

Snowmobiles are getting ready for their riders at this weekend's East Jordan Sno-Blast. Most of the events will be held on the ice by the Tourist Park but many will require riders with their machines from other locations around the community. There is plenty of activity for everyone, sponsors say, so all are invited out to have a good time.

Due to an error, a credit line for the Bill Underhill Interview article in last week's Snowscope was left out. The interview was done by Boyne City historian Bob Morgridge as part of his living history series of interviews. The other two articles on Smeltania were done by his students, play-acting as reporters for Smeltania back in the 30's and 40's. If you are interested in Smeltania history, Cindy Clavier will be presenting a program on Smeltania at the Boyne City Historical Society meeting, Feb. 16 at 7 p.m. in the City Hall auditorium.

Some good news for taxpayers is that the Michigan income taxes will be reduced over the next four years because of scheduled increases in the personal exemption. For tax year 1987, the amount of increase is $100 more or $1,600. It will be $1,800 for 1988, $2,000 for 1989 and $2,100 for 1990.

Tickets will be available at the door of the elementary school stage.

Boyne decides to bypass park grant

Boyne City fathers voted to table a request from the Parks and Recreation Board to try to get a grant from the State for the development of restrooms, walkway, additional floating piers in Sunset and Veterans park until the majority of the needed infrastructure repairs are completed.

The action came at the Tuesday noon meeting of the City Commissioners.

The city has been turned down several times in asking the state for money to develop the downtown park system when they asked for grants from the Land and Water Conservation Fund. The city was again informed this year the project would not be funded.

In reviewing the proposal with the Parks Board, a recommendation was introduced to ask for a grant from the Coastal Management Program for only a portion of the entire parks plan. The proposal would have added facilities along the two waterfront parks.

In the previous plan, a dock was to have been installed out into the lake off of the Sunset Park shore, but public pressure caused the parks board to ask for two small floating piers to be added to both Sunset and Veterans Park for use as shoppers docks.

While the issue was brought up at the commission meeting, many commissioners said that the city has too many other irons in the fire and decided to wait until the infrastructure repairs are completed before trying to ask for grants for additional projects.

One consideration the commissioners had is that the grant from the Coastal Management program will only fund projects up to $50,000 and will require the city to share the costs or 50 percent of the project up to $100,000.

According to Commissioner Bill Grimm, the city "Has to pull back a little" from further projects until they can see how the infrastructure projects are going.

If the commissioners had approved going for the grant, they would have had to pare back portions of the project as the total cost would have been over $135,000. That cost would require the city to have paid an extra $35,000 as the funding program wouldn't cover the costs.

In other action at the noon meeting, City Manager Randy Frykberg expressed thanks to the Boyne City Fire Department for the work they did in trying to save a home during a fire in Evangeline Township.

County to receive more transportation funds

Distribution of monies from the recently-enacted state transportation improvement package promises to be very good news for northern Michigan counties and motorists, Senator Mitch Irwin said today.

"More than $10 million will be going directly to counties and municipalities north of Grayling," Irwin said. "Another $24.3 million will be available on a competitive basis from a new Economic Development Fund." Charlevoix County is expected to receive $115,000 in transportation funds, $44,000 for forest roads and $114,000 for regional projects.

Additionally, the Michigan Department of Transportation will receive more than $24 million for road projects statewide. Another $4.5 million will be available for snowmobile, off-road vehicle, cross country ski, horseback riding and hiking trail development.

The new funds are a result of the increased transportation fees that were raised in December.

Irwin said the $10 million going directly to counties would be funneled through two programs: the existing transportation funding formula, and a new economic development fund that targets key industries and needs statewide, including forestry, tourism, and urban and rural growth.

Distribution of the rural county fund revenue will be through regional task forces. Represent-

Fire totally destroyed this Evangeline Township home belonging to Jeff MacFarlane of Ionia. The home was unoccupied at the time of the fire and was totally involved by the time the Boyne City Fire Department arrived on the scene. The MacFarlanes, who haven't been at the vacation home on Pinehurst Shores since January, lost almost all of their possessions. The only things saved were two cars and a boat.

The picture shows the front of the structure, taken a few moments after the fireman arrived. The bottom picture shows the damage done a few moments later as the fire consumed the home. Boyne firemen were assisted by Melrose Township and City of Charlevoix firemen as they fought to contain the blaze. The cause of the Monday evening fire has not been determined nor has the value placed on the home.

SOUPS AND STEWS

It is easy to let a consuming type of lethargy take over some of us these days when the snow is blowing and the mercury goes almost out of sight. We call it cabin fever and wonder how we are going to overcome it. Then I can begin to understand the poet Robert Frost when he stopped his horse along a country road on a snowy evening. Now, as I look out of my window towards a small woodlot across the road, I think of how easy it is to linger and watch the "woods fill up with snow." Then I repeat, "The woods are lovely, dark and deep, But I have promises to keep, And miles to go before I sleep, And miles to go before I sleep." Suddenly I am inspired to do such ordinary things as making a pot of soup, some homemade bread or just some little dumplings for a stew already made. Then I notice that the sun is shining!

This recipe for little dumplings comes from Marguerite McNeil; so good in any soup or stew.

