

Hart city officials tour town

City officials from Hart, Michigan visited Boyne City Thursday and Friday as part of Mayor Exchange Day. Boyne officials visited Hart on Wednesday. City Manager Randy Frykberg took the group around the city offices and various businesses downtown as the city officials learned about Boyne City. They started the tour with a breakfast at Country Star, had a tour of the city offices, then visited downtown Boyne City, stopping for a coffee break at the Dilworth, and then went on to a plant tour of LexaMar before heading home to Hart.

News Briefs

Winners of the Transportation Week Poster contest were announced Tuesday by Charlevoix Transit. The posters that made up the contest were displayed at Glen's Market in Boyne City. Winning in grades 1 to 3 were: first place, Sheryl Fiel of Boyne Falls and second place went to Sean Battiste of Boyne City. In the 4th to 6th grade, the winners were: first, Katie Malpass of East Jordan and second, Jeremy Kuhn of Boyne Falls. Taking the 7th-8th grades division were: first, Ross Miller of Boyne City and second, Ray Luebke of Boyne City. Congratulations.

The Michigan Township Association will be offering a legislative workshop to township officials at NCMC June 2, as part of the annual spring MTA district meetings. More than 100 people from Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Emmet, Otsego, and Presque Isle Counties are expected to attend the all-day event.

There will be no school for the Boyne Falls' students, May 28, as the teachers will be holding a full-day of in-service training.

Boyne City Eagles presented a check to the Boyne Falls School to be used to start a R.I.F. program for the kindergarten through sixth grade.

In an attempt to meet deadlines last week, we left the "I" out of Willson. Loton Willson, that is. He even forgave us as he was pleased to see the museum project started. Even he acknowledged that all the credit should not go to him but to many other members of the community who have worked on the idea, including Bill Underhill and many others.

Boyne tables water-sewer request

Boyne City Commissioners voted to table a request to provide sewer and water services outside of the community until after the Wilson Township Board approves or denies the request of developers wanting to rezone a parcel of land on the outskirts of Boyne City.

The Wilson Township Planning Board recommended the request be approved and they sent it over to the County Planning Commission for their approval. The request will then come back to the Wilson Township Board to act on the rezoning. Until they can take any action, Boyne City decided Tuesday at their noon meeting to hold off making a decision.

Because the land does not meet health department requirements the developers have asked Boyne City if they could tie into the city's sewer and water lines. If approved, the city would require the developer to pay all costs of rebuilding a line from the wastewater treatment plant out to the project area.

The request of the developers met with strong disapproval from many area residents who questioned whether the city should become involved in a project outside of the community when so little of the city is being served by the water and sewer lines presently in place.

John Howard, representing a group of residents asked if the city were to okay the request, See Noon/Page 6

Busy Memorial week-end

Boyne City and East Jordan had their first taste of what the summer may be like as both cities were filled with tourists and visitors over the Memorial Day Weekend.

In Boyne, officials at the third airshow held at the Boyne City Airport Sunday were enthused at the amount of people who came out to the airport to view the airplanes and to see the activities. Officials wished the weather could have brought more planes, but they were running out of parking places to put them.

It was estimated that over 1,000 people watched the acrobatic maneuvers of Don Ziegler of East Jordan and Chuck Scherping of Charlevoix. Many also had dinner at the airport eating roast pig.

