

City receives donated snowmobile

City Manager Randy Frykberg tries to start the newly acquired snowmobile that was donated to the city by John Streu Sr. The snowmobile will be used to make daily runs to check the city reservoir and to pack and track the cross-country ski trails at the Avalanche Preserve. The 1969 model Mercury is in excellent shape, according to city workers, one of whom is watching to see if the machine starts. Richard Dodds, who will be the driver doing the work, looks on.

News Briefs

Boyne City students will be spending their Junior Prom night at the Perry Hotel in Petoskey, according to student government officials. They told the school board Monday night.

Also in the schools, the first of the grandparents lunches will be held shortly at the Boyne City Elementary School. All grandparents who live in the area are invited to eat lunch with the children. Invitations will be going out shortly.

The first and second grade classrooms were carpeted over the Christmas break at the Boyne Falls school, paid for by the Boyne Falls P.T.O. They are hoping to carpet additional rooms with more fund raisers and donations. If anyone would like to sponsor a yard or so of carpeting, they can send a check to the school. Each yard costs about $10.

The child watch program in Boyne City will be holding a general meeting to explain the program January 26th at the city hall. Interested residents of Boyne City are invited to attend to learn all about it.

Due to the lack of snow, city trucks are saving wear and tear. They were last used to plow snow December 12th, according to city officials. Some wonder if the plow drivers within the county know how to drive their plows as they may not have had the practice they normally get by this time of year. Snowfalls in this part of the country are slim and none so far. In fact, the weather is more like April than January.

$2,700,000 city-wide plan presented

Boyne City Commissioners were presented with a $2.7 million prioritized list of roads, sewers and waterlines that need repair within the city at the monthly Tuesday night meeting yesterday.

If the list is approved, commissioners may decide to ask the citizens of the city to approve the city selling general obligation bonds to pay for the proposed work that covers almost every street in the city.

The highest priority on the list is the replacement of the existing sanitary sewer on North Lake Street. Proposed to be replaced starting at the present lift station, the new sewer would go north to Groveland. Also included in the work on Lake Street was the replacement of a water main near Groveland.

If the work is authorized by the commission, the sewer replacement would correct storm and infiltration sources to sewer, storm sewer and help fix the pavement curb and gutter and sidewalks.

Taking second on the list of 21 items needing fixing in the city's infrastructure would be to provide a new water main on North Park Street between Vogel and Collins, and on North Street, replace water services between State and Vogel, replace sanitary sewer between River and Vogel, Vogel and Jersey Street. The city is also proposing the street be curbed and guttered as well as paving and other minor work.

Grant Street was the third on the list of items as the city intends to replace the existing four inch water main with a six inch main and paving between Lincoln and Pine Streets.

Ten other streets will see portions of them having water lines upgraded to six inch water mains. Some of the streets presently have four inch mains but one has a two inch line to be upgraded.

Other items on the list would be the addition or replacement of sewer lines, and to correct inflow problems into the sanitary and storm sewers.

All of the projects would be completed in phases if the city were to approve a bonding issue to cover the costs. As this is the first time the commissioners are seeing the list, there will be some adjustments to it as other areas of the city may have a higher priority in the minds of the commissioners than the list presented.

Paying for the proposed city-wide project has been the concern of the commissioners for some time. They, at one point started thinking the infrastructure repairs could be paid for as special assessments against the property owners along the streets involved. But that was decided against after many citizens voiced their disapproval of the method for repayment.

The next idea the city had was to have a city income tax to provide the funds for the project, but that idea was rejected with the new tax laws and the costs involved to monitor the process. Also, an income tax was not favored by many citizens who were retired or who worked out of the community.

According to Frykberg, the selling of general obligation bonds, if approved by the voters, is just another way the city could pay for the work.

In other action, the city commissioners approved the changing of the zoning for the Allied-Bendix-Courter Company making the former A & W property part of the planned industrial district the company presently owns.

The rezoning was an issue that caused much concern among the employees of the firm who proposed a boycott of Boyne City businesses when the planning board told the company they needed more information before making the recommendation to the commissioners to rezone the property.

They also had a first reading of a proposed change in the zoning ordinance covering home occupations.

Everything is in place for the annual Boyne City Frostival and the Smeltania City except the snow and ice. The lake, which usually freezes over by now, is still wide open preventing those with shanties to start the quest for the smelt. Other events are on land though, and if we get a major snowfall it will take place at the end of the month. Those things being planned include all of the events held last year including the popular dog sled race, broomball, sleigh ride and bonfires.

Boyne high school start time changed

Behavior problems have caused the Boyne City School Board to review the starting time for the high school and change it back to the same start time as last year.

The action was taken at Monday night's school board meeting and will take effect for the students starting next semester, according to Warren Wade, the principal of the high school.

He told the board the students were causing a problem by the early arrival with students from the elementary school and among themselves as they waited for school to begin.

The change in the school times was a hotly argued matter this past summer when several parents objected to the new start time. The change was made to allow a group of students who were participating in the Petoskey Vocational Education programs to make sure they were able to reach the Petoskey school to attend classes.

Wade admitted the change was not working out and it was his recommendation the board return to the previous start time. "This change affected only a minority of the students," he told the board, "and the extra 15 minutes of time turned out to be more work than gain."

The change will not effect any of the bus runs or the start times for the elementary or middle school.

School time for the high school will be between the hours of 8:30 and 3:00 p.m.

In making the motion to change the times, board member Thelma Behling said she thought the start change was a trial, but the trial did not work out.

The board then moved on to other business which included making a new policy to conform with the changes in state law covering the new Michigan Clean Indoor Air Act.

The policy eliminates smoking in the high school except in certain designated areas. Those areas will have signs saying "smoking permitted". The policy will take effect January 12, in time for the home basketball game. Smokers would have to go outside of the building if they need to have a smoke.

The board also approved a new textbook and agreed to purchase 35 copies for the vocational mathematics class. The new book covers material in an informal way but still includes basic math and some geometry.

