportunities in each of our inland lakes. These Atlantic salmon, a close relative of the brown trout and likewise, an exceptionally good sport and eating fish, should do well in our larger lakes because of their ideal depth, coldness and clearness."

The salmon were delivered to Whiting's Park Friday afternoon by a team of drivers from the DNR. Louis Mania of Cadillac and Don Bedrick from the Oden hatchery were the final drivers. The first leg of the trip with the fish was done by Mark Henry from Marquette and Bob Eggleston of Wolf Lake hatcheries.

The specially built hatchery transport truck used 13,000 cubic pounds of oxygen during the trip to help keep the fingerlings alive. About 2,000 fish died enroute, according to observers watching the plant.

The first team of drivers picked up the fish at the hatchery near Portland and drove non-stop to Buffalo where the second crew took over. After a trip through Canada, the fish arrived about 3:30 p.m. Friday.

Atlantic salmon plant aren't new to the lake. The first plants were tried in 1873. In modern times, a special plant was made in the Boyne River after using Boyne Mountain's plane to transport the fish from the Gaspe Peninsula. Everett Kircher, provided the plane to transport the fish.

As to what Kircher thought about the Friday plant, he said "It's great, I am delighted to see the Atlantic salmon back in focus."

The salmon planted are different than the strain planted below the dam in the Boyne River, though, this new plant uses a land locked salmon which is not used to breeding in the rivers like some strains of Atlantic salmon.

These fingerlings were raised from a wild or lake-raised strain in Maine's Sebago and West Grand lakes. The gift was made

Opinions

Here's who we are supporting

After reading through all of the political releases, we have made up our minds as to who we are planning to support in next Tuesday's election. Although we did not personally interview all the candidates, we have pretty much come to the conclusion that the people we are supporting for election would do the job required of them to help us both nationally and locally.

This election, while held in what the political types call an "Off year", is still one of the important times to make sure a vote is cast. Usually, those "Off year" elections can sway a lot of votes as to control of the representatives we send to Lansing or to Washington.

For governor, we are supporting Jim Blanchard, a democrat. We are doing this, not because he raised our taxes, but more because he helped bring some business back to the state, and helped guide it through some tough times. Sure, he is a democrat in what many are saying, is a republican controlled economy, but we still think he is going to be a better man than the man the republicans are putting up for the same job.

We are also telling people to vote for Richard Austin as the Secretary of State. We say this even though his opponent says he has wasted money in his office. Austin has done a good job for many years and should continue in office.

For Attorney General, we would like to see a new face in the office. This year we would like to see Robert Cleland, a prosecutor from Port Huron, take over the job that Kelly has held for the last 25 years.

We are not making any choices for the State Supreme Court. There are 24 lawyers trying for the post, and frankly, one is as good as the rest. If you are leaning towards electing someone from the north, Dean Robb or Robert Griffin are both from the Traverse City area.

For the Court of Appeals, we like Elizabeth Weaver a probate judge from Leelanau County. You will have to pick another as we have never heard much about them.

We also are not making recommendations for any of the educational offices available. Those parts of the ballot get few votes as those running for the office usually don't even send out campaign literature.

On the state proposals, we would like to see a no vote on all three. We don't think we need to add to the buracracy of government they seem to call for.

For state offices, we think Ralph Ostling should be returned again. His experience against what the democrats are putting up. Ellen Addington is from Ellsworth which is just around the corner from our office, and we would think she would have taken the time since the primary to come in and visit. She has also not sent our literature that would tell us how she feels on the matters the legislature will have to vote upon.

Along with Ostling, we are supporting the return of Mitch Irwin to the office of State Senator. Again, experience counts, and we have always said Irwin is almost like a republican with his conservativeness. John Knorr has the experience of a township supervisor, but I don't think that compares with what Irwin has done for northern Michigan.

That takes care of the state offices. On to the congressional office up for grabs. While we like and know the first opponent to Bob Davis the democrats have been able to put up, Robert C. Anderson, we have to hedge a little for the experience Davis has been able to achieve during his tenure. Anderson is smart, has been around the Washington scene, and has many other factors in his benefit, we are still going to have to go with Gaylord's Bob Davis.

Locally, the only question on the Boyne City ballot is the advisory vote in the hall. We think the location should be at the Old City Park, but we could live with any other location chosen. We just want to see the museum come to be.

In East Jordan, the only contest will be for the third ward. We think Carl Beck should be returned as he has done a good job during his first term.

For county offices, we support the re-election of Oral Sutliff as County Commissioner representing the Boyne City area. Rudy Florenski has run against Sutliff a few times before and has also served, at one time, as a county commissioner.

Almost all of the other candidates on the ballot are running unopposed so they should be declared winners.

Jottings

BY JIM SILBAR

Unanswered questions of the world.

Why can't you just eat one potato chip, or one handful of popcorn, or even one nut off any nut tree? Is it because of the salt that man seems to crave and we all know isn't very good for you in the quantities we eat?

Or is it because all of us, at least all that I know, have a tremendous lack of self control and discipline? In my case I know it is the latter, because no matter how much I try, I just have to eat the whole package or the whole bowl.

Another question always left unanswered. Why is it that only a few people bother to vote? Could it be because those not wanting to vote don't care about what or who is going to be running things? Or is it they are all prosecuted criminals or dishonorably discharged veterans who supposedly are allowed to vote?

Or is it that the issues aren't big enough to have them express an interest?

In some cases, I have heard of people missing their chance to vote because they were too busy and just forgot the time the polls opened or closed.

But in most cases, I believe, the people who don't vote just don't give a care.

To some, it is called apathy. To others, it is called no matter who or what is in office, they can't do a thing about it anyway.

