News Briefs

Boyne City High School officials said they couldn't find anything missing or damaged after school officials discovered Monday morning the school had a breaking and entering over the weekend. The entry was made through the band room after those entering broke a window and door to get entry.

Boyne City Schools also had a bus accident Monday when the kindergarten bus, with five children aboard had to take evasive action to get around a car on Pleasant Road south of Healey Road. The accident caused the bus to slide into the trees where the bumper was bent, the fiberglass hood was cracked and the tie rod was bent. No injuries were reported on the narrow road.

All parties involved with snow removal from private property should be advised that pushing snow across the roadways or dumping it on the roadways can be charged with a misdemeanor offense, according to the Charlevoix County Sheriff George Lasater and Fred Welch the Road Commissioner engineer.

Boyne City Historical Society's annual Christmas Tree lighting ceremony will be held Friday evening in their temporary museum at the Rainy Day Lady in Downtown Boyne City. The ceremony will take place about the same time as the city's lighting of their Christmas tree also in the same area. Members of the society say the public is welcome to enjoy some refreshments between 7 and 8 p.m., December 12, 1986.

BC approves sex ed in high school

Ninth and tenth grade highschoolers in the Boyne City School system will be starting a two week session on human sexuality after Monday night's school board meeting approval of the recommendations set forth by the Human Growth and Development committee.

The committee has been working on a curriculum for the teaching of sex education in the high school for several years, and according to board member and committee member Thelma Behling, "It has taken us a long time to get this far."

She added that "If the program doesn't hit any snags, the ten days of classes will become part of the Health Ed program."

The program uses a combination of experts in their fields, teachers, slide shows and filmstrips to present the sexually oriented material to the students.

The program is slated to start shortly after the Christmas break as part of the health education classes.

Included in the ten day class unit will be an introduction to the program by Dr. Jack Postle, a gynecologist at Northern Michigan Hospitals. He will be describing what the purpose, intent and seriousness the program presents. A filmstrip called Anatomy and Attitude will be shown.

Another expert, Bert Notestine, the director of the Emmet County Health Department will lead a session on sexually transmitted diseases.

State Police Trooper Charles Munnyon will lead a session covering sexual conduct and rape prevention. He will be describing self-protection, reporting cases, trauma and guilt feelings, rights of individuals and will hold a question and answer period.

Another expert on Family abuse will be making a presentation. Jan Mancinelli, the director of the Women's Resource Center in Petoskey will be discussing many of the ways abuse takes place, patterns, incest, and other experiences in the area to highlight the complexity of the problem.

Teen-age pregnancy will head another session with Mary Biagini the director of the Char-Em Alternative School.

Values and Social behavior will be the title of presentations by the Rev. Mike Conklin, of the Boyne City Methodist Church.

Also included will be a session on family planning, presented by Susan Killan, Health Practitioner of the Charlevoix County Health Department.

Along with the experts, students will be looking at filmstrips and movies on many subjects dealing with sexuality.

A special meeting will be held prior to the classes being offered so that concerned parents and the public can review the materials, according to Warren Wade, the school principal.

He also said that students can opt out of any given day with parent approval if the parents do not want to have their children in the classes.

Parents will also have the option of not letting the children take the session.

Some aspects of the ten day program may be updated, like

Petition asks Devils to remain same

After sitting through an extensive agenda of significant school board issues, the majority of a mannerly crowd of about 100 East Jordan residents and high school students at the regular school board meeting Monday night, gave strong support to a presentation by Nancy Sherman of over 575 signatures requesting that the East Jordan school logo remain unchanged.

The crowd listened quietly and attentively as former cheerleader, coach, and long time resident of East Jordan, Nancy Sherman, presented the petitions supporting the use of the present school logo. She noted that the issue, and not the logo, had caused disharmony and cited other positive interpretations of the logo such as "one of lively spirits" and "notable energy." President Mary Jason reported that a committee including residents, students, coaches and administrators had been formed to make recommendations on this issue. Three students made short comments concerning the positive attitudes and sportsmanship they had been taught as members of the East Jordan teams. Thirty-eight year resident Maurice Hartung commented on the formation of the present logo and lent support to the unity and positive community spirit of East Jordan.

Board members also heard administrative reports from Community Education Director Anne Dingman who presented the architect's rendering of the East Jordan Community Pool, which will be on display at the high school, the status of the state-required three year plan for adult education, the Learn to Ski program for students and the cross country ski program for students and adults, that East Jordan Schools were beginning a drug awareness program involving many aspects of the community; principal Keith Moore reported on the formation of East Jordan High School's growing chapter of Student Against Drunk Driving and the student involvement in the Student Leadership Forum; and K-8 Director Gary Albring's recommendation of adoption of a Chapter One guidelines incorporating parents as a part of the program. This recommendation was adopted.

Tom LaVanway, bulk gas distributor, answered questions concerning the savings and services possible by contracting with his company, Tomco.

Insurance quotations from Bingham Insurance, and SET-SEG were incomplete, needed to be resubmitted and would be reconsidered at a special board meeting.

In further action, the board set tuition rates for '86-87 at $340.53 for elementary and $448.74 for secondary, considered standardized testing guidelines, substitute teacher informational guidelines, and approved a tenure recommendation for English teacher Mary Irwin.

Moore and Albring then reported the MEAP scores of 4th, 7th, and 10th graders which showed significant increases in reading and a slight drop in math and, as was the case throughout the state, moderate scores in science, which was tested for the first time this year. Superintendent Rossler reported that a study would be made to see what could be done to improve these scores and would report to the board before spring vacation.

Superintendent Rossler also discussed the options available to the board concerning Public Act 198 governing smoking in public buildings. The board approved a suggested format for manner of conduct of future board meetings, approved a recommendation by Principal Moore for six Apple II G.S. computers, and accepted Boris Daneff's resignation.

