

Costumes galore at annual parade

Ghosts, goblins and other things that go bump in the dark, will be on display as the annual Boyne City Elementary School Halloween Parade gets underway Friday about 1 p.m. But, you are warned to come early as this parade of kids is the best parade in town, according to many parents who will come out to look at all the creatures who will be trick or treating the next evening. The parade will start from the school and will circle around the track at the football field as the children show off their costumes. This file picture from a parade a few years ago, shows what kind of creatures will be parading, and having a good time.

The fine arts department of Boyne City High School is holding their first performance of the year Nov. 1 at the Elementary School starting at 3 p.m. Featured will be the 7th and 8th grade bands as well as the high school marching band. Donations will be accepted at the door for use to expand the music libraries in the middle and high schools.

It's that time of the year, according to the District Health Dept 3 officials who are saying that head lice seems to occur at this time of the year. Anyone with questions can call them at 547-6523.

The East Jordan Community Pool will be offering an advanced life saving class on Saturdays Oct. 31 and Nov. 14 from 12 to 7 p.m. and Sundays Nov. 1 and Nov. 15 from 8 a.m. to noon. Preregistration is required and more information can be obtained by calling 536-2250.

More than 24.2 million people visited Michigan State parks this past season making park attendance up six percent and breaking the 1978 visitor count record. 5.2 million were campers. Young State Park was not among the most popular as Warren Dunes, Holland and Grand Haven had over 1 million each during the season.

With two to three deer-car accidents daily, the Sheriff's Dept. is advising drivers to be on the lookout for deer during the fall and winter months. Designated as high probability areas are U.S. 31 south from the Walloon Lake junction to the county line, Thumb Lake Rd., M-75 north and south, Boyne City Road by Young State Park, and between Quarterline and Brown Rds., M-66 between Wickersham and Ironton, U.S. 31 south and north of Charlevoix.

EJ to try to expand sewage plant

Months after completing one government grant to build the new city marina in East Jordan, the city will apply for an Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) grant to help pay for a $1.826 million sewage treatment expansion of the lagoons and irrigation areas near the East Jordan Airport.

If approved, the grant will pay for 50 to 60 percent of the projected cost. The remaining amount would be paid off with higher user fees, particularly to large volume users.

The expansion is needed, ac-ording to Mike Dionne, the City Engineer because the present system is only rated to treat 200,000 gallons a day but is presently treating about 290,000 gallons of wastewater.

The present system uses a system of ponds and spray irrigation to treat water using about 30 acres of land near the runways of the airport.

With the expansion, the system would be able to handle 377,000 gallons of wastewater per day and will have another aereated lagoon pond added along with another 55 acres of irrigation.

Under the proposal to pay for the project, residential sewage rates would be increased about 5 percent, making a monthly bill about $10.52 for the average residential type of building.

Since EPA regulations on grants do not allow discounts for large users, companies like the East Jordan Ironworks would see a dramatic increase in their quarterly bill. Project Engineer Rick Beaupre said their bill could be as high as $1,300 instead of $450 per quarter. The Ironworks uses about 7,000 gallons of water a day.

Since the project is on land in South Arm Township, residents there came out to the meeting last week to express concerns about how the expansion would look and the smells that may occur.

They say the present ponds smell during the summer and also were wondering how the expanded system would be monitored.

Beaupre told them the new system would help improve the smell and the plan has more monitoring wells to protect the ground water.

He said the pond would be constantly aereated which will help to reduce odors. The irrigation system will be a groundlevel flood type rather than the present spray irrigation.

Dionne and Beaupre said they hope to receive the grant in time for 1989 construction.

The City council has delayed action until they review the proposal and give South Arm residents more time to provide their input.

VFW answers City Attorney

Boyne City Post 3675 of the V.F.W. answered the Boyne City Planning Board with a letter sent to the city hall Tuesday answering many of the concerns raised last week when the planning board asked the city commission to approve the city attorney to enforce the sign ordinance as it dealt with the VFW.

In the letter, the VFW said it feels the present ordinance is contradictory and prejudicial in that the ordinance says it is okay for a wooden sign to be 25 percent bigger. The letter said that it appears to have been some collusion between the board and a businessman in town that has made a lot of the signs for the city.

The letter further suggests that if the city doesn't want neon and other signs like those around today, it should move the entire city back to 1900. That, the letter says, would eliminate neon, all of the interior lighted signs and most of the metal signage.

The letter also continued to say that the city would also have to walk or use a horse and buggy, the stop lights could be eliminated and all of the businesses could save money.

It also said that making those changes would make the community into a resort town where in the winter, we could all hibernate.

The letter said that the VFW has tried to work out the sign concern with city officials and is still trying to comply.

The VFW said the sign and post was constructed when only the state highway department was involved and it met with their approval.

The letter concluded that there are many signs within the city that should be brought into compliance and those that are not proper now should be listed the same as the VFW.

Lake plan sent on for approval

It took almost three years for members of the Lake Charlevoix Management planners to come up with a set of proposals they will be asking the County Planning Commission to approve after review. Then it will be passed on to the townships and cities around the lake for their approvals.

Boyne City and East Jordan have already said they disapprove of much of the plan, which has many areas of controversy, according to several people involved with the plan.

Changes in the final draft will, hopefully, help the plan through

Boyne voters will find four candidates for two seats

Boyne City voters will be going to the polls next Tuesday to elect two City Commissioners from a list of four candidates.

Heading the list is incumbent Thelma Behling. She will be facing Sandra Stanley, Rudy Florenski and Andy Andrick for one of the seats.

All of the candidates were asked three questions by the Charlevoix County Press dealing with some of the issues they will be facing. Other questions, concerning the landfill caused all to give about the same answer, get the other townships involved with the closure if the city cannot get a grant from the state to help with capping the landfill.

The first question dealt with the alleged housing shortage within the community and the growth of the city.

Behling answered she would like to see an updated masterplan before seeing additional housing being put in the wrong places. She would also like to see further growth of the Air/Industrial Park to add additional businesses to the community to provide more jobs.

Stanley said she feels there is a need for additional housing as the city does not have adequate housing to meet the needs. She would prefer more single and duplex housing being constructed within the city.

Andrick said the present industrial development will cause the building of additional multiple, apartment and duplex housing that the working person could live in as opposed to additional resort type construction.

Florenski said that there is enough adequate housing for those who live and work in Boyne City. He also added that it would be difficult to add additional housing as the developers can't compete with government financed housing, that builders and private enterprise shouldn't have to compete with FHA loan based subsidies. He also said he feels there are still houses around for sale or rent.

The second question dealt with continuing the infrastructure building program.

Behling said she hopes the city will be able every year to see new sewer, water and street improvements throughout the city.

Stanley said she would like to see the program be a continuing project of the city and needs to use a portion of the growing tax base to see it happen.

Andrick said that the city's infrastructure should have been financed better in the past, instead of playing "catch-up" as they are now. He feels the city should be looking into the future by putting money into the building program from the tax base of the city.

Florenski said the city should wait to see what is going to happen with the federal government. If that goes down, we should wait to spend any additional money. Because Washington is unstable, in his opinion, the city should walk a tight line before spending any more money.

The third question, why do you want to be a commissioner, brought the following responses.

Behling said she would like to serve one more term. She would like to see the masterplan updated, more recreational sports added to Avalanche Preserve, and a larger Air/Industrial Park.