In all cases, it is a poor excuse.

To those who are always complaining about the taxes they have to pay, now is their chance to express that thought to the man holding the office today. A vote for someone else who might be able to make changes, normally tells the office holder they screwed up and did not represent what their constituents are asking for.

To those who are complaining about the business climate being bad, the only reason it may be is because not enough people voted for a "pro" business guy.

Conversely, those who are thinking the businessman is getting away with everything, then they have the chance to change it.

No matter what, just get yourself out of the house and make it to the polls. Make your voice heard across the land with just your one vote.

Says city has plans

Dear Editor,
The Parks and Recreation Advisory Board would like to respond to your 8 October editorial.

We are pleased that you share our concern regarding rising lake levels and the Boyne City Waterfront. However, we wish to point out that we have focused much of our attention and efforts on protecting the shoreline area. This spring we hired the engineer who designed the Veterans Memorial Park and Sunset Park seawalls to inspect the waterfront and provide recommendations to protect the area. This spring we hired the engineer who designed the Veterans Memorial Park and Sunset Park seawalls to inspect the waterfront and provide recommendations to protect the area. This study led to the city's purchase and installation of large limestone rocks each weighing 800-1000 lbs., fill and grout for seawall protection, marina improvements, and raised docks.

Peninsula Beach was delayed twice this year as we altered plans to raise the site by 1.7 feet. This action also required new Corps of Engineers and DNR permits approval.

On several occasions, rocks were placed along Lakeshore Drive in an effort to save the road. Additional limestone rocks were again purchased and will be placed yet this fall. We have also been working with several funding agencies on additional erosion protection measures.

Sincerely,

He: How come you are taking this test to become a tax assessor for the City of Boyne City?

Me: To get back at those people who in the past got back at me.

He: That's a poor reason, but I will have to ask you some questions, anyway. Now, I heard you say that for the first 10 years of your life you did nothing but work on a farm. Is that true?

Me: Yes.
He: Then tell me. What did you do the first year?

Me: I milked.
He: Aren't you something of a smart alec?

Me: Yes, I am. It helps me get through the day since I quit smoking.

He: I once heard that you worked for ten dollars a week with an idiot stick.

Me: What's an idiot stick?
He: It's a stick with a shovel on one end and an idiot on the other.

Me: Yes, I made a living with one for a while.

He: How come you write those columns for the newspaper?

Me: Because he who makes no noise is dangerous.

He: If you had not turned wayward and become a newspaperman, what would you have done?

Me: I would have become an eccentric millionaire.

He: I hear you have been half way there all your life.

Me: Quit making light of my dark side.

He: How did you become a newspaperman without an education?

Me: I have a knack of wanting what I want when I want it.

He: Where did you lose your ignorance?

Me: Boyne City Central High School before they tore it down and made the place look all gone.

He: What did you learn?

Me: Mainly that two and two are four.

He: You mean the politicians allowed them to teach you that?

Me: Yes, it makes sense until you've been elected to office.

He: Do you think it makes sense to city councilmen?

Me: As long as they are determined and keep their pants hitched up.

He: What is your greatest desire?

Me: To fling aside the tender fig of Boyne City and tell the truth, no matter who hangs their head.

He: I didn't know Boyne City had a tender fig.

Me: Next question, please.

He: Have you become a genius in your own time?

Me: Yes, I've frequently been called upon to believe that.

He: Now, about the assessor's test. Don't call us. We'll call you.

Me: Call me what?

He: I'll ask the commission and get back to you.

Me: Thank you.

He: Oh, one more thing. What will you do if you fail this test, if you have bungled and flunked miserably?

Skills classes take off in East Jordan elem

BY ELOUISE ROSSLER

"Kids love it!" "We're both excited about it!" "We're amazed at how much sensitivity the kids have." "It's nice to get to know others." These are comments from Kay Holley and Sharon MacJennett who are teaching the Skills for Adolescence classes for the first time in the East Jordan Middle School.

Seventh and eighth grade students will all have the class this year for one semester. The class will become a seventh grade class only next year, but the teachers felt this was a good year to include the eighth graders who were remaining in the building rather than going to the high school building as previous eighth graders had.

Teachers Holley and MacJennett were trained how to use the program this summer at a three-day session at Higgins Lake, run by Kathy Krchnar, a national trainer for the Quest National Center, who sponsors the program.

The cost of the training was paid by the local Lions Club. Lions International is co-sponsor with Quest National Center of the nationwide program.

There are over 2000 schools nationwide involved in the program and over 200 programs in Michigan middle schools, according to Don Peters, elementary principal and also a local Lions Club member.

Skills for Adolescence is a "positive prevention program for grades 6-8 (which) teaches skills in decision making, communication, and dealing effectively with peer pressure in order to say "no" to drugs and alcohol," says the Fact Sheet about this and other programs sponsored by the Quest National Center, a non-profit educational organization founded in 1975.

The center is dedicated to assisting young people in developing leadership potential, encouraging healthy lifestyles, enriching the quality of family life, enhancing personal development skills for effective living.

The curriculum consists of seven major areas: Entering the Teen Years—the Challenge Ahead, Building Self-Confidence through Better Communication, Learning About Emotions, Developing Critical Thinking Skills for Decision-Making, Friends: Improving Peer Relationships, Strengthening Family Relationships, and Setting Goals for Healthy Living.

Developing self confidence, decision making skills and communication skills are the major goals of the East Jordan classes.

The fourth goal concerning drug and alcohol becomes easier to deal with as students have already learned why they are important, that they can make good decisions, and how to get along with others.