The board then approved the

EJ to get bridge fix-up grant

East Jordan residents, reveling with a new million dollar marina, will also be getting a grant from the state to add riprap and other material to help protect the M-32 roadway where it crosses over the Jordan River and connects to the lake.

The proposed project would cost about $96,000 which would be paid in part by the federal government and the State of Michigan. Included is the reconstruction of the embankment along the 800 feet of road right-of-way along the Jordan River Bridge.

The federal portion of the project will be paid out of funds earmarked for waterline protection as part of the 1946 Flood Control Act. The act authorizes the expenditure of federal money for emergency protection works to prevent damages to highway, bridge approaches and other public works.

The project is part of a many layered program being proposed by the state highway department for funding under the act. Others include roads along Lake Michigan in the U.P. as well as roads in the Grand Traverse area.

Three different plans were considered when the engineers looked at the East Jordan project which included doing nothing to driving sheet piling to protect the bridge approach from erosion.

Doing nothing did not solve the problem while sheet piling was considered too expensive. The adding of stone along the 800 feet of right-of-way was considered to be the most cost effective means of repairing the damage caused by the high water levels of Lake Charlevoix.

While state highway officials consider the repair of the bridge to be at a critical point, the federal agencies still have to follow the guidelines they have written.

The state estimates that with an erosion loss of three feet per year due to the high water, the road would be unusable within Accepting a $300 check from Doug Shields, the president of the Boyne City Roatry Club, Cele Pollock, the newly installed president of Child Watch said the money would be put to good use to help pay for some of the costs of the program designed to provide safe steps for children throughout the community. Among the items that cost are the seven signs that Police Chief John Talboys is holding. The signs will be placed at all entrances to the city.

PUDDINGS

Great-grandmother made puddings almost daily. One reason for this is that most of the people in her time were living on family farms and had lots of milk handy, also cream to whip. She usually had eggs, though she made many puddings without eggs when the hens weren't laying; and of course they always had some corn meal.

I have found that there are many different recipes for Indian pudding, hasty pudding and other ways of cooking corn meal. Some Indian puddings were steamed in a bag for hours, some baked for 6 hours or more. I imagine the meal was much more coarsely ground than the kind we buy. Then there was this recipe for

CORNMEAL MUSH OR HASTY PUDDING

From White House Cookbook, 1926 ed.

Put two quarts of water into a smooth saucepan, cover it and let it become boiling hot over the fire; then add a tablespoon of salt. Take off the light scum from the top. Have sweet fresh yellow or white cornmeal. Take a handful of the meal with the left hand and a pudding stick in the right, then with the stick stir the water around and by degrees let fall the meal. When one handful is exhausted, refill it. Continue to stir and add meal until it is as thick as you can stir easily, or until the stick will stand in it; stir it a while longer; let the fire be gentle; when it is sufficiently cooked which will be in half an hour, it will bubble or puff up. Turn it into a deep basin. This is eaten cold or hot, with milk or with butter and syrup or sugar, or with meat or gravy, the same as potatoes or rice.

A friend just told me that her mother made corn meal mush, poured it on their plates, put a little brown sugar, syrup or a spoonful of jam in the center, poured milk around the edge and said, "This is your Indian pudding."

Then when grandmother wanted to entertain and make an impression with something fancy she might make a syllabub. I made this one recently and it was delicious and so pretty to serve.

SYLLABUB

2 cups whipping cream
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup sugar
1 cup sherry
1/8 teaspoon cinnamon
Grated rind of one lemon

Whip cream. Mix other ingredients, add whipped cream and serve in frappe glasses.

Garnish with small bits of marachino cherries. It is best to make this just before serving; it gets runny if set a length of time.

Now with a little more modern touch you could make this all-time favorite.

PUFF PUDDING

1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 egg yolks
3 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
1/4 cup grape nuts cereal
1 cup milk
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Cream butter with sugar and lemon rind. Add egg yolks; beat until light and fluffy. Blend in lemon juice, flour, cereal and milk. (mixture will look curdled at this point.)

Pold in egg whites. Pour into greased 1 quart baking dish; place dish in pan of hot water. Bake at 325 for 1 hour and 15 minutes or until top springs back when lightly touched. Pudding has a cake like layer on the top with custard below.

Serve warm or cold with whipped cream or topping if desired. 6 servings.

For a luscious light dessert after a satisfying dinner serve your family or guests this ELEGANT ALMOND CREME

1 envelope Knox unflavored gelatine
1/4 cup water
1/2 cups whipping cream
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs
1/2 teaspoon almond extract

In small saucepan, sprinkle gelatine over water; let stand 1 minute. Stir over low heat until completely dissolved.

In blender or food processor, process cream, sugar, eggs and almond extract 2 minutes.

While processing, gradually add gelatine mixture and process until blended.

Pour into dessert dishes; chill. Garnish with strawberries, other fresh fruit or whipped cream and sliced almonds. 6 servings.

The XI Gamma chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met at the home of Doris Loding on Wednesday evening. Special guest of the evening program was Karen Kasuba of "Self Indulgence" beauty salon in the Atrium Mall, who gave a mini-seminar on the basics of skin and hair care. In other business, the group made plans for the Founder's Day Dinner to be held at Boyne Mountain on April 30th, which will be attended by all the sororities in the area, and will be highlighted with the entertainment of the Don Large Chorale. The group is also busy making baby ski caps, with the red, white, and blue theme, for the newborns. Co-hostess was Norma Eineder.

The many friends and family of Ray Weiss honored him with a buffet dinner retirement party at the K of C Hall on Saturday night after he ended 31 years with the Soil Conservation Service. Just a few things included in the fun activities of this memorable time in life for Ray were when Ken Schrader of the Boyne City Police Department walked over to him and made a false arrest. Then Mike Edson, dressed as a gorilla, made his appearance with many laughable gorilla antics and chased the bad Ken away. All enjoyed the solos of Bill Christensen. The big surprise of the evening was when Ray's son, Sgt. Randy, of the Washington, D.C. Airforce arrived!