EJ looks at treatment plant survey

After approval of a consent agenda in which the Parks and Recreation Committee recommended that the City open the Civic Center on a trial basis on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. for the public to use for a walking program, the East Jordan

City Council heard reports at their regular meeting, for December from Larry Levensgood, District Health Sanitarian and Larry Fox and Rich Beaupre, from Granger Construction. Levensgood updated the Council on ground water protection strategies and recommendations made to townships for protection of ground water.

Granger Construction Engineers Fox and Beaupre presented a preliminary study of the East Jordan sewer and treatment plant commissioned in September. This study revealed that the East Jordan sanitary sewer is subject to significant infiltration which closely parallels the amount of rainwater and rising water table. The recommendation of this study concluded that the city should conduct an infiltration and inflow study to identify and quantify the sources and areas, to install a flow splitting structure at the lagoon processing site, perform sewer rehabilitation as required, and to enter into the needed project applying for and utilizing available EPA and state grants.

Superintendent Dionne commended the report and made residents aware of the emergency services available from the Remedial Flood Package program which makes available free of cost sand bags, sand, and plastic sheeting for shore erosion control by applying to him.

Dionne reported that the harbor project would be in operation in the spring and that 35 individuals had tentatively applied for docking space.

Mayor Sweet raised questions concerning enforcement of ordinances banning farm animals within the city limits.

Tests determine landfill cannot be consolidated

"We were hoping to find areas where the amount of refuse buried would be shallow enough to allow it to be consolidated to a concentrated site at the former landfill," City Manager Randy Frykberg said reviewing a report sent to the city concerning where the refuse was located at the former city landfill.

But the report showed refuse has been buried deeper and over a larger area than suspected.

The report, made by the H.C. Hall civil engineering company, is part of the ongoing plan to eventually provide a cap to the landfill and permanently close the site as required by the Department of Natural Resources.

The city had hoped to find the trash buried shallow enough so it could be moved to concentrated sites on the landfill so those sites could be capped with clay.

The clay is supposed to provide an impervious coating to the landfill from rainwater. That would then help protect groundwater from seeping into the refuse and possibly contaminating the ground water as the water flows out of the landfill area.

But with the report showing about 30 acres having been used to bury trash, and the depth of much of the waste, it looks like the city will be spending more money for the clay cap than anticipated.

It is not economically feasible to consolidate the trash into concentrated sites.

The survey designating the areas where trash has been buried was outlined by a magnetic detector followed by 37 test borings into and through the trash.

Borings were made wherever the magnetic instrument detected metal. That metal may have been old tin cans or other refuse.

Trash was found at 33 of the borings and indicated depths of as little as one foot to as deep as 15 feet. Some areas showed the

CHRISTMAS

We've had our first real snow storm, and it puts us into the mood for Christmas. Up north we are surrounded by Christmas Card scenery. From my window I see the white caps on beautiful Lake Charlevoix. The Landings give the view a typical Old World scene. The wooden fence posts are topped with caps of white and our snow covered evergreen trees finish the picture. I almost expect to see a horse drawn cutter and hear the jingle bells. I go for a winter walk and am thankful that I am here at this time and place. However, I am glad that I do not have to hitch up the horse to go to town. Fireplaces are beautiful, though I am glad that I do not have to depend on one.

Christmas is a feeling; it's something in the air. It signifies a new life. Anyone who has held a new-born baby knows what it is. Christmas is love—a time when we want to give things to our loved ones; a time to show our appreciation to our friends who have contributed to the joy in our lives this past year. It is a time to remember the gifts that we have received with thankfulness.

Memory takes me back to a time when I received a very special gift. Our Christmas program at school, I was to sing a lullaby with other little girls and we were to carry and rock our dolls while we sang. It crossed my mind a few times that my only doll was raggedy and very old, though I did not expect a new one; and if I did it would be too late for the program because it was to be a couple days before Christmas. Many Christmases Mother made new clothes for our dolls and sometimes she even bought a new head for the old bodies.

Through a few tears of remembering I see myself walking into the house after school the day of the program. And "low and behold" sitting on the clock shelf was a beautiful little doll just the right size for a little girl to rock to sleep. She even had hair!

Christmas is family time and we will be making memories for our children and preparing their favorite foods. I have a few recipes which are family favorites of my friends that I am happy to share.

Our family exchanges gifts on Christmas eve and there is too much excitement to sit down to eat, so we always have a big tray of goodies to eat whenever we have the urge. On this tray is an assortment of cold cuts, cheeses, vegetables and crackers for dips and always deviled eggs. This year I will make Esther Welch's spinach balls; made ahead of time then pop them into the oven for a quick hot food.

ESTHER'S SPINACH BALLS
10 oz. fresh or frozen spinach, chopped

1/2 large onion, minced
2 eggs, beaten
1/2 cup melted butter or margarine

1/4 cup Parmesan cheese
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/8 teaspoon garlic salt
1/2 tsp. thyme
1 cup stuffing mix, crushed

Cook spinach, drain well. Mix together spinach, onion, eggs, butter, cheese, garlic, thyme and pepper. Add stuffing crumbs and mix thoroughly. Shape into balls and chill for several hours or freeze and use later.

Bake 350 degrees for 20 minutes.

Make these balls about 1 inch through.

Debbie Sierocki's family likes this accompaniment to any meat she serves them. She says that it is good with turkey, ham, pork roast or beef roast. If you have turkey, you will not need to stuff it, just make

DEBBIE'S STUFFING CASSEROLE

4 med. sliced zucchini
6 tablespoons margarine, divided
1/2 cup shredded carrots
1/2 cup chopped onion

1/2 cup sour cream

Cook zucchini in boiling, salted water just until tender; drain well. Saute carrots and onion in 4 tablespoons of the margarine. Remove from heat and add 1 1/2 cups stuffing cubes, sour cream and cooked zucchini. Spoon into 1 1/2 qt. casserole. Melt remaining 2 tablespoons margarine; add remaining stuffing cubes; toss and sprinkle on casserole.