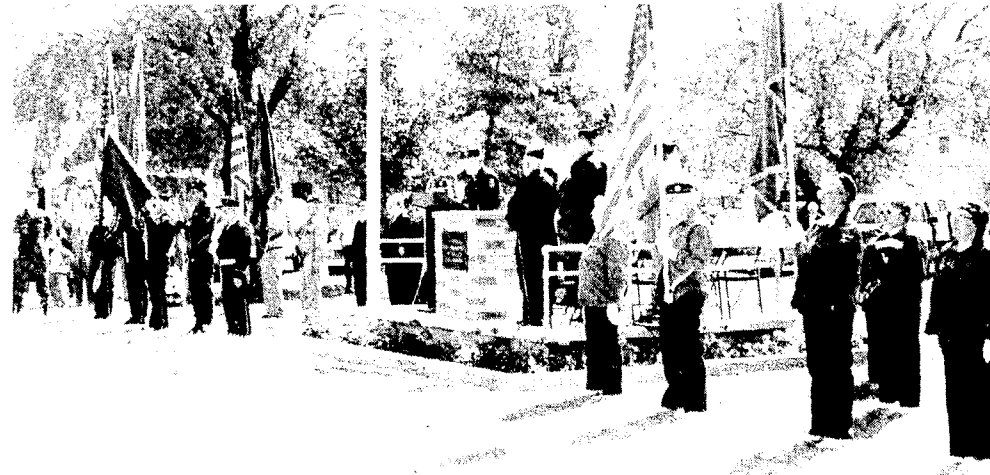

Sunday, a large crowd showed up at the first All School Booster breakfast held at the Boyne City High School before moving downtown to watch the annual Memorial Day Parade and services at the Veterans Park.

There they heard speakers representing almost all of the

East Jordan high's top ten students honored

Ten young men and women from East Jordan High School have been working hard for four years to achieve special honors which will be accorded them on graduation day. Combining good study habits, a real desire to learn, and outside activities, these young people have gained grade point averages at the top of the class of 1987.

Mike Lercel: son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lercel, has gained the place of valedictorian with a grade point average of 4.00. Mike has been accepted at Massachusetts Institute of Technology for the fall of 1987, where he plans to major in physics or aeronautical engineering. Mike has been active in baseball, men's softball, bowling league and computers. During his senior year, Mike has taken English Composition, Calculus, Differential Equations and Organic Chemistry at North Central Michigan College, giving him a head start on next fall's expectations. "Staying organized and working hard" are the only secrets to his success that he would divulge.

Steve Plite: son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Plite, is East Jordan's 1987 salutatorian with a grade point average of 3.90. Steve plans to attend either Michigan Technological University or Carnegie Institute, Mellon University and study computer science or computer engineering. Steve has been involved in band and computers and has taken English Composition, Speech and Introduction to Psychology at North Central Michigan College. Steve said, "Stay at it, work hard," when asked how he managed such a fine record.

Tanya Hoeksema: daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Hoeksema, plans to attend Lake Superior State College. Tanya is undecided about her major choice at this time. Tanya has been involved in marching band and pep band and drama, saying that band has been her favorite class in high school. "I'm looking forward to graduation, but I will miss many things about high school, especially the people."

Diane Shank: daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Shank, plans to pursue her goal of business administration as a hotel manager at Northwestern Michigan College. Diane has been active in band and pep band, Spanish Club (treasurer), and the SADD chapter. "You have to really work hard to achieve your goals. Your goals have to be in perspective of your lifestyle," commented Diane.

Tamra Tighe: daughter of Mr.

Ed Tighe and Mrs. Carole Meade, plans to pursue a business area, possibly accounting, at Central Michigan University this fall. Tamra was involved in band and on the ski team during high school. Tamra feels it is important to "keep your grade up because it will help you get a scholarship" if you plan to do further studies.

Brian Howard: son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Howard, plans to attend North Central Michigan College for two years and then transfer to a college which will give him a good course in journalism and photography. Brian has been active in journalism and in producing the school paper and football. Brian attributes his success to "paying attention in class and studying".

Michele Gibbard: daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Longton and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Gibbard, hopes to attend Eastern Michigan University this fall. She is wavering between political science and dramatic arts as her major study. Michele

PICNICS
What is a picnic? My children knew what it was before they could pronounce the word; it usually came out something like "pink-nick".

A picnic is crunching a northern Michigan apple while walking the beach or through the woods in our state park. It is carrying your plate for one out to the patio to eat. It is sharing a thermos of coffee, a couple of peanut butter and jelly sandwiches and cookies with a special person sitting on a high hill overlooking beautiful Lake Bellaire. It is cooking bacon and eggs for breakfast over a grill for the family on that camping trip. It is eating a beautiful planned picnic in the car when it is pouring down rain.

One thing all picnic lovers agree on is that any food tastes better when eaten out-of-doors. And how about those family reunions when everyone arrives with their own prize winning dishes. My taste buds are working overtime now thinking of mother's homemade bread, potato salad and that freezer of ice cream. Who cares if bugs, bees and ants attend our picnic! I have decided that people who love nature are the best ingredients for a perfect picnic; those warm friendly people who love a sunset.