Stanley said she would like to see more people become involved. She enjoys going to meetings and learning new things. She hopes to be able to

Voters soundly reject Wilson rezoning

It's back to square one for developers trying to build a condominium project on Hull Street in Wilson Township after voters resoundingly defeated the township board's approval in a referendum vote, 200-26 last Tuesday.

The disapproval of the rezoning means that the land will revert back to single family zoning instead of multiple that the developers had asked for earlier this year.

The defeat of the project was good news to Shellie Barnes who told the Petoskey News Review the voter turnout was "very heavy and very convincing."

The 228 votes cast represented about 25 percent of the voters within the township. Two ballots were cast without any holes punched.

One of the developers, Gil Redmer said he wasn't much concerned over the outcome. He said the group has other things they may do with the property although he declined to give any specifics.

One of the plans being considered may be to ask Boyne City to annex the property into the city although Redmer has not made a formal request to do so.

Consolidation brings jobs to Boyne City Consumer's office

Consumers Power, in a move to reduce operating costs, will be consolidating several offices and adding employees to the Boyne City office, according to a company spokesman last Friday.

The move will relocate six additional employees of the Gaylord office to the Boyne City location on East Street.

Four other offices in Ludington, Frankfort, Harrisville and Fremont are among the offices to close as the company further reduces operating costs.

"Consolidating those offices in the Northwestern Region, as well as several other offices in other regions in the Consumers Power Company distribution regions, is a third major step in the company's current efforts to trim costs and improve operating efficiency," said Frank B. Manning, general manager of the utility's Northwestern Region.

The first major step came in mid-July when the Company announced that it would consolidate its seven distribution regions into four by September 15. In that move, the Company's former Western Region (headquartered in Grand Rapids) and its former Northern Region (headquartered in Traverse City) were combined to form the new Northwestern Region (headquartered in Grand Rapids).

Prior to consolidation of the five offices into others, the new region had 18 work headquarters scattered throughout a 36-county northern and western Lower Peninsula area.

"Consolidating these offices in our region affects 49 employees," Manning said. "That total includes 15 employees at Ludington, 7 at Frankfort, 6 at Gaylord, 7 at Harrisville and 14 employees at Fremont. They will be offered an opportunity to work in another Company location.

"Consumers Power Company has long been known for its above average level of service to customers," Manning added. "We hope to maintain an above average level of service even with these changes."

The cost reduction moves followed an order from the Michigan Public Service Commission, requiring CPCo to make a $74 million electric rate refund to customers and to implement a $22 million rate reduction.

"Management is committed to keeping costs in line with revenues for the health of the Company and the benefit of its customers and shareholders," Manning said. "Consumers Power Company continues to be committed to providing Michigan the best utility service at the most economic cost."

Cooking

My sister, Margaret, likes to serve smoked fish as an appetizer before one of her special dinner parties. Just remove the bones, cut in pieces and serve with a toothpick and little crackers. It is delicious with any beverage, especially beer. Good smoked fish can be bought in many places in our North Country from Leland to Escanaba.

Her husband, Ellery, who has lived most of his 70 years in Connecticut has been fishing on Long Island Sound and the Atlantic, does most of the cooking for these dinners and he specializes in fish cookery. He is a fisherman from "way back." His father was a commercial fisherman before him. Ellery advises me that the packaged frozen fish in our supermarkets are even more likely to be fresh than any fresh fish unless you catch it yourself. He says that the industry catches, cleans and freezes the fish all the same day.

This is a recipe that I am sure he would like to prepare.

NEW ENGLAND HADDOCK
1 lb. haddock, fresh or frozen fillets

2 tablespoons butter, softened
2 teaspoons chopped parsley
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1/2 cup Italian salad dressing
1 cup dry bread crumbs
Lemon wedges for garnish

Thaw fillets if frozen, skin, and cut into servings. Cream butter, parsley and lemon rind together, set aside and chill.

Add salt and pepper to dressing and mix thoroughly. Dip fish in dressing and roll in bread crumbs.

Place fish on greased broiler pan and broil about 3 inches from heat. Broil 4 to 6 minutes or until lightly browned. Turn carefully and broil another 4 to 6 minutes or until flaky. Top each piece with about 1 teaspoon of the lemon-parsley butter.

Garnish with lemon wedges. Serves 6.

He always serves a fruit salad with a fish dinner using whatever is available; apples, grapes, melon, pineapple, and strawberries or blueberries in season.

Margaret likes to serve a luscious dessert with these dinners. Here is her recipe for MARGE'S CAKE

Bake a cake from a one-layer cake mix (white or yellow) in a loaf pan. 7 x 11 x 1 1/2 is a good size. It will be a thin cake. Cool.

When cool, spread with a 3 oz. pkg. of cream cheese which has been softened. Then a layer of prepared instant vanilla pudding. Then a layer of crushed pineapple, drained well. A layer of non-dairy whipped topping and sprinkle with coconut.

Fish that has been on the market for a while now is in the form of "Imitation Crab Meat." It is available in frozen food sections or in the deli. We have used it in pasta salads and Ellery adds some to his sea food chowders.

IMITATION CRAB MEAT SALAD

1 lb. imitation crab meat
1/2 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion

1 cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons chopped sweet pickles
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
Cut meat in 1/4 inch pieces
Combine with all ingredients.
Serve on lettuce.

And let's not forget good old tuna fish.

Try this on your frozen waffles or toast.

TUNA TOMATO RAREBIT
2 cans (7 oz.) tuna
1 (10 1/2 oz.) can condensed tomato soup
1 cup grated American cheese
1/4 cup cream or milk
1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard

Drain tuna, break into large pieces. Combine all ingredients in a saucepan or chafing dish and heat to boiling, stirring constantly. Serve on hot waffles or toast. Serves 4 to 6.

OPEN TO THE PUBLIC - BRING YOUR FRIENDS

The Positive Side

"We often give the most to ourselves, by giving to others."

Marshall Sayles

1929 to 1987 and all that scary stuff....

A letter from a friend says he lost his New York job in the big market slump and now he can no longer handle stocks and blonds... People don't want to think about the market's quick sink causing a depression. After the 1929 crash a good many survived on potatoes and beans. The price of today's beans won't allow that...But if a depression does hit you'll have no trouble meeting your expenses. Just turn around and they'll be there...And other things may change, too. You may no longer get ten cents back after buying a bottle of pop or $700 back after buying a new car...Worst of all, the public turned to our politicians in Washington for help after last week's crash, only to find them trapped in a society that expects them to know what is going on in this country.

This column is being written while the market is still clinging by its well-cleaned fingernails. If it does spring up and level off to cookies and milk there will be a great roof-top whoop throughout Boyne City. There will be a pleasure in it much like wrestling with a fine woman.

To tell the truth I do not have enough marbles to purify the bitter atmosphere of the garbled dollar bill, so I shall move on and speak of Halloween. If things go on schedule it should arrive in town on Saturday.

All Boyne City children will experience a wild, glad feeling of perfect abandon as they go about stirring the tranquility of even those who detest such stirrings. They may even commit some folly frowned upon by the school, the City and Billy Graham.

Yes, Halloween is one of the few times children can force adults to pay strict attention to them. The attention is sometimes very pleasant and sometimes it's a "get out of here" thing.

I know because during my Halloween days I was often told where to go. The thing that bothers me is that now I am enlarged to an adult, I am still occasionally told where to go when it isn't Halloween at all. The last time that happened I got so mad I sat in a rocking chair and ate oatmeal right out of the box.