Bake at 350 degrees for 30 to 40 minutes, until nicely browned.

My friend Joyce Saddler gave me this recipe for orange bread. She says that there is always a time during the holidays for this delicious bread, either Christmas morning or for snacks with left-overs.

Mix the flour, salt, soda and sugar; add to the above ingredients and mix well.

Bake in a greased loaf pan at 350 degrees for 1 1/2 hours, or until tester comes out clean.

How do you find flood insurance that protects your home and business?

No problem.

Because regular homeowners and business insurance policies do not protect you from flood loss, you might be all wet if you wait until the water rises to apply for flood insurance.

You can now purchase flood protection from Auto-Owners Insurance, the "No Problem" people.

So ask your local Auto-Owners agent just how his flood insurance can be "no problem" keeping you afloat if your home or business is flooded.

Engaged?

The Charlevoix County Press publishes engagement and wedding announcements without charge.

Pictures are welcomed, but we do suggest a few guidelines. Good quality black and white photographs, either of the couple or bride-elect, are preferred. All photographs are kept on file in the Press office and may be picked up at any time following publication; those pictures not picked up after six months will be discarded.

Wedding and engagement announcement forms are available at our office or will be mailed upon request and the receipt of a self-addressed stamped envelope.

While we try to publish each announcement the week that we receive it (and in the case of weddings, the first publication date following the ceremony), space constraints sometimes force us to delay the printing of the announcement for one or two weeks. Therefore, we ask that information be received at least two weeks before the intended publication so that we might better plan for its publication.

We will not accept wedding announcements received more than four weeks after the wedding.

I shall now speak of the sorry side of the approaching holiday: Santa is down the street around the corner sitting on a fire-hydrant waiting out the next two weeks until Christmas—a Christmas small children have been waiting for and waiting for. And it never seems to come.

That's because of those stores that try to whip up the Christmas spirit right after Halloween. By Thanksgiving time the spirit begins to droop from an overdose of gaudy commercial display of St. Nick and all of his trappings. Thirty days to us is years to a child.

Maybe Christmas isn't for children anymore. Maybe it is for older folks to spend money to keep store registers ringing. Kids can join in the fun if they behave.

I asked a merchant why he displayed Christmas stuff so far in advance. He said the longer he could keep the excitement going, the more money he would make.

I can hear it now: "It can't be Labor Day yet, there's no Christmas stuff in the stores."

Austin Sevenser does not need that $20,000 automobile he won free for nothing. But he deserved to win it because he is such a nice guy. Boyne City needs more people like him.

It says here that marriages are made in Heaven. That's true.

We were married on cloud nine in Horton Bay. That's the nearest I ever got to paradise. Like everyone else I would like to wind up in Heaven, but I'll be darned if I want to croak to do it.

I've had enough of George Bush and I don't understand why. He isn't even president yet.

Why is it that when a man is young, healthy, full of vinegar and that other stuff, his mind is often cluttered up with just one thing? One thing, mind you! Then when he is old and grumpy, his mind is full of several thoughts. It takes years for many thoughts to crowd out one thought. I speak here from experience and great frustration.)

Sometimes I play the fool in this column. Politicians are doing it in Washington right now, why can't I?

A fellow was telling me that Bendix Corporation pulled out of Sault Ste. Marie several years ago. Why am I getting so nervous?

I was going to say something here, but I can't remember what it was. Maybe I've already said it.

Disappointed in U.A.W. members

Editor, It was a bit disappointing for me to read letters from union members berating the Boyne City Planning Commission for its actions taken, at a recent commission meeting, concerning Bendix-Courter.

The letters, in substance and tone, were far below what I would expect from U.A.W. members who I remember as intelligent, responsible and socially conscious people. As a retired member and the first president of Local 1403, I know the value of a union and a job, as well of the many difficulties we went through to obtain the union and keep that job. I also know that one doesn't resolve such an important and delicate issue as Planning in the newspaper, nor does one resolve it by threatening innocent bystanders.

Back in the logging days of Boyne City, about 1905, these ships were familiar visitors to the area as they docked at the end of White Lumber Company's dock to load up another load of lumber for the big cities. The boat in the foreground met its demise while sailing towards Chicago when it went down somewhere around the Manitou Islands, according to some folks. There were three boats used by the company in moving the lumber to market.

Remembrances

Jottings

BY JIM SILBAR

Oh, all right, all you snowbirds down in Florida. I will try to tell you how much snow has accumulated here in the Boyne Valley and the Jordan Valley so you can brag among your other Florida friends about the town where you came from.

But, in the past it was hard to find someone who could go out and measure the snow. Someone at the County Road Commission used to do it for them, but they don't let us know.

And another thing, do you want the snow depth from Charlevoix where they get less? Or from Boyne City where we get a little more, or do you want it from the Chandler Hill area where they get a lot more?

It does make a difference, of course.

Like last year we were getting a couple of inches in Charlevoix, but due to the lake effect snows, a foot or so in the Chandler area.

So far this year, we have gotten about seven inches of snow that was covered with about six inches of nice fluffy stuff skiers dream about.

We have also had a few snows that dropped maybe an inch total.

Right now, we are sitting with about three to four inches on the ground. That's enough to make the roads miserable, for Santa's sleigh to not wear out the runners, and my back to hurt from the shoveling already.

Ooops, another snowflake hit me in the eye. Looks like we are going to get another couple of inches. Oh well, it is that time of the year, ya know.