I want to share a couple of recipes from my friend, Joyce Sadler, who has been so generous with them. She and her husband, Rod, are the perfect host and hostess for picnics at their lovely home on Lake Michigan. This first one has a real nostalgic flavor for those hot dog lovers from Flint who grew up there during the many years when we ate "Coney Islands" at least once a month on the bridge in downtown Flint. I believe this recipe was printed in the Flint Journal many years ago.

Make this recipe ahead of time and keep any leftovers in the freezer for a quick picnic. The butcher at my supermarket says that he usually has beef hearts on hand, you might have to ask for it or let him know when you will need one. I prepare the beef heart this way in the pressure cooker.

Beef Heart:
Remove veins; cover with salted water for 1/2 hour; drain, add fresh water and 1/4 cup vinegar. Cool cooker this way: let cool normally for 5 minutes then place under faucet or in a pan of cold water until pressure goes down.

This beef heart is delicious cooked this way even if you do not use it for the Coney Island sauce. It makes delicious sandwiches.

Here is the recipe for ORIGINAL CONEY ISLAND SAUCE

1 tab. butter
1 tab. margarine
1 1/2 lbs ground beef
2 medium onions, chopped
1 clove garlic, crushed
Salt and pepper to taste
2 tab. prepared mustard
16-oz. can tomato paste
16-oz. can water
1 beef heart (cooked and ground)
4 to 5 wieners, ground
Combine everything but wieners and simmer over low heat until thick. Add wieners. Cook 15 minutes. If sauce is too thin add a few crumbled soda crackers.

Note: Do not brown ground beef before using.

Joyce has also given me this recipe. It is great at any time. If you take it to a picnic, keep it in the cooler. I have no idea how this cake acquired its name, neither does Joyce.

CHOPSUEY CAKE

2 cups flour
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
2 teaspoons soda
1 can (20-oz.) crushed pineapple, undrained
1 cup walnuts, coarsely chopped
1/4 cup coconut
Do not use mixer — just stir.

Combine flour, sugar, eggs, soda, pineapple and juice, walnuts and coconut. Bake in 9 x 13 pan 30 to 40 minutes at 350° until brown and puffed on top. Cool.

For the frosting:
8 oz. cream cheese
1/2 cup (1 stick) oleo softened
2 cups XXXX sugar
2 tab. milk
1 tsp. vanilla
Mix cheese and oleo until color is uniform. Gradually add the XXXX sugar and milk until smooth. You might need to add a little more sugar to make it just right to spread. Add vanilla. Spread on cake while the cake is still a little warm. Cool and refrigerate until used and refrigerate leftover cake.

If your 15-year-old son asked you about birth control, what would you say?

YOU PROBABLY WOULDN'T say anything for a minute. You'd be too busy thinking, "About how fast kids grow up. And about the future. And about how you might say the wrong thing. You might even wonder why he's asking. (Chances are, it's just plain old-fashioned curiosity.) But then you'd realize you have to say something, anything, or you'll lose the moment. Maybe forever. So, as health-care professionals who've worked with millions of teens and their parents, we'd like to offer a suggestion. Answer the question your 15-year-old asked. Not the question you think he might be asking, but the one that's floating right in front of you. If it's about a particular birth control method, tell him what you know. If it's about the right-and-wrong of things, tell him how you feel. As a parent, whatever else you might be feeling at the moment the question comes, you should feel proud that he brought his question to you. Many sons don't. And many of them don't get the answers from anyone in time. Better yet, don't wait for the question. Bring up the conversation yourself. In fact, it's easier to talk with your children about sexuality when they're much younger, before they've become self-conscious and embarrassed. A million teens will get pregnant this year. If your son can talk to you about pregnancy and birth control, the chances are good that his girlfriend won't be one of them. And he won't be a father before he's ready. Or before you are.

The soaring teen pregnancy rate is everybody's problem. I want to help:

The Positive Side

"Your plan can only succeed, when you wipe out, fear of failure."