To avoid this problem I make sure when I go downtown not to hear all I hear.

There isn't a whole lot going on in Boyne City after Labor Day. But since the stock market lost its underpinnings the rumors are making up for it.

I shall say no more. Why? Because I am a lazy man and I know it and I intend to remain lazy.

Letters

Bring back the dark ages?

The Boyne City Planning board has decided to publicly condemn the VFW for the sign that we place messages of events that will happen at the post. This is our answer to the Board and to the individual that was humiliated over the sign and the Memorial at Veterans Park. Now as to the sign ordinance that is contradictory, and prejudicial. It is prejudicial in that it states that anyone installing a sign that is wood will receive an additional 25% area limitation. Now this appears to hover on colusion between the board and a businessman in town that has made all of the signs for the city.

Further the board feels that Boyne City should have signs of the turn of the century era. I propose that they should go all the way and make Boyne City outstanding by going all the way back to 1900. This will do away with those ugly neon signs, all of the interior lighted signs, and most of the metal signs. Of course, it would also mean that we would all have to walk or drive a horse and buggy. On the plus side, we wouldn't need traffic lights anymore, and all the businesses could save money by not using computers, and all the electronic toys anymore. This

Too many questions unanswered

Although it took almost three years for the Lake Planners to come up with a plan they think will control development and boating on Lake Charlevoix, it appears there are too many holes in the final draft that will be presented to the County Planning Commission for their approval before being sent on to the county board.

Some of the holes deal with what we call "Build the fence, don't let anyone else play here" syndrome we find appalling to those interested in the continuing development of one of the state's better areas.

Questions we would like to see answered before the County Commissioners and the planners approve the recommendations include enforcement.

Who will enforce such things as vertical and horizontal setbacks? Will the county have to hire additional people in the building department with knowledge of what the lake level is day to day, week to week and year to year?

Who will take charge to tell some boater who drove up from the south to fish he can't put his boat in the water? Will additional people have to be hired by the cities and the county police departments? We know we would not like to have that job.

What about greenbelts? Who is going to go out and measure each and every passageway along a 50 to 200 foot greenbelt to make sure the homeowner is complying with a ten foot pathway? Not 10 foot, one inch among the poison ivy, but 10 feet. Is the DNR going to be asked to do the measuring?

And what is a multi-family development? Is it two residences, or 20? And to limit the person who only wants to build a two unit multifamily type of housing to 500 feet of frontage is wasteful as far as good land use is concerned.

What do you do with already platted wetland lots that are less than two acres? Ask the county to replat some lot that was platted back in 1897? And who will pay for that?

We would also like to know why present marinas will not be allowed to expand, unless they will have thousands of feet of frontage. Rack storage of boats seems to be the way Florida handles excess boats as they know not every boat is going to be in the water at the same time.

We would also like to know what was the basis of "boat units". On what criteria did the lake planners decide to use them. They will admit they took the idea from someplace in Minnesota, possibly the Boundry Water Natural Area that really is an environmentally sensitive area for wildlife. But is that criteria best for Lake Charlevoix?

We have been saying for months that many of the recommendations being considered are based on the outlook of a few. Those few are trying to control all of the people who may want to enjoy the pleasures of the lake in the future but may be negated from doing so by some silly rules put in place in 1987.

We should leave boating concerns to those who will have to face them years from now. Perhaps they will be in a better position to understand the reason they may be needed.

Sure, we will agree it might have been a good idea to ensure the lake continues to be the big attraction to people, but do we have to make laws and rules only for the rich, landed, and privileged people?

One final question. Why be concerned with boating when boats cannot utilize the entire watershed the rules will be written for? Can you see a boat of any size trying to go up the Boyne or Porter Creek?

The whole plan is something for the County Planners and Commissioners to throw out, even with the good faith effort put into it by the lake management group.

Especially if they are living in one of the eastern states. As in Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut.

We are sending papers to 22 states and it would be nice if we could send them to 50. At least one copy to every state.

Get ahold of those people you may know who used to live around here and ask them if they would like a copy of the paper sent to them. A lot of things have changed around town and they may want to be kept up with the many more changes being made in the area right now.

Just give us a call with their names, and we'll start them on the list.

American Legion celebrates Auxiliary's 65th year

On Thursday, October 15, 1987, Legionnaires of the American Legion, Ernest Peterson Post No. 228, Boyne City, hosted the Auxiliary in celebration of its 65th anniversary as a Unit.

More than 80 members of the two organizations were in attendance, to pay tribute to the auxiliary members both past and present.

Starting with a 6 to 7 social hour in the Legion Hall, the sumptuous dinner of prime rib and country fried chicken, catered by Betty Kelts. Anniversary cake completed the menu. The dining area was decorated with white table cloths and red, white and blue streamers, to add to the occasion.

The program which followed commenced with a pledge of allegiance. Warren Davis, a member of the post, and Past Commander of the 19th District, Department of Michigan, presented the program. Harriet Urman was the recipient of a door prize, an arrangement of flowers in a cut glass, crystal vase.

The program chairman read a report of contributions given by the Legionnaires of Post No. 228 from a period of June 1986 to June 1987, totaling over $8,000. Among the major charities receiving these contributions were: Gaylord Veteran's Hospital Relief Fund, four boys sent as candidates to the American Legion Michigan Boy's State Program, one boy to the American Legion Michigan State Police Academy, the Boyne City Community Chest, Reye's Syndrome Foundation, March of Dimes, Easter Seals, three boys to Camp Daggett, Arthritis Foundation, Community Christmas Baskets, Veteran Affairs and Rehabilitation, the Chaplain at Northern Michigan Hospitals, Challenge Mountain Ski School for the handicapped, as well as others. He stated that all recipients had responded to thank Ernest Peterson Post for their generosity and although it was not possible to read them all he read one letter from George T. Lasater, Sheriff of Charlevoix County that stated, "The Legion members and Auxiliary are to be commended on their efforts on behalf of our teenagers in the Boyne City area."

In recognition of the honored auxiliary members, Davis responded, "We Legionnaires are proud of our Auxiliary. By their working together, the Legion is America's largest veteran's organization. The American Legion Auxiliary is the nations largest organization of patriotic women. Our Auxiliary provides effective support for the Legion's major programs, plus carrying out programs that are uniquely their own. In conclusion he added, "The American Legion and the Auxiliary are dedicated and devoted to advancing the ideals of America - justice, freedom, democracy and loyalty, all under the motto, "For God and Country." For this we can be most proud - for this we say Thank You - Auxiliary Members!

Dignitaries attending from out of town were: Charles Bassett, Gaylord, 19th District Commander; Don Reamer, Lewiston, 19th District Sgt. at Arms and Mary Reamer, Lewiston, 19th District Auxiliary President. Commander of Ernest Peterson Post No. 228 is Walter Knysz and the Auxiliary President, Virginia Stokes, both of Boyne City.

16th Annual Win-Some Women Retreat features Phillip Yancey, Barbara Johnson

Shortly women will be gathering at the Convention Center at Boyne Mountain to share fellowship while growing in the Lord Jesus Christ. The 16th annual Win-Some Women Retreat will be November 6th and 7th with a Community Banquet to be held Saturday night at 7 p.m. The banquet which is a highlight of the retreat will feature Phillip Yancey as a guest speaker and Living Truth will provide the music.