Brad and Michelle Upton and new baby, Alexander; and Gregg and Lisa Upton, all of Aurora, Colorado, are here visiting their parents, Pat and Louie Upton and Judy. Judy returned to her studies in Marquette on Monday after having spent the mid-term break here at home with her parents.

Ed and Cleo Davis were among those attending the bowling doubles held in Lansing over the weekend.

Alfreda Foster was a patient at NMH this past week.

Mrs. Arlene Martin of Litzengrader Place is spending a few days in Alba visiting friends.

Lewis and Marion Simkins of Owosso were weekend guests of their aunt and uncle, Marion and Bud Gattelman.

Many of the community will sadly miss one of the Charlevoix County Transit's drivers, dispatcher, and friend Rich Pelton, who passed away at his home over the weekend.

Mrs. Mel Howard has been released to her home after having been a patient in the Charlevoix Area Hospital this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert VanAlstine of Big Rapids, and Wm. VanAlstine of Grandvue, were Sunday guests of the Lloyd VanAlstine family. Their granddaughter, Laurie Reid, a student at Grand Valley State, has been spending a few days here with her grandparents.

Dorothy Crandell has returned to her home over the weekend from a 5 day stay as a medical patient at NMH.

The Jenkins-Webb families enjoyed a wild game meal prepared by John Webb at the Webb home on Sunday afternoon.

On Saturday night, 35 friends and relatives gathered at Pippins Restaurant for a surprise birthday dinner party for Oral Suttiff. Oral has reached the big five-o! Later, the group moved on to the Suttiff home for refreshments, fun and lots of laughs playing games, including the "Newlywed Game"!!

On Thursday, the tenants of Lakeview Village enjoyed their monthly potluck gathering in their social room, and were joined by Bill Gaunt Jr. and wife Minnie of East Jordan.

The RLDS Women's group met on Thursday evening for their monthly worship service and spent the remainder of the evening with a rewarding visit to those living at the Geriatric Village in Petoskey.

Goldie Harrelson accompanied her nephew, Lee Sherwood, to Salem over the weekend where they visited her niece Shirley and Dan Henning and family.

Scores for this past week's senior bowlers were, Dick Brannon-447, Pros Blanckaert-385, Goldie-344, Jean Marcham-320, and Pearl Frieden-304. Winners of Thursday's bingo games at the mealsite were, 1st-regular Jean Marcham, 2nd-Dorothy Amsbury, and 3rd-Opal Brewster. The specials were won by Jean Marcham and Elmer Crandell, with the cover all going to Dane Earl. All games were called by Ham Dodds.

Guests at Max E. Wilde's cabin were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kitley and children Lori, Doug and Sheryl, for the New Year week.

Bee Howard, Ed and Gladys Szczepaniak, and Corinne and Ed Merta, all of Boyne City, attended the funeral of their sister Mrs. Joseph (Helen) Lyk in Warren on Saturday. Helen passed away on January 8th.

Jottings

BY JIM SILBAR

Okay, okay, now let me tell you the real story about the great ski race between myself and one of my former employees now working up the road at the Petoskey News Review.

Sure, you may have read his feature story about the great media event held this past weekend at Boyne Highlands in Monday's evening press, but he wasn't exactly accurate about everything.

He declined to interview me to get my side of the story about how I fell in the first run and disgraced myself and my limited skiing ability. I guess he just didn't want to hear my excuses as to why I wiped out.

But the real story goes like this:

We were asked to participate in this media ski race because we both write about skiing. The weekend was sponsored by the Boyne Country Convention and Visitors Bureau as well as the Boyne USA resorts and the State of Michigan.

Everything was provided for us...great snow on the slopes, an almost fully prepared race course, and perhaps the best thing, a race course set side by side that was easy enough for all of us media types to negotiate.

Not everyone knows about ski writers. They live on a different side of the street compared to skiers. Most of them have to do some writing while they are at resorts such as Boyne Highlands, Nubs Nob or the Mountain. They usually don't get much of a chance to ski as they are constantly looking at others doing the skiing and having a great time.

Anyway, since we really don't get that much chance to ski, most of us are somewhat limited in our ski ability. Like Jim Heil has only been skiing a few short years.

I on the other hand, have skied almost all my life. Or, for the last few years, maybe one or two weekends a year.

All of that above information is included to help set you, the reader, up for the best reasons and excuses I can find, remember or dream up to explain why I fell in the great race between two of the newspapers that write about skiing here in the Gold Coast Country.

First, since I can't afford to have a broken leg, I set my ski bindings on a very low setting. I figure it would be safer to pop out than to sit around Little Traverse Hospital for a couple of hours and then spend weeks waiting for the injury to heal.

As we get older, we also get a little wiser, ya know, about our bodies.

I also am skiing on an old pair of Rossignols that have seen their best days about eight years ago. It's the same way with the ski bindings, too.

Anyway, I have not waxed or sharpened the edges on those skis for at least eight years because I knew I would never have to race gates, only write about those who do.

I also stopped skiing about six years ago, because I wanted to devote time to this business, to get away from CUSSA people, and to truthfully get totally out of condition for ski racing, let alone just skiing.

Knowing all of that, you may be able to understand why I fell in the great run off.

I also want you to know that I was only wearing my glasses, and in the flat light of the day, didn't see the ruts, bumps, and conditions as I was screaming my way down the course.

But, in the actual race, Heil did explain that I fell, wiped out of both skis, slid on my face, got up, put on the skis and finished.

But let me tell you why. You see, Heil and I were told to start when the starter said go. The man was saying "Three, Two, One, Go," but Heil never heard the "Two, One, Go" as he was about halfway down the course.

Of course I tried to play catch-up and started to really run the gates like I used to when I was about 20 years old.