Jottings

BY JIM SILBAR

What a weekend. Among all of the things there was to do; like go to breakfasts, go to see the planes, go to see the parade, honor those who served and paid the ultimate price, I must say this town was buzzing with activity.

I even had a chance to do some of the things that I needed to do around the house.

I mowed the weeds so it looks like I have grass on at least part of my lawn, pulled out a few more pieces of sumac, and took a trip almost to the top of the state.

And that was before Monday night.

I will say that we should all be thankful that we live in a town as vibrant as this one. Or as vibrant as East Jordan. Both towns were busy as all getout this past weekend. Seems that summer has started and most of us are still out in the woods trying to find the last mazel.

When I took a flying trip (I drove) up to Calumet this past weekend, I started wondering what all those people do for a living in the UP. The only towns that seem to be surviving are those with some kind of industry.

Along US 2, it seemed like those towns were surviving on the lumbering business and tourism. In fact, I think the whole eastern and southern part of the UP is working on lumbering off the second and third growth to feed the paper mills.

As I traveled across to Munising, I noticed the town has what seems like one major industry. I wondered what the Mead paper company made in that plant on the edge of town.

In Marquette, I was glad to see that they had a college to keep all of those folks employed.

Marquette used to be one of the centers of the iron ore business, but I didn't see any ore cars going out to the big steel ore dock. It looked like the railroad tracks had a lot of rust on them from disuse.

This was even more apparent as I went out into the iron country. Negaunee looked like a great place to set up a free food line for those who used to work the iron mines.

Then going to Houghton and Hancock, the scene seemed even worse. While Houghton has Michigan Tech, the rest of the town looked like they wished copper could be found on their side of the channel.

Hancock was worse. Folks are trying to restore the old Quincy Mine hoist and some of the area around it, and are trying to attract tourists to such things as the Arcadian Copper Mine, but for all the history of the site, I was saddened by the empty buildings that have been allowed to fall apart all around the mine areas.

Trees don't even want to grow on the tillings piles that surround the mine. Buildings that perhaps burned down years ago, were just foundations of history.

Calumet was worse. The town that used to be the center of the mining industry for copper was almost sighing its last breath. Buildings in the downtown area were either empty, or being used to store personal belongings and antiques of the past.

Sure, those folks in the town are trying to save it, trying to make a tourist center out of it, but it seems that the only thing they have done so far, is to get the entire town listed in the National Historic Register.

The hoist tower of a mine used long ago was still standing, a remembrance when times in the copper industry were alive with hope.

About the only thing I can think of that may save that part of the country would be to have the foreign copper mines close down, and the price of copper skyrocket to the point where UOP, the company that took over the Calumet and Hecla mining interests, would be able to start up the pumps to pump out the water which was allowed to fill all of the mine shafts.

That, in itself, may take about a year to pump out the mines, as they are deep and large.

Miles of tunnels go under that whole area.

In the early days of the mining operations as there, they found a lot of silver up there, opened up the shafts.

Maybe the price of silver will go up too, and maybe the mine owners will start a different way of digging out the almost pure copper that is found in the area. They have an almost pure amount of silver in the ground. They might want to consider open pit mining.

Maybe the silver ore would pay for the finding of copper, and men up there could go back to work.

The area has a rich tradition in the history of the state and the nation. I hate to think it is gone in my lifetime.

It took about a day to grade a mile of freshly laid gravel road as this team of horses pulled a grader during the making of the road that goes to Horton Bay. The horse crew would go back and forth along the road until they spread out the gravel and leveled the roadway. It sure is different from today when a truck can grade the shoulders of the same road in a few hours.

Editor,

After a bit of a vacation I'm back. I suspect some will think I shouldn't have bothered to return, others couldn't care less but a few might say hi.

I have been watching the proceedings in Washington and listening to the presidential candidates make their pitch lately. Let's take care of Gary Hart first. I don't think people in general cared too much about his playing around. It was just some nice juicy gossip to go along with their coffee, but not necessarily fatal.

He knocked himself out of the running by not being able to deal with a crisis. How would he handle a national crisis? What he did and how he reacted to adverse publicity was stupid, and we have too much stupidity in the White House now. I say we are well rid of Gary Hart. I can't see another serious threat surfacing before late fall or at least until the Iran-Contra scandal has been dealt with. This should give them all the ammunition necessary to put a decent man in the White House.