Phillip Yancey from Chicago, Ill. received a Masters Degree in Communication from Wheaton College Graduate School in 1972. He joined the staff of Campus Life Magazine in 1971, and worked there as an editor for eight years. Since 1978 he has primarily concentrated on freelance writing. More than 400 of his articles have appeared in 60 different publications, including Readers Digest, Publishers Weekly, Saturday Evening Post and many more.

He has written seven books, including Where Is God When It Hurts?, Fearful and Wonderfully Made and In His Image (co-authored with Dr. Paul Brand), each of which has won the Gold Medallion Award from the Evangelical Christian Publishers Association.

"Where Is God When It Hurts?" is Phillip Yancey's seminar that leads to discussions on the questions that occur to all of us at some point. Why earthquakes and cancers and AIDS? Does God cause our pain to teach us a lesson? Why do some good people suffer so many bad things, while some bad people escape in comfort? This seminar should help you deal with those questions, and also help others who hurt.

Our other featured speaker is Barbara Johnson from La Habra, Ca. and is the founder of Spatula Ministries. She will share her true story of a wife and mother who learned how to cope with the crippling of her husband, the deaths of two sons, and the homosexuality of a third. Spatula Ministries provides comfort for parents who learn their children are caught up in homosexuality. Barbara Johnson has good news for you, she has survived and so will you. "Fresh Elastic For Stretched Out Moms" and "Where Does a Mother Go to Resign?" are written specifically to help promote healing and restoration.

Barbara Johnson's seminar is entitled "Building A Joy Box." Also featured seminars are as follows: "Take Time to Seek Me," Elise Arndt, "Caring and Sharing: Creating Relationships," Colette Paget, "Fit For the Master," Rev. David Behling, "Thriving or Just Surviving: Which?," Jo Anne Lyons.

Living Truth is a unique music group composed of Dale and Debi Ackerman from Elkton, MI and Russ and Dee Dee Tibbits and Tammie Barbret from Care, MI They play seventeen instruments, both antique and contemporary. They have traveled throughout much of the U.S. presenting their diversified musical program in combination with a meaningful testimony of their vital relationship with Jesus Christ.

Registration forms, more information, and banquet tickets may be obtained by contacting your local area co-ordinator Pam Laurie or they may be picked up at Powder Puff Beauty Shop. Banquet tickets are $10 per person.

The retreat is sponsored by the Neighborhood Bible Study classes of Petoskey, and all women are invited to attend.

Consumers Power offers tips for safe Halloween

A bright light placed inside a carved pumpkin makes the face look eery and sinister. After all, that's what makes Halloween so much fun, right?

Consumers Power Company says lighting in other areas can make it a safe Halloween, too. If residents turn their lights on, ghosts and goblins in search of tricks and treats can find their way more easily.

A well-lit home will help youngsters avoid obstacles like uneven sidewalks and driveways, low-hanging tree limbs, dark steps and passing vehicles.

Dusk is perhaps the most difficult time for drivers to see pedestrians. So it is helpful if the lights are on during the transition from daylight to dark. It is worth the extra few cents they might cost and makes it safer for children and adults who want to make Halloween an evening of fun and excitement.

In order to keep this a safe Halloween, Consumers Power suggests these guidelines for parents:

- Limit trick or treating to the early evening; it's safest before dark.
- Children should stay in their neighborhood and only stop at homes they know. Younger children should be accompanied by an adult.
- In order to be more visible, costumes should be light-colored or have reflective tape. It also helps if the child carries a flashlight
- Costumes should be non-flammable.

- The eye-holes in masks should be large enough to easily see through.
 - Candy and other treats should be inspected by parents before being eaten.
 - Drivers, be aware of youngsters out trick or treating; drive with care.
- So, keep your lights on, watch out, and have a safe and happy Halloween!

Sometimes cutting up a pumpkin may not be just right. This group of pumpkins were painted, with the exception of one small creature who just had to get in front of the camera to see what was going on.

Ware-withal

by Gail Ware

"Snoot'em or scare 'em to death," by dad used to say. He was talking about radio and TV advertisements that insisted on singing silly songs to him, reciting bad verse or shouting at him in their sales pitches. In the 25 years since his death, nothing much has changed in that sector either. And I really didn't expect it to, which is why Hal Riney's work in the ad world has come as such a lovely surprise.

Riney's mental gymnastics have brought us, among others, the ads for Bartles and Jaymes wine coolers, a yuppie product if there ever was one. These masterpieces use two old, decidedly not upscale men to carry the message. This when advertising wisdom says that like should be used to attract like. On top of that, one of the principals, Ed Jaymes doesn't speak at all. He just sits there showing no emotion whatsoever. Supposedly, Frank Bartles speaks for both of them. But he doesn't generate enough excitement for one must less two people. He delivers his lines straight-faced and matter of factly. And the audience loves it. Once more, they buy the product these fellows sell.

Hal Riney's agency also does the mellow music, soft-voiced ads for Gallo wine. Again the public greets them warmly and buys accordingly.

Some of the ads Riney and his staff create don't appear in Michigan. His office is located in San Francisco and the products he advertises often are only available in that area. So we've missed the agency's ads for ice cream, the Oakland A's and some fine work it did for a United Way campaign. They have been highly praised and I regret we missed them.

Riney avoids political ads. He feels that due to time limitations, these ads must oversimplify the complex and rely heavily on the negative to sell the candidate. And this doesn't fit with his style.

Before he had his own agency, though, he did do some political work including serving on a team that wrote an ad for Reagan. But Riney feels that fortune smiled on him for that one because before the time came for the team to create the ad, the President was shown to be far ahead in the polls in his race for re-election. As a result, the spot could portray happy, confident families reaping the benefits of "the good life" that Reagan had supposedly secured for them by his first term. The ad left viewers with a pleasant glow, just what always Riney aims for.

Hal Riney says he creates his ads to appeal to the emotions not the reason. To him that means inspiring upbeat feelings, which in turn people associate with the product, which they then proceed to buy. He does and it works.

He also uses good taste in his ads. This makes them stand out in a field where this quality has been conspicuous by its absence.

I know my dad would have cheered the Bartles and Jaymes ads. He might have characterized them too—perhaps as, "Woo 'em soft and sane." Or he might have just said, "Thank you, Frank and Ed."

Char/Em seniors to receive added discounts

Charlevoix County and Emmet County seniors could save thousands of dollars more next year through the expansion of the Senior Savings Program in the Charlevoix County/Emmet County Ameritech Pages Plus directory.

Ameritech Publishing, Inc., publisher of the official Michigan Bell white and yellow pages directories, is intensifying its promotion of the discounts and special services provided through the directories' advertisers.

Savings opportunities are available to seniors from advertisers whose ads include a special rainbow trademark or the words: "We

"We're urging businesses in both counties to take advantage of the program," said Jerry Moss, area sales manager, in Traverse City, for Ameritech Publishing. "The program is absolutely free. Advertisers pay no extra fee for use of the trademark and language in their ads, and they create significant savings opportunities for seniors."

This year, according to Moss, the company will expand participation to a significant number of new advertisers. "We have nine salespersons who started contacting area businesses today, encouraging them to offer savings to seniors," Moss explained.

Moss also said the area's advertisers can take advantage of many other special advertising programs and features to enhance the effectiveness of their ads. The new Ameritech directories will be available to the public in May of next year. Moss added. Meanwhile, seniors should look for the familiar rainbow sign in this year's books.