LITTLE DUMPLINGS

- 1 egg
- 3 tablespoons flour
- Pinch of salt
- 1 teaspoon vegetable oil
- 1-Mix the egg with flour, salt and oil. Meanwhile heat soup.
- 2-Spoon the mixture into boiling soup, using 1/4 teaspoon measuring spoon for size.
- Cook in soup 2 to 3 minutes.

Our Grandmothers spent many hours making their own broths and stocks for soups. We neither have the time for this nor do we have the cuts of meat which they had such as sheep's head, neck of mutton or beef marrow bones. We can make delicious soups from canned broth; they are tasty and nutritious. Follow recipes on cans or add your own touches. How about this

CHILI MAC

- Made with canned broth for a cold winter night.
- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 2 med. cloves garlic, minced
- 1 can (14 1/2 oz.) ready to serve beef broth
- 2 cans (10 3/4 oz.) each condensed tomato soup
- 2 cans (15 1/2 oz.) each kidney beans, undrained
- 3 cups cooked elbow macaroni
- 3 tablespoons chili powder
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- In heavy, large pan, brown beef and cook onion with garlic until tender; stir. Add remaining ingredients. Cook over low heat 30 minutes, stir occasionally. Makes 6 servings. From Creative Food Center, Campbell Soup Co.

Last winter my friend, Lillian, introduced me to some of those dry soup mixes, and I was impressed. We liked to go out to lunch for our main meal, then after an afternoon of sight-seeing or shopping we had soup for supper. She soon had soup simmering on the stove and the delicious aroma perked up our appetites as we nibbled on cheeses and crackers with a little glass of wine. After a hot bowl of those tasty soups we were content with just a salad or dessert.

- Since then I have been doing a little experimenting with the wonderful variety of soup mixtures on the market. One of my favorites is Leek Soup and Recipe mix; after following the directions on the box for the initial preparation one can add goodies to taste. Here are some ways to use leek soup.
- 1-Add a few cooked peas.
- 2-Top bowl of soup with grated cheese and zap in microwave just to melt.
- 3-Use the soup for a sauce for creamed chicken or fricasse.
- 4-Cook some finely diced potatoes in the soup while cooking it for a potato soup flavor.
- 5-If you add pieces of cooked chicken; you can believe that you are eating authentic Scottish Cock-a-leekie soup.

Salads are a must with soups. Vegetable tossed salads and slaws go with the creamed soups and fruit salads with the vegetable soups and stews.

A cottage cheese and fruit salad will compliment that Chili Mac dinner. Spice up your pineapple or peach and cheese salad with slices of kiwi fruit for an extra touch that tastes so good. Or try this slightly different combination of fruits for a delicious

FRUIT SALAD

- 4 apples, unpared in chunks
- 1/2 cup celery, chopped
- 1/2 cup dates, chopped
- 1/2 cup pineapple tidbits, drained, save juice
- 1/2 cup walnuts, chopped
- 1/2 cup salad dressing
- Combine fruits. Mix salad dressing with 2 tablespoons of the pineapple juice. Add to fruit mixture. Add nuts and serve. Serves 6

I have a friend who loves radishes; and I think that he will enjoy this salad; it is a good contrast to creamed soups or a nice relish for any dinner.

CUCUMBER AND RADISH SALAD

- This recipe is for one or two salads, increase as needed.
- 1 1/2 teaspoons sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Dash of pepper
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1/2 cup thinly sliced cucumbers
- Radish roses or slices
- Parsley for trim.

Combine the first four ingredients. Stir in cucumbers. Chill. Serve on lettuce leaves as an appetizer or salad. Garnish with lettuce slices and parsley.

Weidler, EJ senior, selected to represent Mich. at REA convention in New Orleans

BY DENNIS SKROCKI

Curtis J. Weidler, an 18 year old senior at East Jordan High School, will attend the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association (NRECA) Annual Convention in New Orleans on February 6-11 as a member of the Annual Meeting Committee.

Weidler achieved this honor back in June, while attending the Rural Electric Youth Tour in Washington, D.C. Here, through a series of interviews and submission of an application, he was selected to represent the State of Michigan on the RE Youth Consulting Board (YCB). The YCB is currently composed of 29 high school students from around the country.

While there he will be involved in clerical work, such as passing out information as well as other miscellaneous duties.

Curtis will depart from Cherry Capital Airport in Traverse City on the morning of February 3.

"It should be an interesting experience traveling to the New Orleans area since I've never been there before," he said. "It will also be a nice break from the cold weather."

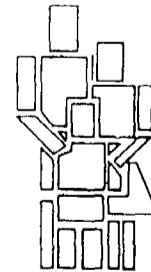

He also added, "I am looking forward to learning about how NRECA runs its organization."

"That long lonely dark road, can be brightened by a positive goal."

Jottings

BY JIMSILBAR

It sometimes is sad when an era passes, although it is also a happy time as things continue on in the world of Boyne City.

Just ask Ralph Moore. Last Monday he sold his store to Dave Williamson and it closed out a long time tradition for a business in Boyne City. Dave will probably be making many changes to the store as he tries to make the business better, although it is difficult to make that business better than it was.