I can understand and even sympathize with the Republican party's dilemma. They are trying desperately to avoid yet another failed presidency in less than fifteen years. All of their aspiring candidates are trying to stay as far away from Reagan as possible. When Reagan falls—and fall he surely will—if they can't get a wall built around him in time or get us involved in war, all those far right conservatives will go down too.

I think we can look forward to the dirtiest campaign ever. It may prove to be for our own good though. When the people of the United States select a second rate actor to represent them they shouldn't be surprised to find out that they have a second rate president.

This administration has attracted and found a home for more corrupt, self-serving in- See Letters/Page 4 federals, I gently but firmly declined the distinction. My other duties (and the President) would not allow it.

My time is much occupied with the great hustle of being retired and in the thinking up of a column for the locals to read and grumble. If people on social security could not read and grumble what chance would they have? This did not occur to those who rang the bell for me in Washington.

If I had replaced Mr. Casey as top hotdog of the C.I.A., there would have been a falling off of my chaste and picturesque contributions to the press, and the great surging world of literature would have been much surprised and grieved. Most politicians would have been found dumb or dumbfounded.

I could not have entirely laid aside my retirement even if I had agreed to spring forward and serve my country. I cannot write without being wrapped in the most perfect calm. I would be annoyed by the wild whisperings of Ollie North hatching ring-tailed secrets in my back yard; besides that the spending of thousands of dollars to buy snow tires to be used in Nicaragua would have kept me awake nights.

In addition, I would be agitated by a nervous dread. If I were to go near him I might be sticking my nose into the dangerous cloak and dagger business. I don't mind the cloak, but that dagger stuff ain't my cup of soup.

And suppose the nation were to rear back on all two demanding a ten quart pail of honesty? How could I give in to our huddled masses without throwing a monkey into Mr. North's wrench?

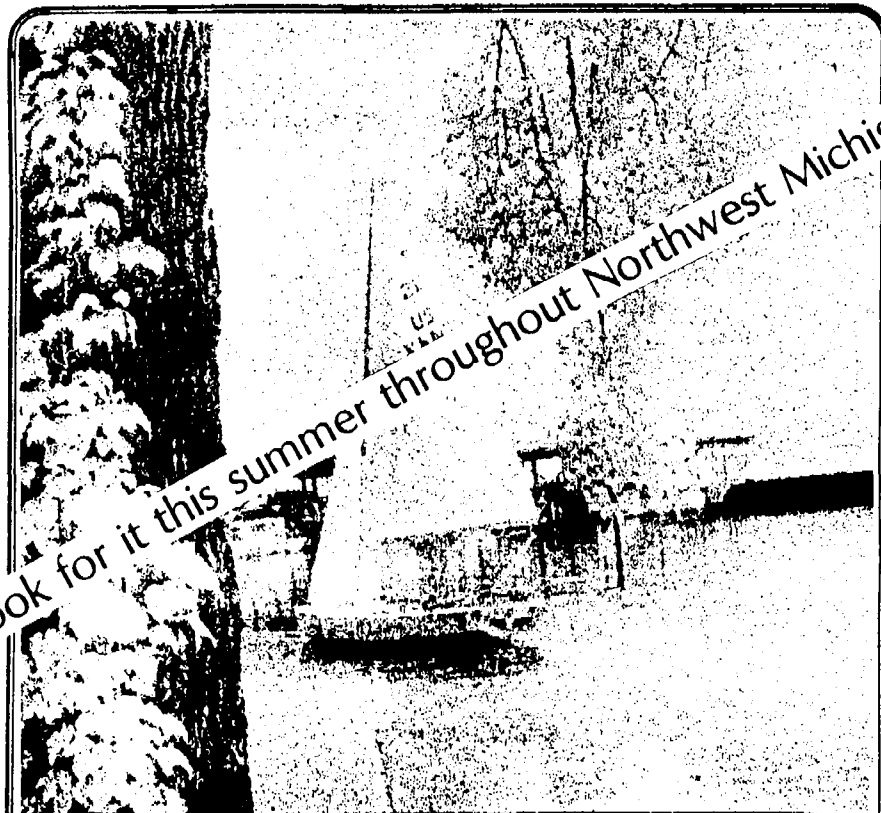

I'm so glad the government didn't insist that I jump on the bandwagon. I would have made a poor C.I.A. head. I probably would have sat in my office as innocent as a spanked baby while the gentle and magnetic powers of congress wrung Ollie's neck.