Maybe I can book a flight down to be with all you folks for the annual Boyne City—East Jordan—All Florida picnic. Save me some room.

With all the snow, this past weekend was the weekend of the ski instructor at our local ski area, Boyne Mountain. While they may not like to be considered a "local" ski area, in that most of their patrons come from miles away within the state and the midwest, they are our "local" ski area at least to my way of thinking.

All of those instructors come up every two years to learn the current fashion in ski teaching, the new ways of teaching and the shortcuts they can use to help the skiers get to the advanced ski level faster and safer.

We have skiers who, on a dare, will try to attempt to go down the hill from the top without making a turn, or knowing how to. We have skiers who at this time of the year have ski legs that are worthless after just a few hours of skiing, and we have those willing to spend their own money to continue their education in a teaching profession.

Oh, they are not unionized like our school teachers, although they do have an association that some may find difficult to raise above the norm. They require a certification just like the school teachers, but unlike the school teachers, they are required to come to ski at a clinic like this past weekend in order to keep their certification.

Unlike a teacher with tenure.

Teachers, once they have the tenure, aren't required to keep up with all of the new ways and new ideas. Some do try to keep up by going back to school to further their education and receive a masters or specialists degree, but that is so they could make more money from the school system.

Heck, some of the ski instructors are also teachers in school systems throughout the Indiana, Ohio and Michigan region. They may not have to continue their education as a doctor, or a good sound management person, but they do have to come back to the clinic to learn.

I enjoy having them come up to use our "local" ski hill for a weekend to do it.

BY GAIL WARE

I guess that if I reached a bit, I could say that I look perky in the picture. That's only around the ears though. Around the eyes and mouth, I look smug, or dim-witted, depending on the way the light strikes it. And this is one of the best driver's license pictures I've ever had.

Measured against the other problem confronting society today, the dismal appearance of driver's license photographs doesn't stand very tall. So it hasn't attracted much attention. But it should. At least a Presidential commission should be appointed to study it. I could look into the long-term effects on mental health of requiring people to carry around unflattering likenesses of themselves year after year, especially ones that have to be shown on numerous occasions to complete strangers. The commission members would no doubt find serious drawbacks in this arrangement.

I figure the problem with the photographs has to be in the cameras. What I can't figure out is how all the Secretary of State branch offices in all the states have managed to get hold of so many cameras that take such uniquely bad pictures. But maybe it's that the states all order cameras from the same factory. And the factory assembles a special product for driver's license pictures only.

On the other hand, the cameras might be quite all right, capable of taking good pictures, when they're shipped. But once they reach the state offices, they're altered for license picture-taking so they can produce the odd pictures that they do.

I've done some figuring on that too — what makes the photographs look so odd. It's that the pictures look just a shade different from the persons they're supposed to represent. The shapes of the nose and the mouth and the ears and the eyes — discounting the squintiness of the eyes are accurate. And they're all in the proper places on the faces. It's a shape. The faces look wider and the heads squarer.

And it's this squareness that reminded me of filling out forms which in turn reminded me that the driver's license is a government form. And governments feel strongly that all the spaces on their forms should be fully filled out.

So that's the answer. It must be that a certain amount of space on the driver's license has been allotted for the picture of the face. And in order to accommodate all applicants, the space designated allows room for the largest human head possible, which few people have. Still, that space is supposed to be filled. So if the face being photographed doesn't naturally fill the space, it's automatically stretched by the camera until it does.

Having worked all this out in my mind, I'll go to the Secretary of State Office next week to renew my license and be photographed with a realistic goal. I'll aim for looking perky around the mouth as well as around the ears so I'll look a little brighter. As for the eyes, I've both my eyes wide open.

To castigate our commission without having ever attended one of our meetings and acquainting oneself with the facts is grossly unfair and irresponsible. Our meetings are published open meetings and the minutes of those meetings are available at city hall.

So please, before you shoot from the lip again, get all the facts which date back several years and cover many meetings and hours.

Wants to explain position on board

Editor:

Due to the comments made in the newspaper's, Letters To The Editor columns, recently about the deliberations of the Boyne City Planning Board regarding the Courter-Bendix Expansion, I feel it is necessary to explain my position.

First, I think it is important to understand the function of the Boyne City Planning Board, which is basically planning for the future growth and development of this community. As stated in the Comprehensive Plan for Boyne City, one of this Board's responsibilities is "Overseeing the Comprehensive Plan and ensuring that its intent and guidelines are appropriately interpreted when land use issues are raised." It also states, in the section dealing with Boyne City's industries, "Encourage visual improvements to industrial properties and minimize conflicts with adjacent land uses." In the Boyne City Zoning Ordinance it is quite clear as to what the requirements are for development in a Planned Industrial District. I strongly suggest that anyone concerned with this issue should get a copy of our zoning ordinance and read it. (Specifically Sec. 3.92-Planned Industrial District.) Copies of the Zoning Ordinance are available at City Hall.

Secondly, I am certainly aware of the contribution Courter-Bendix Corporation makes to this community. However, this is not the issue in question. When I said at our last Planning Board meeting that Courter-Bendix should live up to their responsibilities, I was referring specifically to the promises made by them when their property was zoned Planned Industrial District in 1982. I don't believe our present request for a development plan to meet the spirit of the zoning ordinance is unreasonable. No less would be requested from anyone else.

In the opinion of the Planning Board, the 1st plan submitted was not acceptable as presented. Therefore, we requested Courter-Bendix to submit another one at the December meeting. At the City Commission meeting on December 2nd I was encouraged when Mr. Moody stated that the out buildings in question would eventually be raised and that a new, more comprehensive site plan is being developed by company architects. Basically, this is what the Planning Board is asking for.