Going to a hardware is a tradition shared by many of the menfolk in a community. In the old days, that may have been where the old pot belly stove was sitting for all those to gather around and tell their tales. Today, it is the coffee shops where those enhanced truths are told. Even Ralph joins in the fun sometimes, adding a little bit to stories told.

But the making of a dynasty in the retail business is very hard. Not many stores can lay fame to over 50 years of being in business let alone the many years Moore's Hardware has been in town.

About the only family business that is still in the family is the Stackus Funeral Home that can carry on a tradition of being in the family for so many years.

Even though the Charlevoix County Press has been around

by Gail Ware

under a few other names at times, it has not had the family that started the business still in possession of the masthead. Our 108, almost 109 years of serving the community is not at all like a Stackus, or a Moore. Those two are just a few years ahead on almost all of the businesses around the area.

Over in East Jordan, the only business that comes to mind is the Ironworks. They celebrated their 100 years a couple of years ago, and that family tradition is still continuing today.

There is nothing wrong with wanting to sell your business as Ralph did. There just comes a time when you want to get out from the worries, the traumas and the headaches of being in business today.

In fact, I am a little jealous of Ralph. He seems to be as busy as he was before he retired, only now he seems to be enjoying it more. I am looking forward to the day when I can join him and folks like him enjoying that second cup of coffee when all the others have to run off to some important obligation.

Or go to some warm spot of America when the temperatures drop below zero around here.

Ahhh, it is nice to dream of the future, but nicer, still, to reflect on the past that got you here in the first place.

Back in 1890 the road to Vanderbilt had many areas where planking was used through the swamps. This picture shows one of those areas. Many of the roads in Northern Michigan started out looking like this and only in the last 40 years have asphalt and cement been used in the upgrading of gravel roads.

Turn the television off and pay attention. Believe it or not this is going to make sense. And that's something you don't often hear on the tube or by listening to your neighbors. So grab this opportunity before it slips over to Horton Bay where the people could easily wind up smarter than you are. Think about that before you start to Dan Rather me.

Now, here it is: National polls showing George of the VP office whipping nice Senator Robert of Kansas in the presidential race are not necessarily the result of false truths. It's just that some people who were called upon were more worried about those socks that didn't come back in the wash. They mentioned Bush because the poor man has been defending himself ever since he began running for the presidency. And take the women. A busy house wife hasn't time to stop and wonder if she likes Bush over Dole. Especially with the meat burning and her husband due home any minute. I've gone all around Robin

Hood's outhouse to show that national polls are not always right on the button. The results of these polls are often nothing more than ignorant opinions on the gossip of the day.

When the presidential election has your television by the throat we are going to discover that thousands of people never really thought the thinks those poll takers think they thought.

I know because I am one of the thinkers myself.

I was explaining this to a Bush backer in the restaurant the other day. The man actually got blue around the gills. (Only Bush backers have gills.) His hackles moved up a notch and I was called harsh names.

Harsh names, mind you. I thought about throwing him through a plate glass window until I remembered that Campbell Insurance doesn't cover news, per columnists who are seized with a fit.

Just as I was thinking that the farce was over, a woman stepped up to say that my voice sounded like the death rattle in the throat of a bath tub. She told everyone in the room that she was for Bush all the way to the oval office and that Robert Dole was a very poor also ran. Heavens, how I wanted to pull her thistles.

None of this should have happened. All I was trying to say is that national polls are not always correct. I got this from Gary Hart and if you can't believe him, who can you believe?

It makes me sick to realize that I am probably the only person in Boyne City who makes sense and gets booted for it at the same time.

What happened Thursday afternoon, the sudden work stoppage on the part of the clothes dryer, seemed reasonable enough in light of the 20-year-old age of the machine. And the accompanying aroma, an "off-worn tennis shoes in August" sort of smell, didn't upset them either. It seemed a dramatic touch to the matter. But the events of Saturday morning, the one following that Thursday afternoon, did. In fact, the best they could say for them was to call them a "learning experience," a term used for unpleasantness of all kinds. Giving them a name, though, didn't explain them.

In any case, the couple who owned the assumed dead dryer needed a replacement. So the next Saturday morning, armed with their list of modest requirements for same and a firm ceiling for the purchase price - they expected to be pressed to buy an expensive model that did everything but ride a bicycle - they went shopping. They drove to the outskirts of a not too distant town for the occasion. The area offered, in close proximity to each other, four retailers that sold dryers. The figured four ought to do the job, or do them in, whichever came first.

The first store they entered, a discount showroom place, had dryers galore. They browsed a while, long enough to find that their at-home estimate on the cost of dryers ran about $100 low. Then a salesman came up, listened to their list of requirements and showed them exactly what they were looking for, except for the price, of course. But they'd already met that shock. When asked if they could transport the dryer themselves that afternoon, the salesman said that not only could they, but he'd knock $12 off the price if they did. This comforted them some about the cost.

At store No. 2, a large department store, the prices ran slightly higher, and on fewer choices. Since they were the only persons they could see, they waited an unseemly length of time before a salesman ambled up. And when he did, his presence barely mattered. He spoke little except when questioned and then his responses were vague. And he seemed relieved when they turned to leave. So were they.