I caught up with Heil about half way through the course. When I passed him, I was really zooming. The incident occurred about three gates after I passed him. I guess I relaxed a little bit, didn't see the rut I was putting my ski into, and fell trying to get it out to make the next turn.

After we finished, we had to go back since I demanded a

Remembrances

These men are the Paul Bunyans of Michigan's north country. We're thinking many of you will be able to identify many of the men in this photo of the Bacon camp, east of Boyne Falls. The man in the center with the axe is Jim Baker, on the left of the neck yoke is interesting old picture you would like to share with our readers, please bring it to the office so we may make a copy.

Marshall Sayles

Boyne City has growing pains. It's like a person on the verge of becoming an adult. It hurts in several places at the same time. (I became an adult a number of years ago, so I know what I'm crying about.)

At first glance you wouldn't think Boyne City is bursting at the seams. I knew it was growing, but I didn't know how much until one day last fall. It was said in my official hearing that the business district needed more room. Zoning and planning would have to be adjusted to accommodate more commercial activities. Fringe residential areas would have to be changed to allow for some commercial operations.

A second notice came to my attention when the school board began looking to future expansion of the school to handle our exploding population.

And the city will continue to grow. That's because it is very difficult to prevent women from having children, or to stop pilgrims from crossing over the city limits.

When Boyne City needed to expand back in its wild historic days, a man from the city council was dispatched to Bay Springs (now North Boyne) and there he thrust a giant spear into the ground claiming that "all these lands as far as the eye can see now belong to the city of Boyne City." Thievery of that sort was legal in those days and thus the city annexed Bay Springs without firing a shot.

Today, the bulk of Boyne City's expansion seems directed toward Boyne Falls. Stores, factories, service centers and other commercial operations are popping up along the highway in surprising numbers. One day our blossoming and flowering may infringe upon the skirts of Boyne Falls.

The eventual question, of course, will be: "How can Boyne City take over Boyne Falls without firing a shot?"

That will not be easy. Claiming land as far as the eye can see has played out in every attorney's office in the land. And I doubt that we have a councilman with enough diplomacy to go over there and settle the question over a glass of beer.

Thus, Boyne City is getting caught up in its own dilemma. It is growing rapidly with hardly anywhere to go.

That's something our city council should have taken into consideration years ago. You can not become pregnant and remain the same size.

I didn't intend this column to be so long, but I've been so busy this past week I haven't had time to write a short column.

Grimm asks county be involved

Commissioner Bill Grimm asked other Boyne City Commissioners to support his idea of sending a letter to the County Board of Commissioners asking them to become more aggressive and actively involved in the solid waste proposals within the state.

Grimm wants the county to get or ask for funds to do research, apply for grants, and to help the county plan for the future needs of its citizens concerning the solid waste being generated within the county.

He later said the current landfill being used by the county and other surrounding counties will someday be filled and there is a need now to plan for that day. He cited such things other areas are doing, such as building transfer sites utilizing state grant monies.

Other commissioners agreed with him and asked City Manager Randy Frykberg to send a letter to the county commission expressing the city's interests.

The commissioners then accepted the keys to a 1969 Mercury snowmobile that was donated to the city by John Streu, Sr. The machine will be used for daily trips to check the water storage facility located at Avalanche Preserve as well as be used for packing and tracking the snowmobile trails at the city owned park.

Frykberg then asked if the commissioners would approve the use of the Veterans Memorial Park for the annual Frostival Celebration. The commissioners granted the approval saying that while they could approve the use, they could not guarantee the snow and the ice for many of the events.

Fire Chief Butch Erber reported that savings accounts were opened for those wishing to donate to the Boyne City Fire Department's replacement truck fund.

Letters

Washingtonese confusing

Dear Editor

Now it seems the White House has birthed a new phrase again. It's a real dilly. Selective candor. After checking the dictionary to make sure, my understanding of these two words means telling the truth about what one chooses to and letting the listeners take their chance on the balance. This way you can be a truthful liar all in the same breath. This should be a big help to Reagan's speech writers. They can just let Reagan be Reagan. He can handle that without cue cards or prepared scripts.

Now it also seems to me that a hiatus is developing in Washington. Republicanism on one side and Reaganism on the other. This ever widening gap was brought about by good party members keeping both eyes on their tenure in the house or senate, as the case may be. Their willingness to hang Reagan out to dry is understandable. Even the Eskimos know how to handle this kind of problem. They would just put him in a canoe without a paddle and shove him out to sea. Teflon doesn't work too well in saltwater you know.

Now it also seems to me that the rumor of a new political party may have some merit. The faithful Nixonites and the loyal Reaganites want to get married and try to bring forth a new party. The battle cry of this stroke of brilliance would be-The Rambo Ronnie and Tricky Dick coalition for honesty in government as they understand it. Ollie North will head the ticket and it will be known as the candid fifth party. That would not only scare the hell out of the Democrats, but also give those nasty Russians something to think about.

rerun. He acceded and agreed to give me another chance.

We changed courses, we both went off at the same time, and I cleaned his clock finishing the run about six or seven gates ahead of him. Well, maybe it was only two or three.

So my ego was saved.

The only thing he neglected to say about the race was that the winner was a 61 year old ski writer from Ohio who has had six or seven days of skiing this year, including his being an instructor and going through a workshop, skiing out west, and coming to the confab with real, new, skis and boots.

He was the one to win a new pair of skis for his efforts.

three years and the bridge would be damaged within five years.

If the road is unusable, the estimated 2,000 vehicles that pass over the bridge each day would have a four mile detour to get to the other side of town.

If the project is authorized, the work of filling and laying of the stone revetment would be started this year, according to state and federal documents.

The proposal calls for the laying of a mattress layer of stone followed by large rocks obtained from local areas. The officials estimate it would take three months to complete the project.

The federal government would be paying for 75 percent of the cost with the state picking up the rest.

hiring of Carol Pumarejo as a full time special education teacher. State law is requiring a teacher for a certain number of students and with the growth of the community, the school needed an additional teacher. The board then hired an aide for Pumarejo.