Boyerne takes Hurons in overtime win, 22-20

BY SCOTT KNIPE
Boyerne City pulled out a close victory with an overtime win against the Rogers City Hurons, 22-20, which made the Boyerne City team have the best record they have reached in the last several years.

Up to this past weekend, the lack of a pass defense was partially the demise of more Rambler wins, but this past Friday, that defensive effort made the win after a pass on the Huron attempt to force a second overtime period failed and Boyerne came home the winner.

Scoring during the first quarter was nonexistent as both teams failed to gain any worthwhile ground, but in the second quarter, Boyerne switched the flow of play and moved the ball down to the two yard line of the Hurons before quarterback Troy Heierman ran the ball into the endzone on a sneak. Tom Miller again hit for the extra point.

The Hurons didn't care for Boyerne being the first on the scoreboard, so they too made an excellent drive later in the quarter, scoring on a seven yard pass. They ran for the conversion and Boyerne went into the halftime down a single point.

With the few minutes of rest during the halftime, the Ramblers collected their wits and went at the Hurons again in the third with Pete Smith carrying the ball for a tackle breaking 30 yard run into the endzone. Miller again hit the extra point bringing the score to 14-8.

The Rogers City team was down but not out as they drove the ball down to the Boyerne three yard line before scoring on a short pass play. Their attempt at a two point conversion failed, leaving the two teams tied.

Boyerne had hopes of having a score in the fourth quarter, but the Huron team contained the Rambler efforts. It was much the same for the Hurons when they tried to pass their way to the lead, but as time ran out, the two were still deadlocked.

In the overtime, both teams were allotted four downs from the ten yard line. Each team has a chance to score or the ball is turned over.

So Boyerne tried.

After wasting the first two attempts, Heierman gave the ball to Jeff Fineout who ran the ball a few short yards for the TD. The Ramblers then decided to go for a two point conversion and succeeded when Fineout ran the ball into the endzone.

On the Huron attempt, they ran the ball to the one yard line before another run made the score 22-20.

Their extra point pass was short, although Boyerne covered the play well and Boyerne ended up with their third win of the season.

The Ramblers had a total of 222 yards rushing, while the defense limited the Hurons to only 52. In passing it was almost the other way as the Hurons had 140 yards passing while Boyerne only had 45 yards coming on just two plays.

Heierman hit on those two out of four attempts and was intercepted once.

The Hurons were also intercepted once when Brian Napont grabbed one that started a touchdown drive for the Ramblers. The Hurons also turned the ball over to the Ramblers when Jamie Coon recovered a fumble in the second quarter.

Pete Smith was the top rusher for Boyerne gaining 72 yards on 10 carries. Jeff Fineout had 55 yards with 15 carries while Kevin Beebe earned 48 yards on 10 carries. Heierman had 18 yards, Tim Hennessy added 16 and Brian Napont another 13.

Defensively, Chuck Vondra had seven solo tackles while Beebe had five.

Boyerne with a three-five record will be facing a formidable Petoskey team this Friday for the last game of the season. The home game will start at 7:30 p.m.

Red Devils downed by Trojans, 24-18

BY DENNIS SKROCKI
Last Saturday afternoon the East Jordan varsity football squad suffered its fifth consecutive loss at Central Lake where they were downed 24-18.

The Devils scored first at the 6:19 mark of the first quarter when Dan "Mad Dog" Freel blocked a Trojan punt at the CL three yard line and Scott "Killer" Diller picked it up and took it in for the score. The extra point conversion run by Ted Sherman came up short.

The Central Lake offense contributed to another Red Devil TD less than two minutes later when a fumble was picked up by Mark Moore and taken 34 yards to paydirt. The conversion was again unsuccessful and the Devil lead stood at 12-0.

With 1:43 remaining in the first period, the Trojans put six points on the board with a short run. The two point conversion pass was complete and the Devils lead was cut to four points, 12-8.

No scoring took place in the second quarter and the 12-8 score stood at the half.

EJ added another score in the early minutes of the third quarter as Dennis Skrocki hooked up with Kelly Harchis on a 27 yard

TD pass. This was also the result of a Trojan mistake as a fumble, recovered by Ted Sherman, gave the Devils excellent field position. The conversion failed but the lead was extended to 18-6.

The Red Devils held their lead for the remainder of the third quarter but the Trojans scored at the 8:44 mark of the fourth stanza and with the extra point cut the margin to 18-16.

After forcing the Devils to punt on their next possession, the Trojans put together a lengthy drive that was capped by a TD and conversion with 3:41 remaining in the contest.

In their final possession the Devils were unable to put together a successful drive and bowed by the final score of 24-18.

The Devils were held to 44 yards as Ted Sherman led the way with 28 yards on 16 carries as Curtis "The Wildman" Weidler picked up 16 on five carries.

In the passing department

Skrocki completed four of 15 for 53 yards and one touchdown.

Defensively, Diller led the way with 12 tackles as Jeff Olstrom added nine and Skrocki came up with eight. Also contributing to the defensive effort were Sherman(5), and Weidler, Bill Mathers, Jeff Burks, Lyle Walters, Kelly Harchis, and Bill Gotts all with four each.

East Jordan's record now stands at 2-6 overall, 1-5 in the Ski-Valley Conference. They will close out the season this week at Mancelona.

East Jordan girls top Ellsworth, 65-57

BY DENNIS SKROCKI
Last week the East Jordan girls' varsity basketball squad downed Ellsworth on Tuesday, 65-57, before losing a 47-45 heartbreaker against Bellaire on Thursday.

At Ellsworth the Devils held a slim 20-17 lead after the first period but extended it to 11 points, 41-30, at halftime.

The third period saw each team score 11 points thus making the score 55-41 heading into the last period.

The Lancers outscored the Devils 16-10 in the fourth stanza but that wasn't enough to overcome the huge deficit as EJ claimed a 65-57 victory.

The Devils hit 24 field goals and went 17 of 26 (65%) at the freethrow line as the Lancers hit 25 shots from the floor and went 7 of 21 (31%) at the line.

Jill Burt was the leading scorer with 20 points as Sara Chase added 16 and Kris Burt and Dia Jones each contributed eight.

On Thursday night things were deadlocked 12-12 after the first period of play but the Devils trailed 27-24 at halftime as they were outscored 15-12 in the second quarter.

The Devils deficit climbed to five points, 42-37, after the third period. In the final stanza the Devil defense held the Eagles to only five points but the comeback attempt fell short as they were only able to score eight of their own and bowed 47-45.

In the contest the Devils hit 20 of 59 (34%) from the field and 12 of 18 (66%) at the freethrow line as Bellaire hit 19 of 75 (25%) and went 9 of 22 (40%) at the stripe.

Burt was again the leading scorer with 14 points as Chase and Christie Barber added ten each.

Defensively, Burt also led the way with 16 rebounds as Barber grabbed five and Chase and Dawn Noiro crashed the boards for three.

This week the Devils will travel to Mancelona on Tuesday before hosting Harbor Springs on Thursday.

BC jayvees stomp Rogers City, 43-0

Boyne City jv girls beat Rogers City 48-34

BY SCOTT KNIPE

Boyne City's JV football team is walking the victory path this season, losing only two games so far as they enter the last week of play. Thursday night they added another name to their list of defeated teams as they walked over Rogers City, 43-0.