The first job of Mrs. Holley and Miss MacJennett was to establish a safe and comfortable environment for the students. The young people had to feel safe to express their true feelings. The first unit studied was the self confidence unit, in which the students learned about the "three legged stool of self-confidence." Learning that they are skillful, appreciated and responsible gives the students the "three legs."

Learning to communicate feelings and emotions in a positive way is the present area of study. Students are taught to appreciate themselves and others. Sending "Happy Grams" is one of the methods used to help students become adept at saying, "I appreciate you."

Students who may not always be successful in the academic world may shine in this class. The class has already opened the doors to greater expression of ideas and feelings for many.

Each class is required to pick a community project which they will earn the money for and perform.

The East Jordan classes are in the process of deciding on their projects and planning them. Each student also has a semester project to complete. Discussion, group activities, role playing, sharing thoughts, and constant interaction are methods used to teach the class and to work out the details on the class project.

Each day the class is concluded with an overview of, "What have we done today," and "What have you gotten out of the class?" This gives every youngster the chance to voice his opinion or to compliment someone else on an event during the class time.

The level of involvement is increased by the Parent Seminars which are taught four times during the semester. "The kids are asking when we are going to get their parents going," commented Kay Holley. "Sharon and I are working on setting up the dates now," she added.

The Parent Seminars use the same basic concepts in assisting parents to work with their children. "Talking to Your Kids About Drugs," "Communication Skills," "Building Self-Confidence," and "Decision Making" are the topics for discussion at the seminars, which will be led by Mrs. Holley and Miss MacJennett.

"It was marvelous to be in a classroom with so many dedicated teachers," exclaims Miss MacJennett as she recalls the training session in June. "I could hardly wait for September to get started with my own kids."

"The Lions Club sponsored us and we are delighted that they did," chimes in Mrs. Holley.

Suddenly the room was very quiet as these two teachers buzzed out to do some last minute things for the last hour Skills class. Hanging in the air, however, was a bit of the enthusiasm they had generated just talking about the Skills class!

EJ student council buys, plants trees

Student Council members of the East Jordan Elementary who purchased two maple trees to replace two dead trees that had to be removed.

By Eloise Rossler

Two large trees near the Williams Street entrance to the East Jordan Middle School building had to be removed last year. Two beautiful young maples now fill those vacant spots, courtesy of the 1985-86 Middle School Student Council. The Student Council, headed last year by Jenn Stark, President; Lisa Graham, Vice President, and Renee Ruhlman, Secretary-Treasurer, decided to use the funds they had remaining at the end of the school year to purchase the trees. They also hoped to start some flowers, but didn't get that done. Perhaps this year that can happen.

The trees were planted and have been cared for by Ernie Stollard of the Jordan Valley Greenhouse, according to Principal Don Peters. Mr. Peters commended the group of young people and their sponsor, Ms. Sadowski for having the foresight to plant trees which will beautify the school long after they have gone beyond its doors.

HALLOWEEN

Halloween is mystical, awesome and even a little scary; a night when our ways and by-ways are filled with ghosts, beautiful princesses, robots and all kinds of gruesome animals and witches.

This tradition goes back to the beginning of history because we all need a little of the mystic and a little wonder in our lives.

We have inherited this need so Halloween style of celebrations have been going on in all countries through the ages.

Rather our roots go back to the Romans, Celts, Hebrews, Chinese or Indians, there is still that mystical awe and dread of the unknown.

It is interesting to see how the old traditions of the past color our modern lives. Our children have TV and other forms of entertainment and can buy "care bears," electrical robots, and make believe people from outer space. Their horizons are wider than the children of the past who had to depend on scary stories told around the campfires, and it was normal for them to imagine goblins, ghosts, and witches. Things not of this world. They had "All Hallows Eve" to celebrate this wonder of the past.

So let's prepare to celebrate this "wonder" in our own way. How about some finger foods for the youngsters to eat either before or after their foray. Children and grandchildren of all ages love deviled eggs, crackers, cheese and other nourishing tidbits.

STUFFED EGGS

These can be prepared ahead of time. Double this recipe if there is a crowd.
6 eggs, hard cooked
1 3/4 z. pkg. softened cream cheese
1/2 cup minced chicken or any other minced meat
Salt, pepper and Worcester-shire to taste.

Cut the eggs in halves lengthwise, remove yolks and mash, add the meat and seasonings, moisten with the cream cheese and return to the egg whites.

They will grab these up before they leave. With stick-to-the-ribs ingredients, it will not be just the kids who will like food like this for a change.

Graham Cheese Sandwich

Mix one package of cream cheese with an equal amount of chopped walnuts, season with salt and tiny bit of red pepper, moisten with a little milk or cream. Spread on graham crackers for a new twist.

An old favorite is cream cheese mixed with equal portions of deviled ham and salad dressing—very good on whole wheat or rye bread.

Have their favorite chocolate or cold milk handy for them to pour. You will not need desserts—they will already have had enough sweets before the evening is over.

If you feel that it is necessary to have one hot dish, serve the family the universal favorite among children. Macaroni and cheese. The boxed kind is very good and so easy to make.

However, if you wish to make it from scratch, try this very special

Deluxe Macaroni and Cheese
8 oz. small elbow macaroni
2 cups large curd cottage cheese
1 cup sour cream
1 egg lightly beaten
3/4 tsp. black pepper
2 tsp. Dijon mustard
2 1/2 cups sharp Cheddar cheese, shredded.

Cook macaroni according to instructions on the box.

In a large bowl combine remaining ingredients except 1/2 cup of the cheese.