How to deal with the common cold

On any given day this winter, thousands in Michigan will be suffering the miseries of the common cold. If you want to improve your chances of avoiding this ailment, shake fewer hands, kiss fewer cheeks, dress warmly and maintain a good mental attitude, says Dr. Larry Sell, Senior Vice President for Health Care Affairs at Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan (BCBSM). Colds can be caused by any one of approximately 200 different viruses that are more likely to be spread by direct contact such as handshakes and kisses, rather than coughs and sneezes from nearby persons, Dr. Sell says. "Some authorities believe that emotional stress can also make a person vulnerable to colds by reducing blood flow as well as moisture and antibody production in the mouth and nasal passages," he says. "These lessen the ability to fight off a cold virus."

"A thorough chill will not cause a cold, but can encourage viruses already present to multiply, and can discourage production of the antibodies that assist the fighting off of cold viruses," Dr. Sell says. "That's why it's important to avoid chills during this season, he says. Restoring the cells damaged by the attacking cold viruses can take almost as much energy as hard physical labor, he explains. Thus, bed rest is the best cure for a cold, Dr. Sell suggests. Obviously, it may not be possible for everyone to take the time off for a day or so in bed. But there are some other things you can do, if you come down with a cold: • Increase intake of fluids to compensate for the dryness in nose and throat tissues. • Don't overload the digestive system with heavy fried foods or sweets; instead consume soups, fruits and vegetables. • Cut back or stop smoking because it will further irritate inflamed throat tissue. A variety of commercial preparations can also help a person with a cold to feel better, such as aspirin, cough syrups, decongestants and nasal sprays. But these preparations can temporarily mask symptoms of more serious ailments. Normally, cold symptoms last four to 10 days. If they persist, a more serious infection may be developing. In general, telephone a physician, if: • Body temperature remains above 100 degrees • A sore throat does not improve • There is continued discomfort in the chest, head, neck glands or ears • Nose congestion continues for more than a week.

It is hard to take a picture of a mermaid, especially if it is made of snow as this one is. Constructed by Jenny Lawson and Doreen Larson, this sculpture took second place in the contest...probably because a lot of it melted between the time it was made and the judging.

This is "Kiss your baby for CF month"

When is a kiss not just a kiss? When it's used to detect cystic fibrosis, the No. 1 genetic killer of children. Each year the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation launches its state-wide educational program "Kiss Your Baby" during the month of February. The purpose of this project is to alert parents to the symptoms of cystic fibrosis to optimize early diagnosis and prompt treatment. Such detection is an essential element in lengthening the life span of children and young people afflicted with CF. One of the symptoms of cystic fibrosis is an extremely salty taste to the child's skin, which can be detected by kissing or tasting him/her on the forehead. Other symptoms include: (1) recurrent wheezing; (2) persistent coughing; (3) excessive mucus; (4) pneumonia more than once during childhood; (5) excessive appetite but poor weight gain; and (6) clubbing (enlargement) of the fingertips.

Cystic fibrosis is an inherited disease for which there is no cure. In CF, a thick, sticky mucus clogs the lungs and airways - creating breathing difficulties, high susceptibility to infection, and lung damage. The mucus may also interfere with digestion by preventing the flow of enzymes into the small intestine, causing malabsorption of food. Both parents must be carriers of the defective cystic fibrosis gene. One of every twenty persons in the United States is an unknown carrier. In Michigan alone, there are approximately 500,000 such carriers. Currently there is no definite test available to determine whether or

Ramblers throw away two games last week

BY SCOTT KNIPE

Turnovers and a lack of shot opportunities really hurt the Boyne City Rambler basketball team last week as they dropped two games; one to arch rival at the other end of the lake, Charlevoix, and to the Grayling Vikings.

In the Charlevoix game, the Rayders took advantage of the bad passes and loss of ball control as they went on to a 63-42 point victory over the Ramblers.

The whole game proved to be a low scoring venture for the Ramblers as Charlevoix came out blazing and in command of the game. By the end of the first quarter, the Rambler effort held the score almost even but by the half, the turnovers by Boyne helped to make the score 25 to 17 with the Ramblers on the low side.

After the halftime break, Charlevoix found the game almost a runaway as Boyne turned the ball over to them time after time. Charlevoix made good on most of the scoring opportunities and worked up a ten point advantage by the end of the third period.

But the Boyne butterfingers took their toll as the Rayders hit shot after shot in the final period outscoring the Ramblers 12 to 23 and ending up with a 21 point win.

Taking the top honors for the Boyne team was again Mike Deschryver with 16 points, followed by Aaron Richards with seven. Tom Miller and Scott Hammontree each had six while Jim Abney had four. Mark Harris added another three. Top defender for the match-up was Miller who gained ten rebounds and a steal.

Seeking revenge against the Tuesday loss, the Rambler effort Friday found much the same problems with turnovers against the Grayling Vikings as they had against the Rayders. Combined with the turnovers was an outstanding defensive effort the Vikings played and that proved fatal to the Ramblers as they went down to a 65 to 44 point defeat.

Grayling, playing with that good defensive effort, took an early seven point lead outscoring Boyne 12 to 19 in the first quarter, but the Ramblers weren't ready to concede and came up only a point behind by the halftime break.