Coaching assignments were made in the middle school when Scott Haulser was named as the 5th and 6th grade boys' basketball coach. Tim Markham was named as the 5th and 6th grade girls' basketball coach.

The school board also gave an award to Dr. Richard Mansfield for his service to the school as a volunteer coach and for being the team physician for the varsity football team. Mansfield has served the community school system in the past when he filled in as a board member during a transition period.

East Jordan SADD students take quiz

BY DENNIS SKROCKI

The East Jordan chapter of SADD (students against drunk driving) held its usual bi-weekly meeting on Wednesday, January 7 in the high school media center. Fourteen members were in attendance along with advisor Tom Sheridan. After being called to order by president Lisa Karki, the meeting began with all members taking a SADD quiz evaluating how much the student actually knows about alcohol and its affects. After all students had completed the test, vice-president Mindy Meade went over the answers and a discussion followed each question.

Advisor Sheridan spoke of the success that was had with the distribution of SADD pins to the student body on Friday, December 20. This was followed by a discussion of having a pin day in which student names would be drawn randomly, if wearing a pin, the student would be entitled to a small prize.

The next topic of discussion was that of holding a car smash. It was decided that it will be held on February 17, the day of the next East Jordan-Charlevoix basketball game. The exact location of this event is still undecided but two sensible ideas would seem to be either the student parking lot or the auto shop.

At the meeting's conclusion, Sheridan presented the group with its official SADD charter, a symbol of belonging to the national organization.

East Jordan jayvees remain unbeaten

BY DENNIS SKROCKI

The East Jordan junior varsity basketball team brought its record to a perfect 6-0 with a 71-33 whitewash of the Central Lake Trojans on Tuesday, January 6.

The junior Devils jumped out to a 21-6 first quarter lead and never looked back. Dan Pepin was the sparkplug in the first stanza scoring surge as he hit for ten points.

The second period saw the Devils outscore the Trojans 19-12, thus taking a 22 point, 40-18, edge into the locker room at the halftime intermission.

In the third stanza East Jordan continued where it left off in the second. Behind a seven point effort from Jeff Burks E.J. added five points to their already dominant margin and headed into the final quarter with a 55-28 lead.

The Red Devils showed strong depth in the fourth quarter with substitutes playing the entire time and holding Central Lake to a mere five points while scoring 16.

Pepin led all scorers with 17 points while Burks and Tracy Reich added 11 each and Jeff Olstrom contributed ten. Also scoring in the Devil victory were: Gerry Cizewski (7), Tim Brennan (6), Dave Freel (5), Aaron Brock (3), and Mark Lercel (1).

Pepin also led the way defensively with 11 rebounds as Burks and Olstrom collected six each. Also turning in strong defensive performances were: Brennan (5), Cizewski (3), and Freel (3).

In the Trojans losing cause, Chris Newton and Pat Kotwick shared the top scoring honors with seven points each. Tim Schonese added six as Sean Youmans contributed five.

Volleyball under way, EJ drops 3

BY DENNIS SKROCKI

The East Jordan varsity and jayvee volleyball teams got their 1987 season underway last Thursday, January 8, as they hosted Bellaire in a Ski-Valley Conference meet.

The varsity squad opened the new campaign on a bad note as they dropped all three matches by respective scores of 15-5, 15-9, and 15-5. In the first match Theresa Poole led the Devils as she served for two of the five total points. The second match saw Julie Lytle and Monica Olstrom combine for eight of the nine East Jordan points as Patti Schmitt added the other.

The third and final game continued in the same fashion as the first two. Olstrom served for five points as Poole contributed the other. The junior varsity squad fared much better than the varsity. After dropping the first match by the score of 17-15, the junior Devils came back to take the next two by respective scores of 15-5 and 15-12. Jill Burt led the scoring with 15 served points throughout the three game series as Sara Chase added eight.

Next week the teams will travel to Gaylord St. Mary's on Monday before hosting Central Lake on Thursday.

East Jordan frosh post win over Bulldogs 47-35

BY DENNIS SKROCKI

The East Jordan freshman basketball team evened its record at 1-1 with an impressive 47-35 victory over the Inland Lakes Bulldogs on Thursday, January 8.

The Red Devils were in command throughout the contest as Don Cutler led the offensive attack with 17 points and four assists. Also contributing to the Devil victory were: Ted Sherman and Mike Rebec with eight points, Ryan Clark (5), Bill Gots (4), Pat Muma (2), and Steve Shepard (1).

Defensively Gots led the way with eight steals and six rebounds. Sherman came up with seven rebounds as Cutler, Russell and Jimbo Downey obtained five each.

The Devils will see their next action on Monday, January 12, when they host Charlevoix before facing Bellaire on Thursday.

BOYNE CITY LANES PRESENTS ITS BOWLERS OF THE WEEK

LAURA EATON

BILL COUSINEAU

This 160 average bowler hit a 584 series which included a 231 game, 104 pins over her average. Those are the highest games she has rolled this season. Not bad for a five month pregnant lady who bowls weekly for the Glen's team on the Thursday night league. Does she answer the question that expectant mothers bowl better? Although we don't recommend everyone get pregnant to bowl better, it works fine for Laura.

Talk about hot bowlers! Bill Cousineau has been on a tear the last six weeks. Bowling for the Fiel's Construction team in the Monday Night Commercial League, Bill has raised his average 12 pins in the last 8 weeks, bowling two 600 series, a 623 and a 610, and shooting seven 200 games, featuring a game high of 234. As meek and humble as Bill is, he gives credit to the new red hammer bowling ball he bought, plus consistent lane conditions the last few weeks. No matter what, that's great bowling, Bill. Congratulations!

CONGRATULATIONS.