Boyne opened up the game in excellent fashion when they recovered a Rogers City fumble with 8:33 left to play, and Jason Hunt made good use of it when he ran in the games first touchdown with seven minutes in the quarter.

With three minutes gone in the second, Boyne added another touchdown when Bo Williamson made good on a pass to Jimmy Bush who was waiting in the inzone. Williamson gained another two points for the team on a conversion pass to Vondra.

At the 5:38 mark in the game, Boyne punted and the Hurons failed to hold on to it as Jason Hunt recovered the loose ball.

Three minutes later the Ramblers gave the ball back to Rogers on another fumble, and with 54 seconds left Rogers fumbles again, giving Boyne possession and initiating what was to be a very long last minute.

Williamson connected on a 25 yard pass to Jim Abney to give Boyne first and goal at the ten yard line.

Abney again had the ball in his hands the very next play, this time while Abney was in the inzone. Vondra ran in another two point conversion and Boyne left the half twenty two to zip.

With four minutes expired in the third, Williamson takes the ball in on a quarter-back keeper for another six points.

A minute and a half later Bush intercepts a pass and runs in the touchdown, but the play was called back on a penalty.

Boyne took the ball on Rogers 45 yard line but fumbled it.

Another thirty seconds elapsed before the Hurons dropped the ball again and Williamson recovered it, unfortunately there was no result of the fumble.

Vondra then intercepted a Rogers City pass and easily ran in the touchdown but again a penalty brought the ball back.

Near the end of the quarter Abney intercepted a pass and ran in a touchdown, only this time it was penalty free. Mike Kitson kicks the extra point and brought the score to 35-0 heading into the fourth.

Quickly in the last quarter Boyne was intercepted, but Bush pulled a deja-vu, intercepting a Huron pass and setting up the ball on Rogers 20 yard line. Jason Hunt took the ball in for a TD and Abney got the two point conversion pass.

For the rest of the game both teams traded possession back and forth until time ran out and Boyne sealed the victory, 43-0.

For the rest of the game both teams traded possession. As the season nears its end, Boyne hopes to end on a confident note as they head into Petoskey next Thursday for the season closer.

In the past week of competition, Boyne City's JV girls' basketball squad dropped a close game to Grayling, 52-48, and then defeated Rogers City 48-34.

At Grayling, Boyne put up a struggle, starting poorly but gaining good ground in the second quarter to end the half tied. In the second half the lead switched hands many times and finally ended with Grayling on top. Crissy Gervasi was Boyne's lead scorer with 17 points followed by Dawn Archambault with 16. Also contributing were Kristen Harvey and Nancy McCullough with 4; Cristina May, Sharon Ordiway and April Silbar with 2, and Toni Toton with 1.

On top of the job for Boyne again was Gervasi with 21 points. Adding points were Nancy McCullough with 9, Dawn Archambault with 7, Toni Toton with 5, Kristen Harvey with 4, and Sharon Ordiway had 1. Kristen Harvey was top rebounder with 10 rebounds followed by Crissy Gervasi and Nancy McCullough each with 9.

2nd buck license purchase opportunity with '86 legislation

Hunters are reminded that legislation passed in 1986 provides them with an opportunity to purchase a second buck deer license. In the Lower Peninsula only, during archery season, and statewide during the firearm and muzzleloading season, these licenses are valid for a deer with antlers of three (3) inches or more.

Second buck licenses were available after September 24, from license dealers throughout the state and from Department of Natural Resources

(DNR) district offices. Costs are $12.85 for resident bow and arrow, $75.35 for nonresident bow and arrow, $6.60 for junior bow and arrow, $12.85 for resident firearm, and $100.35 for nonresident firearm.

It is not legal for seniors to purchase a second senior license—they must purchase a resident license at the full rate for their second license. Junior bow and arrow hunters may purchase second licenses at the reduced cost.

In 1986, hunters purchased 19,430 second archery licenses and 88,273 second firearm licenses. About 5,520 archers took two deer, as did 20,150 firearm hunters.

The new licenses were accepted by deer hunters, had little impact on the herd, and produced $1.07 million in revenue for fish and game projects in Michigan.

Disabled have expanded hunting

Hunting opportunities for the disabled will be expanded under legislation that has been approved by the Legislature. Under House Bill 4616, disabled hunters carrying special permits will be allowed to hunt game from an off-road-vehicle (ORV). The new law is needed because the state ORV law prohibits ORVs from going into public hunting areas during deer hunting season. HB 4616 brings the ORV Act into conformity with existing state game laws which allow the disabled to hunt from a standing vehicle with a special permit.

SANDRA R. STANLEY

I'm a native of Boyne City. My family has been active in our community since 1905. I have 26 years business experience in our Insurance Agency and have served on Boyne City's Planning and Park and Recreation Advisory Boards, as well as being Secretary-Treasurer of the Citizens Involved for Progress Committee.

Personal interests include membership in the American Legion Auxiliary, BACPAC, Boyne Valley Garden Club, Boyne Yacht Club, and Eastern Star.

I'd like to be known as a hometown girl, a positive person with the overall best interest of the City in mind. The only ax I have to grind is apathy. I enjoy attending meetings, learning new things, working with people. People need to become involved. We need better communication between the public and the various boards within the City.

This is my primary goal as well as continuing the beautification of the City.

OUR CONGRATULATIONS TO THE BOYNE CITY LANES ALL STAR, ALL CITY 1986-87 WOMEN'S BOWLING TEAM

All City Team Loaded With Talent

"Talent galore in the women's ranks." In one of the more competitive women's associations in the north, it was very tough to come up with the Top Ten Bowlers for the 1986-87 season. The averages were close, lots of 600 and high 500 series were shot and plenty of 200 games rolled. So with all that in mind, we present the Women's All City Team for the 1986-87 Bowling Season.

SHERRY GILLETT

A pleasure to watch when she's bowling. A very nice backswing, a good release, and one of the better follow throughs you'll ever see. Sherry finished with a 165 average, and gives a good performance week in and week out. A superb spare shooter on top of everything else. Just a delight to watch her bowl. Well done, Sherry!

KAREN MC CARY

Probably a surprise pick to some, but what a second half Karen had. She rolled four 600 series in a seven week span during February and March, and won the Women's Singles event in the City Association Tournament. Karen proved that if you get off on the wrong foot at the start of the season, just be patient, because anything can happen during a 32 week season. A great finish, Karen. We're happy for you.

ILA SINEWAY, CAPTAIN

What a year for Ila. She had the women's highest average with at least 60 games in league competition, a very nice 174. She also had more 600 series than anyone, ending up with 6 of them. Her highest was 635. Ila had numerous 570 and 580 series, and never seemed to have a bad night. A very deserving captain for the Women's All City Team.

KAREN WINTERS

Fast becoming one of the better bowlers in the area, Karen ended with a 172 average, had the highest series bowled by a woman kegger, a 642, along with 5 other 600 sets. Karen also rolled five 230 games enroute to what we think was a very fine season. Nice job, Karen!

MARY GASCO

A gal who enjoys her bowling regardless if she bowls good or bad. For Mary, it usually is good. Finishing with a 168 average, Mary didn't have a 600 series last year, but who would complain about having 13 series over 550? That is just darned good bowling. She always seems to have the ball around the pocket, and misses very few spares. A nice selection for the team. Congratulations, Mary!

2nd Team - All good bowlers who could have been picked for the 1st team, the competition is that good. So here is the group we feel deserves honorable mention.