As I sit here and write this, I am beginning to realize how fortunate I am to be living out here in the quiet boondocks of Wilson Township, unscathed.

I looked that word up. It means scot free of that scary stuff in Washington.

doing and other things a parent group can do. An organizational meeting was held on May 14 and officers were elected. Gary Ciszewski was elected president; with Stephen Renkiewicz as vice president; the Rev. Gene Mickey, treasurer; and Carol Stone, secretary. Five committees were formed which will function year-long; they are membership, youth activities, fundraising, public information and program. The group also set goals and worked out objectives.

This meeting is a culmination of several months of meeting informally and brainstorming and finalizing into an organized effort.

EJ-PAC plans to have monthly meetings with programs and to plan activities for teenagers that are alcohol and substance free. They plan to have at least one student activity this summer, even though they are young and just starting as a group.

Greta Mackler has been the major resource person, having first contacted the school to give them an idea of resources available in this area. Mrs. Anne Dingman has been the liaison and will continue in that role, having initially met with Mrs. Mackler, representative of Michigan Communities in Action for Drug Free Youth, and began weekly meetings with teachers Lyn Zimmer, Dick Cunningham, and Tammy Jackson. All teachers had a half day in-service concerning drug problems and how they can be a part of the solution, however, the main emphasis was that parents need to be involved. Various parents were contacted and they met with Greta Mackler. She explained to them what local groups in the area are

The Parents for Alternative Choices group will also be selling memberships at a nominal cost.

President Ciszewski is meeting with the officers of each class, of the SADD group, and the Student Council to enlist the support of the groups and to ask them to help with in-school publicity.

All concerned citizens, parents, students, grandparents, and others are urged to attend the May 28 meeting, at 7:00 p.m., in the East Jordan High School Auditorium.

Letters

I have said it many times and I'll say it again. We have got to demand more accountability from our elected officials. We must look far more closely at their qualifications or the lack of same. Our next president will be faced with the biggest challenge of all time and he will need to be a real hands-on leader. Let's see if we can do better in our choice for 1988.

EJ boys finish 2nd in conference boys' track

BY DENNIS SKROCKI
The East Jordan boys' track team capped a brilliant 1987 campaign by finishing second at the Ski-Valley Conference meet held at Harbor Springs on Thursday, May 28.

Mancelona captured top honors with 153 points as E.J. came in second with 94 and Inland Lakes rounded out the top three with 91. Bellaire finished with 87, Pellston (62), Gaylord St. Mary's (17), Harbor Springs (15), and Central Lake (8).

Jim Raymond and Shannon Olstrom captured individual first place finishes in the 110 high hurdles and 800 meter run, respectively. Olstrom also finished second in the pole vault as Raymond took third in the low hurdles.

Dave Freel and Kevin Molby also turned in strong individual performances as Freel finished third in both the 100 and 200 meter dashes as Molby took third in the high jump and fifth in the discus event.

The relay team of Olstrom, Keith Harchis, Kelly Harchis, and Rick Clark captured top honors in the 3200 meter relay.

This year's squad, as well as coach Brad Jones, should be commended for an outstanding season which was highlighted by strong showings at the CMU and Petoskey relays.

BC track ends 6th out of 9

BY SCOTT KNIPE
Boyer City wound its track season this year at the Michigan Huron Shores Conference meet, of which Boyne placed sixth out of nine teams overall.

It seemed that adverse weather conditions cut down performances, but for a few from Boyne, the weather didn't seem to impose at all. Mike Deschryver came away with three medals: a first place in both the 100 meter dash, the 200 m. dash, and a second in the 400 meter dash. Travis Hartman also took home a medal, taking second in the mile run.