Ramblers edge Saints 68-67

Beating the St. Ignace Saints in their home town arena is always a difficult assignment to accomplish, "that's why we are especially pleased," said Boyne City Rambler head basketball coach Rick Fowler. Even better when coming off a disastrous encounter with the Petoskey Northmen, two evenings prior. On Friday night the Ramblers had gone down at the hands of the Northmen 78-58, but rebounded on a rare Monday night outing to defeat the Saints 68-67 in a contest that went right down to the wire.

The win put the Ramblers in an excellent position in the league standings for a chance to begin knocking the leading teams down a notch or two. With Gaylord and Cheboygan leading the league with 3-1 records, while Charlevoix and Rogers City are holding the second tier with 2-2 records, Boyne City advanced to share the third slot with the Saints at 2-3. The Ramblers have handed Cheboygan their only loss of the season and play lead sharing Gaylord this Friday night in Rambler country.

Fluctuating action dominated the game, with the Ramblers taking the momentum at first, then slacking off while the Saints picked up the tempo. Boyne City led 9-1 three and one half minutes into the game, after Steve Stutzman capped the scoring surge with a three point play—fouled on a drive down the key. Previously the Ramblers set up the fast break well, scoring twice with Mike DeSchryver leading the pack.

Offensive rebounding for the Saints became the Ramblers momentum stumper midway through the period, cutting off the fast break from Boyne City while the regrouping Saints closed in on the scoring margin. With five seconds in the quarter, the Saints connected with a long jumper to pull within a bucket 13-15.

Three ties of the score through the second quarter provided a spectators delight, for the few in attendance, with a smatter of confusion from both sides as the defenses and offenses of both teams fell to one style, then another. Fowler countered the St. Ignace offense with a 1-3-1 defense, "but we really confused them later with the 3-2 chase," Fowler said.

One of the biggest factors of the game closed the first half, with the Ramblers committing a late brace of fouls that enabled the Saints to tie the score at 35 all.

Most importantly, DeSchryver collected his third whistle along with Stutzman.

St. Ignace opened the half with a man-to-man defense and later added full court pressure. Three minutes into the period, DeSchryver was retired to the bench with four personals and one minute later Stutzman added his fourth, but remained on the court. With three minutes to go in the quarter, Boyne trailed 48-40 after crumbling under the press. Fowler sidelined the team for conference and the style of game changed again. Rambler Kyle Fitzpatrick erupted from the left sideline down the two minute stretch collecting six points while pulling Boyne City within three points 47-51 by period's end.

With DeSchryver back on the court the Ramblers quickly tied the score at 51, feeding DeSchryver passes on the fast break. The Saints matched the points hoop for hoop until Stutzman fouled out two minutes into the period. St. Ignace applied the press and stretched out a 61-54 lead, The Ramblers regained the tempo of the game after a badly needed fast break beat the St. Ignace press. Brent Johncheck added to the lift hitting both ends of a bonus foul and fed to DeSchryver on the fast break as the Ramblers pulled within one 60-61.

The final minute of the game saw the lead change hands three times while DeSchryver became the Rambler ball handler. DeSchryver drove through the key twice to score and began to draw an enormous amount of defenders. Next trip down, DeSchryver dishes off to Fitzpatrick who rattles it home from the left sideline for a 66-65 Rambler lead with :24 on the clock. The Saints took the lead 66-67 at :15, but the Ramblers had the ball. DeSchryver worked the ball through the press and began to drive down the key. With three seconds left Boyne led 68-67. "I don't know how the ball went in" said Fowler later, but somehow, spinning between three defenders, DeSchryver had underhanded the ball of the glass, off the rim, and through the net.

DeSchryver put in his second 30 points plus game against the Saints, piling up 32 points for game high honors, 14 of those points coming in the fourth quarter. Balancing out the offense, three other Ramblers hit double figures in the game. Stutzman scored 12 points, lacking a half quarter of action. Scott Beebe and Fitzpatrick had 10 points apiece. Tom Miller and Johncheck contributed two points each.

The Ramblers were called for 18 fouls while the Saints collected 16. Boyne City hit 30 shots from the floor against 26 for the Saints and hit 8 of 15 charity tosses while St. Ignace went 15 of 24 at the line.

East Jordan Red Devils nip Trojans... .. lose to Mancy

BY DENNIS SKROCKI
After a big Ski-Valley Conference victory over Inland Lakes in their previous game on Friday, December 19, the East Jordan Varsity basketball team came out in the Christmas holidays with only one thing on their minds, the Central Lake Trojans.

With both teams having identical records of 1-4 (1-2 in the SVC), the Red Devils were looking to gain some ground in the tight conference race.

The first quarter set the scene for the rest of the contest as the teams matched each other nearly point for point with the Devils holding a 13-12 edge at its end.

The second stanza was all Central Lake as the Trojans outscored the Devils 20-11 behind a nine point effort from D.J. Hearnis. This gave the Trojans a 32-24 halftime margin.

The third quarter showed the inability of either team to put forth consecutive successful offensive performances as the Red Devils took charge producing 18 points as compared to Central Lake's 4. The Trojan's cold shooting allowed E.J. to recapture the lead and hold a 6 point lead as the final quarter approached.

The fourth period was a battle in every sense of the word. The lead shifted back and forth several times before power-forward Greg Kitson sank a crucial free-throw with just seconds remaining to seal the victory. The final score ended up 55-52 in the Red Devil's favor.

Kitson was the dominant Devil offensively with an impressive 26 point effort. Also contributing to the Devil victory were: Kevin Molby (10 points), Shannon Olstrom (9), Matt Bishop (6), Mark Moore (3), and Kelly Harchis (1).

Defensively, Kitson was also outstanding with 18 rebounds while Bishop added 11 and Molby, Olstrom, and Moore added six each.

For Central Lake, Hearnis led the way with 22 points as Dave Hall added 13 and freshman Ryan Winger contributed 7.

BY DENNIS SKROCKI
After coming off big victories over Inland Lakes and Central Lake, the East Jordan Varsity basketball team dropped their record to 2-5 with a loss at the hands of the Mancelona Ironmen.