Finally, I feel the comments made in the press by some UAW members are unfair. To penalize local businesses for actions of the Planning Board makes no sense whatsoever. Also, the derogatory remarks about Planning Board members are totally uncalled for. Public servants who dedicate themselves to improving the quality of life in this city deserve better.

The next meeting of the Boyne City Planning Board is December 15th at 5:00 p.m. Anyone having comments regarding the application or interpretation of the Comprehensive Plan and Zoning Ordinance should be in attendance at that meeting.

Let's all work together to make Boyne City a better place to work, do business and live.

Sincerely,
Dale Parsons, Chairperson
Boyer City Planning Board

Another shoe falls. Any more?

Editor,

Just when I thought things might have calmed down a bit another shoe has fallen. It now appears the C.I.A.—in spite of all their previous denials—controls the Swiss bank account involved in the Iranian scandal. How many shoes are there left up there anyway?

Reagan complains bitterly about the news media, comparing them to circling sharks but we the people can be eternally thankful for them. I shudder to think about how far the betrayal of our trust would go without the sharks.

Ronald Reagan and his "Rambo" clones would like nothing better than to be able to skirt all moral and legal barricades and just let the cowboys run wild. Let me clue you in on something, Mr. Reagan. That dog won't hunt.

Commissioners OK sledding hill

It was quick and concise as the noon meeting of the Boyne City Commissioners heard about proposed changes in the no smoking in public buildings law, then cancelled two noon meetings over the Christmas-New Year holidays, and agreed to continue the use of the Grant Street Hill road right-of-way for use this winter as a placing for sledding.

The big action was being saved for the monthly evening meeting where the commissioners are expected to approve the wording and adopt an amendment to the city zoning ordinance to apply some controls to "Home Occupations."

The ordinance has been through a hearing at the planning board level and was passed on to the city for approval. The amendment is expected to have the first reading Tuesday night.

The second item on the agenda is also expected to be approved without too much trouble. That resolution would allow the city to vacate a portion of West Main Street.

The vacation of the street would then allow the city to make a land swap with the present owners of some property next to the wastewater treatment plant that the city proposes to utilize as part of the new Peninsula Beach.

The land swap would be in the city's favor as they would be getting more land than the present right-of-way and allow for more parking facilities at the new park which is supposed to be open next spring.

discussed the City's responsibilities in running utilities to the development park stressing the possible jobs were a priority.

Councilwoman Schmitt reported that she no longer could serve on the Lake Charlevoix Planning Committee. Mayor Sweet asked for other council members who might be interested in serving and stressed, as did Sanitarian Levensgood, that East Jordan's input on the committee was needed.

EJ jvs win opener

By Dennis Skrocki

The East Jordan boy's junior varsity basketball team was victorious in its season opener at Charlevoix on Friday, December 5, by the score of 58-52.

The two teams played an evenly matched game throughout the first three stanzas with East Jordan dominating the fourth.

The end of the first period saw the Devils trailing by the score of 13-12. In the second quarter EJ kept up with the Rayder pace as each scored 13 points to post a 26-25 halftime score.

Charlevoix increased their small edge to three points (44-41), as they outscored the Devils 18-16 on a nine point effort from Sophomore David Miller.

Matt Bishop led the Devils' fourth period come back as he hit for seven points leading the Devils to a 58-52 victory.

Bishop led all scorers with a spectacular 29 point effort. Also, contributing to the winning cause were: Dan Pepin (12 points), Mark Moore (6), Jeff Burks (6), Tim Brennan (3) and Jeff Olstrom (2).

Bishop was also the dominant Devil defensively hauling in 13 rebounds and collecting five steals. Pepin added 11 rebounds while Burks collected four and Brennan and Olstrom contributed two each.

For the Red

Rayders Sean Putman led in the scoring department with 18 points, which he collected before fouling out near the end of the third period. Also scoring in the losing effort were: Miller (11), Bob Jess (9), Dylan Stewart (7), James Corwin (5), and Mike Picha (2).

East Jordan will see their next action on Tuesday, December 9 at Boyne City before traveling to Pellston on Friday.

Devil girls place two in all-conference

By Dennis Skrocki

The East Jordan girl's varsity basketball team finished their 1986 campaign with a 6-14 regular season record, placing them in the bottom of the Ski-Valley conference.

Two lady Devils received all-conference status. Junior forward Erin Snyder received honorable mention while junior center

Kristy Miller received first team all conference recognition. Miller was the teams leading scorer with 195 points despite missing seven games due to a knee injury. She also finished second in the rebound department with 139. Snyder led the team in rebounds with 199 and in steals, 31. She was second in scoring behind Miller with 150 points. Other team leaders were as follows: Jill Burt, who scored 73 points, and collected 32 rebounds in just 12 games; Brenda Drenth, played in every game scoring 68 points and hauling down 118 rebounds; Monica Olstrom, scored 67 points and obtained 71 rebounds on the season; Kristy Burt, scored 50 points to go with 76 rebounds.

Landfill

trash was 11 feet below the fill that had been placed over the trash. Other areas showed as little as one foot of fill. One spot indicated no overburden was placed on top of the trash.

The coverage of the trash encompasses about 30 acres of the 40 acre site.

The next step in the planning process is to get a topographic survey from the Soil Conservation Service, apply the Hall engineering information to the topographical map to determine exactly where the clay overburden is going to have to be placed.

After that is determined, cost estimates will be prepared for the eventual closing and capping of the landfill as required by law.

Frykberg is now estimating a cost of about one-half million dollars to get the work completed.

The landfill has been a point of contention between the city and Evangeline Township where the landfill was located. Evangeline Township has wanted the landfill capped while the city has claimed it doesn't have the money to do the job. The city has applied for grants from various state agencies but has failed to get one.