Drain macaroni and toss with cheese mixture in bowl. Pour into a buttered 8x8x2-inch baking dish. Top with remaining cheese and bake uncovered in 400 degree oven 30 to 35 minutes or until set. If the top browns too much, cover with foil.

And it wouldn't be Halloween without cider and doughnuts and apples on the table.

Happy Halloween!

Freeway opening means less traveling time

A 19.4 mile stretch of new US 131 Freeway north of Big Rapids and south of Cadillac will be opened to traffic Oct. 23.

State Transportation Director James P. Pitz said it is the longest freeway segment ever opened at one time in west Michigan. It will close the gap in 150 miles of freeway extending from Portage, south of Kalamazoo, north to Cadillac.

The $41.1 million project runs from Nineteen Mile Road, north of Big Rapids, to the existing freeway near Luther.

A festive dedication ceremony featuring three bands and a caravan of tractor-trailer trucks is scheduled at 10:30 a.m. The site is on the northbound freeway five miles north of Nineteen Mile Road. (If the weather is bad it will take place in Reed City High School.)

The US 131 Area Development Association, a volunteer group of business, civic, tourist, government and education leaders along the freeway corridor, is sponsoring the ceremony. They have dubbed the freeway "The New Northwest Passage," highlighting its importance to west Michigan's economic development.

Work on the project began in the spring of 1984 and involved eight major contracts. Federal aid paid 77 percent of the cost and state funds the remainder.

Interchanges were built at US 10 near Reed City and at Ashton and Luther roads. Work included construction of 32 bridges and 4.5 miles of frontage roads.

award to bring even more business into the community.

Beagle said he hadn't received any phone calls yet from businesses that wanted to locate in the city, but he has had many calls from other communities asking what Boyne City is doing to get all the grants and awards. The other communities are asking what the set up of the town was so they could follow the same steps to try to achieve the success the city has had in the last few years.

How do you find flood insurance that protects your home and business?

No problem.

Because regular homeowners and business insurance policies do not protect you from flood loss, you might be all wet if you wait until the water rises to apply for flood insurance.

You can now purchase flood protection from Auto-Owners Insurance, the "No Problem" people.

So ask your local Auto-Owners agent just how his flood insurance can be "no problem" keeping you afloat if your home or business is flooded.

Over 22,000 Atlantic salmon were planted in Lake Charlevoix at Whiting Park last Friday by members of the DNR. The tanker bringing the fish drove non-stop from Maine where the fish were obtained as a gift from the Maine Fisheries Department.

Salmon plant first since 1970's

to help Michigan expand its Atlantic salmon fishery and in its desire to create a fishery from lake raised stock, rather than hatchery raised stock.

The last plant of salmon were somewhat successful, but according to Kircher, when the fish came up river to spawn, they stopped eating and started living on the body fat the fish had accumulated. Unfortunately, the fatty part of the fish also held the PCB and caused damage to the fish and their attempt to spawn. This new strain will not have as much of a problem as they will spawn in the lake and the amount of PCB found in the salmon today is less than it was back in the seventies.

They were also recently planted in Higgins and Crystal Lakes as well as Gull Lake and if the lake raised stocks do well, the DNR plans to continue with annual plants of Atlantic salmon in selected waters in the state, while still pursuing contact with other states for surplus Atlantic salmon. At the present time, Atlantic salmon provide a limited fishery to Michigan anglers, primarily in Lake Michigan and some tributary streams.

Atlantic salmon are native to the east coast and Europe, although the salmon planted Friday are relatives to those fish. Normally a saltwater fish, they spawn and generally spend their first year in fresh water streams. Over the years, they have adapted solely to surviving in large bodies of fresh water.

Interesting, say fisheries biologist, Atlantic salmon, unlike Pacific salmon do not die after spawning and generally live on for several years. Most reach weights of 10 to 20 pounds. The current state record for an Atlantic salmon is a 32 pound 10 ounce fish taken from Lake Michigan. At the plant, most were about five to seven inches long.

Brown Creek beautification started

BY ELOUISE ROSSLER

Brown Creek meanders through a sixty acre parcel of land owned by the East Jordan Public Schools. Unaware of the beauty spot it creates between two school buildings and in the edge of a small town, the creek goes about its business of helping drain its 7600 acre watershed and maintaining a home for trout-brown, rainbow, and brook, as it has done for centuries.

In 1977 the area between the two schools was worked on with trails taking shape as Dan Kuczynski, and assistant in the Community Education program, took the lead. In 1978 a CETA crew cleared an area and built a bridge over Brown Creek. In the fall steps were put in on the steep side and the path widened by a volunteer work bee group. In 1979, Bill Grimm from the Soil Conservation Service and Jamie Baumann, Community Education Director designated stations along the trail and wrote trail guides for self-use and for teachers to use with classes. Additional in-depth information was written for use by individuals and groups.

During the intervening years classes have taken on projects such as cleaning the area of litter, clearing fallen brush and clearing the creek of litter. Bridges have had to be repaired and rebuilt.

The East Jordan Garden Club hopes to renew interest by embarking on a project of restoration and conservation. In May, 1986, Martha Anear, Evelyn Gidley, Peggy Midener, Bernadine Grieg and others of the Garden Club, went hiking with Philip Nagele, from the Soil Conservation Service, Bill Grimm, retired Soil Conservationist, Maurice Hartung, lumberman and conservationist, and Tom Rossler, East Jordan Public Schools Superintendent to begin a coordinated effort of restoring and using the Brown Creek area. Trees and bushes need regular trimming, planting to prevent and to slow present erosion is needed, and replacement of sawdust on the trails are some of the on going needs to be met.