LYNDA WILSON

Although she was pregnant during the regular season, Lynda still managed to carry a 168 average. When she gets back to bowling on a regular basis this year, it's going to be hard to keep her from making the first team. Fine year, Lynda.

BRENDA URMAN

Brenda came on strong at the end of the season, averaging almost 198 the last couple of weeks to end up with a nice 166 average for the season. She rolled a 601 and a 588, and if she can get off to a good start this season, bowlers beware. Good going, Brenda!

SUE KARLSKIN

Sue had herself a good season going until an ankle injury put her out of commission. Somehow, Sue managed to finish the season with a 166 average. Sue is off to a great start this season, so if she stays injury-free, look for Sue to put some big scores up on the Honor Roll Board. Here's to Good Health, Sue!

THERESA WARREN

Theresa was another one of the girls to start slowly, but then after Jan. 1 went on a tear, averaging 189 for the month of January, to end up for the year with a nice 166 average. A good bowler when she wants to be. All Theresa has to do is try to be a little more consistent, then watch out! A very nice year, Theresa.

SANDY CALUSEN

Sandy was probably the most consistent bowler of the group. Started out real good when the season got going, and was still carrying a very good 165 average when the season came to an end. No peaks or valleys, just a good, steady performance put on by Sandy. A good, good year, Sandy.

Well, there you have it. It was a tough assignment. We left some girls off that could have made it, but we only had 10 spots to fill. It's a great compliment to the very good women bowlers that we enjoy having at Boyne City Lanes. (If we thought it was tough naming them this year, we feel we'll have an even harder job come next year.)

BC varsity girls lose to Grayling, Rogers City

BY SCOTT KNIPE

The varsity girls' squad from Boyne City has not had much luck lately, especially when the games were away. Such was the case against the Grayling Vikings.

Grayling's defense was strong enough to hold the Ramblers under twenty points until the fourth quarter, and backed their defensive effort with a powerful shooting game of their own. The final score was 61-25.

Rambler high scorer of the night was Mary Beth Archambault with six points, followed by Mindy Stad with 4, Michelle Montgomery and Tysh Crozier with 3; Amy Weeks, Lacinda Thompkins, Marci Center, and Colleen Williams all with 2, and Patty Schmoldt with 1.

The girls hoped to change the tide as they travelled to Rogers City, and almost did, but again wound up on the short end of the stick 28-35.

High scorer of the Cheboygan game was Lacinda Thompkins with 9. Contributing scorers were Mindy Stad with 5, Marci Center and Michelle Montgomery with 4, and Crozier, Weeks, and Williams each adding 2.

Free photography lecture Nov. 4 at Hidden Valley

On Wednesday, November 4, the second in a series of four art lectures, sponsored by the Gaylord Area Council for the Arts, will be held at 7:30 p.m. at Hidden Valley Resort. This one is titled, "Eye to Eye: The Contemporary Photograph."

With the acceptance of photography as an important medium in the fine arts has come a profusion of techniques, materials and aesthetic positions. Like other forms of contemporary art, this field can be characterized as highly diverse and eclectic. Artists such as Lucas Samaras and David Hockney approach the medium as they might a painting or construction; others, such as Sandy Skoglund and Cindy Sherman, have returned to "pictorial" practices. The work of William Wegman, Joel Peter Witkin, Deborah Turbeville and Andrew Pawlek, among others, will be discussed.

The lectures are conducted with slide presentations by Hope Palmer, Art Historian, from the Detroit Institute of Arts. This program is made possible by funds from the State of Michigan and presented by Statewide Services, Founders Society, Detroit Institute of Arts, Gaylord arts council members co-chairing this event are Marie Brabb and Tony Morse.

Dogs and cats may need to be re-vaccinated against rabies

The State Veterinarian's office, Michigan Department of Agriculture (MDA), advises pet owners to re-vaccinate their dog or cat for rabies if the animal received a rabies vaccine since July, 1985 with either Endurall-K or Rabguard-TC by the subcutaneous method

(under the skin). "Dog and cat owners should check with their veterinarian to see if Endurall-K or Rabguard-TC was used and if it was used, how it was administered," Dr. Michael Chaddock, MDA State Veterinarian, said. "If the pet did receive an injection of one of these vaccines subcutaneously, it is considered a non-vaccinate and should be re-vaccinated."

According to Dr. Chaddock, MDA supports the U.S. Department of Agriculture's (USDA) withdrawal of approval for subcutaneous (under the skin) administration of Endurall-K and Rabguard-TC, manufactured by Norden Laboratories, Inc. of Lincoln, Nebraska. The vaccines should only be administered intramuscularly to provide dogs and cats effective protection against rabies.

The USDA withdrew its approval of the subcutaneous administration of the Norden drugs, effective August 17, 1987. Studies indicate the vaccines didn't provide adequate protection three years after injected under the skin.

For further information, please contact Dr. Michael Chaddock, State Veterinarian, MDA, at (617) 373-1077.

Commissioners pay bills at noon meeting

Boyne City Commissioners spent their Tuesday noon meeting playing catch-up with the bills and the change orders that have been created with the rebuilding of the city's infrastructure.

Approved were bills totaling $71,761.43 which covered change work orders for work along Lake, East, South and Pine Streets. The work consisted of additional and replacement fire hydrants, extra costs for gravel and bedding sand, manholes and about 1300 feet of sewer and water line that was replaced after it had been inspected and found to be in bad shape.

The commissioners also approved paying for the patch jobs that Hodgekiss and Douma is doing to make the streets passable after the sewer work made cuts into the road bed. That totaled $49,756.90 for 666 square yards of patching.

All of the money expended so far is still below the amount of money estimated for the project so far. That is because the bids for the work came in much lower than was expected.

The commission also approved the purchase of salt and sanding sand for winter road maintenance. Those costs were budgeted at $12,000 for the season and the bids came in at $11,577. The city will be buying 150 tons of salt as well as 2,000 cubic yards of sand to put on the roads this winter.

The city also approved the final billing from H. & D. for the Alice Street paving. The cost, $5401.68, will be split between the city and the homeowners. The homeowner share will be about half or $2,570. The city share will be paid out of street funds.

Motorists once free-wheeled without licenses

Your two-color vehicle license plate and plastic-covered State of Michigan driver license displaying the unflattering "mug shot" were items unknown to many of our fathers and grandfathers.

State registration of vehicles did not begin until 1905 and driver licensing was not undertaken by the state until 1919. Before then, anybody could drive anything anywhere—roads permitting—with no license or plates.

Records from the Secretary of State's office show a total of 2,188 motor vehicles were registered in 1905. Last year 6.3 million licensed drivers registered 7.7 million vehicles for use on the state's 118,000-mile system of highways, roads and streets.

Before 1905, some cities registered commercially-used horse-drawn vehicles and simply used the same paper forms to register motor vehicles.

From 1905 to 1910, a small round metal tag served as a registration for motorized vehicles. It was usually fastened on the dashboard, but motorists also were required to display the number on the rear of the vehicle. This was done by mounting the number on a larger license plate, usually made of leather and measuring six by 14 inches.

The year 1910 marked the first time metal license plates that were issued in Michigan. These were made of porcelain covered steel and displayed three or four white numbers on a black background with the abbreviation "MICH" and the year.