DNR officials in the meantime are continuing to monitor wells they installed on the site and have determined the ground water is being contaminated by rain and snow falls landing on the site. They are hoping to drill two additional wells this month to help them in determining where the ground water is flowing. Officials suspect the water is flowing towards Walloon Lake and not Lake Charlevoix.

Officials at the DNR are also pressuring the city to provide a cap over the refuse. They have also been applying pressure at many other sites throughout northern Michigan, including a few of their own which are improperly capped.

City officials are hoping they can qualify for a grant to get the job completed so they can move on to other concerns of the city.

some of the visual aids, with more current material and the speakers may change or vary due to availability or topic areas needed.

All changes will be reviewed by the committee prior to being implemented.

According to the committee, the program is certainly not an end-all but is designed to create intelligent, and responsible decision making by young people.

In other action, the board approved the membership of Human Growth and Development committee for the year. The membership is built up of one, two, and three year terms and has two parents, two pupils, four educators, two clergy, two community health, two at-large and two board members.

The make up of the committee was decided during the past year after several board members faced a recall drive because they felt they couldn't control the committee.

Many of the same members then were formally named last Monday night.

In other action, the board approved a revision in the rates for substitute teachers, raising their pay from $35.00 per day as a base, to $43.00 per day.

The rates increase for the number of days for the substitute teachers to as high as $85 per day.

Also approved was raising the pay to $50.00 per day base for the 1987-88 school year.

The change in rates was in response to a presentation made to the board by the Antrim-

Charlevoix-Emmet Substitute Teachers Association in November. One of their members said this raise would "help" with the problem of keeping subs interested in teaching.

The board approved the assignment of coaches for the Middle School Boy's Basketball teams with Dale Reinhardt being named to be the eighth grade coach while Dan Peck will coach the seventh graders.

The board then approved the low bid of White Pine Plumbing and Heating to repair the showers in the boy's and girl's lockerrooms in the middle school and installing an additional hot water heater to service the showers. The cost for the installation will be $10,575.

Loggers fall short in come-back bid with Cardinal Mooney

Meeting M. Clemens Cardinal Mooney for the sixth time the Boyne Falls Logger basketball teams opened the season with what has become a traditional first appearance game of the season Saturday night. The Cardinals came out on top 58-51 in the varsity game, and won 51-40 in the JV game.

Yearly, the Cardinals display a fast paced game that stems from playing other big city schools around the Detroit area, usually winding up with a lopsided score after each game, but not this year. Hampered with habitual fouls, the Loggers gave the Cardinals an edge as Mooney converted 21 of 36 charity shots to points while the Loggers went 5 of 15 at the line. Boyne Falls piled up 23 field goals against the Cardinals however, as Mooney collected 17.

The Loggers led briefly in the first period 6-5 after coming back from a three minute cold streak. From that point on Mooney adjusted to the undersized Logger court and opened up a substantial lead. The quick handed Cardinals jumped in to snatch Logger passes in anticipation of telegraphed directions. It proved to continue for the games entirety and was one of the dominating factors that went to the Cardinals.

Offensive prowess provided by Logger Joe Kondrat kept the Loggers within reach through the first period, scoring eight of the ten Logger points scored in the quarter while Mooney out-pointed Boyne Falls with 17.

Cardinal Mooney scored heavily through the second against the Logger zone defense and stretched out a 27-16 lead by midquarter, but a rash of hoops by Loggers Chad Robinson and Pat Topolinski closed the margin somewhat, but both went cold in the final two minutes of the half. Robinson, usually in top form, had an off night and was plagued with foul trouble, picking his fourth late in the half. The Cardinals scored eight points in the final two minutes of the half, as Robinson peppered the hoop, scoring six points alone to close the half, trailing 28-39.

Mooney continued to dominate through the third period creating fast breaks after picking off errant Logger passes. Boyne Falls began to feed Kondrat inside the key for their best scoring effect.

Late in the game Boyne Falls matched up man-to-man and suddenly the Cardinals were held to a minimum as Kondrat and Mark Brady provided the majority of the Logger scoring as the Cardinals were held to five points in the period as the Loggers hit for 12 points, but were running short on ticks from the clock as they closed in on the Cardinals.

Kondrat finished the night to lead the Logger offensive with 20 points while Brady and Robinson had eight points each. Joe Matelski added 5 points while Topolinski and Adrian Churchill scored 4 points apiece. Matt Crego contributed two points from a Brady assist early in the second quarter.

The Logger JV's trailed 8-14 after one period of action and were down by 12 midway through the second period. Boyne Falls engineered a come-back late in the quarter to trail by two points 21-23 at the half. Mooney took control in the second half, opening up a 39-28 margin after three quarters, but were matched bucket for bucket in the fourth period as each team scored 12 points.

Robert Hausler was the only Logger to hit double figures with 19 points. Glen Wasylewski had 7 points, Jacob Robinson scored 6 points, Steve Sparks finished with 3 points, while Dean Reynolds and Ryan Giem added two points each, and Kelly Boudin provided a charity toss that pulled the Loggers within one point early in the game.

Area bowlers in tourney

Local bowlers who went over to the Miller Lite Northern Michigan Classic tournament at Cheboygan last weekend brought home a new feeling for lanes with heavy oil, according to some of the Boyne area bowlers who were in the tourney.

Ron Peters and Joe Deisler, Jr. were the only Boyne area bowlers to finish in the top ten with seventh and eighth places respectively.

Local lanes manager Steve Sutfin from Bellaire finished in 12th spot.

Other bowlers from the area placing included Mo Bacciocchi, Ken Dell, Carl Bayster, Wayne Kleinschrodt, Ron Grunch, Joe Etienne, and Don Kleinschrodt.

The tournament was won by Al Bilhimer of Essexville. Seventy-six bowlers competed in the classic match-up held at Sparetime Lanes.