Bernadine Grieg of the East Jordan Garden Club has generously donated a bushel of daffodil bulbs to be planted this fall. Efforts are being made to restore a junior gardener group in the junior high to plant the daffodils and to begin work on other projects. Bridge building and maintenance is needed as well as pursuing the constant battle to keep litter picked up and to discourage motorized vehicles in the area.

For a pleasurable stroll, go in early morning or early evening when sounds of the surrounding area are minimal and the quietness of a working beauty spot are refreshing and soothing. Make up your own games of tree or plant identification or listen for bird calls to identify. A return to the wilderness restores the soul (to paraphrase Thoreau). This is as good a reason as any to explore the Brown Creek Preserve.

Halloween "Trick or Treat" activities are happily anticipated by many young children. District Health Department No. 3 would like all parents to read the following safety suggestions.

Warn children not to eat any of their treats before they get home. Examine all treats carefully before allowing children to eat them.

Look for costumes, masks, beards, and wigs labeled "Flame Resistant." Although these items could still catch fire, such labeling indicates that they will resist burning and should be extinguished quickly once removed from the ignition source. Flimsy materials and outfits with big, baggy sleeves or billowing skirts should be avoided to minimize the risk of contact with candles or other sources of ignition.

Make or buy costumes light and bright enough to be clearly visible to motorists. For greater visibility in dusk or darkness, costumes can be decorated with reflective tape. Reflective tape is usually available in hardware, bicycle, and sporting goods stores. Children should also carry flashlights to see—and be seen—more easily.

Costumes should be short enough to prevent children from tripping and falling. Children should wear well-fitting, sturdy shoes. Mother's high heels are not a good idea for safe walking.

Hats and scarfs should be tied securely to prevent them from slipping over children's eyes.

Apply a natural mask of cosmetics rather than have a child wear a loose fitting mask which might restrict breathing or obscure vision. If a mask is used, however, make sure it fits securely and has eyeholes large enough to allow full vision.

Swords, knives, and similar costume accessories should be of soft or flexible material.

Smaller children should always be accompanied by an older responsible child or an adult. All children should use the sidewalk rather than walk in the street, and they should walk not run from house to house. Children should be cautioned against running out from between parked cars, or across lawns and where ornaments, furniture, or clotheslines present dangers.

Children should only go to homes where residents have outside lights on as a sign of welcome. Children should not enter homes or apartments unless they are accompanied by an adult.

Those receiving trick-or-treaters should remove anything that could be an obstacle from steps, lawns, and porches. Candelit jack-o-lanterns should be kept away from landings, and doorsteps where costumes could brush against the flame. Indoor jack-o-lanterns should be kept away from curtains, decorations, or other furnishings that could be ignited.

Any parent with questions about the safety of their child's halloween snack, or proper times for trick or treaters, should contact their local law enforcement officers.

All the staff and Board of Health for District Health Department No. 3 hope that all children will have a safe and happy Halloween.

Wolverine sells Fermi shares to Edison

Wolverine Power Supply Cooperative, Inc. and the Detroit Edison Company have reached an agreement under which Wolverine will sell its remaining ownership interest in the Fermi II nuclear power plant to Detroit Edison. Fermi II is a 1,093 megawatt boiling water reactor located near Monroe, Michigan.

This agreement, which has received approval from both utilities' board of directors, will require Wolverine to purchase a substantial portion of the power supply needs for its seven member/owner systems from Detroit Edison until 2025. In exchange for this power supply arrangement, Detroit Edison will purchase Wolverine's ownership share in Fermi II.

"Wolverine and Detroit Edison have always maintained an excellent working relationship and one in which understandings have been reached to the benefit of both parties," said Raymond R. Cristell, Wolverine's executive vice president and general manager. "This agreement will allow Wolverine to maintain competitive wholesale power costs from today well into the next century and because of this assured power supply, Wolverine will have the ability to engage in various load management, marketing and economic development programs to further stabilize future wholesale power costs for its member-systems."

Under this new arrangement, Detroit Edison will continue to purchase portions of Wolverine's ownership interest in Fermi 2 until the plant is placed into commercial operation. Thereafter, until January 1, 1990, Detroit Edison will purchase all of Wolverine's capacity and energy from Fermi 2. These payments from Detroit Edison will be used by Wolverine to make its quarterly principal and interest payments to the Rural Electrification Administration ("REA") until January 1, 1990. On January 1, 1990, Detroit Edison will purchase the remaining ownership interest of Wolverine in Fermi 2.

To consummate this transaction, Wolverine must still reach further understandings with the REA regarding Wolverine's remaining Fermie II indebtedness and other financial conditions. In addition, approvals are also required from the Michigan Public Service Commission and various governmental and regulatory bodies.

Wolverine first became involved in the Fermi II plant when its two predecessors, Northern Michigan Electric Cooperative and Wolverine Electric Cooperative, jointly purchased a 20 percent ownership interest in the plant in early 1977. Detroit Edison is presently projecting a Spring, 1987 commercial operation date for Fermi II.

Wolverine supplies wholesale power to seven rural electric cooperatives which, in turn sell electricity to approximately 130,000 member/consumers in mostly rural portions of Northern and Western Michigan.

Wolverine's seven members are Cheryland Rural Electric Cooperative Association (Grawn), O & A Electric Cooperative (Newaygo), Oceana Electric Cooperative (Hart), Presque Isle Electric Cooperative, Inc. (Onaway), Top O'Michigan Rural Electric Company (Boyer City), Tri-County Electric Cooperative (Portland) and Western Michigan Electric Cooperative (Scottville).

Building A Better Future

Dear Friends,

Serving you in the Senate is a privilege and challenge that I greatly enjoy. During the past eight years, we have made much progress, but much more needs to be done.