On the girls' side of the meet, Marci Center dominated both hurdle events getting both firsts, Angela Reich took a fourth in the discus and a fifth in the shot, Kelly Smith nabbed a fourth in the 440 meter dash, and the mile relay team also took another fourth.

This was Boyne's last meet of the season, but on May 30th, Mike Deschryver and Angela Reich go to Bangor to compete in the State Track Meet.

Four sisters together for birthdays

BY ELOUISE ROSSLER
Four sisters, ranging in age from 62 through 85, had a delightful birthday celebration; courtesy of the son and daughter of one sister. Mr. and Mrs. Bud Worgess of East Jordan hosted the party on Sunday, May 17, for his mother, Mrs. Nina Polaskey growing up". The sisters were raised in northern Michigan and have lived most of their lives here, but raising families and distance kept them from getting together this way.

Barb Worgess had worked on the project for about a month in order to iron out all the logistics of getting all four of them to one spot at one time. All of the ladies are widows except Mrs. Morey.

Mrs. Dawn MacIntosh, sister to Mr. Worgess, was also a guest as her birthday is also in May. Ms. Darlene Green, niece of the four sisters, was present for the gala affair, as were the two youngest Worgess children.

has been in band, track, OM competitions, student leadership forum, volleyball, and was the Rotary Exchange Student to Japan during her junior year. Michele commented that you must "be involved, but keep grades up. Life isn't just having straight A's; there are many other things to do and learn."

Rose Richards: daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Richards, plans to be in the sales and marketing and business management program of Davenport College of Business in the fall of 1987. Rose has been active in band and has been class officer (treasurer one year and secretary one year) during high school. Rose's advice to any student aspiring to be successful is "Study hard!"

Steve Healey: son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Healey, will be concentrating in management in business administration at Lake Superior State College this fall. Steve has been on the ski team and in journalism in the past four years. Steve feels that "keeping your grades up pays off in the end as you are eligible for more scholarships, and more people notice you."

Kevin Molby: son of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Molby, plans to study business administration at Northwestern Michigan College this fall. Kevin has been involved in band, basketball, track during his high school years. "You have to have a college degree to feel like you're going to make it today and you have to get it in your mind to achieve it. This starts in high school." This is how Kevin sums up his high school success.

These ten graduates seem to hold the philosophy that hard work is worth its end result as they prepare for the last few days of class and for graduation. All of them are excited about going on for additional schooling and eager to meet the challenges to the world they have heard about so much. It appears they are ready to conquer the world with knowledge and enthusiasm.

East Jordan girls' track finishes 2nd in Ski Valley

BY DENNIS SKROCKI
The East Jordan girls' track team finished second overall in the Ski-Valley conference meet. The Devilettes score of 123 was surpassed only by Mancelona (131.5). Also competing were: Inland Lakes (93.5), Central Lake (63), Bellaire (56), Pellston (29.5), Harbor Springs (19.5) and Gaylord St. Mary's (2).

EJ captured three first place finishes in individual events with Patti Schmitt taking the discus; Kristy Miller, the 800 meter run; and Jody Cordova, the 3200 meter run. Cordova also finished second in the 1600 meter run.

Also turning in strong performances were: Christie Barber, 4th 3200 meter run and 5th in the 1600; Dia Jones, 2nd in the 200 meter dash; Renee Spence, 4th in the 800 meter run; Jennifer Moreau, 3rd in the 200; and Julie Lytle, 6th in the 200.

Relay teams were also stunning as the squad of Jones, Lytle, Miller, and Moreau took the 800 meter event and Moreau, Chris Jankowski, Spence, and Miller won the 1600.

After the great finish of this year's squad, which consists mainly of underclassmen, coach Dennis Snarey is expecting wonderful things in the coming years.

Boyer City sweeps East Jordan in non-conf. double-header

BY DENNIS SKROCKI
The Boyne City Rambler baseball squad traveled to East Jordan last week to take on the Red Devils in a non-conference double-header.

Games were cut to five innings instead of the normal seven as Boyne had a pre-district contest on the following day.

The Ramblers struck early in the first inning as a Steve Stutzman double, followed by a Greg Webb home run, put them in front 2-0. They also added another in the second.