The first period was a battle in which the lead shifted back and forth with the Red Devils holding a one point edge at the quarter's end, 13-12.

The second period saw the Ironmen, behind point guard Tobin Walcott, overcome the deficit and post a 34-25 halftime lead.

Mancelona kept up their dominant ways in the third period as the Red Devils were unable to mount a successful offensive attack to keep up with that of the Ironmen's.

East Jordan made a comeback move in the final quarter but came up short as time ran out and they were handed their third conference defeat of the young season.

Greg Kitson was the Devil's scoring leader with 16 points followed by Matt Bishop with 13 and Shannon Olstrom who hit for nine.

Kitson also led the defense with 11 rebounds as Jim Raymond collected ten, and Kevin Molby hauled in seven. Also turning in strong defensive performances were: Shannon Olstrom (6), Matt Bishop (3), and Kelly Harchis (3).

For the victorious Ironmen Mike Spires led in the scoring department with 20 as Bob Decker hit 11 and Tobin Walcott added 10.

Kruzel's, Depot, Precision Tool, Redman's all win

Boyne City's recreational basketball league saw another week with The Depot bested the 100 plus games when Kruzel's Excavating Works 80 to 63. Dean Hicks hit for 24 points while Rob Spencer added 14 for the Depot team. For the Ironworks, Al Gasco had 20 while Steve Daniel hit for 11.

Precision Tool beat Mechanical Components 76 to 63 in their game. Top scorers for the Merchants were Dennis Lapeer with 27 while Mike Schmidt and Chuck Gottro each had 12. For Precision, Mike Toffolo had 25 and Tony Lutz hit for 23 points.

Adding another 100 plus game, Redman Enterprise dominated the East Jordan Merchants team beating them by a score of 121 to 53. Redman players hitting high scores included John Tompkins with 22 while Nick Redman hit for 20. Taking high scoring honors for the Merchants were Dennis Lapeer with 22 while Tim Kramer added 21.

Boyer Mountain, Highlands $3 million face lift

BOYNE FALLS, MI--Skiers visiting Boyne Mountain and Boyne Highlands this season will be greeted by a number of significant changes and additions.

Physical improvements include remodelled rooms and suites in Boyne Mountain lodges and a complete renovation of the convention building housing the cafeteria and entertainment center, including a new bandstand.

Capping this 3-year, $3 million facility upgrading is a major face lift to many rooms and their appointments at the Boyne Highlands main lodge.

Brand new at the Highlands is the Heather Highlands Inn, an ultra-plush condo hotel that bowed in June for golfers and will be available for skiers opting for European plan lodging. Completed are 36 of a planned 72 one-bedroom and two-bedroom units capable of sleeping parties of six to eight.

Inn amenities include fireplaces, complete kitchens, balconies and an indoor jet pool connecting to an outdoor heated swimming pool. There's also an exercise room, board room and meeting facilities. A medically staffed, fully equipped "lifetime wellness" health spa center is planned for an early March opening in the Inn's lower level.

Those who like all-inclusive ski packages—lodging, lifts, meals and lessons—but who can't spare the time for traditional 5-day ski weeks, can now take advantage of mini packages; one day, two, however many desired, at both Boyne resorts. According to Art Tebo, Boyne's managing director, "People have been asking for something like this for some time now, especially families with kids who can't skip school more than a couple of days. We're hoping that these new mini packages get the job done the way our guests want."

This season daily lift tickets cost $20. That's an increase of $2, said to be necessary by Boyne management "because of another giant jump in liability insurance costs, despite Boyne's fine safety record over the years." Boyne had reduced prices to $18 last season from an announced increase to $22.

Ticket increases have been offset somewhat, however. Children 8 and under can now ski free when accompanied by a parent. They can also room free. Senior citizens of 70 or more can ski free this season as well, and those over 62 can buy Gold Season Passes for $250 versus the $450 cost for younger skiers. Gold passes allow holders to ski at all Boyne resorts, including Big Sky, Montana. They are priced the same as last season, as are the 5-day ski weeks.

All Boyne slopes are equipped with underground water and electrical lines needed for snowmaking. Until challenged, Boyne lays claim to more snowmaking capacity than any area anywhere.

According to Everett Kircher, Boyne's owner and a pioneer in snowmaking, "We have 125 snow machines, each capable of making an acre of snow an hour four inches deep. In 24 hours of continuous operation we have the potential to cover 125 acres with a foot of artificial snow."

"Barring some disaster, we'll have more than enough snow to insure great skiing from Thanksgiving through Easter and beyond," claims Tebo. "But we'll face the age old problem of getting that across to downstate and outstate skiers who have snowless backyards." Introduced during the wind down of the ski season last year were live bands playing Saturdays at the Mountain. "We'll do that again this year, and also open the Trophy Room early and close late, have combos in the Snowflake Lounge, and at the Highlands we'll have more of the same in the Zoo Bar and Slopeside Lounge. More entertainment than ever before at both areas," Tebo added.

Too lengthy to list are the many weekend events scheduled at both resorts in addition to

NASTAR at the Highlands and C.U.S.S.A., U.S.S.A. and club races at the Mountain. Highlights include the Jimmie Heuga USA Express, the U.S. Pro Tour Competition with 70 of the world's hottest pros, the Grand Mariner Chefs Ski Cup and the Michelob Light challenges. President's Weekend, Crazy Day Weekend and St. Patrick's Day Celebration will again be featured occasions.

Skiers wishing event dates and details can call Boyne Mountain (616) 549-2441 or Boyne Highlands (616) 526-2171.

Sled dogs carried supplies, mail, and

BY A. CECIL HOUGHTON

Up the ice-covered Grand River in the winter of 1837 came a team of harnessed dogs pulling a sled which contained an unusual cargo. They were hauling a printing press from Grand Haven into the Grand Rapids area for the newly established "Grand River Times," Kent County's first newspaper.