Cindy, Mitch and Jeff

We must work together to keep and create more new jobs. We must work to conserve our natural resources. We must work to reduce our reliance on property taxes for school finance and increase state funding to improve our schools. We must work to ensure quality and affordable health care for all of our people. And we must be sure Northern Michigan stays as special as it is today.

I appreciate your past support and I thank you for your confidence. I ask for your vote on November 4 so we can continue our work together to build a better future.

Sincerely,

Mitch

Ramblers look good against Hurons, but lose

The Boyne City varsity football squad relinquished a 13-12 lead Friday night hosting the Rogers City Hurons, (now 5-3) in a matchup that proved to be an even tighter game than the final 34-13 score indicated.

Boyne fell as the victim of deception as three big plays from the Hurons accounted for the wide scoring margin. The Ramblers gave up big yardage to the Rogers City quarterback as he bootlegged the ball for gains of fifty yards, one of those, being a 23 yard touchdown. Two identical third period screen passes went for Huron touchdowns, one from 47 yards out, and the other a 42 yarder. The last big yardage play for the Hurons was a 90 yard gallop after a short yardage tackle was broken and the ball carrier sped away.

Rogers City received excellent field position when the Ramblers were unable to drive from the game opening kick-off and were forced to punt. A short snap resulted in a short kick, and the Hurons set themselves up for a scoring drive. A 17 yard pass went to the Rambler 20, and two plays later, the Hurons passed over the middle into the Rambler endzone.

The Ramblers drove from their own 30 to the 48 in five plays, but were caught behind the line of scrimmage for a 12 yard loss and punted again.

Rogers City was quick with the ball, driving from their own 45 to the Ramblers 21 before turning the ball over to Pat Weeks on a fumble recovery.

Deep in their own territory, (the 18), the Ramblers began a long drive downfield. With 2:04 remaining in the first period Weeks delivered a seven yard pass to Brian Napont on first down, and Boyne City was on the march. An eight yard pass reception and a five yard run by Brandon Billings put the Ramblers at the midfield mark and Keoki Kuheana dove through the middle into Huron territory.

By this stage of the game, the Hurons side of the field began to wonder just "who are those guys out there?" The Hurons were indeed struggling with the reality that this Boyne City team was tougher than their 1-7 record would indicate. Rogers City felt the brunt of further frustration when penalized for unsportsman like conduct on the sidelines and set the Ramblers up at the 17. Thirteen yards on two plays by Kuheana, one of fackle, and the other up the middle, put Boyne at the five with a first and goal to go. In the Hurons' goal line stand huddle Rogers City reminded themselves, "we have to hold them here, or we're in trouble." After three attempts at the goal, the Rambler interior pushed forwards and Boyne was into the endzone for 6-6 tie. Rambler place kicker, Billings put the extra point on the board and Boyne had its' first lead of the game.

It took the Hurons three minutes and eight plays to erase the Rambler lead as a 23 yard bootleg gave the Hurons their second T.D. and a 12-7 lead. The Ramblers were unable to capitalize on two consecutive pass receptions to Scott Beebe for a combination of 31 yards gained. On fourth and three the Ramblers were forced to turn the ball over on downs with 1:20 left in the half.

The second half opened with the Hurons fumbling the ball away to the Ramblers on their second play from scrimmage. Boyne City picked up where they left off in the first half and began to eat up the field. With Kuheana punching holes through the Huron interior, the Ramblers moved to the R.C. 35. From there Weeks connected with an aerial to Kuheana who ran 27 yards to the Huron 3. Kuheana scored on the next play, diving through the line for a 13-12 Rambler lead.

Rogers City opened the game up in the remainder of the third period, taking a 26-13 lead after scoring twice on big yardage screen passes. Boyne took over the ball as the fourth period ended and began another long drive downfield.

An eight yard pass to Kuheana opened what has been the Ramblers best passing attack of the year. Beebe collected a 30 yarder and another for 9 yards to put the Ramblers at the R.C. 12. Boyne advanced to the Huron 4 on an 8 yard reception by Billings, but had the ball stolen away on the next play. A pass into the endzone was tipped over a Rambler receiver and picked off by the Hurons.

Following the ninety yard T.D. run that gave the Hurons a 34-14 lead, the Ramblers were unable to mount a sustained drive on three possessions of the ball.

The Ramblers will wind up the football season this Friday night in Petoskey against a struggling Northman platoon. The Northmen are currently 2-5 in league standings, and are 3-5 overall.

Keoki Kuheana of the Boyne City Ramblers takes this hand-off from Pat Weeks and looks into a big hole in the Huron line. Providing some unorthodox blocking is Charles Vondra (71).

Boyne girls beat Hurons

Boyne City's varsity girls basketball team received a long awaited victory Thursday night as they hosted the Rogers City Hurons and as the 47-36 winners.

Things immediately went to Boyne's favor as Lori Knight opened the evening scoring twice from inside the key. Leading 4-0, Rambler Kerry Harvey started off a good rebounding night as she sank a rebound for a 6-0 lead.

Matching up girl-on-girl on defense, the Ramblers dogged the Hurons through nearly half of the period, allowing no points and taking all rebounds. Good outlet passes set up fast breaks that accounted for four more points. Counting down on one minute to play, Michelle Vroman closed out the Ramblers scoring with a three point play for a 15-5 margin.

The Ramblers continued to rebound strong through the second period, but were slowed down on offense when the Hurons applied full pressure. Capitalizing on Rambler fouls, the Hurons converted for points from the charity stripe on three occasions and pulled within seven points shortly before the half ended. Colleen Toton and Knight scored the only points in the final two minutes of the game to stretch the Rambler lead for a 23-16 margin when time expired.