The porcelain plates were issued until 1915 when the stamped metal plates that resembled those issued today. Since then, Michigan plates have run the gamut of colors from the olive green of 1918 to the light purple of 1936, from the dull silver of 1961 to the maroon of 1941, 1944, 1957 and 1971. Most popular of all probably was the red, white and blue plate issued in 1976 to commemorate the nation's bicentennial.

Sixty-eight years ago, on July 1, 1919 Michigan Gov. Albert Sleeper obtained the first Michigan driver license from Secretary of State Coleman E. Vaughn. Probably the leading to driver licensing was the return of the "engine-oriented" doughboys from World War I service in France. As large numbers of these young men began driving, they caused concern for the safety of pedestrians and of non-motorized vehicles. That same year, the legislature granted the Michigan Secretary of State power to discipline careless drivers, leading to today's point system for driving infractions. The photo was added to the driver license in 1965.

The first driver license was printed on linen-backed paper. It had no renewal date. Applications were taken by local and state police or sheriffs, and the licenses were issued by the Secretary of State.

Today, the majority of Michigan's licensed vehicle operators receive licenses by mail or through the approximately 180 branch offices operated statewide by the Secretary of State.

When Michigan was organized as a state, the Secretary of State kept minutes of meetings, vital statistics and records of crops and cattle and weather. He also was the custodian of laws passed by the legislature. Today the motor Vehicle Division with responsibility for vehicle registration and driver licensing is the largest operation in that department.

MSU researchers have developed a composite material of recycled polyethylene—the material used to make milk jugs—and wood fiber that has caught the attention of some Michigan companies.

The composite material could be made for less than the cost of recycled plastic and would make use of Michigan's plentiful forest products, says Susan Selke, MSU assistant professor of packaging.

"We can make the composite material, but we think the properties can be improved," Selke says. "It can be molded into specific shapes and is reasonably inexpensive to produce. We're exploring markets such as pallets, crates and siding materials."

Selke and five other MSU researchers have been studying the physical properties and potential uses of recycled polyethylene with a three-year grant from the Plastics Recycling Foundation, the Center for Plastics Recycling Research at Rutgers University and the MSU Agricultural Experiment Station.

"The real reason for recycling milk jugs is that there is value in the product," Selke says. "They still have useful properties after they've been used once." Recycled polyethylene is now used in agricultural drainage pipes, plastic lumber and traffic cones.

Still, less than 1 percent of plastics are recycled, unlike more commonly recycled aluminum, glass and paper products. Most recycling takes place in the nine states that have passed bottle bills.

"Bottle bills were designed to prevent littering," Selke says, "and milk containers are not perceived to be a litter problem, so they haven't been included."

some of the planning obstacles.

The greatest change from the original draft would be to call the Lake Charlevoix Authority, the Lake Charlevoix Watershed Commission and would only become an advisory board instead of having the power of law. They would be able to make recommendations of plans concerning the lake, but would have no veto powers. Control would be left to the municipalities and townships for projects around the lake.

The lake planners left in place recommendations designed to limit boat populations on the lake although they added a portion to encourage clustering of developments to allow more open spaces.

Other changes include having new marinas or access sites allowed only one boat slip, rack storage or trailer space for every 100 feet of frontage.

Left the same were recommendations for a horizontal and vertical setback for low, medium and high density developments. Greenbelts would be required to be at least 50 feet in width with only a 10 foot wide path leading to the lake.

Multi-family or condo developments be limited to lands more than 500 feet of frontage, and development in wetland areas should have state and federal approvals along with a lot size of two acres with a 200 foot setback.

The plan will be presented to the County Planning board without any of the minority reports that asked specific questions about the plan and expressed many concerns for citizens.

use her business experience to provide guidance during this period of rapid growth.

Andrick said he feels he has the ability to do a good job. He also said the city needs new blood on the commission bringing different ideas and that he has the time to do it.

Florenski said he wants the position because he doesn't think the present commissioners are doing a good enough job. He says they are not spending money in the right way and that the priorities of the city are in the wrong place. He feels the city should not be committing themselves in the ninth inning. He added that the city has a negative outlook in Lansing and needs to communicate better with Lansing.

Behling has served on the City Commission for the past 12 years, while Andrick and Stanley are newcomers to the post. Florenski has run for the office many times although he has never been elected.

Voting will take place at the City Hall November 3rd. Polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m.

Election

The letter was written to the board by Andy Andrick, the Adjutant of the post.

Andrick also said the post is 40 feet from the centerline of the road, which has a 66 foot right-of-way. The part that overhangs is seven feet from the property line and does not overhang into the right-of-way as the City Attorney Bill McTaggart suggested.

Andrick also said the signage on the building is to name the building and was installed in 1981 before the present ordinance took effect. With those facts known, the VFW thinks they have a legal sign, although they still intend to comply with the sign ordinance as soon as they can for the lighted addition on which they put Post notices of upcoming events.

Says city needs change of blood

Editor
On Tuesday Nov. 3, 1987, is a special day for all good or bad or in-between citizens of Boyne City to have your say without being overruled or disputed by your employee (city manager) or your representative in city government, who were supposed to listen to you in the first place.

Too many times in the past the general public of Boyne City has been turned down in favor of outside interests while laughing at those of us that have lived our entire life here, because we loved what we had, or we couldn't afford to move, and where could we go that would be better than what we have.

I, for one, am sick and tired of our long time local residents being shoved around and high replaced by an arrogant and high nosed society that wants to get rid of our (in their minds) lower class citizens and make this town into a paradise for the wealthy. I have only a questionable 7th grade education, but the good Lord gave me a set of eyes and a heart to see some of the hazzards that are developing in our future of this town. Our children and grandchildren have a right to their roots of life also.

So why don't all of you that registered to vote surprise a lot of people by going to the polls and expressing your opinion? It is high time that we start changing the guard inside of our castle.

We don't need people who say yes or no just because the city manager or his staff recommends it. We need people who think like people and are contrary until they are satisfied that all the details have been presented for a right decision.

We don't need anymore people that just want to hear the bells of their cash register, or are there just to protect their employers interest, or anymore conflicts of interest.

I also feel the public is being asked to approve a proposal that was slipped on to the ballot at the very last minute without ample time or the real details that we might like to think about, before using up more of our public lands. I feel the airport authority is pulling a fast one on the public. "NO!"

I'm backing Rudy and Andy. A registered voter with the right to speak...

Alma College among top

Presidents of colleges in Midwestern and Western states have ranked Alma College and Indiana's Hanover College the third best liberal arts colleges in their region, according to the results of a U.S. News & World Report survey published in the news magazine's October 26, 1987 edition.

The ranking is for a region that includes the 23 states lying west of the Alleghenies and north of the Mason-Dixon Line. Ranked first and second in that region are, respectively, Alverno College in Wisconsin and Wittenberg University in Ohio.

Alma, one of 50 liberal arts colleges nationally producing the highest proportion of U.S. scientists and medical professionals, was first in the U.S. News rating of science programs among the 184 regional liberal arts colleges in the West and Midwest.

In ranking their peer colleges, the respondents were requested to consider criteria that included cohesiveness of the curriculum, quality of teaching, relationship between faculty and students, and the overall atmosphere of learning fostered by the campus.

Area Students currently attending Alma College from Charlevoix County are: freshman Katherine Washburn; sophomores Sean Ferguson and Timothy Plagge; juniors Margaret (Meg) Fowler and Lynn McKay; seniors Timothy LaBlance, Thomas Eteher and Anthony Ruhlman.