The third quarter opened with each team matching point for point, but Grayling began to draw ahead despite the aggressive play of the Ramblers. With the three point shots by Hammontree keeping Boyne in the game, it was still 41 to 46 at the end of the third.

As Charlevoix did, the Vikings led a tremendous scoring assault against Boyne as the fourth quarter started. A dunk by Viking Jeff Palmer started things off. Boyne could only score three points during the entire quarter and two of those from a last second shot by Nick Evans to beat the buzzer.

Again high scorer for the evening was Deschryver with 12 followed by Keith Harvey with 11 and Richards with 10. Hammontree connected on three three-pointers for the night giving him a total of nine points.

Boyne will play again as they face Rogers City in a game this Friday in the Boyne gym.

Mike Deschryver jumps for this layup shot during the game last week between Boyne City and Charlevoix. Charlevoix won as Boyne seemed to throw the ball away time after time thus ruining their chances for a win.

Jayvee's hot streak adds two

BY SCOTT KNIPE

In the JV division of the Michigan Huron Shores conference, Boyne City upped their lead to two games after defeating the Charlevoix Rayders last Tuesday night, 62-53.

The Rayders jumped out to an early lead, leading Boyne by 5 in the first quarter, 13-18, but the Ramblers quickly overcame the Rayders to take a lead of a single point at the half.

In the third period, Todd Gasco got Boyne's momentum rolling again after connecting on a three pointer, and the Ramblers soon had a seven point lead, 49-36, and rolled right along in the last quarter to win by 9.

High scorer for Boyne was Eric Smith with 25 points, followed by two other Ramblers in double figures, Todd Gasco and Wayne Avery with 13 each. Scott Knipe had 9, and Bo Williamson two. Defensively, Eric Smith and Knipe took top honors. Smith had 11 rebounds, four steals, and a single blocked shot. Knipe had 9 rebounds and 6 blocked shots.

Friday, the team met Grayling, who provided the Ramblers with a tougher time than expected, but finally went down in defeat to the Ramblers, 63-53.

Frostival successful despite Ma Nature

Boyer City's annual Frostival winter celebration saw many participants with dampened clothing, but not spirits as many Boyne residents had a great time in spite of the second January thaw.

Taking the honors in the broomball competition was the team called the E&M Broomballers. Second place went to the Krusel Snow Slingers while third place was taken by the Harborside Sports Broombusters.

In the snow sculpture contests, the adult division was won by Lou Anne Schrader who made a dinosaur. Second place was taken by a mermaid which was done by Jenniw Lawson and Doreen Larson while third place was given to Jim Nugent for his rendition of Mt. Rushmore.

In the children's division, Katie Kujawski and Bethany

Stackus took the first place with their baby harp seal. Second place was awarded to the Hubble and Kessler children who made a Nike shoe. Third place was a tie between a volcano made by Andy Frykberg and Jay Anderson and a fort made by Brock Healey.

Perhaps one of the more fun filled events, the annual children's dog sled pull, was taken by Geoffrey Anthony and "Kip," while Kevin Harford and

"Homer" took the second place. Third place was won by W. MacNaughton and "Heidi."

Because of the snow melting, the children's games were changed at the last moment by organizer Norvetta Anderson to just ground games, but the children had fun anyway.

One of the new events for the Frostival had to be cancelled and rescheduled for February 4. That was the children's ice skating races that were to have been held at the new ice skating rink at Avalanche Park. Ice Skating races will start at 12 noon on February 4th.

About 30 cross country racers took off at the annual races held on the five kilometer course at the park for both a five and ten kilometer race. Results of that race were not turned in to the Chamber office.

All in all, according to Chamber secretary Gloria Anderson, all those who braved the slush had a good time. The broomball event had many spectators all day long and the concession stands were busy selling chili and hotdogs along with the hot chocolate drinks.

When you are a small child, being pulled through the found out during his dog's attempt to beat the time course by the family pet is a real thrill as this youngster during the annual childrens' dog and sled race.

come across the sliding hill before heading out into the woods of the park for the one or two laps it took to make up the course.

Plenty of children enjoyed the sleigh ride around Veterans Park behind this team of horses from the Matelski farm. The rides were slightly abbreviated because of the lack of snow, but the horses didn't seem to mind and the kids riding sure seemed to like what was offered.

Slushing through the water that formed a puddle in the center of one of the broomball playing fields, this player tries to hit the ball into the net for a score. The water, while it was a hazard, only caused the players a short moment of fright before taking the ball into the thick of it. Needless to say almost all of the players managed to get thoroughly soaked.

Making an ice castle requires almost the same tools as making a home, as this crew of workers found out when they made an ice castle for the children next to One Water Street Restaurant. The crew consisted of Andy Poineau and friends who decided to make the structure in one day. The use of chain saws and a tractor helped lift the ice block from the lake and onto the walls as the building went up.

Road commission asked to control contamination

Charlevoix County Road Commission will have to pride some major repairs to their salt storage and lagoon system, according to a letter from the Department of Natural Resources.

The letter, sent out January 28, calls for the Road Commission to stop using the lagoon system until they have complied with the laws covering ground water infiltration.

Art Caden, ground water specialist from the Roscommon office, sent the letter to the road commission after being informed of trucks being washed and the oily substances from the trucks washing into the lagoon.