The Ramblers went on to outscore the Hurons in the third period 14-11 with Rogers City pulling within reach, then Boyne City pulling out again.

Late in the quarter, Colleen Williams, became the benefactor of Huron fouls when she went four-of-four at the line with thirty seconds remaining in the quarter.

Rogers City applied full court pressure to open the final period as they trailed 37-27 at the time, but sticking to the man-on-man style of defense held the Hurons in check. The Ramblers allowed just nine points in the period for the win.

Three Ramblers finished the game in double figures with Williams being the leader totaling 13 points. Knight and Toton scored 11 and 10 points respectively.

Also scoring for the Ramblers were Harvey with 6 points, Vroman with 3 points, while Kelly Smith and Jill Harris added 2 point each.

East Jordan is back on track

By Dennis Skroeki

The East Jordan varsity football team got back on the winning trail last Friday with an impressive 38-16 victory over the Central Lake Trojans. The victory allowed the Red Devil squad to maintain its position as co-leader of the Ski-Valley Conference, a title which they share with the Harbor Springs Rams.

The Devils got things rolling early as the defense forced the Central Lake offense to punt, giving the Devil offense the ball at their own 41 yard line to start their opening drive. After a nine yard run by Ted Snowden, which took the ball to the mid-field stripe, quarterback Greg Kitson hooked up with a wide open Shannon Olstrom on a 50 yard touchdown pass putting the Red Devils out to an early 6-0 lead. Kitson connected with Jim Raymond on the extra point attempt to extend the early edge to 8-0.

With Central Lake deep in East Jordan territory at the 31 yard line on their next offensive possession, the Devil defense stopped the Trojan threat by causing a fumble which was recovered by Devil defensive tackle Darrin Bishop. The relief did not last long as, after half-back Steve Dionne, was dropped for a loss of two yards, Kitson threw an interception which gave the Trojans great field position at the Devil 35 yard line. The tough East Jordan defense, as it had on the previous drive, rose to the occasion, forcing Central Lake to turn the ball over on downs.

This time the offense made the most of the defensive strength. After five consecutive ground plays which saw running backs Steve Dionne, Darrin Graham and Ted Snowden combine for 44 yards, Kitson and Raymond hooked up on a 39 yard pass which took the Devils to the Central Lake four yard line. From there Graham went into the endzone with the Devils second touchdown of the game. The extra point pass from Kitson to Snowden was complete and the Devil lead was extended to 16-0.

Each team received one more first half possession but neither was able to mount a scoring drive as the Trojans were forced to punt and time ran out on the Devils scoring attempt as they were content with the 16-0 lead.

The Red Devils appeared to be a bit sluggish early in the second half as they fumbled the ball away on the second play of their opening possession. Central Lake capitalized on the Devil turnover by scoring their first touchdown of the game. The extra point conversion was good and the Trojans were back in the game as they now trailed by only eight points.

The Devils, after receiving the kickoff, fumbled the ball on the first play from scrimmage giving Central Lake a seemingly sure score with field position deep in EJ territory at the 35 yard line. But the Trojans, despite great field position, couldn't get into the endzone and fumbled the ball over. From then on the game was all East Jordan.

Although they were forced to punt on the possession after the fumble recovery, the Devils got the ball right back as Olstrom picked off a Trojan pass and returned it to the Central Lake 24 yard line. The Devils kept to the ground game as a series of runs took the ball to the Central Lake four yard line where Graham punched it into the endzone. The extra point pass attempt from Kitson to Ron Cook was good and the Devils scored their first points of the second half to increase their lead to 24-8. After the kickoff East Jordan regained possession quickly as linebacker Terry Burt intercepted the Trojans third play from scrimmage leaving the Devils just 35 yards away from six more points. Al Merrill ran the first play five yards to the Central Lake 28 yard line. Kitson then found Raymond open over the middle for a 14 yard completion. Dionne and Graham then combined on carries to the three yard line and from there Merrill took it into the endzone. Kitson connected with Olstrom on the extra point conversion and the Devils were now at an unreachable 32-8 lead with 6:36 remaining in the ballgame.

The Trojan offense was again unable to mount an offensive attack as they were forced to punt and EJ again had control of the ball. A series of long runs by Merrill and Graham took the Devils from their starting position at the 38 yard line to the Central Lake three where Steve Dionne scored his first points of the game adding six to the Devil lead. The extra point conversion attempt from Dennis Skroeki to Rick Clark fell incomplete but the Dionne touchdown made the score 38-8.

The Trojans scored their second points of the game with 1:13 remaining in the fourth quarter on a halfback sweep that went for 40 yards. The extra point conversion was successful cutting the Devil lead by eight points to 38-16. The touchdown seemed irrelevant to the Devils as they were already celebrating a parents night victory.

Graham was once again the Devils leading ground gainer picking up 80 yards on 12 carries for a 5.8 yards per carry average. Merrill gained 65 yards on eight carries as Dionne picked up 43 yards on eight carries. In the passing department Kitson was seven of twelve for 120 yards and a touchdown. Raymond led all receivers with three receptions good for 56 yards as Olstrom hauled down two passes for 53 yards and a touchdown.

Terry Burt led the defensive turning in a strong 13 tackles, 1 interception performance. Olstrom, Dionne and Darrin Bishop collected ten tackles each. Bishop also had a fumble recovery and Olstrom an interception. Jamie "Chainsaw" Bartlett also turned in a strong defensive performance with nine tackles.

The Red Devils wind up their 1986 season on Friday, October 31 when they host the Mancelona Ironmen. Kickoff is at 7:30.