East Jordan shattered by Rayders

By Dennis Skrocki

The East Jordan varsity basketball team opened its 1986 campaign on a bad note on Friday, December 5, as they fell to the Charlevoix Red Rayders 72-44.

The Devils trailed from the opening seconds as Charlevoix's Jim Gibbs gained control of the jump ball and sank a 12 foot jump shot giving the Rayders a lead that they would never lose.

The Red Devils, despite cold shooting, kept the score respectable as they trailed by only seven points, 19-12 at the end of the first stanza. Ten of the 19 Rayder points came from the hot hand of Gibbs. The Devils' big men, Jim Raymond and Greg Kitson, combined for eight of the Devils' 12 first period points.

The second period saw Charlevoix take a commanding 38-20 lead into halftime as they outscored the Devils 19-8, with six points coming from junior Owen Phillips and four from junior Scott Deyoung.

The Rayders kept up their dominant ways in the third period outscoring the Devils 25-12, thus holding a 63-32 lead going into the final quarter.

The Devils' bright spot was the fourth stanza as they outscored the Rayders 12-9 behind six point efforts from both Kitson and Raymond. This decrease in the deficit was not enough as East Jordan fell to the final score of 72-44.

On the night the Rayders shot 42% from the floor, 28 of 67, as compared to the Devils' 32%, 17 or 53. In the free throw department the Rayders shot 56%, 13 of 23, while the Devils shot 38%, 10 of 26.

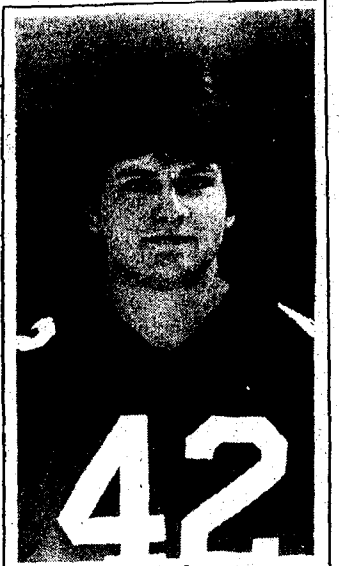

Kitson was the games leading scorer with 18 points as Raymond collected 15 and Kelly Harchis and Tracy Morris added four each.

Kitson and Raymond also led the way defensively as each collected nine rebounds. Shannon Olstrom hauled down seven as Morris and Terry Burt came up with four each.

For the victorious Charlevoix squad Gibbs and Dan Drury shared the top scoring honors as each turned in a 14 point performance. Also contributing to the winning cause were Deyoung (10), Jim Ciuk (8), and Own Phillips (8).

Deyoung and Joe Miller led the way defensively with six rebounds each. Drury, Phillips and Roger Smith collected five each as Rick Quinn added four.

Next week the Red Devils will travel to Boyne City on Tuesday, December 9 to take on the Ramblers in a non-conference contest before traveling to Pellston on Friday for their first ski-valley contest.

Darren Graham

By Dennis Skrocki

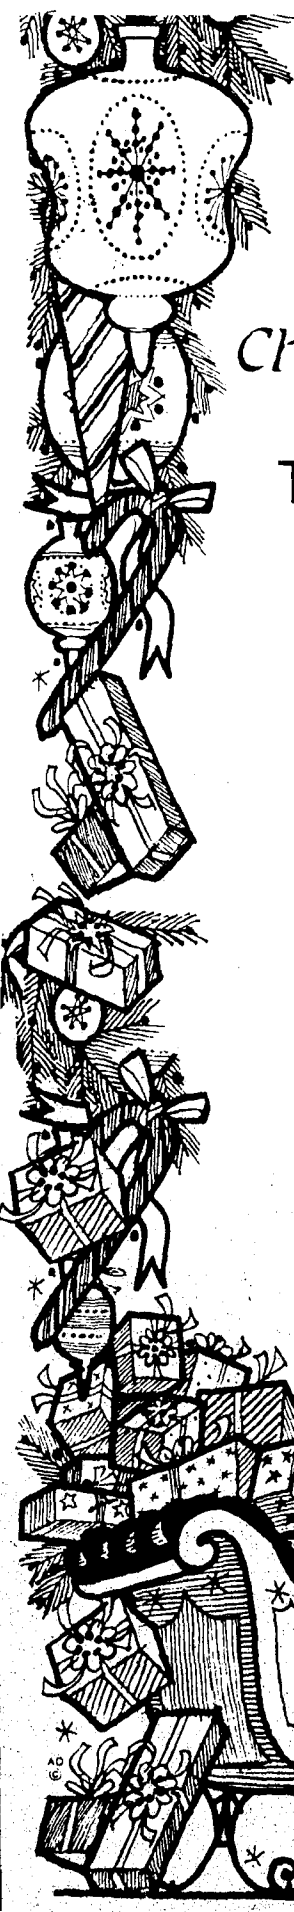

East Jordan Red Devil fullback Darren Graham put the finishing touch on a spectacular 1986 football season as he was selected to the AP (associated press) honorable mention list.

On the season Graham was the Red Devils premier running back as he led the team in the categories of rushing, 1010 yards; scoring, 76 points; and rushing average, 7.4 yards per carry.

Three weeks prior to his all-state mention, Graham received ski-valley conference honors being selected to the offensive first team.

Darren was also a dominant force defensively as he collected 61 tackles and two fumble recoveries on the year.

Consumers Power is powering Michigan's progress

Snow! The first big snow of the season. Tom raced out of the house, eager to try out his snowmobile for the first time this winter. He started the engine and raced off. Along the way, he picked up his friend, John, who also owned a snowmobile.

Feeling the power of their machines, Tom and John went blazing through the powdery snow, kicking up a stream of white. Looking for a runway to pick up speed, John took off down a long stretch of land which included massive utility towers.