The lagoon was constructed to hold the surface water runoff from the salt storage shed.

Along with the cease and desist order, Caden recommended that monitoring wells be installed around the salt area to check for ground water contamination.

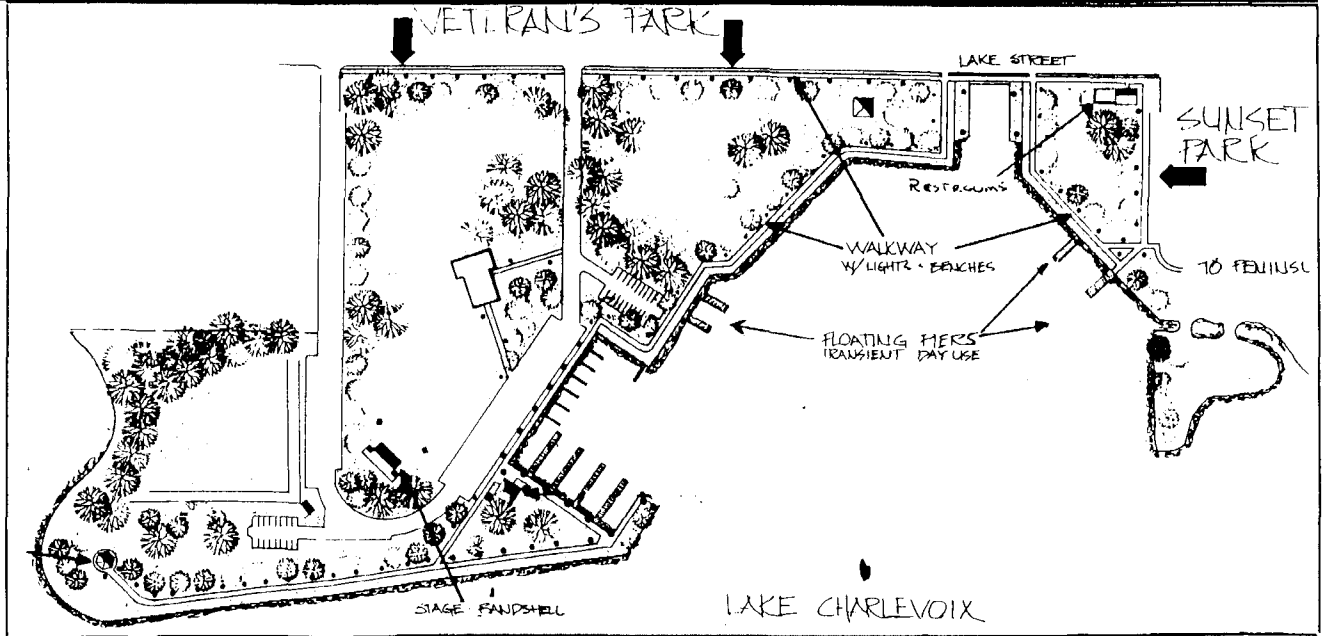

He also asked the commission to have a consultant contacted to conduct a survey for contamination and present a work plan prior to the work being started in order to get DNR approval. After approval, the Road Commission will have to do a hydrostudy report to determine such things as the level of ground water, soil types on the grounds, location of residential and commercial wells within the area and provide chemical tests.

They are also being asked to repair the lagoon so that overflows will not happen in the future.

The Commission will also have to prepare a pollution incident prevention plan (PIPP) and have it on file for the storage area, any tanks, and the lagoon. They will have to use the plan to get approval for the storage of brine and other contaminants.

Caden sent a copy of the letter to both the city and to the County Health Department. He has not had a reply as to what the Road Commission is going to do.

This is the proposed plan the Boyne City Commissioners decided to forego at their Tuesday noon meeting. The plan differs slightly from a previous plan that was presented for a possible grant last year by having four small shoppers docks instead of one large dock jutting out from the shore of Sunset Park. The commissioners decided they should wait until the city has the money to pay it's share of a possible grant.

tatives from county road commissions and incorporated villages and cities under 5,000 population will sit on the task forces. One member of the Department of Transportation will represent the state on each task force. It will be the task force's charge to develop regional projects and priorities to guide the use of the regional monies.

The forest roads revenue ($5 million) will go directly to each county road commission for use on timber industry-related needs. Senator Irwin and Senator Connie Binsfield were successful in amending the transportation package to include the Forest Roads Fund.

Cities within rural counties are eligible to apply for monies from this $2.5 million fund on a regional basis.

"The north's tremendous growth in the past few years has put a tremendous strain on our transportation system," Irwin said. "Expanded tourism and the booming forest industry have brought jobs up north, but they have also brought transportation problems."

Boyne doubled Graylings score in the first quarter, 22-11, and had a 12 point lead at the half, 32-20. That was upped to 15 by the end of the third, but the Vikings sported a short comeback near the finish of the fourth that brought them within ten, but too late, and it ended 63-53.

High scorer for the Ramblers was Smith again with 20, with twelve of those in the first half. Gasco had 16, including one three pointer, and five freethrows. Knipe finished with 12, two of those off a dunk. Wayne Avery had 9 points, a third of those from foul shooting, and Shawn Vondra, Williamson, and Dean Alger each contributed 2 points to bring about the victory.