The Devils put a run across the plate in each of the first three innings to tie things up heading into the fourth inning.

The Devils took command by scoring four runs in the bottom of the fourth but Boyne tied things up with one in the fourth and three in the fifth.

Weeks, Kyle Fitzpatrick, and Baxter had one each. Fitzpatrick's was a third inning solo homer.

For the Devils, Matt Bishop led the way with two hits as John Hribljan, Jamie Bartlett, Pepin, Dennis Skrocki, Glen Stevens and Ted Sherman added one apiece.

The second game saw the Ramblers jump out to an early 4-2 lead after the first inning and they never looked back. Four more runs were added in the second. The Devils only threat came in the fourth where they scored three.

Boyer held on in the last inning to capture an 8-5 victory.

Webb collected the win going the distance, giving up six, while walking four and striking out two. Steve Dionne received the loss going three and two-thirds innings with Matt Bishop coming on in relief. Control seemed to be the Devils' downfall as only four hits were granted to Rambler batters.

Kevin Beebe, Kuheana, Brandon Billings, and Weeks accounted for the Rambler hits.

Steve Shepard and Hribljan led the way for the Devils with two hits each as Pepin and Mark Moore collected one each.

EJ men's fast pitch softball underway

BY DENNIS SKROCKI
The East Jordan men's fastpitch softball league got underway over the weekend with the annual Memorial Day single elimination tournament.

A triple-header was played on Friday night with a bye granted to one team. Friday's winners met on Saturday night and the two survivors met in the championship contest on Sunday.

Treasures, (the game was decided by a Bob Nemecek homer in the bottom of the sixth and final inning); and Jordan Carpet, 14-13 over Cliff Russell Heating. Carey's Corner Market drew the bye.

A 14-4 trouncing of EJIW by Dave's Mobil and a close 8-7 victory by Carey's over Jordan Carpet set the stage for Sunday's championship showdown.

After a scoreless first inning by both teams, Dave's Mobil exploded in the second with six runs on three hits and two walks. One of the hits being a grand slam homer by "Big" John Skop.

Dave's added two more in the third and four in the fourth to capture a 12-0 victory in a completely one-sided affair.

Brian Bolser was the winning pitcher for Dave's with a brilliant one-hit shut out. He allowed no walks in the contest and struck out four. Randy Morris took the loss for Carey's.

The regular season will get underway this week on Wednesday as Cliff Russell Heating goes up against Tom's Diesel and EJIW faces Jordan Carpet in double-header action.

Red Devils nipped by TC St. Francis, 7-6

BY DENNIS SKROCKI
Under cold and rainy playing conditions, the East Jordan varsity baseball squad bowed to Traverse City St. Francis in the opening round of district tournament action.

The Devils fell behind early as St. Francis put four runs across the plate in the first two innings on three hits and a walk. E.J. made a gradual comeback as they scored one, three, and two runs in the third, fourth, and fifth innings, respectively.

They capitalized on six walks and three errors to take a 6-5 lead heading into the sixth inning.

The Gladiators added a run in the bot-would the developer also have to pay for the additional voted millage that was recently passed by the voters to pay for infrastructure improvements. He and other residents thought the city should take care of the residents before they move out to the country areas.

The developers, represented by Gil Redmer, said they would be paying for all costs to bring the lines to the project area. Al Range, serving as the engineer for the project, said that if the city approved the request, other sections of the area could tap into the lines at less cost.

The city commissioners asked the city engineer to look into some of the ideas presented.

Many other township residents also appeared at the meeting to express their disapproval of the project. Redmer's group is intending on building 180 condominium units in the medium price range on the property along Hull Street.

In other action, the commission approved a purchase of a 1978 vacuum jet truck to replace the 1971 jet truck the city is currently using. The cost was $50,000 and was said to be in good shape. The purchase was made contingent on the inspection of the city mechanic and will be under a six month warranty.

The city also accepted a check from the Boyne Area Historical Society in the amount of $10,000 to help with the building cost of the new museum. The $10,000 almost is enough to pay for the building of the museum, along with the other monies raised through a one-mill tax a few years ago. The Society said they will continue to support the museum with more money in the future, according to Mrs. John McGeorge.