Soaring at speeds up to 60 miles per hour, John, in the flurry of snow and wind, never saw the obstacle in his path which took his life.

"This story is fiction, but unfortunately it represents an all-too-unfortunate fact of winter sports here in the northern Region of Consumers Power Company," says Christopher C Bandy, Area Community Services Director for the Cheboygan area. "The fresh snowfall which we all admire provides cover for many obstacles: snow covered cars appear to be just an incline in the terrain, low hanging branches are bowed lower yet by the weight of the fresh snow. Please take care and be alert to the potential danger of snow covered obstacles. We'd like you around to enjoy many more seasons."

"When you're out snowmobiling or cross-country skiing, remember that land under electric transmission lines is private property," says Bandy. "It may be owned by the company or it may be leased to individuals such as farmers. More frequently, however, the electric lines follow an easement on private property. Anyone riding a snowmobile or another off-the-road vehicle on this private land, without permission, is trespassing and could be prosecuted. We ask these riders to respect their neighbors' ownership rights in this regard," says Bandy.

"The winter sporting season should be a safe and fun time of year," says Bandy. "We're asking for the public's cooperation and understanding in avoiding the potential dangers to snowmobilers and other sporting enthusiasts."

Boyne slighted by Harbor Springs

The traditional Boyne City Rambler-Harbor Springs Ram Basketball opener became a slight 51-48 decision over Boyne City after the two teams matched up Friday night for an action packed contest. Net scorching bombs gave the Rams an advantage that dominated the game while the Ramblers launched bricks that failed to hit the mark on a consistent basis. The Ramblers hit just 18 of 58 shots from the floor as the Rams often swished points through from the perimeter as Boyne City was closing in to tighten the score.

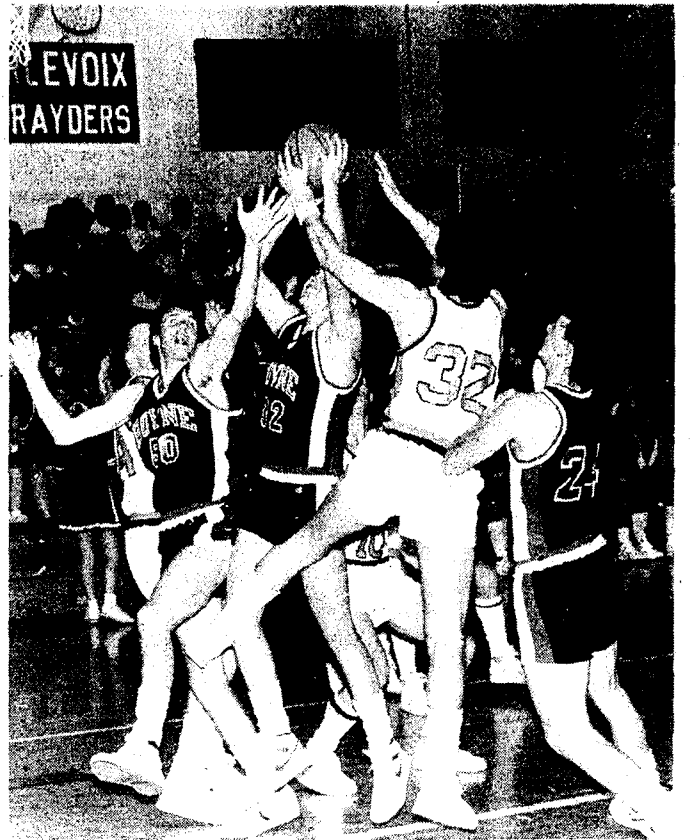

A fast pace in the first half combined with a Harbor Springs press provided a small cushion for the Rams as they led by nine at some points through the half, but the Ramblers never allowed more than that as they continued to play catch-up basketball through the end of the half, pulling within four or five points at times, and slipping back. The Ramblers closed the half trailing by six, 20-26. Fast break attempts by the Ramblers often fizzled in the half as Harbor adeptly utilized a retreating press that caused Boyne City to miscue on the passing game and committed untimely turnovers while on the move.

Harbor continued to feast through the third period as they enjoyed the continued ability to score from outside, while the Ramblers began to penetrate inside the key to chip away at the score. Several well timed passes into the lane by Steve Stutzman offset somewhat his inability to score from outside. Stutzman has been known in the past to hit double figures, but connected on just one of 12 shots from the floor against the Rams. Junior Mike DeSchryver and Senior Scott Beebe picked up the slack with Beebe fighting it out under the boards along with Kyle Fitzpatrick who wound up with 11 rebounds while Beebe had 12. DeSchryver became the teams accelerator midway through the third period, scoring on blistering streaks down the court as he pulled the Ramblers within one point 33-32 on the fast break. Harbor cut off the inside passing game at the 3:00 mark of the quarter and stretched out a 41-34 lead as time expired.

The Ramblers opened the final periods scoring with Beebe hitting both ends of a one-and-one, and DeSchryver scored from outside to trim the margin to 38-41, but Harbor began to match the Ramblers bucket for bucket until enlarging their lead to 49-40 with 5 minutes left in the game.

Beebe became the Ramblers best scoring threat through the remainder of the game, scoring four unanswered hoops, one a left handed jumper, and three leading the fast break. With two minutes left to play, the Ramblers suddenly became ice cold and Harbor went into a stall that netted them two free throws for the 51-48 lead.

Kyle Fitzpatrick (32) of the Boyne City Ramblers wound up with his rebound against the Harbor Springs Rams. Also in on the play were Aaron Richards (50), and Scott Beebe (24).

DeSchryver emerged as the game high scorer for the Ramblers with 24 points, as Beebe wound up with 16 to account for the majority of the Rambler offense. Fitzpatrick had 6 points, while Stutzman had two points.