The Junior Varsity's record now stands at 11-1, and they hope to extend their winning streak as they take on Rogers City Friday.

Farmers reminded to report changes

farm operator changes

Emmet-Charlevoix County farmers are reminded not to delay reporting any changes in their farm operations for the 1988 program year.

For full program benefits, records must be up-to-date. Producers should contact ASCS if a farm will have a new owner this year, or if a change is made in the operation of an existing unit. Plans to combine farms or divide a farm should be requested early because of special processing and County Committee approval.

The sign-up period for the 1988 Wheat/Feed Grain Program will begin on February 16th. Farmers who participate will be eligible for Price Support Loans and Deficiency payments if applicable.

The Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) sixth signup will open on February 1. This program allows producers to retire highly erodible land with 10 year contracts if accepted in the bid process. These farms must have a Conservation Plan approved by the Soil Conservation District prior to entering into a contract. Producers are encouraged to obtain eligibility determination by Soil Conservation Service and have conservation plans approved by the local Soil Conservation District before signup.

For more details on these programs, call 616-347-2133 in Petoskey for Emmet County and 616-582-6231 in Boyne City for Charlevoix County.

Warewithal

The couple moved on out and back to store No. 1 where they bought a dryer, and gratefully, or almost. Mission completed.

But the memories and the questions arising out of it linger on. Whatever happened to the "hard sell?" Where did the indifferent salespersons come from?

Maybe they're communist spies. Maybe the couple should call the CIA or the FBI. Or maybe they're still feeling punchy from the shock and exhaustion of that Saturday morning shopping trip, and having to pay so much for a dryer.

Gaylord's Winterfest Feb. 11-12-13-14

The snow is great, the fun times are planned!

GAYLORD-When the grass is green, The Alpine Village of Gaylord has become known as The Midwest's Golf Mecca. When snow covers this beautiful area of Michigan's northern lower peninsula, The Golf Mecca is transformed into a skiers' paradise!

Skiing is a large part of the many activities during Gaylord's Winterfest. Downhill skiers can ski FREE or at reduced prices February 11th and 12th. February 14th, downhill skiers at Hidden Valley's Otsego Ski Club will raise money for Michigan's Special Olympics. Later that day, Alpine skiers will race slalom style down the slopes of Sylvan Resort.

Nordic skiers from all over the midwest enjoy the natural beauty of cross country trails surrounding Gaylord. Cross country ski events during Winterfest include FREE evening skiing on lighted trails, a special FREE skiing tour through some of Michigan's most beautiful scenery.

Beginning skiers learn to cross country ski with FREE lessons February 13th (adult and youth). Advanced Nordic skiers can participate in USSA sanctioned races February 14th at Wilderness Valley Cross Country Ski Center.

A new and exciting race for Nordic skiers is The Timex Skiathlon. This unusual cross country challenge includes racing with ski jumps. A Timex official will provide timing for this USSA sanctioned race. This is one of only two Skiathlon races in Michigan this year.

Snowmobilers will enjoy a day long safari February 13th. Over 100 snowmobilers will ride throughout Otsego County on some great trails.

If you are looking for a good weekend to party, this is it! The 50's and 60's is the theme for "Sockhop - Friday night." An Michigan Special Olympics, a sports program for adults and children with mental retardation, will hold its State Winter Games for 750 athletes February 9-12 at Sugar Loaf Mountain Resort in Cedar.

Special Olympians from across the state will compete in alpine skiing, nordic skiing, showshoeing, figure skating and speed skating.

"The State Winter Games is the culmination of months of training and competition at the local level," said Edie Wirthsafter, MSO sports coordinator.

The athletes will go through time trials prior to competition at the state event to determine competitive heats.

"Time trials allow us to set heats based on age and actual ability," Wirthsafter explained. "Our goal is to provide even competition for all Special Olympians regardless of the degree of their ability or disability."

The State Winter Games will also include opening ceremonies, recreational activities, awards presentations and closing ceremonies.

Winter sports are part of Michigan Special Olympics' year-round program of physical fitness, sports training and competition for adults and children with mental retardation. For more information, contact the program's state office at 127 Rowe Hall, Central Michigan University, Mount Pleasant, MI, 48859, phone 517-774-3911.

Michigan bring their families and enjoy the beautiful Alpine Village. Winterfest events are scheduled February 11th to 14th. Lots of fun events are planned, the snow is great, just waiting for you in Gaylord. For more information call toll free 1-800-3-GAYLORD.

Indi International 500 Snowmobile Race

The twentieth annual running of the Indianapolis style International 500 Snowmobile Race will take place February 6, 1988 at Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan. The anniversary race promises to be one of the most exciting per hour. The race is scheduled for 500 miles, and total prize money may reach $30,000.00.

Time trials, establishing racing positions, will be conducted on February 3 and 4 at the I-500 track in Sault Ste. Marie from 1:00 to 10:00 p.m.

The race is the feature of the giant winter carnival which begins in Sault Ste. Marie on February 28, 1988 with the crowning of Miss Sweet Soo. Visit Sault Ste. Marie, for a week of fun, festivity, and excitement.