The first issue was published on April 18, less than three months after Michigan became the 26th state to enter the Union.

But for those sturdy dogs, the task of moving a heavy piece of equipment would have been much more difficult in a period when overland travel was slow and often hazardous.

The role of oxen and horses in Michigan's early transportation history is well known, but dogs also made a significant contribution.

Archaeologists conclude that Indians have been in Michigan since 11,000 B.C. and that the dog was their first domesticated animal. Through the successive trades with other tribes to the southwest, they eventually obtained horses, which were originally brought to America by the Spanish conquistadors on the 1500s.

Indian tribes reckoned their history from the time they acquired the horse—which they called "The big dog"—and referred to what went before as "the dog days." Dogs were used for moving camp, hauling the Indians' personal belongings on their backs, pulling loaded travois in the summer and toboggan-type sleds in the winter.

Historical records confirm that the early pioneers in Michigan adopted many Indian ways, including the use of dogs for transportation. In territorial days and the early years of statehood, DOGGING IT--Sled dog racing is an increasingly popular winter sport in Michigan, harking back to the days when teams of dogs transported mail to northern settlements. Dogs pre-dated horses as a transportation mode for early day Indians. Teams average 18 miles an hour in races, can go up to 40 mph on a packed trail.

news of 'outside' in early day Michigan the mail was carried, on a regular route, all the way from Detroit to Sault Ste. Marie, via dog teams.

A Presbyterian missionary at the Soo in 1831 noted how the winter mails moved: "Two men on snowshoes drove dogs hitched to a toboggan, which carried a tent, blankets, food and a bag of mail. They went to the Straits, crossed the ice, and then went all the way down to Saginaw and Detroit. In a month or two, they would come back with news from the 'outside.'"

It is recorded that when a U.S. Post Office was established in Alpena, the first mail arrived on Jan. 17, 1858, drawn on a train pulled by three dogs following the shore of Thunder Bay on Lake Huron.

"The mail came regularly once a week in winter," the historian wrote, "while the only chance for mail in the summer was in case someone 'went below.'"

Records also indicate that the first white people in the western Upper Peninsula received their mail via dog team from Green Bay, Wis. Even as late as the 1930s, there was a dog team mail route in the eastern Upper Peninsula from the Whitefish Point post office to the Vermillion Coast Guard station. Truman "Doc" McLean used five dogs to carry the mail, groceries, passengers, medicine and tools.

Photos, prints and drawings, as well as written records, document the use of dog trains for carrying mail, supplies and information between remote outposts.

the Straits of Mackinac in 1880 shows a team of three dogs pulling a sleigh, providing regular communication across the frozen waterway that separates the two peninsulas. Another photo shows a Rev. W. Poyseor traveling via dog sled to the congregations in his district—the lumber camps of the Upper Peninsula.

The first documented sled dog race in Michigan was a children's competition in Ishpeming in 1910, with each child running one-dog. That was only three years after the first race held in Alaska, a state that is now the locale of the famed 1,049-mile Iditarod race.

The sport of sled dog racing began to catch on in Michigan in 1959 and spread to other states. Eight competitions are scheduled through March 1, 1987, in locations ranging from Battle Creek in

Merger gives skiers best of two worlds

Bellaire, Michigan. With the merger of Shanty Creek and Schuss Mt. Resorts, this 4,500-acre Antrim County complex has been turned into the most diverse ski area in Northern Michigan. Between the two, skiers can enjoy 34 slopes, 6 chairlifts, and 2 ropetows.

The newly-formed Shanty Creek-Schuss Mt. Resorts offer something special to every type of skier from beginner to expert. And apres ski activities are additionally enhanced by the variety of amenities offered at each resort area.

To make the most of this new combination, Shanty Creek-Schuss Mt. now offer the Superticket. Skiers purchasing this interchangeable day pass can enjoy the slopes at both locations on the same day. During the peak season, the Superticket equals thirteen hours of continuous skiing — Schuss Mt. open from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Shanty Creek, open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Resort guests won't have to worry about the three-mile trip between the two areas since shuttle transportation is provided.

Many beginner and intermediate skiers may find all the challenge they want at Shanty Creek and elect to ski there for the entire day. Other intermediate skiers and the more advanced may prefer to limit their skiing to Schuss Mt. So, for a reduced rate, a day pass for either hill may be purchased.

With the new merger, resort guests will also have access to two indoor pools, an outdoor pool, along with the facilities offered by a fully-equipped Health Club, three public jacuzzis, and 2 ski decks.

Each ski area offers a skier's cafeteria, bars, and fine restaurants. Those who prefer not to leave the slopes can munch delightedly on hot dogs and other delicacies provided by the outdoor food stands. And, of course, rental equipment for skiing is available at each ski center.

Cross country skiers can traverse the groomed trails that wind for over 40 kilometers between the two resorts, and moonlight skiing trips are available by the light of the moon!

All in all, what has made each resort great separately in the past is now combined to provide an unbeatable ski complex that looks forward to an even greater future.

The locals and those in the know have been skiing Searchmont for 35 years. Now it's your turn, and to sweeten the experience we're adding a new triple chair and snowmaking to the area this season.

For 1987/88 (next season) we'll have a second double chair serving a whole new mountain, expanded main lodge and snowmaking over 70% of the ski area. Cross country ski trails will also be added.

Searchmont grew from the majestic terrain of the Canadian Shield, providing big mountain feel - more excitement, more vigor. Now we have 15 trails and a 700' vertical with the longest run over one mile.

Searchmont is 25 miles northeast of Sault Ste. Marie on the Canadian border at the northern terminus of I-75. We're 1 1/2 hours from the Boyne area, 4-5 hours from Detroit and about 6 hours from Grand Rapids.

Discover new skiing excitement with friendly, first-class accommodations and restaurants close by in Sault Ste. Marie.

I'd like more information on Searchmont.