EJ jayvees defeat Boyne Falls Loggers

The East Jordan JV girls emerged as the victorious basketball team after matching up with Boyne Falls for a 53-38 game.

East Jordan took the lead early, outscoring the Loggers 10-6 through the first period. At the half, East Jordan had enlarged on the margin for a 27-14 lead, and led 45-24 and Jaine Healey added two points.

For the Loggers Sandy Koeman was the teams leading scorer with 9 points while Karen Bearss had 8 points, Missey Massey scored 7, Nikki Kerridge had 6, Claudine Crego scored 4, while Holly Groh and Patty Bearss contributed 2 points apiece.

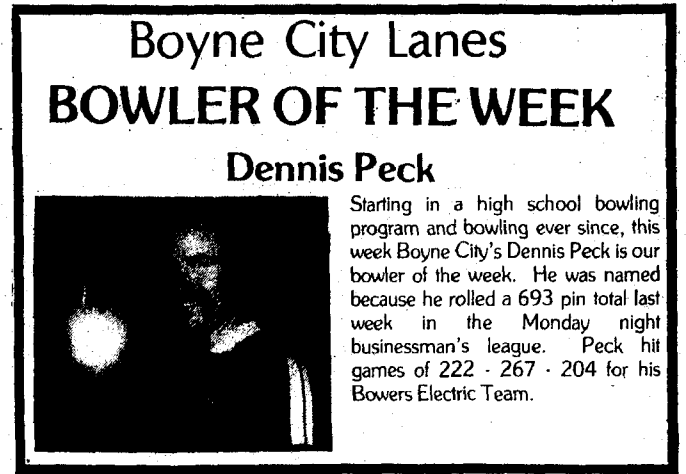

EJ girls lose to Bellaire

Things looked bleak as the East Jordan girls' varsity basketball team, failed to have a good second half against Bellaire as they had in Boyne Falls. The Devils were outscored in the first two periods and trailed by a sizeable margin at half time (15 points).

The ladies cut the deficit to 11 points at the end of the third period but were unable to mount a fourth quarter scoring attack as they had against Boyne Falls and went down in defeat 58-33.

Offensively Sara Chase and Monica Olstrom led the team with eight points each. Chase, a freshman brought up from the JV to fill in for injured point guard Jill Burt, tur-

By Dennis Skroeki

The East Jordan 21 to compete in the High School cross Gaylord Invitational. This was to be the last meet of the 1986 season before attending regionals on Saturday, October 25.

The men's team, which finished ninth, was led by sophomore, Tracy Reich who finished 17th individually with a time of 17:08 good to capture the teams only medal. Finishing behind Reich were: Tim Brennan, 33rd-17:49; Nate Jason, 53rd-19:14; Gerry Cizewski, 54th-19:15; Kevin Cordova, 62nd-19:39; and Keith Vincent 79th-23:17.

Leading the ladies to a fourth place finish were medal winners: Jody Cordova and Chris Jankowski. Individually Cordova captured the seventh place spot with a time of 21:07 as Jankowski placed 10th turning in a fine time of 21:21.

Also turning in strong performances, were Theresa Brennan, 16th-21:53; Renee Spence, 18th-22:12; Laura Nemecek, 31st-23:54; and Tresa Hoffman, 38th with a time of 26:31.

Coach Snarey's selections for outstanding meet performers were; for the men, Tracy Reich for his continued improvement and steadiness. And for the women, Renee Spence as she is beginning to return to her old form after a five meet layoff.

The teams traveled to Ludington on Saturday, October 25 to compete in the 1986 cross country regional meet. This meet is a qualifying run for the state meet that will be held in Cass City on Saturday, November 1. Only the top 15 runners in the regionals will qualify to run in the state competition.

The ladies team, led by Jody Cordova, will be sending three runners to the state meet. Other than Cordova, who placed sixth out of the 110 runner field with a time of 20:56, Renee Spence and Theresa Brennan will also be representing East Jordan in Cass City on Saturday. Spence captured 10th place with a time of 21:03 as Brennan captured the 15th and final spot with a time of 21:21. Also turning in strong performances were Nemecek, 44th-24:15 and Tresa Hoffman, 55th-25:45. Hoffman ran the entire race on an ankle injury which she received within the first 100 yards of the race.

The men's team, although they did not place a runner in the state meet, they ran strong just the same. Tracy Reich led the way finishing 34th out of a 137 runner field with a time of 17:46. Following Reich were: Tim Brennan, who finished with a time of 18:19; Nate Jason, 18:56; Gerry Cizewski, 19:15; Keith Harchis, 20:42; Kevin Cordova, 20:56; and Keith Vincent, 23:09. Individual placings for these runners were not available.

As everyone ran so well Coach Snarey selected no outstanding runner awards for the meet. However, he did select an outstanding quotation by Jody Cordova, "Coach Snarey, I'll never be able to beat 95 other girls."

Congratulations girls! Good luck in the State Competition.

Brown Creek project started

A small, but hardworking and enthusiastic group of students, teachers and East Jordan Garden Club members began the process of cleaning up the litter in the Brown Creek Preserve on October 25. The sixth grade had been the focal grade to help with the project in a joint effort of the school and the Garden Club. In addition to picking up litter, the group also began planting spring bulbs in areas to help contain erosion and to beautify the area. The bulbs have been donated by a Garden Club member to be used on this project. The students were awarded for their labors by being treated to pizza after the work session was over. Certainly these young civic minded citizens should be commended for their efforts. Hopefully, even more students will be able to participate in future Brown Creek projects as it is a beauty spot for the school as well as for the entire city.