STOP/ALTO

Speed control is becoming more and more important as slopes become more and more crowded. In a circle of friends, practice the stop game. Ski near one another, and alternately give one of your friends the task of shouting "stop." All skiers are to interrupt their skiing and come as quickly as they can to a stop. It can be quite fun to play this game since no one knows how quickly the call will come. You learn to sharpen your sense of hearing, your skills to turn and avoid other skiers, as well as making you a safer skier overall.

Ski and stay at Boyne, just $45.

Boyerne Mountain has slashed the cost of lodging and skiing for midweek guests. Just $45 per person per day, double occupancy, covers lodging and all area lift ticket (any Sunday-Thursday lodging, Monday-Friday skiing). Stay and ski when the slopes are uncrowded. And enjoy use of Boyne's special amenities, including a heated outdoor pool, sauna, whirlpool and more at no extra cost.

This $45 midweek rate is for Boyne Mountain. The cost for Boyne Highlands for lodging and lift is $60 per person per day.

The party's over; bridge lights are out

The huge lighted "150" numerals displayed at the Mackinac Bridge for the past 18 months were turned off permanently on January 26, symbolizing the close of Michigan's 150th birthday celebration.

That was the anniversary of Michigan's admission to the Union as the 26th state on Jan. 26, 1837. Its sesquicentennial celebration began June 14, 1986, and continued through 1987. To mark the event, two sets of lighted numbers, each measuring 120 by 280 feet, were hung from the suspension cables on the east and west sides of the bridge that links the two peninsulas of Michigan. They were clearly visible many miles from the bridge in both directions. "Literally millions of people saw the lights and were reminded of Michigan's 150th birthday anniversary," said Walter North, executive secretary of the Mackinac Bridge Authority. "Professional photographers from as far as Germany and Japan took shots of the lighted numbers for films to be shown in their countries." North said the electricity cost of the sesquicentennial lighting averaged $1.50 a night. The lights will be removed in warmer weather this spring, he said.

State earmarks 2% of gas receipts for Rec. Fund

The Michigan Snowmobile Association (MSA) announced that Michigan has now joined 12 other snowbelt states in allocating state snowmobile funding from state gasoline taxes. Under the terms of a bill sponsored by state Representative Tom Alley, passed by the state legislature and approved by Governor James Blanchard in late December, 2% of the state's total gasoline tax receipts are to be earmarked for a new Recreation Improvement Fund. Of that amount, 14% - or about $1.6 million annually - will be dedicated to the state's snowmobile trail maintenance and development program. The remaining monies will be used for boating and other recreation improvement programs.

The legislative campaign which resulted in this funding, received substantial backing from the International Snowmobile Industry Association (ISIA), the trade association for the snowmobile industry. Roy Muth, ISIA President and Chief Executive Officer, noted that Michigan's trail program had been in a state of perpetual crisis due to insufficient funding. Expressing the industry's deep appreciation for Representative Alley's leadership, and the MSA lobbying efforts under the leadership of Past President Gus Shisler, he commented, "They have rescued the Michigan program from a disastrous decline and have given it a bright new future."

MSA leaders and members were also quick to credit Representative Alley for placing Michigan in a position to develop a top-ranked trail system. According to MSA President Bill Manson, "Tom Alley has been working tirelessly. He just kept hammering and has been the driving force behind this whole effort." Manson also credit key support from a number of other legislatures, including Representatives Pat Gagliardi, D.J. Jacobetti and Sid Owunga and Senators Norman Shinkl, Phil Arthurhultz and Mitch Irwin. Representative Alley put the legislative victory into historical perspective, noting the nine years that had passed since then-Governor William Milliken vetoed a similar bill, sponsored by Senator Joseph Mack.

The MSA will be working with the state Department of Natural Resources (DNR), which administers the snowmobile program, to reach the goal of making Michigan - as Alley put it - "The world's best place to snowmobile." Although monies from the Recreation Improvement Fund will not be available until the 1988-1989 season, the state's snowmobile program will benefit this year from the passage of a stopgap $2.5 million supplemental-appropriation bill also spearheaded by Representative Alley. The funds will be used both for trail maintenance and for badly needed replacement of worn-out grooming equipment. As a result, the program should be well situated for significant improvements when the permanent gas tax funding begins next year.

Michigan residents spend an estimated $160.9 million each year in direct expenditures on snowmobiling, which generates more than $10 million each year in state sales tax and registration fee receipts.

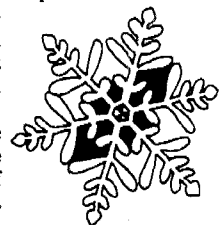

The Michigan Snowmobile Association is maintained and funded by its members. It provides a full time legislative watch, representing the interest of all snowmobilers that use the extensive trail system in Michigan.

Working with the DNR and private groomers, the goal of MSA is to see that funding dollars are spent wisely in order to keep the state trails in top condition.

MSA is a supporter of snowmobile safety and a source of information and planned recreational activities for the states riders.

To help MSA in its support of the snowmobile cause become a member. For more information telephone (616) 361-2285 or write MSA, 4920 Plainfield N.E., Suite 100, Grand Rapids, MI 49505.
